Thousands Crowd Western Fair On Record Closing Day

GREAT FAIR OFFICIALLY ENDS TODAY

Athletic Meet Will Be Main Attraction at Grounds Tomorrow.
MANY ARE PRESENT
Attendance Expected to Exceed Friday Total Last Year.

ATTENDANCE.
1924	1923
Monday	8,000	22,500
Tuesday	17,000	20,000
Wednesday	43,000	48,000
Thursday	45,000	33,500
Totals	113,000	124,000

With the Western Fair of 1924 becoming a matter of history when the chimes toll 10 o'clock tonight, the people of London and surrounding district are taking advantage of the only warm weather handed out during the entire week. Today will see a much larger attendance than Friday of last year, directors state, when 18,000 people passed through the gates.

By noon it was estimated that between 8,000 and 10,000 people were on the grounds. The advance sale of grandstand tickets for this afternoon was such that yesterday's record attendance was liable to be shattered.

Mothers who have been afraid that their children would catch cold at the Fair on the earlier days were on the grounds by 10 o'clock with the whole tribe of little ones. This meant that the miniature merry-go-round on the Midway was doing a roaring business before the other shows were open, but by 11 o'clock all attractions were busy.

The Fair is still behind from an attendance standpoint compared with last year but the directors and the rest of the directors are most optimistic over today's figures, which should reach 25,000 at least and possibly 30,000.

Attracts 10,000.
The dog show, which closed at noon today, attracted over 10,000 people. Richard Oke, who had charge of the show, was congratulated on all sides on the success of the show, which was easily the best in the history of the Fair. Some twelve dogs were shipped to Peterboro last night, where they will compete in the show there today.

The board of directors held their farewell meeting at the Fair offices this morning. President Saunders thanked the members of the board for the operation that had made the exhibition the greatest in the history of the association.

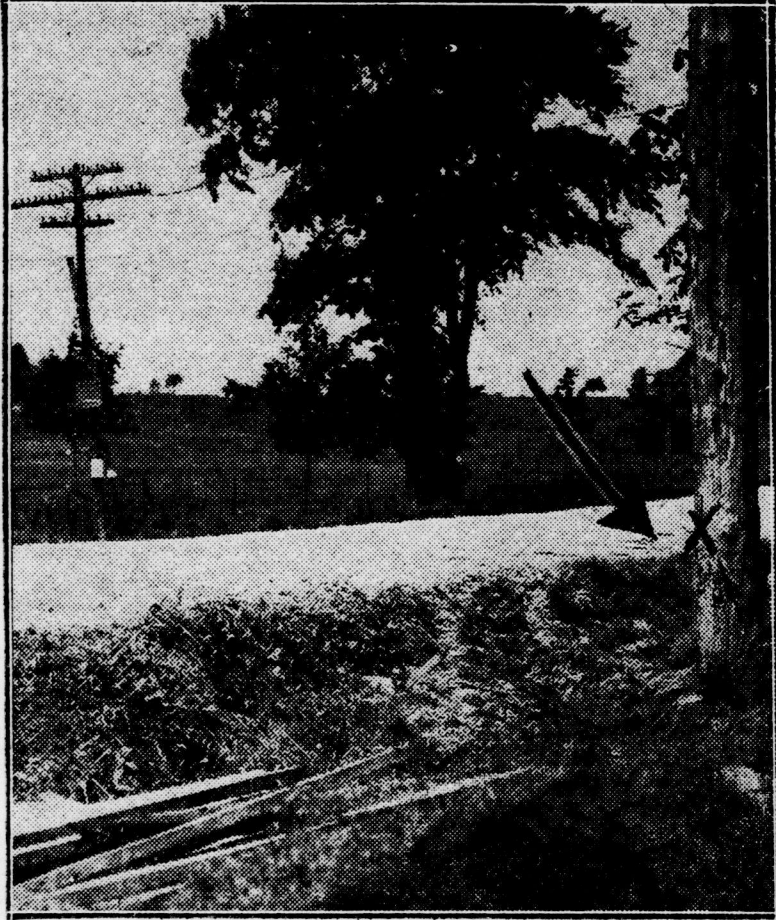

"I have never seen a better turnout of directors' meetings than this year," said Mr. Saunders. "It has been most gratifying and a great pleasure to me personally, and I want to thank you for the hard work you have done."

"We have had a prosperous exhibition, considering only a few minor complaints from exhibitors, which were easily rectified. I want to thank you once more for your assistance in making the Fair a success."

At the opening of the meeting a standing vote of sympathy was passed to the members of the family. Please see Page 4, Columns 5 and 7.

SCENE OF FATAL MOTOR ACCIDENT.
The above picture, taken by an Advertiser staff photographer, shows the spot where Allan McDonald, Detroit, was killed, and Otis Smith, also of Detroit, was injured when their car crashed into a telephone pole twenty feet south of the Richmond street intersection of the Sarnia highway at 9:30 this morning. As indicated by the arrow, the machine swerved from the Sarnia road to the south, plunging into the ditch, where the pole stands.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT AS CAR LEAVES ROAD

Six Detroiters in Smash-Up On the Sarnia Gravel Road.
MISSED TURN
Four Others Are Bruised and Suffer From Shock in Crash.
Allan McDonald, age 27, Grand avenue, Detroit, is dead; Otis Smith, 24 Pasadena avenue, Detroit, severely injured and four others slightly bruised and shaken as a result of a motor accident on the corner of the Sarnia Gravel road and Richmond street at 9:30 this morning.
The six occupants of the car, all young Detroiters, were travelling to Niagara Falls for a holiday. Smith, the driver, failed to notice the turn at Richmond street and plunged his machine into a ditch where struck a telephone pole and turned over. McDonald's throat was cut by the into the ditch and striking. The other five were taken to the city in a police car.
McDonald's body is in Logan's undertaking parlour, where a coroner's jury, empaneled by Dr. C. C. Ross of Arva, viewed it at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was decided to adjourn the inquest until 7:30 Monday evening in the courthouse.
Those in the car beside McDonald and Smith were: James Melvin, 1667 Leslie avenue, Detroit; John Height, 56 Pasadena avenue, Detroit; Norman Schuster, 64 Pasadena avenue, Detroit; and Edward Morrow, 24 Pasadena avenue, Detroit. All were under thirty and had been friends for many years. They worked together in the Detroit Street Railway Company, and decided recently to take a trip to Niagara Falls. The young men left Detroit at 5 o'clock this morning, expecting to reach the Falls by evening, where they intended putting up at a hotel.
Swerved Sharply.
According to Height, he and McDonald were in the front seat with Smith. The latter was going at a good speed when he came to the Richmond street intersection of the Sarnia highway. Apparently Smith did not see the turning until well in the middle of the road and swerved sharply to the south, his car going into the ditch and striking the telephone pole with great force.
Smith and McDonald were pinned under the machine, but Height and the three men in the back seat were able to escape. The crash was seen by neighbors, who rushed into the house of H. Marshall and telephoned for a doctor and ambulance. Smith and McDonald were carried into the Marshall home. The latter was dead when brought in. Mrs. Marshall worked over Smith for some minutes until he regained consciousness. When informed that his friend was dead he became hysterical, and has been in a daze ever since. It is believed he will recover.
Dr. L. M. Jones attended Smith half an hour after the accident.
"We were going along quite comfortably at about 9:30 when we came to try their luck,"

French Are Preparing To Leave Ruhr Towns

Evacuation Will Proceed by Degrees To Avoid Undue Display.
Associated Press Despatch.
Dortmund, Germany, Sept. 11.—Preparation for the departure of the French from Dortmund, Luenen and Hoerde now are well under way, and numerous scattering contingents have already departed across the Rhine. It is believed the evacuation will proceed in such stages as to avoid any undue display and that it will not afford the natives the opportunity for showing jubilation.

Canadian Ale Exports Curtailed by Officials

Special to The Advertiser.
Bridgeburg, Sept. 12.—Exporting on the Niagara River of Canadian ale via the "Cuba" route, has been much curtailed this week, as a result of the seizure early Monday morning of 200 cases on Grand Island, in the Niagara River, and the arrest of two men who were guarding it. It is common talk among rivermen that ale exporting will shift again to Lake Erie, where vessels would have a better chance of manoeuvring under cover of darkness than in the narrower Niagara.

Twenty-Three Injured in Street Car Crash

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Sept. 12.—Twenty-three persons were taken to hospital here early today, two of whom are in a serious condition, as a result of a collision of two surface cars in which 50 or more passengers were riding.
Associated Press Despatch.
Soysett, Long Island, Sept. 12.—The secretary of the Prince of Wales today denied newspaper reports that the prince attended the Firpo-Willis fight last night. The prince spent the evening at Long Island.

Snowstorm Paralyzes the North

Cochrane and the Surrounding District in Grip of Blizzard.
SUDDEN CHANGE
Heavy Drifts Follow Recent Plague of Black Flies.

Special to The Advertiser.
North Bay, Sept. 12.—With great drifts of snow blocking the roads and telephone and telegraph wires working heavily, Cochrane and the surrounding district is in the grip of one of the most phenomenal storms in history.
Telephone advice from the northerly town scaped in merely, due to the strain on the wires from the blizzard. The storm set in early yesterday morning and has been raging now for over 24 hours.
Streets in Cochrane are covered with drifts. Residents opened their doors this morning to find the passageways blocked with heavy accumulation of snow. The fall of snow and the continued storms gave no promise of letting up at an early hour.
Cochrane is almost completely cut off from the outside world. Roads are impassable. The Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway faced big difficulties today in offering transportation facilities. Telegraph and telephone companies are able to give only a depleted service.
Exact depth of the snowfall could not be ascertained this morning. The blizzard is one of the strangest and most severe freaks of nature ever witnessed in the north. A few days today facilities for sleighing are offered.
Cool weather is reported in all parts of the country, but there have only been very slight traces of frost elsewhere.

New Hyde Park Road Completed

Two-Mile Stretch Will Be Closed to Traffic For Two Weeks.
The last of the concrete was laid last night on the Hyde Park highway, completing just a fraction over two miles of roadway between the intersection of Wharncliffe road and Grosvenor street westward to the Cameron sideroad on the Hyde Park road.
The highway will not be open for traffic, however, for three weeks yet, to give time for the cement to cure and to complete the work of widening earth cuts, fills and ditching.
The King Engineering and Construction Company of Oakville began the laying of the concrete the end of June, but bad weather delayed the work to the extent of twelve or fourteen days. The highway consists of a double track roadway made up of two strips of concrete, each nine and one-half feet wide, with a strip of macadamized road down the center, seven feet in width. The King Company has had about 50 men, 10 teams and a number of trucks employed on the job.
The expenditure on the highway, which is being laid by the London suburban area commission, is being shared by the city, county and province. The work has been done under the direction of County Engineer Charles Talbot.
The King Construction Company has moved its equipment plant to Mannick, near Ottawa, where the company has a large contract for concrete highway to be completed this fall.

Man is Recovering from Broken Neck

Condition of Andrew Johnston Slowly Improving, Hospital Reports.
Andrew Johnston, of Manor Park, who was taken to Victoria Hospital eight weeks ago with a broken neck, is today on the road to recovery.
Physicians at the time held little hope for the man's recovery.
At Victoria Hospital it is reported that Johnston has regained the partial use of his right arm, which was paralyzed. It is thought that the full use of his limbs will be obtained in time, and that he will be able to do light work again.

Questions Being Decided Today

Form of Ballot Now Under Consideration at Toronto.
Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, Sept. 12.—The text of the questions which will appear on the liquor plebiscite ballot, on which Ontarians will vote next month, is being decided at Queen's Park today.
Representatives of the wet and dry forces are in conference with the prime minister, the attorney-general and other members of the cabinet, behind tightly-closed doors, discussing the form which the questions will take. The press was excluded. Premier Ferguson explaining that it would be difficult to have a full discussion with it present.

Many Secure Permits to Make Home Brew

Every day in the month, Sundays included, a private brewery is set up in London and the vicinity. The amateur brewers continue to enjoy the thrill of coaxing little kicks out of the one-time innocent raisin.
In August there were 33 people who took out permits to set up amateur breweries within the confines of their homes. July produced 26 who decided to install crocks, pans, bottles and boilers in the cellar to try their luck.
Since 1921 the records show that 1,730 applications have been received from those who believe in the pursuit of the flowing bowl.

Explorers Use Bucksaws To Release Tiny Schooner From Gripping Arctic Ice

The Bowdoin Reaches North American Mainland After Thrilling Battle.
PRESSURE INTENSE
Dr. Donald B. MacMillan Now Believes Northern Glaciers Are Advancing.

Special to The Advertiser.
Battle Harbor, Labrador, Sept. 11.—Dr. Donald B. MacMillan and his staunch little schooner Bowdoin are safe on the North American mainland by virtue of a pair of bucksaws. The Bowdoin warped up to the ice sheet here yesterday "with-out a feather knocked out of her" as the fishermen ashore remarked, and brought the first story in history of a ship being sawed out of the Arctic ice. When on August 1, Refuge Harbor was barred by a huge ice block, with food, fuel and supplies low, MacMillan and his crew of seven men sawed their way through the barrier and landed here triumphantly yesterday with one of the most dramatic stories of polar exploration ever brought out of the north.
The Bowdoin was locked in the ice for 330 days at latitude 78:32 north and longitude 72:27 west, on the northwest coast of Greenland. The 89-foot schooner is the smallest vessel ever to attain this latitude and withstand the Arctic winter. Dr. MacMillan and all members of the expedition are fit and well, and report gratifying success in their scientific observations and all other objectives of the trip. They have brought several rare gyrfalcons, the Arctic hawk, live blue foxes and other trophies.
Proof of Advancing Glaciers.
Dr. MacMillan has procured positive evidence that the glaciers are advancing. He took photographs of the location of the glaciers on his previous expedition in 1908, and found old tribesmen among the Eskimos who were of the opinion that the ice was creeping down. Although Dr. MacMillan does not consider the evidence sufficient to predict a return of the ice age, he is positive that the glaciers are returning and will probably continue through a long cycle of years.
Richard Goddard, observer for the Carnegie Institute at Washington, made eight months' continuous observations of terrestrial magnetism, atmospheric electricity and related subjects, the longest and most exhaustive study with the most complete equipment ever made in this latitude. Goddard said he had in his conclusions to state at this time, as his work was solely observations and findings which must be corrected with deductions at Washington. He stated, however, that he found the magnetic disturbances lessened when the sun came back, proving the theory of the solar effect on terrestrial magnetism.
Cannot Understand Phenomenon.
Donald Mix, radio operator on the Bowdoin, had no explanation for the

Football Player Killed

Cracking of Petroleum To Boost Gasoline Power

Scientists Striving To Put New Discovery Into Practical Use.
TIME OF EXPLOSION
Present Efficiency Only 15 Per Cent of Possible Total.
Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 12.—T. N. T. bicrid acid and other high explosive, it is asserted, will be shot off with greater speed, and make war more deadly as the result of the invention of a new booster detonator, of wide application in both peace and war, described today before the American Chemical Society by the inventor, Bennett Grotto, of Tamaqua, Pa.
The time of explosion of T. N. T. under any circumstances is infinitesimal, it was explained. By the use of new detonator, it is possible, it was declared, to reduce the time of explosion still further.
The future of automotive transportation in America, T. A. Boyd of Dayton, Ohio, declared, depends essentially upon progress in the cracking of petroleum.
"It is possible," said Mr. Boyd, "that within the next few years the efficiency of internal combustion engines may be tremendously increased. At present, under the most favorable conditions, the utilization of gasoline for automobile is less than 15 per cent efficient."
A gallon of gasoline contains enough energy to run a flivver 450 miles on a level paved road, if it were possible to utilize all the energy that could be obtained by burning this amount of gasoline.

Rotarians Meet Here Next Year

Invitation Accepted for Annual Conference of 18th District.
COVERS LARGE AREA
Fifty-One Points in Michigan Are Represented in Conference.

At the last weekly meeting of the London Rotary Club it was decided to send an invitation to hold the annual conference of the 18th district in London, and today Rotarian Roy Cunningham returned from the meeting of the executive in Detroit with the announcement that London is succeeding in winning the conference for this city. The date will be just week in March, and the probably Thursday and Friday.
The eighteen Rotary district takes in London, Chatham and Windsor in Ontario, and 51 points in Michigan, including Detroit, Bay City, Fort Huron, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, St. Joseph, Sault Ste. Marie, Alpena, etc. In all there are 54 clubs in the 18th district.
In 1923 the conference went to Detroit and in 1924 it was held in Detroit. London Rotarians are determined that the 1925 gathering shall be of a nature to justify the invitation of the London club to be accepted. It is anticipated that the gathering will bring about 1,000 Rotarians and their wives to London, and committees are to be set to work at once in making all the necessary arrangements.

Crown Wins Point at Bank Hearing

Judge Coatsworth Rules Copies of Call Loan Sheets Must Be Submitted.
Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, Sept. 12.—Sweeping aside the technical objection of the defence, Judge Coatsworth today ruled that the crown was entitled to put in copies of the call loan sheets of the Toronto branch of the Home Bank in its case against Ocean G. Smith, former chief accountant of that institution.
"We want to get to the ootom of the matter," the judge said in upholding the crown, after objection had been taken by G. N. Shaver, defence counsel.
Evidence was given by Gordon L. Chapman, assistant manager of the Toronto branch of the bank.
Mr. Chapman said that during his time in the branch no bad debt returns had ever been made to head office. He also mentioned some loans which had been made by the bank without security.
The defence counsel submitted his objections to allowing this as evidence, reports from branch banks of which the accused would not know anything.
Mr. Chapman identified several large bank books which were put in as evidence.

Man Charged in Sandwich with Abduction of Girl

Special to The Advertiser.
Windsor, Sept. 12.—Pathetic scenes featured the trial of Roy C. Allen, who appeared before County Magistrate Smith at Sandwich Township charged with abduction of a 14-year-old Harrow girl. Allen denied that any abduction had occurred, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. The girl repeatedly broke down and cried bitterly as evidence was being taken, and several questions remained unanswered. Allen requested that the court room be cleared of all except witnesses and this was done. Judgment was reserved until Sept. 19.

Commercial Operators May Join Walkout

Associated Press Despatch.
Toronto, Sept. 12.—The Toronto Telegram says today the Canadian Press operators strike situation this morning gave prospects of development rapidly and it will not be surprising if the commercial operators in the C. P. R. are called out, precipitating a general strike of commercial telegraphers on account of the super-visor handling special matter. This information was given this morning at strike headquarters.

This was followed by a discussion on 'The Sales Tax vs. the Turnover Tax' was dealt with by G. C. Rooke, F.C.A., Regina, Sask. 'The Basis of Municipal Credit and the Relation of Municipal Taxation and Municipal Ownership Thereto,' was the topic of a discussion following an address by Horace L. DOCTOR'S INFATUATION ENDS IN ARREST AT ELLIS ISLAND

Former British Army Surgeon Seeks Hand of Broker's Daughter. PARENTS OBJECT Claim Is Made Young Physician's Conduct Contrary to Conventions.

New York, Sept. 12.—Ordered deported because his infatuation for a New York broker's daughter had in the words of immigration officers, "deprived him of the self-control required by the conventions of modern society," Dr. William H. McCullagh, who was a lieutenant colonel in the British forces during the world war, is being held at Ellis Island. He will be given a hearing next Tuesday in habeas corpus proceedings, which he instituted yesterday in an effort to avoid deportation. In the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, the charges against the physician were characterized as "frivolous and shame." The girl is Miss Fay Furbeck, 19 years old, daughter of Rollin G. Furbeck, a member of a New York Stock Exchange firm. During the hearing on Ellis Island after Dr. McCullagh's arrival last month from London, it now is revealed testimony was given of threats by the surgeon against Miss Furbeck's father, her brother-in-law, who might impede his suit for the girl's hand. The evidence given at this hearing convinced Commissioner of Immigration Curran and the department of labor that the girl was not in love with the surgeon, and that she had not induced him as he alleged, to believe she would marry him. Miss Furbeck met the doctor while visiting her sister, the wife of another London surgeon. Mr. Furbeck, Dr. McCullagh's attention created such a situation that Miss Furbeck cut short her visit to England last April.

INSURANCE PLAN NOW CONSIDERED Diocese of Huron Talks Mutual Fire Insurance Company For Churches. The proposed formation of a church fire insurance mutual company was favorably considered by the executive committee of the Diocese of Huron at the regular meeting. To aid in the work a grant of $500 was guaranteed to J. W. Ormsby of Toronto, who is at present at work on the plan. Routine business and the confirmation of reports occupied most of the time in the executive meeting. The majority of the reports were submitted by the finance committee. Various grants were made by the diocese. Among these was the $300 to the Watford congregation to be used for the purpose of securing a new rectory. They were also given the right to mortgage the same to the extent of $1,000. Other grants were $200 to the congregation at Aron Lake, $75 to St. John's Parish Hall, Tuscarora, and $300 to St. George's Church, Windsor. The committee made a few changes in the confirming of the parishes of Glencoe, Wardville and Newbury to be united. The parish of Wolsley was attached to the parish of Warton and Hepworth. Numerous permissions were given to various congregations for the purchasing and erecting of rectories and parish halls. St. John the Evangelist Church of this city was granted authority to dispose of the old rectory and purchase another to meet with their needs. They were allowed to give mortgages up to $4,800. The one committee appointed by the executive was the missionary committee, which consists of Dean Tucker, Archdeacon Sage, Canon Rev. S. B. Irwin, Rev. William Lowe, Messrs. R. E. Davis, J. K. H. Pope, George Graham, Mr. Sutherland and Col. Fisher. The bishop addressed a few words to the gathering, urging them to be present at the general synod which is being held in the city in the near future.

BEAUTIFUL WINDOW PLACED IN CATHEDRAL In Memory of Dr. W. H. Moorehouse—Splendid Character Drawing in Faces. A stained glass window of great beauty and design has just been erected in St. Paul's Cathedral in memory of the late Dr. W. H. Moorehouse of London. The subject of the art window is "The Boy Christ in the Temple," and is especially appropriate. The composition of design and coloring are beautifully wrought. The child Christ is shown in the center in a group of learned men. There is splendid character drawing in the faces and the figures are clothed with a richness which adds to the pictorial beauty of the work. The figure of Christ is carried out in light tones as a contrast to the more heavy colorings of the other figures. In the background are the figures of Mary and Joseph. The material used throughout is English antique glass of the finest quality. The design was produced and carried out by the well-known firm of Robert McCausland, Limited, Toronto. The artists have spared no expense to make the window worthy of the place it holds in the cathedral. It is an excellent example of stained glass design. The memorial inscription at the base reads: "To the glory of God and in memory of Walter H. Moorehouse, M.D., 1842-1921."

JUVENILE PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED Lucy W. Brooking, Noted Social Worker, To Address Alliance. Miss Lucy W. Brooking, superintendent of the Alexandria Industrial School, Toronto, and one of the leading social workers there, will address the London General Ministerial Alliance at the Y.M.C.A. next Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Miss Brooking will repeat the address she gave before the Social Service Council in Toronto last July on the subject: "Why is Juvenile Delinquency on the Increase, and What Can We Do About It?" The alliance is fortunate in securing such an interesting speaker as is Miss Brooking for its first meeting after the conclusion of the summer season.

PEACE REIGNS ONCE MORE IN COUNTY BUILDINGS There is again peace within the walls of the county buildings since yesterday. Governor Dawson has succeeded in completing the repairs to the furnace and the first fire of the season was put out. The stenographers in particular were complaining of the cold, having to use electric heaters to warm up the room, but now all is well, the radiators sing merrily and the typewriters click snappily again. The turnkeys and prisoners also appreciate the "starting of the season." The turnkeys smile and the prisoners ply their dusting and cleaning trades with renewed vigor.

AUTO LURCHES INTO DITCH AND FOUR MISS THE FAIR When an automobile turned turtle in the ditch near Birr, four young Zurich farmers had a narrow escape from death, and a trip to the Western Fair was temporarily cancelled. When the car lurched into the ditch after the driver had attempted to pass an auto ahead of him, all four occupants were thrown out. This accident held up traffic on the road for a considerable time and many farmers, destined to the Fair, were delayed until the accident car was removed.

YEAR AT WESTERN THREE ON HIGHWAY COSTS BUT $50 ARE HIT BY AUTO

"U" Officials Strive To Bring Tuition Fees Within Reach of All. One Pedestrian Is Badly Cut About the Head and Legs.

A year at the university for fifty dollars seems almost unbelievable, but the fees for a year in the standard arts course at the university is just that amount. Colonel Brown stated today that the low cost of education at Western had caused much favorable comment at the "U" exhibit at the Fair. The main cost in education these days is the cost of living. Fifty dollars in the standard arts course enables a student to avail himself of the opportunity of acquiring a college education at very reasonable rates. There is, of course, the extra such as athletic fees, books and so on, but they are not high. Professor Morrow and Dr. Kingston were at the exhibit today and said that large number of people showed interest in the exhibit and were impressed by the small cost of higher education at Western. If a student enters a semi-technical course such as the pre-medical or commercial economics, the cost is $60 a year. The fees may be paid in instalments to make the burden light. There is a small library fee in the science courses which amounts to $3 for each science. The student is also a return fee of $5 to cover damages. If there are no damages the fee is returned. The student's council fee is $5, and the athletic fee is $10. The maximum for any course is $80. The average is between $60 and $70. The biggest outlay comes to those who live away from home and have to pay out money for board and room but the cost of the tuition and the use of the university services has been brought very low.

UNIVERSITY PROMOTION IN STAFF ANNOUNCED Appointments Also Included in List Given Out Today. The following promotions and appointments in the staff of the University of Western Ontario were announced today: The appointments cover eight departments and will strengthen the already efficient staff at Western. In the department of botany, Miss Helen Berdan, B.A. of Western, will be a demonstrator in botany. Miss Berdan is a graduate of the class of '24. She began her duties at the department of botany when the fall sessions open on Sept. 22. In zoology, Claude McCallum, B.A. of Western, class '24, will hold the position of demonstrator. In the department of physics, Captain Gregory Brodsky, Cambridge University, will be instructor.

WAR HISTORY TURNED INTO VIBRANT STUDY School Children Being Taught From Viewpoint of Canada's Part. While no new history text books which deal completely with the contribution of the British Empire to the world war have been issued, school children of London are being taught war history from a viewpoint of Canada's part in the rally in support of empire. Neither the present history of Canada nor the history of England, used in the schools, deals to any extent with the world war. Supplementary reading and class study is taken up for this purpose, and every effort is made to make the subject a living, vibrant study. A supplementary reader, issued by the department of education, is an effort to stimulate live interest in the call to arms sent to Canada in August ten years ago, and the subsequent part which the Dominion played in the four years of fighting against the ruthless ambitions of the Prussians. In fact, Canada's part in the war is dealt with, not as history usually is, but more as a romance, with little thought given to the many academic engagements, names of generals and of French towns.

GOVERNOR INVITES TWO TO PAY HIM A VISIT Governor Byron Dawson, of the Middlesex Jail, knows that now if he didn't know it before. He learned it in a humorous way, however, and no harm was done to anyone. And thereby hangs a tale. Two men, who were in the city paying a visit to the Western Fair, were introduced to Governor Dawson, and the three promptly became engaged in a most engrossing conversation. It is a humorous way, when his newly-found friends were leaving him Governor Dawson, with his broadest of broad smiles, said with all possible gusto of hospitality: "Come and see me the next time you are in town and stay for a few days." By virtue of his office, Governor Dawson is held to so many guests during the year that it is hardly to be wondered at his genial hospitality so got the better of him.

MEREDITH STATES ACTION CORRECT

City Within Rights in Demanding Union Wages on All Contracts.

GREER OPPOSED

That the city is legally within its rights in demanding that union wages be paid for all contract work done for it, is the opinion of the city solicitor expressed yesterday in a letter to the city.

At the time of the printing of the voters' lists, when there was some discussion as to the power of the city to demand this clause in all contracts let by it, the council asked the solicitor for his opinion.

He cites a decision by Mr. Justice Middleton in Toronto, in 1915, to prove that the city is within its rights in insisting on this part of any contract.

The attitude of the labor representatives in the council of last year, who introduced and fought for the passage of this clause in the by-law, is thus buttressed by the efficient argument of law.

Alderman Greer, who was one of the dissenting aldermen, and one of those who believed that the city should not in fairness to contractors impose this clause in the by-law, says that though this gives legality to the action, it is not fair, that it does not necessarily make it good business to insist on it.

"As far as London manufacturers are concerned," he says, "they are not in the case of skilled labor, do not think any more than I have ever thought, that the city should insist on this clause in the by-law, and do not consider it fair. This decision of Justice Middleton, of course, refers merely to the union wage, and not to a union label on goods supplied to the city. In any case, I do not think it is fair to insist for handling the city's business."

TAXATION EMPLOYEES MAY BENEFIT BY ACT

Employees of the taxation offices will have an opportunity to take advantage of the superannuation act and make application to benefit by its terms. The act applies to all those employed in civil service departments. It is just lately that the taxation offices have been recognized as a part of the civil service, and this is the first time that local employees have been given a chance to consider making applications.

The applications have to be filled out by each employee who desires to apply. There is nothing compulsory in the act; it is optional whether an employee desires to pay in five per cent per month of his salary for superannuation purposes.

It is understood that application forms have been received at the office of the federal inspector of taxation and that the employees are considering the terms of the superannuation act.

AIR COMPRESSOR PAYS FOR ITSELF IN YEAR

Last year the department of the city engineer advised the purchase of an air compressor by the city at a cost of $2,000. At the time the city engineer, W. P. Near, forecasted that the machine would pay for itself within two years. That was a year ago, and today the machine is paid for.

By renting the machine out to the London Street Railway and the Public Utilities Commission, together with the labor that has been saved, the machine is now out of the city's debt, and starts away to earn money and save expenses for the department.

All the road surface work this year has been done efficiently by the machine and a variety of other uses have been found for it. It works on any job where digging is part of the work, and saves dollars an hour in men and time.

Friends For Over Forty Years

Mr. Wm. McNeil
778 Waterloo St., London

Mr. Wm. McNeil, London's veteran poultry judge and fancier, arranged his first financial transaction with The Huron & Erie over forty years ago.

He distinctly recalls it because, as he says, "They couldn't do too much for me."

Mr. McNeil told our officers that he has dealt exclusively with The Huron & Erie all these years.

Lasting friendships, such as we have enjoyed with Mr. McNeil, are worth striving for.

The Old Huron & Erie, now celebrating its Diamond Jubilee, hopes to see Mr. McNeil and hosts of other old friends within its portals for many more years.

INDIAN WITH BOTTLE TAKES TERM IN JAIL

Informing Magistrate He Didn't Know Power of Rubbing Alcohol.

Stephen Fisher, an Indian of the Muncey Reserve, came to London yesterday to see the Fair. He thought it should be an occasion for celebration, and a friend of his supplied him with the necessary beverage—rubbing alcohol.

Although Stephen had taken a drink before, he little realized what a potent beverage rubbing alcohol was. It had immediate effect upon him, and he became intoxicated. He was arrested last night by the police and the bottle was found in his possession.

In police court this morning he told Magistrate Graydon that he had never tried rubbing alcohol before. The man he had obtained it from told him it made a good drink. Fisher has a wife and family. He owns a farm on the Indian reserve. "You know you can't drink rubbing alcohol," Magistrate Graydon told the man. "You'll be found dead some day. I'll take the months," Fisher replied, dejectedly.

LONDON HEALTHY CITY, ENGINEER DECLARES

Points Out the Present Street Cleaning System Gives Best Service.

"London has clean streets. I don't know of any other city with as clean streets," says the city engineer today. "They were clean of course before I came here and the good work being done every night and by our system of road cleaning and sweeping we are able to give the city the best service in this respect. London is a healthy city, according to the annual statistics and perhaps clean streets have something to do with general public health."

At the present time the city engineer's department has a gang of road and drainage men at Queen's Park during Fair Week who keep the roads and drains in working order and do all repairs on the spot. "That they are necessary is evident from the work they find to do each day."

City Engineer W. P. Near remembers the Western Fair twenty years ago when it was smaller and considerably wilder and woollier.

"In my younger days," he says, "the Fair was a pretty rough affair. It has changed for the better since then. It was my annual holiday when I was a boy and it is pretty much the same old Fair now, with a few changes in discipline or behavior on the part of the visitors that makes it more attractive."

Keeper Declares Monkeys Are Superior To Humans

Rather than scoff at the theory that humankind is descended from the monkey, men and women should regard it as a compliment. This is the naive belief of Chimpo, the monkey-man at Johnny J. Jones's exposition. Chimpo is responsible for the maintenance and education of the Jones menagerie, and resents any implication that his pets have no brains.

"I never tell my monkeys that they are the ancestors of mankind, because I am sure they would be offended," Chimpo ironically confided to The Advertiser. "As a matter of fact, the monkey is superior to us in many respects. He is more tolerant of his brothers' mistakes, and his ethics are often of a higher standard than man's."

LIBRARIES ATTRACT 14,000 CITY CHILDREN

Attendance During Summer Shows Big Increase Over Last Year.

More than 14,000 children visited the public library and the branches during the summer months. About two-thirds of those who came for books remained to read while there. The main library had the greatest number of attendants, 8,764 being the total number of little ones to visit the children's department.

The east branch came next in point of numbers, attracting 2,899. The south branch had 1,387. The figure for the southeast branch were 1,547. All the branches showed an increase, and it is expected that the coming year will see even a greater increase.

The new building acquired for the south branch is more centrally located, and will be able to serve a greater number of children than the branch which carried on in Victoria school.

CHRIST CHURCH, ANGLICAN, TO HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES

Special harvest thanksgiving services will be held in Christ Church on Sunday, Sept. 21, when the preachers will be Rev. Wm. Love, rector of St. Johns (Arva), and Rev. A. L. G. Clarke of this city. On the following Sunday, Sept. 28, special speakers in the church will be C. E. Bidwell, Lord Bishop of Ontario, preaching in the evening.

MORE THAN $4,000 RAISED IN JUBILEE CAMPAIGN

More than $4,000 of the $15,000 objective in the Huron College jubilee campaign has been raised so that it is apparent that the end is in sight. The larger part of the larger parishes and the Huron College Alumni have handed in their returns.

Like an investigative child, a monkey will try anything once. When it was suggested that they be taught to ride miniature motorcycles, it was thought every odd night the machines would frighten them. The experiment was tried, however, and now the Jones exposition has a "monkey-drome," in which the similar ride is so thrilling that the monkeys are doing nothing but sit in a bowl with perpendicular sides. They have never had an accident, which is more than the men and women riders to the motor-drome can say.

UNIFORMS URGED FOR ALL CADETS

Effort Started in City To Provide Equipment For Members.

TWO NEW UNITS

Efforts to secure uniforms for London's school cadets have already commenced, and, if successful, over 1,000 lads will be outfitted with neat, trim-looking khaki suits that will add much to the smartness of the corps. Only the need of funds for the authorized uniforms stands in the way, but instructors hope that, aided by government grants, public-spirited citizens will soon take care of the uniform cost, which is comparatively small.

"We have had some fine uniforms recommended to us," Brigadier Secord of the Public School Cadets told The Advertiser today. "None of the school companies have much in the way of uniforms. We could outfit them all with $2,000, but the boys, though eager to get cadet training, cannot be expected to pay for these uniforms themselves, and we teachers cannot do as much in a financial way as we would like to."

Uniforms shown to The Advertiser were of two kinds. One was for officers and the others for N. C. O.s and cadets. The officer's outfit consists of tunic with open collar, shirt and trousers, all in khaki, and made from heavy duck. The uniform is priced at about $5. The uniform for cadets and N. C. O.s consists of khaki shirt and trousers, and is priced at about $3. The department of militia is supplying caps free of charge this year, in place of the 25 cent grant made last season.

The government gives us a grant of $1 a year for each uniform," explained Mr. Secord. "The uniforms will last for years, as they are worn on parade only, and the equipment of the corps could get someone to finance the initial steps in outfitting the cadets with uniforms, they would take care of themselves for the remainder of the year."

Last June, when London's cadet corps was inspected by Lieut.-Col. Gillespie, the inspecting officer had great praise for the smartness of the equipment of the boys. Some of them had caps, and some had old scout uniforms.

There are likely to be one or two more a year of a large fortune, the outfitting is maintained in much better order, De la Salle cadets being complete in their equipment.

Instructor O. H. Banks of the cadets at Boyle Memorial School, is a warm supporter of Brigadier Secord's move to uniform the cadets. Mr. Banks will try to arrange a week-end camp for the boys and Mr. Secord for the Simcoe street cadets at Carling Heights next week.

A program for the two units at a camp during the present holiday period was arranged earlier in the week, but was called off owing to bad weather.

"The shed was used as a playhouse for the children. Only slight damage was done, and the blaze, which burned an automobile tire in the shed was extinguished before the fire department arrived on the scene."

UNDERGROUND CABLES TO SOON BE FURNISHED

System Will Be Complete Before Frost Comes, P. U. C. Manager Believes.

London's underground cable system for high power transmission wires will be completed before any serious drop of frost sets in, according to the general manager of the public utilities commission. Orders have already been placed for 9,000 feet of underground cable, and this will be delivered by the end of October.

About two weeks will be necessary to lay the new cables. If cables are placed at a shallow depth underground early in the summer another lengthy stretch of cable, between the Horton street station and Kitchener street, was put in about two weeks and a half.

With the completion of the new stretch of cable, London's hydro substations and the main local station will be completely linked up by underground cables for the carriage of high transmission wires. London's total of underground cables for telephony, telegraph and power wires is now measured in miles, and the overhead network of wires which has characterized main streets in recent years is gradually disappearing.

LIONS' SERVICE TENT BIG DRAWING CARD

Mayor Wenige, Mrs. Wenige and Fair Officials Guests at Weekly Dinner.

Mayor Wenige and Mrs. Wenige, President Saunders, and Secretary of the Western Fair (their wives) will be the guests of honor at the weekly dinner party of the London Lions, in the Lions' tent at the Fair Grounds.

Members of the Lions' Club have had a most comfortable "service" tent in operation at the Fair all this week and a number of the tent has been bought by large number of visitors. The Lions' Club is one of the social clubs of the country which seeks to find enjoyment for its members in some measure of service to the community.

This service tent at the Fair has entirely justified its introduction by the club in the opinion of C. M. H. Graham, president, who will be operated again next year the same place.

TWO MILLIONAIRE BRIDES OF SERVANTS ARE FORGIVEN

Winthrop Family Holds Conference Following Girls' Elopement. HAVE $3,000,000

Sons-in-Law Will Not Be Welcomed at This Time. Is Decree.

Lenox, Mass., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Robert Winthrop, who is 86 years old, summoned to Lenox her sons and daughters when first she learned of the elopement of her granddaughters, the Misses Emily and Kate Winthrop, last Saturday, and they have been holding a family conference at home.

Beekman Winthrop, former secretary of the navy, arrived from New York Sunday and returned today. He was joined on Tuesday by Frederick Winthrop of Boston, who is with his brother, Grenville Lindall Winthrop father to the brides, at Groton Place, and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Kean also is with her mother, Mrs. Winthrop. The only member of the family absent from a conference that lasted until late Tuesday night was Mrs. J. Herman Van Roken of Rome.

It is said that Mr. Winthrop, as a result of this family conference, has decided to forgive the eloping daughters who are his only children, but the two sons-in-law would not be welcome at his home at this time.

Kate's husband, Darwin L. Morse, resigned today as a member of the Lenox fire department, giving as a reason in a letter dated Burlington, Vt., and received by Chief Oscar S. Hutchinson, that "I expect to be absent for a long time." The elopement carried much baggage when they started on their honeymoon.

The sisters are said to have told Miss Helen Holmes, first their governess and later their companion and secretary of their approaching marriage, and she was pledged to secrecy.

Corey L. Miles, Mr. Winthrop's chauffeur, now the husband of his older daughter, Miss Emily, taught the sisters how to operate automobiles only this year and they received licenses for the first time within a month.

Their father is said to have objected strongly to their ownership of cars. According to friends of the family, the sisters came into possession within a year of a large fortune, said to be $3,000,000, from the estate of their maternal grandmother.

Canadian Press Despatch. Baden, Austria, Sept. 12.—Evy May, 23 years old, German movie actress, widely celebrated for her beauty, committed suicide yesterday by shooting herself through the heart.

Evy was desperate because the rich family of her betrothed, Fritz Mandl, opposed the marriage. Now the family states that Evy misunderstood them, as their objection was not irrevocable.

BRINSLEY WILL OPEN 1924 SCHOOL FAIRS

First Ten Exhibitions To Open Monday—Interest Is Greater.

The first of ten school fairs to be held this fall in Middlesex County will be held at Brinsley next Monday.

R. A. Finn, local agricultural representative, is busily engaged completing the arrangements for the Brinsley and other fairs to follow. Mr. Finn reports that interest throughout the county among both the boys and girls and their parents, in the school fairs has redoubled.

Agricultural organizations, realizing the possibilities of the school fair to promote among the rising generation a desire and a habit to exhibit the products of their skill in the management of the land or live stock have generously contributed to the prize lists of the different school fairs.

From the number of inquiries received at the office of the representative, this year's fairs promise to exceed those of last year. It is expected that fully 300 country boys and girls will participate in the school fairs this year.

CHILDREN AND MATCHES ARE BLAMED FOR BLAZE

FEDERAL RELIEF AID SAID MYTH

British North America Act Prevents Action, Hon. J. Murdock Writes.

FAIRY GODFATHER

While several of the Ontario municipalities believe that the intention of the federal government, after the unemployment conference, was to pay 25 per cent of all relief expenditure, dividing the remainder between 25 per cent for the provinces and 50 per cent for the municipalities, the letter of Hon. James Murdock to the City of London makes it very clear that this is not the case.

In this letter, Mr. Murdock quotes the British North America Act to show why it is legally impossible for any federal government to grant financial aid for relief or charity. By the terms of the British North America Act, all relief work and all charitable gifts must be made by the provinces individually, and the federal administration is prohibited from doing this work.

Mr. Murdock goes on to say that since the war, municipalities have come to look on the federal authorities as being a fairy godfather in the way of supplying relief, especially from unemployment. He reiterates forcibly the fact that the B. N. A. Act distinctly prevents this.

On the grounds of humanity and charity he admits that there might be some cases where the federal government on the subject of unemployment, after the ending of the late conference on Sept. 3 and 4, and as it insists on the legal status of the provinces under the act, it looks as if the suggestion as to the percentage basis of sharing up the relief work is made on faulty information.

REINFORCEMENTS PREVENT ATTACK BY SALESMAN

George Drover, a farmer residing near Dresden, was threatened with assault on Richmond street yesterday when he refused to accept change given by an alleged magazine salesman.

Drover was accosted by the stranger, and after being told of the many splendid features of the magazine, he possibly he some claim upon Ottawa, under very exceptional circumstances, but as his statement is described as the final decision of the federal government on the subject of unemployment, after the ending of the late conference on Sept. 3 and 4, and as it insists on the legal status of the provinces under the act, it looks as if the suggestion as to the percentage basis of sharing up the relief work is made on faulty information.

What Do Accumulative Debentures Mean To the Owner of a Sum of $76.24 or Over?

The Ontario Loan & Debenture Co. has recognized the need of a safe remunerative investment to yield a definite sum at a given date.

Ordinarily when you invest your spare funds in government, municipal or other sound bonds you clip a coupon and receive your interest each six months. At the expiration of your investment what have you to show for your interest? The comparatively small interest amounts have been spent on incidentals. When you should have a substantial sum to show for the work your money has been doing you have nothing left but your first investment.

Ontario Loan Accumulative Debentures help you save your interest, at the same time making the interest itself earn the good rate of 5 1/2% per annum.

Instead of cashing your interest coupons the interest is left to accumulate with the principal and is compounded half yearly at the debenture rate—5 1/2% per annum.

You may have a debt maturing at a given date, you may want to enter business or are considering purchasing a home in two, three, four or five years, then place your available cash in Accumulative Debentures where your interest earns interest.

The following table shows you how quickly a given amount will increase in five years' time allowing you to materialize your ambitions much sooner or to reinvest a much larger principal than first started to work for you.

$76.24	will give you	$100	in five years.
$152.48	will give you	$200	in five years.
$381.20	will give you	$500	in five years.
$762.40	will give you	$1,000	in five years.

The above table deals only with Accumulative Debentures issued for five years. You may, however, invest any amount of $76.24 or over for any intermediate period.

Call or write for further particulars of Accumulative Debentures or Coupon Debentures.

GETTING A MEAL PROVES BIG JOB

Fair Week Bustle Is Heaven For a Rugby Star, But Oh, the Poor Citizen.

"THIRD DOWN"

Getting a meal at meal time in a Bowry town restaurant during Fair Week may be all in a day's work for the man who started on his college rugby squad or the parking policeman. But for the average individual who has been accustomed to rushing into a lunch counter, getting a hot sandwich, sipping coffee between bites and tossing his financial offering to the cash box as he flashes through the door, the task is not so easy.

To the chap who is accustomed to lunching in comfort in nice, quiet, secluded upstairs eating houses, where he can think over the afternoon's program or meet a lady friend, the scramble for the best car home from Springbank can equal the appearance of his pet cat at noon hour.

Any rank amateur philatelist is likely to have more success in finding penny "Mauritius" or Hawaiian "missionaries" amongst the collectors in the office of the post office than the regular patron of London restaurants has these days. If one starts bucking the line on the first car home from Springbank on the first appearance of his pet cat at noon hour.

Once you do find a table and consult the re-amped meal list, you order a steak and get an omelette, or find that pork chops, which you ordered for Thursday lunch, are "all out" the waiter informing you in an apologetic whisper heard elsewhere only in the dining room.

Restaurants have extra corps of waiters in harness during the week. Chefs are working the breaking point, crowded with flocks of orders for underdone eggs, rare steaks, lean veal and strong coffee. It's not so easy to be accommodated at their favorite cafe.

People eat more now, one restaurant owner told a reporter. "They all want big meals and big portions and we are working our best to supply them. We have had a good summer with tourists, but after the Fair business will be a little better. Good service under pressing circumstances has been given for the most part, and thousands of visitors to the city have been fed by the restaurants."

FORBID HAY AND STRAW FOR PACKING SHIPMENT

Deputy Minister of Agriculture States Regulation Starts October 1.

In order to prevent any further spread of contagious diseases among packers, the deputy minister of agriculture has issued the following statement to the effect that with some exceptions and restrictions the use of hay and straw in packing of goods packed in hay or straw will not be permitted after Oct. 1.

"Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by section 9 of the animal contagious diseases act, chapter 75, R. S. C., 1906, I do hereby order that:

- (1) Such merchandise is accompanied by a certificate from a qualified veterinary officer of the country of origin that such hay, straw, or other fodder has been grown and stored, and the merchandise packed in a district not infected with foot and mouth disease, or (2) Such merchandise is accompanied by a certificate from a qualified veterinary officer of the country of origin to the effect that the hay, straw, or other fodder used in packing such merchandise has been thoroughly disinfected, or (3) In the absence of such certificate, such merchandise shall be unpacked and the contents inspected under supervision of an officer of the federal department of agriculture, the cost to be borne by the shipper.

With plenty of hose, the compressor will be able to work right down to the bottom of the 25-foot shaft, and will save time and room in the small space. The shaft is some fifteen feet square and this leaves very little room for men working with shovels.

COMBINATION OF TOOLS GREAT AID IN WORK

A neat combination of tools by the city engineer has resulted in making the digging of the 25-foot shaft for the new pumping station at the corner of Wellington road and High street, a comparatively easy matter. The order of Aug. 7, 1924, dealing with the importation of merchandise packed in hay, straw or other fodder, is rescinded."

Prince Joins With Hunters But Wary Fox Still Alive

H. R. H. Goes On First Hunt, After Night of Dancing.

RIDE UNREWARDED

Special to The Advertiser. Snyssert, N. Y., Sept. 12.—H. R. H. joined his first fox hunt yesterday, but failed to get his fox.

Wednesday night the prince danced as usual the some of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt II, leaving the party shortly after 2 o'clock, presumably to get to bed early for Thursday's hunt, Lona Island's hunting season for the hunt after 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and after waiting a few minutes with hounds straining at the leash, finally rode off from the estate of Robert P. Todd without the prince.

About a mile down the roadway, however, the prince riding "Gent," joined the merry party and led off by taking the first jump. Just where he went after leaving the Vanderbilts is not known, but it is said he rode the hunt without either sleep or breakfast.

After an hour's riding, during which all the hunters, including Wales, took several "nasty" jumps, a fox was chased out of the bush, and the hunt was on. The prince, well in the lead, was in the thick of the fray.

The prince, looking disdainful of the honor of having the lead of the British throne on his trail, made a beautiful run, and after three hours of twisting and turning and jumping over fences and through the brush, the fox hunters gave up the chase, leaving the panting fox still alive "somewhere on Long Island."

During the hunt, Mrs. Hall, a sister of Mrs. Lester Reed, wife of the British colonel, fell at one of the jumps and was stunned. Another huntress received a sprained ankle from a fall.

VOTERS SEEM ANXIOUS AS PLEBISCITE NEARS

Many Call at the City Clerk's Office To Make Sure Names Are Listed.

Already several interested parties have asked the city clerk to show them where their names occur in the city voter's lists. This is about the time when the city clerk's office in this department of civic life, and with the additional interest of the coming plebiscite on the O. T. A., the voters are getting their rights.

The voter's lists are the basis of the coming struggles, both provincially and municipally, and as they are somewhat hard to understand for many voters, the city clerk's office has a large number of people coming in asking why their names have been left off the list, when the trouble is that they cannot find them.

ALE PURCHASED LEGALLY, SO MAN IS DISCHARGED

A local man purchased a dozen bottles of ale at the dispensary two weeks ago. Because his wife objected to having liquor in her house, he was compelled to plant it in the back yard.

GRADE BREEDING EWES ENTER CANADA FREE

Grade breeding ewes entering Canada from the United States are now exempt from duty. By an order-in-council dated Aug. 28 authority was granted for the remission of the customs duties on all grade breeding ewes admitted to Canada from the United States under the regulations to be prescribed by the minister of customs and excise, providing that the importations are made between the first of September and Nov. 30, 1924, both dates included.

ARMY IN ST. THOMAS NOW EXTENDS OUTPOSTS

The St. Thomas Salvation Army has extended its outpost to include the smaller towns in the immediate vicinity. Last night the army band played a number of choicest selections at Port Stanley, after which an appropriate address was delivered by Sergeant-Major Cook, who said that while he was in England last year the Salvation Army had a slum district in London, and was very much impressed with the pentitent demeanour of the prisoners.

The speaker declared it was a farce that it should cost more to govern their own business, if we were to do that it would return Canada to a country where money was wasted in millions and the people's representatives for the most part were unfitted for the offices they held.

Public Men Unfitted For Posts, V. Buchanan Tells the Kiwanians Today.

Branding Canada as a country under-governed and over-governed, a country which had reached the last limits of taxation that could be borne by businessmen and manufacturers; a country where money was wasted in millions and the people's representatives for the most part were unfitted for the offices they held, Vernon Buchanan, businessman of Ingersoll, delivered a rousing address before the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon in the Main Building at the Western Fair grounds at noon today.

TAXES TOO HEAVY

Men Unfitted. The reason that millions and millions of dollars were squandered, wholesale by parliament was due to the fact that three-quarters of the people chosen to represent the country in parliament were not fitted to represent the province of Ontario or Canada.

MacMILLAN'S OWN STORY.

By Special to The Advertiser. (On board the schooner Bowdoin, Sept. 11.—BATTLE HARBOR, Baffin Land, Sept. 11.—I probably owe our lives to the staunch timbers of our good ship, the Bowdoin, which was wrecked in the harbor of Baffin Land, during the winter of 1923, we dodged and wintered the ice finally choosing a winter quarters about the middle of the harbor, Smith Sound, near Etah. By Sept. 7 we were locked in by the ice and the little ship the Bowdoin took a tremendous ice pressure and was feared she would be crushed.

Another it was an extremely mild open winter. The lowest temperature was forty-five degrees. In previous years I found it 60 below. Monday's Meeting of Council Likely To Be Delayed For Week.

Owing to the Western Fair the next meeting of the city council, which is scheduled for Monday, will probably be adjourned until the next regular meeting. It is always the practice to hold the committee meetings the week prior to the council meeting and as this has been impossible this week, the meeting will probably be carried over.

ONE RECORD SMASHED

As it was, one record was smashed yesterday, to the special delight of Director Billy McCallum. The largest crowd that ever watched a grandstand performance in the history of the Western Fair jammed its way to the West Gate at 7 o'clock last night, and the turnstiles clicked to the tune of 10,550, according to figures announced by the directors.

DUMBELLS HOLD FAVOR OF PUBLIC

"Ace High." Now Playing at Grand, Full of Novelty Skits.

ENTIRELY NEW

The public's reception of "The Dumbells" has always been enthusiastic, but their greeting to the versatile soider entertainers this week has eclipsed all previous ones. "The Dumbells" variety show at the Grand Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, crammed with novelty skits, entrancing songs and a brand-new line of humor, is such an improvement over past fine performances that the audiences' appreciation knows no bounds.

The rapid-fire methods of flashing on new scenes and the general "pep" with which the show is flavored are features that have done much to make Captain Plunkett's boys the most popular entertainers in this country. In this latest show they have stressed these qualities to an even greater degree.

MAJESTIC SHOW PROVES ARTISTIC

Robert W. Chambers' Novel Portrays Life of Sculptor.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE

"Between Friends," a picturization of Robert W. Chambers' novel of the same name, is the film offering at the Majestic Theatre the last half of this week. The author of so many of America's best sellers was an artist before he took to writing. In his stories he often turns to his first love and gives his public some idea of studio life.

"Between Friends" is such a story. There is the sculptor's studio, the pretty model, the midnight frolics, action, love, happiness and unhappiness. Added to this there is the benefit of the keen insight into human nature which is possessed by Mr. Chambers.

The picture is unusual. Some of the scenes, especially those which depict the agony suffered by men tortured by mental strain are done with an uncanny vividness. The story is not all given over to pathos, there are many bright scenes, gay artists and their fun. Then follow the happy ending.

The cast is strong. Lou Tellegen, who holds a reputation as one possessing a feeling for the artistic, plays the role of the sculptor. Alice Cahoun is the artist's model, and Anna Q. Nilsson, who needs no introduction, plays the part of a wealthy and successful sculptor's erring wife.

"Between Friends" is a racy society drama. It runs true to Chambers' form. It is well done and is absorbingly interesting.

The men who visited the city were W. Fulton, district passenger agent at Toronto, H. C. Groat, superintendent of the road, and J. E. Parker, general agent of the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

LOEW'S PRESENTS SPLENDID BILL

Former Star of "The Bat" Heads Vaudeville Program—Crowd Delighted.

FINE PHOTOPLAY

Starring in an uproarious travesty on the great mystery play of the stage, "The Bat," Marietta Craig is an attractive headliner on the boards at Loew's Theatre for the last half of this week. Miss Craig and her little company played to packed houses yesterday afternoon and evening. She is a comedienne of reputation, a star of the famous stage play for years, and still as refreshing, as natural, as human as could be wished for in farce.

"Batty," is the caption for Miss Craig's offering at Loew's. It's a burlesque on "The Bat" and a rattling good one. It smacks of mystery, much mystery that isn't solved until—well, one of the provisos for patrons of the mystery play is that they don't tell the secret to their friends. Anyway, the travesty is well written and acted so as to keep folk rooted to their seats in genuine fright one moment and almost rising to their toes the next at the sheer ridiculousness of a situation.

Marietta Craig and Company lead in a vaudeville bill that is well up to Loew's good standard. There are Bohn and Bohn, a pair of tumblers, who add the aesthetic to the physically marvelous with perfect rhythm that is pepped up to double four times.

The Singer Sisters are well named. Their song and piano offerings are of the vaudeville type, with a dainty comedienne of musical comedy style who drew round after round of applause last night. An extra is offered with the popular songs "May Time" and "Doodle-doo-doo," with illustrations, making a hit.

Mae Marsh is seen again at Loew's in the screen classic of Warner Brothers, "Daddies." Co-starring in this photofilm are such luminaries as Harry Myers, Claude Gillingwater, Willard Lewis, Crawford Kent, Clair Adams, Georgia Woodhove, Boyce Combes and others. "Daddies" is a raft load of proof in favor of the success of the all-star cast in screen productions.

SLAYERS ESCAPE DEATH IN ACCIDENT

Convicted Chicago Youths Have Close Call On Way To Prison.

Associated Press Despatch. Joliet, Ill., Sept. 11.—Manson F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, who killed the fourteen-year-old Robert Franks for a thrill, narrowly missed possible death on their motor trip to prison tonight, the climax of their separation from society for the remainder of their natural lives.

At the center of a five-car convoy, traveling about 35 miles an hour, the powerful automobile, carrying the two boys and two deputies, was seen to swerve abruptly to the right, dive into the wooded track of an electric railway, suddenly right itself and bounce 50 yards down the center of the right-of-way before it was stopped. Later they arrived safely at the penitentiary.

Every Visitor Finds Painting of Noted Peak Intensely Interesting.

Every visitor to the London Exhibition will be intensely interested in the magnificent painting of Mount Robson—the 13,068-foot monarch of the Canadian Rockies—exhibited by the Canadian National Railways.

Those who have been fortunate enough to have taken the Triangle Tour from Jasper National Park to Prince Rupert and Victoria and have seen the majestic beauty of Mount Robson, will welcome the picture as an opportunity to see again the rugged grandeur of Canada's greatest mountain. Others will be spellbound at the realistic beauty of this colossal scene. The huge glaciers, creeping relentlessly from the snow-capped peak to the warmer atmosphere below, where, chagrined to admit defeat, they rush in raging torrents to the quiet valley below, are awesome to those who have never seen the workings of nature at Mount Robson.

The picture is also interesting, as the scene of the camp of the Alpine Club of Canada this year. Three members succeeded in manhandling those heights, making only the second time Mount Robson has been conquered.

Flanking the painting on each side and giving it a most fitting setting are miniature figures in full color, representative of the various types of successful manhood, whose puny but indomitable efforts Mount Robson has watched. The red man is pictured here, the exploring missionary, the Indian scout and trapper, representative of the covered wagon days, the pioneer homesteader, and last the grim-visaged redcoat of the Northwest Mounted Police and the broncho-busting cowboy. Each figure is dressed in the regalia of the period and fittingly illustrates the undying romance of the Rockies.

FLOUR MILLS

HUNT MILLS NOW BOAST LARGEST ELECTRIC SIGN

Huge Electrical Display Proclaims Name of Flour Far and Near.

BUILT BY MARLEY

Immense Structure Bearing Latest Features Completed in Ten Days.

There has just been completed in London for Hunt Bros., Ltd., the largest electric sky-sign ever erected in this city, or for that matter, the whole of Western Ontario. The sign was built and erected by "The Signry," C. E. Marley, Ltd.

The sign, which reads, "Hunt's Flour Mills," is absolutely modern, being of the improved channel type. The channelling keeps the light from diffusing and renders impossible the blurring together of the letters one with the other.

Facing Nightingale avenue as it does, the sign can be read with ease for miles to the south, southeast and southwest. It is 30 feet high. It is 70 feet wide. It is illuminated at night by hundreds of blue mill type lights, which particular lights, blue in the daytime, shine with a snow-white light at night. The letters in the word "Hunt's" are 8 feet high; those in "Flour Mills" are 6 feet high. The sign can be clearly seen from Hamilton road, in the vicinity of East street, and also from the Lambeth highway, near Brick street. Passengers on the Canadian National Railway will have no difficulty whatever in learning that London is the home of a large, modern flour mill.

Much Material Used.

There were used in the manufacture of the sign by the Marley Company one ton of galvanized iron and two tons of steel. To operate and light the sign 10,000 watts of electric current are necessary. The structural steelwork is taken through the sub-roof and fastened to the concrete, thus making sure that the sign will maintain its upright position against all the inroads of the weather elements.

The Hunt sign is not only the largest sky-line electric sign in Western Ontario, but it is also the most spectacular. It was manufactured in the Marley plant entirely, and was completed in the marvellously short period of 10 days from the time the order was first given. It was the wish of the Hunt Company to have the sign finished and in position for the Western Fair this week, and though it was a difficult task the Marley Company accomplished the feat with something to spare.

Hunt's mills are known far and wide through the city and district for their much-advertised and much-used brands of flour, "Diamond" and "Thorobread" flours.

C. E. Marley, Ltd. have to their credit a large number of the more elaborate signs of the city. Included in the long list are the electric sign erected for Holeproof Hosiery, Dowler's, Grafton's, Huron & Erie, Carlyle Trebilcock, Heintzman's and Mason & Risch.

The Marley Company has a plant in Windsor, as well as in London, and from the two plants serve the whole of Western Ontario. The company is also the exclusive agent for Flex-lume signs, hundreds of which have been erected in both city and district.

The Marley Company is to be congratulated upon the Hunt sign. The mansion put in the Hunt sign, in turn, is to be congratulated upon its enterprise in putting up such a magnificent sign.

The oven trays slide in and out on racks or runways that are an actual part of the walls of the oven. There are no hook or sharp-edged metal racks to collect dirt or grease and to scratch the hands.

Probably the most irksome of all household duties is the family washing, which means either hours of drudgery with hand machines or tub or else mangled clothes from a so-called steam laundry—both expensive alternatives at best. Miss Simplicity, however, does the biggest washing quickly and at a lower cost than it could be done elsewhere. The machine requires no mechanical knowledge to operate, and yet handles everything from blankets to fine laces without the slightest injury, and moreover washes them absolutely clean.

The Hydro Shop is giving away a four-piece set of McClary's enamelware free with every McClary range purchased during demonstration. This offer is withdrawn on Sept. 13, so be sure to buy the McClary range early.

MACK FURNACE COMPANY.

The Mack Furnace Company, Limited, is showing the Mack Furnace in an exhibit in the Manufacturers' Building, downtown floor, which has been the object of considerable comment since the Western Fair began last Monday.

The Mack Furnace is particularly efficient for the burning of soft coal. It is built entirely of cast iron and only the highest grade of iron obtainable is used in its construction. The ash pit has a very large water-pan, which eliminates all dust from the ashes as well as supplying a large volume of moist air to the combustion chamber, which, in turn, reduces the fuel consumption. The Mack Furnace is more easily regulated than other furnaces and costs less to install and less for repairs.

GALT STOVE COMPANY.

The Galt Stove & Furnace Company is showing the Banner All-Cast Furnace in an exhibit on the main floor of the Manufacturers' Building. Mr. Page is the local dealer for the Banner Furnace.

The last few years has seen a steadily advancing price in hard coal, and as a result the consumer has been casting about in an effort to cut down his fuel bills. To meet this condition the Banner All-Cast Furnace has been manufactured, and as the name implies is a solid cast iron furnace with special air-blast attachment to aid in the burning of soft coal, as well as anthracite. A supply of air is admitted through the bell dampers over the firing door; this, coming with the gases given off, gives complete combustion, consuming gases and part of the smoke, creating an intense heat that was formerly lost. Thus is achieved a wonderful saving in the coal bill.

The Banner All-Cast Furnace is made with three capacities—5,000, 13,000 and 20,000 cubic feet. The exchanger is extra large, smooth inside and easily cleaned. The combustion chamber is a large, heavy one-piece casting with the heating surface increased by heavy corrugations. The fire door is large enough to admit large rough chunks of wood. The fire pots are in two pieces, flanged and very heavy. Other features of the furnace include: Four triangular individual grate bars, special air-blast smoke consumer, large water-pan, large roomy ash pit fitted with ash pan, poker and scraper as regular equipment, and hot water coil for domestic boiler can be supplied if and when desired.

Splendid Exhibits Draw Large Crowds at Fair

J. DARCH & SONS.

The exhibit of J. Darch & Sons, manufacturers of light and heavy harness and horse collars, wholesale and retail, 375-383 Talbot street, on the main floor of the Manufacturers' Building is well worth seeing. In it there is almost everything imaginable in leather goods.

There are being shown by Darch &

Sons, a firm which has been in business in this city for many years with a record for dependability and service that would be difficult to surpass, hat boxes, Boston bags, club bags (leather and leatherette), suit cases (leather, patent enamel and fibre), wardrobe trunks, under-arm bags and ladies' purses, satchels and handbags, card cases, mirrors, combs, card cases, music cases, etc.

Darch & Sons have a particularly fine display, also of higher grade driving harness, made in the latest style, all from high-class material and excellently finished off.

There are some lovely club bags and wardrobe trunks in McBrine bags, which alone are an almost irresistible temptation to travel and keep on travelling.

Anything in luggage is the slogan of the Darch firm, and they certainly live up to their slogan with vengeance.

HYDRO SHOP.

An hour's time would not be wasted were it to be spent at the exhibit of the Hydro Shop in the Manufacturers' Building at the Western Fair. The exhibit is a most interesting and profitable one, and as such has been attracting not a little attention from those touring the fair buildings.

There is something in the exhibit that will positively interest every housewife, for there are pretty lamps, labor-saving devices and fixtures of all kinds.

The Hydro Shop display is headlining Moffatt's ranges and the Miss Simplicity electric washing machine.

The range top of the Moffatt electric stove is just as smooth and easy to clean as a table top, because it is made all in one piece, without joints, cracks or seams. The heat in the oven is very evenly distributed, with the result that meat, fowl, fish and other foods are roasted or baked to perfection with absolutely a minimum of shrinkage. The juicy, rich flavors are thus cooked right in. The oven interior is one piece and electro-welded into one piece and the inside porcelain enamelled on the

HUNT FLOUR IS IN DEMAND IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

Giant Mills in East London Now Running at Full Capacity.

OPERATE ALL TIMES

Company Has Shown Remarkable Growth Since Water Power Days.

Did you ever stop to think as you sat at your meals what an important thing in our scheme of existence is flour?

During war years when half of the world quit producing wheat and flour many thousands of people realized for the first time what it meant to have to eat daily flour of inferior manufacture from inferior wheat.

Such was not the case with the people of London and district, however, because they were able to get Hunt's Flour, which for many many years have been known for their un-failing quality.

The reputation earned by Hunt Brothers is responsible for the wonderful growth of this company, and the fact that its mill, with its capacity of twelve hundred barrels a day, has been kept going constantly day and night during depressing business times, when others were producing much less than their capacity.

Hunt Brothers' mills and their principal flour products, "Diamond," the all purpose flour, "Thorobread," the bread flour, and "King," the pastry flour, need no introduction to Londoners.

For many years the old Hunt mill, located at the foot of Talbot street and operated by water power, supplied flour to thousands of homes throughout the country. Canada grew, however, and with it grew the demand for these famous flours, until it was found that the old mill could not produce enough. Then a new mill was decided upon. The giant structure of red brick and concrete, with its modern bins, elevators and milling machines, all operated by hydro power was the result. Today, Hunt's flours are not only used throughout Canada, but are shipped to the United States and many European centers as well.

Virtue is its own reward, an old adage tells us, and it has been aptly demonstrated in the case of this company that steadily increasing business is the reward of the manufacturer who at all times gives the public the best he can manufacture. Recently the company decided to erect a huge electric sign—the largest in London—on its buildings, and one of the stipulations governing the tenders, was that the work should be done by London workmen. The sign can now be seen for miles around. It is just another evidence of the progressiveness of this pioneer London firm.

THE ADVERTISER'S CROP SURVEY—DISTRICT SIX.

SPECIALIZED CASH CROP PROVES VALUE IN ESSEX

Farmers of County Gain Much Revenue From Truck Farming—Hogs, Corn and Tobacco Is Slogan in Large Area.

FROSTS AGAIN THREATEN—PEACHES FAILURE

This is the sixth of ten daily articles surveying farming methods and crop conditions in southeastern Ontario. The survey is made for The Advertiser by C. G. Hignam, who has had O. A. C. training as well as thorough practical experience.

District six takes in the Essex Peninsula, where corn, hogs and tobacco mean prosperity.

In Essex County, the sixth district to be visited, the residents pride themselves on the great diversity of their farming, which in all its branches includes everything which can be grown in Canada.

While general farming is followed, the greatest source of farm revenue in this district is drawn from the specialized cash crops, which, here as nowhere else in the province, form the bulk of the farm production.

Among the general farmers of the district the slogan is "Corn, Hogs and Tobacco," and on every hand as one travels through this section all three can be seen in abundance.

Essex County is a very progressive one, and under the direction of the provincial department of agriculture better methods of farming and new sidelines are being introduced continuously.

In entering this section The Advertiser representative starts, by 25 Blenheim and followed the lake-shore highway into Leamington. From Leamington the route through Kingsville, Harrow and Amherstburg was followed. The return journey was made through Essex Centre and the district was left at Tilbury.

Peaches a Failure. Throughout the whole district the crops are going to the dogs. The corn, apples and peaches are all below standard, peaches being in most cases a total failure, due, it is stated, to a severe freezing of the fruit buds in January last.

From Port Alma one enters the Leamington district proper, and along this portion of the route one is impressed with the great acreages of tobacco, the harvesting of which has not yet started.

In the Leamington district, and in fact all through Essex where tobacco is grown, the farmers are greatly worried over the fact that frosty weather is threatening the tobacco harvest. The crop is excellent on the whole, and after the heavy loss of last season, when 50 per cent of the crop was destroyed in one night, the farmers are naturally anxious for the full return from their industry this year.

The flue-curing tobacco crop is stated as being about 60 per cent of a full crop, while the broad leaf burley tobacco amounts to a crop which should measure up well above average.

Among the growers of the kiln-drying crop, the farms of Arthur Brown and E. Mitchell of Leamington are particularly fine, as are also the crops of James Kennedy, Harrow, and W. C. Kennedy of Kingsville.

Burley Good. The burley crop is even better than the narrow-leaf tobacco, and on the farms of Matthew Hutchins, Woodville, and Russel Rogers of Woodville splendid crops will be gathered provided frost does not catch the growers in the midst of their harvest.

The tomatoes in the Essex peninsula are a crop of major importance, and so far this season the growers are not satisfied with the manner in which the weather has affected their crop. Throughout the whole district the yield is above average, and in the Leamington section and at Amherstburg the crop is heavy. The tomatoes are not ripening as they should, and so far only a small percentage of the crop has been marketed. There are exceptions to this, however, Belle River being one of the sections in which growers claim that they have had no real difficulty in ripening the fruit, and state that if the frost holds off a little longer they may harvest a full crop.

The tomato crop, like the tobacco yield, is dependent upon immunity from frost, and the next two weeks will be an anxious time for all growers in Essex. Among a host of extensive tomato plots those owned by Hugh Coatsworth of Kingsville and E. Atkins of Leamington were outstanding from the viewpoint of yield.

Outside of tobacco and the garden crops in the canning districts, corn stands out as the most important feature of farming in that county. The Essex farmers are not satisfied with this year's corn crop, which they state is only 50 per cent of a normal crop. The small crop is based on a small stand, what corn did grow seemed to be well advanced and heavily clobbered. A little of the corn has been touched by frost, but the quantity affected is negligible.

Corn For Seed. The corn is grown for the seed crop, which is sold as seed corn outside the county. The waste from the crop and such corn as unfit for seed purposes is used in the feeding of hogs, which so far are the most important branch of livestock in Essex county.

In commenting on the scarcity of cattle on the farms in Essex, as compared to other counties, Justus Millar, district representative at Essex Centre, stated that hogs had gained a preponderance on account of the cheap feed in the abundant corn crops of the county, but added that since the farmers have had an insight into the returns to be made from combining dairying and hog raising, dairying has increased.

In speaking of the livestock industry of the district, Mr. Millar added that in the last five years the introduction of co-operative dairying has given a great impetus to this branch of farming, with the result that at present 325 farmers are shipping milk and cream to the retail distributors in the Windsor district.

BEER HELD AT WINDSOR IMPROPERLY LABELLED

Two Car Loads, Worth Thousands, Unclaimed by Addressee.

Special to The Advertiser. Windsor, Sept. 11.—Two carloads of beer, estimated to be worth several thousand dollars, are held by provincial police here because they were improperly addressed. The shipment, consigned to a local man, was marked "for export." The local addressee disclaims ownership. The beer consisted in all of 3,600 cases.

Will Submit Reports. The Wednesday afternoon session will be concerned largely with the discussion of health. It is expected that a representative of the provincial board of health will be present. Such matters as medical inspection in the schools, district nurses, health literature and the services given by the medical officers of health, will come up for discussion.

The Wednesday evening session will give an address on how to get the best results from institute work, while George Putnam of the Women's Institute branch of the department of agriculture, Toronto, will give a survey of present conditions among the institutes and lay out plans for the future.

On Thursday morning there will be an opportunity given for reports on any subject so far touched by the convention. Mrs. Todd of Orillia will be the speaker for the occasion.

YOUTH RIDING ON TRUCK IS KILLED IN MISHAP

Crushed To Death When Load of Lumber Pins Him To Ground.

Special to The Advertiser. Kingston, Sept. 11.—Pinned under a heavy load of lumber when the axle on which he was riding went into a ditch this morning, Aubrey Amory of Millhaven, 18 years old, was crushed to death. The stage was being used to transfer a large load of lumber from Erneststown, and was about a mile and a half east of Bata when the truck went off the road and into the ditch, turning completely over.

Amory was lying on the lumber at the back part of the load, and when the truck went over he was caught by the shifting lumber and crushed to death. The driver, Henry Carver, was thrown from his seat, but escaped with a few scratches.

THREE PEOPLE INJURED WHEN AUTO IS DITCHED

Mr. and Mrs. William Hodge of Mitchell and Their Guest Are Hurt.

Special to The Advertiser. Grand Rapids, Sept. 11.—Mrs. William Hodge of Mitchell is in Stratford hospital with a broken collarbone, and her guest, Mrs. Thomas of Winnipeg, is also a patient there with several broken ribs, while Mr. Hodge, who was treated there for a broken elbow, has returned to his home.

The three were injured this morning about a mile south of here, when an auto attempted to pass the one in which they were riding. The wheels of the two machines locked, and the one driven by Mr. Hodge was overturned into the ditch. Dr. Mitton gave first aid and had the injured moved to Stratford hospital, where they were placed in care of Doctors Deacon and Trehan.

Special to The Advertiser. Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11.—The detectives handling the case against Kenneth Joutet, 3032 Hooker avenue, aged 18, eldest son of Arthur R. Jeffries performed the marriage at the Wayne County jail last evening. Joutet was discharged late today.

and went with his bride to 695 Montclair avenue, where they will reside. It is alleged that two weeks ago last Sunday, Joutet shot his sweetheart four times in the neck because of jealousy, and when he knew that she was attentive to another young man, he thought he would scare her. She was in receiving hospital until Saturday.

They are very happy now, said her mother, who has been residing with her other daughter, Ida Hunter, 4225 Fourth avenue, where he shot the girl. At first she told reporters she lived with her mother in London.

The Government Changes Its View.

The Ferguson ministry at Toronto has called in representatives of the dry and wet forces to secure their views on the questions that shall be placed on the ballot paper to be submitted to Ontario electors on October 23.

This last-minute move on the part of the Ontario government is not at all in keeping with the attitude taken in the legislature when the matter was under discussion, and when the government used its majority to force the passage of its enabling legislation. At that time it was the contention of both U. F. O. and Liberal members that the wording of the ballot should accompany the enabling legislation, but the government positively refused to take heed of any such advice. They delegated to themselves the right to frame the questions and set the date.

The elected members of the Ontario Legislature should have been consulted in this matter. It is for such business that the people sent them to the legislature. They asked for the right to review the questions to be placed on the ballot paper, but the answer was that this matter was one for the government alone to decide.

No doubt the representatives of the temperance forces and those from the Moderation League will be able to lay their views before the ministry in very straight terms, but they cannot take the place of the elected representatives of the people. Premier Ferguson should have come frankly before the legislature and discussed with the members there what he now proposes to discuss with outsiders.

Chinese Soldiers and Rainy Days.

A battle in progress in China was stopped on account of the rain, and much has been made of the fact that Chinese soldiers will not fight when the day is wet. Much of the ground over which they are operating now becomes more or less of a bog following a rain. Yet in spite of that, reports have it that no matter what the ground is like Chinese troops refuse to fight when it rains.

Other battles have been interfered with on account of the weather. The battle of Waterloo was slated to begin at sunrise, but it was not until afternoon that operations were under way—the weather was bad.

The American civil war was largely a fine weather conflict. The active field engagements ceased shortly after the end of October, not to be renewed until about the first of May. Meanwhile the troops went into winter quarters and many of the officers left and went to their homes.

The world war marked a departure from such practice, and the suffering of a winter campaign on some of the fronts wrote a chapter of sorrow that is outstanding even in the history of war.

The Chinese are quite right in their present contention against fighting on wet days, no matter what their reason. A number of wet days in succession may dull the thirst of the grafters for whom they are fighting, or else give the soldiers opportunity to realize that they are being dragged through a swamp of misery at the other side of which they are still going to be in the mire.

Is the Free Press Suspicious?

This is an age of insurance for everyone. The business has been put on a basis that was never before thought possible. The London Free Press has even undertaken to insure free of charge, except for 30 cents as a registration fee, the lives of its readers.

But the manner in which the Free Press questions its possible policyholders is annoying and suggestive to the point of being irritating. A real good insurance agent is a salesman of the first order. If he has any questions of a personal nature to ask he comes in and closes the door. But with the Free Press all this quiet seclusion is gone.

It comes out bluntly and asks its readers who apply for insurance, or the prospective readers whom it seeks to interest, a question like this: "Have you ever had fits or disorders of the brain?" Following that is a little blank space for the individual to write a cheerful and indignant "No," or a sorrowful and evasive "Yes, sir."

Why under the sun should the Free Press suspect that any of its readers ever had fits or disorders of the brain? Is it that in a moment of stricken conscience and remorse the Free Press has come to the conclusion that great gulps of Conservative doctrine have been too much for its readers? Can it be possible that it really suspects that "disorder of the brain" might quite easily follow a perusal of its daily advice in affairs political?

The Free Press might suspect these things, but surely it could find them out in a nice, quiet way without sending an invitation broadcast to sign on the dotted line. It is much nicer to go over to a man's house some evening, and sit with him in front of the kitchen range, and there tell him his faults quietly, than to stop him on a downtown street and shout at him.

Really the Free Press should not have come out so openly and inquired if its readers "had fits or disorders of the brain." Who knows but that they are a hardy race of people who like their political meat cut thick and fairly rare. There must be a more genteel way of finding out about the suspected brain trouble of its readers than the too abrupt method followed by the Free Press.

The Triumph of the Dahlia.

Looking over the flower show at Western Fair, there can be no doubt that the development of the dahlia has been the outstanding accomplishment of the season.

Not far back since the dahlia was a close-fisted, pleasant little flower, the bulbs of which were passed over the back fence in return for a spadeful of rhubarb roots or a couple of slips of a sweet-scented geranium.

Not so today. No longer a plant to fill in an empty space and hold back the weeds, the dahlia moves out to the center of the garden. Where it used to be close-fisted, it is open-handed; it has the glories of the chrysanthemum, and shows a riot of color that does not back up from the most enthusiastic paint card manufacturer.

It has everything but perfume, and even now the experts are at work supplying this little defect. Give the dahlia a reasonable chance in the matter of smell and it will be the ideal flower.

And with all this development it is throwing on a little bit of style. Mark you, it is no longer just dahlia, like daylia, but now its exponents call it dah-lia, with the "a" softened out like the "a" in cat. So if you are growing the new ones be sure to call them da-a-hias. It marks you as being a connoisseur in floriculture.

A $235,000,000 Bonfire.

United States plans to set fire to 218 wooden ships that were constructed during the rush hours of the world war. The cost of them in the first place was $235,000,000. The only bid received for them was $262,000, and that figure depended on the salvage being worth the price.

When United States was carrying on this work there were two ideas—one, the need for supplying ships to take the place of those being sunk by German submarines; the other, that at the conclusion of the war United States, not Britain, would become the great seafaring and carrying nation of the world.

The putting of the torch to 218 ships that cost United States $235,000,000 is the answer to the quest for the shipping supremacy of the world.

The Answer Is Very Plain.

Denmark, with its population of 3,500,000, and its record of three murders a year, draws the attention of the Boston Transcript, which compares it with Chicago's 3,000,000 people with over three murders a week. Its comment is that there is nothing rotten in the state of Denmark.

That statement leads to the other—that there is something rotten in the state of Chicago.

Chicago is in Illinois, so is Williamson County and Herrin. In June of 1922 there were twenty-one non-union miners killed at Herrin; not only were they killed, but their bodies were brutally mutilated. Early this year the Ku Klux Klan came on the scene, and there were more killings, more anarchy. A month or so later there was a demonstration by an anti-Klan organization, the Knights of the Flaming Circle, accompanied by the more killings. Once more the troops came back. Two weeks ago six more people were shot to death.

Following all this there has not yet been one single conviction for murder. Not once has the death penalty been inflicted for the abundant reason that not once has it been pronounced.

On four different occasions men have been done to death, not at night, or secretly, but in groups and in the open, and the strong hand of justice has been a limp thing in Williamson County. Not once has it risen in its strength, with the full authority given it by the fathers of the constitution who wrote into that document all the powers of a British court of justice.

It is of small moment that the Boston paper should add up the records of Chicago, one city, and Denmark, a nation, and conclude that there is nothing rotten in the state of Denmark. It is of serious concern that it go farther, and with the full knowledge that there is something desperately rotten in its own country, place its finger on the disease and fight for the cure.

No country can stand the strain of unpunished crime. The brigands have demonstrated not only to United States, but to the world, that in Williamson County they are a law unto themselves. Multiply this by all the other records of unpunished crime in United States, and at the foot of the column there is not simply a row of figures, but a force that is blasting away at the whole fabric of decency, law and order. There is not now, nor has there ever been, a nation that could carry such a running sore and grow strong.

It's been cool enough lately for the ladies to leave off those summer furs.

The Prince of Wales is wearing his old straw hat yet, so don't worry if you are still toting your summer cow bite.

The Home Bank trial may last for weeks. It may be necessary to ask Mr. Ford to get them out of the wrecked financial trenches by Christmas.

Mr. Jupe Pluvius ought to be given a place on the directorate of the Western Fair. He might be amenable to reason if he were put on the finance committee.

The Canada Gazette contains the official announcement that on August 6 peace was formally declared between this country and Turkey. The real war with a real turkey starts about Thanksgiving Day and is again resumed around Christmas.

The Peterborough Examiner wonders if people read the papers with the idea of learning something worth while. It takes the case of the swindlers who have been operating in Hamilton, Chatham, London, Guelph and elsewhere. In every case the fraud was reported in the daily papers, and the man's method of approach was described in advance. Newspapers are performing a useful function when they pass on these warnings. It is information the business world should heed.

OUR FAVORITE LITERATURE.

These tales full of rancorous cankering,
To avoid I would run a full mile,
They give me a pain; I'm a hating
For stuff of the fine-thrilling style.
Ye gods and small fish! I'm fed up upon
This food, realistic and stale.
I want some raw beefsteak to sup upon;
I want a fine swashbuckling tale—
A "Thrust-and-that's-done-for-you!"
"Lady-I've-won-for-you!"
Tale.

Come pirates of bloodiest memory,
With all of your murderous pack,
Whose hearts were much harder than emery;
Whose oaths were much blacker than black,
Come on, do your stuff, be unbearable;
"Git hung" at the end without fail,
I want to be thrilled something terrible;
I long for a swashbuckling tale—
A "Down-dog-and-fe-for-you!"
"Madame-I'll-die-for-you!"
Tale.

A CO-OPERATIVE AGREEMENT.

A surgeon fell in love with one
Who was a surgeon too;
Her cutting style and piercing smile
Had stabbed his heart right through.

But she would not give up her work
For matrimonial bliss,
"Although," said she, "I'd rather be A Mrs. than a Miss."

Then he thought out a clever plan,
"If surgery's your fate,
Our work," he said, "won't change when wed,
We'll just co-operate."

Belts vs. Braces

I wandered to Steve Bootjack's store, and gazed upon the things in there, remarking that they had in them a new and frisky sort of air. Not like the place I used to know when Steve he started keepin' store, when he had humble views and tastes about the things the village wore.

So when in there I says to him, "I want a pair of braces, Steve," and what he answered back to me a man like I could scarce believe. For Steve, he smiled at me, he did, a sort of patronizin' grin, he says that folks who want them things is growin' whiskers on their chin. "Why, man," says he, "we never, never have a call for braces any more, we're runnin' in this place of ours a bang-up haberdasher's store. You want to get a belt you do, it keeps your figure lookin' straight, why braces on a man like you is fearful old and out of date."

So Steve he jollied me along and got a box down from a shelf, the buckle had a letter on like it was made just for myself.

And so I bought the blinkin' thing, a-thinkin' Steve he ought to know what's right in things for men to wear and just the way my duds should go.

I strapped the thing around my waist, and parked my braces on a chair, a-feelin' as some mighty force was tryin' to go and stop my air. I wandered round a spell that day strung up and tightened like a fiddle, as though some octopus had come and flung an arm around my middle.

So after that I eased that belt and let it out a notch or two, suspectin' that the thing might fail to do the work a belt should do.

And as I ambled down the street I gulped my wind a bit more free, but felt as though my garments slipped from off the place where they should be.

'Twas then I started in to hitch, I hitched three times in every block, regretting every time I hitched Steve had no braces in his stock. But yesterday I went downtown unto a humble-lookin' place, and askin' of the man within ye ancient sort of shoulder brace.

He dusted off a box or two and brought unto my waitin' eyes the braces of the wondrous hue that skip and slide to any size. And now I've got them on and my old habit of talkin' humbly when they return to the presence of the foreman of the newsroom.—Calgary Herald.

PARTISANSHIP.

It is a question whether partisanship is not like the breaking up of the atom. There is no stopping it. And there is developed inside of parties the same spirit that makes the party itself. People are usually attached to parties from personal reasons as well as traditional and customary ones. No one is attached to a party by his intelligence, for a little sound thinking would be quite as apt to show him that he should revolt from his party as often as he clings to it.

It has been said of Protestantism that, being the spirit of revolt, it is in danger of constant schism and that it is very difficult for a body of Protestants to hold together. Since they began upon the principle of the resistance to authority it is very difficult to curb that principle when it is once established.

We therefore see Protestantism breaking up into an infinite number of sects and divisions, once it has broken away from the mother church.

In the same way, we see that parties find that it is increasingly difficult to hold their people together once they admit that loyalty to party is a greater thing than loyalty to the country itself.

It is a question whether Democrats hate Republicans worse than they hate other Democrats, and Republicans hate Democrats worse than they hate other Republicans.

It has been well said that we hate no one so much as our neighbor.

The party system is founded upon discontent and dissatisfaction. It is always a more telling argument when we speak of the defectiveness of our opposing party than of the merits of our own, and it is always easy to find defects in anything. Campaign literature and oratory, therefore, may be depended upon more to view with alarm what the other party does and has done than to point with pride to one's own party record.

Doubtless the party system will be cured by its own inherent viciousness. It will destroy itself by its own principles.

1000 EGGS In EVERY HEN

If You Keep Chickens CUT THIS OUT

The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success. The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care. How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. There is big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, Suite 4709, Herald Bldg., Binghamton, N. Y., and a free copy of "The 1,000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.—Adv.

RAGING FLOODS CAUSE BIG LOSS

Four Days of Continuous Rain Create Havoc in Eastern Townships.

NO LOSS OF LIFE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Quebec, Sept. 11.—Fed by four days of almost continuous rain rivers in the district of the Eastern Townships are raging floods and are doing huge damage.

The town of St. Raymond was reported to be very badly affected, the lower portion of the town being under water. The power plant at Fort Neff is badly damaged. There is a series of washouts reported on the main line of the Canadian National Railways to Murray Bay and trains going to Chicoutimi have to go round by St. Pierre. Many cattle and sheep are said to have been swept away by the floods, and a number of valuable log booms have broken from their moorings and have gone adrift.

At St. Albans the house of a farmer named George Neasid was carried away by the flood, and only for the fact that the majority of the residents of the district had spent a sleepless night watching developments, loss of life might have been recorded.

Work completed on some of the highways has been rendered useless by the sweep of water, and the damage in this respect is particularly severe.

Early this morning the climax of the flood seemed to have been reached, and at noon today there were distinct signs of improvement.

Game Officials Conduct Sales of Seized Guns

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Sealed tenders for rifles, shotguns and other confiscated material which had been seized during the past year by the department of game and fisheries, were received in the storeroom of the department today, and the sale will continue until this afternoon.

There are some 75 guns on view, a number of dunnage bags and a whole box of decoy ducks. All day today the room was crowded with prospective buyers, an indication of the opening of the hunting season. Most of the buyers looked like expert hunters. They sighted and threw the guns to their shoulders like old hands.

U. S. HOLDS FIRST DEFENSE TEST DAY

Great Demonstrations of Military Resources and Strength To Be Held.

Special to The Advertiser.

Washington, Sept. 11.—What war department officials are convinced will be the greatest peace time demonstration of the military resources and strength of the United States—Defense Test Day—will be staged tomorrow, and reports received by the department today indicate that the nation is ready for the test.

It was emphasized that the test is one of personnel, not of material. It is designed to put the military resources of the nation on parade. For this reason the success of Defense Day will be gauged by the number of people that participate.

Although no estimate of those who will participate can be accurate until the ceremonies of the day are over, war department officials expressed the belief today that at least half of the people of the United States tomorrow will engage directly in some phase of Defense Day activities.

No other event of this nature, it is believed, has ever drawn so large a number of people to its support.

As an example of the extent to which the observation of Defense Day will permeate to every section of the country, officials of the department pointed out that in New York City 425 citizens and 1000 troops will have special programs tomorrow. In New Jersey 500 demonstrations will be staged and reports from middle western and western states indicate that nearly every community will observe the day with special ceremonies.

SERVANT QUESTIONED IN JEWEL THEFT CASE

Suspected of Implication in $250,000 Robbery at N. Y. Home.

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Sept. 11.—An English servant, recently employed, is being questioned by private detectives working on the robbery which occurred at the home of J. S. Cosden, millionaire oil man, at Sandy Point, L.I., it became known today.

The servant is suspected of implication in the robbery of Mrs. Cosden and Lady Mountbatten of jewels valued at $250,000.

The servant worked in the home of another millionaire not far from the Cosdens until recently, it is said, and was discharged, although he could not be connected with the disappearance, and was on the Cosden estate at the time of the theft.

Gerald Lusi, private detective, retained by insurance companies to investigate the robbery, today decided theories that the robbery was the work of a gang of international crooks, or planned by a "master mind."

The Prince of Wales, it was reported today, was a guest at the palatial country home of J. S. Cosden, millionaire oil man and sportsman, when Mrs. Cosden, Lady Mountbatten and the Hon. Mrs. Norton were robbed of more than $250,000 worth of jewels early Wednesday. The report could not be verified by the equeries of the prince.

ALLEGED MURDERESS MAY BE FROM CANADA

Woman Arrested in Detroit Believed To Be Wanted in Stratford.

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Sept. 11.—The police here have received a request for information regarding the career of Helena Wropejuk, who is now under arrest in Detroit on a charge of murder and also of bigamy. There is a record here of a woman of that name having been dealt with in police court on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. That was in April, 1915, and then in December, 1922, there is a record of a warrant having been issued for the arrest of the same woman on a charge of bigamy, laid by her husband, apparently she had left the city and was living in Detroit at that time and was not located.

SHOULDER OF VEAL

Remove the crusts from a loaf of fresh baked bread and with two forks pull the bread into pieces about as long as a finger and twice as wide. Cover a shallow baking pan with a piece of paper, set on a piece of bread, set in moderate oven, leaving the door open until the bread is dry all the way through. Close the door and bake until lightly browned.

Have the butcher remove the blade from a shoulder of veal and fill the pocket left with a dressing made by mixing two cups of bread crumbs with half a cupful of finely chopped salt pork, half a teaspoonful of thyme, half a teaspoonful of marjoram, four tablespoonfuls of orange juice, one beaten egg, and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Sew up the opening, press and tie into a nice shape. Place in a baking pan, the bottom covered with one sliced carrot, one sliced onion, two branches of parsley, one bay leaf, two whole cloves, and two stalks of chopped celery; cover the top of the roast with strips of salt pork, set in a hot oven for fifteen minutes, reduce the heat and bake twenty-five minutes to the pound, basting often, baste the first two times with two tablespoonfuls of butter dissolved in two-thirds of a cupful of boiling water.

PEACH CUP, BURLINGAME

For each person to be served place a half of a peach, that has been poached in vanilla syrup until tender and cooled, in a champagne glass, cover with vanilla ice cream, cover the ice cream with a sauce made by melting twelve marshmallows in double boiler and beating into a cup of sweetened whipped cream. Sprinkle with chopped nut meats and top with a cherry.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

SYNOPSIS. Sir Oliver Tressilian is betrothed to Rosamund Godolphin, but the marriage is opposed by Rosamund's father and her guardian, Sir John Killigrew. When Oliver's young half-brother Lionel kills Peter in a quarrel suspicion falls on Oliver. A trail of blood drives him leading from the body to his doorway. Even Rosamund believes him guilty. Destriving to protect Lionel, Oliver can only protest his innocence, but he obtains from the justices a document, to be produced in case of trial, attesting that he hears no mark of recent wound; that, therefore, the trail of blood, obviously that of the murderer, is his. The next week later trial threatens; and Lionel, razed with fear that Oliver will reveal the truth, hires a pirate sea-captain, Jasper Leigh, to kidnap him and sell him as a galley-slave. With Oliver's disappearance it is assumed he has fled to escape trial. Out at sea, Leigh tells Oliver of Lionel's part in the affair and offers, for a bribe, to take him back to England. Oliver accepts, but on the way he is turned back when a great Spanish ship bears down upon them, her guns arranged by the Alumní, of which Dean Fox of the University of Western Ontario is the president. McMaster graduates from Woodstock, Sarnia and other points in Western Ontario are expected to attend. In case of rain, the gathering will be held at the home of Dean Fox, Regent street.

moderate breeze, on the leeward side of it, intent no doubt upon making the utmost of that southward run.

"Now!" cried Biskaine — Biskaine-el-Borak was he called from the lightning-like impetuosity in which he was wont to strike.

"Not yet," was the calm restraining answer. "Every inch nearer shore she creep the more certain is her doom. Time enough to sound the charge when she ezes about. Give me a drink, Abbad," he said to one of his negroes, whom in irony he had dubbed "the White."

The slave turned aside, swept away a litter of ferns and produced an amphora of porous red clay; he removed the palm leaves from the mouth of it, and poured water into a cup. Sak-el-Bahr then slowly raised his eyes never leaving the vessel, whose every rattle was clearly defined by now in the pellucid air. They could see men moving on her decks and the watchman stationed in the foremast fighting on. She was not more than half a mile away when suddenly came the manoeuvre to go about.

Sak-el-Bahr leaped instantly to his great height and waved a long green scarf. From one of the galleys behind the screen of rocks a trumpet rang out in immediate answer to that signal; it was followed by the shrill whistles of the boatswain, and that again by the splash and creak of oars, as the two larger galleys swept out from their ambush. The long, armored poops were a-swarm with turbaned corsairs, their weapons gleaming in the sunshine; a dozen at least were astride of the cross-tree of each mainmast, all armed with bows and arrows, and the rattles on each side of the galleys were black with men who swarmed there like locusts ready to envelop and smother their prey.

Peter Rabbit Finds Grandfather Frog Wearing a Very Strange Coat

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

When Peter Rabbit got back to the dear Old Briar-patch and told little Mrs. Peter how Grandfather Frog had swallowed the screen of rocks when he was out of water, and how when he was under water he breathed through his skin, little Mrs. Peter Rabbit frankly said she didn't believe a word of it. She declared that it was all nonsense, and that Grandfather Frog had been stuffing Peter.

Peter knew that this was not so. He knew that Grandfather Frog had told him truly. He had always had a great deal of respect for Grandfather Frog, but now he had even more than before. Grandfather Frog seemed a very wonderful person to Peter.

ONE RUN IN OVERTIME FRAME GIVES DETROIT WIN OVER SOX

Cobb Uses Three Pitchers and Two Catchers To Win Game.

MANUSH STARS

Special to The Advertiser. Detroit, Sept. 11.—It required ten innings before Detroit was able to dispose of the Chicago White Sox in the final game of the series today, 5 to 4. Manager Cobb called on three pitchers before he found one who could hold the Sox.

Manush was the batting star, getting three of five hits, including a home run, in the fourth, when the Sox went into the lead, but airtight pitching thereafter held them to one run for the balance of the game.

BRITISH ELECTION MAY BE OUTCOME

Critics Now Believe Anglo-Russian Pact Will Overthrow Government

BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Associated Press Denatch. London, Sept. 11.—A general election, aimed at the overturning of Premier Ramsay MacDonald's Laborite government, was indicated today as a result of the announcement of former Premier David Lloyd George that the Liberal members of the House of Commons will oppose the Anglo-Russian treaty.

According to all signs, the Laborite government is facing certain defeat upon the Anglo-Russian Russian treaty, for both Liberals and Tories have signified their intention of opposing the treaty.

Such a defeat would mean immediate dissolution of Commons and a new election. In this event the Laborites are probably take place before Christmas.

The Laborite ministers are not going to be caught napping. Already they are launching the country making speeches in favor of ratification.

Labor is prepared for an election upon the Russian issue, for the Labor chiefs believe that the rank and file of the public is with the government, not only on the Russian issue, but because of MacDonald's success in the reparations conference.

REV. DR. EPHRAIM SCOTT, veteran anti-unionist, has tendered his resignation as treasurer of Mount Pleasant Presbyterian, after 28 years of service.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Sept. 11.—Professor Caesar, provincial entomologist, made a survey of the corn borer's activities in this district yesterday. He states that the fields are from 60 to 100 per cent infested. In some small areas where the infestation was bad last year fewer borers are found this season, but its spread is alarming. Professor Caesar is making a tour of the provinces, checking up the various districts for the fall. Today he is conducting his investigation around Aylmer.

CHURCH REMODELLED

Officials of the Chatham Baptist Church announced today that they expected to arrange for the reopening of the building the first Sunday in October. The edifice has undergone extensive alterations and improvements which, when completed, will make the church one of the most up-to-date in Western Ontario.

An important meeting is to be held in Chatham next Wednesday in protest against the award of the natural gas board of reference, which, when made in May last, was thought to have settled a long-standing rate controversy. While representatives from various cities, towns and villages will be present, City Manager Fuller stated that no Chatham official will attend.

Jeannette Royal won all three heats handsily enough, but was given a brush by Nancy Grizzle in every race. The latter was unexpectedly fast in every heat. Lady Unko in the second was under the whip in an effort to stop Hal Opera coming up from eighth position to take third in this heat.

Two good events will be on today, with the half-mile free-for-all featuring Jeannette Royal and Nancy Grizzle. There are likely to be several draws from the large field entered. Several of the milers are enterprising, about which the talent knows little at the free-for-all distance, lending speculation to the field.

CHINESE WAR WILL RESUME AFTER RAIN

Offensive Against Shanghai To Be Renewed With Greater Vigor

Associated Press Despatch. Shanghai, Sept. 12.—Drenching rains, a cessation of fighting in flooded fields west of here, movements of reinforcements to the fighting fronts and reports indicating that the warring factions battling for possession of Shanghai would renew hostilities with greater vigor when the storm passes—these were overnight developments in the war between rival military governors.

PLACES RESPONSIBILITY

Tokio, Sept. 11.—Responsibility for the present war in China rests with those powers who have been steadily supplying China with arms for the past two years, despite the international agreement against this practice, says George Bronson Rea, a Shanghai editor, an authority on Chinese affairs and a member of General Pershing's staff in France, who has just arrived here from Manchuria.

"Arms, munitions and aeroplanes have been pouring into China and the situation now is the same as that prevailing in Europe prior to the war—everyone is anxious to draw a gun on the least provocation," Mr. Rea continued.

"Now that war has begun no power is anxious to intervene. America cannot, Japan will not, and the other powers cannot easily. No one power has courage enough to intervene while jointly they are not able to agree to let Japan do it, and Japan is the best able."

CHURCH VANDALS DUPLICATE THEFT

Minnesota Officials Inquire About Imperial City Incident.

VESSELS STOLEN

Special to The Advertiser. Sarnia, Sept. 11.—Chief of Police W. J. Lannin today received a communication from Bert Canute, chief of police at Crookston, Minn., asking for information regarding the garnet brothers, charged with desecration of St. Joseph's Catholic Church here, and held on bail to appear in the supreme court. The Catholic Church of Crookston was entered last Sunday, the vandals making off with two chalices, one astensorium, two lunulae, two ciborium, three candlesticks, one missal stand, one ewer with basin, and two patens. The details in connection with the pillaging in Crookston were almost identical with the Sarnia case, and it was surmised that there might have been some connection between the two. Investigation shows that the Garnet brothers were conducting revival meetings in St. Clair, Mich., on Sunday last.

The death occurred at her home in Moore Township today of Amelia F. Neal, wife of L. W. Neal, aged 72 years. Mrs. Neal was a lifelong resident of the township, and she is survived by her husband, four sons, Guy E. of Moore, Byron (Barney) at home, Rollin of Detroit and Keith, a resident of the township, and two daughters. The funeral will be held from the family residence on Friday.

With the advent of cooler weather, an apparent slump in demand for beer is being evidenced along the St. Clair River, according to reports issued by authorities today. The number of prisoners taken by officers in the river district and captures of huge quantities of illegally transported and possessed intoxicating liquors during the summer months averaged as high as two and three per week, but for about two weeks bootleggers have become fewer in number and less daring with their work. It was reported.

BRAKE TESTING WEEK PLANNED IN DETROIT

Motorists Will Make Strenuous Efforts To Lessen Number of Accidents.

In the good old days a day was any one of seven—it might be Saturday it might be Friday, and a week was this week or next week, was just a plain week. Then came Mothers' Day, followed by Candy Day and a host of other days. The weeks changed "Fire Prevention Week" and a dozen other weeks.

The latest is "Brake Week." Whether it will be observed with due ceremony in London or not, time will tell but it will be observed in Detroit next week. Detroit motorists will make strenuous efforts to cut down the number of street accidents. They are going to make it easy for every motorist to learn without cost just how much it means to have his brakes in good shape.

Two Meet Death as Aged Man Sets Fire To Hospital Bed

St. Hyacinthe, Sept. 12.—Elle Leveille, 77 years of age, set fire to his bed in the General Hospital of St. Hyacinthe today. He was burned to death, and another patient, Semion Mallet, aged 84, who was sleeping in the same room, was suffocated. Both men were residents of St. Hy-acinthe. Otherwise, the fire caused no damage. Leveille was sent to the hospital on Monday suffering from kidney disease, which is believed to have affected his mind. When admitted to the hospital his effects were searched, but a few matches in an inner pocket were not observed, and with these he set fire to his bed.

The mark will be 42 feet from the starting point. The Detroit motor transport department has adopted the 42 feet stoning distance at 20 miles per hour as the standard. The Detroit Motor Club believes that motorists are apt to let their brakes go until they are dangerous to public safety and in giving motorists a chance to see how their brakes hold, it will show how many of them that they are in need of attention which will result in adjustments.

HOLD QUARTERLY MEETING.

CRUISES TO NEAR EAST DEPICTED IN EXHIBIT

Steamship Trips Are Featured by Canadian Pacific Railway.

The exhibit of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the government building, in charge of J. Yorick, Toronto, travelling passenger agent for the company, is this year entirely a steamship exhibit featuring Round-the-World and Mediterranean cruises. "Have you been around the world?" In the background, beautifully illuminated, are two gorgeous and colorful scenes to be visited in Egypt and India. The Egyptian picture shows the desert, pyramids and Suez Canal, with boats moving along its opal blue, with Egyptians sitting about atrium in native garb. In the background of the Indian picture are mosques and temples with turbaned natives squatting in the foreground. There are also ten transparencies of points to be visited on the two cruises tastefully arranged along the front of the exhibit.

Automatic electric signs read: "Round-the-World cruise by Canadian Pacific, the voyage of a lifetime, a 130-day tour on the magnificent steamer, Empress of France, visiting 27 gateway ports, leaving New York January 14, 1925." The second reader: "Next winter a Canadian Pacific cruise of the Mediterranean, visiting the picturesque and colorful regions of the cradle of our civilization, a 62-day cruise on the Empress of Scotland, leaving New York February 9, 1925."

A separate stall, but part of the C.P.R. exhibit, contains a number of fine pictures illustrating the fishing sport to be had along the French and Nipigon rivers of Ontario. Facts concerning the C. P. R. are ranged on various boards giving the information that the C. P. R. system embraces 20,000 miles of railroad; two fleets of steamers, one on the Pacific and the other on the Atlantic; palatial hotels throughout the Dominion; and last, but not least, a dependable telegraph service. Pamphlets and books being distributed by those in charge of the exhibit detail the wonders of the system and the multitudinous points of interest to be reached by means of travelling over it.

SEWAGE PUMPING STATION NOW BEING CONSTRUCTED

One of the many little jobs now under way in the department of the city engineer is the building of a sewage pumping station at the corner of the Wellington road and High street which has just been commenced. This station will pump the sewage from the low-lying sections along both sides of the river into the main sewer that will carry it to the sewage disposal plant. With the exception of the disposal plant all the work on this system will be practically completed when the pumping station is finished.

City Engineer Near stated that the disposal plant will probably be erected next year. The cost of this will be approximately $30,000. Plans are already being prepared for this. W. F. Dailyn, of the provincial board of health, is acting as consultant, and the work will be commenced early next year. It will be located on the river front east of Wellington street. When this entire sewer system is completed, which will include the laying of sewers in Chelsea Green, the south branch of the river will be completely freed from raw sewage.

LANDSCAPE GARDENING IMPROVES "U" CAMPUS

Forty Men and Fourteen Teams Working on New Grounds.

The work of landscape gardening is progressing favorably on the grounds at the University of Western Ontario. A considerable amount of grading has been done around the new Science Building. This has been done with a mixture of Canadian Red Top and Kentucky Blue Grass seed. The result is a mossy carpet of grass. Grass seed sown three weeks ago has been forced by regular watering from mains laid along the walks, so that the roots have taken a firm hold and the grass already has the appearance of sod. It is very fine in texture and it is expected that a splendid lawn will result. Forty men and 14 teams are working on the grounds. The big field at the west of the Natural Science Building has been sown and the work of grading is being done to the east of the main building. A foundation of six inches of clay is being laid. On this, another six inches of clay mixed with cinders will form the surface of the track. This will insure permanency.

The Fun Shop

Reason Enough.
Young author: "Why did you reject my burlesque on lunacy?"
Editor (bravely): "It was nothing to rave over."

Especially a Pretty One.
Bill: "Smith's gents' furnishings store was a failure until he hired that pretty, young sales girl. All the sports of the town patronize it now."
Phil: "That's what comes of having a counter attraction."

Agnes, the office siren, says that the only thing really permanent about the permanent wave is the expense.

Habit.
Wife: "How can you look me in the face and say that?"
Hubby: "I suppose it's because I've gotten used to your face."

Expensive Surprise.
Weldon: "I'll bet you were surprised when the cop handed you a summons for speeding, right?"
Shelton: "Indeed I was. I never thought the old bus had it in her!"

A Pair of White Shoes.
A pair of white shoes.
Now, what more could they mean?
A pair of trim ankles.
Above might be seen;
A pair of blue eyes.
Looking shyly in mine;
A pair of red lips.
With a bow so divine;
A pair of strong arms.
Held out with a plea.
That a pair of warm hands
Be held close to me.
A pair of white shoes—
Yes, they might have meant more,
But this pair of white shoes
Were for sale in a store!

The Way It Seemed To Her.
Little Betty, on her first visit to the country, was watching her aunt prepare the butter after churning the milk.
"What are you doing now?" she asked.
"Why, I am washing the butter, dear."
After a few minutes thought of the butter she was accustomed to see come in cartons, from the grocery store, Betty said: "We don't wash ours, we just eat it dirty."

Worthy of Mention.
"I had an unusual experience in the park today."
"What was it?"
"I walked the entire length, and no one said "Gotta match" to me."

WHO'S BOSS?
Although much praise as singer he has earned,
And he holds listeners in thrall,
So far as managing his home's concerned,
It seems he has no voice at all.

Unfracking the Pretender.
He should have known better than to have left that tell-tale letter sticking out of his coat where his wife would surely see it! He groaned incoherently as he saw her approach the coat. Would she recognize the delicate woman's handwriting on the envelope? A cold perspiration broke out on his forehead. She lifted the hanger off the coat. Then, what he most dreaded, happened—she saw the letter!

The Sad Part.
North: "Dobbs is mad because Bond said he had more money than brains."
West: "I wouldn't worry about what people said if I had the money."
North: "But Dobbs hasn't any money."

As We Like It.
Nit: "Do you like bedroom farces?"
Wit: "They're all bunk."

Bound In Ribbon.
"Have you ever written anything that will live?" asked the poet.
"I'll say I have!" replied his friend, the humorist. "My wife has every one of the love letters I wrote during our courtship days, packed away in her trunk."

The Breath of the Avenue

SEMI-WEEKLY FASHION NOTES.
At every match and every meet, fashion scepterholders are being won by slim tunics, straight frocks and squared hats.

The Prince Takes to Polo And Fashion to Polo Coats. Pleated jabots add soft cascades of net and lace to the severity of autumn frocks and ensembles.

Tunics are both frocks and blouses. Sophisticated, colorful, and long of line, they are versatile and therefore fashionable economics. Today they may be worn with a slip to make a dress and tomorrow as part of the costume suit.

Pompoms, feathery circles with soft accent, blur the severity of the new high-crowned hats. Plaids prove that one color is not enough for many autumn skirts, and cross tawny browns with lines of orange, blues with greens, and then thread scarlet through the pattern of these changing, shifting colors.

The shaded hat of pansy sombre velvet is a flattering mode. New York Fashion Service Exclusive to Smallman & Ingram
