TORONTO, APRIL 3, 1903

Forgive by all means, but never forget. Where is the LIEBER and what is he DOING? You ought to know and be able to find him right under your own hat.

The "Grafter" who is the only class in the community that is fully represented in Parliament. It is safe to say he has always a majority.

Now that Hon. Clifford Sifton and W. T. R. Preston have begun to swap compliments, England will have a chance to see what a deuced fine fellow Jack Canuck is.

It is the business of the Government to extend the Intercolonial till it reaches the Pacific Coast, rather than grant subsidies to multiply the number of already unproductive multi-millionaires.

The best you can do now is a million times more valuable to yourself and everyone else than the vast register for what you did not, or think you cannot do. Do something, and you'll be able to do more next time. But DO!

"Have-been" and "have-dones" are worth less per cent. than old-fashioned implements of war hung up to decorate the rooms of ouzel and indolent bachelors and the fashionable ladies in whose society they delight to go to seed.

People with empty heads and empty pockets are often anxious to tell much more than they know, while those with knowing heads and plenteous pockets greatly prefer to tell much less than they know—especially about such things.

The Legislature has adjourned for three weeks, but it is safe to say that to a goodly number of the members the adjournment is a picnic, though not by any means a picnic, though not by any means a picnic, though not by any means a picnic.

A paragraph referring to Chief Thompson appeared in last week's issue up-side-down. This was merely a forecast as to the position Chief Thompson will be in when he shall have realized the mistake he made in interfering with the Firemen's Union.

In a communication last week a wise one said: "Your worst enemies are not the capitalists, but the confederates in the ranks of organized labor." We admit his perspicacity, but cannot publish all he said. However, we shall be pleased to hear from him again.

The introduction of John Chinaman into the kitchen goes merrily on, and some day we may expect to hear some ultra-liberal declaring in loud-voiced pigeon English over his cup of tea that he is "a thoroughbred Chinese Canadian," his father being a Chinaman and his mother—something white.

It will be interesting to hear C. P. R. Director E. B. Osler, M.P., rise on his hind feet and "as representative of the fourth his denunciation of the corrupt policy of the Government if it should dare to grant the subsidy to the Grand Trunk Pacific. And yet he would be "representative" in fact organized labor in West Toronto and every other part of Canada. But will he do it?

We will be prepared to admit that there has been an honest effort made at rep. by pop. if the redistribution bill gives Toronto eight or nine seats, as we are entitled to. If it does not, it will be simply a repetition of the old confidence man's game to come to the province and see that the choice cuts may fall to the carver and his favorites. But in view of the broad lines laid down as the basis of redistribution there will be no difficulty in anyone seeing whether we get a square deal or not.

No one asked the promoters of the Grand Trunk Pacific to build a transcontinental railway, but their asking for a subsidy along with the charter is nothing short of the most bare-faced kind of hold-up, the like of which in private life would justify shooting in self-defence. It is to be hoped the Government has enough nerve to shoot and shoot so effectually that there will be no more demands for subsidies. They are in every sense of the term "highway robbery" with the added absurdity of making the victim pay for being robbed.

The proposed bill to tax Chinamen entering Canada $500 per capita is to be highly commended as a step in the right direction. Organized labor has worked for this for many years—so many, indeed, that the Chinese question has entirely changed since the reform was first urged upon Parliament. It is better, even nothing even now, to be sure, but it is quite likely that "wealthy corporations like the Six Companies can still figure out a profit by shipping in coolies even under this high poll tax. If they do, prohibition of Chinese immigration must follow.

John Thompson, Chief of the Pine Brigade, City of Toronto: Dear Sir,—In the language of the school-boy letter of years ago, we now take up our pen to write that we are all well and have excellent memories, and that you are about the last thing we are apt to forget till you know better than you did when you went up against organized labor. Hoping this will find you humble and suffering from a contrite heart, we are always
 The Fellows Who Won't Forget.

Toronto District Labor Council

The regular meeting, March 26th, of District Labor Council was opened at 8.10 p.m., with President Cox in the chair. Delegates Henderson, Harmon and Jamieson were appointed a Credentials Committee, and reported following credentials, which were received and delegates seated.
 From Allied Printing Trades Council, appointing Wm. Fogarty in place of Wm. Bell resigned.
 From Printers' Assembly, No. 2454, appointing Joe Small in place of Abe Taylor, resigned.
 From Brewery Workers, No. 304, appointing James Calvert in place of Geo. Stewards resigned.
 From Painters and Decorators, No. 3, appointing H. B. Woodrow in place of the late Thos. Graham.
 From Boot and Shoe Workers, No. 223, appointing W. Shearer, G. Dwyer, J. McFayden, A. Glocking and E. Mason.
 Roll call of officers, showing all present.

Minutes of previous meeting were read, and Delegates stated that they had had, according to meeting, the report of the Legislative Committee, was to be printed and forwarded to members of Parliament and labor unions. With this correction the minutes were adopted.

Delegates Letts reported that the Butcher Workers were organizing rapidly. Over 160 union shop cards were issued in the city.
 Business Agent Southwell reported that the Steam Engineers' delegate stated that they had over 60 members in the union, and desired the co-operation of unionists in making the fact known.
 The Tailors' delegate stated that the Tailors' Union was organizing rapidly. The Tailors' delegate stated that their strike was settled on the basis of ten to fifteen percent increase.

The Machinists' delegate reported the Brown Shirts, as still active in union labor, and the Wilson & Gibbs sewing machine should be left to non-labor shops, which would be farmed out to get the label on.
 Delegate Gavigan again requested the delegates to report to their locals that the union label was on the coal and wood carts having succeeded.

From Vancouver T. and L. Council, requesting aid for the Brotherhood of Railway Employees in their struggle against the C. P. R.; also from the striking Carriage and Wagon Workers at Ottawa, giving a statement of trouble and asking for help.
 Delegate Simpson announced that he would give notice of motions to grant to the next meeting the sum of $25 to the Brotherhood of Railway Employees, and $10 to the Carriage and Wagon Workers. The letters were received and filed.

From Hamilton T. and L. Council, about unfair terms of Jas. Jolley & Sons and Frazer & Johnson, business managers of the union label, was still being put on cigar boxes containing union-made cigars, and a greater demand for the label was urged.
 The Cutters and Trimmers' delegate reported the result of a vote of their members by Magistrate Denison during the recent strike at Johnson's, the charge being intimidation, when it was a case of assault. An appeal would likely be taken, and the delegate stated that the strike was settled on the basis of ten to fifteen percent increase.

From Hamilton T. and L. Council, about unfair terms of Jas. Jolley & Sons and Frazer & Johnson, business managers of the union label, was still being put on cigar boxes containing union-made cigars, and a greater demand for the label was urged.

 From Vancouver T. and L. Council, requesting aid for the Brotherhood of Railway Employees in their struggle against the C. P. R.; also from the striking Carriage and Wagon Workers at Ottawa, giving a statement of trouble and asking for help.

COMMERCIAL COURSE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
 It has been recently decided by the Public School Board that an English and commercial course shall be added to the public school curriculum. The course will be confined to the Fifth Book classes and will cover a term of two years. The first year bookkeeping, stenography, arithmetic and literature will be taken up, and the second year, bookkeeping, stenography, arithmetic, commercial law, typewriting and literature will be the studies. The very best standard systems and authorities will be used in the study of the various subjects, and it is expected that when the pupils leave the schools they will be in a position to succeed in business life. This is an entirely new departure in the public school system of Toronto, and should receive some attention of commerce, but first that of organized labor, as it affects to a great extent the children of members of trades unions. It is undoubtedly another advanced stage towards a freer education. Your committee is of the opinion that this innovation is in the right direction, and all worthy public school supporters of every union would like to give their children a thorough education in English and the ways of commerce, but first that of organized labor, as it affects to a great extent the children of members of trades unions. ### NOTES AND NOTELETS.

We are told by the British press that there is a growing demand that the colonies shall bear a larger part of the imperial defence. Why should they? The imperial defence is largely a huge superfluous. It is almost a monumental blunder. There was the time when every so-called nobleman had his body of retainers, his most and drawbridge. Every widow was harried like a prison house, to protect him against the attacks of his neighbors. The man who would adopt that method to-day would be looked upon as a lunatic. Every increase of armament of one nation is followed by the increased armament of the other nations. Why not try the experiment of reducing the armaments and thus reduce the expense?

If people would give but a tithe of consideration and expense to the adoption of the methods of peace that they do to the maintenance of armies, we would soon find out some simple way of getting rid of war. There is a treaty between the United States and Canada whereby these nations agree to keep no war vessels on the lakes. Why cannot other nations follow this example? After the war of independence, the different States formed a federal union. The result has been the utter absence of the first vestige of a fortification or any kind of armament between the different States. The same is true of the Canadian confederacy. If the French and British can live on terms of amity on this continent, why can they not do the same in the old world? Let an earnest effort be made to establish international courts or councils where international questions can be settled, and at once there will be no more necessity for armaments between nations than there is between towns or counties.

Dean Farrar is dead. For many years he has been one of the prominent figures in the pulpit and the press. It was a good fortune to meet him when he was in this city some years ago. In speech he was fluent and intense. He must have been a very hard worker, for he preached often, and at the same time kept his press busy with his various works. One of the most suggestive books for the use of the Sunday school teacher is Farrar's "Life of Christ."

There will be an investigation more or less searching into the charges made by Gamey, but we shall be more than surprised if there is the first effort made to go to the root of the question: Why is it that there is more or less corruption in all our election and political methods? If the people once take the earnest interest in their political institutions that they should, then we may expect to see will do away largely with political corruption. These reforms will be: First, a proper method of taxation, and consequently a proper distribution of wealth; second, direct legislation, so that the people can take their own part in the legislation of the present day; third, an improvement in the method of electing representatives, somewhat after the Hare-System system.

The demand of the manufacturers for a confidential communication with the Government is one of the most glib acts that we have witnessed in a long time. The right of the taxpayer is supposed to be nothing. Here was a deputation of very wealthy men asking the Government to increase the taxation on their neighbors, not because taxes were necessary, but that the poorest of the poor would have to contribute to the support of the rich. All this was to be concealed from the people who are to pay the tax. Let them go on with this villainy, and with enough rope they may some day hang themselves. In the meantime they are doing their best to starve their neighbors.

Had they gone to the Parliament to ask that some of the taxation be removed from the shoulders of those who are now oppressed, and that the taxes be placed more on those who now have wealth far too great, we could have wealth far too great, we could have rejoiced with great rejoicing. There would have been something like Christianity in that; but the rich of the poor to make dear, so that the rich manufacturers may get a greater power of extortion, that is of the devil pure and straight.

We dislike to be personal, but we cannot but think of some things when we see the names of some of these parties who go to Parliament to ask for higher taxation. Not many years ago, some of them were living in homes of no great pretensions. Today the mansions they occupy are a wide contrast to the homes occupied by their employees. The bonuses, the protection, the special favors are never, never given to the employees. It is always the rich who get the long will be before the workmen at the point of a strike as they ought to be, not so as to disorganize industry, but so as to stop the present method of the exploitation of the masses by the specially favored? When that strike comes it will be effective. It will not make the least trouble between the men and the employers. But it will make the land-hold and blossom as the rose, and to every home of industry it will bring the reward of industry, the abundance and the enrichment that industry should enjoy.

So long as we take the devil's way, so long as we get the devil's pay.

WRITE THEM A LETTER

While many advertisers have responded to the solicitation of organized labor and withdrawn their patronage from the notorious scab Los Angeles Times since that fight has been inaugurated against it, yet several advertisers positively refuse to quit helping the Times. Following is a list of advertisers who have sponsored the requests of organized labor:

"Cutlers"—Potter Drug and Chemical Corporation, Boston, Mass.
"Dr. Sisson Family Medicine Co., Rochester, Wis." (Box 639).
"Duffy's Malt Whisky Co., Rochester, N.Y."
"Forsyth"—The Food Food Co., Buffalo, N.Y.
"H.O.G."—Horby Oatmeal Co., Buffalo, N.Y.
"Postum"—Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
"Paine's Colic Compound"—Col. F. E. Paine, 100 Broadway, New York, N.Y.
"Perna"—Perna Medical Co., Columbus, Ohio.
"Herbicide Dandruff Cure"—The Herbicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Will YOU write letters to all of the above as well as withhold your patronage until such time as their advertisements are withdrawn from the Times? This line of work has resulted in sixty seven (more than three-fourths) of the "foreign" advertisers in the Times withdrawing their patronage from that paper, as they soon tire of the constant bombardment of letters.

Will YOU spend this amount to defeat the worst enemy organized labor has ever had?

JOHN MITCHELL'S ADDRESS

At the Chicago Demonstration in His and Laverne Darrow's Honor.

I am a trades unionist. I am not one of those who believe that the trade union is the ultimate. I recognize the fact that there is a great evolutionary movement going on; that it is slowly but surely changing our social life. But, however, my experience has satisfied me that the trade union movement is the best movement ever born for the amelioration of the conditions of those who toil.

If I believed that the trade union movement stood for nothing else than securing a few cents higher wages or shorter hours less labor I would leave it. If I thought that it is all that, I would quit the trade union movement, and I would try to start myself a new movement. But I believe it does more than that. I believe that the trade union movement raises the standard of our citizenship; I believe it raises the manhood and the womanhood and the childhood of all our people. And any movement that elevates society, that elevates the manhood and womanhood of our people, contributes immeasurably to the welfare of our people and to the good of our country.

I am not an old man yet, but I have seen practical results from the trade union movement. I have seen in my life thousands who labor brought together and made to work in harmony. I do not believe that in our country there should be an irreconcilable conflict between labor and capital. Notwithstanding the fact that I have gone through quite a number of strikes, I have not yet abandoned my opinion that if the representatives of capital and the representatives of labor can be brought together, if they can sit down in honest conference, if they will look one another straight in the eye and tell one another the absolute truth, I believe that the day of the day of conflict between labor and capital shall end.

I have never been one to believe you help labor by denouncing capital. I am one of those who believe that there is not one wrong in labor which it did not bring on itself. I do not believe, either, that any of us are poor because we want to be poor. We are all poor because we cannot get rich, or because we cannot get rich honorably. I believe that if labor will do its own duty, all the misery and all the suffering that labor has endured from the beginning of the world will end.

I believe it to be the duty of every man and every woman that works for a living, that works for wages, a salary, or a pension, to join a trade union. And I believe that the man or woman who works for wages that remains out of a trade union to be blind to his own interests. Not only that, but the interests of his fellow-men and fellow-women. I believe that the trade unions stand for all that is good, for all that is best in our citizenship.

If I thought the trade union movement depended upon lawlessness for its success, if I believed strikes depended on lawlessness for their success, I would abandon the trade union movement. I do not believe that a strike was ever won because of violations of law. I do know that strikes have been lost because the law was broken. I do know that every strike is injured if the law is broken.

In my judgment, no great strike can ever succeed if the American people are opposed to it. I have an abiding faith in the people of our country. I believe the American people always try to be right. I believe that if they decide, if they conclude that a question is right, that a strike is right, that the strike will win, and if they conclude the strike is wrong, then the strike will not succeed.

"EASY MONEY" FOR ROCKEFELLER

It is not inappropriate in connection with this discussion to call attention to the case with which Mr. Rockefeller extracts money from the pockets of the people wherewith to make his beneficent gifts. During the recent strike dividends declared by the Standard Oil Company amounted to 45 per cent on the $100,000,000 of capitalization. As Mr. Rockefeller is understood to hold in the whole country a controlling interest in the stock, it is to be feared that occasional gifts of $1,000,000 to his proprietary university will seriously cripple him. However, the mere fact of heavy dividends is not just ground for criticism. It is rather the way in which these dividends are earned—or rather provided, for they are not in the true sense of the word earned at all. In December the whole country was suffering from a coal famine. One group of monopolists, by quarreling with their workmen, had shut off the supply of coal for so many months that the mines, when opened, were unable to catch up with the demand. In this emergency many people turned to the most available fuel substitute—oil—only to find that it, too, was in the

SELLING STOCK TO EMPLOYEES

The United States Steel Corporation has perfected a rather elaborate plan for profit-sharing with its 168,000 employees. Twenty-five thousand shares of preferred stock are set aside to be sold on easy terms to employees, the company actually buying and holding the stock for them, charging them 5 per cent interest on the deferred payments, but paying them 7 per cent dividends which the stock earns. Moreover, so long as the owner of such stock remains in the company, one-half of the company will receive an additional dividend of $5 a year per share. The workmen are divided into certain classes, according to the rate of wages each is getting, and the number of shares to which each may subscribe is arbitrarily fixed—it will average two shares to each workman. It is obvious, therefore, that the corporation practically offers a bonus of about $10 a year to its people continuous and uninterrupted work from its men. A different proposition is made to the more highly paid officials, but the offer to the workmen is of the greater social importance because of their greater numbers, and of its obvious intent to avert strikes. This is clearly its purpose and the company might reasonably offer a bonus of about $10 a year to its people continuous and uninterrupted work from its men.
