THANKSGIVING DAY HARVEST HOME.-A harvest home will be celebrated by the North street Methodist church on Nov. 8th, Thanksgiving day. A public religious service will be held, commencing at 11 o'clock a.m., and in the evening the ladies of the congregation will give a sumptuous supper in the lecture room.

THE VOLUNTEERS.-The Clinton New Era says: Owing to the removal of Mr. Macwhirter from town, the volunteer company is practically without a captain, although he was not sent in his resignation. Last week Col. Ross waited on Lieut. James Scott, and wished him to accept the position, but Mr. Scott, though not positively refusing to accept, expressed a desire to remain where he is. We believe the members of the company would heartily endorse the promotion of Mr. Scott, and his acceptance of the position would give entire satisfaction.

MISDEMEANOR TO FORMOSA.-On Tuesday evening a large number of people gathered in the school-room of Knox church to hear a farewell address from Rev. John Jamieson, who is about to sail for Formosa as an assistant to Rev. Dr. McKay. Mr. Jamieson, spent many years of his life in Goderich, and like his distinguished colleague, the great Formosan missionary, was a member of Knox church. The young missionary gave a simple account of his call to the work, and at the close of the meeting bade good by to the large number of friends who were awaiting a parting handshake at the door. Our best wishes go with him in his new work.

OPEN MEETING.-An open meeting under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, in connection with North-st. Methodist church, was held in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening last and was well attended. The chair was occupied by Rev. T. M. Campbell, pastor of the church, and the following programme was successfully carried through: Reading, Misses Weston and Gordon, and Messrs. Henderson and Medd; reading, Miss Trueman; song, Miss Weston; reading, Mr. Farrow; reading, Mr. Perrin; song, A. B. Henderson. An address sent by the society to the family of the late Saml. J. Cox (who was one of the vice-presidents and reply of the family were read by Wm. Armstrong. The exercises closed with a hymn and the benediction.

MISS MACPHERSON.-This excellent woman is now on the Atlantic ocean, on her way back to England, to pick up the poor and abandoned children of that country, and bring them to homes and better opportunities in Canada. It is a noble work, and worthy of the devotion of the earnest and godly woman who has given her life to it. It was our pleasure when in Stratford recently to pay a visit to the beautiful house now occupied by Miss Macpherson's co-workers, and their wards. A few weeks ago the Home was removed from Galt to Stratford, questions of health and geographical position making it necessary. The Galt property was sold for the exact sum required to purchase the fine mansion and estate of Mr. McFarlane, who had removed from Stratford to Toronto, and that place was bought. We had the honor of taking tea with Miss Macpherson, and when seated beside her she told us over the steaming cup something about the work of her life. She is a woman of faith, and of energetic work. At a previous visit we had been shown over the commodious building. The dormitories, with their rows of little cots, covered with counterpanes, into which are worked texts of scripture, looked snug and cosy. The walls are adorned by pretty and appropriate mottoes, the work of friends across the sea. The boys and girls seemed to have good care, and showed the English love for singing by rendering some simple songs and hymns in a hearty manner. Mrs. Merry, sister of Miss Macpherson, with her husband, is in charge of the Stratford Home. Visitors from Goderich will at all times be made welcome and shown over the premises. The Home is kept up by voluntary offerings and new or old clothing for boys or girls will always be accepted by those who have the desire to help in this good work. Miss Macpherson left on the Sardinian on Saturday. A princess of the blood royal was on the ship, but a no less queenly woman went when Annie Macpherson took passage on another visit to the workhouses and gutters of England to lift up the fallen, look after the neglected, and bear the glad tidings of God's love to the fatherless and stricken children of the old land.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE. Chancery Division.

Before the Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson.

The chancery sitting opened at the Court House, Goderich on Tuesday last, and are still in progress. The following cases were called:

Weir vs Weir.-This action is brought by the plaintiff to have it declared that he is entitled to a lien on the lands of his infant children for the sum of $2700, being amount advanced by him to pay off a mortgage on the land. There was a decree for plaintiff Mr. M. G. Cameron for plaintiff; Mr. Garrow for defendants.

VanEgmond vs Gray.-The plaintiff in this action owns a carding mill in Blyth and the defendants have a salt manufactory in Blyth. There is a small stream of water running from the neighbourhood of the salt works past mill, and the plaintiff complains that the defendants pollute the water of this stream by allowing refuse salt to get into the stream, and so renders the water unfit for use by the plaintiff. There are about 30 witnesses subpoenaed-the case is not finished.

The New Provincial Treasurer. From the Toronto Globe.

The office vacated by Mr. Young has been offered to and accepted by Col. Alexander M. Ross, M.P.P. for West Huron. The selection of Col. Ross is emphatically one upon which the Province is to be congratulated. During his eight years' representation of West Huron Colonel Ross has taken the most active share possible in the debates of the House. His previous career as a banker and a county treasurer of twenty-five years' standing has given him unusual opportunities for becoming acquainted with business methods and with the needs of the business community. During his membership he has devoted himself diligently to acquiring an acquaintance with the financial affairs of the Province, and he has developed remarkable talent as a strong, thoughtful, and aggressive debater. In knowledge of municipal affairs he is, though no lawyer, no equal of almost any lawyer in the land, and his long experience in the county treasury has given him unrivalled opportunity for becoming acquainted with municipal affairs generally. He has also a sound, accurate, and practical idea of the requirements of agriculture, and is the happy possessor of an industrious and cultivated taste for rural pursuits. In his hands, it is safe to conclude, the various Provincial agricultural institutions will be well managed.

Colonel Ross is in the prime of life, is possessed of remarkable mental and bodily vigor, is an indefatigable worker, and is personally one of the most highly respected of men. His long and honorable service in the volunteers has brought him into contact with the rising manhood of the country, and it is safe to say that none who have met him can fail to have been favorably impressed.

Colonel Ross will be sworn in this morning as Provincial Treasurer and Commissioner of Agriculture.

Notes from the Harbor. The schooner Ontario was in with a load of lumber for Williams & Murray.

A storm has prevailed during the week on Tuesday evening at 10 o'clock the wind was blowing at the rate of 48 to 50 miles an hour, from the south-west. As we write a heavy gale is blowing from the northwest, with hail showers.

Magistrates' Court. Oct. 26. William White, the old shoemaker, charged with stabbing Brohmker, the hotel keeper, was committed by mayor Horton and P. Adams, J. P., to stand his trial at the first competent court of jurisdiction.

Oct. 29. Henry Tichbourne, hotel keeper, was charged by Inspector Yates with obstructing him in the discharge of his duty. Fined $20 and costs.

Oct. 30. John Jordan, a vagrant imbecile, just discharged from jail, was again committed on complaint of constable Yule.

Justice Ferguson's Little Joke. At the trial of the suit between VanEgmond and Grey, Young & Sparling, of Blyth, on Wednesday, the plaintiff marshalled his witnesses, some twelve in number, before the Judge at the opening of the case. The ponderous arbiter of justice swept his eye over the long line of witnesses, and as a smile broadened over his ruddy face, asked: "Is there a man left in Blyth?" A laugh broke out from every quarter of the room, in which the learned justice took a good share. There were about forty witnesses provided by both sides.

Fashion's Fancies.

Suits of rifle green, tailor-made, will be much worn.

Cloth bonnets will be worn with cloth dresses.

Real brown suits, tailor-finished, are very fashionable.

Fur trimmed pelisses will be worn as the season advances.

Pointed or tapering crowns for bonnets are no longer fashionable.

New round hats have stiff, high crowns and straight or rolling brims.

Plain plaited and gathered skirts will be more worn by fashionable women than any other.

All drapery, both at the front and back of the coming costume, is exceedingly bouffant.

Ribbons, laces and natural flowers are the ornaments that have taken the place of jewelry.

Gray and brown in various shades are the favorite colors for the new felt hats and bonnets.

For travelling and utility suits for fall wear, checked and hair-lined flannels will be much used.

Embroidered ladies' cloth costumes will be as popular, and almost as costly, as those of velvet.

Winter cloaks will be very long, high on the shoulders, fitting close, and with small ottoman sleeves.

The figures in the richest and most fashionable black velvet brocades are outlined and veined with jet.

From across the sea come rumors of the decline of colored hosiery and the supremacy of white balbriggans again.

Buttons are small and bullet-shaped, plain jet, metal or pearl, or set with brilliants or cameo, and with painted centers.

Thin nets and gauzes, with heavy embroidered figures in chenille of jet, are the popular fabrics for the new evening toilet.

In velvet costumes the skirt is no longer of broadened velvet, but the figured material is used to make the long basque or Louis Quinze coat, and the skirt is plain.

Met His Match.

Anderson, the wizard, met a Scotchman who stole a march on him after the following pattern: "I say, are you Professor Anderson?"

"Yes, sir, at your service."

"Well, you're a smart man, and I'm sumthin' at a trick, too, you know."

"Ah, indeed, and what tricks are you up to, sir?" asked the Professor, amused at the simple fellow.

"Well, I can take a shilling and change it into a gold piece."

"No, you can't. I'd like to see you try."

"Well, hold out your hand with a shilling in it. This is your shilling, is it?"

"Sure, its nothing else."

Scotty opened his fist, and there was a gold sovereign on his palm.

"Well, you did it, I declare; much obliged to you!" and the Scotchman turned to go out.

"Stay," said the Professor, "you may leave my sovereign."

"Yours! wair's that my shilling, and didn't you turn it into this ere yellow thing, eh? Good-bye!" And he left the room he was heard to say—"I guess there ain't anything green about this child."

Another Witness.

A. Chard, of Sterling, testifies to the efficacy of Hazard's Yellow Oil, which is used for a badly injured knee joint. It is one of the great household remedies for inflammation, pain, soreness, lameness, etc., and is used both internally and externally with infallible success.

The Boundary Line.

Between comfort and discomfort is often very slight. Have you rheumatism or neuralgia? or are you a sufferer from obscure nervous pains? Why suffer longer? You can purchase for 10 cents a bottle of that king of pain—Folsom's Nerviline, or you can get a large bottle for 25 cents. It cures promptly. It is sure, pleasant to take, and never fails to cure all kinds of pain. Don't wait an hour, but send to Wilson's drug store and get a trial bottle. Nerviline, the sure pain cure.

They all tell the same story. W. Thompson, jeweler, Delhi, suffered for years from Dyspepsia, got no relief until he used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bites. He says it was just the medicine I needed. It has cured me.

TO PRESERVE THE TEETH.

No; that is a most pernicious fallacy. I wish all this world knew the truth, that the enamel of a tooth cannot be worn off with a brush and any kind of tooth powder; not if it were scrubbed for five hours a day for 150 years. More teeth are ruined by a fear of scouring them than by all other causes put together. The best way in the world to preserve a tooth is to keep it highly polished; then no foreign substance adheres to it. These adhesions and gradual rustlings are what destroy teeth. If you wish to keep a piece of steel polished. If you do not, it will rust away. It is precisely the same with a tooth. The only danger that can arise from the use of the hardest tooth powders is that they may injure the gums. Don't ever use charcoal or salt, for while they are excellent for cleaning, they are ruinous to the gums. Charcoal is full of the gums or cut into them and cause trouble; and grains of salt, you know, have very sharp edges and corners. Cuttle bone tooth powders are the best, I think. But by all means keep the teeth clean and highly polished.

That reminds me, continued the dentist; a handsome and well-dressed lady came here yesterday and wished her teeth fixed up. I looked into her mouth and saw about the foulest chasm I ever gazed into. Why, it was worse than a sewer. I told her I would give her a prescription, and when she had used it thoroughly for a week I would see her again. The prescription was for a tooth-brush and a box of powder. Doubtless she was vexed when the druggist compounded it, but it was what she most needed nevertheless.

How to Improve the Complexion.

Is it true, doctor?

No, not to any considerable extent. I'll tell you where that idea comes from. You know, when a person's skin is in so apt to clean his teeth as when he is well. That is one trouble; but a greater is that the teeth are not used much. Sick persons eat but little, usually; and what they do eat is often in the form of pastes or gruels, that do not demand much chewing. Now, the teeth are like any other part of the person; if they are unused they become soft and more subject to the decaying influences. Put your arm in a sling for a month and the muscles and whole member will become soft and flabby. So with a tooth that is not used for some time. Now, when a tooth is growing softer each day, and it is not being cleaned as often as it was when it needed cleaning, less of course is rapidly fails. This is why the medicines are charged with the destruction.

The American Agriculturist for October.

It is not too late to sow wheat and rye; if the soil is in fine condition, both may do as well as early-sown grain, and more likely to escape the ravages of the Hessian fly. A top dressing of manure will assist in giving the plants a good growth before the ground freezes.

Potatoes should be dug as soon as they are ripe, and kept for a time in heaps in the field to dry out. Sunlight injures potatoes, and they should therefore be stored in a dark, frost-proof place. All decayed potatoes should be assorted out and burned with the vines when clearing up the field. Mangels and beets are injured by frost, and should be harvested in safety. These roots may be kept in heaps near the stable, and removed by the load as required. It is important to ventilate the pits well to prevent heating. Turnips will stand frosts, and continue to grow until the season closes.

A Blessing to all Mankind.

In these times when our newspapers are flooded with patent medicine advertisements, it is gratifying to know that to procure that will certainly cure you if you are bilious, blood out of order, liver inactive, or generally debilitated, there is nothing in the world that will cure you so quickly as Electric Bitters. They are a blessing to all mankind, and can be had for only fifty cents a bottle of James Wilson.

Salt Rheum Cured.

Are you troubled with Salt Rheum, Rough Skin, Pimples or Canker Sores; if so, go at once to Geo. Rhynds' Drug Store and get a package of McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. Price 25 cents. It was never known to fail.

Farm and Garden.

Notes on Live Stock.

Horses should no longer be turned out at night. A cold rain may bring on troubles which are difficult to cure at this time of year. If horses are unavoidably drenched, rub them dry as soon as possible, and cover with blankets. Horses need to enter upon the winter in good health.

Cows cannot be kept in good flow of milk without ample rations of rich food. As the pastures become bare, corn stalks, cut and mixed with ground oats and corn, may be given. Feed the tops of beets, turnips, etc., in small quantities. The aim should be to have the cows in fine form at the close of their pasturage.

Speak for March lambs this month. There is often a fine profit in buying poorly-fed sheep from sections where fodder is scarce, and turning them off fat in the spring. In this way a large amount of straw, if fed with corn, may be made into manure as a second source of gain.

Broad bows need to be kept in good condition to meet the male next month for March pigs. It is best to begin at once to feed for pork, using the soft corn first. The pens should be clean and warm. The store pigs will do well on the slops of the house with bran stirred in. Skim milk is good for these.

The pullets will lay eggs through the winter if kept in a warm house, and provided with crushed shells and good food. Chopped cabbage and other green food is relished by them, along with other grain. Avoid crowding the poultry, and keep the nests, walls, etc., free from vermin. Early fattened poultry are more profitable marketed during the latter part of October and early in November than at any other time.

Food for sheep.

The most economical and appropriate combination of food for fattening sheep will depend upon the cost of different foods in the locality. Nearly all the grains raised are healthy for sheep unground, with the exception of millet, which is probably neither healthy nor economical when fed unground; because of its hard husk and small size it is not masticated nor digested, but mostly passes through the animal whole. Rye, oats, barley, buckwheat, peas, beans, Indian corn, wheat, bran, shorts or middlings, and oil meal, are each and all good food for fattening sheep; but sheep should not be fattened upon a single food, as they are fond of variety and will gain faster when allowed to have it. Sheep are so fond of succulent food that they will pick over large fields, in open winter, trying to find it. They suffer when kept wholly on dry food for several months, and for this reason the last food mentioned, oil meal, should be provided in small quantity for them. The feeder can not err in giving too great a variety in the food of sheep. The best ration we have ever known fed to fattening sheep was composed of equal parts by weight of oats, flaxseed and millet, to fifteen bushels of the mixture was added one bushel of flaxseed, and all ground fine together. Each sheep was fed two pounds of this ground mixture with hay, and made a regular gain of three pounds each week, besides growing an unusually fine staple of wool. This mixture is the best I have ever known, and it is also true that they are indulging in lettuce, radishes, cress, and other greens, camphor, potatoes, arsenic, patent nostrums of every variety, and chemical masks. They try everything on earth except the fundamental requisite. I have had an extensive experience in treating cases of skin trouble with women, and am still surprised at the ease with which they are fooled by all sorts of quack medicines and devices. Last spring I had a girl under treatment whose stomach was almost ruined. She had been taking an internal compound, sold in Fourteenth street, which was expected to make her arms plump! It was not an idiot, either. Another patient of mine excited my ire a short time ago. She was the most speak-like and ghostly-looking specimen I ever saw. Her skin was a dead white, and her eyelids were crusted and violently red. She was quite satisfied with her color—or lack of it—but wanted me to take away the color from her eyelids. I frightened her into confessing that she had been consuming quantities of a compound said to have been stolen from one of the beauties of the sultan's harem, and then began to clear her blood.

Farmers' Review.

The American Agriculturist for October says large woods meadows and pastures are now ready to reap, and can be quickly removed with a chisel blade attached to a long handle. Grass lands to furnish hay next year should not be closely fed by stock during the late autumn, but instead be top-dressed with fine, well-rotted manure. Green seed may be sown in spots where the soil is poor, and if harrowed over, and some fertilizer added, a good growth may be expected.

Why should a man whose blood is warm

Corn and Oats for Horses.

The comparative value of corn and oats for horses may be briefly stated as follows: The former is deficient in many of the elements of nutrition so necessary for recuperating the constant wear and tear which necessarily takes place in the body of a living animal. On this account horses which are fed exclusively on corn and hay do not receive that kind of nourishment which appears necessary for the due support and maintenance of the animal fabric; hence we must not be surprised that corn-fed horses show signs of being languid, by sweating profusely while being worked, lack of vitality, etc. Oats, on the contrary, contain more of the essential elements of nutrition than any other article of food which can be fed with impunity to horses. Oats are not only the most natural food for horses, but are decidedly the most nutritious. They are the cheapest, because there is less risk in feeding them, and experience has proved that horses properly fed on oats and timothy hay can, with regular exercise, good grooming, and proper sanitary regulations, be brought to the highest state of physical culture, and can perform more work with less evidence of fatigue than when fed on any other article of food. — [Market and Farm.

A Wonderful Result.

A single bottle of Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup has frequently destroyed from 100 to 200 worms. It is pleasant to take—no other cathartic being required. The worms are also been removed by it, of 15 to 35 feet in length. It is effectual for all varieties of worms afflicting both children and adults.

Saved by Josh Billings.

Josh Billings tells the following story of one of his own experiences:—"A few days ago I was driving in New York, and had got just alongside the Metropolitan hotel when a man with a satchel and duster hailed me. He said he wanted to talk to me a moment, and so I drove around on a side street, and we stood and talked.

"Now," said the man, "six years ago I was going down to my lawyer's office, in the town where I lived, to sign some paper transferring a matter of $10,000. Suddenly something of yours which I had seen in a paper came into my head. I stopped short, thought a minute, went to the office and had the papers burned up, and did something entirely different to what I had intended. I saved by that $6,000. Now I don't know anything about how you are fixed, but if money is any object to you, if there is anything you want, I am ready to divide with you. What will you take?"

"I took a drink. We stepped into the Metropolitan bar, and, after a little claret and ice, I asked the man what saying of mine it was that he had saved his money on. He said it was something like this:—"Never take a bull by the horns, but take it by the tail, because then you can let go when you want to."

"Yes," said the stranger, "I concluded it was just as well to take him by the tail!"

"I could hold on just as well, I could steer him just as well, and let go when I please."

FRIDAY, NOV. 2ND, 1883.

HON. A. M. ROSS.

It is with the greatest pleasure we inform our readers this week that West Huron has been honored by the appointment to a Cabinet position of her able and energetic representative in the Local House, the Hon. A. M. Ross.

The news of Mr. Ross' selection for the important position of Treasurer of Ontario, although coming so suddenly upon our readers will not prove altogether unexpected.

For years past he has been looked upon as the ablest financier in the Legislature, and although the Provincial budget was brought down annually by Hon. S. C. Wood, yet the most able defence of the Provincial expenditures was always expected from the member for West Huron.

The abilities of Mr. Ross are too well known in Huron,—and for that matter throughout Ontario,—to need enlarging upon at our hands.

On the redistribution of Huron county for legislative purposes in 1875, Mr. Ross was looked to as the man best qualified to represent the West Riding, and although a comparatively untried politician at that time, he succeeded in carrying the riding by a handsome majority.

Mr. Mowat is to be congratulated upon the choice which he has made in the selection of Hon. A. M. Ross, for the clear views, sound judgment, financial ability and acknowledged integrity of the member for West Huron cannot fail to prove a source of strength to the Liberal Administration.

As in duty bound, Hon. A. M. Ross will shortly come before his constituents to seek re-election at their hands, so that their approval of his acceptance of the honorable position of Minister of the Crown will be his portion.

PROVINCIAL S. S. CONVENTION.

That was a truly representative gathering of Sunday School workers at Cobourg last week. From Lake Huron, Ontario, the delegates assembled.

For those and other reasons we look for the election of Hon. A. M. Ross by acclamation for West Huron on Saturday, November 10th, and feel certain that the constituency will be well and faithfully represented by him in the time to come as it has been in the past.

PETTY VINDICTIVENESS.

The Clinton New Era, usually a sensible, well-conducted journal, is possessed of a craze. That craze is the idea that Clinton is the most important point in Huron county.

Mr. Jas. Fahy, who has occupied the editorial chair of the Toronto Evening Canadian since the inception of that journal, has resigned, and has attached himself to the staff of the World.

IN his address to the grand jury of Frontenac, Justice Burton, commenting upon a case of maiming a horse, coming up before them, said:—“There was no crime more odious in the community, and when a charge was brought home in any case while he was on the Bench he would see that the offender had proper punishment meted out to him.

The Poet's Corner.

A Tragedy in Past Participles. (Showing how easily the English language may be simplified by eliminating verbal irregularities.)

Letter Writing.

Unless one accustoms himself habitually to the use of the pen it is sometimes a difficult matter to bring one's self to the actual task of writing a letter.

There is a power in letters for influencing other minds, which operate and most thickly too lightly of words which from the manner in which they may be spoken can fall lightly on the ear of the listener.

There is hardly an adult person living but is sometimes troubled with kidney difficulty, which is the most prolific and dangerous cause of all disease.

These goods are rather dear, ain't they? remarked Miss Araminta at the dry-goods store to the new clerk.

Handwriting should be as regular and legible as possible, entirely free from flourishes. But good and clear penmanship comes by much practice.

to say, and be content to stop when it is said. If you have not the good fortune to be witty, or brilliant, or original in your way of looking at things, still your letter may be clever, and if not, you at least can be prompt, brief and courteous.

Within the Bounds of Strength and Pains. If American women would enjoy their homes and allow their guests to enjoy them how much more delightful life would be.

Needs no advertising when once introduced. Every bottle sold sells hundreds of others by doing all and more than is represented for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, etc.

How to Grease a Wheel.

The Coach Makers Magazine endorses the statement that few people are aware they do wagons and carriages more injury by greasing too plentifully than in any other way.

Getting Even. Abraham and Joshua had been invited to a splendid dinner. It was impossible for Joshua not to make capital out of such an opportunity.

A steady and faithful perseverance in the pursuit of an object, is certain to bring with it a good reward, even though the object sought may not itself be always attained.

Perfect, Positive and Pleasant are the cures effected by Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure. Relief in all cases of Kidney Disease is obtained after a few doses.

The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Bruises, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cancers, Piles, Chilblains, Corns, Tetters, Chapped Hands, and all Skin Eruptions, guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded.

A REWARD—Of one dozen "TEABERRY" to any one sending the best four line rhyme on "TEABERRY," the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Bath.

No household should be considered complete without a bottle of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure in its closet. It is the only remedy that will positively, permanently and promptly cure all forms of kidney disease.

A liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure.

The Great German Inventor is the only specific for impotency, nervous debility, universal lassitude, forgetfulness, pain in the back or sides, no matter how shattered the system may be from excess of any kind.

Seeing is believing. Read the testimonials in the pamphlet on Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure, then buy a bottle and relieve yourself of all those distressing pains.

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the GREAT GERMAN INVIGORATOR, the only remedy that has proved itself a specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc.

The use of Pills, Salts, Castor Oil, &c., and other nauseous, griping Cathartics is unnecessary, as a pleasant substitute is found in Dr. Carson's Bitters, which act as a Cathartic without griping or causing nausea.

Fun and Fancy.

The average girl with a big hat loaded with flowers and feathers seems all head till you talk to her.

"Hello, boy! Has your paper anything more about the earthquake?" "No sir, not in this issue."

Some unknown person attempted to break into the editor's house recently, but discovered his mistake and escaped before the editor could catch him.

William Doodle—"Yes, Miss Frost, I always wear gloves at night; they make one's hand so nice and soft."

"Ah! and do you sleep with your hat on?" "I don't like to have my husband chow tobacco," remarked a young married lady.

A floating item says that the peeling of green cucumbers will kill cockroaches. No question about it.

"There are five persons in the car and only four fares in the box!" said the car driver as he opened the door.

There is a man up in Vermont whose brains, according to one of the medical journals, have dried up, so that they rattle around like beans in a bladder.

One rainy day the minister of Birse was out visiting his parishioners, and going along a very muddy road, he met one who was measuring the breadth of the road.

Do not despise the American hen. She is industrious. She lays every year 9,000,000 eggs.

A western exchange tells us that a San Francisco girl who is worth $2,000,000 is hunting in vain for a man with eyes like sapphires.

How much do you think I weigh? asked a young swell who was visiting a bluff old dairyman.

What a peculiar shade is that: What could you call it? It broke in the young lady, opportunely turning to a passing costume of dark red, which emitted spasmodic gleams of indefinite white as its wearer moved on.

A tall, stylish-looking woman, leading a grey-hound, passed the balcony of a Saratoga hotel, on which two gentlemen were standing.

Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery.

Household Hints.

Oatmeal cookies combine many good qualities, and will be relished by children. Make them just like an ordinary sugar cookie, using two-thirds oatmeal and one-third wheat flour.

An extremely simple way of ornamenting the square of flannel which you put over baby in his carriage is to crochet a row of open work and a small scallop on the edge and run a bright ribbon through the open spaces.

Cranberries make a delicious filling for a poppy pudding. Stew them, using as little water as possible, so that the juice will be thick and jelly-like; sweeten and let the sauce boil for a minute or two, but not longer, after the sugar is put in.

Cream fritters, as an entree with roast beef and vegetables, are much just the same as if they were to be beaten with syrup. The cream is a gray made of butter and flour, with boiling water poured over. A little sugar should be added, and a few drops of vanilla.

If the family is very small, and large loaves of bread are likely to become stale before they can be eaten, it is a good plan to make two little loaves for one tin. They will keep their shape all right, and will not run together or adhere any more than rolls or biscuits do.

A nice dish for breakfast is made by cutting pork tenderloins in thin slices; stew them in water till they are nearly done; then put a little butter in a saucepan, and when they are light brown, serve them on buttered toast, with mashed potatoes and raw tomatoes sliced thin.

Apple custard pie should be baked with an under crust only. The filling is delicious if made of one pint of sweet milk, one pint of smooth apple sauce, well sweetened, three eggs; flavor with lemon or with a little cinnamon.

A pretty bag to hold cards is made by taking two squares of pasteboard of the same size and covering them with satin; on the upper part of the outside one put on a lid of velvet or plush; finish the edge with a cord and hang by narrow ribbons. The back need not be covered with satin; a piece of the same color can be used. The bag should be lined.

A little time and trouble used in removing the seeds from grape sauce will pay a large interest. After the grapes have cooked sufficiently so that the seeds separate readily from the sauce through a colander, then with a spoon remove the seeds as far as possible, put the skins back with the juice to cook until they are soft, and skim off any seeds that rise to the top.

Cranberry pudding is made by pouring boiling water on a pint of dried bread crumbs; melt a teaspoonful of butter and stir in. When the bread is softened add two eggs, and beat thoroughly with the bread. Then put in a pint of the stewed fruit and sweeten to your taste.

Handsome covers for sofa pillows, and cushions are knit of silk pieces. The real foundation for the stripes—for it is made in stripes—is knit of common cotton yarn, and is knit with medium-sized needles, knit three rows, then draw through each loop on the next row a bit of the silk. The silk must be cut in narrow strips of equal length and width. The yarn must be drawn firmly down to hold the silk in place.

A table scarf of olive felt was made handsome and tasteful by having on one end a corner of plush. The piece of plush was shaped like a triangle. Where it joined the felt there were some fancy stitches with bright-colored silks. The other end of the scarf had a straight band of plush put on with fancy stitches also, and instead of being an inch or two from the edge of the scarf, there was a space left of at least ten inches below the plush. Both ends were finished with a row of fringe.

A mixture which is excellent for removing grease spots and stains from carpets and clothing is made of two ounces of ammonia, two ounces of white castile soap, one ounce of glycerine, one ounce of oiler; cut the soap fine, dissolve in one pint of water over the fire; add two quarts of water. This should be mixed with water in the proportion of a teacupful to one ordinary-sized pail of water. Mix thoroughly, and wash soiled garments in it. For removing spots use a sponge or clean flannel cloth, and with a dry cloth rub as dry as possible. Woolen goods may be made to look bright and fresh by being sponged with this.

How shall I punish my children? is the despairing exclamation of a mother who writes for advice. The most satisfactory theory of punishment with which the writer is acquainted is that of Herbert Spencer. It is simply that so far as possible the punishment should be an outcome of a natural result of the wrong act. It is not by any means always easy to follow out this theory and put it in practice, but it is less difficult than one would suppose, after all. If a child will play with matches, let him burn himself. That is the idea; and after a few experiments of a like nature he will be more likely to listen to the admonitions of his mother, and to take her word for it that evil results always follow evil acts.

An Englishman who was travelling on the Mississippi river told some stories about London thieves. With a silent but expressive "Huumph!" a Cincinnati man named Case heard these narratives, and then remarked that the Western thieves beat the London operators all hollow.

"How so?" inquired the Englishman with surprise. "Pray, my dear sir, have you lived much in the West?" "Not a great deal."

"Well," said Case, "my brother once lived out West; but he had to leave, although his business was one of the best in the country."

"What business was he in?" "The lumber business—he had a saw-mill."

They tell a good story of Landlord Roberts, who kept the first hotel at Bar Harbor, some thirty years ago. He woke up one night by hearing some one travelling about the house, and lighting a candle, found one of his guests in full shirt dress, wandering through the rooms.

"What do you want?" said Roberts. "I want to find the hen pen," said the man.

"What is the name of the night?" asked Roberts. "Well," said the man, "you see I lost my pillow somewhere, and I wanted to get into the hen pen and get a feather and make another."

A visitor to a baby show down in Maine thus sums up his conclusions: "For pure unadulterated foolishness about a baby, a father can out-folly all the rest of the family—yes, and I will throw in the grandmother on the mother's side, too."
