Thirty-four cases more were reported and entered in the Superintendent's book, but these parties were not prosecuted where the evidence seemed incomplete, or from other circumstances, and some were admonished and discharged.

The hills and steep inclines about the city, have been visited especially in the spring and fall by the Superintendent, who has devoted a large portion of his time to them, inspecting the drawing of heavy loads of firewood, (which is during the latter season carted in large quantities,) so that the horses might not be subjected to unnecessary cruelty:

This has been known to have had a good effect, and cruelty is not witnessed on these hills to the extent that it was some years ago.

The Committee have directed their attention more than once to the subject of overloading, but nothing practical has been arrived at, it being so difficult to make a just law regulating the weight of loads for horses,—and the Committee have also had their attention drawn to the advantages of a four-wheeled vehicle for drawing heavy loads, and contemplate introducing one of them for trial in this city.

From recent information the Committee have learned, that the barbarous and cruel sport of cock-fighting has been in a great measure abolished, and the Society has undoubtedly been the chief instrument in effecting this. It will be seen on reference to the list of cases, that there were several prosecutions for this offence; three of the defendants, the party in whose premises the fight took place, and two who aided and assisted were each fined $10, and the three other defendants for being present and betting, &c., were fined $5 each and costs. This was found to have a good effect, as the cock-pit where these scenes took place, the Committee has been informed, has been demolished.

The Mayor of the City, and three members of the Committee, formed a deputation to the Parish Priests of St. Rochs and St. Sauveur, with the view of obtaining their influence to discourage this practice, and the Committee have pleasure in acknowledging the encouragement and assistance they received in this behalf.

The attention of the Society was drawn lately to the cutting, wounding and disfiguring of some sheep by nicking their ears, and which cruelty the writer in a newspaper in this city had witnessed a short time previously. The Superintendent was directed to enquire into the matter, when it was found quite impossible to trace this case, so as to acquire sufficient evidence to obtain a conviction. This has been the only complaint of this nature that has been brought before the Society during the past year.

The Committee have desired the general public through the local prints, to co-operate with them in their work, by requesting them to report such cases of cruelty as might come under their notice, either to the nearest police station or at the office of the Society, or to the Superintendent, and they take this opportunity of again urging the community to further the objects of the Society by giving any information that they may receive regarding acts of cruelty.

The Superintendent has visited on several occasions the outlying country about Quebec, and destroyed cages used for trapping birds, and by these visits the evil has been greatly diminished.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

The 6th International Congress, London, England, was held in June last, and an invitation was kindly extended, though at short notice, to our Society, to send representatives to attend on the occasion, to which the Society replied that they would have the honor to be represented by Prof. Goldwin Smith, who was understood to be acting in that capacity for the Montreal and Toronto Societies, and a letter was forwarded to that gentleman, soliciting the favor of his representing our Society. Unfortunately, however, he was on the point of leaving England for Canada when the letter reached him, and regretted that he was unable to undertake the duty proposed to him. The Baroness Burdett Coutts also at the time of the Congress, offered to give an evening and garden party to the members of the Congress, and enquired if our Society would be then represented. Such meetings would tend to awaken interest among the Societies, and this Congress appears to have been highly successful. One hundred and seven delegates are reported to have been present, Lord Harrowby presiding. Various subjects were discussed in reference to animals, such as the necessity of securing better means for their transportation by sea and land, the teaching of humanity in schools, the protection of insectivorous birds, rewards to those employed in the care of animals, vivisection, laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and other subjects in connection therewith.

The Committee have to state that it being considered that the Society is of sufficient importance to obtain an Act of Incorporation, application has been made for the same, to the Local Legislature.

With regard to the subject of transportation of cattle, the Committee regret that the bill concerning the transportation of animals brought before the Legislature of the Dominion last session, was not passed, and express a hope that at the next meeting of Parliament there will be found no opposition to it, the Government having given a pledge that such an Act would be introduced.

INSTRUCTION OF CHILDREN IN HUMANITY.

The Committee would be glad to hear of those who have the management of schools, inculcating the giving of prizes for the best essays on the subject. Under the head of "education of children" Sir J. Kay Shuttleworth, in a late number of the "Animal World" says, in explaining the motives of a committee of ladies organized for the purpose of promoting the more positive introduction into schools of instruction in the principles of humanity to animals, and of the methods by which they hope to make the principles prevail, that that which they desire to accomplish is, "that a sentiment of kindness to the animal creation, should be from childhood instilled into the population, and that it should grow up under the influence of this principle, so that our nation should be inspired by it in all its actions."

The Committee ventures to hope that the public will grant that encouragement to the Society which is necessary for its prosperity, and that any who have hitherto been enrolled as its members, will not withdraw their support, but rather endeavour if possible to induce others to join, so that the Society may be enabled to extend its operations and usefulness.

The thanks of the Society are due to Mr. Wm. Carr, for his generous and successful efforts in its behalf, in devoting the entire proceeds of one of his interesting "readings" to its funds.

To the St. Lawrence Tow-Boat Company, for their liberality in furnishing the Superintendent of the Society with a free pass, and also to the Québec Street Railway Co.

To the Québec MORNING CHRONICLE and Événement, for favors in printing, &c., for the Society.

To Messrs. Heigham and Voyer, of the Provincial Police, for their co-operation ; and to Messrs. Gethings and Foley, of the Recorder's Court, for their professional assistance.

To the Royal Society, London, England, for copies of the "Animal World."

To the Massachusetts Society, Boston, U. S., for copies of "Our Dumb Animals," and other pamphlets ; and to the San Francisco Society, for the "Animal Friend."

Reports from the following Societies have been received during the past year, viz :—
