A SIGNIFICANT VICTORY

Having had time to get his second wind and come up to the mark again, Quebec has dealt a blow to Nationalism that will put the Monk-Bourassa faction in hospital for some time.

The fight in St. John yesterday was between a Liberal and a Nationalist-Conservative, and the Liberal won with a majority of 633 votes.

The result will have a good effect. Those persons who had been asserting that the power of the Liberal party was broken in Quebec, and that the proof was furnished by Drummond-Arthabaska, must now consider also the results in St. John.

It is now quite plain that when the French-Canadian people understand the naval policy of the government, and the fact that they will refuse to be led by Monk and Bourassa. Yesterday's Liberal victory is significant.

A WESTERN EXAMPLE

If eastern Canada is to get into the game of capturing immigrants it must do more than appeal to the immigration department.

The west is now reaching out more vigorously than before to get settlers from the eastern portion of the United States.

In the past the American rush has been from the middle and western states. A despatch from Winnipeg tells as follows what is now proposed:

"Five special trains will run, commencing about April 1, from the cities and towns of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey to the Alberta towns of Lacombe, Red Deer, Ponoka, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Stettin, Camrose, and Edmonton.

A. H. Barnard, who is the manager of the Central Alberta, a thriving newspaper of Alberta, will commence about the first of the year to cover 60 towns in the above mentioned states in a lecture tour.

The slides with which the lecture will be illustrated will be views of Alberta farms, scenic spots and other pictures. From two to three days will be spent in each of the towns visited on the tour.

Mr. Barnard will get into personal touch with all the farmers and make arrangements for their transportation on the special train.

Upon reaching the different Alberta towns the incoming farmers will be introduced to the members of the board of trade in each town, who will post them in local particulars.

This is going after business in real earnest. The spirit of the west is indomitable. The people themselves supplement the work of the department and the railways.

Land companies also take a hand in the game. Every individual conceives it to be his duty to assist in some way the work of development.

There are fine opportunities in New Brunswick for land companies, private investors and individual settlers. The people must realize the fact and cry their wares in the market.

THE FARMERS One of the delegations of western farmers who visited Ottawa is reported to have said: "I feel confident that the Laurier government will not receive a single supporter from the four western provinces. The farmers are now well organized in that vast strip of country between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains, and they will insist upon fair treatment."

Conservative newspapers which print drivel of this sort should ask themselves what would happen if Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not receive a single supporter from the west. Would Mr. Borden be called on to form a new government? If so, what would he do for the western farmers? He is in favor of a high tariff. He is opposed to reciprocity. His eastern followers would prevent him from conceding any of the demands of the west. The farmers have at least something to hope for from the Liberal government, but to vote Conservative would be to place themselves at the mercy of a party which has nothing at all in common with their aspirations.

In the first place, the grain growers and cattle men ask too much. They are exceedingly prosperous, and ride in Pullmans to Ottawa, with abundance of money in their pockets. They are not a downtrodden people, but a people who have been making money very fast. Nobody objects to them making it faster, but they must give their eastern neighbors a similar opportunity.

The government will not legislate for the west, but for all Canada, and every sensible farmer is well aware of the fact. The last thing the men of the west would think of doing would be to vote for the high-tariff, anti-reciprocity party at Ottawa.

THE VALUE OF CRUISERS

The statement is frequently made by Conservative critics of the government's naval policy that cruisers of the Bristol class are of no value, and that Dreadnoughts alone should be constructed.

As a matter of fact, the policy of the British admiralty is to increase the number of cruisers of the Bristol class, which is the class chosen by Canada. A London cable to the New York Herald gives the following interesting information on this point:

"The commissioning of the cruiser Bristol at Devonport marks the completion of the class of five medium-sized cruisers of the protected type which were authorized in the naval programme of 1906-8. It is noteworthy that these vessels should be joining the fleet at a time when attention is being directed to the cruiser policy of the Admiralty in view of the forthcoming year estimates, and therefore a brief review of the situation in regard to cruisers should be opportune at the present moment.

With the entry of the Bristol into the service Great Britain may be said to be reaping the first fruits of the revival of naval opinion in favor of the small cruiser, which took place just over three years ago. For some time previous to that date the attention of the naval world had been concentrated upon the building of armored cruisers of large displacement and power, culminating in the production of the Invincible and her sisters, and, following the British example in this respect, all the great powers except Germany had ceased to build any protected or light cruisers for about five years. Then it was that the Admiralty, having established a lead in battleships of the Dreadnought class, turned their attention to the equipment of the fleet with a new type of cruiser for service, with destroyers, and another type for scouting work, and the protection of commerce."

It is a source of general regret that Dr. H. M. Ami, for twenty-eight years on the staff of the Dominion Geological Survey department, has found it necessary to retire permanently from the government employ. The Ottawa Free Press says: "Dr. Ami has done very valuable work for the Dominion and his retirement will be a distinct loss to the service. He is a fellow and member of several British and international scientific societies."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has called a public convention to meet in the City of Quebec on January 18, 19 and 20, under the auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association. To this convention all who are interested in forestry are invited, including specifically the Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces, members of the Senate and the House of Commons, legislative councils and assemblies; Dominion and provincial forest officials; representatives of lumbermen's associations, boards of trade, the Canadian Bankers' Association, Canadian Press Association, and many others. His Excellency Earl Grey has said: "My experience has been sufficient to impress me with the urgent desirableness of focusing the best brains of the Dominion on the immediate consideration of what shall be done with our forests."

SMITHY VERY MUCH ALIVE

M. R. Derrick, a Toronto blacksmith, whose obituary notice appeared in the morning papers of that city in the conventional form, including the words "omit flowers," on Tuesday. It was evidently the practical joke of some one. Derrick is not dead. He says so himself, and it will be admitted that he is probably the best judge.

If buttermilk is used in place of sweet or sour milk in making biscuits, the pastry will be delicious. Buttermilk makes a lighter batter and fewer eggs are needed in a batter made with buttermilk for cakes.

For starching muslin, gingham and collars, dissolve a piece of alum the size of a hickory nut for every pint of starch. This will keep the colors bright for a long time.

A crusade has been started in Orville, Cal., against the big hats worn by women in places of public gatherings. When the matter was taken up at a meeting of the city trustees, three of the city fathers said that they had attended church the previous Sunday night and that the speaker had been obstructed by the large hats worn by women in front of them. It was found that there was no one in the foreground of the church who was holding the wearing of hats in places of public gathering and the city marshal has been instructed to enforce it rigidly.

ATTUNED The kindness of the silver star is laid Upon my bosom, where I idly pass The blown narcissi greet me from the grass;

And winds and the great sun and the meek shade All make me free of love in glen and glade; In the deep wild, impassioned for the sea, Yet has the heading river thought for me, And whispers in my ear with voice a maid, Might envy for soft sound. O, Nature bring! There is such beauty in the grassy sod Such warmth and splendor where the skies expand, That to the soul attuned blest Pisgah's heights, In every hill doth rise; and spread of God Each vale of earth smiles up a Promised Land! —Edward Wilbur Mason, in the Craftsman.

IN LIGHTER VEIN A QUESTION FOR PA. "Do they photograph the moon, pa?" "Certainly, my son." "How do they get the man in it to look pleasant?" "NO DEPRAVITY." A gentleman was seated behind a negro in a tramway car in Memphis yesterday for this year.

All the seats were taken when a neatly dressed young negro, evidently a lady's maid, entered the car. The negro rose with a polite bow and offered her his seat.

"I hate to deprive you, sah," she said, as she took it. "Dean mention it, miss," replied the snarling Chesterfield; "It ain't no depravity."

FIRST-CLASS STRANGER. A good example of the witty and concise form of expression was the bit of the grim man, when asked about the character of a neighbor, sentimentally "repeated, I don't know much about him, but my impression is he'd make a first-class stranger."

DRAMATIC INCIDENTS. In Canada Monthly (formerly Canadiana) for December there is a bit of dramatic criticism by W. D. Nesbit, that will sound familiar to every theatre-goer. "They're no deceptions, Canada monthly," "that the practice of 'certain calls' is a sad disillusionment. Anyone who has seen a powerful play vividly acted, and himself tensely clutching the arms of his orchestra chair when the curtain went down, has been rarely fooled when the star reappeared, bowing and smiling dazzling, not a bit flustered by her recent exploits."

"W. D. Nesbit has written a bit of verse called 'Dramatic Incidents,' which ought to be deathless, so exactly does a bit, this nail on the head: "I've seen dramatic incidents In shows that cost me thirty-cents And shows that cost one-and-a-half; Some made me weep, some made me laugh, I've seen the villain limned in jail Without a friend to go his bail, And when the act was done, somehow Come out of jail and make his bow!"

I've seen the pale young heroine Who had escaped the lures of sin, And saved her poor old father's life While all were watching, fearful-eyed— I've seen her leap from a high cliff And heard the sea drums go her-biff! Then up the curtain comes and she Bowed calmly there for all to see.

I've seen the hero say farewell, And stop a moment just to tell How far away he meant to go, To win some wealth and fame, you know I've seen him leave the old home place, While tears were running down each face, And in a minute he returned, To "take the call" for which he yearned.

But, best of all, I saw last week The incident of which I'll speak, Poor Shakespeare's work was being done, The curtain quickly down was run; Then up, and to the cheering crowd J. Casosa's corpse got up and bowed, And then lay down and died some more, And then got up for an encore!

"It is a pity that more player folk do not adopt Ellen Terry's method. Anyone who has seen that meretricious actress come on the stage in response to a certain call, and, instead of the conventional honied graces, pick up a hat left behind, take a stitch or two in a glove or perform some other small act entirely in keeping with the character in whom the real Ellen Terry was for the time submerged, will remember the thrill of grateful pleasure he felt that she had preserved the illusion of the play with the unerring instinct of the artist to whom good work is far more than personal applause."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"HELL holds no fury like a woman scorned." No, that's not going to be my text. On the contrary, it's my anti-text. I have been asked by a woman who resents this as an aspersion on her sex to deny that it is often so.

Write something about and for those who go on loving forever no matter if their love is not returned—of those whose love it would be impossible, whatever happened, to turn to fury," she asks. Gladly, for I believe with her they are a far larger class than the women whose love repulsed outsiders any of the efforts of Flute.

Daily Hints for the Cook

- ROAST BEEF. Get an "edge" or some call it "aitch" bone. Try out a generous piece of suet in the frypan, put your bone in and brown on all sides. Take out, put into a roasting pan, fat left in the frypan add water, salt to taste and tablespoon of good strong vinegar. Put into a hot oven and baste generously and keep the oven as hot as possible. If one likes it rare, it will be done in forty-five minutes. This for seven or eight pounds. Do not add the salt until it is put in the roast pan.
- HARRISON PUDDING. One cup molasses, 1 1/2 cup butter, 1 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoon each of nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves, 1 cup of strong cold coffee, 3 cups of flour, 1 cup of seeded raisins. Steam 3 hours, serve hot with either liquid vanilla-flavored sauce or hard sauce.
- HASHED BROWN POTATOES. Peel and wash some raw white potatoes, cut them into inch-square dice. Boil them in salted water until they are tender, then drain off the water. Pour into a buttered pushing dish and pour over them a rich, well seasoned white sauce. Cover and bake in a good oven for 20 minutes, then uncover and brown richly and serve. These are delicious with cold meats and hot biscuits or Graham gems.
- CONTINENTAL FRUIT CAKE. One pound of butter, one pound of sugar, one and a half pounds of flour, one cupful of cream, one grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of mace, one teaspoonful of cloves, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, eight ounces of raisins and cleaned currants, one half of a pound of shredded citron, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Cream together the butter and sugar, beat in the yolks of the eggs and the spices, fruit and other ingredients, the baking powder and whipped whites last. Beat hard for 10 minutes and bake in two loaves in a moderate oven.

DOUBLE DROWNING AVERTED. (Richibucto Review). What might have been a double drowning incident Wednesday, was averted by the presence and prompt work of William O'Leary and William Leavoy. They were attracted by the screams of Miss Sadie O'Brien, who had broken through the ice in the river. She was accompanied by her sister, who was making frantic efforts to help her, and but for the arrival of the men would have probably broken through the ice and a double drowning resulted.

Hockey
St. John to Lose McQuarrie.
While St. John will have a strong hockey team this winter, yet she will be weakened by the loss of one of her stars, Lowell McQuarrie, who has wintered down the river position. McQuarrie, who is in the employ of T. H. Estabrook & Co., has been transferred to the Winnipeg branch of the concern and will leave on Monday for the prairie city. The appointment comes by way of promotion and while Mr. McQuarrie's many friends will congratulate him in this respect yet they will miss his absence from the city. As a player, he was one of the best forwards on the St. John team and his place will be hard to fill. Captain Clawson, however, has some promising material and while he has no definite announcements, he is confident that those who will satisfactorily fill the bill.

St. John plays its first game here with Chatham on Jan. 6, not in Chatham. A practice will be held tomorrow night from 8 to 9 o'clock at the weather permit.

St. Francis Xavier May Play in St. John.
The St. Francis Xavier College hockey team will have a busy time of it on their trip to Harvard. They already have three games to play and are now arranging a match to be played in New York with the N. Y. A. C. Sydney paper says: "The night before the Harvard game they will play a practice match with the M. L. E. and the day after expect to play in New York. On the way home a game will be played in St. John, probably on Saturday, Jan. 15."

St. Michael's Won.
St. Michael's College, at Toronto, Canada, defeated the New York A. C. at hockey in New York Tuesday night by a goal to 0. The game was fast, and though aggressive, it was clean throughout, but the Canadians showed themselves at every stage the masters, both in strategy and execution of the New York team, which was the champion of the Amateur Hockey League.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Following the recent failure of the Quebec National Bank, of Quebec, Texas, the controller of the currency has ordered that the 7,000 national banks in the United States must adopt a uniform system of bookkeeping.

Earthquakes in the Elis district of Greece have destroyed two villages. The extent of the damage is not yet known. The engine room, boiler house and machine shop at the Bartlett mines, Goveganda, have been destroyed. The damage will amount to about $30,000.

The Legislature of Massachusetts will be asked to pass a bill to forbid anyone not belonging to the militia or police force to "buy, hire, lease, receive, use or carry firearms," without securing a special license.

Sixteen or eighteen workmen were killed yesterday by the explosion of the boiler in the plant of the Movewood Lake Co., near Pittsfield, Mass.

The grand jury in New York, in one hour yesterday, indicted Joseph G. Robin, on a charge of the larceny of $80,000 from the savings bank, of which he was president.

Some eighty members of the Longshoremen's Union employed by Trefethan & Dugan in unloading pulp wood from the steamers Hektor and Symra at Portland, Me., have struck. They claim enough men should be employed to load the cars also, but the contractors assert that their contract does not call for this.

Charles Cochran, Charles Morris and Benjamin Canning, of Port Greville, N. S., were arrested yesterday on a charge of complicity in the burning of the school house at Port Greville, on which Charles Allen is now awaiting trial in Australia. The men are prominent in their home town, and much excitement prevails over the matter. They are held in $2,000 bail.

A fire in a Cincinnati tenement Saturday was spreading so rapidly that the fire chief ordered the occupants of an adjoining tenement to vacate. A stairway window rushed in to do the best he could and in a few minutes he emerged triumphantly with a canary in a cage. He carried it to a store across the street, where it sang joyously throughout the excitement.

EDISON PEERS INTO FUTURE

Wizard Speaks of Accomplishments and Effects—Mails By Aeroplane—Perfecting The Talking Pictures

New York, Dec. 29.—Thomas A. Edison makes many interesting predictions for the future. "I believe aerial navigation will become practical," said Mr. Edison, "not as a means of personal transportation alone, but for the transportation of the mails and small articles intended for quick delivery. By aerial transportation sections in the far distant parts of the globe may be reached.

"I do not believe that the United States government will take up the problem of the development of aerial navigation. I think it will be done by private enterprise. These companies will use the aeroplane to reach points in Alaska and other places that would be almost inaccessible by ordinary means of transportation.

"Many great problems have been solved during the last few years, principally by the application of electricity, but even a more notable achievement is the advancement of surgery to the stage in which it is now practiced in the Rockefeller Institute.

"The vacuum house cleaner is a great gift to the house and a boon to health. There have been many new electrical cooking vessels perfected. The propelling of street cars by storage batteries is a distinct step forward in this field. The progress that has been made in the building trades by the use of cement has been great and gives promise of better, safer and cheaper buildings in the near future.

"The use of cement for building concrete bridges, sewers and subway walls has increased wonderfully, and will go forward more rapidly by the use of steel molds for cast work. The use of concrete in bridges, houses and other structures can be built at a saving of about seventy-five per cent, and the models can be used over and over again.

PRICE OF TEA GOING UP

Ceylon Higher in England Than 15 Years—Darjeeling at 74 Cents a Pound

The price of tea is going up in England, according to the statement of a manager of one of the largest tea companies in London. Ceylon tea is dearer than it has been for fifteen years. "The rise is mainly in the cheap grades," he said. "This is due largely to the rubber planting, which has to a certain extent shunted out tea, making a shortage there as well as in Northern India. Added to this, we have been using much more tea this year than last, and at the same time, the importation of tea has been less, which has caused a great depletion of stocks.

"Russia and Australia are outbidding England in purchasing tea, and it is anticipated that the shortage this year will be even more serious than last year. So great is the demand that blenders are tempted to mix what they call as 'side-walk' as the Irish, who know that good tea goes further, weight for weight, and then insist on having it put away for them."

As an indication of the prices ruling in the London market, it may be mentioned that Darjeeling tea about two weeks ago realized an average price of 74 cents a pound in bond.

She is only eighteen years old, and he claimed the right of protecting her. At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. UNION BANK GETS HOME IN ST. JOHN

Quarters in Jardine Building Secured—Open Early in New Year

St. John is to have still another bank. The Union Bank of Canada has purchased from the Dominion Fire Insurance Company the balance of their lease of their offices in the Jardine building, Prince William street, nearly opposite the building now owned by the newly arrived Merchants Bank, and will open a branch there the first or second week in January. W. A. Connors, now in the Royal, formerly connected with the Union Bank of Halifax, is to be the manager.

The Union Bank of Canada held its 60th annual meeting on Saturday, December 17, when the best statement in the bank's history was presented to the shareholders. During the year the bank earned 14 per cent on the average capital paid-up; increased its dividend from 7 to 8 per cent; increased its capital stock by $200,000, which was paid up at a premium of 25 per cent, opened thirty-seven new branches, and increased its assets and deposits by large amounts.

At the annual meeting it was decided to increase the capital from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000, and to increase the number of directors from ten to eleven. The net profits for the year, after deducting expenses of management, etc., amounted to $451,820. With the balance at credit of $1,000,000, the total assets amounted to $2,800,000, and the premium on new stock amounting to $200,000, there was a total of $3,000,000 available for distribution.

FINE OF $90 OR JAIL FOR THREE MONTHS

Mary Boyd's Sentence in Police Court Today—Campbell Remanded After Some Evidence

On a charge of wandering about the streets and not being able to account for herself, as well as being a nightwalker, Mary Boyd was sentenced this morning by Judge Hilditch to nine months in jail, or a fine of $90. Policeman McCollum told of having found her in Sunday street on Wednesday night. She told him that she was waiting for her brother who was mate on a schooner lying at one of the wharves, but this statement was found to be false, and it was learned that she had been aboard the schooner on the night previous. The woman is married and has children living.

John Cook was remanded on a charge of damaging property in the Boston restaurant, Charlotte street, to the value of $70. Fr. A. Horst and C. C. Clark told of having seen the man throw a bottle through a window and then kick the door. Joseph Hillier was fined $5 and remanded on a charge of drunkenness.

John Campbell, aged 25, was remanded on a charge of acting indecently in Mecklenburg street. Sergeant Caples said that he went to that neighborhood yesterday morning and arrested the man after the latter had been identified by the daughters of a resident, as one who had accosted and frightened them. Other young ladies also were said to have been frightened by the man.

ELABORATE AND NOVEL CHRISTMAS DISPLAY FOR GRAND CHILDREN

Trees, Bells, Electric Lights, Buzzing Aeroplanes and Santa Claus Delight Juniors in A. O. Skinner's Home

Following the custom of other years, A. O. Skinner has a very elaborate and novel Christmas decoration in his residence, Coberg street, for the entertainment and amusement of his three grandchildren, Eric Thomson, Errol and Margaret Skinner. Hundreds of tiny electric bulbs, miniature aeroplanes, Christmas bells and three prettily trimmed trees are utilized in the display and to say that the children have been delighted is putting it mildly.

The rear drawing room is entirely given up to the display. The ceiling is divided into squares with green, and from the corner of the squares are hung large paper bells with little electric bulbs attached. The bells in the centre are white and those around the border are green. The crystal chandelier in the centre is surmounted with a large bell of blue and red and ornamented with tiny lamps and glass airships.

The rear wall of the room is occupied by an excellently painted scene, showing snow-capped mountains with a village nestled in a valley and a full moon shining on all. A monoplane, biplane and dirigible airship are depicted against the blue sky and on the road leading to the village is Santa Claus with his reindeer team and a sleigh laden with toys of every description. The scene was painted by H. M. Hampton.

Just in front of the scene, at one side, a realistic airship with Santa Claus at the steering wheel seems to be entering the room from the distant sky. By an electrical connection the propeller of the airship buzzes veritably and the old saint smiles down on the surroundings. Two smaller airships of toy design, are also suspended from the ceiling and when their clockwork mechanism is wound up they too circle the air.

Three trees labelled "Eric," "Errol" and "Sister" (the latter name Errol's name for her) are located at the sides of the room, each very daintily trimmed with tinseled ornaments, and electric lamps. The time-honored chimney-place is there also, with a glowing fire of electric lamps, behind a realistic fire scene.

In every way it is a most interesting display and although it entails a lot of time and thought and work, Mr. Skinner says it is worth it all for the pleasure the little ones derive from it.
