WILL BE NO FUNERAL SERVICE AT 'TON
Governor's Body to be Conveyed on Special Train.
Will Go to Chatham This Afternoon—May Appoint Successor Soon.

(Special to the Star.)
FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 25.—The special train which left Chatham last night arrived here at 6 o'clock this morning. The party on board included W. B. Snowball, Premier Tweedie, R. A. Lawler, J. D. B. F. McKenzie and the Messrs. McDonald, undertakers.
The latter brought with them the casket for the late Governor Snowball's remains.
The party immediately proceeded to the Queen Hotel.
Today the remains are resting in the casket in the parlor of the Queen and are being viewed by large numbers.
His Honor is dressed in black, Prince Albert Coat and his countenance bears a most life-like and peaceful expression. There will be no lying in state or funeral service here. Shortly after 3 o'clock the casket will be taken to the J. C. R. depot and special train with the body on board together with a party which will include those who arrived this morning as well as Private Secretary Barker and a few others will leave at 3.30. A telegram received today states that Mrs. and Miss Snowball were to leave Toronto this morning for Montreal where on their arrival tomorrow they will take a special train for Chatham. They are accompanied by Senator F. P. Thompson.
The legislature will meet this afternoon, when after suitable references have been made an adjournment will be made for probably a week at least.
It seems to be the general opinion among those who are an authority on such matters that a new governor will have to be appointed right away, as that it is only in the case of a living governor that an administrator can be appointed to fill the duties of the office.

MONCTON SCOTT AGT. CASES AGAIN
James Bell, Petitioner Druggist, Must Appear Before Shediac Magistrate Tomorrow.

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 25.—James Bell, Petitioner druggist, comes before Magistrate E. R. McDonald and Isidore Bourque at Shediac, on Tuesday charged with a large number of Canada Temperance Act for selling intoxicating liquor.
Two Moncton Bourque and Dominic Leblanc come before the same magistrates on Tuesday for Scott Act violations, the supreme court having ruled that Magistrate McQueen of Shediac has jurisdiction to try cases from any part of the county. It is said that Shediac officials will lay a large number of informations not only against local dealers but throughout the county generally.
Before Magistrate Kay in the police court this afternoon five Scott Act cases are to be tried against the Brunswick and American hotels, Alfred J. H. Dodge, restaurant proprietor, Blair Leblanc and Henry Arsenau.

CLEMENCEAU TALKS ON CHURCH TROUBLE
Future Will Show, He Says, Who is Right, He or Briand.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The clerical organs unite in declaring that Cardinal Richier, Archbishop of Paris, will not submit to the new proposal of the government regarding church leases, and their Rome despatches categorically insist that Pope Pius is resolved to maintain integrally the original text offered by the French Episcopate and to refuse even to discuss the government exceptions relative to the liability of Parish priests for the keeping up of churches and the expulsion of foreign priests, or members of dissolved orders as parties to contracts. Whether these principles are only part of the diplomatic game remains to be seen.
Premier Clemenceau now admits frankly that so far as he is concerned he never expected the church to accept the conditions as to leases, but he says that Minister of Education Briand did, and that the cabinet unanimously accorded him a chance to conclude the negotiations upon the terms stated.
"The future will show which is right—whether he is the victim of an illusion or I am mistaken," the premier added.
"If no agreement is reached, what will happen?" Premier Clemenceau was asked.
"Nothing very terrible," the premier replied. "I think we will return to the solution previously contemplated. The churches will remain open, that goes without saying, and, as it is conceded, without lease to the clergy, and the state department or commune, as the case may be, will bear the cost of keeping up repairs to a church out of the funds of the church itself. But rest assured the government will go no further in the matter of concession. Republican majority in the Chamber of Deputies would not endorse it nor would any member of the cabinet, nor M. Briand's favor yielding more."

MORE SURPRISES WILL LIKELY COME
Jerome Has Difficult Things for Mrs. Thaw to Answer.
District Attorney Will Undoubtedly Ask Appointment of Commission in Lunacy When Right Time Comes

(NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—District Attorney Jerome will continue his cross-examination of Evelyn Thaw today, according to a late announcement, unless something shall arise at the last minute to make him change his mind. The reports that he will eventually ask for the appointment of a commission in lunacy are believed to be well founded, but Mr. Jerome, it is said, will not make this application until what he deems the proper time arrives.
In preparation for any move in this direction Thaw's lawyers have been busy looking up cases in which lunacy commissions have been sought.
On the whole they are satisfied with their investigations, as there have been one or two cases in this case which seem to show that it is not as simple a matter to get the court to break into a murder trial to order an inquiry into the mental condition of the defendant as might at first appear.
Meantime it is certain that when the young Mrs. Thaw takes the stand again today she will have to face a still fiercer ordeal than that experienced by her last week. Mr. Jerome has mentioned many things to her which she has not yet followed up, but it is probable that before he allows her to stand aside he will press her closely on these points.
A story is published today to the effect that George Pollock, formerly hall-boy at the San Jacinto apartments, has supplied evidence to support this contention, in an affidavit in which he says that White on four occasions followed Mrs. Thaw to the home of Hatfield Forsyth, in the apartment in the Jacinto house. Mrs. Thaw, however, on each occasion is said to have avoided him.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—When the trial of Harry Kendall Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White was resumed this morning before Justice Fitzgerald in the supreme court, District Attorney Jerome continued with his cross-examination of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. A story is published today to the effect that the prosecutor plunged into his work. Mrs. Thaw looked red and nervous, but she answered the questions and answered the first questions put to her confidently. Thaw brought with him from the Toronto several packages of letters and papers. Mr. Jerome, as on the previous days of his cross-examination, continued to jump about from place to place in the witness' story. He asked her first of all today if she had not had trouble with her mother in Allegheny, Pa., before going to Philadelphia, if she had not run away with a girl. This Mrs. Thaw denied.
"How long after the drugging in the 24th street house was that at the Astor Bank by Stanford White?"
"I can't tell how long—it might have been a month."
"When did you first meet Francis Belmont?"
"When I was in Florida."
"Before you met Stanford White?"
"I think so."
"Had you gone to supper with Francis Belmont before you met White?"
Mr. Jerome continued to hold the menace of documentary evidence before the witness, basing all his questions evidently upon the affidavits by the girl's mother and brother.
"No."
"These suppers were after the theatre?"
"Yes."

In the estate of the late Hannah Vaughan, adjournment was made until March 4th. E. G. Kaye appeared for the executors and R. G. Murray for Mrs. Robert M. Vaughan.

NEARLY $200,000 STOLEN FROM U. S. SUB-TREASURY IN CHICAGO LAST WEEK
Detectives Are Closely Watching the Clerks and Arrests Will Probably Follow Soon.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The Tribune today says: "Somewhere between $125,000 and $200,000 was stolen from the local sub-treasury last week. Chief Wilkes, of the secret service, has been keeping informed by telephone and telegraph of every development of the case and will leave Washington today to take personal charge of the investigation made by the authorities. Secretary Shaw, of the treasury department, was told of the theft when here last week and conferred with sub-treasurer William Bolden-Welcke and the secret service officials. The money was stolen either a week ago Saturday, the next day, or last Monday. The chances are it was abstracted on Monday. The loss was discovered on Tuesday.
"All the money taken was in bills of the denomination of $1,000; $5,000 and $10,000. At first it was believed that there must be some error in the book-keeping. It was thought to be impossible that such a large sum of money could have been abstracted in face of all the safeguards thrown around Uncle Sam's strong box.
"The ledger, it is strenuously denied, contains no error and an investigation showed there was no possible clerical mistake to account for the disappearance of the cash."
"This brought the inevitable conclusion that robbery was the only explanation. Just as certain was the deduction that the thieves were employees of the sub-treasury and were at that moment pursuing their daily tasks. Every man whose name was summoned to do with the case was called into Treasurer Bolden-Welcke's office and put through an exhaustive examination and a more rigid cross-examination by Captain Porter of the secret service.
"They stood the ordeal. They knew nothing of the theft and protested their innocence. But it was obvious that someone was lying.
"Day by day since then the investigation has been kept up. Saturday there came a glimpse of light. A faint clue pointed in direction of a certain clerk and that followed up, directed the finger of suspicion to another employee, a clerical associate of the first man. These men were summoned separately. The suspicious circumstances were paraded, the certainty of detection and punishment was impressed upon them, and they were advised to make a clean breast of whatever part they had played in the conspiracy.
"One, though, to be the moving spirit, came through the ordeal calm and self-possessed. The officers put him down as innocent or a master-hand of criminality. The other, a younger, showed signs of breaking down. Just what he admitted the secret service men refused to disclose. The admissions he made started the investigators into renewed activity. Half a dozen operatives started out and results are expected soon.
"Every employee of the office is under surveillance day and night and should one or more of them prove to be the thief or thieves escape will be impossible.
"All have reported for work since the discovery was made."

MURDERER ELECTROCUTED.
OSSINING, N. Y., Feb. 25.—George Granger, aged 25, was put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison this morning. His crime was the murder of a farmer, Charles Lutz, in Dutchess county, in 1905. The electric current was applied three times before Granger was declared dead.
The Allan liner Pomeranian arrived in the harbor this morning from Halifax. When she arrived there it was found that a steersman passenger was suffering with smallpox. The steamer was disinfected and allowed to leave Halifax yesterday.
In the Thistle rink on Saturday morning the ladies played the finals in the doubles for the McLaren trophies. Mrs. Rutherford and Mrs. G. W. Campbell, skip, were the winners. The score was as follows: Mrs. Rutherford and Mrs. Campbell, skip, 6; Miss G. Campbell and Mrs. S. Thorne, skip 5; Mrs. Campbell has won three games in this contest.
Wm. Hogan, a saloon proprietor, pleaded not guilty of selling liquor to Lee Blizard, a colored boy, who is a minor. The case is adjourned until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. E. E. Ritchie is looking after the interests of Mr. Hogan.
The funeral of the late Mrs. John H. Case who was burned to death on Saturday, took place at 2.30 this afternoon from her husband's residence, Waterloo street. Rev. A. B. Coho officiated, and interment was in Fernhill.

THOSE ATLANTIC LINERS.

An Upper Canadian hardware paper in its last issue, published an article on "St. John, Canada's winter port" several views were given of the city. One of these was very amusing. A picture of Indian town was shown, with the May Queen, Victoria and Crystal Streets docked at their wharves. Under the picture were the following words:—"Three Atlantic liners in St. John harbor."
Two drunks were fined $8 each in the police court this morning. Edward Mulchay, charged with wandering about Mill street, informed the court that he had not been arrested, but only went to the police station for protection. The evidence of the policeman was not taken, and Mulchay was allowed to go. The fact is that Mulchay has had the "Jimmies" lately, and the magistrate has stated that it is not a crime to become insane.

STORM THREATENS TO PARALYZE CAR TRAFFIC.
Determined Efforts of Street Railway To Keep Cars Moving—Car Jumps Track and Goes Close to Market Slip—Other Cars Stalled—All Trains Late

One of the most severe storms of the season visited the city last night and up to noon today about six inches of snow had fallen. The incoming trains were all late today and the Street Railway Company experienced great difficulty in keeping the lines clear. Several mishaps occurred to the cars. At 6.45 o'clock this morning a north-bound car left the rails at Market Square. The car was going at a fairly high rate of speed and travelled about fifty yards after it left the tracks. Persons who were nearby when the accident occurred thought for a time that the car would go into Market slip. As it neared the wharf, however, the motorman succeeded in bringing his car to a stop.
The two ploughs were kept running all morning and one of these became blocked on Princess street for some time. Considering the fierceness of the storm a very good service was given, very few cars having been much behind in their schedule time.
The Atlantic express due here at noon, was two hours late in arriving. The Boston train which connects with the Atlantic, was also one hour and forty minutes late. The storm caused the delay to both trains.
All day yesterday a bitterly cold northeast wind blew. In the evening snow began to fall and towards morning the velocity of the wind increased. A large quantity of ice in the river broke up during the storm. The harbor was filled with light drift ice this morning. The ice in the main river is yet solid and it is supposed that the ice seen in the harbor came from small coves a mile or two from Indian town.
The street car service was good up to one o'clock when a blockade occurred on King street. Car No. 72 became stuck in the snow when nearly at the top of the hill. In a short time two other cars arrived and they were obliged to wait until No. 72 started. The three cars were coupled together and after a delay of about fifteen minutes duration the line was cleared. In a few minutes, however, a Haymarket Square car became stalled on King street and another delay followed.
MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 25.—A severe snowstorm is raging over the whole district of the intercolony, but so far trains here are not delayed to any extent.
FREDERICTON, N. B., Feb. 25.—One son is raging here today and all trains are reported considerably behind time, the train from St. John this morning arriving over an hour late.

WEST SIDE MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH TODAY
A serious accident occurred on the West Side at one o'clock today. Harry Hamilton, who is employed by the C. P. R. as a shoveller, was walking along the railway tracks near Fort Dufferin, when it is supposed he was struck by a locomotive. When he regained consciousness he was lying between the tracks. His leg, head, hand and neck were very badly torn. He managed to walk to his home at Fort Dufferin. Dr. Day was summoned and he found Mr. Hamilton's injuries to be of a very serious nature. Mr. Hamilton does not know whether or not he was struck by an engine as the storm was so fierce at the time of the accident. Hamilton's father returned from the lumber woods a few days ago where he had a leg broken. Mr. Hamilton is about 30 years of age.

CONSERVATIVES SELECT CANDIDATES IN CARLETON
WOODSTOCK, N. B., Feb. 24.—J. K. Flemming, M. P.; P. B. F. Smith, M. P., and Mayor Murray were nominated by delegates attending Conservative convention yesterday afternoon.
Speeches were made by those nominated and Messrs. Hazen, Morrissey, Morrison and Gimmer.
Mayor Thompkins moved a resolution condemning the recent railway legislation of the provincial government, which was carried. In closing his speech, Mr. Hazen promised to sign an agreement with the Premier for a pure election.

APPARATUS WAS SAVED BIG RUN

There has been some talk about there being no key in box 21 Saturday night when the fire in John Case's house was in progress. The facts are that one of those who were first on the scene broke the glass in the key box and in his hurry dropped the key in the snow and the box could not be opened. When Chief Kerr arrived he quickly saw that there was no need of the whole department being called out as there was plenty of men to work the fire and the chemical hose was all that was necessary. If the fire had been so bad that the chemical could not have handled it, No. 2 was on the ground ready for work. The engines and other apparatus were fortunately saved a run, as they were not needed.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE DRIVEN OUT IN SNOW
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Five thousand persons were driven out in the snow-covered streets by a fire which destroyed the new Irving music hall in Brooke street and spread to several big tenement houses at the rear and either side. No lives were lost. The response of the firemen and their apparatus to the four alarms was delayed as the streets were piled high with ice and rubbish which had not been cleared away after the last storm and to which was added the six inches of snow which fell yesterday.
All the tenants in the neighborhood were quickly cleared out but 200 people had the greatest difficulty in holding the crowded people in check and in preventing some of them from rushing back into the burning building for forgotten possessions. Loss estimated at $150,000.
Chief Clark addressed the men last night on the new Sunday law, which comes into effect on March the first.
Special scenic service. Salvation Army Hall, 151 Main street, Indian town, Tuesday, 25th, entitled Christianity.
A bad smash-up occurred on Wellington Row this morning when a horse attached to a delivery wagon ran away. In its mad rush the horse collided with a coach owned by J. B. Hamm. One of the sp-fts of the delivery team entered the side of one of the coach horses and inflicted an ugly wound. The coach was considerably damaged.
CHATHAM, N. B., Feb. 25.—The U. N. B. hockey team will play here Friday night.

SEARCH FOR NAMES OF FOUNDLING'S PARENTS.

Her Abandonment Leads to a Romance After Lapse of Twenty-one Years.

Mother Believed to be Resident of the Fashionable West End of London.

Twenty-one years ago a lady from London abandoned in Brussels a little girl 3 months old. Reward to any one giving information about this person, 50 Rue du Tyrol, Brussels.

In 1886 a richly dressed, strikingly beautiful young woman arrived in Brussels from England, via Ostend, and took rooms at a small hotel under the name of Wilson. This name is not believed to have been her own.

She had with her a 2-months old baby, and was accompanied by a gentleman, who was assumed to be her husband. Mrs. Wilson, as she was called, wore a handkerchief over her left eye, but this is now thought to have been merely a means of concealing her identity.

The only information which she volunteered was that she was on a visit from England. Nothing is definitely known about her male companion, though it was stated he was a married man holding a high position in England until a few years ago.

After staying in Brussels for a few days the man and woman disappeared.
The woman had asked a youth in the street to look after her child, and had given him some money. She was never seen in Brussels again.

The youth, having waited in vain for the return of the mother, took the child, which was richly dressed, to the police, who placed it under the care of the Society for Foundlings.

It was a delicate child, and was sent by the society to a peasant family in the country. A. M. Francois, who lived near the peasants, saw the child and adopted it as his own. The baby, which was then three years old, to Brussels, and M. Francois, who had no children of his own, brought it up well and gave it a good education.

But they could not give it their name. The child had been christened Renee Dupont by the society, and by the laws of the society that name holds good until the age of 21. As Mlle. Dupont is now nearly 21, she is about to lose this temporary name, and falling to the discovery of her own, will take that of Renee Francois.

Mme. Francois is willing to confer her name on her ward officially, but before taking this step she is anxious to make a last effort to ascertain the whereabouts of the mother. For this purpose she has inserted an advertisement in a London newspaper.

Mme. Francois is persuaded the mother is a woman of good position. Five years ago she received an anonymous letter bearing the stamp of Charing Cross Postoffice, in which the writer stated:

"If you are looking for the mother, look for her in the West End of London."

An elderly London lady who is in search of a missing daughter called on Mme. Francois this morning, but it was proved that she was not the mother of Renee Dupont. The lady is good enough to believe that the parents will soon be found.

GIRL STEEPLEJACK
EXCITES BIG CROWD

Climbs Church Spire 260 Feet High in the Teeth of a Terrific Gale.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A girl 17 years old has accomplished the extraordinary feat of ascending a church spire 260 feet high in the teeth of a gale of wind.

Mr. Larbins, the steeplejack, of Bow, had undertaken to ascend the spire of All Saints', Hereford, the highest in the west of England, on Wednesday.
Miss Elsie Hoins, of West Denon, Whit-cross road, Hereford, the daughter of one of the churchwardens, volunteered to accompany him.

The ascent was made by means of a steeplejack's cradle. In spite of the force of the wind and of the swaying of the cradle, the girl, Mr. Larbins says, was remarkably cool all through the perilous ascent and descent. Necessary to say, the spire had never been ascended before by any except male climbers.

Wednesday was market day, and a great crowd watched in thrilling suspense the ascent of the swaying cradle.
Traffic was entirely blocked by the crowd, every member of which stood stockstill until the girl had gained the summit, descended again and reached the ground safe and unharmed.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON
ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Hardware Store Burned Out at a Loss of $150,000—Four Firemen Injured

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—Nearly $150,000 worth of property was destroyed and four firemen were injured in a fire that practically wiped out the wholesale hardware store of the Baldwin and Robbins Company, Inc., 87 to 103 Pearl street, tonight.

One of the firemen, D. J. Hurley, was blown from a ladder by a hot air explosion and had his arms broken and a gash in the forehead. The other three firemen were not so seriously hurt.

The Baldwin and Robbins Company had a heavy stock and occupied all four floors of the building, which was divided into two stores.

President A. H. Deatur of the company said that there was more than $100,000 worth of property in the building, much of it in the form of expensive cutlery. He could form no opinion as to the cause of the fire, as the building was heated by steam from an outside plant.

The fire was burning fiercely when the first apparatus arrived on the scene, but despite the bitter weather the firemen bravely attacked the flames. Three minutes after raising their ladders and had taken their first lines of hose up the stairs there came an explosion and four of them hurried to the street. The injured men were rushed to the hospital, while their companions continued the work of extinguishing the fire. It was impossible to enter the building again and for three hours the firemen fought the fire from the street. Adjoining firms are somewhat damaged by water.

NEW RAILWAY
LINES UP RIVER

Maine Company Seeking Charters for Small Roads

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The shoe manufacturers of Massachusetts claim to be but little concerned over the increase of the Canadian duty on boots and shoes from 25 to 35 per cent. The duty has been so high for the past eight years that only two or three manufacturers have given any attention to the Canadian market. It is admitted, however, that the exports of shoes to Canada will fall off.

The Maine legislature has been asked to incorporate the Northern railroad, a line which several capitalists desire to construct from some point near the terminus of the Bangor and Aroostook railroad near Fort Kent to the junction of St. John and the St. Francis River, also from the first-mentioned point to the town of Frenchville, Madawaska, Grand Isle and Van Buren. The capitalization is placed at $500,000, and the promoters are Arthur H. Lewis of Chicago, Edson E.
Goodrich of Waterville, V. M. Theriault of Fort Kent, Patrick Theriault of Grand Isle, and E. L. Michaud of Frenchville.

TWO WRECKS REPORTED
IN THE NORTH SEA

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Two steamer wrecks were reported at a late hour tonight by passing vessels. One wreck is off Flamborough Head, in the North Sea, and the other off Beachy Head, in the English Channel. The names of these vessels are not known and no details of the disaster yet have been received. The weather is still stormy, especially in the North Sea.

HAakon IS HOPEFUL

TRONDHJAM, Feb. 24.—King Haakon, at an after-dinner discussion of the coming conference at The Hague said he recognized that there would be extreme difficulty in arriving at any international agreement on the reduction of armament, but thought the conference should seek to reach an agreement prohibiting the employment of air ships and submarine vessels in war.

ST. JOHN STAR.
ST. JOHN, N. B., FEB. 25, 1907.

FROM WAR TO POLITICS.
Time brings many changes and in a few short years much may happen.

This was never more strikingly apparent than in the case of an erstwhile South African officer who is now a British politician. On April 15th, 1901, General Botha was leading an army against the soldiers of Great Britain, for the sole purpose of defeating the aims of the empire. On April 15th, 1907, this same General Botha, bearing the title of premier of the Transvaal will meet in London the political leaders of the other colonies to discuss with them ways and means for advancing the interests of Britain. Botha was, next perhaps to Joubert, the ablest Boer in the field, the staunchest patriot and most energetic campaigner.
In his new role he will no doubt manifest the same characteristics and it remains to be seen whether his patriotism and his ability will be directed towards the prosperity of the empire as a whole or merely exerted in behalf of his conquered fellows. Botha has, by the recent elections, been placed in a position in which he can be a power for either good or evil, and while as yet there has been nothing to indicate that he is inclined to treachery still the fact remains that his present success is chiefly due to the active support of Boers who have never outgrown their hatred for everything British. If Premier Botha is to fulfil the conditions of his oath of office he must display unswerving loyalty to the crown; if he is to hold the support of his compatriots he must bring about the accomplishment of their desires. His only honest course is to influence the minds of the people that they will gradually turn from their present antipathy and lead into that state which must prove beneficial to both the colony and the British empire. Britain in her treatment of a fallen foe usually errs on the side of generosity. She has done so in the case of the Boers and this has been regarded as a sign of weakness. It is difficult to obliterate the deeply rooted sentiments of the Dutch mind, and it will be many years before even those who were first to take the oath of allegiance can be looked upon as patriotic citizens. General Botha has had, from the Transvaal point of view, a creditable career. It is not yet ended. He is now given an opportunity to exercise his ability in the political arena; before many years he will be afforded another opportunity to exercise his military skill as a leader in the war against the natives which is recognized as inevitable.
Meanwhile his immediate duty demands his best endeavors in the interests of his former enemies.

UNDUPLY SENSITIVE.
The English Winston Churchill spoke in London recently to a party of journalists, saying it was astonishing how keenly sensitive to newspaper criticism the ordinary person was, and quoted what he said was a letter received by an editor in the United States, as follows:—"Dear sir, I regret to inform you that on my way home from the saloon this evening I fell into a political altercation with Col. Jones P.
Walker, of this town, in the course of which a slight misunderstanding arose, and I am very sorry to think that in the end I shot him. I should add also that, carried away by the excitement of the moment, I also scalped him.
But I earnestly hope that no exaggerated account of this painful episode will appear in the columns of your paper."

PAPA AND THE PUZZLE.
Act I.
Mr. Pitcoe: "Here's a toy I've bought while to amuse him on the long winter evenings. It's one of those puzzle things. All you have to do is to put the red ball in the star." Mrs. Pitcoe: "Let me see that puzzle, papa, won't you?"
Mr. Pitcoe: "Go to bed! You ought to have been in bed two hours ago."
Act II.
Mrs. Pitcoe: "Will, are you going to sit up all night?"
Mr. Pitcoe: "I'll be there in a minute. It's almost in now."
Act IV.
Mrs. Pitcoe: "With Pitcoe, you've been up all night!"
Mr. Pitcoe: "That's my business."
Mrs. Pitcoe: "Where's my puzzle?"
Mr. Pitcoe: "In the fire."

SOLD ALL RIGHT.
Major Green said to his servant one morning: "James, I have left my mess boots out. I want them soled."
"Yes, sir," the servant answered.
The major, dressing for dinner that night, said again: "I suppose, James, that you did as I told you about those boots?"
James laid thirty-five cents on the bureau. "Yes, sir," said he, "and this is all I got for them; though the corporal who bought 'em said he'd have given half a dollar if pay day hadn't been so far off."

MUST SHE.
An Irishman was giving a spirited address on the glories of the British nation. After describing some affronts received from other nations, he exclaimed:
"And must England stand with her arms folded and her hands in her pockets?"
He made an effective pause which however, was quite spoiled by the roar of laughter.

A NEW THEORY.
"Do you know why the chickens came out of the eggs, Robbie?"
"I guess they knew they'd get boiled if they stayed in."

land of lynching him, for "dear only knows what he will predict next," but finally Highland shrewdness prevailed and Clements was let off with a caution. This seems to have affected his nerve. A day or two ago he announced that on Saturday, Feb. 15, a severe earthquake would be felt through Ireland, Maine and Ontario. On Sunday Switzerland was to suffer, and for February 19th he had planned shocks for Italy, Japan and Illinois. But his second sight needs glasses. On Saturday there was no earthquake, Sunday passed very quietly and there is no report about February 19th. Clements was warned in time and has postponed the quakes until a more opportune season.

AFTER ALL.
Yes, what's the use of striving on?
And what's to show when all is done?
The bells will toll as now they toll; Here's an end, but will summarize the whole:
"This fell about in Summertime,
About the midmost of the year;
Our master did to covert ride
To drive the fallow deer, Chanced we upon the Douglas' men ere over one of us was war."
"Then spied a shaft from covert side
An arrowed in behind his back;
This fell about in Summertime,
At midmost of the year."
So down he fell and rested there
Among the sedge hard by the brook;
About the midmost of the year
His last and lasting rest he took.
And so, "This fell in Winter late,
Or ever Candemars drew near His bride had found another mate
Before the ending of the year;
His goshawks decked another's wife,
His hounds another's voice did fear."
NEW MINISTER'S MISTAKE.
The Rt. Rev. Leighton Coleman, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Delaware, spends his vacations on long walking trips through Delaware, Maryland and lower Pennsylvania. He meets with many amusing adventures on his pilgrimages and has a vast stock of stories about them.
"One warm summer afternoon a few years ago," he said recently, "the sexton of a quaint old Maryland church showed me through the cool, dimly lit building, and as we were departing showed me the big Bible and smiled.
"A strange thing happened last Sunday in connection with that Bible," he said. "We had a strange minister preaching here, and when he opened the book he came upon a notice and read it out with all due solemnity.
"It was a request for the congregation's sympathy and prayers for John Q. Griggs, who had been deeply afflicted by the loss of his wife."
"The sexton paused and chuckled sotily.
"You see, sir," he said, "our regular minister had been using that paper as a book marker more than a year, and John Q. Griggs, who had been deeply satisfied in a front pew with the new wife he had taken just the week before."

CARUSO WANTS MORE PAY
Tells Corried He Wants $3,000 a Performance.
His Contract at $1,500 Has Another Year to Run—De Reszke Got Only $2,500, but Caruso Draws Amazingly.
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The competition of two opera houses in New York to secure the services of singers was certain to result advantageously to the artists and the first to take advantage of this situation is Signor Caruso. He has just notified Mr. Corried that he will not renew his contract unless there is a very decided increase in the pay.
Signor Caruso's present arrangement
with the management of the Corried Metropolitan Opera Company has one year more to run.
Mr. Hammerstein told a Sun reporter yesterday that he had been approached by a representative of Signor Caruso, who told him that the Italian tenor's services might be available for him in the season. He now sings at the Manhattan Opera Company and Signor Caruso's present arrangement
with the management of the Corried
Metropolitan Opera Company has one
year more to run.
Signor Caruso told Mr. Corried that he must receive at least $3,000 for every performance and that he must have at least fifty appearances guaranteed to him in the season. He now sings at least sixty times, as he is able to appear three times a week and occasionally sings as often as four. He has been compelled to rest for period this winter, however, and the condition of his vocal cords has made him reluctant to sing in such operas as "Rigoletto," which require delicate singing. He is gradually inclining more and more to the robust roles.
The tenor told Mr. Corried that he could afford to pay the sum asked as it was he (Caruso) that drew the house with whomsoever he sang and that it was not important who appeared with him. Mr. Corried has not yet given an answer to this ultimatum and Signor Caruso's agents have indicated to Mr. Hammerstein that he may be able to get the tenor.
The highest price ever paid to Jean de Reszke was on his last two visits.
Then he received $2,500 each for thirty appearances. Francesco Tamagno never received more than $1,600 never exceeded any singing power with the New York public. Signor Caruso, being much younger than either of these singers was in the height of his popularity, is able to sing more than they ever did. He appears in New York all winter, then sings in Covent Garden and goes then to Ostend, where he sings in August.
In September he sings in Italy and spends last October in Germany.

COUGH DANGER
There would be little reason to fear a coughed about Coughs if there was not something back of the cough. That something is a congested condition of the lungs, and a serious irritation of the membranes of the air passages.
The condition demands the prompt use of an effective remedy. For all such troubles

TEACHER KILLED BY DERAILMENT OF CAR
Miss Linahan, of Cambridge, Mass., Public Schools Met Instant Death
Saturday Night
AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 24.—Miss Helen A. Linahan, a teacher in the Cambridge, Mass., public schools, was instantly killed last night by the de-railing of an electric car of the Amherst and Sunderland Line, upon which she was returning from Holyoke.
Miss Linahan came to Amherst last Thursday to spend a few days with her parents and went to Holyoke yesterday morning for a day's visit. The car upon which she was returning had but one other passenger. While going down a slight incline about two miles from Amherst, the car left the track from some unexplained cause, toppled down an embankment and landed on its side. Miss Linahan was instantly killed, her body being forced half way down the embankment. While going down the embankment the car was carrying the conductor and the motor-man were unhurt.
Miss Linahan, who was about 35 years of age, formerly taught school in Amherst, going to Cambridge about a year ago.

TRYING TO EXPLAIN CAUSE OF ACCIDENT
Pennsylvania Railway Company Issues
Statement Concerning Friday Night's Disaster
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—The Pennsylvania R. R. Co today issued a statement in explanation of the accident on Friday night, near Johnstown, Pa., in which many passengers on the Chicago special were injured. The statement is the result of an investigation conducted by A. C. Shand, chief engineer; L. R. Zollinger, engineer of the Maintenance of Way, and Herbert M. Carson, assistant to General Manager Atterbury. It is stated "that the only tangible evidence of the cause of the accident found was the broken brake handle, as stated by the management yesterday."
"The investigating committee was informed by the supt. of motive power at Altoon that the engine on train No.
25, the Chicago special, was carefully inspected before it left the roundhouse, and was in perfect condition. The gauge of the wheels on the engine was measured by the committee after the accident and found to be exact.
"With reference to the steel ties which form part of the track where the accident occurred, the committee informed general manager Atterbury that the three-quarters of a mile of steel tie track west of the derailment and a small stretch east of it, were found to be in perfect condition. This left the committee to believe that the entire length of track equipped with steel ties was in excellent condition before the accident occurred." When Schumann was in love he wrote, "I wish I were a smile, that I might play about your cheeks."

SHOT GRIZZLY BEAR. How Little Indian Boy Saved His Father Who Was Crushed.

A recent despatch from Dawson, Yukon Territory, says:— With arm broken, injured shoulders, scarred head, Roderick, a member of the Peel River Indians, called on acting Governor Litgow the other morning to ask for aid. The old man had been in a fight with a bear, and was injured.

The old man's little son, who had stood by, stole up close to the grizzly bear, and sneaking back awaited his chance. When the time came the little fellow, with lion heart and nerve of steel, drew a steady aim. It was a trying time. To the boy it was a most desperate test of whether or not he should save his father and perhaps also himself. There was no time to meditate. When the bear was drawn the little warrior hesitated not. His steady forehead bent over the trigger. There was a sharp crack and the grizzly fell back. The big animal dropped in his tracks.

Then the youngster rushed to the side of his father. He drew the bleeding man aside and staunching his wounds and rushing to get broom and water and bathed the injured man. With all the loving kindness that the filial heart can know did the little fighter stand by his injured father. Then, when the man could arise, the lad led him to the tribe. There the Indians made him comfortable and set the broken arm, and from the leaves of the trees and otherwise they prepared their crude medicines.

Weeks, weary weeks, crept by and Roderick grew better. In the meantime the little boy was exulting among his people. He felt that he had killed the great bear and had brought the claws back in triumph. The skin of a huge grizzly, the trophy of his deed, was hung in the wigwam of the great bear. The little fellow took ill not long ago and died in his wildness. He was buried in the old-fashioned grave, in the wilds of the Rockies. The old father came to Dawson, 600 miles over land and sea, through the Yukon forests, with the Peels who arrived last week with the first meats, caribou skins, and handwork of the year from their region.

Chief Isaac, of the Moosehide tribe, and Chief Julius, of the Tanana tribe, accompanied Roderick to his grave, and led in the big pow-wow which followed the smoking of the pipe of peace. It is likely that the Peels, from British soil, and Dawson is their nearest port, that they will be given every consideration, and the follow-up of what treatment is needed. The work of the Indians in putting a splint on the broken arm was in itself something of credit to sons of the wild.

WOMEN AND WAR

To the Editor of the Star: Dear Sir—As women, by reason of their position in the world, are more likely to be affected by anything in the form of a soldier, fall to see in militarism anything but a glorification of the brute force, and as they are the mothers of the future, it is their duty to see that the thing that arouses their enthusiasm and the thing that draws their tears; they utterly fail to realize that as long as this absurd and unjustified glorification of brute force in the form of militarism continues, just so long will wars be fatally easy to enter into, and so long will imperialist despotism and commercial tyrannd in the name of a ready weapon for their selfish ends.

"For the woman who thinks comes naturally first of all to think of the good of her sex, and to concern herself about questions pertaining thereto; and for a woman interested in the welfare of women as a sex, this question of war and militarism is so fundamental, that it is comprehensible how so many can still be blind to its significance. It is this spirit of militarism, the glorification of brute force, and this alone, that has kept women in political slavery and economic bondage throughout the ages, and there is still enough of it remaining in our enlightenment to make the idea of woman's participation in public office and public life a thing to be scoffed at by the majority, ridiculed and opposed."

"From this feeling (that woman as the giver of life, was to be kept from unnecessary danger) became unthinking and uncomprehended tradition, grew the idea that woman was inferior in bodily strength and could not bear arms, and therefore was an inferior being. "Women may work for the improvement of their minds, they may open schools for their sex, they may make their way in art, in commerce, in the professions, they may prove in a thousand ways their fitness to take part in public life—but it will avail them little so long as one vestige of the tradition, and the point of view born of militarism remains in the civilized world. The military point of view is that of contempt for women, of a desire to keep them out of a way of that of bearing children. This is not an exaggeration. . . . the most cursory view of civilization, make the inferior position of women in Germany is not by any means due to lack in the mentality of the German women, nor to a lack of educational facilities for either sex in a country justly proud of its magnificent school system. It is simply and solely due to the fact that at present the "nation of poets and thinkers" has for a time sold its birthright of mental preeminence for a mess of pottage—military glory and rampant imperialism."

DEFENSE THINKS THEIR SIDE STRONGER

But Delmas' Picture Has Undoubtedly Been Damaged.

The Portrait That He Painted of Evelyn Nesbit Undergoes Some Transformations at Hands of Jerome

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Thaw defense claims to be well satisfied with the position of the case now that the day Mr. Jerome began to put Mrs. Thaw through the grueling that reached its hottest point yesterday.

Mr. Jerome has added the very corroboration which was needed for Mrs. Thaw's story, but which the defense could not get in as evidence. It is claimed, also, that Mr. Jerome himself tore down the reputation he tried to make for Evelyn Thaw, while on the opening day of the trial. On that day the District Attorney's first witness was White's own son, Young White, who came to pictures to the jury his father as a benevolent, fatherly man, of most domestic tendencies—a man who, on the day he was killed, and left his home after a pleasant day with his wife and son, to take the son and his college chum out to dinner at Martini's.

By his own exhibits, in the form of checks and other papers, Mr. Jerome has shown White, not as the respectable man that he was with a love for the theatre, but as a man who was paying $25 a week to a chorus girl and who had been arrested for the same reason as the Nesbit girl, but to others.

DELMAS' PICTURE OF EVELYN NESBIT DAMAGED BY JEROME

But while the district attorney has destroyed his own picture of White, he has managed to splash some ugly, garish paint over the beautiful picture which Mr. Delmas and Mrs. Thaw painted of Evelyn Thaw. Mr. Jerome has created a doubt that she was the simple, guileless child when she was ruined by White. He has shown that she was a woman who went abroad and travelled over Europe with Harry Thaw, living in the same hotel and stopping for weeks in a castle hired by Thaw—a castle of which they and two servants were sole occupants.

Another very ugly fact is that on that trip through Europe she turned over to Thaw a money order for $400 that she had given her. That Thaw used White's money for some of her expenses is the inference that has been left, and it is not a pleasant inference. It is the inference that at that time Thaw was posing as the heroic knight, rescuing helpless maidens from the clutches of a libertine, as he classed White.

Another thing against Thaw, if not against his wife, is the catalogue that has been sent to Standard White from Boulogne. The exact nature of the catalogue has not been disclosed, but it has been suggested that Thaw had been arrested for the alleged kidnapping of her daughter.

REPORT THAT MRS. THAW MAY LEAVE HER HUSBAND AFTER THE TRIAL

The trouble with this story is that it is contradicted by all the early facts of the Thaw case. Young Mrs. Thaw has been devoted to Thaw since the day of the shooting and until her mother-in-law came home from abroad she was practically in charge of the case and was conferring daily with Thaw's lawyers.

PETITION OF TEACHERS FOR MORE PAY

Provincial Association Tells Government of Grievances—Plan Suggested to Better Conditions

NEWCASTLE, Feb. 23.—The following petition was handed the provincial government on the 21st:— The petition of the New Brunswick Teachers' Association hereby humbly Sheweth: That it is now generally admitted that the salaries paid to teachers in the public schools of the province are entirely too low as compared with those of other professionals. The time and expense now required to qualify for the teaching profession and the inadequate remuneration coupled with the greatly increased cost of living during the last few years, prevent many suitable persons from entering the profession and are continually forcing those engaged in teaching to leave and take up more lucrative employment.

While it is highly desirable that teaching should be a permanent profession, conditions are all against young people taking it up as a life work. The rewards of teaching remaining in most cases stationary, young men and women use the profession as a mere stepping stone to better paid employment, soon leaving their school to the charge of others as inexperienced as themselves in the art of teaching. In the districts are being supplanted by second and third class teachers and in many cases, by untrained teachers holding local licenses only. More than this, the chief superintendent's report for 1904-1905 shows that during the term ended June 30th, 1904, there were 407 districts in the province with teachers of any kind, the children of these districts being totally deprived of educational advantages. Conditions in 1904-1905 were:

MRS. JOHN M. CASE MET SHOCKING DEATH WHILE ALONE SATURDAY NIGHT

Her Charred Remains Found by Neighbors Who Live in Same Flat--A Shattered Lamp Beside the Body Indicated the Cause of the Fire, But It Is Thought She May Have Been Stricken With Heart Failure First.

Matilda M. Case, wife of John M. Case, Waterloo street, grocer, met death under peculiar circumstances at her home No. 24 Waterloo street, Saturday night, some time between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock. There are conflicting theories as to the exact cause of Mrs. Case's death, but it is generally believed by those best acquainted with the facts that heart failure saved the deceased lady from the horrors of burning, though the remains were considerably affected by the flames which followed a lamp explosion.

WAS FRED LOGAN OUTSKATED FRIDAY?

His Friends Surprised at His Defeat.

St. John Boy Has Beaten all His Present Victors Individually and Collectively—Ed. Lamy, the Boy Wonder, and Logan Divide Honors.

Edmund Lamy, the 16 year old wonder who showed heels to Morris Wood, an American champion at Pittsburg Friday night last, has proved two things of interest to St. John people, namely: his claim upon front-rank position in the skating world, and the apparent waning of Wood's brilliancy. Lamy is nothing but a big boy—and not so very big either. He is boyish in action and boyish in talk, a favorite with the crowd, and popular with his rivals. At Montreal early in the month he won a lot of sympathy for his plucky fights against Logan, and though defeated by the St. John lad in several contests, was loudly received at the finish by the grandstand. In fact the whole Lamy family, father and three little sons, were in high favor, the people looking upon them as a family of clean game sporting blood. The explanation of Fred Logan's defeat told by exclusive wire to Saturday's Star was a great surprise to hundreds here. Some of the doctory little fellow's warm ardent admirers thought he could not have started when his name was entirely excluded from the Associated Press despatches Saturday morning.

But he started all right, though his finishes were all wrong. Both Wood and Robson, deadly rivals, trimmed him in the sprints, and such half-rates as Anderson of Chicago and Sutphen of Verona Lake beat him out in the longer distances. This is hardly explainable to a person who has seen all these men compete under fair square conditions.

At Montreal Anderson and Sutphen were easy marks for Logan, and Lamy was beaten by him in at least one decisive matched test. The Duquesne Garden track at Pittsburg Logan says is unfamiliar to him. He could not negotiate the turns on it, and to this he attributes his defeat. Doubtless the local lad is right, and yet he may have been outskated on clear merit. It's a long way from here to Pittsburg.

The fact remains that Wood has been defeated by Logan in three recent matches. Lamy, Sutphen and Anderson too, have been easy propositions for him; good time being made in all these races. Now the little fellow looks ready to piece. The thing looks strange. However, with a defeated Wood, honors are about even between Logan and Lamy, the juvenile wonder of the season on aluminum tubes.

THE LUDLOW AGAIN ON THE ROUTE.

Met With No Accident This Morning—Bets Made That She Will be on Whole Week.

The Ludlow went on the route again this morning amid the blowing of many whistles and in fact with a right royal welcome. Up to the time of going to press no accident has occurred and bets of even money are being made on the stretch that she will continue to serve throughout the whole week. For the first few trips this morning the Ludlow was closely followed by the Western Extension but it was soon decided that the Ludlow should risk it alone. The regular meeting of the ferry committee will be held at eleven o'clock on Wednesday when the joyful tidings will be communicated to them.

While the Ludlow was making the first trip this morning her passengers were spectators of the unusual sight of a lot of floating ice in the harbor; through which the Ludlow easily cut her way. It is thought the ice is from the river but this is very peculiar at this time of year, especially after the cold weather lately experienced.

BELIEVES BODY IS UNDER STEAMER

Remains of Charles McGehean Have Not Been Recovered—Will Grapple After Pretorian Sails Today

The body of Charles McGehean, who was drowned at the L. C. R. pier on Tuesday, has not yet been recovered. It is believed that the body is beneath the steamer Pretorian which is lying at the pier.

James Brennan, who is a member of the party which is grappling for the body, called at City Hall this morning and requested that when the Pretorian vacates the berth, it be kept clear unobstructed so that the grappers have a chance to locate the body. Mr. Brennan was referred to Aid. McGoldrick, chairman of the board of works, who will probably arrange matters to the satisfaction of the grappers. The Pretorian will sail this afternoon. Mr. Brennan is confident that the body is beneath that steamer.

DEATHS.

The body will be brought here on the noon train today and the funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, 12 Rebecca street.

TEMPLE OF HONOR HALL NOT YET AWHILE

North End Brothers Will Not Build for a Year or So.

It is understood the members of Alexandra Temple of Honor, North End, have abandoned the idea of erecting a new hall upon the site they purchased some time ago at No. 329 Main street, near Douglas avenue, but will consider the project in a year or two.

The report is that negotiations were in progress at one time to have the Bank of New Brunswick occupy the lower part of the structure as a branch, but this prospect arrangement fell through the bank purchasing the Wisley site, where its handsome building is now almost ready for occupancy.

The T. of H. people in North End have quite a tidy sum in the bank to start building with, it being the proceeds of their sale of Alexandra Hall, opposite Adelaide street to St. Peter's church some years ago. Ever since this transfer the Temple meetings have been held in Union Hall.

With the Knights of Pythias already quite strong in the North End the need of an up-to-date fraternal building is doubtless beginning to be felt. When one is erected it will be a credit to that important part of our city.

The steamer "Orinoco" of the Pickford and Black Line, sailed from Bermuda for St. John direct yesterday morning. She has on board for St. John importers 550 puncheons of molasses, this being the first large shipment since the opening of the molasses season.

How's Your Money Spent, Mr. Local Advertiser?

THE STAR is the Most Valuable St. John Medium for several very sound business reasons. In the first place it is a lively one-cent paper in high favor in all classes. In the second place it has only 230 outside subscribers, all the rest are city buyers—nearly 6,400 in all. Therefore when you want to reach St. John people patronize the paper that circulates most freely among them. Other evening papers send from one-third to one half their issue out of town each day.

THE STAR covers St. John like a Blanket.

THE WISDOM OF AN EARLY SELECTION in buying carpets, oil cloths, rugs, squares, is just now more apparent than ever. The weather is very cold yet and all conditions quite unspringlike, still barely a month will pass before household folks will be busying themselves about floor coverings. Our immense stock includes.
