ALL FOR LOVE.

CHAPTER II.

AUNT PRUE'S ADVICE.

"Yes, he is better here than he would be anywhere else, for it is quiet and he is absolutely free from care," Miss Russell returned. "And now that he has begun to improve we want the good work to go on, so I really think, dear, it will be better for you not to run away, but stay here to meet Mr. Walton next week when he comes as he has planned. Or, if you prefer, you can write him a frank letter, stating exactly how you feel, and allow him to use his own judgment about coming. If he is the man I hope he is, he will not press this marriage when he realizes how repugnant the thought of it is to you, and he may think it best to drop it without any attempt to discuss it personally, since it could not fail to be an awkward interview for you both."

CHAPTER III.

BETH'S DECISION.

Beth sat silent for several minutes thinking the matter over, and Miss Prue, covertly observing her, thought her fair face wore a strangely anxious, weary expression for one so young. At length she looked up.

"I will write the letter," she said. "I will do it now, and have it over with." She arose with a sigh, stooped to kiss Miss Prue, and left the room, the gentle, meditative eyes of the elder woman following her yearningly as she went.

Beth had been appalled by her father's startling information, that he was on the verge of bankruptcy, and during the day and night that followed she had fought a terrible battle with herself.

Silas Russell and his daughter were all that were left of their immediate family, and, for years, they had been all in all to each other. Thus, when the girl learned of his misfortune, she was torn between the desire to secure her share of Miss Crawford's legacy, which would set her father at once upon his financial feet, and her long-cherished resentment against Philip, whom, as a child, she had adored, but whose thoughtless and unfortunate remarks to his chum, Teddy Armstrong, had broken her girlish heart and destroyed her faith in him. She had vowed, up in the dense foliage of the beech, that she would never, never marry Philip even though forty fortunes, equal to Aunt Eliza's, were to be forfeited, and she had never swerved during the intervening years from that decision.

Eczema Cured Three Years Ago
Best City Doctors Failed, But Cure Was Effected by Use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. A. T. Smith.

You apply Dr. Chase's Ointment for eczema and feel the benefit as if by magic. It may take some days to get the sores cleaned out and the healing process fully established, but from day to day you can see the old trouble gradually disappearing and know that you are getting rid of it.

Mrs. A. T. Smith, 1 Mt. Charles St., Montreal, Que., writes:—"I had eczema on my leg for four years, and tried many remedies and doctors in Montreal and Boston, without any benefit. I used three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and was cured completely. This was three years ago. Since then I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for irritations and eruptions of the skin, and easily got rid of them with two or three applications. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a wonderful preparation."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

She would not, as she had said, see him after that; she would not even go down to bid him good-by when he went to make his adieu on the day of his departure for Japan. She did not answer his letters, nor make any response to messages sent through his friend Ted; neither did she talk about him with Ted, always evading or changing the subject if he spoke of Philip, and meeting her on the street once with a package in his hand, Ted told her that Philip had sent him some photographs of himself, and he offered to give her one if she wished. She thanked him rather loftily, and remarked, with an assumption of utter indifference, that she did not care for one; then wondered at the peculiar grin that overspread Ted's good-natured face as he walked away with his unopened package under his arm.

"I won't do it even to save papa," she had finally declared, after the struggle following their conversation at the breakfast table. "I would rather live on a crust with him, than be forced upon a man who does not want me."

But she lacked the courage to tell her father so, and for two or three days she went about in a very unhappy frame of mind until, on the fourth morning, Mr. Russell suddenly collapsed under his severe mental strain, and his physician ordered him to drop everything, and go away immediately for rest and quiet. This emergency aroused Beth, for the time from her individual troubles. She took matters into her own hands, telegraphed Miss Prudence Russell to send to the station for them on the arrival of a certain train the next evening, and almost before Silas Russell had realized what had happened, he found himself resting, without a care, in the refreshing atmosphere of his boyhood's home.

The ten days that followed were anxious ones for his loving nurses but at the end of that time he began to rally, and bade fair soon to be himself again physically, and now, three weeks having passed, he was able to be around, and was anxiously looking forward to the arrival of Philip Walton, who would be due in New York in about a week.

Naturally sanguine, Silas Russell believed that matters could be amicably arranged between Beth and the young man; and he hoped that his daughter's share of the fortune, secured through the marriage, would help give him another chance to re-establish himself in the business world. As the time drew near for Philip's return, Beth had grown very nervous and anxious, until, unable longer to bear her burden alone, she had confided her troubles to her aunt who, as we have seen, proved to be not only a hearty sympathizer with her niece, but also a wise counselor.

It was the first of June when Philip Walton again set foot in his native city, Boston. He proceeded directly to his hotel, which he had given as his temporary address to the friends to whom he had written, announcing his return. Here, among a lot of other mail matter, he found Beth's letter awaiting him.

She had written in a friendly, yet dignified tone, acknowledging the letter from him that her father had received a month previous, and informing him of Mr. Russell's recent misfortunes and the sudden illness following, also of his present whereabouts. Then, in concluding, she referred to his message to her, in which he had said he would await her convenience regarding a certain important event that was expected to occur some time during the following six months.

"Of course I understand that you refer to the condition in Aunt Eliza's bequest to you and me," she wrote. "I sincerely hope, Philip, that your heart is not set upon securing this money in this way, for I feel that it will be impossible for me to fulfill such a contract. We were but children—at least I was but a child—and far too young at the time you went away, when it was tacitly assumed by your family and mine that we would fulfill the conditions of the will, to realize what such a step might mean to us ten years later. We have grown to be almost like strangers during this time, and, assuming that the thought of entering into such a union simply to secure this fortune to ourselves is as repulsive to you as it is to me, I write this to absolve you from such compulsory allegiance to me, and to ask you to confer the same favor upon your old-time friend."

The letter closed cordially and was signed "Elizabeth Russell."

As Philip Walton finished his perusal of the above, he shrugged his broad shoulders expressively, while a look of mingled amusement, chagrin, and relief swept over his handsome face.

"Hum! So she has no desire to become Mrs. Philip Walton. Even Aunt Eliza's fortune offers no temptation to marriage for her," he muttered as he refolded Beth's letter, which faintly exhaled the odor of wood violets, a flower, he remembered, she had loved as a child, and for which they had hunted the woods together. He slipped it into its envelope and studied the superscription which, possessing a peculiar individuality, somehow reminded him forcibly of the little romp he had known ten years previous with the independent toss of her small head, the slight upward tilt of her freckled nose, and the utter fearlessness of her attitude whenever honesty and loyalty demanded her espousal.

"Well, I'm free to confess it is a great relief to me," he thoughtfully went on. "The idea of this forced union has always been like an irritating curb to me. Yet what else could I do, when to balk meant practically throwing the girl's fortune away! I'm mighty glad the proposition has come from her; though, I own, it's a shame for all that money to go to the heathen, especially since her father has met with reverses, and is ill. They ought to have the whole of it, unconditionally. It is like Lady Beth's old-time honesty, however, to make her stand in spite of everything unless—Great Scott! there may be a over in the case. I had not thought of that."

Again his broad shoulders went up, he had returned at this time imbued with a self-abnegating determination to marry Beth, because his fine sense of honor forbade him to deprive her of her fortune by shirking his part of the obligation; and now to be greeted by her outspoken rejection of this clintary sacrifice of his own feelings regarding the matter, wounded his pride and made him wonder if she had really outgrown her old-time adoration of him. With the perversity of human nature this later thought of another lover made him suddenly resent the suggestion that he was perhaps being deprived by a usurper of something that had once been very pleasant to him.

He looked over the remainder of his mail, sorting out the letters which needed his immediate attention, after which he proceeded to answer Beth's letter first of all. He expressed the pleasure it gave him to hear from her, his deep regret to learn of Mr. Russell's recent misfortunes and illness, and his joy to know that he was recovering from the latter. Then in a manly, straightforward way he took up the chief point in her letter.

"Of course, I shall absolve you, My Lady Beth," he wrote, "from all obligation in connection with this long-talked-of contract. Do not be troubled by any fear that my 'heart is set' upon this money for myself. I would surrender the amount many times over rather than have you assume relations that would cause you unhappiness. Nevertheless, I chafe sorely in view of the fact that Miss Eliza's fortune must be so misappropriated, when by right of inheritance it should all go to you, unconditionally. However, I am going to give myself the pleasure within a few days, of running up to see you and your father, when we will discuss the matter more in detail and settle it definitely. With kindest regards for Mr. Russell and yourself.

"Your sincere friend, PHILIP."

CHAPTER IV.

EXCHANGE OF CONFIDENCES.
Philip had barely addressed and stamped the letter to Beth when there came a familiar signal upon his door—a strong knock followed by two fainter ones.

"Teddy!" exclaimed the young man as he sprang to admit his caller, and the next moment the old friends were gripping each other's hands until their joints cracked, and looking deep into each other's eyes through what seemed very much like a mist of tears.

"Old boy! this is great, don't you know to have you home again? though Jove! I'd never have believed you are Phil but for the photos you have sent me from time to time. Gad! from a stripling you have developed into a veritable giant!" and Theodore Armstrong ran an admiring, comprehensive glance over the splendidly-developed athletic figure of his friend.

"That's true enough, Ted; I was a puny, undersized youngster when I went away. I had never been very strong, you know, but I began to grow and take on flesh as soon as I landed on the other side, and—with a light laugh—"I'm not sure that I have stopped yet. You're no dwarf, either. I say, you're good to look at once more," he concluded, laying an affectionate arm around his companion's shoulders.

ROBT. TEMPLETON

On Tipping.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Did you ever know anyone who did not think that tipping, as it is practiced in this country, was an evil?

I am sure I never did. And yet the evil keeps on growing. Every year tips get bigger, and every year we add to the list of those who are supposed to be tipped. I presume the time is coming when you will tip a newsboy a nickel when you buy a penny paper of him. Indeed I don't doubt that there are some who do that now-a-days.

Tipping is to me one of the most offensive manifestations of the twentieth century spirit of pretense and display. Many people say they give gratuities because they know that those whom they tip do not receive a living wage, and are partially dependent on such gifts. I wonder how many really tip from that laudable motive? Ask yourself honestly the next time you give a waiter a quarter, which you don't really want to part with, if you would have given it to him if payment were made in such a way that neither he nor anyone around you knew whether you tipped him or not. Suppose payment were made at the desks, and all tips were laid aside and given the waiters at the close of the day, and they had no idea which of their customers tipped and which did not. Do you think we should give up our hard earned quarters and halves so readily?

Personally I don't. I am afraid the generosity motive is not so strong as we like to think it. I suspect that the real reason most of us give larger tips than we can afford is that we are afraid people will know we can't afford them.

Aside from the heavy tax it levies upon the person of moderate means, I hate tipping for another reason. And that is because this custom discounts the value of so much kindness. Again and again I have felt my heart glow at some bit of kindness which was shown me, and then felt that glow grow cold before the chilling thought, "Perhaps he or she did it for a tip." It isn't really because I don't want to give the tip,—at least I think it isn't,—it's because I want to think that I am receiving old-fashioned, simple, pure kindness, and not that miserable imitation which is adulterated and spoiled by hope of gain.

Of course one would loath to join an anti-tipping crusade because of the hardship such a crusade would undoubtedly put upon many workers under this miserable system by which various kinds of corporations force the public to pay their employees for them.

Nevertheless one cannot help feeling that if pressure of public opinion could in some way be brought to bear upon these employers, they would find a way to pay their employees themselves. Doubtless the ultimate consumer would be indirectly taxed to do it. But I am sure the public would rather have such indirect taxation, and I should think the employees would vastly prefer that method of payment.

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, it tranquillizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. BRIGGS, BRIDGE, of 829 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation with woman's ailments, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Suffering Lotion' tablets." I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicines which have done me a world of good.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Household Notes.

A delicious cake-filling is made of sugar and cream bottled together and thickened with finely ground peanuts.

Slip an old pillow case over the leaf of your sewing machine and fasten it tightly if you would keep materials from slipping.

A rose conserve is made by filling a jar with layers of rose petals and sugar covering tightly and setting away for three months.

When a child bumps itself, and the skin is not broken, apply cloths wet in a solution of arnica and water, or very hot water alone.

An old pocketbook will look like new if you rub the leather with beaten white of an egg, then polish with beeswax and turpentine.

If you wish to use plaster of Paris for filling cracks in walls, mix with vinegar instead of water; then it can be handled like putty.

Every member of the family should possess bedroom slippers as a precaution, not only against cold, but against possible tacks, etc.

To perfume handkerchiefs, it is said to be a good plan to boil them in orris water for 15 minutes. Use 1/2 ounce orris root for 3 pints of water.

Creamed celery is best made from root celery. Cut roots in small cubes, boil half an hour in salted water, drain and cream as you would potatoes.

Never, if you can help it, hang pictures so that the wires will show, and do let the pictures hang against the wall as if they were really and truly decoration.

To test the freshness of eggs, observe the shell—it should be rough if the egg is right. Another test is putting the egg in cold water—if fresh, it will sink.

Peeled and quartered baked apples make a good dessert, chilled and placed in shells with a teaspoonful of ground nuts on top and a spoonful of whipped cream on top of that.

A delicious "sweet jar" may be made of heliotrope, syringa petals, lilacs and violets, leaves of lemon, verbena and clove pink, put together just as roses are treated for pot pourri.

Okra or gumbo is an important ingredient of the vegetable garden. Five cents' worth of seed will provide enough tender young pods for the summer's soups, stews and seasonings.

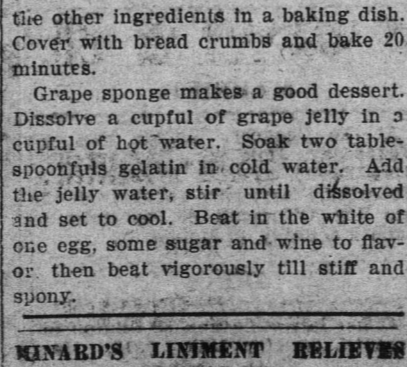

A homemade clothes sprinkler is the cork of a large bottle, which has slittings cut in its sides lengthwise. Fill the bottle with water and fit in the cork, then shake the bottle over the clothes.

Rose flavoring for house use is easily made by filling jars with rose petals, packed down as tightly as possible and submerged in fresh alcohol. In a few weeks the alcohol will be thoroughly impregnated with the flavor of the roses.

Marguerites are made by mixing the whites of two eggs stiffly beaten with a cupful of powdered sugar. Beat again, add a cupful of chopped English walnuts spread on small wafers, and bake in the oven until the mixture is a golden brown.

An economical dish of left-overs is made of cold boiled rice, a cupful of stewed tomatoes, a small onion, 3 green peppers, salt and butter. Chop the onion and tomato and mix with the other ingredients in a baking dish. Cover with bread crumbs and bake 20 minutes.

Grape sponge makes a good dessert. Dissolve a cupful of grape jelly in 3 cupfuls of hot water. Soak two table-spoonfuls gelatin in cold water. Add the jelly water, stir until dissolved and set to cool. Beat in the whites of one egg, some sugar and wine to flavor; then beat vigorously till stiff and snowy.

Lightning.

By H. L. RANN.

Lightning is the business end of a thunderbolt and can penetrate farther than any other known illuminant. It has been known to cast its rays through the person of a ruminative milch cow and then bounce off onto a barbed wire fence and burn a large, white hole through a new red barn. Nobody but an electrician is able to play with lightning without being superseded by a card of thanks.

Lightning is caused by two thunderbolts coming together in a rear-end collision and throwing off long, jagged sparks, which are then allowed to fall to the earth and annoy people who get in the way. After a person has stood in the pathway of one of these sparks once and had it come out through his hip pocket, he will not care whether the White Sox land in the first division or the cellar.

It is said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. This is because people who have been struck once generally manage to see it coming first. A favorite point of attack for lightning is a decrepit dwelling which is insured for four times the value of the house and lot. Every year hundreds of aged barns are destroyed by lightning on bright moonlight nights, yielding enough revenue to put up a new structure and cement the cellar.

Lightning is always followed by a deep rumbling noise, which informs people who have their heads under the bedclothes that they are safe until the next collision. This noise is caused by water-logged clouds trying to buck each other off the right of way, and is very depressing to people whose accident insurance has expired.

The lightning rod is an ornamental spire which is attached to a house in the hope that lightning will find it before it gets to any of the immediate family. As this happens about once in about twelve million times, people who put their trust in the lightning rod would do better to climb into the coal bin and try to think of some good deed done.

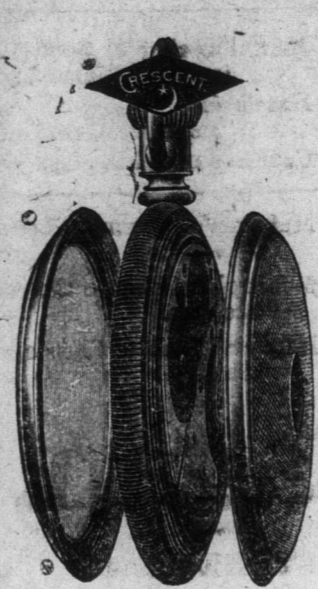

Wigs on The Green.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—There are wigs on the green among the Tories in this district, on account of some of their heeleders being dissatisfied with the "pickings" they got the last four years, and now want to knife Downey and call out another man to run for the district. They got up a requisition and had it quietly sent around, but when the people found out what was going on, I tell you there was something doing and much torn paper as a result. It went all right when it was thought that Mr. Downey did not intend to contest the district, but when it was discovered that our present member intended to stand again and that this requisition was got up by an individual who came to the country some years ago with all his belongings tied up in a pocket handkerchief, and because he got some gear together by skinning the fishermen and imagines he is a strong supporter of the party, wants everything in sight, the people declined with thanks to have anything more to do with it.

Yours truly,
 YOUNG VOTER.

THURSDAY, June 5, 1913.

Notes and Comments.

We draw the attention of the Postmaster General to an extraordinary case of delay in the delivery of a post card. It was posted in the city last Friday and reached us this Thursday morning. It was then on its way in the hands of the Postal Department for nearly six days. The face of the card bears two date impressions by postal officials. One gives the date May 30th, 11 p.m., that is of course Friday night, and shows that the card was in the hands of the officials of the G. P. O. on Friday night and that it should have been delivered to us at the office on Saturday morning last. Instead of this, it finds its way to St. John's East yesterday, for it bears the impression St. John's East, June 4th. We should like to know why it was sent to the St. John's East Post Office, and why it was not delivered on Saturday morning. The object of the writer was frustrated by the delay and the information intended for us failed to reach us in time to be of any use either to the writer or to us.

The Premier, Sir Edward Morris, is at last awake to the fact that the duties on foreign fish, entering the States, have not yet been removed, and that Newfoundland has not yet captured the American market. This we learn from the report by Sir Edward Morris of his trip to Trepasser, published this morning in the Daily News. Recently in the Fogo District, Sir Edward told the fishermen that the duties were already removed and that the American market had already been captured. Apparently he has discovered his error and changed his tune. What was boomed as an accomplished fact weeks ago in Fogo, is now but prospects. The prospects of the removal of the duties "are bright indeed" and now there is "an almost certain prospect of securing the American market." Therefore the herring fishery "must be developed along the right lines."

Laid To Rest.

The body of the late Rev. James McNamara was taken from the residence of Mr. Alfred McNamara, brother of the deceased, at 8 o'clock last night and followed by a large concourse of mourners, including clergymen, Christian Brothers and prominent citizens of all creeds, was brought to the R. C. Cathedral. On entering the Church the remains were placed on the catafalque and left remain in front of the High Altar which was neatly draped in mourning for the dead priest. After prayers for the dead were recited by His Grace Archbishop Howley the corpse was left in la state all night watched by a guard from the Holy Name Society. This morning at ten o'clock High Mass of Requiem was sung for the repose of the deceased priest. Fr. Ashley was the celebrant, with Frs. Pippy and Kelly, Deacon and Sub-Deacon, respectively, and Rev. Dr. Greene, Master of Ceremonies. The chanters were Fathers McDermott and O'Callaghan. The Archbishop was assisted on the Throne by Rev. Dean Roche and Rev. Fr. Dounney; Bishop March was assisted by Frs. O'Brien and Donnelly. Other priests who were present were:—Rev. Dr. Kitchin, Frs. Sheehan, Rawlins, Coady, Goff, Vereker, O'Flaherty, McCarthy and St. John. After Mass the usual solemn and sad ceremonies associated with the demise of a priest occurred at the catafalque and also at the graveside. The officers of the different Catholic societies attended the funeral obsequies.

In Bad State.

When Const. Squibb was after the man Brown, who broke into Mr. Templeman's store at King's Cove and stole $195, he had a hard time of it. For three nights and days he searched for him, and when he discovered the man he was appalled at his condition. He was found between the Falls and South Branch, and when met he was coming out of the woods towards South Branch, but repeatedly fell from weakness, as he had not tasted food or drink for three nights and days and was in a pitiable state. The man to evade the officer had burrowed under a clay bank in the woods, and his apparel and face, ears and eyes were covered with yellow earth. So far gone was he that he could not have lived a day without food, and the officer on getting him to a house had to feed him with a spoon, giving him the food little and often. The man was so ravenous that he fought with the officer to get more than he allowed him, and had he done so would have killed himself from overfeeding. The officer got on him $100 of the stolen money.

The Police Court.

A fisherman of King's Cove, charged with stealing $195 was remanded. A drunk was fined $1 or 3 days. Another was fined $2 or 7 days. Two firemen, drunk and disorderly were fined $4 or 14 days. A cruelty to animals case was postponed. A seaman for purchasing liquor for two boys, aged 15, was fined $50 or one month.

The Dundee arrived at Port Blanford at 2.45 p.m. yesterday.
The Ethie arrived at Clarendon at 6.30 p.m. yesterday.
The Glencoe left Fortune at 2 p.m. yesterday, coming east.
The Lintrose left Port aux Basques at 2.40 a.m. yesterday.
The Meigle left Humbermouth at 6 p.m. yesterday.
The Kyle left Bonavista at 5.30 p.m. yesterday, bound northward.
The Duchess left Tilt Cove at 5.40 p.m. yesterday bound north.

Feat in Marconigraining.

On Saturday night last while the S. S. Lintrose lay in the dry dock in this harbour, the Purser and Marconi man, Mr. March, was for a long while in communication with the Allan Liner Numidian then bound to Halifax from Liverpool. The Numidian was then 115 miles N.E. of Cape Race or about 70 miles direct from St. John's and both ships conversed easily with each other. It was thought on the Lintrose that the South Side Hills would greatly interfere with long distance work, and the best before done in this port from the ship was 30 miles. The signaling and conversation with the Numidian is therefore quite a feat.

More About Home.

The Home arrived at Lewisport this morning and reports that she went ashore yesterday forenoon at Pileys Island as she was about to enter there. While going to the harbor at "dead slow" and while the engines were stopped she struck and later floated off at high tide without the use of her engines. The ship has sustained no damage.

PRESCRIPTION "A"

CURES INDIGESTION & DYSPEPSIA IN ALL ITS FORMS.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache. I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing."

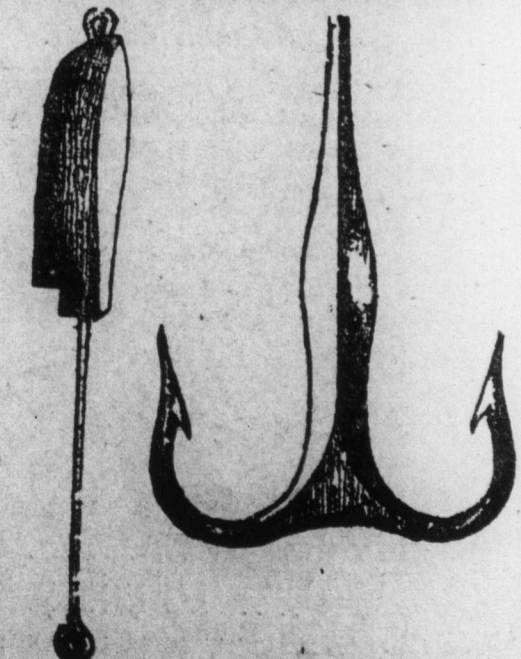

I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Prescription "A". A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

The Lorraine Buchanan Co.

There is another treat in store for the patrons of Rossley's Theatre to-night. The Lorraine Buchanan Co. presents "Her Husband," a very laughable comedy, showing how a wife can train up hubby in the way he should go. Billy DeVan will introduce some new songs. This gentleman has made a great impression on his audience by his splendid singing; he has a glorious voice. Cook and Beale in a rural act "Down on the Farm," with lots of dancing. New pictures, the best London had to offer, and Prof. Ryall, as leader of the orchestra. Mrs. Nurse and the Rossley boys make up as fine a show as the most fastidious could wish for. Look out for the big act.

Brewery on Fire.

At 11.40 a.m. to-day the Western firemen received a telephone call saying that Bennett's Brewery, Water Street West, was on fire, and informing the Central men both departments were quickly on the scene. The roof of the building where brewing is carried on was on fire in several places owing to a spark falling from the chimney on it. The Western men took a stream of water from the hydrant on Water Street near the premises and the chemical with a stream also sent aid so that the fire was soon under control. All the shingles were burnt off the roof but little other damage was done.

Juvenile L.S.P.U. Have Election

The Juvenile Branch of the Longshoremen's Protective Union held a largely attended meeting last night in the Hall of the L.S.P.U., when 89 candidates formed up the new association and subscribed their names to the roll. The election of officers then followed and resulted thus: President, Chas. Donnelly; V.P., James McDonald; 1st. Asst. V.P., W. Caldwell; 2nd. Asst. V.P., Jas. Sears; 1st. Treas., Christopher Luby; 2nd Treas., W. Morrison; Fin. Secy., Jas. Hynes; Rec. Secy., John Conditio and Grand Marshall, W. Buckley. Later the Society under the supervision of the senior officers, transacted some business of importance to the body and $9 in fees were collected and will be deposited in Bank to-day.

Personal.

Mr. W. J. Frost, of "Hillview," Ramoth, N.B., arrived here a couple of days ago on business.

Miss Jessie Coates, who formerly taught school on the south shore, Conception Bay, and is now engaged at private nursing in the States, will pay a visit to her home during her summer.

Marine Notes.

The schr. Tebeatic, 16 days from Cadiz, reached Twillingate yesterday. The schr. Freedom has arrived at Barbados from Pernambuco. The s.s. City of Sydney leaves Montreal for here on Saturday.

STOWAWAY BRINGS STOWAWAY—A young lad named Hartley, of the West End, stowed down to Brazil in the Atika, and when she reached Barbados to load molasses he made the acquaintance of some little picanninies. The result was that one of these, a small and very able little kid, stowed up here in the ship, and the boys, the white and black, are much attached to each other.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
CHICAGO, To-day.
Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight champion, was sentenced to one year and one day in the State Penitentiary, and Jolley was fined one thousand dollars for violation of the Mann White Slave Act.

BREMEN, To-day.
The German Dreadnought battleship which is to replace the old Weissenburg, was launched yesterday and christened Markgraf. The new warship displaces approximately 27,000 tons, and is designed for a speed of 22 knots. The armament will be very powerful, consisting of ten 14-inch guns and thirty guns of smaller calibre, and is fitted with ten submerged torpedo tubes.

TORONTO, To-day.
Massey Hall was crowded to overflowing at the close of a meeting of intense spiritual enthusiasm. Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKenzie, for 25 years Missionary of the Presbyterian Church in China, was tonight elected Moderator of the Assembly. He will have the distinction of presiding at the various meetings of the most memorable gathering in the history of the Church. At the close of the Presbyterian pre-assembly conference yesterday, a resolution calling for an act to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors was carried amidst great enthusiasm.

Turbulenceln Hungarian Assembly.

BUDAPEST, To-day.
The announcement in the Chamber of Deputies of the resignation of the late Premier, Dr. Laskovics, and his cabinet, was preceded by scenes of uproar and violence, surpassing any yet witnessed in this turbulent assembly. The excitement, anticipating trouble, closed the approach to the Parliament building to the public, by strong bodies of infantry and cavalry, supported by machine guns and detachments of police and gendarmes. When Count Liska, Speaker of the Chamber, and Premier Laskovics entered the chamber, they were greeted by the Opposition with shouts, jeers and insulting epithets. After several unavailing attempts to obtain quiet, the Speaker ordered the expulsion of several members of the Opposition deputies and summoned the Parliamentary guard to eject them. The excitement of the guards caused a Pandemonium. One of the guards seized a Deputy by the coat collar and called him offensive names. "You scoundrel, this is indecent," exclaimed Count Von Hecker, a former Premier, addressing the guard. The Premier, addressing the guard, said: "The Premier is the head of the government, and the Premier is the head of the government, and the Premier is the head of the government."

Dr. Rendell's Report

Of Tuberculosis Dispensary and Camp. Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—The following outline of the work done during the past five months in connection with the Tuberculosis Dispensary and Camp, will, I trust, have some interest for your readers.

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May
Patients	41	61	75	90	115
Deaths	3	3	5	5	2
New Cases	3	3	5	5	2
Visits by Physician	280	322	453	395	504
Nurses	431	454	716	832	1485
Consultations at Dispensary	22	44	76	100	161
Patients	22	44	76	100	161

You will note that the number of patients has increased from 41 to 115, the visits by physician and nurses from 280 to 1485, and the dispensary consultations from 22 to 161. In addition to all this a careful watch is kept over all persons living in the same house as a consumptive.

During the same period the Daughters of Empire have distributed to consumptives through their Samaritan Committee over 100 gallons of milk and over 100 dozen of eggs, as well as given aid in other ways, all at their own expense. The H. I. S. Committee, though not officially connected with the Tuberculosis Dispensary, is working in harmonious co-operation with it. There is a work which I cannot too highly praise and which I earnestly recommend to those who desire to help the sick poor and would like to be certain that their aid goes to the really deserving and necessitous; these ladies make a careful inquiry into the circumstances of every patient before giving this invaluable assistance where it is most needed and of greatest benefit.

Yours truly,
H. RENDELL.

MORE SMALLPOX.

—Yesterday another case of smallpox was discovered at Patrick Street, the patient being a girl aged 8. The girl is suffering like all the other patients from a light type of the disease and was sent to Hospital.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
EPSON, June 4.
All previous suffragette demonstrations were thrown in the shade by Emily Wilding Davison's reckless feat in throwing herself in front of the King's horse, while coming down the track at full stride. Few of the sixty thousand spectators, intent on watching the leaders saw the affair which will likely end in the first fatality in the militant campaign. Those nearest Tattenham corner had a glimpse of a woman darting in front of two galloping horses. She ducked almost under Agadir's neck to reach Anmer. Some say she waved her arms to stop the horses, others that she seized the reins, others say the woman fainting just as the horse was upon her. There was a scream. The King's horse plunged over landing on the rider. The three were on the ground in a heap. When Miss Davison was picked up she was seen to have a suffragette tricolor around her waist. At midnight the woman's still unconscious. Miss Davison's career has been full of excitement. Once she flung herself down a prison stairway as a protest against forcible feeding and was badly injured. The third sensation of Derby Day occurred later in the race when the Colt Felizards broke her leg at the finish directly in front of the Grand Stand, and gave her jockey a bad fall and had to be killed in the presence of the King and Queen. The race was witnessed by the Royalites, including the King, Queen Mary, Duke of Connaught, Prince Arthur, the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden.

LONDON, To-day.
Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, was compelled on account of many interruptions to cut short his speech in introducing Commander Evans at Queen's Hall last night. Commander Evans delivered a lecture on the British South Polar Expedition. During the few minutes Churchill spoke a dozen suffragettes raised disturbances, but were ejected.

Fresh Air.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks regarding the want of fresh air and how to deal with the same.

We people in the outports will soon have the doctor around again now that the summer months is coming to us and to tell the people to sleep out of doors. We quite understand that we cannot get too much of this wholesome atmosphere, but before the Board of Health sends a doctor around here, will they please open their eyes and visit some parts of the districts of St. John's, that one can see by the cast of an eye that some exist there in huts not houses, compared with those in the outports, and if the landlords own they have not a Board of Health to compel them to build better houses for people to live in? The writer of count houses by the dozen that have one window in a room, if it was in countries where I have been, one would be put in prison rather than to live in them. The doctor to come around here where we can get more fresh air through a one inch hole than you can get in those districts that I have mentioned, where the air is so much stagnated. Certainly we don't expect the present Government to do anything in this respect owing to the arrangements that existed at Port aux Basques last fall; all the first class passengers coming on shore free, while all our hard toilers had to be vaccinated. I that morning deemed it a cruelty except all were served alike; I, the writer, was a first class passenger but I did not fail to think over the situation. I knew that it's not always the poor class that bring disease. Under this new law let the Board of Health officers wake up to the full extent of their duty if there is any. If not let the Government get to work and farm out, of course we cannot depend upon Morris, now he has made so many failures already during his term of office.

Wife and I Are Friends of INSTANT POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

"I used to drink tea and coffee—was nervous and irritable. Wife said so."

"So when the new food-drink, Instant Postum, came along she said to herself: 'Here's where I break Jack of the tea and coffee habit.'"

"Instant Postum is good stuff. I sleep better, smile more, and miss my indigestion."

A level teaspoonful of Instant Postum in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water.

Cowardly Attack.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In a recent issue of the Plaindealer I notice a letter signed "Non-Unionist" and in it he proves himself an "understood fact" to the readers of Fortune Harbour to be alluding to a certain lady, but we can assure him he is making one of the mistakes of his lifetime. The letter signed "Unionist" was not her composition.

He ("Non-Unionist") has made a cowardly, unwarranted, and ungentlemanly attack on a lady, and I can assure him she is not affected any; she still has the good wishes of those around her, which is worth a great deal.

As to the higher ability, etc., the lady in question had, and still has ability to discharge the duties of her station in life. Her efforts of the past have been crowned with marked success, and harmony, as the records of those years will prove, and one may add with more ability than that displayed in the selection of her successors.

"Non-Unionist" wants to know if this lady had her finger in the pie, well, if so, it was her own pie, and now since justice has been satisfied its none of Non-Unionists business about it. If "Non-Unionist" is the person the writer thinks, he has a decided weakness for putting his fingers into other peoples' pies, thereby getting himself into many squabbles. Probably, it is not the person I think, but the wording of the letter suggests a certain gentleman, "to my mind."

Anyway if he is brave enough to come out over his own name I can explain more fully. One thing is certain he has acted meanly, degradingly, when he accuses her of being the author of the letter signed "Unionist."

I can assure both Liberal and Non-Unionist no dark cloud overshadowed her, on the contrary I believe her sky is bright and clear, and if the above mentioned parties were as happy over the whole business as she is, they would attend to more important duties than writing false accounts of squabbles or anything else.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
"ENS RATIOS,"

In Search of the Coal Talkers.
The fine warm weather is approaching, the soil is free from frost, but a sound is heard of our coal areas. All are silent on the matter, the controversialists who argued in the frosty season have laid down their pens and pencils and have taken up their abode in some quiet secluded spot where householders cannot reach them with a shovel. Stormy days in winter seem to be the only time that authorities on coal areas talk of digging up coal, but when the season arrives suitable for driving a pick axe in the ground, not a drum is heard nor yet a funeral note, isn't it about time that this farce should be called off, for it is cruel to be arousing hope in the breasts of the over-burdened family man that coal is coming at a cheaper rate, and then for him to realize that all the discussion that we had last winter was nothing more than putting in time at a dreary season. There's a splendid chance for some fellow to raise to a Knighthood if he can solve the coal question in warm weather, his name will be on Jim Crooks, but we sigh for the man who will start a coal controversy in the papers next winter. The individual who will tackle that job, should put on an extra thousand on his life for the sake of his wife and family.

From The Musty Past.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—I give four reasons in defence for sending you a copy of the following old letter. 1st, The salmon fishery is now about commencing; 2nd, It was announced that the Home Rule Bill was to come before the House of Commons to-day for its second reading; 3rd, The war between the Turks and the Balkan Allies about ended; and 4th, It will soon be time to talk about the fluctuations of the fish markets.

I often wonder when reading over old correspondence whether our business men of to-day take the same keen interest in colonial and national affairs that the old traders did in days gone by.
Yours truly,
RECORDS.
Twillingate, June 2, 1913.

Mr. _____
Poole, 18th April, 1829.

Dear Sir,—Referring to our conversation at _____ last fall, I beg to make you an offer for fifty tierces of salmon towards dispatching the "Salvy" for Leghorn this season; and I have no doubt the terms, connected with the convenience of having the salmon taken from and the goods in return taken to your premises, will render the transaction worth your attention.

_____ & Co. will give you sixty-five shillings per tierce on the spot (casks included) and goods in return at five per cent. under our selling price at _____ at the time, and a part of it, say to the amount of Ten Pounds in cash if you wish it. Provided, the salmon be shipped off as early as ours from _____ Bay, so as not to detain the vessel. Mr. _____ will forward you this and communicate with you upon the subject.

The only pieces of news of any importance and which has excited the utmost public attention for some time past is the Catholic emancipation which is now completed and become the law of the land—by a Bill just passed the Legislature admitting them to all situations except those of Lord Lieut. of Ireland and Lord Chancellor. I have no doubt myself but the resolution on the part of the Duke of Wellington and Mr. Peel, even at the expense of character for consistency, to perform the act of justice towards an ill-treated part of our fellow subjects, will be followed by very beneficial results to society generally.

Portugal still continues under the same state of anarchy it has been for some time, almost to the disgrace of humanity itself, tho' we have a report that our Government are at length determined to interfere, by sending out troops to Lisbon.

The Russians and Turks are still at loggerheads but I have no doubt this summer will finish the business. The French and English governments seem determined to remain strictly neutral if possible, and manifest I think a strong determination to continue the peace of Europe generally.

The fish markets have lately fluctuated a good deal and a few have made good hits but nothing important as a general effect in the trade.

Under the best wishes for yourself and family,
I remain,
Dear Sir,
Very truly Yours,

Nickel's Fine Programme

The Nickel Theatre was largely patronized again last evening. Now that the stores are closed the new patrons of this popular house of entertainment will be able to attend each performance without inconveniencing themselves. The programme was of the highest merit and afforded the greatest pleasure and satisfaction to all. There were four splendid subjects, the two principal being a thrilling detective drama entitled "Exposed" by the "Diogenes" and the great comedy the "Kaiserhammer Kids." The latter are well known, especially in the Canadian and United States press. They kept city folk in roars of laughter last night, and it is hoped they will appear often. Misses Geurin and Gardner sang well and were warmly applauded.

At It Again.

Not long ago the Telegram drew the attention of the authorities and the public to the wanton destruction going on in the city and characterized it as vandalism. At that time no fewer than 12 arc lights had been broken on the streets and it was thought that the discussion which ensued would cure this spirit of mischief in boys, who it was known were the perpetrators. The exposure has not had the desired effect for no later than the past week 8 more city lights, 6 of the largest size, have been broken with stones. The police are investigating and it is to be hoped will be successful in capturing the culprits who should have no mercy shown them.

A Welcome Find.

During the spring, a resident of Topsail lost $60, which he had in his possession and though he searched the houses, stables and outhouses, he could not find it. He was certain however, that he lost it about the place. A few days ago he was putting some stable manure over his ground and was surprised and pleased to see the notes which he mourned so long, before his eyes. He evidently dropped them and they were covered with soil.

Special S. A. Services.

The special revival services at the S. A. Citadel have already begun to draw great crowds, and a deep interest is manifested by those who attend. A very marked feature of the meetings is the singing; everybody sings, and the effect is indeed as the sound of many waters. Rev. Mr. Matthews, of Wesley Church, will be the speaker at to-night's service, and the Citadel band will furnish music. All are welcome; every seat is free.—Com.

LONDON, June 4. In the Australian House of Representatives the Liberals have a majority of three. In the Senate the Labor majority is 24. Referendum results are incomplete. A majority favors increased Government powers for the regulation of commerce. A substantial majority favors increased powers for dealing with trusts, and rejects compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes. Small majorities reject the nationalization of monopolies, the corporation law and the forced settlement of State railway disputes.

LONDON, June 4. The Arson squad destroyed a newly constructed but unoccupied mansion at Westwood, near Trowbridge, Wiltshire. Damages, $75,000. A placard said, "For damages apply to Runciman." Hon. CHICAGO, June 4. Adolphus Busch, multi-millionaire brewer, gave his grand-daughter a million dollar cheque as a wedding present. She is Miss Lilian Magnus, and marries Sidney L. Beeg to-night.

LONDON, June 4. Sir Melville MacNaughton, Head of the Criminal Investigation Department of Scotland Yard, who has just retired, states that Jack the Ripper, who murdered seven women in 1888, suicided after his last murder. He states that he was of course a maniac, but that he had a clear idea of who he was and how he committed suicide, but that with other secrets, would never be revealed by him. He added that he had destroyed all documents and that no records of the secret information that he had received now existed.

EPSOM, June 4. C. Bower Ismay's Craganour won the Derby to-day. A. P. Cantiffe, Aboyeur, second; W. Sappin's Louvois, third. Fifteen ran. An objection against Craganour was lodged for alleged bumping, and was sustained by the Stewards, who awarded the race to Aboyeur, Louvois second and Nimbus, a French horse, third. Later the third place was given to W. Hall Walker's Great Sport, with Nimbus, fourth. The starting prices were, Craganour 6 to 4 against; Aboyeur, 100 to 1 against; Louvois, 10 to 1 against. Of 246 original entries for stakes aggregating $32,500, only 15 participated in the race. Craganour's time for 1 1/2 miles was 2 minutes 37.3 seconds. There was only a head between him and Aboyeur, and a neck between Aboyeur and Louvois.

EPSOM, June 4. A sensational suffragette outrage, resulting in the serious injury of a woman, occurred during the running of the Derby. While King George's horse Anmer was rounding Tattenham corner a woman rushed on the course, and clutched the reins of the horse, which fell and trampled her badly. Jones, the jockey, was unable to disengage himself from the stirrups, fell to the ground and was badly injured. The woman is not yet identified.

NEW YORK, June 4. Excitement in the stock exchange during the first hours of to-day's market was probably without parallel since the panic of 1907. Stocks poured out regardless of the quoted prices, with declines greatest in the standard issues. All advices from abroad indicated increased pessimism not only in London, but at all continental financial centres. Within the first hour, sales amounted to 300,000 shares. Fifty new low records for the year were made with losses ranging from two to four points among standard issues.

ROME, June 4. King Victor Emmanuel, together with an aide-de-camp, to-day made a flight in a dirigible balloon, at the army flying grounds at Bracciano about twenty miles from here. The King was greatly interested in throwing bombs from the balloons against fixed and movable targets on the ground.

Baby Badly Scalded.

Zam-Buk Brought Quick Relief.

Mr. Alex. A. Cameron, of Fairmount, Antigonish Co., N.S., writes: "My little brother (three years old), had his face badly scalded by boiling tallow, and we thought if he ever got better he would be frightfully scarred. I never saw any person in such a shocking state as he was after the accident. The doctor who attended him gave us some lotion with which to bathe the scalds, and we followed this treatment for some time, but the little one did not get any ease. In fact, sometimes the preparations given seemed to make his pain all the worse.

We at last stopped the medical treatment, and tried Zam-Buk, and after the first few applications the child seemed much easier. Zam-Buk seemed to draw the fire out of the scalds. In a few days the wounds ceased to cause him pain, and healing then commenced. In a few weeks he was quite well again.

"Not only so, but Zam-Buk healed the scalds in such a way that no scar or trace of the terrible injury has remained. A person, looking upon the child, to-day, would never know that he had had such a terrible experience."

Zam-Buk is just as good for cuts, bruises, ulcers, piles, blood poison, festering sores, abscesses, pimples, eruptions, and all skin injuries and diseases.

All druggists and stores 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir,—I, as a pedestrian, am glad to see that an effort is being made to stop the use of the hose in business establishments for watering the sidewalks after 9 a.m. It is nice to see the Water Street sidewalks made so cool with the hose, but it is not so very nice when going to business at 9 or a little later to have the dust in the shape of mud thrown up on one's apparel by the force of water directed from the nozzle of the hose. Nor is it nice to be deluged with water by the boy who is holding the nozzle pointed east while he intently watches a dog fight at the opposite point of the compass. I think it is Councillor Mullaly who wants the hose shut off after 8.30 a.m. and who wants it used in the afternoon only from 1.15 to 1.45. He is certainly right. People coming to and going from work are often treated to undesirable shower baths by these hoses, and the time for their use should be altered. With thanks for publication.

Yours,
SHOP HAND.

The Poets-Laureate of England.

The precise origin of this office is not known; but it is certain that Chaucer, on his return from abroad, assumed the title, and in 1359 was given an annual grant of wine by Richard II.

James I. made the allowance 100 marks and Charles I. increased it to £100 per annum, with a tierce of Canary wine thrown in. On Southey's appointment the wine was commuted for £27 and the allowance has remained at £127 to this day.

The first poet laureate in the modern sense was Edmund Spenser, while Ben Jonson was the first to receive the office by formal letters-patent.

The following were poets-laureate:—Edmund Spenser (1591-99), Samuel Daniel (1593-1619), Ben Jonson (1616-37), William Davenant (1626-91), John Dryden (1670-88), Thomas Shadwell (1659-92), Nahum Tate (1682-1715), Nicholas Rowe (1715-18), Lawrence Emsley (1718-20), Colley Cibber (1720-57), William Whitehead (1757-85), Thomas Warton (1731-90), Henry James Pye (1780-1813), Robert Southey (1794-43), William Wordsworth (1793-50), Alfred Tennyson (1810-92), Alfred Austin (1896-1913).

Prospero Sails.

The s.s. Prospero sailed at 10 a.m. to-day for northern ports, taking full freight and the following saloon passengers:—Messrs. P. Ledingham, Rev. Maidment, Rev. Vivian, Elliott, H. Howlett, Perrin, K. Burden, B. Smith, Moore, J. B. Osmond, Wells, Dr. Selwyn Brown, S. Martin; Messrs. James Maidment, Howlett, Richards, Roberts, Dave, Keen, Davidson, North, Norris, Johnson; Master Howlett; Misses Howlett, Hann, Keen, Spurrell, Brown, Elderney, Butler (2), Quinlan (2), and 40 steerage.

New Dock Projected.

The principal business people of St. John's have now under consideration the construction of a marine railway dock. The idea of erecting the new dock, which will be something of the type of the Harbour Grace dock, is to prevent Placentia and Fortune Bay vessels from going to St. Pierre. Mr. F. J. Fitzgerald, who promoted the Harbour Grace dock, left yesterday for St. John's to select a site for the proposed plant. The new dock will be capable of taking on the stocks two banking vessels at a time.

NARROW ESCAPE.—This forenoon a seaman named Whelan had a narrow escape from being run over by Ayres & Sons' motor express van opposite the Court House.

THE FISHERIES BEING RUINED BY MORRIS'S POLICY!

Here and There.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH.—Tuesday past, Mrs. Veitch, of Holyrood, an old and respected resident of the place, died very suddenly. She was about her household duties when she became suddenly weak and after sitting on a chair became unconscious and died in a few moments. Heart disease was the cause of her very sudden demise.

SPRAINED HIS ANKLE.—Mr. Taylor, Freight Agent of the Reid Nfld. Co., while walking a few days ago twisted his foot and almost dislocated his ankle. He suffers much pain and is now compelled to use a stick to help him in walking.

PRISONER REMANDED.—The prisoner Brown, who was arrested for robbery, particulars of which were related in yesterday's Telegram, appeared before Judge Knight to-day. The accused was not asked to plead and a remand was asked for by the Deputy Minister of Justice.

OCTAGON REOPENS.—We learn that Mr. A. Poole, hotel keeper of Adelaide Street, will this summer take over the Octagon and will run it as usual. It is a popular resort and no doubt will be well patronized this summer.

Get a Move On.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—A report of the Nfld. Agricultural Board for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1912, was given me for personal a few days ago. I carefully noted reports from the various societies throughout the island, but was surprised to find after a fruitless search that the report from the Nfld. Agriculture Society was not in evidence to complete the list of reports suitable to that august body of Agricultural experts, who constitute the Agricultural Board of Nfld. What must the Secretary at St. John's be doing? Has his report gone to Berlin? Come! Mr. P. D., get a move on. Give us an account of the doings of your society for 1912 at least. Give an account of the number of pigs, rams, bulls and horses given by the society; the names of offspring from the Stable Island ponies; the number of young pigs propagated through the society; the number of calves for 1912, and the prospective number for 1913. Explain how the people were fooled with regard to the basic slag and lime. Why are these commodities not forthcoming? And last, but not least give us a statement showing how the grant of $200 was expended last year. Those interested in Agriculture have a right to know. If you failed, Mr. Secretary of the Nfld. Agricultural Society to contribute to the make-up of the annual report of the Nfld. Board, please try and give your report publicity in one of the dailies. Is the result of the society such a failure, as not to be able to furnish matter for a report? No wonder that the president to publicly declare it a "cod" and a "fake." We know nothing whatever of the doings of your society; in fact, it is by chance we know where the meetings are to be held.

It is up to the Board at St. John's to compel the Secretary at St. John's to make public his report, for the benefit of the people, whose requirements now-a-days are not best suited by such dead and alive way of doing business.

In anticipation of answers to the above, and with thanks to you, Mr. Editor.

I remain, A MEMBER. Holyrood, June 1, 1913.

Presentation to Rev. W. P. Finn.

We, the children of Gambo, express to you our sincere regret that you are leaving us. We know that you were very much interested in us. You always came to visit us when you came to Gambo. But of all your kind acts for us, there is one that shows you were really interested in us. That particular act is the getting for us such a trained and expert teacher as Mr. C. J. Kennally.

We express our thanks to you, and present you with this pipe as a token of our love and reverence for you. Wishing you many happy years in your new parish, and thanking you for your kindness towards us, we remain,

Yours most respectfully and reverently,

Catholic School-children of Gambo.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott, Twillingate, wishes this publicly to thank Rev. Doctor Rogers, Doctors Fraser and Knight, Miss Southcott, Superintendent, Miss Bowden, Asst. Superintendent, and the splendid staff of nurses for their wonderful attention and kindness to their son, Clarence, during and after his critical ordeal at the Hospital recently, also scores of callers, all of whom will be glad to know the young man who reached his majority just after he came out, is now rapidly building up at home, and is profuse in his gratitude to his many friends of the city, who will accept this intimation—advrt.11

From Great Lakes To The Rockies

WOMEN SING THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Saskatchewan Lady Adds Her Testimony To What Has Already Been Said of the Great Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing.

Caesarville, Sask., June 4.—(Special).—The scarcity of female help in a new country subjects the women of the prairies to unusual strain, and careful observation has established the fact that this strain first makes itself felt in the kidneys. For this reason Dodd's Kidney Pills are making an enviable reputation from the Great Lakes to the foothills of the Rockies.

Everywhere you will find women singing the praises of the great Canadian kidney remedy that has banished their pains and weariness, and brought them back to health. Among the many is Mrs. Edward Cowen, an estimable lady of this place.

"I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills very beneficial," Mrs. Cowen states. "If anything I can say will help any sufferer I am glad to add my testimonial to what has already been said."

The kidneys strain all the refuse material out of the blood. If they are out of order this refuse remains in the blood and becomes poison. That's why good kidneys mean pure blood and good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys.

Hot Shot; Downey Must Quit.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—The Western Star, in its issue of the 28th ult., strongly advocated editorially, increased representation for the West Coast, and the people are urged (and I think very properly) not to lose sight of the adjustment of representation in the Legislature in order that the residents in that portion of the colony share in the distribution of public monies. We notice, also, that the District of St. George's recognizes the need more than ever for the right man to "advocate and press home our claims; one who is independent of party pull and prepared to efface his party politics for the general benefit and welfare of the neglected West. Can such a man be found? We opine he can." We knew long ago, that "patriot" Mr. Joe Downey, the man who saved the country from Confederation and who since then has been feathering his own nest at the expense of the colony he saved to the tune of Two Thousand Dollars per annum, is no longer considered a patriot by the electors of Bay St. George. But we were somewhat surprised to find the Western Star, as quoted above, serving timely notice with no uncertain sound on the redoubtable Joseph, that he was a misfit. The whiff from the West is but another sure indication that no political grafters need apply for election at the hands of the sturdy and honest voters of Bay St. George. The people of this important district are heartily ashamed that they allowed themselves to be hoaxed into electing a man, and a patriot at that, for whom a job had to be made and the laws of the country altered to legalize such a scandalous piece of political jobbery as was resorted to so that Joseph Downey and Richard Beveraux might each draw a salary of $1,625 a year and expenses, in addition to their seasonal pay, as Commissioners of Agriculture. Can the members of Parliament who call themselves the people's party, have any sense of public duty and that honest regard for the trusteeship they held of the public taxes, when they voted year after year the payment of these salaries from the pockets of the people who elected them? Did they not realize that to give Mr. Downey the Agricultural expert $1,625 a year, they had to fleece thousands of needy fishermen, whose yearly income does not exceed $150? Thank God the end of this game is in sight—think of it, $10,000 a year in salaries alone, as soon to party leaders under the guise of promoting agriculture. How much disgusted the people really feel over the agricultural fraud I cannot convey an adequate description; but I know it furnishes an ample cause of itself, if no other existed for wiping out the Morris combine. This fabulist of that confederation yarn is certainly in a class by himself—the people of St. George's should be given more of the pedigree of this expert agriculturist and country saver. I will be going home next week, Mr. Editor, and shall anxiously await the time, when we can rid ourselves by means of Bond's Ballot Act, of the sardonic gang whose only object appears to be not to save the country but to swamp it.

Yours truly, WESTERN SHOREMAN.

Words of Praise.

If a man who scrubs your windows, for a little dough, toils like forty-seven Hindoos till they're clean as snow, when you go down in your raiment for the coin that pays, give him more than money payment, give him words of praise. If the dame who does your washing washes passing well, all day long in soap-sloshing, till the evening bell, show her you've been keeping cases on her winning ways, and before she homeward chases hand her words of praise. Nothing stimulates the shirker in this mundane mart, but some praise for willing worker cheers his honest heart; he who toils in weather sunny and on gloomy days, needs a little more than money—needs some words of praise. We're so stingy with this guerdon we might freely give! Sighing 'neath a heavy burden scores around us live; and that burden we might lighten as we go our ways, and so many pathways brighten, with some words of praise! If the man who shines your brogans shines the best he can, humming cheerily, the slogans of the bootblack clan, show him that his course will tickle all right-minded jays; hand him, with your pewter nickel, sundry words of praise.
