ABOUT THAT CONSIDERATION. The Sheriff of Elgin Demands an Apology From The World. JAMES M. GLENN, LL.B.

Barrister, Solicitor, Etc. ST. THOMAS. Ont., June 24, 1890.

To the Proprietor of The Toronto World, To-To the Proprietor of The Toronto World, Toronto:

Dear Sir,—In the issue of The Toronto World, published on the 17th day of June, instant, an article appeared in which the following statement was made: "When the shrievalty of, Elgin became vacant Dr. Cascaden notified Mr. Dugald Brown that he could have the office for a consideration, and the consideration was accordingly forthcoming." Mr. Brown has instructed me to demand a full and ample apology from you for the publication of this statement, which he says is wholly untrue. Though your paper, I understand, has but a small circulation in this county, yet the association of this libel upon Mr. Brown, with your remarks upon Dr. Cascaden, and the fact that local newspapers have drawn the attention of the public to the article so that enquiries were made regarding it by many, have given the statement complained of a very wide circulation. Mr. Brown will require the apology to be published in the local papers here, as well as in your own paper.

JUNE GOES OUT IN A BLAZE.

FIVE ACRES OF FIRE AT KES.

TUCKY'S METROPOLIS. the Standard Oil Refinery Consumed Hundreds of Gallons of Burning Oil-Seven Persons Injured, two Fatally-A $100,000 Conflagration at Minneapolis

Serious Losses in Ontario Towns. LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 30.-Five acres of fire was the awful sight witnessed at the Standard Oil refinery at Fifth and C-streets this morning. The immense structure was blazing at every point, and the heat was so intense that even at 200 yards persons were overcome. It was first reported that seven persons had lost their lives and later that three were killed and 35 wounded, but it is now believed that only seven were injured, two fatally. The fire broke out at 8%. The refinery is on the east side of the Louisville & Nashville Railway, but the tanks are scattered along it on both sides. Saturday a tank of crude oil came in on a flat car from Cleveland and it was to be turned into the refinery vats. Some of the workmen thought the iron tank was too hot for such a thing to be done in safety. After consultation it was postponed in the hope that the tank would be cooler. It did not prove to be, however, and it became necessary to run the oil out of the car tank into another in the yard. Inspector Keene took John Pitig and another workman with him and they alimbed on the workman with him and they climbed on the car. They were about to unscrew the cap workman with him and they climbed on the car. They were about to unscrew the cap when they felt there was a tremendous pressure from the inside against the head. At first they decided not to open it. Finally they opened it.

In an instant there was a dull puff as the vapor escaped, filling the air all around. The gas, as is known, is heavier than the air, and it sank to the ground, spreading out all over the locality and moving with the wind. Almost in a twinkling it reached ene of the sheds under which there was a fire. There was a faseh as the inflammable vapor ignited, and at once there was a tremendous explosion. The tank was blown to pieces and hundreds of gallons of burning oil were scattered all over the great works. A wall of fire 30 feet high and hearly 900 feet long moved with lightning rapidity to the building. In less time than it takes to relate the storehouses, filled with thousands of gallons of canned oil, the cooper shop, the carpenter shop, pump and engine houses, the filling and lubricating houses the storage houses, the paint and glue houses and 900 feet of platform were? ablass and burned furiously.

At the first intimation of plosion all of the workmen and one of the workmen of the season of the tent in sessistance, but the fire that envising sould be added to run. Johnn, however, stumbled and fell and his caught fire. The men bravely returning sensitiance of the tank allowed the rule workmen.

Three little boys, Danny O'Neill and and rallway track when the explosion occurred. They were slightly to the east of the tank they were slightly to the east of the tank they were slightly to the east of the tank.

The World never said the consideration was given by Mr. Brown, but that it was forthcoming. The public are anxious to know from whom the consideration came and just what the nature of it was.

In the meantime The World is not apologizing to Mr. Brown or anyone else so far as its statement is concerned. Now, Mr. Glenn; now, Mr. Brown, from whom did the afore-

New York, June 30.—The Herald's Washington special says:

One week ago a desperate attempt was made by some of Mr. Blaine's alleged friends to break the force of what the Secretary of State had said about the McKinley Tariff Bill. That statement has not only been fully corroborated in every detail, but since the surprise is ever those in the confidence of Mr. Blaine who know the secret of his bold act only wonder that he kept silent so long. During the last week the Secretary has personally assured members of the Diplomatic Corps that his views were not misstated. To the ministers from the Latin-American States, nearly all of whom were delegates to the Pan-American Conference, he has emphasized in the most positive manner his deep chagrin at the way Republican leaders in Congress have treated the recommendations of the Administration.

Months ago Mr. Blaine intended to speak about what he feared would be the drift of the tariff policy in Congress. He took the quieter course of endeavoring by confidential intercourse with gentlemen of the Ways and Means Committee and othersto engrati upon the general tariff policy after two reasons that free substantial free trade with Latin-America through the agency of reciprocity. He failed for the two reasons that free sugar had been chosen as a bait to the western farmer and because free wool, in any amount, under any circumstances, was a horrifying nightmane to protectionists of the practical kind. Mr. Me. Kinley, as an Ohio representative, was unnerved by the prospect of unlimited cheap wool from the Argentine Republic and Urugary. But why should Mr. Blaine so suddenly and energetically blaze against the Republican tariff policy after giving up his private efforts to save the commerce of our own continent from its mischief?

A SEASON OF MUSIC.

Been Done at the Toron A Summer Season of Five Weeks Open. The year's work at the Toronto College of Music was well represented last week when no less than six closing concerts were given in the Pavillon and in the College Music Hall. At these concerts the practical work done at the college was displayed in an eminently favorable light by the various pupils who either played the plano, bygar and violin or bang. The most important was responsible for the fact that a quantity of the new conduit pipe across the Bay had been laid three feet above that given on Tues' which occupied a propagation of fashionable audience.

This young lady, who has taken the highest averages in the examinations in the piano, organ ensemble playing, theory and history departments, was, after playing, presented with the college medal by Sir Daniel Wilson, president of University College, who appropriately referred to Mr. Torrington's many years of service in the musical interests of Toronto. The violin department was well represented in Mrs. Church (of Lindsay), who played a fantasis in good style.

Toronto. The violin department was well represented in Mrs. Church (of Lindsay), who played a fantasis in good style.

The vocal music at this concert was of the finest young voices which have ever been heard in Toronto. Their singing showed that their instructors had endeavored, with success to produce sympathetic quality and fexibility of voice, to impart good style and to develop the latent artistic temperament of the vocalists. The Thursday evening organ recital on the noble instrument in the College Hall was one of great interest, and abundantly proved the eminent fitness of the College of give young organists a thorough the organist comes more into contact with the public than any other branch of the profession and perfect self-reliance is absolutely necessary. Those who played at this concert gave but little evidence of nervous with the requirements of their numbers, and in their knowledge of the resources of the instrument, and the contrasts and effects which they produced being in a high degree commendable.

The compositions which formed the program were thoroughly cosmopolitan in character and selected with a view to embraciall styles of organ music. The compositions which formed the program were thoroughly cosmopolitan in character and selected with a view to embracing all styles of organ music. Miss Clarke, Mr. McNally and Mr. Hall, who played that evening, have passed the severetest required and become associates of the College of Organists (Canada). On Saturday afternoon and evening the junior departments had their field day, when two concerts were given in the college. These concerts were designed to show parents and friends of the pupils, by comparison, the astonishing results which had been obtained from pupils in the primary and second grades. The program contained music that was of the best order though not, technically speaking, of great difficulty, and it must be said that many of the little ones performed their numbers with an amount of self-possession which would have done credit to some of the older students. Much applause was bettered as the programs who haved the saverage of the performers who haved the saverage of the performers who haved the saverage of the performers who haved the first of the pupils and the many of the little ones performed their numbers with an amount of self-possession which would have done credit to some of the older students. The older students. Much applause was bestowed on the performers who played the violin or piano and sang, for their brave efforts. In the jumior departments great care is exercised to give the pupils a thorough grounding in the rudiments of music, which will be seen to be of great advantage to them, as they ascend into the higher grades. The other concerts were equally good and spoke volumes for the amount of carnest and patient work which has been done during the past year.

results are proving eminently satisfactory.
An examination of a large number of students has been held this week in this department on a paper furnished by that eminent authority, Stephen A. Emery of Boston, and the pass list will no doubt be made known in a short time. A special summer term for the next five weeks began yesterday. Moses Had Asthma. My husband had asthma for eight years with severe cough, and his lungs also were affected. He could neither rest, work, nor get relief from any medicine he tried. Some time ago we got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and after taking six or eight bottles his cough is entirely cured, the asthmatic greatly relieved and his lungs great benefited. Mrs. Moses Couch, Apsley, Out. My Salad Days.
