PUBLIC OPINION IN GREECE CLAMORS FOR WAR FRENCH GAINING VICTORY OVER GERMANS IN VOSGES AND ALSACE ASIATIC FORTS ON INNER STRAITS ARE UNDER TERRIFIC FIRE

THE BOMBARDMENT OF THE DARDANELLES

This drawing shows the allied fleet, led by Britain's greatest battleship, the Queen Elizabeth, smashing the Turkish forts along the Dardanelles. The drawing was prepared especially for The Toronto World and The New York Herald by G. A. Coffin, The Herald's noted marine artist, from detailed descriptions of the operations.

Germans in Exclusive Control of Turk Capital

Defence of Constantinople Entrusted to Gen. Von Sanders, While Prefect of Police Will Be in Control of Civil Population.

LONDON, March 8.—(12:30 a.m.)—According to the latest advices received here, says a Reuters despatch from Sofia, the sultan and the government are still in Constantinople. The government is prepared to cross to Asia Minor at any moment, but the sultan is in favor of remaining in the capital.

Allied Warships Proceeded Steadily With Work of Reducing Turkish Forts, Met With Speedy Success and Avoided Floating Mines—Marksmanship of Turks Poor.

The Seal of This War

The real seal of this world-wide war is all around the Mediterranean Sea—the mid-world sea. For us Britons and for the French, Belgians, Hollanders and the Baltic Europeans it is immediately in Belgium and France; but once that is settled it goes to the greater area of every country that touches the Mediterranean.

Religions Involved

It includes all manners and conditions of men: white and dark, yellow and bronzed; East Indians, Japs, Caucasians, Turks, Arabs, Latins, Germans, Greeks, English, Irish, Scotch, Canadians, Australians, Mohammedans, Christians (Protestant, Catholic, Greek), Buddhists, Shintos. Two of the rulers engaged are spiritual heads as well: czar and sultan.

Where We Come In

And it is this maritime interest that brings in Britain and her dominions. The old and the newer world was made and unmade by maritime power; by Greece, by the Phoenicians, by Italy, Spain, France, Holland, England all in turn.

Where the Kaiser Falls Down

Wilhelm will fall in both. He started two campaigns at one moment: to get to the Atlantic and assault England; to get by way of Austria and Turkey to the Black Sea and forestall the czar in his desire for warm sea ports.

Britain's Colossal Fighting Machine, From Position in Gulf of Saros, Maintains Indirect Fire on Straits' Fortresses While Cruisers Inside Dardanelles are Busy—Important Operations in Gulf of Smyrna.

PARIS, via London, March 7, 4:42 p.m.—The bombardment of the Dardanelles fortifications was continued Saturday by the allied fleet, according to an official statement issued this evening.

At the same time cruisers inside the Dardanelles continued a direct fire against the works at Dardanus, on the Asiatic side, and Soudiers, on the European side.

The powder magazine of one of the forts exploded. None of the vessels was damaged. "During the day of March 5 three vessels of the allied fleet were damaged from a great distance at the entrance of the Gulf of Smyrna, which was seriously damaged, and was unable to make reply."

Five mine sweepers are working in the Gulf of Smyrna, says the correspondent. "Five steamers, four Greek and one Dutch, hastily left the Port of Smyrna."

Special Cable to The Toronto World. ATHENS, March 7.—A section of the allied fleet yesterday commenced operations in the Gulf of Smyrna, a squadron consisting of a British battleship with a cruiser and some destroyers having arrived the previous day at Vryoule. Notification that a bombardment was about to take place was (Continued on Page 5, Column 1.)

Dinsey Fur Sale Nearing the End. After a wonderfully great season of selling—desperately low prices having prevailed from the start—the end draws near and the chance of making a profit is rapidly passing beyond you. In view of the new war tax and the fact that European furs may not come to this country in any quantity next season, a purchase now is certain to prove extremely profitable. It would be well to take a careful look over these sensational Dinsey values this week.

CANADIAN BATTALIONS AND PATS IN ACTION LIST OF CASUALTIES

No Names of Dead Appear, But the Wounded Include Two Toronto Men and Soldiers From All Parts of Canada.

That seven battalions of the first Canadian contingent, as well as the Princess Patricia Regiment, were in action in the trenches last week is shown by the official list of casualties issued from Ottawa last night. A Canadian Associated Press cable last night contained the information that Major Hamilton Gault of the Princess Pats had been admitted to Shorncliffe Hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the right forearm. Lieut. H. R. Alley's injury was told in a cable to The World from John A. MacLaren last week.

GREECE EAGER TO AID ALLIES; KING OPPOSED THE CABINET RESIGNS

Intervention Appears Certain and Call to Colors Goes Out—Venizelos, Retiring Premier, Acclaimed By Populace—Zaimis to Form Ministry.

LONDON, March 7.—(10:45 p.m.)—Greece apparently is at the parting of the ways, with her king exerting his influence to maintain the neutrality of his country in opposition to Eleutherios Venizelos, the retiring premier, and the man to whom Greece owes her revival.

Italy Cannot Remain Neutral Much Longer

Attack by Allies on the Dardanelles Has Brought Up Three Great Questions Affecting Italian Interests. ROME, March 7.—(Via Paris).—The Giornale d'Italia, which, although it is not the official government organ, represents the political majority supporting the cabinet, in an editorial argues that it will be difficult for Italy longer to remain neutral, declaring that the attack by the allied fleet on the Dardanelles has brought up three great problems affecting Italian interests.

LOSS OF SUBMARINES ADMITTED IN BERLIN

More Than Seven Sunk Since Blockade Started, Says Tageblatt. A correspondent of The Berliner Tageblatt declares that since the beginning of the blockade seven British merchantmen have been sunk, but admits that, according to news received in Berlin from neutral countries, more than seven German submarines have been sunk during the same period.

IF PIRATES, WILL THEY BE TREATED AS SUCH?

Daily Telegraph Asks Pertinent Question Regarding Fate of German Crew. LONDON, March 7.—In connection with the rescue of the officers and crew of the U.S. The Daily Telegraph asks what is to be their fate? "They were engaged in operations which Sir Edward Grey denounced to the world as piracy on the high seas. Are they to be regarded in some country mansion and provided with a retinue of servants, or are they to be treated as pirates? It is childish to denounce certain acts as piracy, if, having caught some of the persons engaged in such operations, we entertain them as honored guests of the nation. This is a matter on which the British public will want enlightenment, particularly in view of the harsh conditions under which our countrymen are held prisoners in Germany."

Great Results Are Coming!

You may look for all kinds of surprising news from now on. It may yet be far from the cheering point, we are near the more than hopeful attitude.

ABSOLUTE PURCHASE THE ONLY SOLUTION

Half Million Suggested as Price of City End of Metropolitan.

WANT STREETS PAVED

North Toronto Ratepayers Executive to See Board of Control.

The only solution of the Metropolitan directly satisfactory to the whole of the ratepayers of the district is the absolute purchase of the existing franchise, was the finding of the joint executive meeting of the northern associations, according to the report of President G. A. Hodgson, submitted at Saturday's meeting of the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association. It was considered advisable to suggest an alternative route, and the delegates, he said, were arranging to meet the mayor and board of control at an early date.

Speaking of the transportation problem, J. A. Carton, who said he entertained an interest in North Toronto, the living in ward 3 south of Bloor, stated he had been informed by W. H. Moore, executive of the Metropolitan, that the value of the Metropolitan was about $200,000, and that he was offering the city of half a million to cover good-will value, that he was emphatic in saying that the less running rights, for which a rental would be paid, were granted, the company would refuse to sell.

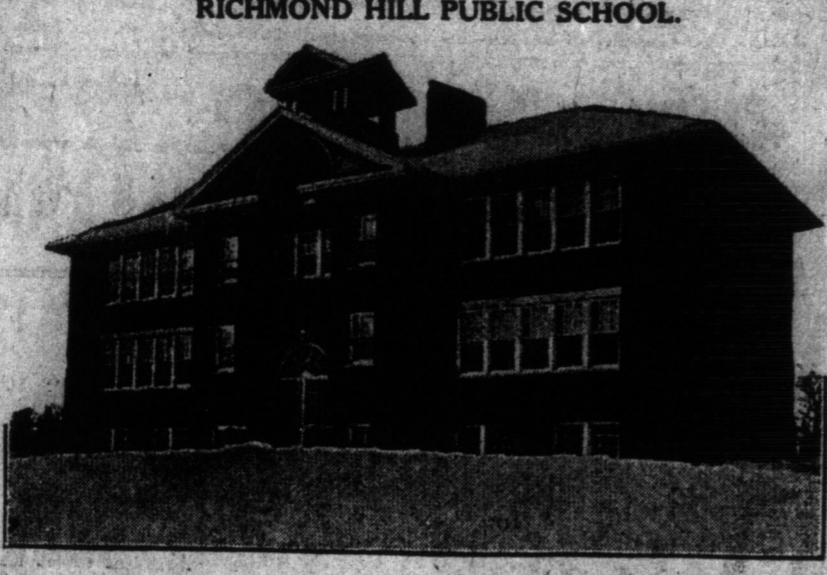

"Will you ask Mr. Moore why he snubbed this organization when it approached him last year?" he asked by W. G. Ellis, while F. Howe said it struck him as a stranger that a stranger could approach him. "I never saw Mr. Moore till a month ago," said Mr. Carton. "I want to leave the impression that I am working for North Toronto."

Mr. Carton expressed himself as against the retention of the present civic car fares, as the people in the lower part of the city would vote against further extension of the fare. "If the city owned a unified system," said Mr. Ellis, "the principle of charging fares would be unassailable." Referring to Mr. Carton's statement that the purchase price of the Metropolitan would be greater five years hence, Mr. Ellis maintained there would then be no monopoly in the district, and even if 10 tickets for 25 cents were to be issued, the civic lines, where will the Metropolitan be, he asked.

Mr. Gillespie thought half a million, with running rights, was a pretty stiff price to pay. Street Paving. The question of street paving was introduced by Mr. Hodgson, by providing for a 14-foot pavement on about 45 streets was passed, he said, and tenders had been received for paving of Glenairn, Glenrove and Glenview avenues, and of Lytton and Leavelle boulevards. The work to be started as soon as the winter permit. Commissioner R. C. Harris, however, had reported against the paving of the remaining streets because of the unfavorable financial conditions calling. "It seems to me," he said, "that if the residents of the different streets are anxious to have the work done, the city council or the board of works should be pressed to go on with the work notwithstanding the report of the commissioner. The charges would be assessed back on the property and I can't see any reason why the work should be stopped by a report by the mayor is working on a policy of 'give a man a job.'"

Some had petitioned against the work, stated Mr. Howe. It cost just as much to the man with a $1000 house as to the man with one valued at $25,000. D. D. Reid expressed doubt as to the advisability of 14-foot pavements. Montgomery and Smith avenues had petitioned against them.

Two Bottles Found Beside Body in Room Over Store on Queen Street.

Because he lost $30,000 on a Yonge street real estate venture, Louis Brown, 598 Huron street, wealthy tailor, with stores at 255 and 410 west Queen street, ended his life in a room over the latter store Saturday afternoon by drinking two vials of carbolic acid. The body was only discovered Sunday afternoon.

Brown was well known to Toronto business men. He is estimated to be worth over half a million, and has never before known to speculate in real estate before. The family of the dead man informed the police that he suspected his intent and had taken him to New York to take his mind off his financial reverses, and also had consulted physicians.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, March 7.—Lord Selborne, in a letter to The Times, in his "Foolish Optimism," protests that the Press Bureau "consistently slurs over bad news and exaggerates good news."

"The fact is that these casualties have usually occurred when we have lost a trench or line of trenches, or after this had happened we were probably told that the trench which had been lost had been brilliantly recaptured, but we had never been told previously that we had lost the trench and were never told at the time when the loss of the trench and its recapture had cost us."

Fighting Spirit Manifest at Conservative Banquet to James A. Norris.

NO TRUCE, SAYS KEMP

Denies That Borden Government Have Any Agreement With Opposition.

Over 100 guests sat down Saturday night at the Albany Club to the complimentary banquet tendered James A. Norris, president of the Central Conservative Association and to those fortunate enough to be present the function will go down as an event remarkable for the spontaneity of the tributes to the head of the party in Toronto and as a striking demonstration of the unity and harmony existing in local Conservative circles.

George Gooderham, M.L.A., presided and made an ideal toastmaster. The speeches were short and to the point, and there was not a dull moment during the evening, the whole affair being ably managed by W. McBrion, C. Seady and W. G. Gallop, who kept events moving swiftly.

50th ANNIVERSARY

BELL PIANO SALE Is Proving a Consistent Success

Right from the opening day of this vast clearance sale there has been a stream of visitors in our showrooms, who have frankly expressed their appreciation of the values and bought. We have also had over a dozen letters from pleased purchasers expressing their entire satisfaction with their instrument, and voluntarily assuring us that they will tell their friends of their uncommonly good bargain.

Time is rapidly passing, and the shipment of hundreds of Pianos and Player-Pianos may be sent on any day from the factory, where there is considerable over-production, occasioned by our endeavors to keep running full time during the winter months.

We emphatically repeat that never in the history of Canadian Piano selling has such deeply cut prices and extremely easy terms been offered on such high-class instruments as are included in this gigantic clearing sale.

CHICAGO BUILDERS MAY ALL GO ON STRIKE

Canadian Press Despatch. CHICAGO, March 6.—Suspension of building operations in Chicago is said to be threatened by a lockout of 900 lathers, which was declared by contractor today, as their reply to a demand for higher wages. Seven building trades unions at secret meetings are said to have voted to declare sympathetic strikes wherever the contractors try to operate with non-union men.

The Joy of Good Health Is Now Experienced Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Sleeplessness Are Now a Thing of the Past.

This is a cheerful letter from Mrs. Peacock, and it should bring joy to the heart of many a reader of this paper. Dizzy spells, nervousness, and sleeplessness are symptoms of exhausted nerves, and are the bugbears of many women, who do not know just what treatment to use. You can read Mrs. Peacock's letter and take courage for she has proven that Dr. MRS. PEACOCK'S Nerve Food is the complete cure for these troubles. So pleased was she with the results obtained that she wants other women to know about this food cure. Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 23 Hiawatha street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states:—"I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well, and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my strength, and enabled me to get to-day I feel that I am quite well again."

In a more recent letter Mrs. Peacock writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and done me a world of good, and I would be pleased to tell everybody so."

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

UTOPIA AND EMPIRE ADDRESS AT TRINITY

W. D. Thomas Says Ancient Utopia Reflected in Modern Germany Today.

A lecture was delivered in Trinity College Saturday afternoon when social ideals and changes in the movements of different historical eras were discussed under the title "Utopia and Empire" by W. D. Thomas. Dr. Boyle introduced the speaker. "Utopia" is a theorist. He has been called a seer of visions, a dreamer of dreams, an idealist and a poet. The lecturer quoted, "they are also the movers and the shakers of the world forever. And 'poets' are the unacknowledged legislators of the world," as Shelley tells us. The Utopian's mission is to organize society. The ancient Spartan idea of Utopia was the happy state brought about by the sacrificing of all personal wealth and freedom in obedience to the dictates of the state. Man, in their belief, was born for his country and not for himself. This belief being rigidly observed in the strict training of the Spartan youth, who was taught from earliest childhood to undergo great hardships, to endure, to fight and above all to conquer.

"More's Utopia was the desire of the elevation and encouragement of individualism; his state permitted the exercising of the voice of the people as regards all their conditions in labor, religion and social life. In a word, his was a desire for freedom, liberty and peace—the goal of the British Empire today—while the ancient Utopia is again being reflected in the modern Germany in her struggle for world power and domination of her subjects.

"More's beliefs were the foundation of the modern ideals of Great Britain—liberty, as the substance of life, free play in individuality and constant change for better ideals.

"We are consciously, the slowly, endeavoring toward this state. We have arrived at a new conception and are giving expression to it in our daily progress."

AUDIENCE DELIGHTED AT SATURDAY RECITAL

Vernon Rudolf Rendered Several Piano Numbers With Fine Taste.

Vernon Rudolf proved himself an admirable solo pianist at his recital in the assembly hall of the Central Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening in a program containing many beautiful works by Bach, Chopin (an entire group, three studies, an impromptu and ballade), Schumann, Liszt and other composers, his hearers—were delighted with his versatility, his power, his fine technical control of difficult passages, his response and refinement.

His touch has authority and is moreover most pliant and beautifully developed, and he plays clean and sure. Being a pupil of W. O. Fryer, he has already a large command of the keyboard, and his playing has the additional virtues of tenderness and well balanced symmetry. He will surely reach a high pinnacle as an interpreter.

Miss Ruby Brock, soprano, who assisted, is an artist, possessing a superb equipment, her voice being splendidly trained and singularly fresh and pure. To the beautiful accompaniment of Harvey Robb she sang in a Verdi aria and three or four songs, all of which were sung with sincerity and finish.

BERLIN CHURCH WAS OPENED YESTERDAY

Rev. E. Hoffman, D.D., Toronto, Preached Dedication Service in St. Matthew's.

Special to The Toronto World.

BERLIN, Ont., March 7.—Impressive services were held here today in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, which has just been completed at a cost of over fifty thousand dollars, and which is situated on the corner of Benton and Church streets. Special services were conducted in the morning and evening.

Rev. E. Hoffman, D.D., of Toronto, organizer of St. Matthew's Church, preached the dedication service to a large congregation. In the afternoon Rev. Dr. Bestmeyer of Mt. Vernon, New York, addressed the members of the Sunday School. A large crowd was present at the evening service, when Rev. Prof. Leary, of Lutheran Seminary, Waterloo, delivered an eloquent sermon.

NOT SATISFIED WITH RESULTS OBTAINED

On behalf of the Canadian Suffrage Association, who were recently accorded such a discouraging reception when the deputation sought an extension of the franchise to the married women of Ontario, a letter has been written to Premier Hearst, signed by Dr. Margaret Gordon, president of the association, and Dr. Margaret Johnston, secretary.

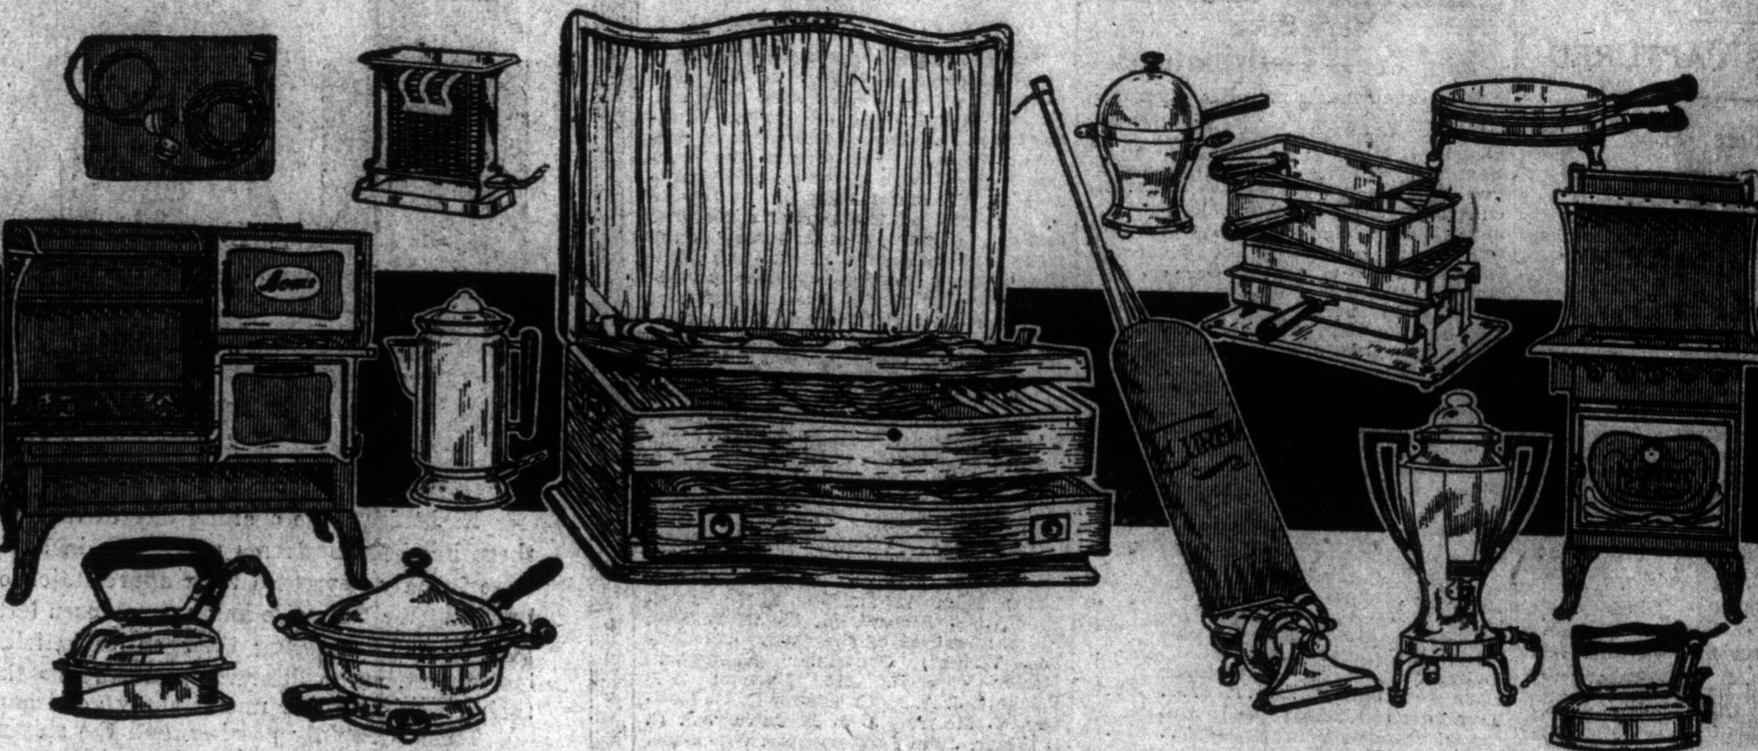

In the letter the courtesy of the audience is acknowledged and the premier's kindly attitude, but at the same time it is made plain that the deputation was far from satisfied, and the desire that further serious consideration be given is urged.

These Valuable Prizes Free!

for telling what you know about

DOMESTIC SHORTENING

"Better than Butter - Cheaper than Lard."

WE will give away a $125 mahogany chest of genuine "Rogers 1847" silver, and hundreds of dollars' worth of modern electric household conveniences, as listed below, to women in Toronto and vicinity who write us telling of their personal experiences in using Domestic Shortening. There are no "strings" to this offer. No literary training is required to enter; letters will be judged entirely by the facts they contain. We want to know what you think of Domestic Shortening after using it, and offer these handsome prizes to make it worth your while to tell us.

Twenty-two Handsome Prizes

The competition is divided into two classes, with prizes of equal value in each class. The grand prize, a beautiful brass-bound, mahogany chest of "Rogers 1847" silver, will be given for the best letter received in either class.

CLASS "A"

For letters telling how and why you have found Domestic Shortening better than lard or butter for shortening, for frying and for cake making, and giving the greatest number of cooking purposes for which you have used it.

- 1st Prize—A handsome "Moffet Electric" Electric Range, constructed of high-grade steel, handsomely finished in black satin enamel, nickel trimmings, even thermostat, separate burners for broiling and baking.
- 2nd Prize—"Eureka" Electric Vacuum Cleaner, one of the best portable vacuum cleaners made, complete with all attachments for cleaning all household furnishings as well as floors and walls.
- 3rd Prize—Universal Electric Coffee Percolator, urn style, six-cup capacity, complete with six-foot cord and destructible plug.
- 4th Prize—"El Chafin" Electric Chafin Dish, handsome mission style.
- 5th Prize—Universal Electric Grill, on which you can prepare a whole meal at the table. Complete with cord and plug.
- 6th Prize—Westinghouse Electric Toaster Stove. A handsome table cooker of wide utility—for making toast, frying eggs or meats, baking hot cakes, etc.
- 7th Prize—Westinghouse six-inch disc Electric Stove—useful for table, kitchen, sick-room or nursery.
- 8th Prize—"El Testoro" Electric Toaster and Table Stove.
- 9th and 10th Prizes—Six-pound, Hot-point Electric Irons.

CLASS "B"

For letters proving the economy of using Domestic Shortening and telling in how many ways you have saved money by using it. These letters must be based upon personal experience and should give as exact facts as possible, showing how much you have saved and what you will save, at the same rate, in the course of a year.

- 1st Prize—"Moffet Electric" Electric Range, same style as the first prize in Class "A." These ranges are splendid for cooking the year round, but are especially good for the summer months, when you do want a cool kitchen.
- 2nd Prize—"Eureka" Electric Vacuum Cleaner, same as second prize in Class "A." Weighs only ten pounds, has powerful suction, flexible handle and all the latest improvements.
- 3rd Prize—Universal Electric Percolator, urn style, six-cup capacity. A handsome, durable percolator that is as ornamental as it is useful.
- 4th Prize—"El Bako" Electric Oven that will roast a chicken, bake two loaves of bread, two pies, etc. Heat may be regulated for different baking requirements.
- 5th Prize—Two-Glow Electric Heater, glowing electric radiator that is just the thing to take the chill off a room during changeable spring weather.
- 6th Prize—Flexible "El-Comfo" Cloth covered, flexible, electric hot-pad, 12x15 inches in size. Every home should have one.
- 7th Prize—Westinghouse 6" disc Electric Stove, same as 7th Prize in Class "A."
- 8th Prize—"El Testoro" Electric Toaster, same as 8th prize in Class "A."
- 9th and 10th Prizes—Six-pound, Hot-point Electric Irons.

PRIZES EXHIBITED THIS WEEK IN WINDOW OF TORONTO HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM, 226 YONGE STREET

In addition to the prizes offered above, a "Criticism Prize" consisting of a handsome Gas Range will be given to the woman who sends in the best description of any experience in which she did not find Domestic Shortening entirely satisfactory.

Prizes will be awarded by three judges, not connected with this Company, whose names will be announced later. Contest closes April 15, 1915. Employees of this Company cannot enter contest. Before prizes are announced, a representative of the Company will call at the home of each successful contestant and ask to see an empty Domestic Shortening pail or carton, as proof that contestants have actually used Domestic Shortening. So be sure to keep an empty package.

Each contestant may submit letters in both Classes "A" and "B." Only one prize, however, will be awarded to any one contestant. Write on one side of the paper only, with name and street address plainly written at the top of the first sheet. Pin all sheets together, enclose in envelope, and address—

DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND RED CROSS NURSE

Earl's Daughter a Heroine—Organized Ambulance Service and Took the Field in Person—Writer and Philanthropist.

The "fog of war" which is complained of so heartily by the war correspondents, has been lifted enough to reveal the dramatic and beautiful picture of Millicent Duchess of Sutherland, who at the very outbreak of hostilities organized the Millicent Sutherland Ambulance Society and took the field in person.

Partly on account of her social rank, but more because of her distinguished standing as a writer and philanthropist, the Duchess of Sutherland has been permitted to contribute to the which is being produced by the greatest of European newspapers, The London Times and distributed by The World on their popular canon plan.

The duchess, who has many friends here as well known here, has not only been permitted to describe what she saw at Liege, but also to acknowledge the authorship of the vivid pages she has written. Like all the hundreds of pages in "The London Times History of the War," her contributions are profusely illustrated.

It is to be hoped that this second Florence Nightingale, whose official title is Lady Millicent Fanny St. Clair-Blakins, daughter of the fourth Earl of Rosslyn, and wife of the fourth Duke of Sutherland, will come through the many dangers of the campaign unscathed and will continue to add to the several long dispatches on Liege, Namur, etc., which she has already contrived to get past the censor and into the hands of The London Times for its history of the war.

FACTORY FOR FRENCH ARMIES

Several New Points Occupied and Germans Are Driven Back.

HILL TOPS CAPTURED

French Soldiers Also Gain Possession of Imberg and Supporting Points.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

PARIS, March 7.—The most important news from the battlefield this week and comes from the Vosges and Alsace, where the French armies are gaining the victory. Advances were recorded at four or five points. First two peaks of the little and great Reich Ackerkopf were carried in succession. Two counter attacks of the Germans from Muehlbach, in the south, and St. Ollivier, to the north, were repulsed.

On the right bank of the Fecht River French troops seized Imberg, two-thirds of a mile southwest of Fultzewen. Further north hill 856 was captured. It lies south of Hautesthutes and its possession enables the French soldiers to hold Imberg. At Hartmanns-Wellerkopf a counter attack of a German battalion was repulsed, with the capture of many bewildered Germans and the destruction of many others. The French captured 825 yards of German trenches at Hartmanns-Wellerkopf Saturday. They also repulsed a German attack on the heights of the hills and blew up an ammunition depot at Cernay. They prevented the enemy from establishing himself on the Sillars and service Hoenrich. They also made progress on the flanks of the Reich-Ackerkopf and repulsed five counter attacks at Hartmanns-Wellerkopf.

Serious Check for Enemy.

The Germans suffered a serious check at Notre Dame du Port, east of Arna. They made a counter attack on the French, in which they were largely effective and suffered a serious reverse. Several of the German trenches were captured in the night, and important losses were incurred.

The allied artillery has begun the bombardment of Westende, a town about seven miles south of Oestende. Owing to heavy rains and unfavorable weather in the Champagne country fighting was impeded Sunday and but slight progress was made north of Perthes and northwest of Beausjour, and a German attack in the ravine northwest of Beausjour was repulsed. West of Perthes a footing was gained in a strongly fortified wood on Sunday and some prisoners were captured. Another trench was carried north of Beausjour.

FOUR MEN DEATH WHEN AUTO HIT TROLLEY CAR

Buildings at Knowlesville Hid View of Motoring Party and Collision Resulted.

Canadian Press Despatch. ALBION, N.Y., March 7.—Four men died and two injured as the result of a collision between a trolley car and a Buick touring car on the Buffalo and Rochester express trolley car and a seven-wheeled automobile on the Buffalo and Rochester express trolley car. The trolley car was carrying a party of four men and a woman. The automobile was carrying a party of four men. The collision occurred at Knowlesville, where the trolley car was stopped to allow a party of motorists to pass. The automobile struck the rear wheel of the trolley car, causing it to tip over and crush the occupants.

Asiatic Forts Under Hot Fire

sent to Smyrna and a general exchange of the inhabitable islands. Six steamers, five Greek and one Dutch, lying at Vryoule having been ordered off the warships opened fire on various Turkish batteries in the gulf, which replied vigorously. Mine sweeping operations have been begun to clear the approaches to Smyrna Bay. Yesterday's bombardment of the Dardanelles began at one o'clock in the afternoon. Six British battleships, including the Queen Elizabeth, opened a vigorous fire from the Gulf of Saros upon the European forts on the peninsula and the works at Bulair. Three French battleships with their craft reinforced the ships within the straits and the British cruisers above mentioned. The British cruiser Spiphire shelled various fortifications on the Gulf of Adramytti. Mine sweeping operations have been continued methodically and it has been claimed by the Turks that no numerous mines are reported. Turkish losses during the bombardment have been heavy and there have been numerous reports of wounded to Constantinople.

Big Guns Worked Hoax.

The British battleships Queen Elizabeth and Prince George, and the battle cruiser Indefatigable, with their 15-inch guns, on Friday opened an attack on the principal forts on the European side of the narrow in the Dardanelles. Two of the forts were damaged and the magazine of a third was blown up. These forts which guard the narrowest part of the straits from the European side, are believed to be the strongest along the waterway, although those on the opposite side of the narrow almost all of these forts, marked on the

REAL VALUES ARE MAINTAINED

Land Is Being Developed Rather Than Held for Increases.

ONE STUMBLING BLOCK

Suburban Transportation Facilities Must Be Improved Very Soon.

"The abnormal conditions certainly affected the real estate business in Toronto," remarked a gentleman connected with the firm of Robins Limited, "but not to the prodigious extent that some people not cognizant with the business would have you believe. We are receiving enquiries daily for all our properties and while the acreage available is not as large as it was a year or two ago, it is considerably less than any previous year, it is indeed gratifying and in striking contrast with former times, that purchasers are all ambitious and aggressive and contemplate developing their land in preference to holding for increases in value.

"In addition, we have heard of a number of our clients who already have holdings, who purpose building homes. This, indeed, is significant and shows that people are awakening to the great possibilities of property and the advantages of living on the outskirts of the city. Transportation is the most perplexing problem, and the lack of sufficient radial facilities proves the stumbling block for greater development and activity of Toronto suburbs. It is well known that Toronto and its surrounding facilities are totally inadequate, and as for radial transportation, it is so far in the rear that it is beyond comparison with any other city on the continent of its size. Statistics will bear me out in this statement, as they show Toronto to be the third most congested city on the American continent.

Must be improved. "Transportation arrangements must be improved and those who are now buying and locating in these sections and for service is not all that can be desired and tolerating this inconvenience, are exercising foresight and anticipating the increased profits that should surely result when these improvements are underway. They are in identical the same position as those who purchased out Earlscourt property at prices ranging from $3 per foot. At that time, Earlscourt was a desirable and we are just as strongly in favor and recommend the purchase of Toronto suburban property at the present time and prices as at the time we introduced our other properties, which have subsequently become thickly populated and are now selling at prices well in excess of the value of the property.

Values are Sustained. "There has been no perceptible decrease in real estate values, but on the contrary our records show that they have never been maintained, and that property owners have implicit confidence in Toronto's stability and future progressiveness is best demonstrated in the manner in which they have readily met by purchasers, and I might add that our collections are being satisfied remarkably well and in very few instances—and these were exceptional cases—have we even obliged to extend payments.

"The same can be said of the present day with the speculative element indicated, I believe, is down to a solid foundation, and we certainly look for improvement will materialize at an earlier date than most people anticipate."

GERMANY IS CALLING ON THE OLD AND UNFIT

Men Previously Declared Ineligible to Go Under Training.

Canadian Press Despatch. COPENHAGEN, March 7 (via London, 6:25 p.m.)—Germans up to the age of 55 years who two months ago were declared unfit for military service, it is reported here, now have been called upon to undergo training with younger recruits.

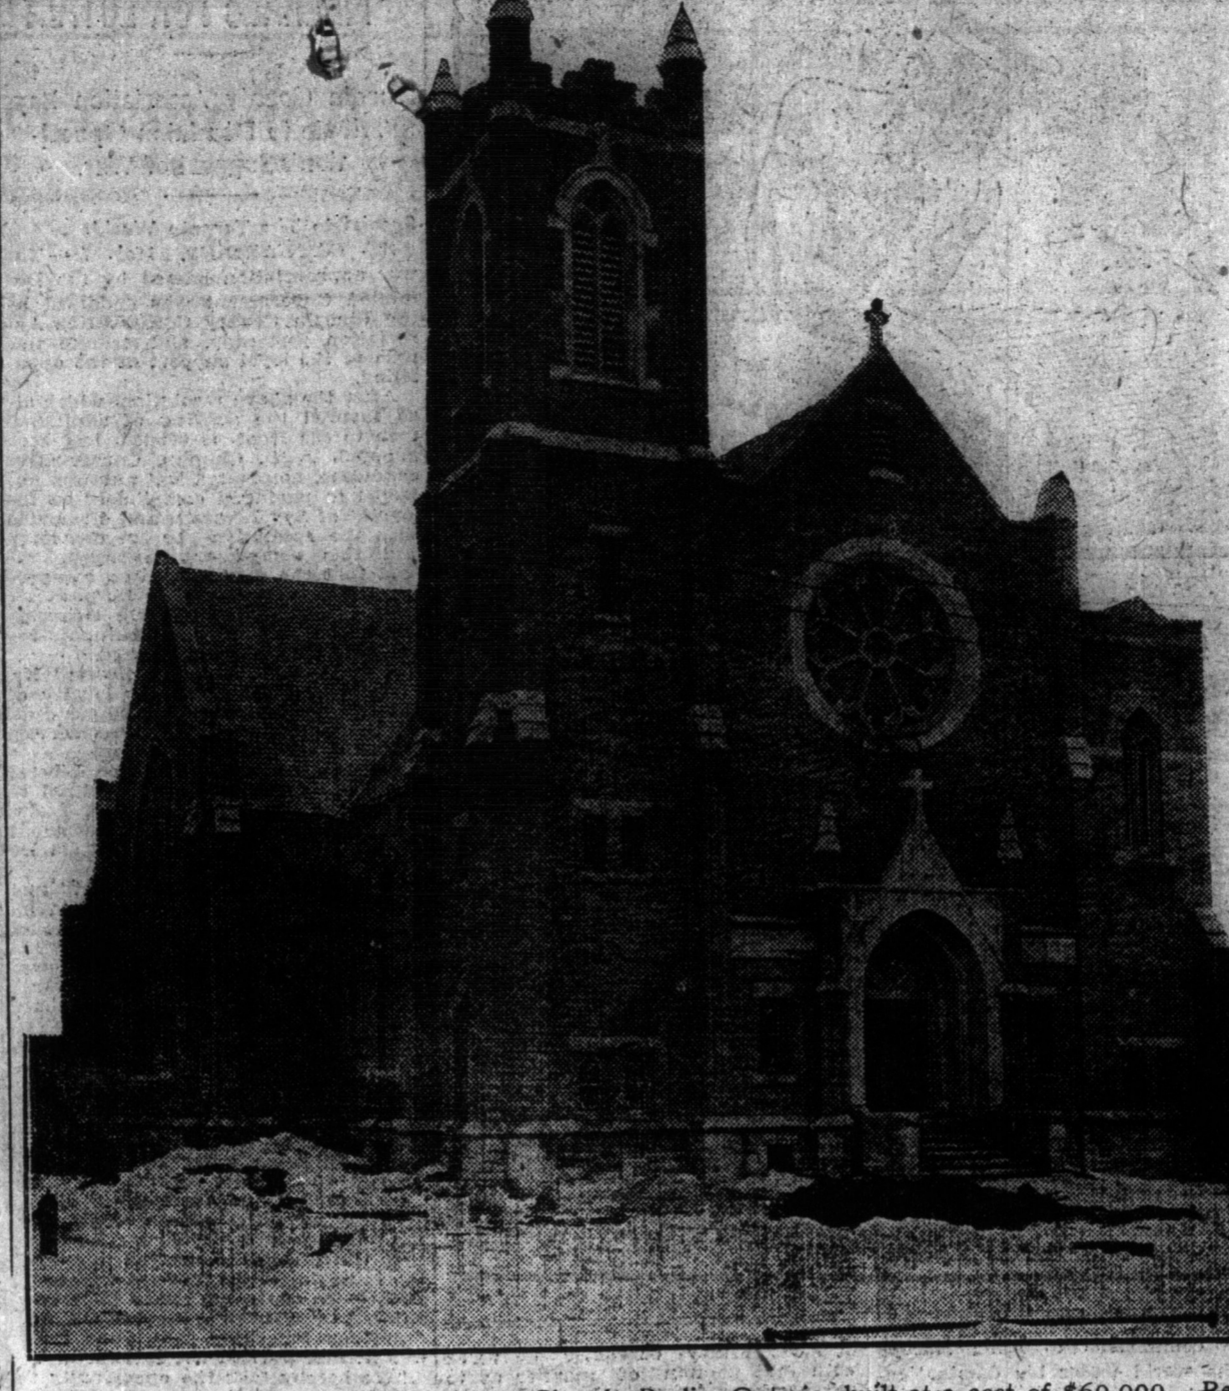

Brisk Fighting on Land.

Meantime lighter cruisers continue attacks on the forts along the coast of Asia Minor, from Beles, which is near the entrance to the Dardanelles, to Smyrna, doubtless with a view of preventing reinforcements being sent to the straits, where there already are a large number of Turkish troops with whom the marines who were landed to complete the destruction of the forts at the entrance to the straits have been in contact. It was in this hand fighting that the allies suffered casualties, according to the British report, 19 killed, 26 wounded and three missing.

Peire's Fleet in Action.

Last night's despatch from the admiralty disclosed that the East Indies fleet under Vice-Admiral Sir Richard Peire, who is lying on his side on the Buryaul, has joined the allied fleet and that he undertook the bombardment of the fortifications at Smyrna, which were seriously damaged. On Wednesday last the ships continued the bombardment of Fort Dardanelles on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles. Destroyers and mine sweepers are pursuing the work of clearing the outer straits of mines. French ships are keeping up a bombardment from the Gulf of Saros. Putzgraf is said to have been arrested by the attack on the Dardanelles, and is looking to the future. It is said that King Ferdinand is considering the formation of a coalition government to direct the affairs of the country through the crisis which is expected.

deney of King Constantine, and as Venizelos was leaving the palace at its conclusion, he was acclaimed by the populace. King Constantine won great popularity by the successful manner in which he led the last two Balkan wars. This popularity, however, he shared with M. Venizelos, to whose diplomacy in the conference following the Balkan alliance, which united the Balkan states against Turkey, King Constantine had also made such great changes in the Near East, success and whose organization was largely responsible for her ability to fight as she did. Press Urges War

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, March 8, 12:19 a.m.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Athens says the Greek press in its comment on the operations against the Dardanelles has declared itself in favor of Greece's participation in the war, "holding the ground that no breaking up of the Ottoman Empire should be permitted to take place without the collaboration of the Hellenic troops."

The stock in Schleswig has been practically exhausted.

LA TOURAINE SAFE FLAMES CHECKED

French Liner is Proceeding to Havre Under Own Steam.

REACH PORT TONIGHT

Rotterdam is Accompanying La Touraine as Added Precaution.

Canadian Press Despatch.

PARIS, March 7.—Pira which threatened the French steamship La Touraine has been brought under control, and all her passengers are safe on board, according to a formal announcement issued at noon today by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, owners of the liner. La Touraine is proceeding under her own steam to Havre, her destination, and is expected to arrive there tomorrow night. Only the Rotterdam of the fleet which responded to Capt. Caussin's wireless call for aid is standing by as a measure of precaution to give assistance, should it be required. Commanders of other vessels which speeded to the rescue have been informed that their services will not be required.

Rotterdam as Convey.

The statement given out by the steamship company says: "The fire which broke out aboard La Touraine was less serious than was at first thought. The fire is under control, and all passengers are safe. La Touraine has resumed her voyage to Havre under her own steam, but nevertheless, for further security, she is being escorted by the Rotterdam, and probably will arrive at Havre Monday evening."

Officials of the company assert that the flames were confined to one of the compartments in the hold. It was feared for a time that it might be necessary to transfer the passengers to another ship to avoid danger, but this plan evidently was abandoned when it was seen the blaze was being mastered.

Reassuring Wireless.

The above after receiving the following wireless despatch from Capt. Caussin of the Touraine: "Sunday, March 7, 8:45 p.m.—La Touraine having a fire in one of its holds, asked for help but is continuing her journey to Havre escorted by the steamer Rotterdam. I hope to get control of the fire. There is no immediate danger. The weather is good, but foggy. I hope to dock Monday evening if everything goes well."

WAR'S PINCH FELT IN NEWFOUNDLAND

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, March 7.—In view of the revival of the movement in Newfoundland for annexation to Canada, the report of the Canadian Trade Commissioner at St. John's, W. N. Nicholson, is of more than ordinary interest. He shows that the total trade for the fiscal year ending June 30 last was $50,328,000. The imports and exports were about equal. Imports from Canada were $4,861,000 while the exports to Canada were $1,971,000. In the last ten years Canada sold Newfoundland $47,000,000 worth of goods, the United Kingdom sold her $4,000,000 worth, and the United States $44,326,000.

Dardanelles Forts Quickly Fall

On the work of destruction of the batteries still further up this arm of the sea. Before that was done, however, the forts at Kumkale had been dealt with and that was done in an extraordinary manner. One section of the fleet, protected by the extreme point of the Gallipoli Peninsula, fired over the hills prominently at the forts, making splendid practice. Another part of the squadrons from the sheltered positions off the coast northeast of Tenedos Island directed a telling fire on the same forts, besides turning its attention with obviously great effect on groups of Turkish troops seen moving about the mainland. The sinking of the Kumkale forts finally opened the entrance to the Dardanelles.

Turkish Fire Poor.

The enemy had been drawn, but his marksmanship was obviously very bad. "I think that I am right in saying that not a single shot directed against the ships came within a hundred yards of any battleship. Out came the two ships again ineffectively pursued by the shells from the Turkish batteries. As they retired they continued to make excellent practice and their parting shots were quite as good as their first. The position dotted the landscape on the far shore and dull booms echoed over the placid waters round the ships. Fountains of water sprang high up into the air.

Indirect Fire.

"Another interesting feature of the operations," states my informant, "was what the French call indirect fire. Some batteries higher up on the north side of the waterway. The battleships were placed off the coast opposite to some island and they sent shells striking over the heights and down on to the batteries on the other side of the peninsula. In some cases the water planes out, and doubtless they were directing the fire of these ships. It was impossible for any of our ships to see what damage was done by these ships, but, judging by the commotion which could be observed, it must have been considerable. I believe the waterplanes, besides being employed in the observation and direction of the battleship fire, also dropped bombs on some of the forts and batteries lying high up on the Dardanelles.

BRITISH TROOPS HELD OFF IN TURKISH FORCES

Enemy, Including Allied Tribesmen, Numbered About Twelve Thousand.

FOUGHT HAND TO HAND

Scouting Party at Head of Persian Gulf Almost Cut Off.

Canadian Press Despatch.

CHENAI, March 7, 1:15 p.m.—British troops occupying the head of the Persian Gulf located two Turkish forces, accompanied by hostile tribesmen, during the past week, and in the fighting which followed heavy casualties were inflicted on the Turks and their allies, while the British also suffered considerably, according to report on the fighting, issued tonight by the Marquis of Crewe, secretary of state for India. The statement says: "For some time it had been known that about two or three regiments of Turkish troops, together with Turkish Bedouin tribesmen from the Tigris River, with contingents of Persian Beni Lamu Turf and other disaffected tribesmen hostile to the Sheik of Mohammadia, were collecting west of Ahwas (in Khuzistan). The Ahwas garrison was despatched on a reconnaissance in force to ascertain their numbers and disposition. Against Great Ouda.

"On March 4, the enemy, who had been located at Ghadir, and who apparently had been further reinforced, the previous day, turned out in great strength. Their number was estimated at about 12,000. In the course of our withdrawal the enemy made repeated and determined efforts to cut off a reconnoitering party. Several hand-to-hand encounters took place in which the attackers were held at bay, while our party made good its retirement. From reports made and supported by the absence of all further activity, it appears that the enemy lost no less than 100 to 200 killed, including brothers of the Sheik of the Beni Turf, besides from 500 to 600 wounded. Our casualties were British officers killed 3, wounded 8; British rank and file killed 1, wounded 5; Indian officers killed 1, wounded 4; Indian rank and file killed 5, wounded 115.

Lured Feas Into Trap.

"On the same date a cavalry reconnaissance was made in the direction of Nakala, about 25 miles northwest of Ahwas (on the Persian Gulf). The reconnoiterers, on returning to camp, were followed by a force of 400 hostile horsemen. This enemy force was skillfully drawn on to a concealed position, where they were surrounded by machine guns and field artillery. The enemy fled back to Nakala after having suffered heavy loss. Our killed 5, wounded 10; British officers killed 4, wounded 2; Indian officers killed 2, rank and file killed 4.

Three Hundred Turks Slain in Affray Near Jerusalem.

Canadian Press Despatch.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 5.—Telegraphing from Cairo, the Daily Mail's correspondent says: "During the retreat of the Turks after the battle of Sarid, German officers had an open conflict with their allies and three hundred of the latter were slain in a single affray near Jerusalem."

They do not go in for sport as play, but as business. This charge might be brought against baseball or any other professional game for sport does not consist in watching other people play games, but in taking part in them oneself.

The Germans are said to have become inspired with the idea, prompted by the Kaiser, that they ought to shine in sport like other nations, run as fast, jump as far and as high, and do all the other stunts quite as well as any other people.

One swallow does not make a summer, and one champion does not indicate the existence of the sporting instinct among the people of any nation in general.

That the British races possess this spirit in an unequalled degree is what makes it possible for them to command the admiration and allegiance, willing and unwilling, of the multitudinous races over which they exercise control.

We shall all be glad if Germany will learn to "play the game." We shall be glad if the war is over and done with this year, peace signed, and Germany exhibiting that most certain token of being a good sport, by showing herself a good loser.

More faith would be placed in the Kaiser's assertions that he was opposed to a European war, had he aided in place of thwarted Sir Edward Grey's anxious and disinterested efforts to maintain peace.

The Kaiser had designs against the rights and liberties of neighboring states. Every one of them knows and every neutral nation believes.

Not one of the European powers, whether great or small, but recognized by a moment the full significance of Austria's action. Apprehension and alarm were visible in the haste with which the diplomatic wheels began to move, and in the urgent appeals made for time and yet more time for an attempt to find a means of satisfying the Austrian demands.

Infatuated as the Kaiser is with the notion that he rules by Divine right and has been entrusted with the

A DISGUSTED NARCISSUS

Divine commission to bring Europe and the world under his domination, he may have convinced himself that he really desired peace and could not have averted war.

On the contrary, more fully convinced are those in the Conservative party who are trying hard to shield their conduct under the banner of Conservatism to make this a party question.

The governments are reported as assuming Canada is not competent to assume this industry. Let the government come out in an open and frank manner and state and show cause.

Workmen, mechanics and professional men necessary to the development of nickel, to you I cannot better express my thoughts than say you are betrayed and crucified upon a cross.

What have you to say that are championing the great national propaganda doctrine of "Made-in-Canada" to the government who turns a deaf ear to your pleading for interests that depriving Canada of what is within the power of the government to make one of the most important industries in our land.

From Montreal Star, March 6: What has become of the proposal to enact of nickel by governments, interest so dear to you as to be the subject of a bill at stake in the election—could an election be forced upon us—and then see that their ballots are cast under a guarantee of security and kept entirely safe until they are counted.

It is going to be no simple thing to collect ballots from the trenches in German soil. Plans must be provided to inform the soldiers as to the issues at stake in the election—could an election be forced upon us—and then see that their ballots are cast under a guarantee of security and kept entirely safe until they are counted.

CONSERVATIVES THANK LIBERALS FOR LOYALTY

Lincoln County Association Pays Tribute to Dominion Opposition's Support of War.

Special to The Toronto World. ST. CATHARINES, Mar. 7.—The war appropriation passed by the Dominion Government was endorsed by the Lincoln County Conservative Association yesterday, and tribute was paid to the loyal support of the opposition.

After the above resolution, which also favored the sending of additional men to the front, it was moved, adopted, J. D. Chaplin, Conservative candidate, nominated last autumn, objected to paying a compliment to the loyalty of any Liberals, and demanded that the resolution be reconsidered.

What about Col. McCordick? "What about your kilt? Why haven't you gone?" howled some of the delegates.

Officers were elected as follows: President, E. E. Sheppard, Niagara-on-the-Lake; vice-president, Richard Clark, Merrittton; secretary, H. O'Laughlin, St. Catharines; treasurer, M. Y. Keating, St. Catharines.

PREMIER HEARST AND THE LADIES

The following letter has been addressed to Premier Hearst by the Canadian Suffrage Association: "Your reception of the deputation from the Canadian Suffrage Association, which came to ask you to extend the franchise to the married women of Ontario on the same terms as is now enjoyed by widows and spinners, was courteous and kind, but your reply was rather pointed and unsatisfactory."

"We hereby take the opportunity to answer some of the seeming difficulties in the way of passing this measure suggested in your reply.

"It cannot be gained that in social and moral reform work, in which all good women are actively interested, that at least such valuable time is wasted, to say nothing of discouragement and defeat, when in order to bring about the desired results, complicity, government, etc. have to be influenced by the indirect and frictional method of pleading instead of the direct way of the ballot, and thinking people feel that our country is the loser thereby."

WANTS FEDERAL AID FOR MUNICIPALITIES. Mayor of Montreal Suggests Means of Relieving the Unemployed.

Canadian Press Despatch. MONTREAL, March 7.—Mayor Martin claims that the people of the Dominion who are thrown out of work as a result of the war have as much right to protection from the government as have the families of those who have volunteered for active service, and he wrote yesterday to Premier Borden about the matter.

HELD ANNUAL SMOKER. Members of the Civil Service Association were in attendance at their annual smoker, held Saturday night in St. George's Hall, Elm street.

Mrs. Wiseneighbour Says:--

"I should have told you the other day, when I was speaking of 'Eddy's' Washboards, that it is just as necessary to have an indurated Fibreware Tub to hold your clothes if you want to make a success of washday."

Mrs. Newlywed Says:--

"I've heard of Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. What's the difference between fibre and woodenware?" "Fibreware is made from compressed fibre, baked at extreme heat. All in one solid piece, it cannot warp or fall apart. No chance of splinters. Wears much longer, looks better, and is light to carry. The latter point you should always take into consideration," concludes Mrs. Wiseneighbour.

THIS WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATRES

Mabel Strickland, at the Princess.

A Scrap of Paper

This week the stage of the Alexandra Theatre will be devoted to comedy. Miss Haswell will present an up-to-date version of Victorien Sardou's delightful fun-making play, "A Scrap of Paper." This light play of Sardou's abounds in complications that keep the audience in laughter and at the same time make them wonder at what is coming next.

A House of Lies

At the Princess Theatre this week Ralph Cummings will present the comedy-drama, "A House of Lies," by John P. Ritter, one of the cleverest authors of the day. Miss Elsie Riser will be seen in an important role in which she has ample opportunity of displaying her talents.

Damon and Pythias

The famous photo drama spectacle, "Damon and Pythias" is to be presented at the Grand Opera House all this week with a matinee every day. Previous to the presentation of this picture this evening Oscar Bumpus, past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, will deliver a short address on the subject of the photodrama, that of "Eternal Friendship."

Gaby Deslys at Winter Garden

will be the attraction extraordinary at Loew's Winter Garden this afternoon and evening. She will be seen as the leading character in a play of stage life, in which her finely chosen features and vivacity adapt themselves wonderfully well to the portrayal of a story of algarbin' interest.

Loew's—Vaudeville

"The Dairy Maids," a musical comedy production of sparkling quality, will be the star offering at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre this week. It will employ a beauty chorus of eight Broadway show girls and a talented cast of principals, headed by Eddie Foley, the well-known comedian, and Lea Letora, a charming soubrette.

City Belles Burlesque

Typical burlesque, real burlesque is the bill of fare offered to the patrons of the Star Theatre this week when Fulton and Howard's "City Belles Burlesquers" will hold forth.

S. K. Fried, stage manager for Miss Haswell.

while Gun runs a race with melody. Among others will be Sam Green, Chas. Brown, Dave Kindler, Mae Alberta and May Brown.

Scene from "Damon and Pythias," at the Grand.

Sully Family at Hipp

The Sully Family will headline the bill at the Hippodrome this week, in "The Information Bureau"; "Runaway June" is proving to be the most thrilling photo serial that has ever appeared here.

Schubert Choir and De Treville

Miss Yvonne De Treville, the distinguished coloratura soprano, whose appearance with the Schubert Choir at Massey Hall tomorrow night is an event for which music lovers are waiting expectantly.

Dave Kindler, the whistling riot, with "City Bells," at the Star.

Gaby Deslys, Loew's Winter Garden.

Max Spiegel at Gayety

Those who attend the Gayety Theatre this week may look for something out of the ordinary when Max Spiegel will present his latest and most successful efforts in "Morocco Bound," a brand new production, headed by the vivacious Watson Sisters and a big cast of musical comedy favorites.

Yvonne De Treville, with the Schubert Choir, at Massey Hall tomorrow night.

Gus Edwards at Shea's

Gus Edwards, heading his own company of 35 clever juveniles, comes to Shea's as the headline attraction this week. Sally Seales, the talented Toronto girl, with the phenomenal soprano-baritone voice, that capable youngster, "Georgie," and the imitable "Cuddles," will be featured in Edwards' new song revue.

STOLE FROM KNOX

$3.00 War History for 98c and one Coupon

The London Times—"the mother of newspapers"—with its powerful and far-reaching connections, with its unusual sources of information, and with its great staff of keen-eyed and quick-witted correspondents, has penetrated the veil of secrecy that surrounds the nations at war.

The Only Great Book About the War

You will find, on page after page of this famous book, hundreds of facts about the war that have never before been in print—secrets wrung from military and naval officers—what really happened at Liege—why the Germans drove all before them at the beginning of the war—how England is raising and training her army—how the nations at war are meeting the crisis in trade and finance; and how the great game of strategy is actually played.

This story of the battle of nations has been written by men who have seen the war with their own eyes. It carries on every page the color and life of armies in action—with hundreds of pictures of men and forts and war-ravaged towns and battlefields. It takes you away from the confusion of hearsay evidence, and puts before your eyes the actual historical facts.

Cost $70,000 to Make The London Times History of the War is a big handsome book—7 1/4 x 11 inches in size, and weighs 3 pounds. It is printed on fine paper, and is bound in handsome blue cloth. Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

LEONA DALRYMPLE

Something in the Wind.

THINK Mary and I both rather dreaded going back to our apartment. For as a thing, there is something inexpressibly dreary about four walls that have known no human tenants for a time. They lack some spirit of warmth.

Some Usenet Signs. Somehow, with this new tenderness in my heart for Mary I dreaded the painful link to the past which I must take up when the thought-ghosts sprang out of our empty apartment to meet us. There was the furniture to remind us of our extravagance and how we had lived beyond our means, and, queerly enough, in this dread of mine there was no such a reminiscence of Mary's thoughtless extravagance as a guilty remembrance of the carping, nervous, old young man that had been I.

But Fate, curiously enough, had been kind to Mary and me again, thanks to Aunt Minerva. Now if Mary and I had not been so busy that afternoon taking up the shabby things of home that we should probably have noticed a decided undercurrent of excitement. Later I remember that Aunt Minerva's telephone did ring a lot, and that Dad was given to nervous starts and jumps; that he and Mr. Fenfield wandered off now and then talking in undertones, and that mother and Mr. Fenfield exchanged glances decidedly significant in the light of later developments.

Uncle Jeff's Chuckles. But I was too busy with spiritual adjustments, and I think Mary was, too, to notice that something was afoot. Presently Uncle Jeff came and said the carriage was ready, and Aunt Minerva heaved a sigh of relief.

There was no earthly reason that I could see for Aunt Minerva accompanying us home, but into the creaky old carriage we all fled again with much of the dear nonsense and laughter which characterized a home party pleasantly settled by a reunion.

Aunt Minerva's carriage creaked heavily up the street with its family party, and Uncle Jeff suddenly started us all by a tremendous wheeze and chuckle totally uncalled for by any happening in the party.

"Jeff!" said Aunt Minerva sternly. "To-4-am, Miss Minerva." "If there's anything going on sufficient to arouse your risibilities to that extent, my dear, I'll be glad to hear it." "My-my what, Miss Minerva?" "To make you explode into chuckles," went on Aunt Minerva sternly, "kindly explain it."

This seemed to be climactic in its effect, for Uncle Jeff almost collapsed on the seat. Everybody but Mary and myself were smiling, rather furtively, but in an understanding sort of way.

"Wait a minute," I called hastily, "we've going by the house."

Uncle Jeff merely chuckled and drove on.

She's never tasted candy in her life, or a cookie or a doughnut. And she's never run away from home for a whole half a block, and felt like a wild creature, just because the wind was blowing and nobody was holding her by the hand.

I don't suppose she ever hunted a nest of eggs and found them in a great, dark, fragrant barn in all her life, and nobody ever put her in a swing and ran under the swing-until, "Whoosh!" she flew high, high among the green leaves like a bird.

And did she ever slip off somewhere and go barefoot, and feel the soft dust, "squish-squish, squish-squish," under her toes?

And will the bluebirds ever call to her from the apple tree? And will the meadow larks say "We're waiting, we're waiting?" And will she run out to be with them and forget to come back in time for supper?

And will she ever get muddy and dirty and tired and naughty, and creep right into her mother's arms and be forgiven?

What She Misses. She's never tasted candy in her life, or a cookie or a doughnut. And she's never run away from home for a whole half a block, and felt like a wild creature, just because the wind was blowing and nobody was holding her by the hand.

Ah, yes, my friends! To love is natural enough. You can't learn how in a book, you say. But LOVE is a wonderful educator. If you are a good pupil you may go ahead very fast. If you are a slow pupil there must be great patience on the part of the teacher. Yet you would be a strange creature indeed if all the power of the master kindergarten left you uninformed—if at last you did not unfold and understand. A piece by piece the spelling of that great thing, Love, is accomplished, and with this spelling lesson is bound to come a new comprehension of the whole story of LIFE itself.

Some there are who go through life without ever having won the help of the Great Teacher. Surely they are unfortunate!

Is the Brought-up-by-Rule Child Really Happy?

By WINIFRED BLACK

THE chubby little girl raised her serious brown eyes to her mother's face. "But mamma," she said, "is it right for me to play when I have not finished the doll's dress?"

And the chubby little girl's mother was very proud, and told us how hard she had worked to make the little girl thorough and conscientious and painstaking and exact.

And we all looked at each other and at her and smiled, and said: "Wonderful!"

I suppose the rest all meant what they said. But I didn't mean a syllable of it, not one syllable.

The little girl was plump and rosy and well fed and well dressed. She looked as if she had had meals on the very stroke of the hour, and not a thing that wasn't hygienic to eat at them.

I don't believe that little girl had ever been hungry or cold or hot or frightened or lonesome or really absolutely happy or really quite natural for one single minute in her straight, brought-up-by-rule existence.

Never! Never! Never! Poor little orderly, obedient, conscientious, raised-by-letter and brought-up-by-rule little girl. She'll never know what it really is to live!

How will she ever know a real child? But, then, I don't suppose she'll ever have one.

Children are better now than they used to be, they say, more obedient, more reasonable, better looked after in every way.

I suppose they are—I really do suppose they are.

But, oh, I'm glad I was little in the days when you could be naughty in a while, just for fun, and when all the gardens were not laid out in such prim, straight up-and-down paths to walk in.

Do you know the time I love to think of, when I remember my mother? Not the times when I did just as I should and she knew it, but when I did sometimes a little that I shouldn't do and she knew it, and looked at me reproachfully, and laughed, and held out her arms, and I ran and threw myself into them, and we laughed and cried a little together.

For, oh, it is sweet to forgive and sweet to be forgiven!

The young colt there in the meadow, how he kicks up his heels and runs for very pleasure.

Some day he will wear a harness and pull a heavy load. I'd like to keep him free in the pasture a little while longer, wouldn't you?

Wrist-Watch Wounds Are a New War Hazard

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

THERE is an element of humor mingled with the sympathy with which Americans learn that the source of pain and death has appeared in the wake of the great world's war now in the process of settlement. The surgeons of Germany, England, France and Russia have announced that a new sort of wound, more common than any one could dream of before, has made its appearance on all the battlefields.

This is caused by the wrist watches worn by soldiers. It comes as a Gargantuan surprise to American and American physicians. It had not been realized before that practically all military men of Europe, privates as well as officers, have given up watch chains and fobs. Long ago they abandoned all other methods of carrying watches other than on a wristband.

Dr. Carl Melchior of Munich has been appointed by the army medical corps particularly to describe the multitude of severe wounds encountered upon soldiers and directly traced to the wrist watch. Injuries received in this manner are henceforth to receive the classification, "wounds from indirect projectiles." This means that the wrist watch becomes an auxiliary projectile.

Shrapnel, for example, like bullets and cannon shots, is a direct projectile. When a wound is made by other than the projectile intended to injure, it is called an indirect projectile.

Attention of medical men at the front began to be directed to the wrist watch when a preponderance of injuries and infections appeared in the left arm and left hand. At first military surgeons were at a loss to account for this. Suddenly the truth dawned upon them, as splinters of gold, jewels, glass and other portions of watches were found in many instances in these abrasions and openings.

The sad part of this new type of wound can be appreciated when it is remembered that watches are never cleaned, never sterilized and always full of dirt, bacteria, lockjaw germs and other vicious enemies of human health.

In nearly all examples of wrist-watch wounds the arm becomes dangerously invaded with the germs of blood poisoning, and it requires all the skill of the field surgeon and the application of the newest methods of disinfection to save the arm and the life of the victim.

Dangers in Peace. Dr. Melchior calls upon the general public of Germany, particularly to issue a new order forbidding the use of wrist watches. Not only is it important to stop soldiers wearing them, but railroad men, hunters, chauffeurs, aviators and a whole host of men whose occupations expose them to possible accidents, should be cautioned about this newest of vicious wounds.

Americans were slow in adopting a number of European fads and customs which have later seized hold of the nation. The motion picture, theatre, the picture postcard and numerous other European innovations had slipped across the seas firmly for several years before Americans became equally mad about them.

The wrist watch seems to be like the others. It has already seized hold of many persons in various occupations. It has successfully traversed the stage of effeminacy, and real men on this side of the Atlantic have been carrying them to the world as the Indian penal settlement maintained by Great Britain never tell them to him complainingly. He has just as heavy a load to bear as you have, and if you wince, he will never complain about it. Laugh over your mishaps just as you've laughed over them with me here.

If keeping a sense of humor in the kitchen is going to perfect my house-keeping abilities I'll be a wonder some day," I assured Aunt.

"Don't promise quite that," she returned. "A good housekeeper must 'stay on her job' and keep abreast of the times just as much as a good business man. You'll have to keep on trying and experimenting with new plans and ideas. You'll have to read all the good books and newspaper and magazine articles that you can on the subject of your work. In lots of homes you find the latest novel, but no book on housekeeping anywhere, and the chances are that the mistress of that household isn't a housekeeping enthusiast nor especially capable at her job."

"But as long as you've selected your job I do want you to be in love with it, and to give to it the very best of your ability and attention. Practice will make you very capable indeed, and then you'll be able to manage lots of time for your outside interests as well."

if you feel that you must share your day's experiences, pleasant and unpleasant, with your husband at night, never complain about it. Laugh over your mishaps just as you've laughed over them with me here.

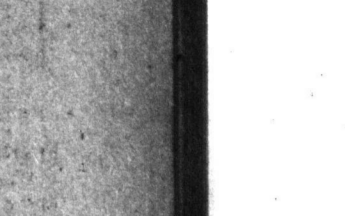

Walking through the cultivated lands, that have later seized hold of the nation, the picture postcard and numerous other European innovations had slipped across the seas firmly for several years before Americans became equally mad about them.

Answers to Health Questions

Mrs. R. L. W.—Q—In your prescription for making the eyebrows grow what was your other name for pepper ointment?

A—Another name for this is capsicum vaseline.

D. H. Q.—For the last month I have had no strength in my hands. I have no pain. What can you suggest?

A—Apply dry heat and an electric battery three times a day to the hands.

CONSTANT READER—Q—What shall I do for an itching sensation all over my body?

A—Apply to the itching parts: Calamine, 35 grams; glycerine, 2 grams; stearic acid, 2 grams; phenol, 1/2 gram; lime water and rosewater enough to make 3 ounces.

A. B. C.—Q—Can you tell me what will stop a constant craving for candy? I have tried to stop it, but cannot.

A—Will power is about the only thing that will stop you. You might try chewing gum instead of candy until you can break your self entirely of the habit.

X. Y. Z.—Q—Tell me what to do for high blood pressure?

A—Avoid excitement, take plenty of sleep and rest, keep the bowels active, and never over-exert yourself. Eat no meat, peas, beans, nuts, or solid foods. Take 15 drops of a saturated solution of iodine of potassium in water after meals. Increase the dose one drop a meal until 30 drops are taken, and then go back to 15 drops, and up again several times. Drink milk and distilled water, and also take a Bulgarian tablet with meals.

Three Minute Journeys

WHERE MEN ARE CARRIED TO THEIR GRAVES TO DIE.

IN the Andaman Islands, best known to the world as the Indian penal settlement maintained by Great Britain, I discovered a strange custom in the northern island of the Nicobar group, that may be termed the rite of the dying.

Walking through the cultivated lands, that have later seized hold of the nation, the picture postcard and numerous other European innovations had slipped across the seas firmly for several years before Americans became equally mad about them.

A Top-Coat for Early Spring

THE topcoat of covert cloth is to be a general favorite this spring. This design is a tailored conception of the full-skirted coat. The close-fitted sleeves have raglan shoulders and turned-back cuffs. The high collar is cut-in-one with the bodice, and the front is joined to a circular back which falls in deep ripples about the hem.

The coat is single-breasted and is lined with brown, bone buttons.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl of 16, and chum with a girl of 18. We go to the sewing club and shows together, and I have to be home by 8:30. I am quite satisfied, but my mother wants me to go with a certain young man.

I like to please her in what I do, but I don't seem to be able to in this so because I won't go out with him instead of with my girl friend, on Sunday when I wanted to go out she locked me in my bedroom. She won't let me go out at all now, and I am miserable.

I don't want a steady young man, because I'm only 16.

What shall I do? She says I am stubborn. I don't want to be able to live with us. He is 18. They tried to make me like him as a young man.

but I couldn't like him any more than a cousin, and not that sometimes. Will you advise me what to do, please? I'll be so grateful. H. S.

WELL, little girl, what sort of a mother have you, in the name of common sense? She must be crazy. Does she want to get rid of you or what?

I certainly would not think of marrying any one at your age. Twenty is young enough to marry. Go on about your work and let your foolish mother be foolish—alone. She can't make you marry against your will. But try and make her understand.

Annie Laurie
