TAKES OFF DANDRUFF. HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderrine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scalp. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderrine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderrine. Save your hair! Try

Demarias J. Brawn

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Clark of Fort Fairfield, Mrs. Demarias J. Brawn of Limestone, Me., while visiting, suddenly passed away Wednesday, December 16, at 2 p. m., after a few days illness of pneumonia; aged 55 years. Everything was done by kind friends and physicians; but to no avail. She was a kind and affectionate mother, living and trusting in God. She leaves to mourn, three brothers: John Tompkins of Moniac, Shaw of Three Brooks, Me., and Murray of Lansdowne, and six children: Mrs. Oscar Clark of Fort Fairfield, Lester Brawn of Limestone, with whom she made her home, Ward of Simonds, Mrs. Vaughn Shaw of Melrose, Mass., Ruby and Lottie Brawn of Limestone. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. F. Giberson. The remains were laid to rest in Perth Cemetery beside her eldest daughter, Mrs. Eddie Clark, who passed away October 5. Much sympathy is felt for the family in the time of their sorrow.

SCOTLAND, Ont., Aug. 25th, 1913
"Fruit-a-lives" are the only pills manufactured, to my way of thinking. They work completely, no gripping whatever, and one is plenty for any ordinary person at a dose. My wife was a martyr to Constipation. We tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened on "Fruit-a-lives". I cannot say too much in their favor.

We have used them in the family for about two years and we would not use anything else as long as we can get "Fruit-a-lives".

Their action is mild, and no distress at all. I have recommended them to many other people, and our whole family uses them."

Cured of Piles and Eczema

By Using Three Boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Abram Buhr, Herbert, Sask., writes:—"I want to say that I was troubled with eczema and piles and suffered greatly from the itching, burning sensations caused by these annoying ailments. I sent for a free sample of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this did me so much good that I bought three boxes more, and after using same was cured of both eczema and piles."

This is the kind of letters we receive daily from people who have been cured of these distressing skin diseases by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. No matter how skeptical you might be, you could not read these letters for many days without concluding that Dr. Chase's Ointment is undoubtedly the most prompt relief and certain cure for these ailments.

If you have doubts send for a free sample box and be convinced. It was by use of a free sample that Mr. Buhr was convinced of the merits of this treatment. For sale at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ROBERT L. SIMMS THE CANDIDATE

To the Electors of the County of Carleton, Gentlemen.

I have been chosen by a large and representative convention to be the opposition candidate in the approaching by-election.

The circumstances which led to a vacancy for Carleton County in the Local Legislature are known to you. It is to be regretted that such a state of affairs exists, but it is more deplorable that those connected with the public business do not declare against it. Instead we find the present government candidate shielding and abetting the wrongdoers. For that reason I have felt that it is the duty I owe my country to stand against the government party machine in this County, and after due consideration I have accepted the nomination of the opposition and ask you to support me on January 7th.

Although I have assisted in several election campaigns in this county and the county of York, this is my first appeal to the election as a candidate. As a new man I have no political sins to meet. I have never handled a dollar for election purposes, and in the coming contest there will be no funds used except what are necessary and legal, such as horse hire, rent for halls, etc. To some this may mean a sacrifice for loss of time, but you will be paid in the end by having a better era of political life in this county. So long as men run corrupt elections so long will we have dishonest government.

Gentlemen: The eyes of the province and dominion are turned upon this county at the present time. What your vote is on Jan. 7. will determine what opinion will be had of our fair county.

Gentlemen, the most conservative people admit the need of more opposition in the Legislature. There are at the present but two opposition members in the House. The recent revelations prove to you the effect of having a party too strong in power. A government that has complete control is worse than an absolute monarch.

This is not a party fight it is open for members of both parties to stand for better government at Fredericton.

If elected I shall give my undivided attention to the affairs of the country. I have been educated not only from books but, brought up on a farm, I am familiar with every phase of farming and lumbering. I shall endeavor to impress upon the Government the needs of rural sections. It is the country schools and country roads which are neglected. I have still maintained my interest in agriculture and shall endeavor to have more attention given to farming, that something of permanent benefit may be provided rather than paying the bulk of expenditure to the salaries of officials.

I regret that the time for this campaign is so limited and I shall be unable to see many of you personally, but this contest is not only mine it is yours. It is for you to say whether or not at the present time you approve of what has taken place in the public business.

There is a crisis within and without our country. The Hun is at the gate seeking to destroy the empire. Certain politicians by corrupt means are destroying the nation within. It is as important to thwart the one as the other.

Yours truly,

THE GLOBE'S STAND

At the recent Opposition convention in St. John the Globe was mentioned as having known who dictated the Foreshores Bill. The Globe in retort says it had no idea who dictated the bill any more than who prepared "the bogus Rothersey voters' list." This sets the public thinking the sturdy St. John journal has an opinion if it does not "know." The Globe, once in possession of full public respect, seems nowadays to devote its entire energy to attempts at discomfiting the Liberal party while it poses as their friend. The Globe staff has a sorehead whose greatness did not appear so large to the Liberal leaders as to himself. A senatorship went to one Globe editor, and because a second one was not handed out we have ever since witnessed a churlish display of spleen.

A week before the defeat of Reciprocity little groups of Conservatives could be seen discussing the situation with chuckles of satisfaction. That was when they assured of sufficient funds to pay any price for votes, from $35 for a single one to $200 for a father and his boys, which was done. Today the same little sidewalk caucuses are being held but the expression on the faces say: "We have got the green-backs but how in time are we going to blow it for votes and not get caught?"

There are a sufficient number of purchasable votes in this county to swing any election. Votes will be bought on one side only. If Smith is elected by the majority his friends claim in advance, the corruption fund to which Elder Flemming "gave the seal of his approval" will be reduced somewhat extensively.

This week's issue of the Woodstock Press is a unique production. The editor seems to be in a maudlin state of hysterics. He quotes a paragraph from Hansard in which F. B. Carvell had the independence to criticize General French, who since—not before—has distinguished himself, and the Press prints it in three places in the paper in as many different sizes of type. Much better had that paper given space to answers to the very pertinent questions appearing twice in The Observer and plainly asked of B. F. Smith, its pet, who held the high position of president of the Canada West India Co., and who outrageously notorious as a passer on the Tobique Indian Reserve.

The early operation of the Valley Railway can be credited to the opposition. Had they not put up a candidate the rails would be snowed under.

Probably there was a by-election on in Queens county the good people of Galetown would have a railway service too.

SPLENDID MEETING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Stirring Addresses in Favor of Good Government by Messrs. Simms, Veniot and Carvell.

If there were any who had doubts as to the reception of Robt. L. Simms as the standard-bearer for the good government party in Carleton county they surely were speedily dispelled on Tuesday night, when one of the largest, most attentive and orderly audiences that has assembled in Hartland to be enlightened on the political questions of the day gathered in Lyric hall. Liberals and Conservatives, men and women, sat side by side and drank in the truths as they were expounded by the speakers of the evening. The applause which greeted particularly telling points made by the spokesmen was unstinted and not confined to any one party.

The band was present and played some choice selections in a manner which both pleased and surprised the audience, considering the fact that they are less than a year old. Their playing drew forth much merited praise from Mr. Veniot, who is no mean musician, and who has six boys also playing instruments in a band at his home in Gloucester. The excellent harmony of the band was in thorough keeping with the harmonious tone of the meeting.

S. S. Miller was an able chairman and introduced each speaker with a few well chosen remarks.

Mr. Simms, the opposition candidate, was the first speaker, and his maiden effort was listened to with rapt attention by both friend and foe, and when he made a home thrust against his opponents if they did not applaud they at least bore their punishment stoically. The points covered by the speaker, were about the same as those at the convention proceedings at Woodstock, a synopsis of which is given on the last page of today's paper.

Mr. P. J. Veniot of Gloucester, on rising, was given a hearty reception, and what he did not tell the people about the greatest lumber graft in history would be hardly worth recording, and the best of the matter was that he had in his possession and ready for the inspection of the skeptical documents of incontrovertible character.

The eyes of the province were on Carleton county at this time, when for the first time in Canada a by-election was called on account of a premier being buried from power because of graft charges being proven against him.

As a compatriot of L. A. Dugal he had been called to assist as interpreter during the last two sessions of the legislature and, with the exception of Mr. Carvell, he probably knew more of the facts connected with the timber graft than any other persons outside the grafters themselves. He therefore could speak with authority on the most heinous political acts that had ever been laid at the door of any public man.

Although the opposition consisted of "only two little Frenchmen" he claimed that it was the most powerful in the history of the province, as it had done a work in unearthing rascality that would go down in history as a bright spot in New Brunswick politics.

Scouting danger when the so-called Dugal charges were first mooted, Mr. Fleming had attempted to snare Mr. Dugal after the last election by offering him the patronage of Madawaska county as a bribe and invited him to the government caucus one week before the charges were made. It was a bold attempt to choke off all opposition and to prevent the charges being brought before the house.

He had to congratulate Mr. Simms on his maiden speech as a candidate for the suffrages of the people. In all his 25 years career in political life he had not heard a better or more telling one. It augured well for the future of Carleton county when such a brilliant young man can be produced from among the people.

He was proud of the fact that the people of Carleton had decided to contest the county and redeem the good name of the province. On the 7th of January the votes will herald over the dominion the fact that Mr. Simms opens the road to redeem the province from the smirch cast on it by Fleming.

The now Premier Clarke had promised the lumbermen that the plans of Fleming would be carried out to the letter, so he must help bear the stigma cast upon the government by the infamous acts of his colleagues in the executive.

Mr. Baxter of St. John, as attorney general, had promised an investigation of every department of the government. Small as the opposition is they have unearthed some things that even Baxter can't stand.

He would be glad to meet Mr. Fleming and others on the government side in joint debate during this campaign. "We have the thunder," said Mr. Veniot, "and the goods, and can deliver both." It had been proved that Fleming knew of the money collections and directed its disposition. The only other man who actually knew of them had fled the country and was paid to stay away until the investigation was over. Fleming had refused to sign a telegram calling him back, knowing that to do so would be placing the seal to his own death warrant.

At Moncton on May 18 in room 36 at the Brunswick hotel Mr. Corbett, a Valley Railway contractor, had paid Fleming $10,000. Corbett had asked Mr. Carvell for God's sake not to call him to the witness stand, and on Mr. Carvell's refusal to comply he went to Pennsylvania.

Mr. Veniot said he had in his possession evidence of the most damnable frauds in connection with the public works. Pay lists had been padded and forged. Some had been endorsed by members sitting on the floors of the legislature. He could prove absolutely all that he stated. There had been gross frauds in the farm settlement board, members violating the independence of parliament act by working off property at big profits. Mr. Hay had falsified reports re the sale of lands supposed to be vacant. They had not unearthed one-tenth of the boodling in the crown land department. He had made these charges before and he wanted an investigation, but he could not trust Baxter to get justice. He could furnish evidence that would astound the country if presented before three impartial judges.

Mr. Carvell had been termed a hard hitter, and he was, but the country needed just such a man when dealing with political desperados like J. K. Fleming and his colleagues in the government. After a selection by the band Mr. Carvell followed, clearing up many matters that the previous speaker had left untouched. His address was temperate though pointed, and he was listened to with the greatest attention as he drove the truths home. While many winced they swallowed the pills uncomplainingly. The gist of Mr. Carvell's remarks will be found on the last page of this paper.

One little incident that had evidently been inspired by a coward who feared the truth was the shutting off of the gasoline from the engine which furnishes power for the lights. Mr. Carvell was in the act of reading a document at the time, but a friendly flashlight bridged the difficulty.

Another meeting of the opposition will be held at Centreville New Year's night.

Gould-Ricker

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gould, Forest city, Me., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Dec. 22 at 7.30 p. m. when their eldest daughter Olive Anna, was united in marriage to Harry C. Ricker of Upper Hainesville.

Rev. Mr. McDonald of Houlton performed the ceremony in the presence of quite a number of relatives and friends.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white chiffon and shadow lace, with a gold necklace set with amethysts and pearls, the present of the groom. The wedding march, "Humoresque" was played by Mrs. Hurbert Lydic, sister of the bride.

After the ceremony refreshments were served by Miss Inez Clark, Grace and Lela Gould, Ethel Lamont and Mrs. Lydia. The popularity of both bride and groom was evidenced by the numerous presents of glass, silver and linen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricker left the following day on the six o'clock train for Fredericton, spending Xmas at the groom's home. They will afterwards reside at Kingston where Mr. Ricker will continue his duties as principal of the consolidated school. Mr. and Mrs. Ricker both formally taught school at Bristol.

The firemen were soon on the scene and put out the blaze without having to turn on the full force of the hose, which, in the fearfully cold weather, would have been as bad as a fire.

Potatoes were selling at this time in 1895 for 50 cents a barrel, and the following spring the price was 30 to 35 cents at the starch-factories, some lots being thrown away altogether. Now some claim that the present price of 70 cents is not much better than the 50 cents was then. Other farmers, however, claim that owing to better methods of culture, a barrel of potatoes can be produced about as cheaply now as ever it could—Fairfield Review.

My husband has used them for kidney trouble with good results and my daughter in Winnipeg has been helped a great deal by the use of these pills. We say we can't keep house without them, and have advised the doctors here out of a good many visits. I think Dr. Chase's medicines are just the thing, and have recommended them to many people who have used them with good results.”

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up bowels are cleared and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a new playful child again.

These children need to be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Mothers of mothers keep it handy, because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Get your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains no opiates for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups.

FOOD IS PLENTIFUL

And Prices in Canada Will Not Rise Very Much.

The temporary and partial panic in Canada which, almost inevitably, accompanied the outbreak of war, did affect—indeed, it is still in a measure, affects—our living costs for a time. It resulted in a certain artificial rise in prices. But already, to a large extent, these are seen to be receding almost to normal levels.

The prime "necessaries of life" may, for the vast majority of us, be said to be foodstuffs. These consist of breadstuffs, meat, dairy produce, vegetables, and fruit. If we have a sufficient supply of these in this country, no matter how long or widespread the war, there is no reason why we need fear that we shall not be able to get them at a reasonable price.

We are large exporters of breadstuffs. Of wheat alone we exported last year one hundred and twenty-six million bushels, of a value of over $122,000,000. We also exported nearly five million barrels of wheat flour of a value of over $20,000,000. On the other hand, our imports of wheat and wheat flour are practically nil, as are those of oats and barley.

This year, while the harvest in Ontario is good, that in the West is said to be less than last year's by something like a third. About nine-tenths of our exported wheat, six-sevenths of our exported barley, and two-fifths of our exported oats go to Great Britain.

Roughly speaking, we are more than self-sufficient so far as our supply of meat is concerned. Last year we exported approximately $5,000,000 worth of meat of various kinds, and imported about $6,500,000 worth. Our principal exports of the meat line were bacon and pork—the total value about $2,500,000 worth—mutton and lamb—about $566,000 worth—and beef—about $443,000 worth, mostly from the U. S., which source of supply is still open to us.

Taking account of both fresh and canned vegetables, while we export, last year, approximately, $1,588,000 worth, we imported, approximately, $2,871,000, so that we have an excess of imports over exports of something like $1,283,000 worth. But nearly the whole of our imported vegetables came from the United States, and, with so many European ports closed, many other countries will not make their normal demand on the United States, and the price is likely to rise.

When we turn to dairy produce, we see that we have nothing to fear here. Last year, we exported, roughly, about $23,500,000 worth of this, and imported only $1,650,000 worth. So that we produced in our country nearly $22,000,000 worth more than we needed for our own needs. Almost the whole of our export dairy produce goes to Great Britain. Our production this year will be normal, and we shall not have to furnish Great Britain with more than usual.

There is, therefore, no logical reason why there should be a rise in prices here in other food commodities by reason of the war—such commodities, for instance, as fish, rice, sugar, etc. Thus, as regards foodstuffs and their price, there is no reason for gloom on the part of the average citizen.

German Patents in Canada. In connection with the suspension of German patents in Canada the following is of interest:—Patents and trade marks granted to a subject of any state with which Great Britain is at war are not declared to be void, but may be voided or suspended in whole or in part on application to the Board of Trade. The applicant must put up a fee of two pounds with the application, and a fee of half a crown for depositing foreign documents, or other papers for the purpose of record. The Board of Trade may then suspend or void the patent in whole or in part if it appears that the person applying intends to manufacture the invention and if it appears to be in the general interest of the country or a section of the community or of the trade that such articles should be manufactured or any process carried on. The Board of Trade may at any time in its discretion order the voidance or suspension in whole or in part of any patent as they may see fit without special application being made to them.

TIMBER WOLVES. The Canadian Varieties Are Anything But Cowardly.

It is often stated that the Canadian timber wolf is a coward, like his Russian cousin, but this accusation is far from being true. The wolves have become skulking and nocturnal in habits simply because they have learnt, by sorrowful experience, that man is a creature to be avoided. Today the wolves in prairie regions are as timid as the coyotes, but in the days when they followed at the heels of the great buffalo herds, picking off the stragglers, this was not the case. Seton tells of a wolf that entered the camp of a party of buffalo hunters, when it was attacked by a dog. The men scared the brute away by firing at it. Later in the night, mortally wounded though it was, the wolf returned into the glare of the camp-fire and killed the dog that had molested it.

Some years ago a wolf took up its quarters near Winnipeg city and became a notorious murderer of dogs. Night after night it ventured into the streets of the city, within the glare of the lamps, killing dogs belonging to citizens.

About five years ago a little girl visiting an Ontario lumber camp lost her way one dark night in passing from the cookhouse to her father's bungalow, and wandered off into the forest. She wandered till midnight, when she was much frightened on hearing the howling of wolves quite near at hand, and, of course, climbed a tree. Shortly the wolves, running her trail, appeared, and gathered in a silent group round the foot of the tree.

Later the girl saw lanterns moving in the forest towards her, and, guessing rightly that it was the rescue party, she shouted a warning to them. Hearing her voice, her father ran towards the tree, the remainder of the party holding back. The wolves vanished as he drew near, but as he gained the foot of the tree one of them suddenly leapt from the shadows, dashing the lantern from the girl's hand and leaving her almost immediately, snapping at his face. The lumberman called to his fellows to assist him, but so great was their fear of the wolves that they hesitated to do so. Presently, however, a young Englishman, the camp "cook," arrived upon the scene and at once went to the "boss's" assistance, whereupon the wolves slunk off.

A Nelson gentleman was attacked by a single wolf while camping in the Kootenays. The wolf entered his tent at night-time and began worrying at his blankets, evidently intent upon killing him. The man, however, had his hunting-knife handy, and stabbed at the animal several times in the ribs, at which it left the tent whining and coughing. It was found dead next morning within a hundred yards.

Peter Nigosh, an Indian trapper, was killed in the Lake of the Woods country on January 5th last. The tragedy occurred near the international boundary, a few miles from the old war road on the Canadian Northern Railway. Nigosh was surrounded before he had time to scale a tree, and two days later his people found his bones in the snow, together with his long-bladed hunting-knife. The half-devoured bodies of nine wolves lay round, showing how desperately the Indian had fought for his life.

On the other hand, a Porcupine prospector ran right into the middle of a pack in full cry one winter's night on Nighthawk Lake, North Ontario. The wolves scattered immediately upon seeing him, which was fortunate, since he was unarmed.

A Home-Made Pistol. A rare example of skill, patience, and perseverance is found in the remarkable piece of handiwork that is attracting much attention at Toronto's big fair this year.

Mr. William McArthur, of Goderich, Ont., has filed and fitted without the aid of any machinery a pistol that is at once the admiration of everyone. But when one learns of what a miscellaneous nature the material of this weapon was made, one can be excused for doubting at first that such an intricate work could be performed by hand.

From a sewing machine shaft the firing barrel was filed, a rat-tail changed its shape to a firing bolt; a flat file at once became the trigger; a spring fork was utilized for the barrel-brake, while a piece of sapper seam pipe was cut and fitted for the stock sides. Surely no other work of modern times has had its multitudinous parts shaped from so varied an assortment of material.

Nine years ago the pistol first took shape in the mind of the old Huronite, now well over the allotted span of life, and many a dreary winter night has been spent filing and shaping the manifold parts that each night fit its proper place with exactness.

Prices Not Very High. That the war has not unprecedentedly affected prices of foodstuffs in Canada is indicated by a statement of the Labor Department, which covers 57 localities and includes every town of over 10,000 inhabitants. There is a rise of 2.2 points in the index number of wholesale prices for Australia.

In practically every city flour has gone up two-fifths to three-fifths cents a pound. Sugar has gone up one to two cents. Bread has gone up in thirteen Canadian cities. Cheese has gone up one cent per pound in a few localities. Butter is generally higher. Milk has gone up in only one locality. Bacon has risen in 26 cities, fresh pork in 22, beefsteak in 15, and cheap beef in 15. The rise in tea is general. In most localities it is 5 cents a pound.

In wholesale prices wheat has risen about 20 cents; oats have risen 10 cents, and barley 9 to 10 cents. The flour averages 70 cents a barrel. Lemons, raisins and currants are up. Coffee is up 3 to 4 cents following the increased duty.

Safety First. An American woman, according to the Express, has a serious complaint about the London policeman. She declares that she walked all the way from Queen's hall to Piccadilly circus with three buttons on her blouse undone at the back, and "not a single policeman" offered to do it up for her.

No doubt the force was reluctant to interfere with what might turn out to be the latest fashion. A boy scout who offered the other day to sew up a split skirt got his ears soundly boxed.—London Punch.

Copules in Normal Blood. Normally there are approximately 5,000,000 red blood corpuscles in the cubic millimeter. The number is temporarily diminished during fatigue and after the ingestion of much food. Fastidious and profuse sweating increase the number of red blood cells by concentrating the blood. In high altitudes the number is also increased. There are 5,000 to 10,000 white cells in the cubic millimeter, the ratio of white to red cells being about 1 to 500. In health the blood amounts to about one-thirteenth of the body weight.

Two Speeds in Same Wheel. The top of a carriage wheel in passing along the road moves more quickly through the atmosphere than the bottom. This sounds absolutely foolish, but it is absolutely sound. It is due to the movable axis, or axle. The top of the wheel has forward motion plus forward revolution. The bottom of the wheel has the same forward motion minus backward revolution.—London Saturday Review.

Mastery. A man must challenge the world at its own games and win before he can show the world that there are finer games to play. He cannot stand above the mists and call the crowd to him, but many will follow him up through the mists.

"Fifty-fifty." "I think, William, I'll ask those new people next door to take dinner with us tonight?" "What for?" "Well, the butcher by mistake left their meat order here, and it seems only fair."—Life.

Vain Hope. He—I wish I had as much nerve as the chimney. She—What on earth do you mean? He—Then I'd smoke in spite of you.

A Whole Hour. Mrs. Newstead—Just think, dear, we've been married nearly an hour and we haven't had a cross word!—Buffalo Express.

HARDNESS OF WATER. Bold Streams at High Velocity Are as Rigid as Iron.

In the American Magazine a contributor gives a most interesting description of the resisting power of water. He says that a solid stream of water shot out of a hose at tremendous velocity is just as powerful and destructive as a rod of iron. An extract from the article giving an idea of the hardness and resisting power of water follows:

"Here is a fact which I probably never told the average man who has not spent much of his life thinking about motor speed boats. This is what we may call the hardness of the water when a boat is running at speed. Water at fifty miles an hour is not the limpid liquid we are accustomed to bathe in. If you put your arm overboard from a hydroplane skimming at fifty miles an hour and strike a wave crest the probability is that you will break your arm or wrist, because at that speed the water has not time to give, not time even to change shape, and striking it is like striking so much metal.

"In the great hydraulic mining nozzles, where a stream of water under enormous head is used to wash down hillsides, a swordsman, in attempting to cut into one of these streams, will shatter the sword without being able to penetrate the water. The stream is like a bar of iron. The fact that water at relative speed is so hard—or that its inertia is so great, to be a little more accurate—is the reason why a skipping stone travels over the surface and is the reason why a hydroplane boat slides over the surface instead of plowing its way through.

"The picture we must have in our minds, then, of a speed boat is that she is traveling not in water, as we ordinarily understand it, but over the surface of a semi-solid, very much as a sled travels over snow."

GETS OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff, it robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not treated causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

WEST SIDE NOTES

(By Nicodemus)

(Intended for last week)

"Business as usual" on the West Side. The grain is about all threshed, the surplus hay is about all pressed, the pork and poultry are as good as gone and the most of the farmers have made a start towards getting their supply of wood for the coming year. Surely these are the days when the farmer who is well up to his work is supposed to shine. Shaw Bros., Highland Farm, and Havelock Hoyt were successful bidders at the stock sale held in Hartland on Dec. 11 by the Agricultural Society. The Shaw boys bid in three head, while Mr. Hoyt bought one, all females, and very desirable specimens of the milking Shorthorn.

Very interesting and successful meetings were held every night last week at the Reformed Baptist church and are being continued this week. The meetings are being conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Trafton.

J. McLeod Boyer is home from Acadia for the holidays.

J. Alf Bowser is gradually improving.

Miss Agnes A. Shaw, trained nurse, is visiting her people at Highland Farm and will remain at home indefinitely.

Miss Beatrice Lipsett has just closed a successful term at the Victoria school and has gone for the holiday time to her home at Waterville. On Thursday night of last week Miss Lipsett's scholars presented a fine program to an appreciative audience at Victoria Orange Hall. The different numbers on the program were well presented, showing considerable more than ordinary aptitude for such work on the part of the children and giving evidence of careful training by their teacher. The proceeds of this entertainment amounting to something like $12, was contributed to the Belgian relief fund.

Glassville School Closing.

The closing exercises of Glassville School included the distribution of prizes presented by Mrs. J. N. Greenshields of Montreal, daughter of the pioneer of the settlement. After the examination of the grades, and the reading of five essays on the European war, Mrs. E. MacKenzie distributed the prizes as follows: Alice McBrine, Cecil Reid, Claude Fitzgerald, John Millie, Viola Owens, and Mary Pearson.

Neuralgia of the Heart

This Letter Tells of Wonderful Change Effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. James G. Clark, Fosterville, York County, N.B., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from what the doctors said was neuralgia of the heart. The pain started in the back of the neck and worked down into the region of the heart. Though I had taken a lot of medicine of one kind and another, I could not get anything to help me until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"When I began this treatment I could not rest in bed, except by sitting upright, on account of the dreadful pains about the heart and the quick, loud beating. The change which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made in my condition is wonderful. It has entirely overcome these symptoms, and is making me strong and well. If this statement will help to relieve the suffering of others, you are at liberty to use it."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a true tonic and the greatest of nerve restoratives. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Mrs. MacKenzie commended the work of James B. Lee, teacher. Rev. James Colhoun also addressed the school and moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Greenshields and Mrs. MacKenzie and hoped Mr. Lee and the scholars would enjoy their Xmas holiday.

Avery's Camp—Beaufort.

Our camp is pleasantly situated on the north branch of the Miramichi river about half a mile from the river and just above west brook.

Our boss is Jack Avery, a man so well known in the lumber woods that no comment is needed, but for the benefit of those in the settlement we will say he is one of the old school and well liked by the boys. His brother, Arthur, is partner and saws for Bruce McLean's team with Cornelius Durion.

Our other teamsters are Earl Avery, Charlie Avery and Jud McBrine.

We would not be allowed room to give all the names of the crew but by the stack of mail that Sam Ellis, our toter, brings some one knows we are here.

Our filer is Charles F. Jones, the well known violin player, and he gives us numerous entertainments.

There are several French boys here and they are the best step-daughters that Charlie ever drew a bow for, which is saying a good deal.

Our camp pets are a trout and the elephant, but sad to relate the fish jumped out of the water barrel and down a crack which was the last we saw of him as he had not learned to come when you called him.

Our elephant is living and doing well considering all things.

Some of the boys had the bad luck to cut themselves slightly but are all better—excepting Claude Manuel who will be back after Christmas. We also have a Punch and Judy

It Can Be Done!

Somebody said that it could n't be done, But he, with a chuckle, replied That "maybe it could n't," but he would be one Who would n't say so till he tried. So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin On his face. If he worried, he hid it. He started to sing as he tackled the thing That could n't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done; There are thousands to prophesy failure; There are thousands to point out to you, one by one The dangers that wait to assail you. But just buckle in with a bit of a grin, Then take off your coat and go to it; Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing That "cannot be done"—and you'll do it.

show which affords us considerable amusement evenings.

We are expecting a crowd of young people in from Knowlesville but unless it snows it will not be soon.

We are enjoying great weather for yarding and the boys are piling them up in fine style.

Our singers are Dick Linder and boys. He knows a lot of nice songs and is teaching us, look out for us when we come out for we will sound like a lot of canaries.

Say, Editor, where is Lille, in France or Belgium? One of the boys sends shipments of gum somewhere but we don't think it was for the Belgians.

We will take this opportunity to notify the girls that most of the young lads are growing mustaches so they won't think their upper lip is rusty.

I guess most of the lads are intending to spend Christmas with their dear ones in the settlement. They are not to be blamed but we wish them a speedy return.

Our cook is J. H. Wallace from Cloverdale. Our cookie is Harold Taylor from Knowlesville. He is quite a fortune-teller as he can tell the boys things which they would rather he wouldn't. His specialty is hot tea and cold water which he can tell by both their French and English names.

Frank Tompkins has a camp three miles from here and Herb Adair five miles. They are nearer Beaufort than we. We get a daily paper and keep informed about the war.

Two of our men left to go to the front this fall and we have never heard from them since they left.

While the game season lasted the boys did quite a lot of nice spoils, three of them getting a deer apiece. But now the four footed denizens of the woods are getting a rest while the guns are getting rusty.

Ben Wallace from Cloverdale will be the guest of his brother, the cook, during Christmas week.

It is mounted on runners in front and lag wheels in the rear. These are actuated by a 60 horse-power four-cylinder motor, and the machine can climb or descend any hill and travel practically any kind of a road. It is claimed it can make its way easily through three feet of snow. The rate of speed is two, four or six forward, and one speed back. Twelve thousand feet of logs is the load claimed for it ordinarily. Archie Glass will drive the big machine, although a man was sent from the factory to start it and see that all ran smoothly. This log-hauler will assuredly attract attention as it travels through the village and along its way to and beyond Cloverdale.

Criticism by the Times-Star

In order to prove that it heartily reciprocates the desire of the provincial opposition in St. John to observe political truce in war time, the Standard today devotes a column and a half to characteristically coarse abuse of those who do not regard Mr. J. K. Fleming as a great and patriotic statesman. The Standard refers to "brutal and unscrupulous pol-

SPARKS FROM SIMMS' SPEECH

Robert L. Simms, B. A., the Opposition candidate for the election of a week from today is proving himself one of the most brilliant speakers in the province. His speech of Tuesday evening was clear, fluent and forceful. Following are some excerpts:

"It is not the Conservative party we are fighting, but such political dictators as Smith and Fleming."

The fact that government has refused to take Mr. Smith into the cabinet shows they ignore him the same as they do Fleming, the outcast.

"Mr. Smith's friends say he has in his pocket the promise of a seat in the senate. Beware: If you elect him you will have soon another by-election in wartime."

"They say Mr. Smith has reformed. I wish his reformation was deep enough for him to say to Mr. Fleming: 'I am done with you!' Instead he helps him and has nominated him for parliament."

"I have a statement in the Woodstock Press in which B. F. Smith says: 'I was beaten in 1911 by the action of a grit returning officer who illegally threw out 22 ballots cast for me and who is now out of the country, a fugitive from justice.' Gentlemen, either Mr. Smith is grossly ignorant of the election law or HE IS TELLING A DELIBERATE FALSEHOOD, and I cannot think a man who has run two Dominion elections can be so ignorant of the law. I have the law here for any man to read who wishes. By the law the deputy returning officer places the ballots in the envelopes and seals them in the presence of agents, and the returning officer DOES NOT EVEN SEE THE BALLOTS. How could he throw any out? Mr. Smith stated in the affidavit whereby he hoped to secure a recount that he BELIEVED there were TWO ballots-rejected which were intended for him. And now he boldly faces the electors with the story that there were TWENTY-TWO. If Lawyer Hayward will grant the courtesy I will take any man to his office and verify what I say by the New Brunswick Supreme Court Reports."

N. B.—Mr. Hayward has since agreed that Mr. Simms is right as to the law, in other words that B. F. SMITH HAS LIED TO DECEIVE THE PEOPLE.

tical opportunists, "the old gang," the "forboding scowl of F. B. Carvell," the "smug, crafty visage of one William Pugsley," "the Carvell-Carter-Copp-gang," etc., etc.

It is quite evident that the self-respecting element in the Conservative party has nothing to do with the Standard newspaper, and that its utterances are not approved by that element. Does Mr. Baxter approve of them? Is that which the Standard says the best that he would wish to have said of those fellow citizens who do not agree with him in politics?

The Standard to-day sneers at Mr. Robert L. Simms, the opposition candidate in Carleton County.

Mr. Simms deserves the support of the people of Carleton county for two reasons. One is that he opposes Mr. Fleming's candidature and the people of that county should set the seal of their disapproval on Mr. Fleming just as decisively as he "set the seal of his approval" on the activities of Messrs. Berry and Teed. The other reason is that Mr. Simms is a young man who in the face of difficulties secured for himself an education, pursued a brilliant course at college, and is now preparing himself for an honorable and useful career. Carleton county should be as proud of Simms as it is ashamed of Mr. Fleming and of those who still support the man who took "by compulsion" the sum of 2,000 from a railroad contractor, and by his conduct as premier brought disgrace upon the fair name of New Brunswick.

WANT PURE ELECTION

"We intend to run this election clean. I'll admit that I do not pose as a saint but in the face of the rank corruption that has been unveiled during this year it seems to me that this wholesale corruption—and I do not say it was all on the Tory side—has gone far enough. Then DON'T use any money to buy votes, and for God's sake don't use whiskey."—Carvell at Hartland, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Simms immediately arose and unreservedly endorsed Mr. Carvell, and told the electors that he could promise them nothing but an honest endeavour as a legislator in return for their support.

S. S. Miller, the chairman, said that he deplored more than he could say the corruption that had existed for so long on both sides. He wished to confess that in one election he had paid out money for votes—he didn't wish to veil the fact by any finer words—but he was heartily ashamed of it and had long since resolved that he would never again handle a dollar or any other means to corrupt an electorate.

BATH BRIEFS

The residence of Joseph Crain of Beechwood was totally destroyed by fire Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Crain were away at the time.

Robert L. Simms, B. A., his wife and little boy, spent the holidays with his brother's family here.

A number of party workers attended the opposition convention at Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Page, nee Kate Barker, is spending a few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harriett Barker.

B. F. Smith is not lumbering on the Tobique Reserve this year. He found during his operation there in 1912 that the stumpage came too high.

If the lumberman were not forced to pay to the Fleminging boondoggle why are they bringing suit to recover the money so paid?

What was the price or promise that induced B. F. Smith to enter this election?
