- REDDING, Conn., April 21.—Samuel
- Longhorne Clemens (Mark Twain) died
- peacefully at 6:30 o'clock to-night of
- Angina Pectoris. He lapsed into coma
- at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and never
- regained consciousness.
- It was the end of a man outworn
- with grief and acute agony of body.
- Yesterday was a sad day for the little
- city of Redding. For long hours the
- features lay moulded in the inertia of
- death, while the pulse sank lower and
- lower, but late in the afternoon he
- passed from stupor into the first natu-
- ral sleep he had known since he re-
- turned from Bermuda, and this morn-
- ing awoke cheerful and in full possession of all
- his faculties.
- He recognized his daughter, Carrie
- McNish, (Miss Gabelowitch), a nation-
- al word or two, and, feeling him-
- self unequal for conversation, wrote
- out in pencil: "Give me my glasses."
- These were his last words. Laying
- aside his glasses and pencil, he sank
- first into reverie and later into final
- inconscientia. There was no thought
- at the time, however, that the end
- was so near.
- Mark Twain did not die in anguish.
- Sedative soothing and calm were his
- moments of consciousness the mental
- depression persisted. On the way up
- from Bermuda he said to Albert Big-
- elow: "Why do you fight, why will
- never pull thru with it."
- On shore once more and longing for
- the serenity of New England hills, he
- looked heart and courage and said to
- those who noted his enfeeblement in
- sorrow: "Give me a breath of Redding
- and my mood and this will pass."
- But it did not pass, and, tired, body
- and weary of spirit, the old warrior
- against shams and snobs said faintly
- to a little nurse: "Why do you fight to
- keep me alive? Two days of life are
- as good to me as four."
- Loved Goddess Nicotine.
- It is certain to be recalled that Mark
- Twain was for more than 50 years an
- inveterate smoker and the first con-
- jecture of the layman would be that
- he had weakened his heart by over-
- indulgence in tobacco. Dr. Halsey said
- to-night that he was unable to predi-
- cate that the angina pectoris, from
- which Mark Twain died, was in any
- way a sequel of nicotine poisoning.
- Some constitutions, he said, seem im-
- mune from the effects of tobacco; this
- was one of them. Yet it is true that
- since his illness began the doctors had
- cut down Mark Twain's daily allow-
- ance of twenty cigars and countless
- pipes to four cigars a day.
- No deprivation was a greater sorrow
- to him. He tried to smoke on the
- steamer while returning from Bermen-
- da and only gave it up because he was
- too feeble to draw on his pipe. Even
- on his death-bed, when he had passed
- the point of speech and it was no longer
- certain that his ideas were lucid, he
- would make the motion of waving
- a cigar and smiling, expel empty air
- from under the moustache still stained
- with smoke.
- A Good Story Teller.
- His neighbors remember him best as
- the man who above all things loved a good
- story. For Mark Twain was a native
- talker, stored with fairy tales for the
- little mounds he adored, and rarer,
- truer speech for more stalwart, man-
- ning cars. It is a legend that he was
- very proud of his famous mop of
- white hair and was said to pay the
- pains of a court lady in getting it to
- just the proper stage of artistic dis-
- array.
- The house has been thus described
- by Albert Bigelow Payne, "set on a fair
- hillside with such a slope above be-
- low, such a view outspread across the
- valley as made one catch his breath
- and only gave it up because he was
- too feeble to draw on his pipe. Even

30TH YEAR

"FINS" WRITTEN TO THE LIFE OF MARK TWAIN

Famous American Humorist Passes Quietly Away From Sheer Weakness—His Last Days Made Weary By His Inability to Smoke.

Mark Twain, the most original and the most brilliant literary genius of his generation in America, is dead. His life was embittered in later years by domestic affliction and commercial embarrassment. But thru it all the genial humor and the wholesome outlook on life remained sweet and true.

Literary excellence is a matter of the last of each age. Shakespeare was once regarded as impossible, and there are bright young men to-day who will tell you he is "rotten." Scott and Thackeray have been enthroned and dethroned and exalted again.

Mark Twain, the author of "Joan Arc" and "Huckleberry Finn" and "Old Times on the Mississippi," to mention only a few of the shelf of volumes of which he would say he had been guilty, was one of the great writers of the age.

Government Majority of Forty-nine Covers Up "Sawdust Wharf" Deal.

OTTAWA, April 21.—(Special.)—Supporters of the government to-night whitewashed Hon. William Pugsley and the "sawdust wharf" transactions of Richibucto by a majority of 49.

R. L. Borden fairly carried his followers away to-night and they cheered wildly and roared themselves hoarse for him.

"This is an absolutely undefended case," he declared. "The resolution does not go far enough. Nobody would believe," he said, "that Murray would come to Ottawa to see the minister, then go back to buy this wharf for $700 without knowing that the government would take it off his hands for $5000 to provide a campaign fund for the Liberal candidate in Kent."

Mr. Pugsley in his defence said: "If it is true that Murray and Robertson (Liberal manager) came to Ottawa, there is no evidence that they saw me in Ottawa." Murray had sworn that the subject was never mooted in his presence.

A. S. Meligen asked who would investigate if a personal charge was made, and Mr. Pugsley, in spite of repeated requests, refused to answer.

G.T.R. TO SPEND MILLIONS HERE BEFORE LONG

President Hays Tells Londoners of Great Expenditures Planned for Toronto and Montreal—Progress of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

LONDON, April 21.—(Special.)—"In Toronto and Montreal we have expenditures confronting us reaching into the millions in both places."

"Toronto will probably be commenced this year. When Montreal will be commenced, I cannot say. When we do commence it will be a big undertaking, and these two big works stand ahead of claims coming from other directions."

This was the statement of General Manager Charles M. Hays of the G.T.P., who was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Grand Trunk Pacific, held at the Tuscumbia House to-night.

The statement of Mr. Hays came as a reply to London's request for improvements, and the meaning was plain, that anything London looked for in the way of elevated tracks and a new station, would have to wait on the work being done in the two other big cities.

Other speakers of the evening were Prof. Adam Shortt, chairman of the civil service commission; J. P. Downey, M.L.A., Guelph; Mayor Bestie, and representatives of visiting boards of trade. The latter included James Simon, president Chatham board; P. H. Coate, vice-president Chatham board; J. G. Gibson, president Ingersoll board; J. M. Diver, president Sarnia board; Gilbert Pitkin, vice-president Petrolia board; E. M. McLean and Major H. B. Combe, Clinton, also among the guests.

Canon Dyson Hague pronounced the invocation which opened the banquet. Mr. Hays' address, lasting over 90 minutes in duration, was instructive, and even entertaining. His auditors paid him the compliment of keenest attention. The only real surprise was the number of a long Grand Trunk freight train passing on the other side of the wall, shaking its place in pictures of Sir John Earl, and the occasion above the heads of the visitors.

"Almost before we can appreciate it," he said, "you will have another great railway crossing the continent, and still another; and when the third is completed, there will be lots of room for the old one, and a little over 700 miles of line under the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific will be transferred to some new charter, and will be spoken of as a back number."

"In the Transcontinental you are going to have a road unique in its character, and one which you may be interested in knowing that by September 1 we hope to be handling this year's wheat crop all the way from Regina to the west of Edmonton, a total haul of 1300 miles."

"We are building from both ends, and this year's building will be but a part of it. We are building the portion of the line under my control, and before the end of this year 65 per cent. of the line from Moncton."

SECRET SOCIETIES SCORED In Pastoral Letter of Fathers of R. C. Plenary Council at Quebec.

OTTAWA, April 21.—The third and last instalment of the pastoral letter issued by the Fathers of the Plenary Council of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada, at Quebec, refers particularly to the secret societies, the Masonic order and other secret societies, all of which it severely censures, and also deals with the duties of Catholic legislators and voters.

It says many hard things of the press, which it blames for having cleared the way for divorce and other evils of society.

It concludes: "There remains a final danger to point to you, one of the most fatal to Christian society, we refer to secret and neutral societies. By secret society we mean all those occult associations more or less directly allied to freemasonry, which with various varieties of names strive with the same untrusting persistency to wipe out Catholicism from the face of the earth. The existence of these societies is held responsible for plots against the freedom of teaching and the inalienable rights of parents and the church in educational matters. National societies, that is all associations of the economic or moral order which profess religious neutrality are also condemned."

THE TORONTO STAR FIGHTING LITTLE CHILDREN.

When The Toronto Star fights the Newsboys' Union, does it know that it is fighting all unionism in Toronto? Of course, The Toronto Star knows it. Trust Cunning Joe every time to know what HE is doing. The Toronto Star's fight is against unionism in Toronto.

But the odd thing about it is that unionism in Toronto does not see what Slippery Joe is doing. Sometimes there is none so blind as he who won't see, or doesn't want to see, or would rather not see. But it is a fact, trades unionists in Toronto cannot blind that The Toronto Star's fight against the Union Newsboys is a fight against every trades union in Toronto.

Get it again. The Toronto Star is fighting trade unionism in Toronto. That Fox Joe has chosen first to fight the newest union in Toronto—the baby union—the union of small boys—is indicative of his methods, which he has learned at the feet of capital. With the Union of little newsboys beaten, the boasted solidarity of trade unionism in Toronto is given a crack that time will not cement. Slippery Joe wants to make the crack. Apparently trade unionists in Toronto are at the ringside as spectators, aiding by their inaction the pugilistic Joseph.

If Sunday Joe doesn't know it, the high priest of trade unionism in Toronto, Jimmie Simpson, could tell him, if he would, that the Union Newsboys of Toronto have a trades union charter from the American Federation of Labor, and that the charter is numbered sixteen. Regularly, and in order, the Union Newsboys of Toronto are part and parcel of the solid front of trade unionism in the city. True the Union Newsboys are still in the cradle of trade unionism, but we have all been in the cradle.

The little Union Newsboys took the plunge into unionism at the urgent instigation of Jimmie Simpson. Sweet Joe's fidus Achates in labor matters. They were told that in their hours of trouble the other trades unions would stand by them and aid. They were admonished that "in union there is strength." "United we stand; divided we fall." "Blessed be the brotherhood of man."

And the confiding little fellows believed every word of it. Now, what is the position of trades unionists in Toronto, while Czar Joe is slugging the baby trades unionists? They can't escape the fact that the Newsboys' Union of Toronto is their own child. They can't deny the fact that they are bound to aid their own kind when their own kind is in trouble and distress. They must see that if their solid front is broken, even if it is only the bones of the baby unionists, their prestige as militant trades unionists is gone. They have shown a streak of yellow.

There is no need to mince words. Trades unionists in Toronto are sturdy stuff and take and give straight talk. But if the little Union Newsboys, with the guileless confidence of children in their elders, drawn to the protecting bosom of Mother Unionism, are left all alone to fight the purse-proud newspaper organ of capital in Toronto, it is a haunting shame and unworthy of organized labor.

The little Union Newsboys want to buy The Toronto Star at 6c a dozen. The little Union Newsboys know The Toronto Star sells itself to readers outside of Toronto for $1.20 a year—much less, you see, than 6c a dozen.

Why should the little Union Newsboys pay more for The Toronto Star than the little boy vendors outside of Toronto do? Is it because the little Union Newsboys are members of a trades union? The World's advice to Little Eva is to stop fighting with the little Union Newsboys of Toronto and give them a square deal.

JURY FREES GIRL WHO LAYS CRIME ON FATHER

Eva Suter Swears Infant Was Killed by Her Parent—Verdict is Applauded and is Approved by Justice Middleton.

BEACONSBIDGE, April 21.—(Special.) Doubt caused the jury to bring in a verdict of "Not Guilty" at 10:15 to-night, in the case of Eva Suter, charged with murdering her 2-year-old illegitimate child on Sept. 20 last. A motive for the murder was not discovered. It took place in a swamp a few hundred yards from the Suter home, about 12 miles from here.

The girl told a story which was unshaken by the crown, said "My father, but he established a fairly good alibi. T. E. Godson gave an excellent address to the jury. This is the first capital case Justice Middleton has tried. The case went to the jury at 9:45 p.m.

While addressing the jury, O. M. Arnold, for the crown, said "No one man will believe her when she says her father committed the crime. But the verdict was received with pleasure."

APPLAUSE WAS QUELLED JUST IN TIME TO prevent an uproar. "I agree with you," said the Justice. "Showed No Nervousness. Eva Suter is either heartless, possessed of almost unnatural self-control, or unable to comprehend her position. Until the commencement of her attorney's address to the jury at 7:15 p.m., she showed no emotion. Then she produced a handkerchief, bowed her head and covered her face. From her bearing during the day one would think she did it for effect. When she arrived at the court she was decidedly composed. While chatting with her lawyer, she smiled now and again. Her complexion was pale and cheek bones prominent, due to her long confinement.

She acted unflinchingly when cross-examined, answering all questions in a straightforward way. Her manner was of indifference to the result. Judge's Remarks. In summing up Justice Middleton said that, putting aside the story told by the accused, there was sufficient to convict her.

"I marvel at the fortitude with which she told her story," he said. "There were improbabilities in it, but, according to the evidence, she loved the child. She did not kill it in the first blush of shame, and it is a well-known fact that affection does not diminish, but increases, toward a child. You cannot pronounce upon the innocence of this woman without shifting the guilt off to her father."

Justice Middleton spoke of the callousness of all concerned. "I never thought it possible that a family could come here and tell what might result, in so near a relative going to the gallows, with such absence of fear," he said.

Too Much Accuracy. "Her hardness of heart is very evident, but it is not to be punished by you. It strikes me that there is too great accuracy in detail on the part of the witnesses." One of the signs of truthfulness in evidence was the inaccuracy of detail. "Too great accuracy usually points to the facts of the matter having been talked over."

Justice Middleton pointed out the seriousness of convicting an innocent person and charged the jury to return a verdict of guilty only if they were absolutely sure. "I never heard two better speeches," he said, referring to the addresses to the jury of T. E. Godson, acting for accused, and O. M. Arnold, for the crown.

Her Own Story. Eva Suter was called to the stand at 2:30 this afternoon. She spoke in a low, monotonous voice. "She said she arrived home at about 9:30 p.m. on the night before the baby's death. Evidence given by her father and sister was continued on Page 2, Column 6.

CHURCH WARDENS WIT OUT IN ISLINGTON CASE

Great Throng Attends to Hear Cooper Trial—Heavy Fines in Liquor Infractions—Notes.

The long-standing church trouble in which Rev. Mr. McGonigle and the wardens of St. George's Church, Islington, together with Alfred B. Cooper, a member of the congregation, were involved, culminated on Thursday in the York County Court House on Adelaide-street, in one of the most intensely interesting trials ever held in connection with county matters.

Practically the whole village of Islington, together with a big gathering from the neighboring district, were in attendance, crowding the old council chamber to the doors, and from first to last in a trial lasting all day there was not for a moment any abatement in interest.

Alfred B. Cooper, the defendant in the case, was early on the scene, accompanied by a few supporters only, whereas the rector, Rev. Mr. McGonigle, who came in later, was accompanied and supported by practically the entire countryside.

H. H. Shaver appeared for defendant, while the churchwardens, at whose instance the action against Cooper was entered, were represented by A. J. Anderson of West Toronto. Magistrate Ramsden presided. There were many humorous passages between counsel and between counsel and witnesses throughout the day, and the spectators were frequently excited. The charge against Cooper was that of disturbing the worship of the church on Sunday, March 15.

William T. Mason, the first witness, and one of the churchwardens, sworn, said, "Cooper was grinning and sneering at the rector and stretching out of his seat, and when the rector would go from one desk to another, he would follow him with his eyes."

"You didn't know that the bishop had warned McGonigle not to occupy the pulpit on that Sunday?" said Mr. Shaver.

"Never heard of it before," said Mr. Mason.

Robert Tier, the next witness called, said he had been a member of St. George's Church since 1861. Referring to the conduct of Mr. Cooper, he said: "Cooper stretched out and gawped at the preacher."

"Like you are doing now?" said Mr. Shaver.

"Oh, dear, no," said Mr. Tier. "I couldn't look as bad. He stood up and crouched and showed his teeth."

C. Morgan said Cooper laughed and nodded his head and stretched around in his seat. "You heard him laugh?" said Mr. Shaver.

"It was a loud smile," said witness, whereas there was so much laughter excited that counsel for the defence said, "If this continues the crowd must get out, or I will."

"You're not running the court. They don't disturb me," said Mr. Ramsden. "I ended the service because I couldn't conduct it on account of Alfred Cooper's behavior," said Mr. McGonigle.

Testifying in his own behalf, Cooper denied utterly the charge that he had made faces at the rector, denied that he had followed him unduly with his eyes, and claimed that his conduct had been eminently right and proper.

Miss Cooper and Mrs. Dixon, two sisters of Cooper, were placed in the witness box by the defence, and swore that their brother's conduct was exemplary. This closed the evidence, and, following brief addresses by the counsel, the magistrate said, "I find the defendant guilty, and I must make a conviction with costs, but the question of penalty will stand pending the future behavior of defendant."

WEST TORONTO, April 21.—St. John's Anglican Church is being enlarged to accommodate the increase in the number of the choir. The work will be completed by next Sunday, when Mr. E. Morley, student in charge of the west end mission, will preach in the morning, and F. J. Lynch in the evening.

On Sunday, special services will be held in Davenport-road Methodist Church.

HUMBER BAY, April 21.—Rev. A. E. Vincent is comfortably settled in his new home on Queen-street, near the Baptist mission, where missionary services will be held on Sunday. E. W. Marsh of McMaster University will give an address on "Egypt" in the morning, and in the evening the pastor will speak.

Albert Chign is erecting a new veranda on his summer residence, Lakeview-road, at a cost of about $500. Albert M. Seltzer has just returned from Vibe, Ont., where his mother, Mrs. John Switzer, passed away in her 86th year.

EAST TORONTO, April 21.—(Special.)—The Y. M. C. A. hall never held a larger or more delighted gathering than to-night, when under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y.M.

C.A., "The Old Maid's Convention," a humorous and interesting play was given, contributed wholly by local talent. Early in the afternoon, the management issued a notice cancelling the further sale of tickets, the limit having been reached. The costumes were especially unique, and while the Women's Auxiliary rendered yeoman service, not a little of the credit may fairly be given to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bell, the former the efficient and courteous secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

CLEAN UP IN COUNTRY. Seventeen liquor prosecutions have been begun by the provincial license department, and a general clean-up in the city is in progress. In yesterday morning's county police court, before Magistrates Sanderson and Davidson, Mrs. Minnie Wray of Runnymede-road was convicted and fined $100 and costs or three months in jail. On another charge, she was fined $20 and costs or thirty days. Both fines were paid. A four gallon keg and 27 bottles of beer were found in the house when it was searched Saturday night last. The defence was that the liquor belonged to boarders, who appeared to corroborate this.

Together with the case of Mrs. Wray, action was brought against Jane Rapley of Elizabeth-street, just across the line from the city, and within county jurisdiction in West York. In this case a fine of $100 and costs or three months in jail was imposed. Joseph Haddon was also assessed $100 and costs or three months in jail on a similar charge. Failing the necessary funds, Mrs. Rayley and Haddon were taken to jail.

The crown was represented by Assistant Crown Attorney Monahan, and the license department was looked after by Provincial Inspector Aylesworth and Inspector Dan Mackenzie of West York, with the detective staff.

This morning there will be a general clean up in West Toronto, no less than seventeen charges having been preferred against local men by the department. They will all appear before Police Magistrate Denison.

FARMER MURDERS HIS COMPANION WITH AX Slayer Believed to be Insane—Threatens Boy and Says He Will Suicide.

CARDINAL, April 20.—(Special.)—While two men were engaged in cutting up a pig, Albert Holmes, a farmer, living about two miles west of this place, suddenly attacked N. A. Bolton with an axe, inflicting wounds on the top of the head and behind the ear, killing him instantly.

It is said that Holmes' mind was unbalanced by the purchase of the farm from his victim, believing he paid too much for it. He took poison last week in an attempt at suicide.

Bolton, his victim, was a man of about 40 years. He leaves a widow and one son.

Food contains all these ingredients in a normal condition it separates these ingredients as it should and manufactures its own digestive agents, but when it is sick and sore, filled with acids, and alkalies that irritate everything they come in contact with, it does not get at the food as it should and cannot make its own juices correctly. Science has proven just what is most necessary to the stomach to produce the correct gastric fluids and to make of digestion a naturally pleasant duty. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so made as to give the stomach the highest chemical properties to aid digestion. HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

"BOSS BULL DRIVER"

Name Single Tax Lecturer Calls Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

HAMILTON, April 21.—(Special.)—The choir of the First Methodist Church, London, gave a sacred concert to-night in Centenary Methodist Church here.

David Coulter of San Francisco got only a small audience to attend his lecture on single tax, at the Arcade Hall to-night. He attacked the local board of control for refusing to publish the assessment rolls, saying that the board was "rotten and rank." He also styled Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the "Boss Bull Driver," because he had refused to hear labor deputations.

Andrew Leitich, at one time a member of the board of Leitch & Turnbull elevator manufacturers, died to-night at his home here.

The wedding of Miss Annie Potter, daughter of J. W. and Mrs. Graham, and Hamilton Cassels Oakes, of Guelph, took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents here. Rev. J. A. Wilson, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The celebration of the golden jubilee of St. Mary's Benevolent Society took place this afternoon with a brilliant reception in St. Mary's Hall. Mayor McLaren delivered an address. Mrs. J. Hogan, one of the founders of the society 54 years ago, was present.

A Costly Dog. Magistrate Jelfs imposed another $100 fine for a breach of the dog act this morning. Mrs. McIntyre, 146 East Macaulay-street, being assessed. Her dog bit a boy named Nicholas Wilvert. The court also ordered the animal to be destroyed.

For driving a horse to Dundas and back and leaving it in the rain on Monday night, H. Lamas, was this morning fined $5.

The Hamilton Steel and Iron Company has enough soft coal to last for a week, and if fresh supplies are not forthcoming five hundred men will be out of work.

The Symphony Orchestra. Frank Welman has arrived! The performance of the Toronto Symphony orchestra last night at Massey Hall has surpassed anything that Mr. Welman has yet presented to a local audience, and the rendering of Liszt's Symphony, No. 2, "Les Preludes," was in the highest class of quality and interpretation. Liszt's tone poem was beautiful music, beautifully given.

Nothing could be more enchanting than the exquisite third phrase with its double quartet of horns and muted brass played with perfect precision. The delicacy and mastery of quality of the playing through this phrase indicated the very finest taste and a conductor whose every gesture was a masterpiece of the world of great art. The fine massive tone obtained in the first movement of the overture to "Lohengrin" and Mr. Welman gave a thoroughly satisfactory rendering. The Bacchante music was rewarded with Hugo Wolf's "Er Ist," which in turn was encored and London Ronald's lovely "Sunbeams," delightfully sung. The trio of Dutch nursery rhymes with the quaint body action and facial expression delighted everyone, and they were all encored, the first two being repeated, and the third, after four recitals, was followed with Strauss' "Cacilie."

There was a crowded and brilliant audience. A.E.S.S.

JURY FREES GIRL WHO LAWS CRIME ON FATHER

was that she did not get home till nearly 1 a.m. Soon after, she said, her father came downstairs and made an improper proposal to her. She refused him. She said her father had seduced her in November, 1907, and continued his relation with her. She left the house at 11 a.m. on Sept. 20. Changing the child's dress, she did not put boots or a hat on him, because she had none. Then she took the child and some baggage and left.

Her father was then in the garden with three of the children. While passing through the swamp her father met her. He wanted her to return home and let things go on as before. She refused, and he shoved her down and, taking the baby away, put his knee on her breast. His back was toward her and she did not see what he did. He was very angry and she was swearing. After holding her down about ten minutes, he let her up and laid the child down, took her arm and hid her toward the road. She wanted to go back, she said, but he would not let her, saying that if she told he would do the same to her.

A Straight Denial. She told people the child was being cared for in Gravenhurst, because she wanted to shield her father, on account of her brothers and sisters. She declared she had dreamed that the boy was buried beneath a root in the swamp.

"Did you commit that crime?" asked Mr. Arnold, going close to her.

"No, sir," she replied, "in the same low, unflattering tone."

Mr. Arnold remarked that she had said, after the birth of the child, that a Frank Colson, now in the Northwest, was the father.

"A baby's hat was produced by her sister as belonging to the baby. Defendant said it did not. Shoes which were also said by her sister to belong to the baby were said by her to be the property of her five-year-old sister. To explain their size, she said they had been given to the little sister about three years ago."

"Do you mean to say that that weak little old man held you down with his knee, while he choked your baby when you had your arms free, and were able to fight?" asked Mr. Arnold.

"Yes," she said.

Father's Version. Martin Suter denied in toto the allegations. When the girl got in so late on Sept. 19 he reproached her.

"If you won't be obedient and behave yourself, you will have to get out," he said. She replied that that was what she wanted, as she would be better off. He did not want her to leave the house. He noticed her leave the next morning, and next time he saw her was when the swamp was being searched for the body. She then charged him with killing the child.

She said to him: "You won't own up to it, because you're afraid to die, but I am not afraid."

"You should not put your own doing on your father's shoulders when he has a large family to keep," he replied to her. When the body was found it was nude and a piece of cotton cloth was tied tight around its neck.

Suter admitted that relations between himself and the girl had been somewhat strained since the advent of the child. He had not seen her during the six months of her captivity. "You are indifferent to her fate, then," said Mr. Gordon.

Must be experienced in estimating and supervising. Mixed salary and bonus, giving a fictitious account of where the child was. Part of the letter was personal, but Mr. Arnold wanted it read to show what frame of mind the girl was in a week after the commission of the crime. After reading the letter his lordship ruled it out, saying that the jury was not trained to reject what was indelicate.

R. E. Armstrong, district constable, said the girl had died as she meant it when accusing her father while they were in the swamp.

The "Standard" Rotary, a Noiseless, Steady, High-Speeding Sewing Machine

There is no jar or vibration about the "Standard" Rotary, because its shuttle never stops while the machine is in operation; its motion is continuous.

It is claimed of it that it "runs 75 per cent. lighter than other machines; sews more rapidly; making two motions of the treadle to three of other machines, and 175 stitches while others make 100." It certainly makes less noise than any other machine.

A strong argument in favor of the "Standard" Rotary is that it is the only sewing machine which with its own mechanism produces both a chain and lock stitch perfectly, requiring only the changing of bobbin case and bobbin for spider.

The most easily threaded of machines made.

We've a lot more to tell you about the "Standard" Rotary when you examine it in the Sewing Machine Section; fourth floor.

Protect Your Face by Using a Mask

Good catchers always want good supplies, so we have something new in Masks. This Mask is entirely new, that is welded by electricity, making it strong and rigid as of one piece of wire. Special drawn Bessemer spring steel wire is used in the construction, giving it the greatest strength with the least obstruction to the eyes; every joint is solid and rigid, reinforcing each other, and is well adapted for hard usage. A special D. and M. neck-protecting Mask is made of fine steel wire, extra heavy electric welded. It is thoroughly padded with soft calfskin pads, filled with fine curled hair, making it soft to the face. It is also fitted with the neck-protecting pad, which gives an ample protection to the neck. The head strap extends from the top of the mask to the back of the head, holding the mask in place. Price 2.25

MINSTRELS MAKE HIT

I. C. B. U. Amateurs Give Clever Performance.

Association Hall, packed to the doors, was the genuine tribute which lovers of old-time minstrelsy paid to the I. C. B. U. Minstrels in their initial performance of a series of three concerts. "The Applause," which was a vigorous throat, was thoroughly deserved, and John G. Strathdee, the musical director, who was also the composer of several very catchy songs, as well as author of the sketches, "Trouping" and "The Belle of Mobile," may rest justly on his laurels for his accomplishments and in the first-rate work of a amateur company of minstrels.

A. A. Ferris' stage arrangement and other efforts were excellent, while J. E. Byrne, who assumed the duties of a minstrel on short notice, made a sensation for himself, which Victor Lewis, the veteran in that function, was to have had the place, but unavoidably had to give up the part, right well enou.

Chorus and Soloists.
The chorus showed evidence of careful drilling, and in the opening number, as well as in the refrain with the soloists, sang with splendid tone, neat attack, and fine emotional shading. This was particularly evident in "Way Down in Alabama," by the company, and in "Bye," a new song and chorus, by John G. Strathdee, the solo being taken by the inimitable Ad. Strathdee, a well-known brother of the company and musical director of the I. C. B. U. Minstrels.

A pleasing innovation was the introduction of two old-time popular songs, when You and I Were Young, Magally, sung feelingly by Frank Horan, and "White Wings," sung in style by George Troman. George Moore made a hit with "For Your Bright Eyes," as did Wm. Laflamme with "Never Give Up," and "The Old Time Minstrel," sung by Wm. Laflamme and George Bodway with "After Breakfast," and Leo Strathdee with "Down Where the Watermelon Grows" (solo and chorus), but the vocal hit of the evening was "The Old Time Minstrel" in his brother's sitting room.

End Men and Solo.
The variety of patter between the two end men and end men was brainy and convincing. Ambrose Kirby sang several clever "catches," Frank was a hit, and his bright "lan," Leo, who got mixed up with "Apple Pie," while Ad. Strathdee and Leo Strathdee and Wm. Laflamme, as always, were inimitable with their wit and surprising repartee. In the olio, the champion dancer, Joe Hill, was a hit, as he sang and danced specialty and upheld his reputation, while Wm. Laflamme and Ad. Strathdee presented a clever burlesque sketch, "Trouping," when along with another sketch, "The Belle of Mobile," both written by John G. Strathdee, entertained the audience as well as anything of the kind given by the big professional minstrel companies. A special feature was the humorous songs, especially the "old song," by the musical director, "The Old Time Minstrel," by the company.

Milling Company Elect Directors.
At a special meeting, held at the office of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, has been announced. It includes D. Cameron, vice-president; president; Charles W. Band, Toronto; John I. A. Band, London; Charles Wurtele, Toronto; John Carrick, Toronto; Hedley Shaw, Toronto.

"FINIS" WRITTEN TO THE LIFE OF MARK TWAIN

and grey stone walls. The entrance to it is a winding, leafy lane. The last bit of literary work he did was a chapter of his unfinished autobiography describing his daughter Jean's death. He sought diversion in Bermuda, where he was the guest of vice-consul, Wm. Allen, whose young daughter Helen acted as amanuensis for what few letters he cared to dictate.

His winter was gay but not happy. When he heard of the successive deaths of his two friends, Wm. M. Laffan of The New York Sun and Richard Watson Gilder, editor of The Century, he said sadly: "How fortunate they are; no good fortune of that kind ever comes to me."

His Favorite Book.
Mr. Paine said to-night that the book Mark Twain took up from the cover beside him when he asked for his glasses, was Carlyle's history of the French Revolution, his inseparable companion and greatest favorite.

Mr. Paine said to-night that Mark Twain had put his affairs in perfect order and that he died well off, but by no means a rich man.

He leaves a considerable number of unfinished MSS in all stages of completion, and of all characters, many of them begun years ago, and put aside as unsatisfactory.

HIS CAREER

How Gifted Author Won His Way in the World.

The late Samuel Langhorne Clemens (Mark Twain), the American humorist "who made the world laugh," was born in Florida, Missouri, on Nov. 30, 1835. He was a son of John Marshall Clemens, a descendant of Gregory Clemens, one of the judges who presided at the trial of Charles I. for which the restoration of Charles II. he lost his head.

His mother was one of the famed Montagues of Kentucky, renowned for her culture and wonderful repartee. On the death of his father, Samuel Clemens entered the newspaper office of his elder brother Orion, in Hannibal. Altho but 15, he displayed marked ability as a "printer's devil," and on several occasions during his brother's absence got the paper out.

His desire to see the world induced him to leave Hannibal, and for some time he led a roving life as a journeyman printer, visiting Philadelphia, New York and Cincinnati, during his travels. Subsequently he returned to his old home and became a pilot on the Mississippi. In this new role he quickly became an expert, and it was his boast that he knew every sunken log and tricky shoal on the giant river.

On the outbreak of the civil war he served with the Southern troops, and after a narrow escape from being made a prisoner by General Grant, he was soon afterwards captured.

On the conclusion of hostilities, he became private secretary to his elder brother who, under the Lincoln administration, had been appointed secretary of the territory of Nevada. Later, after a futile attempt to make money at mining, he returned to journalism, becoming city editor of The Virginia City Enterprise. Another change of venue was made shortly, and repairing to California, he became identified with The San Francisco Call, and The Sacramento Union.

The pseudonym of Mark Twain is a direct reference to the great humorist's earlier life, the term "Mark Twain" being used by the leadmen on steamers to denote two fathoms of water. It was while employed as a miner at the Calaveras mines that he wrote his first story "The Jumping Frog," which was published in 1867. A trip to Hawaii was his next undertaking, and while here he forwarded to his paper the exclusive story of a ship burning at sea for which he was paid tenfold. He next figured as representative of The Alta California on an excursion steamer's extended trip to the Mediterranean Sea. His story of "Innocents Abroad," was founded on this trip. Hundreds of thousands of copies were sold and Clemens' reputation as a humorist was made. On this trip he met Miss Olivia Langdon of Elmira, N.Y., to whom he was married in 1870, the issue of the union being three girls and one boy, of whom but two daughters survive.

The late humorist after his marriage became part owner and editor of The Buffalo Express. He soon severed his connection with active journalism and went into the broader field of literary work. In his new home in Hartford he had as neighbors Chas. Dudley Warner, and Harriet Beecher Stowe, both of whom were warm friends of the great author.

The late Mr. Clemens lectured in every English speaking country, and his works have been translated into seven different languages, an ample testimony of his ubiquitous popularity.

Besides being a doctor of Oxford University, he had also been honored by Yale and other American seats of learning. It was the late Mark Twain's great complaint that no one would take him seriously.

"If," he said, on one occasion, "I wish to read a tragic poem every day, directly I open my mouth, commences to laugh. They will not let me be serious."

One of the best stories told of the dead humorist is one which has to do with his early days when affairs were not prospering, and the ghost did not walk regularly.

A lady seeing him pass down the street one day with a cigar box under his arm exclaimed, "Oh, Mr. Clemens, I fear you are smoking too many cigars."

"Not at all," replied Mark, sadly, "I am merely moving again."

His final ventures in the publishing business resulted disastrously to him, and he faced his declining years greatly in debt. Undaunted, however, he turned himself to the task of repaying his creditors. Some months ago his favorite daughter, a sufferer from epilepsy, died under distressing circumstances, and this was the beginning of the end. Mark Twain died as truly as it can be said of any man of a broken heart.

MUST SELL THEIR SHARES

Guelph City to Get Back Stock Held by Trustees.

OTTAWA, April 21.—(Special.)—In the senate to-day, on motion for the adoption of a report by the railway committee, on a bill respecting the Guelph Junction Railway Co., Senator Beque explained that Guelph had put up all the money for the construction of this road, which was now leased to the Canadian Pacific, except $1000 that was put up by ten citizens of Guelph, as agents of the town, for it was necessary to form a company. The road had commenced to pay, and Guelph bought the shares of six gentlemen for $400, which was accumulated interest and principal on the original $100 invested. Four had declined to part with their shares; the bill was to compel them to do so. The majority of the senate railway committee had found that these men were agents and endorsed the bill.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said Col. McCrae had declared he had not subscribed for the stock as a trustee, but as an investment.

Senator Landry moved that the report be referred back to the committee. This was supported by Senator G. W. Ross, Senator Forget and Senator Dandurand.

The Senator McMullen said he was acquainted with the project and knew that the ten shareholders were on. This was supported by Senator G. W. Ross, Senator Forget and Senator Dandurand.

Tea Time Talks

It's always tea time when you are tired or thirsty.

The Protection of Perfection

"Salada" is the choicest tea of Ceylon. It is very carefully put up in hermetically sealed lead packages. This protection preserves its perfection. The fragrance and flavor of "Salada" are absolutely secured from evaporation or contamination.

Tea is most sensitive to exposure. The delicious flavor, the delicate aroma of "Salada" would be lost or vitiated, if not locked up in that air-tight lead package.

Tea sold in bulk must lose any quality it may originally possess.

Ask your grocer for "Salada" Tea or send for a free trial package which makes 25 cups of delicious tea. We will mail it to you without charge. Say whether you use Black, Mixed or Green Tea and the price you pay per pound.

TAX RATE 17 1-2 MILLS ALDERMEN WERE DOGILE

Controllor Spence Fought Against Money From Land Sales Going to Lighten Taxes

The insurgent aldermen failed to "insure" at yesterday's city council meeting, and the result was that the tax rate was well and truly struck at 17-1/2 mills, altho, had a campaign suddenly launched by Controllor Spence, after the passing of the estimates, succeeded, the rate might have reached the 18 mills mark. As it was, the only change made was to add $9000 for a public lavatory in the seventh ward, Seydon, but a board of control had smoother sailing.

Controllor Spence contended that it was "bad financing" to include in the current revenue the amounts obtained by the disposal of tax sale land, and that it was unfair that the "unearned increment" so obtained should be devoted to lightening the burdens of the taxpayers with special reference to the large corporations. The proper way to benefit the public at large was to lay out the funds in parks and playgrounds.

It is estimated that the civic coffers will be replenished from this source this year to the extent of $45,000. The controllor desired also to deduct from current revenue $34,000 so obtained last year, and included in the surplus of $69,236, over the estimated revenue of 1909. The effect would have been to cut $75,000 of the 1910 revenue which goes to the city, and entailing probably the addition of half a mill to the rate. The vote on Controllor Spence's motion was: For—Controllor Spence, Ald. Heydon, Baird, Phelan, Graham and Hilton—5. Against—The Mayor, Controllors Ward, Foster and Church, Ald. Chisholm, O'Neill, Rowland, Hamby, McGuire, McBride, McMurrich, Weston, Welch, May, Dunn, McCausland, Spence, McCarth and Anderson—13.

Mayor George said that, while prepared to see the controllor go to some length to raise the rate to 18 mills, he was surprised at so extreme a movement. If revenue from this source were to be set aside, why not that from the street railway? Both the city treasurer and city solicitor approved the present practice.

The Budget Address. Controllor Ward, as vice-chairman of the board, delivered the customary budget address which bristled with statistics in the effort to prove that Toronto's growth warranted an increase in expenditure, but that that increase was nicely adjusted between economy and a recognition of the needs of civic service. He stated that the public demand for a reduction of the tax rate was warranted by the increase of $42,000,000 in assessment, or nearly double the increase of the preceding year.

Pointing out that two-thirds of the estimated general revenue was made up of street railway and waterworks receipts, he asserted that the estimated increase of $6000 in the former leaned to the safe side, and that, owing to the readjustment of rates and the territory added, the estimated increase of $8000 from this source might fairly be expanded to $20,000. The charge that the board had not mightily slashed the estimates was not to be considered seriously, as the amount set aside for civic service was $230,000 greater than last year. When the estimates first reached the board they amounted to 24 mills on the assessment.

"Political Sop," says Hilton. Controllor Foster warmly opposed the payment of $1500 to ex-Tax Collector R. W. White, M.L.A., Mr. White-side resigned on June 19, 1908, but because his rolls for 1907 weren't completed until a few weeks ago, Treasurer Coady recommended that he be paid a year's salary, altho his successor, William Lumbers, was also being paid.

Ald. Hilton said the payment looked like a political sop. How a man could remain on the pay roll two years after resigning he couldn't understand. Controllor Foster's motion to cut out the $1500 was supported only by Ald. Hilton and Heyd. Several aldermen said that as the city treasurer recommended payment it would show lack of confidence in Mr. Coady to override his judgment.

Police Estimates. Controllor Spence protesting $5000 of the board's action in cutting $5000 of the $494,000 estimates of the police commissioners, altho adding $9000 to Yeomen and Merchants Prove Need of License in Northwest Part of City.

Strenuous opposition to the renewal of Mrs. Kate Devaney's license for the St. Alban's Hotel, Bloor and Bathurst-street, marked the proceedings at yesterday's meeting of the license commissioners. There were many deputations from churches in the locality, besides several unattached speakers.

Rev. H. L. Noble, representing fifteen members of the Royal Templars, pointed out the board that Mrs. Devaney had not lived up to the decision made last year, and urged her to remove her hotel in six months.

"I represent more than the ratepayers," said the Rev. J. D. Morrow, "for I am here in behalf of the man who is down."

Rev. Mr. Hamilton, Rev. A. Marshall, Ald. Womersley and Mr. Bates also protested, while Thos. Maguire, in disagreeing, stated that the locality was changing from a residential to a business one.

"If you are going to transfer this license, where are you going to put it?" asked Thos. Maguire. He preferred hotels to divers.

The most representative gathering appeared before the commissioners on behalf of the Brockton Club House, the removal of the license of this convenience to the commercial life of the northwest part of the city.

There is more drinking now than there was before, and a dozen prominent business men made it clear that a license was absolutely needed for the Brockton Club House, which is to be re-located.

Councillor Kay of Etobicoke Township stated that there was a great lack of proper accommodation for incoming farmers, who, at the present time, use the facilities of a licensed hostelry.

J. W. Keery, a prominent farmer, said he had in his business used the Dundas cars for many years, and in his opinion farmers needed this hotel.

Wallace, proprietor of a dry goods and general store, strongly advocated the granting of a license.

enable men to have a day off each week. He said that as a result of trimming $8000 of the police estimates last year there was an overdraft of $10,000. There would either be an overdraft this year or the commissioners would deny the day off. The mayor said that the council "ear-marked" the $8000 item, so that it could be diverted to no other use, the day off would be assured.

Some Squabbling. Ald. Graham, chairman of the parks committee declared that the amount available for parks this year was only $3000 more than last year, and pleaded for a "reimbursement" of the $8000, which he said was ruthlessly chopped off by the board.

Ald. Dunn also clamored for an increase in the amount for permanent improvements at Willowvale Park from $2000 to $5000, and became embroiled in a heated controversy with Ald. McBride and Ald. Hilton, the latter chairman of the committee of the whole. Ald. McBride declared the park to be a mere sand pit, and Ald. Dunn came back with a scathing reference to Ald. McBride's feat of speaking 47 times at a committee meeting.

Great Novelist's Gratitude

His Bonny Child Stricken With Eczema.

Marvelous Deliverance by Zam-Buk.

The beautiful three-year-old son of Mr. Campbell Rae-Brown, author of the famous "Kissing-Cup's Race" and "The Great Newmarket Mystery," has been cured in a fortnight by Zam-Buk.

"There was scarcely a pin's point of his face left untouched by the disgusting eczema. Perfectly sound and well in other respects, imagine our feelings when, after trying many so-called cures in vain, we began to think our boy might be permanently disfigured!"

"No sooner had we applied your great remedy, than, hour by hour, and day by day, the unsightly blotches began to disappear, to fade—I can think of no better expression—gradually away, leaving behind not the very slightest trace of the affliction! His skin on his face again assumed its own delicate texture and natural bloom, and when the glad day came when the cure had been wholly effected, we could scarcely believe our eyes. Our boy, whose beautiful face had been lost to us, had been restored—a miracle had been performed by Zam-Buk."

Surely no higher testimony could be reported to prove Zam-Buk's unique power over skin ailments. The testimonial is spontaneous and unsolicited letter from such a popular author.

ANOTHER SECTION OF Melrose Park

HAVING disposed of all the front lots so far offered, we are now placing on the market another similar property directly adjoining, and forming the other half of Melrose Park.
 Yonge Street property at $27 to $30 per foot surely offers much in the way of speculation. We have left only 8 lots in Melrose Park, facing Yonge St., at these figures, on payment of $1 per foot down.

The inside lots (bordering on Delorain, Melrose, St. Germain, Marmion, Ivanhoe, Rob Roy and Selkirk Avenues) are selling for $10 per foot and upwards. On these lots you have only to pay down $10 on each 25 foot lot—the rest in easy payments.
 To place this offer within the reach of all home-seekers we offer financial assistance to parties building within a reasonable time, up to a certain per centage of the cost of the entire property.
 On Saturday afternoon, 23rd of April, we are going to afford home-buyers an opportunity of inspecting "Robins" idea of a select and restricted suburb. Our special cars leave

COBALT--Beaver Company Reports a Successful Financial Year--COBALT

Cobalt Securities Are Quiet In Accord With Other Markets

Good Nipissing Statement Sustains Sentiment, but as a General Thing Prices Are Only Steady.

World Office, Thursday Evening, April 21. In accord with other exchanges the Cobalt market was decidedly quiet today, and the changes were of a small amount in any of the active securities.

The statement presented to the annual meeting of the Nipissing Mines Company was considered eminently satisfactory, and this was taken to account for the steadiness and firmness in the stock of this company.

The selling of the flow has exhausted itself for the time being and a small rally in to-day's market was taken as an indication that some shorts were attempting to cover.

In the lower priced and more attractive issues there was less business than usual but the support to the market was sufficiently good to take care of all the stock which was offered, and in several cases rallies of a point occurred.

The market is in a peculiar frame of mind just at the moment, and while there are many buyers in sight these are holding off until they see a decided change in the trend of values.

NEW VEIN STRUCK
Little Nip Thought to Have Struck Extension of Big Nip's Vein.

COBALT, April 21.—The Little Nipias has struck a new vein at the 210 foot level from six to eighteen inches wide, carrying from five to eight thousand ounces to the ton, being an entirely new ore shoot, and extending for some considerable distance down the vein.

It is believed that this is the bonanza vein of the Big Nipias, known as the 122. Although the manager is very reticent as to the find, others affirm that this vein has been traced on the surface to where the present find has been located.

Seymour Ferland, the president of the company, was interviewed to-day upon his return from the West Indian Islands, and he confirms the information, and states that a telegram was received at the office of the company to-day, stating that this vein has been cut.

Taking into consideration the amount of ore that Little Nipias had in sight before and the new find that has been made, it is thought that the Little Nipias will go on a dividend basis shortly.

Yield at Present Prices.
Greville & Co's market letter says: Per cent.

Nipissing at present price yields: 15 Crown Reserve " " " " 19 Kerr Lake " " " " 23 La Rose " " " " 22 Buffalo " " " " 12 McKim-Dar-Savage " " " " 23 T. & H. B. " " " " 24 Right of Way " " " " 24

President Earle, in his annual report to the shareholders of Nipissing Mines Company says: Net earnings were increased more than $75,000. Dividend payments were increased $60,000. The surplus increase of operating company says: Net earnings were increased more than $75,000. Dividend payments were increased $60,000.

THE BEAVER REPORT.

On this page will be found the annual financial statement and directors' report of the Beaver Consolidated Mines, Limited, which will be submitted to the shareholders at the annual meeting on May 6 next. The report is an extended one and such as is not at all times presented to shareholders by other mining companies.

The financial year for the Beaver company has been a prosperous one, largely due, doubtless, to the capable board of directors and management which the company has.

The statement will be pleasing to the Beaver shareholders and accepted as a comment on the ability of those who have been in charge of the property.

A year ago the property was practically nothing more than a prospect; to-day it is a mine equal to many of the most prosperous in Cobalt. The company is now in excellent order and saving some unlooked for amounts of increased benefit to the many shareholders.

An interesting feature of the expense account is the small cost of the administration of the company's affairs, the total outlay for which was less than $1000.

Already there are indications of a mammoth attendance at the big benefit for the Toronto Newsboys' Home and Club to be given at Massey Hall Sunday evening, when T. C. Robinette, K.C., will give a specially prepared lecture on "The Boy, the National Asset."

The program offered in addition to Mr. Robinette's address follows: Piano solo, Violet Walsh; reading, Douglas Ludlow; song, "Hosanna," Edith Walsh; quartet selection by Helen Yellowless, instrumental selection, Smith and John Albert; vocal solo, Muriel McFadden; solo, Douglas Stanbury; solo, Muriel McFadden, and song by Leonard Smith.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The Directors have pleasure in submitting the following statement of accounts to the 28th day of February, 1910.

The shareholders will no doubt recollect that at the meeting held in 1909 the accounts then presented showed the Company in debt to the amount of $10,182.55. The additional issue of capital stock, amounting to 500,000 shares, which was authorized by the meeting to be issued and sold at the rate of not less than ten cents on the dollar with the express direction that it should be offered to the then existing shareholders in proportion to their holdings, at that rate, produced $5,355.50, and the Company has received as the proceeds of the sale of ore $66,611.25.

The statement which is submitted herewith sets forth, we think, fully the position of the Company and its affairs in detail as of February 28th, 1910. It will no doubt be familiar to most, if not all, of the shareholders that during the year we were fortunate in finding high-grade ore in one of our veins. The values in the vein were first encountered on the 200-foot level, about 250 feet north of the Timiskaming line, and after drifting along this vein for an additional 200 feet, at the present time have an exceedingly strong vein about six inches wide, carrying high values in silver. Where the high-grade ore was first encountered we sank a winze to the 250-foot level and encountered a much larger body of high-grade ore. The winze is now being put down to the 300-foot level, and we have every prospect of encountering a very fine body of ore at that level as developments on the adjoining properties have shown that the values increase with depth.

It had been apparent for some time that in order to satisfactorily and efficiently operate the mine the shaft should be timbered, new buildings erected and new plant installed. The Directors decided not to go into that expenditure until it should be demonstrated that we had ore of a shipping quality upon the property, preferring to expend the Company's capital in underground exploration for ore. After the two shipments were made the above-mentioned construction work and permanent improvements were at once proceeded with. This work, in the opinion of the Directors, has been satisfactorily completed, and the Company have now a plant which is regarded as thoroughly modern and efficient, consisting of compressor building, in which is installed one 80-h.p. boiler, one-half duplex 6-drill Rand compressor, Ledgerwood hoist; shaft house, with cage; ore house, with bumper table, etc.; dry room, cook house and dining-rooms; ice house, boiler house, office building, blacksmith shop, stable and superintendent's cottage.

During the operations on the 200-foot level several veins were encountered in the main cross-cut, and from reports and advice received from engineers of experience your directors believe that ore will be found in others of the veins, and deem it important that exploration should be aggressively pressed forward in several directions, consisting of the Company's capital in underground exploration for ore.

Mining work has now been resumed and is being conducted with the view of continuing shipment of ore at the earliest possible date, and so far as the work at present shows the ore holds in the vein, both in the winze and in the face of the drift.

The Mines Power Company are now supplying the mine with air and electricity. By getting our compressed air from the power company the cost of running the plant will be greatly reduced.

By Order of the Board.
F. L. CULVER, President.

BOYS ARE NATION'S GREATEST RESOURCE
T. C. Robinette, K.C., to Tell Why at Massey Hall—Also Splendid Musical Program.

Financial statement table with columns for Mine Office Furnishings, LESS-Depreciation, INCORPORATION ORGANIZATION AND SUPPLEMENTAL, etc.

We have audited the books, accounts and vouchers of the Beaver Consolidated Mines Limited for the financial period ending 28th February, 1910, and have found the same to be correct, and hereby certify that in our opinion the accompanying balance sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs as shown by the books on that date.

It is strongly advised that all owners of Beaver Consolidated Mines' Stock see that the same is transferred to their own name on the books of the Company at once. All transfers are made free at the office of the Cobalt Consolidated Mines, Limited, 730 Traders Bank Building.

MARKET IS IMPROVING
Although the prices of Cobalts have not yet advanced much, we have noticed good buying the last few days. This kind of buying is bound to tell in the end, and when prices start to move they will go quick.

The Advantages of a Linen Suit

Wash Goods Department Talk

IT is cool. The Medical Editor of the Ladies' Home Journal says!—Linen is the coolest of our ordinary materials, for it is a good conductor of heat, allowing it to quickly pass from the body.

It is strong, it will stand all kinds of vacation wear and tear. It has an appearance and keeps it.

It is material with plenty of character. It is never at a loss—in the parlor, on Yonge St. or in the Muskoka woods.

It is comparatively cheap. Most of our dress linens come to us direct from the looms of Belfast, Ireland, and district. And we save thus all intermediate profits.

27-inch Linen Suiting, a great cloth for the money, for children's or ladies' suits and dresses; they will stand any amount of real hard wear; colors reseda, grey, black, tan, copper, Alice, navy, pink, helio, sky and champagne. Special 15c.
