ATHENS RURAL SCHOOL FAIR

No more suitable weather ever prevailed than that which smiled on the Athens School Fair held at S. A. Coon's farm on Thursday last. The attendance was extraordinary large, an almost steady stream of motor cars and other vehicles passing along Main street to the grounds for two or three hours in the early afternoon. Students of the two village schools made the mile-and-a-half trip in squads, mostly on foot, but often commencing passing rigs whose springs flattened under the unaccustomed weight.

Competition for the prizes was open to pupils of the following schools: Glen Buell, Glen Elbe, Wiltsetown, Caintown, Addison, Coon's, Hawk's, Fortune's and Charleston.

NORTH-WEST FISH

Notable developments are taking place this fall in the fisheries of western Canada. The announcement is made by the Grand Trunk Pacific authorities that White Fish is now being shipped in car lots from Lesser Slave Lake in Northern Alberta to Chicago.

The construction of the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia Railway northward from the main line of the G. T. P. has made this lake accessible and in its waters are great numbers of fish.

A great distributing point for fresh fish, the Chicago Market, states that it can take all the white fish that can be sent from Western Canada and the transportation companies, it is expected, will have to enlarge their arrangements next year to meet the growing trade.

Chicago is also taking from Canada large quantities of fresh Prince Rupert halibut, and the fishing industry is very brisk at the new Pacific Coast port. Over fifteen million pounds of fish landed in the month of August was Prince Rupert's record.

The unwritten law which compels the father of a new-born baby to buy cigars for his friends is an abuse so far untouched by reform. The father of a new baby should receive cigars, not give them.

They say there is but one purple rat in the world. Still, one is enough for my purpose. I very seldom use occasion to use a purple rat.—Buck Kilby.

FOR C. P. R. PATRONS

Again the Canadian Pacific Railway is to the forefront in the consideration of their patrons. A novel feature has been introduced on their dining cars in the form of a special buffet in the dining room, on which cold meats, salads, etc., are tastefully displayed under glass covers, giving passengers an opportunity to select their salads or cuts of cold meat, which are served from the buffet by a chief in white uniform. This is the first time a cold buffet has been introduced on a dining car, but it is meeting with great success.

A Curious Beetle.

The little bombardier beetle because preyed upon by larger beetles of its own family has been armed by nature with what is practically a miniature cannon. When attacked the bombardier beetle turns and makes off, but overtaken by the larger insect—bang!—and an acid fluid is shot from glands situated in the top of its tail on to the enemy beetle. The acid when ejected vaporizes upon reaching the air and thus gives the effect of a puff of smoke from a gun, while at the same time a small but distinct report, like a tiny cannon, is heard. The bombardier beetle is a rapid flyer, too, for the discharge can be repeated in quick succession, and thus the insect keeps keens of his larger foe until he can scurry into a convenient hole in the soil or find shelter under a stone.—Atlanta Journal.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, &c.

Snake Story.

Weeda is a little girl who lives in that part of Louisville at once and comprehensively denominated the West End. Her full name, of course, is Rita; but this is too much for her playmates, and the result of it has been taken by her and their friends until now they have to stop and think who is meant when this appellation is used.

Ordinarily, her communication, if not in the sight of good folk as that of any other child, but last week an incident occurred which started her out of her accustomed decorum. She had been taken to the country for a visit and accompanied by a young man, who, in the course of his labors, had been under a huge blacksnake that had been under a pile of boards.

After it had been dispatched and the excitement was all over, Weeda, viewed the remains, ejaculated, "What a worm!"—Louisville Times.

Antimony.

The use of antimony is to harden the softer metals, such as tin and lead, in the manufacture of shrapnel shells, bobbit for machinery bearings, type metal and castings of all kinds. In its pure state it cannot be employed for any useful purpose owing to its extreme brittleness. Its value in alloying, however, is great, not only because it hardens metal, but because of its low melting point.

The Ostrich's Legs.

Although the ostrich has powerful legs and can kick like a mule, his limbs are very brittle and are easily broken. He has two toes on each foot, one being armed with a horny nail, which he uses as his principal weapon of warfare. When an unarmed man is attacked by one of these birds the chances are very much against the man unless he can climb a tree or jump over a five foot wall.

"What is the most difficult disease you have to content with?" asked the student. "Imagination," replied the doctor.—Kansas City Journal.

COTTON THREAD.

Its Invention Was a Case of Necessity Caused by War.

Curiously enough, it was a war that brought about the revolution in the manufacture of sewing thread. When Napoleon occupied north Germany in 1807 the supply of silk from Hamburg, which was used in making heddles, or the loom harness, in Paisley, was cut off.

Unless some substitute could be found the weaving industry of Paisley would be ruined. Peter Clarn experimented with cotton warp yarn and succeeded in making thread like the six cord sewing thread used to-day. It took the place of silk in the heddles, and the weaving business went on uninterrupted by the war.

Then it occurred to another man to use the cotton thread in place of linen for sewing, and he recommended it to the women of the town. It was so much smoother than the linen that the women liked it. The thread was sold in hanks and wound by the purchaser into little balls, but the merchant soon decided to wind the hank on a bobbin or spool for his customers as an added inducement to purchase it instead of the hank.

From this beginning the cotton thread trade has grown, and now silk and linen are used only for special work.—Philadelphia Record.

GREATLY DISCOURAGED OVER BABY'S ILLNESS

Mrs. Jos. Gaudreau, Notre Dame des Bois, Que., writes: "Last autumn our baby was sick and we were greatly discouraged. The doctor did not seem able to help him, and we began using Baby's Own Tablets, which soon made him a fat, healthy child."

Thousands of mothers give Baby's Own Tablets the same praise. The Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, cure colic and teething. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STEFANSSON.

He hears, no roar of cannon grim that marks red sacrifice, He does not see the stout months grin of other hand, he hears the clear Aurora varied by God!

No camp-fires; no hummocks drear by which the weary soldier lies, The only trooper ranging here the seahorse, never shed; The American who wears the clear Aurora varied by God!

By no barred wire he blocks the chasm Of the kale chargers fleet, He needs no glass so he may trace the onward stars, and see How smilingly he turns to face The shrapnel of the sleet!

What of the skies' terrific din Of clouds in conflict drear? He does not see the stout months grin of other hand, he hears the clear Aurora varied by God!

By one sea and fronting foe, In some heart-stopping chill, He has gone on, as brave men go That kind who message shrill Must kill, and kill and kill!

Man of the age-long Arctic night, Where one ghost-glow is shed, Come back to the end of the rainbow, Till wounded men the sky-gods fight Bring down your seas forever white With the blood of the red!

—John O'Keefe, in The New York World.

WENT BY THE RULE.

But He Should Have Halted a Moment and Noted the Exceptions

It is not bewildered foreigners alone who fall into the traps of the grammarian and orthographer. Many a despairing American has asked the humorous spelling-hesitates or flies to the dictionary long after his student days are over because he does not remember the exception.

And in our rules of spelling, protested one unfortunate professor—not of "minority rules," isn't even a case of "sometimes." He sure, the majority of words that comply with it by more than one.

A correspondent of the New York Sun recalls an illustrative incident of his school days. His teacher was self-attentive and zealous, though he knew it all—there was in the class a young lady who related in the good Scots name of "Gillies." When the class was naming the "professor" read her name as "Gillies." The young lady protested, but in vain; "Gillies" before "Gillies" is soft.

Well, of course an eighth of a quart is a pint, but what of a fifth? And "know it all" teacher should have been hanged on a gibbet, but even he would not have asked the humorous man for a simile. Not in his jibberish moment of pedagogue authority would he have said, "Gillies, use me a feminine name!" He wanted the livergum to supply him with a gig with gilded spokes for his holiday diversion. Not even he, the snappy arbiter of linguistic niceties, had he asked at the library for Gibban's "Decline and Fall." And here he has a daughter will she be a girl? But Gillies must be called "Gillies" because "Gillies" is soft—Yonkers Companion.

She Knew It.

He—Didn't it ever occur to you that I was in love with you? She—Certainly; haven't you ever noticed my laughing to myself?—Topeka Journal.

His Wife—Never mind if you have lost everything. You still have me. Mr. Bustup—But you're not an asset. You're a running expense.—Judge.

It Was Not a Mouse the Master Heard in the Kitchen.

The late Rev. Mr. Wightman, sitting one night later than usual engrossed in the profundities of a great tome, imagined he heard a sound in the kitchen inconsistent with the cautiousness of a mouse; so, taking his candle, he proceeded to investigate the cause.

His foot being heard in the passage, the servant began with much noise to rake out the fire as if preparing for bed.

"I'm jist rakin' the fire, sir, and gaun to bed."

"That's right, Mary. I like timely hours."

On his way back to the study he passed the coal cellar door and, turning the key, took it with him. The next morning at an early hour there was a rap at his bedroom door and a request for the key to get some coal.

Half an hour later there was another knock and a similar request, in order to prepare for breakfast.

"I don't want breakfast so soon, Mary. Go back to your bed."

In other half hour there was another knock, with an entreaty for the key, as it was washing day.

This was enough. He rose and handed out the key, saying, "Go and let the man out." As the preacher shrewdly suspected, Mary's sweetheart had been imprisoned all night in the coal cellar.—London Mail.

CHASING THE RAINBOW.

Curious Legends That Are Told in Different Countries.

We have all of us heard stories of the treasure at the end of the rainbow. There is a pot of gold there, you know. And if we could only walk far enough, run fast enough, we might find it and be ever thereafter happy.

That is what our nurses tell us when we are children, isn't it? And sometimes we learn that the rainbow is a bridge, and the thunder is the roar of the heavy wheels going over it.

These are the stories that we hear in childhood about the rainbow. Children of other lands hear many other stories.

In Greece nurses tell the children that if any one by chance stumbles over the end of the rainbow his or her sex is changed. A fine story that to tell a child! The little Greeks must run away from the ends of the rainbow instead of seeking them to find our pot of gold.

The little Turk hears from his nurse that if he can see the end of the rainbow his head will turn to silver, with rubies for eyes and teeth of gold.

In many parts of Russia the rainbow is called a pump, and in Hungary it is called "God's pump" and "Noah's pump."

In Russia, in some provinces, the wells are covered with strong platters, so that the water cannot be drawn from them by the rainbow, and in other provinces it is said that three angels have charge of the rainbow—only to draw water through it from the earth, another to give water from it to the clouds and another to return the water to the earth in the form of rain.—Boston Herald.

Granite and Lime.

Granite is the lowest rock in the earth's crust. It is the bedrock of the world and shows no evidence of a mineral or vegetable life. It is the parent rock from which all the other rocks have been either directly or indirectly derived. It is claimed by scientists that all the lime in the world has at some time or other been a portion of many different animals and possibly of human beings also.

HABITS OF COD FISH.

Travel Far and Grow Fast—Small Danger of Extinction.

The tremendous amount of cod liver oil used annually by the world has led the Norwegian Government to a careful study of the habits of this fish, from which Norway derives no inconsiderable portion of its revenue. As a result, the director of fisheries, Dr. Johan Hjort, made some interesting experiments designed to ascertain the extent of the migrations of the cod and the rate at which the supply is being exhausted.

In 1914 he caught 2,600 of the fish, and after marking them, returned them to the sea. Two hundred and seventy-nine of these were caught again and the same course, that the drain upon the supply of cod is even larger than has been popularly supposed.

The increase in the length of a fish marked on May 26 and caught on the 19th of the following February was considered over 100 per cent. It was shown that during the period named the fish had travelled fully 1,700 miles.

As a result of his studies, Dr. Hjort is not inclined to pessimism as to the outlook for the industry. While admitting that the proportion of fish caught each year is extremely large, he feels certain of the rapidity of their growth and the extent of their migrations are factors that will prevent a too serious drain upon the supply, especially when the fisheries are properly regulated by law.

Accidental Inventions.

The ancients believed that there was a certain kind of mineral substance in existence by means of which all the common metals could be turned into gold. This supposed substance was called the philosopher's stone, and the alchemists of classic times and during the middle ages spent much time and labor in search of this wonderful substance.

Of course, since nothing of the kind ever existed, it was never found, but it is worth remembering that some of the most notable inventions were discovered in this wide search. It was in looking for the philosopher's stone that the German chemist, Bottcher, stumbled upon the secret of making the beautiful Dresden porcelain. Roger Bacon, in the same way, discovered the composition of gunpowder. Geber found the properties of acids; Van Helmont discovered the nature of gas, and Dr. Glauber found the secret of making the white which now bears his name.—Columbia Dispatch.

Houses in Buenos Ayres.

No building in Buenos Ayres is permitted to be higher than the width of the street upon which it is erected; hence the skyscraper will never become popular there, despite the splendid growth and wide-awakeness of the city. Much as this metropolis is known, it is not generally thought of in the light of age. However, it is one of the oldest cities in the new world. The first white settlement was made just forty-two years after the discovery of America by Columbus, and the first buildings were mud huts thatched with straw. Then a brick kiln was made and later tiles and bricks were imported from Spain. The first city was of Spanish architecture, and that style prevailed for more than 300 years. Despite the great many changes which have come through the passage of time and the general building advance in the world, four-fifths of the houses of Buenos Ayres are still of one story, although there are streets lined with six-story palaces.—Exchange.

Bulls and Blunders.

Many years ago I heard the following notice read out in a church in England: "There will be a procession next Sunday afternoon, but if it rains, in the afternoon the procession will take place in the morning."

Among mixed metaphors the most delightful I think I have ever heard was the statement of a town councillor in a Hampshire town some years ago during a discussion on projected expenditures on town improvements.

"Gentlemen," he said, "we will have nothing to do with it. It is but the thin end of a white elephant."

A distinguished leader of the "Hester party," writing to me, said, "Before the home rule bill is enforced Asquith will have to walk over many dead bodies—his own included."—London Spectator.

CONSIDERATE KATE.

(New York Weekly)

"Really, Kate," said the young man in considerable agitation, "I am very sorry that my head and kissed you. I didn't think what I was doing. It was a sort of temporary insanity in our family."

"Well, Roy, replied the young woman, "you ever feel any more such attacks coming on, you had better come right here where your infirmity is known, and we will take care of you."

Art of Shopping.

"What are you down for?" "To buy myself a box of face powder. Will you help me select it?" "Certainly," assented the other lady. "Suppose we begin by looking at the refrigerators and lace curtains."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Marrying for Votes.

Marrying for votes was a device of old time British election agents. As the law stood before the reform act of 1832 six shillings of freedom on marriage made their second husbands freemen and therefore voters. At election times widows were consequently paid handsomely to go through a formal marriage with a non-resident partner, who for a consideration similarly agreed to support the candidate. The wife was married, the man voted according to his interest, and then he and his wife, standing on either side of a tombstone, said, "Death us do part." With this literal fulfillment of the matrimonial vow they received their marriage dissolved. At the last election in Bristol before 1832 a hundred women gave votes to men.

Miss Kate Ferguson, Yonge Mills, and Roy White, Caintown, were guests on Wednesday at Mrs. A. Eligh's.

Elmer Hodge, who went to the west on the harvesters' excursion in August, returned to his home last week.

There will be no church service here on Wednesday, as Rev. Mr. Bradford will be in Prescott on business. On the Wednesday evening following a special program will be given, in which the Sunday School will repeat the Rally Sunday service.

Mrs. Vincent Wiltsie Dead

The late Mrs. Wiltsie was a daughter of Mr. Archibald Cole, and was born at Redan in the township of Kitley, sixty-four years ago. She was a person of kindly disposition, and had a wide-circle of friends. She was brought up in a Methodist home, and in early life joined the Methodist church and was a member at the time of her death. In the year 1871 she was married to Mr. Vincent Wiltsie of Athens, their family consists of three children: Mrs. Wesley McVeigh, of Addison; Herbert and Pearl at home. They moved to Gosford in March of this year. Her illness was of short duration in September 14th. She took a stroke of paralysis, and died the following day. Her funeral was conducted by Rev. Thos. Meredith, of Addison, where a large congregation had gathered to pay their tribute of respect to the sorrowing family. The burial took place at Athens.

The Annual Agricultural Fair Held on Friday—Recruiting Meeting Held and Patriotic Speeches Delivered.

Frankville Fair on Friday attracted a large crowd of people and it is estimated there were over 2,000 people on the grounds. It proved to be better than last year and the directors and officers were pleased with the result of their labors. A pleasant day contributed to the pleasure of the visitors. The exhibits in the hall were less than a few years ago. Ladies' fancy work and fine arts composed a considerable part of the inside exhibits, and it was very good. Some good home-made carpet was shown. Many good driving horses were in evidence in the ring.

Field sports, side attractions, the Toledo Band, and the trials of speed were the chief attractions.

In addition to the various attractions Lt.-Col. Wilkinson, of the 41st Regiment, Major A. M. Patterson and Lieut. Fairbairn, were present in uniform drumming up recruits. They had a goodly number of youths around them and they urged them to don khaki and go overseas like good Canadians. Several enlisted straightway, and others are likely to follow suit.

Messrs. A. C. Hardy, Wm. C. MacLaren and John Webster also delivered rousing patriotic speeches from the bandstand, and forcibly presented the necessity for far more liberal enlistment among the young men of the district.

At night similar addresses were given by Mr. Hardy and Mr. Webster, assisted by Lt.-Col. Wilkinson and Major Patterson.

The paint that protects the outside of a house should not be the same as the paint for a floor or a door or a wall. Different surfaces require different finishes. There should be but one thing in common—Sherwin-Williams quality—the quality that makes each paint, varnish, stain, enamel or other finish just right for its purpose.

If you know the paint and varnish you are using on your house or in your home are made by the same maker in the same sure, careful, painstaking way as the paint used on iron bridges, steel buildings, railroad cars and automobiles, we believe you will have more confidence in them.

PLUM HOLLOW SCHOOL FAIR

The annual Plum Hollow School Fair, which was held on Mr. Newsome's farm, on Tuesday, Sept. 28th, was bigger and better than ever. Thirteen schools participated and the judges, Messrs. Bradt of Morrisburg, Maxwell of Alexandria, Osborne of Brockville, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart of Ottawa, and Mrs. Stevens of Plum Hollow, had their hands full in awarding the prizes.

The number in attendance was the largest yet and people who, when the fair started some two years ago looked on it as a joke, were loud in their praises of the management and now consider the school fair one of the best educational schemes yet brought forward, with the cry of "back to the farm" so much in the air it looks as if our Department of Agriculture are alive to the situation and that they are going to "advance agriculture" and interest the young in such a way that farming will be looked up to. The school fair ought to help our country fair. The child winning a prize at a school fair may be the big showman of the future. The taste that they acquire when they receive the red ticked at the school fair may be the start of an education which will land the exhibitor at the top in some of our large international shows. The school fair adds much work to the teacher in the section, they having to take the lead in getting exhibits ready. The healthy rivalry created between sections is good for each section, the children being interested, and through the children the parents are interested in a way that it would be impossible to interest them in any other.

Our local Department of Agriculture with Mr. W. H. Smith as its head, is to be congratulated on the success of the several school fairs held in this district. A great amount of work is necessary in arranging for each exhibit the work in getting new teachers interested, the distributing of eggs, potatoes, grain, etc., is heavy. Then later the judging of the plots, the arranging for the fair, the staging and the securing of competent judges, adds a great deal to the regular work of the representative, and in the future when people look back to the time when these fairs were started and realize what a little thing has done for our great agricultural country, they will not forget the school system of Ontario which made such a thing possible, and they will surely not forget the Department of Agriculture at Athens, with its genial head, Mr. Smith.

Several of the old friends and neighbors of Mr and Mrs George Langdon, on the invitation of their daughter, Miss Cora, assembled at their home on the evening of the 28th of September to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of their marriage. After some time of social intercourse, the guests were invited to partake of a sumptuous repast served by Mrs Gordon Braten and Miss Cora Langdon. The cakes made in honor of the bride and groom were delicious as well as beautiful and the table was nicely decorated with flowers. Mr and Mrs Langdon were presented with two cushions by those present and the address of presentation was read by Mr Levi Monroe to which Mr Langdon suitably responded. All joined in wishing Mr and Mrs Langdon many happy returns of the day.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson II, October 10, 1915.

Elijah Taken up into Heaven.— 2 Kings, 2, 1-12.

Commentary.—I. Elijah called to depart (vs. 1-8). When the Lord would take up Elijah... The prophet's life-work was drawing to a close, and he was to enter upon his eternal reward.

II. Elijah's prayer for the future of Israel (vs. 9-14). He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

III. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel (vs. 15-18). He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

IV. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel (vs. 19-24). He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

V. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel (vs. 25-30). He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

ent. He thus fulfilled the conditions upon which the request he made of Elijah was to be granted.

Question.—About when was the time of this lesson? How long had it been since the events on Mount Carmel? How were the schools of the prophets conducted? In what cities had such schools been established? Why did Elijah visit them at this time? What questions did the prophets ask Elisha? What was his answer? Why did Elisha refuse to leave Elijah? What request did Elisha make?

PRACTICAL SURVEY.

Topic.—Perseverance Rewarded.

I. Elijah admitted to heaven. II. Elisha appointed to service.

1. Elijah admitted to heaven. The translation of Elijah embraces more than a mere historic statement. The theme has to do with the great scriptural doctrine of immortality. It gave to Israel a powerful confirmation of that great fact. When God would transfer one of his faithful servants to heaven and place another in his stead, he did it in a way most in keeping with the characteristic life of each. Elijah and Elisha were two of the most remarkable men in the history of the world.

2. Elisha appointed to service. He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

3. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel. He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

4. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel. He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

5. Elisha's prayer for the future of Israel. He saw with clear vision that Elisha was the man to be considered most at that hour. He was to stand before wicked kings and ungodly men as the messenger of God.

TORREON TAKEN. Gen. Obregon, Carranza Leader, Captured Town Yesterday. Vera Cruz, Mexico, Report.—The city of Torreón fell to General Obregon late yesterday, according to a brief telegram from General Obregon to General Carranza.

THE POULTRY WORLD

CULL OUT YOUR FLOCK. Culling the flock, or rejecting all but the best of specimens, requires nerve, and because many poultry-keepers lack this essential they fail to make the most out of poultry by retaining many fowls that are not up to standard.

With the experienced poultry-keeper culling begins as it should, at an early age. The weaker chicks, those not developing well, are sold for market. They generally sold at the broiler age, when weighing from 1-1 1/2 pounds. The chicks that show normal growth for the age and variety of the breed are retained for the next year. The remainder are sold as broilers.

For a few days after hatching the worker bee devotes its time as a nurse in the hive, either feeding the queen or young brood, or maybe in helping to build comb, on pleasant days taking exercise flights in front of the hive to develop wing power and learning to make their home location.

RIGHT EQUIPMENT NEEDED. The chief cause of failure in poultry is due in many cases to underestimation of the cost in properly equipping and conducting a poultry business. The poultry press sees the opportunity and many more than in any other line of business, nevertheless, those who have not attempted to do more than the average, have to their sorrow, found that while the statement was true, the expenditure of money was far more than they were able to meet.

Some bee men clip every queen as soon as she is laying. It is no damage to her. She will live as long and produce as much brood as if she had both wings, and it will prevent her from going in the woods with a colony of bees. They clip the feathery portion of both wings of one side of her body. To clip her they take her in their left hand, holding her by the waist or thorax with thumb and finger, waving the legs and wings free. Often she is held by the left wing with thumb and finger, letting her stand on the thumb with the right wing loose, and then with small round-pointed scissors clip the feathery portion of both wings of right side of body. It is as cruel to cut the body part of a queen bee's wing as it would be to chop off the whole wing of a man.

It is useless to expect profitable growth in plenty of lice-killing powder for the ordinary lice. Do not compel the fowls or chicks to drink stale or filthy water, but be sure that they always have clean, fresh drink within easy reach and given in clean, frequent disinfected dishes or fountains. All kinds of chickens and fowl lice breed rapidly in hot weather, and as they will not die until the profits are allowed to live, they must be destroyed by the use of lice-killing powders on the patches, etc.

FARM GARDEN

SOME BEE POINTERS. The study of bees is interesting, and the profits of keeping them are large, considering the amount invested.

The worker bee hatches in 21 days from fresh eggs, and a drone in 24 days. The queen does not go to the fields in search of honey, but devotes her time to depositing eggs. A company of workers follow and attend to all the wants of the queen. She, therefore, does not have the hard struggles the workers have when from home, and she will live to the ripe old age of two, three and sometimes four years.

For a few days after hatching the worker bee devotes its time as a nurse in the hive, either feeding the queen or young brood, or maybe in helping to build comb, on pleasant days taking exercise flights in front of the hive to develop wing power and learning to make their home location.

The anniversary services of St. Paul's Presbyterian church will be held on Oct. 17 and 18.

On Friday evening last the store of J. Lawrence & Son, Spenceville, was burglarized and the till rifled of $25.00.

Lambton county temperance workers entered on a campaign for local option. Sault Ste. Marie hotelmen have rescinded their decision not to sell liquor to soldiers.

The marriage takes place to-day at Lyn, of Lucy, youngest daughter of Mr. James Cumming, of Lyn, to Charles Wasnidge Workman, St. Catharines, eldest son of the late Wm. Workman, of Stratford. The contracting parties are both graduates of Queen's.

A petition is being presented to the ratepayers of Westport again this year to have a By-law voted on for local option. It will be remembered that three years ago local option was defeated by a narrow margin.

County Councillor McKnight and Reeve Speagle, of Westport, figured in an automobile accident at Kingston a few days ago when their cars collided. The radiator of the car driven by Councillor McKnight was badly dented in and the other car suffered damage to the fenders and lamps.

The Sundridge Echo says: "A lady died the other day in England and left the whole of her fortune, amounting to $50,000, to the local newspaper, the perusal of which had given her many happy hours." With the modesty characteristic of newspaper men the Echo adds, "Her example is worthy of emulation."

Two young men from Drummond were summoned to appear before the police magistrate in Perth for putting rails across the road, and were fined $10 each and $8 costs. They admitted the offence and pleaded hard to be let off with a nominal fine, and the magistrate and crown attorney took a lenient view of the case, at the same time making it very plain to the young men that they had committed a serious offence, one that might have led to disastrous results.

Some of the older residents of Athens and vicinity will remember the old guide board at Wight's Corners which pointed out the four different roads to be travelling public and some 35 or 40 years ago fell to decay. This summer Mr. A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., of Toronto, who spent a few weeks here in his native village, wished to revive the old landmark and has had a new guide-board erected on the old site, pointing the way with the distances to Athens, Portland, Hard Island and Frankville.

Massena Goes Dry

The Town of Massena, just across the river from Cornwall, went dry on Friday for the first time in many years, as the result of the sweeping victory gained by the temperance forces at an election a few months ago. The hotelmen say they will observe the law to the letter, and it will not be possible to secure a drink of liquor in any of them. Of the 9 hotels in Massena at least five will be continued for the accommodation of the public.

Old Resident Gone

Mr. Thomas Hillis, an old and respected resident of Toledo, passed away at noon Friday in the Public Hospital, where he had been under treatment for the past two weeks. The late Mr. Hillis was seventy eight years of age. The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Thomas Hunter, brother-in-law of the deceased, Toledo, to the Presbyterian church, where the service was conducted by the Methodist minister, after which interment was made in the Toledo Public cemetery.

On account of the Young Peoples' Convention in Prescott this week, the regular meeting of the Bluebird Mission Circle will not be held until next week. A full attendance is requested, as the report of the delegate, Miss Steacy will be given at this meeting.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" played in the Town Hall here on Friday night by Lincoln's company, had a full house. The play was very short as a vaudeville after show was given. In cutting down "Uncle Tom's Cabin," many of the best parts had to be eliminated, and farce predominated.

Died—At Athens on Tuesday, Oct. 5th, 1915, Thomas M. McBratney, aged 74 years. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock from his late residence, Wiltse street, to the Holiness movement church where service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Claxton. Interment will be made in Athens cemetery.

The Late Miss Lynett

The death of Miss Jane Lynett on Saturday morning at the home of Mr. Jerry Lynett, Westport, nephew of the deceased brings to a close a well spent life, the duration of which was ninety years. The late Miss Lynette was born and spent her long life in this vicinity. She belonged to a family consisting of four sisters and one brother the late Thomas Lynett, with whom she lived and who predeceased her six years ago.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held in St. Edward's church, where requiem mass was conducted by Rev. Father M. J. O'Rourke.

Judgment in Favor of Toll Road Co.

His Honor Judge Reynolds has delivered judgment in the two suits brought in the division court against D. W. Ogilvie and J. A. McKay, by the Brockville & Prescott Toll Road Co., for the recovery of tolls. He finds that the certificate of the inspector of toll roads shows the road to be in a proper state of repair and dismisses the counter claims of the defendants for damages by flooding and otherwise, with liberty to the defendants to commence other actions for the recovery of these damages if so advised. The claim of the company against D. W. Ogilvie was for $38.73, and judgment is given in favor of the company for $28.72. The claim against J. A. McKay was $24.70 and judgment was given in favor of the company for $19.80 and costs. H. A. Stewart, K. C., solicitor for Brockville & Prescott Toll Road Co.; Hutcheson & Driver and Baell & Parish, solicitors for defendants.

George Gray met with a serious accident on Wednesday in McConnell's graphite mill, Port Elmsley. His coat sleeve caught in a cog wheel and drew his right arm in, completely crushing the elbow and mangling the lower side of his arm from the elbow to the hand. He was taken to the Smiths Falls hospital and it is to be hoped the arm will not need to be amputated.

At the last meeting of the Grand Lodge of the I.O.O.F., Rideau Lodge of Smiths Falls, and Balmoral Lodge of Merrickville, were transferred from the St. Lawrence district of that order to the Lanark district: This will make a district of six lodges, with almost 1,000 members, and should be one of progress. A meeting of the district committee will be held shortly to organize.

Rev. Father M. J. O'Rourke, pastor of St. Edward's parish, Westport, intimated to his congregation last week his desire to have a new presbytery built. A list was opened, when $6,300 was immediately subscribed. Plans and specifications are being prepared and arrangements considered to commence the new building in the spring. The estimated cost completed will be $10,000.
