FEAR STRIKE TALK IN THE REICHTAG

Grounds for Refusing Demand That Sessions be Held to Discuss Situation Says the Berliner Tageblatt—British Airmen Imprisoned for Dropping Hostile Proclamation in Germany

London, Feb. 2.—A demand that the German Reichstag be summoned to discuss the strike was made by the Vorwaerts in a leading article Friday, an Exchange Telegraph Company despatch from Copenhagen Friday says. The Berliner Tageblatt, it is added, declares that the Reichstag will not grant the wish of the Socialists and the Reichstag, as the Radical elements would only be given an opportunity to preach strike propaganda in parliament. One of the leaflets which was circulated in Berlin and helped to cause the strike in Germany has been obtained by the Amsterdam correspondent of the By Express. The leaflet calls the government's expressed desire for peace by a mask, and declares that the only way to end the misery and the whole-massacre is to overthrow the present government and establish a republic. The leaflet says further: "Only by rising en masse, only by a general strike that shall put a stop to all industrial activities, and especially the war industry, only by a revolution and by wresting from the hands of tyrants a democratic republic for Germany can a halt be called to the international butchery and a general peace be brought about."

BROKE THROUGH FORTY MILES OF SOLID SEA ICE

Government Steamer Carries Much Needed Supplies to the Magdalen Islands—Still Need Oil and Gasoline

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Feb. 2.—H. H. Acorn, of Souris, agent for the Magdalen Islands, has returned from the islands. He went down there on the D. G. S. Stanley, sent by the government with a cargo of foodstuffs from Pictou and Souris. She reached there on Saturday last, after battling two days and nights with solid, heavy field ice, from one to three feet thick, for a distance of forty miles. The ice was encountered after leaving East Point, and extended in an unbroken field, without a lead or a crack, as far as the eye could see. It was so heavy in places that the steamer could not go more than half her capacity without backing there she stuck so hard that the crew were obliged to use sledge bars for more than an hour to release her, and on Friday afternoon she covered only six miles in three hours. Fully 600 people gathered at the breakwater at Amherst Island to greet the Stanley with cheers, and see for the first time an ice-breaker in action. The cargo was discharged on Saturday, and the steamer sailed for Monday morning. Mr. Acorn reports that the islands are now well supplied with food and fuel, but there is a great shortage of kerosene oil. Many families are now without lights in their homes, except for cases of sickness, whilst none will be able to use more than one light during the winter. There is practically no gasoline on the islands, and the fishermen will be greatly hampered in their spring's work. In fact no fishing can be attempted to any extent until a supply arrives. There are now 100 drums of gasoline at Pictou and sixty-four at Souris, awaiting shipment, but these could not be carried on the Stanley without spoiling the flour, meat, etc., which formed the bulk of the cargo. The people are also in need of a large quantity of stock for repairing their boats and fishing gear. This stock is still held over in Souris. The people are hoping for another trip in the early spring.

DEPOT MEN SEEN IN FIRST ROUTE MARCH

Colonel McAvity's New Unit Makes Fine Impression—Show Excellent Results For Short Period of Training

The members of the Depot Battalion, 1,000 in number, were seen this morning on their first route march. The battalion was headed by the depot band and paraded the main streets of the city. The men made a fine appearance and, despite the biting cold weather, swung along in true military fashion. With Lieutenant-Colonel J. L. McAvity at the head of the unit and Major May in line, it recalled days when the original 26th Battalion were seen in marching order. Every man this morning seemed, so to speak, on the job, and the general marching of the unit was excellent, considering the fact that the unit so far has done but very little marching. The unit has been seen before in church parade, but this morning's march marked the battalion's first route march.

It was headed by Evgeny Shchegolev and Nikolai Krasnov, who were alleged to be enlisting officers and soldiers to assist General Kaléidine, the headman of the Cossack-Design Simeonovskii corps. Evgeny Volk was arrested and killed by sailors who were taking him to the Surovsky Island. Six other officers and soldiers have been arrested by the Bolsheviks.

CITY COMMISSIONER IN BOWLING MATCH

The weekly prize offered for the one making the highest score on the Y. M. C. I. bowling alley is creating considerable interest and competition among patrons is very keen. A few nights ago Joseph Harrington of the Sparrows topped over 120 pins and sent away contented that he had secured a good hold on the box of cigars. Yesterday, however, Commissioner McAvity was invited to try the alley, and after removing his coat, started in to demonstrate how the star candle pin artists establish records. Spare followed spare and when the string was totalled up it was found that he had not purchased a cigar today, and he was to try out the new brand tonight.

Blaze Threatened Entire Plant But Destruction Limited to Stables and Outbuildings

Quebec, Feb. 2.—The Quebec abattoirs are on fire. The stockyards and abattoir at Limoilou, a suburb of this city, caught fire today about 8:30 and owing to the building being away from the city limits the alarm was not given till 9 o'clock. The whole block of buildings was then a mass of roaring flames and the firemen have quickly mastered the flames, saving the main buildings which are now safe from destruction and only slightly damaged. The buildings burned comprise the horse stables and a huge cattle stable about 125 by 75 feet. This is burnt to the ground. The damage, as it is, will amount to something like $80,000 with insurance.

Ships and Yet More Ships Is The Need of the Hour Says Sir Eric Geddes

U-Boats Are Being Sunk As Fast As Germany Can Build Them, But More Merchant Ships Are Still Being Sunk Than Are Being Built To Replace Them

London, Feb. 1.—"I am an optimist regarding the U-boat warfare," said Sir Eric Geddes, the first lord of the admiralty, to the Associated Press today. "The submarine, restrained and unrestrained, has been met and has not proved invincible. I am inclined to think that now—since I made my last public statement, we are sinking submarines as fast as Germany can build them—my forecast is all good and I cannot foresee any way in which the situation can be changed except for the better."

"The sooner the better is now the Allied navy's aim. But—you see there is still a but, and it is a very important one—we must have more ships if we are able to turn this German failure into a positive Allied victory. The submarine destruction of the world's tonnage is not a big percentage of the whole, but the submarine destruction still exceeds the production of ships, and meantime the demands for tonnage are increasing by leaps and bounds."

"America's participation in the war must inevitably make large demands on merchant shipping. Yet we must continue at the same time to keep up with the demands of the Allied armies and with the vital necessities of the European civil population."

"How far we can rely on American aid for these ships? I have no doubt the United States will do its utmost, but I want to urge again the vital importance of its merchant shipping programme."

"When we first asked the United States for ships there was a quick response. In no way can the United States help more than in building ships. Is she succeeding? Is she throwing her best brains and great energies into it? It is a worthy contribution to our great cause. I hope she is."

"Meanwhile we shall not be idle. Great Britain is straining every resource to launch every ton of which she is capable. We are at the present moment building merchant ships at a higher rate than ever before in our record before the war, and before 1918 is over we shall be building shipping of all kinds at a rate more than double that of record years. But a great deal depends on the success of the German submarine warfare. If anything I might say regarding the failure of the German submarine warfare shall be construed as minimizing the need of ships and yet more ships."

ADVISES BRITISH LABOR LEADERS TO CONTINUE WORK

Arthur Henderson Appeals To Engineers To Uphold Government in Fight For Honorable And Democratic Peace

London, Feb. 1.—Arthur Henderson, labor leader and former member of the war cabinet, who as a member of the cabinet signed an agreement with the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, embracing the engineers trade, in which the government agreed to meet the engineers in separate conference whenever necessary, tonight issued a lengthy statement appealing to the government to adhere to this practice and avoid a strike, which he said would seriously imperil the output of munitions and other war necessities.

Mr. Henderson's address, which was also directed to the representatives of the engineers, strongly advised the workers, in the interest of the war, not to lay down their tools.

"Hasty measures of the kind contemplated may not only embarrass those of us who are trying to promote a moral and political offensive on the part of the working classes and destroy their unity," said Mr. Henderson, "they also may give to the reactionary forces further opportunities to divide and weaken our efforts. Democratic diplomacy has begun. British labor first of all formulated its war aims. The premier then declared his acceptance of the governing principles of our war aims and President Wilson went even further in the direction we desire to see governments moving and affirmed with great force and clearness the principles we laid down."

"Peace must be made on honorable and democratic terms and on no other. That is our policy. It will be presented as a moral ultimatum to the governments from an organized democracy in all the belligerent countries. I appeal in all earnestness to the workers not to wreck this great triumph of the international working class movement in the field of diplomacy by a precipitate action which can only end in discrediting and defeating the democratic cause."

SHIPPINGS AND RAILS OPENED SLIGHTLY HIGHER

New York, Feb. 2.—(Wall Street)—Shipments and rails including Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific were fractionally higher at the irregular opening of today's stock market. Steels and other active industrials showed slight losses.

DEFENDER OF LIEGE WELCOMED IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 2.—General Lemay, defender of Liege, against the German advance early in the war, arrived in Paris last night. He was greeted at the station by the Belgian minister and representatives of President Poincaré and General Duhail, the military governor of Paris.

It is only evidenced by certain reluctance and generally lowered efficiency. "Even commanders of U-boats are not what they used to be. There still are brave and capable men among them, but there still are keen and daring crews but they are the exception. The average submarine is in no way equal to efficiency to the U-boat of a year ago."

SHOES FOR NEW ARMIES

Ames-Halden-McCreedy, Limited, has accepted an order for 20,000 pairs of shoes for the new Canadian forces, an allotment out of 100,000 being ordered. These shoes are to be delivered on short notice, by March 16, a date that would have made it impossible for any Canadian firm to fill the whole order. It is understood that the price to be paid will have a fair profit to the factories. As the shoes are a special kind the leather had to be purchased after the contract was awarded.

MORE SUGAR FOR CANADA

James Howell Post, chairman of the international committee of refiners, who is in charge of the distribution of sugar for America, states that between 2,000 and 10,000 tons have been shipped to Canada recently, and that any delay in shipping shipments was due simply to transportation difficulties and the shortage of coal. The next week or two days, he declared, would see the present shortage ended.

How Kaiser's Son Amused

Lt. McLurg's Story

Canadian Captured at Ypres Tells of Treatment in German Prison Camp

(By John Kidman in Toronto Mail and Empire.)

London, Jan. 17.—Lieut. J. E. McLurg, of Saint Ste Marie, who is sailing to Canada, and may reach home coincidentally with this letter, has spent half the period since the second battle of Ypres in Germany, and the other half in Switzerland. While he has some striking incidents to tell of the early days of his experiences in the German internment camp, there was no way so horrible as some of the stories which are told.

As a second lieutenant in the Second Battalion, he was on the extreme left of the Canadian line which was left in the air on April 24, 1915, with the result that he and a score of others with him, were surrounded and taken prisoner. Wounded in the head, he was able to walk, and was first taken to a field dressing station behind the lines. Doctors interrogated him, and could not understand why he was voluntarily in the war from Canada, and when an Algerian was brought into the room, they taunted the Canadian officer and asked how he liked his ally. The treatment that followed sounds like the story of Dickens' "Dotheboys Hall."

Lieut. McLurg was mounted into an ambulance when a German officer was put in, and although the latter was covered with blankets, he complained of being cold, whereupon Mr. McLurg was directed to his British-warmer overcoat, and he had to ride off the front of the ambulance, and was called to the bones. Glared at like wild beasts.

At one halting place the prisoners were lodged in a church, where at least one hundred officers came in and glared at stute prisoners as though they were wild beasts, and in some putting questions through those who could talk. English officers asked if there were any complaints to make, and when told about the overcoat, he promised to procure another, but the result of the enquiry is not known to this day. Further halts were made at Louvain, Brussels and Cologne. In the famous Rhine city he asked for water, but when Gretchen in Red Cross uniform saw the flag, she deliberately spilled the contents of the cup on the ground. Some weeks were spent in hospital in a town farther down the river, after which Lieut. McLurg was sent to Heidelberg and placed with a dozen British officers in a building which had been an institution school for non-commissioned officers. In the camp there were about 600 prisoners, altogether, half of them Russian, the remainder composed of French and Belgians. Beyond the barbed wire was a wide parade ground, where troops drilled daily. One day there was an unexpected stir, the explanation of which was that the Kaiser's son, Prince Eitel Friedrich, who had been slightly wounded, was coming past. When the prince was near the camp, the troops formed fours close up to the camp and sang the Hymn of Hate.

Not a Bad Camp.
So far as German prison camps went, however, Heidelberg was a good specimen, and the inmates had no desire to get a move because they knew it bore a good reputation. Parcels from the Canadian Red Cross reached them, occasionally English newspapers—the latter surreptitiously. "But they generally made us feel," Lieut. McLurg, "for almost invariably it happened to be a paper which contained a story of a strike or something about some food question acting in parliament. The strike of the Welsh miners for higher wages made us feel sick."

In August, 1916, Lieut. McLurg passed the medical examination for transfer to Switzerland. At Verrey he took up duties in the motor mechanical school, and when the director was re-arranged, he stepped into the position. This establishment he helped to develop on the best and most practical training, so that they would understand their job in every phase. Then on the eve of Christmas came the step into full liberty, and with that, the permission to return to Ontario, which he left in August, 1916.

replied, expressed her approbation and warmest sympathy with the three other South American countries. The note to Brazil, which was the most significant, says that the Argentine government has followed all the phases of the "cause which led to this just resolution," and closes with an expression of homage to the Brazilian nation.

These notes and the simultaneous recall of the military attaches from Berlin and Vienna, are regarded as indicating that the country is verging on a crisis in its international relations. It also was announced today that an army officer, who has been acting as correspondent in Berlin for La Nacion, also has been recalled to the Argentine capital.

The situation here is tense and the authorities are maintaining more than their usual silence on the subject, but several events at the government house late today lead to the belief that the government at last is preparing to take an important step. After an unusually long lapse of time, the foreign office today replied to the notes of Peru and Uruguay, which notified Argentina of their rupture of relations with Germany and that of Brazil informing Argentina of her sister country's state of war with the central powers.

SECRET PAPERS FROM ARCHIVES OF GERMANY

Amsterdam, Feb. 1.—The Handelsblad today publishes a series of documents obtained secretly from German archives, showing the steps which led to the adoption by Germany of her unrestricted submarine campaign a year ago.

The following is a summary of the documents:

At the close of 1915, the German admiralty prepared a memorandum in which it showed that unrestricted warfare would compel Great Britain to sue for peace within six months. The wording of this memorandum indicates that the admiralty already had decided to adopt this intensified warfare but desired to convince the emperor, the imperial chancellor and the foreign office of the certainty of the good results on economic and other grounds, rather than merely on military grounds.

Accordingly the memorandum based its arguments on statistics of food prices and insurance rates in Great Britain. It pointed out the effect which even the restricted submarine war had shown on prices of the essential commodities on the balance of trade, and on the morale of the English people as deduced from this that with unrestricted submarine warfare England could hold out only a short period against these factors.

The memorandum first was submitted to Dr. Van Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, and then to Dr. Karl Helfferich, vice-chancellor. The latter rejected it on the ground that it was impossible to set a limit on England's staying powers in the absence of authentic estimates of her stocks on hand and also because he feared the action which would result from neutrals, especially the United States.

The authors of the memorandum then sent a reply in which they pointed out the gravity of the internal situation in Germany and assured Dr. Helfferich that a desperate remedy was necessary. They reinforced their argument as to the seriousness of the internal state of affairs by calling in nine experts, representing German finance, commerce, mining and agriculture.

These experts were: Waldemar Muller, president of the Dresden Bank; Dr. Salomonson, director of the Disconto Gesellschaft; Paul Reusch, Prussian councilor of commerce; Dr. Springorum, an iron and railway magnate; Max Schinkel, president of the Hanburg Norddeutsche Bank; Herr Zuckschwerdt, president of the Prussian Bank; Herr Wilhelm von Finck, president of the Munich Bank; R. Schmidt, representing the German agricultural council; and Herr Engelhard, president of the Baden Chamber of Commerce.

Experts Predicted England's Fall.

As experts these men were invited to reply to three questions: First, what would be the effect on England of an unrestricted submarine warfare; second, what would be the effect on Germany's relations with the United States and other neutrals; and third, what extent did the internal situation of Germany demand the use of this drastic weapon?

All the experts agreed on the first point that England would have to sue for peace in six months at most. Herr Muller said England's supply of food

LIKE ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES

Tells why a corn is so painful and says cutting makes them grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cut very little but is sufficient to remove every hard corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all without pain. This drug is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue of skin.

TORONTO GOES AFTER RAILWAY

(Toronto Star.)

If the city council succeeds in securing the legislation almost unanimously decided upon at yesterday's council meeting, asking to penalize the Toronto Railway Company to the extent of imposing a fine of $800 on each of the 200 street cars which the Toronto Railway Company has failed to lay down and operate as ordered over a year ago by the Ontario railway board, either the city will get rich quick or get rid of the overcrowding that has been worrying the city for so long. "That is the only way to bring them to their senses," said Mayor Church in putting the motion, which was submitted for the recommendation of the board of control to set legislation directing the Ontario railway board to take over the road because of the company's obstinate refusal or failure to place the much needed cars in operation.

The mayor's motion will be retrospective, intended to have effect from last January, 1918. On this basis the Toronto Railway Company would already owe the city about $800,000 and at the end of the year the T. R. H. would have to walk out dispossessed!

Con. McBride was the only objector to the mayor's motion and he argued that while the city has a good case in asking the railway board to take over the railway, there was no chance under the sun of the legislature ever granting such legislation as the mayor suggested. The board's recommendation was contained in the following:

"Having regard for the failure of the Toronto Railway Company to comply with the order of the Ontario railway and municipal board, to provide additional cars to relieve the intolerable overcrowding situation, the board recommends that application be made to the Ontario legislature at its forthcoming session for legislation directing the Ontario railway and municipal board to take over and operate the Toronto Rail-

THE ALLIED TASK

Sir Eric Geddes believes U-boats are being sunk as fast as they can be built, but on the other hand merchant ships are not being built as fast as they are being sunk by the U-boats.

From every standpoint therefore, the need of the Allies putting forth the greatest possible effort to provide more food, more ships and more men is very urgent.

Why We Are Asked to Conserve Food Supply

Bangor Commercial.

"A large number of persons will necessarily starve to death this coming year in Europe." Such is the statement of the Food Administration, made public in this state through Federal Food Administrator Dr. Leon S. Merrill. The statement from the Food Administration is a complete summary of food conditions. It says:

"We thought we had gotten by the stage where starvation could ensue without a civilization, yet literally hundreds of thousands of persons have starved to death in the last three years due to the world food shortage and other conditions wrought about by the war.

"A large part of the world is coming into the position that Belgium is in and has been in coming to the stage here the primary and important thing is life is enough food to keep alive.

"The food supply of the world is short and getting shorter. You cannot like eighteen million men out of production and put them into destruction of human products and expect things to go on as before.

"In Finland, there are one-half million people, caught in between Russia and Sweden, face a failure of their cereal harvest. They are now on a ration of 150 rations of war bread a day. That is less than a quarter of a loaf. A large part of it is made up of bark and beech woods. It looks as if a large number of them would necessarily starve.

"Roumania is caught between Russia and other belligerents. Her people are short of food. Her supplies have been used up. We can see no way in which they can avoid disease and starvation.

"In Holland they are proceeding to kill one million of their dairy cattle because they cannot get sufficient feed for them. A somewhat similar situation exists in Denmark.

"Food has not taken a dominant position in the war. The American people must prepare themselves to sacrifice far more than was at first thought necessary.

"By the first of December we had exported all our surplus wheat. Yet here is Europe's insistent call for more. We must send it if the war is to go on efficiently. If we eat it all we cannot ship it; and the Food Administration has already tried to picture how much that wheat is needed by people who will starve if they do not get it.

"The Allies today ask for 25 per cent more fat and dairy products than we can spare unless we contrive to consume less. And they are not asking for anything more than they actually need.

"For the least bit of heedlessness on your part in food conservation, some one somewhere in the world must suffer privation. The Food Administration has mastered the problem of America's food in such a way that every ounce of food conserved and kept in the currents of trade goes to an empty stomach in Europe.

"It is an absolute sin to waste food. Food has become sacred.

"Food means life; it means somebody's life; and you cannot escape the responsibility.

"We must not overlook the fact that Russia collapsed, not because of the German on her borders, but because she failed to organize and feed her own citizenship. We must be warned that if we are to emerge victorious from this war, we cannot risk the collapse of another of our associates in this war from this cause.

"There is no waste of food among the Allies. If you will read the English food reports you will find a woman was fined $100, and jailed for thirty days, for throwing away half a rice-pudding; that a baker who threw away two pies was sent to prison for two months.

"Anybody that is looking for the collapse of the German people on the food question had better turn around and look at the moon, because the results will be the same. Germany is in no more danger of collapsing on that score than we are, if as much.

"We have always had a great margin of food and never appreciated its significance. We have wasted food as a symbol of our success and progress. A man who could order a meal and only eat part of it, felt he had gotten a little further up the scale than the man who had to eat all he ordered. That is a fundamental sin in America.

"It is a very important thing to take an interest in your community. If the restaurant and hotel in your town don't follow the food programme it is your fault—your fault—because if you insist upon their doing it, they will follow it, if you explain it to them.

"If all the waste in a community of 12,000 could be piled up in a city square you would find that the whole community would be shocked."

Butter From Potatoes At Ten Cents Per Pound

The following statement has been issued by the British Food Ministry:

"In view of the shortage of butter the Ministry of Food have been carrying out experiments in order to find suitable and economical ways of eking out the available butter and margarine supplies by mixing in other food substances, and so producing cheap and palatable substitutes. These experiments have shown that an excellent 'potato butter,' costing only about 8d. a pound (or less if margarine is used), can be made for any household without special knowledge or apparatus, in accordance with the following:

Peel the potatoes and boil (or steam) until they fall to pieces and become floury. Pass through a fine sieve into a large basin which has been previously warmed. To every fourteen ounces of mashed potato add two ounces of butter or margarine and one teaspoon of salt. Stir thoroughly with the back of a wooden spoon until the whole is quite smooth. The butter may then be made up into pounds or half-pounds, and kept in cool place.

Potato butter may be improved in appearance by the addition of a few drops of butter coloring, and, if it is to be kept for more than a few days, butter preservative, of which there are several forms on the market, should be used. The amount should be in accordance with the printed instructions on the packet for use in butter. Both the coloring and the preservative should be well mixed into the potato at the same time as the butter and salt.

If these directions are carefully followed, the butter will keep for a considerable time, though it may be found that the surface is apt to become dry but this can be obviated by keeping it wrapped in grease-proof paper.

eggs, he declares the present price is "absolutely unjustifiable," and as there is no possibility of exporting them, they should be forced on the market straight away. The facts are before the new Food Controller. Just watch the famine prices of eggs take a tumble!

GLOBE-Wernicke Sectional Book Cases

Possesses Many Advantages Over the Old Style Book Cases

The economy of buying only enough shelf to meet one's present requirements appeals immediately to every body; as your library grows, more sections to match are always available with the makers' representative (ourselves).

The ease with which Globe Wernicke sections can be arranged and re-arranged seems still further to make them the final choice of the fast-sighted home furnisher. You can lift the separate sections one by one and carry them with books intact, and thus many a valuable library compactly housed in Globe Wernicke sections has been saved from destruction by fire and water, because the entire case with books could be moved to safety, a section at a time.

The variety of exquisite and handsome finishes, you are permitted to choose from, makes it easy to match other furniture. The sections are made to accommodate the different sized books, those mostly used being 8 in., 10 in. and 12 in. Costing $4.00, $4.25 and $4.50. The "base" unit, $2.75, of with drawer, $4.25.

MEALS COST LESS IN LONDON THAN IN NEW YORK

London, Jan. 31.—The chief subject of discussion in London just now from Duke to dustman is how to get food. Butcher boys carrying meat through the streets are followed to find out where they get it. The people are getting thinner daily, but healthier. It is explained, except for some cases of indigestion caused by the war bread. There are business men residing in London who boast that they are able to count their ribs for the first time in twenty years.

In spite of the war conditions, every body here is cheerful and determined to hold out to prevent Germany becoming master of the world, even if the war lasts another twenty years.

Prices at hotels and restaurants are still 25 per cent below those in New York. The quantity of meats here is 30 per cent less. Meals on meatless days cost double the usual rate, on account of the price of fish. A cargo of fish sold at auction after landing realized high prices. The crew of one fishing vessel had $1,000 each as his share in a fourteen days' cruise. Prices are now regulated, but fish is scarce, because the men will not go out and risk their lives unless sure of big money in return.

Workers are met with the retort, "Don't you know we are at war?"

Few motor buses are running. Extra passengers are allowed to stand inside and hang on the straps for the first time in London.

DOG MEAT OR LAMB CHOPS.

Which shall it be, dog meat or lamb chops? asks the Sheriff, Wool and Calf Conservation Committee of the Nebraska State Council of Defense, which publishes the following advice its signers: "What would you think, say and do if you had 40 head of pure bred sheep that had made a lot of money for you and had them shot securely, as you thought, in a yard close by your house, and woke one morning to find 200 of them killed outright, the balance so torn and frightened that they were dying every day, and those that did live worthless from fright?"

This is what happened to Robert Taylor of Alhambra, Neb. Conservatively estimated, these sheep were worth off-hand, at least $80 per head. Twelve thousand dollars lost in a few moments simply because a neighbor liked to keep two grade bull dogs. They were worthless previous to this depredation. What are they now?

"What do you say? Shall we 'Swat the Dog' or 'Lamb Chops'?"

INQUEST ON FOUR MORE BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM MINE

Four more bodies have been taken from the pit. This morning the body of James Chisholm, of Stellarton, was recovered and three other bodies which are as yet unidentified. Thirty-six bodies still remain in the mine.

THE PRICE OF MARGARINE.

(Toronto Star.)

Margarine is now kind of food the retail price of which should be fixed from time to time by the food controller. It is in a class all by itself, because the manufacture, importation, or sale of it is illegal until quite recently.

As a war measure the food controller has authorized the importation, manufacture, and sale of margarine, and as he has created a trade in this commodity he has the right to regulate it, and as the whole trade is new he has every opportunity to govern and direct it.

If nothing is done about it except to throw the market open to margarine, the result will be, not to give the consumer the benefit of a cheap butter substitute, but to give the trade a new line to carry; in which can be made much bigger profits than can be had out of butter.

Margarine is a sort of specially licensed war-butter and in allowing it to be imported or made and sold it seems clear enough that the food controller could

Campaign to Secure Labor on the Farms

Ontario Government May Organize it if the Dominion Doesn't Take Matter Up

Toronto, Feb. 2.—A big campaign will likely soon be inaugurated by the Ontario government for the speeding up of farm production during the year. Recruiting stations are to be placed throughout the city where men who for some reason or other are unable to serve at the front may serve at home by increasing food production.

It is the belief of government officials that as far as Ontario is concerned it may not be necessary to draft men to serve on the farms. If the draft method is decided upon by the Dominion government the volunteer scheme which is being planned by the provincial government may be called off, but in the meantime arrangements are being carried out towards perfecting a plan whereby all those who desire to enroll for service at home may have a chance to sign up.

FOOD CONTROL AXIOMS

Shakespeare's plays are full of wise saws for the present time. Take this excellent resolution from "As You Like It":

"We will nothing waste."

Or this advice from "Hamlet":

"From this time Be somewhat sordid."

And the individual appeal from "Romeo and Juliet":

"And stint thou, too, I pray thee."

From "Henry V" we may learn that "The English are shrewdly out of beef," and from "As You Like It" that:

"It is a spare life, look you."

For the Food Hog there is plenty of appropriate counsel. As this from "Antony and Cleopatra":

"'Tis not a time For private stomaching."

And should he persist in his surfeits and refuse to "forbear and restrain," then in the lines of Henry II:

"Let him be damned like a glutton."

WHY NO COUNSEL FOR DEFENCE WAS PRESENT

The Telegraph yesterday received the following by wire from Hon. W. P. Jones, whose summing up in the Valley Railway investigation has been so generally commended:

To the Editor of The Telegraph:—Sir—I notice in yesterday's Standard a statement that I should have notified Mr. Teed of the argument. Mr. Teed was not present. I went out and intended to appear further in the matter. W. P. JONES.

OPERA HOUSE BILL WAS WELL RECEIVED

Many Excellent Features, With Rich Element of Comedy—Conclusion of Thrilling Serial

The programme in the Opera House last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by large audiences and the entertainment provided met with popular favor. For those who like good singing, clever acrobatic feats and instrumental selections it would indeed be hard to surpass.

The motion picture serial, "The Gray Ghost," was concluded. This was one of the most popular serial pictures ever shown on a local screen, but the concluding episode was not to be compared with the preceding chapters. The hero wins out, but the leading character is disappointing. Although the acting is clever the ending lacked the usual thrill and the unravelling of many features which were mystifying did not come up to expectations.

The most popular number of the vaudeville programme was that presented by Gruet, Kramer and Gruet. It represented a side show at a big circus and for those who like comedy, there is a wealth of fun to be got out of the actions and sayings of a colored man who applies to the owner of the show for a job. In addition, the two male members rendered several selections on the cornet, clarinet and another brass instrument which looked as if it had been through a train wreck. The lady member was that of a good dancer and she, on the whole, was well presented.

Lockhart and Leddy, two clever crooks, were instant favorites. Some of their feats were difficult and all were well executed. In addition, their act is amusing and the clown brought down the house.

Another act which made a decided hit was that of a good dancer and she, who sang several patriotic numbers. They are two singers of ability far above the average vaudeville performers and they received well merited applause.

Howard, a handwriting expert, gave an interesting and instructive lecture on the subject of handwriting. He was able to write with both hands at the same time and can write upside down with ease. His work evoked hearty applause.

George Leonard & Company concluded the programme. The act was not a very good one for the last number. The act is rather silly and some suggestive remarks should be eliminated. The other numbers on the programme were well worth seeing and will undoubtedly draw a large patronage during the week.

STANDARDIZED BOOTS FOR THE BRITISH PEOPLE AT FIXED PRICES.

"All leather" the sign by which the public will shortly come to recognize the shops selling "War-time" boots, ought to be registered on behalf of the government, and for the protection of the public, as a copyright trade mark. Recently samples were on view to retailers at the offices of the Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association in London and there were similar shows in provincial centres. Within two months the goods will be in every shop whose owner cares to stock them. They carry with them government and manufacturers' guarantee that they are "All Leather" and that they are in every respect the best value at a reasonable price. The prices are "standardized," and will be found stamped on the soles of every pair. As there are thirty-nine patterns there is choice enough to please all. Manufacturers are pledged to devote one-third of their productive power to the making of these boots, so that the output will be large and varied. With the "All Leather" guarantee, fixed prices, and high specification to which manufacturers have to work, the trade has no doubt of the goods finding a welcome among the people. For the dearest in the list they will have to pay no more than $7.40. Prices go as low as $2.12 for the cheapest grade, and $1.98 for the cheapest grade. Between these extremes there are a multitude of intermediate rates. The watchword on the public is likely to be "Buy where you see the 'All Leather' sign."

ONE CENT RATE FOR ELECTRIC HEATING

Kingston, Feb. 2.—The Civic Utilities Commission has urged citizens to use electricity for heating purposes, and decided to give electricity for this purpose at one cent a kilowatt for heaters of 600 kilowatts or over. G. Y. Chown, registrar of Queen's University, was elected chairman of the commission.

BUY'S COAL PROPERTIES

The Republic Iron and Steel Company has purchased the Bessemer Coal and Coke Company's property in Allegheny County, Penna., consisting of about 8,000 acres of coking coal, with two shaft openings with a rated capacity of approximately 4,000 tons a day. The purchase price is understood to have been in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

Financial Post: While the volume of business being transacted by Canadian bond houses is by no means large, conditions generally are decidedly better than they were a month ago and sales are being put through with more frequency. Buying is confined largely, not entirely, to institutional investors, though there is good reason for believing that, as Victory Loan money gets into circulation, the private investor will again become somewhat more of a factor. There are few new issues in sight and, as there will doubtless be fed out cautiously, there should be no reason for fearing any further serious decline in prices for the present.

P. R. WARREN'S RAPID PROMOTION;
NOW IS MAYOR

Former Chief Engineer on Courtenay Bay Works Wins Prompt Recognition of His Ability

P. R. Warren, who for more than five years was the chief engineer for the Norton Griffiths Company, in the building of the Courtenay Bay breakwater, has been promoted to the rank of major on the western front, according to information received in the city recently.

MAJOR P. R. WARREN

Major Warren went overseas last August and joined the Royal Engineers, as a lieutenant. He crossed to France in that capacity, but soon his ability as a construction engineer was recognized and he was promoted from the rank of lieutenant to that of major. This is an unusually rapid promotion in the British Army; even when an officer is most deserving of promotion he usually gets it slowly. This was not the case with Major Warren.

Not only is Major Warren giving to his country his services, but Mrs. Warren also is at present engaged in military work in England. It will be remembered that, prior to leaving for England, when Major Warren joined the forces,
she was connected with raising money for Sir Arthur Pearson's funds for the blind.

Major Warren crossed to England at his own expense and had only been in the mother land twelve hours when his offer of service was readily accepted. His fine promotion will be learned of with the greatest of interest, as both the Major and Mrs. Warren while residing in St. John made a vast number of friends.

LOCAL NEWS

MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS.

Four marriages and nine births, four boys and five girls, were reported to the register during the week.

THIRTEEN DEATHS

Thirteen deaths are reported for the week at the board of health office, three due to senility; two to locomotor ataxia, pulmonary tuberculosis and tubercular meningitis; and one to each of the following diseases—Hemorrhage, erysipelas, heart disease and peritonitis accidents.

PLAN NEW BREAD FACTORY.

the present plant and after the way they plan to erect an up-to-date bread factory. R. I. Carlson of this firm is serving overseas with No. 6 C. S. C.

TWELVE BELOW ZERO

Back to zero weather again after a short respite, St. John saw twelve below zero this morning and reports from the observatory in Douglas avenue say that there is nothing in sight but cold weather. The full rigor of the cold was not felt this morning on account of the calm, there being practically no wind, but outside parts of the city suffered considerably. It is reported that the thermometer dropped to twenty below at East St. John and Kinghurst reports twenty-five.

IN FORT KENT CHURCH

The following item appears in the Presbyterian Witness of January 19—
"On Wednesday evening, December 8, the Presbytery of St. John met in special session in Christ Church, Fort Kent, Me., for the ordination of S. K. Pierce, B. D.
Mr. Ross, superintendent of Home Missions, presided. Mr. Logan of Edmundston addressed the meeting and Mr. Head of Grand Falls the people. Fort Kent is an interesting and promising field.
Mr. Pierce labored here as a catechist a number of years ago, and Captain Mc-Caskill is a former pastor."

THE McAVITY DRIVE

St. John Man Decorated for

to Heavy Battery Under Heavy Fire

Word has been received by relatives of I. Ollie Munde of West St. John that he was among those decorated with the military medal on New Year's Day.
Sergeant Munde, in company with his men, succeeded in getting ammunition

SERGEANT I. O. MUNDEE

up to the heavy battery under a terrific fire and returned without losing a man or horse.

He enlisted here with the ammunition column under Major W. H. Harrison and was stationed at Fredericton. He was advanced to the rank of bombardier before leaving Canada; on arrival in France was made a corporal, and eventually gained his stripes, now having charge of a sub-section of the ammunition column, which numbers nearly 1,000 men. Excellent to enlisting Sergeant Munde was employed by G. E. Barbour Co. Ltd.

PLANNING MORE PLAYGROUND WORK

St. John Has No Public Playground—Equipment Needed—
Executive Meeting Last Night

The monthly meeting of the executive of the Playgrounds Association was held last night with the president, A. M.
Fisher, in the chair.

The secretary, Mrs. W. C. Good, reviewed the work of the Boys' Club for the last month, showing that the boys are attending well and deeply interested.
The president drew attention to the fact that some of the supervised playgrounds would need new equipment this year. He pointed out that there is now no public playground for base ball in St. John, the last having been converted into a shipyard. It might be possible to provide one such ground beyond the marsh bridge, but that would be in the importance of having some development work done this year on the Rockwood playground. He pointed out ways in which the association might make the work of the Boys' Club more effective in an educational way.

ful suggestions, referred to the effort of Hobson was brought before the magisattend him. His Honor remanded the man.

Frank Elliott, companion of "Andy" Irvine, was fined $8 for drunkenness. He told the court he had only $8 with him and the magistrate agreed to take this on

A WOMAN'S HEALTH

Can Only be Maintained by Keeping the Blood Rich and Pure

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health.

She admitted that on two occasions the children of the Kaiser's sister—niece and nephews of the Kaiser—had been her guests at birthday parties for her children.

In 1909 she was divorced from Baron von Kolberg, a Bavarian, a lieutenant in the German army, who had a leave of absence and was on his way to Ceylon.

"She said Zoller proposed marriage to her while on the ship. She went to Rome, where she accepted his proposal. They came to America and were married in New York. Then they toured the world.

In Singapore he purchased from the Sultan of Johore concessions for a rubber plantation. The next three or four years she divided her time between London and Singapore. Her husband staid in Singapore, only returning to Germany once a year to have his leave of absence extended.

"Zoller was on the way to London when war was declared in 1914, and on landing he was interned at Dorchester. "In the meantime the Kaiser had obtained with high English officers of her acquaintance, one of them being Major-General Sir Alfred Turpin, and obtained his release on his giving his word of honor as an officer and a gentleman not to take up arms against England during the war.

Strong Revulsion Growing Among Workingmen Against Bolsheviki Women Are Rising

(By Harold Williams.)

Petrograd, Jan. 30.—While the armed masses particularly the workers and the Red Guards, are showing dangerous symptoms of anarchical insubordination, there is among the workingmen a strong revulsion of feeling against the Bolsheviki.

That is one of the direct results of Friday's shooting, the murder of two of Kerenski's ex-ministers, and the dissolution of the Constituent Assembly.

At the same time the Bolsheviki are daily discovering fresh conspiracies and arresting people right and left.

In Minsk and other towns the Bolsheviki have suffered a complete setback. A strip of territory separating the military successes against the Ukraine, including the capture of Sarny, Poltava, and a number of other towns, has been lost to the Don Cossack country.

The Bolsheviki are bringing many troops with guns from the front, apparently for the protection of the government members. Crowds of persons assemble at the street corners to listen to the Bolsheviki orators.

A Reuter's despatch from Petrograd quotes an announcement signed by M. Joffe, chairman of the Russian peace delegation at Brest-Litovsk, that the Bolsheviki government has recognized a new delegation from the people's secretariat of the workers and peasants of the Ukrainian republic.

I learn from officers who have returned from the southwestern front that the Austrian army lies in a state of demoralization closely resembling that now prevailing in the Russian ranks.

Travelers from Rumania report the Rumanian army standing firm, while among the Bulgarians, and even the Germans, there is a complete lapse of discipline.

The reports of strikes and disturbances in Austria have encouraged the Bolsheviki, who see in this movement the beginning of last world revolution, which it is their object to promote.

They also anticipate that it will facilitate their peace negotiations, which have now reached a deadlock.

Having abolished the Constituent Assembly, the Bolsheviki government has opened a new conference with the Constituent Assembly of the Soviet Republic.

All the Bolsheviki delegates elected to the Constituent Assembly are also members of the conference. A total of 825 delegates had registered an hour before the opening of the conference.

A grave task lies before the delegates. They will have to decide on the principal basis of future negotiations with Germany and whether the Brest-Litovsk conversations will be abandoned or the enemy's proposals accepted.

The conference must also approve the fundamental laws of the Soviet.

Nine-Tenths Bolsheviki.

The conference meets in Taurida Palace. The session hall was packed with delegates, among at least nine-tenths were Bolsheviki and other supporters of the Leninist government.

The conduct of the meeting indicated that the organizers had mastered the technique of enthusiasm. Two bands in the gallery blared out the "Marseillaise" and "The Internationale" at appropriate moments.

Her Grandma Used Sage Tea To Darken Her Hair.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready in use at very little cost.

This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says every body uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time.

By morning the gray has disappeared; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

along the line until they discover the break and mend it.

To move out across a field where death is falling like leaves in an autumn forest requires the finest kind of pluck, but the signaller never seem to fall.

"Hearn, the wires are down" exclaims the officer who had been for a minute fruitlessly fidgeting the telegraph key.

"Very good, sir," answers the first Hearn, and immediately leaves the protection of the deep dugout and begins to run along the wire.

"Crumping in every direction. Some time passes. Hearn does not return and the communication is completely broken.

"Mitchell, I guess Hearn has gone down; you carry on in his place," is the next order.

"Very good, sir," answers Mitchell, and without a question goes out into the storm of bursting shrapnel.

Sometimes one lineman after another is dispatched, and all fall to rest. But at last communication is re-established. There are no braver men in the war than the artillery signaller, and none who make a greater sacrifice in the path of duty. During the months in the Somme last fall our battery had its signaller completely wiped out three times in succession. It got so that I never expected to meet one of the old timers after the second or third trip.

"Where is Mac?" one would inquire, missing an old face. "Oh, he went west last week," would be the answer.

Put a few drops of lemon juice in a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion loofer.

LABOR NATIONALIZATION
SOUGHT BY INDUSTRIES

While Some Firms Employ Orientals, There Are General Objections to it—"Some Government Action Needed"

(Staff Correspondence of Toronto Globe)
Ottawa, Jan. 21.—It is definitely known that there is a marked difference of opinion among the manufacturing and producing interests of the Dominion, regarding plans for the solution of the labor problem. Some have approached individual members of parliament, and officials of the government, urging that they advocate a plan to bring in oriental labor "for the period of the war." It is claimed that "arrangements could be made with the Chinese and Japanese governments under indenture or by deposit of bonds guaranteeing their return when Canada is through with them, when the war is over," and the Canadian troops return home.

The big interests in the United States are already advocating that the authorities at Washington permit a wholesale importation of orientals "on the demand, or vice versa. Loans are made to people traveling some distance to employment found for them in the various provinces. But as this scheme was planned when there was a surplus of labor it may not be found workable unless some classes of labor in Canada is nationalized for war purposes, as a shortage characterizes conditions here.

"It is essential that we have some system of employment," declared an employment expert to The Globe, "not only to organize our labor supply but that it may give the most efficient contribution during the war, but also that we may be the better able to reabsorb the soldiers in civil life." It always seems to me that the banking system affords an analogy. One cannot imagine the financing of the war on any efficient basis without a nationally organized banking system such as we have. Yet in the matter of labor, at least equally important, we are struggling along with little or no organization and quite unable to get the greatest contribution from our labor forces."

A. United States Suggestion.
Arguing the point for a Federal employment service in the United States, a well-known expert says—"Available labor everywhere must be registered at recognized places. Likewise we must localize and register the demand. The entire field must be covered. It will not do to have employers in one locality applying to entirely different places. We must not have employers in a plant in one state, stealing employes from another, and this made possible because there is no central office which is in touch with labor at all points. If we are to have a Public Service Reserve we must have a uniform machinery with which to enroll that reserve. If we are to shift any large number of laborers from one section of the country to another we must have a uniform administration which will advance car fare and which can authoritatively assure workers that a man with the proper credentials is being sent to fill it. Whatever may be the inherent limitations of the public employment bureau, an adequate machinery of this kind is absolutely necessary as a first step toward meeting our industrial needs."

Want Employment Bureau.
To solve the difficulty, it is suggested that the government will first have to devise a suitable employment bureau under provincial control for administrative purposes, and under federal control for special supervision, so that the work can be properly controlled by a body that understands the situation all over the Dominion. The whole nation needs men, the people need food and other necessities, the Allies need everything they need ships, guns, munitions, clothing, food, etc. Labor money and materials are the three fundamental factors needed to produce these things. We have the money and the materials. The task is great, but the laborers are few. "To make the widest possible use of these there must be an effective system of employment bureaus throughout the country," said this Canadian expert to The Globe, "and the proper machinery must be built up to facilitate a fair and equitable distribution of labor. Britain is again considering the advisability of combing out more men for miliitary work, and a correspondingly greater dependence will be placed upon Canada for all necessities. The farmers declared that they cannot undergo the hardships imposed upon them last year. The manufacturers state that, although their help has been liberally diluted with female employes, they are facing the necessity of asking the government to adopt "stringent measures," not with a view to imposing hardships on labor, or forcing certain industrial conditions upon the people, but with a view to giving timely aid to absolutely essential wartime industries. The government might decide what industries are to be assisted in this way, so that a maximum of genuine wartime efficiency might be obtained. Such conditions should be imposed upon the workers as will not create the impression that they are industrial conscripts. They should be asked to go where they are sent, to work under proper conditions, and made to feel that they are also doing their part in helping Canada to help the war."

PRISONERS OF WAR.

(New York Globe.)
Dr. Henry Van Dyke, former minister to the Netherlands, and now chaplain Van Dyke, U. S. N., presided at a meeting which packed Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon, the purpose of the gathering being to hear the story of the prison camps of Germany and the interment camps of Switzerland and other European neutrals.

Dr. Van Dyke, wearing the uniform of a chaplain lieutenant commander, opened the meeting with a reference to the "Potsdam gang" of the German government, the crowd, he said, "which planned, plotted, chose, and forced the world war."

"In the world tormented by this abominable war in Germany," Dr. Van Dyke said, "there are now several million prisoners of war. They are all sufferers. They are torn from homes and friends and familiar habits of life and labor. They are under restraint and compulsion. They are uprooted and dissociated human beings."

"Of actual prisoners," added Dr. Van Dyke, "I saw something in the exchanges between Germany and Great Britain of men incarcerated for further military service. All these exchanges took place through Holland, and as American minister I was the medium of communication. Among the prisoners returned to Germany from England I saw one who did not appear to have been well cared for and well fed. But among the British prisoners coming from Germany there were many who were insane or infected with tuberculosis, or otherwise crippled by the hardships they had endured. They all said the same thing. There was a vast difference in German prison camps. Some were as good as conditions would permit. Others were bad, indescribably, incalculably, vindictively bad."

"One more glimpse of war prisoners and I have done. On the roads well back of Ypres I saw the working, three or four hundred in a gang. They looked robust and well fed."

"Who are these men?" I asked.

"German prisoners," answered the French captain who was my escort.

"But where are their guards?" I asked.

"I see only two or three men with rifles among them."

"No men of guard," answered my captain. "You couldn't drive those fellows back to the German lines with bayonets. They are too well off here."

FIRE WALKERS OF FIJI

The "fire walkers" of the Fiji Islands are the priests of a native religion who, with bare feet, walk over red-hot—nay, flaming—stone and yet are not scorched. It is really a wonderful performance and has astonished many strangers who have witnessed it. The explanation offered is that the fire walker is enabled to do this trick by prayers addressed to a goddess, or female devil, who controls the fire.

A shallow pit 20-odd feet long is filled with burning logs on which many large stones are placed. At the end of four hours the stones are visibly hot, many of them being red-hot. Flames leap up between them. Then it is that the "mystery men" half naked and wearing garlands of flowers, walk over them. Not long ago, however, Prof. Henry E. Crampton of Columbia University, was traveling in the South Seas and happened to witness a fire walk. He did not pretend to understand it, but felt sure that it was a fake somehow. In fact, he decided that he would do some fire walking on his own account.

If (as happened to Professor Crampton) he paused for an instant, his feet would be blistered. The Fiji natives say that to look backward while doing the fire walk is likely to be fatal to the performer. At all events, it would mean burned feet.

In all ages there have been fire miracles. They have been a common feature of the performances of professional magicians, who in early days were priests of various religions. It is only within comparatively recent years that magic has become a lay vocation.

As explained by Professor Crampton, it is that the stones (of pumice lava) are poor conductors of heat. The feet of the fire walker move from stone to stone at a quicker rate than the condition of heat from the fire beneath to the upper surface of the stones. Hence his feet are not burned.

As happened to Professor Crampton, he was walking on his own account. He was in the company of a professional magician, who in early days were priests of various religions. It is only within comparatively recent years that magic has become a lay vocation.

On the other hand, the nationalization of labor power for war purposes is being discussed, and was brought before those attending the private conference with the labor officials this week. The labor delegates are declared to have opposed any saving of industrial conscription, but whether labor opposes this or not, even if the government affects any definite decision on issues relating the labor situation, the advocates of nationalization of labor in and out of the capital are devising plans and practical suggestions which they hope will facilitate the adoption of a scheme, if not with the unanimous endorsement of all classes of the Canadian community, with a minimum of opposition "so that the factories and the farms shall attain a maximum of output during the coming season."

WAR PUZZLE

Above will be found the picture of a modern Tank of the kind that is being used with such success in the present war. At a glance the Tank appears to be all there is in the picture, but by careful scrutiny the faces of several soldiers will be found. There are 11 of them in all. Can you find them? It is no easy task but by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and address which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces on marked them." Write these nine words plainly and neatly as in case of ties, both writing and answers are counted, facilities for this contest.

This may take up a little of your time but as TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and many merchandise prizes are given away, it is worth your time to take a little trouble over this matter. Remember always how to do this puzzle. It is no easy task but by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

Donald, charged with keeping a disorderly house, and Harry Eagan, charged with being an inmate, was resumed. J. Starr Tait appeared for the defense. Mrs. McDonald said that she was desirous of having the case closed as soon as possible as she had three young children at home. She then made the statement that Eagan had been at her house for the three days that he had been absent from the barracks. As this was the evidence that Sergeant O'Neill wished, Mr. Tait asked his honor to close the case, but there was no answer to this question from the bench, so the case is remanded until next Monday.

The train which should have arrived here at 9:30 o'clock, did not arrive until after midnight on account of the obstruction.

Having considered the achievements of submarines and other ships-of-war for three years, this is the conclusion arrived at by Lieutenant-Commander Gill of the United States navy, who has written a book on the subject. He points out that the navy of Great Britain has controlled the seas for the day that war was declared, and that the success of the submarine is the ultimate weapon for the day that war was declared. It is contended for purposes that were never contemplated by fair-minded men before the war began. The submarine has made no plans to defeat it as a destroyer of neutral or merchant vessels. The submarine has an excellent beam searchlight, and the fact that their duty is to escape from submarines, not to give them battle. The submarine is a greater triumph than to sink the submarine and go to the bottom in the process.

Meat Cause of Kidney Trouble Take Sauts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with sauts occasionally. It is a well known fact that meat food almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach soon becomes coated, and when the weather is bad you get rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, and is obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

RESTLESS AUSTRIA-HUNGARY HAS MANY DIVERGENT RACES

(Toronto Globe.) History for past centuries has shown us that an upheaval must result in a country that is divided against itself as in a dual monarchy like Austria-Hungary, that comprises ten races whose people are steeped in prejudice and suspicion of one another, and that has failed to be a melting pot for these motley millions. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that smoldering fires of dissatisfaction should break forth into flames and manifest themselves in general strikes, or even in a revolution, now seems probable. Austria-Hungary, at the last census, had a population of 68,405,297, or one-eighth of the people of Europe. These were divided into twenty-six millions living in Austria and nineteen millions living within the boundaries of Hungary.

Disintegrating Influence of Slavs. The principal races in the order of their numerical importance are the Germans, Hungarians, Bohemians and related peoples, Poles, Ruthenians, Serbians, and Croatsians, Roumanians, Slavonians, and Italians. The Slavs, with their ethnicity, particularly to the Germans, are a strong disintegrating force in the dual monarchy. That they are an important factor in the present unrest is certain. After this war they are convinced that it will be a physical impossibility for the nine million Germans in Austria to impose their will upon twenty-seven million Slavs who insist upon independence. Every single nationality in this conglomerate nation has its own national and racial aspirations, and it will be impossible to hold them together in any Austro-Hungarian monarchy.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day
Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, look well, and feel well. What a glorious addition to attain, and yet how very simple it is if one will only adopt the simple habit of drinking a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons. People who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy nose, cold, food tastes nasty, breath, acid stomach, can't eat, feel fresh as a daisy by opening the pores of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter. Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs. The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have yellow skins, blood disorders and sticky complexion are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make any one a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

NEW BRITISH STEAMER

An Atlantic Part, Feb. 1.—Spanking new from the hands of the builders of the Clyde, a new 14,000 ton liner is now bucking the brine in mid-Atlantic and is expected to arrive in port in a day or so. She is perhaps the finest merchantman that has been turned out in the British Empire since the war was declared. Developing the speed of a mail boat—for that will be her vocation when peace comes again—fitted in the most practical style, while at the same time planned to accommodate large numbers of troops, the new ship is already the pride of shipping men in the old world. No expense has been spared in the construction of this new liner. From the stern to the bow, every detail of the ship is a masterpiece of engineering. She is a real triumph of modern shipbuilding. She will be a real triumph of modern shipbuilding. She will be a real triumph of modern shipbuilding.

Washington, Feb. 1.—At a conference with a dozen Republican and Democratic senators who he summoned to the White House today, President Wilson reiterated his opposition to the pending bills to create a super-war cabinet and a director of munitions, contending that they would hamper him in the conduct of the war and that they were unnecessary.

Nothing Like Internal Bathing for Constipation

If people only knew what Internal Bathing is doing for thousands of others there would be fewer Pills and Laxatives swallowed and very much less suffering from Constipation and the accompanying Stomach and Nervous troubles resulting from it. Mrs. Cave, 841 Elery street, Victoria, B. C., writes: "Before using the J. B. L. Cascade I suffered constantly from Constipation, had frequent bilious attacks and sick headaches. Since beginning your system of Internal Bathing with the J. B. L. Cascade four months ago, I have not had one attack and feel stronger and better in every way. My only regret is that I did not get a Cascade sooner." By the proper application of nature's cure, warm water, by means of the J. B. L. Cascade, the lower intestines are freed from all poisonous waste. Drugs force Nature. Internal Bathing assists her. Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, a specialist on Internal Bathing, invented and perfected the "J. B. L. HUNGARY'S PREMIER FOR GERMAN PEACE

Amsterdam, Feb. 1.—Dr. Alexander Wekerle, Hungarian premier, in addressing the Diet today declared:

"Our readiness for peace is sincere and earnest. We never strove nor do we strive for coquetry."
"We are ready to see a just understanding which will lead to lasting peace and the security of that peace and of international agreements." Premier Wekerle added, according to the advices reaching here from Budapest. The Hungarian premier asserted that the only conditions required were that the integrity of his country's territory should remain unimpaired and that it should have liberty to regulate its internal affairs. He continued: "We will oppose attempts to sow dissension among us, but whether the near future brings us peace or unavoidable battle, it is certain we desire to maintain our alliance with Germany as one of the most effective safeguards to peace."
Premier Wekerle said that he hoped that the arrangement which Hungary was about to make with Germany would make secure his country's economic life. "That large field of activity which we need for our strong development and our efforts to create close economic relations with Germany, are not directed against other states," he concluded.

The death of James Curran of Chatham occurred at his home yesterday. He was eighty-three years old. He is survived by four daughters—Mrs. F. J. Owens, St. John; Mrs. George Tenny, Boston; Mrs. F. Derrin, Hamilton; and Miss Josephine, at home.

From 1847 to 1917

The Canada Life reports "Progress all along the line in 1917"

In 1847 Ontario and Quebec were known as Upper and Lower Canada, and the great Northwest was practically untouched. Those were the days of the stage-coach, before telegraphic communication or postage stamps, before the first ocean steamer had arrived at Quebec.

1847 was the birthdate of the Canada Life. The real history of life insurance in Canada began with the issue of the first Canada Life policy in that year. The first annual report showed that the total receipts for the year amounted to £2,153, and the total policies written to £59,650.

After over seventy years the Canada Life has attained a position of outstanding prominence in the affairs of the Dominion.

Some interesting excerpts from an address by H. C. Cox, President, at the Recent Annual Meeting:

"It is a matter for congratulation that while almost everything else has advanced in price, life insurance protection continues to be obtainable at rates which have been in vogue for many years."

"In the four loans which have been necessary for the purpose of war, insurance companies have had an important share, having actually purchased bonds for $40,000,000. (Of this amount the Canada Life took about 20%.) This has naturally interfered considerably with the flow of funds in their usual channels of investment, but they were glad to do what was conceived to be their duty, and will, I am sure, continue to help to the limit of their ability."

"Life insurance companies are distributing on this continent more than $2,000,000 per day, and seven-eighths of all the money left by married men in America is derived from this source."

"We have strongly advised men going to the war to keep their insurance in force, so that upon their return they would, regardless of their state of health, have a standard policy which they might otherwise be quite unable to obtain."

"It is the aim of this Company not only to safeguard the interests of policyholders by way of sound investment of funds, prompt payment of claims, and substantial earning of dividends, but also to give that service which even attention to these fundamentals does not necessarily imply. It is sought to realize the thought that lies behind a life insurance contract, and by sympathetic dealing give our policyholders an opportunity to feel that it is something more than a business relation. It is our practice to place our investment department at the disposal of our policyholders and their beneficiaries."

"In view of the terrific casualties on all battle fronts during the war we might reasonably have anticipated an increase in our losses from this source, but we have instead a reduction of $171,210.00 as compared with 1916. The war claims of which we have notice (of any kind) for 1917 amount to $414,463, while the total claims from all sources are $2,437,802, a sum considerably less than last year and only slightly over 76% of the amount provided for."

"The careful, cautious selection which through succeeding years has so wisely been a guiding factor in the management of this institution, the bearing and influence of which are now so clearly exemplified in the figures of our normal mortality, will have a marked effect upon our future experience, to which we look forward with the utmost confidence."

"While in the past our rural borrowers have depended altogether upon their field crops for income, mixed farming is becoming more and more extensive, and is in proportionate degree adding to the desirability of this class of investments. In addition to interest, the repayments on account of principal average 10% annually, indicating a greater liquidity than is generally supposed to attach to real estate loans."

"Throughout the past twelve months, which have been replete with possibilities, favorable or otherwise, we have been able to hold to a course definitely planned many years ago, to avoid the shoals which have unexpectedly appeared at various points to divert us, and to add to a record already illustrious another chapter of accomplishment."

MYSTERY OF A RUSSIAN ARMY

What Has Happened to the Southern Forces?

No Word Since October

When Last Heard From, Grand Duke Nicholas Was Winning Brilliant Victories

A writer in the New York Times inserts the following advertisement: "Lost—A Russian army. Last seen somewhere in Asia Minor. Finder please return to nearest Russian government. No questions asked."

we should have heard of it from the Turks. Even if they were retreating before the Turks we should have reports. If they had broken up and made their way back home we should also have heard of it in the news that the country they occupied in their memorable marches had been evacuated.

The Lost Legions. Somewhere in Armenia and the districts further south there must be at least the remnants of that great host led by the Grand Duke Nicholas and General Judenich, a soldier who won a great name for himself in the operations against the Turks.

made, sixty miles to the northeast. Not a word have we heard since of the Russians either from themselves or from the British. It is longer still since word has come of the Russian army operating around Hamadan and Kermanshah.

A Difference, Indeed? In 1916 the Russian campaign against Turkey was at full tide. On Feb. 16, Erzerum, the great Armenian stronghold of the Turks, fell to the Grand Duke and 40,000 Turks and 1,000 guns were captured as well as tremendous stores.

A Triumphant March. The Russians kept advancing and one after another Balbut, Erzingan, Bitlis and Mush were taken. It was a sort of triumphal procession, and at the same time the Russians in Persia were fighting their way to join the British in Mesopotamia, who were also advancing.

It is true that the revolutionary blight had fallen upon Russia, but after that Korniloff made a memorable smash against the Tentons. This was followed by stories of trouble between Kerensky and Korniloff, and the rising of the latter against the revolutionists.

GARRIGAN MAY MANAGE RED SOX. Former Popular Leader Ready to Render Aid—Another Report Says Hobitzel Will be at Helm. That "Bill" Garrigan would be manager of the Boston American League baseball club this season was the prediction made by baseball writers at Boston Wednesday night. The former catcher and manager of the team is now a banker at Lewiston. He said over the telephone Wednesday that he was ready to help out the Red Sox in the war emergency. "Jack" Barry, the present manager, who succeeded Garrigan when the latter retired from baseball two years ago, is a proponent in the navy and will not be able to play ball this year. Harry H. Frazee, president of the club, said Wednesday that the management matter was still undecided.

Concrete Ships to Increase Tonnage. Shipbuilding has received a tremendous impetus during the last year. The determination of Germany to wage unrestricted submarine warfare has made the question of providing ships to make good the wastage one of momentous importance. Months ago it became evident that a shortage of plates for steel ships and of suitable wood for wooden ships was well within the range of possibility. Substitutes were, therefore, sought. One of the most promising is ferro-concrete. This material has been in use in barges, launches and, even to some extent, in larger vessels for a number of years. Consequently, it was not without hope of success that attention was turned to the construction of ferro-concrete boats to take care of the traffic on the Great Lakes and, thus set free for coastal and ocean freightage boats at present plying thereon. A shipbuilding firm in Montreal has commenced the construction of such vessels. One of these is a 125-foot single screw steamer having structural steel ribs and keel with a hull of ferro-concrete. The hull is from three to five inches in thickness. It is of course, thicker than a steel plate hull, but it is claimed that the weight of the hull is less than that of a wood ship of similar dimensions. One of the outstanding advantages of this method of construction is the great speed with which the vessel in question was constructed. Early in September and the boat was launched November 14—A. D. TRACK OWNERS ARE NOT WORRIED. Over Reformers' Threat to Sound Death Knell of Racing in Maryland. New York, Feb. 1.—Close students of the racing game in Maryland are stated to be not very much worried over the much advertised intention of certain reformers to attempt to sound the death knell of turf sport in that state by their antagonism to betting, which is a natural consequence wherever thoroughbreds are raced, the primary reason for which is the betterment of the breed of the horse generally.

Mathewson First To Reach Thirty Mark in Victories. This Feat Has Only Been Accomplished by Star Twirlers Backed by Strong Teams. It was in 1902 that the great Mathewson first reached the thirty mark in victories. He and his side-partner, Joe Medcalf, were the only pitchers to get in the glory circle by winning over thirty games that season. In 1904, the famous hurler of the Chicago White Sox, created a new record for all modern pitchers by winning forty-one games. The same year, Joseph McGinnity and Christopher Mathewson came through with thirty-five and thirty-three wins respectively.

Cincinnati Fans Figuring on Reds. The Cincinnati Reds and the Cincinnati fans are in the throes of a winter campaign for the National League pennant. Cincinnati never saw a world's series. As a matter of fact, the club has only come close to the top of the heap since baseball began to send husbands home to their dinner late and break up domestic bliss with its arguments. Cincinnati has found itself possessed of the batting champion of the National League, a shrewd manager and a fine ball park. So—Cincinnati has it all figured out that the Reds are a dark entry.

The King Of The Rockies

WITH his back broken by a lucky or unlucky shot the big mountain billy of a section of the Rockies in the headwaters of the Kootenay River, sits awaiting the dogs, the first of whom can be dimly seen in the background, scouting cautiously to learn if it is judicious to fly at the bearded throat of the crippled denizen of the heights.

It all came about through his impetuous temper and a long, successful warfare waged against opponents. No sympathy ever stirred the old buck's life. From his infancy, when his mother taught him to dash to the rocks and turn his sharp little horns skyward when the shadow of an eagle fitted across the sun-baked rocks on high he had been a fighter.

Then he became lord of a band of bears and mountain lions he had escaped in his youth, through his own might, and the watchful eyes of his mother and other relatives. When maturity came he met other dangers. The fighting fury of older bucks who saw in him a coming interloper in the happy home circle. These he fought and won or lost or drew.

REVOLUTION IN HOTEL MENU

Effect of Three Months Under Food Control

Statement From Office of Hon. Mr. Hanna - What the Chateau Laurier Manager Says - Some Ways Toward Economy

The passing of three months of beefless and baconless Tuesdays and Fridays has brought a gradual revolution in the time-honored hotel menu of Canada. This is more noticeable in some hotels than in others, but the first class establishments, almost invariably, are the first to jump the regulations.

must be sparing with that. So it goes. The chef is cheerful enough about it, in most cases. "C'est la guerre" with him. But hotel patrons are not always so philosophic. The things they cannot have suddenly seem very desirable. It is human nature or just plain greed, is it not? Ask the hotel manager and he will say that it is selfishness when it is not thoughtlessness.

As the manager of one Ottawa hotel put it: "The hotel is a public utility. We are here essentially and primarily to satisfy our patrons. We serve them; they pay us. It is our duty to meet their wishes. Educate them as to what they should eat and we will certainly fall in with whatever is asked of us. Seventy-five per cent of the people who dine here pay $1 upwards for their dinner. They are not getting their money's worth. They like to see a long bill of fare and they invariably work their way through it irrespective of how much they eat of each course—which is naturally their privilege. We are trying to meet this fancy about it. Nine-tenths of the people who dine here are not getting their money's worth."

According to the manager of the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, nothing goes to waste in this establishment. There are 300 employees to feed, in addition to the constant stream of guests. There is every kind of waste, in fact, of all manner of men and women to be satisfied.

The other day a prominent public man wanted to know why he could not have a steak at a certain time. "It's the law," was the reply. He evidently didn't like the law but he settled down to his dinner just the same. There is rarely any fuss about it. Nine-tenths of the people go through the menu without being aware that beef and bacon are absent on certain days. It is only when someone desires a steak and asks for it at a certain hour that he is pulled up short with a reminder of the regulations. He usually accepts the dictum philosophically, but according to the hotel managers, it is as well that the steak is not there. If it were to be had—and if an appeal went along with it not to ask for it—ten chances to one he would have it anyway.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE. NEW SEA ODD GREA ORGANIZER. Something About Sir Rosslyn Wemyss

'Cascarets' Regulate Women, Men and Children Without Injury. Take When Bilious, Headachy, for Colds, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, sator oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sicken the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give Cascarets to their children—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

which people seem to prefer to bread. As a matter of fact, bread is by no means a necessary part of the diet. In fact it is only eaten when people are waiting for the next course. They rarely eat it along with meat, and in spite of this hotel man's testimony that brown bread is unpopular it is an excellent food. It is made of the well-mixed brown bread in white and that it is as readily used in white hotels as white bread. Many people even prefer it to the other.

By carefully measuring quantities, by economy from the garbage can upwards, and by strict adherence to the regulations of the food controller, the Alexandria Hotel, Ottawa, has been successful in materially reducing its use of white flour, beef and bacon. One kind of pie has taken the place of two and white bread is disappearing from the table in favor of brown bread, oatmeal cakes, roller, and cornmeal flour. Bread that is wasted is used in puddings and for frying cutlets, etc. Everything that is served to the bone, and the trimming of bread for toast has been stopped. The suggestion was made in this instance that the trimmings might advantageously be cut out of the menu. It means the free use of white bread and butter, and is an entirely unnecessary item.

At the Windsor Hotel, real poultry and fish are taking the place of the breakfast bacon and eggs. According to the steward, but people are becoming used to everything in the kitchen, and are being substituted for lost cubes of sugar and there is a saving in the use of salt. Smaller side dishes are being served and corn cobs are served to save the stop tipping during the war.

(New York Herald.) Now that the Japanese government railways have abolished tipping to the employes on their lines, and everybody in the United States is cutting down all expenses in order to live and help win the war, why is not this the ideal time to stop the ever growing tip in hotels, restaurants, Pullman cars, steamships, barber shops and many other places.

Of the employes of these places are objects of charity, why cannot a law be passed and enforced compelling the public charity money boxes with appropriate signs calling for everything in the employes are objects of charity and asking contributions for them? Open these charity boxes equally among the employes.

WAS OFF WORK 4 or 5 MONTHS A YEAR WITH CONSTIPATION

If the truth were only known you would find that over one-half of the people in this country are suffering from constipation. When the bowels become constipated the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick headaches, the sourness of the stomach, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxative-Liver Pills. They work on the bowels gently and naturally, and will cure the worst cases of constipation. Mr. Sylvester Clements, Galt, Ont., writes: "I desire to express my heartfelt thanks for what Milburn's Laxative-Liver Pills have done for me. I have been suffering from a bad stomach and constipation and was off work 4 or 5 months a year. I was hardly able to be inside without getting a severe headache. I tried doctors' medicine and other remedies, but got no relief until a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxative-Liver Pills. Now I can work inside without any headaches or pain. I would not miss any business for a day if I were not cured."

Milburn's Laxative-Liver Pills are 25c a box, and are sold by mail or direct from the manufacturer, The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE BESTIAL TURK

(Toronto Globe.) German papers deplore the loss of the Goeben and the Breslau, the two former German cruisers put out of action in the recent fighting at the Dardanelles. The loss weakens Turkey, destroying her last effective naval strength. What Germany deplores makes civilized men everywhere else glad. The bestial Turk is one of the greatest obstacles to the restoration of world peace. Germany for her own ends not only desires that he shall remain Constantinople and the regions of the Bosphorus and Asiatic Turkey adjacent to that city, inhabited chiefly by Ottoman, but that the Turkish Empire be constituted before the war shall remain intact. Even were the problems of Belgium, Poland, and Alsace-Lorraine set aside, the restoration of the Allies, peace would be impossible so long as Germany continued to demand the restoration of Palestine, Mesopotamia, and Armenia. It may be that an intact Turkey, with Germany as her overlord, would be less cruel and anti-Christian than in the past, but the experience of the Armenians during the past three years, while German influence has been supreme at Constantinople, gives little hope of reform.

New Lord a Great Organizer

The future historian will not say that Jellicoe was a failure as head of the British navy; he is most likely to point out that in his patriotic and characteristic determination to become familiar with all the minutiae of the British navy, he simply broke down his health. Confirmation of this view comes from a British naval officer, who says that ever since the Battle of Jutland Sir John Jellicoe has been hardly the man he was before. He appears to be one of those who insist on having full information concerning every vessel in the British navy, and to supervise everything connected with naval movements.

As an indication that Jellicoe's retirement was considered some time ago and that Wemyss was then being "pointed first" for some months past the "First Sea Lord" was Jellicoe's assistant, and a new office was created on his account. Last summer Sir Rosslyn Wemyss was recalled from command of the Naval Academy in the East Indies to be the Second Sea Lord under Jellicoe. It was expected that he would do the real work of the Admiralty and remain in that position until the time he was reported to have done so admirably that later on he was made First Sea Lord.
