Love a Conqueror

WEDDED AT LAST

CHAPTER XXV.

He sank back exhausted; he had spoken with unusual passion and earnestness, and the feeble frame was not equal to such emotion. Guy bent over him, lifting him in his strong arms and supporting him tenderly during the paroxysm of pain which followed. As he laid him down again, the dying eyes met his with a loving light in them.

"Guy, you will forgive. Ah, it is hard. I know. But do not think that he will not suffer; he will regret his baseness bitterly. How can he be happy if he loves her and sees her misery? Lad, do you remember—the dying face was serene once more as the dying eyes lingered on Guy's softened face—the play we read together so long ago, and which you liked so well? Ah, Guy, how would you be, if he which is the top of judgment should but judge you as you are? Forgive him, lad. Promise me you will never seek to harm him—promise—promise, Guy."

The room was very silent for a space; the light fell upon both faces from the lamp above them, Sir Jasper's grave, earnest, pleading, Guy's softened truly, but full of bitter resentment still. It was bitter as death itself to give that promise. Hugh had been merciless to him—why should he show him mercy? But looking at the dying man who loved him, and who had borne a long life of pain so uncomplainingly—who, when revenge lay between his fingers, in the hollow of his hand, had laid it aside—he saw to what nobility a man can attain, he saw how much greater even than revenge was the conquest which had made him king over himself.

The door opened softly to admit Dickson, who came to the bedside noiselessly, then retreated again at a sign from the dying man. He went out quietly, his eyes dim and his lips trembling; the shadow had grown very dark and heavy, that fallin' shadow of death. The hall had ceased and the sound of the wind was lowered and rain fell.

"Will you not promise me, lad?" "I promise, Uncle Jasper," Guy said, brokenly; and a light of joy, so bright, so vivid, that for a moment it dispersed the gathering darkness shone on the dying face.

A Beautiful Virol Child.

29, Elphinstone Road, Walthamstow, July 18th, 1912.

VIBOL, LTD., 152-156, Old Street, London, E.C.

Dear Sirs, I have much pleasure in sending you a photograph of my daughter Doris, who is absolutely Virol fed. I was unable to feed her myself, and the doctor was to get a suitable food. We tried many of the advertised babies' foods but without exception they all caused gastric trouble.

At last we were advised to try Virol, and ever since Doris has steadily progressed. I don't think you can find a finer child anywhere, the photograph is good but it cannot convey her perfect bodily condition. Her age is two years, and she weighs two stone eight pounds.

You may use this photo if you care to as it clearly shows what Virol can do for a child.

Yours faithfully, D. MISELDINE.

"Thank you, lad; you have made me very happy, Guy."

The stillness deepened, the gray shadow crept over the suffering face; death was coming fast now.

"Poor lad!" murmured the pale lips. "You will be very lonely. I had so hoped!"

"You do not suffer?" Guy asked, bending over him.

"No, all suffering is nearly over, or me."

His eyes were closed, but he opened them suddenly, and looked long and lingeringly at the man he loved.

o well.

"Kiss me, lad," he whispered.

Guy bent down and touched with his pleasant face, "because she is so anxious not to let the world know the story of her married life."

"Poor Shirley!" sighed tender-hearted Ruby.

"Poor Shirley!" echoed her husband, sadly. "What a spoilt life hers has been!"

"And yet he is very good to her," Oswald said, Mrs. Fairholme, with a deprecating look in her soft, dark eyes.

"Yes; but she cannot forget, Ruby and he is not happy. How could he be?"

"She is very gentle with him, Oswald."

"She is as true and good a wife as if he had won her fairly," said Captain Fairholme. "But she cannot give him the love he wants."

CHAPTER XXVI.

"What are you puzzling your pretty head about, little woman? Is the communication a milliner's bill, and does she threaten legal proceedings?"

"It is much worse than a milliner's bill," said the pretty little wife, peeping round the urn to let her sweet dark eyes meet her husband's. "It is an invitation to dinner."

"From whom, Ruby? Not from Mrs. de Montgomery Tompkins, I suppose?" Oswald Fairholme interrogated gayly.

"No," little Mrs. Fairholme said with a long sigh and a rueful drawing of the corners of her pretty mouth—"from Alice."

"Another! We must be in her good books, wife. She has invited us three times this season already, and last year she asked us once, Ruby," Oswald remarked, with a laugh.

"Ah, but last year she thought I would allow her to patronize me!" said Ruby, with a little assumption of dignity which made her husband laugh still more heartily.

"And you refused to be patronized?"

"Of course; I was married more than two years before her, Oswald."

"But her husband is a 'real live lord'!" replied Oswald, still laughing; "and yours occupies a subordinate position at the War Office."

"A real live lord!" repeated Ruby. "I think he wishes he was—a—a navy, or one of his own footmen. They at least can give notice and go, and he can't!"

"You are very severe, little wife."

"I am always severe toward Alice," said Ruby. "I think it is horrible for her to tyrannize over her husband as she does."

"Come, that is capital!" declared Oswald, addressing his remark to the breakfast table, but not to the charming little dark-eyed woman facing him and looking as bright as the sweet spring day itself in her coquettish morning-dress and filmy lace cap. "And every one in London knows that there is no unfortunate fellow in it so henpecked as myself."

"Yes—you have that appearance," said Ruby, merrily, as her eyes met his across the table with a look of perfect love and trust. "I suppose we must go, Oswald?"

"I will do whatever you wish, my dear," answered her husband, with an exaggeration of meekness.

"Don't be too absurd, Oswald! Have you any engagement for Thursday next?"

"My dear girl, do you expect me to remember whether I have or not at this distance of time? Have you?"

"I am afraid not," Ruby said, sighing. "Besides, we refused last time."

"Can't Bertie have the croup?" suggested her husband, laughing at her resigned countenance.

"Oh, Oswald, how can you?" Ruby said, in a tone of horror which aroused her husband's merriment as he rose to leave the breakfast table.

"Oh, Ruby, how can you?" he mimicked gayly. "How can you credit your husband with such depravity? Let us go by all means, love," he added more gravely. "Her ladyship's dinners are terribly dreary feasts but one must sacrifice oneself occasionally, you know, especially to one's relatives."

"Very well, dear," Ruby said resignedly, "we will go. I cannot think how it is that Alice's dinners are so stupid. There is just as much stat and ceremony at the Glynn's, and yet Shirley's dinners are so charming."

"I think Shirley makes them as pleasant as she can, poor child," said Oswald, a sudden shadow falling on his pleasant face, "because she is so anxious not to let the world know the story of her married life."

"Poor Shirley!" sighed tender-hearted Ruby.

"Poor Shirley!" echoed her husband, sadly. "What a spoilt life hers has been!"

"And yet he is very good to her," Oswald said, Mrs. Fairholme, with a deprecating look in her soft, dark eyes.

"Yes; but she cannot forget, Ruby and he is not happy. How could he be?"

"She is very gentle with him, Oswald."

"She is as true and good a wife as if he had won her fairly," said Captain Fairholme. "But she cannot give him the love he wants."

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH R. WATLEY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 92.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few goss usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops ever whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 15 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in ginseng and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"It seems so sad to me, Oswald," Ruby remarked, as she followed him to the window of their pretty breakfast room and slipped her hand fondly through his arm, "that both their lives, and poor Major Stuart's as well, should have been spoiled. It would be much more according to my way of thinking if Shirley were to forgive her husband and fall in love with him, and Major Stuart should come back from his wanderings with a nice little wife of his own."

"It would certainly be a very satisfactory conclusion; but I am afraid I is a most unlikely one," said Oswald looking down at her with a smile. "Shirley's eyes made me sad some times; they have such sorrow in their depths. But speak of angels and is a splendid hill-climber, so that nothing stopped it. It is also light on tires which is a great thing when touring. I had no spare tires on my tour and beyond two small punctures, no trouble."

Yours truly, (Signed) N. S. FRASER.

"Yes," answered Shirley carelessly.

"And you are going?"

"Yes. We are disengaged, and Sir Hugh wished to go."

"Oh, I am so glad!" Ruby said cheerfully. "Alice's dinners are such ponderous affairs generally; but if you are going—"

"Perhaps Oswald will take me in to dinner," Shirley put in gayly.

"I am quite sure he won't," said Oswald's wife merrily; "because such a great lady as you will be conducted by Lord Eastwell himself."

"I am afraid I shall not enjoy my dinner the more for that," Lady Glynn remarked dryly.

"I can quite imagine Eastwell's heavy attentions interfering with one's digestion," said Oswald carelessly. "Is your husband well, Shirley?"

At the Casino.

A full house greeted the W. S. Harkins players at the Casino last night, when the sparkling comedy, "The House Next Door" was staged.

The performance was under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson.

The plot is characteristic of the hatred once held for the Jews by the English aristocracy, and is one of the finest dramas in the repertoire of the company. Miss Van Duzer and Mr. H. O. Stubbs were seen to advantage in their roles; last night, while the other characters were very faithfully portrayed by Miss Coggriff, Messrs. Conway, Stark and the other members of the company.

A very wholesome moral is to be learned from "The House Next Door" will be repeated to-night.

Letter From Dr. Fraser.

Dear Mr. Parsons. Jan. 6th, 1914.

In answer to your enquiries regarding the Ford Car which I purchased from you last season—1913, I may say it has given entire satisfaction. It has been in good running order during the whole year, and required no replacements, except to one back brake.

In addition to the ordinary town work I used the car touring. I took it around Conception Bay as far as Harbor Grace, then across to Trinity Bay, from Heart's Content up the South Shore by Trinity Bay through Heart's Desire, Heart's Delight, Island Cove, Cavendish, Witless Bay, Green's Harbor, New Harbor and then up to Whitbourne, from Whitbourne to Colinet, then back over the same road, and down to Brigus. Returning to New Harbor we went over the Barrens to Spaniard's Bay. On the Brigus Road we followed a car track three miles taking the car up to the side of the pond where we fished.

Some of these roads, like the Spaniard's Bay Road, were all rocks, and some such as the road near Heart's Desire, soft marsh, but the car is light, has good clearance underneath, and is a splendid hill-climber, so that nothing stopped it. It is also light on tires which is a great thing when touring. I had no spare tires on my tour and beyond two small punctures, no trouble.

Yours truly, (Signed) N. S. FRASER.

THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY.

The business of the The Eastern Trust Company is to administer Trusts. In this work it specializes, and it does no other. But no kind of trust is foreign to its scope or beyond its power to administer efficiently.

The Eastern Trust Company never speculates. It invests. It depends for its prosperity upon the efficiency of its management of its clients' business and upon the security of its investments.

The Eastern Trust Company executes the office of executor or administrator with unexampled efficiency, and its usefulness in this field is becoming rapidly more availed of.

For instance—In St. John, New Brunswick, where it has quite lately established a branch, the estate of James Ready, of Fairville, which has been sworn to under $651,300.00, is being administered by The Eastern Trust Company as one of the joint executors of Mr. Ready's will.

In Halifax, Nova Scotia, again, The Eastern Trust Company has just been chosen to administer the estate of Captain William Fleming, which is valued at more than half a million dollars.

The Company now administers many estates which in value amount to several millions of dollars. Particulars will appear in later advertisements.

The Eastern Trust Company can execute this function of executor or administrator as efficiently in Newfoundland as it can in Nova Scotia, Quebec, or New Brunswick.

The Eastern Trust Company requires commodious offices on Water Street. Apply to HERBERT KNIGHT, Law Chambers, Manager for Newfoundland.

FLORIZEL IN PORT.—The Red Cross liner Florizel, Capt. Smith, arrived to-day from New York and Halifax. From the latter port terrific weather prevailed, and last night a violent snow storm was encountered. She brought a full cargo, including 1,000 tons of coal, and the following passengers in saloon: S. MacBrien, W. Miller, J. Hallett, H. Dix, J. Sloyah, E. A. Dickson, Miss L. Moores, Mrs. R. C. Ayre, Eric Ayre, F. W. C. Foster, Mrs. F. M. Porter, Mrs. F. O. Grouce and infant, J. E. Urquhart, Mrs. Urquhart, Miss Urquhart, J. D. McClusky, A. Moulton, R. B. Job, Mrs. Job, G. M. Barr, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. J. Harvey, Mr. Jaa. Vign, Mrs. W. Richardson, J. Moss and 5 steers.

"I really believe she is jealous, Oswald," his cousin said lifting her eyebrows.

"Ruby a victim to the green-eyed monster!" replied Oswald, laughing. "The time of miracles is not passed, you see."

"Tell me, Shirley," Mrs. Fairholme said eagerly, "have you had an invitation to dine at Eastwell House on the twenty-sixth?"

"Yes," answered Shirley carelessly.

"And you are going?"

"Yes. We are disengaged, and Sir Hugh wished to go."

"Oh, I am so glad!" Ruby said cheerfully. "Alice's dinners are such ponderous affairs generally; but if you are going—"

"Perhaps Oswald will take me in to dinner," Shirley put in gayly.

"I am quite sure he won't," said Oswald's wife merrily; "because such a great lady as you will be conducted by Lord Eastwell himself."

The following answer also deserves my space:

"Just a word for the forlorn wives of poor men. The impulse seized me to leave my pie and cooky baking long enough to remind the complacent bachelor maid that the days do come and the years draw nigh when one is lonely, oh so lonely, without children or children's children."

"There's where the faithful toiler wife of an ordinary man gets her inling. And she can give up chasing lecture courses and art exhibitions and woman's clubs, and be a comfortable old lady without any sense of shame and loss. She that loses her life shall find it."

"I was a college woman, my husband is a collegebred, professional man. The fruits are two children of brilliant mind, and we are proud and happy."

(In haste for I fear the cranberries are sticking.)

ON E-W H O-FOUND IT WORTH WHILE.

"Did she really like my Christmas gift or was she just pretending to be pleased?" is a query that often lurks in the mind long after the holiday season is passed. It is so hard to tell. Some people can seem delighted when they are in reality most disappointed, and others lack the ability to make their thanks sound convincing.

ing no matter how pleased they really are.

All this is a preamble to a suggestion. If you want to do a kind thing, tell some member of your circle how much some other member seemed to enjoy his gift. Assurances like this from a third person are always much more convincing. I once gave a kodak, for which I paid more than I really could afford, to a nephew of mine. It did not seem to me at the time that he was particularly pleased. But the next time I met his sister she seized the opportunity to say, "I never saw anyone enjoy anything as much as Carl enjoys that camera." After that I felt well repaid for whatever sacrifice it had involved.

It's just a little thing to remember to do, but it may give a lot of happiness.

The following acrostic on optimism and pessimism which one of my reader friends has written and sent me is altogether too good not to share with my other reader friends:

THE CONTRAST.

Acrostic. Optimism.
Hope for the best, for evermore,
Overhead the sunlight gleams;
Pass not the time in weeping sore,
Ever watch the golden gleams
Thrown from Heaven's wide open door.

Hope the best, be energetic,
Ever seek the brighter view,
Brightest dreams may be prophetic,
Every promise may come true,
Stand not in the purple shadows;
Think—the best may come to you.

Pessimism.
Fear the worse, with moan and cry;
Every spring is going dry;
All our crops must surely fail;
Hats will turn to petting hair!
Thunder sure will kill the chicks,
Hurry up, we're in a fix;
Eyes we can turn around once more
We'll be turned outside the door!
Oh, whatever shall we do?
Rent will be to-morrow due!
Surely we shall all be ill;
Then who'll pay the doctor's bill?

CATHEDRAL MEN'S BIBLE CLASS.

TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Rev. Canon White, Rector, and Members of the Cathedral Men's Bible Class.

Your Committee wish to again perform what is at once their duty and privilege, viz.: the presenting of a report of the work of the Class for the past year. Altogether we think the year has been a very satisfactory one. We are pleased to note that the attendance has kept up to the standard. As in past years we are glad to have had many of our outport brethren present on several occasions.

The number of regular sessions held at the Synod Building totaled twenty-six, and two services at the Cathedral were held. The Class closed on Sunday, October 26th, and again on November 16th, both being occasions on which the C. L. B. held Church Parade, and the usual custom of closing to allow the members to attend these services was followed. The Class closed for the summer season on the last Sunday in April.

The annual service for sealers was held at the Cathedral on Sunday, March 9th. Despite other attractions there was a good attendance and a hearty service was held. The Rector very kindly delivering a splendid address.

Annual Tea and Entertainment.

The annual Tea and Entertainment was held in the British Hall, on Tuesday, April 1st. We are pleased to be able to report that it was most successful and enjoyable. The net proceeds amounting to $65.01. Once again we would express our heartfelt thanks to the ladies who so kindly provided and presided at the tea tables, and also to those ladies and gentlemen who contributed to the concert programme.

Conversations.

The annual conversation was held in the Synod Hall, on April 22nd. It was well attended and the splendid programme of vocal and instrumental selections and illustrated lantern lecture was thoroughly enjoyed. To all those who helped us on this occasion we tender our hearty thanks.

Harbour Mission Work.

Last year's report, in dealing with the lending of the Harbour Mission Boat to the Bishop for use during the voyage of the Church Ship, announced that it was hoped to be able to do something towards presenting His Lordship with a suitable boat. The Committee followed the matter up, and after some discussion, decided to recommend to the Class to present our own boat to the Bishop and to purchase a boat with motor engine for the harbour work. This the Class readily consented to and arrangements were made accordingly. Unfortunately we experienced a sore disappointment in this connection. His Lordship was at Bermuda for the winter and we were awaiting his return before informing him of the decision to present him with the class boat. During his absence, and unknown to us, the Bishop's agents had made arrangements to have a boat built for the ship and, upon our making the offer of the Bible Class boat, we were informed that it was too late to cancel the other contract. This was subsequently confirmed on arrival of the Bishop. Meantime we had completed arrangements for our new motor boat which was nearly finished when we first heard of the other boat being built for the Bishop. It was thought best to carry on with our new boat as decided and await developments with regard to disposing of the old boat.

The regular work of the Harbour Mission was commenced on Sunday, May 4th. The Celebration of Holy Communion was attended at the Cathedral on that date and was followed by the usual "starting" service, held at Messrs. Ayre and Sons wharf, at which the Rev. J. Brinton officiated. Owing to the non-completion of the new boat temporary arrangements were made for carrying on the work for a few Sundays.

On the completion of the new boat a special Dedication Service was held. His Lordship the Bishop very kindly performed the Dedication on Sunday, June 6th, at 8 a.m. Although the morning was very wet and stormy a number of members were present at the service. His Lordship made a brief address in which he thanked the class for offering him the old boat and said he regretted very much that the other arrangements made did not permit him to accept the offer.

The work was continued in the new boat up to the second Sunday in December. We are pleased to be able to say that the boat has given satisfaction and has enabled the crew to do the work much quicker and a great deal easier than before. The crew this year were:—Messrs. A. Crane, Captain; Geo. Martin, G. Crossman, W. Miles, L. Crane, R. Tilley and J. Billard. The total of 577 vessels were visited for the season. The members of the crew deserve the hearty thanks of the Class for their work.

The cost of the new boat and engine has been a bit heavier than was estimated. The expenditure for these will be seen by the Treasurer's Report. It has been borne by the C. M.

Wharf Mission.

The work of the wharf mission was also carried on during the year. Mr. George Laite attending to the work in the western section and the eastern was looked after by Messrs. W. Hall, W. Miller and Hiseock. We are greatly indebted to these members for the work done by them.

The Class Band.

Our hearty thanks are again due to the members of the Orchestra for their faithful and unremitting services during the year. Mr. Kelland, who was with us last season, has left the Colony and has been succeeded at the organ by Mr. Ralph LeMessurier. Other new members in the persons of Messrs. J. Snow, Thomas England and James Weir have joined and we gave them a hearty welcome.

Our Secretary Says "Good Bye."

In June last we had to part with another of the best working members of the class, when Mr. C. E. Whitten, our energetic Secretary, left to take up his residence in Montreal. Mr. Whitten served for quite a few years on the Committee and as Secretary did a great deal for the success of the Class. We are indeed very sorry that he has gone, but it is a great pleasure to hear of his success in his new home which we trust will continue.

Another of our workers in the person of Mr. Weston Miller, left us last November, he also taking up residence in Canada. Mr. Miller was connected with the work of the wharf mission and he, too, has our best wishes for the future.

Re-Opening For Winter Session.

The Class re-opened for the Fall and Winter Session with a service at the Cathedral on Sunday, October 5th. There was a large gathering of members and His Lordship delivered an excellent address on "Churchmanship."

Lecturers.

Besides the Class Leader and Chairman, Rev. J. Brinton, on whom the bulk of the work has fallen, we have to thank Revs. Canon Bolt and C. H. Barton, C. E. Hunt, Esq. and D. M. Browning, Esq., K. C., for helping with addresses. We also had the pleasure of having the Rector of Heart's Content, Rev. F. Smart, at one session, who, although he did not deliver the address, spoke a few words of kindly greeting and appreciation.

Our thanks are due to Messrs. G. A. Davey, J. Harvey and R. G. Rendell for kindness in allowing the Harbour Mission Boat and gear to be kept at their premises. Also to some friends and members who helped gratuitously in getting the new boat ready for work and to the Editors of the daily papers for many notices during the year. Trusting that our works and efforts may have the blessing of Almighty God for the future and wishing to all a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

We beg to respectfully submit this on behalf of the Committee.

Legislative Proceedings.

Between two and three o'clock yesterday afternoon, thirty-five members of the House of Assembly took the oath of allegiance before the Commission appointed by the Governor. At 2 p.m. they met and took their seats. Shortly afterwards the USHER of the Black Rod appeared at the bar of the House, and it was seen that Mr. E. S. Plummer had taken the place of his father, Mr. C. S. Plummer in that office. He delivered his summons and the members repaired to the Council Chamber, where His Excellency's Commissioners sat. The President delivered the Governor's message directing the members to repair to their own Chamber and elect a Speaker and present him to His Excellency on the morrow for approval. In going through this old procedure, one wonders what would happen should a Governor disapprove of the choice of the House. In these days a House would probably prove obdurate and the Governor would have to accept or get out. In practice, however, there is no difficulty. A Governor's approval of the choice of the House is given as a matter of course. Like the exercise of the King's veto over bills which have passed the House of Parliament, it has fallen into desuetude and is as dead as the dodo. This by the way. The members returned to their chamber and on the motion of Sir Edward Morris and Mr. Moulton, elected Mr. J. R. Goodison, member for Carbonear. He then retired with his proposer and seconder and robed himself in official dress and was led up to the chair by them. The Sergeant at Arms placed the mace on the table and the Speaker thanked the Assembly for the honor conferred and expressed his intention of maintaining the high tradition of the office, laying partisanship aside and showing fair play between man and man. Sir Edward Morris and Mr. Kent then spoke a few words of congratulations to him and the House adjourned till 2.30 this afternoon.

The Speaker was born in Carbonear in 1866 and is the first non-resident of the city to be elected to the office for the past eighty years. His father was the Rev. John Goodison, and his mother the eldest daughter of the late Hon. John Rorke, who represented Carbonear for many years and was in the Executive Council from 1879 to 1882. Mr. Goodison was educated at the Carbonear Grammar School and at New College, Eastbourne. In 1882 he returned to Newfoundland, and shortly afterwards entered his father's business. From 1891 to 1901, he lived in Boston, in the latter year returning to Carbonear and entering the employment of his uncles, Mr. James and John Rorke. In 1904 and 1908, he contested Carbonear unsuccessfully. He was returned in 1909 and again last fall. His last election has, however, been petitioned against. We congratulate Mr. Speaker Goodison on his election, in the full expectation that he will carry on the high traditions of the Speaker of the House of Commons, and of his own predecessors.

POLICE ARRESTS.—The police made three arrests last evening. The offenders were all ordinary inebriates.

Opening of the Legislature.

Speech of His Excellency the Governor Delivered in the Legislative Council Chamber This Afternoon.

HON. JOHN R. GOODISON,
 Speaker of the House of Assembly.

Mr. President and Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:
 Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honourable House of Assembly:

I welcome you with pleasure at this, the opening of the twenty-third General Assembly, and I trust that your labours under Divine Providence will tend towards a continuance of the gratifying conditions of prosperity and contentment now so general amongst our people.

I availed myself of the opportunities during the past year to visit different parts of the country and familiarize myself with the industries of the people and the resources of the Island. It was a great pleasure to me to find the evidences of well-being everywhere manifest, and to note the industrial progress made in the different localities, and I take pleasure in expressing the hope that these happy circumstances will long continue, and that still other avenues of employment will be opened up, to enable the people further to improve their material position, and to add to the wealth of the community. I was specially gratified to observe the increased interest in agriculture, and to learn that developments in this respect are but the forerunner, it is believed, of still further efforts to raise at home larger quantities of many of the foodstuffs now partly procured from other countries.

Feeling confident that in so doing I was but voicing the wishes of the Legislature and the people of Newfoundland, I recently extended an invitation to their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to visit this country during the coming summer, if their engagements will permit, and you will rejoice to know that they have promised to do so if it is at all possible. I am confident that, should they find themselves able to come to Newfoundland they will receive the whole-hearted welcome that always goes out to members of the Royal Family from the people of the Oldest Colony.

It has been summarized thus early in the year in the belief that a session at this season, when virtually undivided attention can be given to public business, will operate to the general advantage.

The General Election held in October last was, it is pleasing to note, marked on the whole by a continuation of the good order and peaceful discussion characteristic of such contests hitherto, a fact affording strong testimony to the law-abiding character of the people.

The fishing industry last year in its various branches was, I rejoice to say, attended with success. The catch of codfish was about an average one, and the prices realized were good. The returns from the seal fishery were considerably in excess of those of 1912. Though the lobster pack was small, the very high prices which ruled, helped to offset the shortage. The outlook in the foreign markets, moreover, is encouraging, and the recent change in the American tariff law by which our fishery products are admitted free to the markets of the United States will help materially to maintain prices as well as stimulate the export of green fish.

The agricultural prospect, viewed in the light of last year's operations, is most gratifying. The number of agricultural societies is increasing, and the stimulus imparted to the industry by their activity warrants the belief that, as the years go by, this pursuit will be much more widely practiced. The results of the distribution of improved stock and seeds during the past few years are becoming apparent, and each season increasing numbers of our people are widening the scope of their activities in this regard, as disclosed by the encouraging exhibits at the series of exhibitions held in the various districts, some of which exhibitions it was my good fortune to open.

The volume and value of our exports are being swollen each year by the constantly increasing output of the mining companies at Bell Island and of the pulp and paper companies in the Exploits Valley, while, of course, the high prices obtained for our fishery products are a chief contributory to our economic stability. The output of iron ore for the calendar year amounted to one million, four hundred and fifty-eight thousand, five hundred and twenty-five tons, valued at one million, six hundred and forty-two thousand, one hundred and seventy-six thousand, five hundred and ninety-two dollars for the previous calendar year, and a similar increase is estimated for the year just opened. The export of pulp and paper for the last fiscal year amounted to two million, four hundred thousand dollars as against one million, six hundred thousand dollars for the previous year and figures for the past six months show an output from this source valued at one million, nine hundred thousand dollars, so that the exports of these commodities will probably represent a very large increase at the end of June next over the shipments for the twelve months which ended in June, 1913.

It is now something over fifteen years since the prosecution of the whole fishery was revived in this country. During that period a feeling has grown amongst our fishermen that the carrying on of this industry is detrimental to our great fishery, the cod, as well as to our bait supplies of caplin and squid. It is important that this question should be promptly enquired into, and, if the fears of our people are well grounded, measures must be adopted to remove the evil. My Ministers propose to have an investigation made into this matter immediately.

My Ministers have also been for some time and at present engaged in negotiating with British capitalists for the construction of a railway from Notre Dame Bay to Bay of Islands, and for the establishment of a ferry service between Bay of Islands and the eastern seaboard of Canada, for the purpose of establishing better transport facilities and of developing the fishing industry of the Island.

SELLING CUT

Bargains in Crockeryware.

JOHN B. AYRE.

The Bay de Verde branch has been graded, the rails and ballasting far advanced, and some of the stations built. It should be ready for operation in the early fall. The Fortune Bay branch has been graded for the fifteen miles, but not yet ballasted. The Bonne Bay branch was commenced late in the season, and the work done to date is but preliminary.

It is encouraging to observe that your efforts to attract the attention of outside capitalists to the varied and natural resources of the country are gradually bearing fruit. My Ministers are at present in negotiation with the representative of a large group of British investors with a view to the utilization of some of the vast water powers of Labrador and the establishment of very large industries calculated to afford permanent employment to numbers of our people, and to reproduce in that land the transformation that has been effected in our own Island in recent years.

My Ministers have also been for some time and at present engaged in negotiating with British capitalists for the construction of a railway from Notre Dame Bay to Bay of Islands, and for the establishment of a ferry service between Bay of Islands and the eastern seaboard of Canada, for the purpose of establishing better transport facilities and of developing the fishing industry of the Island.

A Misapprehension.

We call attention to an error which occurs in Mr. Coaker's letter of Monday in regard to the publication of Sir Robert Boscawen's letter. The publication of Capt. Yates' letter, Mr. Coaker states that Capt. Yates' letter was made public before Sir Robert published his manifesto. Yates' letter appeared in the Daily News on October 2nd. Sir Robert's letter appeared in the Evening Telegram on October 4th, and although it was dated before it was out of Sir Robert's hand, and printed, put up in pamphlet form and distributed partially, before October 2nd, the day Capt. Yates' letter appeared.

Girl's Nerves Fully Restored

Was Never Able to Obtain Lasting Benefit Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Was Used.
 Too many girls grow up with weak, anaemic bodies and exhausted nervous systems. Junior life and too much application in school are sometimes the cause.
 The blood needs enriching and the nerves need strengthening by such means as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This food cures the following troubles for many thousands of girls whose parents had almost despaired of their ever developing into strong, healthy women.
 Mrs. J. Bagnall, 395 Woodville Avenue, Toronto, writes: "My daughter suffered from nervousness since childhood, and any medicine she tried did not do any lasting good. We read in the papers about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and my daughter used it with wonderful results. This treatment strengthened her nerves and so she is like another girl."

The Recital at Cochrane St. Church.

The splendid audience which attended Cochrane Street Church, last night, testified to the wide interest that these Recitals have gained of late years. Our choirs are perhaps the hardest worked of our musicians and it is a pleasing recognition of their worth as well as an agreeable occasion for the members of other choirs and congregations to repeat any music prepared specially for any Festival of the Church.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Herder and Mr. Ruggles. Miss Herder sang "How beautiful upon the Mountain" very pleasingly, the refrain being especially smooth and sweet. Mr. Ruggles had the well-known "But who may abide" from the Messiah and was most clear in the runs which occur in it.

The trio for Organ, Violin and Violoncello by Mr. Arthur Mews, Mr. F. Bradshaw and Mr. Alex Mews went well, the characteristic form of Schumann's "Why?" and the delightful "Till" of Schubert's "Moment Musical" being well brought out.

The choir sang two Christmas Anthems and two Carols in good style, perhaps the most pleasing being the Carol, "Sleep, Holy Babe!" for those who like quiet pieces while the full volume of the "Noel" Anthem satisfied those who prefer "the full organ." In this latter Anthem Mr. C. Fletcher had a short solo which he took in a spirited manner.

Those who are familiar with the work of a choir can appreciate all the "ups and downs" through which it passes. The almost constant changing of the personnel makes endless work so that the results of the choir's efforts last night are altogether commendable and reflect much labour on the choirmaster's part and on the choir's part.

Mr. Arthur Mews played five pieces on the organ, and brought out the large possibilities of this fine instrument. He was described by the late Cherubino some years ago as "facile princeps" of our amateur organists, and it is not evident that he has dropped any from that position. To him as organist and choirmaster, the whole responsibility of last night's Recital rested and it must be gratifying to him that it was brought to such a successful issue.

Mrs. Dawe, owing to illness, could not sing.

Parade and Concert.

The seamen of the Manchester Commerce, or better known as the Minstrel Troupe, paraded Water Street last night and attracted the attention of a crowd of people. The troupe discoursed some lively airs, with an improvised band and which afforded endless fun to the small boy. After the march the troupe-makers gave a concert at the Gaiety Theatre, Mechanics' Hall, consisting of songs, dances, sketches and dialogues. The different items were interesting and well received by the audience. The seamen are ideal entertainers, are fine singers and can play any kind of a musical instrument. To-night the troupe will give a farewell concert as their ship will leave port for her destination to-morrow.

 BRITISH MUSEUM opened 1753. This was founded by Hans Sloane's collection, which the Government acquired for £20,000, though worth four times as much. The library in which copies of all books published in Great Britain have to be sent to is a great treasure house of books, ancient and modern. The museum portion contains a series of invaluable collections of sculptures, antiquities, bronzes, jewels, geological specimens, rare manuscripts and books. The Natural History Department is now separately housed at South Kensington.

Obituary.

PHILIP WALL.
 An old and respected resident of the West End, in the person of Mr. Philip Wall, passed away at his late residence, 226 New Gower Street, this morning. The deceased had reached the ripe old age of 86 years, and was for many years employed as fish cutter with the firm of Tessier & Co. In his earlier years he was one of the foremost fish-splitters in Newfoundland. He is survived, in the city, by a widow and two sons, and one daughter in Chicago, to all of whom the Telegram offers sincerest sympathy.

A Public Meeting under the direction of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Gower Street Church on Thursday evening, at 7.45 sharp. Various churches will be represented by those taking part.—Jan 14, 21

Entertainment at Bay Bulls.

A very enjoyable entertainment consisting of instrumental and vocal selections, dialogues, etc., was held at Bay Bulls on Monday and Tuesday nights. After the entertainment each night a dance was held and teas and refreshments were served. The good teachers who got up the entertainment deserve our congratulations and thanks; also the children; those who served the teas and refreshments; and all who helped in any other capacity. The whole thing was most successful and reflects great credit on the place, and we thank all irrespective of creed for their patronage and assistance.—Com. Jan. 14th, 1914.

Curling Notes.

The skips of the Natives and All-Comers played at the Curling Rink last night for the pipes presented by Mr. A. Robertson. The ice was in excellent condition and the contest was an exciting and hard fought one, ending in a draw, both sides scoring 13 points. The players were:—

VALPARISO, Chile, To-Day. Two boats containing the dead bodies of the second mate and two sailors of the German steamer Acilia were found in Aguirre Bay, Terra del Fuego. The Acilia left Tucupilla, Chile, early in October, and later called at Corral, Chile, whence she sailed for Hamburg October 27. No report of the accident to Acilia has been received.
LONDON, To-day. The Standard announces the belief on good authority that the most radical feature of Lipton's Shamrock Fourth, will be the adoption of an American centerboard. This will be the first time in the history of British yachting that a large craft has been fitted with a centerboard. The Challenger will be the first yacht of this type to be sent across the Atlantic to compete for America's cup.

Story of the Rescuers.

Special Evening Telegram.
HALIFAX, To-day. Capt. McKinnon, of the steamer John L. Cann, says he was bound to St. John, laying at Westport on account of the storm. At 3:30 p.m. yesterday he got word that the steamer Cobequid was on the Trinity Ledges. He left for the scene, arriving at 5:30 and found the Cobequid laying with head to Westward, bow down, stern up. The main deck was awash and a high tide was running. From what he had been told, the steamer filled in three minutes after she struck. When the Cann arrived from Westport and had taken two boat loads aboard, a third was on the way to her. He took the Cann to windward to make a lee for the boat, so she could have smoother water. Then she went nearer the wreck, picked up the last boat which left the ship transferring the passengers. The fourth engineer was washed overboard, but was rescued. All the lifeboats were more or less smashed in transferring and were allowed to go. He went as near the ship as possible, but nothing more could be done, as those aboard had no other boat available in which to leave the ship. The steamer Lansdowne is lying by and will take them off this morning, as the reasons the ship was so far off her course, none of the officers would make a statement. It was gathered, however, she had stopped frequently while going up the bay to take soundings to find her position. A strong current and heavy wind drove her off her course. She must have passed up inside the Lurcher, although the Lightship was not seen. The captain was on the bridge and the mate had gone aft to sound, when breakers were seen ahead. The captain at once seized the wheel, threw it hard down in an attempt to get clear, but it was too late. The vessel is now lying encased in ice to her mastsheads.

Parade Rink open to-night and to-morrow night, with Terra Nova Band. Also on Saturday afternoon for children, with Band, admission 10c.—Jan 15, 11

OCEAN RACE.—An ocean race is expected to take place between the vessels Ollinda, Gaspé and Mildred which are now ready to leave for Pernambuco. The result of the contest will be awaited with interest.

Back Was Lame For Two Years

Stomach Troubles and Weakness of Kidneys Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
There is an enormous amount of suffering from liver and kidney derangements and stomach troubles that could easily be avoided by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you could only realize the scores of everyday ills that arise from a sluggish condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels you would not be long in giving this medicine a trial.
Mrs. Edward Stewart, New Richmond West, Que., writes: "I want to tell you how thankful I am for using your Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for stomach troubles and backache caused by weak kidneys. I was unable to wash any clothes for over two years on account of my back being lame. I read the Almanac and began using these pills. Two boxes made a complete cure. I can do my own washing and other work now, and want to say to lady friends that they do not know how much I appreciate Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills." 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Ed. A GOOD OMEN. Recent advices from the north are that the different bays and harbours are closely packed with ice. Old-timers say that this is a good omen as it indicates a good seal fishery.

C. C. C. DANCE.—On next Tuesday night, the eve of the first general holiday for the winter season, the C. C. C. Boat Club will run off their annual dance in the British Hall. The Battalion's band will furnish the music which is ample assurance of a good time.

COLLEGE HOCKEY.—The hockey teams representing the Bishop Field, St. Bon's and Methodist Colleges held practice at the Prince's Rink this forenoon, the ice being as smooth as glass. The first game of the Inter-Collegiate series will take place on next Saturday week.

The advent of the frosty part of weather has put the different hills and inclines in the city in ideal condition for coasting. The speed limit is being exceeded by slides. The police have been acquainted of people getting knocked down and are going to put a stop to the practice altogether.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. George C. Whitten, Cooper, of the South Side, wishes to thank the members of the St. John's Journeymen Coopers' Union, for their kind remembrance and valuable assistance to him at Christmas, also to the many friends who were so kind to remember him at Christmas and New Year.—adv.

BERNE, Switzerland, To-day. The assistance of the Great Powers in the prevention of another war between Greece and Turkey is being sought by Premier Venizelos of Greece, who, with the Government considers such a calamity most probable, since the advent to power as Turkish Minister of War of Enver Bey. It was learned here to-day in authoritative circles that this was the chief object of the visit of the Greek statesman to various European capitals. He said that Greece fears the result of such a conflict, as Turkey is indisputably stronger on the sea since her purchase of the Brazilian dreadnought Rio de Janeiro.

JOHANNESBURG, To-day. The siege of the Trades Hall where Secretary Bain of the Federation of Trades and band of his supporters are defying the police from behind the barricade constituted the main feature of the strike drama yesterday. After the Hall had been raided by the police yesterday morning without success, a final bayonet charge, the police were compelled to make several bayonet charges, owing to the aggressive attitude of the police, many of whom were slightly injured. With a final bayonet charge, the police cleared the entire neighbourhood and a cordon of police with fixed bayonets was thrown around the hall. A bomb explosion occurred to-day at Benone, slightly injuring three mounted troopers. The Transvaal Authorities are maintaining Martial law and are attempting to insure an adequate supply of food and fuel. The bakers are determined not to strike for the present, but they refuse to bake for police, troops, or special constables.

C. of E. Teachers Meet

The annual meeting of the Cathedral Parish Sunday School Teachers was held last night in the Synod Hall. The Rev. Canon White in the chair; the Rev. J. Brinton and A. G. C. Stamp were also present. The Secretary, Lady Horwood, read the reports of the Sunday Schools, which showed that the attendance and finances of the school were in exceptional good standing. The chairman congratulated the teachers on the excellent work being done and stated that the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President and Chairman, Rev. Canon White; Vice-Presidents, Rev. J. Brinton and Rev. A. G. C. Stamp; Secretary, Lady Horwood; Treasurer, W. N. Gray; Assistant Treasurer, J. M. Carbery. The distribution of prizes will take place in the near future.

Living Statues.

The prettiest sight ever seen is the beautiful tableau of living statues at Rossley's. During the evening the large audience showed their appreciation by rounds of applause. The Blue Beard Pantomime seems to be in great favour. Jack Rossley is, of course, the chief fun-maker; his song, "Has Anybody Here Seen Me," in which he impersonates an actress who has lost her memory, it's a scream and when he goes through the audience looking for himself—or herself, it's too funny. There is some high class singing by Louise Arkandy that shows the shows the true artist. Mrs. Rossley has in hand one child-hood's hero, "Robinson Crusoe," also a great Scotch pantomime entitled "Bonnie Mary McIndoo."

At the Crescent.

The "Stolen Idol and Honor" and the "Sword," two strong dramas, followed by "Jealousy of Jane and Belmont" two strong roving comedies, was the picture bill at the Crescent Picture Palace, yesterday, and the bill was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audiences who witnessed it. Mr. David Parks sang "Then You'll Remember Me," and was accorded a splendid reception. The same programme is repeated to-day. For Friday and Saturday a specially selected list of pictures and song will be exhibited. On Saturday afternoon a grand matinee will be given for the ladies and children.

PASSENGERS AND CREW LANDED SAFELY

Another Triumph for Wireless.

Special to Evening Telegram.

HALIFAX, Jan. 14. A wireless from the steamer Lady Laurier, reports she has located the ill-fated Cobequid, on the Trinity ledges, above the entrance to Yarmouth, eight miles south of Cape St. Mary's, and five miles from land. Her stack and spars are visible, the seas making a clean breach over her. Many steamers are in the vicinity, waiting to render assistance when possible.

LATER—News comes that the passengers and crew of the Cobequid are safe. The steamer Cann has taken off 60 and landed them at Yarmouth; others on board, numbering 102, will be taken off by other steamers standing by. It was on Trinity ledges where the Cobequid met disaster.

LATER—The entire crew and passengers have been landed safely at Yarmouth. There is no danger of the steamer breaking up, if the weather remains as at present.

YARMOUTH, N.S., This a.m. One hundred and six persons are aboard the steamer Chebucto, safe. Ninety-four of the Cobequid's passengers and crew are here. Two rescuing ships, the Westport and John L. Cann, commanded by two brothers, McKinnon, arrived here to-night with 72 and 22 persons, respectively. There are 12 men, including the captain and wireless operator, still aboard the Cobequid. The navigating officers of the ship have refused to talk. There were three of the Company's officials aboard when the steamer struck, Captain M. Hicks, Marine Supt., and Messrs. Alsop and Kenney, two directors who were too exhausted to give a statement to-night. The junior officers and members of the crew say the ship struck during a dense storm at 6.15 yesterday morning, and filled in a very few minutes. The wireless operator was able to send one call for help before his aerials iced up, after which he was helpless. The furnace fires were put out in a few minutes, and the passengers and crew were forced by the rapidly rising water to the boat deck, where they took refuge in the captain's quarters. For 24 hours, amidst one of the worst storms that ever swept this coast with the thermometer hovering around zero, and mountainous seas sweeping over the ship and breaking her up beneath them, the passengers and crew remained huddled together, expecting every minute the vessel would go to pieces. Trinity Ledge, where the steamer struck, is almost dry at low water. The rise and fall of the tide is about 14 feet. It is a shelving ledge, only about fifty feet square, with a bell buoy quite near. All around is bold water, and had the Cobequid gone 100 yards one way or the other, she would have gone clear, though she would have probably struck the land. The party arrived here with nothing but what they stood in, and ten men had to be sent to hospital suffering from frost bites and minor injuries. One seaman named Hurley, had a broken arm, and a leg badly cut. Chief Engineer Douglas, interviewed, said the ship had encountered a series of heavy gales and snow squalls, and particularly so on Monday night. In his opinion the bottom has gone out of the ship, but above the water she is intact except that her hatches are washed off.

NAGAZAKI, Jan. 14. A party of refugees arrived to-day and reported that the inhabitants of 600 houses, composing the village of Seto, on Sakma Island, had lost their way while trying to reach the seashore, and that probably all had perished together. They believe that many others were drowned while trying to swim across the Gulf to Kagoshima. The volcano is said to have completely changed its form, several new craters having opened. The hall of ashes ceased here after lasting 36 hours.

Fogs.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sitwash."
A fog is a thick spot in the atmosphere, makes it only about as transparent as a street car window.

Fogs are caused by a disagreement between the earth and the atmosphere. When the earth is warmer than the air, it sends up vapor which the air does not want and tries to return by condensing it. The warmer earth, however, keeps it from returning and so the poor stuff hangs betwixt and between like Harry Thaw hunting for some country which wants him.

Fogs are very inconvenient, blotting out familiar landmarks and railroad signals and causing trains to wander through each other in the same block with the utmost abandon. Navigating the North river, off New York, in a fog and a ferry boat at the same time, is more exciting than dodging automobiles on Fifth avenue; while no traveler who has crossed the Atlantic in a dense clammy fog, with the whistle tooting once a minute and Providence putting on extra help to keep the rocks and ice bergs out of the way, can regard the stuff with anything but intense hostility.

Fogs are a great curse on the ocean, and each year dozens of ships try to butt their way through the British Isles with the most harrowing results while burrowing through the opaque horizon. The most famous fogs are those of London, which are adulterated with coal smoke and bus drivers' language, and which are so thick that the puzzled pedestrian leaves a wake behind him like a steamship, as he cruises warily from curb to curb.

However, the densest fog is the one which surrounds Washington during a session of Congress. It is so dense that a Congressman is often unable to see the situation in his district even by reading the home newspapers.

If fogs could be trained and managed by the weather department, they would be a great blessing. If a permanent fog could be trained around the tops of some of Chicago's most utilitarian skyscrapers, they would not cause the lover of good architecture to gasp so painfully as he passed them.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets to-night; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, backache and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery. A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. No more days of gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then. All druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.

Fire on the Southside Road.

BARN DESTROYED.

An alarm of fire was sent in from the South Side Road at 9 o'clock last night, summoning the Central and Western Companies who upon arrival found the barn owned by Mr. Charles Smallwood on fire and practically consumed.

The blaze had done its work, and a stream was used on the adjacent buildings to save them from the conflagration.

Mr. Smallwood was working in the barn at the time the fire occurred. He was planing some boards when one of them struck the kerosene oil lamp he was using, upsetting it amongst a pile of shavings.

The building was said to be insured with the Liverpool, London, and Globe, of which Messrs. Bowring Bros. are the agents.

Sufferers From Piles.

ZAM-BUK HAS CURED THESE!

Friction on the hemorrhoid veins that are swollen, inflamed and gorged with blood, is what causes the terrible pain and stinging and smarting of piles. Zam-Buk applied at night will be found to give ease before morning. Thousands of persons have proved this. Why not be guided by the experience of others?

Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "I must thank you for the benefit I have received from Zam-Buk. Last summer I suffered greatly from piles. I started to use Zam-Buk and found it gave me relief, so I continued it, and after using three or four boxes I am pleased to say it has effected a complete cure."

Mr. G. A. Dufresne, 183-185 St. Joseph Street, St. Roch, Quebec, P. Q., writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to everyone who suffers from piles."

Magistrate Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N.S., says: "I suffered long from itching piles, but Zam-Buk has now cured me."

Mr. William Kenty, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N.S., says: "I suffered terribly from piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments, but everything I tried failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying various remedies, when I heard of Zam-Buk, and thought as a last resource I would give this balm a trial. After a very short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and diseases, eczema, ulcers, varicose veins, cuts, burns, bruises, chaps, cold sores, etc. 50c. box from all druggists and stores, or post free form Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

Special Meeting Firemen's Union.

A special meeting of the Firemen's Union was held in the L. S. P. U. Hall last night when it was decided to establish a Mortality Fund. The proposed arrangements met with the approval of all, and it was also added that in the case of members being three months or more in arrears, no benefit will be allowed. The Executive Committee will meet weekly on Monday nights to consider applications for membership and the collection of dues. Mr. Martin McAllister, who was recently elected President and Delegate, resigned, and was succeeded by Mr. F. Baldwin as President, and Mr. F. Woods was elected Vice-President and Delegate. Matters in connection with the employment of men on the sealing steamers will be discussed at the next meeting.

Healthy and Unhealthy Lighting.

Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not viliate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:

Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this, amongst other reasons, that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.

He would merely add that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Dudley, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.

I have in my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with pleasure through a three hours' dinner, but which, with the march of civilization, had its illumination changed from gas to electricity, the latter being employed with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of asphyxiation.—Vivian B. Lewes, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—Nov. 11

A Mystery Solved

AFTER THIRTEEN LONG YEARS.
Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—After 13 years dead, the skeletons or bones of Mrs. James Milley and her niece Miss Fannie Milley, were respectfully laid to rest in the Methodist cemetery of Burnt Point, December 27th, 1913. It will be remembered by some of your readers, that on October 30th, 1900, these two people left their homes to pick some berries to preserve as a part of their refreshment for the coming winter, each taking a galvanized water-bucket to contain their day's work. In the evening of the same day, about 2.30 o'clock, a snow storm came on making it almost impossible for any human flesh to live, and lasted for some hours up to 9.30 o'clock. This storm will long be remembered by a great many people, especially by the neighbors of our settlement. This storm caused these two poor creatures to stray away from the right path which led them out to Northern Bay, a distance of about 1½ miles from their home. Instead of coming homeward these poor people took the opposite direction and went inward for some distance, and some time during the night perished from exposure and exhaustion. Search parties set at work immediately as the storm came on, and so continued for months but no trace could be seen. A reward was offered for the party who would recover the bodies. If I mistake not, it was the Government who offered the reward. Mr. George Coish, of Ochore Pit Cove, while on duty some three miles countryward from Northern Bay, came in contact with the remains, and to his astonishment saw the frames and buckets nothing the worse for the long time they were exposed to the winds and the weather, which is a mystery. Should not this Mr. Coish be rewarded for his recovery and the conveying of the news to relatives and friends of these poor creatures? To the bereaved mother, fathers and friends, I convey my sincere sympathy.

From dust we came,
To dust we must return.

Respectfully yours,

E. B. TUCKER,
Burnt Point.

Rudolph L. Koch

DRAWS LARGE AUDIENCES.
Rudolph L. Koch made his second appearance at the Nickel Theatre last evening and sang Verdi's "Radiant Aida" to large and enthusiastic audiences. Having recovered from the effects of his journey he was in exceptionally good form, and his singing was warmly applauded. The picture were excellent and won approval. "Broncho Billy's Gun-Play" is a story of western prairie life; "The God o' Gold" by the Selig Co., is a very clever drama. "The Ambassador's Disappearance" is a Vitagraph film with Maurice Costello in the role of a detective. The other films were also popular and gave general satisfaction. This evening the programme will be repeated, and those wishing to spend a profitable and pleasant hour should attend.

Hockey Notes.

The St. Bona and Victorias held practice at the Prince's Rink last night.

The Crescents and Feldians will go on to-night.

So far each team has had two practices and as many more will put the players in good form.

There is a noticeable difference in the line-up of the teams and it looks as if this season's League games will be the best contested for years.

The Fiddings and St. Bona's have some college students in their ranks. They are excellent hockeyists and will help in no small degree to bring their teams to the front.

Snowballing.

Snowball throwing is very prevalent in the city amongst boys, yet the practice becomes a serious nuisance when elderly people are made a target of and get injured. The police have had complaints of this sort and will endeavour to try and kill this sort of unmanly sport. Yesterday 50 boys were before court for snowballing and each had to pay $2.50.

DR. SILLIKER wishes to announce to his patients that the Harris fire did very little damage to his Dental Offices, and that in a couple of days he will be able to attend to his patients again.—Jan 15, 21

NOTE OF THANKS.—We wish to express our thanks to doctors and nursing staff of the General Hospital for the kindness shown Mrs. Gardner, and all others who helped to make her time pleasant during her stay at the above institution.—N. J. G.

Holy Name Society.

The Annual Tridium of the Holy Name Society began at 8 o'clock last night, and was largely attended. Rev. Dr. Greene, at the request of the Spiritual Director, recited the opening prayers and delivered the lecture of the evening, taking as his text, "Wash me yet more from my iniquity." He dealt with the object for which the members were called together and exhorted all to prepare in a becoming manner for the celebration of the Feast of the Holy Name, on Sunday next. Benediction was imparted by Rev. Fr. Sheehan (Director), and the singing of the hymns by the congregation was exceptionally fine. Mr. C. Hutton presiding at the organ. His Grace the Archbishop was present in the Sanctuary. The singing of the Holy Name hymn brought the devotions to a close after which the members dispersed. The Tridium will be continued tomorrow evening at the same hour, and it is sincerely hoped that a still larger number will be in attendance.

The Greatest Invention Of The Age

NOW IN USE BY LEADING MERCHANTS IN ST. JOHN'S.

By the use of this latest invention you can have, in one second, speech with any or all of your staff, located anywhere on your premises, without leaving your desk, without wasting the time your employees uses in going from their station to the private office, without any bell to ring or other attachment to handle. You may give callers attention without admitting them to your room and all the time your hands are disengaged and you may speak from three to ten feet from your instruments and be perfectly heard at the other end of the line. If you are interested in this service Mr. Percie Johnson will furnish detailed information on request. This service has been tested by six months perfect working in St. John's.

Ice Condition Up North.

The following message was received last evening by Bowring Bros., from Capt. Kean, of the S. S. Prospero, which is due to-morrow from the northward:—

"Green Bay blocked with ice from Exports. Could not call at ports between there and this. Had to come outside the Baracks; wind north and frosty."

From the tenor of the message, which was sent from Seldom Come by, it is certain that the Prospero had to omit ports in Green Bay.

Created Scene.

Two fellows of the never-do-well class and who are "lovers" of work, created a scene on Duckworth Street at six o'clock last evening. They were about half seas over and their blasphemy was outrageous, being listened to by women and children who passed by. It was a pity there was not a police officer on hand at the time.

To-Night's Debate.

The subject for debate at the M. C. L. Rooms to-night is:—"Would Government by Commission be preferable to our present Municipal System." The leaders for the sides are Mr. William White and Mr. I. C. Morris, and a lively and interesting discussion is sure to follow.

The S. S. Beatrice left Sydney, coal laden, for this port yesterday.

"A RECORD."

Over 12,000 bottles of Stafford's Liniment sold Last Year.

We assure our friends who have patronized us that we appreciate their kindness to the fullest extent, and extend our wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

The Store that Saves You Money!

Ten Strong Reasons why you should Buy Your Furniture

FROM THE

C. L. MARCH CO., LIMITED,

Corner of Water and Springdale Streets.

- 1st—We produce our own lumber which goes into the Furniture and saves considerable cost.
- 2nd—We have the Surface Oak finish for our Furniture, which is the only thing of its kind in the country.
- 3rd—We import our own Coverings for our Parlour Suites, thus saving two duties, as most all the imported Suites come from Canada and the United States, and they have to import their coverings from France or some of the European countries, and pay duty into Canada or the States. We avoid the second duty by getting the Covering ourselves and having the frames made here.
- 4th—We have our Springs made from the wire by the only Weaver in the country; also the Oxford or Copper Wire Spring by machines too.
- 5th—We have our Mattresses made by machinery in our own building, the only machine of its kind in the country. It can produce 50 against 10 by hand, thus saving considerable in cost.
- 6th—We are producing the Excelsior or Wood Fibre and cutting the cost in two, which will mean considerable saving in the making of Mattresses.
- 7th—We are also Selling Agents for the celebrated Ideal Beds and Springs, and sell at factory price.
- 8th—We also have the COMBINATION LATH and SPRING BED, the only thing of its kind in the country.
- 9th—Having the factory in the same building, we can handle all sizes all repairing; in fact you can choose your own Coverings for Parlour Suites, Mattresses, etc., and have it made to order.
- 10th—Our motto (last but not least) is to sell at the lowest possible prices, and despite the serious advance in prices all round, we are, where possible, reducing the prices, WHICH SHOULD APPEAL TO EVERY HOUSEKEEPER when in need of Furniture and Furnishings, as we now by arrangement work from the "Tree to the Home," thus cutting out all middlemen's profits.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
 NEW YORK, Jan. 14.
 No material change has taken place in the condition of Premier Whitney, of Ontario.

LONDON, Jan. 14.

Dr. Armstrong, Professor of Chemistry, does not accept the views of those who preach about the decadence of England. Addressing a conference of scientists, he declared that the boasted superiority of Germans was all moonshine. It takes ten Germans to do the work of two Englishmen. He said the German can only get one pot to boil at a time. The country that can stand the mediocrity conditions existing in Alsace, is not a country where originality and individuality are developed.

W.C.T.U. Meeting.

A meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held in the Institute building yesterday afternoon, was largely attended. Mrs. S. Benedict presiding. The world society's motto, "For God and Home and Every Land," will be displayed at the public meeting to be held to-night at Gower Street Church. The music will be rendered by the different city choirs and many prominent clergymen will speak on the prohibition movement. Mrs. Pippy, the recent delegate to the World's and National Conventions, will also deliver an address on Prohibition and the movement to set apart January 15th as a day of intercession and prayer for the success of the cause. This is to be established as a constitutional measure, and the Rev. J. W. Bartlett will attend to the petitions to be presented to the Legislature in this direction.

It was decided that more copies of the Union Signal, the official organ of the W. C. T. U., be ordered and freely distributed. Arrangements were made for the annual treat for the inmates of the Poor Asylum, which will take place on Monday next. A concert is in preparation and gifts will be distributed to the inmates. Persons desirous of assisting in the charitable enterprise may send their donations to Mrs. Benedict, 48 Queen's Road.

The Busted Man.

The man who never has the price finds life a dismal fraud; the world presents a face of ice that simply can't be thawed. When to the eating house he pokes to break his daily fast, the waiters wait on 'tother folks, and leave him till the last. When he goes to the grocer's lair, or to the butcher's den, the clerks wake up to see who's there, then go to sleep again. There's not much honor or respect for any hopeless jay who's never able to collect enough to pay his way. Of course it's wrong; we shouldn't judge a man by what he owns; we shouldn't sneeringly say: "Fudge! He has no stack of bones!" The man whose pockets are a blank should get the cordial hand as well as one who to the bank takes coin to brat the band. But facts are facts, though they're not nice—and all the sunny smiles are for the man who has the price, the coin in forty styles. You may be long on sterling worth, but if you're short on kale, you'll find it lonesome here on earth, and protests won't avail. Your observation should suffice to teach you this is true; then always strive to have the price, and folks will play with you.

Note of Thanks.
