PARIS, April 15. The Supreme Economic Council has decided that Belgium may be represented thereon, in order to deal with the many questions affecting that country. The council has received the report of the director general of relief measures effected by the United States, showing that 3,880,000 tons of supplies to value of $111,280,000 have been distributed. The council considered measures to increase supplies and shipping during the current months. The serious deficiency in coal in Italy to-day led the Economic Council to appoint a committee to devise means for an immediate increase of the supply.

CLEMENCEAU REFUSES REQUEST.
PARIS, April 15. Premier Clemenceau has made it known that he will not grant a request to communicate to the Chamber of Deputies alone, information on pending questions in which the country as a whole is so greatly interested, as the Deputies. The Premier made his views public in a letter he addressed to Deputy Andre Lohy, when the newspaper announced that the Deputy intended to introduce in the Chamber a request for a caucus.

TREATY ARRANGEMENTS.
PARIS, April 15. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—The details of what is to be done on the arrival of the German delegates at Versailles on April 25 message adds, the troops of General Feltura have been driven from the line of Kamenetz-Proskurov-Shaplova.

BETTING ON RESULTS.
LONDON, April 14. With the knowledge that Hawker has been waiting for weather for the last two days to start the transatlantic flight, interest in the venture has jumped to fever heat, people talk of little else save chances of flight, and bets are being freely made. Odds of five to one obtained against Hawker's chances, and eight to one against Raynham.

IMPORTANT DECISION.
PRETORIA, April 15. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—In the case brought by the Transvaal Provincial Administration against the new Hoderfontein Gold Mining Co., the Supreme Court has decided that the province of the Union as well as the Union Government is entitled to tax the mining industry.

ANSWERING QUESTIONS.
LONDON, April 15. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—During the question hour in the House of Commons to-day, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Minister of War, stated that he was informed there were only two British prisoners of war who were sick and could not be traced, remaining in Germany. Mr. Churchill also stated that recent events had necessitated a temporary suspension of demobilization in both Egypt and India. In reply to a further question the Minister of War said that thirty-three men of the Casement Brigade, besides the two who were figured in the trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason, had been repatriated. The Government, he added, was now considering their case.

CANADA'S TIMBER POSSIBILITIES.
LONDON, April 15. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Sir James Bell, British timber controller, will shortly visit Canada to investigate the timber possibilities of the Dominion. Sir James has had frequent conferences with Mr. Lloyd Harris of the Canadian Trade Commission on the question of timber imports from Canada.

FLYER STILL DELAYED.
LIMERICK, April 15. Heavy squalls of wind, rain and hail this evening damped the expectations of the people of Limerick that Major Wood would arrive here in his airplane from East Church, to prepare for an attempt to cross the Atlantic. Unless the weather conditions improve again, Wood will lose the advantage of the full moon. The prospect to-flight is that the unsettled weather conditions will continue for some time. Petrol is here awaiting Wood, but it will not be sent out to the aviation ground, from which he is expected to start, until he arrives.

GERMANS INVITED TO VERSAILLES.
PARIS, April 15. A formal invitation was sent by the Council of our to-day to the German Government, to send representatives to Versailles for the meeting of the Peace Congress on April 25. No reply had been received up to to-night, but it is expected that the German Delegation will reach Versailles about April 24.

TROOPS OR POLAND.
PARIS, April 15. General Joseph Haller, the Commander of the three Polish divisions in France, which are to be transported to Poland through Germany, left Paris to-day for Mayence. He will accompany the first contingent of the Polish troops to cross Germany to Warsaw.

ALSACE IS FRENCH.
BERNE, April 15. If a referendum was to be held to-day in Alsace and Lorraine an immense majority of the people would vote in favor of the joining with France, declares Edouard Bernstein, the old German Social Democrat Leader and a member of the German Peace Delegation, in an article in the Neue Weltener Journal of Vienna.

SATISFACTORY DISCIPLINE.
WASHINGTON, April 15. Brigadier General W. P. Richardson, the new Commander of the American forces in North Russia, has reported the military situation as satisfactory in his first official despatch since landing on the Murmansk Coast. The message is dated April 15, or about two weeks after the Muthous conduct of Company 1,839th Infantry, which refused to go to the front from Archangel. It is assumed that a satisfactory military situation means that proper discipline prevails among the American troops generally.

TERM PROLONGED.
LONDON, April 15. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—At the request of the Imperial Government Viscount Buxton will continue as Governor General of South Africa until June of next year. He was appointed in 1916.

are being worked out. Preliminary to their arrival a plenary session of the Peace Conference is to be held at the Foreign Office for determination of the final course to be pursued by the Allies before entering into relations with the German plenipotentiaries. Whether the treaty and covenant will both be presented have not been decided, but it is probable that the treaty portion of the document will not be made public until after its delivery to the Germans.

Reuter's learns, are serving with the present force in Northern Russia. The detachment, which consists of headquarters, artillery and two batteries, in all about five hundred men with administrative staff and a number of officers and men experienced in Arctic conditions arrived in Russia last September. The batteries are serving on the Archangel front where they have participated in nearly all the operations that have taken place against the Bolsheviki. Their first engagement was at Seletskaua on October 6th, 1918, when the enemy attacked in force and the Canadians bore their full share of the fighting. Another attack was made on October 19th, when the guns of the batteries were outraged and we were compelled to withdraw. On the 11th of October, when the Bolsheviki attacked in force on the left bank of the River Drina, advancing on the front, flank and rear sections of the Canadian in artillery the Canadians did great execution to the enemy at point blank range. In all the operations the conduct of the Canadian batteries, fighting under great climate difficulties, have been deserving of the highest praise, and General Ironside has on several occasions especially emphasized their high efficiency and great gallantry in action. Undoubtedly the Canadians largely contributed to our success in many engagements. The Canadians on the Murmansk front, under Colonel Klondyke D.S.O. include many old Klondyke men and all of the detachment officers and non-commissioned officers alike, have had many years' experience in Canada of the hardships of life in the Arctic climate and were therefore eminently fitted to instruct the other troops who were naturally unused to such climatic conditions and it is chiefly for these instructional purposes that Gen. Maynard has been using the Canadians under his command. The dog teams are under their charge and special compounds have been built in which the "Huskies," as these Eskimo dogs are called, live when off the trail.

URGES CALMNESS.

Becoming Impatient.

Notwithstanding that the problems to be dealt with by the Peace Conference at Versailles have been many, most of them being of a gravity and complexity, little understood by the man in the street, the delay in bringing the negotiations to a close is creating a feeling of impatience, all over the interested world, an impatience which is as comprehensible as it is natural, because at various times the date upon which the treaty would be ready for signature has been announced, only to be postponed when some objection was raised to something included or excluded; something which was there and should not have been or something omitted which was important to some one or the other country involved. The latest cables state that the document may be ready for signatures by the middle of May, the hold-up—as on Monday it was announced that everything would be finished by Easter—being caused by Italian objections to certain maritime clauses, relating to the Adriatic. Both President Wilson and Premier Orlando are conferring upon this vexed question, and there are possibilities that should they agree on either a settlement or compromise, the Jugo-Slavs will not be satisfied and the whole discussion have to be gone over again. The Japanese demand for equality of race is also another stumbling block. The Australian representative block, so determined to their opposition to this that Great Britain was obliged to withhold approval, thus preventing its passage.

The average man does not peer closely behind the scenes at the conference, and consequently he disapproves entirely of the, to him, unnecessary delays which occur, and the national jealousies, selfishness, prejudice and misunderstandings of such a polyglot gathering, assembled for the first time in history, are taken little account of. Making, however, every allowance for all the national and racial differences that exist at the conference there is much need for expedition. Europe is not altogether a continent of peace just now. Rather does it resemble an open powder magazine, into which the torch which causes the explosion, may be flung at any time by the continental malcontents. Peace with Germany may not mean real peace, and it is obvious that more stress than the times demand is being laid on that debatable point. Disorders are existent in Eastern Europe and the stability of many countries is threatened by internal uprisings and strife. Should the signing of the treaty with Germany usher in a world peace, which is extremely doubtful, the issue would not be imperilled, but—no quote a contemporary—"So long as the world remains in a sort of 'No Man's Land,' between half peace and half war, with all its entanglements and uncertainties as to the future, unrest and dissatisfaction will exist. There is no possibility of a clear line of demarcation between war and peace, and the transition to the new order must be gradual. But, the advantage of arriving quickly at the stage at which the Allies will be ready to present their preliminary terms of peace to Germany, is so great that no effort should be spared in sweeping away all unnecessary obstructions which have delayed the work of the Conference."

Until recognition of this sine qua non takes place and petty affairs are put aside in order that items of greater moment may be settled amicably and thoroughly, the Peace Congress debates will continue their prosy way and the patience of the weary world, already overtaxed, waiting in vain for an adjustment, will reach the vanishing point. And what then?

House of Assembly.

The sitting yesterday was brief. Mr. A. W. Piccott took his seat on the Opposition side of the House for the first time.

Petitions were presented by Mr. Jennings from Port Albert and Cottel's Island roads; by Mr. Piccott from Island Cove, South Side, and Riverhead of Harbor Grace, for new railway station at the Riverhead, and from Shearstown regarding roads; by Mr. Grimes from Brigus on the subject of deepening the Gut to the harbour pond.

Mr. Piccott gave notice of questions relating to the dismissal of Capt. Bartlett from the dredge "Priestman."

The Prime Minister gave notice of bills (1) respecting Documentary Evidence, (2) to amend the Act 61 Vic. relating to the Department of Justice, (3) regarding the constitution of the Game and Inland Fisheries Board, (4) to prevent the introduction of rabbits into the country, (5) respecting the keeping of dogs.

Mr. Jennings gave notice of a bill respecting Bay Fishery Boards. The Minister of Finance gave notice of resolutions re loan bill and supply. The Colonial Secretary tabled reports of the Municipal Council and of the Department of Agriculture and Mines.

The bill to further extend the life of Parliament to September 30th next, went through Committee stage, and to enable the House to adjourn for Easter, by unanimous consent was read a third time.

Adjournment was then taken until Monday next.

Soldiers Meet.

Soldiers, sailors and rejected men met in the C.C.C. Hall last evening, several hundred attending. Sergt. E. Shea presided. Petty officer Abbott acting as secretary. The meeting was called mainly for the consideration of a resolution submitted by the chairman, who received it from Pte. B. Murphy, to the effect that a party be formed to oppose the present government in the coming election. The resolution caused considerable discussion, and was finally rejected. A resolution was passed, however, that the soldiers, sailors and volunteers would support, as individuals, the party that would do the most for them. This meeting was not a session of the G.W.V.A., and had no connection whatever with that body.

TERRA NOVA.—The s.s. Terra Nova began discharging her seals this morning.

Observed at the House.

We note yesterday that two fresh faces appeared in the House, viz., Mr. Piccott (Harbor Grace), on the Opposition side after a prolonged absence, and opposite him under the shadow of his "wordy" leader Mr. Grimes (Port de Grave), the self-styled Bolshevik of this community.

We note also that the latter was looking pretty bright after his equalizing trip abroad, although he contented himself with saying very little on his foreign observations.

The Government members appeared very taciturn yesterday, while the Hon. Premier now and again looked around rather slyly, as if seeking for some new announcement by the worthy President, as it seems evident now that it is always a matter of grave uncertainty as to what is coming next from the F. P. U. members of the National Covenant (?)

The worthy President himself was rather quiet, and there was a determined look upon his face, expressive of the fact that what he had said he meant to hold to, and that his promise of putting in Union candidates was not to be a "broken promise", like so many others he has made.

The sitting was very brief and yet it was long enough for the Government. Some of the members appeared to be very playful, others were evidently talking of New York prices and discussing how they could best sell their things here at cheaper prices than what the goods cost, and judging by appearances the problem was knotty, and only a few more pickings from the chest could help the cause along. "M. P."

The information was elicited yesterday in the House of Assembly, that Sir P. T. McGrath draws a salary of $2,400 as Chairman of the Pensions Board, and that Hon. J. A. Cliff gets $3,900 for being a member of the same Board. We reserve comment on this at present, as the figures are facts, and "facts are stubborn things." Nuff said.

Died at Toronto.

We exceedingly regret to chronicle the death, at Toronto, on Monday last, 44th inst., of Alice McDonald, wife of Ralph McDonald of that city and eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morine. The deceased lady had been ill for a considerable period, and all hope of her recovery having been abandoned, her father, left her by S. S. Kyle's on Sunday, hoping to be in time to say farewell to his beloved child, but this desire was not granted, death having occurred ere he could reach Toronto.

To the bereaved husband, parents and relatives the Telegram expresses sincere sympathy.

A heavy storm raged last night and early this morning apparently over the whole Island, as messages from Piccott (Harbor Grace), on the Opposition side after a prolonged absence, and opposite him under the shadow of his "wordy" leader Mr. Grimes (Port de Grave), the self-styled Bolshevik of this community.

Betting on Flight.

Interest in the Transatlantic flight has deepened, so that it is now the principal topic of the town. We hear that money betting bouts are taking place, and one business man, at least, has wagered $10,000 that the flight will be first made by the Martinside machine, against the same amount on the Sopwith. There are also numerous bets that the flight will not be accomplished at all, but we feel that those who have been unwise enough to make such a foolish wager will be disappointed—as they deserve to be.

A Tactful Way to Help.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Yet another point of view on the question, as to what one should do when one receives poor service from any sort of public servant. You will perhaps remember that I wrote of hearing two women talking about how one of them had reported a shop girl to the floor walker for not giving her prompt attention, and how I longed to break in and suggest a little patience and lenience, and how I hesitated, and afterward regretted my hesitation. Write a letter friend:

"You close to-day's sermonette by saying, 'One should be governed largely by whether one thinks one could do any good or not.' I love that thought but may I carry it a step further? Try to train one's brain to find a tactful way to do the good one feels ought to be done.

First She Agrees Then Suggests.

"Personally, (pardon the ego) I often win out by agreeing mildly, saying 'When will the girl behind the counter realize that her attention or inattention converts itself into advancement or non-advancement?' Then I say something like this 'What a field for helpfulness there is in our hands towards such girls to whom God hasn't given so much as to us.'"

"Years ago I had a lesson. I failed to report a conductor who was absolutely wrong, and the president of the line heard of it through my husband, and reproved me, saying he thought I had better judgment than not to let him know facts he couldn't know otherwise. I replied that I learned to take on my shoulders the burden of suffering to wife and children in case of a discharge. We compromised by deciding it was helpful to report flagrant discourtesy but we ought always to recognize exceptional attentions.

Her Letter Was Read Aloud to the Men.

"Then, if I feel I am holding my audience, I will tell how I had a wonderful experience in New York. A girl in a shop was exceptionally helpful and I met the head of the house afterwards and gave him a glowing picture, and it ended in a raise for her. And how I reported a conductor for good attention and had a reply from the road telling me they read the letter aloud to the men to show the people noticed good as well as bad. Usually the ladies get interested and enthused and let me tell my stories in detail and I end, 'I adore to use what power I have to help teach these girls how to rise by criticism of bad and appreciation of good.'

How to Make Convictions Felicitous Without Antagonizing.

"Time and again I have been able to make strong rebuttal opposition by first agreeing in part and then subtly showing up the other side. I have deliberately tried to find stories and ideas to fit my hobbies and am ready to agree a little (for of course the girls should have been alert, so I am not hypocritical in acknowledging it an often approach from another angle. In this way you can usually make your convictions felt without antagonizing and your protest goes deeper and seed is sown that often bears fruit."

A Patriotic Indian.

Chief Joseph Davies of the Brunswick House Band of Ojibway Indians, and several of his tribe, who enlisted in 1916 with the 227th (Men of the North) Battalion, were among the returned soldiers who arrived home from France by the Olympic.

Chief Davies was granted by the military authorities the unique privilege of wearing upon his uniform throughout active service his official Indian chief's insignia.

On his arrival at Chapleau a welcome was extended by Indian Agent T. J. Godfrey and a large deputation of members of the tribe. A pathetic feature of the chief's homecoming is that two of his children have recently died of the "flu."

The chief's wife, travelling more than thirty miles by canoe, having to break the ice in many places to get through, bringing with her one dead child and one seriously ill with the epidemic, arrived in Chapleau too late to save the life of the second child, who died shortly after admission to the hospital.

BEST WAY TO READ A BOOK.
 Best way to read a book I know, is get a lad of six or so, And curl him up upon my knee Deep in a big arm chair, where we Can catch the warmth of blazing coals. And then let two contented souls Melt into one, old and youth Sharing adventure's marvelous truth. I read a page, and then we sit And talk it over, bit by bit; Just how the pirates looked, and why They hung a black flag to the sky We pass no paragraph without First knowing what it's all about And when the author starts a fight We join the forces that are right.

We're deep in Treasure Island, and From Spy Glass Hill we've viewed the land; Through thickets dense we've followed Jim And shared the doubts that came to him. We've heard Cap. Smollett arguing there With Long John Silver, gaunt and spare And mastering our many tears We've battled with those buccaneers.

Best way to read a book I've found is to have a little boy around, And take him up upon your knee Then talk about the tale, till he Lives it and feels it, just as you, And shares the great adventure, too. Books have a deep and lasting joy For him who reads them to his boy.

Foresaw Rapacity of Huns.

There is something almost uncanny about the accuracy with which Charles Dickens foresaw the Hun and his aims as we know them to-day. Not long ago there was quoted part of Dickens' reply to an invitation to become a member of a peace society that a number of persons were endeavoring to form in 1851. The words written then by the great English author are worth repeating: "Look out toward Austria, look out toward Germany," he counseled. "Do you see nothing there?"

"I tell you that it is because there are the wild beasts of the forest . . . because I would not be soldier ridden, nor have other men so, because I dread and hate the miseries and tyranny of war, that I am not for the disarming of England, nor can I be a member of your peace society."

Every reader of "Little Dorrit" will remember the landlady of the "Break of Day Inn" of Chalon. Words of this French character of his have a peculiarly prophetic ring. Here they are:

"And I tell you this my friend . . . That there are people whom it is necessary to detest without compromise. That there are people who must be dealt with as enemies of the human race. That there are people who have no human heart, and who must be crushed like savage beasts, and cleared out of the way."

Claims Century-Old Fund.

The full bench of the Massachusetts supreme court has been called upon to determine the ownership of a fund nearly a century old, which is claimed by the commonwealth of Massachusetts on one hand and the Chilean government on the other.

In 1821 an American ship returning from China to Boston was seized by Chilean revolutionists and its cargo confiscated. When normal conditions prevailed in Chile the United States demanded indemnity and Chile paid $70,000.

William H. Gardiner of Brookline, Mass, was selected to distribute the money among those entitled to it. He executed the trust except as to two Chinese—known only as Paque and Moque, merchants—and Thomas Furber of Boston. Mr. Gardiner failed to locate these persons or their representatives. When he died the trust was transmitted to his son, and upon the latter's death to the grandson and great-grandson, Robert H. Gardiner and Robert H. Gardiner, Jr., who are now its custodians.

The present holders of the fund have searched through the records of the state department, through the American consular service at Canton, China, and through various other sources for the heirs of Paque, Moque and Thomas Furber, without success.

WILLIUM.

I haven't heard of Kronprinz Willy for long weeks; no doubt I'm a g weary and silly, with tears upon his cheeks, and thinking of the days departed, when he was blithe and buoyant hearted, and when he danced and choochoo-corted with other dizzy freaks. I'm glad there seems no disposition to push him to the front, to use his punk, forlorn condition, as theme for some movie stunt; no lectures bureau seem to want him; and no chatauquas wildly flaunt him; nor do the side-show magnates haunt him, with offers of much blunt. No manager will bring him hither, to make a goodly pile; we're all inclined to let him wither, on his damp misty isle; and if the sea should overflow him, or if a rampant wind should blow him so flat his father wouldn't know him, we still shall sing and smile. By all the busy world forgotten, he walks beside the sea, and doubtless thinks his fate is rotten, and doubtless sighs, "Oh, chee!" Imprisoned is the restless rover; his limelight days are done and over; he cuts no grass, puts up no clover; 'tis well, as you'll agree.

Fashions and Fads.

Many slip-over dresses are planned for the coming season. The spring has brought us vests of brightly hued pongee silk. Thread work in geometrical designs is effective on light frocks. Floating panels of thin material are weighted with velvet ribbon.

Little aprons of silk or taffeta are worn over the afternoon frock. Some dresses have belts at the waistline and again at the knee.

TO STAY THE HAND OF TIME

Since time immemorial the world has waged tireless war against wrinkles. They are the falling sign of approaching age and you desire to stay the hand of time from making these countless and you must constantly feed and for the tissues so that they will lose their healthy firmness.

Every woman knows that when in a healthy condition the skin is transparent and smooth. To be in this condition it must be well treated and kept thoroughly clean. Soon as the skin is allowed to dry it will wrinkle like parchment. It is sometimes next to impossible to eradicate the hairlike lines.

The tissue beneath the skin must be well nourished, for if they are their firmness and shrink the top layer of skin will wrinkle. It should particularly be careful of the skin in the spring time, for the sun and strong light have a tendency to dry and wrinkle it.

Be extravagant in the use of almost any of the most simple and simplest cosmetics in use. It is invaluable, for it not only softens the skin but refines it as well. Before applying any lotion to the skin it must be thoroughly cleansed and for this purpose there is nothing like a good scrubbing with a complexion brush, rubbing the brush over the skin with a rotary motion.

After brushing the face for four minutes, rinse with warm water and finally with cold.

ENDING UP REPATRIATION.

LONDON, April 15. (Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—House of Commons, Mr. Archibald Hurd asked, "will the Secretary arrange that Canadian troops awaiting repatriation, be sent upon British warships, in view of the scarcity of merchantmen." Mr. Hurd replied that the Admiralty agreed to place a certain number of ships at the disposal of the authorities for the repatriation of troops. The difficult question of repatriation was being discussed before the Admiralty and the Ministry of Shipping. Anyhow no difficulty was being experienced in providing sufficient tonnage for the repatriation of Canadians, in accordance with the programme of the Canadian authorities. R. Clough, member for Kelghley, drew attention to the large number of men waiting to return owing to the failure of the authorities to provide the necessary shipping. Sir A. D. Hurd replied that the government was well aware of the importance and urgency of the matter and the Overseas Trade Department, in co-operation with the Ministry of Shipping and the War Office, was making every effort to secure passages for these men as early as possible.

As some sort of application is essential to enable the brush to move over the skin, you will find the following mixture will answer the purpose: Iodine, potassium, ½ dram; glycerine, ounce; distilled water, ½ pint. This is cleansing and serves as a soap substitute.

After brushing the face for three or four minutes, rinse with warm water and finally with cold.

Education in the 2nd Battalion

ROYAL Nfld. REGIMENT.
Education in this Battalion was first undertaken in August 1918, when I found certain N.C.O.'s promoted for good service in the Field unwilling to retain their ranks through lack of education required for their duties in a Home Battalion. Mr. Matthews volunteered to start classes for these men, in their spare time, with the result that, in a wonderfully short time, many of them improved their education to such an extent as to qualify themselves for the rank of Sergeant. Later the classes were extended to include Privates desirous of promotion to N.C.O.'s who, though suitably educated for their military duties, wished to continue their studies which had been interrupted by the War. All these classes were necessarily held after parade hours, and the exigencies of military training prevented any assistance being given to Mr. Matthews in the way of assistant teachers. In October a class for returned E. F. men was started, during afternoon parade hours, and in the evening classes extended to admit of the inclusion of any men of the recruit companies who, desired to attend, a couple of ex-school teachers offering their services as assistants to Mr. Matthews. This opportunity was eagerly embraced by many men, some 200 attending the various classes at the beginning of November. The signing of the armistice rendered possible the holding of the classes during parade hours, and also released some N.C.O.'s to assist in the instruction. It was found possible to considerably enlarge the scope of the instruction scheme, and classes were organized in Arranged by the Imperial Authorities.

The Educational Training is proceeding satisfactorily and the Staff at my disposal is sufficient to deal with all the men of the Battalion. There are many difficulties in the way of Vocational Training—almost entirely due to lack of technical appliances. Such part of instruction as is theoretical can be carried out without difficulty, but it has been found very hard to arrange for practical instruction for more than a very few men in each trade. I am in close touch with the Imperial Education Committee and supply a representative at their meetings, beyond ar- ranging for a couple of instructional tours little has been done so far that our men can participate in. The Canadian Educational Authorities are of this Contingent to attend some of their classes but these again were only theoretical and the subjects too advanced for their technical instruction, so that there will be few, if any, of those who have applied for special courses who will not have obtained them.

"One is Not."

I fondly look the circle o'er,
O'er with me at the table sit,
My bonnie boys and winsome girls,
With laughing eyes and flowing curls,
But on my joys there is a blot—
For one is not.

I miss a round and happy face,
With cheeks of red and eyes of brown,
A baby's voice so sweetly low—
Its precious tones still haunt me so,
That voice did once my bosom thrill—
Now it is still.

The vacant place is with me yet;
Though many years have passed away
My treasure is not lost to love,
And other faces bless my sight,
And all my home is filled with light
And small feet patter on the floor,
One is no more.

No more with me, but this I know
My treasure is not lost to love,
And in the father's mansion fair
There shall not be one vacant chair,
There shall not be through His dear grace,
One missing face.

SEND OFF FOR CANADIANS.
LONDON, April 15. The first brigade of the first Canadian division, six thousand strong, embarked at Southampton, homeward bound, aboard the Olympic, under command of Brig. Genl. G. E. McQuigg. Those witnessing the departure of the vessel included Divisional General Macdonald. Many of the men sailing to-day, practically fought through the whole war. The Mayor of South-

And the Worst is Yet to Come—

The Housing Problem.

The housing problem of St. John's is becoming more and more acute as the days go by. The daily cry here nowadays is for houses and still more houses. We are credibly informed that all the real estate agents are continually besieged with demands for houses, and it is said that one, in particular, has had some hundreds in to see him during the past few days. Unless the promoters of the Housing Scheme soon get busy, it looks just now as if the State will have to step in and solve what certainly has become the most serious problem confronting the citizens of this, the oldest town of the New World. A second '92 fire might not be as serious a disaster as the last, and it would at least have the good effect of forcing somebody—the authorities or others—to erect some new and modern dwelling houses for the people that dwell here. Many cases of people who are prompt in paying their rent being forced to leave their houses and seek others elsewhere have come under our notice, and, we understand, the promoters and organizers of the Dominion Co-operative Building Association are kept busy answering enquiries, both verbal and written, as to what can be done in connection with housing the people. It would be undoubtedly interesting to know the legal position of evicting people who, having always paid their rent, are forced to go on the street just because the owner has seen fit to sell the house or rent it to another.

A Plan Worth Trying.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—In your issue of this evening's paper under the heading of "Warehous Going Cheap," the thought struck me would it not be well if the Government would secure the services of one or more of these ships from the British Government and place them say in Conception Bay, Harbor Grace, Carbonar or some other harbor, and one in Placentia Bay (in one of its suitable harbors) to be used as a Reformatory where boys of tender years could be sent, in place of sending them to the Penitentiary. I know it would cost considerable to equip such ships as work shops, schools, etc., as well as a staff to look after the youths; but as the reports of all the petty thefts are correct, in the near future a Reformatory will have to be built at a very large cost to the rate payers, and of course it will be in the city—while I take it that the city is not the place for it. But the children so brought up in a ship would be quite away from anything like a prison and would in years to come forget all their early habits and make good citizens. I believe Britain would help us in this and the cost would be far less than building a Reformatory. I hope some one able to write on this matter much better than I can, will take the matter up. All the exercise and learning could be attended to far better on a training ship than in a City Reformatory. May we expect the "Briton" which has trained some of the Navy's best men to be replaced very soon by a modern ship for the same purpose. We all hope no use will be found for further war, but one can never tell.

No Country for Poor Man.

Rio de Janeiro, the most wonderfully reconstructed city in the world, was also, until recently, one of the most pleasure loving. Today the president is endeavoring to instill war economy into the nation before it feels the brunt of war—a by no means easy task. Economy is not easily preached in a country where state lotteries are of daily, and public holidays of all too frequent, occurrence. The most popular of the latter is the carnival, which occupies the four days preceding Ash Wednesday.

Brazilians who complain of the high cost of living will probably wish to see war economy continued in times of peace. It costs about $7.20 a day to live at all comfortably in Rio. Some manufactured articles are now difficult to obtain, and the cost of everything "owing to the war" and the colossal protective tariffs, is such as to make unaccustomed English folks feel faint with terror. A ready-made drill jacket, though cheaper in back streets, will be commonly priced at $10.80 in shops on the Avenida Rio Branco. A tailor-made man's suit will cost about $50.—From the United States Naval Institute Proceedings.

Porridge in Warfare.

A wounded officer describes the novel way in which a small party of surprised Highlanders met an unexpected enemy attack. "The Germans got further into the trenches," he writes. "So far, indeed, that they surprised a party of Highlanders in the peaceful occupation of porridge making for a section due for night duty. The porridge makers had no time to seize weapons. Instead they seized their precious pot of porridge and flung it in the face of the advancing foe. There were yells of rage as the scalding porridge fell among the soldiers of the Kaiser. One of the funniest sights of the whole war, I am told, was to see a German officer trying to look dignified before his men in a uniform covered with porridge. The method of repelling the attack was novel, but effective. It was more deadly than liquid fire, I fancy, for it put an end to the attack in that quarter."

"When we relieved the Highland porridge makers we found them in a terrible funk, they didn't mind facing the worst attack the enemy could make, but they were quaking at the prospect of explaining to hungry comrades what had happened to the porridge. I tried to console the man with whom this brainy idea originated, by telling him he ought to have the V.C. He would have none of my consolation. "That may be," he answered, "but what about Wee Jock—'s par-tick? He'll hammer h— out of me when he comes back and finds it's a'wasted on his German devils!"

We regret to record the serious illness of Dr. Cron, who is suffering from a severe cold, with symptoms of pneumonia. All the doctor's friends are hoping for a change for the better soon. He is being attended by Dr. Stentford, of Carbonar.

The fire bells ringing wildly on Saturday night, sent crowds of people up Water Street to the premises of Mr. Joseph L. Pumphrey, where it was said a fire was in progress. A few sparks from the chimney was the cause of the alarm. No damage was done.

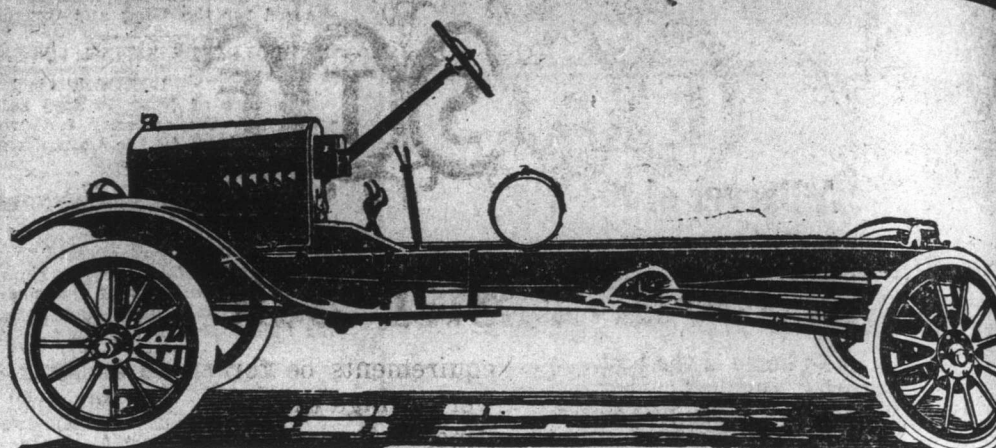

The many friends of Capt. Grant Paterson, one of our boys, who did so well in the late war, were pleased to meet him in town last week. His uncle, the general Major Paterson, who accompanied him, is always sure of a royal welcome from his old Harbor Grace friends.

R.N.R. George Pike returned home last week from the other side, where, after many attempts he succeeded in getting to do his bit to down the Germans and assist in bringing in peace and victory to the old Union Jack. Welcome home, George.

The Trans-Atlantic Flight

Each week brings forth new entries in the great trans-Atlantic flight contest. Already there are well over a half-dozen recognized participants, and many more are about to announce their entry in the greatest competition in aviation history. In fact the trans-Atlantic flight is rapidly becoming a race, for there can be little doubt that several participants will succeed in making the crossing within the next few months.

To those intimately familiar with recent progress in aviation, it is somewhat surprising that the trans-Atlantic flight has not yet been achieved. From day to day an announcement of the feat has been expected, and it was with little surprise that aeronautical men read of the famous start of a French Squadron from Dakar on its way over to Pernambuco in Brazil, via Cape Verde Islands and St. Paul Rocks. But upon looking up the status of St. Paul Rocks in the Atlas, it soon became evident that the intrepid French pilot would have a difficult time locating these insignificant bits of land in the wide expanse of the southern Atlantic, unless little short of a tape line had been laid across the water to guide him on his way. However, the rumour proved to be more or less unfounded, although it is known that the French airmen have been considering this route because of its short "jumps."

It would seem that, given refueling facilities at sea, any one of the large airplanes now available in the United States and Great Britain could long ago have made the trans-Atlantic crossing. But when a non-stop flight is considered, the problem becomes considerably more difficult, and many of the existing airplanes, with flight ranges of 1,000 or 1,200 miles, are eliminated. In truth, there are very few planes immediately ready for a non-stop flight of about 2,000 miles, which is the distance of the trans-Atlantic crossing from Newfoundland to Ireland, allowing for such drift as may be encountered in aerial navigation over such a course.

The British have several dirigibles of great cruising range available for the flight. It would seem that these dirigibles might easily have crossed the Atlantic within the past month or two, since in flights over the North Sea at least one of them has covered 1,246 miles without landing. Another British dirigible has cruised for almost a week without alighting. The latest and largest British dirigibles, the R-33 and the R-34, are now ready for the great flight, with a competent crew of officers and men formerly in the Royal Navy. Quite recently these airships have been cruising over the Atlantic instead of the North Sea, and it would be quite a simple matter for the pilot of one of them, finding the weather and conditions ideal, to continue an experimental flight westward until he touched some point of North America. Thus the flight would be achieved without previous announcement and without extensive preparations such as are almost certain to mark any attempt with a heavier-than-air machine. So it is that aviation men have momentarily expected to hear of a British dirigible landing in Nova Scotia or Newfoundland, after a successful crossing.

At any rate, the trans-Atlantic flight is now being approached in all earnestness. There is Captain Sunstedt with his graceful seaplane; the British with the Sopwith two-seater to be piloted by Harry Hawker and Lieut.-Com. McKenzie Grieve, and the Porte triplane; the Americans with the Model T flying boat which carries two Liberty motors and has a cruising range well over 2,000 miles; the French with their Caudron which cruising range well over 2,000 miles; making it eligible for the shorter southern route; the Italians with their Caproni which, it is understood, are being rushed for the competition; and many others not yet announced. Some time in April ought to mark the first flight across the Atlantic, with either the British or Americans as most likely winners of the London Daily Mail prize of $50,000—Scientific American.

The Unknown Voice.

Lovers of the mysterious will have occasion for new thrills in the announcement that the Harkins Players have arranged for an early presentation at the Casino Theatre, of that unusual play, "The Unknown Voice." In the opening scenes one seems impending disaster, and the mind is held fascinated while awaiting the fall of the blow which comes at the end of the first act with startling suddenness. It falls like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky and places the spectator on the pinnacle of perplexity. In vain does he seek the solution. The key remains hidden to the end and then appears in a climax that is as swift as it is ingenious. Stock companies in many American cities vied with each other in an attempt to secure the producing rights of this play. Mr. Harkins decided to place it in his repertoire because it is recognized as something above the ordinary in these days of extraordinary things, and that it gives great opportunity to both Mr. Ross and Miss Dalton to display their unusual dramatic ability.

New Relief For Constipation,
 "LES FRUITS"

Physicians agree that with the modern habits of living, constipation is likely to be always with us. They also agree that the constant use of any drug for the relief of constipation is exceedingly unwise—unwise for two reasons. First, a drug constantly used loses its effect and requires a constantly increased dose. Second, because the constant use of any drug is bad anyway.

So the cry is constantly going up from the constipated, "What can we do?" It will be interesting to a great many to know that an answer has been found in the re-discovery of a method which was used with great success by our Forefathers, and in Arabia far back in the twelfth century. The food is called "Les Fruits" because it is composed entirely of figs, dates, prunes, raisins and the leaves of each with the substitution of the Alexandra leaf for the raisin leaf. The taste is pleasant, if not to say delicious, and the effect is exceedingly satisfactory. Try it and be convinced.
