

U. S. SOLDIER SHOT WITHOUT FAIR TRIAL

DEMANDS HEARING BEFORE WHOLE SENATE

Senator Receives Help from Canadian Who Says He Can Furnish Evidence.

Washington, Nov. 3.—(Canadian Press)—Senator Watson, of Georgia, who has charged in the Senate that United States soldiers were hanged and shot in France without trial, put into the record today a telegram from Mr. J. Fry, of Morrisburg, Ontario, saying he could "furnish a volume of additional evidence."

Before Senate Today

A motion is to be made in the Senate tomorrow, Democratic senators announced tonight, to drop the investigation by the special senate committee. Whether a partisan issue would develop out of the case was uncertain tonight, but several Republicans declared they were ready to resist the Democratic motion, which Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, said he planned to offer.

The Simmon's motion was agreed upon after conferences between Republican and Democratic leaders and Senator Watson, and after presentation by Watson of letters, telegrams and newspaper clippings as substantiating his charges.

Senator Watson said that he continued to object to presenting the case before any committee and that he proposed to proceed with his evidence in the open Senate.

Going At Liquor Enforcement With Hammer And Tongs

Every Effort to be Made to Prevent Shipments into Dry Provinces.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 3.—As the result of a conference today between members of the Saskatchewan Liquor Commission and Provincial and United States delegates, interested in prohibition enforcement, a number of prosecutions will be launched immediately against branches of Saskatchewan liquor firms operating in other parts of the Dominion.

Bouquets Thrown To Department of Canadian Customs

London, Nov. 3.—Manchester traders readily acknowledge the promptness and courtesy with which their representations were received by the Canadian customs department regarding the new regulations for marking textile goods. One authority says: "This speedy removal of what would have been a troublesome impediment to trade is regarded with great satisfaction here. It should be held up as an example of how efficiently a government department can receive and act upon reasonable representations from responsible bodies with gain, rather than loss in dignity and in the public estimation."

Declare Holiday To Welcome Foch

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—This city declared a holiday today to entertain Marshal Ferdinand Foch, chief of the Allied armies in the war. Accompanied by General Pershing the Marshal went through a strenuous programme.

NOBEL COMMISSION BARS BOLSHEVIST AUTHOR.

They Will Not Go Down in History as Merit of the Century.

Bolshevist authors will not go down in history as meriting the confidence of their century according to the Nobel literary commission which has just decided that Anatole France, because of his Communist leaning will not be worthy to receive this year's prize. Instead the prize will go either to Thomas Hardy, Henri Bergson or Emile Zola. The French Academy, H. G. Wells and Bernard Shaw have been eliminated because of their inspirations while D'Annunzio and Maxim Gorky were both rejected because their writings were influenced by political considerations.

SUSPENSION OF INJUNCTION PETITIONED FOR

United Miners of America Will Make Move in the Courts Today.

LEWIS ACCUSED OF "PASSING THE BUCK"

Indiana Miners Have Forced a Shutdown of All Mines in State.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—Suspension of Federal Judge Anderson's temporary injunction, prohibiting the "check-off" of union dues by operators and directing a cessation of union efforts to organize West Virginia coal fields, will be asked tomorrow of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago by counsel for the United Mine Workers of America, it was learned here tonight.

Counsel for the Indiana operators, who also opposed the injunction suit before Judge Anderson, will not join in the appeal because of the walkouts of 20,000 miners having forced a shutdown of practically all Indiana mines, and the attitude of the operators was to let the union fight out the case.

Formal application for the granting of an appeal also will be made at Chicago by counsel to be a perfunctory proceeding that might either be brought before Judge Anderson or any judge of the Circuit Court.

Ohio Miners Ordered To Work

Ohio miners, who have ceased work in protest against the injunction issued in Federal court at Indianapolis, are abolishing the check-off system, were ordered to return to work by the executive board of district number 6, United Mine Workers of America, after a meeting here today. At the same time, Lee Hall, president of the district, was instructed to notify all coal operators that compliance with their contract, which includes provision of the "check-off" system of collection of union dues, is expected, and that violation of it will result in strikes.

Strikes Not General.

Strikes, should they be called, would not be general, it was said, but only against such companies as had discontinued the "check-off." The officials took the position, they announced, that the injunction was effective only within Judge Anderson's district and not throughout the country. This conforms with an opinion expressed by International officials of the mine-workers at Indianapolis.

The order for the return to the mines of miners who have gone on "official" strikes, will affect between three and four thousand men in Ohio. Three thousand or more miners in the West Virginia district were reported to have quit work, and one mine in the Eastern part of the State was said to have been idle today.

BOOTLEGGERS THRIVING IN BRITISH COL.

Charged That Gov't Control Has Not Curtailed "Speak Easy" Operators.

ATTORNEY GENERAL DENIES STATEMENT

Says Prohibition Officials Have Overshot the Mark in An Extravagant Allegation.

Regina, Nov. 3.—Governments on the Canadian and United States sides of the international boundary will be asked to implement one another's liquor laws, in order that rum running may be further curbed, it was decided at a convention of International Prohibition Officers here last night. The U. S. Government will be asked not to grant any more permits for the shipment of liquor across the Canadian line except with the consent of Provincial authorities affected. On the other hand, the Canadian Government will be asked not to release liquor from bond to be shipped across to the U. S. side where it can be sold illegally.

Bootleggers Thrive.

One of the features of the session was the statement that government control of liquor in British Columbia had not curtailed the bootlegging industry in that province, the statement being made that four hundred thousand cases of liquor had been shipped into the coast provinces from Saskatchewan liquor warehouses since the Government of that Province had assumed control of the business, and that this liquor was being used for shipment into the U. S. and to supply the bootlegging industry in other Canadian provinces.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 3.—St. J. V. DeB. Parry, Attorney-General, today issued a statement denying the prohibition made at the International Prohibition Officials' Conference, at Regina Wednesday, that government control in British Columbia had not curtailed bootlegging.

Talking up the Regina statement that 600,000 cases of liquor had been shipped into British Columbia from Saskatchewan liquor warehouses since the British Columbia Government assumed control, and that this liquor was being used for shipment into the United States and other provinces, Mr. Parry explained that the Province had no record of the quantity of liquor imported from bonded warehouses, and not for local consumption.

Three Men And 13 Vessels Marine Toll Of N.Y.'d Hurricane

News of Loss Sustained Filtering in Over Repaired Telegraph and Telephone Lines.

St. Johns, Nfld., Nov. 3.—Three men lost at sea and thirteen vessels wrecked are the known marine toll of the Atlantic hurricane which swept Newfoundland from Friday last until Monday, news of which filtered over repaired telegraph and telephone wires today.

Captain George Guesgue and Michael Connors, of the schooner Charles E. Brice, were washed overboard in the midst of the storm and the vessel so damaged that the rest of the crew were forced to abandon her at Piley's Island. William White, of the schooner James and Stanley, from Boston for Lunenburg, was swept from the vessel's deck off St. Pierre.

The Arcean, a three-masted, coal laden, is ashore at Twillingate, and cast up with her are the M. P. Cashin, and Violet Currie. Five schooners are on the rocks at Piley Cove in Bonaville Bay. King's Cove, Norman's Cove, Ken's Island and Deer Island report one wreck each.

In the afternoon Mr. Meighen attended a meeting of the cabinet council. The Premier will leave early tomorrow for Montreal, where he will address a political meeting in the evening.

When Ohio coal exchange, adjourned until next Monday, after announcing that they had failed to reach any definite agreement as to what course they would take with regard to the "check-off." They adjourned, they said, to give their attorneys time to study Judge Anderson's decision.

HATRED OF MILITARISM SPIRIT OF CONFERENCE

To Convert President's Lefty Aspirations Into Practical Working Agreement

New York, Nov. 3.—Lord Lee of Fareham, First Lord of the Admiralty and a British delegate to the conference on the limitation of armament, said when he arrived yesterday that the moving spirit behind the meeting was a hatred of militarism.

"If, he said, 'we all go there in a spirit not merely of hope and sincerity, but of fixed determination to convert the President's lefty aspiration into a practical working agreement, the war will not have been fought in vain.'"

PRIME MINISTER HAS AUDIENCE WITH THE KING

It is Believed Lloyd George Reported on Progress of Peace Negotiations.

WILL ATTEND LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET

Probable He May Make Public Some of Developments in Peace Discussions.

London, Nov. 3.—The Prime Minister had an audience with the King at Buckingham Palace this evening. This was not due to developments in the Irish negotiations, but followed the customary practice that the Prime Minister see the King on his return to London from Sandringham. It is believed, however, that Mr. Lloyd George reported to the King on the progress of the negotiations.

It is said that the Prime Minister has accepted an invitation to the Lord Mayor's banquet, Wednesday, where he will respond to the toast to His Majesty's Ministers, and probably will again refer to the Irish situation. It had been previously reported that Mr. Lloyd George would not be able to attend this banquet.

Introduces Bill For Dethroning of Former King Charles

Budapest, Nov. 3.—When Count Stefan Bethlen, the Premier, introduced the bill in the National assembly today calling for the dethroning of former King Charles and the ousting of the Hapsburg dynasty from Hungary, there were cheers for the Legitimists. The bill protests against the interference of former King Charles and the ousting of the Hapsburgs from power and calls for the postponement for an indefinite period of selecting a new king of Hungary.

Eight days of mourning for Hungary through the recent escape of Charles have been ordered by the Minister of the Interior. All theaters and other places of amusement are closed.

Scottish Municipal Results Show Labor Losses in Glasgow

London, Nov. 3.—The Scottish municipal results show considerable labor losses in Glasgow. There were four losses and so gain in Airdrie, in Govan, there were four gains and seven losses in Horryay and three Conservative candidates were returned, which perhaps indicates what will happen in the parliamentary elections which is now proceeding.

PREMIER BACK TO HIS DESK LOOKING FIT

Spent Fourteen Hours in Cabinet Council With His Colleagues.

BUOYANT IN SPIRITS OVER ONTARIO TRIP

Declares That Province Overwhelmingly With Government on the Tariff Question

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Looking remarkably fit despite his two weeks of strenuous campaigning in Ontario, Premier Meighen returned to Ottawa today and spent most of the afternoon at his desk and in Cabinet Council with his colleagues. The Premier is in buoyant spirits as a result of his reception in Ontario, and tonight in response to a request for an interview, said:

"After a fortnight in Ontario, during which time I had the privilege of visiting most of its important centres and of addressing all classes of its citizens, I am convinced that this Province approves the policies of the Government, which is the main question before the country, I believe the people are overwhelmingly with us. Nor is this a matter for surprise. Ontario both industrially and agriculturally is a striking example of the efficacy of creditable her people with ordinary intelligence to believe that they are hostile to those who, in their platforms, are solemnly pledged to definite legislation which would protect their principle from our fiscal policy. I believe Ontario will pronounce a verdict in favour of a proposition even more ample than that which I gave in 1911 and upon other memorable occasions."

Blind Fifty-Seven Years Yet Built Beautiful City

General A. R. Johnson of Burnet, Texas, One of the Figures of Civil War.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 3.—Blindness is a serious impediment to most men, but it did not prevent General A. R. Johnson of Burnet, Texas, from accomplishing whatever purpose he had in mind—and he has had many purposes. After he had lost the sight of both eyes the General built the city of Burnet, Texas, made several trips East to interest capital and succeeded; built a water power plant, a school house, a shoe factory, a cotton mill, secured a railroad for his town, fought Indians and raised and educated six children he never has seen. He also has taken a prominent part in Texas politics and civic work since losing his sight. The General is now 88 years old and is as enterprising as ever.

Johnson's record in the war between States was as brilliant as his work after the conflict had closed. It was along in 1864 that he lost his sight from explosion of a shell. Johnson is one of the few remaining generals of the Confederate army who has been a resident of Texas for more than sixty years.

When Johnson came to Texas before the war, Kentucky being his native state, he had charge of a section of the Overland Mail Route, one of the links in the Butterfield Mail Route between New York and San Francisco. The Confederates then often attacked and killed the station agents and in the fights with them Johnson always took a hand.

When the war came he hurried to Kentucky and joined Gen. Forrest. Johnson had two brothers in the Federal army and having been absent in Texas so long it was supposed his sentiments were similar and so he obtained valuable information for Forrest. It was at this time that Johnson earned the sobriquet "Stove-pipe Johnson." Learning that there were 600 stands of guns at Newbern, Ind., he took but thirty men across the Ohio river, found some broken down wagons and joints of stove-pipe, heanting the pipe on the wagon wheels, he was able to deceive the people at Newbern into thinking that he had several powerful cannon tramped upon their town and when he demanded of the Federal officers that they surrender their supplies they did so promptly.

The General lost his eyes during a fight at Grubs Cross Roads, Kentucky and was left for dead upon the battlefield. His disability was published all over the South, but the Federals picked him up with other wounded and sent him to Boston Harbor prison. Later he was exchanged, and spent the remainder of the war period filling various positions.

UNITED STATES TO HOLD ALOOF FROM ALLIANCES

Ambassador Harvey Says It's Futile Hope That Britain, France and States Link Up.

FOREIGN POLICY FIXED BY GEO. WASHINGTON

Liverpool, Nov. 3.—George Harvey, the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, told an audience at the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, tonight, that it was futile to hope that the United States, as Lord Derby recently had been suggesting, may some day be merged in a definite alliance with Great Britain and France. This statement was made as a digression from an address on economic and industrial situation in which the United States Ambassador attacked communism and socialism and defended the principle of individualism.

In his digression, Mr. Harvey recalled Lord Derby's statement in a recent address in Birmingham, in which he had expressed the conviction that the success of the Washington League of Armaments Conference would mean peace, and what its failure would mean was in the immediate future. The speaker also recalled Lord Derby's suggestion to former President Polk of France, at a dinner last Tuesday evening, that an Anglo-French alliance would be desirable in the interest of peace, intimating the "strong hope" that the United States might eventually join this combination.

Washington's Policy.

"Our first president fixed the Foreign Policy of the United States clearly and unequivocally when he declared his countrymen never to enter a permanent alliance with any other power, principle in or even against another war," said Mr. Harvey. "This policy has been re-affirmed by practically all his successors. It was reiterated with great positiveness in our latest national campaign by our present President, and was confirmed by a majority of the people so great as to be beyond the pale of comparison."

Work Frantically To Rescue Laborer

Waukegan, N. J., Nov. 3.—In a race against death by suffocation a force of men worked frantically all day to rescue William Graham, of Buffalo N. Y., an iron-worker who was buried yesterday in thirty feet of mud while at the bottom of a trench being dug for a dam foundation for a water shed. Tonight the rescuers, although less hopeful that Graham would be found alive, continued their efforts to reach him.

TO TAKE OVER NEW YORK MILK DISTRIBUTION

Commissioner of Public Health Serves Notice on Distributors to That Effect.

SAYS DISTRIBUTORS ARE TOO OBDURATE

Should Have Been Willing to Arbitrate Grievances Held by Employees.

New York, Nov. 3.—Unless New York's milk distribution is restored to fifty per cent normal by Saturday, the entire industry will be taken over by the Department of Health. This warning was given by Health Commissioner Copeland today after he had failed again to induce the heads of a score of milk distributing companies to arbitrate the differences involved in the milk driver's strike which, for the last three days, has brought inconvenience to the metropolitan population.

Continuance of present conditions, under which less than one third of the normal supply was reaching the consumer, would constitute a public menace, the Commissioner declared. The city normally consumes 2,000,000 quarts of milk daily, he said, while only 400,000 quarts were received this morning.

The distributors, Dr. Copeland said, were obdurate in their refusal to submit their employees' grievances to arbitration and had expressed determination to insist on open shop conditions. Various women's organizations took steps today to organize a truck driving corps should the crisis become acute.

I. E. Hines, Secretary of the New York Milk Conference Board of the employers' organization, announced tonight that sixty per cent of the city's normal milk supply was available today and was bought by the public.

Ottawa Ruling Regarding New Registrations

Representatives of Candidates Have Not the Right to be in Booths.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 3.—In consequence of a ruling received from Ottawa, J. L. MacKinnon, chief returning officer, today instructed registrars of new voters that representatives of candidates had not the right to be in the booths when registrations were being made. But when checkers of names added to the voters' lists were shown copies of the ruling they declined to leave, holding that registration officers were public places and that they were present as electors and not as representatives of any particular candidate.

Open Golf Champion Commits Suicide

Newton, Mass., Nov. 3.—The body of Louis Teller, Massachusetts Open golf champion, was found today hanging by a steel rope in a shelter on the banks of the Braeburn Country Club. The medical examiner said death was due to suicide.

The motive for the suicide was not known, but the fact that Teller had not been well for some time was acknowledged by friends as a possible explanation.

CANADA AND UNITED STATES FURNISH EXAMPLE OF WHAT CAN BE DONE IN LIMITING ARMS

Sir Robert Borden, in Speaking Before Sulgrave Institute, Says Washington Conference May Well Afford to Copy After the Two Countries That Have Lived Side by Side for a Century Without a Fort Glistening on Its Great Stretch of Border Line.

New York, Nov. 3.—There can be no greater example of what can be done in limiting armaments laid before the Washington Conference than the common history of the United States and Canada, declared Sir Robert Borden, speaking tonight at a dinner given in honor of himself and Lady Borden by the governors of the Sulgrave Institute. The dinner was at the home of Robert Fulton Oatsing, New York financier, a director of the Institute.

Earlier in the day, at a luncheon of the lawyer's club, Sir Robert emphasized the responsibility which rested in the British Empire and the United States in preserving the peace of the world.

There are no two nations of the world under separate systems of Government that so closely mirrored each other, economically and politically as the people of Canada and the United States, asserted Sir Robert to-night.

There are no two nations with boundaries of miles of boundary so unguarded, no nations bordering on great inland seas where waters are so untroubled by armed navies. It is almost commonplace to speak of the disarmament agreement of 1817, but it is always timely to recall the fulfillment of the promise that it bore.

Good Omen for Future. "May we not in this retrospect find good omen of what may be accomplished at the great Conference that your President has summoned, and high hope that glad tidings of disarmament and of peace may be borne to a weary waiting world."

They are Jack's favorites.

Wild Beasts Kill Six At Methodist Mission In India

Women of Staff in Jungle District Compelled to Fight Savage Beasts.

Calcutta, Nov. 3.—The question, "What do missionaries do?" is answered in somewhat surprising fashion by a woman visitor to one of the stations to the Methodist Episcopal Mission (Women's Foreign Missionary Society), whose headquarters is in Oregon, U. S. A. The mission in question is that of Siracha, situated in a wild jungle district at the junction of the Godavari and Panhalia rivers, in the Indian Central Provinces. As in the case with all the Methodist Episcopal mission stations, the staff at Siracha is composed wholly of women. There are four of them, and they look after 170 girls, 100 boys, and 1000 of the 48 widows, many of them famine victims. Work of such a kind is the reason of the mission, but in addition to their duties the responsibility of preserving themselves and their charges from attacks by wild beasts.

Every day lately brings the tale of a woman who has been killed and seriously injured, in addition to many animals, during the last month, by leopards and tigers in Siracha. The women have been killed and injured, and some of their children, especially, are never safe. The beasts tear down the iron doors of the village houses and get inside before the occupants are even aware of their presence, they are so stealthy.

"How silent and how little they disturb the places they hide into," writes a lady visitor to the mission, "can only be realized by those who know how they have been steadily moving hither and thither and growed in without causing a single committal to move."

Best Carries Away Boy. One night a little boy of six years old was carried away from his mother's side in the middle of the night. The following morning the only traces left were the footprints of a man who had left his house and gone into the undergrowth was killed when he ate before he was found. Another man, a leper, who lives alone, has been attacked by one of the beasts on the veranda of one of the mission compounds, after a most exciting and anxious hour, and the same evening the men who stay out in the fields all night to guard the peanut crop, which is one of the mission industries, were in it. Just skinned the huge furs that they always keep alight in acres of the wild animals. Two others were seen in the police lines on the same night.

On the night of August 3 a girl 12 years old was dragged from her bed, and is the custom (which, however, is forbidden), she was sleeping on the veranda of one of the mission compounds, and one of the missionaries had her bed within hand's reach of the girl; a lantern was burning close at hand in the doorway of the chamber, which was open and several boys and girls who were in training as children's nurses.

That girl undoubtedly would have been killed and eaten as the spot if the beast had not been disturbed by the sudden movement of the missionary, who awoke and immediately seized the child, and called out as she jumped from her bed, feeling that something was wrong. The girl says the beast was sitting on her when Miss Fales cried out, and it moved away at the sound of her voice. The child's throat and chest were badly injured by tooth and claw, and her recovery is considered wonderful.

Liquor Cases In The Police Court

Charles Duppliss charged with selling liquor to Edward Sullivan, and Edward Sullivan charged with being drunk, were both remanded to jail by Magistrate Ritchie in the police court yesterday afternoon, who at the same time remanded the pair that they were each liable to a fine of $300 and six months in jail.

In the morning Sullivan in answer to the drunkness charge stated he had obtained his liquor in Duppliss's home, where he paid 75 cents for three drinks, and later had to be taken to the hospital. He said he had no other liquor on the day he was arrested.

Duppliss pleaded not guilty. His wife took the stand in the afternoon and stated that Sullivan came to her home in a drunken condition and very noisy, and although she sold him to go away banished on coming into the house to see her husband. She said she went out and on returning found Sullivan on the floor next to such a condition as to frighten her children, so she had him arrested.

Saul Aranoff charged with selling liquor to Wallace Stevens without his plea of not guilty, and entered one of guilty, on the advice of his counsel, J. A. Barry, following the evidence of Stevens in the case yesterday afternoon. A deposit of $200 was accepted as a fine.

Stevens said he went into the defendant's meat shop on Mal street and obtained a bottle of gin from him for $4, after which he proceeded to the inspector's office and laid the charge. To Mr. Barry he said he was not in the employ of the inspectors.

Beal Clark, held on the charge of vagrancy, said that he lived at Pokok and had been unable to get work. He was remanded to jail.

NO ONE "LIES" IN RUSSIAN JAILS

Everyone "Sits," for That Sounds Much Better, and Eats Thin Soup.

Monaco, Nov. 3.—Filling "sit" in jail in Russia. Even American don't "sit" in jail. That is not done this far east. All the Americans who have emerged from Russian jails in accordance with the Hoover agreement say: "When I was sitting in Buzryka," or "Yes, I know Ivan Ivanovich. I sat with him for two months last year." Stos and Flisk and Kiplerick and all the rest of the Americans who fall abeam the Soviet authorities explained their conversation with Russian terms which are conventional in Soeromskian but will sound very strange to their friends in the United States.

Magill-speaking persons in Russia never think of calling the food ration by its English name. It is always "pork." Fish is never fish but "riba." And the foreigners who were unfortunate enough to get into Bolshevik prisons will probably never eat "riba" again if they can avoid it, for the dried and smoked fish served to them in this soap isn't a pleasant memory.

When the Norwegians made a gift of smoked herring to the Russian famine-sufferers, an American who has been in Russia ever since the war was overfretted remarked: "The Norwegians are so blooming tired of eating wooden fish that they are probably glad to hand it over to the poor Russians. It's like giving a stone to those who ask for bread. But the Russians can't protest."

"Narkomdel" and scores of other contractions of names for various government departments have found their way into English as it is spoken. It is a contraction of a long agglomeration of Russian words which mean the peoples' Commissariat for Foreign Affairs.

W. H. Forth, of Montreal was registered at the Victoria Hotel yesterday. The new arrivals at the Royal Hotel yesterday included: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeler, Haverhill, Mass.; J. Urschard, Halifax; and H. P. Thorrott, Montreal.

Water Extension Enquiry Resumed

J. P. Ryan Admitted Moisture His Charges Were Based Thereon.

The second session of the inquiry into the charges made by J. P. Ryan that bad pipe had been made and laid on the Spruce Lake water extension and that certain of the civic officials had been remiss in their duties in connection with this job, was resumed last evening after adjournment. The evidence was resumed by Ryan, who tonight, when some witnesses Mr. Ryan wants called will be present. Two of the witnesses asked for by Ryan had to show up late this evening. Mr. Ryan himself under cross-examination failed to add anything to his evidence at the first session and admitted that most of his charges were based on hearsay. He claimed that one man had said he saw broken pipes going into the trench and another had said he saw a pipe that had been sealed by concrete. The foreman of the pipe laying gang stated that the man who said he saw broken pieces going into the trench had never been on his time book and therefore could not see what was laid.

Commissioner Jones presided at all the sessions of the council yesterday. Present: Lieut.-Col. W. H. Harrison, represented the city; Lieut.-Col. E. C. Weyman the Canada Lock Joint Pipe Co. and Daniel Mullin, Mr. Ryan, Mr. G. Chace, president of the company, and C. J. Bruce, the local manager, were present. C. C. Kirby, F. E. Neufeld, G. Waring and James Gilchrist, of the Engineering Institute, were among the spectators.

Ryan Recalled. When Commissioner Jones opened the inquiry Mr. Mullin announced that he appeared for Mr. Ryan and asked to have the gentleman recalled. He asked what the witness knew about the relations of Mr. Terry to the investigation. [This was objected to by Mr. Jones who contended this was a matter which had already been dealt with.] Mr. Ryan was not concerned. Col. Weyman said there was no secret about the relations of Mr. Terry and the company.

Mr. Ryan had acted as chief agent here for many years, and whatever money he had received was simply for services rendered in that capacity. Mr. Ryan admitted that he knew of previous hearing that he did not charge any graft in this connection. It was decided to allow the question and Mr. Ryan stated the witness would add to his previous testimony.

Mr. Weyman then began his cross-examination of the witness in answer to questions which he asked the specifications called for ten bags of cement to the yard and later eight and there was one and a half yards of concrete in a balanced pipe. In answer to Mr. Harrison he said the gravel used was all beach gravel and was passed through a screen with 14 inch mesh. Mr. Weyman said though the mesh might have been 14 inch. With regard to his statement that "the inspector was a joke," he admitted he had stated in his previous report, he did not know anything about it himself. With regard to the amount of concrete used he would not say that 13 bags of cement to a joint was not enough to make the pipe up to specification.

Mr. Chace said the company would furnish a statement of the concrete used each day.

Charles Kingston, Thomas Sharkey and Herbert Nairn were then called, but neither answered and Charles Kingston took the stand. He had been 17 years of age and had worked at the pipe line from July of the present year until about a month ago. His duty was to mix the mud and put it in the trench. The mud came in teams and dirt mixed with the mud. Mr. Nairn placed a pass full in each batch in the afternoon. Later the quantity was cut down to about a gallon in each batch. In answer to Mr. Harrison the witness said there was nothing secret about the putting of the mud into the trench.

Percy Warrington, foreman of the pipe laying gang was the next witness. He had been with the company since last March, and had been in charge of the laying of all the pipe. He knew nothing about the way the pipes were mixed. He had experience in concrete work and had often heard of the use of clay to add to the density of concrete, especially where it was to hold water. He had seen the clay used and considered it good clay. To hold water, there were twelve leaks in the pipes and these had been repaired by pouring a collar of concrete around the bad joint, and in his opinion the joints so treated were as good or better than those without it. Each class of pipe had been tested before going into the ground, and he would say the leaks were caused by careless handling. He had seen Mr. Hare, the city engineer, around the works quite frequently and knew he had been present at all the tests made.

This completed the evidence for the evening and Mr. Mullin asked that Thomas Sharkey and Harry Smith be brought to give evidence. Mr. Ryan said that Sharkey had said he saw broken pipes going into the trench. Mr. Warrington wanted to know how this could be when Sharkey had never been in the pipe laying gang. Mayor Schofield expressed the opinion that these witnesses should be compelled to attend and give their evidence. A very serious charge has been made and it should be proved. Adjournment was then made until this evening at 7.30.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1921.

MR. MEIGHEN'S CREED. "More than any other country, Canada needs a protective system. She is a young country mostly undeveloped. She lies alongside a great big country tremendously developed."

LIBERAL AND AGRARIAN POLICIES. If there really is no understanding existing between Mr. King and Mr. Crerar as to the co-operation of their parties after the election—as both these gentlemen maintain there is not—what is the object of the Toronto Globe devoting a considerable amount of space to a consideration of the views expressed by one Mr. Kirk Cameron, a prominent Liberal of Montreal, who asserts that the Liberals and the Farmers must unite and carry on the government of the country?"

Mr. Cameron's... doubtless expresses the views of the bulk of the Liberals of the Province of Quebec when he says that in the event of Mr. King failing to secure a majority in the new House, the natural alliance of Liberalism will be with the Farmers. The government of the country must be carried on by some such arrangement. An alliance between Liberalism and the archaic Toryism of which Mr. Meighen is the mouthpiece is utterly impossible, and if favored by any considerable number of Quebec Liberals would split the party wide open and bring about its destruction as a force in national politics."

Mr. King and Mr. Crerar are pledged to platforms that do not adhere to adequate protection. Mr. King is pledged by his own words in Parliament to wipe out all protection on a large group of important raw materials, including machinery and other factory products. Mr. Crerar's platform goes far towards the free trade policy of the Liberal party in five years has been with Britain chief aims of the Canadian Council of Agriculture and of the Progressives. Our woolen factories, for instance, built up during the war, would be destroyed if left entirely exposed to European competition. The farmers who produce the wool that is used in these factories would lose their local market. The United States market is shut, the British market gets wool from Southern countries. If implements and mining machinery, etc., were admitted free—as Messrs. King and Crerar propose—the makers of those products in Canada would have to get their raw material free in order to keep on a competitive basis. Practically all the steel parts used in implements have to come from the United States. If the tariff is made in equalizing the ill-effects of the wiping out of protection in particular industries, the round has to be continued until the final effort is a general knocking down of tariff bars, and a great growth of imports at the expense of the Canadian producers.

Britain Made Her Offer. (London Observer.) The British Government has already made its proposal to Washington to cancel Europe's debts to us against the cancellation of our debt to America. It was not acceptable, and from our point of view there is no more to be said. We can pay, and in due course we shall pay. How it may affect American exports is America's affair, not ours.

Parliamentary Representation. (Calgary Herald.) It is true that there were more lawyers in the last Parliament than any other class. Most of them came from Quebec, members of the Liberal party. Next in number were farmers—22 in number. The farmers had almost twice as many members as the manufacturers, who are supposed to be ruling the country. The manufacturers had only 17 representatives.

In The Thick of The Fight. (Toronto Telegram.) Hon. W. L. M. King explained his candidature in North York by an allegorical reference to a battle. "A general's place is in the thick of the fight," he says, metaphorically tossing a nosegay at his own pretty head. Then some untriedly was rudely asked, "What did you do in the Great War, Daddy?"

A girlhood friend of my poor old grandmother who was at the funeral the other day, talking over old times with someone says that the old-fashioned woman whose ambition was to take bread that would take the price at the country fair now has a daughter whose ambition is to win the pink silk corset cover, offered as a prize by the bridge club.

The father of a pal of mine has some houses to rent, and I asked him what he was wanting for them. He says he'll be satisfied with a modest rent, which means I suppose the kind that he won't have to blush over when he asks it.

The Editor says that the man who invented "arms parties" to take the place of "Confederates for the Limitation of Arms" more concerned a real favor on the overworked one-ginger newspaper typewriter operator.

"Round at my pal's home the other evening and he and his father were discussing what line of business he had better take up when he leaves school at Christmas. His father seemed a bit discouraged as to my pal's future, but I told him to cheer up and make a boiler-maker out of him, and thus enable him to make a noise in the world.

I notice a news item that "the Yakuts of Siberia smelt iron in their fireplace." Well there's nothing objectionable about that as far as I have ever observed. Had it been a piece of indiarubber or some feathers now, there might be grounds for complaint, for those things smell real nasty.

There is something to be said for one-man cars after all, because everything goes by comparison. For instance, the one-man car operator probably finds it rather when he gets home to hold the baby, pick over the beans, smoke his pipe and read the paper at the same time.

A prize of $1,500 has been offered for the most perfect back. Do those who offer the prize want the back to be used by a man to serve as a setting for an evening gown?

WHAT OTHERS SAY. Revision of the Tariff. (Montreal Star.) Premier Meighen's speech at Wexford contained interesting reference to revision of the tariff. He stated that "it appears that an industry which is enjoying more than it requires, the duties will go down."

I deliriously told Mary Watkins a big compliment while I was setting on her front steps Sunday afternoon, her starting it by saying, Say Ben, who do you think is the prettiest girl around here, I just want to know out of curiosity? I think Lorester Minor is very pretty, do you think she's the prettiest? said Mary Watkins.

Upward Turn In Business Has Not Arrived. Montreal, Nov. 3.—Roger W. Babson, the well known American statistician, gave it as his view, at the Canadian Manufacturers' Association luncheon, which he addressed here today, that an upward turn in business would come some time in 1922 and that it had not yet arrived, no matter what optimists were saying. He based his opinion upon statistics for the past 150 years and added that those trades which were the first to be depressed would be the first to recover and those caught last by depression would be the last to get back to prosperity.

A Generous Polley. (Hamilton Herald.) The figures given by Col. John Thompson, chairman of the Canadian Pension Board, as to the volume of work now being done by that board, are a striking proof of how efficiently Canada has dealt with its war-pensioning problems. With thirty millions per year in payments to pensioners, it is evident that this country has made a real effort to deal justly and liberally with its soldiers.

ANGLER MADE BIG CATCH OF STOLEN WHISK

Hauled up 408 Bottles Which Were Later Confiscated Police.

Shedbrooke, Nov. 3.—When the local staff of the Quebec Liquor Commission's store on King street entered upon their morning activity they were surprised to see their shelves, usually well-stocked, almost empty, and a rapid survey disclosed with the discovery that bottles of liquor, mostly Scotch, had been stolen during the early hours of the morning.

Chief of Police Couture discovered that the robbers, presumably at least two, had scaled a ladder, which had been placed against the rear Thompson's fruit store, and entered through the top floor. They evidently descended to Thompson's cellar and succeeded in removing a portion of the wall which divided two properties. The robbers were unable to get into the vaults of the commission, and had to be content with clearing the shelves. An unexpected situation has since cropped up with Mr. E. Larouche as principal figure. Mr. Larouche is a fisherman, and while out fishing on the St. Francis River near the Grand Trunk Bridge, he hook got caught but instead of fish, he found he had one of the richest barrels ever made on the St. Francis district, and he had got through he had fished no fewer than 108 bottles of liquor. Hearing that any publicity given to this wonderful catch might result in heavy traffic over the Government road, Mr. Larouche took the liquor home. A couple of bottles had already been broken, and the rest leaked out, resulting in a rapid descent being made by the public. The catch was confiscated and investigations are being carried on.

Price Advances Featured Trade On Wall Street

Influenced Solely by Lower Rediscouts Announced by Federal Banks.

New York, Nov. 3.—Comprehensive and substantial advances of prices on the Stock Exchange today were influenced solely by the lower rediscouts announced by five of the twelve Federal banks and concurred in by the Bank of England.

Financial interests generally regarded this as striking evidence that deflation at home and abroad had made further marked progress and that easier credit conditions soon would prevail in the world's leading markets.

The local money market reflected these phases for a time, the 2 per cent opening quotation for call loans soon being cut to 1 1/2 per cent.

Bonds made a better showing relatively than stocks, most of the Liberty series recording highest prices of the year.

Manitoba flour at $9.30 per barrel, was down twenty cents, and Ontario flour at $8.50 per barrel, was down forty cents.

SERG. WOODFILL GREATEST WAR HERO IN U. S. INFANTRY

Pershing Names for Armistice Day Ceremonies, Man Who Silenced Three Machine Guns and Killed Nineteen of the Enemy.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Examination of war records by Gen. Pershing has resulted in the designation of Sergeant Samuel Woodfill as the American infantryman who through heroism in the world war, is most entitled to represent the infantry branch of the army at the armistice day ceremonies for America's unpaid soldier.

Sergeant Woodfill, whose home is in the town of Belvoir, Va., is now in the army stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., arrived in Washington today in response to orders from the War Department, and on being received by Secretary Weeks was informed that his act of heroism was regarded by his former commander as outstanding among the exploits of all the infantry officers and men who saw service in France.

The act of Sergeant Woodfill, which caused Gen. Pershing to place him as a virtually unknown hero—with Sergeant Alvin C. York of the Tennessee mountains, and Major Charles S. Whittlesey of the Lost Battalion, occurred on October 12, 1918, during the Meuse-Argonne offensive when he, as a lieutenant, silenced three machine guns, killing nineteen of the enemy, including one officer, and capturing three others.

The story of Sergeant Woodfill's exploit was said by army officers to be told most concisely in the citation which accompanied the award to him of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The citation read:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy at Cunel, France, October 12, 1918. While he was leading his company against the enemy his line came under heavy machine gun fire, which threatened to hold up the advance. Followed by two soldiers at twenty-five yards, the sergeant went out ahead of his first line toward a machine gun nest and worked his way around its flank, leaving two soldiers in front of him.

"When he got within ten yards of the gun it ceased firing and four of the enemy appeared, three of whom were killed by Lieutenant Woodfill. The fourth, an officer, rushed at the sergeant, who attempted to club the officer with his rifle. After a hand to hand struggle Lieutenant Woodfill killed the officer with his pistol. His company thereupon

Chartering Market Improves

The tone of the market in regard to the chartering business is decidedly improved, notwithstanding the fact that little has occurred to alter the trade outlook, which is still overburdened with difficulties and the uncertainty of the political situation. The chartering business, however, remains restricted in volume, most fixtures effected being on the grain account. Fixtures to South America are about through for the season.

Continued to advance until shortly afterward another machine gun nest was encountered.

"Calling on his men to follow, Lieut. Woodfill rushed ahead of his line in the face of heavy fire from the front, and when several of the enemy appeared above the nest he shot them, capturing three other members of the crew and silencing the gun. A few minutes later this officer for the third time demonstrated conspicuous daring by charging another machine gun position, killing five men in one machine gun pit with his rifle. He then drew his revolver and started to jump into the pit, when two other gunners, only a few yards away, turned their guns on him.

"Falling to kill them with his revolver, he grabbed a pick lying near by and killed both of them. Inspired by the exceptional courage displayed by this officer, his men pressed on to their objective under severe shell and machine gun fire."

For this act of heroism Woodfill was promoted to a Captaincy and, in addition to the Congressional Medal, received the Legion of Honor (Chevalier) and the Croix de Guerre (with palm) by France and the order of Prince Danilo (fifth class) by Montenegro.

Sergeant Woodfill has been in the army twenty years. He was a non-commissioned officer when the United States entered the war, and after the armistice he re-entered the Regular Army as an enlisted man.

Police Discover Confessions of Several Murders

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The police authorities of this city are busy today investigating written confessions of four murders found in the effects of Daniel Cleary, a former member of the Seventy-first Regiment, who saw service in France, and who was arrested here last week charged with assault in the second degree.

In the confessions, which the prisoner evidently wrote in anticipation of being killed, because of some trouble he was about to face, he states that on his way back to this country after the war, he killed a man named Thomas McCafferty, at Dundee, Ontario, and that later he murdered a married woman of Liberty, N. Y., with whom he had lived, and her two children, because she "had double-crossed him and went back to live with her husband."

The authorities have communicated with the police of Ottawa to ascertain if they know of a man named McCafferty who was murdered and have sent investigators to Liberty to learn if the officials there know of the killing of the woman and her children. The name of the woman is given in the confession as Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, but the police have refused to divulge it until they have completed their investigation.

In Cleary's effects also is a passport made out to Daniel Hughes and bearing a portrait which resembles the prisoner. This passport states that Hughes was a member of the Seventy-first Regiment. So far the prisoner has not admitted that he is the same. Cleary now is being held in jail at New York, and District Attorney Lerow, who has admitted the existence of the confessions, stated today that he would remain there and not be arraigned on the assault charge until the police investigations are completed.

If it is learned that any or all of the persons mentioned were killed, the case will be presented to the Rockland county grand jury, now in session.

Little is known concerning Cleary held. He came to this city a short time ago and has made his home with a former wife, Mrs. George Greig, but has done no work. Recently it is alleged, the prisoner made an insulting remark to Mrs. Greig, and when ordered from the house by her husband the assault took place, which brought about Cleary's arrest. When Cleary was examined by Judge Hase, he admitted that he had done the deed, but Michael Poney, chief of police, in past investigations of the prisoner's life, found a search of his luggage and found the two written confessions and the passport.

The confession concerning the killing of the Canadian was addressed to no one, but that telling of the murder of the woman and her two children was addressed to the "editor of Liberty (N. Y.) Register."

In this latter confession the prisoner goes into details concerning his determination to keep her and her children with him, because she had deceived him, and that he had been deceived by her husband, and that he killed her because she had deceived and deserted him.

It is expected that coal shipments to Italy will revive and that rates will undergo an increase. One of the features of the week was additional fixtures for coal in the West Indies.

Tonnage was sparingly offered and met with a prompt response, the rates being almost confined to the trans-Atlantic grain trade. Rates out of Montreal are strongest owing to the desire to get the grain moving out of that port before the close of navigation. Most of the grain moving out of Montreal is to the Continent and very little to the United Kingdom. Time charter rates are weak owing to small demand.

Radium Defended For Cancer Cases

Three Specialists Dispute Statements of Dr. Deaver at Meeting of Surgeons.

New York, Nov. 3.—Three cancer specialists took issue yesterday with the views of Dr. John S. Deaver, expressed before the American College of Surgeons at Philadelphia, that radium was of little value in the treatment of cancer. They are Dr. Robert Abbe of St. Luke's Hospital, a pioneer in radium therapy in America; Dr. George Stuart Wood, director of the radium department of Post-graduate Hospital, and Dr. Harvey R. Gaylord, director of the State Institute for the Treatment of Malignant Diseases.

All said the value of radium cannot be doubted, and that Dr. Deaver's paper showed he was not familiar with recent developments in radium therapy. Dr. Abbe asserted:

"The definition of what true cancer is is not yet clear. Many forms formerly so called are now classed as other things. Some of these are curable by radium in a way that no other surgical remedy is quite equal to do, especially those forms beginning around the face.

"Radium is superior to anything else in the treatment of the mild destructive cancer attacking the eyelids, nose and lips. No man who follows the progress of those who were pioneers can be blind to the value of this remedy unexpectedly put into the hands of the surgeon.

"The surgeon of yesterday will not find it a new and valuable means of obviating this dread disease."

Dr. Abbe is senior surgeon at St. Luke's, consulting surgeon to the Roosevelt, the Woman's, the Hospital for the Epileptic and the Babies Hospital, New York city, and associate fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia.

Dr. Willis expressed his views as follows:

"The misstatements made by Dr. Deaver at the Congress of Surgeons at Philadelphia are most unfortunate, not so much from the standpoint of the value of radium therapy but from the effect that they may have upon the thousands in this country who are at the present time under radium treatment. Radium has never been claimed to be a cure for all cancer. It is only those cancers which are accessible to the action of radium rays for which a cure may have been claimed.

"Radium is a therapeutic agent. Its place in a course of treatment of cancer has not yet been determined. But it is definitely known that certain types of cancer have been cured by radium, and at the present time radium is apparently curing cases that surgery can give no hope of affecting even in the future."

"This was a most unfortunate pronouncement for a prominent man to make and could only indicate that he was not conversant with the recent development of radio therapy. For cancer of the skin, radium is practically a cure. For the type of cases beyond the hope of surgery before treatment, there could be no argument that the primary success obtained was pure gain."

The Institute, Dr. Gaylord said, demonstrated before the Buffalo Academy of Medicine to a large audience of physicians and surgeons twenty-five cases of cancer that had been treated with radium, from all of whom all evidence of the disease had disappeared. These included cancer of the skin and lips, cancer of the tongue, cancer of the tonsil, cancer of the breast, cancer of the uterus, cancer of the rectum, sarcoma of the bones.

INDUSTRIES SPEED UP

First Suspected, Hoover Says—Activity and Demand for Manufacturing.

In its review of the situation based upon the reports of Federal Reserve Bank agents in the twelve reserve districts, finds some serious aspects in the unemployment situation, there is shown to be a very general increase in the number of men newly employed by industries.

The official attributed part of the reduced idleness to the renewed activity in business in different lines. Larger demand has set in for manufactured products of various kinds. Increase in building activity is in evidence and has created fresh demands for labor. Mills and factories show a tendency to get going on busier schedules as a result of the increased demand. All of this, officials said, argues well for the future of business and for labor.

Secretary Hoover said reliable reports will be available soon to show more accurately the number of men needing jobs. His aim is to eliminate from the problem of unemployment a great deal that has appeared to be theoretical and to get at actual facts.
