The season for shipping frozen herring to the American market is now about ended. The fishermen are turning their schooners waiting to make up their cargoes. In consequence of the mildness of the weather for the past few days some of the weather for the past few days some difficulty has been experienced in freezing the fish. The old steamboat wharf has been entirely covered with thousands of bright, shining herring, spread out there by the fishermen, in order to freeze them. The shore of the Island has also been used for the same purpose. The passing to and fro on the street of the crews of fishing vessels, gives the shire town of Charlotte a lively appearance.

[There was nothing of so startling a character in the remainder of the Ottawa despatch, a portion of which was published in a second edition yesterday, that the wires should have suspended. Sir John Macdonald reviewed his protest against casting imputations on members. Mr. Mackenzie appealed to the House to give the seat to the candidate who had received the greatest number of votes. Mr. Palmer made a logical argument against the legality of the course the Opposition were pursuing. Mr. Anglin asked the House to cast off all party feeling and vote with the Opposition! Sir John Macdonald made a good speech, full of legal points, which our telegram gave at some length. The result was detailed in our first telegram.]

Mr. Cartwright moved for a select committee to consider the best route for the carrying of mails and passengers, between Newfoundland, and a line of steamers thence to Shippegan, connecting with the Intercolonial Railway, would, he contend ed, be the shortest route. Mr. Anglin would support any effort to secure such a route. He believed that Newfoundland would soon be in the Union. Mr. Kirkpatrick's resolution, declaring it expedient to pass a law giving mechanics or others a lien on vessels for debts due for labor or supplies, was carried, Mr. Dom-ville in the chair.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE. ATTLE AND HORSE MEDICINE. Special Telegram to the Tribune. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

The Provincial Secretary's budget speech occupied nearly all of yesterday afternoon's sitting. It was an able expo ition of the financial situation, but the important facts have all been given to your readers in discussions on our want of Better Terms. The increase of the estimated expenditure from $483,077.48 to $503,352.35 was due to the following new calls on the revenue of the Province: Defence of Appeal to the Privy Council on the Common Schools Act, $3000; rescinding the debate contract, $1,450; Carleton Railroad Debentures, $5000; County Lines Surveys, $4,500; Steam Navigation, $3,500; bye roads, $7,000; making in all $24,450. Take these items out and there will be left the sum of $478 902.35, or upwards of $5,000 less than the contemplated expenditure for 1872 for similar purposes. Every item was necessary, and members knew well that that there were other services that needed money. He showed that the enforcement of the claims of Canada for interest on surplus debt would leave us in a bank rupt condition, and gave good reasons why the great road service cannot be left to depend on local taxation.
