NO SIGN OF BREAK ON SEVENTH DAY

Week-End Passes Without Peace Hopes Being Realized—Cardinal Bourne Condemns General Strike and Appeals For Support of Government

LONDON, May 10.—Great Britain today entered the second week of the general strike with peace apparently as far off as ever, and with the government making increased use of military forces to assure the food supply.

The outstanding development of the week end was the distribution of food trucks by cavalry and armored cars from the Victoria docks to the distributing center in Hyde Park.

The strikers' newspaper denounced this use of troops as "ridiculous and unnecessary," and said it was done "to create belief that the strike had reached violent revolutionary aims."

The government in a statement at noon today said introduction of the military convoys insured ample food supplies for London. The military demonstrations of the last few days, it was asserted, have greatly disheartened the Trades Union Congress, and have created the deepest impression among the population of London's "dock land."

The Trades Union Congress announced that permits issued to union members to assist in the distribution of foodstuffs, have been withdrawn. This action was taken in view of the confusion caused by the union offer which was made to Premier Baldwin, but which, it was stated, had not been answered.

In order to avoid confusion between the authorities and the strikers, the government spokesman in his noon statement said the general state of the country after Britain is the largest customer of U. S. leather exports.

BOSTON.—Continuation of the British general strike would affect adversely the U. S. leather industry. At the offices of the Weekly Bulletin, a leather trade paper, it was said that Great Britain is the largest customer of U. S. leather exports.

BERLIN.—Inquiries for Ruhr coal have increased slightly, but there is apparently no great tendency to place orders for future delivery, as the market is generally convinced that the British miners' strike will not last long.

LONDON.—A group of barmaids at the Great Western station, who went on strike to show their labor sympathies, applied to be taken back. They were turned down.

LONDON.—The artists, writers and actors are heavily represented, along with the big business men, among the volunteer services. Many of them are joining the constabulary. Aubrey Hammond, one of the leading British illustrators, announced that he was "chucking his crayons for a police uniform."

SENATOR MITCHELL DEAD IN MONTREAL Was President of Drummondville Bridge Co. and Insurance Co. Director.

MONTREAL, May 10.—Senator the Hon. Wm. Mitchell, died here today in the Montreal General Hospital following a long illness. He was 75 years of age.

Hon. Wm. Mitchell was born in the township of Durham in 1851, a son of Thomas and Margaret Mitchell, who came to Canada from a North of Ireland in 1841. He entered the employ of a railway company in Maine, later going into the lumber business in Durham and then in Drummondville, Que., where he retained his home. He married in 1876 Dora A., daughter of George H. Goddard, of Danville, Que. He was president of the Drummondville Bridge Company and a director of the Richmond, Yarmaska Fire Insurance Company. Sir Wilfrid Laurier summoned him to the Senate in 1904.

SEEKS LANDING

Flier Believes Suitable Location In Peary Land—Coolidge Congratulates

NEW YORK, May 10.—By flying over the North Pole yesterday, Lt. Commander Byrd completed his first flight six days earlier than he had planned. He now tries to make a series of flights into the area of the Arctic which explorers have never penetrated.

If he succeeds in establishing a base on Peary Land, it is probable that he will attempt a flight to Alaska across the Arctic Basin. Yesterday's flight was estimated at 1,600 miles, which is about the distance from Peary Land to Point Barrow, Alaska.

Such a flight would carry him directly across the great unexplored area between the Beaufort Sea and the North Pole. Commander Byrd is confident that he can find a smooth landing place on Peary Land, although Stefansson and other polar explorers do not believe that an attempt to land there would be wise.

REMEMBERS MOTHER

Commander Byrd sent a Mother's Day message of success to his mother, Mrs. R. E. Byrd, Sr., at Richmond, and she said: "I am very proud of Dick."

Commander Byrd completed the flight over the pole six days earlier than he had planned. He had expected to land for a landing place in Peary Land, and establish a base, but decided at the last minute to risk everything in a non-stop flight. He left King's Bay yesterday at 1:50 a.m., Greenwich time, and sailed into a blizzard, an instrument of his own invention, informed him he was over the pole. He made observations and returned, reaching King's Bay at 4:20 p.m.

Commander Byrd's plane was a three engine Fokker, named "Miss Josephine Ford," for the daughter of Edsel Ford, who, with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was a financial backer of the flight.

Viljalmar Stefansson veteran Arctic explorer, said that he felt sure Commander Byrd's report of the flight would bear out a belief that Arctic flight is much more dangerous than any other kind. Raold Amundsen discouraged Commander Byrd because of his disastrous attempt to reach the pole by plane last year. "I have always been opposed to landings in Arctic explorations," said Mr. Stefansson.

BIG FLIGHT AHEAD

Commander Byrd had two objectives. He has attained one of them. This clears the way for his more ambitious and more important flight to the north west of Peary Land in search of unknown land, and I hope he will be equally successful in that.

Two Russian polar expeditions are on the verge of departure, a French expedition with planes and dog sledges, will leave later, and Lt. Leigh Wade, United States around-the-world flier, will lead the United States University expedition over the pole in a search for a short route from London to Tokio.

Youth Scores In Labor Crisis In Old Land

LONDON, May 10.—Youth refuses to be down-hearted, even if there is a general strike, and deal with which the youngsters have jumped into service on both sides of the industrial dispute indicates clearly that British virility is not on the wane.

It is no longer possible to tell from their clothing whether the young workers are supporters of the strikers or the government. Pickets for the Labor forces and volunteers who are working to break the strike are all apt to be clad in knickerbockers, riding suits or "oxford bags."

BIG N. Y. LIQUOR CONSPIRACY IS REVEALED TODAY

$1,000,000 Importations Involved in Indictment Against Six Defendants

NEW YORK, May 10.—A conspiracy involving the importation of many millions of dollars worth of liquor was revealed today when United States district attorney Buckner opened a sealed indictment returned last week against Emil Wormser, Irving Ausler, Harry Lawson (Alias Harry Nelson), Edward Siegel, Chris Berg and Robert Olsen.

Wormser, who was formerly legitimately engaged in the liquor business, is reported to have been the guiding figure of the organization. His alleged activities consisted in buying and arranging for the shipment of liquors abroad, chartering fleets of motor boats when necessary to facilitate the work, and arranging for the distribution of liquor after it was landed.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The celebration of the diamond jubilee of Confederation of Dominion Day next as an empire as well as a Canadian event, is the object of a movement now being sponsored by James P. Murray, Ontario vice-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

At Mr. Murray's suggestion, the Empire Club has taken up his proposals for a huge national celebration of the jubilee. He has suggested that efforts be made to have the King and Queen, or the Prince of Wales cross the Atlantic for the occasion, and at the same time, have an invitation issued to every government in the Empire to send a representative. He also urges that a special postage stamp be issued to commemorate the event, and that the British Government have its building ready for the 1927 Canadian National Exhibition. All the legislatures will be asked for financial and executive co-operation and, he stated, if at all possible, the conference of Empire Premiers should be postponed and arranged to convene in Canada.

WINNIPEG STREET RAILMEN TO QUIT

Unit of O. B. U. Resist Proposed Wage Cut—600 are Affected.

WINNIPEG, May 10.—By an overwhelming majority, announced as 99 per cent, the street railwaymen's unit of the One Big Union, at a mass meeting yesterday voted in favor of a strike as a means of resisting wage cuts announced by the Winnipeg Electric Railway. The unit has already made application for a board of conciliation under the Lemieux Act, but the strike vote completed the necessary formalities before the board could be appointed.

Approximately 600 motormen and conductors attended the meeting.

Steamer Movements Steady At Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, May 10.—Twenty-six vessels docked or sailed here over the week-end and 80 vessels were being loaded or discharged at the Liverpool and Birkenhead docks today. The White Star liner Baltic and the Canadian Caronia arrived from New York. Motor coaches were waiting to convey the passengers to their destinations.

IRISH MARKET HIT HARD BY STRIKE

Eggs Selling for Twopence a Dozen as English Market Falls

DUBLIN, May 10.—The Irish market has been hit hard by the strike. The failure of the English market has brought about drops in prices in Irish commodities. As an instance, eggs in Donegal are selling at two pence a dozen. The mail, which arrived at Kingston from England last Friday has not yet been unloaded. The trade unionists are refusing to handle the sacks because they assert they were previously handled by "black-legs."

The situation in Ireland is complicated by the forthcoming cuts in the wages of railway operators. The railways announced this morning that the cuts will become operative beginning June 1.

Only Industry of Ont. Town Destroyed

QUERIES SPECIAL

Comments On Difference Between Such Happenings in England and U. S.

By MINOTT SAUNDERS United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, May 10.—On an unofficial mission, which indicates may be full of portents, Will Rogers, American comedian, has arrived in England and is now head over heels in the task of investigating the British general strike. Interviewed by the United Press as he dined with his young son at the Hotel Savoy, Rogers announced that he planned a vast European tour.

"I first came to England to witness the changing of the guard," Rogers said, referring to the Daily Guard mount ceremony at Buckingham Palace. "Then I am going to France to witness the changing of the ministries."

STRIKE IMPRESSIONS He gave his first impressions of the strike. "It seems to me that the strike is the biggest sort of social success, for I understand that the Prince of Wales rushed to London from the continent by airplane to be present," Rogers said. "There wouldn't be any other reason why he would come. I haven't heard that he is replacing anybody."

"I've got good ideas about settling the strike," continued Rogers, "but I ain't publishing them before the end of the strike."

INTERESTED IN LORDS "I may see Premier Baldwin and King George, but I'm particularly interested in the House of Lords. I intend to have a couple and get from them good ideas for our Senate. I am specially anxious to get a couple of the Lords' views."

Saying that he noted that the House of Lords had not yet discussed the strike, Rogers said that that was natural. "It would have to be some strike before the Lords would discuss such things for those lower classes," he declared.

"I'm going right to the bottom of the strike," Rogers said seriously. "I grabbed a guy today, a special policeman with a hand on his arm and asked him what he thought about how long the thing would last. "Oh! you know, this is a very old country, and we are not excited," he said."

Suggestion by Judge Barry
Presented at Council Meeting

COM. FRINK NAMED AS DEPUTY MAYOR

Gasoline Tank Question Comes Up Again—Ap- peals On Taxation

The council organized with the commissioners holding the same departments as in the last council, with his worship as commissioner of finance and public works. The council will meet once a month instead of weekly. A bond issue of $100,000 for the Civic Hydro Commission was approved and a motion to ask the trustees of the Tucker Park for a financial statement and report was carried. The suggestion has been made by Judge J. A. Barry, one of the trustees, that the trust be dissolved and the city take over the money and look after the property.

MEET IN COMMITTEE

The council met first in committee of the whole. R. E. Armstrong was heard in connection with the placing of a page advertisement in the "Salter" official journal of the Navy League of Canada, at an estimated cost of $30. This was placed on file. Gallant for permission to erect an electric sign at the corner of Wall street and Paradise Row was referred to the committee on public works, city engineer and city electrician, with power to act. FOR GASOLINE TANK

Commissioner Harding presented an application from King and McDonald for permission to install a 500 gallon gasoline tank at 124 St. James street and said he would recommend it to the council. In answer to Commissioner Bullock and Mayor White he said he had made no investigation and knew nothing of the location. The council had taken these matters out of his hands and it was for them to give permission or withhold it.

TUCKER PARK MATTER

Commissioner Frink said it had been suggested to him by Judge Barry, one of the trustees of the Tucker Park trust, that this trust be dissolved and the money turned over to the city department of the city might elect to care for the property and develop it. It was, he said, six years since the trust had been submitted to the council on the finances of the trust and he believed the sum now amounted to about $16,000. He moved that Mayor White and Judge Barry, the two remaining members of the trustees, be asked to Commander Byrd's brother, Governor Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, said at Richmond: "Dick has been so lucky all his life that he believes he will come through even if 99 of 100 chances might be against him. Ice Report Says Conditions Better

The Signal Service at the Customs House has received a report of ice conditions as follows: Northumberland streets and Gut of Canso now free from ice. Track north coast of P. E. I. and Magdalen Islands to Pama Point practically free from ice except for straits of Leary open to Cape George. Outward bound vessels from Heath Point to pass six miles off Cape Bay, thence to Heath Point. Both inward and outward are recommended to have a slight leaning toward the Newfoundland coast. Ice is loosening and rotting very quickly, generally in the Gulf and Cabot Straits although caution is very necessary owing to isolated heavy pans which may possibly do considerable damage to a vessel striking hard and it is recommended that vessels stop during darkness.

LOCKOUT THREAT EQUALLY BAD, THOMAS AVERS

Strike Will Cripple Nation No Matter What End

ADDRESSES MEN

Response to Order Marvellous Show of Solidarity Among Unions, He Declares

LONDON, Eng., May 10.—Whatever the end so far as the nation is concerned, it must be worse after than before the strike. This was one of the statements made Sunday by J. H. Thomas, who as secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, is the foremost figure on the labor side.

He was addressing a strikers' meeting at Hammersmith, and declared that he had never disguised the fact that he was not in favor of the principle of a general strike, but he maintained that while it was wrong to force the government to negotiate under threat of a strike, it was equally wrong to ask the workers to carry on negotiations under threat of a lock-out.

For a fortnight, Mr. Thomas said, the workers had begged and appealed to the government in vain upon the issue that the coal mine owners should be forced to withdraw their notice, and the negotiations were still proceeding when the Daily Mail incident brought them to a sudden close.

Mr. Thomas claimed that the response to the strike order had been the most marvellous demonstration of solidarity the world had ever seen, and had staggered its opponents. Strongly insisting that the Trades Union Council action was not a challenge to the constitution, he warned those who were talking about war, that they were talking with fire, and said that if it was a fight to the finish the country would not be worth having at the end of it.

FEW WORKLESS IN FRANCE.

TOURS, France, May 10.—There are only 147 unemployed persons in Paris, whereas in London before the strike there were 800,000 and Berlin 450,000. Minister of Labor Durfou said at a banquet inaugurating the Tours Exposition week.

Police Quell Riot Then Play With Strikers

PLYMOUTH, England, May 10.—After clubbing a gang of rowdies who had created a strike disturbance, policemen at Plymouth donned their football clothes and played a match against a team composed of strikers. The game was attended by a delegation of 4,000 striking workers, who marched to the grounds in an orderly procession headed by a brass band.

POKES FUN IN WILL

Sister Refers to Bequest to Keep Brother in Hair Tonic

NEW YORK, May 10.—There is a note of levity in the will of Miss Caroline W. Hotchkiss, filed in the Surrogate's Court, such as is not often found in such solemn documents. It is contained in the following paragraph: "To my dear brother (Charles E. Hotchkiss), who does not need any provision of mine for the comfort and sustenance of his advancing years, I would express my undying affection and credit for all his generous gifts and the help he has given to the poor, would like to bequeath a sum sufficient to buy such hair tonics as will prevent premature baldness on his beloved crown, but I fear he would never put it to such use."

FIRST ROTOR SHIP NOW AT NEW YORK

Flettner Meets Invention After 6,200-Mile Trip Done in 38 Days

NEW YORK, May 10.—A strange craft neither sailing vessel, nor motor-ship, but a combination of both came into New York harbor Sunday and evoked as much curiosity from the latter day Manhattanites, as did Henry Hindson's Half Moon from the Indians, 300 years ago. It was the world's first rotor ship, the Baden-Baden of Hamburg.

Flying the flag of the New German republic, she came up the harbor on wind power alone, at a nine knot clip, while tug and shipping tooted and ferry boat passengers stared. The 600-ton ship, with its two huge rotor towers revolving an average of 48 revolutions a minute, was carrying a cargo of building stone. It completed an experimental trip of 6,200 miles in 38 days.

Anton Flettner, inventor of the rotor, met the ship at quarantine. After receiving the reports of Captain Peter Calsen, he announced that he considers the voyage had demonstrated the success of the rotor principle.

Dog Lover Is Fined For Keeping Too Many

NEW YORK, May 10.—For keeping ten dogs in his three-room apartment in Brooklyn, William Isinger, 35 years old, was fined $10 by Magistrate Hartzel in Bridge Plaza Court. The charge against him was "ruddy to animals." The idea made Isinger weep, since he would "rather adopt dogs than children," he said.

The court urged that he adopt children rather than dogs. Isinger and his wife occupied two rooms of the apartment and the ten dogs had the third room. An officer of the S. P. C. A. said the dogs looked peaked and worn.

MAN KILLS SELF AND FAMILY BY GAS

Took Means to Escape Punishment for Operating "Diploma Mill."

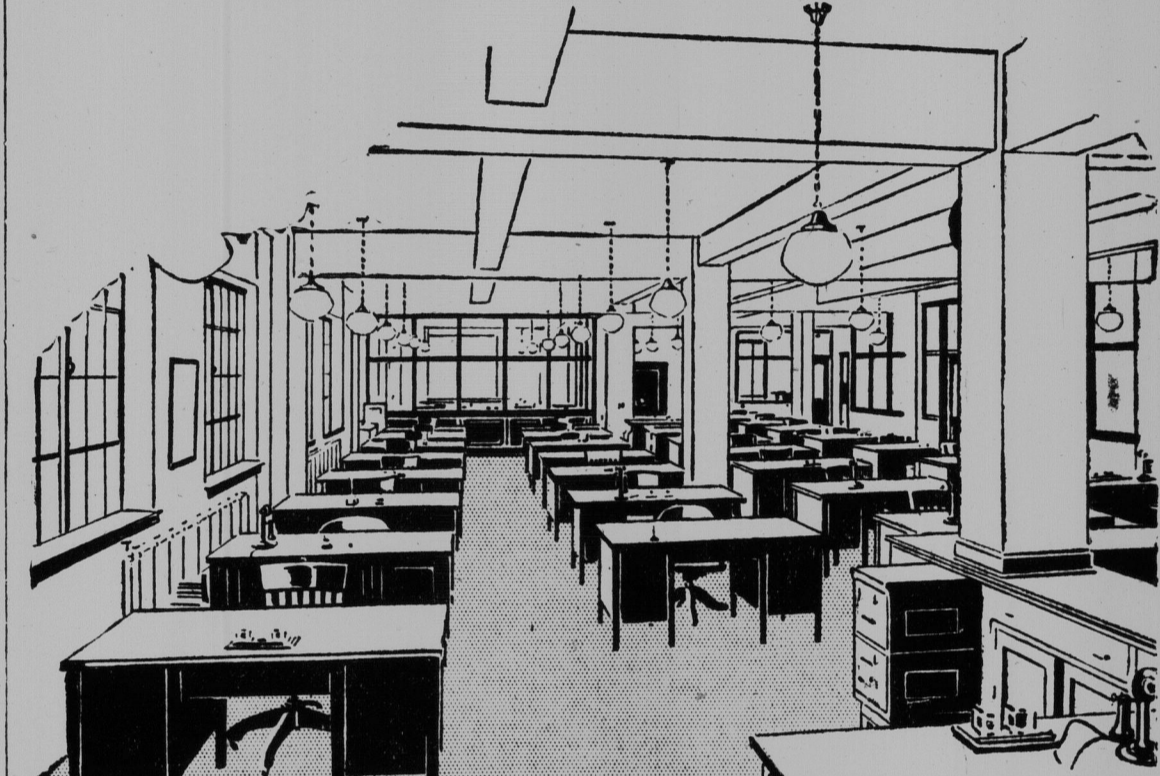

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, May 10.—Determined to escape legal difficulties on charges of operating a "diploma mill," James W. MacLennan and his wife, killed their six year old son and themselves Saturday. They were found dead in a gas-filled room. MacLennan, whose father resides in Fingert, Ont., and who posed as the president of Oskaloosa College, was arrested on Thursday after an investigation by a Des Moines newspaper, of his fake institution.

Relatives and letters left by MacLennan and his wife, said they agreed to end the lives of the family as a means of escaping punishment and to avoid hiring counsel as he did not have sufficient funds to fight what they described as the "unjust" charges.

MANY DROWNED

MOSCOW, May 10.—The steamer Bledorms, plying between Gomel and Kiev, on the River Dnieper, collided with a barge soon after leaving Gomel yesterday. All passengers on the deck were rescued, while a number of passengers in the lower cabins went down with the vessel. A rescue squad which rushed to the scene saved many of the passengers, but the number who perished were not learned.

WOODSTOCK STILL SEIZED, MAN HELD

Allen Barnett Remanded Until Tuesday for Hearing of Charge

WOODSTOCK, May 10.—Liquor Inspector J. R. Brown, accompanied by Chief of Police Kelly and Deputy Sheriff Moore, on Saturday, as a result of information, searched the home of Allan Barnett, Lower Woodstock, seven miles below here, and found a half barrel of mash and other evidence of the illicit manufacture of hard liquor. As a result Barnett was brought to Woodstock and appearing before Police Magistrate C. M. Auberton, was remanded to jail till Tuesday. The officers, returning to the scene of the seizure later, found a copper still in the woods adjoining Barnett's home. This was seized and brought to Woodstock by Liquor Inspector Brown.

LOBSTER AND SCALLOP FISHERS GOOD CATCHES.

DIGBY, May 9.—The immediate past week was one of the most successful in the lobster fishing business for years, and large catches are reported from the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay shores. The price is about the same as last season, and practically all the lobsters are shipped to the Boston market.

Scallop fishermen have also enjoyed good catches, and the prices secured on the Boston market have repaid a rich harvest for those engaged in the scallop business.

More Borders for Beauty

Create Paper Panels and Make Your Walls Beam a Kindly Welcome

UNDECORATED walls are unlovely and should be decorated. Most walls in modern homes run right up to a sharp angle with the ceiling or to a plain, straight cornice. In decorating such walls the aim should be to minimize these abrupt transitions. Borders, or panels, to suit the wallpaper used will best do this. STAUNTON Semi-Trimmed Wallpapers have borders for each design.

Panel to suit the style and proportions of any room can be made with these paper "mouldings". Around windows and doorways, borders make softly definite boundaries to the wallpaper and set off its beauty of design, color and texture. Original ways of adding friendliness and charm by means of STAUNTON bandings are shown in our new book, "Decorating the Walls". So that every interested home-maker may have a copy, the charge has been made only 20 cents. Write for your copy today, to Staunton Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

STAUNTON Semi-Trimmed Wallpapers have all the qualities of leadership—distinctive patterns, exceptionally large color range, 22-inch rolls, and the exclusive Semi-Trimmed feature that saves one-third of the time in papering and reduces the cost accordingly. Until you have used STAUNTON Semi-Trimmed paper, you cannot know how quickly and beautifully and economically a room can be re-decorated with little or no fuss. Whoever does your next paper-hanging, insist on the use of

STAUNTON

SAINT JOHN, N. B., MAY 10, 1925.

PATIENCE
During the last two years the Maritime Provinces have succeeded in convincing those who should know that there are certain fundamental problems in connection with their economic well-being which need immediate and perhaps drastic attention. It has required a great deal of effort on the part of this section to demonstrate the fact that the people down here by the sea were suffering to such a degree that a certain discontent amongst the masses, and that many communities were being badly drained by the exodus of residents to the United States and other parts of Canada.

Meanwhile, Hon. F. B. McCurdy, of Halifax, former Minister of Public Works in a Conservative ministry, who always has been a sturdy champion of his native Maritimes, comes into print to declare once more that Nova Scotia might, "by way of a regional tariff or other provisions, be given an economic system that would meet the particular needs of the Maritime Provinces and restore prosperity along lines indicated by the Imperial Government at the time of Confederation."

It goes still further, "Personally," he says, "I prefer that the right to live and do business in Nova Scotia should be established within Confederation... but if this is impossible of attainment then in the interest of home and province, I would not hesitate to withdraw rather than attempt to carry on under the present system that is sapping our province for the enrichment of Central Canada."

It, within a reasonable time, the province cannot obtain adequate remedies and appropriate remedies for the ills under which it is laboring, he believes that the people should be granted a referendum for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are content to continue the unequal struggle within the Dominion or whether they favor withdrawal from Confederation and the reconstitution of Nova Scotia as an independent, self-governing, British Dominion with control over her own trade, taxation and fisheries."

There are few here who will not agree heartily with Hon. Mr. McCurdy that some immediate and adequate remedy is necessary. But there are many who would counsel—at least at the present time—patience. Perhaps some less drastic move than absolute separation will prove a more efficacious treatment. At least, let us not judge the case before all the evidence is presented. True it is that much has been said and still more spoken as to the conditions in the Maritime Provinces, but never until the Duncan Commission was appointed, was there presented an opportunity of gathering under one cover a full and complete exposition of the whole case. The Railway Commission has heard the people's side of the freight rate case; they are preparing to receive the presentation of the railway's part of it. Until these two tribunals have had an opportunity to delve into the multitudinous details of the situation and arrive at some definite conclusion, let us hold our peace and hope for the best.

COLONY OR NATION?
Canadians will tell themselves and the world what a fine people they are and what a magnificent country is their's next year on the occasion of Canada's 60th anniversary year. The Senate recently passed a resolution urging widespread observance of the event and doubtless some perfunctory oratory on Canada's nationhood can be expected.

In the light, however, of a recent judgment of the judicial committee of the Privy Council in the case of the King vs. Nadeau, the hold ones may pause and consider the effect of this finding before speaking. Stripped of legal facts and trappings, this judgment in effect means that a Canadian law, accepted by everybody as an expression of Canadian rights of self-government, has been overridden because it conflicts with a British statute 93 years old.

A man planted some radish seeds, some carrot seeds and some lettuce seeds. The first sprout came through, and, looking at it closely, he said, "By golly, it isn't a radish and it's not a carrot. So it must be lettuce." And it's been called lettuce ever since.

A bourgeoisie plant, the cabbage,
I like to watch him grow.

Some portly one like those must be

And that, with Mrs. Cabbage, he Will raise a family.

It ain't the carrot but only that
They both look green.

THE FRENCH DEBT.
Our government has properly taken the position that the payments as between Germany and France are one thing and the payments as between France and the United States are another. It has, therefore, refused to grant a safeguarding clause, although no one supposes that, if France undertook to pay us very heavy annuities and Germany failed to pay her anything, we should refuse to give that development due consideration.

POEMS I LOVE
BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Tears" by Lizette Woodworth Rees.
THERE has been many great sonnets given to the world. "A sonnet is a monument's monument." And "Scorn not the sonnet. Critic, you have frowned, Mindless of its just honors; with this key Shakespeare unlocked his heart."

Wordsworth said: To many laymen, the sonnet seems, and always will seem, an artificial form of art; yet the poet knows that there are certain thoughts from on high which can be expressed only within the narrow compass of this great form; and he exults, rather than rebels, at his enchanting chains of rhyme.

HOW few of us stop to think of the mysteries of the world in which we live. We accept the days as they come and the ideas that are handed to us by our parents or teachers, but few indeed are the men and women who even seek far to prove their theories true or think at all of the unusual capacity for taking things for granted we should realize that we are encompassed with countless mysteries, which might oppress our hearts beyond endurance did not custom and incuriosity veil the depths of our careless ignorance.

himself is on contemplation of a perturbing circumstance. That the printed character of this page should stir ideas in you is no easy matter to explain, and no one has yet been able to tell us why we and the earth so incessantly attract one another. Yet these can hardly be called mysteries to most of us; indeed are we to personality, writing and weight that they are scarcely observed commonplaces.

THOSE to whom a commonplace appears to be extraordinary are very rare, but they are very precious, since they, and they alone, have built up our minds.

THE TRUTH of a new idea proposed for acceptance plays an altogether secondary role. We rank the Good, True and Beautiful together, but it is shocking to observe how little does the success of a new observation depend upon its scientific or historical credentials.

THE FRENCH RIDDLE.
(London Morning Post.)
It is hardly too much to say that parliamentary government as it exists in France is now on its trial. It has lasted since 1875, chiefly by leaving things of importance unaltered; but it is now faced by one of those riddles of the sphinx which if it does not solve it dies. In the meantime it would be a mistake to suppose that France is like a crab with a soft shell open to the attacks of her enemies. The Napoleonic framework of the state remains strong and sound.

BYRD FLEW OVER POLE IN AIRPLANE; FINISHES TRIP IN 15 1/2 HOURS

Amundsen, Ellsworth and Crew of Airship Norge Greet U. S. Naval Lieutenant-Commander on Arrival From Flight

KING'S BAY PEOPLE SEE HIM COME BACK

Feat Fulfills Ambitions of Lifetime for American Explorer Who Plans Further Search in Far North to Discover Land; Expedition Well Equipped

NEW YORK, May 9.—Lieutenant-Commander Richard E. Byrd, United States navy aviator, flew over the North Pole today, the New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch announced.

Commander Byrd, first to accomplish the feat, made the flight in 15 hours, and 30 minutes, leaving his base at King's Bay, Spitzbergen, at 12:30 o'clock this (Sunday) morning (Greenwich time) and returning safely at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon.

The entire population of King's Bay turned out to witness the aeroplane's return.

Captain Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth and the crew of their airship Norge on which they plan a similar flight, greeted Commander Byrd upon his descent.

When Commander Richard Evelyn Byrd set sail from New York April 6, the occasion marked the realization of a dream which he had held since boyhood days—an expedition of his own into the Arctic regions.

With him was Floyd Bennett, chief petty officer in the naval air service, who flew over 3,000 miles with the commander last year when the two accompanied the MacMillan party in the north. He became Byrd's "right hand" man and the two of them planned to share the most dangerous and important work of the expedition.

After depositing a thousand pounds of gasoline, food and other supplies, he planned to return to King's Bay and bring another load before starting the attempted flights to and around the Pole.

WITHIN 20-MILE MARGIN.

"If we reach the vicinity of the Pole, our instructions will enable us to determine, while in flight, our location within a margin of twenty miles," he said.

"To make sure that we have reached and passed the Pole, we will make a wide circle around it. This circle will be less than 100 miles in distance, but it will be complete circumnavigation of the globe."

If a suitable landing place near the Pole was noted, Byrd said he would land before flying back to the base.

"Next we probably will undertake one northwesterly flight of not more than 425 miles in search of unknown land," he said. "After that, we probably will have to return at once to King's Bay. It would be highly dangerous to continue flying much after May 15 on account of the fog."

The monoplane Miss Josephine Ford, in which Lieutenant-Commander Richard E. Byrd, accompanied by an announcement of the New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, flew over the North Pole today, was taken to Spitzbergen aboard the steamer Chantier after several false starts and accidents in New York harbor.

The three-engined Fokker plane, named after the daughter of Edsel Ford, was damaged by falling beam while the Chantier was being loaded at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Readjustments were made and the ship left the yard April 5, but had to anchor again off Staten Island to allow the crew to make fast other pieces of cargo which threatened the aeroplane.

MOTORS TAKEN ON DECK.

The motors of the "Miss Josephine Ford" and of the expedition's second aeroplane, a Curtiss Oriole, were taken from the hold and fastened on deck in case of an accident to the first. Other supplies and equipment were assembled after much study and review of experiences of other Arctic explorers. Fifty-five persons were listed as members of the expedition.

HELD BY WANDERLUST.

Wanderlust laid hold upon Byrd early in life, but instead of becoming its slave he controlled and directed himself that his great ambition was achieved—an airplane expedition to the North Pole.

There were the tales of Arctic explorations to excite his interest and he determined when 15 years old to make an effort to discover the North Pole. Four years later, the youth, while a student at the Naval Academy, received a hard blow—Peary reached the North Pole.

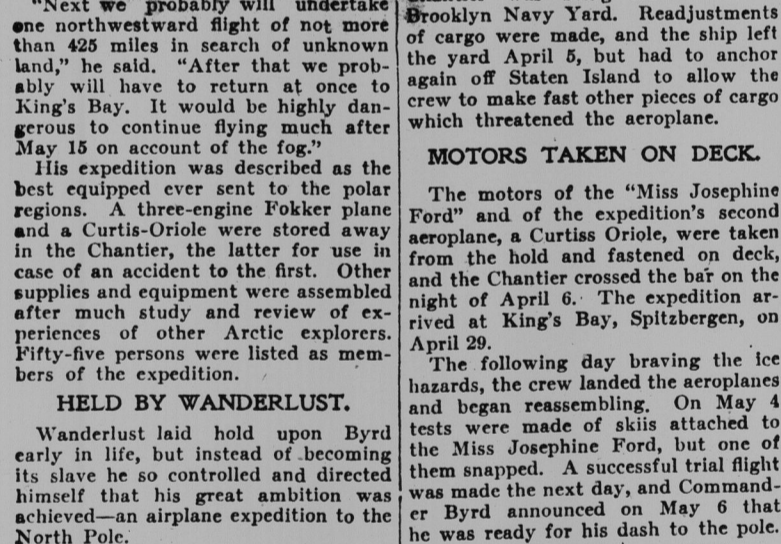

After going through the navy routine, Byrd's interest in aviation, caused him to transfer to the naval air service. With the purpose of connecting himself with air expeditions, in which he expected the navy to engage, he began making a technical study of flight and instruments for air navigation.

AIR INVENTION.

His inventions revolutionized air navigation. One of these was the so-called "bubble sextant," which enables flyers to obtain an artificial horizon and to calculate positions while in flight. Another was the sun compass and the third a drift indicator.

In 1916, an injury resulted in Byrd being retired, but almost immediately he was called to active duty. During the world war he rendered valuable service. He had organized the department commission on training camps in 1917. The following year, he went to

Dorothy Dix

The Gay Young Blade, Who Thinks He is Beaten at 25—Keeping Up With the Joneses on $175 a Month—Do Men Prefer Blondes to Brunettes?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man 25 years old, and what I mean by poor, is not that I am poor, but that I am not as well off as I would like to be. I have a good job, but I am not making much money. I have a car, but it is not a very nice one. I have a house, but it is not a very nice one. I have a wife, but she is not a very nice one. I have a family, but they are not a very nice family. I am a young man, and I am not as well off as I would like to be. I have a good job, but I am not making much money. I have a car, but it is not a very nice one. I have a house, but it is not a very nice one. I have a wife, but she is not a very nice one. I have a family, but they are not a very nice family. I am a young man, and I am not as well off as I would like to be.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Beaten at 25? Why, the very idea is absurd. All of the knocks that you get up to that time, all of your experiences, are just a part of your education, and the very fact that they have driven you to despair is a good sign. It shows that they have taught you how many different kinds of things you have been and how silly and purposeless a life of pleasure is.

Ninety per cent. of the millionaires in this country had no more at 25 than you have. At least three-fourths of the rich and prosperous men who live in fine houses and ride around in limousines and smoke fat cigars and go South for their golf in winter were born poor and were still poor at 25. But they didn't like poverty and they fought out of it.

Because your forebears have been thrifless is no reason for you to be. Heredity is the most overworked excuse in the world. It isn't always a warning to us to watch our steps, and because we may have inherited a tendency toward some weakness to guard particularly against it.

Just because your family are of the happy-go-lucky, never-do-well sort, who never let their work interfere with their pleasure and who have holes in their pockets, it is more important that you nail yourself to your job and become a nickel nurse.

As for your temperament and ability to make friends, that is a gift of the gods, or a curse, as you use it. You can waste your whole life just being a good fellow and the life of the party for a lot of loafers who want you to entertain and amuse them and who will kick you when you get old and dull and lose your vivacity.

But, on the other hand, a man can have no greater asset than a cheerful spirit and a pleasing personality, and in business he can win in popularity in dollars and cents. Even to know how to dance is an advantage, and in choosing your life work I would suggest that you pick out some line in which your talents as a mixer will find a profitable outlet, instead of being wasted, as they are now.

Don't say you are beaten at 25! Don't think it! Why, at 25 you are just ready to begin to fight!

DEAR MISS DIX—Can a young married couple live comfortably on $175 a month. We feel that we could exist on this amount, but I would suggest that you pick out some line in which your talents as a mixer will find a profitable outlet, instead of being wasted, as they are now.

ANSWER: I don't think you need waste much time wondering about that. Giving dinner parties and bridge parties and gratifying expensive tastes is simply one of the things that can't be done on $175 a month.

With the present high cost of living, it would take the closest managing for two persons to live in the plainest manner on that amount of money, because after you have made out your budget and figured out every expense as carefully as you can, there always crops up a lot of things that you had not counted on—prices go up, sickness comes—all the little foxes that eat up the grapes.

But, my dear girl, you and your fiance are looking at life from the wrong angle. You are letting your neighbors dominate your lives. You are letting your happiness, your very love for each other, depend on what the Smiths and the Joneses and the Browns think.

Believe me, that's all wrong. You will be miserable as long as you are slaves to public opinion. The only happy men and women are those who can look the world in the eye and tell it to go to—where it pleases, that they are going to do as they like and buy only what they can afford.

And believe me also when I tell you that you can devise no fate for yourself so wretched as living beyond your means and trying to keep up a champagne appearance on a beer income. The frankly poor who live in cheap quarters, who wear cotton stockings, who ride on the street car and who have enough to be comfortable on and still put a few dollars in the savings bank every week, are as happy and chirpy as sand boys.

But no people are so wretched as the shabby gentles, who live in houses they can't afford, who starve for a month to give a party, and who ride around in automobiles that are bought on the installment plan and have heart failure every time they think of the price of gas.

Don't belong to this foolish tribe. Be yourself. Don't wait to marry until you can keep up with the Joneses.

DEAR MISS DIX—Will you please tell me why it is that men prefer blondes to brunettes?

ANSWER: They don't. Just as many men admire dark women as do fair ones. It is a matter of individual taste.

Look around among the married women of your acquaintance and you will see that there are blondes, and brunettes, and browns, and tans, and redheads, and whiteheads, and short and fat, and living skeletons, and bean poles, and in between and between. Also there are mooring, and highbrow, and clinging vines, and hoaxes, and some men has picked each one of them out as his choice. So there is hope for all.

Larger Brims Much In Evidence This Season

THE larger hat is really going to be worn this season, judging from present indications. Much time and thought has been expended on the many models and they are very attractive, although the tendency is all to simplicity of line and trimming.

All the models above but one are the wider brims. No. 1, worn by Miss Dolores Del Rio, is an unusually wide hat, but as simple as possible. It is a horse hair shape and one yard of black ribbon is said to constitute the trimming, used in a band about the crown and a bow tied high on the same. The film star says that the trimming may be put in in 15 minutes.

Venet trims are used on many of these large hats for spring and summer. No. 2 is of navy blue halibout trimmed with soft color velvet and a crushed rose tulle bow posed at the edge of the brim on the right side.

No. 3 achieves a telescopic effect in its high crown. It is fashioned of rose colored crocheted straw and trimmed with bands of grosgrain ribbon of the same tone—very simple, you see, and practical. A word of warning should be uttered about wearing the high crown. It is not becoming to everyone—especially to a tall, thin person. It apparently adds to the height and slenderness. The only small model in the group (No. 4) is an imported chapeau of straw with a unique decoration of ribbon and feather design. No. 5 almost duplicates No. 4 in shape. It is a dark blue horse-hair braid with pleated crown not as high as No. 3, and a flat low of grosgrain ribbon under the brim at the right side constitutes the only trimming.

A most successful hat it is said, is the large umbrella shape of the milan brilliant color, especially Castilian red. These hats have no trimmings except matching bands and bows of grosgrain ribbon. In fact, few elaborately trimmed hats are shown this season.

IN NEW YORK SEE SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

SEE-SAWING up and down Broadway I passed Sir Thomas Lipton, looking a few dozen pounds heavier. He may or may not have another yacht race challenge up his sleeve. Someone asked the British tea magnate why he had never married. His reply was: "The price of tea is far too low to afford a wife."

SAW Mitt Gross, creator of "Nise Baby," at the Illustrator's Ball. He seemed worried and ill at ease. Keep looking at his watch. It seems a "nise baby" recently arrived at the Gross home. "They're easier to write about than to have," he sighed, ducking out well before midnight.

SAW Lorenz Hart, who had to graduate from Harvard—or was it Yale?—in order to show Broadway how musical comedy lyrics should be written. He tried peddling his clever verses to the regular producers but they were declared "too good" and "not popular enough." "If I hadn't gone to college I could have made a fortune," sighed Hart. And then the Theatre Guild put on an intimate little review. Hart wrote No. 3 in shape. It is a dark blue horse-hair braid with pleated crown not as high as No. 3, and a flat low of grosgrain ribbon under the brim at the right side constitutes the only trimming.

SAW a small mob waiting at the stage door entrance after the opening night of Raquel Meller. She came out carrying a big bouquet of carnations. Imagine carnations for a 23-year-old artist. The mob cried for the flowers, which she distributed much as she does violets in one of her stage songs. Then understood why she carried carnations. One can give away so many. They're really not expensive now.

WANDERING away from Broadway I found myself on Fulton street. Street of most sinister significance in New York. And yet there was nothing to suggest the sinister in the busy hustling point. But that isn't the idea. Fulton street is the criminal dead line. It is the police rule that any man with a criminal record may not go south of that thoroughfare. This sinister cross road is carefully watched by plainclothes men and "camera-eyed" cops. Anyone for whom the jail doors have ever opened is grabbed if seen crossing.

AID WILL BE TALKED BY FARMERS' UNION
SASKATOON, May 8.—The question of financial assistance by the Farmers' Union of Canada to the British Trades Union Congress on behalf of the strikers in Great Britain will be one of the matters to be discussed by the directors of the Union at their next meeting, President J. A. Stoneman stated yesterday.

With the strike was called, the Farmers' Union cabled the Trades Union Congress an expression of sympathy.

"Even if we do have to go under water to get there, we can't get wet with so much magic alone." "I know, Mister Tingling," said Nick. "I was only joking." "Well, then, let's be going," said Mister Tingling.

"Mother's money has come"
IT'S a sort of festive day when mother gets her money from the postman. Now little Dick can have his football, and next month, maybe, Mary will get her parasol.

You see, not only is the door shut against the Wolf, but even little luxuries are possible in this protected home. If takes planning of course, for the amount isn't so very large, but then, thank goodness, it always comes every month—the very day it is due. And mother makes it go around because she can always count on it.

The father has passed on. But the evidence of his care and love for his little flock lives after him in the shape of a regular monthly cheque from The Imperial Life Assurance Company.

"Passing on" strikes but little fear to the heart of a courageous man who knows that his dependents are safe—and no other provision is quite so certain, quite so enduring, quite so conveniently made as an Imperial Life Monthly Income.

A few dollars saved every year from money you now thoughtlessly spend would guarantee this regular income to your family.

Saint John Girl, Dalhousie Graduate, Has Been Successful at School

Miss Harriett Roberts, of Saint John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Roberts, who is one of the four Dalhousie students to graduate this year with great distinction, has been a brilliant student throughout her school and college career.

In Grade IX, of the Saint John High School, she was so close a second to the leader, that she was awarded a special prize. In Grade X, she was winner of the Governor-General's silver medal.

When she graduated from the Saint John High School in 1922 she won the Corporation gold medal as leader of the city schools, the Saint John High School Alumnae war memorial scholarship, the Beaverbrook scholarship and the Emma Fiske memorial prize for highest marks in French in the matriculation examination.

BANQUET PLANNED FOR NEXT FRIDAY

Germain Street Y. M. A. Closing Activities of Winter Season

The Germain street Y. M. A. will close their winter activities with a banquet next Friday evening and the last Sunday afternoon gathering will take place next Sunday. It is customary for this association to hold two banquets each year, one in the fall at the beginning of the winter classes and one at closing in the spring.

Hitherto these banquets have been attended by only members of the Y. M. A. and friends, but this time it has been decided to invite the wives of the members and lady friends of the class. The banquet will be held in the institute of the church. One of the ladies' associations of the church will cater to the guests and a big attendance is looked for.

A program of entertainment will be provided as usual at the Y. M. A. banquet and it will also be the occasion for the election of officers for the coming year.

The attendance at the Sunday classes during the winter is understood to be above the average of the previous year.

ONE thing you never find for sale in a second-hand store—a coffin.

Chas. S. Brannen Receives Congratulations; Was in Civil Service 35 Years

FREDERICTON, May 9.—One of Fredericton's oldest and most respected citizens, Charles S. Brannen, celebrated yesterday his eighty-ninth birthday very quietly at his home in Argyle street.

Mr. Brannen was born in Fredericton on May 8, 1837, and has lived his whole life in this city. He is the son of the late Charles Brannen, who for 56 years was jailer and deputy sheriff.

After 30 years of faithful service in the Provincial Government he was superannuated in 1918 and a short time afterwards was presented with the Imperial Service Order Medal. Previous to entering the service of the province he carried on a mercantile business in this city.

On Dec. 2, 1875, he was married to Miss Agnes Kellard Roberts, daughter of the late Dr. George Roberts, who was at one time master of the old Collegiate School, and last year celebrated his golden wedding. For many years Mr. Brannen was senior warden of the Parish church and one of those who took part in the ceremonies attending the laying of the cornerstone of the new Parish Hall.

CONTENTMENT is the twin of laziness.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. John Garvin (Katherine Hale) passed through the city Saturday evening on her way from Moncton, where she had given a most successful recital, to her home in Toronto. Mrs. Garvin was obliged to cut short her eastern trip as she had the misfortune to sprain her foot, but apart from her accident she was greatly pleased with the reception given her in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens, of McKel street, Parrville, entertained a number of friends on Thursday evening when a novelty shower was tendered to their son, Mr. John Stevens and his bride. Many lovely gifts of silver, cut glass, linen and china were presented in a gayly decorated basket. Dancing and games were enjoyed. An orchestra provided music for the dancing. At the close of the evening the hostess served dainty refreshments and was assisted by Mrs. William McAllister and Miss Marguerite Henderson.

Martello Temple, No. 25, held a very successful dance and card party on Friday evening in Prentice Boys' hall, West Saint John. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Fred Perry, M. E. C., Mrs. B. Edwards, Mrs. Morris Johnson and Mrs. Annie Adams. Cards were played in the upper hall and dancing was enjoyed in the lower hall. Ross Melvin and Prof. William Davis provided the music for the dancing. Refreshments were served by the committee assisted by other members of the Temple.

Mrs. C. F. Dixon entertained at a delightful dinner bridge and handkerchief shower on Saturday evening at her residence, 43 Champlain street, West Saint John, in honor of Miss Lucy Black. The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow daffodils and yellow candles in silver candlesticks. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Muriel Baird and Miss Mary Short. Mrs. C. B. Sees No Danger of Musquash Trouble

The water in the Musquash hydro development storage dams is falling already and has not been exceptionally high this season, it was said last night by S. R. Weston, provincial hydro engineer.

Practically all of the snow in the storage area has gone now and there is hardly any likelihood of an increase in the water level unless a torrential rain should come very soon.

There were many rumors that the Musquash dam had gone out and these, Mr. Weston believed, have had their origin in the fact that a few days ago one of the planks of one of the small storage basins had been broken. He supposed the damage had been done by an ice block but the mishap was of very small importance and in no way affected the efficiency of the plant.

This New Bread Keeps Like Fruit Cake--It Must be a Rich Recipe

Slice a five-day-old loaf of the New BUTTER-KRUST Bread—it still is fresh, almost as fresh as the day it was baked.

It must be a remarkable Bread. You'd say so if you saw all that the Recipe calls for. No richer Bread was ever baked.

A Bigger Loaf, a Bigger Value. A Golden Brown crust so evenly done you expect great things on cutting a slice.

The creamy fineness of the texture lives up to promise. It took a lot of whole Milk to make it look and taste like that, it took a lot of Sugar and likewise an extra helping of snowy Shortening. This along with Fleischmann yeast, Table Salt and the blended best flours of Alberta and Manitoba.

In one day Butter-Krust leaped to the forefront of flavor here in Saint John.

Try a loaf of this bigger and heartier Bread and see why your grocer has it.

CANADIAN LABOR TO COLLECT FUNDS

Telegraphic Appeal For British Strikers Will Be Issued

OTTAWA, May 9.—Canadian labor has indicated its attitude on the general strike in England.

A telegraphic appeal will be issued on Tuesday or Wednesday by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, to all affiliated trade councils, to open subscription lists for the aid of the strikers, should the strike be then in continuation.

The suggestion has been made that the government could stop the shipment of Canadian funds to strikers by instructing Canadian banks not to remit such money.

Plans are now under way for the issue of this appeal by labor should the strike continue for several days longer.

MOTHER IS PRAISED IN CITY PULPITS AT SERVICES ON SUNDAY

MINISTERS IN MANY CHURCHES SPEAK ON THEME

Special Events Observed at Services by Several Congregations

PLEAS FOR SUNDAY OBSERVANCE MADE

Rev. J. D. Wetmore Accepts Call to Waterloo Street

Special Prayer on Mother's Day Marks St. Matthew's Service

Very tender and appealing was the prayer offered by the minister of St. Matthew's church, Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison, at the service held in honor of Mother's Day yesterday morning.

It was she who bent over our cradles. It was her voice we heard first in the morning and last at night. As we grew to boyhood and girlhood she was always there, to wipe away tears, to pick thorns from our fingers, to mend torn garments, to care for us in all the ways that only a mother can care, to pray for us and teach us to pray.

Among the C. G. I. T. girls who assisted in the service were Misses Mildred Banks, Florence Bevis, Vivian McCumber, Ruth Foster, Marion McAlfe, Beatrice Flewelling, Florence Harrison and Evelyn Allen.

At the evening service, "A National Pearl" was the subject dealt with by St. David's pastor.

There were many forces today, he said, that were making havoc of the Sabbath. These might be summed up as commercial and pleasure.

ST. ANDREW'S KIRK St. Andrew's Kirk was crowded on Sunday evening when the Rev. J. S. Bennell answered the question as to whether the power of the pulpit had declined.

LUDLOW STREET BAPTIST In Ludlow street Baptist church yesterday in observance of Mother's day, Rev. W. A. Robbins, yesterday morning gave a sermon of deep appeal, "A Mother's Influence."

C. G. I. T. SERVICE In the Queen Square United church the C. G. I. T. groups, under the leadership of Miss Jean Oldford, Miss Helen Bambley and Mrs. L. V. Lingley were in charge of the service yesterday.

congregation and yesterday he announced that he would accept the call and would enter on his pastorate next Sunday. Mr. Wetmore was for some years pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church and has held pastorates in several centres in the province.

ATTEND IN BODY. The Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs of the Victoria street Baptist church attended the evening service in the church last night in a body and made a fine showing.

CARLETON UNITED. A special Mother's Day service was held in the Sunday school of the Carleton United church, yesterday afternoon.

IN CARMARTHEN. A Mother's Day service was held in the Carmarthen street United church Sunday school yesterday afternoon.

FAIRVILLE BAPTIST. Rev. C. T. Clark, of the Fairville Baptist church, preached an appropriate Mother's Day sermon.

IN ST. LUKE'S. As an act of dedication of the winter's work all of the organizations in St. Luke's church attended the evening service yesterday in the church as units.

LARGE NUMBER AGAIN ON HOLY WEEK VISITS

Second Sunday Exercises by Cathedral Congregation Yesterday Afternoon

ROGATION DAYS ARE BEING OBSERVED

Devotions of Forty Hours Begun in St. John Baptist Church

With even a larger number taking part than on the previous Sunday, the second day exercises of the Holy Year pilgrimage, by the people of the Cathedral congregation, were carried out yesterday afternoon. The same order of procedure as on the opening Sunday of the Holy Year visits was followed, the start being made at the Cathedral, with a visit to Holy Trinity church next and the concluding one to St. Peter's.

His Lordship, Bishop LeBlanc, accompanied by Rev. W. M. Duke and Rev. Charles Boyd, and with Rev. Francis Gillen in charge of the children's choir, led the large number on the journey from church to church. As before, a procession was formed for entry into the church on each occasion, and also on leaving each church. Hymns were sung, with the children leading, and a choir of boys was added yesterday to that of the little girls. In each church prayers were offered in accordance with the requirements of the jubilee. It was announced that the visits will be continued on the remaining three Sundays of this month, making five in all. Four only are requisite in the public teaching of the jubilee, but the fifth has been added so that any who did not make the first day or who may miss one of the others, may yet complete the four.

ROGATION DAYS
Announcement in the Cathedral yesterday included that of Rogation Days to be observed today, Tuesday and Wednesday. The 8 o'clock mass on those days will be a high mass and will be preceded by the Litany of the Saints. The Rogation Days are ones of special prayer that God will bless the fruits of the earth in the coming agricultural season. Children who have been under special instruction for some weeks in preparation will make their first Holy Communion on next Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in the Cathedral. Thursday will be the Feast of the Ascension.

Yesterday was Holy Name Sunday and a large number of men received Holy Communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass.

SPEAKS OF CONGRESS.
Rev. William M. Duke spoke regarding the Eucharist Congress in Chicago this year at both of the masses in St. Rose's church yesterday morning. He explained the purpose of the pilgrimage and exhorted the people to special devotions for the congress.

FORTY HOURS
Forty hours devotions were begun in St. John the Baptist church yesterday morning, and at the 8 o'clock celebration of solemn high mass there were 500 communicants, 200 being men who are members of the Holy Name Society. Rev. J. J. McDermott, priest of the parish, was celebrant; Rev. William Crowley, of St. Andrew's, was deacon and Rev. Arthur Kinella, curate of the parish, was sub-deacon. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed at the close of the service and the litany of the saints was chanted. In the evening Father McDermott was the preacher. The devotions will close on Tuesday evening when solemn procession will be made.

FINE TURNOUT MADE BY SCOUTS AND WOLF CUBS

More Than 500 in Line in Parade to Churches

KING SQUARE MADE REVIEWING POINT

Most of Boys in Uniform and Parade Has Smart Appearance

More than 500 Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs attended the annual church parade held yesterday morning and on the march the parade stretched for nearly three-quarters of a mile. The whole parade was very smart, the majority of the boys being in full uniform and a very large number of the packs and troops carrying their banners and flags. Several of the troops were in shirt sleeves and shorts.

In numbers and in the smartness of the boys in the appearance of the parade, this year's turnout was considerably better than that of last year which was considered a very splendid parade.

Commissioner Dr. G. B. Peat, who led the parade yesterday, was very warmly congratulated upon the remarkably fine showing made in spite of the inclemency of the weather. The Sun-rite troop of East Saint John was able to join in the parade as the Rover Scouts had arranged for conveyances.

PARADE FORMS UP.
The parade was formed up on King street east and marched to the church headed by the bugle band of the R. C. N. V. R., along Sydney street, King Square, south, Charlotte Coburg and Garden. On the south side of King Square, opposite the Imperial Theatre, the parade was reviewed and the salute taken by the Premier of the province, Hon. J. B. Baxter. Other officials included Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen, His Worship Mayor W. W. White, Dr. De V. Chipman, the president of the association, E. A. Schofield, A. M. Peters, R. B. Buchanan, F. T. Short, Joseph P. Crighton, Paul G. Quinn and Arthur Anglin.

The R. C. N. V. R. band played the Protestant hymn to church and then returned to City Road and marched the Catholic troops to the Cathedral. The Young Judeans detached themselves from the parade at City Road and marched up Dorchester street to the Synagogue.

At St. Paul's church the Scouts and Cubs listened to a splendidly inspirational sermon by the rector, the Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot.

REMINDS BOYS.
The rector reminded the boys of things they as Scouts had to learn and of the tests they had to pass for their badges, etc.

He spoke of some of the secrets and mysterious things he heard when at times he dropped in at some of the meetings of the boys. Among these he frequently heard the short monosyllables, Dyb, Dyb, Dyb, Dyb, and Dyb, Dyb, Dyb, Dyb. These, he explained meant, "Do your best," and "Do our best."

REFERS TO MOTHER'S DAY.
He made a feeling reference to the day as Mother's Day, and advised all the boys to be kind to their mothers and always obey them.

During the service also impressive prayers were said for the Motherland, which at present is passing through perilous times.

The service in St. Paul's church closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

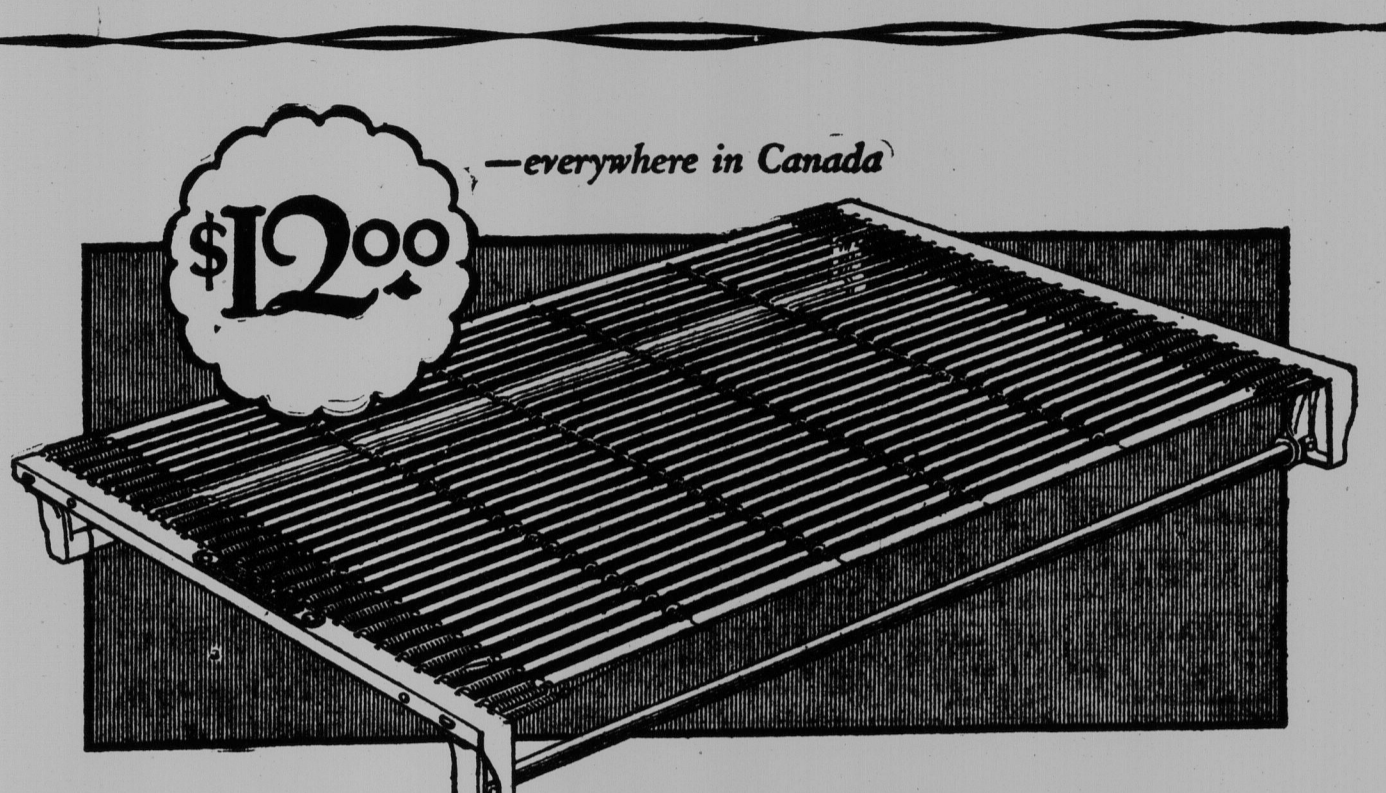

After the service the parade formed again outside St. Paul's church and the Scout yell was given as a tribute of gratitude to Archdeacon Crowfoot. The parade marched back to King Square and disbanded.

Following Dr. G. B. Peat, the district commissioner, there came in order, the Cubs, L. L. Johnson, assistant commissioner, the Scouts, F. Choppin, assistant commissioner.

THOSE IN PARADE.
The packs in the parade and their leaders were: Knox, Lyman T. Armstrong; St. Paul's, H. M. Harrison; East Saint John, D. H. Piller; Stone, Jack Lipsitt; West Side Kirk, Mrs. J. H. Cunningham; St. Luke's, R. E. Adams; Victoria Baptist, George Dealhor; Trinity, R. A. Patterson; St. James, A. Peatman; St. George's, G. S. Olive.

The troops in parade and their leaders were: St. Paul's, J. A. Gaulton; St. Andrew's, N. G. Smith; Sunrise, G. G. Hoyt; Edith Avenue, W. R. Wikom; Stone, N. G. Smith; Fairville United, J. G. Pinkney; St. Rose's, H. McManus; Young Judeans, E. Boyaner; Victoria Baptist, L. G. Pincombe; Trinity, Charles E. Upham; St. James, K. W. Stage; St. George's, S. G. Olive; Syrian, M. Joseph.

LACK OF DEATHS IS DUE TO BAN ON GUNS
LONDON, May 9.—Gun-toting is rare in Great Britain and therein lies the explanation for the lack of deaths in the clashes between the volunteer workers and the hoodlums. Even the policemen throughout England and Scotland do not carry firearms in normal times, and there is such a heavy penalty for pistol-toting that the practice is almost unknown.

BACCALAUREATE SPEAKER PLEADS FOR BETTER LIVES

Rev. Dr. Sutherland Speaks Before U. N. B. Officials and Undergraduates

SAYS READ HISTORY OF WORLD'S BIG MEN

Spirit of Tolerance and Sympathy Alone Can Settle Big Strike

FREDRICKTON, May 9.—The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered this morning to the graduating class of the University of New Brunswick by the Rev. J. S. Sutherland, D.D., of Saint Paul's United Church, Member of the Faculty, Senate and undergraduate body of the University gathered and marched in a body to the church, which was thronged with students and their friends and members of the congregation.

Choosing his text from Revelations 21:16: "The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal." Dr. Sutherland told the young men and women that they must strive to live a life that held the perfect symmetry of a cube, a life with long lasting results, breadth of vision and high ideals.

After welcoming the representatives of the University to his church Dr. Sutherland said that he would not attempt to accept or explain any interpretation of this passage, which he had chosen as a text. To the Hebrew cube made the perfect life, which human life reaches its best becomes life in the perfect city of God. It is the driving force in man the promise for the future. When it comes into its own it becomes the perfect symmetrical life.

GOOD LIVES NEVER DIE. What, then, Dr. Sutherland asked, are these dimensions of the perfect life like? Length is duration, extension is time. Good lives may be so lengthened as to last for ever. The lives of good men, even when cut short, have such length that they last for ever. Their names continue still. Shakespeare still lives in his plays. Paul has said: "No longer live, but live in Christ." MODERNS AND CHRISTIANITY.

"We moderns," the speaker said, "are too comfortable to be Christians, we cannot be or do anything worth while, without effort. The span of the human life is longer now than ever before. Here is our opportunity. The coming generation may be so forward, make progress, that their lives may have length in the ages to come."

Selling Pressure Directed Mainly Against Motor and Rubber Shares

OIL STOCKS ACTIVE ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

Only Sluggish Trading With Prices Steady On Montreal Market

NEW YORK, May 10.—Stock prices continued to follow a downward course as trading was resumed today. Selling pressure was directed principally against the motor and rubber shares, causing an initial one-point drop in General Motors and fractional declines in Hudson, Willys-Overland and United States Rubber. Oil stocks moved counter to the general trend with a fair demand noted for California Petroleum and General Asphalt.

MONTREAL, May 10.—Trading during the first half hour on the local exchange was very sluggish this morning, and prices revealed a fairly steady tone. The leaders, Steel of Canada, and Brazilian, were firm and sold unchanged at 94 1/2 and 89 1/2, respectively. New asbestos preferred gained three-quarters at 87. Rigney Trying "Come Back" In Boston

AS USUAL THERE WAS TALK THAT COBB'S ENPHATIC WAYS DID NOT APPEAL TO EMORY

EMORY RIGNEY, once booked to shine with the Detroit Tigers, is seeking a new lease on his big league life with the Boston Red Sox. He is playing shortstop and seems set for a good year.

Now, if he does rank with the best shortfielders at the close of the season, show his durability by sticking in there day in and day out, and proceed to labor harmoniously with whoever may be regularly in his work will furnish the dope for much winter league discussion.

You'll recall, no doubt, that when Cobb got Rigney from Fort Worth of the Texas League late in 1924 much was expected of the brilliant young man. His first two years with the club he seemed destined to hit Ty's homer record regularly, consistently and earnestly and hit .300 (in 1922) and .315 the following year.

Then he faltered. He played through 1924 at short but his hitting dropped 29 points. Last season he played in but 62 games. His hitting was erratic when he did perform, his hitting tologued to .247 and he did not have the interest in the team play he should show.

Rigney, for 18 months, complained that his stomach bothered him. He was treated for that ailment a year ago. Last winter he announced that the cause had been located—in his teeth. These were extracted.

However, Jimmy Laverne, a midget who led him full of pepper and ambrosia had replaced Rigney in the eyes of the Detroit fans.

As usual there was talk that Cobb's THIRST IN DISGUISE. "I HEAR that you've bought your daughter an automobile. Pretty expensive game, isn't it?" "No, it's a matter of economy. I figured that the car will keep her away from bridge parties."—Boston Transcript.

MAYBE SHE WAS. "I COMPLIMENTED Phyllis on her voice once and she hasn't spoken to me since." "What did you say?" "I only told her I thought she was a howling success."—

MATTER TO COME BEFORE C. A. A. U. ANNUAL HERE

Seek To Enter Local Baseball Field Is Report

THE Great War Veterans' Association of this city has made application to W. E. Stirling, New Brunswick vice president of the M. T. B. for re-instatement into the amateur fold, according to Mr. Stirling this morning. This application must first be passed on by the M. T. B. executive and then referred to the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union for final sanction. As it takes time for this red tape to be completed with, it is altogether likely that if the Vets do get back, it will not be until next fall. That would put them in line for hockey.

It is reported on fairly good authority that the Vets, who made the plunge into pro circles several years ago when pro baseball was going fairly good, have an eye to putting a ball team in the amateur fold next year. The pro issue is absolutely dead now and the amateurs are holding sway and had the Vets been able to get back this year, they would have endeavored to form a team and their leading player likely would have been Charlie Gorman. This would not be the first time that Gorman played under the Vets colors as he was with them for a few years after his return from overseas.

The Vets took quite a prominent part in amateur athletics when they were in the fold, particularly in baseball, and many of their former stars still are pastime hereabouts. It would not be surprising to see several applications for individual re-instatement accompany the Vets' club appeal to be re-baptized into the simonpure circles.

A DEFERRED COMPLAINT SHE had just been kissed. "You'll pay for this," she stormed. "I'll tell my father and he'll—" "But, dear," he started to object. "I'll here he comes now!"—Japan Advertiser.

The enemy losses were announced as important. The advance of the French troops into Rif territory averaged seven and a half miles along the entire front. MAYOR WHITE PROMISES WORD ON POLICY SOON

His Worship Makes First Address to Members of Council

COM. BULLOCK ON RATES IN HARBOR

Com. Wigmore Speaks of Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star Work

At the first meeting of the Common Council since Mayor White took office, held this morning at 11 o'clock, Mayor White expressed his deep appreciation of the confidence reposed in him by the citizens and said he would at an early date lay before the members of the council some suggestions on the matter of policy for civic government. Commissioner Wigmore and Bullock also expressed their appreciation of the confidence reposed in them by the electors and Commissioner Bullock said that before long the matter of rates on traffic through the port must receive the attention of the council and the campaign of advertising will be followed up by personal work if the port was to receive the full benefit.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Mayor White called the council to order and said that before business was proceeded with he had a few words he would like to say. "First," said His Worship, "I want to express the appreciation I have of the renewal of the confidence reposed in me by my fellow citizens in electing me to the responsible and honorable office of Mayor."

"It stimulates and incites me to do this service the best I have of knowledge, experience and judgment. I also wish to thank the public for the many kind and complimentary things they have said about me and which it will be my aim to deserve. No doubt during my term of office I will commit many sins of omission and commission. I have no doubt that many of my friends will not see eye to eye with me upon all matters, but I would ask them to believe that my actions will always be directed by a desire to be of use to the community which is our home."

STATEMENT SOON.

"On a future occasion I propose to outline to you, Gentlemen, a few of my personal ideas concerning public questions which are likely to come before us. This will be done without unnecessary delay and I trust that we may finally arrive at a sane, safe and progressive policy which may advance in a real way the interests of the city we love so well."

"It is an especial pleasure to meet in the Common Council some of my associates when I was Mayor some years ago, Messrs. Frink and Bullock, former aldermen and mayors of the city."

"Commissioner Wigmore, who had many years of experience as head of the water and sewerage department, a department over which he presided when the Loch Lomond extension was put through, is indeed a tower of strength to the council as a commissioner Harding, who though only two years as the head of the safety department, has already shown a capacity for the administration of that department which is appreciated by the citizens."

"I trust that we will work together in harmony, as I believe we will, and that our deliberations will result in the adoption of measures which will promote prosperity in the City of Saint John."

HARBOR COMMISSION.

Commissioner Wigmore expressed his appreciation of the confidence reposed in him by the electors. He referred to harbor commission for which he had worked hard while representing the city at Ottawa, but which had not been acceptable to the rest of the Dominion at that time. He stated that had been a change in the attitude of the rest of the provinces toward the Maritime Provinces and this, he believed, was in a great measure due to the campaign carried out by The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star.

HARBOR RATES.

Commissioner Bullock thanked the electors for the trust reposed in him and referred to the harbor department and some changes in it since His Worship was in the council before. Twenty years ago, he said, the only charge for wharfage was on local freight but this had been gradually changed until a fairly satisfactory tariff on all commodities was imposed. Recently this rate had been cut without any real justification, he said, and one of the matters the council would have to consider very soon was whether this cut should remain or the rates go back to where they were. The harbor was the real life asset of the city and he was of the opinion that to advertisement which it had received must be added the personal appeal to get business for the port.

It was said that the inspectors located seven or eight jars of alcohol in a barn adjoining Meltzer's house.

ST. BERNARD DIES

Prince, a rich-coated St. Bernard dog belonging to Mrs. W. C. H. MacKay, 148 Wentworth street, died during the week-end of gastric trouble. SCHOOLBOY MEET

Interest in the schoolboy athletic tournament to be held on Hazen avenue a week from tomorrow, Loyalist Day, is becoming quite lively. The principals of each school building whose boys are eligible to enter the meet—boys up to standard eight—have been combing with a letter fully explanatory of the details of the events, classes, ages, weights, etc. Some of the schools which were poorly represented last year will, it is expected, make a better showing next week. The eagerness of the season finds the little fellows without much training, but those belonging to gymnasiums are putting in a lot of indoor practice.

CARS IN CITY FROM VARIOUS PLACES

Winnipeg, Toronto, New York and Nova Scotia Tags are Seen.

The parking space on the north side of King Square is rapidly assuming its summer appearance and on Sunday afternoon there were drawn up before the Admiral Beatty hotel automobiles from Winnipeg, Toronto, New York and Nova Scotia. C. L. Edwards, who came to Saint John in his car from Toronto, via Rochester, N. Y. and Calais, Me., reported excellent touring conditions until he arrived at Calais where he encountered a new storm. He said that the road between here and St. Stephen was in good condition, with the exception of a few sand holes. He drove a medium weight car and said that three or four of the heavier class of cars were waiting at Calais to enter the province, permits not being granted on account of the weight of the cars.

Martin O'Day, who arrived here yesterday from Winnipeg, said that he made the trip in eight days and reported conditions good until he reached certain parts of the line where construction was underway on the roads.
