THE TORONTO WORLD. TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 5, 1922.

SPATIAL IN THE ELECTIONS. Seeing that the result of the contests in the constituencies now vacant will certainly be taken as foreshadowing the issue of the general elections next year, and bearing in mind the shortness of the time that now intervenes before polling day, it might have been expected that an active and widespread interest would be taken in the impending contest.

MUNICIPAL REFORM. If anything is to be done in the way of reforming our system of municipal representation, now is the time. Legislation will have to be asked for next session of the Ontario parliament, in order to enable Toronto to annex Yorkville in accordance with the expressed consent of the people of that village.

the council, but there is the startling fact that year after year men find their way into the civic institutions who are not equal to the position. The council should be made up entirely of men in whom the public can have complete confidence and not a man who is not of this description.

OUR MEDICAL SCHOOLS. Trinity medical school opened yesterday, and the Toronto school of medicine opens to-day, both under favorable auspices and with promise of increasing prosperity.

AND THEN AS TO OUR OTHER POINT: the medical students should be near University college and the school of practical science, where a number of subjects adjunct to a thorough medical training are taught more fully and perfectly than in the medical schools.

CAMPBELL'S MARMION. We have already made a critical examination of Gage's edition of Marmion. We found the work of the editor bad, and of the publisher worse.

OVERLOADING. One sensible lake captain we hear of Captain John Hurley of the schooner Blazing Star, who recently made the run from Detroit to Kingston in four days, and from Oswego to Detroit in three days and four hours—a quick round trip, by the way.

COMPETITION IN PROSPECT. The report comes from Montreal that last week three influential gentlemen from near the border line between Manitoba to the north and Minnesota and Dakota to the south were in that city on an important railway mission.

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM. Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest, Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellings and Sprains, Burns and Scalds, General Bodily Pains, Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frostbit Foot and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches.

THE TORONTO WORLD. TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 5, 1922.

considerable portion of our subscription money in stamps, and these are subject to a discount of five or ten per cent, when we sell them to the stamp vendors.

SMALL CHANGE AND SIR FRANCIS HINKS. Sir: I note that one of your correspondents on the currency question assumes that there is no lack of fractional currency in Canada.

ABOUT LOAN COMPANIES. We do not know that those persons are far wrong who hold that loan companies have been an unmitigated evil to Canada.

MORE OF ROSENBAUM'S WORK GIRLS. (To the Editor of The World.) Sir: With reference to an article which appeared in your issue of last Saturday headed "How our shop girls are treated and paid," I must confess it was not a very creditable or business-like act of this Hebrew stationer to engage the young woman in question a week or so before the exhibition with the understanding (as I have been informed) of giving her permanent employment and discharging her without recompensing her for the whole of her time—and then to turn her for the paltry dollar which she was justly entitled to—the young woman gave back the dollar, so as to avoid being postponed upon (whenever she appeared on the street) by this Hebrew or his wife.

A NATIONAL CURRENCY. From the Meaford Mirror. A revision of Canadian currency is, we believe, an absolute necessity in the interests of the people.

SHOP GIRL. (To the Editor of The World.) Sir: I am surprised that in working girls of our city should be so dilatory in making their wrongs known, when they are well aware that the columns of the press are open to the working class.

Harvest home... Nine drinks were the sum total of the arrests last night.

The Beatty copy book case was continued before Justice Ferguson yesterday.

R. L. Cowan has been appointed government inspector of the Toronto harbor improvements.

A. T. Johnston denies that a row took place at Edward and Chestnut streets Saturday evening.

A chimney on fire at 51 North street was the cause of the alarm from box 75 at 4:45 yesterday afternoon.

A car load of thoroughbred sheep for T. C. Patterson's stock farm at Eastwood, arrived over the Grand Trunk yesterday.

Fire did $20 worth of damage yesterday to Taylor & company's rag house in Burke's building at Richmond and Sheppard streets.

Two hundred immigrants arrived here yesterday. Seventy-five were engaged for railway work and the remainder went on west.

Rev. Mr. Reiver of the Toronto diocese is mentioned in connection with the vacant rectory at Sherbrooke. So says the Montreal Witness.

Two houses on Argyle street, Nos. 81 and 83 were pretty badly damaged by fire yesterday afternoon. They are owned by John Thwaites.

The remains of Policeman Ramsey were interred in the Necropolis yesterday afternoon, being followed to the grave by about fifty of the deceased's comrades.

Eliza Wilson who escaped from the Mercer three weeks ago, was captured in Hamilton Saturday. She was brought down to the reformatory to-day.

The 2,500 feet of hose recently ordered by the fire department from the Canadian rubber company at an American cost, was paid for by the 450 pounds pressure yesterday.

Thos. Thompson, Mammoth house, returned home yesterday, having come by steamer Germania. He left his family in England, but intends returning and bringing them out in the spring.

Assess yesterday: Creighton v. Pearson, an action of ejectment to recover part of lot No. 6 at Weston; judgment was given for plaintiff. The case of Collins v. Locke, in which an action for $149 was brought, was held for judgment.

J. C. Fahy, who some four years ago was of the firm of Fahy Bros. at King and Yonge streets, and who was well known as an amateur singer, has developed into a professional, and is now leading man in one of Doyley Cart's opera companies. He has already appeared in Boston and met with a favorable reception.

Railway Laborers' Row. A row took place near the King street crossing on Saturday afternoon between a gang of Toronto, Grey & Bruce railway laborers and a number of Credit Valley men.

The former were laying down a track and the latter undertook to head them off by laying rails down across the line staked out. To stop further encroachment the Grey & Bruce gang spread telegraph poles over the ground, but these were speedily removed by the rival party, who began to tear up the T. G. & B. track.

This led to a row, in which about fifty men on each side took part. They were struck on every side, but no great damage appears to have been done, although it is marvellous that somebody was not killed. Things quieted down on the receipt of news that the officials of the two companies had amicably settled the difficulty.

Monday's Police Court. Lafrene, held on a charge of larceny at Kingston, was allowed to go for want of evidence. Deborah McCann, who had been eighteen months in the Mercer, was committed to the care of a lady from the home of refuge. Robert Dady and James Boston were committed as lunatics. Jane Haddock was sorry for having her man O'Brien arrested, and he was discharged. Thomas Christie was bound to keep the peace. Thomas Eliza McCoolly, his half sister. John Downs, who thumped his father, got 30 days. Sewell, the man in the blues, was remanded for a week. Thomas Stone was ordered to pay $20 or go to jail for as many days for beating his wife. Mona Goodwin, convicted of petty larceny, was remanded for evidence as to character.

Breaking the Crooks Act. At the police court yesterday James Mel drum, Brunswick avenue, was up on charges of illegally selling and keeping liquor. Adjudged until to-day. Thomas Goodwill was charged with selling liquor on board the Rupert Saturday. A fine of $20 and costs with the option of fifteen days was imposed. A second offence on the same day having been proved, a similar fine was imposed. Mary Lowe, convicted of keeping liquor for sale on her premises, was fined $20 and costs with the option of fifteen days in jail.

Order of Conductors. The annual meeting of the Toronto division No. 17, order of railway conductors reports were presented by the P. C. and secretary treasurer. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: W. H. Hawkins, P. C.; T. A. Thompson, C. C.; O. Stewart, A. C. C.; B. Rankin, secretary treasurer; Harvey Hall, S. C.; P. McMahon, J. C.; W. B. Hill, J. S. and W. Finley, O. S.

The President in the Thousand Isles. President Arthur and party fished in British water on Friday for black bass and muskallunge. The president says he is assigned to the St. Lawrence by physicians for the cure of malaria. His October 9th will remain at Alexandria Bay till October 9, when he leaves for New York.

The Storm Signal. The meteorological office has ordered up the cautionary storm signal number one, at Port Stanley, Port Dover, Port Colborne, Port Barwell, Amherstburg, Port Dalhousie, Burlington Beach, Oakville, Port Credit, Toronto, Cobourg, Port Hope, Deseronto and Picton.

Suit to Recover a Penalty. Suit has been instituted at Osgoode hall on behalf of a bailiff named Wert, against Ashley the detained reform candidate in East Hastings, to recover the sum of $1000, under the provisions of the dominion election act, as a penalty for corrupt practices and bribery in the last election. The plaintiff was ordered to give security for the costs of suit yesterday.

Magnificent promises sometimes end in paltry performances. A manager who excepted to this is found in Kidney-Wort which invariably performs even more cures than it promises. Here is a single instance: "Mother has recovered," wrote an Illinois girl to her Eastern relatives. "She took bitters for a long time but without any good. So when she heard of the virtues of Kidney-Wort she got a box and it has completely cured her liver complaint."

GEORGE RIPLEY.

What He Earned as Literary Editor of the N. Y. Tribune—George Greeley.

After the breaking up of the Book Farm Community—a catastrophe mainly due to a want of sufficient capital, Mr. Ripley was thrown altogether on his literary resources.

He moved to Flatbush, on Long Island, where Mrs. Ripley earned something by teaching, while he endeavored to obtain literary employment in New York. His connection with the Tribune, which began immediately, was not for a long time lucrative, for the paper itself was young and poor, and as yet, moreover, there was very little of systematic criticism of current literature in daily journals. Even in the first half of 1849, when he had removed to New York from Flatbush, and spent a few hours daily in the office of the Tribune as literary assistant, he received only five dollars a week, and there were some weeks when there was nothing for him to do, and accordingly he earned nothing. In July of the year named a weekly stipend of ten dollars was given him, and continued at that figure until April, 1850, when it was raised to fifteen dollars. In September, 1851, Mr. Ripley was placed upon the pay roll at a regular weekly salary of twenty-five dollars, and this he continued to receive during the next thirteen years. For the two years between January, 1864, and January, 1866, he was paid thirty dollars, and subsequently to the last mentioned date, fifty dollars up to January, 1871, when his weekly compensation was made seventy-five dollars, at which point it remained until his death in 1880. In connection with the final increase of the stipend paid to Mr. Ripley, who it must be remembered had been a stockholder in the Tribune association since 1849, Mr. Frothingham cites an interesting extract from the "Minutes Book" of the Tribune. In explaining the increase of the stipend, Mr. Greeley said that his general opposition to raising the salaries of stockholders was well known. "Raising one salary," he said, "is tantamount to raising a half a dozen others should be raised to equalize payment for equal services." He had "always opposed and always would oppose demands of this kind, not only on the ground of justice, but on the ground of expediency." He did "not know whether Dr. Ripley had more or less children than John Rogers, he did not care." He moved that the increase be made on two grounds only: first, that "Dr. Ripley had long served the Tribune industriously and faithfully, and had won a high reputation for his literary department, and secondly, that he (Mr. Greeley) desired more work of Dr. Ripley than he had hitherto done, and would endeavor to the resolution passed to get the value of the increase out of the doctor in good honest service."

A Scotch Party. Mr. Carnegie, a Scotchman who has acquired much wealth in America as an iron man and whose gifts to his native town of Dunfermline in the shape of baths costing $5000 and a library costing $2000 have earned him the esteem of his old townsmen, is now conducting a party of fifteen "representative men" to Dunfermline, Scotland, as his guests. They are to be at the Falls, and Mr. Robert Shields of this city and the mayor would like them to visit on the day of the party.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry Cures cancer of the stomach and bowels, dysentery, cholera morbus, and all summer complaints.

Cataract—A New Mode of Treatment. Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dioxon treatment for cataract. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patient medicines and other advertised cures never cure a cure at all. It is striking with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the eye. Dr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the cataract is practically cured and the permanency is unquestioned, as cured effected by him two years ago.

A POTATO STORY.

From the Brockville Recorder. Last fall Mr. James Millar of Spencerville purchased at Toronto four pounds of potatoes of a new variety for seed. They were planted this spring and a few days ago when dug that the four pounds yielded five bushel and thirty-nine pounds. This is certainly the most prolific potato known.

The Richmond (Va.) Southern Planter and Farmer says that the success of St. Jacobs Oil in rheumatic affections throughout the world is without a parallel.

Tomato Leaves as an Insect Guard. A peach orchard planted by M. Sirov of the Society of Horticulture, says the Practical Farmer, was invaded by the curculio, which were followed by ants. By placing tomato leaves around the trunk he entirely freed the trees of the pests. To carry the experiment still further, additional leaves were steeped in water, which was used on roses and other plants with entire success. He believes the discovery an important one as a protection not only to trees and shrubbery but also to melons, squashes, etc.
