IF YOU PATRONIZE
The Everyday Bargain Store
YOU LEARN TO SAVE MONEY.

Value for Both Sides of YOUR DOLLAR!

The art of spending money is greater than the art of making it. Yet far more has been taught, written and lectured on the subject of the making of money than about the spending of it. This doubtless inspired the old adage that "a fool and his money are soon parted." Today the world is too busy to stop and study the best ways of spending it. Price is not the same as value; for price is what you pay for an article, while value is what you receive in merchandise—plus service.

Years ago I began studying to make both sides of my customers dollars represent value to them when spent with me, and today it is recognized that our merchandising represents value.

Daily all my efforts are toward making a bigger and better organization to back up the policy, and while today I am giving the best I know how, tomorrow I hope to make it better. Try the Everyday Bargain Store.

ANOTHER HARTLAND BOY VOLUNTEERS

Another Hartland boy has hearkened to the call of empire and goes to the front in defence of the principles of equity and justice, which is the foundation upon which the British nation is built. For some time past Curtis Simms, one of our promising young men, who has recently passed a successful course at the Provincial Normal School, has been considering the advisability of going to Kingston for training as an officer, but hearing of a vacancy in an artillery corps which is to sail almost immediately to fill up the gaps in a company commanded by Capt. Magee of St. John, and which is now on the firing line in France, he made application, and on Saturday received word that he would be accepted provided he got to St. John not later than Monday night. Although the notice was short he accepted the offer, and on Monday evening's express started on his way to join the colors. Instead of teaching the youth of New Brunswick the three Rs he is going to teach the Germans that the young men of New Brunswick are loyal to the flag of the empire and are willing to risk their lives in its defense.

Mr. Simms is a fine specimen of the young manhood of this country and is well liked by all with whom he has come in contact, and he will no doubt give a good account of himself wherever he may go.

After the service in the United Baptist church on Sunday evening the pastor, Rev. George Kincaid, called Mr. Simms to the front and, on behalf of the congregation, presented him with a handsome wrist watch, adding, on behalf of himself and his people, the hope that the wearer would acquit himself with credit to his country and would be able to return to Hartland bearing the honors if not the scars of battle. Mr. Simms in reply made a happy and truly patriotic speech, in which he thanked his friends for their kind words and the very useful gift, reminding the young men present that it was their plain duty to offer themselves on the altar of their country's honor and hoped that many more young men, who had no stronger ties than himself, would follow his example and enlist in the struggle for freedom and right. There was the true patriotic ring to his remarks and their utterance may have a good effect on the doubting Thomases yet in our midst.

At the station on the departure of the train there was an immense throng to bid farewell to one of Hartland's most promising young men. As on previous occasions of this kind, the band was present and played several patriotic selections, and as the train pulled out the patriotism inspiring strains of the National Anthem went floating after another of New Brunswick's loyal sons.

Lord Bishop Visits Tobique

On June 29 the Lord Bishop of Fredericton paid a visit to the Tobique and administered the rite of confirmation at Saint Machutus' Church, Arthurette, to a number of candidates, who had been carefully prepared by Rector Wilson. The church was packed, many being unable to gain admittance. People were out from many points. His Lordship expressed himself as greatly pleased with the complete renovation of the church, and paid a tribute to the rector and to the ladies who so ably assisted him, also to the excellence of the work done on the interior of the building by John Tweeddale. His Lordship remained for the night at Arthurette, the quest of Mrs. J. F. Tweeddale. The next day he was driven to Bluebell where he consecrated a new burial ground, at which a large number of people sat down. His Lordship preached at eight o'clock to a large and appreciative audience. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work done at Bluebell during the last year. The Church of England has made great strides in this section under the incumbency of Rev. Francis J. Wilson.

Picnic and Baseball at Windsor

There was a grand time at Windsor on Thursday last, the occasion being a big picnic under the auspices of the Baptist church at that place. The greater part of the day was fine, but a shower coming up in the early evening rather dampened the ardor and enthusiasm of the picnicers as well as to spoil what would otherwise have proved a very interesting game of baseball between the Windsor and Hartland teams. The game had only progressed for two innings when the rain descended in torrents and put a stop to it, the score standing 2 to 0 in favor of the Hartland boys. Earlier in the day Windsor and Glassville had a try-out, the honors going to Windsor with a score of 7 to 1. This is the second game these teams have played this season and the Glassville boys have not yet succeeded in pulling down enough fruit to put one over their opponents.

All the other games of the day, and there were many, were very successful, and the net results towards the building and repair fund of the church show three figures—$150.

The members of the church are very well satisfied with the financial part of the day's proceedings, and were also pleased to see so many faces from Hartland present and taking part in the sports.

Florenceville Women's Institute Picnic

The annual basket-picnic of the Florenceville Women's Institute was held Wednesday July 14 on the grounds of the Consolidated School building. The weather and the crowd were all that could be desired. Refreshments, ice cream, home made candy, oranges, bananas and nuts, were sold on the grounds by the young ladies of the Institute. The sum of $30.50 was realized clear of expenses which finishes the amount required for the purchase of a bed which is being donated by the Institute in a hospital for Canadian soldiers. The Florenceville Institute last week sent $20 to the N. B. motor ambulance fund. Besides socks, mitts and clothing all ready sent, have two doz. night shirts, several pairs of pajamas socks, etc., nearly ready to be sent to the Red Cross rooms at St. John. The Institute wishes to thank all those who helped to make their annual picnic a success.

ONLY LOOKING FOR A WITNESS

A good deal of interest was occasioned last week by Deputy Sheriff Frost of Mars Hill scouring the county in search of a "man connected with a murder." Excitement subsided when it was learned that he was only looking for a possible witness in the Timony murder which occurred near Boston last autumn.

It will be remembered that at that time a man named Timony was found dead with an ugly wound in his head, the body concealed in bushes beside the road. A young man named Bolster living in the vicinity is held for the crime and will be tried in November. So far there is only circumstantial evidence against him, but the missing witness story is a peculiar one.

At a boarding house in Fort Fairfield, about the time the murder was committed, there came a young man hailing from Carleton county. He remained a week and seemed to have something on his mind. After a week he took a friend whom he had made into his confidence and stated that while he was by the roadside near Boston station, concealed by bushes, a potato wagon came along with two men in it. The younger man, he said, struck the elder over the head with some sort of a club or stick and evidently killed him. He concealed the body in the bushes after first searching the murdered man's pockets.

The story thus told in Fort Fairfield was taken as an idle tale of a tramp and was not investigated. A week later, after the eye-witness disappeared, the man's body was found just as had been described.

As stated, the man who saw the deed committed hailed from Carleton county, but his name had been forgotten. As near as the man who heard the tale can remember, the name was Allison, Ellison, Ellis or Emerson.

Sheriff Frost with A. R. Foster has searched the county all over but without result. Should this meet the eye of the witness he will aid justice by communicating with Sheriff Frost of Mars Hill.

It is quite possible that the man who told the story committed the deed himself, giving both a false name and place of abode. Timony had on him about $75, it was supposed and for this small sum he was foully slain. His home was in Andover, Mass., and he came from people of respectability.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is changing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamless sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. Free from harmful drugs.

Vol. VII JULY 22, 1915 No. 6

LETTER FROM LIEUT. W. B. SHAW

Firing Line, June 23
My Dear Father, Mother and all:
It is just dark. I am writing on an improvised table, which is an old stove in a partly ruined house where the officers have their meals and sleep. The battery is out in a field not a long distance away. The field is a veritable garden at present, acres of poppies, and they are really a beautiful sight. We have been in three positions covering the same front, and it is a big joke to us that we are now (a half hour ago) ordered to move again. From each new position we have to arrange our guns on numerous targets, and it has amused us, inasmuch as soon as we have finished ranging, by a coincidence we are ordered to move.

Today has been a lazy day with me and I have enjoyed a "sleep in" this morning.

Yesterday was a more interesting day, observing from an observing station which had been shelled by Jack Johnson, a few days ago. Yesterday morning I went through a maze of trenches—one seldom gets fully acquainted with them, and visited the station referred to—now barely a wall left. The last time I was in this spot officers and even generals were to be found—it was then like a stock exchange, but this time it was absolutely un-guanted, and it was "some place." However it was necessary to range on some targets from this point, and with one foot at the top of a badly poised ladder I shouted to the telephonist "ready to observe." So we commenced firing, and it was not long before retaliation started in earnest. German hats seemed to concentrate in that vicinity, and after two had hit the ruins, the last one bringing bricks and mortar down on top of me, my telephonist and I vanished into the cellar, escaping with a light bruise on the head. However, I was practically finished, so was able to enjoy the security of the cellar, and that is one thing I would like to congratulate the French people on—the strong cellars, which they nearly always have under their houses—built as storehouses for wine, but grand places of refuge for forward observing officers. Sometimes it is safely behind a palisade made of sandbags or in the forward trench with a periscope, but always it is interesting.

It is rumored our infantry are getting a bit of leave. If anyone ever deserved it, they do; that is my opinion; their task is much harder than ours; and the worst exaggerated terms does not describe their bravery, dash and gameness.

You can take it from me, our infantry have no superior on this little planet. That is no exaggeration.

The word "Lusitania" has figured as a battle-cry in more than one case to my personal knowledge; and I think certain soldiers of Germany heard it with regret, when our chaps charged their trenches.

The French are making excellent progress. We have also made progress, and that word means something in this siege warfare, where a trench is defended with machine guns, trench motors, bombs and rifle fire; but artillery fire endeavors to make the passage easy, so ammunition is a prime necessity and loads of it.

I was not on my horse when it was shot at Ypres. I thought I told you my groom was riding it in front of me. I have two very good horses now, one I call "Wipers" which is the general pronunciation for Ypres. He was one of the numerous riderless horses which could be picked up around Ypres.

The place we are leaving now is one where the Canadians have made several brilliant attacks. I saw one very recently but could not see the Canadians, they were hidden by a rise. I was able to see some real "Scotties" charge, and I shall always remember the roar of our own artillery as they kept increasing their range, and as well the "krupp krupp" of the enemy's shells. It would take a better imagination than anyone possesses to picture such an affair without being actually on the ground.

Well, I think I shall turn in, as my candle may keep the others awake.

I am very glad to hear every item of news from home. It is very good of you all to write so regularly. Yes, my cable was sent from London, but no such luck as a trip to London just yet, and I am not at all sure the artillery should get leave—not until the infantry have theirs at least. It hardly seems possible we have been in France for nearly five months. How time flies. Regards to all enquiring friends, and love to all the family.

Fixing Up River View Cemetery

Once again a movement is on foot to accomplish much needed work in the cemetery at Victoria. An organization for the carrying on of this improvement work has been effected with J. F. Albright as chairman, Chas. M. Shaw, sec. treas. and J. B. Bowser head of the finance committee. As a result of a few hours soliciting the treasurer has a sum pledged amounting to upwards of $200. This work should interest three classes: those resident in this community, those who in former days been resident here, and would like to renew their citizenship by a generous contribution to the project, and more particularly should a work of this nature appeal to those, be they far or near, who have friends and relatives lying in this shamefully neglected, but naturally beautiful spot.

The work proposed and necessary to make this "silent city" what it ought to be, will incur an expenditure close to five hundred dollars.

Many old timers were brought to this spot and "laid away" and after long years of neglect this effort is being made to locate and beautify all those as well as the more recently buried, and those who have relatives or friends in this cemetery would do well to communicate with C. M. Shaw or J. B. Bowser.

If all interested in this undertaking don't wait to be called on, but notify the treasury that you would like to contribute to the fund, he will be pleased to explain the proposition and arrange all details.

Now who'll be first to respond to this general appeal?

Fredericton is to celebrate the anniversary of the outbreak of the war between Germany and the Allies. The affair will take the form of a street parade, open-air meeting and festival at the old Government House. J. J. McCaffrey of the Queen Hotel is chairman of the general committee in charge of the arrangements. The movement was inaugurated by Mayor Mitchell at the suggestion of Lieut. Governor Wood.

Farmers desirous of improving their herd at a nominal cost, would do well to procure a high grade Holstein bull calf from F. W. Nixon, Lower Brighton, who has three on hand from splendid dams and sired by his pure-bred bull, C nary Ormsby Franey, No. 17207. They are all beauties and priced right for quick sales. Write or better come and see them.

While The Observer last week was issued strictly on time, no reader north of Hartland got their copy until Monday. The delay was caused by the mail carrier between Hartland post office and the station neglecting, for some reason, to put the several bags aboard the train. He knowingly left the bags lying on the station platform over Sunday, at the mercy of any person who desired to steal, and on Monday rather gingerly delivered them to the mail clerk. This will explain why the papers were delayed.

Rev. E. A. Fitzpatrick, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, now of Wesley Memorial church, Moncton, writes: "From the columns of your paper I have known what I otherwise would not have found out about the people of your locality among whom I spent such a delightful pastorate. You are getting a start on your new church I notice. Give my regards to my friend, your rector, Rev. N. Franchette. Remember me to all the Knights. There is a great crowd of Knights in Moncton."

About two weeks ago, after the show in the Lyric, a revolver was picked up at the back of the hall by one of the proprietors and handed over to a justice of peace. The following day a bullet came through the window of the residence of Mr. Andow, one of the Lyric owners, and embedded itself in the wall. Mrs. Andow had only been out of range of the bullet a few minutes and she naturally feels nervous since. Whether the incidents have any connection is a subject which Mr. Andow is unable as yet to solve. There is a heavy penalty for carrying concealed weapons at any time, but to have them in one's possession at a public gathering is an offence punishable by both imprisonment and fine if the justice so decrees.

FIRE AT PLASTER ROCK

Plaster Rock was visited by a disastrous fire on Wednesday which for a time threatened to wipe out the entire village, and only by the unceasing efforts of the citizens, was the damage confined to. A. W. Turner's hotel and Charles Bent's general store, both under one roof, and which were destroyed, together with their contents. George Ridgewell's residence next door was badly scorched, but escaped the flames, as did also the clothing store of Jacob Brody, located across the street, although Mr. Brody meets with a heavy loss from goods missing and mixed up by their temporary removal to Arthur Ridgewell's field near by.

The fire was first discovered about half-past two o'clock in the hotel stable, and gained such headway that it quickly communicated with the hotel, giving no time to remove the contents. Bent's store in the same building suffered the same fate. The men from Fraser's mill, nearly 300 in number, rendered invaluable assistance in fighting the fire and preventing it from spreading to adjacent buildings.

It was not until five o'clock that the fire was extinguished, by which time a large number of people had gathered from outside points.

The total loss to Mr. Turner is $6,000, with only $1,000 insurance. Mr. Bent, about $3600. Mr. Brody carried an $8,000 stock with a loss of $1000, covered by insurance.

DROWNED AT WAPSKE

A fatal accident took place at Wapske on Monday morning, when a catamaran, used on the mill pond of the Wapskeegan Lumber Co., about two miles above Wapske, became unmanageable and was swept over the dam with two of the employees of the firm—Edward Bell, age thirty-two, and John Potesky, a foreigner.

The latter in some way managed to reach shore, but the body of Bell is not yet recovered. The unfortunate young man had a wife and two children, and had come here from Bristol about two years ago. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Bell in her sore bereavement. The deceased was very popular with fellow employees, and his sudden taking off is mourned by the entire community.

Death of Charles Roberts

One of the very earliest residents on the Tobique, Charles Roberts, passed away on Friday evening at Red Rapids, aged 71 years. Deceased had been in rather delicate health for over a year, so that his death was not unexpected. He was born at Red Rapids, where his father had settled many years ago on coming from Quebec. During his busy life-time the late Mr. Roberts was one of the most active men in this part of the province, being prominently connected with various enterprises, and several years ago was extensively engaged in lumbering and had a wide circle of friends throughout the province. Since retiring from active pursuits he had resided on his farm at Red Rapids, which is one of the finest properties in New Brunswick.

The late Mr. Roberts was the father of thirteen children, all living, the majority of whom were at his bedside when he passed away. They are as follows: Thomas, Harry and William, Vancouver; Charles, at home; Mrs. Edward Gosselin, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Thomas Bambrick, Comox, B. C.; Mrs. R. Brown, Vancouver; Mrs. Wm. Pirie, Grand Falls; Mrs. Gilbert Cronk, Red Rapids; Mrs. J. D. McLaughlin and Mrs. Bruce McLaughlin, Red Rapids; Mrs. (Dr.) Sawyer, Fort Fairfield; Mrs. James Brebner, at home.

The honorary pallbearers were John Ryan, Duncan McKellar, Dan McKellar, John Aikens, John Roy, Rochefort Hanson. Pallbearers—R. Crawford, Wilbur Merrithew, Walter Ganter, Allen Jamer. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Father Coughlin, parish priest of Johnville. Possessed of a kindly disposition, the late Mr. Roberts enjoyed the friendship of a wide circle of friends, who will deeply regret to hear of his demise.

George Dionne, Charles Armstrong and George Sutherly left on Tuesday on a week's trip to Fredericton making the trip in the motor launch of the McLaughlin Lumber Co.

Ben Fine, H. P. Gilman and Bruce McLaughlin were in Plaster Rock on Wednesday, making the trip in an hour and twenty minutes.

The Oliver Riding Cultivator stands in a class by itself, by reason of the fact that it is built right, with larger range of adjustments so it can be adapted to do good work under all conditions in the potato field. Oliver quality has a name the world over.

In Aroostook County alone sixty-five per cent. of the Potato Cultivators used are Olivers. The feature of the Oliver Cultivator that appeals to all farmers who have used it or have seen it at work is the excellent work that this implement does. By an ingenious arrangement the gangs are held parallel, and therefore always cut a uniform distance apart, no matter how far they may be shifted to the right or to the left. On the Oliver Cultivator neither of the gangs leaves an uncultivated strip between the chovels, nor does one gang cut a narrower width than the other when the cultivator is shifted to the side.

The Joy of Good Health Is Now Experienced

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Sleeplessness Are Now a Thing of the Past.

This is a cheerful letter from Mrs. Peacock, and it should bring joy to the heart of many a reader of this paper. Dizzy spells and sleeplessness are symptoms of exhausted nerves, and are the bug-bear of many women, who do not know just what treatment to use. You can read Mrs. Peacock's letter and take courage, for she has proven that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a complete cure for these troubles. So pleased was she with the results obtained that she wants other women to know about this food cure. Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 23 Hawatha Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states:—"I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well, and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally, so that to-day I feel that I am quite well again." In a more recent letter Mrs. Peacock writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good, and I would be pleased to tell everybody so." In nearly every issue of this paper you will find letters about Dr. Chase's medicine. If this one does not describe your case watch for others or write to us. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
