MILITIA ESTIMATES UNDER DISCUSSION

Government Eager to Train More Men and Provide Small Drill Hall in Every Good Sized Town or Village.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, May 27.—When the militia department estimates were up in the House today Col. Hughes explained that it was the government's policy to provide a small drill hall in every good sized town or village. He estimated that such buildings could be provided for from $6,000 to $15,000 each, or cheaper than structures in public buildings. But he pointed out that it would take at least twenty-five years to erect all the halls which would be required.

Speaking of the vote for annual drill he said that 66,000 men and 15,000 horses would be trained this year—9,000 more men than last year. The figures did not include the city corps, or changes in the number of men in public buildings. But he pointed out that it would take at least twenty-five years to erect all the halls which would be required.

Mr. Carvell, Carleton, N. B., said that he could not tell what would be the end if the brackets were applied to the militia expenditures. He thought their magnitude a scandal, and asserted that there was no more danger of Canada being invaded than there was of it being swallowed by an earthquake. He said that of ten million dollars he voted this year, less than three million went to the men themselves, and he asserted that the minister seemed to be indulging in an orgy of extravagance merely for his own glorification.

The minister took the trade calmly, recalling that the member for Carleton had in the past been used to talk of "fun and feasting" before showing the passage of the militia estimates. He declared that not only were more men to be trained this year than ever before, but that about 25,000 men had demanded the right to train themselves to defend themselves and their country.

So long as he was Minister of Militia, such men would be allowed to train to defend their homes. He showed the people obsessed by a fear of military training and of war and I shall show you the hard-hearted cologne race," declared Col. Hughes. "Show me a country where the people neglect defence and run blindly after wharves and docks and railways only, and I shall show you a degenerate people."

"An army of 100,000 men; why have we an army of nearly 60,000 and 35,000 cadets to be trained this year for the modest sum of ten million dollars. Therefore I make no apology for my ambition to have 100,000 men training and I make no apology for succeeding as far as my hard-hearted cologne will allow me to the demand of the people for training."

Two government bills were dropped at the morning sitting and another was introduced. The two dropped were one by Mr. Hason to amend the fisheries act and one by Col. Hughes to amend the militia act. The Minister of Justice presented a bill to amend the prison and reformatory act by extending the principle of indeterminate sentences in Ontario, by authorizing the establishment of a reformatory in which prisoners can be sent from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. I.

NOVA SCOTIA MURDERER IS ACQUITTED

William Sanford, Matricide, Declared Not Guilty Because of Insanity at Time of Deed—Other Cases Heard.

Special to The Standard.

Windsor, N. S., May 27.—The regular term of the Supreme Court opened here today, Chief Justice Sir Charles Trowbridge presiding. The docket held three important criminal cases. The first disposed of was that of the King vs. William Henry Sanford, an indictment for the murder of his mother, Mrs. Annie Sanford, Crown Prosecutor Christie presented the case for the crown. The murder took place at Belmont, Hants County, on February seventh last.

The evidence at the coroner's inquest and at the preliminary published at the time was reproduced at the trial and was substantially the same. The testimony of Dr. Reid and Dr. Morris, of Windsor, who had examined the prisoner with regard to his mental condition, was to the effect that Sanford was an imbecile and not responsible for his actions. No other motive could be attributed for the crime.

The evidence showed that nothing had occurred to supply a motive for the horrible deed other than that of insanity. There was no attempt to show that he had not committed the crime. He had confessed to the deed at the time and at no time since had he expressed any regret or sorrow for the brutal act.

H. W. Sanster, Windsor, N. S., defended the prisoner, his plea being that Sanford was not responsible for the crime, being insane at the time of the murder. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity."

The judge instructed the crown prosecutor to have the prisoner committed to the insane asylum.

The second case tried was that of the King vs. Arthur Denmore, W. M. Christie, K. C., for prosecutor and H. W. Sangster defended the prisoner. This was an indictment for highway robbery with violence.

The deposition charged that Arthur Denmore, Shubenacadie, had unlawfully robbed George Gordon Slinger of a valise containing rum and clothing. There was a number of witnesses and much contradictory evidence heard. Both the crown prosecutor and counsel for the defence made forceful addresses to the jury.

The verdict was "not guilty," and the prisoner was discharged.

The remaining criminal case to be heard today was that of the King vs. Lewis Davis of Ardoise, Hants County. This is an action against Davis for robbery with violence. He had been driven into his barn and deliberately cut off their hoofs and turned them loose. W. M. Christie will prosecute and J. Morse is the counsel for the defence.

ACADIA CLOSING
Woolville, N. S., May 27.—The sun shone brightly for the exercises of the graduating class of Acadia Ladies' Seminary today. The hall was comfortably filled and the program was enjoyable. The seniors, numbering 35, marched in to a march played by Misses Marvin and Prescott, of Acadia Seminary, and took place on the platform. All numbers were well given. The class phony by Frank F. Clute is especially deserving of note. It was original, ingenious and prophetic of great things in store for the graduates.

The prize list was as follows: The Godfrey Payant prizes, $20 each.

(A)—Highest standing in English branches—Helen DeWolfe, Woolville.

(B)—Highest standing in French Ruby Harley, Houlton, Me.

(C)—Greatest efficiency in instrumental music, Jennie Prescott, Albert. The St. Clair Payant Scholarship for department to a student in the collegiate course, five dollars—Kathleen Baker, Margareville.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR SAW LAURIER'S PUPPET SEAFARERS STAB BILL AND EMPIRE

Liberals in Red Chamber Furnished Fine Example of Canadian Loyalty while Sir Cecil Spring Rice Looked on—Sir George Ross Introduces Amendment which will Delay Emergency Gift.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, May 27.—The Liberal majority in the Senate, being the work of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the opposition in the House of Commons, will kill the naval bill.

The expected action was taken by Sir George Ross, Liberal leader in the Senate, this afternoon, following a Liberal caucus held in the morning. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the visiting British Ambassador to the United States, was there and saw it done.

If the Liberal majority sticks together, as it undoubtedly will, there is no hope for the bill and there is no immediate and effective aid to the naval forces of the Empire, so far as the Liberals in parliament are concerned.

Sir George Ross moved an amendment "That this house is not justified in giving its assent to this bill until it is submitted to the judgment of the country."

Inconsistent Partisans.

This is the substance of the amendment moved by Senator Loughheed when the Laurier Naval Service Bill was before the Senate in 1910. It was, of course, rejected at that time by the Liberal majority which now applies it to defeat the Dreadnought gift.

Sir George Ross, in moving the amendment, said that if such an amendment had been proposed in connection with a bill founded upon constitutional principles, it could properly be moved to a measure "which has not got a constitutional principle in it."

The expectation that the former premier, and leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, would come forward as executioner of the Laurier naval bill, was a crowd to the Senate. The upper house has not known another such day in many years. A large number of members from both sides of the House of Commons watched the proceedings and the galleries were full of people.

Laurier There to See It Done.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to make sure that nothing went wrong with his plans, went personally to the Senate and was among the most interested listeners. Several of the Liberal senators who have been fighting the Naval bill from outside the House were also there, including Hon. Macdonald King, Hon. W. S. Fielding, and Sir Frederick Borden.

Sir George Ross spoke for two hours entirely in repudiation of the arguments advanced by the blockers in the House of Commons. He mixed these in with frequent affirmations of a desire to do all that was necessary for the Empire. "I am a Canadian and an imperialist," he said, and then moved to kill the bill.

He took the line that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power. He declared that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power. He declared that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power.

The third objection to the bill was that it did not provide for any permanent naval force in Canada. It provided merely empty ships for dockyards. A fourth objection was that the bill did not provide for any Canadian training men for the navy service act in 1910.

Another objection which Sir George made was that the bill would not provide for any Canadian training men for the navy service act in 1910. He declared that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power.

One of the most remarkable statements made in this two hour speech was an assertion by the Liberal leader that he was not concerned with the political aspect of the case, but with the question of the government's policy in the matter or not. "The Senate was not asked to do anything," he said, "but to do 'our own sweet will' according to our judgment and good conscience." He declared that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power.

The second of the amendments was Senator Hewitt's, which would have the bill referred to a committee of the Senate. He declared that if the bill were passed, Canada would be a second-rate power.

Ottawa, May 27.—After Senators E. D. Smith, Alexander McCall, James Mason and J. J. Donnelly had been introduced by Hon. Sir George Ross resumed debate. He reviewed the origin of the question of naval defence in Canada at length. Touching briefly on the question of an emergency Sir George noted that the Admiralty memorandum of 1907, but simply said, "If immediate aid was to be given it would take the form of 'the largest and strongest ships of war which science can build or money supply.' The number and express character of these ships was not specified.

His objections.

The first objection he had to the present bill was on constitutional grounds. Under the British North America Act the parliament of Canada is entrusted with defence. The present bill sought to put under the control of another government the money that the Canadian parliament voted for defence purposes. Thus the exclusive jurisdiction conferred by the British North America Act on the British North America Act was surrendered any part of that power to delegate it to another body.

"There is no emergency in this case, so that we are not required to give

WERE AT CONFERENCE AT TIME OF CONSPIRACY

Witness for Alleged Dynamite "Planters" On Stand Yesterday

WOOD AND ATTEAUX MAY PROVE AN ALIBI

Talked Over Strike Conditions at Time "Planting" was being Framed Up—Telephone Conversation Not Admitted

Special to The Standard.

Boston, May 27.—The defense in the dynamite conspiracy trial succeeded today in introducing evidence that on the night of January 19, 1912, during the hours when the government alleged President Wm. M. Wood, of the American Woolen Company and Frederick E. Atteaux, were furthering a conspiracy to "plant" dynamite at Lawrence both defendants were attending a conference of mill agents during which an appeal to the strikers to return to work was agreed upon.

The evidence regarding the conference was brought out during the cross-examination of Walter Lamont, agent of the Wood mill, one of the American Woolen Company's plants at Lawrence, Osh. On his direct examination the witness said he saw Atteaux at Wood's home at Andover on the night of the sixteenth of January.

Replying to questions by Henry F. Hurlburt, counsel for Wood, Lamont said that Wood and Atteaux were attending a conference participated in by agents and other officials of the American Woolen Company.

General strike conditions were discussed, Lamont testified, and two letters were written and approved. One of the letters was over the signature of President Wood, and advised the strikers to return to their machines. The other was from Wood to Father Milneau, pastor of the Italian Catholic church at Lawrence, and gave the company's side of the labor situation.

Earlier in the day Judge John C. Crosby, ruling on objections entered by the defense yesterday, refused to allow the introduction of a record of telephone toll calls made by Wood and Atteaux were in communication a day or two before the explosive was placed in the mill.

All these witnesses testified they could not recall any such conversation.

WILL PROBE THE PRISONS OF DOMINION

Government Will Have Full Investigation into Conditions—Dr. Edwards Tells Astonishing Case in Kingston.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Ont., May 27.—The Minister of Justice stated this afternoon in the House it was his purpose to have an investigation at the earliest opportunity into the conditions of Kingston penitentiary. The investigation would begin when he would be able to get a proper commission, who would be able to make a report useful to the minister afterward.

The matter was brought to a head by a speech made by Dr. Edwards (Frontenac), who dwelt upon the inefficiency and the absurdity of certain rules in force in the penitentiary. He gave one instance which astonished the House. He told of a guard who was on night duty and compelled to wind so many clocks at a certain time as a proof that he had been watching in his duty. One night this certain guard was making his rounds he noticed a convict hanging himself. He proceeded to cut him down and restore animation, thus saving the convict's life. He then proceeded to wind the clocks somewhat later than usual. This was noticed by a superior officer in the morning. The guard explained that the delay was caused by preventing a convict from committing suicide by hanging. The answer of the superior officer was "Let them hang and wind your clocks." He then proceeded to reprimand the guard severely.

Charles Doherty in reply said there was room for vast improvement in the treatment of the prisoners in all the penitentiaries.

He had had in mind something for the general improvement of the system for some time. He hoped later to bring down legislation and he would bear in mind what had been said.

Speaking of the general system the Minister stated that he believed the fruits of the convict labor should go to those depending upon the convict and to those particularly who suffered from the punishment handed out to the convict.

PREMIER ACCOMPANIES MOTHER TO HER HOME

Ottawa, Ont., May 27.—The Right Hon. R. L. Borden left this afternoon for Grand Pre, N. S., accompanying his aged mother, Mrs. Andrew Borden, who is in very poor health. Mrs. Borden has spent the winter in Ottawa and of late has been falling rapidly. She expressed the desire to go back to the old homestead and the party left this afternoon, travelling by special train. Dr. Small and two nurses went along. The prime minister will return at the end of the week.

Officers for Year Elected at Meeting of Society Held Yesterday.

ONE RECORD BROKEN IN FIELD DAY EVENTS

Inter-class Meet Carried Out Under Ideal Weather Conditions—Juniors Capture Honors of the Day.

Special to The Standard.

Sackville, N. B., May 27.—At a business meeting held after the lecture before the Theological Union by Rev. Geo. J. Bond, this morning, the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. C. Jost, D.D., Bridgetown, N. S.; secretary, treasurer, Prof. F. W. W. Desbarres, Sackville.

Bright sunshine and a splendid crowd lining the embankments surrounding the college campus, greeted the contestants in the annual inter-class sports here this afternoon. The different events were hotly contested and although the time was good, only one inter-class record was broken, namely, the 800 yards dash won by Paton '15, who clipped seven seconds off the record, his time being 2 mins. 7 sec. The present junior class were winners of the meet with a total of 50 points as compared with sophomores 25 and freshmen 10.

The feature of the afternoon's proceedings was an interesting and somewhat burlesque baseball game between post graduates and undergraduates winning by a score of 4 to 2.

Following is list of events: 100 yards dash—Smith '14, first; Searns '15, second; Clay '14, third, time 10.45.

BETTER NOT BE TOO SURE OF YOUR FIGURES

After a Second Counting, the Number of Circles May be Different. Interest in the Standard's Puzzle Contest has started in real earnest and three weeks yet remain to enter the competition for the list of prizes offered for accuracy. That these weeks will be lively there is little doubt. The country as well as the city is waking up to the possibilities offered in this contest for "long distance" counting. A contestant writes as follows: "I saw in your paper the puzzle I counted 1241. This might have been more, but that is all that I could find. Hoping to hear soon that I have won first prize, etc. This is the "attitudinal" record in the contest so far. This Puzzle Contest, it should be borne in mind, is not a speed affair. Some people have a habit of rushing the event of a tie, the first who sent in the answer will receive first prize. This is not the case, and if it were it would not be exactly fair, because those who entered the contest late would not have an equal opportunity. Under the conditions of the contest, if there are two or more correct answers, and they should be received at the Standard Office on different days, the last will be on the same footing as the first. This makes the proposition open to any one, at any time up to the last day. The contest is progressive up to possibility of three charts. The one running at the present is the first, or preliminary chart, upon which a contestant may count as many times as he elects. Unless he does submit estimates on this chart, he cannot, in the event of a second chart being necessary to reduce a tie, send in a solution for the subsequent one. He must enter the contest through counting the circles as now presented. Best to Begin Early. It is better to begin counting at once because the remarkable variety in the result of those who have already counted the circles. By counting the contest will have ample time to revise his figures and send in an additional count, according to the rules, thereby increasing his chance of winning. The idea of the second and perhaps the third puzzle is to equalize without question the chances of those who submit the nearest correct solution on this, the preliminary contest, should more than one contestant estimate alike. This insures the reward for accuracy without taking into account the time that solutions are registered. Remember that the chart has but one fixed solution, and that there is absolutely no catch, one way or the other about the puzzle. A contestant who sends in a second solution seems to have the proper idea that it is not best to be too sure of the first. He says: "After sending in my first solution I went over the puzzle again and found three more circles. The method I used was the best, I think, that can be devised. In case I win I will be glad to explain it to those who didn't." If this accommodating contestant had the slightest notion of the great variation in the solutions received, he would tremble before committing himself to the "show me" demand that will descend upon him should he prove a winner.

THE MAY MEETING OF THE COUNTY COURT

Nine Out of Twenty-four Grand Jurors were Present—Only One Criminal Case on the Docket. The May sitting of the County Court opened yesterday morning. His Honor Judge Forbes presiding. Only nine out of twenty-four grand jurors summoned put in an appearance, and as it takes twelve to find a bill it was necessary to go into "the highways and byways." The sheriff was instructed to telephone to the absentees, but as most of them were out of town it became necessary to borrow a few of the petit jurors for grand jury service. The only criminal case presented to the grand jury was the case of the King vs. James A. McDonald, charged with theft from P. Collins and Co., and in this a true bill was found. The case of the King vs. John Travis, charged with attempted suicide, was tried under the Speedy Trials Act. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was allowed out on suspended sentence. He promised to stop drinking liquor. The civil docket was as follows: Jury Cause. White vs. Fleming et al.—J. A. Barry. Non-Jury Causes. 1. McLaughlin Carriage Co. Ltd. vs. Taylor—A. H. Hamilton, K. C. 2. Thompson Shoe Co. Ltd. vs. Monahan—J. King Kelley, K. C. 3. Quinlan vs. the Trustees of School District No. 16, Parish of Simonds—E. P. Raymond. 4. Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. vs. Barrett—MacRae, Sinclair and MacRae. The first and second non-jury cases were called and judgment was entered by default. Both were actions on bills of exchange. The grand jurors were: Joseph E. Pettie (absent), R. S. Patchell (foreman), H. C. Olive, Chas. T. Nevins (absent), Guy H. Humphrey, W. C. Jordan, Chas. H. Knodell, Geo. A. Law (absent), T. HAMPSTEAD GOES ON ROUTE TODAY

She will Run Between Fredericton and Gagetown after Receiving Extensive Overhauling—Other News. Those who have interested themselves in urging the necessity of improved steamship service on the St. John River accommodate a large traffic, will be pleased to learn that there will be added to the service this morning the steamer Hampstead, which will sail on the Fredericton-Gagetown route. This steamer, which formerly was the property of the St. John River Steamship Company, was purchased this year along with the steamer Victoria by a company composed of local and Fredericton men with E. G. Hoben of Fredericton as president. Since she has been acquired by the new company the Hampstead has undergone extensive repairs and the work of overhauling and remodeling has been rushed along as rapidly as possible in view of the pressing demand for a boat on this route. Besides repairing to the hull and wood-work several parts of the machinery have been renewed. E. G. Hoben was in the city yesterday to make arrangements for the placing of the Hampstead on the route and it is the intention to have her leave the Indiantown wharf about ten o'clock this morning for Fredericton. Tomorrow she will probably complete her first run between Fredericton and Gagetown. The steamer will be in charge of Captain Flowers who ran last season in the Elsie. A crew of men are busily engaged on the steamer Victoria owned by the same company, rushing along the repair work and it is the intention to have her on the St. John-Fredericton route about the first of June. The steamship company is offered for sale, it is understood, in negotiations have been made for the purchase of her and it is probable that she will not be put in commission this year. CHARLEY M'INTYRE WILL LOCATE IN CALIFORNIA Charles McIntyre, a former resident of St. John, and for several years a member of the writing staffs of various local newspapers, has purchased a half interest in the Mining Review of Los Angeles, a weekly trade paper devoted to the mining and oil interests and industries of California. Mr. McIntyre will take charge of the editorial end of the publication. He has been located for the past two and a half years in Winnipeg, where he has held the position of editor of the "Western Canada Contractor and the Western Lumberman," two monthly trade journals. Previous to that time he was editor of the Commercial, of Chatham. He will leave to take up his new duties on May 31st.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR SAW LAURIER'S PUPPET SENATORS STAB BILL TO AID EMPIRE

Continued From Page One. "We in Canada must have a national sentiment. It was that which made confederation. We are administering a third of the British empire. Was ever such trust committed to a people? Let us in promoting the naval defence of the empire, do it in such a way as to promote national sentiment." Calls Premier Separatist. "Mr. Borden in Toronto, said I was a good imperialist and would probably support the naval aid bill. It is because I am a good imperialist that I do not support his policy." Mr. Borden is a separatist. He says himself that this bill is going to cause friction between Canada and the Empire. I want no friction. He says it may lead to the separation of Canada from the Empire. I want no separation. I want to see Canada and the Empire one and inseparable now and for ever. His Seven Reasons. "Now, I am going to state why I am opposed to the present bill. First, because it is unnecessary and of no possible use. Second, because it establishes a cleavage in defence between the two parties. Third, because it does not provide for the defence of Canada directly. Fourth, because, if passed, it might lead to friction with Britain. Fifth, because we have no evidence that it meets with public approval. Sixth, because it introduces a new practice in legislation not sanctioned by the usages of this constitution. Seventh, because it removes from the free control of Canada one of its effective elements of national defence—the three battalions proposed. ALTERNATIVE FOR CAPTAIN MERRIAM IN DIVORCE SUIT AGAINST HIS WIFE

MRS. BESSIE C. MERRIAM AND DAUGHTER CHARLOTTE.

It was stated recently that instead of the tentative agreement to settle the divorce suit of Captain Henry C. Merriam, of San Francisco, Cal., against Mrs. Bessie C. Merriam, by allowing the wife to file quietly a cross complaint and take a decree of desertion, there now is a strong probability that the case either will be fought out to a bitter end or that Captain Merriam will have to formally withdraw and repudiate all that part of his charges which reflect on his wife's moral character.

HORRIBLE MURDER AT SOURIS, P. E. I.

Gallian McInnis Choked to Death by His Cousin — Deed the Result of Drunken Frenzy.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 27.—Gallian McInnis, aged 64 years, a farmer at North Lakeville, near Souris, was choked to death last night by his cousin, James A. McInnis, aged 40, who resides close by.

Gallian's son, James, came out of the house to assist Macdonald in putting up the team, leaving his father, mother and sister in the house. Without uttering a word, James A. McInnis walked to the bedroom where Gallian had retired for the night.

No motive for the deed is given, but it is reported that James A. had been drinking in Souris. One of the sons says he did not seem to be much the worse of liquor.

THE SENATE'S RESPONSIBILITY.

The Senate Liberals have carried out the threat of the angry Liberals of the Commons and will reject the Naval Aid Bill. So far as it can compass it Canada is to rely upon the Niobe and the Rainbow. These monuments of the Laurier regime are to represent Canada's contribution to the naval forces of the Empire. If the proposed three ships were ordered this summer they could be ready for service in the spring of 1916, the precise moment when the world-requirement of the British navy will be keenest. If the action of the Senate does what Sir George Ross and his fellow partisans intend, and delays the ordering of the ships for another year, they will not hold the white ensign until 1917, a year late. It is an act which imposes a terrible responsibility upon its perpetrators.

The pretext upon which the partisan majority of the Senate has acted is entirely worthless and flimsy to the last degree. In 1910, Sir Wilfrid Laurier introduced a bill establishing a permanent policy in a House of Commons which was elected at a time when the question of naval defence had not been considered by the electorate. The Conservative party took a perfectly clear and distinct policy. It held, and submitted amendments to this effect, that immediate naval needs should be met by the temporary policy of the giving of two Dreadnoughts and that before a permanent policy was embarked upon the people should be consulted. When, therefore, the Naval Service Bill of 1910 came before the Senate, the Conservatives there moved that before a permanent policy was embarked upon the people should be consulted. The Senate in 1910 voted this down. It refused to accept this principle. It voted to pass a bill avowedly establishing a permanent policy without consulting the people.

Mr. Borden in 1909 and 1910, again and again made it clear that his policy was a temporary one of a gift of Dreadnoughts and a sanction of the permanent policy by an election. In 1911, during his election, he reaffirmed this position. The people of Canada, with ample notice given, chose Mr. Borden for premier. He has a precise mandate for a single contribution of battle-cruisers and the formulation of a permanent policy to be tested by an election. He is in the position in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was not in 1910. He is doing exactly what he advocated before a general election, and promised in the heat of the struggle.

And now the Senate reverses its course of 1910. It passes the motion it rejected then. In 1910, when a permanent policy was embarked upon, it refused to reconsider an election. In 1913, after an election, when a purely temporary policy is projected, it insists upon an election. Could it stultify itself more completely?

The point should be borne in mind. Should a special general election be held before we turn a finger to aid the British navy by temporary means? Does the Senate say yes? Then why did it sanction, not a temporary but a permanent policy in 1910, and refuse to demand an election? Its vote yesterday is a condemnation of its vote of 1910. One, or other, or both is a proclamation of mere party slavishness.

The Conservative minority in the Senate is in an absolutely consistent position. In 1910 it held that the electors should pass on any permanent policy; it holds that view still. It is voting simply that a single temporary— an emergency—contribution be made. It still holds that the permanent policy which Mr. Borden and his Government will devise, should be laid before the electors of Canada. The Liberal Senators have made political jumping-jacks of themselves. Anything to please Laurier is their watchword.

The rest of Sir George Ross' speech does not merit special mention. It is a re-hash of the contentions which have been heard in the Commons at wearisome length. The point is perfectly clear. The people of Canada think that something should be done for naval defence. Sir Wilfrid Laurier produced one scheme, the people condemned it, with hootings. Mr. Borden produced a scheme, which, as the man entrusted with the reins of Government, he could carry through. Sir Wilfrid Laurier produced a second scheme which the elected representatives of the people of Canada declined to accept. Thereupon Sir Wilfrid Laurier declares that Mr. Borden's plan must be wrecked. His first plan was rejected by the people. He cannot carry out his second plan. He kills the Borden plan. Thus Canada must get along with no naval policy at all because Sir Wilfrid Laurier is angry. The Senate figures merely as a set of submissive tools, ready to stultify themselves at Laurier's command.

THE QUESTION OF THE PREFERENCE.

The Telegraph, introductory to a lengthy spiel on patriotism and Imperial loyalty, enquires with charming simplicity "When is the Borden government going to increase the British preference?" It is not on record that a similar desire for knowledge distinguished the former leader of the Opposition. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier controlled the policy of the Dominion. But Sir Wilfrid, anticipating the time when followers of his party would propound such questions, had, as usual, several answers ready. One of these, evidently his favorite, was given on a number of more or less notable occasions. And certainly the record of proceedings at the gatherings at which the former leader of the government stated his intentions, is readily available to the Telegraph. Perhaps, however, that paper has forgotten.

Hon. Mr. Borden, no doubt, has his own opinion on the matter of the British preference. He certainly entertains ideas as to the relations between Canada and the mother country which are not shared by the Liberal party. It is the leader of the Liberal party who is apparently unable to rise, and it may be presumed that when the proper time comes—and he is the one to judge of that time—his opinion as to trade relations between these parts of the Empire will stand comparison with the views so forcibly expressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and so heartily endorsed, but since forgotten, by the Telegraph.

Sir Wilfrid was present at the Colonial Conference of 1907. On the question of tariff relations he said: "Even if at this moment the British government were to tell us 'We are prepared to give you a preference; yes, we are prepared to give free trade all over the Empire, I would not be prepared for my part to accept it. I should have to say for Canada that we must insist upon our customs duties in order to raise our revenue. If we were to go and ask the Canadian parliament or people to abandon their present system of customs duties for revenue purposes the whole of the Canadian people would say: 'No. We are not prepared to do that. We must insist upon our present system.'"

So much for the suggestion of free trade within the Empire. Sir Wilfrid has also dealt with preference at different times. At Hamilton, Ont., in 1904, discussing the proceedings of the Imperial Conference of 1902, he said: "At that conference as Canadian Ministers we laid upon the table those conditions under which we were prepared to give preference to Great Britain. We said that if a preference were given on Canadian products by exemption from, or reduction of, duties now or hereafter to be levied we should be prepared to go further into the subject and endeavor to give to the British manufacturer some increased advantage over his foreign competitors in the markets of Canada. That is the policy which we laid down two years ago. It is there. It is before the world. It is before Canada. It is before the Empire. It is for the people of Britain to pronounce upon it, whether they are ready to meet us and advance the policy we have laid down or whether they are not."

At Guelph, two days later, Sir Wilfrid said: "The government of Canada is ready and has declared its intention and readiness to go on and extend the British preference as soon as the British people are ready to give a corresponding preference. The answer is no longer in our hands. It is in the hands of the British people and there the matter stands."

In view of the fact, as shown, that the leader of the Liberal party absolutely refused time after time to do anything further in the way of increasing the British preference, the Telegraph's anxiety seems a trifle out of place.

The shrinkage of the egg is due to evaporation which takes place through the minute pores of the shell. These pores also permit micro-organisms to enter, set up fermentation, and ruin the egg. The normal egg-shell has a natural coating of mucilaginous matter which, for a time, stays evaporation and prevents the entrance of these harmful germs. Until eggs are shipped they should be kept in a clean cool place and under no circumstances should the natural coating be removed or softened by washing. In these days of the high cost of living people who do not keep even a few hens are scarcely living up to their opportunities. The food value of the whole egg is 13.4 per cent, protein, 10.5 per cent, fat, while the full value of eggs per pound is 720 calories. Eggs contain more water than does cheese, but are more concentrated than milk. Lean meat and eggs contain about the same quantity of water. The popular belief that eggs with dark shells are more nutritious than those with white shells is not warranted by scientific tests. The keeping of poultry which has proved a fine source of revenue to some is not particularly heavy work, but it is much more exacting than many city people imagine and demands for its success constant attention, skill and brains.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

One of the most terrible and destructive of the many conflagrations that have ravaged the City of Quebec occurred sixty-eight years ago today, May 28, 1845. Twelve thousand persons were rendered homeless and many lives were lost, the fire consuming 1,500 houses before it burned itself out. The city had only commenced to repair its loss when, a month later, another fire broke out, in which 1,385 houses were burned. By these two fires two-thirds of the city was wiped out. A year later the Quebec Theatre Royal was burned, and forty-seven persons with it. Misfortune—perhaps another name for inadequate fire protection—again visited the city in 1866, when 2,500 houses, including seventeen churches, were burned, and 20,000 were made homeless. Since then Quebec has suffered from several other conflagrations, the worst that of 1881. What insurance men call "physical hazard" has of late years been reduced to normal in Quebec by means of modern methods of building construction and fire fighting.

Members of the Graduating Class: "You are standing on the threshold, you are in the open door. You are treading on a borderland, you have never tread before. You are at the meeting point between the collector of the world, and the point of discovering how far the college has fitted you for the larger interests in life and also at the point where you shall begin to demonstrate how much the college has helped you to the finding of your life. You belong to the 20th century and I entreat you to respond to your possibilities. The need of the ages—of every age—is men and women with lofty ideals; and you, graduates who are to help shape the life of the century, have the opportunity of recreating the ideal out of the material in your hands. Here you have formed plans and resolutions for life's new day. Do not sit down and recant your gifts and services—pointing back to something you did yesterday—rather than planning for something to do tomorrow. Do not face the past; return to your yesterday only in terms of the spirit that you have given to the granary for seed for tomorrow's sowing—as the soldier returns to the army for weapons for tomorrow's fight. You can discharge your obligations to Alma Mater and society. Your language, your books, your laws and liberties are the free gift of society. The college halls in which you have lived and acquired, are the product of thought, the blood and gifts of an elder generation. Others wrote hymns, your songs, your prayers, your ethics, your religion and the Cross of Jesus Christ represent the free gift of God, man and the free gift of God. Work, therefore, to the end. Your life is in the future. Memory will carry forward all the rich treasures that Alma Mater bestowed with loving hand that you may have seed-corn for fresh sowing; but the intellectual pathway, into which you are about to enter, holds the furrows, the harvests and the workers too. With reference to the opportunities before you, and the country's need of you, my admonition is to work and grow. Never forget it was merely of the body, not of the intellectual or spiritual part of your nature the declaration was made that "you cannot, by taking thought, add one cubit to your stature." When the tree ceases to grow your science tells you it should be harvested. When the sun ceases to rise its shadows fall eastward on the day drawn to its close. When you cease to grow you begin to decay. Grow then while you live. The land never needs you as it does now. You will never see a day in which it will not need you more and more. Therefore transcend life in terms of variousness. You have seen the crowded street upon a way before the clanging bell and galloping hoofs of the emergency call; sharp and near it sounds—and to the right and left go traffic and pleasure, coach and horse. Ride with that call and you will find a surprising and promising pathway as you go from us you leave the kindest of memories. You have helped us in our efforts to build up the intellectual and moral life of the college and we confidently believe that as you take your respective places in the "wide, wide world" you will reflect honor upon your Alma Mater and add to her prestige. NEW LOW RECORDS MADE IN YESTERDAY'S MARKET

New York, May 27.—An event long foreshadowed in financial and railroad circles—the proposed institution of receivership proceedings against the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company—was the outstanding feature of today's stock market. The company's pressing financial needs and its need to secure financial assistance found expression last month in the decline of its various securities, which reached a climax today in the establishing of a series of new low records.

Long before announcement of the proposed receivership was known the common and preferred shares of the Frisco system were being liquidated as well as the 4 per cent. refunding and the 5 per cent. general lien bonds. The latter declined 8 points, the 4 3/4% and first preferred stock 7 and the second preferred 3 1/2. These quotations representing maximum losses from which little recovery was made in the course of the session. Chicago and Eastern Illinois certificates in which the Frisco road has a substantial interest fell 10 points. There was sympathetic weakness throughout the day in Rock Island issues, Missouri Pacific, Kansas City Southern and Denver and Rio Grande common and preferred, which lost two, also sold at low record figures. The sagging tendency was not confined to securities of lesser grade, however, Harrison issues and Canadian Pacific, as well as Reading, Louisville, Nashville and United States Steel, all showing the effect of selling pressure. The news from abroad was scarcely of a hopeful character, London's market showing unsettlement because of further delay in the signing of the peace treaty between Turkey and the Balkan States. The Paris bourse was weak with some belated support, while Berlin reported more or less irregularity. London sold on balance here to the extent of perhaps 10,000 shares. The general bond market showed unusual firmness in the face of liquidation in Frisco and allied issues. U. S. government 1 1/2% on call, total sales, par value, $1,575,000.

CLOSING LETTER MARKET ON COTTON

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)

New York, May 27.—Local market opened steadily at a decline of one to two points, market was steady during the first few minutes without any special feature. Eastern belt forecast showers tonight or tomorrow. It is expected that the Gies and Journal of Commerce conditions report will be issued on Thursday morning, the government report will be issued Monday noon. Weekly weather report, Texas, the early part of the week was cloudy with showers at nine-tenths of the reporting stations. The last part was generally clear with comparatively warm days and cool nights. Precipitation was unevenly distributed but the amounts were ample except in a large number of the Northwest, Western and extreme southern counties. Wall Street was conceded to have brought cotton today. Market closing steady.

(F. B. MCCURDY & CO.)

New York, May 27.—The important news of the day was the announcement that a receiver had been appointed for the St. Louis and San Francisco. Less than four weeks ago an important international banking firm placed $3,000,000 of the general mortgage 5 per cent. bonds in Paris at 95, and today, this big system goes into the receivers' hands because it cannot meet $2,500,000 notes maturing June first, a mere flea bite, you might say. Of course, the question arises in every thinking mind, how many more railroads are similarly situated. Corporate credit in general and railroad credit in particular, have fallen to a distressing condition. The Boston and Maine 6 per cent. notes are offered at 93 1/2. New Haven 5 per cent. notes maturing in January are offered at par. Miss. Pac. notes maturing in one year sell on about an 8 per cent. basis. The main national railway evidently paid 10 per cent. for one year money. The price of St. Louis and San Francisco issues indicated that a receivership was fully expected, and it should not have been a surprise to the market.

The Suspicious Coal Man

"YOU'RE not buying as much coal this winter," said the coal man frowning darkly at Mr. McBride.

"So you noticed that, did you?" remarked McBride with a smile of keen delight.

"Buying somewhere else?" questioned the suspicious coal man.

"No, just threw out the old 'Warhorse' that I had in my cellar and put in a McClary's Sunshine Furnace. And I'm buying one-third less coal."

"You see, McClary's Sunshine Furnace has many features for cutting coal bills that no ordinary furnace has. For one thing it has four radiating surfaces that gather up the heat and distribute it through the house. The gas chamber is built to get all the heat out of the gases which would otherwise escape up the chimney. And its four triangular grate bars release ashes without wasting fuel. And its straight fire-pot—"

"Gee! Mr. McBride," interrupted the coal man, "You talk like a McClary salesman."

"Well, you see," said the enthusiastic McBride, "I went into the furnace question mightily thoroughly before I decided on the Sunshine, and I know what I am talking about."

"Well, Mr. McBride, I must say that the Sunshine is a bad furnace for the coal man's business. But I wouldn't mind saving some coal myself, now that the cost of living has gone up so high."

"Better see the McClary agent," was McBride's parting suggestion.

If you have an old "Warhorse" in your cellar it will pay you to see the McClary agent in your locality. You would also find it profitable to write for a copy of the latest Sunshine furnace booklet. Address our nearest office.

Children's Go-Carts

The cut illustrates one of the famous "TOURIST" line of Collapsible Go-Carts, which are the strongest, and at the same time the simplest carts on the market. The one illustrated, or any one of the dozen styles and sizes, can be closed fast by one motion. It is the only cart made with braces directly opposite the hubs of the wheels, which is the point where there is the greatest strain, resulting, in most cases, in wobbly wheels. Incidentally, the "TOURIST" is as handsome as it is strong, and a look over our stock will convince you that it is the cart to buy.

PROSPECTUS OF PROPOSED Weeks Silver Black Fox Company, Ltd.

Head Office at North Tryon, P. E. I.

Capital Stock

The Company will be Capitalized at $100,000.00, divided into 1,000 shares of $100.00 each.

The Foxes

There have been secured five pairs of 1913 pups guaranteed choicest selection of the Dalton-Tuplin strain. This stock needs no further comment as they are the world's best.

Terms of the Company

The promoters of the Weeks Silver Black Fox Company have so much faith in the future of the Fox industry and in the stock they have purchased, that they guarantee ten pups from the five pair during the breeding season of 1914, and for every pup short of this number they will forfeit $5,000.00. This practically means a guarantee of upwards of 50 (fifty) per cent. for the first year. Taking into consideration the present price of 1913 pups and the fact that the five pairs are placed on the market at but $20,000.00 a pair, it will readily be seen that this company offers the most lucrative investment made this year in the fox industry.

An-Up-to-Date Ranch

Mr. Hedley B. Weeks has purchased the beautiful farm property of Mr. George H. Callbeck, North Tryon, where the most approved ranch will be erected which is now under construction. This property is favored with the handsomest hardwood grove in Prince County and is most suitably adapted for a Fox farm. All modern burglar-proof alarms will be installed and a day and night watchman, with the protection of tested man-trailing blood hounds, will always guard the ranch.

Estimated Financial Returns

From the five pairs there should be fifteen pups. At present prices this would mean a net profit of about $80,000.00 to the investors after deducting all ranching expenses.

No Organization Expenses

All the expenses incurred in the formation of this company, viz—the organization, including building of ranch, advertising, printing and all other incidentals will be paid by the promoters.

Applications for Stock

Applications for stock can be made to Hedley B. Weeks, Fredericton, P. E. I., or to any of the Directors. Payments: 10 p. c. of the subscribed amount must accompany application.

Address to Graduates. The address to the graduates of the Academy was delivered by Rev. S. S. Poole, B. A., pastor of the Baptist church at Middleton, N. S. Mr. Poole has the reputation of being a forceful and pleasing speaker, and more fully established that reputation. The subject of the address was, "Things that Make a Difference." The speaker emphasized the importance of four things suggested by the subject, viz: Character, Thought, Faith and Work.

Men succeed not because of advantage of birth, wealth, or social position but because they are willing to pay the price in hard work. Young men should shun cowardice, shun love of ease, shun a low content and poor ideals. Treat life as a noble adventure. Have a big ambition supported by honest work, and make your greatest difficulties inspire and spur you on to the noblest endeavor.

Mr. Poole may have the assurance that he will be heard with pleasure when his next appears before a Wolfville audience. His words were both appropriate and timely for the occasion. The valedictory of Miss Lulu S. Zwicker, Bear River, N. S., was as follows: "President, Classmates, Friends: For four years we have looked forward with a feeling of pleasure to the closing exercises of 1913. We feel a joy now because we have gained our reward; the goal is reached. Tomorrow we go out to come back no more as students of Acadia. This thought fills us with sadness. Next October, when the students reassemble on 'the Hill' we shall not be among them, but the thoughts of past joys and successes, twined with hopes of richer blessings yet to come, will cluster round our remembrance of our Alma Mater. We realize that this is one of the memorable days of our lives. Our past and future seem to blend. We look now back to the years of work and play, then ahead into the unknown years before us. Today we are students; even so shall we be tomorrow for we are going out into the larger, broader university of the world where day will present its problems to be solved, even as they have come to us here. Our course is finished! Behind are the struggles and the victories. Before is a future bright and readable. Tomorrow we pass out to this world of farewells. Gentlemen of the Board of Governors: As the years have passed you have ever had your hands on the governing wheel of these institutions. Your thoughts have ever been for the welfare of Acadia. Through your efforts her standard has been raised, her facilities improved, until now she stands in the first rank. To you we owe our sincere gratitude for the opportunities we have had here. Those who have preceded us have laid the foundation; those who come after us will fare better. May your highest ambitions for our Alma Mater be realized. What ever you do for her advancement, may it be successful. To you, we say, Farewell! President Cullen and Gentlemen of the Faculty: As we leave you today we desire to thank you for the care and interest you have shown in our welfare. Through your guidance we have been brought into contact with the best and noblest thoughts of all ages. By your example you have shown us that the truest life is realized by following the highest ideals. You have been ever ready to help us; ready to rejoice in our successes; to give us the benefit of your experience and knowledge. Today we begin to understand how much we shall miss these things when we have gone from Acadia. We are going out stronger both morally and intellectually, and with a keener ambition to do something worth while in the world. You have engendered in us feelings of respect and gratefulness for your kindness and wisdom, and all too freely given. In the future, thoughts of our Alma Mater will always bring thoughts of you and what you have done for us. Therefore, in gratitude and friendship we say, Farewell! Friends of Wolfville: As the classes come and go, each always finds a warm welcome among you. You have shown us only kind-

Was Troubled With His Heart. HAD TO GIVE UP WORK. When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart. To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Alfred Male, Eloiada, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them any more. They are worth their weight in gold. I advise my friends and neighbours who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NO SKIRTS IN 2013; KISSES THEN UNKNOWN

Mrs. Christian Hemmick.

Skirts will be discarded by the time the year 2013 rolls around, and both sexes will parade in Oriental trousers; kissing at that time will have gone the way of the skirts, and sentimental couples bent on matrimony will be compelled to approach the altar armed with personal health certificates. These predictions were made recently in a drama written by Mrs. Christian Hemmick, a suffragist, well known in Washington society, which, it has been announced, is to be produced here this month for the benefit of the suffragist cause, in connection with a morality play, also written by Mrs. Hemmick.

When we have fallen short of our goal, we have to regret that we have not done more to make our stay in Wolfville a pleasant one, the show of 1913, thank you, while we bid you a kindly farewell!

Keep before you high ideals! Although we do not reach our ideals, they show us our deficiency and spur us on to higher and better things. Let us strive earnestly to overcome our failings that we may conquer. Look to that character of which man can make out a poor imitation, show in the life of the One who was spiritually the Great Example. Look to that character in which no blemish has been found in the criticism of nineteen hundred years. There you shall see the realization of your highest hopes and aspirations. In this encouragement we say Farewell!

"God bless you my fellow-students! May he give softly the treasure of the years into thy bosom; make thee live the life that knows and sees and hears. The best, fairest of the earth—The certainties of hope and time." Dear Classmates: Must we, too, say farewell! For four years we have been purposing to stand here as we are today. Now that we are here, we feel inclined to draw back, even while duty bids us go forward to give to the waiting world what we have gained. Let us always have a goal in view. Toward this let us work steadily in the belief that the secret of our success lies in using the opportunities that come to us: in seeking high and noble ends; and in doing our duty in the sphere of life to which it shall please God to call us.

Remember: Each of us is tried alone; alone we are sifted by the world. Our individual lives are what count. Each must ever be exerting some power for good or for evil, just as a flower bestows its fragrance on the air. May we ever use our power wisely.

Classmates: Our paths will not always be easy as we go forth; there will be difficulties for each of us. Let us be thankful for them. They will test our capabilities and strengthen us to persevere. If we fall to rise again, we shall have the honor and the crown.

We know of those who are always looking to the past as the golden age. Others look into the future for the fulfillment of all their dreams. Yet others find their golden age in the present, with no thought of past or future. May we be among those who, as they realize the worth of past failures—and successes, with hope for the future years, work resolutely at the duties of today. Let us go out now with gladness in our hearts that we have now and can serve in the present.

No stream from its source flows seaward, how lonely soever its course. No star ever rose but what some land it has gladdened; No ear ever heard And set without influence somewhere. Who knows What earth needs from earth's lowest creature? No life Can be pure in its purpose and strong in its spirit.

The army of martyrs who stand by the throne. And gaze on the face that makes their glorious their own. Know this, serenely, at last. Hush! the seventh heaven to the voice of the spirit. Echo: He that overcometh shall all things inherit.

Classmates, Farewell! The following St. John people are here to attend the closing exercises: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Haley, Miss G. Haley, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Dykeman, Miss L. Dykeman, Mr. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Genter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. VanWart, Mr. and Mrs. H. Marr, Mr. Jack Marr, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gilmore, Miss Margaret Gilmore, Mr. D. C. To the Zam-Buk Co. Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable.

(Signed) RODNEY M. LLOYD, Admiral.

New Zam-Buk Cures Burns. Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M. First Class Cruiser "Cochrane," says: "One day I fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but from the first, the burn took the wrong way, owing to a lot of coal dust and dirt from the pipe having got embedded in the flesh and setting up blood-poison.

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved of no use. I was told to use Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, swelling, redness, and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles, blood-poison, fevers, sores, pimples, eruptions, cuts, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box all druggists and chemists or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 5c. table.

SPEAKERS OPPOSE SALE OF MUNICIPAL HOME PROPERTY

Matter Informally Brought Up at Board of Trade Luncheon, in Bond's Yesterday—Good Roads Movement also Came in for Discussion.

At the Board of Trade luncheon in Bond's yesterday the anticipated discussion on the Municipal Home affair did not materialize, but three speakers expressed their opposition to the transfer of the Home to anybody at the present time, and their remarks evidently met with the approval of the gathering. In the absence of President Robinson, J. A. Likely presided, and introduced the subject of the Municipal Home, saying that any present might express their opinion. Frank del. Clements said he was strongly opposed to the sale of the Home, and felt that the county councillors were so fully convinced that the granting of the option was opposed to the will of the people that nothing further would be done in the matter. He did not think it was a matter that the Board of Trade had need to take up, as he felt it would be allowed to drop by the county council, and that no further effort would be made to secure the option. W. J. Panton was asked to speak on the question, but he said he preferred not to discuss the situation at the present time, beyond saying that he could see no reason for the sale of the Home. E. A. Smith also expressed himself briefly against the idea of selling the Home.

NEW GERMAN BUSINESS MEN TO COME HERE

Citizen of "Fatherland" Says Large Delegation Will Tour Dominion

PEOPLE HEARING MUCH ABOUT CANADA

Otto Guttenberg, of Berlin, in City on Visit to Look Over Prospects Here—May Locate in this Province.

"Canada is—do you express it so in English—in everybody's mouth in the Fatherland," remarked Otto Guttenberg, of Berlin, Germany, who arrived in the city yesterday, and intends to look over New Brunswick with a view to settling here. "Well, no," he said in reply to a question. "We have not heard so much in Germany about the Province of New Brunswick as about the western provinces, but more knowledge of the east of Canada is being circulated. 'Why did I come here?' One of our great illustrated papers published recently a special edition devoted to Canada. In it there was reference to Eastern Canada, telling how immense resources were there to be found, but that its possibilities had been overlooked because of so much advertising of the west. 'The Fatherland,' added the man from the Fatherland, 'there has been so much talk about Canada that many think it is a land flowing with milk and honey. Some Germans have made great land owners on the land in the districts suitable for agriculture, and in the western part of Germany, the industrial part, it is almost impossible to buy land, so great is the price. Then have we the trusts and the cartels, the great commercial organizations, which crowd out the small man. Many people cannot hope to better their position in Germany and they will come to Canada, and are thrifty and industrious. 'If I locate here I expect to try to bring out quite a number of people who would make good laborers. There are many men working in the fields in Germany for 20 or 25 cents a day. Many of this class of people would be glad to come to Canada. 'I intend to look over New Brunswick. What I understand is that in the east one may perhaps make a fortune so quickly as one might in the west, but if one does not make a fortune he has a better life to live. One here in the east is nearer the center of culture, and may enjoy himself. To go west with nothing but the bare prairie stretching around you and the blue sky overhead, and no neighbors, no schools, no amusements for miles that requires a staunch heart, such as not all have. 'Mr. Guttenberg, who has been carrying a mercantile business in various parts of the province, and probably take up a farm and bring people from Germany to Canada, was speaking of the project of the C. P. R. to bring out a number of manufacturers and business men to Canada this summer, he said the idea of the excursion had attracted considerable interest, and that it was likely about 350 of the representative business men of Germany would make the trip.

KING SQUARE NOT POPULAR WITH LOWERS

Coming of Strings of Colored Lights has Robbed Young Men and Maidens of "Spoon-ing" Place.

The city commissioners in placing strings of pretty colored lights about the walks in King Square have no doubt added to the appearance of the park, but at the same time they have disturbed many of the spooning youths, who each warm evening used to foregather along the shady walks to look at the moon and whisper sweet nothings. With the coming of the lights, however, they found themselves strictly up against it, as far as looking at the moon and holding private conversation was concerned. The unduly it was hard to carry on such blissful work when a string of colored lights show up the privacy of the alley-palms between the trees. For some time this state of affairs caused considerable comment, and it was thought that the commissioners in beautifying Greater St. John had broken up the happy evenings. After many grumbled wishes for the return of the good old days, some particularly bright couple discovered that Queen Square had been neglected in the campaign of beautification. At once the trend of traffic in loving couples started that way, and during the past few evenings all quiet and staid pedestrians in search of solitude, who happen to frequent that section of the city find their favorite benches occupied, and marked strictly private, by bright-eyed girls and stalwart fellows who carry on mystic conversations which will undoubtedly tend to increase the hankers of the ministers during the month of June.

THEIVES IN NORTH END

Workshop Near Simonds Street Entered and Tools Stolen—Police Working Case, but Have No Clue.

A bold robbery was perpetrated in the North End either late Monday evening or early Tuesday morning, when thieves entered the front door of a workshop occupied by a carpenter and boat builder, situated near the foot of Simonds street, in the rear, and made off with a quantity of tools valued at between forty and fifty dollars. The theft was discovered yesterday morning, when the proprietor of the shop returned to work. He reported the case to the police, who are working on it, but who say they have no clue. The proprietor of the shop, it is understood, has been in the habit of leaving the key hanging in a concealed place about the front of the building so that the first of his workmen who arrive in the morning could open the door. The person or persons who stole the articles must have been familiar with the place where the key was kept, for in making an entrance to the building it was used to open the door. After the thief or thieves entered the shop a large chest, which contained a number of valuable tools, was forced open and the greater part of the contents removed. A broad-axe and adze belonging to Alexander Totten have been stolen from his workshop at Gregory's wharf and no knowledge of the person who committed the robbery is had. Other articles are reported to have recently been missing from about the wharves.

PREMIER FLEMMING TO VISIT OTTAWA

Will Later Attend Missionary Congress in Toronto—Highway Engineer May Not be Appointed this Year.

Fredericton, May 27.—Tomorrow evening, Premier Fleming is to leave for Montreal and Ottawa accompanied by Mrs. Fleming. They will later go on to Toronto, where a missionary congress of the Presbyterian church will open on Saturday and continue for a week. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church will follow and the Premier and Mrs. Fleming will probably not return to Woodstock until about June 10th. The Premier was asked at noon whether permanent highways would be appointed for this year. The Premier said that it is a matter for consideration by the Government, and that it seems doubtful if a highway engineer will be appointed with no money coming to the province from the federal treasury for permanent roads, as a result of the action of the Senate. The province might have been able to supplement what the Dominion would give by the fairly a substantial amount, but the damage by the freshet to the roads and bridges of the province last spring amounted to between $100,000 and $150,000 and a considerable portion of the restoration work must be paid for out of ordinary revenue. While it seems impossible to provide for permanent road work this year it should be remembered that the Government will be spending up to the usual amount for ordinary road work.

EXPECTS TO FINISH NEW WHARF IN TIME

T. P. Charlson, of Connolly Company Talks of Progress on Contract—Good Supply of Lumber Now.

Thomas P. Charlson, of the Connolly Construction Company, arrived in the city yesterday and is registered at the Royal. Mr. Charlson when seen by The Standard with regard to the progress of the new wharf on the west side, stated that the company expected to finish the wharf within the date called for by the contract. The difficulty in securing the necessary lumber has been overcome, and as the lumbermen are getting their drives down in good time, a steady supply is available. Excellent progress is being made with the wharf, and at present three cranes are under construction. The staff of carpenters and other laborers has been increased and everything possible is being done to rush the work to a satisfactory conclusion. When speaking of the proposed new wharf to be located south of the one now under construction, Mr. Charlson did not think that such an undertaking could be finished in time for the next winter winterport season.
