Important Meeting Held On ber for West Lambton, and chief Liberton on Laurier's Wednesday at Which the Matter Was Decided.

The London Street Railway Company nave officially refused to accept the offer of the hydro-electric commission to supply them power at $31 per horse-

It has been known for some time that the management did not look MEETING CALLED TO with favor upon the proposition, but nothing official was done until yesterday, when a meting of the directors was held.

Mr. H. A. Everett, of Cleveland, the president, and Mr. Moore, also of Cleveland, one of the directors, were present, and the situation was thoroughly canvassed with the local di-

As a result of the deliberations, it was decided that the offer was not suitable to the company's conditions. Today a letter was sent to the hydroelectric commission, notifying them that the company had refused to do business on the basis suggested.

Manager Speaks.

"We had a meeting of the board of directors yesterday, and we decided that it would be impossible to accept the offer of power at $31 per horsepower on the peak-load basis." said Manager C. B. King. "We went into the question very thoroughly. have the experience of experts, and every possible bit of information on the subject. With all these facts be-fore we there was only one conclusion. by the men through the National Civic Federation and Mayor Gaynor. fore us, there was only one conclusion,

"Consequently, we could not see our way clear to pay the price, and have informed the hydro-electric com mission. It is a straight matter of business, and we must purchase our power at the best market.'

No Peak-Load. "We have always contended that to purchase power on the peak-load basis would be unfair. It puts a premium on good business. For instance, between 5 and 6 o'clock at night, especially on a rainy night, we would have to increase our cars, and they would be heavily loaded. Consequently our peakonly we would have a very heavy lot lance, was held vesterday afternoon of business to handle. If we bought would not use half the power or a little chase of Niagara power. On Meter Basis. "Power should be sold on the meter basis. That would be fair to all parties concerned, and every customer would pay for what he got. I think that is a fair proposition.' 'If the hydro-electric commission

There is a great deal of discussion regarding the failure of the company and the commission to agree on

The London street railway was looked upon as one of the largest customers the city would have, and it was confidently expected that within very short time after power arrived in the city ,they would be taking from

SETTLE BIG STRIKE

New York Express Drivers and Employers Get Together.

New York, Nov. 3.-The movement for a settlement of the strike of excompany drivers and helpers, which has practically tied up express business in and around New York city for a week past, took more definite form today, with the announcement that representatives of the companies would meet representatives of the men this afternoon to discuss plans for ending the strike.

The meeting is scheduled to be held in Jersey City this afternoon. Indications are that each side will enter the conference with a willingness to concede something, and prospects for a settlement, possibly before night-fall, looked bright. Earnest effort to adjust grievances and a resort to ar bitration, if the joint conference failed of agreement, seemed to be the Ottawa, Nov. 2.-Hon. Mr. Fielding announced this afternoon that the trade negotiation between the United States and Canada, as left in abevance since last spring, fololwing the con-ference of Mr. Fielding with Secretary Knox at Albany, would be resumed in Ottawa on Saturday next. Formal innouncement was received today rom the state department at Wash ington that Mr. Chas. M. Pepper, who was one of the United States representatives in the tariff negotiations of last spring, would again act.

Will Not Sacrifice. Ottawa, Nov. 3 .- In the coming conference, the Canadian Government has no intention of sacrificing any Canalian interest or of restricting in any way the Liberal policy of preference to Great Britain. At the same time it s recognized that there are many inomalies in the present international tariff situation, the removal of which would place trade on a much more economic and profitable basis. The freer exchange of raw materials admitted mutual benefits both to consumers and exporters in Canada and the United States, without involving any injury to vested interests in either country. This is the general principle underlying the negotiations.

HORSE-DRAWN STEAM FIRE ENGINE

No. 3 Committee of City Council Decided to Buy One.

EXPERIMENT

Tender of Canadian Fire Engine Company, of London, Beat Out All Competitors.

A horse-drawn steam fire engine will be purchased by the city council. At least No. 3 committee at its meeting last night recommended that the tender of the Canadian Fire Engine Company, of this city, to furnish a 1,000-gallon engine for $5,300, was recommended to be accepted. There were many tenders received.

Mr. T. H. Purdom, K.C., Mr. D. H. Gillies, and Mr. Robert Angus represented the local concern. Mr. Purdom in addressing the committee, pointed out that the auto engine was in the experimental stage as vet, and that it would be much wiser to allow other cities to do the experimenting. London was in the snow belt, and it had not been demonstrated that autos could run all winter in this climate.

Horses Are All Right. A good team of horses would get to fire in the congested district just as soon as an auto. Mr. Purdom read letters from the fire chiefs of Detroit, Erie, Pa., Cleveland, Rochester and other cities, in which they advised that a steam fire engine be purchased. Mr. Purdom 30 pointed out that in Chiconcluding his address he urged the on of the Ontario Women's Christian committee to stick to the steam engine.

The deputations then withdrew, after "No," said one voice. "How can-we pany, St. Louis, who asked $10,350 for

MRS. BATES' FARE SENT TO HAMILTON!

Woman Whose Husband III-Treated Her Will Be Witness at Inquest Tonight.

Hamilton, Nov. 3 .- Mrs. J. Bates, who is residing with her mother or Brampton, Ont., Nov. 2.—Geo. Bar- Hess street north, called at police

Mrs. Bates is in rather poor circumstances, and Chief Smith has written to the coroner in London asking him to arrange for Mrs. Bates' transportation.

Bates was sentenced the day the child died, and whether or not another charge will be laid against him will depend on the medical evidence at the inquest.

The Dundas police have a warrant for Bates arrest on a charge of desertion, and will likely ask the London police to arrest him at the expiration of his sentence.

Crown Attorney McKillop has sent the money to Mrs. Bates to bring her

TWO OF THE STRIKERS DISCHARGED AT HAMILTON

G. T. R. Men of the Ambitious City Are Said To Be

Alarmed. [Special to The Advertiser.]

Hamilton, Nov. 2.-Great excitement was caused among the local Grand Trunk employees vesterday afternoon, when two of the strikers who were reinstated a few weeks ago were discharged by Assistant Superintendent Bowker, of London. Conductors Connors and O'Reilly, who were placed on their old runs for several weeks and then laid off again, were called to the office of the local assistant superintendent of the middle division shortly after noon yesterday and informed that their services were no longer required. Although the railway official explained to the two employees the reason for their discharge, the latter refused to divulge it this morning, although they had a conference last evening with Thos Todd, a member of the grievance com-

WOULD ABOLISH ALL BILINGUAL SCHOOLS

Parliament and Make Demands.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—"Abolish the bi-ingual school," was the slogan of practically all the speakers at the mass meeting of Orangemen at Victoria Hall last night. Dr. Sproule was accorded a hearty reception. He took up the bilingual school question, saying that in the interests of the children that system ignatures the nature of the occupation of place of residence of each member and place of residence of each member and the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an to pass, they must put all the pressure possible on the Provincial Government to abolish the bilingual schools and have nothing but the English language taught. Dr. Beattle Nesbitt was even more severe than Dr. Sproule. He advo-cated giving the Government fortyeight hours' notice to issue an ordern-council abolishing bilingual schools, If it did not do it, then all the Protestants in the city should meet and march to the parliament buildings and demand that the Government comply with their wishes. Just at this point all the lights in the hall went out. The doctor said that was a happy omen, for it gave everybody an idea of the state they would be in of the Roman Church got control of the country. He asked everyone to be true to British traditions, and see that while giving everyone the greatest amount of freedom, they insisted upon British fair play for all, and above all to see that the children were taught the English language and no other in the public schools. Hon. Dr. Pyne said he indorsed every sentiment they had expressed. He thought Canada owed much to the Orange Order, as it was the pleneer of vilization. Wherever

WHERE EXTREMES MEET.

It is surprising how many things a certain school of Imperialists has in with the anti-Imperial group in Quebec. It is a case of extremes Some Imperialists in this Province object to the word "nation" as applied to Canada. They are de-Telegram even contends that the Doshould become "merged and indistinguishable." Mr. Bourassa and his disciples also are attacking Sir Canada as a nation in his Montreal Mr. Bourassa's Le Devoir devotes much space to an attempt to that far from being a nation, Canada is in a state of vassalage. Here are some of the arguments:

"Canada is certainly a nationbut it has not the right to make laws which England cannot disclaim should she find them unsatisfactory from her point of view.

"Canada is a nation, but if it concludes commercial treaties with foreign nations which are contrary to the interests of Great Britain, she will refuse to sanction them, and we will have made them in vain. They will have no weight from a commercial and diplomatic point of view. 'Canada is 'a free and independent nation.' Accordingly, she should have and will have a fleet-but not a boat in that navy will be able to leave Canadian waters, even to conduct Lord Grey, our governor-general, to the Antilles, if the English admiralty does not give us permission. Canada is a nation—but nothing in her laws says that Great Britain may not impose taxes upon the colonists of Canada. "Canada is a nation, but our fleet must remain at England's disposal in urgent cases."

What is the purpose behind these sneers and jeers at the Imperial relationship? Do they not throw a fleod of light on the motives of Mr. Bourassa and his associates? If it is not an attack on British connection, what is it? And these are the sentiments actuat ing the men who are trying to defeat the Government in Drummond, with the sympathy of such politicians as Mr. Foster and Mr. Rogers.

Apart from this, the statements of Le Devoir are wide of the facts. It is true that in theory the British Parliamen may override Canadian laws, but in practice it is impossible for Great Britain to dictate to this country; and there is no possibility that she will ever try to do so.

ENGLISH BY-ELECTIONS.

The recent by-elections in two English constituencies, South Shields and Walthamstow, vielded no signs of a reaction against the Government. In South Shields the Liberal majority dropped from 4,000 to 3,000, but in January the candidate was a cabinet minister, Sir Wm. Robson, then attorney-general. Walthamstow furnished a better criterion of public opinion. I is a typical East London workingclass district, with a population of 200,000. In a total vote of 33,257 in January, Mr. John Simon, K. C., Liberal, had a majority of 2,195. There have been 12,000 removals in the interval so that January's vote gave little clue to the present sentiment of the constituency. A by-election was necessitated by the appointment of Mr. Simon (now Sir John), to the solicitorgeneralship, a rare preferment for a man of 37. On Tuesday he was returned by a majority of 2,766 in a total poll of 30,580.

While the episode undoubtedly hastened the Spanish-American war, it was heading in that direction. The great majority of Americans were honestly convinced that Spanish rule in Cuba was a cruel tyranny-as it really was—and that it was the moral duty of the United States to end it. That their motives were humanitarian complete independence. But many of them are no doubt now ashamed of the harbor. The nation was stampeded into a declaration of war before any proper inquiry was made. "Remember the Maine!" became the battle-cry of of the people by William Randolph Hearst. His yellow journals forced the unwilling hand of McKinley. What would have been regarded today pureed into a war of vengeance, as far as jingoes of the Hearst type could make it so. though seemingly there was none to tell him that his father and mother were in the city and longing to see him.

Joan flushed at the words, but her answer carried conviction. "I do not yet understand just how or when Felix discovered that the King's life was threatened," she said; "but there can be no doubt it was a ruse on his part to distract the attention of the mob when he told his Majesty that I was in the hotel. I chanced to be looking out—and I was very angry with Felix when I saw that he had stopped the King and was evidently informing him of my presence."

"What an amazing chapter of accidents that you should be in Delgratz today, and under providence become the means of saving Alec's life; for it is clear to me now that had he gone a few yards farther he would have been shot down without mercy!"

Joan colored even more deeply. Her pride demanded that she should no longer sail under a false flag, yet it was a seeming breach of maidenly reserve that she should announce her own betrothal. It would have come easier if she could

We were fond of each other, but gave not much heed to it, since I was poor and he told me he had his own way to make in the world. He wrote to me a few days ago asking me to marry him. I did not know what to say, when chance threw in my what to say, when chance threw in my what to say, when chance threw in my way a commission to copy a picture in this very city. He also spoke of the sounds very mad and unconvincing; but it is true, and it is equally true that I should never have acknowledged today that I returned his love if—if I did not think—for a few awful minutes—that we should both be killed. And—and—I wanted to die in his arms!"

Joan began to cry, and Princess Delgrado cried too, and it was in tears that King Alexis III. found them when he had returned Prince Michael's stately greeting and was told that the young American lady who had come from the shattered hotel was in his mother's room.

Wherein the Shadows Deepen. Joan was standing on the first floor verandah of the President's house early next morning, when her errant thoughts were brought back to earth from wonderiand by a stir and clatter of hoofs in the courtyard. She knew, because Alec had cold her the previous evening, that he was bound for an experimental farm certain local magnates had established in the rich alluvial plain that forms the right bank of the Danube some few miles from the capital city.

"At present our country exports pigs and little else," he had said. "I mean to change all that. "In sending your pigs, I hope you also get rid of your bores, Alec," put in Felix, and Nesimir, who knew no English, wondered why so many of his guests laughed. As for the elder Delgrado, he sulked intil the President produced a bottle of Imperial Tokan, a luxury which the stout Sergious explained away by the state-sergious explained away by the state-ment that his house had never before been honored by so distinguished and brilliant a company. So Joan was prepared for her lover's departure from Delgratz soon after day-break. The heat of the noon hours was so excessive that early rising became more of a necessity than a virtue; hence her appearance on the verandah.

Alec had definitely promised his mother before retiring to rest that he would not dispense with an escort until the city was thoroughly quieted down after the day's excitement. The troopers paraded at six o'clock, and he did not keep them waiting a minute. Joan, delighting in the military display, watched him mount and ride off with that half-maternal solicitude which is the true expression of a woman's love. She hoped he would look up ere he quitted the courtyard—and she must have telegraphed her wish, for Alec at once turned in the saddle, almost as though someone had told him she was

He waved a hand in gay greeting, and it would appear that a whim selzed him at the sight of her, since he gave some instructions to an aide-de-camp, who came clanking back to the porch, dismounted and entered the building.

FOR SLEEPLESSNESS. Lack of proper ventilation often causes sleeplessness. Many notions of mankind have been blamed on the "draught," and while to mothers it seems a bad policy to bring up a child with the draught-of-air fear always present in mind, it is not advisable to sleep with the air blowing directly over the body. But there should be plenty of air in the room. Wear a nightcap, if you are afraid of a cold in the head, and place a screen in front of the window. ALL GOTHAM DRIVERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Thirty-Thousand Men May Follow Five-Thousand Out at Present.

[Associated Press.] New York, Nov. 2.—The threat of a general strike of all drivers, teamsters and men in allied occupations hung over the city today as a result of the failure of the express companies and their striking employees to come to terms. Use of the authority to call a general strike, which was conferred last night upon the general officers of the teamsters, by the executive council of the brotherhood, would affect approximately 30,000 men, in addition to upwards of 5,000 now involved in the strike of express company drivers and helpers, and practically tie up all vehicular traffic in the city.

No promulgation of a general strike order was expected, however, pending formal presentation, announced to take place today of the men's demand upon the companies, and conferences expected to grow out of this move, and the efforts being made by Governor Fort, of New Jersey, Mayor Gaynor, of New York, and Mayor Wittpenn. of Jersey City, to bring representatives of the companies and men together. More than 400 wagons were moved by the companies vesterday, but the congestion of perishable express matter was only partially relieved. Conditions are still serious, and the companies announced that a big additional movement of wagons would be attempted today. Disorders were at a minimum in the early part of the

OF BRITISH ARMY

German Says Forces Not Qualified to Play Part Worth Mentioning.

Berlin, Nov. 1, - Colonel Gaedke. who attended the British army manoeuvres in September, writing in the Tageblatt, expresses the conviction that if the British army be compared with the French, German, Austrian, or Japanese armies the verdict can only be that as at present constituted and with its present training it is not fit for conflict with a continental army, and is, in general, quite apart from the smallness of its numbers, not qualified to play a part worth mentioning in war.

As a land power Colonel Gaedke de-Great Britain has no place among the first-class military powers. Nevertheless, her soldier material and the raw material in the form of officers of which she can dispose are really eminently good, and need yield to no others in the world

Colonel Gaedke's indictment is based on what he saw at the manoeuvres, The troops, he says, may be excellent for colonial and Asiatic warfare, owing to their great moral qualities of coolness and daring, but their commanders have no idea of handling troops in masses, and the army, stead of being organized as a whole, and welded together for the work of war, is an aggregation of single battalions. The infantry and artillery brigades and the cavalry regiments are still the highest organic unit, and beyond these the training and practice of the generals do not extend. The training of the individual units is also defective. There is no proper co-operation between the firing and the attacking lines and the supports and reserves. Each battalion fights for itself without considering what is going on to the right or left of it. Most astounding of all, however, Colonel Gaedke declares were the decisions of the umpires. These were so glaringly irreconcilable with what must have happened in accordance with the real position of events, and were so flatly in defiance of all the possibilities of war, that thoroughly unsound tactical theories must ascribed to the British generals.

Queries Answered.

DUNDAS STREET MERCHANT .-Is there any legal means of preventing General Sir Archibald Hunter, and the roadway on the Dundas street hill being used as a drain, and providing a gutter next to the sidewalk to take the rain and snow waters from a block on Ridout street, and half a block of Dundas street, east of Ridout? Ans. -There is no practical legal remedy. The legal remedy is to indict the city for maintaining a nuisance, but unlike indictments against individuals, an indictment cannot be prosecuted against municipal corporation without leave of the Attorney-General, or of a judge. which leave is a matter of discretion, not of law. The law provides that the corporation shall keep its streets in repair, but the remedy is at the whim of the corporation, until an accident happens to an individual, who may then sue for damages. Chicago, Nov. 2. - Charles Webb Murphy, the president of the Chicago National League Baseball Club. says stands ready to give John T. Brush $30,000 for Christy Mathewson, the star pitcher of the Giants. He also says that Matty could name his own salary

"I don't see how I will ever get Mathewson," said Mr. Murphy, "but any the New York club wants $30,000 for him I will sign the check and tell the pitcher to make out his own contract. To my mind Mathewson is the greatest pitcher that ever faced a batter. If I could have had Pitcher Mathewson in the recent world's series there would have been a different story to tell. Two remarkable features of oands has broken out afresh.

The Financial Consideration. There is a parliament, as there is a sultan, in Constantinople, but neither counts for much. The directing power is in the hands of the men who are determined to uphold at all costs the domination of the Turk, as they control the army they can do what they please

Only one thing limits their freedom of action. They must have money to pay their soldiers, or at least feed them, and they must not only have money, but powder and shot, without which any army is useless. But they haven't any money. Hence the persistent effort to raise a loan. France Barney Starts Legal Fight, But 4½ per cent, with guarantees, but it does not suit the governing junta to give guarantees. So the French offer s rejected.

Germany is now appealed to for aid, even at 6 per cent. If the Turks the money at any percentage it s believed they will create some pretext for attacking Greece. They are thirsting for some method of reestablishing their military prestige. Greece is practically defenceless, From a military and naval point of view, there is nothing to prevent the Turks from marching to Athens, if Greece was left to their tender mercies. The idea of the war party in Constantinople is that the powers are so full of apprehension as to the possible

Hence the order of the day is to do anything that can be done to stir up jealousy and create alarm.

THE ROYAL CELEBRATION AT CARNARVON, WALES

Investiture. In one of the wildest, most mountainous counties of Wales nestles a picturesque little town that just about now considers itself the most fortunate village of its size in the length and breadth of the entire world. This little town is Carnarvon, and, in the confines of the ancient castle that is one of the proud possessions of the village, according to a recent decision of King George V., is to be celebrated within a year the investing of bonnie Prince Edward, heir to the throne of England, with the time-worn title of Prince of Wales. Cardiff, ten times as large as little that the honor has gone to the ancient but diminutive town. Great influence was brought to bear on the King to have Cardiff selected, but it is understood that Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, who is a member Parliament for the district of which Carnarvon is the centre, overcame the efforts of those who sought to influence the King and induced the ruler to choose the home of his constitu-

For a long time King George had been of the opinion that a public state ceremony held in Wales would draw the people of that section of his empire still closer to the British throne. Lloyd George added to this his appeal that the quaint farmer folk of Carnarvon be thus given perhaps the only chance they may ever have to see with their own eyes the person of the youth who some day is to become their ruler. Edward III. carried his tiny son to the door of the castle and with these words, that every loyal Welshman loves to remember, said: "I will give you a prince who was born in Wales and cannot speak a word of English.' Plans for a great state pageant and public jubilation have already been suggested by the inhabitants of Carnarvon. The mayor of the town is up to his ears in work already in preparing for the great event, though it is not to occur for nearly a year. He suggests that the affair shall take place among the splendid ruins of the castle, if possible in that one of the crumbling towers where Prince Edward was born. At this point, he argues, several thousand of the townsolk could witness the ceremony by mounting the castle walls. Outside the main gate of the castle gate is a large quarry, from which, through the open gate, many more persons might witness the ceremony After the ceremony it is proposed that King George shall advance to the platform in front of the tower, and there, after the fashion of Edward III., present the lad to the multitude of his subjects.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

Procrastination is the most common error of ruptured people. In most cases they do not realize the risk they are running. You may have been ruptured for some time and not noticed any change for better or worse. But remember, no rupture stands still. Even if not getting larger the bowel is growing tast to the inside and any day your ordinary truss is liable to slip while lifting or coughling and let more of the bowel escape. In such a case strangulated hernia may result in death. Many people come to me constipated, nervous, irritable, suffering from indigestion and constant colds. They seldom charge this to their rupture, but that is where their ill-health originates. A rupture strains the whole physical organism, and is a constant nerve irritant, a breeding place for the germs of typhoid and frequently results in rheumatism, paralysis and sterility. Your rupture cured will make you feel like a new being; your nerves will recover their normal tone and your rundown condition replaced by vigorous, joyous health. Act at once and remove the daily danger of death. J.Y.EGAN, Specialist of Toronto tone and your rundown condition replaced by vigorous, joyous health. A BIG SUPPLY OF POTATOES TODAY

Prices On Local Market Were 60 to 65 Cents Per Bag.

OATS PRICES ARE DOWN

Farmers Are in No Hurry to Sell Their Crops-Dressed Hogs $10 25 to $10 50.

There was a moderate sized Thursday market this morning, and trade was fairly brisk. A very large quantity of potatoes was offered, there being in all about 20 large-sized loads. The potato demand is very good, and as the crop this year has been large, the farmers are taking advantage of the good weather and roads to bring them in. The price at present is 60c to 65c per bag, with the majority of loads selling at 60c per bag. It is likely prices will be cheaper on Saturday, if the weather holds good. weather holds good There was a good demand for hay this morning at the prevailing prices, but the quality of fodder that was offered was not up to the usual standard. There were about 10 loads on the square, and only two of these were of good quality. The price is $11 to $12 per ton

Four loads of oats were offered. All were of fairly good quality and sold from $1 to $1 05 per cwt. The demand for good oats is very good at present, but the low price is evidently causing the farmers to hesitate before bringing a load in.

There is not much likelihood of the price going up at present, and one buyer stated this morning that it would not be much higher all winter. higher all winter There was no wheat on the market this norning, and the price is steady at 85c

One load of straw was on the market this morning. The present price ranges from $6 25 to $6 50 per ton.

A splendid load of beef and lamb was brought into the market this morning by a local butcher. The price of beef at present is $7 to $9 by the carcase. Mutton is bringing $8 to $10 per cwt. Lamb is worth 13c to 15c per lb, while dressed hogs are selling at $10 25 to $10 59 per cwt. Dairy produce prices are unchanged, as Dairy produce prices are unchanged, as Vegetables were not much in evidence, and the loads brought in this morning were very small. Celery, cabbage and cauliflower are most conspicuous. The prices are unchanged.

Grapes are just about done, and one fruit dealer stated this morning that he had received his last supply. The demand for grapes has been very good, but the crop this year has been poor. Apples are moving slowly at the prices

ANNUAL SUPPER HELD IN ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Excellent Programme Carried Out, Enjoyable Evening Spent by All.

The annual supper and concert of All Saints' Church was held last evening in the auditorium of the church. The attendance was very large and a most enjoyable evening was spent After all had partaken of the splendid repast provided by the ladies, the concert commenced, and a pleasing programme, consisting of songs and recitations, was given.

Rev. T. B. Clarke, rector of the church, presided, and a trio was rendered by Messrs. Doughty, Westby and Stevens. Mr. James Taylor and party gave the old English part song, "Madrigal," which was enthusiastically received by the audience. Miss Hazel Smith gave an effective reading, entitled, "Rubinstein's Playing," and solos were rendered by Miss Shoebottom, Mrs. Adam Beck, Mr. Jas. Staford and Mr. J. Taylor.

Addresses were given by Rev. James Church: Rev. Walter Moffat, of Chalmers Presbyterian Church; Hon.Adam Beck. M. P., and Rev. T. B Clarke. Not the least number on the programme was an excellent chorus given by the Pilgrims, a boys 'organization connected with the church.

FINED BY MAGISTRATE.

James Heatherly, who resides east of the city, near Pottersburg, was fined $1 and costs by Squire Chittick last evening. Heatherly was found cational committee of the county guilty of using abusive language toguilty of using abusive language towards James Marsh.

SPECIAL SERVICE. A special service commemorating All Saints' Day was held at All Saints' thurch on Tuesday evening. The choir of All Saints' was augmented for the casion by tche choir from St. James' Church, of South London, and about

Board of Education Accepts Miss Carnochan's Resignation.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, Nov. 3.-A meeting of the poard of education was held in the council chamber Tuesday night. J. F. Morrey, chairman, presided, and the other members present were Messrs. Hogarth, Dr. Neff, Scott, Agar, Boyse, Macaulay, Askert, Lenihan, Thompson and Sutherland.

After the minutes had been read by Secretary Sudworth, the resignation read, and subsequently, on motion, it was accepted.

A. Macaulay, chairman of the finance committee, verbally reported on the collegiate institute fee question in relation to Woodstock. and Principal Briden had interviewed County Clerk Burch last Saturday, pointing out to him that Woodstock Collegiate Institute had been illegally discriminating against Ingersoll by not collecting the established fee of 75c per month from first-year nonesident students. When they produced the statutes and pointed the clauses in the school act bearing on this question, the county clerk admitted that they were right and he was in error. Since the county is called on to contribute its proportion of the cost of maintenance, and nonresident first-year students were adnitted free, while Ingersoll charged 75c per month fees, as the law requires, several students have been passing by Ingersoll to Woodstock on that account matter and adjust it equitably. Mr. Briden, on being requested to speak, corroborated what Mr. Macaulay had NEGOTIATIONS ARE reported, and emphasized the need for prompt action to remove this injustice to Ingersoll and the county. It is the duty of the county council to see that Woodstock Collegiate Institute collects these fees, for they had been exempting these students for two years illegally, and taking an undue advantage of this town.
