A LONDON MIRACLE AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT BY A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN.

Mr. G. J. Powell, of 25 St. John Street, writes to the Hon. Mr. Justice, in a letter published in the Standard, London, Oct. 10, 1892.

At 33 Alma Street, South London, lives Mr. G. J. Powell, a gentleman who has resided in London and vicinity for about six years, and who enjoys the esteem of a large circle of friends here and elsewhere throughout the province.

At last I yielded and bought six boxes as a sort of bribe, I took four boxes and sent one to my mother, and one to my sister. I neglected his advice; it would be useless to try a medicine, I thought.

At that time Mr. Mitchell spoke to me about it in the store. I told him what a blessed change had been wrought for me through the use of Pink Pills.

Now, I think the pills are good as a tonic. "Now," concluded Mr. Powell, "you have your health, I know what I mean. I mean what I mean. I mean what I mean."

What Mr. Mitchell says. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best and most popular medicine in the world," said Mr. B. A. Mitchell, the well-known druggist, upon whom the reporter called.

decided to try country life again, and went back to my farm last year, but I still found it as bad as ever. I was living in dread of having to go through another ordeal, when I read in the papers about this Marshall miracle in Hamilton.

AGRICULTURE Notes and Suggestions of Practical Utility FOR THE FARM, FIELD, GARDEN AND DAIRY.

There are twenty-seven agricultural schools, 728 pupils, in Italy. The principal item with a sheep head is to have it dry, both overhead and under foot.

London fruit markets now obtain shipments of peaches, pears and grapes from the Cape of Good Hope. A farmer ten miles from town, on a poor country road, is farther from market than if he were 200 miles away by rail.

When planting an orchard select the light soil ground upon the farm, and you will thus secure at least partial exemption from loss by frost.

Feeding right is a matter of economy as well as of skill. It is the only guaranty of the highest gain. It makes the most of the best quality of product at the least cost.

At corn-hauling contest of 500 ears, for 200 a side, which took place in Australia, the winners time was 23 minutes 48 seconds, and the loser's time was 29 minutes 10 seconds.

When planting trees have a supply of good surface soil ready and sift and pack this in about the roots. Soil that contains some available plant food is necessary to give it a proper start in life.

W. C. Getts tells us through The Jersey Bulletin that after testing the separator by the side of the best of facilities for gravity creaming, he has reached the following conclusions: The separator gives increase my better product 31 per cent, in summer, 10 to 12 per cent, in winter.

annual engagements (now running in the ninth year at thirty-five cents in my express office) I will use some kind of a certificate.

The question of creaming the night's milk and sending the cream to the creamery with the morning's milk was presented to the Iowa station. After six experiments, the conclusion was reached, as follows: Whether it will pay persons to set the evening's milk, skim it and send in the cream with the morning's milk is something that each must determine for himself.

It is a matter of general observation that milk soon sours in a time of thunder showers than at other times, and hence the popular notion that thunder or electricity is in some way the cause of this early souring.

The milder who, as he milks, reaches well up into the milk and secures the milk with a steady pull, instead of a jerky motion, will secure more and better milk in a season than one who milks by the sim-a-open and shut of the hand.

What is the cause of this? The milder who, as he milks, reaches well up into the milk and secures the milk with a steady pull, instead of a jerky motion, will secure more and better milk in a season than one who milks by the sim-a-open and shut of the hand.

THE GENERAL ELECTION

Nomination - To-day.
Election, Saturday Oct. 22.

The Government Candidates for the County of York are:-
HON. A. G. BLAIR,
WILLIAM WILSON,
JOHN ANDERSON,
THOMAS H. COLTER.

The Candidates for the Government will have a Walk Over in York.

The Opposition Ticket Very Weak.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

All over the province the nasal excitement caused by an election is beginning to be felt, and politicians are commencing to hustle. Tickets are being scraped up by the opponents of the government in nearly every constituency. The opposition are without, and always have been, a policy of any kind; their one aim and ambition being to displace the Blair administration. In Mr. Stockton, the leader of the party, and we might say in the whole of the party, cannot be found a man competent to grasp, and who fully understands the affairs of our province. During the last session of the assembly, Mr. Stockton and the opposition members clearly showed by the first move that he and they made after Mr. Hannington had retired, that they were even ignorant of constitutional methods, as was shown by the fact of their asking for a royal commission to be appointed by the government to enquire into some charges laid against Mr. Blair and his government. They then in most violent language denounced Mr. Blair, but when the opportunity was afforded them to prove the charges they made, they refused to go any further in the matter, thus proving to the public the fact that the allegations they made were without foundation, and that such charges were made by Mr. Blair's enemies purely out of revenge. Men of that stamp are not the kind of men we want.

The Blair administration have on the other hand, shown by their efforts to improve our stock and agricultural interest that they have the best interests of the province at heart, and are to be congratulated on the success which has attended their efforts in that direction. The improvement in the horses and cattle of this province, since the stock importation by the government, was clearly seen at our exhibition this fall; the horse parade being the largest and best ever seen here. Improvements of every kind have been made from one end of the province to the other, and while they may have involved considerable expenditures, they cannot, in time, fail to benefit greatly, our province, particularly the impetuous given the dairy interests, the benefit of which is already felt in our own constituency. The election brought about by the government will abolish the Legislative Council and save the province some ten thousand dollars which they would otherwise lose, by one more sitting of that august, but useless body.

We can see no good cause for displacing the present government, and we can see a good reason for preventing the premiership to go from York to St. John county, and this constituency especially, should do everything in its power to return the four government candidates with, as we know they will, a handsome majority.

The candidates in the field in the different constituencies are as follows:

Restigouche—Gov't—Hon. C. H. La Billaud, W. A. Mott.
Opp.—William Murray, J. C. Bar'arie, John Culligan.

Government—Recognized Gov't ticket—John Sive right, Theo. Blanchard, Gov't supporters—Jos. Poirier, P. Venoit.

Northumberland—Gov't—Hon. I. J. Tweedie, Jas. Robinson, John O'Brien, J. P. Burchill.
Opp.—John Morrissey.

Kent—Gov't—Legere, Barnes.
Opp.—J. D. Philmy, J. B. Goggin.

Westmorland—Gov't—Hon. A. D. Richard, J. W. Y. Smith, A. E. Kilham, W. Woodbury Wells.

NOTES AND NOTIONS.

Running Comments on Passing Events.

Sundry Ebulitions in Prose and Rhyme.

How the Domestic, Social and Literary World is Wagging.

An English mint possesses an electrically operated machine for counting coins.

There is a tree in Jamaica known as the life tree on account of its leaves growing even after being severed from the plant; only by fire can it be entirely destroyed.

The Russian physician who proposes to cure neuritis by throwing a beam of electric light from an arc lamp on the patient is entitled to a respectful hearing. It will be a long time before we exhaust the uses of this magic agent.

A French manufacturer makes minute electric lamps about the size of a pea for the use of photographers in the dark room. They are intended for mounting in the middle of a pair of spectacles or on the frame without the glasses, the lamp being shielded by a reflector. The battery is made up of accumulator cells.

Things Not Generally Known.
It seems that 26 per cent. of the women of England earn their own living; but yet one would scarcely believe that there are nearly three hundred and fifty female blacksmiths in that country.

If you wish to increase your chances of life, marry, for as a rule, married men live longer than bachelors; yet out of every thousand persons in England more than six hundred are unmarried.

It has been noticed how women mostly commit suicide by drowning, and men by shooting. By the way, suicide is less common among miners than any other class of people; and self-destruction, strangely enough, is said to be most prevalent among soldiers.

Thirty-five millions of people die every year—few of these from old age. In a doctor's opinion, nearly as many people shorten their lives by over-eating as those who die drinking; while in England alone three hundred persons are annually out off through accidental poisoning.

France has the cheapest rate of postage but possesses a capital in which it is said more murders take place in six months than occur in London, Berlin and Vienna together, in any other country.

M. Langlois, of Paris, an indefatigable worker eighty years old, has spent fifty years of his life in clipping from newspapers articles offering documentary interest. He has collected 100,000 of the documents, has numbered and classified them, and has together them on enormous registers bound in parchment. These pages are most interesting, and this unique collection is offered to the National Library. It certainly will be often consulted, for it represents the quintessence of 300,000 journals.

Political Proverbs.
Some men his make votes that can't make laws.
Politicians has no business in politics and very very.

Mighty few patriots set up nights warring against a fall to get an office that don't pay.

A candidate for office is willing that a gal that wants to get married.

A candidate for constable worries as much over it as a candidate for Parliament.

The Earth's Population.
The latest estimate makes the total population of the earth 1,440,000,000. The set down that the language spoken now number 3,000. The Lattered Kisheneuzung states that the Bible is now accessible to fully two-thirds of the human race. It is true that the Scriptures have been translated into not more than 187 languages, but those are the dominating tongues of the world, and through them Christianity reaches the bulk of mankind—or may do so, England and America are immeasurably ahead in the production of translations and commentaries.

Glass, as far as research has been able to determine, was in use 2,000 years before the birth of Christ, and was even then not in its infancy. In the state collection at the British Museum there is the lead of a linchpin in glass bearing the name of an Egyptian king of the eleventh dynasty.

A German has patented a process for making barrels without staves. The trunk of a tree is saved into lengths to the size of the barrel required, and the chunks are placed in a boiler and boiled for a few hours. It is believed that if a current of electricity is passed through the boiler a chemical action is generated that softens the wood for working. After the boiling the bark is stripped from the chunks. In front of a cutting tool the chunks are held by forks in a manner similar to that in which a piece of wood is held in a lathe. The chunk revolves rapidly against the edge of a fixed broad blade that cuts a continuous sheet of soft wood of any desired thickness. The strip passes to a flat table where it is cut transversely into lengths of the required size. One machine cuts grooves for the head and the bottom, and another cuts V-shaped slots out of the edges. Then the pieces are bent into cylinders and hooped. Moisture is extracted by a drying apparatus.

Canada's Grain Crop.
A recent estimate places our total wheat crop this year at 25,000,000 bushels. In Ontario the crop is 33,000,000 bushels against 32,000,000 last year. In Manitoba and in the Northwest it will be 20,000,000 against 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 last year. Other provinces will yield probably 2,000,000 against 3,000,000 last year; making a total this year of 25,000,000 bushels against 32,000,000 to 35,000,000 in 1891. There is considerable old wheat left in the country, and deducting this amount of wheat necessary for home requirements and consumption, the total exportable surplus this year will be 20,000,000 bushels, or about 10,000,000 less than last year.

The total oat crop in Canada this year is 85,000,000 bushels against 90,000,000 last year. The total barley crop will be 17,000,000 bushels against 19,000,000 last year. There was a decrease from 1 to 3 per cent. in the yield per acre in Ontario this year in every grain but rye, the greatest decrease being in winter wheat, which was 22.2 per cent. against 27.7 per cent. last year.

POOR DOCUMENT

THE AMERICAN BARON.

(BY JAMES DE MILE.)

In a short time their eyes were greeted by the appearance of the stranger above the precipice. He waved his hat again. Then he made some gestures, and detached the rope from his person. The drivers understood him as if this had been prearranged. Two of them instantly unharnessed the horse from one of the sleds, while the others pulled up the rope which the stranger had cast off. Then the latter disappeared once more behind the precipice. The ladies watched now in deep suspense; inclining to hope, yet dreading the worst. They saw the drivers fasten the rope to the sled, and let it down the slope. It did not sink much, but slid down quite rapidly. Once or twice it stuck but by jerking it back it was detached, and went on as before. At last it reached the precipice at a point not more than a hundred feet from where the stranger had last appeared.

And now as they sat there, reduced once more to the uttermost extremity of suspense, they saw a light which sent a thrill of rapture through their aching hearts. They saw the stranger come slowly above the precipice, and then stop, and stoop and look back. Then they saw—oh, heaven! who was that? Was not that her hood—and that figure who thus slowly emerged from behind the edge of the precipice which had so long concealed her—Eliel? Was it possible? Not dead—not mangled, but living, moving, and, yes—wonders of wonders—scaling a precipice! Could it be Oh joy! Oh bliss! Oh revulsion from despair! The ladies trembled and shivered, and laughed and sobbed convulsively, and wept in one another's arms by turns.

As far as they could see through the tears that dimmed their eyes, Minnie could not be much injured. She moved quite lightly over the snow, as the stranger led her towards the sled, only sinking once or twice, and then extricating herself even more readily than her companion. At last she reached the sled, and the stranger, taking off the blanket that he had worn under the rope, threw it over her shoulder. Then he signaled to the men above, and they began to pull up the sled. The stranger climbed up after it through the deep snow, walking behind it for some distance. At last he made a despairing gesture to the men, and sank down. The men looked bewildered and stopped pulling.

The stranger started up, and waved his hands impatiently to the men. The drivers began to pull once more at the sled, and the stranger once more sank exhausted in the snow. At this Eliel started up. "That noble soul," she cried, "what generous heart! he is saving Minnie, and sitting down to die in the snow!" She sprang toward the sled, and endeavored to make out something by her gestures she tried to get two of the men to pull at the sled, and the third man to let the fourth man down with a rope to the stranger. The men refused; but at the offer of her purse, which was well filled with gold, they consented. Two of them then pulled at the sled, and number four hoisted the rope about him, and went down which number three held the rope. He went down without difficulty, and reached the stranger. By this time Minnie had been drawn to the top, and was clasped in the arms of her friends.

CHAPTER III.

THE CHILD-ANGEL AND HER WORK.

Mrs. Willoughby was in her room at the hotel in Milan when the door opened, and Minnie came in. She looked around the room, drew a long breath, then looked at the door, and clinging herself upon a sofa, she recalled there in silence for some time, looking at the ceiling. Mrs. Willoughby looked a little surprised at first, but after waiting a few moments for Minnie to say something, resumed her reading which had been interrupted.

"Kitty," said Minnie at last. "What? asked her sister, looking up. "I think you're horrid." "Why, what's the matter?" "Why, because when you see and know that I'm dying to speak to you, you go on reading that wretched book." "Why Minnie, darling, said Mrs. Willoughby, 'how in the world was I to know that you wanted to speak to me?' 'You might have known,' said Minnie, with a point—you saw me look all round, and look the door, and you saw how worried I looked, and I've a great mind not to tell you anything about it."

Willoughby, with some alarm. "Oh! I don't mean that; but I'll tell you what I mean, and here Minnie got up from her reclining position, and allowed her little feet to touch the carpet, while she fastened her great, fond, pleading, piteous eyes upon her sister. "It's the Count, you know," she said. "The Count! repeated Mrs. Willoughby somewhat dully. "Well?" "Well—don't you know what I mean? Oh, how stupid you are!" "I really cannot imagine." "Well—he—he—he—he—proposed you know." "Proposed! cried the other in a voice of dismay. "Of course that's what I mean."

"What puzzles me is, how he could have got the chance. It's more than a week since he saved you, and we all felt deeply grateful to him. But saving a girl's life doesn't give a man any claim over her, and we don't altogether like him; and so we have all tried, in a quiet way, without hurting his feelings, you know, to prevent him from having any acquaintance with you." "Oh, I know, I know," said Minnie bravely. "He told me all that. He understood that; but he doesn't care, he says, if I only consent. He will forgive you, he says."

"Minnie's volubility was suddenly checked by catching her sister's eye fixed on her in new amazement. "Now, you're beginning to be horrid," she cried. "Don't, don't." "Will you have the kindness to tell me," said Mrs. Willoughby, very quietly, "how in the world the Count contrived to tell you all that?" "Several times." "Several times?" "Yes." "Tell me where?" "Why, once at the amphitheatre. You were walking about, and I sat down to rest; and he came and joined me. He left before you came back."

"And then, you know, he saved my life—didn't he now? You must acknowledge that much, mustn't you?" "Oh, yes." "Well?" "Well?" Minnie sighed. "So what could I say?" Minnie paused. Mrs. Willoughby looked troubled. "Kitty, I wish you wouldn't look at me with that dreadful expression. You really make me feel quite frightened." "Minnie," said the other, in a serious voice, "do you really love this man?" "Love this man! why no, not particularly; but I like him; that is, I think I do, or rather I thought I did; but really I'm so worried about all my troubles that I wish he had never come down after me. I don't see why he did, either. I didn't ask him to. I remember, now, I really felt quite embarrassed when I saw him. I knew there would be trouble about it, and I wish you would take me back home. I hate Italy. In Kitty darling. But then—"

Mrs. Emma Bow.

Physician and so-called Dyspepsia Cures failed to give me relief.

Croder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup

Brought relief and a permanent cure.

To the Dyspepsia Cure Co. Georgetown: For four years, I have had a complicated stomach—liver trouble, the causing palpitation of the heart, the body that I faint many times. After I had tried the best physicians, and receiving any lasting benefit, I was recommended to try your Dyspepsia Syrup. I did so, and I am now much better. I determined to buy six, under your guarantee to cure me or refund my five dollars. But FOUR bottles accomplished a complete cure and I am again in perfect health. I feel that I have no more of the old troubles, and I am now a happy man. I have no more of the old troubles, and I am now a happy man. I have no more of the old troubles, and I am now a happy man.
