As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeak, "I have been approached by a number of my friends who want me to accept a nomination at the next general election for Ottawa."

"Oh—you do—do you?" said Hiram. "You are a good fellow. You are just the right man to save the country—"

"It is a great honor," said the reporter. "Say," said Hiram, "you don't want to get into no argument with me on this point."

"On the average," says the statement, "the financial position of Saskatchewan municipalities is very sound."

He adds that it is true that the government helped the weak municipalities and organized the municipal machinery, so that the criticisms in his statement shall no longer apply.

Bank of England Cuts the Rate to Six

Surprise Sprung on Money Market—Some of the Reasons—Effect at Once on Stock Market in London.

London, June 23.—The Bank of England sprang a surprise upon the money market today by reducing its rate of discount one-half of one per cent, to six per cent, just as the banks were making up their half-yearly accounts.

It had been thought that the Bank of England would abstain from any reduction in the rate pending the settlement of the labor troubles, and it is believed the chief reason for the decision to lower the rate was the necessity that the treasury be able to borrow money more cheaply.

The recent reduction of the federal reserve bank rate in the United States and cheaper money conditions in that country were also gaining influences to the lower minimum rate.

The effect of the reduction was immediately seen in the stock market, where fair sized orders were placed in the gilt-edged section for war loans, Indian stocks, Argentine fours and other bonds. The market also hardened in other sections.

VARYING VIEWS ON LONDON PRESS

Comment on the Situation in Ireland.

The King's Return—The Irish Times Declares Maintenance of Republican Campaign is a Foolish Proceeding.

Holyhead, Wales, June 23—King George and Queen Mary arrived here this morning from Belfast, where yesterday they presided at the state opening of the Ulster parliament.

The London Papers. London, June 23—Relief over the safe return of King George and Queen Mary from Belfast was expressed by this morning's newspapers, which also voiced appreciation of their courage in making the trip to the Irish city to open the Ulster parliament.

The Daily News, however, strongly criticized the government which framed the speech for "simultaneously making a mockery and reproach of these moving works of its decision to send some troops to the south of Ireland. The London Times also denounced the government for "dashing all hopes by decreeing the intensified warfare in Ireland to the bitter end."

Belief was strongly expressed by some papers that the opening of the Ulster parliament might lead eventually to the harmonious establishment of a parliament for united Ireland.

Commentators resorted to that grand independence to Ireland was "utterly irresponsible" but they still urged that Great Britain was entirely willing to allow the Irish to manage their own affairs in their own way.

The Daily Telegraph, contending that in the south and west Ireland the Irish already had secured more than their constitutional leaders had asked, declared concessions would not long be withheld from a southern parliament which gave its hand in true friendship.

Taking a similar view, the Chronicle maintained that "the pervasively which finds good prospects and hopes for a too abnormal to last forever, and the question is how far southern Ireland will be carried along the path of ruin before it abandons her."

The Morning Post, which professed to see the beginning of a new epoch in the relations between Great Britain and Ireland in yesterday's ceremony, said the king's hopes for a future united and peaceful Ireland could "never be fulfilled until that country is delivered from the murderous conspirators who hold it in thrall."

The Irish Times. Dublin, June 23—(Canadian Associated Press)—Under the caption "The Choice" the Irish Times says editorially: "During recent years the English magazines and reviews have discussed, from month to month, every conceivable aspect of the Irish question. Indeed, it succeeded the war as the main topic of their political articles. In this month of June, however, a significant silence has fallen upon them."

"We call the silence significant rather than curious, for it is easily explained. English publicists have been quick to appreciate the fact which the mass of Irishmen still choose to ignore. The elections to parliaments of Southern and Northern Ireland have entered the whole character and shifted the whole basis of the Irish problem. Hitherto, through all our sad centuries, the Irish people have been the arbiters of Irish destinies.

"Now everything is changed. The government of Ireland has made a clean sweep of the old order of things. Within certain well defined but liberal limits the British people have put Ireland's political future in her own keeping. The English magazines recognize today that there would be no profit in discussing for English readers matters which have ceased to be within English control.

"The southern elections have given southern Ireland a body of men who technically at least have all constitutional authority to speak her name. "The northern elections have produced a parliament whose title to speak and act for Northern Ulster cannot be questioned. The peace of Ireland is in the hands of these two bodies. There will be no peace if the south insists on peace, but peace will come certainly and perhaps quickly, if the leaders of southern Ireland really desire it, and make a real effort to get on good terms with their northern fellow countrymen. Every interest of Northern Ulster demands settlement and co-operation since Irish counties, however, rigorous and homogeneous, cannot flourish so long as the other twenty-six are in a state of chaos."

The Times adds that in these circumstances the maintenance of the republican campaign is not merely wicked, it is almost incredibly foolish.

NEW RECTOR FOR DEVON NAMED

Federicton, N. B., June 23—Rev. W. J. Branch, who had had many years' experience as a missionary in India, has been appointed rector of St. Mary's parish, Devon, to succeed Rev. G. W. Fisher, who has gone to Saskatchewan. The appointment was made by Bishop Richardson, who met Rev. Mr. Branch while in London last summer. He and his wife will arrive here about July 25.

FIND LIQUOR THAT DISAPPEARED

Stock Now in Quebec Commission Warehouse.

Lot Worth $160,000 Taken at Night from Ontario Export Company's Premises—The Agent Says He was Locked Up While Transfer was Made.

Ottawa, June 23—(Canadian Press)—The $160,000 liquor stock of the Ontario Export Company which mysteriously disappeared from the warehouse and house here between dark Tuesday and daylight Wednesday morning has been located in the warehouse of the Quebec Liquor Commission in Hull, Que. This is the liquor which was seized by Ontario government officers two weeks ago and officially disposed of, which was checked by an interim injunction.

A report that the Quebec liquor commission had purchased the liquor just prior to the seizure could not be confirmed.

INTIMIDATION AT COAL MINES

Fear is Preventing Reopening Them.

Meeting Tomorrow to Prepare for Conference on a General Strike—The Clyde Shipyards Workers Accept Reduction.

London, June 23—(Canadian Associated Press)—In all the British coal fields where miners have returned to work they are being subjected to intimidation by the strikers.

So far there has not been much actual violence, but the fear of it is preventing the re-opening of many pits. In Scotland soldiers are protecting the miners working in the few collieries which have resumed operations.

The miners' leaders will assemble in London tomorrow to prepare for the conference of representatives of unions threatened with wage reductions, which has been called for Saturday. At this conference the miners will press for a general strike, involving five million additional men, but it is generally believed their plans will prove abortive.

Some reports say that their general strike proposal met with a discouraging reception at the labor party conference at Brighton the other day, and it is generally thought that if the other unions take action it will be designed to save the face of the miners' leaders and make their surrender easier and not to extend the strike.

The same speaker gave an example of the financial results of the strike, saying that Nottinghamshire miners had not only exhausted all their funds, amounting to 250,000 pounds, but were 100,000 pounds in debt.

As indicating the effect of the strike upon the iron trades a prominent iron master says that for the first time in several generations not a single blast furnace is operating in a district where usually 300 are always working.

The Clyde shipyard workers have accepted a reduction in wages of six shillings nine pence a week.

DR. CHRISTOPHER ADDISON.

FREDERICTON NEWS. Fredericton, N. B., June 23.—Four men forming a party in a Maine car which was stopped here on Wednesday, and in which liquor was found, forfeited their deposit in the police court today.

Musketry and range practice occupied the attention of the militia in training camp all day. The infantry were at the Devon range this morning, and the cavalry were at the range on Friday.

One man kicked by a horse is in hospital. There also is another patient. The dragoons had a horse injured seriously on Wednesday afternoon and it may be necessary to shoot the animal.

Brigadier H. MacDonnell, G. O. C., 1st. Col. A. H. Powell and Lt.-Col. H. C. Sparling are here today for inspection. A. C. Gorham, director of the elementary agricultural training, is here completing arrangements for the summer school of science, which will be held in the D. S. C. R. buildings.

Former British Minister of Health, now without portfolio, Lord George says he is fully determined to fight the insurance engineering within the coalition ranks by Unionist members, who intend voting against salary for Dr. Addison.

WHERE MR. WIGMORE GETS OFF

Continuing its laudable efforts to make the stay of Hon. Mr. Wigmore among us as delightful as possible in this June weather, the Standard today offers to the minister some light and cheerful reading on the subject of St. John's next representatives in parliament. By way of introducing the subject the Standard says:

A WORLD-STATSMAN.

Premier Smuts of South Africa gives continued proof of his qualities as a world-statesman. His vision pierces the future and he sees the problems that will confront the powers bordering on the Pacific, and would have co-operating now in order that misunderstanding and rival interests may not endan-

THE FOUNTAIN MURMURING OF SLEEP

A drowsy tune;
The flicking green of leaves that keep
The light of June;
Peace through a slumbering afternoon,
The peace of June.

A waiting ghost in the blue sky,
The white curved moon;
June, hushed and breathless, waits, and I Wait too, with June;
Come, through the lingering afternoon,
Soon, love, come soon.

NO SEX HYGIENE IN NEW TORONTO

Uprising of Parents Fairly Overawes the School Trustees.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

A signal victory for those opposed to the teaching of sex hygiene to the children in the public schools of New Toronto was scored when a deputation, armed with a largely signed petition and in fighting mood, appeared at the meeting of the school trustees last night.

When Chairman Longley and Trustee Ironside showed an inclination to have the question laid on the table, the members of the deputation, which included members of the Ratepayers' Association, stated emphatically that the matter had to be settled "right now."

Trustee Mrs. Legge sided very strongly with the deputation, saying: "As a mother I am very much opposed to the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools, and if it continues under the present system I would send my children to a private school instead."

Mrs. L. Clarke said if talking would not move the trustees to action she would use force and remove her child from the school.

Hon. R. H. Grant's Views

A visit to the minister of education was related by Mr. A. S. Harris. He reported that the minister said sex hygiene could not be taught legally in the schools without a large majority of the people first giving approval, and that he would inquire into both sides of the controversy, and take some action on Saturday morning of this week.

Mr. S. J. Holtham, who introduced the deputation, said the canvass showed that 97 per cent of the citizens were opposed to sex hygiene in the public schools. It was understood that two such lectures had already been delivered. They were there to demand that there should be no more.

Mr. B. H. Lucas declared he would move his children from school if the objectionable lectures continued, and he was a year in jail rather than have them taught what he thought to be sinful.

Mrs. E. Brant, mother of seven children, asserted that the two lectures already delivered had worked harm among the scholars, and that a different sex than a public school should be chosen for such instruction.

Chairman Longley did not see any justification for going back on his vote, and as the people wished the lectures continued he was willing to accede to their wishes.

Trustee Bennett said the trustees had an idea many parents were so busy chasing dollars and cents they permitted the matter of teaching such things to the children in the homes to be neglected in the rush of modern life.

TWO GIRLS PERISH

Brookville, Ont., June 22.—Dorothy, aged fourteen, and Phyllis Marion, aged four, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Elliott, were burned to death at their home early this morning by fire which destroyed the place.

RECENT WEDDINGS

At the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. E. Josselyn, "Lyndhurst," East St. John, at 9 o'clock last evening, Annie P., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Gillen, and William, son of Charles and the late Mrs. Segee, were united in marriage by the Rev. Samuel Howard, in the presence of relatives and immediate friends.

Harrington-Gallant.

In the Church of St. John the Baptist on Tuesday morning, Miss Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gallant, 78 Britain street, and Howard J. Harrington, son of Mr. C. Harrington of Parboro (N.S.) were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. A. W. Meahan, D.D. The bride was given away by her father, Miss Annette was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by Calais Gallant. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington will reside in the city.

Mitchell-Dryden.

The home of John Mitchell, South Devon, York county, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday evening when his youngest son, Walter A., was united in marriage to Miss Nellie N. Dryden, formerly of Moncton, but for the past three years a resident of Fredericton, being employed as a stenographer with James S. Neill & Sons until the first of May last. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Triffin, assisted by Rev. E. W. Lister, Maryville.

Clark-Worden.

A charming wedding was held at the home of the bride yesterday afternoon when Miss Marion McAlpine Worden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Worden of Wickham, Queens county, was united in marriage with Stanley Ambrose Clark of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company staff, by Rev. G. D. Hudson, pastor of the Victoria Street Baptist church. The bride was beautifully attired in a dress of Albee blue silk trimmed with piping of the same color, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was given away by her father. The bridal march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. A. C. Burke, cousin of the bride. The bride's traveling gown was of navy blue tulle with hat to match and with it she wore an ermine neck fur. The bridal pair received many handsome and beautiful gifts, including cut glass and silver. The B. Y. P. U. of the Victoria Street church, of the executive of which the groom was a member, presented to him a handsome silver scallop dish and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company gave him a very fine watch, immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served and Mr. and Mrs. Lomax left for a tour of the province. They will reside at Little Lepreau on their return.

Duffy-Layden.

Miss Georgia Helena, daughter of Mrs. Mary Layden, Elgin, Albert county, became the bride of John Duffy, 175 Chesley street, yesterday. The marriage was performed by Rev. Francis F. Walker in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Albert, Albert county. Miss Eleanor Mullin was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by John Layden, brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Duffy will reside at 278 Main street. The bride, who lived with her sister, Mrs. S. U. Buchanan, 274 Main street, was the recipient of many beautiful presents, including a silver cake basket from T. W. Thompson, dry goods merchant, Main street, with whom she was employed, and a casserole dish from employees of the store. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan and other friends of the contracting party, the bride, were present at the wedding. The groom served overseas in the A. S. C.

At the Central Baptist parsonage, last evening at 6 o'clock, Rev. F. H. Bone united in marriage Lulu Viola Howe and Gordon Aubrey Pickel. Both principals are from Hillsdale, Kings county. After a short stay in the city Mr. and Mrs. Pickel will return to Hillsdale, where they will make their home.

Lomax-Taylor.

The wedding of Margaret Helen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Taylor of Little Lepreau, Charlotte county, to Percy Eldridge Lomax of Little Lepreau, was celebrated at the home of the bridegroom's uncle, Arthur Taylor, 284 Winslow street, West St. John, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, by Rev. I. Brindley. The bride wore a

"BABY CRIME WAVE" STIRS MAGISTRATE

Levine Urges Revival of Cat o' Nine Tails and Woodshed Conferences—Blames "Gabbing" Mothers.

New York, June 23.—Eleven-year-old Michael Friedman, thirteen-year-old Abe Spender and sixteen-year-old Sidney Levine were arraigned before Magistrate Levine in the Morrisonia court on the charge of snatching a pocketbook containing $31 from Mrs. Amelia Bloch of 788 Beck street, the Bronx.

Commenting on the large number of crimes by minors in the past few weeks, Magistrate Levine lectured mothers for not disciplining their children.

"This looks like another one of those 'baby' crimes," he said. "During the past fortnight my attention has been called to what appears to be a full-grown baby crime wave in the Bronx. I don't know the cause, but it seems to me that it is time for a revival of the cat o' nine tails and strenuous sessions in the wood shed."

"I think the mothers are most to blame. The fathers of families are busy making a living for them, while too often the mothers stand around gabbing and gossiping in the streets. I blame the yellow movies for a good deal of the trouble, and now that the vacation season is here, it will be worse than ever."

"He was raised on the east side, and while there has been a good deal of trouble there, it has heretofore been caused chiefly by full-grown men. Children there are raised with some care, as is evidenced by the fact that they are growing up to be successful men and women and good citizens. Most of them are a credit to the community."

"This wave of baby crime in the Bronx has simply got to be stopped. I advise the women to pay more attention to their duties and responsibilities and to less gabbing."

IMMENSE ZOO ELEPHANT SUFFERS ANNUAL CLEAN-UP

Operation Occupies Entire Week and Requires One Hundred Pounds of Soap and Lots of Cosmetic Toilets

(Toronto Globe.)

The children's favorite at the Riverside Zoo—the elephant—was the proudest thing on exhibition for the Sunday crowd which thronged the roads leading to the cages yesterday afternoon.

The huge, clumsy-looking animal with long, flexible trunk, large flapping ears and rough, wrinkled hide of dark grey, rested in a cool spot from the heat of the sun. He seemed happy because he had gone through his annual cleaning, two men being engaged on the work for a whole week.

One hundred pounds of soap were used in getting up a proper lather, after which the elephant is scraped thoroughly to get off the scaly skin which covers the body. This done, a large quantity of beechwood oil is poured on the skin and rubbed in continuously for several hours. This process gives the skin a new appearance and in fact a new dress.

For the cleaning, all four feet are shackled. The elephant does not mind the first few days, but toward the end of the cleaning he becomes impatient and has to be constantly fed with good things to keep him quiet.

Since his arrival at the Toronto zoo the elephant has grown about two feet.

Courier, St. Stephen: Miss Nettie Thomas, who has for some years been a member of the teaching staff of Mount Allison, is a guest for the summer of her uncle, H. E. Hill, at his home on King street. Miss Thomas has severed her connection with Mount Allison and expects to leave in the early fall for Vancouver.

WIFE HAS BOTTLE, HE CALLS POLICE

Husband Causes Woman's Arrest to Learn Where She Got the Cognac—Trouble His Only Reward.

(New York Times.)

Policeman Fred Peterman was directing traffic at the intersection of Forty-eighth street yesterday morning when shouts from the curb attracted his attention. He saw a man there waving a bottle with one hand and holding the arm of a struggling woman with the other.

"This is a bottle of cognac," said the man. "That is my wife. I want her arrested. I want to know where she got this."

At the West Forty-seventh street station the man said he was Harry Clark of 25 East Fifty-fourth street, proprietor of a laundry. Mrs. Clark refused to identify the man, and the police were unable to locate her. She was held in jail of $500. Her husband provided it and escorted her away.

Policeman Peterman took the witness stand later and explained what had happened to Magistrate Jesse Silberman in the West Side Court.

"Do you say you saw the husband with the bottle of cognac?"

"Yes."

Magistrate Silberman then ordered the arrest of Clark. He ruled that the policeman's evidence fixed the possession of the liquor on the husband. A complaint was made out against the laundryman. His case was heard and the complaint was dismissed.

A complaint was drawn against Mrs. Clark, the husband being the complainant. She pleaded not guilty and waived examination. She was released again under $800 bail furnished by her husband.

Mrs. Clark is approximately defendant No. 4000 to be tried under the new liquor laws. According to estimates at the Criminal Courts Building, her case cannot be reached until some time in the next hundred and thirties, so that a decade may elapse before the husband gets the information, which he is seeking as to where cognac may be obtained.

After being arrested himself, being compelled to put up bail for his wife and discovering something about the slow movement of the mills of justice in the liquor cases, Clark said that he began to fear that he had made a mistake and that he would like to retract his steps. He said he regretted the whole affair very much.

"I thought she would merely be fined in the magistrate's court," he said, "and that the experience would teach her a lesson."

Bootleggers have put on the market a new drink called "smoke" according to testimony in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday. This is said to be a compound of poisonous alcohol with poisonous coloring and pure spring water. "Smoke" would be a popular drink, it was stated, except that a man who takes his first drink generally loses his memory and lacks the power to order another.

Detectives Green and White of the headquarters division found a bricklayer named John Riley carrying a bottle of "smoke." He had it in a bottle labeled with a skull and crossbones and with "Poison" and "Medicated Alcohol" printed in red letters.

All this is faint praise for "smoke," according to the detectives, and quite a little to do justice to the progress of the new beverage. Riley said that he had bought it from a man named Rosoff. Riley went back to Rosoff with the half-emptied bottle and complained that the "smoke" was hardly as bland as he had been led to expect. Rosoff is alleged to have refilled the bottle, insisting that the "smoke" was well up to the standard. The detectives thereupon arrested Rosoff, who was held in jail of $500 by Magistrate Corrigan.

RECENT WEDDINGS

At the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. E. Josselyn, "Lyndhurst," East St. John, at 9 o'clock last evening, Annie P., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Gillen, and William, son of Charles and the late Mrs. Segee, were united in marriage by the Rev. Samuel Howard, in the presence of relatives and immediate friends.

Harrington-Gallant.

In the Church of St. John the Baptist on Tuesday morning, Miss Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gallant, 78 Britain street, and Howard J. Harrington, son of Mr. C. Harrington of Parboro (N.S.) were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. A. W. Meahan, D.D. The bride was given away by her father, Miss Annette was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by Calais Gallant. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington will reside in the city.

Mitchell-Dryden.

The home of John Mitchell, South Devon, York county, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday evening when his youngest son, Walter A., was united in marriage to Miss Nellie N. Dryden, formerly of Moncton, but for the past three years a resident of Fredericton, being employed as a stenographer with James S. Neill & Sons until the first of May last. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Triffin, assisted by Rev. E. W. Lister, Maryville.

Clark-Worden.

A charming wedding was held at the home of the bride yesterday afternoon when Miss Marion McAlpine Worden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Worden of Wickham, Queens county, was united in marriage with Stanley Ambrose Clark of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company staff, by Rev. G. D. Hudson, pastor of the Victoria Street Baptist church. The bride was beautifully attired in a dress of Albee blue silk trimmed with piping of the same color, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was given away by her father. The bridal march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. A. C. Burke, cousin of the bride. The bride's traveling gown was of navy blue tulle with hat to match and with it she wore an ermine neck fur. The bridal pair received many handsome and beautiful gifts, including cut glass and silver. The B. Y. P. U. of the Victoria Street church, of the executive of which the groom was a member, presented to him a handsome silver scallop dish and the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company gave him a very fine watch, immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served and Mr. and Mrs. Lomax left for a tour of the province. They will reside at Little Lepreau on their return.

Duffy-Layden.

Miss Georgia Helena, daughter of Mrs. Mary Layden, Elgin, Albert county, became the bride of John Duffy, 175 Chesley street, yesterday. The marriage was performed by Rev. Francis F. Walker in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Albert, Albert county. Miss Eleanor Mullin was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by John Layden, brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Duffy will reside at 278 Main street. The bride, who lived with her sister, Mrs. S. U. Buchanan, 274 Main street, was the recipient of many beautiful presents, including a silver cake basket from T. W. Thompson, dry goods merchant, Main street, with whom she was employed, and a casserole dish from employees of the store. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan and other friends of the contracting party, the bride, were present at the wedding. The groom served overseas in the A. S. C.

RECENT DEATHS
William G. Carleton.
Sussex, N.B., June 22.—(Special).—William G. Carleton died at his home this afternoon after an illness of several months. Mr. Carleton was seventy-four years of age. He is survived by his wife, four sons and four daughters. The sons are Dallas and Oscar of Sussex; Charles of Moncton and Beverley of St. John. The daughters are Mrs. W. W. Linton and Mrs. David Galloway of Vancouver (B.C.); Mrs. A. E. Noakes of Montreal and Miss Bessie, a registered nurse of Westfield (Mass.). Mr. Carleton was one of Sussex's oldest and most respected citizens and his passing will be learned with deep regret by his many friends throughout the maritime provinces and elsewhere. He was a wheelwright by trade and for many years he was a valued employee of the late George J. Vaughan and C. T. White Co., Ltd. He retired from active work several years ago.
The funeral will take place from his late residence on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at which Rev. J. M. Rice will officiate, the interment to be in Sussex Corner cemetery.
HARTFORD GIRL KILLED ON HER WEDDING DAY
Confused by Traffic, She Steps in Front of an Automobile Driven by Policeman.
Hartford, Conn., June 23.—Eight hours before she was to be married Ida Labinger, twenty-two, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Labinger of 204 Mather street, was killed by an automobile driven by a Hartford policeman. She died of a fractured skull at the Hartford Hospital shortly after being rushed there by Policeman Edward L. Dion in the car which hit her.
Detectives who investigated the accident say all the eye-witnesses agreed in exonerating the police officer, who they declared, was driving slowly, about five to seven miles an hour, when, near the busy corner of Main and Park streets, where the traffic is heavy, Miss Labinger stepped off the sidewalk directly in front of the automobile.
As soon as she saw her danger, she started back and then hesitated. Finally, as Dion was trying to pass between her and the curb, she suddenly darted back to the sidewalk and was knocked down by the fender, her head striking heavily on the asphalt pavement.

RUSSIANS RETURN TO OLD FAITH

Bolshevik Doctrines Suffer—Churches are Thronged and Icons Again Appear.

Berlin, June 23.—Cumulative reports from various parts of Russia tell of a rapidly growing religious reaction to the atheistic and irreligious Bolshevik doctrines. In some sections, it is reported, this movement is almost becoming a phenomenon from the standpoint of mass psychology. Leaders of the Communist parties are complaining that large numbers of their members are being swept away by this reborn religious wave. The people are returning to the churches, are again being married in the churches, and having their children baptized, all of which was done away with and "superstitious."

The holy pictures and icons are again being hung in private homes, as well as in the churches. It is a significant fact that the opposition to the Communist rule is again centering in the church.

The Bolshevik church is thundering loud at the church, but the position of the church has been so strengthened by the new religious movement that the Communists are chary about resorting to rigorous measures.

SPIRITS DISAPPEAR MYSTERIOUSLY

A BRONZE PLAQUE FOR SOLDIERS' KIN

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, June 22.—The bronze plaque which is being sent by the Imperial government to the next of kin of all Empire soldiers who died in the late war has reached Ottawa, some 30,000 of these having been received by the department of records, Ottawa. These will be distributed as soon as the new medal room in the Daily Building, now in course of construction, is completed.

With them goes a letter from his majesty the king.

SIMS ARRIVES

New York, June 23.—Admiral Sims arrived here today on the Olympic and was the first person to step ashore. Flanked by police, he drove away. There was no demonstration. At the station, however, there were a few boos and cheers and one woman was seen parading with a banner bearing the picture of a jackass—apropos of the reference to jackasses reported to have been made by Admiral Sims in his London speech. The woman was not troubled by the police.

MUCH DISTRESS IN MONTREAL

Montreal, June 22.—The fact that Montreal is presenting the aspect of rags and tatters such as is generally associated with old country slums in London, Manchester and Glasgow, was commented on today by Miss Lillian E. Barry, directress of the Catholic Social Service Guild, in discussing the present unemployment situation and specially in relation to the disabled soldier. "From our observation," she said, "it looks as though Montreal were in the throes of a food and clothes famine."

She cited a number of cases of great hardship incurred by families of disabled soldiers.

HOT WAVE HITS NEW YORK CITY

New York, June 22.—The hottest June 22 in the history of the local weather bureau was recorded today when the mercury sprang to ninety-three this afternoon. A sudden jump of twenty-four degrees brought discomfort to sweltering millions. Several heat prostrations were reported. Continued high temperature was predicted by the weather bureau.

SAYS JAPS DESIRE U. S. FRIENDSHIP

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
London, June 22.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, in the course of an interview today, expressed entire agreement with the views expressed at the imperial conference concerning the Anglo-Japanese alliance, adding that he was sure his opinion was shared by the Japanese government.

Obviously, said the ambassador, no Japanese government and sane Japanese could regard the alliance as in any way envisaging strife with the United States. "Friendship with the United States," declared the ambassador, "is an absolute necessity for Japan."

HOME LEAGUE SALE

The Home League of No. 1 corps of the Salvation Army held two very successful events in the citadel in Charlotte street yesterday. In the afternoon a well patronized sale of fancy work, home cooking, ice cream and candy was formally opened by Mrs. Adjutant Owens and in the evening the big hall was filled with an audience that was greatly delighted with a fine concert programme. Mrs. Adjutant Ursaki was the chairman for the concert. The double entertainment realized a large sum for the funds of the league. Mrs. Jephson, the league secretary, and all the members took an active part in the affair. In their sale they had ice cream, fancy work, children's table candy and cake stalls. The proceeds of the sale and concert will go towards the expense fund for furnishing the quarters for the newly arriving officers. The league has met each week and has had as one of its objects the teaching of sewing to the inexperienced.

You Save Every Way—

Quality maintains economy. No matter how much you pay "per gallon" for other lubricating oils you get more lubrication "per dollar" when you buy Imperial Polarine Motor Oils.

MORE mileage from every gallon of fuel and quart of oil; uninterrupted service from your car; slower depreciation; fewer repair bills and no lubrication trouble, just about sums up the savings and satisfaction enjoyed by users of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils.

The uniform high quality of Imperial Polarine Motor Oils, wherever you buy them, insures you more miles of correct motor lubrication for your dollar than you can obtain in any other way. Quality does maintain economy.

Our Chart of Recommendations shows the grade of Imperial Polarine Oils required to correctly lubricate your car. Use this grade exclusively and you will get the years of service and satisfaction which you have a right to expect from your car. Consult our Chart at your dealer's or write to 56 Church Street, Toronto, for a copy of "Automotive Lubrication," which contains the complete Chart and other useful information.

CHILD FATALLY BURNS ANOTHER

Chatham, June 22.—A sad fatality occurred at Blackville on Monday, when the year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Underhill was burned to death. While the mother was in another part of the house a two-year-old brother took a stick of burning wood out of the stove in the kitchen and ignited the child's clothing, and before the mother heard the cries of the younger child every stitch was burned off its body and it died in a few minutes after suffering intense agony.

EXONERATE THREE OF GIRL'S DEATH

Montreal, June 22.—Judge Leet, sitting in chambers this afternoon, discharged Dennis O'Sullivan, Thomas Lyng and John Grace, civic employees, of responsibility in connection with the death of Lilly Manning, the eight-year-old girl who fell down an open manhole on March 10 last. All three men were charged with manslaughter.

SIR J. F. FRASER PREDICTS PEACE IN IRELAND SOON

(Canadian Press Dispatch) Rochester, N.Y., June 22.—Sir John Foster Fraser, F.R.G.S., speaking last night at Webster, near here, predicted that "something would happen on Thursday to end the rioting and rebellion in Ireland." "Watch the date, Thursday," he urged, "and see if I am not right. I know what I am talking about. There will be peace in Ireland this week."

Gomper Wins on Irish Issue

Denver, Colo., June 22.—Sinn Fein sympathizers supporting a resolution calling for a boycott against British goods were overwhelmingly defeated today in an attempt to have the convention overturn a ruling made by President Gomper, which prevented reconsideration of their proposal. The convention then disposed of the Irish question by adopting a mild resolution expressing sympathy for the Irish Nationalist cause. They also unanimously adopted a resolution urging modification of the Volstead Act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer.

SAYS PROVINCE NOT ADVERTISED WELL ENOUGH

Sackville, June 22.—The third annual meeting of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association opened here this evening with the president, N. R. DesBrisay, in the chair. Among those present were: C. B. Allan, Mayor Schofield, R. E. Armstrong, H. H. MacKay, A. L. Gibb, of St. John; W. Harry Allen, of Pennic; Hon. P. J. Veniot, of Chatham; Col. F. B. Black, C. C. Ayard, Rev. Dr. Hamilton Wagle, H. Berman and A. C. Ford, F. L. Estabrooks, M. P., of Sackville; W. L. Lowther and F. W. Robertson, of Moncton, and H. C. MacFarlane, of Halifax. A visitor present was E. W. Weels, secretary-treasurer of the B. of R. T. of A., of Kansas City. Hon. Fred Magree, of Port Elgin, was in the chair.

Miss Flora Boyko Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Pimples

"My face was very itchy at first, and after that it was covered with pimples that disfigured it badly. The pimples were hard and red and they were small, and they were scattered all over my face and were so itchy I had to scratch and I could not sleep. "These bothered me nearly a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used five cases of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Flora M. Boyko, Gardenton, Man., Dec. 26, 1918.

Having obtained a clear healthy skin by the use of Cuticura, keep it clear by using the Soap for all toilet purposes, assisted by touches of Ointment as needed. Do not fail to include the expensively scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. Splendid after bathing.

KING'S COLLEGE TROUPE GUESTS

The King's College Troupe were entertained informally last night at Miss Pickett's residence, Mount Pleasant, and each of the members of the troupe was the guest of some St. John friend. Last night was the final presentation of the play, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" by the troupe, which has given thirty-six performances in towns in the maritime provinces since the closing of the college. So successful have the students been as players that some of their number were offered positions as professionals, but considered acting too strenuous for an all-holidays programme. H. H. Walsh, of Prince Edward Island, the business manager for the company on its tour, is a graduate of King's, and has been offered the position of business manager for a well known theatrical company. He has not yet decided whether to accept the offer or not.

WILL TRY TO FLAVOR OCEAN WITH SPIRITS

$50,000,000 Worth Will be Emptied in Sea Off Sandy Hook. New York, June 22.—The district attorney's office in New York county has begun proceedings to require the manager of the State of New York to seize liquor worth $50,000,000 at bootleggers' prices. After condemnation the liquor probably will be towed in garbage scows to a point off Sandy Hook, where the world's greatest cocktail will be compounded. It will be mixed in one colossal drink or whether it will be doled out to the ocean at the rate of a few thousand barrels a day is to be settled later. The thousands of barrels of liquor if dumped all at once beyond the three-mile limit will not be enough to flavor the surface at the beach. It may, however, perfume the breezes for a few miles.

KING'S COLLEGE TROUPE DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

The troupe of the University of King's College which presented "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" at the Imperial Theatre last evening received a very hearty reception. They had a star cast of versatile, well trained actors, whose interpretation of the different characters in the amusing comedy brought forth much applause. Before the curtain was raised their spokesman told of their devotion to King's College and explained that the object of their tour was to raise funds for their Alma Mater. Between the acts a clever vaudeville number was given by T. G. Bennett and W. G. McCollough and Willard Avery, a talented violinist, was heard in fine selections.

In the comedy Jack Temple finding his wife does not believe the improbable truth, that he has spent the night out because he was caught in a Ferris wheel which broke down, invents a fictitious friend, John Brown, and tells his wife he was visiting that friend. The John Brown exists, as fates kindly decide, and having had his friend Frank Fuller pretend to be the fictitious Brown, Temple is faced with a marvelous maze of difficulty. Browns, real and assumed, and their wives, real and assumed, complicate a sufficiently amusing muddle but all ends happily eventually and through storms of tears, denunciation and contrition all the characters emerge chastened but happy.

BRITAIN'S POLICIES TOLD TO PREMIERS

(By Gratian O'Leary, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) London, June 22.—A comprehensive but highly confidential review of the principles which have guided British foreign policy since the end of the war, with a detailed outline of the results of their application, were today given to the conference of prime ministers by Lord Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs. Owing to the fact that questions of delicate international significance had to be touched upon, the conference agreed that the address should not be published. All that can be said, therefore, is that the foreign secretary took the conference completely into his confidence, laying all the cards upon the table, and at the same time inviting the delegates to interrogate him respecting each and every point upon which they might desire fuller information.

PRAISE FOR ST. JOHN COUNCIL

Of the National Council of Women in Calgary, Mrs. A. H. McCready of Sackville writes:—"The St. John delegates waited upon Mayor Adams of Calgary and presented a letter from Mayor Schofield of St. John. They will carry back a reply to St. John's Mayor. As if St. John had not placed its name on the National Council for all time, by its large-hearted hospitality last year! Mrs. Raymond representing Mrs. E. Atherton Smith brought greetings from the St. John Local Council in a four page folder for every delegate here. Mrs. Smith's report as Provincial Vice-president was written aboard ship off the Irish Coast. Our Sackville Council received due recognition in that report."

BANK CLEARINGS. St. John bank clearings this week were $2,858,042; last year, $4,188,782; in 1919, $2,844,590. Halifax clearings this week were $2,820,850; in Moncton, $1,241,522.

FAIR VALE SUNDAY SCHOOL. Plans are being made to open a Sunday school in the club house at Fair Vale on next Sunday, so R. F. Goodrich, the superintendent, said this morning.

VISITING A. O. H. OFFICIAL. Provincial President Smith, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, arrived in the city this morning from Halifax and is today conferring with members of the executive of local branches on matters which will be taken up at the conference to be held in Halifax in August.

CARS ON AVENUE. Commissioner Frink said this morning that the street cars would likely start today operating over a section of the rails recently renewed in Douglas avenue. He said that all the new steel which the company had on hand is now laid and the company is awaiting the arrival of a further consignment.

PROVINCIAL BONDS. Tenders for an issue of $1,500,000 in provincial bonds authorized at the last session of the legislature will close at Fredericton tomorrow. They will bear interest at six per cent and will be used for permanent roads, Valley railway and other items. The bonds cover a term of fifteen years Canada payment, and ten years payable in both Canada and New York.

OVERHEAD CROSSING. Now that the steel is being put on the new C. P. R. bridge, the matter of the removal of the grade crossing at the end of Douglas avenue will be re-opened with the board of railway commissioners, so Mayor Schofield said this morning. It is hoped to get the matter settled in time to connect with the end of the new pavement in Douglas avenue before it is completed.

MRS. E. V. BARNETT. After a long illness Mrs. Edwin V. Barnett, 88 St. Andrew street, died this morning at her home. She was formerly Miss Arter of Fredericton Junction and had made many friends here besides her husband. She leaves to mourn one daughter, Helen at home, and her father William Arter of Fredericton Junction. Services will be held at her late residence this evening and the body will be taken to Fredericton Junction tomorrow for interment.

CONDITION SERIOUS. It is learned that Mrs. Walter T. Earle, who suffered serious injuries yesterday when she fell from a window at the Monastery of the Good Shepherd, has one leg broken in four places and the other two breaks. Fears are entertained that she may not recover. Mrs. Earle said she knew nothing of what had happened and it was the opinion of the physicians that she may have fallen out of the window while walking in her sleep.

MILITARY. Brig. General A. H. MacDonell, C. M. G., D. S. O., Lieut. Col. A. H. M. Powell, and Lieut. Col. H. C. Spauling, D. S. O., left this morning for Woodstock to inspect the militia camp of the 80th Battery. They will then go to Fredericton where the Fredericton camp will be inspected. Colonel Powell turned over the command of the camps at Fredericton and Sussex and he reported that everything was in good order and that the units at both camps were up to the authorized strength. Some units had to turn down recruits who wished to go to camp as they were already up to strength.

POLICE COURT. A Variety of Cases—No Settlement Yet in Labor Union Matter.

Edward Manning was before the police court this morning charged with assaulting John East. The complainant said that he was living in a house for which the defendant was the agent and that the defendant wished to eject him. He said that he went to the defendant's house and asked why he had sent the sheriff down to eject him. The witness said that the defendant struck him on the mouth with such force that he had to visit a doctor and get four stitches in his lip.

The defendant testified that East had made a lunge at him, "so what was I to do?" he asked the magistrate. "Never mind what you were to do, said the magistrate, "tell us what you did do." "Well I struck him on the mouth, answered the defendant. The case was postponed until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when Dr. Malcolm will be called as a witness. Hyman Taxer, charged with having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling, pleaded guilty. The magistrate said that this was the defendant's second violation of the act and that if he committed a third violation he would be sent to jail for twelve months. He decided that he would have to fine him the full penalty of $200, but J. A. Barry, appearing for the accused, explained that it was merely a bottle of gin he had purchased and was taking home, so His Honor said if the defendant would tell where he got the liquor, perhaps the fine would be struck against the man who sold it. After consulting his client, Mr. Barry asked for an adjournment until this afternoon, which was granted. W. M. Ryan prosecuted. The case against C. G. Langbain charged with embezzlement from the International Longshoremen's Association, was continued. No evidence was taken, but the lawyers for the prosecution and defence told of steps that had been taken to effect a settlement. They said their efforts had so far been unsuccessful. The magistrate expressed the opinion that friends of the accused in the association should be agreeable to put up the $1,100 as a loan to the defendant and allow the accused to return to his home. Mr. Barry said he would make one more effort to effect a conciliation, and if that failed the case would have to be fought out. E. J. Henneberry appeared for the prosecution. The case was postponed until Monday afternoon.

One man charged with drunkenness was remanded.

URGES SCIENTIFIC SCHEME FOR WATER MAIN EXTENSIONS

Commissioner Frink Speaks of the Policy of Pipe Renewals—Reports on New Pavements.

At a committee meeting of the city council this morning a letter was read from the deputy minister of fisheries asking for a renewal of the lease of the land at the salmon hatchery, Little River. On motion the renewal was recommended to council. Mr. Bullock presented a bill from the Workmen's Compensation Board, $858.97. He said the estimate of the department was $1,000 and $400 had already been paid. The estimate was therefore $258.97 short. Mr. Bullock mentioned that the unexpected balance in the ferry department be pooled to take care of this item. Carried.

Water Main Renewals. Regarding the extension of the 12-inch main in Queen and Germain streets, Commissioner Jones said the engineer reported that in 1916 the fire underwriters recommended a 12-inch main in Queen street from Prince William to Crown. Part of this was laid and it is the intention to extend this pipe to Germain street and down Germain to St. James street. All 12-inch pipe except the piece between Harding and St. James streets for which a 10-inch main was recommended. Commissioner Frink said that the former policy of the city was to put all the big pipes in the high levels and the smaller ones on the lower levels, but now the scheme seemed to be the enlargement of the mains in the lower sections without a corresponding increase on the higher levels. He thought a thoroughly scientific scheme should be adopted and followed.

Mr. Jones said he would not recommend the renewal only that Germain street was to be paved. It was decided to go ahead with the renewal at present. Regarding Brussels street, Commissioner Frink said there were some connections not completed. Mr. Jones said they would be attended to. Commissioner Thornton referred to a house being built on a high hill and said the owner was laying water pipe overland. Mr. Jones said the proposed work must be approved by him before it could be done.

Commissioner Thornton reported that Chief Blake would attend the fire chiefs' convention in Parrboro, and, on his motion, it was decided to grant the chief one week's leave of absence. The matter of telephone conduits was deferred until Monday. Commissioner Frink reported that the wooden steps leading from Main street to Murray street were in bad condition, and he recommended that they be replaced by concrete steps, with iron railing, at an estimated cost of $504, to be paid for by bond issue.

Commissioner Thornton said before the work was done the city should ascertain what its rights were, as he understood there was a question as to Murray street being an incorporated street. It was decided to get the recorder's opinion and bring the matter up again on Monday. Commissioner Jones said that a resident of Millidgeville complained today that there was no water there, but as the mains did not extend to Millidgeville, he could not see that the city was responsible. He said a pump had been put in last year in one well, but it had gone out of order. Commissioner Jones was authorized to make repairs to the pump, if necessary. He said the cost would be less than $100. Commissioner Frink said the water main should be extended, say, 400 feet a year until the line reached Millidgeville.

Commissioner Frink read an application from the New Brunswick Power Co. for permission to put in an electric switch at the head of King street. The matter was referred to the road engineer to report. Paving Matters. Dr. Frink said the power company had asked for permission to run out Douglas avenue over the tracks now completed. A reply would be given today. Frink said that a car of asphalt had arrived yesterday and would be used in Duke street and Lansdowne avenue. He said that he was keeping a man with a horse and cart repairing the Marsh road all summer. He reported 102 men at work on Brussels street today, and excavation completed on one side as far as Richmond street and between the tracks as far as Brunswick street. He hoped to have the street completed before the snow flies.

Commissioner Bullock suggested that, if the department could not undertake the work of paving Marsh road, it should be given out by tender. He thought that it would be advisable to have this section paved before winter.

TAKEN IN NEW YORK.

Judson, or Harry, Dunham, who escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home here on November 14, has been arrested in New York on the charge of larceny alleged to have been committed in Montreal. Dunham is about 17 years of age. Word of his arrest was telegraphed to the chief of police here this morning by Acting Inspector Murphy of the New York police. Dunham is said to be a native of this city. He will probably be deported from the United States to Montreal.

BASEBALL.

Emerson & Fisher last evening proved themselves to be too much for their lighter friends. The Canadian General Electric, on the St. Peter's diamond, when the latter had their lights put out. The score was 9-5. The game went seven innings. After turning on the switch in the first inning, the Electric failed to make any more connections. The battery for the losers was made up of Wilks, Dever, Martin and Cosman and for the winners Burns and Stinson. Kelley and O'Connor did the honors as umpires. On the Martello diamond last evening the Duke street Stars and the West end Indians played a bit of a game, 2-1. The Stars and Campbell and Williams for the Stars and Campbell and Williams for the Indians. The Stars wish to challenge the South endrovers for a game on the Crown street diamond tonight or Friday.

Little pottery was found, probably because of the use of gourds, which obviate the necessity of fashioning utensils. On what little pottery there was, only slight decorative art was apparent, and that is known as "finger-nail design," being drawn with the nail according to the fancy of the maker. Their pipes are very skillfully made, also their baskets.

The Matolotes do not use the sign language. This is usual where a tribe is isolated and has no necessity of converse with strangers. But a very particular point is that they count only four. This, it is claimed, is the only tribe known that does not count five, the number of fingers on the hand. They have no writing of any sort, no symbols or hieroglyphics. They have words for the three primary colors, red, blue, yellow, and for black and white, which are identical with dark and light. Their word for green is that for blue, and the word "we" is used for both green and tree.

NOVELTY SHOWER. A novelty shower was given last evening at the home of Miss Ruby Basen, St. John, for Miss Ruby White, whose marriage will take place on July 12. Many beautiful and costly presents were received. The evening was spent in music and games and refreshments were served.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waddington wish to thank their many friends for kindness and sympathy shown them in their recent bereavement.

A NEW TRIBE OF PYGMIES FOUND

Down in Colombia, South America, from which republic Canada may someday import some of her fuel oil, an interesting race of little men, Matolote Indians, has been found in hitherto unexplored jungles. They were discovered by a party of oil promoters of New York city, who had been arrested by the sight of these strange people bringing pieces of asphalt out of the jungles. Where asphalt is there is oil also, and the American party determined to go where lived this pygmy tribe. An interesting account of the little voyage of discovery and a description of the Matolote Indians and their customs is published in the New York World from the pen of Louis Bernheimer. He says in part:

Mongolian Features. The Matolotes are from four to four and a half feet tall. They are imbohy in color, slender in build, and of Mongolian type of feature. Their hair, of jet black color, is straight and is worn bobbed by the women and men alike. They are not to be compared with the North American Indians in vigor. The dress of the males is a long robe with sleeves, woven of the wild cotton that grows in the district. The robes are made by the women on crude looms and have vertical stripes of two colors. The women wear less than the men, their usual dress, when not about the mission, being about four inches of loin cloth. Both sexes wear strings of colored beads.

Polygamy is practised, probably because of the warlike soul of the Matolote. This custom is usually found where there is much fighting among tribes, and the Matolotes are incessant warriors, using the bow and arrow, not the blow-pipe and poisoned arrow, as do other South American tribes, in Ecuador, for example.

A Varied Diet. The diet of these Indians consists of the banana, plantain and other small fruits that grow wild. They plant corn and tobacco, fish with nets and baskets and bow-and-arrow, shooting the fish from the bank or standing in the stream. A three-inch snout, found in abundance, is a favorite food with them. Monkeys and birds afford an excellent dish for their palate. The monkey is not skinned, but singed above the fire and then roasted. Of salt they know nothing, so far as could be ascertained. Wild nuts, which are plentiful, are found on their table.

They have no dogs, nor are they in the least pastoral, lacking cattle and sheep. But they make pets of baby geckos, an animal slightly larger than our cat, which they catch young. Occasionally they will make a pet of a bird or a monkey. Because of their heavy hair a bald man is a rare sight for the Matolotes; and Spelacy, of the exploration party, who possesses a hairless crown, afforded them amusement. They would beg him to take his hat off, and then they would roar with laughter.

Hooch they have in plenty. The women chew corn and the spit it into a hollowed-out section of tree trunk, where water is added; the whole is allowed to ferment and then imbued to intoxication. This drink is named "cheecha."

For music they play on a flute of five reeds, arranged something like the clarinet pipes of Pan, and the music they produce is monotonous. They have no drums. Their lodges are made of upright poles laid across with horizontal. There are thatched with palms, in the lowlands, and with other large leaves where the height above sea level prevents the growth of the palm.

Trees are cut with sharp stones and shells, for it is only in the last few years that the machete has come in, and that only about the mission. At night you can see them going about with strings of the large fireflies to light their way. These are tied together in a line and swung along the ground.

Nuts and corn are ground with two stones, a large one as mortar, and a smaller one lacking the place of our pestle. The larger stone is hollowed out and the mortar is made of hard palm wood and the arrows tipped with hardwood.

When a Matolote family is greeted with the arrival of a baby girl, she is immediately married to a member of the tribe. When she is six her husband takes her and brings her up. At 10 or 12 she is ready for marriage, for in that climate maturity comes early.

They are a religious people. This is evident from the fact that three months after the death of a relative the family exhume the body, wrap it in cloths and hang it from the roof of the house, offering food to the spirit of the departed as a sacrifice before a hunt takes place. No idols or temples were found by the explorers.

Little pottery was found, probably because of the use of gourds, which obviate the necessity of fashioning utensils. On what little pottery there was, only slight decorative art was apparent, and that is known as "finger-nail design," being drawn with the nail according to the fancy of the maker. Their pipes are very skillfully made, also their baskets.

The Matolotes do not use the sign language. This is usual where a tribe is isolated and has no necessity of converse with strangers. But a very particular point is that they count only four. This, it is claimed, is the only tribe known that does not count five, the number of fingers on the hand. They have no writing of any sort, no symbols or hieroglyphics. They have words for the three primary colors, red, blue, yellow, and for black and white, which are identical with dark and light. GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN.

MERRY MUSICAL COMEDY SOON

Plans are shaping rapidly for the summer season of musical comedy which opens at Opera House on Monday with Jack Root, one of America's leading musical comedians, heading a company of sixteen, mostly pretty girls supported by Miss Charabelle, prima donna and Baby Gladys, a talented juvenile artist. The opening comedy will be All at Sea, staged with all special scenery, gorgeous costumes and stage effects. The company has a record of very long runs in all principal cities, which is a guarantee to its merit. There will be a reduction of prices for this engagement for the summer season and to suit the times.

NEW FEATURES AT OPERA HOUSE

Looking over the new vaudeville programme opening at Opera House tomorrow, one can see good entertainment to suit even the most critical. The features include Frank Gould, comedy, blackface entertainer; Murphy and DeLone, a bright comedy skit; Rose and Lee Bell, two popular girls in popular song numbers; Dave Johnson, the boy with the dancin' feet; Chester and Warren, comedy acrobats; and the serial drama, The Purple Riders. Afternoon at 2:30, evening 7:30 and 9.

LOCAL NEWS

STILL DOING WELL

James Lawson of Fairville, who is in the Moncton hospital suffering from injuries received in an accident at Richibucto, is doing as well as can be expected, although there is still danger of complications, according to a letter received by friends in the city this morning.

THREE FROM THIS CITY

Boring operations to strike bed rock for the foundations of the proposed C. N. R. station will be completed this week. Bruce Nordin, of Moncton, formerly of this city, who is in charge of the work, said that they have bored twenty feet, four of which were sunk slightly below the remaining number varying from thirty to forty. In some instances, he said, they encountered iron and in others logs and stumps. The latter were material brought to the surface by the machines. At the southwestern side they had to go through about thirty feet of mud before striking gravel, which was four feet above the rock. Mr. Nordin said that the bed rock was limestone and as hard as iron. Today he sent his large machine to Petford and will complete the work with smaller drills.

In Fredericton market yesterday the prevailing prices were as follows:—Lamb 15 to 25 cents; veal, 7 to 15 cents; mutton, 12 to 15 cents; shank, each, 35 cents; potatoes, per barrel, $1; butter, 30 cents; eggs, 30 to 35 cents; strawberries, per box, 20 to 25 cents; per quarter pair, $1.25 to $1.50; hides, per pound, 2 cents; sheepskins, per pound, 5 to 8 cents; hay, per ton, $25 to $28.

A FEDERATION OF CENTRAL AMERICA

Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador and Costa Rica to Unite.

Articles of the Proposed Constitution—Former Attempts and Their Failure—Local Autonomy Provided For.

The Legation of Guatemala, Washington, D. C., June 22.—The following article, entitled, "The Federation of Central America," written by Philip Marshall Brown, who spent many years in the diplomatic service of the United States and is well known as an authority on international law, is published in the latest issue of the quarterly, "The American Journal of International Law."

The Federation of Central America.
At a time when the spirit of nationalism is disrupting ancient empires and rendering more difficult the task of international organization, it is a great relief to find a group of nations abandoning their separate existence to form one united nation. It is a special pleasure to witness this happy event on the Western Hemisphere, whose interests have been too much ignored in the past ideal for international unity.

The recent decision of Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, and Costa Rica to join the Federation of Central America is of considerable interest and importance. The failure of Nicaragua to join the Federation is most lamentable, but there is reason to believe that her entrance into the union is only delayed by certain diplomatic complications which should be speedily removed.

The constitution of the federation has many features suggesting the American institution. An even larger degree of local sovereignty is left to the separate states, as is disclosed in Articles III and IV, reading as follows:

Article III.—In so far as it may be consistent with the Federal Constitution, each state will preserve its autonomy and independence in the handling and direction of its domestic affairs and all powers not vested in the Federation by the Federal Constitution.

Article IV.—So long as the Federal government, through diplomatic action, shall not have obtained the modification, denunciation or substitution of the treaties in force between the states of the federation and foreign nations, each state shall respect and continue faithfully to observe the treaties that bind it to any one foreign nation or more to the full extent implied in the existing agreements.

The purpose of Article IV may be to cover the peculiar case of Nicaragua, which finds itself compromised by the van-Chamorro Treaty of 1916, whereby the United States gained important privileges, including the right to construct an inter-oceanic canal and to maintain a naval base in the Gulf of Fonseca. It may also cover the special obligations assumed by the United States toward the actual government of Nicaragua, with regard to financial intervention in the domestic affairs of the country.

The provision in the constitution of the Federation regarding the executive strongly suggests the Swiss model—in that "The executive power shall be exercised by a federal council composed of delegates elected by the people." It is understood that the chairmanship of this council will rotate from year to year among the states comprising the federation—a solution most conducive of harmony.

Provision is made for the creation of a federal district—a most delicate and difficult problem. In view of the fact that by the Treaty of Washington in 1807 Honduras was neutralized as a kind of buffer state, it would seem logical that it should either form the federal district as a whole or part of its territory.

Regarding the question of finances, the federal constitution provides: "The federal government will administer the national public finances, which will be different from those of the states." It is not clear from this provision just what arrangements will be made to cover the foreign indebtedness of the separate states—which, in the case of Honduras has been estimated at some twelve millions of dollars.

The separation of the five republics of Central America has been quite as absurd as if Rhode Island and the other New England States had attempted to exist as independent sovereign nations. Costa Rica, with an area of 23,000 square miles, has a population of less than 200,000. The total population of the five republics is about five million, that is to say, a third of that of Mexico, with about a fifth of its area.

The disturbances and dissensions in Central America have long caused the United States great embarrassment, and compelled repeated intervention. At the present moment American marines are actually stationed in Managua, the capital of Nicaragua. Owing to the problem of an inter-oceanic canal, and to the Monroe Doctrine, the relations of these countries with European nations have caused great concern. For a good more than half a century the United States and Great Britain were embroiled and snarled in their relations over the question of an inter-oceanic canal. The momentary Clayton-Bulwer Treaty contained a momentous breach of the Monroe Doctrine, and the United States did not regain its liberty of action until the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty finally extinguished in 1901 the right of British intervention in Central American affairs.

The original union of the five Spanish provinces of Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, at a time of their revolt from Spain, was really of a perfunctory nature. They had been isolated from each other and enjoyed a large degree of autonomy. They gravitated politically to Madrid rather than to Guatemala, the seat of the Real Audiencia, and were actually presented by official deputies in the Cortes of 1812. The union did not rest on a realization of intimate interests and needs. It dragged on a precarious existence until 1839, when the heroic Morazan lost his life in a supreme effort to hold it together by the sheer compulsion of arms.

Repeated efforts have been made to restore the union. Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, and Nicaragua maintained a quasi union from 1843 until 1848. In 1850, and again in 1895, Honduras, Salvador, and Nicaragua proclaimed this union, but in both instances the attempt failed because it savored of a political alliance directed against their neighbors, Guatemala and Costa Rica. General Rufino Barrios, the distinguished Guatemalteco, made a bold attempt in 1885 to restore the union and lost his life in his patriotic endeavor. The United States was the host of a conference of the five republics, held in Washington in 1907, to consider their mutual interests. The restoration of the union was eloquently urged by some of the delegates but, owing to adverse political conditions in Central America, seemed out of question at that time. The foundations were laid by this conference, however, for advantageous understandings concerning such matters as currency, commercial relations, intercommunications and citizenship laws. A Central American Court of Justice was established at Cartago, in Costa Rica, which seemed to give promise of great results. Unfortunately, the political and diplomatic standing of the judges did not permit the court to function as a strictly judicial tribunal. The work of the Washington Conference, however, may be said to have constituted a great step in advance toward the goal of reunion.

The desire for the restoration of the union is undoubtedly a popular desire in so far as there has been any real opportunity for an expression of public opinion on the subject. There has long existed among the well-to-do and better educated a strong sentiment in favor of the union. In recent years numerous organizations have been formed to bring it about. A group of students have recently made a passionate appeal to the United States to facilitate the union by withdrawing the marines from Nicaragua. Honduras still uses as its official seal the infelicitous symbol of the union—five flaming volcanoes. And several of the constitutions of these republics expressly provide that their independence is to be deemed temporary in character pending the restoration of the union.

The reasons why the union could not be maintained or easily revived are readily understood. First of all, their inaccessibility. No direct rail communication yet exists between any two of them, though, in the case of Salvador, a connection with the Caribbean port of Puerto Barrios in Guatemala is an urgent necessity. Travel between these countries is mainly by mule across high mountains and swift rivers, or by steamers along coasts ill provided with good harbors. The completion of an adequate system of railroads connecting all the republics and forming links in the grandiose scheme for a Pan-American railway is an imperative reason for the restoration of the union. The task of railroad construction is quite beyond their individual initiative and resources.

These obstacles, namely, inaccessibility, factional intrigues, and a disinclination for a too exacting political partnership, are evidently not now regarded as seriously as in former years. This is due primarily to the consciousness of a genuine community of interests among the five republics. They speak the same language and love the same literature. They possess poets of high rank. They profess the same religious faith—if they profess any at all—and refer to each other as coreligionaries. They have the same customs and traditions. They have the same political instincts. What is of special importance, they have the same fear of foreign intervention.

The step just taken by the four states of Central America may prove an inspiring precedent for many other nations to follow.

PHILIP MARSHALL BROWN.

Sound Banking System.

There are certain factors in the economic system of Canada which tend to strengthen her position as a producing country. Not the least important is her banking system. The service rendered to production by a small number of chartered banks, eighteen in all, with a total of 4,639 branches in October, 1920, consists in the establishment of a large amount of credit easily and quickly transferable over a vast extent of territory. By the temporary expansion of their note circulation, within limits strictly defined by law, the banks are able to finance the harvesting of the Western prairie, including the payment of labor and the movement and distribution of crops. Other seasonal activities promoting raw materials are financed by the banks to a proportionate extent.

"With the increasing development of Canada's natural resources, a corresponding expansion of her banking system has been necessary. This has been accentuated of late years by the steady influx of capital from abroad. Important industrial concerns in Great Britain and the United States seeking an extended field elsewhere have found in Canada abundant raw materials, settled labor conditions, and an unlimited amount of cheap power derived from hydro-electric development. The result has been that British and American capital invested in branch industrial plants in Canada amounts today to nearly $400,000,000.

"In the early days of 1914 the amount of live stock, 444,000,000, against $1,337,000,000 worth of products.

Figures presented by the bank show that Canada's field crops ten years ago were $885,000,000, while now they are $1,460,000,000; orchard and garden crops, $82,000,000 then,

CHEAPER COAL DURING SUMMER

Possibility if United States Congress Passes Frelinghuysen Bill

Washington, June 23—Cheaper coal this summer will become a possibility if Congress passes without delay the Frelinghuysen bill providing for seasonal freight rates for coal.

The bill authorizes the Interstate Commerce Commission to establish rates, varying as to season, provided that the average annual yield to the carriers is not diminished.

HOME AND SCHOOL AIMS ARE DEFINED

While Home and School Clubs are being established all over the country, and the work is strengthening steadily, there still exists on the part of many very indistinct ideas as to what this home and school movement really stands for.

The Home and School Clubs are endeavoring to create higher standards of parenthood and to improve the conditions of school life, because these are the fundamental forces for building health and character.

What You Owe to Advertisers

You owe to advertisers in daily newspapers a lot of everything that has made living more comfortable and healthy.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers of foodstuffs gave you clean foods, just weights and fixed prices for the things you buy to eat.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers gave you better housing, modern bathrooms, hardwood floors, electric lights, gas and electric ranges.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers gave you better clothes to wear by educating the public to the value of good clothes and their economy.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers made your housework easier by giving you quick cleaning fluids, furniture polishes, floor machines, vacuum cleaners, carpet sweepers, aluminum cooking utensils, clothes dryers, sewing machines, gas and electric irons.

Daily Newspaper Advertising made it possible for you to retain the beauty nature endowed you with by suggesting emollients, toilet preparations, shaving creams, safety razors, etc.

The pioneers in all these things were the firms who made them and advertised them.

They led the way. It is for this reason that you should always buy advertised goods.

These goods have raised your standard of comfort and living; and the manufacturers of them command admiration for their courage and foresight.

Dollar for dollar, the advertised article is always better value. The reason is that when an article is advertised, production of it is invariably greater. Therefore, the manufacturer has a larger output and a lower cost of production; hence the greater value for the money.

Further, the advertised article generally has superior merit and greater refinements about it. If it were not so, it would not be advertised.

Buy advertised goods, and buy them from the local store that advertises.

Stately Ceremonial Speeds Twenty from New York—Father McDonough Faced Dangers There.

(By Marian Storm in New York Evening Post)

Not often does the worldly traffic of a New York downtown street pause for a rite so strangely mingled of triumph and pathos as the Jesuit ceremony of departure.

In the stately procession, which moved to solemn rhythms from the college to the church, came first the officers of the Xavier Alumni Cadet Corps, and then a throng of altar boys.

Ancient Farewell Chant.

The processional music was Yon's "Ave Maria Stella," but the great musical moment of the ceremony came at the chanting of the Itinerarium, the ancient farewell hymn of the order for its sons and daughters who are going to distant fields.

The Father Provincial delivered the sermon and the Archbishop gave benediction. The Franciscan rite of kissing the feet of the departing missionaries was not on this occasion observed.

Some members of this company to whom we have just bidden adieu will take up the work of Father McDonough, of which every one who has ever been to the Philippines knows.

"His life, however, was full of austere reality. He lived alone among the Moros on the island of Jolo, in a region to which the American soldiers never went unless they were armed and in numbers.

"For a week before the time he died, Moro fasted. He shaved his head and purified himself for what he believed to be holy slaughter.

"Before the fearless labors of Father McDonough and his brothers change the Mohammedan religious conception of duty enough to protect Christians dwelling in Mindanao, an immediate measure had to be devised.

"Father McDonough learned Arabic which is spoken by Philippine Mohammedans, and he translated the Catholicism into the Moro dialects."

U. S. WILL DEPORT A ST. JOHN GIRL

(Canadian Press Dispatch) New York, June 22—Deportation under the contract labor law of Miss Eileen Mary Coughlan, who came here from St. John (N. B.), to enter the city library as an employe, was learned today from a decision of the department of labor.

Miss Coughlan worked as an assistant in the periodical room, without objection from the authorities from last October, the time she entered the United States, until February, when she was summoned to a hearing at Ellis Island to determine whether or not she should be deported.

Miss Coughlan is a daughter of the late T. L. Coughlan, a jeweler, and previous to joining the New York public library was on the staff of the St. John library. She is now in this city. She was a V. A. D. in the late war.

ONE OF BANDIT GANG IS CAUGHT

Capitol, Ont., June 23—Mike Lazaruk, a Russian Polack, was arrested by C. N. R. Officer Wilson, of Capreol, after an exciting chase lasting 24 hours, during which several shots were exchanged.

This is one of the quartette of rascals who robbed a store at Oha last week, making a getaway with $500 cash and $80 worth of goods.

On Thursday three of the men appeared at Foleyet and an attempt was made by C. N. R. Policeman Tidy and Provincial Policeman McGaughey, of Foleyet, to capture the men, a running gun fight being kept up, but the men separated and escaped in the bush.

SOVIET POWER IN NEAR EAST

Lenine's Attention to Eastern Psychology Gets Russia in Good Graces of the Turks.

Riga, Latvia, June 4—(Associated Press By Mail)—Recent arrivals from Moscow declare that the world little realizes how closely Soviet Russia is pushing its friendship with the Near East.

In Moscow now the Turkish legation occupies one of the most sumptuous of the old palaces and the personal garbed in faultless European clothes, present a strange contrast to the poorly garbed Muscovites.

Members of Lenine's government are frequent guests at these affairs and entertain the legation persons equally lavishly in return.

Besides this, Lenine has to accommodate himself to the psychology of the East that he now exchanges presents with the rulers of Turkey, Persia, etc., as did the rulers of ancient days.

A Moscow dispatch today reads like a paragraph from what might have been an ancient tablet of hieroglyphics describing the visit of a Babylonian envoy to King Cyrus of Persia. It says: "The representative of the Soviet government has made his first official visit to the Shah of Persia, presenting to the Shah on a golden salver an album with photographs of Soviet leaders of the whole of Russia as a personal present to the Shah from Lenine."

A man who recently arrived from Moscow said: "Few persons realize what a close connection now exists between Russia and its old enemy, Turkey, and for that matter all of the Near East. Lenine is accomplishing here what the old Russian government could not do by playing up to Eastern psychology."

"The so-called Bolshevism in these Eastern countries is nothing at all like the Bolshevism of Moscow," but in each case the Russian agitators have a distinct brand of propaganda designed to dovetail with ancient customs of the country in question. For instance, in regions where the trade in bazars is a century old custom, no agitation against free trade has been made."

RAILROAD LADIES' AUXILIARY DANCE

The dance, social and entertainment given last night in the immigration hall, West St. John, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers was attended by more than 500 guests and was splendidly successful.

The president of the association, Mrs. George Lee, was assisted in receiving the guests, and in the arrangements for the dance, by Mrs. Robert Baillie, Mrs. Walter Beatey and Mrs. Medley McKel. Among the special guests, were General Superintendent M. W. Todman, Assistant Superintendent David Ryan, District Engineer C. C. Kirby, Terminal Agent J. Clayton of the C. P. R., members from the sister auxiliary in Brownville, Mrs. M. Crandall and Mrs. Walter Durant and from Woodstock auxiliary, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Aitchison.

The hall was gayly and most attractively decorated in red, white and purple, the colors of the Auxiliary of B. of L. F. and E. During the evening food, plants and violin duet, Miss Saddle, Cougle and Miss May Betts; vocal solo, J. T. Stenhouse.

A bountiful supper was served in buffet style and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the B. of L. F. and E. had full charge.

A special train of three cars left the west side shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning to bring the guests from the east side to their homes.

Several excellent speeches were a feature of the evening and those who gave addresses were: Fred Henderson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Mrs. William Tobin, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Mrs. Durant and Mrs. Crandall.

A musical programme was given and heartily enjoyed. The numbers included: Piano duet, Mrs. Treha Wetmore and Leonard Wilson; vocal solo, Miss Addie Tippet; piano solo, Miss Katherine Fox; piano and violin duet, Miss Saddle, Cougle and Miss May Betts; vocal solo, J. T. Stenhouse.

JEWES NOW LEAD IN IMMIGRATION Produce $250 Landing Money—Authorities Believe Organizations Loan It. (Montreal Herald) The immigration authorities are somewhat concerned in regard to the great number of people of the Jewish race who are finding their way into Canada. In the past British and Italian have headed the landing lists, but the Jews are easily leading today and as they are not workers on the land, in the mines, in the forests, or on railways, but confine their efforts mostly to factory work, the authorities are at a loss to know where all of them can find work in the Dominion. To obtain entrance into Canada to-day it is only necessary to possess $250 in actual cash. Many would-be British and Italian immigrants do not have that amount and are either turned down at a landing port or do not come to Canada at all. With the Jews it is quite different—they all can show their $250. The regularity with which each Jew produces the amount of his landing money has set the immigration authorities thinking, and they have come to the conclusion there is an organization in existence for providing each Jew coming here with his landing money. On his arrival at his destination the $250 is handed back to the organization and is, so it is believed, sent out to Europe again to help another Hebrew to enter Canada. The authorities say that if some society is not responsible for this money distribution scheme, then a money lender is at the back of the organization getting Jews into the country. GOING TO FREDERICTON. Ottawa, June 22—Dr. L. W. Gill, director of technical education of the department of labor, will proceed to Fredericton on July 11, to deliver a series of lectures before the summer vocational schools. HIS NECK IN LIVE WIRE COIL. McKeesport Newsboy Burned, Passing Rescuer Also Shocked. Pittsburgh, Pa., June 23.—In sight of horrified pedestrians, William Smith, a McKeesport newsboy, aged twelve, was almost burned to death while he struggled to free himself from a live wire which had entangled the boy as he walked along the street delivering newspapers. The boy was rescued by John Sowaka of East Wilmering and taken to the McKeesport Hospital, where little hope was offered for his recovery. The broken electric light wire had fallen upon a mail box in a street just outside the McKeesport city limits. As young Smith passed, his shoulder touched the wire and he drew back in fright. The movement resulted in the end of the wire becoming coiled about his neck. As he fought to escape from the deathly loop, virtually all his clothing was burned off and his hands, arms, face and neck were terribly scarred. Fearing death for themselves if they attempted a rescue, spectators watched the boy's agony. Sowaka, a mill laborer, getting off a street car, rushed without a moment's hesitation to the boy's assistance. Although he also was shocked by the current, he succeeded in dragging Smith from the spluttering coils without suffering serious injury. HOT IN MONTREAL Montreal, June 22.—The highest temperature of the season, ninety-one degrees, was recorded today at the McGill observatory. While this is a higher temperature than any recorded for last June, it is lower than the highest in June, 1919, when a temperature of 92.4 degrees was recorded on June 4. Gerald McFarlane, a four-year-old boy, fell down stairs in his home, 109 Adelaide street, yesterday and was taken to the hospital where it was thought last night that he was suffering from a broken collar-bone.

One More League.
Still another league has been added to the multiplicity of city baseball organizations. This time it is a triangular C. P. R. combination embracing representative of the telegraph department, the ticket office and the Dominion Express. The first game is scheduled for the South End diamond on Friday evening.

St. Peter's Intermediates Win
St. Peter's Intermediate baseball nine defeated the Beavers in the South end game last evening by a score of 16 to 1. Gog and Gossell formed the battery for the winners, and Yeomans, Potter and Jones for the losers.

Box Company Team Wins
The Wilson Box Company's nine defeated the Pleasant Point sluggers on the Park Tuesday evening, by a score of 5 to 2. Arbo and Godfrey made the battery for the winners, and Price, and Deforest for the losers. Another game will be played Friday night.

Games This Evening.
City League—Commercial vs. Pirates.
St. Peter's diamond.
South End League—Imperial Oil vs. Peter's.
West End League—St. George's vs. Strlands.
A Game Tonight.
The Pirates and Commercial are to meet again tonight in the City League at the St. Peter's diamond. The second game is looked for. The manager of the Pirates announced last night that he intended to use Kerr again tonight and secure a firm grip on second string. The pitching choice for the Commercial could not be learned last night, although the opinion was expressed that they would use Evans in effort to regain second place.

"HALF AN HOUR"
DOROTHY DALTON HAS PROBABLY THE MOST APPEALING ROLE OF HER CAREER in "Half an Hour," her new picture, which we are showing today and Thursday. It was adapted from the famous play of the same name written by Sir James M. Barrie, author of "Male and Female," "Peter Pan," and many other well known successes.
The story is about a beautiful young English girl who was practically sold by her father when she became the wife of a millionaire. Practically a stranger in her husband's house, she sought relief in the company of another and more alluring man. Finally she decided to run away with him. Then came the dramatic event that in a few minutes changed three lives forever.

LEADING FIGURES
IN BIG CONTEST
"Jack" Dempsey.
New York, June 21—William Harrison Dempsey the name by which the world's heavyweight champion was christened, was born 29 years ago in Manassa, Colo.
The prefix "Jack" was assumed by the big fellow when he had grown to man's estate and had chosen the title ring for a livelihood. As a fighter he had the idea and a good one, that by assuming the Christian name of "Jack" some of the glamour of the wonderful boxing science which the original Jack Dempsey, Brooklyn's famous "Nipper," possessed as the midweight title holder might revert to him.
The champion is the sixth child of a family of eight. Three of his brothers and three sisters are alive but the youngest of the eight, who was named Bruce, died about two years ago. When Dempsey was seven years old his parents, Hiram and Cora Dempsey, with all their children moved from Manassa to Montrose, Col., where they lived for nine years. Then the Dempsey household was shifted to Salt Lake City, Utah, and that is the place which they, including the champion, claim as their home.
Born of rugged-parents, Dempsey claims that he has Irish Scotch and Indian blood in his veins and insists that the fighting qualities for which all three of these races are famous have been passed on to him in generous portions from his antecedents.
Most of Dempsey's early life was spent in the open on a farm but later he alternated by working in the mines except in harvest time when he found it more remunerative to devote his strength to reaping wheat and other crops in the grain belt. In this way Dempsey kept himself in fine physical condition, the hard labor developing the wonderful muscles which proved to be such a useful factor in his winning the world's heavyweight title.
According to Dempsey's own story his first fight encounter was in an improvised ring at Montrose, Colo., when he was about 19 years old. His opponent was a young blacksmith named Woods, whom he knocked out in ten rounds.
This initial contest netted the now-champion $25. His next fight also resulted in a third round knockout.
Andy Malloy, who had previously vallanted one of Dempsey's older brothers, being the victim.
When he was 20 years old Dempsey began boxing in earnest, taking on a bout whenever the opportunity offered, while between times he returned to odd farming jobs or worked as a miner. His first Eastern experience in the fighting arena was in New York City where he met Andre Anderson, Wild Burt Kenney and Lester Johnson, a negro in ten rounds no decision bouts. This was in 1916.
During the following year Dempsey knocked out Al Norton and Charley Miller, each in one round. Later he won from Willie Meahan, Carl Morris, Bob McAllister and Garbost Smith in four round bouts in California and was knocked out by Jim Flynn, the "Pueblo Fireman." In the following year Dempsey reversed this by knocking out in a single round and following up with a series of knockouts, among his victims being Fred Fulton, Battling Levinsky, Porkey Flynn, Arthur Peckey and Terry Kellar.
Dempsey's banner year was 1919 when after scoring five knockouts of one round
each in Pennsylvania and Connecticut, he won the title by stopping the big Katie and Jess Willard at Toledo, O., on Independence Day two years ago.

THE RING.
Gibbons Defeats Meahan.
Cleveland, O., June 22—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul, light heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Willie Meahan of San Francisco, in the first round of a scheduled twelve-round decision bout here tonight. Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the fight after Meahan had been knocked down three times. It was Gibbons' twelfth consecutive knockout.

AQUATIC
Rowing at Shediac
J. A. Kelly of Shediac is communicating with St. John firms with a view to purchasing rowing shells for two crews.
It is planned to have one crew from Shediac and one from Point du Chene.
It is expected to have crews ready to participate in a regatta at Shediac about August 1.

California crew took first and second places respectively in the three mile varsity event, the feature of the programme. Cornell was third, Pennsylvania fourth and Columbia and Syracuse finished in the order named. The middle, whose crew included most of the oarsmen who won Olympic honors in Brussels last summer, rowed the three miles in the record time of fourteen minutes and seven seconds. This supplants the time of 15 minutes, 51 1/2 seconds made by Pennsylvania at Saratoga Lake in 1898.

PIRATES PROTEST
The Pirates have entered a protest with the arbitration board of the City League on the game which was won by the St. Peter's on Tuesday evening. They handed their protest yesterday to J. S.
Malcolm, chairman of the board, and a decision is expected shortly. The manager of the Pirates said last night that they based their claim on rule 61, section 3, sub-section 2. The disputed play was when, with one man out and St.
Peter's runners on second and third base, in the seventh inning, a pop fly was hit to the first baseman of the Pirates. He caught the ball and was going to throw to third for a double play, when he discovered the base was not covered. He then tried to catch the runner at second but was unsuccessful in this. Meanwhile the runner from third scored, according to the Pirates' version, without re-touching third after the fly was caught. Both umpires at the game announced that they had not seen the play and demanded that the game go on.
The play was resumed but the Pirates have entered a protest, claiming the game.

SOME STAUNCH
MEN OF 65
Kingston Paper Gives Some Examples in Criticising Ottawa Course re Civil Service.
(Kingston Standard.)
Apparently the dominion government has made up its mind to follow the recommendations recently made by one of its numerous commissions, and retire all men in the Customs and Inland Revenue Departments who are over sixty-five years of age, and so it goes on all through the fact that many of these men are still well able to perform their duties and are in no wise incapacitated because of their "advanced" years.
With all due respect to the dominion government and to the memory of the late Dr. Osler, who recommended that all men above sixty be chloroformed, we think the suggested action is a mistake.
Certainly if we review the careers of the great men of Canada, past and present, we would find that had they been retired at the age of sixty-five the country would have been infinitely the worse for it. In whatever walk of life we look for it, the striking fact is that the three of the senate, is seventy-five, Sir John Campbell, Sir Richard Cartwright, that great French-Canadian, Cartier, were all beyond sixty-five when they died. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was seventy-eight when he passed away. Hon. W. S. Fielding is seventy-two, Col. Landry, speaker of the senate, is seventy-nine, and so it runs through the political life.
In the banking world Sir Bryan
Walker, head of the Bank of Commerce, is seventy-three, and Sir John Aird, general manager of that bank, is sixty-seven. Archbishop Spratt, president of the Royal Bank, has just reached the "retiring age" of sixty-five. M. J. Haney, president of the Home Bank, is sixty-seven, and Sir Montagu Allan of the Merchants Bank has only four more years before he will be in the "also ran"
class.
The same thing is strikingly true of the leaders of the church in Canada. Cardinal Beign is eighty-one, Archbishop Gauthier is seventy-eight, Archbishop Bruchési is sixty-five, Archbishop Spratt of this city, is sixty-four, Archbishop Matheson of the Anglican church is sixty-nine, Archbishop Worrell is sixty-seven, Archbishop Thibault is seventy-three. Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), just elected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, is sixty-three (and soon, therefore, under this ruling, "on the shelf"), while Rev.

who held up James Duke, a storekeeper

$80 worth of goods, came out of the lying in wait for him. Mike Lazaruk, another of the alleged bandits was ar-

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, N. E., June 23.—William T. Brickley, a St. John trainer, who signalled his first appearance as driver for the Hartland Driving Club by winning three of the four races on the card of a matinee meeting yesterday at the Woodstock track, will open his regular campaign at the Maine and New Brunswick circuit's curtain-raiser meeting at Fred-erickton on June 30 and July 1. He added to his reputation by the wonderful showing he made last season with Peter Brunswick circuit. They are expected to arrive here on Monday or Tuesday from Woodstock, and it is expected that by S. E. Rice of St. John, and other St.
John horses will be arriving to get their final tuning up for the opening here.

DRUG CASE
In the case against Dr. Broderick, charged with unlawfully signing prescriptions, for the filling of which a drug was required, for other than medicinal purposes, J. Benson Mahony was recalled to the stand and produced a book in which he kept account of all narcotics sold from his store. The book was entered in evidence. Dr. W. F. Howley said that he had often treated drug addicts. He considered that if the drugs were given to the addict himself for personal treatment, such treatment would not be medicinal. If the doses were not gradually diminished it would not be medicinal.
Dr. M. L. Abraham said that he was familiar with the treatment of dope fiends and he would not consider the case where three prescriptions were issued in such a short space of time, as medicinal treatment. The case was postponed until next Monday. Dr. F. B.
Taylor, K. C. appeared for the prosecution and W. M. Ryan for the defence.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1921

NATION EATS MORE SALT THAN SUGAR

General Impression is That Per Capita Consumption of the Sweet is Greater—Industrial Demand Big.

The average person will be surprised to know that there is more salt than sugar consumed per capita in the United States, says the New York Times. There were available last year 180 pounds of salt for every inhabitant, compared with 108 pounds of sugar. In the national sugar bowl there were $207,776 tons, and in the national salt cellar 6217,478 tons.

Confronted with the question, "Do you use more salt than sugar or more sugar than salt?" one would unhesitatingly reply that he uses more sugar. "I use only a few grains of salt on my eggs and meat," he might say. "We don't use much salt in our cooking. I take two lumps of sugar with my coffee and I sprinkle a teaspoonful over my cereal. We use no end of it in desserts; then there's candy."

The apparent mystery deepens when the industrial uses of sugar and salt are compared, says The American Sugar Bulletin. "According to the Federal Trade Information Service, salt in addition to its culinary uses, plays a part in packing meat, curing fish, distilling, refrigerating, preserving, glazing, enameling curing hides, making pickles, salting live stock, and in chemical processes such as preparing soda ash and caustic soda."

"The uses of sugar are more multifarious. Sugar, aside from its obvious table uses, is employed in preserving, canning, cooking, pastry, syrup, ice cream, chocolate, fermentation (in the form of molasses), soft drinks, condensed milk, crackers, bread, tobacco, chewing gum, proprietary medicines, soap and silvering mirrors."

"Yet, despite the diversity of uses of sugar, the tonnage of salt consumed is greater. If we think of salt not as the white substance which we shake over roast beef but as sodium chloride, we may find the answer. Salt is a general chemical and it is used in tremendous quantities in large scale chemical operations. Sugar also is a chemical, but it is used in few purely chemical processes."

"The savor of salt usually is absent from the finished products in the operations which involve salt, but the sweetness of sugar almost always is retained. In refined confectionery there is about 47 per cent. of pure sugar. The actual sugar content may range up to 95 per cent., because many of the other ingredients, such as chocolate, fruits and molasses contain substantial percentages of sugar."

"Preserved fruits contain about 50 per cent. of sugar, syrups, including maple syrup, are 65 per cent. or more sugar. Condensed milk contains from 40 to 50 per cent. of sugar, depending on grade. Chewing gum might well be renamed 'sugar gum,' because about 60 per cent. of it is sugar."

"Historically, salt is older than sugar. The Scriptural references to salt are numerous, but sugar, per se, is not mentioned. Honey, of course, was ever a favorite, but sugar, as sugar, was not chronicled before 800 A. D., at the earliest. In everyday language, oddly enough, salt and sugar have come to mean the same thing—money. The word 'salary' is derived from the Latin word for salt. The wages of Roman soldiers used to be known as 'salt money.' We still speak of a man being 'worth his salt,' although few of us are aware of the significance of the expression."

ORGANIZER AND LABOR PAPER

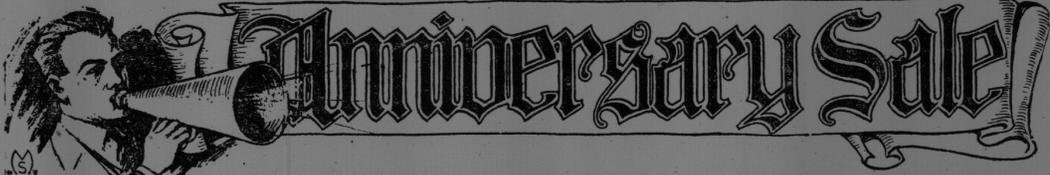

Decisions of Independent Labor Party of Nova Scotia.

New Glasgow, N. S., June 23—(By Canadian Press)—The next annual convention of the Independent Labor Party of Nova Scotia will be held at Sydney, it was decided at the concluding session of the 1921 convention here yesterday. Officers elected for the current year were: President, J. W. Watson, Dominion, C. B.; vice-president, Dr. J. W. Hawkins, Halifax; secretary, Stephen Black, Sydney; treasurer, John Calkin, New Glasgow.

The convention endorsed a proposal from Gloucester Bay that an Independent Labor paper be established in Nova Scotia. It was unanimously decided that a paid organizer for the party in the province be appointed and start work at the earliest possible date.

A Ford sedan owned and operated by Frederick Glynn, went over a six foot embankment on the Loch Lomond road yesterday. All the occupants escaped serious injury, although Mr. Glynn received several bad scratches.

To Be One of The Biggest Events in My Business Career

It is through you—the great buying public of St. John—that it is possible for me to celebrate the sixth anniversary of my being in business. It is therefore fitting and proper that I should make due acknowledgment of this fact.

This I am doing by holding an Anniversary Sale at my Sydney street store and during this sale original price has practically been forgotten as the following listed items and prices will show.

The sale opens tomorrow, Friday morning, and naturally early buying on the part of the public will be beneficial to them. All the stock is fresh, down to the minute and reflects the very highest quality of merchandise on the market today. Come early; buy to your heart's content, and save money on things that are in actual daily need at this present moment.
