WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 25, 1910

The news that the price of beef and pork has taken a tumble in the big meat markets will be gladly welcomed by householders. Within the last week the price of beef has been reduced between four and five cents a pound by the meat packers. The price of pork has steadily most dealers say that mutton and veal and other products of the packing houses will take a downward turn within the next few days. The market men attribute the relief from the high prices to the enormous corn crop.

The sneak-thief is about the most beset specimen of humanity extant. To be a highwayman requires some courage, but the sneak-thief is always a coward. He creeps in the dark and under cover of the night robs his defenceless neighbor. Some of these gentry have recently made their presence felt in Wolfville, and petty depredations have been committed. Patches and cellars, gardens and orchards, hen-houses and clothes-lines are fair fields for their operations. Householders should take warning and guard their property by locks and bolts from these parasites on society.

Street Improvement.

A special session of the Council was held on Monday evening to consider the matter of street improvement. There was a full meeting and a free discussion of the whole subject was had. The general opinion seemed to be that the most advisable method to follow was the purchase of suitable roadmaking machinery—including a steam roller and a stone-crusher—and the securing of a sufficient amount of suitable material to put our streets in good condition as soon as spring opens. With this end in view the clerk was instructed to call a public meeting of the citizens for Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th. It is to be hoped that our people generally will give this important matter the most careful consideration, and be present at the meeting to give their aid in the movement to provide good streets for Wolfville.

Mother's Praise.

Mothers are always willing to shower their praises on a medicine that not only relieves their precious little ones from pain but removes the cause and keeps them well, bright, active and happy. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. No other medicine for little ones has received such praise from thousands of thankful mothers. These Tablets never fail to relieve the little ones from any of the many little ills that afflict them. Mrs. Thos. Hodgson, Riviere du Loup Station, Ontario, writes: "I always keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house, and have given them to my two little ones with the best results. I always recommend them to my friends as they are so safe and reliable." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

District S. S. Convention.

Meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church in Wolfville, on the afternoon and evening of December 6th. Discussions of different phases of the work will be introduced by superintendents of departments and others. Echoes of the Washington and Truro conventions will be given. Dr. Brown will give an address on the new Department adopted by the Association. A cordial invitation is given to all. Interesting and profitable sessions are assured.

The Youth's Companion for 1911.

The publishers of the Youth's Companion, will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($1.75) is paid for 1911 a beautiful Calendar for the new year. The picture panel reproduces a water-color painting of an old-time garden in a flood of summer sunshine, with a background of Lombardy poplars, through which one catches a glimpse of distant hills. The picture is in 12 colors, the tones of the original are faithfully reproduced.

A letter was received by the Wolfville post-office a few days ago from a former Wolfville boy, asking if any members of his family were still resident in this town. Many years ago Mr. Lewis Pick left here for the Western States and for the past twenty-five years no tidings have been received from him. It was thought by some of his relatives that he must have died, but others maintained that he was still living and would yet be heard from. The letter which recently came to hand containing the welcome news that he was alive and living in Salt Lake City was at once replied to by his sister, Miss Harriet Pick, and further details will no doubt soon be had from him. Mr. Martin Pick is a brother, and another brother resides in California.

FIFTY YEARS OF PROGRESS.

In science, there has been the broadening and cleansing of man's outlook on the universe, the realization of his place in the scheme of things, and of the help which is expected from his conscious co-operation towards progress and enlightenment, these are perhaps the greatest of all the results of the past fifty years.

Fifty years ago the nature of disease was unknown, and fermentation and many other organic processes were treated as purely chemical instead of as mainly biological. Certainly it is not too much to say that the discoveries of the nature of disease in the act of revolutionizing medicine. It also throws light upon the activity of soil in agriculture, the purification of rivers, the treatment of sewerage and many other problems.

In surgery, the germ theory, as applied and enforced by Lister to the treatment and infliction of wounds, has enabled the surgeon to perform operations with safety, which before were quite impossible, and the after effects on the patient are not of all comparison less painful than in the days when suppuration was regarded as a normal and inevitable consequence.

Fifty years of science has nearly annihilated space. The friendships of great continents and peoples must be credited in part to the increased facilities for intercourse afforded by engineering science.

Telephones can hardly be said to be an unmixing blessing, but electric light is a pure gain.

In astronomy great things have been accomplished. The motion of stars in the line of sight, the photography of the heavens, the penetrating further and further into the depths of space by gigantic telescopes, the application of the spectroscopic method to the study of the nature of the stars, and the vast ideas of stellar evolution and of the infinite drama of the heavens which is being played before our eyes, all this, though heralded by the men of genius of earlier days, has now penetrated to, and is now influencing the thoughts of the man of the street to-day.

Electrical applications, the electric furnace, the extraction of nitrogen from the air for purposes of agriculture, the transmission of power, the utilization of water power by electrical means for locomotion, are all practically the outcome of this period. The discoveries of rays of radio-activity, and of the probable electrical constitution of matter belong to recent history.

In chemistry, the greatest discovery has been that of the relationship among the atoms, whereby all the elements are exhibited as a group of families having probable relationship with each other. The prediction of new elements thus rendered possible before their experimental discovery was made, marks this as a great discovery. And the discovery of argon and the other inert constituents of the atmosphere has served to justify the forecast of such chemists as Julius Thomsen.

The recognition of hypnosis, also, and of telepathy, is not to be ignored. It is more difficult to speak of progress in religion without evincing some kind of prejudice or prepossession. What one person may regard as progress another person will interpret as retrogression. Thus, if one were to claim the Higher Criticism, last fifty years as a contribution to the advance of the religious interests of mankind, he would have already begged the question as to what religion was and meant.

Perhaps the most incontestable step of advance has been the growth of a temper which shows itself reluctant to lay down in advance the line of thought which religious progress is to take. Idealists have been influential in a deepening conviction that the movement of the human spirit, in religion as in everything else, is free, which it would not be were it possible to lay down any line of advance as the line that must be taken. Great thinkers give the view that religion, in their view, being what it is precisely through its freedom from the fetters of scientific or dogmatic formulation.

This attitude of mind, for it is rather this than a cut-and-dried doctrine, is deeply characteristic of the Modernist Movement in the Catholic Church. If we judge the Modernist Movement by its temper, rather than by the somewhat complicated apologies for its connection with Rome, it would be probably true to say that no more genuinely Liberal movement has ever arisen within the Christian Church. But we speak of this latter as a temper rather than a specific opinion as belonging to the Modernists. No opinions can be Liberal which one man, or one set of men, is seeking to enforce upon others, or to lay down as the only opinions that can be rationally held.

Although the spirit of liberal secularism is undoubtedly less active than it was fifty years ago, less has been done than one would expect in breaking down the ecclesiastical divisions between Church and Church. On the other hand, it is doubtful whether, from a genuinely liberal point of view, such a breaking down of divisions is much to be desired. A true spirit should rather rejoice in the rich variety of difference which marks the proclamation of the Christian gospel.

A general fusion of the Churches is by no means the only form in which modern charity would express itself. Charity will be equally disposed to welcome the strengthening of individuality in each of the churches, and to

The One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Parish of Cornwallis.

For the last two months the Church of Cornwallis people have been engaged in celebrating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the first Anglican services held in Kings county, and a number of special services have been held in the old parish church at which various clergymen have preached. Those invited have included Rev. Prebendary Storrs, Bishop Worrel, Canon Powell, President of Kings College and others. Last Sunday Rev. R. F. Dixon preached at the morning and evening services, and took occasion to speak of the great work accomplished during the last seven years by the present rector, Rev. T. C. Mellor. He referred to the unity and good will which prevailed the parish, and the generally bright and encouraging outlook. Cornwallis had been fortunate in securing the services of a rector who had infused new life into the work of the church in their ancient parish.

These improvements include a new furnace and furnace chamber, a handsome mahogany pulpit presented by Mr. R. W. Storrs in memory of his father, a new organ presented by Rev. Prebendary Storrs, handsome carved oak lecture and prayer desk, oak paneling in the chancel and new oak ceiling. Rev. R. F. Dixon congratulated the congregation on the way in which, while renovating the church, they have managed to preserve its antique features. The church is still the old building, but transformed. The main achievement, however, in connection with the anniversary, is the erection, at the cost of $2000, of a handsome parish building on the church lot, which is to be fitted up for holding meetings and Sunday School. This, it is hoped, will be ready for occupation in two or three weeks. A stained glass memorial east window is also spoken of. THE ACADIAN unites with all the friends of the Anglican Church in Cornwallis in congratulations and good wishes, and in the hope that their honored rector may long be spared to carry on his work among them.

Football at Truro.

The play-off for the King Richardson trophy and the intercollegiate football championship, between Acadia and Mount Allison, which took place at Truro on Wednesday afternoon, was won by the latter team, by the score of 3-0. The great game was witnessed by almost four thousand people. A special train took nearly two hundred Acadia students and friends and nearly as many more were present from Sackville. All Truro turned out to witness the game and many were present from Amherst and the neighboring towns. The game is said to have been a good exhibition and was intensely exciting from start to finish. Early in the first half Mt. Allison made a try, which was the only score of the day. The remainder of the game was a battle royal and both teams fought like tigers. Acadia was unable, however, to even the score, and so the trophy returns for the present to Mt. Allison. Captain Robinson and his team are a sporty lot of fellows and take this defeat in good part, hoping for better things next year, when they will have another chance to win.

Missionary Social.

On Thursday afternoon of last week the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was at home to the kindred societies of the Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal churches of the town. Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Gilmore received. Mrs. Morrison, president of St. Andrew's Society, presided and gave the address of welcome. The Methodist Society was the first called upon, and Mrs. J. W. Prestwood responded with a recitation and Mrs. Moore with a vocal solo. The Baptist Society was well represented by Mrs. Manning, who gave an excellent address on the value of mission study classes, and a solo was given by Miss Beckwith. The Episcopal Society was represented by Mrs. Black, who read a paper that told of the splendid success of the missionary work. Miss James, St. Andrew's, read a paper on Home Missions, prepared by Mrs. Patterson, of Hortonville. About seventy-five guests were present. Refreshments were served at the close. The meeting was an undoubted success, and the various societies separated feeling that the work was one and that they each had a share in the interest of the other.

Acadia Notes.

In New York, there has been formed a branch of the Acadia Alumni, the first meeting of which was held on November 21st. At this meeting it was expected there would be present between fifty and a hundred graduates of Acadia. On November 22nd the New England branch of the same society met in Boston. At both meetings President Catten was present and delivered addresses.

The Rev. Simon Spidle, a graduate of Acadia in 1897, and afterwards of Newfie Theological Seminary, has been appointed professor of Church History and Theology in Acadia. Professor Spidle will receive his degree of Ph. D. from Clark University, Worcester, Mass., in June. Consequently he will not take up his work here until October, 1911. In the meantime these subjects will be taught by other professors.

This year the library at Acadia is being greatly improved. At present it contains about 15,000 volumes but by the end of the year it is hoped the number will be increased to about 16,000. A subject index is being made along certain lines, so as to increase the facility of reference. The most complete department is that of religion, the next being reference and biography. As yet the magazine and English literature departments are incomplete but additions are being made continually.

In the College there are 225 students, while last year there were about 200. In the Academy there are about 25 more than last year, and in the Seminary about 10 more.

Much interest is being taken in debating at Acadia this year and all the classes have strong teams. The Senior-Junior debate last Saturday evening was won by the former. The subject was: 'Resolved that labor unions are more injurious than beneficial to society.' The seniors supported the affirmative. The speakers were: Seniors—MacLeod, Roy and Wright; Juniors—Tingley, Balcom and Logan. Dr. Tufts, Rev. G. W. Miller and Rev. Dr. Archibald were the judges.

Kidney Suffering

Backaches and tired feelings tell of weak kidney action—Prompt relief is given by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY AND LIVER PILLS. There is no treatment for kidney disease you will so quickly as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease. There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills awaken the action of the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the excretory system. Mr. J. Argue, Kars, Carleton, Co., Ontario writes: 'I have suffered a great deal with kidney troubles and pains in the small of the back and have tried a great many remedies without obtaining very much benefit. I wish to say, however, that I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as a splendid medicine as they have proven of very great value to me.' Why Our Looks Change.

Many a man feels like a philanthropist when he gives away what he doesn't want himself.

The Scott Act Inspector in Pictou town is to receive for stipend one-half the fines collected.

Ten mountain climbers have lost their lives on a single Swiss peak, the Jungfrau, so far this season.

Poor fellow. Wonder if it will make any difference in his style of driving.

Tired, Aching Feet.

How annoying to have the feet tired and aching, sore and chafed about the time you want to take a good long walk.

A well known London Physician says that he does not make the most of the sunlight, and there are many cases where tubercular, joint and bone diseases have been cured simply by daily exposure to the sun's rays.

Many school children suffer from contusions, which is often the cause of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Pills.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Pills are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation.

A farmer received a note from a young man who had been 'going with' his daughter. It read: 'Dear Sir, Wood like your daughters hand in marriage. She and me are in love. I think I need a wife. Yours truly.'

The farmer replied by letter saying: 'Friend: You don't need a wife. You need a spelling book. Get one and study it a year. Then write me again.'

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

The superintendent of streets in a western city recently summoned one of his subordinates, saying: 'Mike, there is a dead dog reported in the alley between Illinois and Blank streets. I want you to look after its disposition.'

It was about an hour later that this came over the phone: 'I've enquired about the dog, and find that he had a very savage disposition.'

The old, old story, told times without number and repeated over and over again for the last 20 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds as quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

A sociologist, in conversation with a practical person from the Middle West, concerning the labor problem in her part of the country, thereby learned the lesson of the situation.

'Are there many men out of work?' he asked.

The lady admitted that there were quite a number.

'What,' said he then, 'do the unemployed do?'

'Nothing,' said the lady. 'That's the trouble.'—'Youth's Companion.'

He Was Paralyzed.

Mr. Wm. J. Brennan, Western Hill, St. Catharines, Ont., tells what it feels like to be paralyzed. He lost power of speech, face was drawn out of shape, lost flesh, could not sleep. Five doctors failed to help him. His nerves were ineffective. He used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food until his former good health was restored. Face was restored to shape, power of speech restored and he gained in weight. Says he would not relate to former condition for all the gold in the country.

A London guide was showing an American tourist the famous tomb of St. Paul, says Paris Modes. 'This, sir,' said he, 'is the tomb of the greatest naval hero the world ever saw—Lord Nelson. This marble sarcophagus weighs 42 tons. Hinde that is a steel receptacle that weighs 12 tons. Hinde that is the mahogany coffin that holds the bones of the great hero.'

'Well,' said the tourist, after a moment's deep thought, 'I guess you've got him. If he ever gets out of that, telegraph at my expense.'

Canada Beaten by New Zealand in Chess.

Mr. E. D. Aroust, trade commissioner at Bristol, England, reports: There is very little demand this season for fodder made cheese and likely to be less in future seasons, owing to the increased popularity of the New Zealand article. The best description of Canadian being lower in make and the shrinkage on fresh landed parcels abnormal.

Canadian butter has ceased to be a factor in the market and is not required by the retail trade, and the butter trade is now considered a thing of the past. The supplies are going from Ireland, Denmark and others in summer, and Australia and New Zealand in autumn and winter.

That Red Rose Tea is of surpassing quality is accepted everywhere it is used as an undisputed fact, but it is in the Maritime Provinces especially that it has by unvarying goodness so well earned the term "is good tea."

The hair, which is hanging loose, covers large ears and softens the harsh outlines of the face, we cut off or tip up, deliberately throwing away this aid to good looks.

As for the small, beautifully curved mouth of the child, it suffers more than any other feature. The full red lips become thin, the teeth grow large and the curves disappear. This is all most inevitable because of the growth of the bones and the development of the eating muscles. The cheek bones and jaw bones of a young child are small and at first there is very little muscle. At the same time the face is full and round because of the abundance of fat. But when the necessity for eating solid food arises the jaws grow rapidly and powerful muscles to operate them are developed.

Wrinkles of all sorts increase the degradation of beauty. A healthy child has no wrinkles. Observe how a grown person's forehead wrinkles up when he is giving attention or thinking hard. A child's forehead remains quite smooth in the same circumstances. Wrinkles around the eyes come from loss of fat, and in other parts of the face from the expression of emotions, which is always accompanied by muscular movements.

Really, when we come to think how numerous are the enemies of beauty—fear, sorrow, worry, disease, dust, and all the unfavorable influences of our world—it is not after all surprising that so little of our childhood beauty remains in later life.

What Would You Do?

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Canada Cement Company Reduces Prices.

The price of cement has been lowered. This announcement may come as a surprise to many—for when Merger merged, the opposite tendency is usually looked for, but this time the unexpected has happened.

After a year ago most of the large cement interests joined hands and formed one company, known as the Canadian Cement Company, Limited. It was immediately predicted, in many quarters, that prices would be advanced, that on account of the big pay day for his cement in future.

The promoters of the Company, on the other hand, stoutly contested the theory, pointing out that owing to reduction of expenses and increasing efficiency, they hoped to be able to give even cheaper cement than ever before.

The first move on the part of the Cement Company was to regulate the price of its product, and it was an agreeable surprise to everyone when it was learned that in making the adjustment prices were not unduly advanced. That was last year.

On the 1st of November, this year, a circular was sent out by the Canadian Cement Company, further reducing the price of its product throughout the entire Dominion on an average of about 10c. per barrel.

This reduction means a whole lot, and proves beyond doubt the sincerity of the statements made by the promoters, when the Company was yet in embryo.

Cramp is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is necessary is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it never disappoints them. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Starting this month, and continuing until March, the minimum sum of money which immigrants entering Canada must have in their possession on landing, unless going to assured positions as farm laborers, will be fifty dollars instead of twenty-five dollars, as required during the spring and summer months. A similar course was pursued last winter in order to restrict arrivals during the season of the year when opportunities for securing speedy employment are limited.
