Not in Vain. "I have labored in vain," a teacher said, And her brow was marked by care ; "I have labored in vain " She howed her! And bitter and sad were the tears she shed In that moment of dark despair.

"I am weary and worn, and my hands are weak, to have lived with St. John four or five years And my courage is well nigh gone ; For none give heed to the words I speak, And in vain for a promise of fruit I seek. Where the seed of the word is sown."

And again with a sorrowful heart she wept, For her spirit with grief was stirred ; Till the night grew dark, and at last she slept,

As she never had seen before-Their brows with jewels of light were crowned And sorrow and sighing no place had found, "For the troubles of time were o'er.

Then a white-robed maiden came forth and said " Joy ! joy ! for thy trials are past ! I am one that thy gentle words have led In the narrow pathway of life to tread-I welcome thee home at last !

And the teacher gazed on the maiden's face

Then the teacher smiled, and an angel said, "Go forth to thy work again; It is not in vain that the seed is shed : 10 If only one soul to the cross is led, Thy labor is not in vain.'

And at last she woke, and her knee she ben In grateful, child-like prayer-And she prayed till an answer of peace was sen And Faith and Hope as a rainbow blent, O'er the clouds of her earthly care.

And she rose in joy, and her eye was bright, Her sorrow and grief had fled-And her soul was calm and her heart was light. For her hands were strong in her Saviour's might.

The Snow. A FALLEN ONE'S LAMENT :-- ONCE I WAS PURE. Oh ! the snow, the beautiful snow, Filling the sky and earth below ; Over the house-tops, over the street, Over the heads of the people you meet, Dancing, Flirting.

Skipping along, Beautiful snow ! it can do nothing wrong, Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek, Chinging to lips in a frolicksome freak, Beautiful snow from the heaven above. Pure as an angel, gentle as love !

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow, How the flakes gather and laugh as they go ! Whirling about in its maddened fun, It plays in its glee with every one,

Chasing, Laughing,

Hurrying by, • It lights up the face and it sparkles the eye ! And even the dogs, with a bark and a bound, Suap at the crystals that eddy around ; The town is alive, and its heart in aglow, To welcome the coming of beautiful snow

How the wild crowd goes swaying along, Hailing each other with humor and song ! How the gay sledges like meteors flash by, Bright for the moment, then lost to the eye ; Ringing,

Swinging,

Dashing they go. Over the crust of the beautiful snow : Snow so pure when it falls from the sky, To be trampled in the mud by the crowd rushing by,

To be trampled and tracked by the thousands of feet.

Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street Once I was as pure as the snow-but I fell ! Fell like the snow flakes, from heaven to hell : Fell to be trampled as filth of the street , Feil to be scoffed, to be spit on and beat ; Pleading,

Cursing, Dreading to die, Selling my soul to whoever would buy,

Desli ; in shame for a morsel of bread, Hating the living and fearing the dead; Merciful God ! have I fallen so low ? And yet I was once like the beautiful snow. Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
