AYLESWORTH IS FERY WANTS TO HEAR BORDEN CROSS-EXAMINATION

Liberals at Essex Demonstration
Startled by the Violent Tone of the Minister of Justice, Who Went in For Personalities.

MATCHES GAMEY CHARGE WITH THE LAND DEALS

ESSEX, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was in fighting trim this afternoon when he addressed the Liberals of Essex.
"Mr. Robert L. Borden," he said, "wants me to explain my connection with the Gamey case. I call upon him to explain his connection with the Legary-Fowler-Pope syndicate."
"He is a recent convert," said Mr. Aylesworth. "He, like all his family, belonged to the Liberal party. He has never, in public, at least given any reason for his conversion. But he was wise in his day and generation. He was sitting in the house to-day upon the government benches, and he would find, in front of him, among members of the house, who are not even members of the government, a full dozen far superior to him in brain power, ability and in every quality that goes to make a statesman."
Mr. Aylesworth distinctly intimated that the coming contest would resolve itself into "fighting scandal with scandal."

"Mr. Robert L. Borden," he said, "demands that he must be indicted only upon sworn testimony. I will indict him upon the sworn testimony of my friend and supporter, Hugh Graham of Montreal."
Later on, Mr. Aylesworth more than intimated that he would be held responsible for the Blair-Russell-LaPresse plot of 1904. In this connection he declared that the Conservative government had no difficulty in obtaining funds for that campaign.
"They were full of confidence," he said, "and filled with the spirit of prophecy. They had arranged the resignation of Mr. Blair. They assured the Tory millionaires and speculators that they wanted to be on good terms with the government, that they were going to pull off a big thing (a coup d'état), by which Mr. Borden and his friends would be expelled into poverty."
Attack Was Violent.
Mr. Aylesworth's attack was so violent and evidently so tinged by personal pique, that the audience were much interested, and yet uncertain what to do. He reached the climax by stating that, although Mr. Borden might deny the personal charges brought against him in the Halifax election cases, yet Mr. Borden would not resist such denial as conclusive until Mr. Borden had passed through the ordeal of a cross-examination.

Features of the meeting are to be found in the initial announcement by the members of the legislature, and that A. G. MacKay, M.P., chosen as the provincial opposition, and in Mr. Derbyshire's positive statement that parliament will assemble on Nov. 14.
Crowds Not Excessive.
The meeting itself was not, from the standpoint of attendance, a great success. This is due to the fact that the time that could be desired, but this morning it threatened rain, and the heavy roads may have diminished the expected crowd. Not to exceed five hundred people had assembled in Barber's Grove when a brief procession headed by the distinguished gentlemen present were Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Hon. R. F. Sutherland, Dan Derbyshire, F. P. Farley, M.P., Valentine Ratz, M.P., A. H. Clarke, M.P., A. G. MacKay, M.L.A.; John A. Auld, M.L.A., and A. B. McColl, M.L.A., J. A. Tremblay and Not Speak.

A. H. Clarke, M.P., was the first speaker, and was warmly welcomed by his constituents. He regretted that the audience could not hear from his colleague, Hon. R. F. Sutherland. Although he was present and his heart was in the right place, Mr. Speaker felt that, while holding his present office, he should not appear, as a partisan, upon the public platform.
Valentine Ratz, M.P., presided at the meeting. He referred to Mr. Borden's tour through Ontario and dwelt upon the great improvement in the postoffice department.
Dan Derbyshire was introduced as the "Napoleon of Brockville." He suggested that Essex should have a new postoffice. He brought a greeting from Hon. Mr. Graham, who was detained by the by-election. No Tory had dared to oppose him. Mr. Derbyshire referred to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the greatest statesman in the British empire. The premier had nominated the imperial conference.
Mr. Derbyshire then paid his respects to R. L. Borden and denounced Hon. George E. Foster as the "most disreputable politician in Canada."
Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was introduced as a man who "would one day be the premier of Canada." He said that as a lawyer he had appeared for Conservatives and against Liberals in election contests. By his oath as a politician he was bound to accept any case that was brought to him if it appeared to have any merit. As a politician, however, he was speaking his true sentiments and speaking from his heart when he pleaded for the Liberal party.

The issue being to-day presented by the Conservatives, as he understood it, was to the effect that the present ministers of the crown were a band of blunders. Was this fair? Did it appeal to anybody of sense? The Tory party in the house was a mere remnant. It amounted to little, outside

BOY BURGLARS IN THE TOOLS

Arrested at Midnight--
Attempted to Jump
from Window--
Were Armed.

Charged with a series of daring burglaries, Albert Pett, aged 18, and William Marshall, the same age, were arrested late last night by Detectives Kennedy and Newton and Acting Detectives McKinney and Archibald. The arrests were made on information secured by Acting Detective McKinney. Within the past two weeks the detectives have been looking for the perpetrators of the robberies at Whitworth Adelaide-street, which was entered on Sunday night last and $9.75 abstracted from a small safe. The robbery at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Gooderham's residence at 592 Sherbourne-street on Aug. 30; the theft of gold watch, diamonds and money from the residence of Mrs. Catharine Howe, 506 Church-street, on Sept. 11, and rubber coats from H. Yanover's clothing house, 232 East King-street on the 17th inst.

Yesterday the landlady of a house on Albert-street informed the police that under the pillow of two of her roomers she found a dirk and two revolvers.
The detectives went to the Albert-street house, where Pett was taken from his bed. Marshall was not there. The officers hurried to the home of Marshall's father at 13 St. David-street. It was surrounded and at 15 minutes the officers tried to gain an entrance. During this time Marshall made three attempts to jump out of windows.
Detective McKinney forced the door and found the father, the brother-in-law and Marshall himself. The brother-in-law threatened the officer, but Detective Archibald's appearance on the scene produced peace.
A box of cartridges and a knife were found under Marshall's pillow; a bunch of skeleton keys came to light in the Albert-street house.
Marshall threatened that he would die before he would leave his room. Pett and Marshall admit the series of robberies.
On Marshall's finger was found the diamond ring stolen from Mrs. Howe's residence. The watch was in his pocket. Pett declares that there was but one revolver, which Marshall sold yesterday.

HEAD CRUSHED.

The boy caught on to a wagon driven by James Hutchings, 1201 East Queen-street, in front of 17 Nelson-street in some way he fell off, and his head was crushed between the wheel and the wagon box.
Dr. R. J. Wilson will hold an inquest.

LABOR MEN WANT WORK DONE IN CITY

Delegation From Trades Council to See Aldermen--Employment Bureau Desired.

Unfair discrimination in the matter of awarding tenders for public works was the subject that aroused considerable discussion at the District Labor Council's meeting at the Labor Temple last night.
On the motion of Delegate Givens it was resolved to ask the city council to endeavor to have the new boiler for the waterworks made in the city, under trade union conditions, and that a clause be put in the contract stipulating for a nine-hour working day. Delegates Givens, Kemper, Hevey, Bancroft and Elliott will so inform the board of control.
Delegates Givens and Elliott will wait on Hon. Dr. Reame, minister of public works, and John Armstrong, superintendent of the Ontario Labor Bureau, to request the opening of an employment bureau in the city.
The financial report for the half-year ending July 31 was presented, showing total receipts, including balance in hand, on Jan. 31st of $522.13, expenditure for same period $259.80. There are $262.33 arrears due by unions and the auditors recommended the council not to allow any delegate representing a union in arrears of one quarter's dues to take his seat in the council until the arrears are paid.

FATHER AND YOUNG SON EMBRACED IN DEATH

Drowned Together at Clark's Harbor, N.S.—A Touching Drowning Tragedy.

CLARK'S HARBOR, N. S., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Last evening Jason Nickerson and his 10-year-old son were drowned by the capsizing of a boat in this harbor.
Nickerson, who was employed in building the government wharf there, went after supper to the wharf in his skiff to get some log ends and took his little boy with him. Not returning this morning, search began, and in a short time both bodies were discovered in about five feet of water. Father and son were brought to the surface clasped so tightly in each other's arms that it took quite an effort to separate them.
It is supposed the boat tipped over while taking in log ends alongside the wharf.

SASKATCHEWAN'S SYSTEM.

How the Licenses Are Regulated in Western Province.

In reference to J. R. L. Starr's report on the license question the attention of the provincial license department has been drawn to the following changes in the administration of their license system, which have recently been made by the Saskatchewan Government.
An order issued in 1901, establishing numerous license districts, has been canceled, and under the new act eight license districts have been formed, and the names of the commissioners are: Hester Armour of Regina, A. P. McMillan of Saskatoon, and J. R. Bann of Mileston. They are permanent appointees, and will hold their sessions at the capital, Regina, for the consideration of all applications for licenses, and will be paid salaries.

MACKAY IS CHOSEN TO LEAD HIS PARTY

Ontario Liberals Have Already Decided That He's the Man for the Job.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, M.A., K.C., M.L.A., will be the unanimous choice of the Liberal party of Ontario to-day for leader of the Ontario opposition. He was named at a party caucus Wednesday, and the rest is mere formality.
Leading members of the party in private life have walked round and round the various possibilities, sized them up, and all have arrived at the conclusion that Mr. MacKay is the one man in whom the party must pin its faith.
The formal selection of a new leader will be made to-day at the rooms of the General Reform Association, room 5, 38 Toronto-street. Other names than that of Mr. MacKay may be mentioned, but it is doubtful if any one man can secure sufficient support to alter the decision of the caucus.
"I will support MacKay. He is easily the best man in the opposition," said one Liberal member last night. "There is nothing to it; practically every Liberal member of the house will support Mr. MacKay, and I among them," said another Liberal.
Last night H. M. Mowat was asked to tell Mr. MacKay's selection. When told that The World had been assured by leading Liberal members that MacKay would be the choice, Mr. Mowat said significantly: "The World never misses anything."
"What of Sir William Mulock?" was asked of one of the prominent members of the party.
"A splendid choice, but unfortunately a gentleman whose services we have no hope of securing," was the reply.
Among the members who have come out for MacKay is Mr. Labrosse of St. Eugene, the sole Franco-Canadian on the opposition benches.
C. M. Bowman, the Liberal whip, did not state his preference, but expressed his admiration for the qualities which he believed the prospective leader to possess.
Hon. A. G. MacKay was born in Sydenham Township, Grey County, the

CONFESSED BUT POLICE DID NOT BELIEVE

Daniel Glass, Who Says He Burned Barns and Attempted Murder, To Be Brought Back.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Daniel Glass, a former resident of Canada and member of the United States Hospital Corps, who was locked up on Monday by Detective Weedon and Detective Furney, after he had confessed that he burned two barns belonging to his cousin, Frank Miller, and had attempted to murder him, while living near Roxham, Que., was re-arrested last night upon the request of the police. Additional messages from Canadian authorities had been received, requesting that he be taken into custody.
The story told by Glass of his crimes near Roxham, Canada, and of his subsequent escape from jail as St. John's four years ago, was not credited by the police. They believed the young man, who had suffered from attacks of nervousness, imagined he had committed the crimes alleged, but a message from Canadian officials gave information that he had told the truth. The same message also stated that the authorities would not stand the expense of returning him there for trial, and he was released.
The Canadian authorities, however, seem to have changed their minds in the matter of his return, two messages received by Inspector Boardman last night indicating that he is wanted there, and that an officer will come for him. Upon receipt of the messages, Inspector Boardman sent word to the barracks to have the military authorities detain him. Capt. Ashford had arranged for the formal discharge of the Canadian, saying he wanted nobody in his command who was under such charges, but the discharge papers had not arrived, and Glass was still in the service. It was expected that Glass would be turned over to the police authorities this morning. Detective Weedon went to get him; he was informed that an enlisted man could not be extradited until he had been discharged. He was told to get him here in about a week or ten days, and the police will then take him into custody. Meanwhile he is being kept under guard at the barracks.

MAY ORGANIZE LABOR PARTY

Trades Congress at Winnipeg Piqued at Sir Wilfrid's Silence.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The refusal of Premier Laurier to answer the urgent memorial of the labor congress on the question of having a Trades Congress at Winnipeg, has piqued the labor delegates now assembled in Winnipeg.
While the convention understands this is a matter for imperial authority alone, they feel that the situation is so critical in the Canadian west that Sir Wilfrid could at least have a "sympathetic" discussion. His silence has mystified the delegates and they are displaying their resentment by placing an order for tomorrow's executive session for the consideration of united political action by labor interests.
This means possibly the formation of a third party and is of special interest in view of the fact that a Dominion election is approaching.
The convention to-day by 31 to 18 endorsed the Lemieux Industrial Disputes Act.

TREATY IS SIGNED.

But There is Still Secrecy as to its Contents.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Franco-Canadian treaty was signed to-day. The same secrecy observed throughout the negotiations is still maintained regarding the provisions of the Franco-Canadian treaty, which, it is intended, will not be made known until officially communicated to the Canadian Parliament. The treaty was signed about a year ago and cannot become operative for three years. It would mean reducing of Canada's trade with Japan.

JOURNALIST'S LONG SEARCH FOR CHILDREN

Wife is a Toronto Woman Who is Said to Have Kidnapped Own Youngsters.

CAMPELLTON, N. B., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—In a case which promises to be one of the greatest sensations ever heard in the Maritime Provinces, the marital troubles of W. R. Stewart, an American journalist, and his wife, will be heard at Dalhousie in the near future.
The case is one in which Mr. Stewart seeks to have returned to his custody his 14-year-old daughter, Winnie, now in the care of Rev. Mr. Fife, rector of the Episcopal Church at Dalhousie.
Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, who were married about 15 years ago in Ontario, lived happily during the greater part of their union; but a little over two years ago were divorced, and the wife granted the care of the children, then three years of age, to her mother, who was then living in New York, where the husband was on the staff of the Montreal Star. The wife, however, refused to give her name. The latter engaged counsel, who are now working on the case. The minister also entered a charge against Stewart for trespass.

HARBOR C.I. TROUBLE DIDN'T DISTURB BOARD

Mr. Hagarty Confirmed in His Supervision Over Overflow Pupils.

The proceedings at last night's meeting of the board of education lacked altogether the spiciness which had, in some quarters, been predicted. The wording of the management committee's recommendations, whereby it was provided that the overflow pupils of Harbor Collegiate be accommodated in the King Edward Public School, as regarded as under the charge of Principal Hagarty, appeared to have the effect of removing any friction. A deputation of Dr. Crouse, George Wilkie, Rev. W. F. Wilson, Prof. Hume and Miles Vokes expressed approval, and the board passed the recommendation unanimously. There was like unity in voting to have J. L. Cox re-transferred to the Harbor Collegiate staff. The action of Principal Hagarty in refusing to obey instructions will, it is understood, be dealt with at a future meeting. Trustee Brown objected to R. A. Gray, mathematical master in Jarvis-street Collegiate, being appointed to the position of vice-principal. He thought the duties of the supervising principal should be more clearly defined first, with which the board agreed. The new Phoenix-street school will be known as Ogdén School, in recognition of Trustee Ogdén's forty-one years of service on the board.

PRIZES FOR GREEN SHOTS.

Bayles, Col.-Sergt. J. Noble, Sergt. W. Kelly, Sergt. E. Hancock, Sergt. J. Trainor, Corporals A. E. Parkin, R. Clarke, W. Nosworthy, W. Sprinks and R. Stuart, Lance-Corporals H. Whitehorn and A. Sprinks, Privates W. Latimer and A. E. Keating. The team prizes will be presented later. About 500 men were on parade.

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription: One ounce Filix Extract Dandelion; One ounce Compound Salutaria; Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime. Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense. This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys, assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expel same in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action. We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to learn of this simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

FRUIT WILL BE PLENTY DEALERS ONLY SCARING

So Says Man Who Ought to Know—Deaths of a Day—Happenings.

HAMILTON, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The police are making little progress towards clearing up the assault made on Constable May by a gang of crack-shooters. John Holmes is the second man arrested to be allowed out on his own bail. There was a one-sided debate this evening at a meeting of the North End Improvement Society on the subject of "The Word System of Electing Aldermen." Ex-Ald. George S. Koff was the only one who spoke in favor of the system, and he politely advised the society not to meddle with questions which do not concern the honor and safety of the city. Farrar, Peabody and H. J. Halford, William Berry and W. R. Rolfe favored the present system. Archie Spellicy died this morning at Henderson's Hotel, Ancaster. He was formerly a wine clerk at the Waldorf. Robert Henderson, 110 North East, died this afternoon. He leaves a widow and two daughters—Mrs. J. H. Allen of Calgary and Miss Bella of Hamilton.

The parks board this evening awarded contracts as follows: Bulbs, Steele-Briggs & Co., 116; plants, H. Mrs. Louis Schack, 269 Aberdeen-avenue, died this morning. She was the daughter of the late Rev. Stephen Kappele. Richard Jose, Toronto, and Miss Eva L. daughter of J. H. Burkholder, Bimbrock, were married yesterday.

William Dixon of Dixon Bros., the fruit dealers, says that there is no ground for the report that the fruit of starting reports of the kind. He declares that the apple yield will be 25 per cent. greater than last year, and that there is a big crop of both plums and peaches. Growers who come to the Central Market have been forced to either sell out at auction, less than they are demanded for their fruit or have had to take their fruit back home again.

Mrs. O'Brien, mother of Andrew O'Brien, died this morning. Michael Malone Jr., belonging to Hamilton, was shot and probably fatally wounded in a Niagara Falls Hotel. His aunt and relatives have been called to his bedside.

The body of a five-months-old baby was found in the bay Tuesday, and Corby is holding an investigation. The C.P.R. officials will visit the city next Wednesday to make arrangements for the building of the Hamilton & Guelph Junction Railway.

Boiled Water May be Safe to Drink, But it is Not Fit to Drink

Toronto city water will never be really fit to drink while the sewage of the city mixes with the city's water supply.

Dr. Amyot Says City Water Contains Some Sewage Bacteria.

"Boil the drinking water," is the advice of Dr. Amyot, the Provincial Analyst, to the people of Toronto. "The water has been infected for the last two and a half weeks, and still is," said Dr. Amyot. "It has been fairly clear all summer until recently. I do not know where it comes from, but the water is very bacteria in the water."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

WHY YOU SHOULD SEE JAMESTOWN

The Jamestown Exposition is no longer a prospect; it has developed into an interesting reality. Its field is distinctly historical, and it liberally illustrates by picture and reproduction the development of American civilization and American institutions from the day of the first settlement on the Jamestown Peninsula, in 1607, through three hundred years, to the present time.

The National Government has taken a keen interest in the Exposition, and is one of its chief exhibitors. The display of modern warships of all nations on Hampton Roads is a unique and attractive feature, and the military manoeuvres lend a stirring touch to the daily program.

The Jamestown Exposition is a prominent event in our National history, and should be visited by every American citizen who desires to see what three hundred years of American enterprise has wrought in our land.

The Pennsylvania Railroad offers attractive service via Philadelphia and its "Cape Charles Route"; by its routes via Baltimore and the Chesapeake Bay lines; via Washington and the Potomac River Line, and via Washington and Richmond. The rates are reasonable and the fare varies according to the route and length of the stay.

Ask Ticket Agents for rates of fare, stop-over privileges, and time of trains.

Representatives of the following clubs are requested to attend a meeting to-night at the club rooms to-night, 8 p.m., to sign for the fall season, as the intermediate league opens on Saturday, when the Thistles will travel to Lambton to play the local club.

The Thistle F.C. last night held a special gathering to present their president, James Young, with tokens of their appreciation of his services on his retiring from active interest in the club. Mr. Young is leaving Canada to fill an important position in the States. The presentation took the form of a fine gold watch and letters, suitably engraved. An impromptu program was given during the evening, the following artists rendering numbers: John Marov, John Gelbraith and J. Pringle, the world famous basso profundo, who rendered "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" with telling effect.

AN EXPLODED ARGUMENT.

During the progress of the movement for the establishment of a two-cent-a-mile railroad rate the citizens of the various states of the Union where it materialized were vociferously and insistently informed that its compulsory enactment would entail the withdrawal of all low fare exemptions. The threat carried with it a certain superficial plausibility fitted to catch the unthinking and unwary who fail to remember that railroad companies do not run excursions from charitable motives, but because they find it pays them. That is to say their popularity enables a rate to be given half, or little more, the customary exactness. Precisely the argument used in support of the two-cent-a-mile demand already proved to be perfectly reasonable by the records of the companies that have accepted the public flat and conformed to it. Ohio is one of the states that have passed an act enabling the general public to travel by rail at the minimum charge of two cents a mile. Therefore, if railroad companies and their press allies were taken at their word, there would be no more cheap excursion rates. Yet within the last few days, advertisements have repeatedly appeared in the States papers inviting attention to the low fare excursions offered on the state roads. Thus between Buffalo and Erie, a distance of 88 miles, tickets for the round trips are advertised at $1.25, and the same offer is made between Cleveland and Erie. Between Cleveland and Toledo, the distance traversed is 113 miles, and the fare asked is $1.50, and many equivalent offers are made to other Ohio cities. Now are these confined to one road. The moral is that cheap fares are far more than compensated by the encouragement they give to travel.

SWIMMING SHOULD BE TAUGHT.

Year after year the lakes and rivers of Canada exact a heavy tribute of lives, many full of promise, and leaving this young nation all the poorer. A large proportion of those who thus early pass beyond the veil might have saved themselves and their companions in misfortune had they possessed the useful art of swimming. Inspector Hughes recently called attention to certain matters wherein the schools of Britain excelled those of Canada, especially in regard to physical exercises and training. In this connection recent reports published by the education committee of the London County Council and the London Schools Swimming Association are of special interest here. Splendid results have followed the efforts made to teach the London school children how to swim, and they well deserve serious attention from the educational authorities of Canada.

The reports show that during the last three years the number of pupils in London schools who have been instructed in the art of swimming has increased by 65 per cent., and during the year ending March 31 last no less than 28,457 children actually learned how to swim. This, too, in spite of the fact that, considering its large population, comparatively few facilities exist in and about London. Indeed, what has been done in London is more in the nature of tentative experiment, and the value of the art of swimming, not only as a means for self-preservation, but as an admirable physical exercise, is only now beginning to be fully appreciated. Here, in Canada, and especially in Ontario, which prides itself so highly on its educational system, should it be recognized that "it is the duty of all who are charged with the education of the young to see that children are taught swimming and life-saving-before leaving school."

Swimming is not only a splendid means of physical training, but it is even more valuable as a developer of morale. Even good swimmers unaccustomed to pass beyond their depth lose their nerve and confidence when suddenly cast into deep water. Confidence once gained becomes an enduring possession and develops mental alertness, courage and generosity. For its moral influence swimming should be regarded as an essential feature in any complete system of natural instruction and nowhere is it more necessary and imperative than in Ontario and Toronto. The very natural features, that make this province and city so attractive in our glorious summer time call for the universal instruction of their youth in the necessary art. The ancients better understood its importance. Spartan law made acquisition of the art imperative, and the Romans classed ignorance of letters and swimming as equally reprehensible. Should we be less insistent on the necessity of teaching our youth how to be as much at home in water as on land?

DRESDEN AND CAR FENDERS.

Four years ago the city council of Dresden, Germany, offered prizes amounting to $2500 for the most effective street car fender. Government requirements in the fatherland are very rigid and over 400 devices of various kinds were submitted and subjected to practical tests. A Dresden merchant finally came out on top with a fender, described by the United States consul at Chemnitz to be a nearly perfect protective device, under every possible condition. This contrivance is reported to be easily attachable to the current forms of car construction and for months past leather manniks of life size have been placed by day and night before the cars on the experimental line in every possible position. Without exception they have been picked up and carried along without sustaining the slightest injury. The same results followed experiments with dogs and even upright bottles filled with liquid. The contrivance, which stood these tests, has now been accepted and will be attached to the cars running on the city lines. Possibly some people on this side the Atlantic may be surprised at the anxiety displayed by Dresden to reduce the risk of accidents. It is simply the outcome of public ownership. Dresden operates its street car service and looks to the common good, not to private profits.

DRASTIC REGULATIONS TO ENSURE MILK PURITY

Provincial Authorities Are Preparing Some Strict Legislation.

Draft regulations for the cleaner handling of milk are being prepared by Drs. Sheard and Hedges for submission to the legislature. Demands will be made that stables for cows must be properly drained and ventilated, and the surroundings kept clean. Milk buildings must be at least 100 yards distant from stagnant water and 100 feet away from chicken or hog pens. No sick cows must be allowed in a herd which supplies milk, nor any which are within forty days of calving, or five days after it. No decomposed material, moulding hay or wet brewers' material shall be fed to cows, or anything that will affect the taste of the milk. Cows must drink pure water only. Those who handle the milk must be of clean habits, and suffer from no contagious diseases, nor shall they enter the houses where there have been contagious diseases until they have been disinfected. Their hands must be clean before milking, and the udder and surrounding parts of every cow shall be brushed and wiped with a cloth, clean and damp, but not dripping. Milkers' hands shall be dry while milking, and shall not come in contact with the milk. Milk with an unnatural appearance, or dirty, shall be discarded, and the pail washed before being used again. Immediately after each cow is milked the milk shall be taken to the milk house and strained with wire gauze protected on both sides by cheese cloth. The milk house must be partitioned off from every other part of the building. Milk stored in a cold water tank shall be changed often enough to prevent an unpleasant smell of appearance, and the storage tank shall be thoroughly scrubbed out at least once a week. No preservative or other substance shall be added to milk for any purpose, and no part of the milk shall be removed. No person shall drink from any vessel or utensil, or the cover of any vessel or utensil, used in the delivery of milk, nor shall such be used for any other purpose. All such utensils shall be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized each time after using. All dairy farms, dairy cattle and dairy appurtenances shall be thoroughly inspected by a sanitary inspector at least twice a year.

Political Intelligence

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 19.—(Special).—The campaign in connection with the Ontario Legislature, by-election for Brockville is on. The Liberals at today's convention nominated W. A. Lewis, barrister.

Numerous other candidates retired in his favor. Hon. G. P. Graham, after referring to the courtesy of the Conservative party in allowing him to be returned by acclamation to the Dominion parliament, urged on the legislature in the strongest kind of way. He did not believe the constituency would be lost to the Liberals after being held by them for 33 years. If there was any possibility of it, he would resign his cabinet position at Ottawa and accept the riding for the Ontario house.

Mr. Graham, in discussing his translation from Toronto to Ottawa, said he could serve the constituency better in his new sphere. This was not the first opportunity he had of entering the government at Ottawa. While absent he had been a beneficiary in his new sphere. This was not the first opportunity he had of entering the government at Ottawa.

Mr. Hardy received a similar offer, but turned it down on the ground that the provincial political arena needed his services.

Mr. Ashdale, the candidate, is a brother of the late Dr. Lewis, at his death Conservative M. L. A. for Dufferin.

Hon. George E. Foster spoke to an audience of one thousand people in Amherst, N. S., on Tuesday night and intimated that the Liberal party would hold a series of campaign meetings all over Canada, that would not end till election day, let it be one or two years hence. Now was the time, he said, for the two parties to discuss the questions of the day, rather than when the glamour and excitement of the campaign was on.

A meeting in the interest of J. W. Cant K.C., the Liberal candidate for East York in the local legislature, will be held in the new Anglican Mission Building, at the corner of Gerrard-street, at 8 o'clock, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Curry has issued a circular letter saying: "I have been chosen as candidate of the Liberal party for East York for the local legislature, and I propose calling on every elector in your locality. A public meeting has been called for Saturday evening next, and I hope you may find it convenient to attend. I shall then state my views on matters of general interest and on the subject of the local legislature. Any questions you or any of your friends choose to put to me, this meeting is open to all, whether supporters of mine or not."

Hon. H. R. Emmerson denies that he will retire from parliament. He says he intends to be in his seat the coming session, and that he finds attending to his personal affairs more profitable than serving the public as a cabinet minister.

Now that R. L. Borden is in the west he is being hampered some western advice. When he reached Winnipeg a number of Conservatives waited on him and suggested that he should call a convention in order to construct a platform that will square with the views of the whole country. Then the Winnipeg Tribune, the organ of R. Richardson, a former Liberal M.P., who has some strong independent opinions, writes Mr. Borden an "open letter" in which the Conservative leader is reminded that the west loves a man who is above all frank and square, and who will pull off his coat and land a few good, honest blows. This is the open letter, in part:

"Frank himself, he (the westerner) admires frankness. Frank himself, he demands frankness in all who aspire to represent him in the capacity of legislator.

"A hard-working man, who has had to depend on the success of his own vigorous efforts for any measure of prosperity that he has wrested from nature, he is not inclined to be so credulous as to believe in the system of a few good men, who are more inclined to depend on his own judgment of the character of an aspirant for office than on the party devices that have in the past victimized him times without number.

"After this sizing up, Mr. Borden, you will see that, approached in one manner, he is a mighty difficult man to handle—while, approached in another way, he is readily induced to support you or any other public man with the power to convince.

"All that is demanded, sir, is that you be vigorous, sincere, straightforward. Can you be that?"

"The west is not hostile to you. On the contrary, if you will give it a chance, it will receive you with open arms.

"Will you give it that chance?"

"Your announcement of your platform is regarded as too weak, too indefinite, too carefully qualified to command the confidence that you must command before you can hope to make the brief journey from the left to the right of Mr. Speaker.

"That part of your platform which deals with the tariff does not seem to be designed to appeal—and does not appeal—to the great agricultural sections of Canada.

"We have had, and now have, too much tariff, too much nursery of 'infant industries' into gigantic and oppressive tyrants; too much monopoly, too many combines and trusts that make life a burden and 'protection' a curse.

"We want, at least, what the Liberals promised us in 1896—a promise that has been regarded with the same solemnity as 'dicers'—free trade in wool."

"Is not your tariff plank in your new platform merely old Joe, 'adequate protection' under another name? Is it 'free trade' in wool? Be frank, Mr. Borden, and tell us—in this part of Canada you must be frank, if you would convince.

"And your public ownership plank, sir—will you, while in the west, abandon the extreme caution that marked your utterances in the east, and come out, point blank, for public ownership, without the qualifications that led people in the east to express the opinion that you desired to leave yourself a loophole, would you enable yourself carrying out that part of your policy, in case you should be returned to power?"

"Why not be frank, Mr. Borden, and remove the unpleasant and injurious doubts that have been caused by your lack of vigorous directness, so admired by your westerners?"

"Your references, in those speeches that you have already delivered, to the 'great' and 'valuable' coal fields of the west, are admirable as they go—so far as they go—nearly far enough to arouse the enthusiasm of the western Canadian.

"In this part of Canada—as it is believed, in other parts—the senate, as at present constituted, is despised.

"You propose that it should be reformed—but how? Once more you allude to the 'great' and 'valuable' coal fields of the west, and you are reminded that directness and conclusiveness are the most admired qualities that the political speaker in Western Canada can possess.

"The people of that part of the Dominion that lies west of the side of the great lakes suffered great hardship and were even threatened with death by freezing last winter, because of the fuel shortage—at that time, as at present, the most valuable coal fields of the world were the property of private persons, some of their political leaders, who by manipulation had deprived the people of their birthright—nature's endowment, which should be available.

"What is your policy in regard to this? Would you, if returned to power, permit these exploiters to continue to grab coal lands and forests from the people, or would you retain and open the great stores of fuel that nature has provided for the people of the country, guaranteeing the settlers the right profits to be derived from their rightful property, and immunity from the anxiety and suffering such as they experienced last winter?"

"Mr. Ashdale's proposal to Alberta and Saskatchewan their public lands, of which they were deprived by the autonomy bills, is admirable. Stick to it, convince the people that you mean what you say, and you will profit by it. Hesitate, quibble and hedge, and your error will cost you dear.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

Unexpected Delay in Completing Contracts Due to the Novelty of the Agreement Being Made.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., one of the members of the hydro-electric power commission, had quite a lengthy interview with the premier yesterday. He subsequently informed The World that in regard to the heavy task before the commission, nothing at present was being done, or could be done, beyond setting the technical details of the important contract made with the Ontario Power Company of Niagara Falls.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

No change whatever in the figures contained in the contract is contemplated, but the working of its clauses, which are somewhat novel and rather difficult in the matter of phraseology, and is being done by experts, is taking a good deal more time than was anticipated.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

All the surveys which have been in progress for some time past, and which were pushed forward as rapidly as possible in the Niagara district—from the Falls to Hamilton, to London, and to other points—and it is expected that they will be completed about the middle of October.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

When the contract with the power company is finished, and the lines fully surveyed, everything will depend upon the nature of the contracts which may be concluded with the municipalities that are applicants for allotments of power.

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

As to whether anything of a practical character can be accomplished in connection with the project this year, it is really impossible to say, said Mr. McNaught. "Everything is, in point of fact, summed up in the somewhat delightfully vague phrase, 'stata quo'."

Wooding Power Contract Proves Delicate Task

In respect to the main contract, it is only right to explain that this is an entirely new sort of work in an undeveloped field, something which has never before been attempted; and the terms of the contract have at all points been carefully and critically considered. The proper phrasing of it is most important.

There are a great many men in Ontario who will remember Sergt.-Major E. G. Rundle, No. Nassau-street, who on Sept. 17 celebrated his 60th birthday.

Sergt.-Major Rundle enlisted in the 2nd Battalion, 17th Regiment, at the age of 20, on July 15, 1888, at Pictou, Nova Scotia, and was appointed battalion drill instructor with the rank of sergeant. During the summer of that year a Canadian Mogg was sent to the Niagara Falls, and he was posted to the regiment and attached to his squad for instruction.

In the fall, 1891, while stationed at the Curragh Camp, Ireland, the regiment received orders to be held in readiness to embark for Canada. The hired transport Cleopatra was detailed for the service, and Sergt.-Major Rundle selected to precede the regiment several days to superintend the shipping and stowing away of provisions and clothing.

"We sailed from Queenstown on the 1st of January, 1892, arriving at Halifax on the 11th, when we were ordered to Jamaica during the trouble, but we found everything quiet when we arrived. I remained till the latter part of December, when we returned to Halifax. In this expedition the battalion was divided into two companies, and I was appointed adjutant and lieutenant. I performed the duties of brigadier clerk. In June, 1896, orders were received to proceed to Toronto, where we relieved the 4th Battalion, and I immediately returned after our arrival I was appointed instructor to the military school, which position I held till the resignation of Hon. Col. Gibson, D. C. Hughes, in May, 1898. My principal duties were the delivery of lectures on interior economy, military law, outpost duty, etc., and I was also in charge of the rifle range. "On the 9th of November, 1879, I left Manitoba for the east to take a rest, and wired my friends. In 1882 I was appointed drill instructor at Trinity College School, Fort Hope. The late Col. Williams took a deep interest in my work, and was a sincere friend of mine. In 1887 I was appointed gymnastic and drill instructor at the Collegiate Institute, Peterboro, and was in the office for 16 years, and was also sergt.-major of the 6th Battalion."

NINE MONTHS IN PRISON FOR CONDUCTED ENGINEER

Law's Penalty for Violating Rules Which Led to Fatal Wreck.

GUELPH, Sept. 19.—Engineer Mark B. Reid, who was in the collision at Gourcock, where three men were killed, was found guilty on the charge of breaking the rules of the G. T. R. and was sentenced to nine months in prison.

Justice Anglin expressed regret at having to deliver judgment, but it was a duty imposed upon him, and he could not escape it.

He originally intended to sentence him to one year, but, taking into consideration that the accused had already suffered mentally and physically, and had lost his position, he had decided to reduce the sentence by three months.

Mr. Justice contended that the orders must have been wrong. The defendant had been doing his best, and had been forced to stay too long on duty.

"In making my decision," said his lordship, "the Thompson case and the decision rendered there has been disregarded."

Reid was visibly affected. He was the conductor, sentenced to three years, was released from the penitentiary after serving nine weeks, and it is expected Reid will also be paroled before long.

In order to keep him clear of criminal association the term was not made in Central Prison.

Joseph says: All things considered conditions might be financially worse. Just one week ago, on the 12th, before any one knew what the Amalgamated interests contemplated doing, we wrote: "Closing down of mines will enable consumption to catch up with production." The present is no time to be pessimistic. Report should stimulate short covering in any time for a bull specialty move, and is not likely to meet much stock this side of 114 to 115. Northern Pacific should be bought for turns still on these recessions, according to our information and other points. Southern Pacific and Atchison could be rated sharply if it suits the pools to take stock offering around present levels. Reading's good earnings report should stimulate short covering in it. Information being favorable to betterment. Amalgamated Copper is now held between 59 and 62. Steel 27

SENTIMENT IS MORE HOPEFUL.

Without any specific reason, there was an opinion in brokerage circles to-day that money was working easier. Whether due to this or to a spasmodic change in sentiment, the feeling to-day was certainly less pessimistically inclined. The market scarcely carried out this impression, however, except in the case of Twin City, which was apparently easily advanced. The heavy issues were again General Electric, Sao Paulo and Rio. The sudden reversal in the action of the former is believed to be due to an early announcement regarding the new issue of stock, the prices of the outstanding securities being arranged so that a due reception of the news might be recorded without any difficulty. At the best, the entire market was tame, many of the brokers leaving their usual haunts for the racetrack late in the day.

and reports were current of an increasing investment enquiry for good bonds. The strength of United States Steel common also had a good effect upon sentiment, as it was believed to reflect the belief that the threatened reaction in the trade would not extend very far. Monetary conditions remained unchanged, call renewing at four per cent, with very little doing in the time funds. In the afternoon the volume of dealings fell away to a minimum, and fractional recessions occurred on small amount of realizing, but there was no feature to the irregular. The closing was dull and irregular.

Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beatty at the close:

The lack of speculative interest in the security market and the glut in the market for high-class bond issues cannot yet be explained by corresponding falling off in business activities or corporation earnings, and for this reason market judgment is for the time being at sea, except to the extent of claiming that a very favorable opportunity for investment operations presents itself at this time. The Reading statement and explanation by its president of the business of that corporation (the largest in its history) may not be duplicated during the current year, but as far as can be estimated, not only this, but all other corporations should be properly adjusted, and that attacks upon corporations have not ended. But the crops this season are turning out splendidly, will be sold at very high prices and money is growing easier at leading centres. We expect gradual betterment in prices, one important factor being that companies are adding a rule as carrying less stock than for a long time past.

A. O. Brown & Co. to J. Lorne Campbell: Union Pacific was particularly active, advancing on report that J. P. Morgan had taken over 60,000 shares supposed to have been owned by Rogers, but the price receded moderately after this was specifically denied by Morgan and Company. The annual statement made public today in the prospectus for the present year. Without deducting the expenditures made for permanent improvements, the common earned last year nearly 12 1/2 per cent, as against 11 1/2 per cent the year before, while after deducting large amounts for improvements there was left for the common stock nearly 8 per cent, as against 6 1/2 during the twelve months ending June 30, 1906. The anthracite and bituminous tonnage increased materially during the year, but it is believed that the present fiscal year will break all records in this regard—Town Topics.

Signs of Easy Money. A London business man told The World to-day that a client paid off his entire mortgage this week, although it was not due for another year. This is a sign of the times, and may be accepted as hopeful.

Is Corner Turned? The brokers generally on the Toronto Stock Exchange are in a more hopeful mood than a fortnight ago. They feel that the worst has been more than discounted, and that many of the weaker spots are eliminated. A steady market with a rising tendency is what is longed for, so that the severe strain could be counted a thing of the past. It has been a long and anxious time for most brokers; not alone because of the unpleasant duty of calling in margins, but because of the weakness of the financial fabric generally. "The corner has been turned," declared one of the oldest members of the exchange this morning.

Bank of England Statement. LONDON, Sept. 19.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total Reserve increased, £762,000; circulation, decreased £281,000; bullion, increased £480,478; other securities, increased £297,000; other deposits, decreased £109,000; public deposits, increased, £1,046,600; Government securities, increased, £1,021,000; other securities, unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 61.67 per cent, as compared with 61.25 per cent last week. The rate of discount of the bank remained unchanged to-day at 4 1/2 per cent.

On Wall Street. Charles Read & Co. to R. R. Bonard: The stock market to-day continued dull, with the bulk of the day's trading confined to a few issues, but the tone was strong and advances occurred wherever any activity developed. Interest centered around the Hill and Harriman stocks, particularly Union Pacific, which was in exceptionally good demand, the buying being restricted to a steady and quiet. A further advance in New York City four-halves was a stimulating influence.

Marshall, Spader & Co. to J. G. The market is in a position to respond more readily to favorable influences.

Table with columns: Wheat, Sept., Oct., Nov., Dec., Jan., Feb., Mar., Apr., May, June, July, Aug., Sept. and corresponding prices.

Chicago Gossip. Marshall, Spitzer & Co. wired J. G. Beatty at the close:

After hesitating all day and showing a stubborn resistance and disregard to the bullish character of the news, the wheat market finally yielded and closed very strong, over the dollar figure. The wheat market barely describes the character of the market here, not gone much higher is due for the reasons given before, viz., the weather everywhere strong with a good general demand. It is essentially a market of bull possibilities. It is largely buying by commission houses and weak only on speculative inactivity.
