NO NEED OF GRAND JURIES
Judge Laundry Says Time For Change Is Coming
If Must Be, Six Men Would do as Well as Twenty
Three and Petit Juries Should be Reduced to Three—Expresses Views in Court in Fredericton
Fredericton, N. B., June 28.—(Special)—The docket in the York County court opened this morning, Judge Laundry presiding. There was no criminal business and the docket contained only one civil case, that of Martin Kennedy vs. Margaret Gorman, an action for trespass. Two or three grand jurors answered to their names and elected William Jeffrey foreman. In addressing them, Judge Laundry expressed the opinion that the administration of justice could be carried on more satisfactorily without grand jurors, and if grand jurors were necessary, six men could perform the duty as well as twenty-three. In regard to petit juries, he thought three men would be sufficient and would feel greater responsibility and would be less apt to shift responsibility on others. "The time has come," said His Honor, "for a change and a rapid change."

RUSH FROM ENGLAND FOR B. C. GOLD
(London, June 28.—The discovery of gold in British Columbia has caused considerable excitement here. Headlines in the press comprise miles of gold in the British Columbia, fabulous wealth, and mammoth reefs. The agent general for British Columbia has had hundreds of enquiries, but states he has no official confirmation of the reported discovery, but a rush from London has already started. A Capetown despatch states that the majority of the newspapers there devote leaders to the reported discovery. The Cape Argus says if the find is as rich as has been stated, the world's growing hunger for gold will permit its absorption without causing any serious disturbance in prices or preventing profitable exploration of low grade ore, which is so important to South Africa. The news has not affected the general market for gold shares.

HEARS FAIRY TALE OF DOMINION
(London, June 27.—It is understood that the Irish have decided to vote against the budget unless satisfied there will be no compromise with the opposition on the veto. In the commons today the question of the Mediterranean command and inspectorship of the overseas forces arose again. Mr. Wyndham thought that General Hamilton's appointment was unwise, pointing out, among other things, that it might bring him into delicate relationship with the overseas governments. Mr. Haldane, replying on that point, expressed the belief that the foundation of a policy of uniformity of the various armies of the empire had now been laid, and an inspector general was needed who would be able to give a great deal of time to the work of inspection of overseas troops, if desired. Mr. Haldane referred to the fact that General Hamilton had commanded the Canadian and Australian in the field as an additional recommendation for that distinguished officer. The Womans' view did half the course on trial. Riley started at a fast pace, striking 40, but slightly reduced the rate after the first minute. DEPUTY MINISTER IS PLEASED
North Shore Branch Inspection and Visit to Fredericton Planned—Excellent Outlook at the Sydneys Reported
Moncton, June 27.—Deputy Minister of Railways, A. W. Campbell returned this morning after spending Sunday at Spring Hill, the guest of J. R. Cowan. He presided at a lengthy session of the board of management, at which much important routine work was disposed of. The deputy has been on a three weeks' tour of inspection of the roads and has a much better acquaintance with the business possibilities and conditions of the Intercolonial railway than he could have obtained in any other way. Those who have met him in a business way have been greatly impressed with the readiness he displayed with the propositions presented and his willingness to meet the views of the merchants and employes as far as possible. He is not a man of many words, but his evident wish to acquaint himself with facts and conditions augurs well for the consideration he will give many questions that are of such vital interest to people in the territory of the Intercolonial. Speaking for a moment or two to a group of newspaper correspondents, Mr. Campbell said he was greatly pleased with the condition of the railway and its equipment. He said the Nevada people would be the appearance of the towns throughout Nova Scotia, from which he had just returned, and that the business possibilities for the railway. This was particularly true of the Sydneys, where the volume of business was greater than ever. He was delighted with Prince Edward Island, and it was quite evident had been fully impressed by the people there, with the difficulties surrounding their isolated position. He spoke generally of his inspection of the branches, but said that his first report upon them must, of course be made to the government. After leaving the city he will inspect the branches from the Northern division, and will go over the Canada Eastern branch of the road which will visit Fredericton before he returns to Ottawa.

NEARLY 500 TEACHERS AT INSTITUTE
Coming to the question of school holidays, the board of education in the United States, to the school day, in order to have music and drawing added to the programme of study, and to have the school day to be done here. The indications were that an hour would have to be added to the school day, and that the study and he was opposed to the latter. He referred to the present method of having to spend four years at college, whereas three years was formerly the limit. The vacation period in the colleges was altogether too long. He believed that less work was now done in four years than had been done under the old order in three. On the subject of physical training, he said there was an excellent system for the province and he thought that anything that would be produced by the Intercolonial school was a good thing. In the normal school year it has proved a great success. The boys had been well complimented by the military commander at Fredericton on their soldierly appearance and drill. The majority of the teachers to go with the Fredericton corps to Camp Sussex. All advanced teachers would be qualified to attend the summer school at Fredericton. He advised his hearers of the importance of providing themselves with nature study and agricultural study books, and that the scholars these subjects. The report in certain papers that teachers would have to spend two years at the normal school, instead of one, was entirely unauthorized, he said. The matter had not yet been discussed by the board of education, and it was most unlikely that such would be the case. He regretted many teachers had left the province for the west and warned them against being carried away by stories painting a rosy picture of the life out there. It cost this province, he said, about $5,000 each for educating the teachers and there should be some way of keeping them here for at least three years. Reference was made to the change in the time of meeting of the school districts, which this year would be on the second Monday in July. Consolidation of the schools, would, he believed, solve many of the difficulties now experienced in the country districts. Dr. McKay, chief superintendent of education for Nova Scotia, would speak to them on the question of the four-year course in the High school, which is now carried on to the master of Nova Scotia and in the United States. He hoped the time would never come when there would be any less Latin and Greek in the schools, but rather more. He was opposed to shortening the school course. He believed the time was coming when the college graduate would take to farming as they did to other professions, and he hoped the teachers would do their best to direct attention to farming. There was no better country in the world for mixed farming than New Brunswick. The trouble was that we had not been optimistic enough. The matter of tuberculosis would receive attention at one of the sessions. After touching on the need of having music added to the list of school subjects he closed by again welcoming them to the meeting. Dr. E. V. B. Bridges, principal of the Normal School, Fredericton; Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of city schools; Inspector Stevens, of Sussex, and Dr. G. H. Hay, briefly addressed the meeting and adjournment was made until 2:30 this afternoon.

"BIG TIM" LEAVES FOR RINGSIDE
"I can't imagine who is who is doing all this 'no fight talk,' Beckard said to a group of newspaper correspondents. "If there was the least bit of truth in it I think it would be reasonable to suppose that the Nevada people would have the news before it leaked out in San Francisco or Chicago. I am in close touch with every part of the state, and if any action against us was taken I certainly would be one of the first to know it. Of course all these rumors are nothing but wild conversation, but they do us harm, because they lead people in the east to believe that they will have their trip for nothing."
An Order for 1,708 Seats
One of the biggest single orders for tickets yet received came from representatives of three towns in the northwestern part of the state, whose combined population figures only 2,000, and who want 1,708 seats. Thus far the greatest demand has been for the higher priced reservations. Well known trip followers continued to pour in yesterday. One of the latest arrivals is Eddie McKewen of Winnipeg, who claims to have held the heavy weight championship of Canada from 1881 to 1885. It was stated by McKewen that he had been commissioned by friends in Canada to bet $25,000 on the approaching fight. Jake Kilrain will arrive here from Boston on Friday, according to advices received by John L. Sullivan, who is impatiently awaiting the coming of the man who gave the ex-champion one of the hardest battles in the history of the fighting game. There probably will be no marked increase in betting in St. John on Sunday night, June 28th, P. L. Jordan, secretary, St. John Boat Club. 1908-63.

Should a strike occur upon the Canadian railways at this season of the year, the results would be very disastrous to the business of the country.

The mines of Ontario yielded over 86,000,000 in three months. The mineral resources of that province, however, like those of New Brunswick, are as yet but little developed.

Deputy Minister Campbell has made a fine impression upon the people along the Intercolonial Railway, at every place visited.

The recommendation of the safety board that Chief Clark be enabled to attend the meeting of the Canadian Association of Police Chiefs in Vancouver should be heartily agreed to by the city council.

The Public Utilities Commission appears to be rather anxious lest it should tread on unsafe ground.

The people of Cuba may be ready for self-government without any assistance from the United States.

When Mr. Borden is called upon from that it shall contain no man whose record is tainted, no matter how eminent his services to the party may have been in the past.

In connection with the erection of the Champlain monument, there is one citizen whose share in the work deserves especial recognition.

It is clear that the Borden Club does not entirely agree with the views of Mr. Johnson, expressed with the tacit approval of Mr. Borden himself.

The problem of a less degrading death penalty is one capable of solution.

Enlightened public sentiment will approve of the attitude of the Toronto Star, but much more is necessary.

Many plans are already being made for the out-of-door game for next year.

THE GOOD KEEP STILL Your life is a record that speaks for itself.

You needn't go bragging about it. Your work will all show like the books on a shelf.

If you're a man of virtue that may not be said. Men will take it for granted you don't make her white.

You needn't go bragging about it. If your credit is good it will holler for you.

And nobody ever will doubt it. If you've held a job for a great length of time.

And handled big sums without stealing a dime. Men will take it for granted you don't stoop to crime.

You needn't go bragging about it. Because you are square and as good as your word.

You needn't go bragging about it. If you have a virtue, to boast is absurd.

For nobody ever will doubt it. Your deeds are all of your deeds will proclaim.

And honor, if worthy, will join with your name. Because you've done nothing to wrap you in shame.

You needn't go bragging about it. It's nothing unusual here to be good.

You needn't go bragging about it. If you're on the level, that fact's understood.

And no body ever will doubt it. Just think of the millions who're good to their wives.

Whose ankles and wrists have never known gyves. Who live honest, decent and sane Christians.

Yet never go bragging about it. IN LIGHTER VEIN PRACTISED.

"PITY IS AKIN TO LOVE. He was poor, but otherwise honest, and he had just proposed to the heiress."

"Are you sure," she queried, after the manner of her kind, "that you do not want to marry me for my money?"

"Of course I don't," he replied. "I'm anxious to marry you because I haven't the heart to let you become an old maid merely because you happen to have a paltry half-million."

IT PROVED NOTHING. "Let us," he said, "get a boat and go out rowing."

"If you wish to do so," she replied, "I am willing."

"Ah, darling!" he exclaimed, "now I know you love me truly. If you didn't you never would trust yourself in a boat with me."

"That doesn't prove anything," she replied, backing away as he tried to take her in his arms.

"Don't know that you wouldn't rock the boat if I went out with you, but I'm a firm believer in predestination."—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE BORN ORATOR. (The Lyceumist). It is narrated that Colonel Beckenridge, meeting Majah Bufford on the streets of Lexington one day, asked: "What is the meaning, sub, of the cone's befo' the co's house?"

To which the Majah replied: "General Bucknel, sub, is making a speech. General Bucknel, sub, is a bo'n orator."

"What do you mean by bo'n orator?" "If yo' or I, sub, were asked how much two and two make, we would reply 'foh.' When this is asked a bo'n orator he replies: 'When in the co's of human events it becomes necessary to take in intez of the second denomination and add it, such to an intez of the same denomination, the result, sub—and I have the science of mathematics to back me in my judgment—the result, sub, and I say it without feeh of successful contradiction, sub—the result is fo'.' The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WILLIE, aged three, had of summer complaint caused by bad milk poisoned by flies.

And yet, if sometimes should take a telling truth, that, or some variation of it, would be placed on a good many of them.

In a circular sent out by one of the most instructive state boards of health in the United States, the epithet printed upon a tombstone is displayed in the margin.

Well, here are a few suggestions: See that it is carefully sprinkled with lime or kerosene oil and effectively covered.

Never leave any garbage in your sink can one moment longer than necessary.

Do not leave the floor in pantry or lexbox, or even on the table, uncovered one minute longer than necessary.

Devote a few minutes daily to a personal battle with those flies who have gotten in despite all your precautions.

"All this fuss over such a little thing as a fly is absurd," I know one who is saying.

But some night when you watch helplessly and agonized above the sick bed of your baby, perhaps you won't call that man who has caused the illness a little thing.

When Dressmaker is Visited Electrical Contrivance Does Away With Fussy Wait

(Times' New York Correspondent.) New York, June 25--Your entire society matrons upon whom physical exertion falls and to whom comfort is next to godliness are being pampered with these blistering hot days in a unique way.

At the fashionable dressmaking establishment of the Osborn Co., purveyors to the elite, a madame enters the big reception room to be fitted her presence is instantly signalled to the workrooms upstairs by a curious little electrical device known as a dictograph.

In a few seconds the gown to be tried on and the forewoman in charge of the handsomely appointed rooms assigned for fitting patrons, complete the fitting and are off again. The speed and facility and total absence of fuss with which the process is carried through is said to be marvelous.

G. P. R. AND TRAMMEN STILL FAIL TO AGREE

Montreal, June 27 - Nothing resulted from today's conference between representatives of the Canadian Pacific and the trainmen and conductors' unions save an accentuation of the impasse which has been reached. The conference lasted some time, but the representatives of the two parties practically set their backs to the wall and stood by their position that they would only accept the report of the board of conciliation. The representatives of the men adhered to their demand for the standard rate of wages for the territory. Each side explained the reasons for their position, and eventually the meeting ended, with no evidence of ill-feelings on either side, but no intimation of any inclination to compromise. While neither side would make any statement as to the position of affairs, the feeling was general among the delegates here that there would be no strike. Most of them agreed that the employes did not want a strike, and they all felt pretty sure that the company did not want one. None of the delegates could express any opinion as to how the thing would be out of the affair, but they all seemed hopeful that it would end in some sort of a compromise. Tomorrow morning the men will meet the representatives of the Grand Truck Union, and it is expected that some talk from the C. P. R. will be made. Tonight a meeting was made to St. Thomas Shaughnessy, but no reply has yet been received.

THOUSAND CHINESE IN NEW YORK SUNDAY SCHOOLS Young Woman Teacher Will $10,000 to Wong Hong Hooey - What is the Strangest Spell? (Times' New York Correspondence). New York, June 24 - Recent statistics compiled in this city indicate that there are now enrolled in the various Sunday schools maintained for the christianizing of Chinese, some 1,000 children. It is the strange anomaly which is hard to explain that the attendance at these schools has appreciably increased since the terrible fate of Gladys Siegel, grand-daughter of General Franz Siegel, who, after being murdered by one of her Chinese pupils, was thrown into a trunk. Interest in this tragedy was revived this week by the offering for probate of the will of Miss Alberta Mason Carter, a teacher in one of these schools, who left $10,000 in cash, and personal property to Gladys Hooey, a pupil. In disposing of her estate the woman ignored several of her relatives, who will probably contest the will on the ground of undue influence. What strange spell is it which these alien-born sons of Confucius cast over their American teachers that seems to enchant them? Perhaps it is a manifestation of religious fervor, a sense of that spiritual exaltation that befalls the customary mental poise of the good woman who are engaged in this work. It is the strange association within recent years several marriages have developed and a few scandals. But neither the fear of the one or the danger of the other appears to have exerted any modifying influence upon the ardor of the teachers, who seemingly prefer teaching the doctrines of the gentle Nazarene to the purveyors of Chop Suey and their more humble brethren of the laundries than to white men. It is a problem for the psychologist to solve. In the Dalton robbery case in the police court yesterday afternoon Thomas Gallagher, a witness against Patrick Quinn, the boy charged with the crime was sent to jail charged with being a principal in the case. This was a result of the evidence of a lad named Logan who testified that Gallagher sent him into the store to buy potatoes.

A report against Edward Hogan, leaving two wagons in St. Patrick street, was explained satisfactorily by him.

C. H. B. Pault, Dr. Morris, J. Rafuse and J. T. Handsonbody, of Windsor, N. S., reached the city today on an automobile and are at the Royal. They came by Moncton. Weather and roads were found not just as nice as they might be.

Apparently this correspondent is displeased about something.

CARLETON MAN FOUND DROWNED

William Joyce's Body Lay in Slip This Morning LIVED ON SCHOONER

Was in Town the Day Before and is Thought to Have Fallen Overboard in Trying to Get on Old Vessel at Night—Son in Chain Gang

William Joyce, aged about fifty-five was found dead on the mud in Dunn's slip, West End, at low tide this morning, and it is believed that he fell over the wharf some time last night, and met death by drowning. The body was found between the wharf and the schooner Reporter, by Daniel Dowd, who reported the matter. The man and his son, Richard Joyce and Daniel Dowd, an elderly man, made their home on the schooner which is an inn.

To a Times-Star reporter this morning Dowd said that he and the Joyces had made the cabin of the schooner their home for some time. Early yesterday morning, when they were "coming ashore," he said that Joyce told him then that he was going to central police station to pay the fine of his son who had been arrested for drunkenness.

Later, about 11 o'clock, he again saw Joyce in Hogan's bar in Water street. At that time Joyce took some drink but went out almost immediately, and he supposed that he was on the way to the central police station. Dowd said that he must have been asleep when the unfortunate man came down the wharf, as he heard no noise. When coming from the schooner to the wharf about 6 o'clock this morning Joyce lay face upwards on the mud.

"I think perhaps he made a mistake, and did not go to the jail, but was drinking," said Dowd. The latter said there never was any trouble among the three, and the best of feeling prevailed.

As the vessel's moorings allow of her swinging off sometimes from the wharf, it is thought that Joyce had a little trouble getting aboard and fell overboard. It was said this morning that when he came over to Carleton last night, he showed signs of drinking.

He is survived only by his son and both were engaged as city laborers. Coroner F. L. Kenney, after viewing the body, gave permission for its removal to Beattie's undertaking rooms. He is making further inquiries and had not decided this morning whether or not to hold an inquest.

There is a notice on the man's forehead, but it is thought that he received this in his fall from the wharf. Dr. Kenney expressed the view that the man had come to his death by drowning.

Richard Joyce was arrested on Friday night last for drunkenness on Sheffield street. He was sentenced to a term in a jail and went out this morning to work in the brick gut. The man's word was sent from Carleton that his father had been drowned but he could not be reached as he was out with the other prisoners.

THIRD LAD IN DALTON ROBBERY

An Intimation in Police Court Proceedings—Quinlan and Dalton Remanded After Evidence is Completed

In police circles there is in mind a third lad besides Patrick L. Quinlan and Thos. Gallagher, who are charged with the theft of $7 from Wm. J. Dalton's store in Main street.

In the police court this morning mention of another was made and the name of Hamilton was used, but it was said Hamilton was not the right name. Inquiries are to be made.

Quinlan and Gallagher were further remanded in the police court today. The evidence was finished and the lads would have been sent up for trial at the circuit court, which opens today. Edmund S. Ritchie, who appears for Quinlan, said, however, that if sent up, he would likely choose speedy trial for Quinlan. Meanwhile there was a doubt if bail were taken, whether or not Judge Forbes would try the case under the Speedy Trials Act. Alfred Kierstead and Quinlan's father were in court to give bail for Quinlan, and Gallagher's mother was instructed as to getting bail for her son. Meanwhile the youths were further remanded.

Miss Bevie Irvine said she was going into Mr. Dalton's store about 11 p.m. Some one ran past her. There was a little boy in the store and he told her a man had robbed the store and ran out. She could not identify Quinlan, as the one who ran by her.

Miss Zita McDonald, who was with the last witness told the same story adding that she called to Mr. Dalton, who was in the rear store and had to call three times before she made herself heard. She could not recognize the one who rushed by her. Policeman Hamm, recalled, said that Gallagher told him he met Quinlan in Sheriff street, and Quinlan said he knew where they could make a haul. They talked of a scheme to send a boy in for potatoes. Gallagher said he gave the boy a few cents to get potatoes and the boy went to Dalton's while Quinlan followed. When he came out, he ran across Main street and down Harrison street and Gallagher ran with him into an alley way, and went through to Murray street. Quinlan, he said, offered him $4, which he refused.

To Mr. Ritchie, the witness said Gallagher did not say what happened the money; he mentioned only Quinlan's name. Bernard Barry, aged fifty, and James Kelly, aged thirty-seven, were fined $4 each for drunkenness.
