The Seaford Exporter allee to Johnny McCullough as a "bicyclist of some note." The Goderich man ought to lift his hat and bow acknowledgment. Stabbing Affray up in Bruce.
WALKERTON, June 2.—Yesterday at Chepstow, near here, Henry McNabb, 20 years of age, was seriously stabbed by Frank Niemer, a youth recently from Germany, unable to speak English. Niemer quarrelled with one Fleming on whom he drew a knife. The blade glanced off Fleming's ribs just over the heart. McNabb interfered to make peace; he in turn was assaulted by Niemer, who buried the knife in his body immediately under the ribs. Whilst the people were engaged in attending to McNabb, Niemer got away. McNabb is dangerously wounded. Niemer is a round-faced, dark-complexioned, black-eyed youth of 20, medium size, stout build.

Sometime ago it was said that a Pennsylvania had discovered a method of concentrating whisky, so that it could be sold by the plug. This may or may not be so. But you can feel assured that the best liquors in Goderich are sold by W. L. Horton.

Strangers coming to Goderich wonder where the young men of the town get their fashionably made apparel, and think that they patronize city tailors. In this they are mistaken, for the stylish suits are the handiwork of F. & A. Fridham, the fashionable tailors.

Keep off the grass.

John Payne sold his house and lot on Elgin street to Mr. Troy for $600 cash. The house is a neat looking one, and Mr. Troy has got the worth of his money.

The Lord's Army.—The meetings continue to be largely attended. The advent of Wm. Grey, of Clinton, wearing a lieutenant's badge, and in brightly trimmed uniform, did harm here, as Grey is very unpopular in Goderich, owing to his manner at the Bates' outrage investigation. It turns out that he is not a lieutenant in the Army, and was not sent here by the authorities to help in the work.

Capt. Hamby, of Clinton, ordered Grey to take off his badge on his return to Clinton, on Wednesday. The Goderich people cannot be persuaded of the genuineness of his conversion, unless he makes a clean breast of the outrage affair. Meanwhile the work goes on at the Temperance Hall every night, and much good is being done, both directly and indirectly.

Dr. Whitley and John Little were tried before Judge Elliott at London on Wednesday, charged with conspiring to send Little from London to Goderich while sick with small-pox. The jury returned a verdict of guilty against both defendants. In passing sentence on Dr. Whitley, the Judge said the object of the prosecution was not to prosecute the defendants, but to make it known that such offences, endangering the health and lives of the community at large, were not to be perpetrated with impunity. He was fined $20. In reference to Little, who made his own defence in a pitiful strain, His Honor said he had suffered much already in connection with this case, but to express the sense of the court, he sentenced him to be de-

Rev. Mr. West will preach in the North street Methodist church on Sunday morning, and Mr. Thos. McMurray, of Toronto, will occupy the pulpit in the evening. Mr. McMurray will also lecture on temperance in the lecture room of the church on Monday evening. He comes well recommended as an able and eloquent advocate of total abstinence.

DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION.—The public meeting billed for Wednesday evening, to devise ways and means for suitably celebrating the 1st of July was adjourned until this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock, when a good turnout is called for. Last year the Goderich celebration was the best event of the county, and everyone should attend the meeting this evening with the intention of beating the record of the previous year.

At the congregational meeting of Knox church held on Wednesday evening the following motion was carried. Moved by Mr. Kay, seconded by Sheriff Gibbons, that in the existing circumstances of this congregation it is inexpedient to call another minister to succeed Mr. Turner, and one of the best platform speakers in Ontario, "John" will make it a point to be present at this resolution before the other congregations concerned, and also before the Presbytery.

PANORAMA.—Veroy's panoramashowed here on Tuesday and Wednesday. Some of the scenes were remarkably fine, although others looked the worse of age and handling. The views of Canadian scenery were attractive, and the Franco-German war scenes were stirring. Mr. Veroy is full of information owing to his travels. The entertainment was in aid of Knox church S. S., but owing to the meagre attendance only a small sum was cleared.

The Clinton New Era says:—"We understand that the Ontario Temperance Alliance have asked John McMillan, ex M.P., Reeve of Hullett, to speak throughout the County in the interest of the Scott Act, and this gentleman has consented to do so. He will prove to be an excellent advocate of the temperance cause, as he is well informed on the subject, and one of the best platform speakers in Ontario. "John" will make it warm for any of the speakers on the other side." We endorse the above from our esteemed contemporary.

THE ASSAULT CASE.—The assault case Taylor vs. McCullough was again before his worship mayor Horton, last Monday, and on Dr. Taylor's evidence that the plaintiff, Robt. Taylor, would not be able to give evidence for eight or ten days, was further adjourned for one week. Mr. McCullough asks a suspension of public opinion on the case until he can offer in evidence his side of the case, which he avers, will prove Taylor to be at fault. So far only the other side has been heard, and McCullough has not had a chance to put in his witnesses nor give any evidence of his own.

The Wingham Vidette is in a bad way about the wrestling of the silver cup from its boys by the Goderich lacrosse players. The following shows how badly they feel over the matter in the junction town:—"Immediately after defeating the Seeps, the home club played the Goderich team and would have been victorious again had not the 'big fellows' of the Goderich team unmercifully belabored some of our boys. It was quite clear to every spectator that the Goderich team had no chance of winning the cup from our boys, had they not belabored them so unmercifully that some of them were obliged to leave the field. Our club is quite confident in their ability to defeat the Wingham team, and have therefore authorized us to challenge them to a game to be played here any time during two weeks for $25 a side. We hope the Goderich team will 'toe the mark'."

The above whine is characteristic of the average defeated club. The Vidette's statement is very misleading. "Immediately," for instance, was three hours after the first match, in the afternoon. The match played in the morning was practically a practice, the games being played in an hour. The "big fellows" of Goderich, is a good way of frightening the little boys of Wingham. The teams were fairly of a size on the average, and when the Wingham boys again the Hurons are willing to have the teams weighed, and if our boys who are to play are not as light or lighter the Wingham can claim the game. The $25 a side challenge is merely bluff. If not, then the ignorance of the Wingham sports must be dense. A game for a stake would shut out the Hurons from playing with Association clubs, as such a match would make them rank with professionals. The Wingham boys should take their defeat like little men.

If the Wingham men want to try for the cup they have a chance by playing for it on the champions' ground on the 17th inst., as already offered by the holders of the trophy. This is the usual way to do the little business.

FOR MANY YEARS.—Mr. and Mrs. W. Logie, of Hay, were married on the 24th of May, 1816, and consequently have lived together 68 years. He is in his 93rd and she in her 87th year. They have 20 great grand children living; both are in the best of health, and appear to be good for many years yet. Who can beat it.

tained in the courtroom for half an hour. The half hour was put in and he left the courtroom, taking the first train to Woodstock.

Confirmation services.
The Right Rev. Dr. Walsh, Bishop of London, will hold a confirmation service at St. Peter's church this (Friday) morning, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. About 52 candidates have been prepared, and will accept of the sacrament. The Bishop will be assisted by Rev. Dr. Kilroy, Rev. Chancellor Turner, Revs. O'Connor, B. J. Watters, O'Shea, Babau, and H. P. Lotz.

On Wednesday Right Rev. Bishop Walsh administered the sacrament of confirmation at the Ashfield mission, Kingsbridge, to 125 candidates, who had been fully prepared by Rev. Mr. Bosang, parish priest.

The bishop will be at Irishtown on Sunday, and at Seaford on Tuesday, to administer sacrament to candidates at these points.

Bicycle Notes.
Deputy Reeve M. G. Cameron is the only county councillor who can ride a bicycle.

The Forest City Bicycle club has "bust." The final meeting on Tuesday was a stormy one. Alas for London!

J. Platt's new bugle is a great improvement on the one first purchased. Jack can now blow a blast both "loud and shrill."

Why are the spokes of a bicycle like the ladies?
1. Because they are attached to a tire.
2. They cling to the felloes.
3. There are so many fine ones about the Hub.—Boston Spokes.

A GOOD RUN.—D. E. Cameron, banker, of this place, made the run from Lucknow to Goderich, 22 miles on Tuesday evening last on his bicycle in exactly two hours and a half. The wind was somewhat in his favor.—Lucknow Sentinel.

J. D. Keenleyside, of the Ariel Touring club, London, came into town on Monday astride his wheel. He took a number of runs around town with our bicyclists, and north to the Point Farm on Wednesday. He left yesterday for London, via Bayfield.

A spoony subscriber wants to know how cycling matches are made. We would prescribe the following, it does according to the strength and age of the individual:—"The felloe gets his girl, and the girl gets her felloe. Then she reaches out toward him, and then he speaks, and axle she wheel into his box, and let him be a hub, and she takes the step and comes at him with a dash, and they are both like a little wheel and she calls him a crank, till he gets tired of her tongue, and thinks she spoke too much, and then he is on a hard seat, and then the devil gets into them both, takes off the varnish, puts on the brinestone at the end and that completes the match.—[Ex.]

Lachrymose Lacrosseists.

METHODIST UNION.

A Big Day for the Methodist Cause in Canada.

Sunday, June 1st, was a high day with the Methodists of the Dominion. The merging of the four bodies into one formally took place on that day, and in the towns and cities the vicars were of a special nature.

Methodism has made great progress in Canada. It is about 100 years since Barbara Heck and her companions left the United States in their two small boats and sailed up Lake Champlain for Montreal, finally settling further up the St. Lawrence in Upper Canada. They formed the nucleus of the Methodist body of the Canadian provinces, and the cause proved to be a fruitful one. According to the last census, there are 4,324,410 people in the Dominion at large. Of these 742,981, or a little more than one-sixth, are Methodists. There are 1,983,520 people in the Province of Ontario. Of these 691,503, or not much less than one-third, are Methodists. In the Province of Ontario there are 5,073 churches. Of these 2,375, or nearly one-half, are Methodist churches.

In Goderich the services were of an unusual yet very interesting character. At 9:30 a.m. a love feast was participated in by the members of both churches, and at 11 a.m. a platform meeting was held in the same place. S. Yates opened with prayer, and the addresses which followed were all given by laymen. Owing to the number of speakers we are unable to give even a synopsis of their addresses, some of which were very interesting. The speakers and subjects were:—

J. C. Dettlor, "The Origin of Methodism."
R. W. McKenzie, "The Growth of Methodism."
David Fisher, "Characteristics of Early Methodist Preaching."
George Cox, "Distinctive Features of Methodism."
George Acheson, "The Adaptability of Methodism."

In the afternoon the union of the two Sunday schools took place in the North street church, when addresses were given by Richard Parker on "The Importance of S. S. work in Methodism," and by W. Swadlow on "How given by invitation. A Success." T. McGillivuddy, in imitation, spoke on some characteristics of Methodism admired by him, although not a Methodist.

In the evening the North street church was filled, when the pastors addressed the congregation. Rev. T. M. Campbell spoke on the dangers and duties of the hour. He said the basis of union had been accepted and all should endeavor to faithfully carry it out. The new position of the church should not be one of ease, but one of increasing activity. Rev. Mr. West dwelt on the past achievements of Methodism and predicted continued success in the future. A union prayer meeting closed the exercises.

The Union has been accomplished in Goderich without any friction so far, and the fraternal spirit exhibited by the members of both churches augurs well for the future of the fusion.

To the personal popularity, tact and energy of Rev. T. M. Campbell, pastor of the larger congregation on North street, can be attributed in a great measure this pleasing condition of affairs.

Public School Board Meeting.
The Board met on Monday evening. Present—Mr. C. Crabb in the chair, and Messrs. Butler, Swanson, Ball, Nicholson, McGillivuddy and Morton. The minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

The Principal's report showed the average attendance at the public schools, for May, to be 524, an average of 74 per cent.

Miss Henderson sent in her resignation as teacher of St. Andrew's ward school, to take place on 1st September next.

The Lucknow Sentinel in its report of the concert held in the 'peppy village on Monday, the 26th ult., thus refers to Goderich talent:—"Miss Clara Barry, of Goderich, an old favorite, rendered in good voice 'Beautiful Days of the Past,' and by special request 'The Lover and the Laird.' Eustace, the Outcast.

CHAPTER XI.

THE SEA FIGHT—EUSTACE IS LAID IN IRONS.

"Can you make her out?" asked the commander.

"She's a frigate, sir, much about our own size, though larger if anything."

"Good," said the Captain in a tone of great satisfaction. "What is her course?"

"She's on the larboard tack."

"Ah, and she shows a good deal of canvas, I see."

"Yes," returned the First Lieutenant, "her foresail and royals are set, but her mizzen top sail is struck and her mainmast is shivering."

"And what about her prize?" was the Captain's next query.

"I'm just trying to make her out, sir. She lies about a quarter of a mile further off, and is a small gun brig, something like the build of the Hawk or the Dolphin."

"May she not be the Falcon?" suggested the Captain.

"The Falcon it is, sir," answered the Lieutenant.

"Ah, I never had any opinion of these four gun brigs," remarked Brentwood.

"They are so liable to be captured when they come across a frigate. But we must see and take the Falcon from the talons of this French eagle."

"They're waiting on us," exclaimed Saughton, "but the brig is making off."

"So! that looks like business. Give me the glass, Saughton, and get all ready for action."

"Boatswain!" shouted the first lieutenant, "beat all hands to quarters."

And instantly the roll of the drum rose sharp on the quiet morning air, and with swift celerity the men who were expecting and waiting for that welcome order rushed to the guns.

The marines also were mustered and arranged amidship, and a boarding party were stationed, cutlass in hand, away forward.

All was now ready for the conflict, and perfect silence reigned on board the Hector, broken only by the officer's voice as he gave directions to the man at the helm.

The two frigates were rapidly nearing each other, and on board the French vessel everything seemed all prepared for action.

Suddenly the Falcon frigate hoisted her colors and fired a gun to windward. The Hector also raised her colors, but in silence pursued her way, her object being to engage to leeward, and prevent the attempt of the foe to escape.

They were now near enough to each other for the British to recognize in their antagonist the French frigate Cornete—a vessel which they knew fully out-manned them in guns, crew and tonnage; there was therefore the prospect of hot work before them, and the stimulating thought of overcoming an enemy of superior force. The moment the object of the Hector was perceived on board the Cornete, the latter opened a smart fire, which came with shattering power among the sails and the cordage of the British vessel.

To avoid this the Hector steered a bow and a quarter course, and still kept silent—a feat which under a galling fire none but British soldiers and seamen can accomplish.

Steady and motionless every man stood at his post—the gunners with the hot bolts in their hands waiting with feverish eagerness to hear the order announced, but manifesting no undue impatience, though many of them glanced ruefully at the tattered sails fluttering from yards, and the severed rigging hanging from the masts.

"Wait a bit," said John Murdoch to a whiper to Eustace, who stood by him at the gun. "By the Lord Harry, we'll give him if for that yet."

But the Cornete saw her advantage and resolved to maintain it. By their present relative positions she could bring her broadside to bear on the Hector, while the latter could return no effective fire, and scorned to waste powder and shot by making a mere noise.

The Frenchman, therefore, perceived that if he could deliver several broadsides with the same immunity he would effectively cripple the Hector and have her at his mercy. While therefore the latter strove to reach a proper position to leeward, the Cornete filled, wore, and came to again on the same tack, discharging another broadside on her defenceless foe.

This safe game she played no less than three times, till Captain Brentwood saw he could never reach the position he desired, and he gave the order to change the Hector's course, and run right at the foe to windward. This bold and unexpected measure succeeded, and the two vessels being now running in the same direction, found themselves broadside to broadside at pistol shot distance.

"Now give it to her, my lads," shouted Saughton, wildly waving a broadsword in his hand.

Scarcely was the order given when one simultaneous flash gleamed along the side and a deafening roar of thunder broke the silence which the Hector had maintained, while volumes of smoke enveloped the whole ship, concealing alike the men from each other and the Cornete from all. In less than a minute the smoke from both vessels floated to leeward, and then the men of the Hector could see what their broadside had done to their antagonist.

There lay the French frigate somewhat astern, her yellow sides streaked in some places with white splinters, and some of her sails hanging in ribbons.

Recumbent men, dead and wounded, were also to be seen in numbers on her deck, laid low by the round shot and the mucketry of the muzzles. But the Hector had received, as well as given, a broadside, and at the very moment when she shook in recoil at the discharge of her own guns, an iron shower of death and destruction swept over her deck and through her rigging, laying several gallant fellows low, making many hearts to cease forever to beat, depriving others of their limbs, and inflicting gashes and wounds which would leave their scars for life.

Already were they poor, suffering moaning ones being carried down to the cockpit, to receive the attention of the surgeon and his assistants.

Meanwhile under the direction of Saughton, a number of men were kept aloft repairing the rigging, for on this everything depended. Crippled as they were by tattered sails and severed ropes, they could not manœuvre the vessel, while the Cornete was able to tack about in all directions, and bring her whole metal to bear on them.

If they had failed, therefore, to repair the rigging and put it into better working order, they remained almost wholly at the mercy of their foe. Even now she had hauled upon the larboard tack, and was preparing to fire upon them her starboard broadsides.

But the swift and willing hands of the workers aloft had got the ropes spliced and canvas fastened so that she could throw her sails back and so foil the Frenchman's intention.

"One discharge, followed by an immediate rush of the boarders will do it," exclaimed Eustace.

"Pass the order for the boarders to be ready," shouted the captain, waving his hand to the first lieutenant.

"Ay, ay," answered Saughton, cheerily, and Eustace with Willy, who never left his side, sprang to the quarter deck, to be in front of the assaulting party.

The musket shot still flew like hail, and men were dropping down on all sides. The decks everywhere were red and slippery with blood, and the roar of the sanguinary conflict was like a continual thunder-pail.

But suddenly a sound rose above even the dreadful din of battle, and like the shock of an avalanche, the contents of the main deck gun flashed from the cabin window from forecastle to quarter deck of the Cornete. It had been rammed to the muzzle with iron bolts and lumps of lead, which swept with awful destruction among the doomed Frenchmen.

Ere the smoke had cleared away, and while the panic was at its height, a mass of boarders, with a tremendous cheer, burst on the forecastle of the Cornete, and at the sight of them and their gleaming cutlasses the French sailors rushed off in a body, tumbling over the piles of dead which the maindeck gun had stricken down, and closely pursued by the exultant assailants who chased them aft without a moment's pause to the Cornete's very quarter-deck.

Here they rallied somewhat, and a desperate hand-to-hand conflict ensued. Again was the tall form of Eustace conspicuous in the melee, as waving the cutlass above his head with the rapidity of lightning, he struck down foe after foe, and in a voice which was heard amid the noise, cheered the men of the Hector to the assault.

Against such a tremendous onslaught the dispirited and now fearfully reduced French could not contend. The tide of the battle had set so strong and full in favor of the Hector that the crew of the Cornete lost hope and courage, and dozens of them dived below.

Seeing that his chance was now hopeless, and to prolong the contest would be only to have his men massacred, the French captain struck his colors, and the contest ended.

All the time that this sanguinary engagement had lasted the Falcon had lain to at a safe distance, as the officer in charge had been instructed to do by the captain of the Cornete, he never doubting that the Hector would fall to him as another prize.

He had on this account given no instructions what to do in case of defeat. When, therefore, those on board the Falcon saw that the Cornete had struck her flag they were filled with consternation, and stood off with an intention to escape.

"There is no dishonor, Monsieur," he observed, "in retiring up my sword after such a gallant fight, and to so brave an adversary."

"Possibly, captain," returned Brentwood, with a smile. "However the fortune of war has in this instance been with me, and against you, though you seem likely to have been more fortunate. And as he spoke Captain Brentwood pointed to the Falcon in the distance.

"It was not a very great achievement to take a four-gun brig," returned the Frenchman, with another shrug of the shoulders. "But I did something more creditable previous to that. I sank the British ship Valiant."

"Ha?" exclaimed Brentwood, has my friend Captain Dunsmore lost his ship? He himself is safe, I hope?"

"Yes, Monsieur, he and as many of his crew as were saved by the Falcon. I intended taking him to a French port, but by the result of this fight I and Captain Dunsmore change places.

While this conversation was taking place between the two captains, the men were busy in both vessels in removing the wounded from the deck, laying aside the dead for burial in the deep, washing the red stains from the boards, and repairing as quick as possible the damage which had been sustained.

Eustace and Willy had returned on board the Hector, and stood together by the bulwarks. Jack Murdoch and a group of sailors were gathered round them, and the prowess of Eustace was the theme of their admiration.

"It is sickening work, though, to look back on," said Eustace, gravely, as he glanced at the splintered sides and shattered rigging. "If one's blood was not up they could never go through with it."

"Ay, mercy no," ejaculated Willy. "How dare you fellows loiter here when there's so much work to do?"

He was shouting, and Randolph Grahame pressed in among them. Every one went off except Eustace. Willy withdrew with the rest, but did not go far. Eustace remained where he was, but took no notice of Randolph, either by word or look.

"Do you hear, fellow," roared the tyrant. "Be off to your work, and don't sulk there." Still Eustace neither moved or noticed him.

"Ha! insolence and disobedience!" cried Randolph, with a grim ferocious smile. "Order you to the mast head for a punishment. Go off with you, instantly."

But Eustace remained motionless, and maintained the same contemptuous silence, which so enraged Randolph that he clutched him by the collar to drag him forward. At the first touch of the insulter Eustace raised his arm with the swiftness of lightning and pushed Randolph aside with as much ease as if he had been a child.

The latter went spinning around, till he was brought up by coming violently in contact with the mast.

"What, ho! Sergeant of Marines!" roared the infuriated lieutenant. The officer called for immediately came, and a guard with him. "Seize that fellow, iron him heavily, and confine him in the Black Hole." To this order there was nothing for it but obedience, and the men advanced and laid hands on Eustace, who made no resistance. They were taking him away when Randolph gazed them to stop. "Iron him, I tell you, and here." The irons were produced and fastened on the youth's strong but passive limbs, the tyrant standing by the while, with a smile upon his distorted face. Eustace was rendered helpless now, and they lifted and carried him below-down to the lower-most part of the ship—where he was thrust into a prison of murky darkness and left to lie on the floor.

Well, I can't say I like him. What particular objection have you to him?

Well, madam, I'll be frank with you. His voice is so strong and he makes so much noise when he's preaching that it is almost impossible to hear the conversation of the choir during the sermon.

MYSTERY OF THE LAKES.

A Subterranean River Between Superior and Ontario.

I believe there is a subterranean river running from Lake Superior through Lakes Huron and Michigan, under Lake Erie, and emptying into Lake Ontario.

There is no other way in which to explain certain mysteries connected with our great lakes. The surface of Lake Superior is about 650 feet above tide, while its bed is 260 feet below tide level. Lake Huron's surface is 50 feet below that of Superior's, and its bed is about on a level with Superior's.

The surface of Lake Michigan is 200 feet lower than Lake Huron's, and its bed is sunk a corresponding distance to the level of the other two lakes. Lake Erie's surface is nearly as high as Lake Michigan's, being 565 feet above the tide, but its bed is also above tide, being 350 feet higher than the ocean level, consequently its bed is 250 feet higher than those of the lakes above it.

Lake Ontario's surface is the lowest of all the great lakes, being less than 500 feet above tide, but its bed is 250 feet below the ocean, or about the same level as Michigan, Huron and Superior. So that there is a continuous fall from Lake Superior to Ontario, and all the outlet that the upper lakes have, which is known in the comparatively insignificant Detroit river. That stream never can care for all that great pressure and volume from above, and the theory of an underground river such as I mentioned seems to me most reasonable.

All the St. Lawrence fishes are taken in every one of the lakes but Lake Erie. Why? Because they follow the course of the subterranean stream, passing 300 feet beneath the bottom of Lake Erie, and enter the waters of the upper lakes. The great lakes above Lake Erie have an occasional flux and reflux of their waters, corresponding with ocean tides, save in regularity.

The subterranean river, according to my theory, becomes occasionally obstructed by great obstacles that are constantly moving down from the lake bottoms. Then the channels of outlet are insufficient to carry off the great volume of water, and they are dammed back, and the lakes rise. Finally these obstructions are swept away by the irresistible pressure, the river flows naturally once more, and the dammed waters subside. That is the whole mystery of the rise and fall of the tides in the great lakes.—[New York Sun.

FRIDAY, JUNE 6TH, 1884.

A FINE SUMMER RESORT.

Goderich is a beautiful spot, and there is no denying the fact. At this time of the year it is particularly attractive to visitors, and for the next two or three months the town will be crowded with outsiders coming hither in quest of health, vigor and relaxation.

During the season just closing the municipal authorities have not been sparing in their efforts to add to the beauty of the town, and the work put on the Court-house Square is now assuming an appreciable form. The county council is also deserving of credit for the manner in which they supplemented the amount expended by the town council.

The improvements made on the Square and in other parts of the town, together with the fine situation and natural advantages of Goderich, the wide streets, handsome residences, beautiful avenues, magnificent scenery, saline baths, mineral springs, &c., &c., cannot fail to attract many to this point during the ensuing summer, and we look for a large influx of visitors.

THE RAILWAY.

Now that a definite promise has been given Wingham on the railway question by the C. P. R. authorities, something should be done by Goderich to show forth its advantages as a lake terminus for the road. From the conditions imposed upon Wingham are led to believe that the C. P. R. count considerably on the trade in salt from Huron county, and under these conditions no town in Canada can offer greater advantages than Goderich. It is well known that Goderich leads the van in the salt trade, and this fact, coupled with the magnificent harbor facilities of the town, should make it a desirable location for a railway terminus.

We have, time and again, pointed out the advantages that would accrue to the C. P. R. in the event of Goderich being the terminus of the western branch, and we do not intend to revert to the subject on this occasion, but we do say that more energy should be at once exhibited by our local men. If the C. P. R. authorities were duly invited to Goderich surely they would come hither as willingly as they went to Wingham; and if the salt business is one in which they take a keen interest, Goderich, with its thirteen wells, would prove to be a place of importance so far as that industry is concerned.

In any event the ball should be kept a-rolling, and no effort should be left undone to keep it on the move.

REJECTED WITH SCORN.

The Prairie Province Refuses to Accept Sir John Macdonald's Terms.

Winnipeg, May 31.—In the Legislature yesterday, Mr. Norquay stated the intentions of the Government in reference to the terms sent down from Ottawa. He read a somewhat lengthy paper, the gist of which was a complete rejection of the terms offered. His stand was unanimously endorsed by the legislature, and a committee was appointed to put the reply into shape for transmission to Ottawa. Mr. Martin, of the Prairie, proposed that Attorney-General Miller be recalled from his mission to England on the ground that the Dominion Government had refused the province the public lands. The motion was voted down.

The Republican Convention.

Chicago, June 3.—The battle commenced at noon, when Lodge of Massachusetts nominated John Lynch, of Mississippi, (colored), as temporary chairman, demanding a call of the roll. Mr. Clayton of California, spoke against the motion, and also Geo. W. Curtis, who urged avoiding a fight. Great excitement, tremendous applause, and a heated discussion ensued on the temporary chairman question. The Blaine and Logan men supported Clayton while the Arthur and Edmunds men supported Lynch. The roll was called and the vote stood:—Lynch, 432; Clayton, 397. The election of Lynch was then made unanimous. Although considerably discounted, it was a brilliant victory for the anti-Blaine side, and those who accomplished it are wild with joy tonight. The vote of 387 for Clayton shows Blaine's strength. His friends had only counted on 332 for the first ballot.

An application from Mr. Dickson, jailer, for an increase of salary, was referred to the finance committee.

A circular from the clerk of the Legislative Assembly, requesting the opinion of the Council in reference to reducing the number of members of county councils, was read and referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Kaine, Kay, G. Elliott, Johnston, Eason, Gray, and Strachan, to report on same and on any other matter referred to them by the Legislative Assembly, at the earliest opportunity.

The report of Mr. J. R. Miller, J. P. S., was read and referred to the school committee.

Moved by Mr. Kaine, seconded by Mr. Cook, that Mr. Gibson, road commissioner, be instructed to inspect that portion of the boundary line between Howick and Carrick, and have that portion of said line constructed by the County of Huron and Bruce repaired; provided the County of Bruce, or the township of Carrick, pay one-half the expense, as a portion of the work has given way. Referred to road and bridge committee.

Moved by Mr. Griffin, seconded by Mr. Clare, that Robert Hamilton, of the township of Ashfield, be allowed the use of the spile driver to drive about 70 spiles in the township of Ashfield, he agreeing to give a bond to this Council to keep the same in good repair.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Rogers, seconded by Mr. Beacom, that Mr. Gibson, road commissioner, be instructed to examine the Brussels bridge, the wing wall of the same having been much injured, and the roadway being unfit for public travel.—Carried.

The report of the inspector of jails, &c., was referred to the Jail and Court House Committee.

A number of accounts were read and referred to the Finance Committee.

A communication from Mr. McDonald, Registrar Surrogate Court, requesting additional vault accommodation was referred to the Jail and Court House Committee.

The Council then adjourned until 10 o'clock, m., Wednesday.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

Council resumed at 10 a.m., the warden in the chair and all the members present.

An application from Mr. Harbottle for an advance of $200 on the contract for Holmesville bridge, was referred to the Finance Committee.

A circular from the president of the Ontario Agricultural College was referred to the Special Committee.

The following report of Mr. Elliott, road commissioner, was read and referred to Road and Bridge Committee.

I inspected Londonburgh bridge on gravel road running north to Blyth, and found the north end in a very unsafe condition. It has been built on long pieces of timber, placed under one end. I would recommend this timber to be raised up and new timber placed under them. The bridge has three floors on it, and I would recommend that they be taken off and the top one laid on, which is good rock elm, and this will lighten the bridge a good deal. I called for tenders for the erection of a new iron bridge across the Bayfield river, known as Rathwell's bridge, according to motion of Council last session. I received six tenders, the lowest being from George Telford, of Clinton, for $580, to be completed in September. This is to be built with cedar abutments at each end, and three bents in centre of 30 feet span each, the bents and top structure to be of rock elm. I also examined the Gully bridge, and found it in a very unsafe condition, and it requires new ones. I inspected Hall's bridge on first concession of Goderich township, and find south approach needs to be repaired, as it has fallen away very much; and it also requires some new flooring. I also examined the Gully bridge north of Hall's and find the flooring requires to be renewed. Craig's bridge on Bayfield river has sunk about 18 inches in centre, requiring new bent, as it has a span of 200 feet. I measured the stone of Grieve's bridge, McKillop, in accordance with motion last January, and advanced the contractor $550 part payment. Mr. Hardy and myself laid out place for abutments and the contractor is going on with the work. I wrote to Mr. Harbottle regarding Holmesville bridge, but received no reply, and find he has not started the work yet. I am informed Clinton bridge requires some slight repairs.

G. E. Elliott, Road Commissioner.

A communication from the Inspector of Jails, in reference to the jailer's salary, was referred to the Salaries Committee.

Moved by Mr. Beacom, seconded by Mr. Allan, that Mr. Harbottle be advanced the sum of $300, providing he has started work on or before the 20th June, and that the timber be moved on the road allowance and become the property of the County before the advance be made. Referred to Finance Committee.

Moved by Mr. Beattie, seconded by Mr. Holland, that Mr. Harstone, of Seaforth, be appointed on the Board of County Examiners, in place of the late Mr. Dewar. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Beacom, seconded by Mr. McMurchie, that the reeve and deputy reeve receive a list of all the bridges kept up by the County, and that the Road and Bridge Committee be requested to prepare such a list at this session. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Hayes, seconded by Mr. Elliott, that a committee be asked for an estimate of the cost of the Grieve bridge, and have the same erected as soon as abutments are completed. Referred to Road and Bridge Committee.

Letter from County Treasurer, with statement of cash on hand, non-resident taxes, &c., was referred to Finance Committee.

A communication from Lieut.-Col. Ross, requesting a grant to the 33rd Barr., while serving in camp at London, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Moved by Mr. Forsyth, seconded by Mr. Gray, that the township of Morris be paid by the County for the amount of money occasioned by removal of the road bed on Gardner's hill, in said township, this motion to be without prejudice to the township's rights in case the amount asked is not granted by this Corporation. Referred to Finance Committee.

EAST HURON REFORMERS.

Representative Gathering at Brussels—Organizing the Riding.

A largely attended and influential convention of the East Huron Reformers was held in the Town Hall, Brussels, Monday afternoon. There was a full representation from every municipality. Dr. Macdonald, of Wingham, president of the East Riding Reform Association for the Dominion Parliament, occupied the chair, and explained the objects of the meeting.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Dr. Macdonald, of Wingham; First Vice-President, E. E. Wade, Brussels; Second Vice-President, Geo. Fortune, Turnberry; Secretary, Wm. Robertson, Wingham; Treasurer, J. A. Morton, Wingham.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the last meeting, and the appointment of municipal committees, Mr. Thomas Gibson, M.P.P., was called upon to address the meeting. In a speech of over an hour's duration he reviewed the political situation, and showed the necessity for thorough organization and hearty work in future elections. As he vigorously scored point after point against the policy of the Opposition in the Local House his remarks were applauded to the echo, and he concluded amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

Brief speeches were also given by Dr. Sloan, Dr. Macdonald, and Messrs. Wade, Morton, McMillan, Strachan, McLean, Hood, McGillivuddy, J. A. McEwen, and others.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Wade, Morton, Hood, Strachan, F. S. Scott, and Dr. Sloan, was appointed to devise ways and means to watch the revision of the voters' lists throughout the riding and to provide for the raising of a riding fund to cover the expenses of the protest against the return of Mr. Gibson to the House of Commons.

The following resolutions were then submitted and carried:— Moved by Dr. Sloan, seconded by Mr. Geo. Hood, that a series of Reform public meetings be held in the riding during the ensuing season.

Moved by Geo. Fortune, seconded by Mr. Mitchell, that this convention desire to express continued and unbounded confidence in the Government of the Hon. O. Mowat, and approve most heartily of their liberal and progressive management of the affairs of this Province, and we further wish to express our deep satisfaction that the base and corrupt attempt to overthrow one of the most honest and competent of Governments has been frustrated and the parties engaged in it exposed; and we hope they will be brought to justice and fittingly punished; and we hope the Government will continue to defend the rights of Ontario against federal aggression with the same unflinching persistence they have thus far manifested.

Moved by Thos. Strachan, seconded by Geo. Hood, that this convention desire to express their approval of the course pursued by Hon. Edward Blake and the members of the Reform party in the Dominion Parliament, and we wish most emphatically to declare our disapprobation of the large additional grant made to the Canada Pacific Railway by the Dominion Government, as well as the corrupt means adopted to secure the support of members of these grants, as we believe the original sum granted to the C. P. R. was ample to secure the completion of the work if properly managed. We further wish to place on record our disapproval of the wholesale system of bribery recently inaugurated by the Government, under the guise of grants to railways, by which Ontario is robbed for the benefit of smaller and poorer Provinces.

Moved by George Watt, seconded by George Hood, that we, the Reformers of West Huron, in convention assembled, do hereby place on record our high appreciation of the ability shown by Mr. Thomas Gibson as our representative in the Ontario Legislature, and to express our continued confidence in the man who has so often and so well carried the Reform standard on to victory in East Huron.

Mr. Benner, of the Port Elgin Free Press, purchased the Mount Forest Consolidated newspaper business, and took possession on the 1st of June.

During the recent thunder storm lightning struck the stables of George Powell, of Blenheim, killing a cow and three pigs, and damaging the gable of the barn. Powell had a narrow escape.

DYNAMITE.

The Metropolis Greatly Excited Over the Late Explosions.

A Club Shattered—Attempt on the Nelson Monument—Bitter Feeling Against the Irish—Bribes for Informers.

LONDON, May 31.—I was sitting in the smoking-room of the Junior Carlton Club last night about half-past 9 o'clock, when the whole house trembled. There was a dull roar and the gaslight went out. We first thought it was another earthquake, but one of the waiters ran in and said the back of the club house on St. James' square was blown in with dynamite. We went down stairs and found the explosion had taken place in the area opposite the scullery and back kitchen windows, which were all blown in, with the frame and part of the walls. The poor girls who were engaged in washing up after dinner were the chief sufferers. They were cut and mangled with broken glass and flying porcelain. They were taken to the hospital. The Nelson Column, which was blown in at the Nelson Column, where sixteen packages of dynamite were found, sufficient to have destroyed the monument. There was also another explosion in Scotland yard. I afterward called at the Charing Cross hospital to which the "Public Health" men removed the sufferers from the explosion. I learned that the excitement both last night and this morning has been intense.

Daylight showed the damage by the explosion to be fully equal to the worst anticipation. Crowds of excited people were visiting the scenes. Policemen are drawn up in a line across the streets to prevent the access of the multitude. Orders have been given to leave the wreckage untouched until an examination by Col. Majendie.

At St. James' theatre, a hundred yards distant, the explosion shattered the iron clasp of the entrance. The audience was alarmed and there was nearly a panic. Several ladies fainted. The men started to stampede but were reassured by shouts bidding every one to sit still, as no harm was done.

The second bomb in St. James' square exploded against the residence of Sir Watkin Wynn and produced a huge white fracture four feet in height and three in breadth. The windows were smashed and furniture damaged.

The explosion created great havoc in the Junior Carlton club house. Numerous cases of wine, beer, and champagne were shattered. The club will remain closed several days.

So far as known up to noon thirteen persons were injured, including five women. All the wounded are in the hospital. Five, including a policeman, are in a precarious condition.

The dynamite was carried down the iron steps leading to the cellars, and placed in the cellar under the pathway with a lighted fuse. The upward force of the explosion broke a large hole in the pavement, and wrecked the basement departments of the club.

LONDON, May 31.—Col. Majendie and Ford are expected to return from Scotland today. The police found eight packages of dynamite. Ford says considering the quantity of explosives used it is a marvel that the damage done was not greater. If all had ultimately exploded it is impossible to surmise the effects. The dynamite used was of the same quality as that used in the outrages a few months ago. Three hundred panes of glass were shattered.

In the detective office a large iron screen under which the explosives were placed, was blown thirty feet and twisted into a mass of shrapnel.

Two persons tried to arrest a man hurrying along Pall Mall opposite from the direction in which they were going and away from the direction of St. James' Square. But four men suddenly emerged from the corner and released the man. The whole party was then declared to be a party of thieves.

The dynamite under the Nelson monument failed to explode, owing to a defective fuse. Had the sixteen packages exploded, the monument would have been demolished and widespread ruin and loss of life caused.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to guard barracks, monuments and public buildings in all the leading towns throughout England.

Leading Dublin papers, such as the Freeman's Journal, Irish Times and Express, strongly denounce the outrages.

A profound sensation was caused in the English police by the recent explosion of the English police to prevent outrages is severely criticised. France will do all in her power to assist in discovering if the dynamite was smuggled into England from France by women.

LONDON, June 1.—Sir Wm. Harcourt, home secretary, on the demand of the chief of police, has advised the government to place at the disposal of the chief a large sum of secret service money with which to buy information regarding treasonable and other criminal projects without revealing the informer. The chiefs of police report that certain conspirators are ready to sell information which they possess provided names are kept secret.

A Horse's Leap.

New York, May 21.—Freddy Gebhard was the lion of the horse show today. His remarkable six-year-old Kentucky horse has carried off the special prize for hunters in the afternoon, totally eclipsing all previous performances in the high jumping line by carrying his 150 pound jockey, Peter Smith, over a gate 6 feet 6 inches high, utterly annihilating the English champion leap of 6 feet 2 inches. As Mr. Peter Smith is an Irishman, the show building wasn't big enough to hold his enthusiasm. Leo is 6 feet 2 inches high, and he went at the rail fence, after Mr. Raymond R. Belmont's gelding had thrown his rider, in a way that made the hair of the best jockey in the place stand on end. It is a singular fact that the horse is comparatively easy leaper he often knocked the clear ways in amusingly futile attempts to clear them.

Col. Fred. Grant has sold his horses and carriages and dismissed all his servants. His wife said she lived on army rations once and can do it again.

Gibson had been appointed to look after the Little family at a remuneration of $1.25 per day, and that provisions and actual necessities were now supplied to the Little family at the expense of the town.

The following committee was appointed to act with the citizen's committee:—Johnston, Nicholson, Cantelon, Lee, Butler, Colborne, Mitchell.

Moved by Johnston, seconded by Colborne, that the mayor give an early meeting of the citizens.—Carried.

BY-LAWS.

By-law No. 6, to appoint health officer and sanitary inspector for the town of Goderich, was read a first, second and third time and passed.

By-law No. 7, providing for the management and improvement of the Court House Square, in the town of Goderich, was read a first, second and third time and passed.

On motion the council adjourned.

Mixed Metaphors.

Once upon a time the Globe declared that certain politicians were "loose fish," who were "smiffing oats through the 'dry fence.'" The idea of fish sniffing oats was not a bad one, and it showed that the writer possessed a graphic imagination. At another time it intimated that its opponents in a certain matter had not left themselves a single peg to hang a loop-hole on, although how the hanging of loop-holes on pegs is brought about is not quite clear. In the Local Legislature it was once boldly declared by a member that "the pruning knife would have to be vigorously applied, no matter whose ox was gored." The goring of an ox with a pruning knife would be rather a difficult feat. But the Globe discovered one that would seem to be even more difficult. In speaking of Mayor Boswell and the police promotions, it intimated that "the Mayor is too anxious to cover up his tracks, but they are alike too transparent to be swallowed by intelligent people without a grimace." It is to be hoped that the Mayor's tracks, which the people are expected to swallow, are not very large ones.—Toronto Telegram.

Mr. Cashman, of Clifford, has leased the Queen's hotel, Belmore, lately kept by A. Orr, who has removed to Tooe-water.

A number of young men in Listowel were fined each $1 and costs at a magistrate's court last week, for making a disturbance at a meeting of the Lord's Army.

H. Hoppel, proprietor of the Zurich flax mill has something over 300 acres under flax this spring. He informs us that at this time of the year, he never saw the flax crop looking better.

Thos. Kerr, son of Robt. Kerr, of Harrison, has been awarded $27.15 for attempted indecent assault upon Ellen Mock, who was returning home from attending a meeting of the Lord's Army in that town a few nights ago.

Jas. Braithwaite, of Hullett, left on Tuesday morning, accompanied by his son Marshall, for Lexington, Kentucky, where they purpose purchasing a stock farm, if they are favorably impressed with the country and climate.

Thomas Russell of the Thames Road, Uxalorne, recently sold to Messrs. J. H. and P. C. Cameron, of Stanley, near Brucefield, six thoroughbred cows, and heifer calf, four months old, also, a three and a half months' old, for the sum of $750.

Miss A. Higgins, daughter of Mr. Jos. Higgins, of the Bayfield road, Stanley, who during the winter was teaching at Brussels, has been at home for some time on account of ill health. She had to resign her situation on that account, and is still in a very low state.

On Saturday, May 24th, Allan McDonald, of the 12th con., Stephen, was severely injured by a horse kicking him in the face. The wound being of a serious nature, surgical aid was called, when it was discovered that several of his teeth had been knocked out.

A retired farmer, who was moving into Seaford, sent a load of furniture ahead of him, among the rest of the articles being a bureau. The furniture was left lying loose all night, and next morning the farmer's wife waited into town and opening one of the bureau drawers took out over three thousand dollars in bills.

The Big Mill in Seaford is to be thoroughly over-hauled and refitted. The old machinery and interior works are all being torn out, the old roof is to be removed, another story added, and a mansard roof substituted. When completed it will present a very handsome outside appearance. John Lyons has the contract.

John McMahon, jr., of the 3rd con. of Hay, while walking in the woods one day recently, found a curiosity in the shape of a very large deer's horn. It measures 4 feet 1 inch in length without the end branch which is broken off, and is nearly 10 inches in circumference at the large end. It has five large branches measuring about 14 inches in length.

On Friday afternoon, Mr. Pollock, of the Victoria hotel, Blyth, and Jas. Ferguson, went out to a creek in Wawanosh where many beauties are said to congregate. The denizens of the "deep" were at home, 42 of them answering to the sportive playfulness of the gentlemen's lines and hooks. One of the captured trout weighed 1 1/2 pounds and several weighed one pound each.

The Gorrie Enterprise says:—"Thos. Walker, who has for a number of years been preacher in the Presbyterian church in this village, was presented with an elegant Walker's 'Elly' watch and gold chain on Monday evening last, the friends meeting at the residence of Wm. Huston for that purpose. Mr. W. has done his work as chorister faithfully and well, and the Society of that church has taken a new way to show their appreciation of his services."

Canadian Capital Tolls.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Referring to the question of Canadian canal tolls, the Commercial Bulletin says:—"The action of the Canadian Government is but partial and probably experimental, that is to say, they have met the trade halfway and have agreed, in view of the promised reductions by the elevator companies and the forwarders to take off one half of the tolls. Having gone thus far, however, the can be no question that under the same pressure of public opinion, which has urged them to the present step, the Government will be obliged ultimately to abolish the tolls in toto."

The same paper, speaking of the reported abolition of tolls on American vessels passing through the Welland canal, says:—"It is to the credit of the Dominion Government that at the same time reduces canal tolls on grain for the benefit of its own people, it also removes a serious discriminating barrier against American vessel owners, their competitors."

It is a step which will go a long way in disposing the public mind in favor of renewing reciprocal commercial relations between the two countries on a liberal basis."

Fleeing the Drummers.

Joseph Atkinson, late treasurer of the Western Ontario commercial travellers association, London, is a defaulter in $3187. He falsified the bank book. The association has still $7500 of assets. In referring to the missing treasurer, H. D. Long, his successor, said he was a person with whom he had been on the most intimate terms for over a quarter of a century, and was the last man he would think guilty of a dishonest act. If he had only allowed his friends to know of his impunctuality, there would have been willing hands extended to help him. He regretted exceedingly that Mr. Atkinson had not stood his ground and faced his difficulties like a man. The guarantee company is good for $1000. The association numbers 500.

E. King Dods convened a meeting of the Halton liquor trade on Saturday, at which it was decided to submit a bill for the repeal of the Scott Act in that county immediately. He stated that petitions in favor of the appeal have already been signed by more than one-half the registered voters of the county.

POLITICS AND TEMPER.

Political Article Concerns German to War - A Political Reminiscence.

"Maquette" in Chatham Banner.

"Ever see any political riots?" Well, no. But I've seen a few disagreements and a little unpleasantness result occasionally.

The first election after confederation was very hotly contested in Huron. My father took an active part on the Reform side and when Messrs. Cameron and Gibbons were returned over Messrs. Ritchie and Carling great was the rejoicing that followed the hard-earned victory.

Well, we went—about a dozen of us—and after waiting for the reinforcements, which, owing to a misunderstanding, did not come, we concluded to fire up alone.

The weather for sometime after wasn't particularly healthy for our boys. Before I was on deck again one of them had got pretty badly kicked, out and stabbed, but escaped, minus his gun.

In the hotel near by were sitting a gentleman just arrived from California and one Brownlee, an auctioneer.

Fun and Fancy.

"Women seldom stop to think." True enough. But you might have added: "they never fail to stop and talk."

"Debt," remarks Josh Billings, "is a which a man sets and baits himself, then deliberately gets into."

The Examiner arrived at a girl's school. He began the examination. The Examiner solemnly: "I would like to meet learned young lady of you all go to the blackboard." Not a soul rose. The Examiner, politely: "Then will send there the prettiest of you young ladies?" Everybody arose.

Next, the joker and poet, was once taken on a trip on a steamer, when he fell with a lively young lady, to whom he made himself agreeable. Of course he made an impression upon the damsel, who said at parting—"Good bye, Mr. X; I fear you'll soon be forgetting me." "Ah," said the invertebrate punster, "I was not a married man already, you may be sure I'd be for getting you."

"My friend," said the keeper of an hotel to an over-voiced boarder, "you are so much I shall have to charge you an extra shilling." An extra shilling! "I did the boarder, with his countenance the very picture of pain; "for goodness sake, don't do that; I'm most dead now, and five shillings' worth, and if you put on an extra shilling I shall certainly burst—I shall!"

A THOUGHTFUL DAUGHTER—"I don't know how I'd get along without Mary," now Mrs. Blucher observed, pausing to wipe the perspiration from her aged features and putting another ladle of soft soap in the steaming suds, while her daughter's voice at the piano could be distinctly recognized, floating out from the adjoining parlor. "I don't see how I'd get along without that gal now. I've on these days when I have the nicest ones, like 'Sweet Rest By-and-By,' and 'Mother's growing old,' 'an singer me 'fore she goes out on the lawn to sing croquet with the other young folks; every gal as 'ud be as thoughtful, kin tell you. Now, most of 'em just sing away with 'em, 'fore she's hard road 'travel' on 'Whoo! em up Eliza me,' but she ain't none of that sort; she's a pile of comfort to me—a pile of comfort," and Mrs. Blucher fanned herself vigorously, with her soiled apron, preparatory to running the clothes through the second water.

The diseased animals thought to have foot and mouth disease in Kansas and elsewhere in the West, were affected with foot rot caused by eating ergot in rye and feed. Ergot is a cause of sudden and premature birth and abortion in animals. Being more or less common on nearly all grasses in meadows and permanent pastures, and especially on rye grass and its numerous varieties, is almost impossible to calculate the damage and loss it sometimes causes.

Clover makes more valuable hay than any other grass, and is more profitable for the farmer to grow, for different reasons. It apparently does not impoverish the soil at all, will yield more than any other grass, and makes the best food for stock. Clover answers a purpose for the farmer that could not well be furnished by anything else, and the greatest trouble is that the farmers do not raise enough of it. The value of the clover is to supply nitrogen in a rotation of crops, bring up inorganic substances from the subsoil when they are valueless, and secure them in the surface soil, to meet the requirements of other plants, and always improve the mechanical condition of the soil.

THE SCOTT ACT.

Petitions for its Submission Circulating Throughout the Province.

The Temperance People Consistent of Carrying Three out of Every Four Counties.

For several days a News representative has been seeking to learn what the temperance people are doing in regard to the proposed Scott Act campaign throughout the Dominion. This forenoon he noticed F. S. Spence, a member of the Temperance party. Mr. Spence is editor of the Citizen, and secretary of the Dominion and Ontario alliance, and therefore well qualified to give the information sought for. On hearing the reporter's object he cheerfully consented to be subjected to the pumping process in behalf of the cause and the public.

"Let me first give you a brief history of the Scott Act," he said. "It was submitted to Parliament by the Mackenzie government in 1876, and became law. Its constitutionality was tested in the courts, and on the 22nd of June, 1882, was sustained by decision of the Privy Council. At the annual meeting of the Dominion Council of the alliance, held at Ottawa on January 31st and February 1st, a resolution was adopted in favor of an immediate agitation for the adoption of the Scott act in every county of the Dominion in which such action has not already been taken."

At the same meeting a deputation was appointed to wait upon the Dominion Government and urge the desirability of providing for the simultaneous polling of the different counties that may petition for the submission of the act. It was declared to be desirable that there should be formed, at once, in every county and city, a strong central committee of active temperance workers, including representatives from the different local organizations, to plan and direct combined and energetic action. A circular embodying the views of the Alliance was sent to all the temperance societies, the principal temperance workers, and the clergy throughout Ontario. Supplies were also sent to the secretaries of the provincial alliances throughout the Dominion.

"What has been the result of your appeal?"

"The counties have responded in a very encouraging manner. Twenty-four counties in Ontario are getting ready to submit the act."

"Can you give me the names of them?"

"Yes; they are as follows: Stormont, Glengarry, and Dundas, Ontario, Norfolk, Russell and Prescott, York, Perth, Carleton, Peel, Lambton, Leeds and Grenville, Simcoe, Huron, Lennox and Addington, Grey, Bruce, Prince Edward, Brant, Kent, Northumberland and Durham, Elgin, Dufferin, Brantford, St. Thomas, Middlesex, In Quebec, Arthabaska, Shefford, and Stanstead. In Nova Scotia, Lunenburg."

"What success do you anticipate in these counties?"

"We feel confident that we shall be able to carry three out of every county."

"Is it your intention to try Toronto?"

"There has been no resolution adopted by the executive in regard to it, but there is no intention of submitting the act here at present. We suffered a severe defeat at the time the Dunkin act was voted upon, but that was largely due to the bad machinery by which it had to be operated. The temperance sentiment has grown wonderfully since then. The English church temperance societies and the Salvation army have each added strength to the cause. The way in which the people dealt with the grocers' licenses indicates very clearly the growth of temperance sentiment in Toronto. We prefer to try the counties first and not bring on a contest here at once, but it will not be long before we also begin operations here."

"Could you summarize for me the provisions of the Scott act?"

"Yes, I think I can. It is local option law, which can only be adopted by cities or counties. To secure the submission of the act in any city or county the signatures of one quarter of the total number of ratepayers must be obtained. The petition containing the names is sent to the Governor-General in Council, who issues a proclamation fixing the day of the polling. The election is conducted according to the regulations governing elections for the Dominion parliament. If a majority of the ratepayers vote for the act the Governor-in-Council issues a proclamation bringing the second part of the act into force. The act cannot come into force for at least five months from the date of polling, and cannot be repealed for three years. It prohibits the sale of liquor except by licensed druggists and wholesalers. Who-salers may sell liquors in quantities of not less than ten gallons, also and beer not less than eight gallons. They can only sell to licensed druggists or to those who will carry the liquor outside the county for consumption. Licensed druggists are allowed to sell in quantities not less than one pint for sacramental, medicinal, mechanical and scientific purposes. If for medicinal purposes, a medical certificate must be produced; if for sacramental purposes, a clergyman's certificate; if for any art or manufacture, the certificate of two magistrates. The penalties for violations of the act are $50 for the first offence; $100 for second offence, and imprisonment for third offence."

"How many counties and cities have already adopted the Scott act?"

"There have been forty contested, thirty-three of which were won by the temperance party. The total number of votes cast for the act in these forty contests was 49,103, and the total number against 26,944, giving a majority for the act of 22,159. That result, I think, justifies the hope that in future contests we will achieve great success."

"When do you anticipate the voting will take place in the counties and cities you have mentioned?"

"That will entirely rest with the Governor-in-Council, who appoints the polling day. I expect the petitions from nearly all the counties will be presented in July, and the voting will probably take place in November. Before that time we may possibly decide by the feeling in Toronto on this question." (Toronto News.)

Household Hints.

PICKLES WHICH WILL KEEP.—To 100 cucumbers add one pint of fine salt, dissolved in boiling water and poured on them hot. Let it stand 24 hours; turn off and rinse. Then dissolve in boiling water a piece of alum of the size of a small egg, and pour it on the cucumbers. Let it stand six hours, pour off and rinse. Then scald sufficient of the best cider vinegar to cover, spiced with half an ounce each of cloves, cinnamon and white mustard seed, with a cupful of sugar. Put this upon the cucumber boiling hot, and you have nice brittle pickles, with no more trouble than when they are packed in salt.

MERINGUE STRAWBERRY SHORT-CAKE.—Make a very light biscuit crust and bake in jelly-cake pans. After it is baked split it open and cover each half with berries; sugar them slightly. On top of the berries pile the whites of eggs beaten to a very stiff froth; sweeten and set back in a quick oven to brown slightly. Allow the whites of two eggs to each cake, and a teaspoonful of sugar to each egg. If you like, make a soft custard with the yolks of the eggs.

LEMON PUDDING.—Take an ordinary sized sponge cake that has grown stale. Rub it into fine crumbs, add a coffee-cupful of sugar, one of butter, five eggs beaten to a stiff froth, and grate a rind of one lemon. Two tablespoonful of brandy improves it. In stirring in your cake crumbs be careful not to have it too stiff, as it is intended to be very light and puffy. Bake it and eat hot, with a lemon sauce, if you choose.

TOMATO CATSUP.

The Country Gentleman furnishes the following recipes for tomato catsup: "Skin one peck of ripe tomatoes; put into a kettle and boil, then strain through a sieve. Return to the kettle, take off the scum, then add one cupful of brown sugar, one-third of a teaspoonful of salt, a dessertspoonful of cloves, the same of cayenne pepper, and cook till quite thick, and then add 11 pints of vinegar. Keep well stirred toward the last. It is excellent."

COLD CATSUP.—Chop fine a half peck of tomatoes, two roots of galled horseradish, one small cupful of salt, half a cupful of black and the same of white mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls of black pepper, one cupful of onion powder, one tablespoonful of chopped cloves, one of mace, one of cinnamon, one of celery seed, one quart of nasturtiums, half a cupful of sugar, and one quart of vinegar. Mix all together and put into jars. Cork tightly; it will keep until tomatoes come again, and is excellent."

Wash a gallon of ripe tomatoes quite clean; cut off all the stems and black spots, and put in a porcelain. Add a gallon of sharp vinegar; set them over the fire, and let them stand till soft enough to mash with a spoon. Then add four tablespoonfuls of salt, two of fine mustard and two of black pepper. Stir thoroughly and often, keeping a cork over it so the steam will not escape. Let it stew about six hours; then rub it through a sieve, and bottle it up while warm. Set it in a cool place and it will keep for years. Some like cayenne pepper, and more mustard than is called for in this recipe; they can be added to suit the taste.

A DERBY DEAD HEAT.

Harvester and St. Gatien Ran in Together—The Favorite Two Lengths Behind Them!

LONDON, May 23.—For the first time since the establishment in 1780 the Derby resulted in a dead heat for first place. Harvester and St. Gatien were the horses. Queen Adelaide, who has been a hot favorite for a number of weeks, ran third. The result was a great surprise as far as St. Gatien is concerned, as he was not looked upon as even securing a place. At the start St. Gatien shot away to the front, closely followed by Walton's Richmond. St. Gatien held his lead until nearing home, when Harvester drew up on him, and there was an exciting finish, the two leaders passing the wire in a dead heat. In the meantime Queen Adelaide had crept up to third place, and finished two lengths behind the leaders.

The race did not excite as great interest as usual as many of the best horses took no part in it. St. Gatien was ridden by Wood, Harvester by Loates and Queen Adelaide by Webb.

The latest betting was 9 to 2 against Queen Adelaide (taken and offered); 7 to 2 offered against Harvester; 20 to 1 offered against St. Gatien.

SUMMARY.

Renewal of the Derby stakes of 50 sovs. each, h. f.; calls 8 at 10 lbs., fillies 8 at 8 lbs. The owner of second horse to receive 300 sovs., and third 150 sovs. out of stakes; about a mile and a half.

Sir John Willoughby's b.c. Harvester, by Stirling—Wheatley. Dead.

Rotherhill, or the Rover, St. Edith.

Sir John Willoughby's b.c. h. f. Queen Adelaide, by Hermit—Aladeide. 3

Harvester is a brown colt, and was bred by Lord Falmouth, in whose colors he ran last season. Sir John Willoughby purchased him for 8000s at Lord Falmouth's sale, and he carried his new owner's colors in the Two Thousand Guineas, in which he finished third to Scot-free and St. Medard, and he won the Payne stakes at Newmarket May 17. Last year he was unplaced on his first essay, the Richmond stakes and Eous memorial at Goodwood, but he came out in winning form at the First October meeting, taking the thirty-third Triennial produce stakes from Knight Errant, Kinafuns, and half a dozen others. He next secured the Clearwell stakes, after a desperate race with Borneo and Condor, and made his final appearance last year in the Dewhurst plate, in which he was unplaced to Queen Adelaide, Busybody and Fritz.

The Payne stakes, which Harvester won May 17 last, were worth 2100s. He ran the 1 m. 2 fur. 1/2 yds. in 2:17 3/5!

St. Gatien is a beautiful bay colt, the property of F. E. Brau. St. Gatien has never distinguished himself before on the turf, although his owner has all along looked for something from him.

By the grand national steeplechase rules horses running a dead heat for the race or place shall be deemed winners of the race or place until the dead heat is run off by the owners agree to divide. And if the owners agree to divide, each horse which divides shall be deemed a winner of the race or place for which he divides.

In the present case the owners agreed to divide.

Mr. Stewart, our new tailor is giving the best of satisfaction.

LEAF YEAR.—A short time ago a young gentleman who resides in here was accosted by a young lady, and after reminding him that it was leap year, asked him why he did not get married. Before the young gentleman had time to consider the serious question the young lady replied: "I am willing, I'll ask you and ma. Whether the young gentleman's silence can be legally joined into consent by the pepping the question, in case a breach of promise should occur, is the subject that is agitating the young gentleman's mind."

Miss Ford, who gave a consecration towards the Blessed Virgin's Altar in London, had a raffle of a handsome altar, near Lansdowne, last Wednesday evening. Morgan Dalton was appointed chairman, and after expressing many sympathizing congratulations to the young lady, who had such a grand object in view, the raffle was proceeded with. Mr. Austin happened to be lucky in securing the prize. A sumptuous repast was then prepared by our hostess to which ample justice was done. After several toasts had been drunk to several important members. The party then tripped the light "fantastic toe" until the "wee sma hours," when all departed much pleased with their night's amusement.—Com.

Seeding is over and shearing has begun.

TEMPERANCE.—Delegates are going from Leeburn lodge to attend District Lodge to be held in Plym June 10th.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Mr. Sabine preached a sermon on Methodist union in the Bible Christian church last Sunday evening.

SICKNESS.—We are very sorry to learn that Mr. McLeod, Lake Shore, is sinking fast with that dreadful disease consumption.

FRUIT.—There is a very good display of fruit this year, if it keeps away.

J. G. Clutton attended the temperance convention at Clinton on a delegate from I. O. G. T. No. 213, and gives an interesting account of its proceedings.

A new correspondent sends us the following interesting story.—One evening last week Joe Maywood and a bachelor friend of his, were invited out for the evening to play croquet, and to trip the "light fantastic." Early in the afternoon they started for the place of amusement, and as the party would not be complete without something to entertain them, the music box was placed in the arms of Joe. Joe's friend is very fond playing croquet, but as Joe himself could not play the game very well he insisted upon them starting the dancing. They at last consented, and went into the house, where everything was soon put in position for dancing. Then Joe with a smile on his face, went to fetch the box. He opened it, and looked in, and, oh! the fiddle had remained at home. Joe was very sad at this intelligence, but a young gallant from Ben Miller, who had a fast horse, relieved him a little by promising to drive after the fiddle, which he did, and they had their dance.—Com.

Fort Albert.

HORSES.—Mr. Jas. Scott, of this vicinity keeps good horses. He has a colt in training, which attracts considerable attention. Mr. C. Hawkins has a pair of colts which promise to make good drivers. Mr. Wm. McMillan has a good young colt, which will likely take the cake, sometime, as a heavy draught stallion. Mr. G. Erwin keeps a black mare, which is a rare one to look at, and a rare one to go; most of them find it pretty hard to pass George on the road, when he shakes his lines behind his dark-haired trotter. Mr. R. H. DeLong has a trotting mare, also a bay. He is having her well cared for, out in the county; Richard wants to have her in good trim for the races, when they next take place at Goderich. Mr. K. Graham's road mare, Bloude, has a good many admirers among local horsemen, who would like to see her put in training for the course; Mr. Graham, however, has not yet decided to do so. Mr. Wm. McConnell, jr., of the 4th con. Ashfield, has a lively young horse, which will hold its own against most untrained horses in this part of the county. Mr. Geo. Johnson has got a mate for his bay, and he has now what the boys call a "smashing" team.

BRIEFS.—A tea meeting or concert in spoken of to take place in connection with the union S. S. here. Miss M. Hawkins of Blinn, River Algonia, was a guest of Miss Lizzie Hawkins. Miss Kate Hawkins has returned from a visit to friends in London. Miss Sarah Doubois has gone to visit friends in Stanley.—Mr. Pillow, who has been staying with his son, Mr. Wm. T. Pillow, for some time, has returned to his home in Stratford, but likes to visit the Port once in a while.—Mr. A. C. Hawkins, who has so ably and energetically attended to the Government work at the harbor here for so many years, has received official instructions to go on with the improvement of the harbor in this year.—Mr. Geo. Hawkins, erecting a barn and stables. The building will be a commodious one.—Mr. Mahaffy has been doing a good business, shipping flour, lumber, &c., lately.—Thos. Richardson has started a single mill, and is running it steadily.—The 24th passed off rather quietly here.—[New Era.

Acheson, that the assessment roll as now revised be confirmed.—Carried.

The Court of Revision being ended the minutes of last meeting were read and passed. Ordinary business was then attended to also. The amount which will be expended on roads and bridges was considered. Gorris.

Last Sunday evening Eric, son of Thomas McLaughlin, storkkeeper in this village, had the misfortune to fall from a doorstep at Robt. Montgomery's and fracture his leg. Medical aid was quickly procured, and the injured limb set, and the little sufferer is now doing as well as could be expected.

Last Sunday morning the woodshed in the rear of Mrs. A. Carson's house caught on fire from coals which were left in some ashes about a week beforehand. It was not discovered till it had gained the roof of the building, and it is supposed that if it had been allowed to burn 10 min. longer the building could hardly have been saved. As it was the fire was quickly quenched with a few pails of water.

A fire was discovered on the same morning as the above, but about three hours later, in a house belonging to Philip McIntosh, of the 6th con. (and which is now unoccupied) by Mr. Lamin, who lives near the house. The fire had burned the door and most of the sill before it was put out. It is supposed it was set on fire by some tramps who have infested these parts lately.

"I cannot sing the old songs," shrieked an amateur soprano the other night; and while she took in breath for the next line, a young man, who had looked on for a moment, was heard to remark, casually but emphatically, "You can't!" It broke up the concert on the spot, the prima donna refusing to vocalize further.
