When Some One Cares.

When you meet some disappointment and your feeling kind of blue; When your plans have all got adrift and your friend has proved untrue; When your sailing vessel, struggling at the bottom of the water—It is like a person just to know that someone cares.

Someone who can appreciate one's efforts when he tries;
Someone who seems to understand—and so can sympathize, when he's far away, all alone, how he feels—Someone who never can forget—someone who really cares.

It will send a thrill of rapture through the framework of his heart; It will stir the least being till the tear drops fall.

For this life is worth the living when someone cares about us—
Life is truly worth the living when you know that someone cares.

Something's the Matter With Kansas.

(From the Philadelphia North American.) A few days ago when the whole country was worrying about the unprecedented heat and drought in the West, the Governor of Kansas issued a public statement saying he hoped no one would waste pity on the people of his State.

He told the world they were talking the medicine Nature, at some time or other, deals out in some way or other to every community and that no people were ever so well prepared to meet a situation.

'With more than $200,000,000 on deposit in our State and National banks, we could weather a worst storm than this without hardship,' he said.

'And when you stop to think that this money, divided equally among the men, women, children and babies of Kansas, would give each of them $18 in cash, not to mention the tidy sum of $1.64 each is credited with as his or her share of the State's assessed wealth, you can see the force of the argument.

As a matter of fact, Kansas, which last year produced $325,000,000 worth of farm products, can better afford such a roasting and drying up than any other State in the Union, for her per capita wealth is larger than that of any other State.

She can better afford this or any brand of calamity, for her people are not constantly paying out large sums for the care and keep of criminals, paupers, insane and feeble minded.

PAUPERS AND CRIMINALS SCARCED.
In eighty-seven of her 105 counties there are no insane. In fifty-four of the number are no feeble minded. Ninety-six counties have no inmates, and in the other nine they're as scarce as hen's teeth. Thirty-eight county poor-houses are as empty as a last year's locust shell, and most of these have been for the best part of a decade.

The pauper population of the State falls a little short of 600. That is one pauper for each 3000 of the kind making a living, and a good one—the kind that now owe $255,000,000 worth of live stock, and in the last twenty months have added more than $16,000,000 to their taxable personal property.

At one time not long ago the jails in fifty three counties were empty and sixty five counties were on the roll as having no prisoners serving sentence in the penitentiary. Some counties have not called a jury to try a criminal case in ten years, and the Attorney General says 'a grand jury is so uncommon that half our people would wonder at know what it is and how to use it.'

For still other reasons Kansas can afford to lose two-thirds of one crop without having to renew the calamitous howls which once went ramping through the nation from that 'grassy quadrangle whose dream is the realization of the impossible' and which for twenty five years has been making that dream come true.

Instead of being plastered from end to end with mortgages held by Easterners, as was the case two decades ago, her own people this year hold more than $67,000,000 in this form of wealth, an increase of over 500 per cent. in five years.

ILLUSTRATED FEW.
Instead of being hampered by a large mass of illiterates—thirty years ago 49 per cent. of her population came under this head—her present ratio of 2 per cent. is next to the lowest in the land and two thirds lower than Massachusetts, including Boston.

Where 'Socless' Jerry Simpson once preached populism, now William Allen White delights a world with his wit and wisdom. In place of Carrie Nation's creeds, punctuated with hammer thwacks, we have 26

Her senses.

That this prophecy was without foundation is best evidenced by the following:
'The last two sessions of the Legislature answered these false prophecies by passing the most drastic probi-tion law in the world, killing the drug store saloon, making it impossible even to cure snake bites by the liquor treatment and absolutely clapping down the lid and riveting it on.

DRASTIC PENALTIES.
'They were not satisfied by going this far, but showed their appreciation of the benefits of State-wide prohibition by making it a felony for the fellow who violated the law a second time. And I have just lately received from the warden at 'Red Mercer,' who was sent up from Barber County as a first consignment to serve nine years for violating the new prohibitory law.

'The law that sent him there was made by these tow-headed, one-galled boys who grew to manhood on the Kansas prairies without ever having seen a saloon.'

Yes, something's the matter with Kansas. On what it is there can be no doubt in the mind of any unprejudiced observer. And in view of the effect in the Sunflower State, there is little wonder that an increasing number of persons believe that the nation will pass the most dangerous rocks in its course when the thing that is the matter with Kansas is the matter with every square mile of territory from Eastport to San Diego and from Walla Walla to Key West.

A Woman's Right to Health.

NO REASON WHY THEY SHOULD SUFFER FROM BACKACHES AND HEADACHES.
To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active, happy life, yet nine out of ten suffer, often in silence, from splitting headache, torturing backaches, violent heart palpitation or some other of the many ailments that follow anaemia, or bloodlessness.

That is why one sees so many women with pale, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures, sad signs that blood is out of order. All suffering women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, fluid blood of health that promptly transforms them into healthy, attractive women. There is no other medicine that can supply this new, rich blood so quickly and surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Through this medicine thousands of tired, suffering women have found new health and strength.

Mrs. James Drost, Chipman, N. B., says: 'For years I did not know what was to be entirely free from headache or backache. My hands were cold and clammy all the time. It was difficult for me to get my work done, and to walk even a short distance would leave me completely worn out.
My life was one of constant worry and I thought I would never be better.
I was doctoring all the time but without a bit of benefit, and finally the doctor stopped giving me medicine as he said he could not help me. Do you wonder that I was in despair. My mother urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but I said 'what's the use, medicine can't help me.' However, my husband got six boxes of the pills and to please him I began to take them. By the time I had finished them I undoubtedly had improved and there was the sign of returning health in my cheeks and hands. My husband thought the improvement so great that he got another half dozen boxes, and before these were completed I was enjoying such good health as I had not had for years, in fact I was a well woman, and have since enjoyed the best of health. I sincerely feel that I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and shall always recommend them to all sick people.'

You can get these pills at any medicine dealer's, or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

A Woman's Way.

Somehow a woman seems to get more for her money than a man.
She seems to have a better appreciation of the intrinsic value of a dollar.

'She knows just the things that look best' and 'wear best' and where they are sold at lowest prices.
Women are readers of advertising because they find that it pays.

They keep posted because they turn the knowledge to the advantage of their own pocketbooks.
Experience has taught them that it pays to deal with the man who advertises.

Patience Husband—Why did you keep me waiting on this corner for two hours? You said you were merely going to step in and see how Mrs.
Knowall was.

Wife—Well, she insisted on telling me—Kansas would 'come back to me.'

David Starr Jordan on the War.

Few educationists and leaders of opinion in the United States are better known in Canada than Dr. David Starr Jordan, for twenty five years President and now the Chancellor of Leland Stanford University, California. He is a great biologist, a great internationalist, and for thirty years a sympathetic first-hand student of European politics. He was in Germany on his way home from the Balkans when the war broke out.
Here is what he says to the people of the United States from out the very edge of the war cloud:

'In this war, what of right and what of wrong? Not much of right, perhaps and very much of wrong.
But there are degrees in wrong, and sometimes, by comparison, wrong becomes almost right.

'The Armed Peace, the peace of guns and Dreadnoughts and sabrerattlers, has come to its predestined end. Its armaments were made for war. Its war-makers and war traders have done their work for the last ten years. They have been foisted time after time, but they have their way at last. Their last and most fatal weapon was the ultimatum. It served not given them their chance they would have found their pretext somewhere else. When a nation or a continent prepares for war it will get it sooner or later. To prepare for war is to breed a host of men who have no other business, and another host who find profit in blood.

'When the war began it had very little meaning. The intrigues of rival despotism, Slav and Teuton, lie far from the apprehension of democratic western Europe. That the third and greatest Balkan war was imminent the people of the west might believe, but they felt no call to take part in it. The people of Europe do not hate each other. The springs of war come from the few impelled by greed and glory. Diplomacy in Europe has been for years the cover for robbery in Asia or Africa. Of all the nations concerned, not one had any wish to fight, and Belgium alone stood with clean hands.
And this fact gave the war its meaning. The invasion of Belgium shattered the whole face of affairs.
As by a lightning flash, the issue was made plain; the issue of the sacredness of law, the rule of the soldier or the rule of the citizen; the rule of fear or the rule of law. Germany stands for the rule of the soldier.
This was made clear when, a year ago, she passed under the yoke at Zabern. Britain stands for the rule of law. In spite of her lapses in Imperialism, the soldier is still the servant of the people, not their master.

'The highest conception of human relations is embodied in the word Law. Law is the frame-work of civilization. Law is the condition of security, happiness and progress.
War is the denial of all law. It makes scrap paper of all the solemn agreements men and nations have established for their mutual good.
'Parliament is parchment,' said the German Chancellor in 1911, 'steel is force.'

'The rape of Belgium made scrap-paper of the parchment of International Law. The sowing of mines in the fairways of commerce made scrap-paper of the rights of neutral nations.
The torture of the Belgian people made scrap paper of the rights of non-combatants.

War may never be righteous, but it is sometimes honorable. In honorable war armies fight armies; armies do not fight private citizens. If armies give no needless provocation they will receive none. The sacking of Malines, Aerschot, Dinant is no act of honorable war. The wreck of Louvain, historic Louvain, five hundred years the venerated center of Catholic erudition, at the hands of blood drunk soldiers, was an act of dishonorable war. It marks a stain on the record of Germany which the years will not efface. A needed example, says the apologist for crime.
The Duke of Alva gave the same 'needed example' to these same people in his day. For centuries the words, 'Spanish blood,' struck terror into people's hearts throughout the Netherlands. For centuries to come the word 'Prussian' will take its hated place.

'The good people of Germany do not burn universities. They are helpless in the hands of a monster of their own creation. The affair at Zabern a year ago testified to their complete subjugation. All the virtues are left to them save only the love of freedom. This the mailed fist has taken away.

'The Germany of today is an anachronism. Her ideals in science are of the twentieth century; her ideals in politics are of the sixteenth.
Her rulers have made her the most superb fighting machine in a world soul weary of fighting. For victors in shining armor the modern world has no place. It will not worship them. It will not obey them. It will not respect those who either worship o; obey. It finds no man good enough to rule over other men against their will.

'A great nation which its own people do not control is a nation without a government. It is a danger to its neighbors, a greater danger to itself. Of all the many issues good or bad which many come from this war, none is more important than this; that the German people should take possession of Germany.'

Drake's Drum.

There is a legend that when danger threatens Great Britain it is only necessary to sound Drake's drum and he will come back to beat 'her enemies, as he did in times gone by.

Nowhere is this idea better expressed than in Henry Newbold's fine poem,
'Drake's Drum.'

'Take my drum to England, hang it by the above,
Strike it when your powder's runnin' low;
If the dawn sight Devon I'll quit the port of Devon And drum them up the Channel, as we drummed them long ago.'

The drum is still to be seen in Devonshire, as a historical relic, in the possession of a descendant of Drake's brother.
Those who believe in the old fairy tales laughed it by the eye as the drum has already been sounded twice, and not in vain.

While Drake's memory was still green the Dutch tried to wrest the command of the sea from England, and at the tap of the drum his spirit was incarcerated in Blakeney. Yet again Napoleon dominated Europe and the drum that had sounded round the world was heard once more.

'This brought to life the finest admiral the world has seen, and Nelson saved the country.

Home Helps.

Knives are cleaned more easily and thoroughly with soda added to the scouring brick.

Minced beets, potatoes and cucumbers served with mayonaisse make a good salad.

A hot water platter is a boon to the housewife whose 'men folks' are frequently late for dinner.

'All odors end here' is the rule of charcoal. If the charcoal is made red hot, and then cooled before using, its virtues are increased.

The newest omet pan is in two parts so that the omet may be flapped over and over.

Prunes hidden in meringue, like ginger browned in the oven, make a delicious desert.

Hadn't it on Hand.

The cheerfulness of the boys at the front is merely the old humor of the breed. Nelson is an illustration of that as of lots of other things.

When Nelson returned to Britain after the battle of the Nile he landed at Yarmouth, and the enthusiastic inhabitants presented him with the freedom of the city.

As he took the oath, Nelson placed his left hand upon the book. The clerk very pompously said: 'My Lord, your right hand.'

'I'm sorry,' answered the old sea dog, 'but I left that at Tenerife.'

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 3, 1914.

Editorial Brevities.

While hallow's was unusually quiet in town a large amount of vandalism is reported in some sections. Fences were demolished and a large amount of property destroyed. The school house at Lower Wolfville had over thirty lights of glass broken. We should like very much to see the culprits detected and punished as they richly deserve.

The Acadian is very glad this week to be able to give to its readers a most delightfully written little poem—"The Hermit Thrush"—from the pen of Mrs. Robie W. Tutts, of this town. The writer has evidently unusual talent and we shall be very much pleased—as we know our readers will be—if at some future time our columns may be again favored with another contribution from her pen.

A large amount of our space this week is taken up by an exceedingly interesting article from the pen of Mr. Burpee L. Bishop. Mr. Bishop discusses conditions in which all our readers must be interested. We speak for his letter a careful perusal and trust that it may result in a better condition of affairs than apparently exists at the present time, not only at the Horton Poor Farm but in the whole public affairs of the county.

Citizens have been wondering why the flag that has been flying over the town hall since the war began has not been in evidence this week. THE ACADIAN has learned that it was taken down by order of one of the "city fathers" because the edges were fraying and it was feared the flag would wear out. If this is true it displays a brand of economy that will not be appreciated by Wolfville people. Keep the flag flying. When it wears out we will economize in some other direction and purchase another.

Letters to the Editor.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN:
SIR,—The subjoined extract from a diary found on the body of a German officer speaks for itself. It appears in a recent issue of the London Observer. Yours truly, K. F. DIXON.

SEPTEMBER 3.—Still at Rethel, on guard over prisoners. The houses in the greater part of the village, as they could have prevented the looting and destruction. The damage amounts to millions of marks; even the safes have been attacked. In a solicitor's house, in which, as luck would have it, everything was in excellent taste, including a collection of old lace and Eastern works of art, everything was smashed to bits.

I couldn't resist taking a little memento myself here and there. One house was particularly elegant, everything in the best taste. The hall was of light oak; near the staircase I found a splendid aqueduct and a camera for Felix.

The Boy Scouts.

All the boys who are to take part in the "March of the Allies" must be at the club room in uniform at 7 o'clock this evening. After this there will be a rehearsal of the play. On Saturday evening the senior scouts will meet at the club room for basket ball and rehearsal of the play. With regard to this year's entertainment, which will be held on Monday, Nov. 16th, those in charge wish to say that a very attractive program has been prepared and it is hoped that the full number of tickets (500) will be sold out before the evening of the performance.

This is the fourth annual entertainment and as heretofore the scouts themselves carry out the entire program, which means a lot of hard and unselfish work. All that is needed to make the "show" is an unqualified success is a helping hand by the Wolfville people to the extent of 25 cents each while the supply of tickets lasts—and ample funds will be provided for the year's work.

The play for this year, which is the most ambitious yet undertaken, is highly amusing and is guaranteed to drive dull care away. A novel feature, "The March of the Allies," with the Belgian, Russian, French and British national anthems, will be introduced.

Among the songs in the latest favorite among the British soldiers at the front, "D'ye Ken John French?" The program (tickets) will be on sale by the boys on Tuesday next.

A Good Medicine for the Baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are the very best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They soothe the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds, promote healthy sleep—in fact, remove all the minor ills of little ones. The mother may feel she is only asking for giving them to her children for they are guaranteed by a government analyst to be entirely free from all injurious drugs. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail order—write a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Barbarians Within Our Gates.

To the Editors of Horton.
During the recent outbreak of typhoid fever at Horton Poor Farm I have, from frequent visits there in response to a call for help, become interested in that Institution, the manner in which it is conducted, and the attitude of the public towards such things in general.

I am no soft sentimentalist on the care of those unfortunate enough to become public charges, but I confess that the conditions I have seen at our Poor House are far from satisfactory to me. On the public side of the house the barnlike simplicity affords but little descriptive matter until one comes to the wooden bedssteads with their unlimited opportunities for vermin. The dirty tin and wood bath tub, filled by hand from the stove, empties its waste on the ground, right by the back steps. There are no screens on doors or windows, and flies, bred by tens of thousands in the open closets about 100 feet from the house, have free access to the food and drink of the inmates. Anyone who knows the manner of propagation of typhoid need not be told that if there is a case of typhoid about, it is absolutely sure that the germ will be found in the privy.

About 200 feet from the house is the most interesting exhibit of all—the notorious poor house spring, their only supply of water, condensed years ago and every year by doctors and health officers (County and Provincial) and shunned by those of us who were acquainted with the health record of the place. This spring is nothing but a cesspool, which smells and tastes every summer (when the flow is small) of the horse barn and pig pen, situated conveniently near on the uphill side. In fact, foremen in the past have been compelled to make drains to take off the surplus manure water, so that the spring could have a chance to this out a little. The typhoid record of this place is long and bad, but as no death had occurred, public attention was not aroused by the keeping of a dangerous pest hole in our midst. For good reasons the sanitary equipment which answers for all to many private homes is not safe for an institution of this kind with its many rough class transient guests.

Our pest house has now claimed its first victim in the person of a foreman, a young man of thirty, strong, sober, industrious, and I believe honest. He has been violently taken through your negligence and mine, leaving behind him two small boys and a wife who keenly feels the needlessness of her loss, and must now face a world hard for a man but harder for a woman. As I write, one of her boys, nine years old, lies ill after four weeks of fever, very nearly the second victim in the same family in a few short weeks.

All this means large bills for nurses and doctors and undertakers, and we have no working machinery by which these may be paid for by the public, as they should be. I have neither time nor money to make investigations which would warrant definite charges against any one, but I have satisfied myself that there are people who could do better if they wished to do so, and after this public exposure of conditions I shall feel no further responsibility for what may happen to any man foolish enough to take charge of Horton Poor Farm in its present state.

Our farm is supposed to be run by a foreman under the immediate direction of three overseers, appointed from time immemorial by the Councilors of Horton township. Last year a new County Council was elected, having, I believe, a majority of six Liberals. The members for Horton stood three Conservatives to two Liberals, a combination totally unfit, from a machine standpoint, to elect overseers for our splendid institution for the poor. A proposal by Mr. Reid to agree on overseers was turned down by Egles and Gertrude and the latter moved that Freeman Coldwell, Frank Fuller, and A. N. Griffin be overseers, and called upon the party majority of the whole Council to vote it through. The only time such action had previously been taken by our Council was in the notorious rector case of Wards 1 and 2 a few years ago. Legally they have the right to do this, but we have the right to criticize their motives. There are many who believe that a large part of the County business is similarly decided upon outside, in order to lighten the work of the poorly paid councilors.

What can you expect of men appointed by machine methods? To be sure, they get only $55 a year, but they seem anxious for the job just the same. I do not believe they try to give our Farm the personal attention to details necessary to make it a creditable institution, free from graft. As far as I have been able to ascertain supplies are bought without tender in various places, but mainly at an inconvenient store, and the prices paid I would not consider at all satisfactory for my own much smaller purchases. In fact, I have good reasons for thinking that prices charged are about what the clerks see fit to make them. The overseers were able to obtain the previous foreman (who died on the job) at the magnificent salary of $100 and bond, in an unfurnished house, with not over a proper range provided upon which to do the public cooking. The late Mr. Andrew, not knowing why he was being paid, was somehow induced to accept the job at $100 and bond per year. The Horton foreman has always been expected to find all help needed on the farm, though I believe this rule has been very generally broken in an emergency.

How would you like to work at a job, let alone the one under discussion, for such pay? Think of it! 41 cents per day, and the same for your wife if you divide evenly with the job who has the hardest work! Would you grant, to even up? The opportunity is there, and you would be a rare man to resist.

I by no means place all the blame on the overseers, but they had been warned last June by the proper authorities, and they scoffed at the danger. Mr. Griffin told me the water must be good, because it was spring water and looked good; just as if typhoid germs were in the habit of swimming around with their fins and tails sticking out for all to see. Mr. Griffin also says we cannot prove that the typhoid came from the spring. He evidently knows our other public institutions, for a sample of the water sent to the public analyst at Halifax is not yet heard from, and different doctors tell me that their last winter's samples of blood and diphtheria swabs have not yet been reported upon. The Halifax institution is run by the same machine which makes the rain and the sunshine in Kings county, and is thus spoken of by the report of the Carnegie Foundation on Medical Education: "It possesses an utterly wretched laboratory for pathology, bacteriology, etc." And again, "The staff appointments are made by the government for its own reasons. We have in N. S. a beautiful Public Health Act. The various health officers are invested with the powers of a Czar or a Kaiser in every conceivable thing which touches the public health. But nothing is done. Dr. Hattie, the head of the provincial department, knows of the conditions here and is intensely disgusted. But he does nothing. Dr. Balcom, the County Health Officer, has condemned the spring time and again. But he does nothing. Finally, it has just come to my knowledge that there is in each ward a local health board and a sanitary inspector. It would be ungenerous even to mention their names, for it is a safe bet that they are not in the least aware of their appointment, much less do they dream of the sovereign power conferred upon their august boards.

A Halloween sport indulged in by certain gay characters was the robbing of homes within the town limits. The funny part of the trick did not appeal to the owners who had had the trouble of raising the fork.

Lost.—A gold plated chain with a German 20 marks gold piece and several small pieces of Belgian and Danish coin attached. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to THE ACADIAN.

Christmas giving this year on account of the hard times will probably not be indulged in on so large a scale as formerly. What is more appropriate than a beautiful Christmas card, book or artistic little calendar with your name and suitable greeting printed on each. Come in and see samples at THE ACADIAN office.

Sometimes last Sunday night the flag which marks the headquarters of the Red Cross Society was taken down and destroyed. Portions of it were found next morning. We would like to see such an act of vandalism properly punished and trust the offenders may yet receive the punishment they deserve.

WANTED.—Board in exchange for chores, morning and evening. Must be within 1 mile of Post Office. Apply to Box 167, Wolfville.

Mr. David B. Adamson, representing T. S. The annual Thank Offering meeting of Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's church was held on Wednesday evening. In addition to the sale of cattle advertised at John Donaldson's, Church Street, on Tuesday, Nov. 12, there will be offered for sale several young Yorkshire sows suitable for breeding. It looks quite necessary that all farmers able to do so should increase their live stock as much as possible during the coming year to provide food products which are sure to be scarce and high.

Patriotic Lecture.

The patriotic lecture given in the Cutting Armories on Friday evening, Oct. 30th, by Dr. George Cattan, of Acadia University, was enthusiastically received by a crowded house. The armories were tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and potted plants.

The school children marched in and sang "The Soldiers of the King." This was followed by "O Canada" sung by a large chorus accompanied by the Orchestra.

Dr. Cattan then introduced the speaker, Dr. Cattan, who in his own clear, forceful style, held the attention of even the smallest child present, while giving his interesting address.

Mr. William Ainsley moved a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Cattan and made a strong appeal for the Red Cross fund. A collection was taken by the women of the Red Cross working committee, while Dr. Cattan was speaking by Mr. Fuller. The collection was enthusiastically received.

A mixed quartette rendered "The Marches" after which the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem. The collection amounted to fifty-seven dollars.

Children's Aid Society.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Kings County was held at the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening with good attendance of members. The president, Dr. McKenna, was in the chair. Interesting reports were presented by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. A. Patriquin, and by Mr. Herbert Stairs, the energetic and faithful agent. The membership of the society last year numbered sixty-five. This was, unfortunately, confined almost wholly to Wolfville and vicinity. As the organization exists for the county at large it is regrettable that it is not better supported by citizens of other parts of the county generally. An attempt will be made during the coming year to largely increase the membership in this direction. The finances of the society were reported to be in a healthy condition. Ten children have been cared for during the year and eight of these were placed in good homes. The report of the agent was spoken to in a most appreciative manner by a number of speakers and the large amount of faithful and self-sacrificing effort of Mr. Stairs was gratefully acknowledged. The society decided to continue its efforts to secure the passing and enforcement of a curfew regulation for Wolfville, and also to urge upon the School Board and citizens a better enforcement of the school law as regards attendance. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Dr. McKenna; Vice President—Mrs. I. H. Moore; Sec.—Treas.—C. A. Patriquin; Agent—H. Stairs; Auditor—B. O. Davidson; Advisory Committee—E. Percy Brown, B. O. Davidson and Mrs. Morrison.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Gillmore went to Boston on Wednesday to spend the winter.

Mrs. A. E. McLeod, of Parrsboro, has been visiting relatives in Wolfville during the past week.

Mrs. Annie M. Borden left on Saturday last for Marblehead, Mass., where she will spend the winter.

Miss Marguerite DeWitt has been visiting in Wolfville this week, the guest of her friend, Mrs. S. C. Diamond.

Mrs. Chas. H. Borden and her daughter, Miss Louise Borden, who have been visiting in Parrsboro for some time last recently for Boston, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. A. T. Morse, of Halifax, arrived in town on Sunday by car to visit his sister, Mrs. Fowler, at Acadia Lodge. He returned to Halifax on Monday afternoon.

Town Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council was held on Wednesday evening last year. In the absence of the Mayor Cunn. Hyles occupied the chair.

The Committee on Water reported the laying of service pipes on the street leading to the College Ladies' Residence, and that the two-inch pipe on University Avenue had been replaced by a four-inch pipe to the new Men's Residence.

The work of enlarging the reservoir, begun last year, had been resumed and completed at a cost of about $500. The capacity of the reservoir is now 7,000,000 gallons.

The Finance Committee reported receipts during month $923.65 with expenditures during same time $1,200.00. The bank overdraft at the end of October was $276.35 compared with $630.00 at the same time last year.

A petition was presented from residents of Westwood avenue, asking that more light be furnished there. The matter was referred to the Committee on Electric Lighting.

A number of accounts were read and ordered to be paid.

Coun. Hales submitted a plan for improved street lighting suggested by the sympathy. The matter was referred to the standing committee on electric lighting to look into and report at a later meeting.

For Sale.—Fine property in Wolfville. Desirable location and price moderate. Apply for further particulars to P. O. Box 402.

Commencement Exercises.

WOLFVILLE HIGH SCHOOL. On Friday evening, Oct. 30th, the annual public commencement exercises of the High School were held in the Opera House. The popularity of this function was attested by the fact that, in spite of the unpleasant weather conditions, every seat was occupied. Standing room was in great demand.

The program began with a series of pictures upon the screen illustrating the difference between warships and their armament of Lord Nelson's time and modern naval ships and equipment. A set of delightful Japanese views completed the exhibition of pictures.

The Acadia String Quartette, under the leadership of Miss Langley, of the Seminary, played a beautiful selection, (String Quartette in G, Haydn, Allegro and Minuet) in a finished and pleasing style.

A very pretty flag drill by twelve little girls, conducted by Miss West, was enthusiastically received. The British naval flag was then displayed and saluted by twelve High School boys. After the saluting of the flag a chorus of boys and girls from grades VI, VII and VIII, under the direction of Miss Farley, sang a song and chorus called "The Navy," during which the naval flag continued to be shown.

After the preliminary entertainment, Principal Ford took the chair. With him on the platform were President Cattan, F. J. Porter, Chairman of the School Commission, Mayor Chambers and Rev. R. F. Dixon. Prin. Ford then took up the real business for which the meeting was convened; namely, the presentation of Provincial High School Certificates and of prizes.

PRIZE LIST—GRADE XI. The Sir F. W. Borden Scholarship of $25.00—(open to H. School students of Kings county) was by Miss Margaret Chase. Second—The Acadia college scholarship of $24, won by Mr. Wylie Collins and presented by Dr. Cattan in behalf of the college.

GRADE X. First—Francis Archibald, for high standing, $10. Donor, Dr. W. L. Archibald. Second—Donald Grant, $5. Donor, Mr. Hugh Calkin of Acadia Pharmacy.

GRADE IX. First—Marion Grant, for highest standing, $5. Donor, Rev. G. T. Bryant. Second—Miss Pauline Perry, History of Grand Pre, etc. Donor, J. F. Herbin.

After the awarding of prizes a vocal solo, by Miss Margaret Murray, was heartily received. A delightful response was given.

Prin. Ford, in a brief address, called attention to the large number of students and the excessive work placed on the principal who has all of the work of the three High School grades with the exception of such work as can be done by the grade VIII teacher who devotes two hours daily to High School work. The need of another High School teacher and a new High School building was pointed out.

Dr. Cattan earnestly spoke of the supreme importance of the public school work over every other civic activity, exhorting the citizens to make generous provisions for every phase of public school work, and especially for the need pointed out by the principal. He again offered in behalf of the College, a scholarship of $25 to be won by a student of grade XI on the same conditions as last year. In addition, to show his own lively interest, he offered, personally, to contribute a prize for the ensuing year.

Mr. E. J. Porter, in behalf of the School Board, spoke enthusiastically of the whole school, and especially of the high quality of the work of the principal whose successful management of the High School had brought it to an overflowing condition, so that a number of students, seeking admission from other sections, have been refused entrance on account of lack of seating accommodation.

Mayor Chambers expressed his opinion, first by completely agreeing with the views of the previous speakers and further emphasizing the importance of our schools and the need of a better and larger school building.

Rev. R. F. Dixon, in his usual happy and pleasing manner, spoke of the invaluable services rendered by Prin. Ford in the long and successful principalship of our town school. Other public personages, he said, as college presidents, clergymen, lawyers, doctors, etc., had come and given place to others, but Prin. Ford was a stayer, an appreciation of his services, it was moved by Mr. Dixon and seconded by Capt. J. B. Tingley that this meeting of the citizens of Wolfville take this opportunity to express their hearty appreciation of the excellent work accomplished by Mr. Ford during the last eighteen years. A vote of thanks to Mr. Ford and his assistants for the entertainment was also passed.

The evening was concluded by assembling on the platform the High School pupils to the number of about seventy who enthusiastically sang the following group of patriotic songs: O Canada; Britain, the Pride of the Ocean; Chorus of "Tipperary"; and God Save the King.

Beck's Weekly.

Beck's Weekly, edited by Edward Beck, the man who employed the Bureau Detectors Agents to unearth graft in the Quebec Legislature, and published in Montreal, is a unique publication and one that is growing in favor throughout the country. While devoted, primarily, to the promotion of honesty in the administration of public affairs, it is by no means obsessed of one idea, but is made up every week of clever cartoons and pictures, stories, humorous sketches and a department of intelligent if somewhat caustic comments on Canadian affairs. Among its contributors are several of the best writers and artists in Canada. It furnishes one of the most appealing week end collations of information, discussion and entertainment to be obtained anywhere. The price is $2 per year, and the publishers will be pleased to send a sample copy upon request. Address, Beck's Weekly, 335 Craig St. West, Montreal.
