Between the Days.
 Between the days—the weary days—
 He drops the darkness and the dew;
 O'er-dread eyes His hair to the days.
 And strength and hope and life renew.
 Think God for rest between the days.
 Like who could bear the battle stress
 Or who withstood the tempter's shock,
 Who thread the dreary wilderness
 Among the pitfalls and the rocks,
 Came not the night with folded rocks?
 The white light scorches, and the plain stretches before us, parched with heat;
 But, by and by, the fierce beams cease,
 And lo! the nightfall, cool and sweet,
 With dew to bathe the aching feet!
 For He remembereth our frame!
 Give for this tender pain,
 O tender Master, slow to blame
 The falterer on life's stormy ways, Alide with us—between the days!

Mr. Oddie's Courtship.
 Mr. Markham Oddie was a model lodger, an old bachelor, and a heart whole man—that is to say, he was all three until the day, considerably past his fortieth birthday, that a special fate took him in hand and brought him face to face with the younger of two ladies who had recently come to live in one of the houses opposite.
 They were evidently mother and daughter. Both were comely, and the last named of the two had one of the sweetest faces it had ever been Mr.
 Oddie's luck to behold. She happened to drop a small parcel while walking along their mutual road, and he hurried after her with it. The smile with which she received it went straight through Mr. Oddie's somewhat antiquated waistcoat.

All the evening he thought of that smile. When he went to bed, he endeavored with the aid of three candles, to get an impartial view of that region on the top of his head, where the hair ought to have been, but now, alas, was not. The bald spot had not troubled him much up to that time.
 Now he regarded it with mistrust.
 Mr. Oddie had led an amiable, punctual, uneventful existence, going to and returning from the city every week day with regularity and dispatch—the kind of person who is never asked for his season ticket. He was comfortably off and had no one dependent upon him. The few relatives he possessed lived in the shires.
 Mr. Oddie had remained a bachelor all these years possibly because no body had set to work to marry him.
 It was not that he objected to women.
 On the contrary, he admired the fair sex, as a whole, quite unreservedly, but he had never given his heart to any one particular woman, and his landlady looked upon him as a fixture.

The returning of that apparently innocent looking parcel marked an epoch. Life was never the same again.
 He watched Miss Hexham's gentle face and well developed but graceful figure for ten days before he became convinced that it was not good for a corn dealer to live alone.
 'A man wanting softening influences about him'—here he buried a piece of fried ham to the cat—'he needed a gentle hand to guide and restrain him.' Mr. Oddie at this point discovered that he had forgotten to wind his watch up the night before.
 The truth was he was in love and with a young woman with whom he had never exchanged a syllable. He learned her name from his landlady, an austere person, whose mind was set upon a curious form of religion—and who did not take much thought about frivolous worldly matters.

Questioned discreetly by her lodger this worthy but depressing person could tell him little regarding the two ladies who were now the objects of such tender interests to him. They were Mrs. and Miss Hexham, so she had heard, and Miss Hexham, so she had heard, and it might be either of her daughter talked on her fingers to her and she answered back in the same way.
 Mr. Oddie's courtship was a very decorous affair. In Spain, despite his years, he would doubtless have adopted the role of an 'iron enter', as the youth who goes courting under his ladylove's balcony is styled.
 But in sober, unromantic England the suitors does not eat iron or srenade the queen of his heart on the guitar. He has to be properly introduced, and the little corn dealer, knowing this respectable custom, would have given anything for an introduction which would have allowed him to call and establish friendly relations.

The months passed, and still he could not get that bit necessary end of the wedge in. The mother and daughter seemed to have very few friends and never went out, probably on account of Mrs. Hexham's afflic-tion. It was hard upon the daughter, Mr. Oddie thought, but he admired her all the more for her self-sacrifice.
 Miss Hexham became aware of his devotion, of that Mr. Oddie was convinced. When they met—and he took care that they did meet pretty often—he ventured to lift his hat and smiles were exchanged. But there the affair halted, to the poor little man's frequent despair. He could get no 'for-warder!'
 Once when he attempted to speak, Miss Hexham turned the color of a red rose and promptly hurried away.

 'I have never been properly introduced, that is why,' was Mr. Oddie's anguished reflection. 'She must have been completely brought up, the very pink of propriety.'
 'Something will have to be done,' cried the poor man desperately on the day that he went to the city without a tie, and an unfeeling acquaintance jeered at him, and inquired if his liver was out of order. His liver, Perhaps the thought! It was his heart.
 He decided at length that, like Hexham, he would ask for a sign from heaven. He would send the object of his adoration a bouquet, an anonymous bouquet of the choicest,
 'I certainly guess from whom it came. If she placed it in the window, he would write to Mrs. Hexham, explain him elf and his intentions and request permission to call.
 Mr. Oddie took a holiday the day the bouquet was sent off from Convent Garden. To sit still in his office was a thing impossible. He went for a long walk, but where his neat little legs took him he was never able to say.

The next day the agony increased.
 There was no sign. Mr. Oddie fell plump into the depths of despair and was convinced that he had offended his ladylove. He had not been properly introduced. The phrase became a perfect nightmare to him.
 But the second day there was the bouquet in the window in all its glory, and, moreover, Miss Hexham was bending over it, inhaling its perfume. She was a beautiful woman, not too young for a man—ahem—in his prime. The wonder was that such a treasure had not been snapped up before.

Markham Oddie wrote to Mrs.
 Hexham. It took him hours and hours to compose the letter, and it was the most deliciously old-fashioned epistle ever penned in a practical country. Two whole days elapsed before a little note came in reply:
 'Mrs. Hexham presents her compliments to Mr. Markham Oddie and would be pleased to see him if he could make it convenient to call this evening between 8 and 9 o'clock.'
 The note was a formal one, but when the agitated little old bachelor was shown into the sitting room at Holmwood Mrs. Hexham, who was alone, received him with a very kind smile. Her eyes looked as if she had been crying.

'Please take a seat,' she said. 'It has been close all day, has it not?'
 'Terribly,' answered the visitor.
 'Do you feel the heat much?'
 'Yes, I am afraid I do,' was the reply, and Mr. Oddie suddenly recollected that his future mother-in-law was said to be deaf and dumb. This lady was certainly neither.
 'My daughter,' said Mrs. Hexham after a pause, 'desired me to tell you how very, very grateful she is to you for your letter and the flowers. She has gone away for a short time to stay with friends. She—she thought it best.'
 Mr. Oddie sat there, unable to utter a word. 'She had gone away because she thought it best.' That meant that there was no hope for him.
 Mrs. Hexham's eyes filled with tears as she looked at him. 'Oh, she cried, 'I am so sorry—so very sorry! You are such a good, kind, hearted man, I am sure. Of course you did not know or you would not have thought of it.'
 'Thought of what?' asked Mr. Odie heavily.

'Of marrying my poor Agatha.
 You did not know that she is deaf and dumb?'
 Mr. Oddie stared at the speaker in blank amazement. It was fully a minute before he grasped the significance of what she was saying. It was the daughter, not the mother who was afflicted, as Mrs. Roper would have phrased it. He was silent, and Mrs. Hexham continued:
 'My poor girl is very sensitive, and your kindness went to her heart, I can assure you.'
 Mr. Oddie pulled himself together and rose to his feet. At this moment there was something almost noble about his rather tubby little figure.

 'Madam,' he said firmly, 'your daughter is an angel and I love her.
 Will you have the goodness to give me her address—that is, if you will sanction my asking her to do me the honor to be my wife?'
 'It seems rather unconventional,' she said, 'but it is not an ordinary

Weakened by La Grippe.
HEALTH AND STRENGTH REGAINED THROUGH DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.
 The after effects of la grippe are more serious than the disease itself. Its victims are left low spirited and depressed; they are tortured with headaches and backaches; fever and chills. It leaves the sufferer an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism and often that most dreaded of all diseases, consumption. For the after effects of la grippe there is absolutely no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps make new, rich, red blood that drives disease and restores strength. It makes weak, dependent men and women bright, cheerful and strong. Miss Eugenie Donaldson, of St. Jerome, Que., found a cure through these pills after other remedies had failed to help her. She says: 'I took la grippe and did not seem able to shake it off. It developed into bronchitis; I coughed day night and grew so weak that I could hardly move about. I tried remedies after remedy but as nothing seemed to help me I began to dread that consumption was developing and my case was incurable. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and following that advice I got a supply. For two months I took the pills faithfully, following the directions given for their use. I am thankful I did so for they fully restored my strength and I have since enjoyed perfect health. I will always advise sick and ailing people to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial for I firmly believe that they will find great benefit from their use.'

Rich, red blood is the one thing needed to maintain health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make rich, red blood. That is the reason of their great popularity in every country in the world. That is why they cure anemia, general weakness, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis and the ills of girlhood and womanhood, with all its distressing headaches, sideaches and backaches. See that you get the genuine pills with the full name 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People' on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The best and freshest of seeds are always the most economical. With clover seed, far too many of our farmers prefer to buy clover seed at 8c. per lb., rather than to give 12c. when the latter is in reality much the cheapest. In a test made with third quality clover seed only 10 per cent of it grew and gave weak plants, while with the first quality only 75 per cent of it grew and produced strong vigorous plants that could withstand summer drought and by reason of their strong rooting and thrift wintered well.

Great Specialists in Stomach Catarrh.
 Though often they fall to give even temporary relief. Mr. W. Beymour of Huntsville, Ont., cured himself with Ferreroze. 'My trouble,' he says 'was chronic catarrh of the stomach. There was constant bad taste in my mouth, I was constive and usually nauseated before and after meals. I also had a gnawing sensation in the stomach. Ferreroze gave me great relief, and I also used Catarrhozone which is good for catarrh. Although it took a number of boxes of Ferreroze, I got back my health and to-day am quite well.' For stomach catarrh, indigestion and kindred disorders nothing excels Ferreroze. In a thousand cases it has proved a wonderful success. Try it yourself, 50c. per box at all dealers.

Undiscovered Crime.
 'Can you point out a man who at the age of thirty has not committed at one time in his life a crime that would have sent him to the penitentiary?' remarked a trusty at the penitentiary the other day. 'I do not believe that there is a man living, excluding for the looks of the thing, the clergy, who has not done something to bring him here had he received his just deserts. It is not always a great crime that sends a man to the penitentiary. There are men in here for stealing chickens or clover seed or nothing at all. It is easy to get behind the walls. There are many men on the outside who should be in here. I am personally acquainted with a few myself. But the difference between these people and myself is that I have been caught and they have not.'—Columbus Dispatch.

Where Does Consumption Begin?
 The first little tickle becomes a cough, the cough grows severe, is neglected and travels down to the lungs. Treat throat trouble before it gets severe. Catarrhozone heals, allays inflammation, cures throat and bronchial trouble quickly. A marvel worked in Catarrhozone which prevents thousands of Catarrh victims from contracting consumption. Recommended by doctors, proved by time to be unerring. Catarrhozone is just what you need. 75c. and $1.00, sold everywhere.

To save lamp glasses from breaking, hold them over the steam of a kettle and rub quickly with crumpled-up newspaper, and afterwards polish well with a soft duster.

Royal Baking Powder Absolutely Pure
 DISTINCTIVELY A GREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER
 Royal does not contain an atom of phosphoric acid (which is the product of bones digested in sulphuric acid) or of alum (which is one-third sulphuric acid) substances adopted for other baking powders because of their cheapness.

Queer Cradles.
 When a baby is born in Guinea all sorts of funny things happen to it. Its mother buries it in the sand up to its waist so that it cannot get into mischief, and this is the only cradle it knows anything about.
Don't You Sleep Well?
 Better Correct Matters Before Nerves and Health Are Shattered.
 Without sleep there can be no bodily or mental vigor, consequently sleeplessness is a dangerous condition. Nothing so surely restores a sleep as Ferreroze; it's harmless—just a nourishing, strengthening tonic. Ferreroze vitalizes every part of the body, makes the nerves hardy, completely rebuilds the system.

Undiscovered Crime.
 'Can you point out a man who at the age of thirty has not committed at one time in his life a crime that would have sent him to the penitentiary?' remarked a trusty at the penitentiary the other day. 'I do not believe that there is a man living, excluding for the looks of the thing, the clergy, who has not done something to bring him here had he received his just deserts. It is not always a great crime that sends a man to the penitentiary. There are men in here for stealing chickens or clover seed or nothing at all. It is easy to get behind the walls. There are many men on the outside who should be in here. I am personally acquainted with a few myself. But the difference between these people and myself is that I have been caught and they have not.'—Columbus Dispatch.

Where Does Consumption Begin?
 The first little tickle becomes a cough, the cough grows severe, is neglected and travels down to the lungs. Treat throat trouble before it gets severe. Catarrhozone heals, allays inflammation, cures throat and bronchial trouble quickly. A marvel worked in Catarrhozone which prevents thousands of Catarrh victims from contracting consumption. Recommended by doctors, proved by time to be unerring. Catarrhozone is just what you need. 75c. and $1.00, sold everywhere.

What We Claim for Ferrerol
FERREROL is an Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and if it were nothing more it would take front rank because of the quality and quantity of the oil used and the scientific method of preparation. But FERREROL has special claims which take it out of the ordinary class of Emulsion altogether. For instance:
FERREROL combines Iron and Phosphorus with the oil, and no other emulsion contains these ingredients, although it is well known that they should always be administered together, as each is the complement of the other.
FERREROL is so scientifically prepared that the first processes of digestion are actually performed in the process of manufacture, and the emulsion is ready for instant absorption into the blood. This is of the utmost importance to persons with delicate stomachs.
 Unlike other emulsions, is positively palatable, and not one in a thousand find any difficulty in taking it.
FERREROL contains the three essentials of life, viz.; Fat, Iron, and Phosphorus—they have never been combined before.
FERREROL holds the record for increasing the weight.
FERREROL has received more endorsements from medical men than any other preparation on the market.
FERREROL will cure any case of Consumption that is capable of cure.
FERREROL is an absolute specific for Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all kindred troubles.
FERREROL is an unfailing remedy for nervous prostration, Chronic Rheumatism and Neuritis.
 Finally, the formula is freely published, and in taking FERREROL you "know what you take."

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 22, 1907.

The value of spraying was demonstrated to orchardists last season as never before, and the ensuing year will probably see a more general application. If the orchard pests are to be kept under a rigid enforcement of the rules governing spraying must be followed, not only by orchardists, but by those who have a few trees in their gardens. In the past the latter have been in many cases neglected, not on account of any unwillingness on the part of the owners to have their trees attended to, but because at most times it has been found impossible to get any one to look after the work. The man who makes a business of growing fruit can afford to provide himself with the necessary appliances, and generally has some one at hand to operate them. This is not so of the man with the small garden and only enough trees to provide fruit for his own use, yet these trees may afford breeding ground for the pests that prey upon the orchard and increase the work of the owner. This is particularly true of the neighborhood of the towns and especially such towns as Wolfville, where nearly every lot has more or less trees. The ornamental trees which beautify the streets and grounds also furnish accommodation for these pests. What is required is some provision for this work being done systematically and promptly, the expenses to be borne by the owners of trees and the street authorities. There is no doubt but that such an arrangement would be gladly hailed by citizens. The Board of Trade or some other representative institution should take the matter in hand at once, so as to be ready when the time comes to have the work properly attended to. We imagine that some satisfactory arrangement might easily be made whereby some persons could be secured to undertake this work. Such a venture should have the protection and support of the town authorities and even if a small grant was made from the town funds the money would no doubt be profitably spent. We trust this matter may not be allowed to drop out of sight.

Letters From Mothers.

Every day we get letters from mothers telling of the benefit Baby's Own Tablets have been to their little ones. Some praise them for constipation, stomach and bowel troubles; others for breaking up colds and simple fevers; some as a great help to teething babies, while others go so far as to say that the Tablets have saved their little one's life. We have thousands of letters—all praising the Tablets, for they never do harm—always good. Mrs. Robert Pierce, Bell Rapids, Ont., writes: "I would not be without Baby's Own Tablets in the house for a day. When anything ails my little one I give her a Tablet and she is soon alright. I am sure other mothers will find them quite as satisfactory." Sold by druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Referring to Mr. C. A. Campbell's speech on the address the Halifax Herald of Monday says: "He was followed by Mr. Campbell, independent, Kings county, who made his maiden speech and was well received by both sides of the house. He was glad to learn that the revenue was increasing and would be still further increased by the grant from the Dominion government. He trusted that hereafter the road money would be distributed throughout the different sections of the country on practical lines. Good roads increase the value of the farms from 10 to 20 per cent. He believed that Mr. Tanner had the temperance issue at heart, and would vote for his amendment in the interest of temperance. He had been elected by the union reform party of Kings and was prepared to support government measures when he considered them to be in the best interests of the country, and would support Mr. Tanner and his colleagues when he thought that he was doing his duty in the best interests of the province. Mr. Campbell will naturally strengthen the debating talent in the house. Mr. Tanner's amendment to the speech from the throne, was as follows: "That all after the word 'That' be struck out and the following be substituted: 'The house regrets that reference is not made to the traffic in intoxicating liquors, and is of the opinion that the government should immediately deal with that vital subject by means of a provincial prohibitory measure.' Premier Murray in reply is reported as saying: "As to prohibition the government would maintain their position of last year and refuse to consider anything but the making effective of existing legislation. The members of Orpheus Lodge I. O. O. F. have accepted an invitation to visit Pessiquid Lodge, Windor, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th.

Sad News from the West.

On Saturday morning last the terribly sad news reached Wolfville of the death at Port Arthur, Ont., of Mr. Albert Green, of Wolfville. Details of the sad affair have since come to hand in a letter from Mr. J. R. MacDonald, who accompanied Mr. Green west and who has been his friend and companion in his new home. Mr. Green left Wolfville in May last and secured a good position in the employ of the Canada Northern railway, making his home at Port Arthur, where he hoped soon to be joined by his wife and children who remained in Wolfville. On Friday morning last he was as usual on his train, which by evening had arrived within a few miles of its destination. Heavy snow was encountered, and the light engine was sent ahead to break the road. Having accomplished this the engine returned and was coupled to the train, which started ahead at full speed to attack the drift. The conductor, baggage-master and Mr. Green were standing ahead of the train, which they attempted to get on board as she passed. The train succeeded in boarding the moving train in safety, but Mr. Green in attempting to gain the forward platform of the baggage-car missed his footing, owing to the deep snow and darkness and was thrown under the car, which passed over him. As soon as possible he was taken back to Port Arthur under the care of a doctor and conveyed to the hospital. It was thought that by amputating a leg and an arm his life might be saved, but in spite of all that could be done he passed away at 3:30 o'clock on Saturday morning. The remains will be brought home for interment, and are expected to-day. They will probably be accompanied by Mr. John Eastwood, his brother-in-law, who has a position on the same road, and possibly Mr. MacDonald may also come. The sad news has cast a deep gloom over our town, as the deceased for a number of years resided here and had many friends. He leaves a widow and two small children who have the sympathy of all in the sudden and irreparable bereavement which has befallen them.

Trade Review Number.

The Annual Trade Review Number of the Canada Lumberman and Wood-Worker, just issued, marks another step in the steady progress which has been made by that well known trade journal, now in its twenty-seventh year of publication. It consists of 100 pages, enclosed in a specially designed cover of very attractive appearance. The contents include a comprehensive review of the production and export of lumber, with comparative statistics, portraits of the lumber trade representatives in the present Dominion Parliament, thirteen interesting articles by recognized authorities in the lumber trade, illustrated descriptions of modern saw mills and woodworking factories, and many other interesting features. Every branch of the great lumbering industry is covered. F. Harper Wade, Manager of the McArthur Export Company, Quebec, writes on "Lumber Exports from St. Lawrence River Ports"; W. B. Bartram, of Ottawa, on "Hardwoods"; and B. F. Kean, of Orillia, on "Culls, Cullers and Culling." The subject of "Forestry" is discussed by E. G. Joly de Lotbiniere and W. C. J. Hall. There is also a humorous article by Mr. J. W. Bengough, entitled "Mooswa's Mistake on the Lumber Question." The publishers of the Canada Lumberman and Wood-Worker are the C. H. Mortimer Publishing Company, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, with branch offices at Montreal, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

The following from the Yorkshire Post (England) has been handed THE ACADIAN for publication, and will be read with interest:

An APPEAL FOR £100,000.
The Church Army on Monday issued a scheme for the emigration to Canada of 20,000 poor and unemployed persons, the proposals being set out in a letter signed by the Duke of Argyll, a former Governor General of Canada, by the Earl of Meath, president, and Lord Cheyresmore, treasurer of a fund of £100,000 which is required to carry out the scheme.

The Church Army has during the past twelve months sent 3,000 unemployed to Canada at a cost of £20,000, and it is anxious to emigrate a larger number to reap the unparalleled benefits offered by the Dominion. The financial assistance given emigrants is in the nature of a loan, and small amounts are continually returned to the Church Army.

Alfred Dellatore, aged 29 years, son of Wm. Dellatore, manufacturer of rubber stamps, Halifax, was drowned while skating on Dartmouth Lake on Saturday afternoon last. Ice-men had cut considerable ice on the lake, and busied a portion where they had been at work. Dellatore skated inside of the bushes, and as the ice had only formed previously, it was thin, and he broke through. Several persons witnessed the accident, but none could rescue him before he sank. He was a popular young man, a member of St. Patrick's Society, and only last week took part in a minstrel show at the Academy.

Mr. S. A. Stevens has arranged to have a fancy dress carnival in Evangeline rink on Wednesday evening of next week. Posters have been issued giving full particulars. This will probably be the only carnival held here this season, and every effort will be put forth to make it a success.

An exhibition of moving pictures is to be given in College Hall on Thursday evening of next week. These exhibitions are always popular and as the coming exhibition is said to be an exceptionally good one there should be a large attendance. Among other pictures shown will be the San Francisco earthquake and fire, the Olympic games at Athens.

On Friday evening, March 1st, a recital which promises to be of great interest will be given in College Hall. The program will be taken part in by students of Acadia Seminary representing the work of the departments, of piano, voice, elocution and violin, and will no doubt be a most entertaining and enjoyable one.

The prettiest calendar which has reached our table this year came to hand on Tuesday from our friend Mr. G. C. Hodson, now manager of the Northern Bank at Ledyard, Saskatchewan. It is a reproduction of Alexander Hournier's painting 'The Swimmer's Hole', illustrating James Whitcomb Riley's poem by that name, and is a gem.

The first game in the series of the Kings County Junior Hockey League will be played in Evangeline Rink this evening. The first game was between Canning and H. C. A. 2nd team will start at 7.15 o'clock, sharp. At the finish of the first game the second game between Kentville and the Shamrocks will be played. No one can afford to miss these games. Admission to both games 15 cents.

Mrs. Dixon entertained the Woman's Auxiliary of the parish of Horton last week to afternoon tea at the Rectory. A large number of the members of the Society attended and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. This society has made great progress since its formation and now numbers over forty members. Mrs. Dixon being president with Mrs. M. Black secretary and Mrs. J. F. Herbin treasurer. A bale of goods valued at $95 has been sent to one of the poorer parishes of the diocese. The members have also undertaken the work of collecting for the Board of Home Missions.

We understand that Mr. I. B. Oakes of this town, has been appointed by the federal government to go to England in the interests of the Maritime Provinces in the matter of securing for these provinces a share of the immigrants which come to Canada. He left on Wednesday for Ottawa for instructions and in the course of a week or so will leave for Great Britain. Mrs. Oakes will likely accompany him. We congratulate Mr. Oakes on his appointment. He is a man well qualified for the position, and will no doubt do most effective service in bringing to the attention of immigrants the desirable features of the provinces by the sea.

'Shamrocks' are Again Victorious.

The hockey match last Friday evening in Evangeline Rink, between the H. C. A. and team and the Shamrocks, was one of the best games played in the rink this season.

At seven fifteen the game started and within ten minutes the H. C. A. team scored two goals. By this time the Shamrocks began to get their joints working right and their hockey sticks alive, and when the bell rang for half time the score was 2-1 in their favor.

Soon after the game started again the H. C. A. team scored their fourth and last goal, and evened the score. After the face-off the Shamrocks had almost full control of the puck and kept the H. C. A. goal keeper busy and when the bell rang they had succeeded in scoring three more goals. Score—H. C. A.—4, Shamrocks—7.

A spot on the sun is creating great excitement in New York and elsewhere, and thousands are gazing at it through smoked glass. It is easily visible to the naked eye. This spot is estimated to be only 118,000 miles long, and to have an area of 3,549,000,000 square miles. It looks small compared with the sun, for it is about 1/4th of the diameter of that orb. Some scientists believe that electrical disturbances on the earth have something to do with these temporary blemishes on the chief luminary of the solar system, and that their appearance is connected in some way with the aurora borealis.

Letters to the Editor.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN. DEAR EDITOR:—There is lots of talk out here about the way our member Mr. Campbell voted in the last election. They say that he put a fellow in for speaker what has a pretty bad name on account of spending money and stuff to elect Billy Fielden. I was surprised to hear about it for I remember how good Charlie talked when he was asking me for my vote last June.

He said he was going to put down Hicker stop boyin votes election times and not let them chaps in Halifax raze there pay like Sur Fred and R. L. Burden and the chaps done at Ottawa.

The Orchardist what is printed in Kentville says it was because he had no one to tell him how to vote. I am a plain old fellow and don't know much but I think I will pay me for my time I will go down to Halifax for the rest of the session and keep him straight. One thing is sure if Charlie gets to actin like some of the fellows what we used to send to Halifax the people will lick him next election. I think praps he knowed the gang down there and that that ill fiarrel was and he was better than any of the rest of the crowd. Please let us know what you think about it easyway and oblige.

CON WALLACE.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN: SIR,—I wish to speak of an incident that happened in the first department of the public school one day last week. On the morning of the eclipse or whatever caused the darkness which occasioned the electric light being kept burning until 11 o'clock, before the principal arrived, some of the boys pulled down the blinds. The principal arriving before they were put up again was so separated over the incident as to keep the blinds down all day. This he did for the purpose of punishing those who did the trifling act. The day happened to be a day for written examinations and the children had to struggle all day with the taint light, straining their eyes, so that the eyes were not only strained but their nervous system wrought upon so as to cause intense headache. A new chairman of School Board has been appointed, and I think it is up to the said official and the School Board as well to investigate this un-called-for and barbarous action on the part of the principal of the school.

PARENT.

To the Editor of the Halifax Herald. EDITOR ACADIAN:—After reading the letters which appear in the Towns-sentite organ of to-day our confidence in Mr. Campbell is fully restored.
