Owing to Clerical Hostility Nationalists May Not Accept It.

Pessimistic Turn Given to Parliamentary Opinion -- 'Twill Require All Redmond's Ability to Get the Bill Through.

LONDON, May 14.—The opinion in the lobby of the house of parliament on the prospects of the Irish council bill, which is designed to meet the demands for Irish Home Rule, took a very pessimistic turn last night by the growing belief that the Nationalist convention which is to be held in Dublin, May 21 and 22nd, will not accept the bill.

A VILLAGE ENGULFED

VIENNA, May 14.—It is reported here from Sarajevo that the Turkish village of Mustajane, consisting of thirty houses, and situated on a hill, was suddenly engulfed last Sunday night, presumably as a result of volcanic disturbance. Several of the inhabitants of the village perished, the remainder escaping by flight.

WALL STREET

That stock ran off 3/8 and there were sharp declines in other speculative favorites. Reading, C. & A. and Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper 5/8. There were a few points of resistance to the declining tendency, American Smelting rising 3/4 and then which its gain. The market was dull and narrow.

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE STOVE STEALING CASE

Wm. Mahoney Placed on Trial in the Police Court This Morning -- Two Stoves Missing Now Instead of One

A case which aroused considerable interest at the police court this morning was that against William Mahoney, charged with stealing from the McClary Manufacturing Company, on April 30th, a steel range, valued at $32. Several witnesses were examined and in the evidence it developed that a second stove had disappeared from the same establishment and investigation may result in the placing of another charge against the prisoner, who has been remanded till tomorrow morning.

DOWN GOES WHEAT ON THE CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, May 14.—A recurrence of yesterday's frenzied excitement characterized the initial transactions on the board of trade today, but the opening quotations showed a much narrower range than did the first quotations of the previous session. The tendency at the start was toward higher prices, but enormous realizing sales quickly carried prices down to 3 cents per bushel. From 96 1/2 to 97 1/2, the opening quotations on July, the price dropped back to 94 3/4. September opened at 97 1/2 to 98 and declined to 96 1/8; December sold off to 98 1/8, after opening at 99 1/8 to 99 1/2.

Mrs. Corey was attired in a simple dark colored traveling dress, which she had donned immediately after the ceremony.

CHAMPLAIN'S TOMB

Believed That Its Exact Location Has at Last Been Found

QUEBEC, May 13.—The exact location of the tomb of Samuel de Champlain, founder of Quebec, has been for years the subject of dispute among Canadian writers, but the mystery seems now to have been solved. It was known that Champlain, who died in 1635, had been buried in the Champlain chapel, also called Chapelle du Gouverneur, which was destroyed by fire in 1649, and no plan having been found to establish its site in the Ancient Capital, the location of the illustrious founder's tomb became the subject of much controversy.

A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

"And the poet turned it to good account," said Visconti. "Methinks he used his love for money-making; he coined the lady laure into good gold pieces."

"Now, my lord, is that not spite because Messer Petrarca left his library to Venice?"

Visconti laughed. "Let him leave his library where he pleased, he was a fine man of business, say I."

"And a wearisome poet," said de Lana. "O Fiametta!" said Visconti laughing.

"Joanna! Naples and the blue sea! These are thy patron saints, de Lana!"

"Nay, I like not that book of feeble love-making any better," replied de Lana; "a Florentine dallying!"

"I doubt if thou hast ever read it," said the Duke gaily.

"Alighieri is more to de Lana's mind," remarked da Ribera, pouring wine, "and the fair daughter of old Folco. I used to sing Alighieri's verses till I tired."

"Yoursself or your audience, my friend?"

"Yoursself looked at the speaker. 'You have mentioned Alighieri, forgetting who was his patron,' whispered de Lana to the Duke.

"The court of Verona and Can' Gian' della Scala—"

"He recanted, my good lord; he died a Ghibelline," said da Ribera, acting on the whisper.

"Mastino della Scala was a Ghibelline, conti e conti," said Visconti. "But Mastino was no patron of poets like his father. He leaned back in his chair and looked out of the window, where above the beautiful fresh snow, showed the faint smoke-wreaths green, the last of Novara."

"De Lana, you stood next; what did he say—as he went over?"

"At the sudden brutal question, they started, and de Lana suppressed a shudder."

"I did not hear—I thought—he was dear."

"I think you are still afraid of him," smiled Visconti. "I should like to know what he said." And he looked round for Giannetto, who had shrunk into a corner, and sat there gazing dully at the company.

"Did you hear, Giannetto?"

"If how should I, my lord? and the secretary shuffled uneasily."

"Hil' a sullen knave!" cried Visconti, then he leaned forward and touched de Lana on the arm.

"I hear more arrivals—hark!"

"What should this be?" asked da Ribera in surprise. "Not my Lord Arezzo from Modena?"

"From Modena?" cried Visconti with sparkling eyes. "Is there success there too?"

"Your arms cease to meet with aught else, Lord Visconti," said de Lana. "I drink to your perfect triumph!" He raised his glass, red as a huge ruby in the light, and Visconti triumphantly indeed, when the leader of a faction admitted it and deemed it politic to say so, drank to de Lana's good fortune.

There was a clatter of footsteps and the noise of a great entry.

"Silence!" said Visconti. "Tis Arezzo, I hear his voice."

The door was again thrown wide, this time upon a splendid cavalier, clad in magnificent armor, shining beneath his sword-stained cloak.

"Success rest upon your helm, Visconti, or Lombardy is yours!" He

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS AT ONE TIME

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, and, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organs must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, sores, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes, or some other and perhaps inscurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

For all cases of bad blood. Mr. Ernest R. Tupper, Grand Hill, N.S., says: "I thank Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly. It is $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00."

WHEN SHE PLAYS ON THE BEACH.

Play dresses, when little milder makes mud pies and dig sand on the beach, should be practical affairs of serviceable gingham, devoid of any unnecessary trimmings in the form of ruffles or frills. The jumper dress is considered the best model, for when the heat of the summer becomes almost unbearable the gimpie, usually of white lawn, may be removed. Small check gingham in blue and white and green and white combinations are usually selected for these dresses, which are made with straight full skirts, tucked or plain, and joined to the little waist, which blouses slightly over a narrow stitched belt. The sleeve may be a loose kimono cape, or any puff. Hats of linen or duck or broad-brimmed straw affairs protect the small wearer's head from the sun's hot rays.

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

School Board Decides to go Ahead With New School Building on the Weldon Lot.

At a meeting of the board of school trustees Monday it was finally decided to go ahead with the new school building on the Weldon lot. Architect H. H. Mott will at once draw up plans and specifications. It will contain rooms for an assembly hall and, if possible, six of these rooms will be placed on the ground floor. It was understood that the building will be heated by steam and will not cost more than $35,000 complete, which will leave $5,000 for furnishings.

REGAIN NOW THE STRENGTH YOU LACK

Winter Leaves Us Miserable, Ailing, Weak. BUILD UP NOW

During the winter the system gets sluggish. The blood, polluted with impurities, clogs the nervous system and dulls the action of both liver and kidneys; the looseness of the system increases and when spring comes we are limp and useless.

"Spring system cleaning" is a duty; the body's sewers must be flushed out and waste matter removed—otherwise weakness and nervousness will surely follow. Pure and nutritious by taking Ferreroze, its greatest blood former known to medical science.

Ferreroze makes the liver fairly sing with new life, makes the kidneys dance with renewed vitality, and thus the winter's accumulation of pollution is expelled.

Of course digestion must be improved, and probably the stomach will require aid as well. Ferreroze serves the purpose admirably. Those who use it, enjoy appetizing and digestive powers far beyond the ordinary.

That tired feeling is replaced by the buoyant, joyous sensation of health and vigor. Day by day as your strength increases, you feel new energy surging through your veins, and know that a tonic of great merit is at work.

No remedy more nourishing or uplifting, no treatment so sure to bring lasting health, good spirits and contentment. Ferreroze is a tonic of the highest quality, and its use is a duty for all who are suffering from weakness, nervousness, or indigestion.

At the annual meeting of the St. John Relief and Aid Society Monday, Charles A. Everett was elected president, in place of the late James Reynolds. He also announced that he would still continue to discharge the duties of secretary. S. S. Hall was elected treasurer, and the following were named directors for the ensuing year: Mayor Sears, Hon. W. H. Tuck, C. A. Everett, R. O'Brien, Wm. Peters, Dr. A. F. McAvenny, Hon. J. V. Ellis, W. H. Thorne, Timothy Burke, Henry Hilyard and William Shaw. The executive committee consists of: Dr. McAvenny, E. J. Everett, Dr. Inches and C. A. Everett.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nervous system—weakness, always. And the heart and kidneys as well have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath, or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative free to all.

Don't Condemn Yourself to Bright's Disease

TAKE GIN PILLS NOW

Bright's Disease claims its thousands yearly solely because people won't heed nature's warnings. Pain in the back and constant headaches mean Kidney Trouble. Swollen hands and ankles, and pain in the joints, mean Kidney Trouble. Frequent desire to urinate—urine hot and scalding—mean Kidney Trouble. Neglecting sick kidneys means Bright's Disease.

If you suspect they are affected—give them the help they need—GIN PILLS. Taking GIN PILLS regularly soothes the irritated, inflamed membranes—gives to the kidneys new strength—corrects every kidney and bladder trouble.

MADEIRA, May 13, 1907. I received the sample box of GIN PILLS and was greatly benefited by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition I could get little sleep without great pain. In fact they pained me more at the time. It has been three hours, resting all the time, and heavy work on the railroad did not tire me any.

And they are sold on a positive guarantee that they will cure you or money refunded. Put them to the test with the understanding that you must be cured or you get your money back. So sure are we that GIN PILLS are just what you need in your own case, that we will send you a free sample to try. Write, mentioning this paper, to the Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg.

HON. A. S. WHITE SAYS "NOT TRUE"

He Denies All Reports That He Will Become Attorney General in Local House.

Fredericton, May 13—Thomas Clair, M. P., of Clair Station, Madawaska, was among the arrivals in the city this evening. Interviewed by The Telegraph correspondent in regard to the lumber drives on the upper St. John river, he confirmed the reports that they were making rather slow progress. He went on to say that the water had fallen seven feet at Clair during the past week. The weather had been very cold. There is still about a foot of snow in the woods of the upper St. John, and Mr. Clair thinks that if the weather moderates, even should there be no rain, the drives would be got out. Under present conditions, however, he thinks the lumbermen are having a pretty hard time of it.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, ex-minister of railways, Hon. A. S. White, and A. E. Copp, Liberal organizer, were among the arrivals in the city this evening. They met J. H. Barry, K. C., at the Queen hotel, and had a consultation with him with regard to the Gleaner libel suit. Asked by The Telegraph correspondent if the report was true that he intended to withdraw his civil suit and substitute a criminal action against J. H. Crockett, manager of the Gleaner, Mr. Emmerson declined to make any statement. He said that the object of his visit here was merely to have a consultation with his solicitor in regard to the case.

Hon. A. S. White was asked if there was any truth in the report that he was likely to succeed Hon. Dr. Puley as attorney-general and seek election in Kings. He replied that some of his friends were anxious for him to re-enter politics, but he was not inclined that way. "I held the office of attorney-general once," said he, "and gave it up, and I am not seeking it again."

He went on to say that he was here to interview the government in regard to the Restigouche Boom Company matter. The monthly meeting of the local government will be held here tomorrow evening. Rumors of reconstruction are in the air, but it is hardly likely that there will be any change at the present time.

A PLEASANT RE-UNION

Carleton Presbyterian Church Jubilee Celebration Last Evening Was a Success.

A congregational reunion, held last evening in Carleton Presbyterian church as a part of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary, was largely attended and much enjoyed. After scripture reading and prayer by Rev. L. A. McLean and Miss A. M. Hill, a duet was sung by Mrs. Chorney and Dunlavy.

Rev. Dr. Fotheringham, in a pleasing address, conveyed the greetings of the Presbyterian clergy, and read a number of letters from former pastors. Rev. H. D. Marr and Rev. W. H. Sampson spoke for the clergy of other denominations, and by to have a consultation with his solicitor in regard to the case.

The meeting then resolved itself into a social, and a very pleasant time was spent. Refreshments were served by the ladies, and all were well satisfied with the entire proceedings.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Schofield returned yesterday after their wedding trip. W. J. Shannon, of Annapolis, is at the Victoria.

AN INDUSTRY RECLAIMED

Not long since the press of St. John was able to announce that the cotton mills of this city, which had been taken over by local investors a few years ago, at a time when they were idle and apparently out of the race, had been converted into a profitable industry. Today it is announced that a voluntary increase of ten per cent in wages has been made by the directors. As this affects some five hundred and fifty employes, it means much for the city.

THE BULGE IN WHEAT

When the stock markets are dull, what are called the commodity markets not infrequently attract the attention of speculators. At the present time wheat is the centre of interest. The sensational rise in Chicago yesterday followed a somewhat rapid advance for some weeks past. The somewhat gloomy crop news gave the speculators encouragement to turn from Wall street stocks to the allotments of the wheat. Since the reckoning of March 14th, on the stock market, business there has been extremely dull, but July wheat in that period has gone up from 78 1/8 to a dollar. Cotton has also advanced. There has been heavy trading in the wheat market and on the cotton exchange. Speculation, therefore, has not collapsed, but has turned into new channels. The public has not been much interested in wheat for a couple of years, but with nothing doing in Wall Street the wheat market, especially in view of discouraging crop news, looked very tempting and the public rushed in. The New York Evening Post, commenting on the transfer of attention from the stock to the commodity markets, points out that this is no new thing, and also that the two markets are seldom very active at the same time without disaster to the speculators. We quote:—

HUMAN FAILURES

Any citizen who knows his town is familiar with a certain number of persons who, through ignorance and indolence, have become utterly worthless members of the community, and who are to some extent a burden, either upon their relatives or upon the general public. The type may be recognized by the observant eye along Union street or around King Square, and in other places about the city. Here is a strong young man, who is supported chiefly by his parents or sisters. Yonder is a husband whose wife bows beneath the burden of family support. And there are others who are practically homeless, but who continue to subsist in order that they may drink.

The community knows these persons, and occasionally reads, perhaps with very little interest, that one or another of them has figured in the police court. They are generally harassed, so far as vicious or criminal acts are concerned, and therefore the public does not concern itself about them. They are permitted to go to the devil in their own way. Occasionally one drops out of the ranks, the word "failure" written large across his life, and there are few or none to mourn.

It would be unjust to say that these men go down without any demonstration or pleading on the part of friends. But after they reach a certain stage it appears to be taken for granted that further effort is useless. Perhaps this is not surprising, when one considers how shabbily the well-meaning friend is frequently used by men who have surrendered the better part of their manhood to a depraved appetite.

"In the majority of seasons, speculators crowded out of one market, because it no longer moves promptly, go in search of another which does. For this purpose, something in existing conditions which at least suggests a possible change in values is necessary. After the rich men's panic and consequent stagnation of 1903, Wall Street itself trooped after Sully to bid up prices for the deficient cotton crop. Stocks were abandoned in the summer of 1901 to speculate in corn. Leiter's extraordinary wheat speculation of 1898 might not have been possible but for the curb put upon Stock Exchange speculation by the Spanish war.

"It will naturally be asked whether speculation for the rise ever occurs simultaneously in the market for stocks and for commodities. At times it has done so, and generally with bad results. One instance was the spring of 1895, when speculators, released from fear of a breakdown in the treasury, began simultaneously to 'bull' stocks and wheat. The buyers of stocks had to readjust their reckoning before the summer was over. Even when circumstances favor a coincident rise in stocks and commodities, something must be said for the supply of capital. To that there is a limit, as certain distinguished financiers learned, when they were conducting a boom in stocks, in the face of last autumn's land and mine speculation."

The statement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will today place before the imperial conference a scheme for a fast inter-imperial steamship service, backed by the government, is one of the most important announcements made in recent years in relation to imperial trade. If adopted it will do much to revolutionize traffic, and draw into closer sympathy the far-reaching areas that make up the British empire.

The statement of Mr. W. S. Fisher that more lower province manufacturing houses should establish branches in the west is worthy of attention. The western market is rapidly growing, and freight rates do not bar out the products of factories from this part of Canada.

The proposed new school building on the Weldon lot is greatly needed, and will relieve a congestion that the compulsory attendance law would have made more acute.

THE OLD MILL

(Thomas Dunn English.) Here from the brow of the hill I look, Through a lattice of boughs and leaves, On the old gray mill with its gawdred roof, And the moss on its rotting eaves. I hear the clatter that jure its walls, And the rushing water's sound, And I see the black float rise and fall, As the wheel goes slowly round. I rode there often when I was young, With my grist on the horse before, And talked with Nelly, the miller's girl, As I waited my turn at the door. And while the tossed her ringlets brown, And stirred and chatted so free, The wheel might stop, or the wheel might go, It was all the same to me.

SCRIBBLING IN PUBLIC PLACES (Civic Bulletin, Newport, R. I.) The student of history, seeking for modern parallels in the political, social, and economic life of the past, is not less impressed by the intensely modern aspects of life among the Romans of the First Century A. D. The social and industrial problems and the life and thought of that time are much more like those of today than the life of our own ancestors during the middle ages. In the case of the Roman, the habit of scribbling on public walls was a prevalent habit in antiquity—a habit which may be accounted for by the use of the sharp-pointed wand with wax tablets—and the remains of graffiti (scribbles) found at Rome, Pompeii, and other places indicate that the composition of the Roman was the style upon the polished stucco of the walls was fully as great as that of the people of today to use their lead pencils or fountain pens upon the freshly painted surface of a fence or on the marble and granite blocks of a public building. Scratches and scribbles of all kinds, catch phrases, couplets, rough sketches of persons and things, are found on the walls and pillars in the Roman cities and the saying: "Fool's names like their faces" are always seen in public places.

As was true in ancient times as it is today, it has been conjectured that many of these graffiti, to judge from the height at which they are found above the floor, were the work of boys and girls, while some, doubtless, were made by older people possessed by the same mania for scribbling. A walk through our own streets convinces us that there are many defacers of public property living among us. The writer recently noticed on a newly painted fence bits of arithmetic sums, names of people, and rude sketches and caricatures all written with pencil and charcoal, and as if that were not enough, long way scrolls had been marked back and forth over the whole extent of the fence. As this was in the neighborhood of a school building, it was evidently the work of children on their way to and from school. But the children are not the only guilty ones. A walk along the cliffs will furnish plenty of evidence on this point. The autographs of tourists are to be found on walls, gateways and the marble blocks of known graffiti preserved at Rome—"Truly 'tis wonderful, wall, that you have not fallen in ruins, Forged without murmur to bear the taint of so many hands."

It is difficult to find a motive for such willful defacement of the property of others. Surely there can be no respect for the rights of the individual or of the state in the mind of one who thus injures what is not his own, and the aesthetic sense must be as dull as the moral in the person who fails to see that such injury detracts from the cleanliness and beauty of this city. We can not emphasize too strongly, in the teaching of our children, a due regard for the property rights of others, and an appreciative care for civic beauty. With the coming of spring, and the freshening and repainting of houses and fences, let us hope that greater consideration on the part of old and young alike may put an end to this disgraceful habit of writing in public places.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

THE ETERNAL CITY IS A SPLENDID PRODUCTION

Kirk Brown's Company Does Its Best Work Yet in Hall Caine Play.

St. John theatre-goers, or as many of them as could crowd into the Opera House, saw the Eternal City last night for the first time; saw it, liked it, became enthusiastic, and went away practically unanimous in the opinion that they had witnessed the very best effort of a sterling actor, backed by a leading woman of wonderful ability and supported by a company as near perfect as a company can be. Mr. Kirk Brown, who has so ably entertained us for the past week, has done excellent work here; work that would stamp him anywhere as a player of merit, but until the curtain rose on last night's production we had not seen him at his best.

In the character of David Rossi his triumph was more complete than when his friends had expected, and whatever he may do in the characters he will present to us before his all too brief engagement in St. John terminates he will undoubtedly be best remembered for his Rossi. Even his justly famous Othello, in which he secured the success of his last season's engagement, and in which he will, by the way, be seen next week, cannot surpass his conception of the humanitarian and whole man David Rossi which comes to us as one of the most picturesque and most human types in the whole realm of modern drama.

A popular play production is a difficult one to criticize, even when it merits any detailed treatment. Always the striving for "popular prices" looms up largely as a barrier to the critic and a safeguard to the actor. The theatre-goer says "at popular prices we cannot expect merit," and criticism in such cases to be just must be kind. Kirk Brown's company has seldom, if ever, required that grace of "popular prices" looms up largely as a barrier to the critic and a safeguard to the actor.

On the whole "The Eternal City" is by long odds the best production Mr. Brown's company has given us and that who fail to see it tonight will miss a real treat.

MUNDAY KNIGHT. FINE PICTURES AT THE NICKEL This Week's Bill One of the Best the Popular Theatre Has Yet Had. The growing popularity of the Nickel was clearly evidenced yesterday afternoon and evening, when the new bill for the first half of the week was presented to immense audiences, who were fairly enraptured with the pictures, in which combined humor, instruction and mystery. During the entire afternoon and evening not only the auditorium but the lobby and stairways were literally thronged with young and old, eager to witness the Monday show.

"A MIDNIGHT MARRIAGE" W. E. Corey and Mabelle Gillman Wedded Just After Midnight This Morning. New York, May 14.—To avoid the unlucky thirteenth of the month, William Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation and Mabelle Gillman, the former actress, were not married until after midnight this morning. The ceremony took place in the royal suite at the Hotel Gotham, Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street, in the presence of a small party of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick avenue Congregational church, of Brooklyn.

THE RAINBOW FESTIVAL About 500 people were in attendance last night at the rainbow festival opened in St. Patrick's Hall, Carleton, in aid of the church fund for the summer. The young ladies of the parish deserve great credit for the tasteful manner in which they decorated the hall with white, blue and green bunting. The different booths are beautifully trimmed and despite the cool weather the ice cream booth was exceptionally well patronized. The City Cornet Band will be in attendance tonight and different city bands will furnish music during the rest of the week. An orchestra furnished music last night. Those leading in the games last evening were: Bagatelle—Miss Vera McDonald; Bean Toss—Miss Jennie Fitzgerald; Excelsior—Fred Morgan; Klondike block—Alex Wilson.

RECEPTION TO NEW RECTOR Rev. R. A. Armstrong, the new rector of Trinity, was tendered an informal reception and luncheon at Seaman's cafe, by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, yesterday evening.

The recovered gentleman was warmly welcomed to the city by Allan H. Wetmore, on behalf of the brotherhood, and Rev. Dr. W. O. Raymond for the clergy, while L. P. D. Tilley represented the "unattached men of the city."

Rev. Mr. Armstrong made a suitable reply. Hon. C. H. LaBillico, chief commissioner of public works, was in the city, yesterday on his way to Fredericton. He stated that arrangements had been made for a caretaker to be constantly on hand at the Nerepis bridge, to avoid delays as in the past. Arrangements have been made for repairs to the roads in this vicinity.

BARK OSBERGA REACHES BOSTON Badly Battered and With Her Crew Exhausted She Limped Into Port Last Night. Boston, May 13.—Shorn of her top hamper and with her crew practically exhausted from hard work and meagre provisions the British bark Osberga, of Matland (N. S.), Capt. Hatfield, arrived in the harbor tonight from Turku Island, after a tempestuous passage of fifty-nine days. The usual passage by vessels of the Osberga type is from twenty to twenty-five days. Almost from the time that the bark left Turku Island until she finally reached the Nantucket lightship she was subjected to a continuous series of gales which wrenched all her upper spars and left her but few sails with which to reach port.

The Osberga left Turku Island with a large cargo of salt on March 15. Three days later she was struck by a squall, which carried away her main top gallant mast and tore her sails. The vessel was sent off before the wind and the repairs were made when she was again headed on her course.

This experience was repeated no less than eleven times in the course of the next six weeks, until nothing remained above the lower masts. At one time the vessel sprang a leak and all hands, including the captain's wife, were obliged to man the pumps for more than six hours before she was finally freed. The salt reached her tanks of drinking water and since the first of April the crew have been obliged to drink brackish water.

LOUIS SMITH HEARD FROM

His Wife Says She Had a Letter from Him—McGill Still Missing.

Louis Smith, the Brussels street clothes maker, who has been missing from since last Thursday, has been heard from. Mrs. Smith, his wife, told the Times today that she had received a letter from her husband and expected him home at noon today, or else this evening. She declared he had been only a few miles from the city, but declined to say where. She emphatically denied having said a word to the police about the matter. Inquiry at the home of Robert McGill, also missing since last Thursday, did not further information as to his whereabouts and all efforts to locate him have been unavailing.

WEDDINGS

MR. FITZPATRICK SWORN IN

OTTAWA, May 13—(Special)—Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the supreme court of Canada, was sworn in administrator of the dominion in the absence of Lord Grey this afternoon.

WILL PAY THE FUNDS BACK

Dominion Will Return Ontario's Trust Funds to That Province

OTTAWA, Ont., May 13—(Special)—The result of today's judgment of the supreme court dismissing the appeal of the province of Ontario against the dominion will affect any of the other provinces that may have trust funds with the federal authorities. The dominion government over held, since Confederation, trust funds of the province of Ontario amounting to $1,909,000 for the grammar school and Upper Canada College building and improvements. Up to January 1st, 1905 the dominion paid 5 per cent interest. From that date it was changed to 4 per cent, the dominion at that time offering to pay the principal or accept the reduced interest. The case was brought to the exchequer court when it was decided that the interest should be five per cent but the dominion had the right to pay the principal if disposed to do so. The province appealed to the supreme court, and it has been dismissed so that the Federal government will now pay over the principal to Ontario with one per cent interest from 1905 to date, making $45,000 in addition to the 4 per cent already paid. No costs to either party.

NOVA SCOTIA GIRLS WIN IN A BEAUTY CONTEST

North Sydney Herald: Miss Eola Thornton Rice is the most beautiful woman in Washington, says the Washington Times. She is the final winner of the great beauty contest which was inaugurated to find the loveliest woman in the national capital—a woman of such superlative beauty that she should fittingly represent the city in the National Beauty Contest, between the cities, states and sections of the country. She was selected as the most beautiful among 1786 whose photographs were submitted for the beauty contest. The selection was made by three eminent artists. Miss Eola Rice is one of seven sisters, every one of whom is a beauty. She is next to the youngest. She also has two brothers. The second prize went to her sister, Miss Ruby Rice. Miss Rice is the daughter of Moses P. Rice, one of the best known photographers of Washington, who is a son of the late Robert Rice, of Little Bras d'Or, C. B.

THE EVERY DAY CLUB

The active members of the Every Day Club did a lot of work on the Victoria grounds last evening, and in addition to their work several men will be busy all day until the 24th, when the sports take place. There is a great deal of work to be done on the fences, grand stand and grounds, which had been allowed to fall into a bad state. Samuel Kelly has been appointed care-taker of the grounds, and will hereafter be found there every day. The club will hold another dime concert in aid of the grounds fund on Friday evening next. The members will be at work on the grounds again this evening.

SACKVILLE

SACKVILLE, May 13—The graduating recital of Miss Florence Robb, violin, Amberst, and Miss Winifred Sinclair, reader, Halifax, was held at Beethoven Hall on Saturday evening, and was largely attended. Miss Robb's numbers were well executed, showing much talent and excellent training. Miss Sinclair, as a reader, was well received. After five years efficient service at Mt. Allison Conservatory, Miss Florence Webb, Halifax, has resigned to accept a position on the musical faculty of Belmont Ladies' College, Nashville, Tenn.

HERE'S A BACKWARD WEATHER

Sale of Irish Hand-Embroidered Linen Waist Patterns and Robes.

MOST UNUSUAL OFFERING.

TO BE CANDID AND FRANK we expected to sell all these lovely garments last month and early in May, but everybody knows how wintry the weather has been; cold blustery days that have deterred such sales to a rather serious degree. Therefore, to ensure the ultimate clearance of the whole supply we have decided to make the following reductions in prices—mind you all this Summer's goods—

BEAUTIFUL PURE LINEN EMBD. WAIST PATTERNS, now $1.65, 2.00, 2.25, 2.70, 3.00, 3.30, 3.95. Dainty up-to-date designs, exquisite needlework.

WHITE HAND-EMBROIDERED LINEN ROBES, $7.00, 7.50, 8.00 8.50, 9.00, 10.00, 10.50, 12.50, 13.50, 17.00, 17.50. All have Round Skirt, hemmed at bottom, requiring only the band at top and skirt sewed up the back. Embroidered Waist lengths to match each skirt. A few have Bolero Jacket, others Short Jackets.

SPECIAL LOT OF NATURAL LINEN ROBES, only $4.25 each. In the real linen color. Both Skirt and Waist being Hand-Embroidered most beautifully. Only fifteen in this bargain lot.

ANOTHER SPECIAL LOT OF LINEN-FINISH ROBES, at $4.25 each, but these are in White only. Both Skirt and Waist Irish Hand-Embroidered, and only fourteen in the group.
