NO OPPOSITION TO LONDON APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF MUNICIPAL COAL SCHEME

Ontario Railway and Municipal Board Grants Request at a Hearing in Toronto—Mayor Announces That City Will Sell for Cash When Yard Operated.

[Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—When Mayor H. A. Stevenson of London appeared with a deputation before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board this morning, to ask for the board's approval on the by-law providing for the establishment of a municipal coal yard in London, there was no opposition to the application.

Mayor Stevenson was accompanied by S. Baker, city clerk; J. Dean, president of the trades and labor council; G. Wakeling, secretary of the trades and labor council; R. Hessel and Ernest Ingles. The mayor presented the application, stating that the initial cost would be $25,000, bonds for which had already been sold. He showed that the citizens of London had voted for the bylaw by an overwhelming majority.

No Other Course.

"It seems to me that the people of London want this thing done," declared Chairman D. M. McIntyre of the board. "It seems to me that the people of London have gone the right way about it by submitting it to the people, and in view of their favorable verdict, I do not see that the board can do anything but give its assent."

Vice-Chairman Ingram agreed with the chairman.

J. Dean, president of trades and labor council, said that the coal people had been given every opportunity to present their side of the case. He said that Sir Adam Beck's name had been drawn into the controversy, and that it had been misrepresented that Sir Adam was opposed to the proposal.

Chairman McIntyre wanted to know if the coal would be sold for cash, and when Mayor Stevenson stated that such was the understanding, the chairman said that he was satisfied that the bylaw was entirely satisfactory.

Offered Coal at $7.90.

Mayor Stevenson had an offer of 1,000 tons of coal at $7.90 a ton, f.o.b. Buffalo, according to a rumor today. The freight is 99 cents a ton to London, and there is a war tax to pay. However, these figures may be high.

His worship stated before he left that he would secure the coal if the price was right.

Toronto, Hamilton and Stratford will vote on the question of municipal coal yards, and the interest in these cities has been, naturally, centered on the results of the voting here, and the application of the city for the sanction of the provincial authorities.

RAIN BLOCKS THIRD CLASH OF WHITE SOX AND NEW YORK

Game Postponed Until Wednesday Because of Bad Weather.

New York, Oct. 9.—Postponement of the third world series game was announced by the national commission at 12:36 p.m.

The game scheduled for today and also the game for tomorrow will be played at the Polo Grounds tomorrow and Thursday.

Friday's game at Chicago will be moved to Saturday, and in case a sixth game will be necessary it will be played at the Polo Grounds as originally arranged on Monday, October 15.

At noon a steady rain was falling with not a sign of clearing in the black clouds that scudded across the sky. Groundkeepers had the inner playing field blanketed, but the exposed portions of the diamond were sodden with the pelting rain.

Some 15,000 persons were on hand at 12 o'clock, hoping for a game.

NEW BLOW AT STAGGERING FOE TO SHAKE HOLD ON BELGIUM; HAIG AND PETAIN ARE DRIVING AGAIN TO SPLIT GERMAN LINES

British Continued Offensive This Morning, Striking East and Northeast of Ypres, While French Plunge At Enemy Towards North—Germany's Railway Line To Sub Bases Dominated By British Artillery—Allied Commanders Report Good Progress Made Everywhere.

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 9.—By the Associated Press.—The British have pushed back the Germans through Poelcapelle, and are fighting in the eastern outskirts of the city about a large brewery.

Just north of Broodseinde, at Daisy Wood, the Germans held out strongly. The British surrounded the wood and hot fighting followed. The attackers pushed forward a considerable distance down the slopes of Broodseinde Ridge to the lower ground.

ADVANCE 1,200 YARDS.

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 9.—At many places the French and British have advanced to a depth of 1,200 yards or more.

London, Oct. 9.—The British attacked on a wide front northeast and east of Ypres this morning, the war office announces.

Satisfactory progress is being made everywhere. The attack, the statement says, was made "in conjunction with our allies."

The text of the British statement says:

"At 5:20 o'clock this morning we again attacked on a wide front east and northeast of Ypres in conjunction with our allies on our left. Reports indicate that satisfactory progress is being made on all parts of the battlefront. The weather continues stormy."

The new British drive is being made in the same region as the attack of last Thursday, one of the most successful British efforts of the war. On that day the Germans were expelled from high ground along the ridge east of Ypres, giving the British dominating positions of great strategic importance. The wedge in the German line has been driven so deep that with the high ground lost their position has been made most unfavorable and another strategic retreat has been predicted.

DRIVING THROUGH MUD.

Recent dispatches from the British front, however, told of heavy rains and deep mud, conditions under which, ordinarily, a renewal of the offensive would not be expected. The decision of the British staff to attack so quickly may indicate a purpose to force a decision before the cold weather sets in or before the Germans have recovered from the last blow, which appeared to have partially demoralized them.

FRENCH ALSO ATTACK

Paris, Oct. 9.—French troops on the Belgian front at 5:30 o'clock this morning attacked in conjunction with the British army the German positions south of the forest of Houthoulst, between Draibank and Weindendreft. The French official statement issued this afternoon says that the struggle is continuing and is developing favorably for the French army.

THE FRENCH STATEMENT.

The text of the French war office statement follows:

"In Belgium this morning at 5:30 o'clock we attacked, in conjunction with the British armies, positions of the Germans south of Houtholst Forest, between Drainbank and Weinden draft. The battle continues to develop favorably for us.

"On the Aisne front there was marked artillery activity, notably in the region of the Pantheon.

"In the Champagne we were successful in penetrating the German lines near the Butte of Tahure. After destroying the dugouts our forces returned with prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun region), the artillery duel c ontinues in the sector north of Chaume Wood.

"There is nothing to r eport from the rest of the front."

Calder, Crerar and Sifton Continue Negotiating With the Premier.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Coalition with Western Liberals had not been consummated at noon today. Messrs. Calder, Crerar and Sifton are still here and an amicable agreement has not been reached. Negotiations have not been broken off. Sir Robert Borden still wants these three men and they are formulating the terms on which they might be willing to enter.

The future position of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has some bearing on the result and the acceptance or refusal of office under the premiership of Sir Robert Borden may be influenced by Sir Wilfrid's decision to stay or retire.

His decision is expected upon his return to Ottawa probably tomorrow.

Total Advanced to Entente Powers Over Two Billions.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Additional loans of $40,000,000 each to Great Britain and France, were made today by the United States Government. With this transaction the total thus far loaned to the Allies is $2,613,400,000.

BRITISH WORKMEN TO CONTINUE STRUGGLE UNTIL VICTORY SURE, SAYS MR. HENDERSON

Declares Internationale Could Not Meet Until After War.

Bordeaux, France, Sunday, Oct. 7.—Addresses from American, Italian and Russian Socialists were read at today's session of the national convention of the Socialist party. A long telegram was received from Arthur Henderson, the British Labor leader and former member of the war council, who expressed the hope that an inter-Allied Socialist conference would be held soon. The internationale, he declared, could not meet during the war. Mr. Henderson affirmed the resolution of the British workers to continue the struggle until a victorious peace was achieved.

NEW HUN PEACE OFFER NEAR; WILL GIVE UP CAPTURED AREAS; WANT ALL INDEMNITY DROPPED

Amsterdam, Oct. 9.—Germany and Austria-Hungary have agreed to make another peace offer to the Allies, the Deutsche Tages Zeitung of Berlin says it learns on good authority. The offer will have as its basis no territorial aggrandizement, the surrender of Belgium and French territory, the renunciation of positive territorial acquisitions for payments in money, and no indemnity on either side.

ALLIES STUDYING ECONOMIC MEASURES

Paris, Monday, Oct. 8.—The council of the inter-parliamentary commercial conference of the Allies began a three-days' session here today to examine suggestions for economic measures to be submitted to the general inter-parliamentary conference of the Allies which is to meet in London. Delegates are present representing Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Portugal, Rumania and Serbia.

BRITISH FLEETS SHORT OF SHIPS TO CARRY FUEL

U. S. Asked To Furnish Tankers To Keep Up Supply of Oil.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—The British Government is so much concerned over difficulties in obtaining fuel oil for its navy, it has asked its representatives here to take the subject up with the United States Government, with a view of obtaining assistance in transporting supplies.

The subject will be discussed at a conference tomorrow between Sir Frederick Black, shipping board and navy department officials and American oil producers. The shortage of ocean tonnage, it is said, has made the situation acute.

The United States Government will be asked to furnish as many tankers as it can to help increase the supply.

British representatives here say their Government cannot divert more tankers for navy uses. The shipping board probably will commandeer a number of American tankers for British use.

URUGUAY SPARRING WITH THE ARGENTINE OVER FRONTIER RIVER

Explains Former States Desire To Unite With Entente.

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 9.—The Argentine Government is not prepared to follow the action of Uruguay in severing diplomatic relations with Germany, according to Foreign Minister Pueyrredon. Argentina has not pledged her neutrality, the foreign minister added, but is attempting to safeguard her own interests. Relations with Germany will be broken if sufficient cause arises, but as long as Germany recognizes the Argentine flag and respects the nation and the people, there probably will be no break.

Surprised at Uruguay.

Much surprise has been occasioned in political circles here by the following statement, said to have been made by the foreign minister of Uruguay in urging the Uruguayan Congress to break off relations with Germany:

"Uruguay, as a small nation between two great ones, must seek a balance of force to resist the possible hegemony of Argentina, with which nation we still have questions which are not settled definitely. This balance consists in bringing closer together Brazil and the states of our connection, with the greatest states of the present conflict so that it will make impossible an attack on Uruguayan sovereignty without an immediate reverberation throughout the American continent."

The unsettled questions between Uruguay and Argentine concern the River Plate. Argentina claims that the river belongs to her, while Uruguay insists that she owns one-half. The dispute involves the ownership of the important island of Martin Garcia, now held by Argentina.

Total Advanced to Entente Powers Over Two Billions.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Additional loans of $40,000,000 each to Great Britain and France, were made today by the United States Government. With this transaction the total thus far loaned to the Allies is $2,613,400,000.

BREWERS SAY LITTLE GRAIN USED BY THEM

One-Half of One Per Cent of Total Cereal Crop Their Figures.

"FOOD SAVING ABSURD"

This Is Answer of One Local Brewer to Report Total Closing of All Breweries.

An Ottawa dispatch, appearing in the morning papers today, which asserts that the use of grain in the manufacturing of beer or spirits will probably be prohibited in Canada almost immediately, has caused brewers here to reiterate their claim that the plea raised by some temperance advocates, that barley could better be used feeding mankind, has absolutely no foundation.

Of the total cereal crop of Canada, less than one-half of one per cent is used for brewing purposes, the brewers claim, and assert that considerable of the barley used is grown on land on which no other cereals will ripen, and, therefore, such land would otherwise remain uncultivated. To prove their arguments, they point to Government statistics, which show that the total cereal crop of Canada in the year 1916 was 647,797,700 bushels. Of this 41,313,000 bushels were barley, 6.38 per cent of the total cereal crop. Barley, malted to be used by brewers and distillers, totalled 2,853,125 bushels, less than one-half of one per cent of the total cereal crop. The brewers consumed only 1,998,000 bushels, or 4.83 per cent of the total barley crop, and they claim that a large portion of the products obtained were used in the manufacture of munitions and for other industrial purposes. A small quantity was exported.

These figures should show the absurdity of claiming that there would be an immense saving in food if distilleries were closed," said one brewer today.

Barley enters but little into the human diet, brewers claim. Barley bread is unknown in Canada, and practically so abroad, they say. They add, also, that the by-product in brewing, known as "brewery grains," is of enormous value to dairymen, as it is rich in milk-producing qualities Hundreds of dairymen who depend upon this would find it impossible to produce milk at anything like its present cost if shut off from this product, they claim, as more than 30 per cent of the value remains in the grains for the purpose of feeding cattle.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE DROPS IN DENMARK

Copenhagen, Oct. 9.—American exchange again fell yesterday, reaching 318, placing the Danish crown at a premium of 17 per cent. Although trade relations between Denmark and the United States are virtually at a standstill Danish bankers are deducting a further 10 per cent commission on checks and drafts, entailing a loss of fully 20 per cent, to those compelled to draw money from the United States. The state department at Washington has arranged for the payment of the salaries of the diplomatic corps at par value.

MICHAEL CLARK'S FRIENDS ORGANIZING HIS RIDING TO MAKE HIM NOMINEE

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 9.—The friends and admirers of Dr. Michael Clark, in the Red Deer riding, are making progress in organizing the riding. A requisition is being prepared, and the convention at Red Deer on October 23 promises to be a most enthusiastic one. The requisition asking Dr. Clark to run is being passed throughout all parts of the riding, and is being largely signed.

At Stettler on October 5, a win-the-war organization was formed with a view to placing Dr. Clark in the field as a representative candidate.

Olds, Dr. Clark's home town, is holding an organization meeting on October 11, when preparations will be completed for the Red Deer convention. Seventy per cent of the signatures to the Clark organization are stated to be Liberals.

FIRST MEN DRAFTED WILL NOT BE CALLED TILL DECEMBER 10TH, DATE MADE BY GOVT.

Does Away With Claiming of Exemption for Purpose of Delay.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The first men drafted under the military service act will not actually be called to the colors till December 10. The date has been fixed to place all men called on an absolute basis of equality. By then all exemption tribunals must have their work completed and the man who applies for exemption will thus gain no time as compared with the man who reports for service without making any such claim. There will be no possibility of claiming exemption for the purpose of delay.

RUSSIA TO INCREASE RAILWAYMEN'S WAGES MAKING PUBLIC PAY

Additional Vast Expenditure Will Be Met by Change in Rates.

Petrograd, Oct. 8.—The railwaymen's strike has caused the Government to decide to grant the increased wages demanded as from September 1. This will necessitate an expenditure of 750,000,000 rubles annually, which the Government has decided to meet by a rearrangement of railway rates. Simultaneously the Government will promulgate a law providing for special food supplies for railwaymen.

The newspapers, however, say that pending the publication of these measures the Government will refuse to negotiate with the strikers, and has under consideration the question of taking legal action against the strike committee. A number of railway battalions have notified the Government of their willingness to co-operate in ending the strike. Latest reports are that only the Moscow and Petrograd railway systems are affected by the strike, and that the workmen on other lines are protesting against the strike.

AUSTRAL STATESMEN COMING TO CANADA FOR ELECTION FIGHT

Attorney-General Hall and Former Premier Vaughan To Take a Hand.

London, Oct. 9—(By Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—A dispatch from Sydney, Australia, states that Attorney-General Hall of New South Wales and former Premier Vaughan of South Australia are going to Canada to participate in the general election campaign, and will also visit the United States.

TROUBLE NOT LOCAL

Hydro Interruption Due to Main Line Breaks.

Hydro was off last night about fifteen minutes, shortly after 9 o'clock.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan, of the public utilities commission, stated that the trouble was not local, that the interruptions was somewhere along the transmission line.

Street car traffic was stalled, and the whole city was in darkness. Theatres using the hydro power were subjected to considerable inconvenience.

CANADIAN-BORN AMERICAN NAMED BERNSTORFF MAN

U. S. Secret Service On Trail of Go-Between for German Spies.

New York, Oct. 9.—Secret service agents of the United States are following a new trail which they believe will lead to the arrest of the men who were the go-betweens of von Bernstorff and the various spies who were sent from the United States during the first two and one-half years of the war to England and France and probably Russia also, to gain military and other information which Germany wanted. One of the men who is believed to know much concerning the Bernstorff activities in this line, is said to be a wealthy resident of a neighboring city. He is an American citizen and is believed to have been one of the principal links in the German spy chain. Another is a Canadian-born American citizen.

SARNIA FIREMAN HAS SERIOUS INJURY BY FALL FROM A TREE

Was Engaged Clearing Wires From Protruding Branches and Limbs.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 9.—While engaged in clearing the fire alarm wire on Mitton street from protruding branches and limbs, William Douglas, 238 Durand street, and for the past five months a member of the fire department, fell head foremost from the tree to the sidewalk, receiving what will perhaps prove fatal injuries. Dr. A. N. Hayes was summoned and the injured man removed to the hospital, where his injuries were attended, but slight hopes are held for his recovery The injured man is 46 years and 11 months of age, and has resided in this city for a number of years. Concussion is feared as the result of the fifteen-foot fall to the concrete.

BIG DOCKERS' STRIKE AMICABLY SETTLED

All Differences Between Longshoremen and Companies Removed.

New York, Oct. 9.—P. J. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen Association, who came to this city last night to settle a strike of longshoremen on the piers of the Clyde and Mallory Steamship Lines, announced that all differences affecting longshoremen along the entire Atlantic coast, particularly at Newport News, have been amicably settled.

SPRINGFIELD EXPLOSION KILLS SEVERAL WORKMEN

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 9.—With four employees of the Fiberoid Company already dead as the result of an explosion, or flare, in the mixing room yesterday, Frank Kilbride of Holyoke, a foreman, is in a critical condition in his home today because of his efforts to save the victims of the explosion. Two men, John Koziel and John D. Rusid, were almost instantly killed, while John Kappa and Mike Bobovich died in hospital last night. James Pakach is in hospital, but is expected to recover. Kilbride, with his clothes aflame, worked to get out the injured men until forced by his own burns to desist.

TRIBUNAL FOR LOCAL EXEMPTION BOARD IS NAMED BY THE GOVT.

George McKay, Joseph Dean, Dr. Pingel, T. J. Murphy, H. Elliott, L. Scandrett, W. C. Fitzgerald.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The following gentlemen have been named as exemption tribunals by the joint board of selection meeting here today for the city of London: George F. McKay, Joseph Dean, Dr. A. R. Pingel, Thomas J. Murphy, Hume Elliott, K.C., Leonard Scandrett, W. C. Fitzgerald.

They will act with the judicial tribunals in hearing applications for exemption.

COMPLAINANT DIES, HALTING CHARGES AGAINST YOUNG BOY

Westminster Youth Gains Liberty in Unusual Way.

Percy Bridge, a Westminster youth, was allowed to go by Squire Chittick this morning on a charge of discharging firearms, because the complainant in the case, John H. Shore, a Westminster Township farmer, had died suddenly since the information was laid.

Mr. Shore laid the information before Squire Chittick on September 29 and died suddenly from paralysis on Wednesday, October 3.

In discharging the boy, Squire Chittick gave him some sound advice.

W. O. McINERNY DEAD

Death Takes Canadian in New York Newspaper Work.

New York, Oct. 9.—William O. McInerny, active in newspaper work in New York for a score of years, died at the post-graduate hospital Sunday night, following an operation for intestinal trouble.

Mr. McInerny did practically all of his newspaper work here on the Evening World and the Evening Sun, being on the staff of the latter paper at his death. He came originally from Canada, where the remains will be taken. Mr. McInerny leaves a widow.

SUBS WERE SCATTERED BY AMERICAN STEAMER

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 8.—With 41 members of the ill-fated steamship Wilmore, torpedoed by a German submarine in European waters some time ago, an American steamship arrived from Genoa, Italy, and will dock here tomorrow.

It is stated that the vessel sighted several submarines while traversing the war zone, and that her naval gunners shelled the undersea craft, with the result that after a few attempts at effective work they scattered and withdrew.

GRAHAM A TOTAL LOSS.

Port Huron, Oct. 9.—Reports received here from South Bay, Manitoulin Island, said that the steamer Graham, which went ashore there, will probably be a total loss. No casualties were reported. The steamer, owned by the Montreal Transit Company, was loaded with grain and it is understood that she broke in two after grounding.

IDEAL WEATHER RULES FOR FAR WEST HARVEST

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Under ideal weather conditions, the last steps for the gathering of the crop along the line of the Canadian Northern in the west are being taken, according to the detailed crop report from its agents in Western Canada.

Out of 165 agents reporting, 28 show threshing completed and 134 threshing operations in full swing. Nearly all indicate excellent weather conditions.

The yields of wheat in some cases ran as high as 55 bushels to the acre, while 30 bushels occurred frequently.

FELL BETWEEN CARS.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 9.—George Riley Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ross of Cornwall, was killed while riding on a freight train on the Grand Trunk last night or early this morning. When the train was within a couple of miles of Lancaster he must have fallen between the cars, as his dead body was found alongside the track by some section hands this morning.

CASES OF EXEMPTION TO BE DETERMINED BY CIVIL TRIBUNAL

All Applications Must Be Made at Postoffice.

W. E. Wismer, deputy registrar of Military District No. 1, has handed the following to The Advertiser for publication:

Cases of exemption will be determined by a civil tribunal, composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions, and not by the military authorities, nor by the Government. Later on, a provincial appellate tribunal, constituted from the existing judiciary, will be provided to correct mistakes made by the local tribunals, and similarly a central appellate tribunal for all Canada will be constituted from among the present judges of the supreme court of Canada. In this way, every man may rest assured of fair play and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements, both civil and military.

The Proclamation.

The proclamation under the military service act will be issued on Saturday, the 13th of October. On that day, and within a set number of days thereafter, every man between the ages of 20 to 34, who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917, must report for service, unless he has made application for exemption.

How to Apply for Service or Exemption.

All applications for service or exemptions must be made at the postoffice, where printed forms may be obtained. This duty is the only one which will be required by public notice to be performed. Of anything required thereafter, every man will be notified by registered letter.

Application in Person.

It is not at all necessary for anybody to appear before the tribunals in person. In fact, it is most desirable that everything should be done in writing, and it is therefore requested that advantage should be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Early Report Advantageous.

No man, because he reports for service on the first day of the proclamation, will be called to join a battalion or to go into camp one minute before the last man who so reports for service. Nor will any man who reports for service be called until the local tribunals have given their decisions upon the applications for exemptions which will come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delay, nor disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

What a Man Should Do.

The first thing, on and within a set number of days after the proclamation (the number of these days will be stated in the proclamation) is to proceed at once to the postoffice and secure either a report for service or a claim for exemption, sign it up, and receive the official receipt signed by the postmaster. Then wait quietly.

What an Employer Should Do.

The following course is recommended to any employer who has in his employ any number of young men within Class 1: He should prepare a full statement of the total number of his employees, grouping them according to their present occupations and qualifications and state the number in each group. He should indicate the possibility or otherwise of substituting the labor of those unavailable for military service, or outside the statutory Class 1. He should indicate the extent to which the release of men in the statutory Class 1 would affect his business, and should call attention to the circumstances of each man applying to be released. He should append to this a general statement, classification and schedule of the names, private addresses, ages and occupations of the individuals in his employ who are listed in Class 1, noting against each man whether he proposes to claim exemption on behalf of the man or not, and whether, if he does, the exemption of the man so claimed should, in his opinion, be conditional upon the man continuing to follow his present occupation, or whether it would suffice if the exemption was granted for one, two or six months, or as the case may be.

In order to bring together before a single tribunal all applications for exemptions from one employer, a complete copy of this statement and schedule should be prepared for each man for whom the employer intends to claim exemption, and submitted to the one tribunal in support of each of his applications for exemption. And at the same time, on or shortly after October 13, the man should proceed to the postiffice, make out his claim for exemption with the postmaster, and note thereon in the proper space the name of his employer, who is sending in the above application. In this way, the confusion of having two claims for exemption for one man coming before different tribunals will be avoided. The tribunals would be put in possession of full information with regard to the whole situation at present in question, and if the statement and schedule were honestly prepared, with due regard to the interests of the employer, as also to those of the country, it might be expected that employers would obtain the most sympathetic consideration in regard to their claims for exemption.

GOOD REGISTRATION FOR EVENING CLASSES

Technical School Special Courses Will Open This Evening.

An exceptionally good registration has been reported in the evening classes of the London Technical School, the first of which open tonight. The registration will be continued during the present week, and prospective pupils can commence their course any time during the week.

The classes which open tonight include machine shop practice, cabinet-making, carpentry and joinery, plumbing, mechanical drawing, English and arithmetic, dressmaking, millinery, show card writing, wood carving.

The classes opening on Wednesday night include those in electrical work, architectural drawing, cabinet-making, cooking, dressmaking, embroidery, first aid, art and design.

MANY VIMY HEROES IN PARTY OF THIRTY ARRIVING LAST NIGHT

Only Six Londoners and Rest Are From District.

ALL GLAD TO GET HOME

Several Americans Are Invalided Home After Seeing Fierce Fighting.

Thirty wounded and invalided soldiers arrived in London last night at 9:45 o'clock over the Grand Trunk. Six of them were from London. The majority were wounded in action, many at Vimy Ridge on April 9. The Soldiers' Aid Commission gave the boys a hearty welcome home, and made them feel that the folks were mighty glad to see them. The Salvation Army band met the men.

The Londoners were: J. Lockard, Lorne avenue, who went across with the A.S.C. and invalided home from England; Charles Lowe, 625 Elizabeth street, who went overseas with a draft from the 33rd Battalion and was wounded at the Somme; W. Page, 57 Dufferin avenue, a 135th Battalion man, wounded at Vimy; Sergt. Crouch of 1097 Frances street, wounded at Vimy, a 33rd Battalion man; Driver H. J. Sullivan, this city, who was twelve months in France and invalided home; and E. D. Hill, 210 Simcoe street, a 25th Battalion man, shot up at Hill 60.

A Happy Bunch.

The boys were met by relatives, and had no time to talk about their wounds. "Just say we are the happiest bunch in the world," said one of them.

Pte. Bolton of the 70th Battalion, whose home is in Tillsonburg, was in the fighting at Vimy Ridge and was wounded on April 9.

Pte. Hughson, Ayr, an 84th Battalion man, was also wounded at Vimy.

Trooper S. King, Aylmer, went over with the 7th C.M.R. from London, and got his wound at the Somme.

W. J. Maddox, St. Thomas, joined the 71st, and after many months hard fighting was laid aside at Vimy.

Hurt by Bomb.

C. Aldcott, Detroit, Mich., enlisted with the A.M.C., and was recuperating from an illness at the camps in England when a bomb from a zepp injured his arm.

H. Kaplin came all the way from New York to join the "Fighting 13th." He stuck it out until St. Eloi at the fight for the crater, when he was wounded in the back.

H. Clark, Lorain, Ohio, another American, joined the 34th, and after more than a year's fighting was hurt at Vimy Ridge.

Pte. H. Nolan, Windsor, of the 241st Highlanders, was invalided home from England.

Sergt. Butler, Windsor, is another original member of the 18th, who was injured at Vimy.

M. L. Webber, Zurich, was wounded twice. He was one of the original 2nd Pioneers who left London two years ago. He was injured during an airplane raid in England. He recovered and was again wounded at Vimy.

Pte. Batteridge, Woodstock, went across with the 168th, and received his wounds at Vimy.

Almost Killed.

Pte. Almost, Tillsonburg, said he almost got killed when he was shot in the head at Fresnoy. He says he is very happy to be much alive today.

Pte. Boyd, Galt, of the 111th, was another Vimy victim. Pte. Lindsay, St. Thomas, a 91st man, got his there also.

Pte. Rourke, St. Marys, of the 4th C.M.R., was wounded first at Ypres and later at the Somme.

Pte. Ford, Muncey, joined the 208th Battalion, but took sick in England and was sent home.

Corp. Myers, Bloomingdale, Waterloo County, went across with the 118th, but the gas stopped him after two weeks in France.

Was Blown Up.

Corp. Walton, Windsor, of the Rough Riding Canadian cavalry, was blown up with a shell at Ypres, and has been suffering from shell shock since.

Pte. J. Murdock, Port Elgin, 46th Battalion, was invalided home from England. He formerly was employed at McClary's here.

Pte. H. Gillson, Toledo, Ohio, was a member of the 97th American Legion, and was in the fighting at Vimy, where he was wounded.

W. R. Hopkins, Tobermory, 160th Battalion, was sent home from England, suffering from illness.

A. W. Hansman, Galt, 166th, was another Vimy hero.

Charles Anslow, 5th C.I.T., whose home is in Bright, was invalided home from England. Bert Sewell, Rockwood, 54th Battalion, was still another Vimy casualty.

The men were taken to the hospital in motors.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 8.—Rev. H. W. McTavish, of Muncey, was on Monday officially advised that his son, Pte. Douglas McTavish, had been reported died from pneumonia, in a military hospital at London, England. Pte. McTavish enlisted at St. Thomas and went overseas with the 91st Battalion. He was only 18 years of age.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

MOUNT BRYDGES, Oct. 8. — Richard Runnals has received official word that his son, Pte. Roy Runnalls, is dead of wounds received in action in France in September. Pte. Runnalls enlisted from here with the 135th Battalion.

BOXES FOR SOLDIERS.

APPIN, Oct. 8.—At a special meeting of the Woman's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Thomas King for the purpose of filling boxes of cheer for the soldiers from this vicinity now overseas. Twenty-four women each brought well filled tin boxes, and the Red Cross provided a pair of socks, a grey flannel shirt, and a towel, which was wrapped around the tin box, and all sewed up in cotton. The boxes were valued at $110. The postage required to send these parcels overseas was $16.

FIVE UNDER CAR UPSET IN DITCH ESCAPE UNHURT

Londoners Had Terrifying Experience in Accident

Ex-Ald. Henry Pocock, his wife and three children barely escaped death or serious injury yesterday afternoon four miles out of Clinton on the Wingham road, when their heavy eight-cylinder King auto overturned in a ditch. Mr. Pocock stated to The Advertiser that he was running about fifteen miles an hour when he struck a crown in the road and the car skidded.

"It turned right over into a four-foot ditch," he said, "the top being in the bottom of the ditch. Fortunately there was no water in it. The top was smashed to pieces and the rest of the car, with the exception of the engine, is badly damaged. We were able to crawl out uninjured, except for a severe shaking up and a serious shock."

As soon as possible Mr. Pocock sent in a long distance call to London, and Mr. Doidge and Dr. Edward Spence went out in Mr Pocock's other auto and brought the party and wrecked car in.

Those in the smash were ex-Ald. Pocock, his wife, and Clarence, Maurice and Myrtle Pocock. They were on their way home from Kincardine.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The Coldstream branch of the Women's Institute will meet in Forester's Hall at Poplar Hill this afternoon. The collection will go for the Belgian relief fund and Christmas boxes for the soldiers.

CITIZEN, LONG SLAVE OF DRUG, SEES DANGER IN "DOPE" HEROES

Dreadful Habit Treated in a Romantic Manner Seldom Loosens Clutch On Victims, Scenario Writers to the Contrary Notwithstanding.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

There have been three movie plays in London lately wherein the hero was a "dope fiend." I have personally seen that number. I have no doubt there were more. My purpose in writing this letter is to point out a very real danger which exists in the romantic manner the habit is treated by scenario writers.

To imply, for instance, as each of these pictures did, that the habit may be overcome with comparative ease, is only to strengthen the erroneous belief which leads so many astray, that one can take the drug for a while and then give it up.

It is stated by one of the leading authorities on the subject that only about 15 per cent of those cured "stay cured," and of these only a very few took the drug in large doses.

Many years ago my principal object of existence was to inject under the skin every day enough morphine to kill ten strong men and a few cats thrown in for good measure.

The Writer's Experience.

After two years of exemplary perseverance in this practice, I was in a state of collapse, physical, moral and mental. I ate one meal a day, consisting of two pieces of toast, and I stayed in bed twenty hours out of the twenty-four, getting up punctually at 6 o'clock in the evening and going to bed again at 10. When up, I used to take a short walk for the good of my precious health—or rather, I should say, a short stagger, as any kind of locomotion was becoming increasingly difficult.

For years and years after I gave up taking the drug, any kind of physical exertion was positive torture. I had hardly more sense or intelligence left than a jellyfish, and life was just "one damned thing after another." The agonies I endured were, as a celebrated author has said of his own sufferings, altogether too horrible to be made a subject of literature. It was many years before I regained sufficient health to make life worth living, and to prefer work to idleness.

The Movie Reward of Virtue.

Another romantic deception portrayed by these pictures was in the fact that in all three plays a beautiful, sympathetic woman comes along, saying: "Give up this dreadful habit, and I will kiss you three times a day," or words to that effect, whereupon the hero promptly succumbs to her persuasion. This is wrong from two points of view: In the first place, women, as a sex, have nothing but contempt for such an unmanly exhibition of weakness (just feeling, unknowingly, by their finite and personal point of view the purposes of the Infinite Intelligence that governs everything on this planet); and in the second place, there are only two things in this world which a "morphinist" or a "cocainist" cares for—one is himself and the other is the drug, and of the two he much prefers the drug. To those who have the habit I would say that modern methods of cure involve comparatively little suffering; to those who at some time may be tempted to try it, I would repeat the words of Punch to those about to marry, "Don't!"

MARY JANE IS SAVING FOR TRIP TO IRELAND SHE NAIVELY CONFESSES

Although She Has "Kissed the Blarney Stone" Already She Wants To See in Reality the Charms of "Ould Erin."

BY MARY JANE.

Have you ever traveled for hours, and hours, and hours through a country where all the men look like bandits and the women like gypsy queens and not a soul speaks one word of your own language? Then you do not know what it means to be immersed in gloom and saturated with loneliness. I had the experience not so long since. I was so deep in the depths that it was wondering how I would ever, ever stand the remaining hours of my journey. My dismal thoughts were interrupted by a voice at my side.

"Beggin' yer pardon, ma'am, would e'er a wan be sittin' in this seat, if I wasn't?"

I looked up, startled, to behold a very old man, with wonderful blue eyes.

"No, indeed. Please do sit here," I invited in my most cordial tones. Having deposited his bundles in his complete satisfaction, he turned to me and announced, without preamble, "Me name, ma'am, is Michael Patrick O'Toole."

"From the name I would judge you to be——"

"From no less a place than Dublin, ma'am. Would there be a bit iv Irish in yerself, a-tall, a-tall?"

"A little bit of me is Irish," I answered; truthfully.

"Be the token iv yer blue eyes, with yer black brows and lashes, I was thinkin' that same. But the head iv ye——" he gazed critically at my crowning glory. "Was it a touch iv sun that did it," he asked whimsically, "an' is it red ye'd call it?"

"Oh, please, don't," I begged, "auburn sounds so much better."

"Auburn it is, then," he conceded, gallantly, "but 'tis only the bits iv gold in it we'll be mentionin'."

"When the gold turns to silver——"

"May the days be far off," he interrupted, with the unexpected seriousness so characteristic of the Irish race. The smiles with the unwonted tear; the tears with the rainbow smile.

"An would ye be above tellin' yer name to an ould man like meself, would ye now?"

"Mary Jane," I responded promptly.

"Mary was the name iv me mother, may she rest in peace; an' Mary is the name iv me little ould wife, God bless her. 'Tis a foine name. But Jane——" he shook his head, solemn as a stone wall. "D'ye know," he continued, "I once had as foine a little Jersey cow as iver ye saw an' I called her Jane."

"How lovely!" I laughed.

"Indade, an' it was; a lovely name—fer a calf."

"Oh, Michael Patrick O'Toole!" I expostulated severely.

"It's yerself that's the grand young lady, an' I'm the very wan that's likin' ye better ivery minute."

"An' tell me now, could I be human a-tall, a-tall, an' withstand the likes o' that?"

"An' how d'ye be gettin' along without e'er a husband," he asked solicitously.

"Better without than with," I assured him, "I get along fine because I—well, to tell the truth, Mr. O'Toole, I'm afraid I'm a bit of a jollier."

"An' what does that mane?"

"It means," I translated for him, him, "that I kissed the blarney stone."

"I was thinkin' as much, from the purty ways iv ye."

"An' I'm thinkin', Mr. O'Toole, that you kissed it a thousand times yourself."

"Kissed it, is it? I imbraced it, shure, many's the time."

We both laughed. With an Irishmen for companion laughter is ever lurking in the background.

Then I went to Ireland with Mr. O'Toole. We were children, playing in the bogs; we were young lovers, keeping tryst in the moonlight; we went to a "wake"; we were guests at a gala wedding; we loved "his rivirince"; we had a great time at a Kerry dance; we even cavorted on the green with beautiful fairies. All in two short hours. And now, I am saving up to go to Ireland, with myself, just as soon as the war is over. I am thoroughly convinced that it is the most gloriously beautiful spot this side of heaven. And so will you be if you ever have the good fortune to meet Mr. O'Toole.

"I must betake meself off at the next station. 'Tis sorry I am!" He sighed a sigh that diffused more subtle flattery than all the delicately-turned compliments that have been paid me in six months or more.

"'Tis very sorry I am, Mr. O'Toole."

"An' how much farther iv the ways would ye like I'd be going along with ye?"

I told him.

"'Tis ivery bit iv ye is Irish, I'm thinkin', Miss Mary."

85 MEN EXAMINED ON HOLIDAY FOR STATUS UNDER ACT

38 of That Number Fit For Combatant Units.

WEEK-END RECRUITING

19 Men Signed On Since Saturday for Service in C. E. F. Units.

Monday, being a holiday, provided a good opportunity for men who were unable to do so before to come before the medical boards at the armories, and to ascertain their physical status under the military service act. A total of 85 applicants were examined by the doctors. Of this number 38 were found fit for first-line units, while 27 were rejected as totally unfit.

Of the 41 men handled by Medical Board No. 1, 23 were fit for combatant units, five for non-combatant units, two for service in Canada, ten unfit for service, and one was placed in the doubtful class.

A total of 44 men passed before Medical Board No. 2, 15 of whom were in category A, 8 in B, 3 in C, 17 in the unfit list, and 2 unclassified.

Nineteen Week-End Recruits.

Ten recruits were accepted on Saturday, 3 on Sunday, and 6 on Monday. S. Seeborske, L. F. Langs and D. Rider came from Detroit on Saturday; A. L. Maiwaring, Toledo; William Oldcorn and G. H. Ellis, Cleveland; W. A. Collins and D. Frederick, London; P. W. DeTrain, Sarnia, and T. L. Hallam from Woodstock.

On Sunday the medical board met to pass upon the men who arrived from the United States, C. Landell, V. Habolan, and H. E. Grant, all of Detroit.

All Canadians Monday.

All of those who signed up Monday were Canadians, Herbert Wood, W. A. Glen, A. J. Newkirk, and A. W. Mack joining the Army Service Corps, and E. J. Bates and D. H. Turnbull going to the 7th Overseas Company.

STRATFORD MAN BADLY SHAKEN UP

O. Brown, of Stratford, sustained slight injuries yesterday afternoon when he jumped from a moving G. T. R. train at Burwell street. He boarded a train at 4:20 o'clock, mistaking it for the train bound for Stratford. Realizing his mistake when he reached Burwell street he jumped. He was in a dazed condition when picked up. Dr. Clegg was summoned and had the injured man removed to Victoria Hospital in the city ambulance.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE PRICE OF POTATOES.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I notice in your local market column a statement that the food controller had set the price of potatoes at $1.25 per bushel. I also read a statement in another paper that the food controller had set the price of spuds at $1.25 per bag, which after investigation was contradicted. A Forest local paper states that it is expected the food controller will set the price of spuds at $1.25 per 90-pound bag, free from scab, and not smaller than 3 ounces each.

Now, sir, such statements are misleading and giving far from satisfactory results. The consumer is not placing his order for his winter supply, believing that some action will soon be taken in his favor. On the other hand, the producer (of which I am one) is compelled to wait for a well-published confirmation or contradiction of these reports from the food controller, and that wait may continue on into extreme weather and compel us to store our crop until spring.

I also noticed an article in your valuable paper some time ago to the fact that the Government was about to do all they could to encourage the production of potatoes. Now, sir, there is not the least doubt that if $1.25 per bag be the maximum price to the consumer, the production of spuds will not be nearly next year. The price to the producer being much below that in many cases, where freight, commission and retail profits are required in placing the potatoes in the hands of the consumer.

POTATO GROWER.

The statement re the price of potatoes made in The Advertiser was not that the food controller had fixed the prices at $1.25 per bushel. It was to the effect that it had been intimated that such a price WOULD be fixed.

HUGH GUTHRIE'S JOKE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

"Borden the only acceptable leader." Mr. Guthrie, with his tongue in his cheek and his hand on his new portfolio, must be still smiling. Some time ago I met a son of the soil leading a lump of a calf. I said to the farmer boy: "The calf leads well." He replied, with a burr in his voice: "Yass, he iss a goot leader." But the calf had on the halter. The financial magnates six years ago put the halter on Borden, and ever since he has been a good leader. Look at the record. The magnates selected their White servant for finance minister and ordered Borden to open a constituency for him. We know the result. This White servant was trotted up and down the dominion seeking a door of entrance. One was secured, and ever since he has filled the bill of "His servants ye are to whom ye yield yourself servants to obey." With the above quotation in mind, who set Borden wobbling on the navy question until he turned a somersault? There was only one group of men in Canada who were saying: "Money, but no men for the navy"—the Nationalist group of Quebec, and they found Borden to be a good leader. Who selected the minister of labor? Ask the miners of British Columbia and the Labor organizations throughout Canada. What power defeated Sam Hughes in his effort for a dry canteen in England for our boys, imperilled the efficient enforcement of law in the dry provinces, excluded the hooks "Defeat and Victory" and "The Fiddlers," and permits the wastage of grains and sugar in the manufacture of grog? Don't you think the liquor interests would indorse Guthrie and the boy, and say, "He iss a goot leader?" What must Mackenzie & Mann and their associates in the watered stock deal of the C. N. R. deal think? They know Borden is well broke to the halter. The detestable, dishonorable disfranchising act, the last begotten of a numerous progeny of the once dishonorable, but now whitewashed Bob. And the food controller. The wastage of money through this latest monstrosity, in assistants, pasteboard, printing and newspaper space. Surely he is a wise selection. By whom? "His servants ye are to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey." Our friend Hanna is no old woman. He knows his masters. Now watch the new Cabinet that is being formed by the magnates for this famous leader. They belong to the millionaire class, hungry for a place in a discredited aristocracy—a strata in our social life that has made Canadian honor stink in the nostrils of even a not over-sensitive world. But they have millions to debauch the electorate of Canada. Let the virile manhood of Canada, made up of the consuming and producing masses, fling their thirty pieces of silver back into their faces ere its contaminating touch besmirch their honest manhood, and by their baleful rid this fair land of the magnates' yoke and a halter-wearing leader.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Dominion Lodge, I. O. O. F., Passes Half Century Mark Oct. 19.

The 50th anniversary of Dominion Lodge, I. O. O. F., will be celebrated on Friday evening, October 19, in the old Oddfellows' Hall, London Loan Block. The anniversary celebration will be jointly conducted with a reception to Grand Master C. H. Mann.

A vaudeville entertainment, dancing and the presentation of veteran jewels by Past Grand Sire Dr. Campbell, will be features of the evening. An address will be delivered by the grand master. A big crowd is expected.

INGERSOLL YOUTH IS GOING AS EXPERT

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—E. S. (Ted) Fletcher has enlisted in the Aviation Corps at Toronto, and will serve as a mechanical expert. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Fletcher, and was a former student at the local collegiate institute. Lately he has been employed at M. J. Clear's garage.

Over sixty students have enrolled for the industrial and household science classes. Owing to the war young men are not so numerous as formerly. H. T. Bower is principal of the school.

Special services held by the Salvation Army today were largely attended. A splendid musical program was rendered by the army's fine band.

THREE CHARGES ARE LAID AGAINST MAN, $200 FINE IMPOSED

Teamster Accused of Having Liquor and Theft.

Albert Stinchcombe, teamster, 74 Rectory street, appeared in police court today on three charges of theft and two laid under the Ontario temperance act.

He was found guilty on the charge of having liquor in a local garage and was fined $200 and costs, or in default of payment must spend the next three months in jail. A charge of intoxication was withdrawn when the conviction on the more serious count was registered.

On the theft charge he declined to plead, asking for an adjournment in order to permit him to consult a lawyer. He was remanded to jail until Thursday morning for a hearing.

The charge is that he stole sixteen tons of coal from the Grand Trunk Railway. It is alleged that he hired another teamster to haul the coal from a pile near the corner of Richmond and Bathurst streets. The prosecution will produce witnesses to show that he sold the coal after having it hauled away.

In the charge laid under the Ontario temperance act, in which he was accused of having liquor at a garage, he claimed that the whiskey found by Sergt. Lucas and Patrolman McCullough did not belong to him. Both officers testified Stinchcombe had the bottle raised to his lips when they entered the garage.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS FOR WOMEN'S COUNCIL RALLY ON WEDNESDAY

Provincial Vice-President and Honorary Vice-President of National Council Coming.

The Local Council of Women is congratulating itself upon securing speakers of the ability of Mrs. Sandford of Hamilton, provincial vice-president, and Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, honorary vice-president of the National Council, for a grand rally meeting of the council and its affiliated societies in Cronyn Hall at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

It is stated that Mrs. Sandford is a speaker of unusual charm and interest, and that she created an exceptionally favorable impression at the annual meeting of the National Council in Winnipeg in May.

The statement is made by the executive of the Local Council that the addresses will be over in time to afford the members of the Canadian Club who attend an opportunity to get over to the Normal School to hear Major C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) at the opening meeting of the season of the Canadian Club.

BUILDING PERMITS MOUNTING UPWARD

May Touch $800,000 Mark for Year if Present Rate Continues.

The demand for building permits during the month of October continues. Today Building Inspector Piper issued a permit to the utilities commission for the hydro shop, to cost $90,000. The plans have at last been agreed upon, and the permit issued. In addition, there was a permit issued to James McIntosh for a two-story veneer house on the Wharncliffe road, costing $2,000. The permits for the month now total $126,000, and for the year slightly over $700,000. At the end of October last year the permits amounted to $842,570. It is not considered likely that 1917 will equal that total. However, it would not be surprising to have them reach $800,000 for the year.

E. T. ESSERY, K. C., MAY ENTER LISTS FOR M. P. HONORS

Rumors Say Ex-Mayor Will Be Announced as Win-War Candidate.

NOMINATION IS PUZZLE

Straight-Line Conservatives Expected, However, To Pick J. P. Moore as Nominee.

The Conservatives have not nominated a candidate as yet, and the followers of the game are puzzled.

It is stated that J. P. Moore, K.C., is the choice of the regulars, and will be placed in nomination.

E. T. Essery, K.C., must not be lost sight of. It is rumored that he is going to pull out ahead of the other fellows, and announce himself as the real win the war candidate.

He is considered a certain candidate among many people. He might make the run interesting to say the least of it, say the political experts.

RECORDS MADE IN CIVIC GARDENING; PLOTS SATISFYING

Definite Returns Not Tabulated, But Results Apparent.

FIGURES ARE DESIRED

Government Agricultural Department Asks City To Furnish Data on Crops Grown.

Ald. Sam Manness, chairman of the city's high cost of living committee, stated today that no statistics were available as to the total of the crops grown on city gardens. He expects a big yield. One man had a plot 50x150, and on this he gathered eleven bags of potatoes, 75 heads of cabbage, all prime specimens, and all the beans and corn he needed for his family.

"He is the only man who has done his harvesting," said Ald. Manness. "I think his record a good one. We expect just as good results from the others. I will have the figures ready in a short time."

The Government agricultural departments are anxious for figures, and have asked the city to furnish the information. This will be forwarded as soon as the crops are harvested.

Ald. Manness is quite satisfied with the year's work.

PROFESSION FROM WHOLE PROVINCE IS WELL REPRESENTED

Medical Men Attend Funeral of Dr. F. P. Drake.

The funeral of Dr. F. P. Drake was held from his late residence, Wellington street, on Monday afternoon at 2:30. The service was an impressive one, and was conducted by Bishop Williams assisted by Rev. C. R. Gunne and Rev. C. W. Foreman.

Although some confusion was experienced because it was announced that the funeral would be held Tuesday instead of Monday the attendance was large. Mrs. Drake, accompanied by Major and Mrs. C. O. Fairbank, arrived in the city on Sunday from Petrolea. The medical profession was well represented by doctors from all parts of Ontario and this city.

Interment was made in the family plot at Woodland at 3 o'clock.

The pallbearers were Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, Dr. W. J. Stevenson, G. H. Gillespie, H. S. Blackburn, George Gunn, Dr. Norman Henderson, Thomas Baker and J. W. G. Winnett.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN GOSPEL HALL ALL WEEK

Thanksgiving Day Christian Convention Well Attended.

A Christian convention, for the deepening of spiritual life and reviving interest in the Lord's work at home and abroad, was held in Gospel Hall, Hamilton road and Grey street, on Thanksgiving holiday season, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The subjects dealt with by the following speakers, A. N. O'Brien, Minneapolis; Dr. T. H. Bier, Brantford; T. H. Maynard, missionary India; Chas. Innes, Toronto; John Cruickshank, Hamilton; Geo. Nunn, Hamilton; R. Lanery, Detroit; S. W. Benner, Orillia, were the Lord's Second Coming, the Life and Times of the Patriarchs, Separation From the World, Believes Baptism a Simple Form of Church Fellowship and Worship.

Attendance was large and the testimony of all was that these meetings were most helpful. A. N. O'Brien expects to continue his ministry during the week except Saturday, and on Sunday next at both 4 and 7 p.m.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL AT TOTTENHAM.

The funeral of Thomas Kidd, aged 84, who died Saturday at Mount Hope, will be held from St. James' Church, Tottenham, Wednesday afternoon. The remains were forwarded to Tottenham by E. C. Killingsworth, undertaker, via the G. T. R. this morning at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Kidd resided for some years in this city, but spent the greater part of his life at Tottenham. He is survived by one son, Thomas of New York, and two daughters of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DEATH OF MRS. McGEE.

The death of Mrs. Nellie McGee, formerly of Lucan, occurred at Victoria Hospital on Monday. She was 35 years old, and is survived by her husband, Edward, two sons and two daughters—Edward, Halem, Frances and Laura. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Whalen; three sisters, Mrs. T. Smith and Mrs. Ed. Egan of this city and Mrs. John Egan of Biddulph, and five brothers, Daniel, James, Jerry, William and Joseph, also survive.

The funeral will be held at 8:15 Wednesday morning from her late residence, 210 Horton street. Requiem high mass will be sung at St. Peter's Cathedral, and interment made at St. Patrick's Cemetery, Lucan.

LONDONER'S FATHER BURIED.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones of 439 Maitland street, city, have returned home after attending the funeral of Mr. Jones' father, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Johns, Elimville, aged 85 years and 3 months. Three sons, William J. of Hensall; J. Alden of Gorman, Eckert & Co., this city, and Charles W. of Boise, Idaho, and one daughter survive. Two grandsons have been killed while on active service in France.

SERVING IN FRANCE AS SERGEANT AFTER DROPPING IN RANK

Advertiser Illustrations

SERGT. P. H. BARTLETT, son of P. H. Bartlett, barrister, now at the front as sergeant of the 57th Howitzer Battery. Sergt. Bartlett, before leaving for France, took an officers' training course at the Royal Military College, Kingston, but joined the Canadian Expeditionary Forces as a private. He was made sergeant-major of the 13th Ammunition Brigade. He retained this rank after going to England until some time before the 5th Brigade went to France, when of his own choice he accepted the lower rank of sergeant in order that he might be with the battery on the firing line.

Before enlisting Sergt. Bartlett was teller of the main branch of the Bank of British North America here. He is a brother of Lieut. W. T. Bartlett of the 18th Battalion, now wounded and at home on leave of absence.

The fish will be sold by the city direct, not through any of the dealers. The consignment will consist of Lake Nepigon trout and whitefish

EIGHT LIQUOR ACT BREAKERS APPEAR

Three of Them Prefer Jail Terms to Payment of Fines.

Eight persons charged with violations of the Ontario temperance act faced Magistrate Graydon when police court opened today.

William Ferguson, 121 York street, pleaded not guilty to having liquor on premises other than his private dwelling. Upon his request his case was adjourned until Wednesday morning.

A St. James street butcher protested that he was perfectly sober when arrested, and asked to be given an opportunity to secure counsel. His case will be heard tomorrow.

Five others admitted they had indulged in a Thanksgiving drunk and were each fined $10 and costs. Two paid the fines and the other three went to jail for the next ten days. One of the five fined was an Indian girl, who was warned that unless she changed her ways a more serious charge would be laid against her.

GOING BACK TO CHINA AGAIN, BUT THIS TIME AS A WORKER IN CHINA INLAND MISSION

London Girl, Who Spent Ten Years in Father's Missionary Home in China, Leaves City Tomorrow en Route for Mission Fields.

MISS WINNIFRED STEVEN.

The many friends of Miss Winnifred Steven, daughter of the Rev. F. A. Steven of the China Inland Mission, this city, leaves for Vancouver tomorrow morning on the 11:15 C. P. R. train. In about a month she will sail for China in company with seven other missionaries, three of whom have been home on furlough, to commence her new sphere of life as a missionary in China.

Miss Steven was born in England, coming to Canada when a small child. Later the family returned to England, from whence they later went to China, spending ten years there. During this time the little Winnifred attended school in Shanghai, absorbed much of the Chinese language and customs, which will be of great service to her in her approaching missionary studies and labor. Her desire to become a missionary to the Chinese took root during these years of her life although later while a student in Canada, she for a time gave up the idea entirely, preferring to follow the career of a teacher.

Teacher For a Time.

It is now twelve years since the Rev. F. A. Steven and family came back to Canada. Winnifred attended the London Collegiate Institute, passing her matriculation examination and qaulifying for a teacher at the Normal School. She then taught for a time. Later, when it became her intention to go as a missionary to China, she devoted two years to study in the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, graduating last December. She is a fine public speaker, convincing her audience that she has her whole soul in her work.

Miss Steven is now leaving for China. Her work will be in connection with the China Inland Mission, which was founded in 1865 by James Hudson Taylor, a medical missionary, who realized the great need of missionaries in the inland provinces of China, which had hitherto been entirely untouched. This mission was the pioneer mission in nine of the great central provinces of China. It is international and interdenominational.

Long Course of Study.

Miss Steven, on her arrival in China, will spend seven or eight months in a training school at Yngchow, after which she will be sent to some part of China to take up her regular missionary labors, still studying part of each day. The whole course of study in connection with learning the language occupies about four or five years, but the greater part of that time is also spent in practical missionary endeavor.

Farewell Presentations.

Miss Steven leaves many warm friends in London. Last Sunday evening the services at the First Congregational Church took the form of a farewell to Miss Steven. At that service, her father, the Rev. Mr. Steven, explained the work of the Inland Mission, and Miss Steven herself gave a short address, telling why she had determined to go as a missionary to China. Dr. Silcox, on behalf of a number of her friends presented her with a sum of gold, while her Sunday school made her a gift of a handsome hymn book.

LONDON CAPITAL RESPONSIBLE FOR NEW MONTREAL PLAYHOUSE NOW CANADA'S FINEST THEATRE

Princess, Built by City Contracting Firm for Canadian United Theatres, Will Be Model for New Majestic Here, To Be Built in Next Two Years.

What is described as Canada's finest theatre, the Princess at Montreal is nearing completion, and London capital was largely responsible for its construction.

The Princess is the property of the Canadian United Theatres, Limited, which has its head office here. The Marcus Loew interests announced the building of a new theatre and the Canadian Theatres decided to meet this move and go one better. The price, exclusive of land, is said to run close to the quarter-million mark. John Hayman of this city is the contractor, and Harris P. Elliott is consulting engineer. The theatre has a moving stairway to convey patrons to the upper floors, a vacuum-cleaning system and a washed air system. It will probably be open in December.

Plans for the rebuilding of the Majestic Theatre here, the local playhouse of the Canadian United Theatres, Limited, are prepared, and it is certain that the work will be started within the next two years. It is said that the new Majestic will be along the lines of the new Princess at Montreal.

NON-JURY ASSIZE COURT COMMENCES SESSIONS TODAY

Application for One Postponement Refused.

The non-jury assizes of the supreme court opened at the court house today at 10 o'clock before Chief Justice Glenholme Falconbridge

Postponements for trial until the November judy assizes were granted in the case of Finlay vs. London and Arnott vs. Arnott, the latter an alimony case.

The hearing of the action of Jermy vs. Hodson was adjourned to a date to be fixed later by the judge.

In the case f Jones vs. Hudson, the application for a postponement was refused, and the hearing of this action opened at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The action is to set aside a conveyance claimed to have been secured through undue influence.

Jean Hudson and Mrs. Ollie Vosburg, claim that the property which is situated near Dundas and King streets, belonged to Clara Hudson, and that the plaintiff, Jones, induced her to give the deed while she was incapable of managing her affairs.

Arthur E. Jones, a resident of Paris, claims that he owned the property and transferred it only temporarily to Clara Hudson in order to avoid litigation in another matter. He then induced her to transfer the deed again to him, the defendants claim. The defendants further claim that Clara Hudson placed part of the purchase money in the property, which claim is disputed by the plaintiff. The amount involved is something over $3,000.

RECRUITING STOPS, OFFICERS OF STAFF BEING DROPPED OFF

Chief of District To Be Transferred November 1.

Hon. Capt. William E. Hindson, general list of chaplains, has relinquished his appointment as chief recruiting officer for this district, and will vacate his office on November 1st. Capt. Hindson was formerly chaplain of the 153rd Battalion, previous to his present appointment. It is expected that he will be retained in some other capacity on the district staff at militia headquarters.

Hon. Capt. (Rev.) J. M. MacGillivray of the 12th Artillery Brigade, will also cease to be employed as recruiting officer at the end of this month, and has been granted one month's leave of absence beginning November 1st. He was previously chaplain of the 149th Battalion in this city.

CARD OF THANKS.

WOMEN'S WAR WORK HAS WON RIGHT TO USE OF FRANCHISE

This Is Minister's Public Declaration Monday.

WOULD STOP FOOD USES

Dr. Dougall Points to Eliminating of Liquor Manufacture in States as Example.

Preaching at the union Methodist Thanksgiving service held in the First Methodist Church at 11 o'clock on Monday, Rev. Dr. H. S. Dougall of Askin Street Methodist Church enumerated among special reasons for thanksgiving in the midst of wartime the relationships existing between Canada and the United States, one in interest and one to win the war; the temperance legislation that has turned homes of misery into homes of comfort and happiness in the past year, the measure of the franchise extended to women, and the boys and girls of the Dominion who have seen their duty and are doing it. Concerning prohibition, he referred especially to the one province in the whole of Canada which is not now dry, Quebec, unwilling to assist in the war for common liberties, opposing women's franchises, free schools and compulsory education

Mention of the fact was made in connection with the subject of prohibition that in the United States not one pound of foodstuff is legally being destroyed in the production of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes. "It is perhaps unfair in times of great stress to critcize the Government," he said, "but it would be very satisfactory if Canada could see her way to adopt similar legislation."

With regard to the franchise, Dr. Dougall referred to this as "good so far as it went, but why not farther?" He continued, "Lloyd George has taken the view that women by their patriotism, patience in suffering, uncomplaining tears, and acceptance of burdens laid by men, have earned the right to the franchise. Cannot the same be said of the women of Canada?"

In conclusion, the preacher dwelt upon the thankfulness due for God's best gift to men of His son, Jesus Christ, with the countless other blessings bestowed upon the Canadian people.

Rev. R. G. Peever, pastor of the First Methodist Church, conducted the service, Rev. J. E. Holmes, chairman of the district, and Rev. Dr. F. L. Barber, president of the Methodist Ministerial Association, assisting.

MEDICAL BOARDS CAN ACCEPT RECRUITS, IS LATEST CAMP ORDER

Men Must Report at Mobilization Centre, However.

Medical board centres throughout the district are authorized to accept recruits, in addition to their duties in examining men with a view to their standing under the military service, it is announced in camp orders today.

Each board is advised to make arrangements with some local justice of the peace to administer the oath of attestation to those who desire to enlist. All recruits, however, except those examined at the mobilization centres, at Windsor, London or Guelph, must report to the nearest mobilization centre following their attestation, in order that their enlistment may be tabulated, and the proper returns made to district headquarters. No recruit will be allowed to report directly from the medical board to his unit.

MILITARY FUNERAL

Comrades Pay Last Tributes to Soldier Who Died on Friday.

A military funeral for Pte. H. Locke, who died on Friday, was held from the undertaking parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke, at 9:30 this morning. Requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Roy at St. Michael's Church.

The firing party was furnished by the Cyclists Corps, and was under the charge of Sergt. Cameron. The funeral was in charge of Sergt.-Major Joseph of the Forestry and Construction Depot, and the escort was composed of members of that unit. The staff band of the Western Ontario Regiment played the Dead March.

WAR BREAD DEMAND WOULD BRING DOWN PRICE, SAY BAKERS

Conservation Investigators Make This Statement.

DELIVERY SYSTEM COSTLY

Elimination of the House-to-House System Would Reduce Charges.

A dispatch from Philadelphia states that American city is to be the scene of an experiment on the part of Herbert C. Hoover, the American food controller, in the preparation of a five-cent loaf of war bread. It is also proposed to standardize methods of mixing and making bread. The new war loaf will, it is said, effect a saving of sugar, lard and milk, and yet be wholesome. The department of agriculture, in co-operation with Mr. Hoover, has sent D. R. Jacobs of the bureau of chemistry to Philadelphia to instruct bakers.

Directing Attention to Reduction.

Commenting on this today, Mrs. R. M. Graham, secretary of the local food conservation committee, said: "Mrs. Williams, our chairman, is out of town or I would like to have had her tell you about the efforts being made to reduce the cost of bread by the food conservation committee, not only in this city, but throughout the province as well. Indeed, following the campaign to enlist the housewives of Canada in a movement to conserve wheat, beef and bacon, and to exercise thrift in the use of all foodstuffs, we are directing attention to the reduction of the cost of necessities, and particularly bread.

"Locally, Mrs. Williams has already visited one of the large millers, who is milling 76 per cent extraction flour for export with a view to discovering of the use of this flour, or even a higher per cent extraction, would be instrumental in lowering the price of bread. The idea was suggested when we had 76 per cent extraction bread for luncheon on the occasion of a food conservation meeting some weeks ago in St. Thomas. Mrs. Williams and I together have also visited a number of the bakers to interview them in regard to substituting a certain amount of cornmeal, oatmeal, rye, etc., for wheat flour in their bread, both with a view to releasing a percentage of the wheat flour and reducing the cost. One baker informed us he had already reduced the cost of his bread to ten cents a loaf. One, we were told, was already making an oatmeal bread, but owing to the fact we couldn't see the proprietor at the time, we did not find out the proportions. Mrs. Williams particularly wanted to know in each case about the possibility of reduction in cost to the consumers. We were told in a number of cases that, owing to the fact there is not the demand for 'war bread,' it is not yet possible to purchase oatmeal, cornmeal or other substitutes in quantities which will effect a reduction in cost of production. some of the bakers stated that if it is not necessary for them to introduce other machinery they may be able to make a cheaper loaf if it is demanded. If methods of mixing and making bread were standardized by the Government that would solve the problem.

Deliveries Big Item.

"The Government will probably take action in the matter of the cost of bread in the near future. I know that a commission is engaged on investigation at the present. A report I have seen states that all over the dominion a large item in the cost of bread is the house-to-house delivery charges. Eliminate this, and it would mean a reduction in the cost of selling for the baker

DESERTERS AGAIN IN KHAKI UNIFORM AND ESCAPE JAIL

Five Men Are Taken Back On Strength of C. E. F.

John Browe, James Jeffries, G. E. Marshall, I. McIntyre, and L. Durant, the five young men who pleaded guilty to desertion in police court on Wednesday last, were allowed to go on suspended sentence today. Capt. Macauley, assistant provost marshal, on behalf of the military authorities, stated that all five would be taken again on the strength, and asked for suspended sentence on this condition.

Magistrate Graydon expressed satisfaction at the turn of events that permitted the men to become soldiers again instead of being sent to prison.

GUARD DETAILS OF 7TH MAY BE DISBANDED SOON

Active Service Unit Will Cease, According to Military Rumors.

The 7th Guard Details, the active service unit of the 7th Regiment, is about to be disbanded in the near future, according to rumors that prevailed in military circles today.

The members of the Guard Details have rendered good service in carrying out home service duties while their more fortunate fellow soldiers were permitted to go overseas, and although many of the men composing the unit are unfit for overseas service, they have done their share of the work of the war.

RUGBY LEAGUE FOR MILITARY PLAYERS BEING SOUGHT FOR

"Y" Secretary Boosting For New Organization.

The Fairbank trophy is to be presented to the winners of the Military Association Football League in the near future, and a meeting is being held at the Y. M. C. A. hut at Carling Heights Camp tonight, when the Military "Y" Athletic Association will make the final arrangements for the presentation to the winners of the schedule just finished.

Secretary John H. Dawson of the Military "Y" is working hard in an effort to form a rugby league among the units in camp in this city. Owing to the playing off of the "soccer" league schedule, the rugby game has not been taken up seriously as yet, but it is felt that there is still time for a couple of months' good playing. On Wednesday evening a meeting will be held in the "Y" hut, to form the rugby league.

The weekly sports program to be held at Carling Heights Wednesday afternoon will contain some novel features this week, among them mounted events for the benefit of the members of the 63rd Battery. Some good boxing events are also being arranged for the afternoon.

HUSSARS BANDMASTER CALLED FOR SERVICE

Roselle Pococke Will Take Charge of W. O. R. Depot Musicians.

Bandmaster Roselle Pococke of the 1st Hussars has been called out for service to act as bandmaster of the 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment, and will take over his new duties in the near future.

The W. O. R. Band was organized a short time ago, and has done excellent work in the few public appearances that it has made. Under the leadership of Bandmaster Pococke its success is assured.

DOCTORS GIVE CAR TO VICTORIAN NURSES

City Physicians' Gift Enables Order to Give Better Service.

A number of doctors of the city, assisted by a few other friends, have made a Thanksgiving donation to the Victorian Order of Nurses in the shape of a motor car as a mark of appreciation of the work done by the order.

No gift could have been more appreciated, not only by the nurses, but by the members of the board, owing to the saving of time that will be effected in attending the patients, particularly in the case of outlying places impossible to reach by street car. Moreover, two nurses can now attend the districts together.

In every way, the efficiency of the service rendered by the Victorian Order will be greatly promoted.

SERIES OF LUNCHES.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—If arrangements can be made, a meeting of the board of trade will be held during the present week for the resumption of activities after the summer lay-off. It is the intention of the board to conduct a series of lunches, as was initiated last year, and to invite prominent speakers from outside points to address the members of the board at these lunches. Routine and general business which has accumulated during the past few months also remains to be cleared up.

MEDICAL CONVENTION.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—Dr. Smith and Dr. Calder will read papers on "Tonsillectomy" and "Enlarged Prostrate," respectively, at a meeting of the Lambton County Medical Society to be held in Petrolea on Wednesday, October 10. Delegates from this city are invited to attend.

ALL HAD TO PAY.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—Six drunks who were rounded up by the police on Saturday night and Sunday were able to produce the necessary cash for the payment of their fines and were allowed their liberty. One who remained in the cell until this morning was released upon the production of the cash.

WILL START DAIRY.

KINGSVILLE, Oct. 8.—E. J. Wigle 3rd concession, has purchased a carload of 25 young Holstein cows in the eastern market. He intends to do an extensive dairy business, the demands for milk and cream have become so extensive in this locality lately.

A. J. Golden of the 2nd concession intends stocking young cattle for beef production. He will go east to procure a herd for this purpose.

VICTIM KNOWN HERE.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—Although not listed in the 1916 or 1917 directory, Mrs. Florence Stalker, who is reported as one of the crew of the barge Athens, which broke up and sank in Lake Huron, near Southampton, on Sunday morning, was known in this city, and formerly resided here. Postoffice officials state that she formerly called for mail, and was about 38 years of age, instead of 28, as reported.

FALSE ALARM SENT IN—The firemen were called to the corner of Adelaide and Simcoe streets at 12:30 o'clock this morning, but on arrival it was found to be a false alarm, someone having tampered with the box at that corner. Efforts were made to find out who had turned in the alarm, but without success.

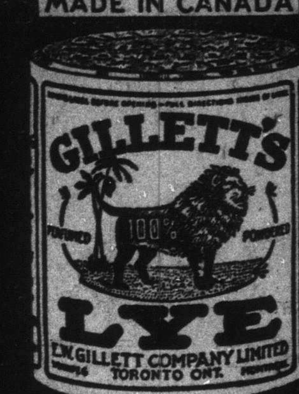

O'DELL—LEAKE.

St. Ann's Church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 5 o'clock Saturday, October 6, when Helen Latham, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Leake, was untied in marriage to Leslie S. O'Dell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. O'Dell of this city. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, by Rev. Lawrence Skey.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smartly tailored suit of taupe broadcloth with hat to match, white fox furs and corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on an extended tour through the States. They will reside in Toronto.

WINGHAM IS DOING ITS SHARE TOWARDS GREATER PRODUCTION

WINGHAM, Oct. 8.—Wingham district will do its share towards greater production for 1918, and the acreage of fall wheat being sown is much larger than usual. Much land that has formerly been used for pasturage is being broken up for grain.

Ald Isbister has a large tractor at work on the farm of Mr. Geddes. One of the plows was smashed by getting caught in a large flat rock. The tractor goes shortly to the farm of a man who has sons at the front, and many acres of wheat will be put in.

Almost 80 per cent. of the Wingham eligibles who have been examined under the military service act are accepted. It is expected that about 150 will be passed here for service.

WAS VERY THIN, GAINED IN WEIGHT

London Lady Has An Interesting Experience Which Is Well Worth the Reading — Why She Could Work Hard and Keep Well.

London, Oct. 9.—Woman's work is often very monotonous, and this is why it "gets on the nerves," and leads to a nervous breakdown. She does not get out into the world where there is change and variety, nor does she have the benefit of fresh air to the same extent that men usually do.

It was under such circumstances, working hard on a farm, that Mrs. Warden's health gave out, and she found herself in a rundown, nervous condition, without appetite, losing weight, and unable to rest or sleep.

Much time was lost through experimenting with medicines before Mrs. Warden heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but once she began using it her appetite improved, and she began to gain in weight. But here is her letter:

Mrs. H. Warden, 784 Grey street, London, Ont., writes:

"Some years ago, we lived in the country, and the heavy work on the farm put my system in a rundown condition. My nerves got the better of me, and I could not sleep at night. My appetite became poor, and I got very thin. I doctored, and took a number of remedies, but did not get any better. One day I read of the good Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was doing for nervous, rundown people, so I tried it, too. The very first box helped me, and by the time I had taken three boxes, I found my system well built up—I was in good health, could sleep well, and was able to do my own work. My appetite improved and I began to increase in weight. My neighbors wondered how I could do the work I did, but I know it was the Nerve Food which made me strong, and I told them so."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.—Advt.

Simply Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

Thousands are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered saxolite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a smug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.—Advt.

A New, Harmless Way to Banish Hairy Growths

[Beauty Topics.]

By following this suggestion any woman can, in the privacy of her own home, remove every trace of hair or fuzz from her face: With powdered delatone and water mix enough paste to cover the not wanted hairs; apply and in two or three minutes rub off and wash the skin. This method is unfailing, harmless and quick in results, but care should be employed to get the genuine delatone.—Advt.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging at the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advt.

FARMERS ARE BUSY FILLING THEIR SILOS AND HUSKING CORN

Large Acreage of Fall Wheat Has Been Sown.

FODDER IS PLENTIFUL

Bean Crop, Nipped by Frost, Is Away Below the Average.

SOUTH DELAWARE, Oct. 8.—Farmers here are very busy silo filling. Silo and husking corn have not cobbed as well as usual, and the crop generally will be below the average. The early frost caused a number of farmers to fill their silos with corn not matured.

Fall wheat seeding is completed and a large acreage has been sown. The wheat that is up looks well, and there is a fair prospect of the crop meeting the winter in good condition.

Threshing of grain is turning out well, although the yield is hardly in keeping with the showing of straw, or up to the earlier high expectations of growers.

Caught by Frost.

The bean crop was caught by the frost and is ripening very unevenly, and will be away below the average yield per acre.

Potatoes are turning out at least an average yield and are of good general quality.

Mangels and turnips will be a fair crop. Apples are almost a total failure. The second crop of clover is turning out only fair for seeds. Finished cattle and lambs are hard to find and hogs are getting very scarce.

Lots of Fodder.

Fodder supplies for the winter on the whole will be fully sufficient, but while there will be an abundance of hay straw corn will be scarcer than usual. Owing to the favorable weather for outdoor work the labor stringency is not being felt so keenly as was expected, and should a fair share of open weather continue farmers generally will be able to complete the acreage of plowing and other fall work.

Henderson Bros., Parson Bros. and Alex McFarlane, Jr., are taking in the fall fairs with their string of horses, and are securing a lot of the red tickets.

Miss Bertha Vicary has returned after visiting her brother at Tempo.

Donald McPherson acted as judge at Mount Brydges Fair on cattle.

Mrs. D. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Kaiser, Alex McFarlane, Jr., and sister Mary are on a motor trip through the west visiting relatives.

Dr. Henderson and wife of Toronto are spending part of their holidays at Henderson Bros. here.

TAKING CATTLE WEST.

MERLIN, Oct. 8.—Two carloads of the choicest cattle of the district, mostly Durhams and Jerseys, are going to the Northwest, for J. E. Lewis of Wetaskiwin, who has been here buying. He is also taking a large quantity of honey to the west.

POTATOES ROTTING.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8. — Potato rot is causing considerable anxiety to many farmers in this section, and it is feared that a large quantity of the late varieties may be ruined. Prospects were bright for a record yield of tubers, but from present indications there will be a big reduction in the crop. Prices have been coming down lately as a result of the large quantities of potatoes being brought in.

MUNITION STRIKE IN 109 GERMAN FACTORIES

Statistics Show That 63,137 Workers Went Out in Three Months.

GENEVA, Oct. 8.—The Swiss labor journel Mettalurgiste gives statistics showing that 63,137 munitions workers from 109 factories in Germany went out on strike during the first three months of the present year, as compared with 3,000 men from 23 factories during the same period in 1916. The reasons for the strikes were bad and insufficient food and the higher cost of living.

BRITISH GUNS COMPEL EVACUATION OF VILLAGE

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The war office tonight issued the following communication, dated Saloniki, Thursday, October 4:

"Hostile detachments which entered Osman Kamila, southwest of Seres, were compelled by our artillery fire to evacuate the village. Saturday we successfully raided Akindjali and Bulamac, east of Lake Doiran. Our airplanes co-operated by dropping bombs on the enemy's batteries and engaging his infantry with machine guns.

"Our air fleet also bombed Ciftlidzik, west of Demir Hissar, where a hostile anti-aircraft gun was put out of action, and Cestovo, northwest of Lake Doiran, where an ammunition dump was damaged."

LAKE OF WOODS MILLS HAVE LARGE PROFIT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8.—The annual statement of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company says that "the western crops are proving most satisfactory as regards both quality and quantity," and that the company has had a progressive year. After providing for interest on bonds, 7 per cent dividend on preferred stock, and 8 per cent on common stock, and writing off $100,000 for depreciation, $142,747.75 was left.

BOARD OF SELECTION WILL FINISH TODAY

OTTAWA, Oct. 8. — The board of selection established to nominate one member of each local tribunal under the military service act meets here tomorrow. It is expected that the nominations will be made without further delay.

A proclamation calling out the first class men is in preparation. It will be published on Saturday.

Regulations governing the tribunals will also be published shortly.

EIGHT INCHES OF SNOW FALLS NEAR RIMOUSKI

QUEBEC, Oct. 8.—The first snowstorm of the season occurred Saturday down the Lower St. Lawrence River and Gulf. In some parishes around Rimouski eight inches of snow fell. At 9 this morning the snow was still on the ground.

ARGLEKEN—BROWN.

MERLIN, Oct. 8.—A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, when their eldest daughter, Tressie, was married to S. A. Argleken of Redford, Mich. Miss Nellie Brown was bridesmaid, and J. Steele of Sarnia assisted the groom. Rev. J. P. McQuarrie of Valetta performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Argleken will reside in Detroit.

DEATH OF SHIPBUILDER.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Robert Weir, president and director of the J. and R. Weir Co., Limited, marine engineers and shipbuilders of this city, died this morning in his 72nd year. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1846, and came to Montreal in 1871, having resided here since.

WILL BE READY SOON.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—The ferry Omar D. Conger, of the Port Huron and Sarnia Ferry Company is not yet ready for service, although it has been out of the drydock for some time. The boilers are now being rebuilt, and new bottom plates are being added. It is expected that the City of Cheboygan will also be placed in drydock for repairs preparatory to the winter season.

NORTHCLIFFE URGES SHORT RATIONS FOR PEOPLE OF CANADA

Economy Practiced in England Unknown Here.

GENERAL HEALTH BETTER

It Has Been Found the Average Person Had Always Eaten Too Much.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—A lecture to the people of Canada on food economy was delivered by Lord Northcliffe, head of the British war mission to the United States in an interview today. Lord Northcliffe said:

"If the Canadian and English soldiers are to get their full rations two things are essential, a greatly increased effort on the part of your farmers to produce more hogs, beef, cheese and butter and an intensified effort on the part of the Canadian people to reduce their personal consumption of food.

No White Bread.

"The great economy now practiced in England is apparently unknown here. There is no such thing as white bread eaten in the old country, from the king's table downwards. There are no pleasure automobiles. Such gasoline as can be obtained by medical men and others is two dollars per gallon, issued and sold under very limited licenses.

"Great Britain is divided into sixteen food districts. The mills, the wholesale stores, and the retail stores are under the control of the Government. Storekeepers are registered and licensed.

No Profiteering.

"Any storekeeper exceeding the regular prices is put out of business. Profiteering is practically impossible. In a recent dispatch which I had from England I saw the name of one profiteer who was fined $25,000 and heavy costs.

"We in Great Britain are undergoing these privations in order that our soldiers may have full rations. There is no starvation or anything approaching it. To be accurate, the public health has been greatly improved by the limitation of eating, for it has been found that the average person had always eaten too much."

SHORTAGE OF COAL CAUSING ANXIETY IN THIS DISTRICT

Cars Brought to Appin Were Emptied in Few Minutes.

GODERICH, Oct. 8.—The small supply of coal on hand here is causing no small anxiety to those whose bins are low. Mayor Munnings is taking the question up with the fuel controller in an effort to obtain enough to meet the needs of citizens. It was thought some coal might come in by water until the embargo was put on recently by the American Government.

EAGERLY BOUGHT UP.

APPIN, Oct. 8.—Two carloads of chestnut coal and one of stove coal have been received here. The teams were on hand in a long line even before the train had the coal cars placed. One car was unloaded in one hour and fifteen minutes.

There is still a shortage here, and many have not anything like enough stored away for their winter needs.

FACTORIES MAY CLOSE.

WINGHAM, Oct. 8.—It is rumored that several local factories may have to close shortly, owing to scarcity of coal. The supplies that have been reaching here are entirely inadequate for the needs of the town for the winter.

INSPECTOR DECLARES LIQUOR SMUGGLING WILL BE PREVENTED

Thousands of Dollars' Worth Coming Across Border. Around Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—"Tipped off" by men whom they failed to supply with liquor, William Johnston, known as "the dude of Windsor," and his wife were arrested Sunday night by the Windsor police, on a charge of smuggling liquor. It is alleged seven bottles of whiskey were concealed in their clothing.

That thousands of dollars worth of liquor is being smuggled into the Dominion by gangs operating from Detroit was stated today by Provincial Officer J. P. Smith. It is planned to establish a guard at Amherstburg and other points along Detroit River to prevent smuggling, the officer said.

As a result of two stores and three residents at Amherstburg being raided Sunday night, charges of violating the Ontario temperance act will be made against owners of the places. They will appear at Amherstburg Thursday.

STEAMER WHICH RAMMED THE EWART PROCEEDED WITHOUT OFFERING HELP

Crew Drifted in Open Boat for Eleven Hours.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 8.—Two of the crew of the British schooner George Ewart, sunk in collision with an unknown steamer in a storm September 10 off the coast of Spain, reached here today on a steamer from Mediterranean ports. The Ewart, from St. Johns, Nfld., for Gibraltar, with a cargo of dried fish, had been reported sunk by a submarine, but the men arriving here say the submarine came up after their ship had been so badly damaged in the collision that she had to be abandoned, and submerged again after finding the Ewart in a sinking condition.

The steamer which struck the Ewart did not stop to ascertain what damage had been done, and the Ewart's crew was eleven hours in an open boat before they reached the Spanish coast.

The other members of the crew were sent home by another route.

N. Y. LONGSHOREMEN, NUMBERING 100,000, QUIT WITHOUT CAUSE

President of Lines Affected Is Outspoken.

SINISTER INFLUENCES?

Walkout Has Blocked Large Quantities of Government Freight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Intimations that a strike of 100,000 longshoremen employed on the piers of the Clyde and Mallory Steamship lines which began today, is the result of sinister influences, were contained in a statement issued tonight by H. H. Raymond, president of both lines. He declared the men had presented no demands, and had no apparent grievances. The walk-out has resulted in a blockade of large quantities of Government freight.

Mr. Raymond declared the cause of the strike was a mystery to him, and asserted he believed "sinister influences" were responsible for it. Gates leading to the piers have been securely locked, the guards have been doubled, and watchmen have been ordered to take extraordinary precautions.

Paul A. Viccarelli, general organizer and vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association, said tonight that the proper officers had not been consulted in regard to the strike, and that he did not approve it, because he believed "whatever matters of discontent there were could have been settled amicably without a strike." President P. J. O'Connor of the Longshoremen's Association arrived in the city tonight to take up the question.

U.S. GOVERNMENT IS URGED TO TAKE OVER PRINT PAPER PLANTS

Commission Scores Defiant Attitude of Paper Producers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — A report recommending Government operation of the print paper and pulp industries during the war, and arraigning what it calls the defiant attitude of print paper producers, has been filed by the printing commission. It will await action at the December session.

Th report says the federal trade commission's finding "show beyond any question that the print paper industry, in its greed for excessive profits, has imposed a most unjust burden on the American press, which faces a serious disaster, if relief cannot speedily be had from the oppressive prices now exacted for print paper."

It adds that the commission, in its recent investigation, exhausted every resource at its command to obtain relief for the publishers, but has been able to get only a small measure of relief owing "to the defiant attitude assumed by the principal producers of print paper and lack of authority of the commission to enforce its findings as to a fair and reasonable price."

ROBERT TIDBALL STANDS HIGHEST IN CORN COMPETITION

FOREST, Oct. 8. — Mr. Rokeby of Port Rowan spent three days in Bosanquet judging the corn crop competition and made the awards as follows: Robert Tidball 86½ points, James Walden 85½, Albert Sercombe 83½, F. A. Jennings 82½, O. Walden 82, C. Borthwick 81½, A. S. Carmichael 81, R. Oliver 80½, Wm. Tidball 79½, G. Valentine 79, G. Jamieson, Jos. Moley, R. Elliott 76, H. Traver, R. Anderson, James French 74, Preston Bass 74½, A. Fitchett 70½. The prize money, amounting to $75, was divided among the first seven named in the amounts, $20, $15, $12, $10, $8 and $6. Some good fields were ruled out owing to the corn being more of ensilage qualities.

Mrs. John Brand of Bosanquet has received a letter from the war office in London, England, stating that her son, Capt. W. D. Brand, of the Army Veterinary Corps, who has been in Saloniki for some time, was admitted to the Officers' Convalescent Hospitay, Kerinsky, suffering from malaria.

The North Plympton Red Cross Society at its annual meeting here reelected last year's officers as follows: President, George Scott; secretary, Mrs. Thomas Blunden; treasurer, D. Smith; buyers, Mrs. Alex Laing and Mrs. Blunden.

A handsome linen and crochet dresser scarf was donated to the Red Cross workers by Mrs. John Clark, the sale of tickets on it amounting to over $31. The holder of the lucky ticket was S. C. Woodworth, public school inspector.

Mrs. James Mock has handed in to the Red Cross rooms her one hundredth pair of socks knit for the Red Cross.

HOSPITAL SUPPLIES FROM MOUNT BRYDGES

MOUNT BRYDGES, Oct. 8. — The last shipment of hospital supplies to Hyman Hall from the Caradoc Circle included 17 flannel shirts, 9 pyjama suits, 66 pairs of socks, 1 parcel of old linen.

The nineteenth anniversary of the Methodist Church was observed yesterday. Sermons were preached morning and evening by Rev. J. E. Holmes, of Ridout Street Church, London. The church officials asked for a thankoffering of $225, which amount was exceeded, the total given being $240.

GOING TO PORT HURON.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—The third degree team of the I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 126 have accepted an invitation from the Port Huron Oddfellows to confer the third degree to a class of candidates in that city on Tuesday evening, October 23.

730 CONSTITUENCIES TO DECIDE RUSSIA'S FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Official Announcement of Electoral Districts.

STRAIGHTENING KINKS

Preliminary Parliament and Present Government Reach Agreement.

STRIKE GOES INTO EFFECT.

PETROGRAD, Sunday, Oct. 7.—(Delayed).—The general railway strike order which promises a complete tie-up of traffic, except sanitary military trains, became effective last midnight.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—An official statement issued today fixes at 730 the number of electoral districts from which are to be elected members of the constituent assembly which is to determine the country's future form of government.

Petrograd will have 20 members, Moscow 19, the Caucasus 36, Kiev 22, and the Valley of the Don 17.

M. Tseretelli, at a secret session of the preliminary parliament, an outgrowth of the democratic congress, yesterday outlined the recent negotiations with the Government, which, he said, led to a speedy agreement on all points except the responsibility of the government to the preliminary parliament. The question was settled, he added, by an agreement that the parliament should be convoked officially and organized by the government.

A Rein on Government.

The parliament would include 120 representatives of non-democratic elements, who would have the right to interpellate the Government, which must reply formally and juridically. The Government would not be responsible to parliament, but no cabinet could continue in existence without the confidence of parliament.

The parliament indorsed the formula covering the question of the responsibility of the Government to parliament by 109 to 84, 22 members abstaining from voting.

M. Tseretelli announced that satisfactory assurances had been given the democratic members of the congress that energetic measures would be taken to convene an inter-allied conference for the revision of treaties, at which democracies would be represented.

FORGED CERTIFICATE OF DEATH RESULTS IN INVESTIGATION

Burial of Percy Cornish Is Held Up in Toronto—Was Given Liquor.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—A forged burial certificate turned up in connection with the death of a man named Percy Cornish at the reception hospital here, and now a searching investigation is under way to find out what there is concealed about the death.

Cornish was admitted to the reception hospital last Thursday night at 10 o'clock, and died Friday morning at 2 o'clock. Undertaker A. W. Miles was summoned to take charge of the remains, and the usual certificate accompanied the body. It bore the signature of Dr. Harvey Clare, who is the assistant superintendent of the Toronto Hospital for the Insane. The undertaker was arranging for the funeral and the registering of the death at the city hall when a telephone message was received from Dr. Clare, who inquired for information respecting the death of Cornish. Dr. Clare was fully informed of the circumstances, and was surprised to hear that the certificate of death was made out in his name.

The funeral was held up pending further investigation by Chief Coroner Arthur Johnson, who delegated Coroner W. J. McCallum to open an inquest.

Physicians connected with the case refused to discuss the developments last night, but the inquiries are known to be proceeding along a line which points to action against parties who supplied a certain kind of liquor to Cornish.

INSPECTOR CHENAY BURIED AT WINDSOR

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—The funeral of David Chenay, former inspector of bilingual schools in Essex County, was held today in St. Alphonsus' Church. He was born at Alfred, Prescott County, 70 years ago. In 1875 he was appointed principal of St. Alphonsus' School, Windsor, where he remained until 1890, when he took charge of the bilingual training school at Plantaganet.

In 1900 he succeeded the late William Girardot as inspector of bilingual schools in Essex County. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Dr. Arthur Chenay of the United States army, Capt. Stanton Chenay, formerly of London, deputy assistant adjutant-general at Ottawa, and William Chenay of Detroit, and two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Curry and Mrs. John R. Turton of Windsor. Two brothers and a sister living at Alfred, Ont., also survive.

AMERICAN ENGINEER HURT IN CHINESE CLASH

PEKING, Sept. 15.—(Correspondence.)—R. A. White, the American engineer, who was more seriously injured than any other foreigner at the time of the conflict between Chang Hsun's troops and the republican troops from Tien Tsin on July 12, is slowly recovering from his wounds. Mr. White was struck in the back by a bullet.

Mr. White is a native of Iowa, and ten years ago he was one of the best known football players in the middle west, where he was captain of the football team of the State University of Iowa. In football circles he was always known as "Cresco" White, Cresco being his native town.

SOLOMON SECORD DIES AT GLADSTONE

DORCHESTER, Oct. 8.—The death of Solomon Secord, one of Gladstone's best known residents, occurred yesterday. He was 62 years old, and besides his widow is survived by three sons, Dr. Dixie Secord, of Omaha, Neb.; Robert, of Gladstone, and Ross at home. The funeral will be conducted Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Clifton, pastor of the Baptist Church, and interment will be made at the Dorchester Cemetery.

Donald Loir, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Armour, died Saturday after a few day's illness with pneumonia, and was buried Sunday forenoon at the Union Cemetery. Rev. Donald McKay conducted the services.

GOT $599.40 FOR ELEVEN BIG HOGS

CLIFFORD, Oct. 8.—Eleven hogs, weighing 3,350 pounds brought here for B. Kerwin by St. Marie Bros., of the Elora road, in Carrick Township, netted the raisers $599.40. The hogs were fine specimens and fetched 18 cents a pound.

PERFECTED FLYING BY NIGHT IS WHAT PUT CRIMP IN ZEPPS

British Aviators Are Specially Trained for Night Work.

SKY IS WELL POLICED

Glimpse Is Given Into Airdrome in Southeastern England.

AN AERODROME IN SOUTHEASTERN ENGLAND, Sept. 29—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—Two principal factors in eliminating the midnight zeppelin raids on London and other British cities, were the perfection of night flying by British airplane pilots and the multiplication of small airplane stations. From these stations powerful air craft could be sent up like hornets to cover every possible avenue of approach whenever the zeppelin fleet attempted invasion. Probably the full story of the elaborate and painstaking steps by which the zeppelin menace was overcome, will not be fully told until after the war. It is now known, however, that every airplane pilot in the British army and navy is required to spend a certain number of hours of his course of training in night flying in the most varied conditions.

A visit to one of these small airplane outpost stations, housing only two machines, on a night when a raider was sighted off the coast, and there was "a bit of work" to be done, showed how they guarded England against night attack:

All Ready for Work.

At nightfall the two airplanes were drawn from their hangars and rolled out ready to be called to work, the work which involves such a strain as has never before been endured by man or wood or iron. Both machines were fully equipped with machine guns, already loaded, aerial torpedoes and flares for landing purposes. The engines were tuned to perfection.

In a tiny office adjoining the hangar sat the officer in charge of the station. Within reach of his right hand was the telephone, and on the desk in front of him a litter of books and papers dealing with the personnel of the two airplanes.

It was just after midnight when the silence was at last broken by the sharp telephone bell. If the message is an order from headquarters the first words must be the authorized password for the night as a guarantee of its authenticity. The officer took off the receiver and listened.

"For America" is the word. "Zeppelin sighted over North Sea traveling north, fifty miles from the coast. Good night."

The Word to Attack.

The officer hung up the receiver and hurried out along behind the hangars to the tent.

"Wake up, you sleepy devils," he said. "Zepps cut skylarking."

The two pilots who were next in turn rose and quickly dressed. Five minutes later they were out beside their machines drinking a steaming can of hot coffee. They climbed in, the engines sputtered and roared, the whole framework quivered under the strain of the curbed power. Released, they moved, gathered up speed, rose quickly off the ground, and disappeared into the darkness of the night.

Patrol Sky for Two Hours.

From below all that could be seen was the stars blotted from sight, first one then another, as the airplanes circled around gaining their height. They turned eastward and soared out toward the sea, past the town beneath the cliffs, while far below passed a streak of red, the midnight train for London. Still higher they climbed, until the cold became intense, crisscrossing back and forth over their allotted "beat," always on the lookout for the enemy.

No sign of the raiders was to be seen, but the two policemen of the sky remained aloft until petrol and oil began to get low in their gauges. Then they turned homeward and glided quietly to earth. The landing was effected after just two hours aloft.

CAPTAIN CUNNING LOUDLY CHEERED FOR HIS EXPLOIT

Salvages Str. Western Star After 2 Years' Hard Work.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—Capt. Alex. Cunning, wrecking master of the Great Lakes Towing Company, was saluted by whistles and bells as he stood on the bridge of the tug Favorite today, passing down the St. Clair, towing the steamer Western Star, raised after two seasons of hard work. The steamer is of steel construction, 490 feet in length, and required a cofferdam of 440 feet. The salvaged steamer is being taken to Detroit, where it will be rebuilt, and is expected to be in operation next season.

AIRPLANES TAKE PART IN TRENCH RAIDS BY FRENCH IN BALKANS

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The French official statement from Macedonia reads:

"Eastern theatre: Slight activity was displayed by the artillery along the whole front. In the region of Doiran two raids, supported by airplanes, entered the enemy lines, which they partially destroyed.

"In the Skumbi valley a contingent of Essad Pasha's forces took some Austrian prisoners."

URUGUAY WILL HOLD GERMAN AS HOSTAGE

Must Be Satisfied of Safety of Her Own Officials.

MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 8.—The Uruguayan Government, which has severed diplomatic relations with Germany, has notified the German charge d'affaires not to leave the country until the Uruguayan diplomatic representatives are safely out of Germany.

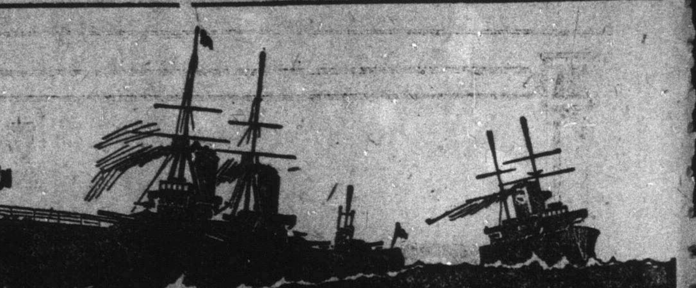

The Government has asked Congress to approve the utilization by Uruguay of the interned German ships.

SAN DIEGO NEWSPAPER CALLS ON CHILE TO ACT

SAN DIEGO, Chile, Oct. 8.—La Nation calls the attention of the Government to the decision of Peru and Uruguay respecting the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Germany. It says that it would be pertinent promptly to solve the problems arising from the international situation as Chile might remain isolated and in a condition of disadvantage so far as concerned those countries which, by seizing interned German steamers will have at their disposal large tonnage.

TERRIBLY INJURED BY FRACTIOUS HORSE

KINGSVILLE, Oct. 8. — Edward Steed, a farmer living on the Townline at Arner, was accidentally kicked by one of his horses while catching it in the pasture field. His breast bone and several ribs were broken. He is progressing favorably.

BRITISH ADMIRAL SAYS

ROYAL NAVAL CLUB,
To the Zam-Buk Co. Portsmouth, England.
Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable.
(Signed) RODNEY M. LLOYD, Admiral.

ENTIRE CREW PRAISES ZAM-BUK

From Admiral to stoker, all grades of service praise Zam-Buk. Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin on my arm. At once the ship's surgeon dressed the burn, but the injury would not heal owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe causing blood-poison. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

Zam-Buk cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ring-worm, bad leg, varicose ulcers, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, babies' sores, etc. All stores at 50c., or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

ALBERT SCARSBROOK FELL OVER DEAD ON STREET AT PETROLEA

Death Came Unexpectedly to Prominent Business-man.

PETROLEA, Oct. 8. — Albert Scarsbrook, one of Petrolea's best-known and most esteemed citizens, dropped dead in front of Dale's drug store today from heart-failure. He came to this country in 1881 from Woodstock, in Oxfordshire, England, and had since conducted a departmental store here, with great success. His death was entirely unexpected. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Alberta, Bessie and Helen, and one brother, Fred, of this tiwn.

ANNUAL RALLY OF GUELPH B. Y. P. U. LARGELY ATTENDED

A. Hudson of Hespeler Is New President.

KITCHENER, Oct. 8.—The tenth annual rally of the B. Y. P. U. of the Guelph Association of Baptist Churches held here today was largely attended, and successful throughout. A formal welcome was extended to the three hundred delegates by J. W. McDonald of the Benton Street Baptist Church, and was responded to by Mr. Brewer of Galt.

The morning session was devoted to the business of the rally, and election of officers, the following being chosen: Honorary president, Rev. Hines of Hespeler; president, A. Hudson, Hespeler; first vice, L. L. Lecuyer, Kitchener; second vice, H. Davidson, Guelph; recording secretary, Gerald Coon, Preston; corresponding secretary, Miss Bartist, Brampton; treasurer, J. W. McDonald, Kitchener.

During the afternoon the delegates listened to two addresses by Rev. Dr. Gordon of Guelph, on "The Basis of Our Faith," and a second by Rev. A. H. Fromow of Brampton on "The Practice of Faith."

A workers' conference was conducted by Rev. Wiesle of New Hamburg, and brought out many interesting facts regarding young people's work. Many hints were given also as to how best to carry on the work of this branch. The next annual rally will be held in New Hamburg.

SPECIAL SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED IN BLENHEIM RINK

BLENHEIM, Oct. 8.—The evangelistic campaign opened last night in the skating rink, under the direction of Revs. Johnston and Leckie and assistants. The opening service was largely attended, many coming for miles in the country to attend.

Rev. Mr. Johnston, who is the leader of the party, was called away during the day to near Dresden to be at the bedside of his father, who was said to be dying. Rev. Mr. Leckie preached the opening sermon.

Chorister Swartzbugh led in song, a union choir of over a hundred voices. Mrs. and Miss Huntly, two members of the party, sang in splendid voice two selections.

Mrs. (Rev.) Johnston and the other members addressed the gathering briefly, as did also Revs. D. N. McCamus, J. Hunter of Charing Cross, Beveridge of Mull, and James of Guilds.

SWEDEN HAS DECIDED UPON STRICT NEUTRALITY

Must Maintain Commercial Relations With Both Belligerents.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 8.—In response to the king's appeal for unity, the leaders of all parties, Conservatives, Liberals and Socialists, have sent replies that all agree to the absolute necessity of the new Government observing strict neutrality in the war, regardless of consequences. The Conservatives emphasize the importance of maintaining commercial relations with both groups of belligerents. The Liberals and Conservatives are favorable to a coalition ministry, but the Socialists consider this solution impossible, on the ground that the fundamental domestic conditions for affiliation are lacking.

DISPUTED RACE WAS RUN OFF AT BLENHEIM

BLENHEIM, Oct. 8.—The 2:50 race, which was disputed at the fair on Friday, and was not completed, was run off Saturday afternoon. Only two of the horses showed up. A few of the directors and a few others were present. The results were:

1 Jack Forbes, 2 John McDougall. Forbes won three heats and McDougall one.

BURIED AT CLIFFORD.

CLIFFORD, Oct 8.—The funeral of Robert Parker, held from the residence of E. H. Hillhouse, was largely attended. He suffered a paralytic stroke recently and never rallied.

TREK FROM CAMP BORDEN.

CAMP BORDEN, Oct. 8. — The first detachment of troops to leave for Toronto, where headquarters will be made for the winter at the exhibition grounds, started on the trek at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

NUMBER OF RUSSIAN WORKMEN REFUSE TO OBEY STRIKE ORDER

Simferopal and Vladivostok Railway Unions Attest Loyalty.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—The railway strike which went into effect at midnight Sunday and which it is intended at the present time to affect through services has only been partially effective, according to information received from the ministry of traffic today. Local trains continue running and the Finnish Railway also is operating. No trains have left for Moscow or beyond from Petrograd.

Premier Kerensky has received word from the Simferopol Railway union protesting its unwillingness to observe the strike order, declaring it is unpatriotic. A similar attitude has been taken by the Vladivostok Railway employees.

The strike plan contemplates the stopping of all local services Tuesday and all traffic, freight and passenger, on Wednesday unless the demands of the men for an increase in wages are granted.

WOMEN REFUSE TO SIGN PLEDGE CARDS UNLESS GOVT. ACTS

BRUSSELS, Oct. 8.—Many local and district women are balking over signing the food service pledge cards until the Government shuts off the wasting of grain in distilleries and breweries.

Rev. Mr. McCallum, Lucknow, will address the annual thank-offering of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Shurrie and Sharpe sold 19 pigs, for which they received the handsome sum of $725.

Bobs Campbell, youngest son of Angus Campbell, has gone to the Normal School in London.

At the rally day Sabbath school service in the Methodist Church, "The Door of Hope" was presented as a missionary program.

Choir Leader Mulheron of the Presbyterian Church has arranged to give a concert at Ethel for the benefit of the Red Cross on Friday, October 19. The choir will supply the program.

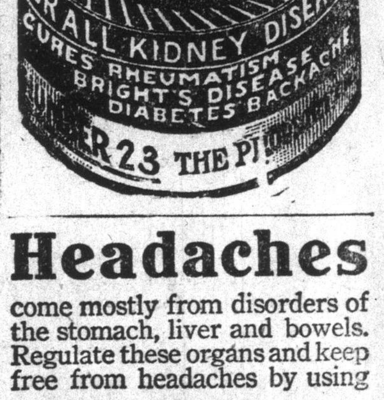

The electric light plant is working fine and if the coal supply can be solved Brussels should fare very well this fall.

Pte. Harvey Willis of Wingham, who died in England from pneumonia, was a nephew of N. F. and Mrs. Gerry, Brussels.

Frank Davidson left Brussels recently for Florida, where he will go into the orange-growing business. Mrs. Davidson and children will remain here for a while.

RESIDED HERE 40 YEARS.

SPARTA, Oct. 8.—The funeral of Mrs. James A. Learn, held from the family residence here, was largely attended. Interment was made at London. About a year ago Mrs. Learn was stricken with paralysis and never recovered. Before coming to Sparta she resided in London 40 years. Her husband survives.

Canadian Market---Some Autumn Investment Suggestions

The prosperous condition of this country, owing to the large crops and abnormal prices of farm produce, as well as the continued large expenditures for war materials, must sooner or later be reflected in higher prices of the better class of Canadian securities. For the last two years, most of our industries have been making such large profits that they have been able, not only to liquidate their floating liabilities, but also to build up reserves for working capital and sufficient surplus profits to guarantee their present dividends for years to come. With another good year safely behind them a number of companies will be in a position to distribute larger amounts to their shareholders.

At the present moment many of our most stable securities are selling far below their real value when it is taken into consideration that their present dividends are not only assured, but that higher dividends or bonuses may be expected.

It is certainly the investors' opportunity, and speculators who can afford to put up ample margins may also profit by using discretion in their purchases.

The following list, showing present and former prices and yield at present prices, speaks for itself:

	High Price	Present Price.	Present Yield.
Canada Cement	72	61	9.83
Canadian Locomotive	67	58	10.34

Net earnings, 1917, after deducting bond interest and war taxes 631,254.90

This company is assured of profitable business for years to come. At $60 per share the common stock yields 10 per cent. There is no reason why this company should not pay larger dividends next year.—McCuaig Bros.' Letter.

Canadian Pacific Is Cheap at Present Price

A LITTLE HISTORY.

In 1908 the Canadian Pacific gave its stockholders the right to subscribe to the extent of 20 per cent of their holdings to new common stock at $120 per share; the value of the stock was then between 170 and 200 per share. In 1911 they gave a similar right to take new stock at $150 per share to the extent of 9 per cent of their current holdings; the value was then from 210 to 240 per share. In 1913 a similar offer was made at $175 per share, and to the extent of 30 per cent of the stockholders' holdings; at that time the value of the shares ranged from 240 to 260. Thus, had the holder of 100 shares during these periods sold his "rights" in the open market for cash at the approximate prices prevailing, he would have received in 1900 about $1,200; in 1911, about $630, and in 1913 about $2,250, or $4,080 in all these special amounts being entirely in addition to his original investment and his current cash dividends.—Moody's Service.

THE NEW CANADIAN LOAN

Great preparations are being made for the early launching of the next Canadian war loan. The banks, bond houses, government departments and large corporations, ably assisted by the best advertising copy writers and campaign organizers, will freely co-operate to make it a great success, and no doubt it will be. The people, as a whole, are becoming more familiar with this form of investment, with its absolute safety, and much of the savings throughout the country, which have been previously held from any fixed investment ought to be forthcoming for the present loan. It would undoubtedly help the sale of the bonds materially if the banks could see their way to loan to puchasers 70 to 80 per cent of the subscription price at the same rate of interest as the net return on the bonds, and allow the purchaser to pay deferred balances at the rate of say. 5 per cent per month. Since the security is absolute and 20 per cent of the purchase cost would be added, it would seem that such an arrangement would induce a great many to invest their savings in this way, in the indulgence of a patriotic spirit. Every man and woman SHOULD feel proud to know that in some way they were really doing all possible, to them, toward winning this war. Any apparent difficulty in securing funds for the furtherance of our struggle against the insane lust for power and dominancy of an unscrupulous and brutal nation strengthens the morale of the Central Powers, and they will be the world's most interested spectators of the progress made by the United States and Canada in the placing of the present issues of war loan bonds within the specified time limits.

EVERY HEAD OF A FAMILY.

[Editorial From the Atlanta Georgian.]

Did you ever stop to think that you are actually the president of a corporation? Perhaps not, but it is true. Every head of a family is the head of a business. Every husband and father is the president of a little corporation in which his wife and children are the stockholders. Every unmarried man is the prospective head of such a corporation, and, wittingly or unwittingly, is working toward that end. . . . .

Suppose you knew that you had to die tomorrow, next week, next year. Is your business in such shape that the little company of which you are the head could go on without a stop? Have you provided for a reserve fund to run that business?

You know that you must die some time. It's a fact that you don't like to face, but it's true, and you know it's true. And you know that when you are gone your wife and children must still go on with the business. Whether they can do so successfully or not depends upon you and what you do to provide for the carrying on of that business of the family corporation. . . .

The Georgian wants every reader to ask himself this question: "If I should die tomorrow, what would become of my family? Am I leaving them the capital successfully to carry on the business of the home? Will my wife have to become a drudge—will my children be deprived of proper schooling?"

Perhaps you are a businessman, struggling in the marts of trade with other businessmen, and by your energy and ability earning a good living for your family—making money.

But do you think of your family?

When you stop to think, you realize that all business endeavor is a hazard, that many things may happen to upset your plans, wipe out your capital, leave you penniless or incapable of work.

What then? . . . . .

We believe that life insurance is the surest provision a man can make for the continuance of a successful family business.

We do not want to frighten anyone. We are not in sympathy with fear in any way. But we do want to say: "Beware the wolf." You might ask the vice-president of your little corporation, your wife, what she thinks about it.

WALL STREET CONDITIONS.

The continued decline in prices of first-class securities notwithstanding the efforts of the bankers' pool of $200,000,000 for the steadying of money rates call to our attention very forcibly the apparent want of confidence on the part of investors in the future earning powers of the large organizations under the latest Government taxing plans. It is just a question whether some of the weaker industries will be able to stand up under the heavy burden, while many others may experience depreciated net earnings. At any rate, it is noticeable that no effort can make the present anything other than a trading market. There is an absence of leaders on either side, and for weeks the market has been a sliding one in the direction of making unexampled bargains for the shrewd investor. It is, however, strange to us, looking at the market from this distance, that those who have assumed so large a part of the responsibility for the success of the Liberty Loan bonds, should allow the present unpropitious conditions to obtain. Those with whom the larger money resources rest, seem to be extremely cautious, while the bears, seeing and realizing from past experience, the possibilities for profits in aggressive attacks upon such a situation, have not hesitated to enhance in this way their financial strength for the upward movement they know as well to be inevitable. Wall Street is the barometer of financial conditions in the United States, and liberal subscription to any security that promises to tie up large amounts of funds for a long time can hardly be expected to be universally popular among the daring investors, who must now look upon large paper losses in purchases of what in ordinary times, would be classed A.A.A.I. It may be that the man of large means, fearing heavy taxes on income is unloading, while the man of smaller means, having no reason for entertaining such fears, is gradually accumulating "a little pot of the best" at unprecedented bargains. However, we believe too much stress has been laid upon the effect of taxes on business profits. Industries have made enormous profits; they will still make good profits. Dividends on preferred stocks, with unbroken dividend records, will continue. The railway situation is clearing daily. There is no occasion for holders of good stable securities to throw them overboard at present slaughter prices.

THE BEST EXECUTOR

As the best way to create an estate is by means of A LIFE INSURANCE POLICY, so the best executor is THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. The ordinary executor may discount the future by providing for his wards too lavishly for the present. He may speculate or waste the estate by unfortunate investment. He may even prove to be dishonest and rob the trusting heirs of their inheritance. There are today, as there always have been, thousands of gently bred women and children who were left amply provided for and whose estates have been thus lost. The executor at any rate must himself die and give place to another. Sometimes also the losses occur through the mismanagement, misfortune or dishonesty of husbands, brothers or other relatives or trusted friends. A large policy to be paid in continued installments during life is the surest and best estate a man can leave. The insurance company will be an executor who will neither die nor prove recreant to its trust.

NEUTRALS WRITHING.

HOLLAND and Sweden are writhing under the absolute embargo imposed by Great Britain, and, according to Washington, are uttering veiled threats as to what will happen if it is not removed.

Holland and Sweden, especially the latter, have been playing the Teutons' game for them because of the financial profits it entailed. Sweden has no claim to any leniency from the British. While it is not certain that the Swedes as a nation approved or were aware of the entangling alliances formed by their ministers abroad with the Germans, it is sure that they have failed to deal in an effective way with their foreign minister and his underlings. So much for their foreign policy.

It is certain that both Sweden and Holland have done much to mitigate the effects of the British blockade of Germany. The help they have sold to the Germans has only been limited by their own absolute requirements; Teuton gold has induced them to break faith with the Allies by importing goods in order that they might export to the Huns, and this while their own ships and men were being sent to the bottom of the seas by German submarines. Hence the embargo.

If this embargo is imposing such conditions that the two neutral countries will be forced into becoming belligerents, they have the choice of which cause they will espouse. The Swedes are under treaty not to do anything unless Norway agrees, which almost certainly means that they will join the Allies if they decide to take up arms. The people of Holland are said to be pro-Ally, and they live near enough to Germany to fear and hate her methods. Will fear weigh with the Dutch? Surely not, in the light of her valiant past. They have the choice, and if they go to war it is reasonable to expect it will be on the side of right. They would gain nothing by joining the central powers.

READY TO SELL OUT THE COUNTRY.

A NEWSPAPER that will defend the C. N. R. steal is ready to see Canada sold out to the millionaires. A member of Parliament who voted for the measure lined himself up as an enemy of this country's interests, rather than as a representative chosen to express the voice of his constituents.

Only two Conservative members raised their voices in opposition to the C. N. R. proposals by means of which millions were voted for stock which should not have cost the country a dollar. They were Messrs. Nickle and Bennett, and since the last session both have announced that they will not be candidates at the next election. Is it not singular that these two men should have refused to longer serve their party as members? Does it not suggest that they were sickened of the whole sordid transaction?

THE BELLS! THE BELLS!

IN ITS ISSUE of August 6, 1917, the local Conservative paper in referring to the newsprint fiasco, spoke of the course pursued by the present Government in the following language:

NO WONDER THERE IS TALK THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOMINATED BY THE "MONEYED INTERESTS."

Those words and many others which intimated that trickery was being practiced on the newspapers and the public by the Government, were uttered by the newspaper that now professes, hypocritically, that the same administration is not deserving of censure.

Our local contemporary was hit in the pocket, like all other newspapers, through the dallying of the Government with the newsprint issue. It was a good thing to get its resentment off its chest, but now it has come back into the fold. Perhaps further lucrative Government advertising contracts are on the way that will help to offset the increase in the price of newsprint.

But let those who know that "the Government is dominated by the 'moneyed interests,'" ring the sleighbells of memory in the ears of this journalistic Mathias. It struck the blow when it was angry. The Bells! The Bells!

GOVERNMENT BETRAYED PEOPLE IN C. N. R. STEAL.

THE economic rottenness of the C. N. R. purchase bill, rushed through Parliament by the Borden Government, is emphasized by the desperate efforts made by Conservative papers to cover up its most objectionable features and to lay stress on the iniquities which the Government has avoided perpetrating. Nowhere is there established any justification for the action of the Government in laying the country open to a bill of possibly $60,000,000 for C. N. R. common stock, when there was no need to give the opportunity to the stockholders to charge one cent.

"It is not true that the Government has awarded the C. N. R. one cent for its $60,000,000 of common stock," says one of the most rabidly partisan Conservative papers. No one has said it was true. The paper in question, like others of its stripe, is denying statements that have never been made. But, it is true, and cannot be denied, that the Borden Government has handed over to arbitrators the power to award this huge amount, or any part of it, to the stockholders for stock which should have already passed into the hands of the nation, free of further cost, because of the failure of the company to meet its obligations. The stock has been declared worthless by the commission appointed by the Government, whose report says:

"We conclude, therefore, that the shareholders of the company have no equity, either on the ground of cash put in, or on the ground of physical reproduction cost, or on the ground of the saleable value of their property as a going concern If, then, the people of Canada have already found, or assumed responsibility for, the bulk of the capital; if they must needs find what further capital is required; and if they must make up for some years to come considerable deficits in net earnings, it seems logically to follow that the people of Canada should assume control of the property."

Had the Government the power to assume control without further cost? Here is section 24 of the contract entered into between the Government and the company, and ratified by Parliament in 1914:

If authorized by the Parliament of Canada the governor-in-council may, on such terms and conditions (if any) as Parliament may prescribe, at any time while any event of default may exist, and be continuing, by order declare the equity of redemption of the Canadian Northern and of all other persons whomsoever in the mortgaged premises to be foreclosed, and thereupon the equity of redemption of the Canadian Northern (and of such other persons) in the mortgaged premises, and every part thereof, shall be and become absolutely barred and foreclosed, and the same shall thereupon be vested in his majesty, in right of the Dominion of Canada, any statutory enactment or any rule of law or equity to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sir Herbert Ames, a prominent member of the Government at that time, interpreted this clause, saying in part:

"Ordinarily it is a very slow process to foreclose a railroad and for the bond-holders gradually to take possession of the physical assets thereof. The Government in this case, however, has supplied a method of quick procedure, whereby the axe drops instantly, and whereby there can be no coming back for further assistance. . . Should the Canadian Northern or any of the previously guaranteed securities or hereafter guaranteed securities fail to pay the interest, they would commit an event of default. If any part of the system goes into the hands of a receiver; if any branch of the whole tree shows any sign of decay, that is an event of default, and in any of these events the Government can drop the axe without delay. . . The trial is over." . .

Since the contract was signed, default has occurred twice, but the axe has not fallen. Furthermore, it has been lowered now, without hurting the company, thus removing the threat.

The above furnishes absolute proof that the Government is not acting in the interests of the people, but in the interests of the C. N. R. stockholders; is encouraging the imposition of a huge debt upon the nation for the benefit of its moneyed supporters. Curiosity as to how much of the arbitrators' award will revert to those who have so boldly advocated the steal is not wanting.

In the wild endeavors of the Conservative papers to cloak the misdeeds of the Borden Government, they make admissions damaging to their cause. For instance: "Having determined that no more public money should go into a railroad that has already received so much public funds, the Government's alternative was to take over the road in the public interest." But that is just what the Government has not done: it has determined to pour millions of dollars, not into the railroad, it is true, but into the pockets of its shareholders. After having done this, it will then have to put more money into the business to continue it.

The C. N. R. automatically passed into the hands of the people when it failed to pay its interest; acting as the agent of the people the Borden Government betrayed its trust and refused to take over their possession without giving the defaulters ample opportunity to extract more money. That is the plain, self-evident fact.

A SERMON THAT SCORED.

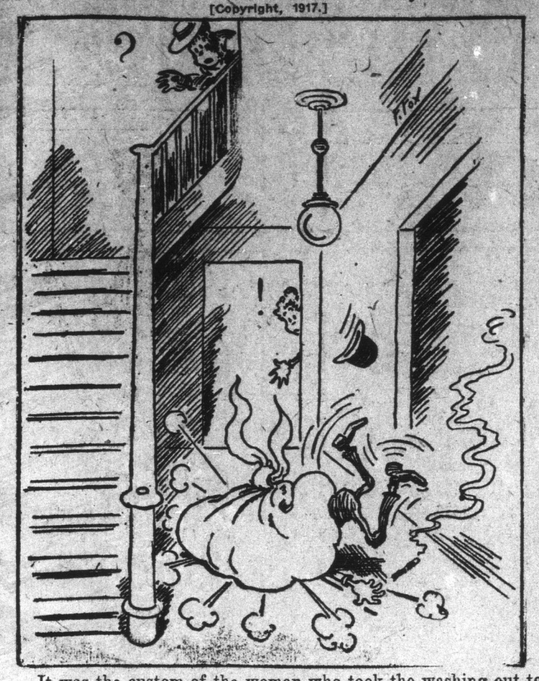

[Hamilton Times.]

Rev. W. E. Pescott, pastor of the Dundas Centre Methodist Church, London, and well known here, in his Sunday evening sermon scored the Dominion Government. He declared that "Nothing more diabolical has ever been written than the story of conditions as they are today in Canada, the story of graft, and fraud and profiteering. What has the food controller done, allowing the grain combine in the West to set the price of wheat? How about allowing the millers to get $5 profit on a barrel of flour? Potatoes were never more plentiful, yet they are four times the price that they ought to be at the present time." Mr. Hanna should see to this.

ONE OF THREE.

By Dorothy Douglas.

Walgrove turned from the box office. Disappointment was written on his face.

"There's not a seat to be had, Sis. I'm frightfully sorry. But I expected it. There hasn't been a show like 'Back There' on Broadway for some time."

His sister, Peggy, reflected his disappointment. However, she smiled. "It can't be helped, Vance," she said cheerfully, "but I should love to have seen it before going back home."

They were leaving the foyer reluctantly when two girls approached them.

"We have one seat extra in the fifth row," the elder of the two girls said, addressing herself to Peggy; "if you care to take it—it will help us out."

"We wanted two," Walgrove returned quickly, being quite accustomed to this manner of purchasing seats; "my sister is only in town until tomorrow, and I wanted especially to take her tonight." He lingered a moment while the two girls conferred in undertones.

The elder agin spoke, this time addressing Walgrove:

"Miss Gale says she will let you have her seat since it is the only night your sister can come. Perhaps she and Miss Weeks will get seats another time."

"Oh!" Peggy exclaimed swiftly, and, turning to the girl: "this is too good of you. I wouldn't think of using your seat." She saw with swift comprehension that the girls had no doubt bought the seats many weeks in advance by way of a rare treat. They apparently toiled for their theatre tickets a few extra nights a week.

Gladys Gale answered, a slight blush making her even more charming to look upon. "I am only happy to let a soldier have my seat," she said. "Nan Weeks and I will come another time." She spoke for a moment with her companion; then, with a swift nod which included both Walgrove and his sister, she went out of the theatre.

"It is awfully good of your friend," Peggy continued speaking when, after Walgrove had exchanged four dollars for the two seats, they all went into the theatre. "You see, my brother may be called out any moment, and I wanted to see as much of him as possible." She gazed rather proudly at the big man in khaki, and so did Miss Greene.

The latter, much inclined to conversation, told Peggy about the small flat she had with the two other girls.

"I just kind of keep an eye on Gladys and Nan," she said. "I'm a good deal older and feel motherly toward them. We all work during the day and now Nan has taken up Red Cross work. That's the reason she had to give up her seat tonight. She's been waiting for a vacancy in the home care class and didn't expect it to come so soon."

"Miss Nan must be a plucky little woman," commented Vance, and Peggy felt rather ashamed of being an almost idle person.

"One of the finest," affirmed Miss Greene. "Nan has looked forward for many weeks to seeing her favorite in 'Back There' and gave it up without a murmur when she found out her class was called. Both Gladys and I tried to dissuade her, but she refused to miss the lesson."

The rising of the curtain prevented further chatter, but Vance was conscious that his sister welcomed feminine companionship as well as his own. He heard them make soft comment on gowns and setting, which he as a mere man failed to appreciate. Altogether, Miss Greene was an agreeable addition to the party.

During the intermission Miss Greene again spoke of the small flat.

"I suppose Gladys and Nan will be making some delicious savory about this time. We always plan something awfully good to eat before retiring—in fact, make a regular evening of it when we are extravagant enough to get theatre tickets.

She glanced laughingly at Miss Walgrove and found that young lady's eyes wistful. She drew a quick breath. After all, she reasoned, perhaps wealthy people envied the working people their power of enjoyment.

Peggy voiced her thoughts. Her eyes remained wistful. "You see, I don't know many girls in the city, and those whom I have met only care for restaurants and dancing. I quite envy you your little homey flat and late suppers. I suppose you have little studio aprons and a tiny kitchenette and pink potted plants in the windows."

Miss Greene laughed quickly. "You could not have described us better had you been in our flat." She paused a moment in thought while she cast a swift, searching look at Vance Walgrove. "He seems human," was her inward comment. She turned again to Peggy. "If you and your brother will come I will be so glad to telephone the girls to prepare enough supper for five instead of three tonight."

"Oh! I should just love it!" Peggy's real delight shone in her eyes. "I will persuade Vance while you are telephoning."

She had little difficulty with her brother. Aside from wanting to please Peggy, he felt that he wanted to get as much out of life as possible. He knew that should he be called to the trenches there would be many a night when he would long for a little homey flat and a charming girl or two busying herself about him.

Miss Greene telephoned, and when the play was over a taxi whirled them swiftly down to the little flat in West Twenty-fourth street. It was all that Peggy had dreamed of. The girls, Nan and Gladys, were waiting, and a savory odor greeted the three from the theatre.

After introductions Walgrove naturally drifted toward Nan Weeks. She was slim and pale and seemed quite unable to stand the strain of toying all day long and studying nursing in the evening.

"But I would far rather die in a nurse's uniform than in ordinary office clothes," she argued softly to Walgrove, "and I will have the satisfaction of knowing I tried to help in this great big fight for humanity. I don't want to live—if I am only to eat food and wear garments that useful people need."

Since there was no arguing with her Walgrove could only admire her and agree that she was right.

"You are doing your part," she ended with a glance at his khaki, "so let me do mine."

The evening was altogether charming and they were all sorry when it was over. Peggy was especially expressive of her enjoyment.

"It's these unexpected meetings that make life interesting," she said. "Three or four hours ago none of us even knew of the other's existence and now we seem always to have been friends. It was very good of you to bring us here."

Walgrove wanted to take Nan and Gladys to "Back There," since they had missed it, but neither was willing that he should sit through it twice.

"Then I'll get two more chaps and make a party of six," he announced. "I'm sorry you won't be here, Peg," he added.

"So am I," agreed Peggy, "but maybe if you sail for France I will come on to see you off and then we can have another party." With that they all reluctantly shook hands.

Nan Weeks was dimly conscious of the warmth which lingered about her hand after Walgrove had gone. In fact all three girls were curiously elated over something. None knew just what it might be.

During the drive back to the hotel Peggy talked much of the evening. "Nan Weeks is far too beautiful and sweet to nurse soldiers," she said firmly. "They will one and all fall desperately in love with her and their fevers will soar sky high whenever she tends them."

Walgrove was silent. Presently he spoke, having followed a trend of thought. "All the doctors and head nurses take secretaries with them to France. I would far rather she were a secretary than a nurse, and I will speak to some of our doctors and get her placed. And I am going to take a couple of nice chaps up there—two that I know are just hungry to meet girls like Gladys Gale and Miss Greene. Those girls are far too fine to waste themselves on the fellows they are thrown in with."

"Just exactly what I felt," cried Peggy. "You could marry those lovely girls off in no time. So many soldiers want to marry before going abroad." She turned laughingly to Vance and her fingers twined about his. "But that will leave Nan all alone," she teased.

"Peggy—you're a brick! I knew you were seeing Nan Weeks as my wife almost before I did." He squeezed her hands affectionately. "I will have to make quick work of it, for we may be called any day to France."

And Nan, not knowing that she was to sail as a doctor's secretary and not a Red Cross nurse's aid, dreamed that she was in a hospital in France mitering sheets on an endless chain of beds. A big khaki-clad soldier was carried in and he opened his eyes and looked straight into her own. There was love in his eyes—much love—and it was all for her. She smiled softly in her dream.

A Simple Apron Style.

2127—This model has several good features. The big, roomy pocket and the smooth-fitting front gore will appeal at once to the neat housekeeper. The style is good for gingham, chambray, sateen, alpaca, lawn, cambric and percale.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: Small 20-22, medium 24-26, large 28-30, and extra large 32-34 inches waist measure. Medium size will require 3½ yards of 36-inch material. Price 10 cents. With the apron you may wear a housedress made after Pattern 1435, which is cut in sizes 34 to 44 inches bust measure. This dress may be readily developed in simple, inexpensive material, such as percale, gingham or chambray, and serve for porch or afternoon wear.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Preserve the Leaves.

Dear Miss Grey,—One of the readers was asking how to preserve maple leaves, so I would like to tell her. These may be easily preserved and retain their natural tints, or nearly so, by either of the following methods: As they are gathered they may be laid between the leaves of a magazine until the book is full, and left with a light weight upon them until the moisture of the leaves has been absorbed. Two or three thicknesses of paper should intervene between the yeaves. If the leaves are large or in clusters, take newspapers, lay them on a shelf, and use in the same manner as above. Then dip the leaves into melted wax (such as is used for moulding fruits, etc.) into which you have put a few drops of turpentine, and lay upon newspapers to harden perfectly. This will make the leaves pliable and natural and gives sufficient gloss. Great care should be taken that the wax is of right temperature. This can be ascertained by the first leaf that is dipped in. Draw out gently over the pan both sides of the leaf, and hold it up by the stem. If the wax is too hot the leaf will shrivel; if too cold it will harden in lumps on the leaf. Another method is to iron each leaf with a middling hot iron until the moisture is all out. Are best without varnish.

A Few Hints About Fowl.—Common fowl will be plump on the breast and fat on the back if good. When young, the legs and comb are smooth. Turkeys, when fresh killed, will have clear, full eyes and moist feet. In old birds the legs are rough and reddish; in the young smooth and black. When geese are old, the bills and feet are red; when young, yellow. If fresh killed the feet will be pliable; if too long kept they will be stiff. Ducks and pigeons, when in good condition and fresh, will have plump breasts and pliable feet. These are simply general directions, but quite necessary if one would be an expert in marketing.

To take ink out of linen, dip the spotted part in pure tallow melted; then wash out the tallow, and the ink will disappear. To extract ink from cotton, silk and woolen goods, saturate the spot with spirits of turpentine and let it remain several hours, then rub it between the hands. It will crumble away without injuring either the color or texture of the article.

Miss Grey, perhaps you will think I am coming too often, but I do like to help others all I can. FADED LILY.

Ans.—And that's the right spirit, "F. L." Never be afraid to come as often as the helpful spirit prompts you.

Seven Maple Leaves.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are sure you will be able to guess that each "Maple Leaf" wants a "lonely's" address. So we do, one for each, and "we are seven." We planted potato gardens at school and are planning to use the money from the sale of the potatoes to make Christmas boxes for the "lonelies." Will you please send them as soon as you can find time, Miss Grey, as we would like to write once before sending our boxes. Don't you like our name? MAPLE LEAVES.

Ans.—Yes, indeed, very much, and it seems particularly appropriate in view of the patriotic effort you are making for the Canadian Tommies. It may tax our list to find seven "lonelies" all at once, but I'll try hard.

Who Has It?

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please print the words of the recitation, the first line of which is "I'm Monarch of All I Survey" I don't know the title of it. A READER.

Ans.—I do not know the piece referred to, but cheerfully pass the request on to readers. Can anybody supply it?

Father's Haircut.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sorry my first visit to your page should be an appeal for help, but I have been trying so hard to get a piece which is called "Father's Haircut," and have not succeeded so far, I saw some one inquiring for it in your column some time ago, and wondered if you have a copy of it on hand. If not, will you please "advertise" again? AN INQUIRER

Ans.—I'm sorry but there is no copy of this piece on hand. Am hoping though that some one of our pageites may send a copy in. I have inquirer's address.

Egg-Producing Feed.

Dear Miss Grey,—Having been a reader of your page this last four years, I thought I had better write a line in answer to "Economy Personified's" letter. I quite agree with her on the wheat question re feeding poultry. Now, I have poultry, and I find that a good feed to take the place of wheat is to get a good excellent egg-producer. Take a quantity of oats or rye (use oats), soak in water for twelve hours, then pour off water and put oats in an ordinary box which has holes in the bottom, and let water drain off. The oats are watered night and morning with a sprinkling pot, and are stirred with a stick or the hand before watering. As soon as oats begin to sprout, spread them out in a box to the thickness of about one inch, and still continue to water them night and morning, but do not stir them. In two weeks they are ready to feed the chicks, and they do like them. It makes nice green food for winter for them. So you see, I am helping Mr. Food Controller a little, as I do not use wheat. Now, Miss Grey, you will think I have come a long time for the first time. Hope I can call again. I have a brother that is in training in England. I am sending his address, as I know he would like a friend to write to him, as I write once in a while, but I do not get much time with two babies to care for.

What do you think of the writing?

A SOLDIER BOY'S SISTER.

Ans.—Your very practical aid re wheat-saving for poultry insures you a welcome, not only now, but at any time. And I can assure you we will find a few bright correspondents for your soldier-brother.

Marriage or Love?

"Meditator"—Your "lonely's" name is listed with the rest, and shall be well taken care of, I assure you. What a problem it is that you place before me. I wish you had given me a hint as to their ages, for that alters things sometimes. There have been marriages, very happy ones too, I believe, where one of the couple did not "really love" the other. But don't you know I'd be terribly afraid to risk it! Some other man or woman might come into the life of the one who "just respected" before, and thus the lives of three people be spoiled. I'm one of the old-fashioned ones who believe in true love as the basis for happy married life. If a man does not awaken love in a maiden's heart before the wedding day, how can he hope to do so afterwards?—after she's heard him hunt for a collar button or hit his head on the mantel?

Experienced in Knitting.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my second letter to your page. I often think of writing, but this has been such a busy summer. We don't get much time for anything but work. I have one little girl, and we so often hitch up a horse and bring corn or turnips to feed the cows. I have done more outdoor work this summer than I ever did before, and may say I enjoyed it very much. When help is so scarce I think it is our duty to help all we can. Some one wanted to know how to manage a wee tot's mitten with thumb in. I think it was a soldier's wife. I might first say it will make a lot of difference what kind of yarn she is using, coarse or fine. If fine, take off about twelve stitches on a string with darning needle, leave these stitches on your string so you can pick them up later on. Cast on one or two more than you took off on your knitting needle and knit on, then when you are done you have your stitches to pick up again for the thumb. Hope this will help. I have done a great deal of knitting. Have knit ever since I was a child. I am knitting a sweater for myself just now. Will give directions if anyone would like them. Please don't scold and tell me to knit for soldiers, as I do. I see where "Biddy" has thanked "Lassie" for a canning corn recipe. I often do corn and often have it spoil. I would love to get this splendid recipe if either would kindly send it to me, my address is with Miss Grey. JUANITA.

Ans.—The recipe was published on our page, and I am reprinting it. Also sending a copy in your envelope. Should be very pleased to publish directions for the sweater coat if you will send them.

London Advertiser COOK-BOOK

Recipes Supplied by Cynthia Grey's Readers.

Cloudy Day.

Cucumber Relish—12 large cucumbers peeled and sliced, 6 onions sliced, ¼ cup of salt; let stand over night; in morning chop them up (not too fine); 1 quart vinegar, 2 cups brown sugar, ½ cup flour, 1 tablespoon mustard, 1 teaspoon turmeric, 1 teaspoon celery seed, little white pepper; boil eight minutes. Try this recipe once and you will try it again.

Alert Women Sure to Read Ads Each Day

Greatest Number of Housewives Plan Their Buying According to Store Announcements.

Have you ever heard a housewife brag of the fact she never reads the advertisements in the daily papers? If she does sometimes read them, many a housewife would assure you that she very seldom bought because of the advertisement of a sale or bargain. But by far the greater number of housewives do read the daily store advertisements, and do plan their purchases accordingly. In this they are wise.

Now, more than ever before, the merchants and storekeepers generally are giving their customers a square deal. And this is in part because the customers are more than ever before giving the merchants a square deal, since the return goods evil has been curbed to a certain extent, and since merchants generally have eliminated their discount system, a better feeling has been bred between merchants and customers everywhere. Their dealings have been put on a squarer basis. Besides, owing to a shortage of labor, as well as very large orders everywhere, merchants have all the business they can handle, and do not need to go to extreme means in order to secure a share of business.

Nowadays a sale usually is a sale, and a bargain is a bargain. When a reputable concern advertises in a newspaper that it is to have a special sale of kitchen utensils, you are showing your own ignorance of store methods if you conclude that the only goods that will be sold cheap are inferior in quality.

More than ever before, dealers in provisions of various sorts are making use of newspaper advertising. Every housekeeper ought to keep the run of this kind of advertising. Not infrequently standard articles are offered for an unusually low price, and then is your time to lay in a supply of that kind of goods, providing it is something for which you have a steady demand. The provision dealer figures that it is worth while to sell at that price because in doing so he is getting customers. People will come to buy that, and they will say to buy other things. Then, too, because they expect to sell a lot of that particular kind of commodity within a very short space owing to the reduced price, they can afford to sell it at small profit. Often, too, a merchant is able to get a large consignment at a reduced price from the wholesale dealers owing to overstocking or some other reason.

"Returning From Captivity." Ezra. i., 1-11, ii., 64-70.

Golden Text—"Jehovah hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad." Ps. cxxvi., 3.

7. Verses 3-4—What motive does Cyrus appeal to, for building the Temple at Jerusalem?

8. What good is accomplished by the vast sums of money spent in building and supporting churches?

How Much Whole Wheat do you eat? You have never thought much about food. You have eaten what you liked regardless of food value—and you may continue to eat what you like but you are certain to like the foods that nourish and strengthen if they are prepared in an appetizing way. Thousands now eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit as a substitute for meat, eggs and potatoes and they have learned many palatable ways in which to serve it. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat. For any meal with milk or cream, sliced peaches or other fruits.

Year-Round Wicker

Wicker, willow and bamboo furniture have now become all-year-round standbys. There was a time, we all remember, when these lighter kinds of furniture were trotted out when spring came around and were used on the veranda and in the garden until frost. Then they were promptly packed away again, to stay until the next spring.

But now we have wicker furniture about us all the time. And so, of course, the furniture makers are giving it to us in more and more attractive styles. Or is it because they are giving it to us in such attractive styles that we are using it more and more? At all events, the result is the same.

The window boxes of wicker are among the most attractive pieces. These come in different styles, at different prices. There is one for eight or ten dollars, a wicker box on a wicker stand—all in one or in two pieces. There are stout handles whereby box and stand may be moved about in search of sunshine at will. This is stained in shades of brown or grey or green, to suit the room for which it is designed.

Then there is the more elaborate box, also much more expensive, made with an overarching section from which a birdcage is swung, hanging directly above the centre of the box.

There are wicker desks and chairs to match, especially attractive for bedroom or boudoir. These are enameled white, and sometimes the desk is covered with glass, under which there is a panel of cretonne to match the hangings of the room.

For the bedroom there are lovely wicker chairs. Some are of the sort that stand on little legs or have side extensions in the form of pockets in place of legs, whereby they are raised just high enough to span the knees. There are flat trays, too, made to rest on little wicker stands which cost, tray and stand together, about fifteen dollars.

IN THE SHOPS

Many of the very attractive new velvet hats are shirred with floss of matching color and with the long stitches showing. They are in themselves decorative and give an unusual and interesting surface to the velvet.

The glove-makers are predicting that the winter will see many silk gloves in the hands of well-dressed women. This because kid gloves are so very expensive. Nobody needs to be told that the reason for their high price is the war. Silk gloves, or other washable fabric gloves, are truly desirable in the winter when our hands are much within a muff. The hands are almost sure to become overheated when kid gloves with their air-tight texture are worn. Fabric gloves and silk gloves let the air circulate to the hands and keep them in good condition, even when they are in a muff. In this way the danger of roughened and chapped skin on the hands is considerably lessened.

Whether veils will be very much worn this winter or not it is still impossible to say. Some imported veils have already arrived in this country and whether or not there is a great vogue for them, they are sure to be worn occasionally by the veil-loving American woman. At this time of year we all are attracted by a crisp, fresh face veil and the shops are full of good veiling in a rather open mesh, with a light pattern traced on it in heavier threads. There are also some veils heavily spotted with pellets or big discs of velvet.

It should really be interesting to go from counter to counter in any of the big shops and try to find one where war conditions are not evident. A handkerchief buyer said recently that in the shop for which she bought orders that should have been delivered last January had not yet come in. It is only a very inferior quality of cotton handkerchief that is made in this country to any great extent. So, although it is quite possible still to get as many handkerchiefs, and as attractive handkerchiefs as one might wish, nevertheless, the situation in this commodity has been strongly affected by the war. It must really be quite confusing to have some of the orders for last January come in after the orders for last August.

One of the colors that has leaped to the front since our city streets became tan with the uniforms of soldiers is khaki. And it must be admitted that khaki blouses of chiffon or georgette are especially soft and attractive in color. Alone this shade is rather trying to most complexions, but combined with blue, or a bit of vari-colored embroidery it is decidedly attractive. In many of the shops the new khaki shade is known as "rookie."

Blue is so decidedly the most popular color for fabric for women's clothes that it is perhaps not surprising to note that there is a scarcity in the supply of blue dyes. Some of the manufacturers of women's suits and frocks are already out of navy blue and other dark blue, and they find it difficult to get the materials in these colors that they need. If you have tried lately to use the home dye pot you probably know that navy blue is scarce. In some makes it cannot be secured.

CREATING A ROOM.

To create a room, one may commence, perhaps, with one interesting piece of furniture and build the whole room about it. It may be a beautiful desk or chair, but whatever it is, study the history of its time, find what used to be used with it, and hunt for the pieces you need most. If these are not to be found in the original, good reproductions of the original can be made.

Having decided upon the type of room you wish to create, study the special one you have in mind—its size and shape. Perhaps it is a room with a low ceiling; if so, it will have many charms, but in its furnishing many difficulties will be encountered. Where the ceilings are very low, they should be tinted to match the side walls. The trend today is toward paneling and painting the walls, but this is not always possible, as much depends upon the shape and size of the rooms and the condition of the walls. There are many beautiful wall-papers made now, and in some instances their use is preferable to any other mode of wall decoration. Instead of painting the walls of formal rooms, very often fabrics such as silks or damasks are used in the panels. Beautiful tapestries, too, are set in. I know of a delightful room where a toile de jouey (printed linen made in France) is put into the panels and heavily varnished. The effect is novel and charming.

A sense of greater space, as well as a decided leading on of interest, may be obtained by making every doorway of a room a vista. There may be only a passageway beyond, but by carrying the color-scheme through, or placing directly opposite the doorway a good picture, or a mirror with a console table beneath it, the imagination is immediately taken beyond the confines of that one room. —Good Housekeeping.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE?

When your kidneys are weak and torpid they do not properly perform their functions; your back aches and you do not feel like doing much of anything. You are likely to be despondent and to borrow trouble, just as if you hadn't enough already. Don't be a victim any longer.

The old reliable medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, gives strength and tone to the kidneys and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar combination of roots, barks and herbs. No other medicine acts like it, because no other medicine has the same formula or ingredients. Accept no substitute, but insist on having Hood's, and get it today.

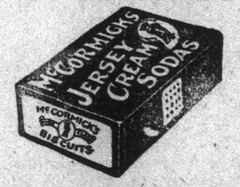

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy, for colds, bad breath, sour stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give cross, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascaret any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

PUT WRIGLEY'S IN YOUR FIGHTER'S CHRISTMAS BOX. It costs little but gives a lot of comfort and refreshment. Not only a long-lasting confection, but a nerve-steadier, a thirst-quencher, a pick-me-up. Every Christmas parcel should contain some WRIGLEY'S GUM.

KNITTED TOGS SMART FOR FALL AND WINTER

After you have knitted some half dozen sleeveless sweaters, "knitted two—purled two" through an aviator's helmet, dashed off a dozen or so wristlets and plodded your way through several hundred feet of scarfs, you may feel justified in knitting just a little bit yourself. And if you do the temptation will be strong to use the brightest, gayest colors you can find, for there is something monotonous about the regulation grey, navy blue or khaki.

So if your fingers burn to knot something feminine and gay you will be glad to know that from Paris has come the news that knitted accessories will be very smart this autumn and winter. In fact, some of the newly designed suits and street frocks are made with knitted scarfs fastened right onto the suit at the collar line. The ends are generous and after folding up high around the neck sweep around one shoulder across the back and under the arm or across the bust, and thence under the arm to the back.

These mufflers are over a foot in width, some of them being a half yard. They are almost three yards in length and then have full fringe or tassel ends. Sometimes they are lined with silk in matching or contrasting colors. Sometimes they are knitted double and sometimes in single style like the military mufflers.

If there is a fur shortage or if you can ill afford new furs this winter, such a scarf as this would be extremely cozy with your winter suit and for skating its lightness and warmth would doubly recommend it.

From Paris also comes the word that women there are wearing knitted underwear. It is of the daintiest sort, done in fine pink wool, and even threaded up with ribbons. It is worn as a war measure, because, of course, coal is high and houses are not kept at hothouse heat these days. It is quite safe to say that the hand-knit woolen underwear of the Parisian woman is dainty and in nowise suggestive of the rather bulky wool petticoat that doting grandmothers used to knit for some of us.

Of course, it would be rather out of place to take the hint from Paris and knit your own underwear this year. But you might knit caps, scarfs, stockings and knickerbockers to wear with a short skating skirt. These may be made to match the stockings and the softest wool may be employed.

Whether or not skating caps are in high fashion this year, the woman who skates in the country would find one most comfortable. Nothing quite takes the place of a close worsted cap that comes well down over the ears when one is skating against an icy country breeze. The cap may be made to harmonize with your skating costume and so even if everybody is not wearing a worsted cap this year it may possess a style of its own.

Now that you have learned to make sleeveless sweaters almost without looking at your needles—although purling with the eyes shut is almost an impossibility—why don't you make a gay colored, sleeveless sweater for yourself?

THE LIGHTING OF A ROOM.

The comfort and balance of a room may be completely spoiled by carelessly placed lighting fixtures, and therefore much consideration should be given them. Not only must they conform to the architecture of the room and be one of the chief decorative features, but they must be conveniently placed for reading, for the writing-desk and for the piano. Very often wall fixtures are set in paneling and are its only decoration, and in such cases especially they should be worthy of their responsibility. Nowadays the most beautiful of old fixtures are being reproduced in carved wood, antique gold, hand-wrought iron, or delicate glass to suit each type of room. In addition to these sidelights there should be as many base plugs as possible to provide for extra lights upon tables, beside chairs and so forth. Beautiful lamps can be made of old candlesticks, pottery or vases—or if one has handsome oil lamps, these, too, can be converted into electric lamps.

As to the question of shades—here again one must exercise great care in choosing, for they must not only strike an important color note, but they must be harmonious with the rest of the room, both by day and by night. Some shades are beautiful by day, and lose all character where there are lights; so in buying or ordering lamp shades, be sure to see the light through the material to be used before making a decision. The painted parchment shades are very much used now, as they lend themselves to almost any scheme of decoration. Chiffon shades, too, in layers of contrasting colors, are very lovely and vie with those of thin silk, which have held their supremacy so long. Garish light by day and badly shaded lights at night detract more than any other element from the charm of a room. A soft mellow light diffused through thin silk, chiffon or gauze curtains is very restful, and such curtaining of the light is a simple and effective way to temper it. A room should not, by any means, have the gloom of twilight upon it, but should have a light which rests kindly upon all objects, and above all should avoid the deadly searching white light which hunts out the weak spots and brings them shamelessly into view. — Good Housekeeping.

LAMBETH BOWLERS PUT ON BIG TOURNAMENT

Thirty-Two Rinks Play on Thanksgiving Day in Big Bowling Event—High Scores Turned in on New Greens—Parnell Morris, With Rowing Club Trundlers, Takes First Money —Laur, of Thistles, Next.

Parnell Morris' Rowing Club rink won the first tourney of the Lambeth Bowling Club held on Thanksgiving Day at Lambeth, defeating Charlie Laur's Thistle rink by a score of 7 to 3 in the finals. Despite the inclement weather, the bowlers enjoyed some fine sport, and every man on the 32 rinks that took part was loud in his praise of the greens of the Lambeth Club.

Play commenced shortly after 10 o'clock, and continued through the day, the finals being finished about 9 o'clock in the evening. So that the bowlers might get home early, only three games were played. No less than seven rinks won all their games.

Considering that they have only taken up the game this summer, the Lambeth trundlers showed up very well, and Dr. A. R. Routledge, president of the Lambeth Club, received many congratulations for the work done by his men. The ladies of the Lambeth Red Cross served luncheon and supper.

While not so bad as in London, the weather at Lambeth was hardly up to the mark. Twice hail descended, and a cutting wind blew across the greens all day. Fortunately the greens were not spoiled by the poor weather.

Some fine glassware was the prizes.

GOLF CHAMPS PLAY AT HUNT CLUB

The London Hunt and Country Club staged an exhibition tournament between four of the best players in the Dominion on Thanksgiving Day, in aid of the building fund of the Great War Veterans' Association. The golfers played a 36-hole game, eighteen holes in the morning and the same in the afternoon. Despite the poor weather a good gallery followed the players over the course.

The top picture shows H. W. Eves, professional, of the London Club, putting. Watching him is George Lyons, eight times amateur champion of Canada, who is wearing golf trousers. The four players are shown in the lower picture: H. W. Eves, seated at the left, and George Lyons at the right; William Freeman, professional, of the Lambton Club, and George Cummings, ex-Dominion champion, are standing.

SARNIA C. I. DEFEATS WINDSOR COLLEGIATE

Pile Up Score of 32 to 7 Over Windsor Rugby Squad.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—Endurance and splendid condition derived from numerous gruelling workouts during the past few weeks enabled Sarnia Collegiate rugby team to triumph over the Windsor C. I. this afternoon by a score of 32 to 7. The down river lads drew first blood in the second quarter, when Jacobs, their right half, went over for a touchdown, which was converted, making the score 7 to 0 in their favor when the half-time whistle blew.

The first half was played under American rules, and when the switch was made to Canadian rules at half time, the local blue and white squad came to life, and proceeded to pound their way up the field in a series of ground-gaining, bucks and long runs.

C. McKenzie ran over the first counter, after Paterson had plunged his way to within one foot of the line this was converted by Cowan, and the score stood 7—7.

Took the Lead.

After Smith ran round the left end for a 25-yard gain, Cook ran over a punt for Sarnia's second touch. Score 13 to 7 at the end of the quarter. Shortly after the start of the last quarter Barrie notched up another touchdown for the blue and white squad, and Cowan kicked over the posts.

Smith and Ferguson followed with touchdowns in rapid succession, and the final whistle found the locals on top by 25 points. The work of W. and J. Paterson, Ferguson, Cowan and Henderson stood out prominently in the local squad, while Oulette, Jacobs and Wetzel were the pick of the visitors.

The line-ups were:

Referee—First half, Bareford. Umpire, Polley. Second half—Referee, Ellis. Umpire, Phippen.

SPRINGWOOD CLUB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL THANKSGIVING SHOOT

Glover Still High Man for the Trebilcock Trophy.

FINE SCORES MADE

Guns Were Handicapped by Weather Conditions Yesterday—Birds Erratic.

The members of the Springwood Gun Club held a shoot on Thanksgiving Day morning, under weather conditions that were about as bad as has ever been experienced. The rain and strong wind made the targets take unexpected flights that were very hard to judge. The shooters were obliged to hear the referee call "lost" on many occasions, but, notwithstanding, exceptionally good scores were made. The program consisted of 50 birds, all of which counted on the Trebilcock Cup, as well as for the six prizes given for the high guns for the day.

For the trophy, Glover added another 49 to his string, and is still high man, now being three birds to the good over the next highest gun.

In the second string for the trophy no less than eight members put on a straight score, with their handicaps added, and the race now being just half finished finds the contestants closely bunched, and if they continue to shoot as well for the second half of the event as they have done so far, it will be hard to pick the highest man until the last day.

In the prize events Glover and Simcox tied for first, with 50 each; Day and Parker with 49 each tied for second, and Coleman, Parker and Smith next with 48.

The standing for the Trebilcock Cup follows: Glover 123, Jordan 120, Simcox 119, Parker 118, Day 118, Baker 115, Foster 110, Brunner 108, Coleman 95, out of 100; Smith, 92 out of 100.

PRESTON NINE DEFEATS FAST TORONTO ST. MARYS

PRESTON, Oct. 8.—The double-header ball game played here today between the St. Marys of Toronto and the locals resulted in an even break. The locals took the morning game 5 to 0, while the afternoon game went to Toronto, 9 to 5. In spite of the cold weather a large crowd of fans was out. Bye was on the mound for the locals, and held the visitors scoreless in the morning game. He also relieved Walker in the seventh inning of the afternoon game, and stopped the visitors from scoring. The afternoon game was delayed considerably owing to accidents to players and spectators. Three players were injured and four spectators. The scores were:

Morning game—Preston 5, St. Marys 0. Batteries—Preston, Bye and Phillip; St. Marys, Hill and Gee.

Afternoon game—St. Marys 9, Preston 5. Batteries—St. Marys, Rutledge and Gee; Preston, Walker, Bye and Phillip.

Fine Golf Is Shown At Hunt Club Tourney

Famous Players Give Splendid Exhibition Before Large Crowd—Local Professional Shows Up Well—Substantial Sum Raised for Returned Soldiers' Fund.

Despite unfavorable weather a large crowd turned out at the London Hunt Club Thanksgiving Day and witnessed G. S. Lyon, eight times amateur golf champion of Canada; George Cummings, ex-champion of the Dominion; William Freeman, professional of the Lambton Club, and H. W. Eve, the local professional, give the finest exhibition of golf ever seen in Western Ontario.

Notwithstanding alternately rainy and sunshiny weather the experts put up an exhibition that delighted the gallery. H. W. Eve, the professional of the Hunt Club, gave the local golf enthusiasts a thrill every time he drove his ball. His playing was consistently good throughout the day, and was much commended by all who witnessed it.

Beginning at 10 o'clock the quartet played the first eighteen holes before a comparatively small gallery. G. S. Lyon got away with some tremendous drives, his tendency to sway the body while swinging the driver carried additional force into the shots, and the balls flew through the air at an incredible speed and with marvelous accuracy.

Cummings and Eve played against Lyon and Freeman. The latter expert traversed the links in 73 in the morning play, his partner Lyon coming in with a 77, and beating Cummings and Eve, who did the round in 76 and 77, respectively, by two points.

With a margin of two points against them, Cummings and the local professional hit a championship winning gait in the afternoon play, and copped the honors by winning five holes, making their concluding score three up and two to play.

Playing before a greatly swelled gallery in the afternoon, Eve started the fireworks with a beautiful low drive of 250 yards, and followed it up with a perfect approach. Cummings made a poor drive into the rough, and Lyon shot his ball a great distance, but in the long grass. The approaches were all perfect, but Eve grabbed the hole with an easy 4 when his third shot just missed the cup.

Tremendous Drives at Third Hole.

The second and third holes were featured with tremendous drives and well-directed approaches by all the players, Lyon and Freeman winning the second by a shot and halving the third. The fourth and fifth holes were also halved when Eve got in difficulty through a series of mishaps.

Driving low balls the quartet got away on the sixth, which is the longest hole of the course, and with the exception of Eve, followed up their drives with wonderful long brassie shots. Eve made one of the longest brassie shots ever seen on the links, and so covered the advantage gained by his opponents, when his first brassie shot struck a contour and stopped dead. The putting was not of the best at this stage, some easy shots being completely missed. Freeman appeared to be suffering from the fast greens and his puts continually went bad.

The seventh, eighth and ninth holes were well contested, and featured by clean long drives on the part of all players. Lyon and Eve drove their balls long and clean in all these holes, the latter giving an exhibition of scientific golf that kept the gallery keyed up with enthusiasm. Although of smaller stature than his opponents the London professional swung with the vigor and certainty of the perfect golfer, sending the little white pill terrific distances, both with his irons and wooden clubs.

The tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes were played indifferently, Eve and Cummings winning two and halving the third.

Beautiful clean drives and perfect approaches featured the twelfth hole. Freeman, the younger and most inexperienced of the players, showed wonderful form here, and pulled off some shots that drew vociferous applause from the crowd. He has a graceful finished style, and all his shots were directed with perfect accuracy.

Eve's Hard Luck.

Although Eve made a nice clean drive on the thirteenth the ball struck a tree and went into the rough. The lie was particularly bad here, and after a few ineffectual attempts to recover himself Eve picked up the pill.

Lyon drove with tremendous strength and the ball went over the green into the bush, the hole being won by Cummings, who putted for a 4.

Long and well-directed drives and brassie shots characterized the fourteenth hole, Freeman being the only man to lose his ball.

The fifteenth, a short tricky hole, gave some difficulty to the players, with the exception of Eve, who made a fine drive with an iron. He should have got the hole in 3, but an unfortunate put refused to go any further than the lip of the cup, and the London man had to be contented with a conceded 4. The remaining three holes were played with swift, clean strokes by all players, Eve and Cummings coming in with a 3, thereby winning the match by three points and two to go.

Although the putting was not up to the mark the match was the best exhibition of golf ever witnessesd locally. An ample sum, to be devoted toward the fund for the erection of a returned soldiers' building, was realized.

Many well known golfers from out-of-town, among whom was Editor Revell of the Canadian Golfer, were unanimous in their opinion that the local course was the most beautiful in the Dominion.

The aggregate number of shots for each player for the thirty-six holes follow:

	Morning.	Afternoon
Lyon	76	77
Cummings	76	--
Freeman	76	73
Eve	75	77

Stars of the World's Series

By W. R. Hoefer

(Copyright 1917, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

URBAN C. FABER,
Chicago White Sox.

"Red" Faber will go down in diamond history as the chap who went around the world to get a pitching reputation —and got it. In the fall of 1913, when the Giant-White Sox world tour was started, Faber was taken along as an extra twirler. He was merely a Sox recruit then, having come from Des Moines on trial. But he determined to show those big league birds that he was a big leaguer, too, and his stuff was so impressive that Comiskey used him as a regular the following season.

Incidentally, Faber learned many of his big league pitching tricks on that tour from none other than John J. McGraw, who took a great interest in the rookie.

And should the Giants lose this series, and Faber, perchance, prove a determining factor in its result, McGraw would be an indirect cause of his own downfall. Fate? You said it. But strange things happen in baseball.

This big right-hander is an intelligent gunner with a sound hurling equipment and great endurance. Don't figure his class by his this season's record. He has won 15 and lost 11 games this year for a percentage of .577, the lowest rating of Rowland's four best hurlers, but he has been ill and out of condition a good part of the current season, and only recently has rounded into good shape.

Faber was born September 6, 1888, at Cascade, Ia., and started pitching for the public schools and later St. Joseph's College, Dubuque, of the Three Eye League, gave him his first "pro" contract in 1909. That year he worked in 15 games, winning 7 and losing 6, which wasn't impressive, but allowed only 1.6 earned runs per game, in doing it, which was.

The Pittsburg Pirates secured him in 1910, but sent him back to Dubuque and recalled him in August. He was released to Minneapolis the following year and later to Pueblo, where he won 12 and lost 8 games. In 1912 and 1913 he won 21 and 20 games for Des Moines and earned his trial with the White Sox, with whom he has been ever since.

A feature of "Red's" pitching is his endurance. Since joining the Sox in 1914 he has averaged a little over 40 games a season. He is 6 feet ½ inch tall and weighs 183 pounds.

If Faber has at last rounded into good condition, as reports from the Sox camp indicate, he will almost certainly start in the series.

WILLIAM D. PERRITT,
New York Giants.

He is a long, lean, sinewy mortal, with a drawl in his voice and a zipping hop on his fast ball. His given name is William; but when he twirled his first professional game down in the Cotton States League for Vicksburg, the fans learned his name was Perritt, and, of course, called him "Pol," and the monicker has stuck.

Perritt, is the ranking right-hander of the Giants' pitching staff, and, at the present writing, the third best right hander in the National League. He has a corking fast ball, a dazzling curve, and a big slice of world series coin in sight. What more can any reasonable pitcher want? Pol, however, does want more.

He won five of the games in the Giants' world record run of 26 straight wins, allowing less than a run per game, last year, and he did yeoman service this year in copping the Giant pennant. Yet Pol isn't satisfied.

He wants to start a series game. He believes he can stand the Sox on their collective head and is worried because this seems to be a southpaw year, and McGraw may use his three southpaws right through the series.

The rise of Perritt to big league fame is one of the most sudden in diamond history. In 1912 he pitched his first professional game, and in August of that same season, before he was 20 years old, he was signed to a St. Louis National League contract.

This Alabama pitcher is only 25 years old, yet he has been under the Big Top for five years. His first real baseball experience began near his home town. Born in Arcadia, La., August 30, 1892, he began playing semi-professional ball with the Homer and Minden clubs in 1911.

In total games won and lost, Perritt's record isn't impressive. It must be remembered, however, that his first three years in the majors he was with St. Louis, whose collective winning percentage for 1913-14 was only .435.

Last year he won 18 and lost 11 games for the Giants, and this season has won 13 and dropped 7.

Slim Sallee, who was with the Cardinals when Perritt was signed, is a great pal of the latter, and taught him many fine points about pitching while in St. Louis. Pol is an inch shorter than Slim, being 6 feet 2 inches tall, and weighing 174 pounds. Perritt, like his lengthy stable-mate, also has remarkable control.

Perritt is more brilliant and also more erratic than Faber. The former has better control, although Faber is by no means unsteady. On this season's work Perritt outranks Faber with a winning percentage of .650 to .557, but the latter has been ill part of the year. This year's "dope" gives Perritt the edge.

FANS DISAPPOINTED AFTER NIGHT WAIT; NO GAME ON TODAY

Rain Causes Postponement of Play Today for Pennant.

38,000 SEATS SOLD

Rooters Say McGraw Must Take Next Game To Have Chance for Pennant.

New York, Oct. 9.—After waiting all night in the cold and drizzling rain for choice seats in the bleachers a small crowd of fans received a severe disappointment when it was announced about noon today that owing to the bad weather conditions today's game in the series would be postponed.

All Night Waiters.

Police officials and Polo Ground guards said the all-night crowd was the smallest that has waited up for a world's series game here in years. The first man to appear arrived at 6 o'clock last night. He was a little old man more than 60 years of age, and took his place at a ticket window in order to hold the place and sell it to the highest bidder when the sale of seats began. The line grew slowly, and at midnight there were perhaps 100 boys and men stretched along the fence. Some slept peacefully, and others discussed the chances of the Giants to even up the series.

With the first streaks of dawn, and while the rain was still falling lightly the lines began to grow, and soon all arteries of travel led to the Polo Grounds. When the gates to the lower grand stand and bleachers were opened at 9 o'clock, the lines stretched up and down the streets and around the grounds.

The shivering fans who stood in the cold all night were rewarded by first choice of seats in the unreserved sections. All seats in the upper pavilion had been reserved, and were sold several days ago. This left about 27,000 seats to be sold on the basis of first come first served when the gates opened today. The management insisted that each purchaser of an unreserved seat go directly into the grounds. This arrangement was strictly adhered to, and gave every patron of the club an equal chance.

Speculators Get Some.

Despite every precaution taken by President Hempstead, reserved seat tickets were to be had from speculators at the grounds and at the prominent hotels. Last night $35 was asked for one set of tickets to the three games, but prices fell today, due to the damp weather. The total attendance was expected to be more than 38,000, the capacity of the stands.

While the betting odds favored the American League champions all the way from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1, supporters of the Giants still were outwardly optimistic. The local rooters, while admitting the superiority of the White Sox in the first two games, insisted that McGraw's men have not yet displayed their real baseball ability.

Outside of the main question as to whether the Giants can stage a spectacular come-back, the followers of the game devoted the rest of their speculation as to the rival pitchers, in the absence of official announcement. The opinion seemed to be that either Cicotte or Russell would start for the visitors, while McGraw would pin his faith in Sallee or Benton.

Must Win Today.

New York rooters admitted today that the Giants must win the third game to have a look-in at the championship. To lose this game, they agreed, would mean that the world's series title would probably go west for the first time since 1909, when Pittsburg captured the series from Detroit.

Delving into the records of past games does not hold out any encouragement to the followers of the National Leaguers. These records show that since world's series have been played under the rules laid down by the National Baseball Commission, no team that lost the first two games ever came through the winner of baseball classics.

Chicago's attack against New York so far is above the average so far as records go. It is pointed out that prior to Sunday's contest, which Chicago won 7 to 2, seven or more runs have been made in only seven of the 67 games played under National Commission regulations. In five of the last twelve world's series the winner of the blue ribbon event captured the first two games.

Chicago's Advantage.

Aside from the games won, Chicago has a decided advantage in the pitching. Manager Rowland's men have now batted against McGraw's best pitchers, who, the New York manager expected, would at the very least break even with the American Leaguers on their own grounds. The White Sox tapped Sallee sufficiently to win, and hammered Schupp, the New York star, out of the box. Both are left-handers. McGraw still has Rube Benton, another southpaw, but he may decide to try Ritt, his best right-hander, to stop Comiskey's men.

Chicago's pitching has been up to Manager Rowland's expectations. Cicotte and Faber, the White Sox only two offerings so far, came through with victories. Neither was hit very hard, and both now have the confidence born of victory. Rowland may decide to pitch these two men again before taking a chance on Russell or one of his other twirlers.

The probable batting order will be:

Chicago—J. Collins, l. f.; McMullen, 3 b.; E. Collins, 2 b.; Jackson, r. f.; Felsch, c. f.; Gandil, 1 b.; Weaver, s. s.; Chalk, c.; Cicotte, p.

New York—Burns, l. f.; Herzog, 2 b.; Kauff, c. f.; Zimmerman, 3 b.; Fletcher, s. s.; Robertson, r. f.; Holke, 1 b.; Rariden, c.; Sallee, p.

Umpires — Plate, Klem; bases, O'Loughlin, Rigler and Evans.

AVIATORS WIN.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—An all-Syracuse rugby team from Syracuse, N.Y., went down to defeat at the University stadium before an eleven picked from United States college men training at Camp Borden aviation camp, in the first game of rugby as played at the United States colleges staged in Toronto. The score was 21 to 0. There was a large crowd of spectators and a substantial sum was realized for war charities.

DISSOLVE IT IN YOUR MOUTH

That's the way to take the Peps treatment. Nothing can equal it for asthma. Mr. Fred Hinz of Saskatchewan Landing, Sask., says: "I suffered with asthma for years, and although I tried many remedies, Peps is the only remedy that has brought me relief from this distressing ailment."

The victory of Peps over asthma is due to the fact that Peps is a breathe-able remedy, and is therefore capable of reaching all the minute air passages which ordinary remedies, that go to the stomach, cannot reach.

This treatment is also the best for coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis, laryngitis and all other affections of the throat and lungs. All dealers or Peps Co., Toronto. 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

NIGHT WATCHMAN AT HOSPITAL NOW TELLS EXPERIENCE

Had Rheumatism So Bad Couldn't Lace Shoes.

TANLAC ENDS TROUBLES

Tried Many Other Medicines Without Finding Relief.

"I never had anything to lay me out like the rheumatism did, and I have never had any medicine to do me as much good as Tanlac has," said John Parmenter, a carpenter by trade, employed at present as night watchman at the Queen Mary Hospital, and living just off Buttonwood avenue, in St. Dennis, in a recent interview.

"One day last July," he continued, "while working in my garden, I became overheated, and soon afterwards I was taken with a severe attack of sciatica rheumatism, and it would be impossible to describe the suffering I had to endure until Tanlac relieved me. It was just sharp pains that felt like a knife cutting through the muscles and flesh of my legs and hips. Sometimes it would strike me suddenly, and with so much pain that it would almost knock me down. The only relief I could get was by lying down. While on my feet I was in constant agony, and every move I made would set that awful pain shooting through my legs. I was so disabled I couldn't look after my garden, and just had to let the stuff go to waste. Why, I was so crippled up that the only way I could get my boots on was to stand up and just gradually work my feet into them, and when I got them on I couldn't stoop over to lace them up.

"I tried a number of other medicines, but got no relief, so one day I made my mind to see if Tanlac would help me, as others said it had them. Well, some people may not believe it, but it's the truth. I felt better with my second dose of Tanlac, and I have been improving ever since. I am just now on my second bottle and my pain is already entirely gone. I can lace my boots now as well as I ever could, something I don't believe I could have done three weeks ago for an offer of a thousand dollars. No matter what I do or what position I get in now, I never feel a sign of rheumatism. I honestly believe Tanlac has wiped it out for good. I can get around now and do my work without one bit of trouble. No, sir, nothing has ever done me the good Tanlac has, and I will gladly tell anybody personally what I think of it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.—Advt.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmint (double strength) and add to it one-quarter pint of hot water and four ounces of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

IF STOMACH HURTS DRINK HOT WATER

If dyspeptics, sufferers from gas, wind or flatulence, stomach acidity or sourness, gastric catarrh, heartburn, etc., would take a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in half a glass of hot water immediately after eating, they would soon forget they were ever afflicted with stomach trouble, and doctors would have to look elsewhere for patients." In explanation of these words a well-known New York physician stated that most forms of stomach trouble are due to stomach acidity and fermentation of the food contents of the stomach, combined with an insufficient blood supply to the stomach. Hot water increases the blood supply, and bisurated magnesia instantly neutralizes the excessive stomach acid and stops food fermentation. The combination of the two, therefore, being marvelously successful and decidedly preferable to the use of artificial digestants, stimulants or medicines for indigestion.—Advt.

MICHAELIS GOES TO SEE CHIEFS ERE DELIVERING SPEECH IN 'TAG

HELFFERICH CENSURED

PROGRESSIVE SPEAKS OUT

Sees Little Chance of Humbling Britain and None of Forcing United States.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8.—German newspapers which support the Reichstag majority severely censure Dr. Helfferich, the minister of the interior, for his incapacity to respond to the feelings of the Reichstag, and expect decisive happenings when the debate is resumed.

Owing to the various parties having convoked meetings for this morning to consider the situation arising from Saturday's sitting of the Reichstag, says a Berlin dispatch, the debate, which was planned for today, has been postponed until Tuesday. The chief subject of discussion will be war aims, but, according to this dispatch, the imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, has gone to headquarters. This may be significant, as before opening debate on important subjects in the Reichstag the chancellor sometimes consults with chiefs.

The Reichstag, according to Berlin dispatches, discussed the Socialist interpellation concerning Admiral von Tirpitz and the new German Fatherland party. The Socialist, Herr Landsberg, declared that the new party was a pan-German institution, its particular object being to obtain support for its leaders by means of war profits and the purchase of newspapers to influence public opinion and set forth Germany's war aims, which would give them increased dividends.

Socialists Demand Freedom.

The Socialists, on the contrary, declared Herr Landsberg, demanded that the freedom of the nation should be promoted, because democracy was its greatest strength. Referring to the agitation in behalf of the new party's propaganda against the Reichstag peace resolution, Herr Landsberg said:

"We must get out of the suffocating atmosphere of a state of siege. The war minister must admit that he protects the agitation, as he himself wrote a polemic against the Reichstag resolution.

"The way of the sword this time will not spoil the good work of the pen. The chancellor must in his own interest see that the nation declare against pan-German agitation. On his attitude greatly depends the country's attitude and greatly depends the country's welfare."

Lays Bare Propaganda.

Herr Landsberg told how clergymen and the state authorities agitated trolling machinery they represent.

The three gentlemen from the west, appreciating their own work and importance, want the controlling portfolios, free wheat for all time to come, free agricultural implements, and some other interesting concessions as the price of their adhesion to the Borden Government for the approaching campaign.

Followers Not Boosting.

So far Premier Borden has not been allowed by members of his own party to give up all the cherished traditions and material assets of Conservatism. There are conscientious Conservative objectors to Premier Borden parting with all the cherished possessions of Conservatism, for the purpose of obtaining possession of what they consider a trio of Liberal political mysteries, who may or may not deliver the golden west in the coming contest. They object to Mr. Hudson because he had unpleasant relations with Roblin and Rogers; they object to Mr. Calder because he has eluded them in the past; they object to Mr. Crerar because he wants free wheat, free implements and a portfolio free; they object to Arthur Sifton on account of his two names.

Forms Alternative Group.

They have served notice of their objections on Sir Robert Borden, and he has told them that if the Crerer, Sifton group will not serve he has other names to propose, one of whom is Isaac Pitblado. It is said that N. W. Rowell would be accepted by Premier Borden, but has not yet brought himself to consenting to the supreme sacrifice. The word tonight is that tomorrow Canada will get the word that it has been awaiting for six months regarding coalition government. There is no decision this evening, and the jury has been locked up for the night.

The chief difference between Premier Borden and the three western unionists is that Messrs. Calder, Sifton and Crerer demand a "fifty-fifty deal," which would give a cabinet containing an equal number of Conservative and Liberal members. So far Premier Borden has not agreed to this.

Ask Too Much Authority.

The westerners also want a privilege of naming the Government candidates and controlling election machinery in the western ridings for the coming contest. This has not been agreed to. The dispute between Premier Borden and the men he is negotiating with is altogether as to the amount of power and authority they should be given.

ECUADOR BARS OUT GERMAN AMBASSADOR IN LINE WITH PERU

Action Taken to Show Affiliation With Union of Republics.

QUITO, Ecuador, Oct. 8.—The Ecuadorean secretary of foreign affairs today sent a cablegram to the Ecuadorean legation at Lima, announcing that Dr. Perl, the German minister to Peru and Ecuador, resident at Lima, will not be officially received by the Ecuadorean Government in case he attempts to come to Ecuador.

This action is understood to have been taken to demonstrate Ecuador's close affiliation with the union of the American republics.

GERMAN OFFICERS ARE TOLD TO WEAR RED CROSS UNIFORM DURING ATTACK

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Via Reuter's Ottawa agency.—A Reuter dispatch from Paris, says the correspondent of Le Matin with the British armies, states that the English captured a German order of the day relating to the enemy attack which was broken up by the British advance of Thursday, which reads: "The British always respect the ambulance-bearers and Red Cross. This is why commanders of units, companies and attacking sections should wear the Red Cross uniform when leading their men to the assault."

SANDSUCKERS MUST CEASE OPERATIONS AT POINT PELEE

Minister of Justice Issues Order and Urges That the Petition Also Be Sent to Ontario Government.

LEAMINGTON, Oct. 8.—If hard work will do it the citizens of Leamington and district will save half a million dollars' worth of fine property at Point Pelee from the sandsuckers, which have been steadily cutting the banks away for many months. A hugely-signed petition was recently sent to Ottawa urging the Government to take immediate steps to save the land. Mayor Wigle has received word back that the matter has been referred to the minister of justice, and that an order will be issued forbidding the use of sandsuckers at Point Pelee.

Another Petition.

The department at Ottawa suggested that petitions be sent as soon as possible to the Ontario Government also urging that it take action to save the property. These petitions are now being circulated, and are being signed by thousands of residents of this section. The Daughters of the Empire have been very active in the work of circulating the petitions.

People who have visited the spot declare that a whole fleet of sandsuckers has been at work hauling the gravel away to border towns. The captains of the boats think it a huge joke to make fun of the people whose property they are destroying, it is said, and make all sorts of insulting remarks.

The Petition.

The petition which is being circulated is as follows:

"Whereas, Point Pelee, the most southerly point of the mainland of the Dominion of Canada, a portion of which is beautifully wooded and in its primeval state, is the home of numerous semi-tropical birds and plants, and has proved a landmark and also a shelter from the storms to the sailors of Lake Erie, and its gravel beds have been a shield and depositing place for fish fry.

"And, whereas, the Point is inhabited by numerous fishermen and farmers, who have built up their homes and expended large sums in the working and beautifying of their farms and homes, while at the northern portion or base of the Point, five or six thousand acres of marsh land, encircled by the banks of the Point, have been reclaimed at great expense, and are now affording homes and valuable farms for a large population; the lands, by reason of such reclamation, proving very productive, and of great value, and are readily saleable at $300 per acre;

"And, whereas, your Government has seen fit to grant to the Windsor Sand and Gravel Company, and possibly other corporations, the right to remove the sand and gravel from the adjoining waters of Point Pelee, and the said company has been in operation for the past few years with large steam sand and gravel suckers removing the sand and gravel, and the result has been that the removal of the beds of sand and gravel has caused the washing away of the beach and the banks along the shores of Point Pelee, so that in some places the loss of land has been to the extent of 150 feet or more in width, while for the whole length of the Point the beach has receded different widths, and the waters are fast encroaching upon the farm lands and the timbered portion of the Point, while the extreme south end of the Point has shrunk to the extent of 1,200 feet, so that if the removal of the sand and gravel be allowed to continue, in a very short time the southern part of the Point will be entirely swept away, and the beautiful and historical Point-au-Pelee will cease to be the resort of rare birds and plants, and the home of the numerous fishermen and farmers, while the banks protecting the reclaimed portion of the Point will soon vanish, and the reclaimed land will once more become, as formerly, a marsh covered by the waters of Lake Erie, and the five or six thousand acres thus reclaimed at great cost by the citizens of the Township of Mersea, will be entirely lost to its owners, and be worthless, and the country deprived of a large tract of agricultural lands.

"Therefore, your petitioners pray that your department may take immediate steps to protect this beautiful and historical Point and the landowners thereon, from operations of the large steam sandsuckers operated by the Windsor Sand and Gravel Company, and other companies licensed (if any such there be), who are continually at work removing large quantities of sand and gravel therefrom, and thus defend Point Pelee from total destruction."

MRS. MATHER, SUICIDE, RESULT OF A PACT WITH HER HUSBAND

Verdict of Jury Investigating Winnipeg Hotel Tragedy.

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.—According to the evidence given, we believe that the deceased came to her death by her own act, was the brief verdict returned tonight in connection with the death of Mrs. Ada Olive Mather, who was found dead in her room at a local hotel on September 27 as the result of a gunshot wound in her head, the tragedy having occurred three or four days previously.

Professor W. H. Mather, husband of the deceased, who was an occupant of the room during the period referred to, but according to his evidence, in a lethargic state, was the principal witness. He gave details of his wife's affliction by which her eyesight was threatened, and of a suicide pact that had been entered into between them which had been renewed a short time prior to her death. He also related details of two previous occasions on which Mrs. Mather had attempted to take her own life, once by swallowing potassium cyanide, and the other by asphyxiation. Mrs. Mather was formerly Miss Hewitt of Toronto.

Canadian Soldiers Splendidly Firm in Moral Fibre

Ralph Connor's Tribute in Thanksgiving Sermon at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8. — In a Thanksgiving Day sermon in the American Presbyterian Church here, this morning Rev. C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor") paid the following tribute to the Canadian soldiers:

"We are thankful that the moral fibre of our people has shown itself to be so splendidly firm. The Canadian armies are made up of men for whom we ought to be profoundly grateful. They are clean men. They are good-living men. They are men worthy of the homes from which they have come, and they have not forgotten those homes, and they are not going to be unworthy of them. I have had the opportunity of seeing a great many of them, both in England, and in France, and we have a right, here in Canada, to be thankful that our boys are just as good and many are better than they were at home."

Luxburg Still In Argentina It Is Admitted

Secret Comes Out With Report of Spanish Ship Being Stopped by Britain.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 8.—Officials today admitted that Count Karl von Luxburg, the former German minister to Argentina, is still in the country. His exact location, however, was not made known.

The admission was forthcoming when it was learned today that a search by a British cruiser of an outward-bound Spanish steamer had failed to locate von Luxburg, who was supposed to have taken passage on the steamer last Friday and sailed from Montevideo.

TORONTO LIBERALS URGE SIR WILFRID TO REMAIN ACTIVE

Old Chief Will Today Meet Ontario Delegates Called by Mr. Gibbons.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Toronto gave Sir Wilfrid Laurier a remarkable demonstration of confidence today. The Liberal chief reached the city this morning as the guest of P. C. Larkin. In order to confer with representative Liberals he took apartments at the King Edward Hotel.

All day until 6 o'clock this evening, when he proceeded to Mr. Larkin's residence for an informal dinner, he was deluged with callers. It is estimated that over 500 persons called upon him, including representative Liberals in all walks of life. The majority earnestly urged him not to consider the matter of resignation and pledged their support to his standard.

Tomorrow Sir Wilfrid meets delegations from various parts of Ontario.

At Mr. Gibbons' Call.

At the call of George Gibbons, the Liberal candidate in London, most of the Liberal candidates in Ontario will confer with the old chieftain. In accordance with his life-long habit, Sir Wilfrid gave no newspaper interviews today, but manifested his eagerness to confer with every representative of Liberalism. He is in splendid health and spirits and greeted the representative of The Advertiser with cordial felicitations. He confessed that his visit to Toronto was to get news not to give it, and had no prognostications to make as to the immediate political future.

GORDON STURTEVANT INSTANTLY KILLED PLAYING WITH GUN

Chatham Township Child Shot Through Brain.

CHATHAM, Oct. 8. — Gordon, the 5-year-old son of Lawrence Sturtevant, of con. 11, Chatham Township, was instantly killed at his home about 11 o'clock today, when a gun which he had taken from its hiding-place, unknown to his parents, discharged when he fell backwards down some steps. The bullet struck him in the chin and passed into the brain.

The little fellow, while playing about upstair, found the gun, which is a single-barreled weapon, and was kept in a closet. He also discovered a cartridge and put it in. About this time his brother James started upstairs, and seeing him holding the gun called to him to put it down. Childlike, he refused, and stepping back fell down some steps. The gun struck a step and discharged. Coroner Bray, after investigating, decided that the affair was purely accidental and that an inquest was unnecessary.

FLAMES SWEEP STOCKPENS AWAY AT PACKING PLANT

Loss Will Be $10,000 in Blaze at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 8. — Fire which broke out in the stock pens at the abattoir of the St. Thomas Packing Company, at 7:30 tonight, spread to the main plant, and before the flames were extinguished a loss of over $10,000 was caused. Considerable damage was done to stock in the main factory. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

ITALIAN AIR RAID ON NAVAL BASE HAS IMPORTANT RESULTS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Via Reuter's Ottawa agency.—Reuter's has received the details from Italian headquarters of a great surprise attack by an Italian air squadron on an important naval base at Cattaro, on the night of October 4. The naval establishments covered a wide area and harbored every kind of war craft, many depots, magazines, arsenals, barracks and strong anti-aircraft defences.

The raiders set out on a clear night, but when over the sea ran into a dense fog, preventing the pilots receiving the prearranged signals from an Italian destroyer. All the machines arrived absolutely unexpected.

Bombs were dropped on a submarine, destroyer and a hydroplane station with good results, a patrol depot, military sheds and various areas. The fire of the enemy was desultory. They ineffectively employed anti-aircraft guns, but the airmen safely returned after covering 400 kilometres.

UNION MINISTRY WITH SIX MORE PORTFOLIOS PLANNED BY PREMIER

Would Have a War Council of Six Members.

TO LAST TILL AFTER WAR

Would Withdraw Franchise Act for Co-operation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—The Advertiser learns that it is the present plan of Premier Borden to endeavor to form a union government, in which six additional portfolios will be allocated to Liberals, with a "war council" consisting of six members—a cabinet within the cabinet, to take direction of all war problems. Nothing is yet generally known as to the proposed respective composition of the administrative cabinet and the inner war council.

Mr. Rowell was in conference with F. F. Pardee for some time this evening, and subsequently left on the night train for Ottawa, whence he arrived early this morning.

Pardee and Graham There.

Toronto seethed with political happenings all the Thanksgiving holiday. Hon. Geo. P. Graham and Fred F. Pardee, the chief Liberal whip, reached the city with their chief this morning, while many Liberal members and candidates in Ontario arrived during the day.

It is generally understood that Premier Borden's attempts at the formation of a union national war government are today hanging in the balance, and the wires buzzed all day between Ottawa and Toronto.

According to information given to The Advertiser from indisputable sources the latest offers of the prime minister are an earnest of his desire to secure strong Ontario as well as eastern and western co-operation.

Union Until After War.

Premier Borden's latest offers are believed to be the formation of a union administration to last until one year after the conclusion of the war, with the withdrawal of the franchise act and the co-operation of both parties in war government. The premier's final bid for Liberal support contains offers of cabinet portfolios to Hon. James A. Calder and T. A. Crerar, of Saskatchewan; Hon. A. B. Hudson, of Manitoba; Hon. A. L. Sifton, of Alberta, and possibly Premier H. C. Brewster, of British Columbia. This is his idea of western Liberal representation.

For the eastern provinces he is making further overtures to F. B. Carvell, M.P., and for Ontario he has made renewed approaches to N. W. Rowell, M.P.P., and F. F. Pardee, M.P.

Conscription Liberals Meet.

Messrs. Rowell, Pardee and Graham decline to discuss the situation. Mr. Pardee, however, was summoned to a meeting of the Ontario Liberal conscriptionists late in the afternoon, and it is reported that he was formally tendered the leadership of this phalanx of Ontario Liberalism, but declined to make any decision until he had consulted Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is evident that political affairs are tonight in a somewhat chaotic condition, but the general expectation is that tomorrow will see important and far-reaching developments. No announcements were made to the anxiously waiting newspaper men up to a late hour tonight.

The indications are that Mr. Pardee has declined to enter the union government on the grounds that it would not be fair to the Western Ontario Liberal candidates to whom he pledged his support when they entered the field.

DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT IS PROMISED FOR TODAY.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—Sir Robert Borden and the western Liberals are still involved in a violent flirtation. Today they met separately and came together again and when the lights were turned out in the private parlor of the Château Laurier there was a separation with love, regrets and the promise to meet again tomorrow. Sir Robert wants Hon. J. A. Calder, Premier Arthur Sifton and T. A. Crerar for the vote content among the population on behalf of the Fatherland party and how officers, by speeches and the distribution of pamphlets carried on a propaganda among the soldiers against the Reichstag resolution.

Minister of War von Stein, in replying to Herr Landsberg, declared that the army command did not permit political agitation within the army. This caused a stir and cries of "Oh! Oh!" from the left. Thereon the minister pointed out the impossibility of further debate under such conditions and begged the deputies to resume their seats.

Germany's Cause Hopeless.

George Gothein, progressive member of the Reichstag, is quoted in a Berlin dispatch as having said at a meeting of the central committee of his party that although the military situation was satisfactory, there was no hope of crushing Germany's enemies on land. As for the submarine campaign, 7,000,000 tons of shipping had been sunk, he asserted, but no disposition toward peace on the part of England was discernible. A rationing system for foodstuffs had not been even introduced, and no one was able to say when the U-boat would make England more inclined for peace.

Cannot Force America.

"America cannot be forced to make peace," Herr Gothein continued. "We cannot force America to pay a war indemnity. There remains only England. But should we, in order to obtain an indemnity of 10,000,000,000 marks, sacrifice 50,000,000,000 marks and another half million men?"

W. F. O'CONNOR NAMED RETURNING OFFICER

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—W. F. O'Connor, who made the report on Sir Joseph Flavelle's bacon business, has been appointed general returning officer in the coming Dominion election. He will receive and publish the returns of votes cast in Canada and overseas. The clerk of the crown in chancery and the clerk of chancery for the overseas vote will both make their returns to him.

ELEVATORS WORKING, RELIEVING BLOCKADE OF WESTERN GRAINS

Return To Work of Strikers Practically Unanimous. Unanimous.

C. N. R. LIFTS EMBARGO

Winnipeg Given To Understand Strike Has Not Been Settled.

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 8. — All elevators are operating today under the control of Director L. H. Boyd, chairman of the grain commission.

The men have responded to the call to return with practical unanimity and the work of unloading cars and relieving the congested railway yards is proceeding with great activity.

WINNIPEG IS CONFUSED.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8. — Statements as to raising the embargo on loading cars for Fort William were conflicting today. The Canadian Northern Railway raised their embargo Sunday. It was understood at the time that this was to fill a million and a quarter empty space in the Smith & Davidson elevator, which claimed it had sufficient men to unload.

When the strike was thought settled it was expected the Canadian Pacific Railway would raise the embargo on loading immediately, and apparently such was the intention, but when it was learned the strike was by no means settled, nothing was done.

However, it was understood on good authority that orders went out this evening, and that by noon tomorrow some loading will be resumed unless there are some fresh complications.

NOEL J. OGILVIE HEAD OF GEODETIC SURVEY

Has Served On Alaska Boundary and 49th Parallel.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—Noel J. Ogilvie succeeds the late Dr. W. F. King, C. M. G., as superintendent of geodetic survey of Canada. Mr. Ogilvie received his commission as surveyor in February, 1905. In 1905-06 he was in charge of a survey party on the international boundary survey of the 49th parallel of latitude, covering all branches of this work, including triangulation and photo-topography. In 1907-08 he represented Canada for H. B. M. boundary commission on the inspection of the survey of the 49th parallel of latitude from the Pacific coast to the summit of the Rocky Mountains.

He was in charge for H. B. M. boundary commissioner in 1908-10 of the survey of the international boundary between Alaska and British Columbia, commonly known as the Alaska boundary.

BIG FREIGHTER BREAKS IN TWO IN HURON GALE

The G. A. Graham, of 2,409 Gross Tons, May Be Total Loss.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT HURON, Oct. 8.—Private advices received here this afternoon by Captain J. T. Reid of the Reid Towing and Wrecking Company contain first news of the loss of the Canadian freighter, G. A. Graham, which went ashore at South Bay, just off Manitoulin Island, Lake Huron, in Sunday's gale. The vessel is reported to have broken in two, and is probably a total loss. All the cabins and most of the upper works are swept away.

No information as to the safety of the crew is given; hence it is assumed all are safe on Manitoulin Island.

The Graham is of steel construction, 310 feet in length, 39 feet beam, and of 2,409 gross tons. She is owned by the Montreal Transit Company.

American Gunners Fire Upon and Hit Italian Submarine

Officer and Sailor Killed by Shot—Submarine Was at Fault.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Vice-Admiral Sims cabled the navy department today that an American patrol vessel, on duty at night in the war zone, had fired on an Italian submarine, which failed to answer recognition signals, killing one officer and one enlisted man.

While details of the incident still are unknown here, the fact that an officer and an enlisted man were killed indicates that the American gunners landed a shot in the submarine's conning tower, the victims being the officer at the periscope and the blue-jacket at the wheel.

Secretary Daniels at once sent a message to the Italian minister of marine, expressing the deepest regret over the unfortunate occurrence, and tendering his and the American navy's sympathy for the loss of life.

Anaemia—Lack of Iron—Is Greatest Curse To Health and Beauty of American Women

SAYS DR. FERDINAND KING, NEW YORK PHYSICIAN AND MEDICAL AUTHOR

Any Woman Who Tires Easily, Is Nervous or Irritable, or Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn, Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency.

Administration of Nuxated Iron Will Increase the Strength and Endurance of Weak, Nervous, Careworn Women 100 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

THE CHILD'S APPEAL

Mother, why don't you take NUXATED IRON and be strong and well and have nice rosy cheeks instead of being so nervous and irritable all the time and looking so haggard and old-The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine

"There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy cheeked women without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author. "In my recent talks to physicians on the grave and serious consequences of iron deficiency in the blood of American women, I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—nuxated iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking women patients Pallor means anaemia. The skin of an anaemic woman is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fags, the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent, and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks.

"In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degerminated cornmeal no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cookery, like throwing down the waste pipe, the waters in which our vegetables are cooked are responsible for another grave iron loss."

"Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of organic iron just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt."

"As I have said a hundred times over organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or rundown, instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble and other dangerous maladies. The real and true cause which started their disease was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by a lack of iron in the blood.

"On account of the peculiar nature of woman, and the great drain placed upon her system at certain periods, she requires iron much more than man to help make up for the loss.

"Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous rundown people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate, or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, tells physicians that they should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their patients—Says anaemia—iron deficiency—is the greatest curse to the health, strength, vitality and beauty of the modern American Woman.—Sounds warning against use of metallic iron which may injure the teeth, corrode the stomach and do far more harm than good; advises use of only nuxated iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful healthy rosy cheeked women full of Life, Vim and Vitality

"I have used Nuxated Iron widely in my own practice in most severe aggravated conditions with unfailing results. I have induced many other physicians to give it a trial, all of whom have given me most surprising reports in regard to its great power as a health and strength builder.

"Many an athlete and prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray; while many another has gone down in inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron."

Dr. Scnuyler C. Jaques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But so many American women suffer from iron deficiency with its attendant ills—physical weakness, nervous irritability, melancholy, indigestion, flabby, sagging muscles, etc., etc.—and in consequence of their weakened run-down condition they are so liable to contract serious and even fatal diseases, that I deem it my duty to advise all such to take Nuxated Iron. I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by the Standard Drug Company, Limited, and all good druggists.

Bought Last Spring For $3,000 Offered Now At $3,500

"Real estate values are going up" —Says GENERAL WANT

Everybody realizes it—you realize it yourself. Your friends who've invested in a home wouldn't go back to the old empty, aimless, dependent rent days.

They've tasted that feeling of independence, that pride of owning and living in their own home—and while your rent money is gone forever, theirs is buying their home for them.

Wait and pay more, or buy now and pay less.

Whether you make a big profit because of increasing values or not—you know that your savings are safe and netting you 6% to 10% when invested in a home.

GERMAN SEA FORCES OBSERVED PREPARING ATTACK ON RUSSIA

Strong Detachments Off Bornholm and Coast of Sweden.

LAND AND SEA OFFENSIVE

Petrograd and Helsingfors Are Simultaneous Objectives.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Strong German naval forces have been observed off the island of Bornholm and off the coast of Sweden, apparently confirming rumors of an intended German offensive against Helsingfors and Petrograd, according to a dispatch to the Morning Post from Stockholm.

A traveler who has arrived in the Swedish capital says he learned from a trustworthy source that considerable German forces are soon to be assembled in the Baltic, including numerous mine-sweepers, seaplanes and transports.

The German plan is believed to include an attack on Helsingfors by land and sea.

INTENSE SCOUTING ON THE NORTHERN FRONT.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—Intensive scouting operations have been in progress on the Russian northern front, both sides participating in them. The official statement reporting these and other happenings in the fighting zone reads:

"Northern front: North of the Pskoff highroad and the Pauske farm, after artillery preparations, waves of enemy scouting parties appeared. They were received by our fire and repulsed.

"The enemy several times opened a mine-thrower fire on our positions west of Engelhardhol manor. In the Ullusk sector our scouting parties accomplished their purpose and took prisoners.

"Western front: There were fusillades and artillery duels above the average intensity in the region of Lake Vishnevskoki, and northeast of Baronovichi.

"Southwestern and Rumanian front: There were fusillades.

"Caucasus front: There is nothing to report.

"Aviation: On Friday, in the Rumanian region, our airmen bombarded the village of Mikloch and the Palanka station. They set fire to the sawmill at the station and the stores magazine exploded."

NEW BATTLE CRUISER OF GERMANY STRIKES MINE ON TRIAL RUN

Three Officers and Twenty Sailors Drowned—Craft Badly Damaged.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Arrivals at Amsterdam from Hamburg, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company report, that early last week a new German battle cruiser while on a trial run off Heligoland struck a mine and was seriously damaged.

Three officers and 20 sailors were drowned. The vessel was towed to port.

ANOTHER $15,000,000 ADVANCED TO BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Another credit of $15,000,000 was advanced today to Great Britain by the United States Government.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE IS NOT YET FORMED

PRESTON, Oct. 8.—The organization of a Western Ontario Baseball League, the games to be played in groups similar to hockey, did not materialize tonight on account of there being few delegates present. The only cities represented were Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Galt, Preston and Kitchener. It was decided, however, to organize in groups with a brace of officers for each group, who will in turn send a delegate or two to a meeting which is to be called later at some central point, when the Western Ontario Amateur League will, it is hoped, come into being.

FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION HAS STORMY MEETING

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—The annual general meeting of the Ontario Football Association was held here today. As had been forecast the meeting was a stormy one from beginning to end, and at times it seemed as though the meeting would come to an abrupt ending. The proceedings were controlled by President Clarke of Hamilton, and amongst the other officers present were Vice-President Howard, Secretary Muir, Auditors Collins and Guthrie. Delegates from the various affiliated associations attended in force, and representatives from Hamilton, St. Catherines, Provincial, Toronto, and district were present.

Considerable feeling was shown when a letter was read from Secretary Spencer of the Dominion Football Association, stating he had just received a communication from President Craig Campbell, in which he stated that the suspension of Secretary Muir still held good. The meeting refused to acknowledge the right of President Campbell to hand out suspensions and after a long discussion, in which Messrs. Guthrie, Clarke, Graham, Muir and several others took part, by a vote of 20 to 19 it was decided that the letter be filed.

One important rule added was that the secretary of the association may not act in a similar capacity in any other association or competition.

The officers elected were as follows: Honorary president, Rev. C. F. Buckland, Guelph; honorary vice-president, H. W. Brown, Kitchener; president, T. Guthrie, Toronto; vice-president, W. Donaldson, Hamilton; secretary-treasurer, R. B. Muir; auditors, Boyes, Beeston.

RED CROSS TO BENEFIT WHEN HOURLESS RACES AGAINST OMAR KHAYYAM

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 8.—Whichever of the crack 3-year-olds, Hourless or Omar Khayyam, comes first under the wire in the match race at Laurel on Thursday the Red Cross will be the winner of the $10,000 purse hung up by the Maryland Fair Association for what is expected to be the biggest turf event of the year. Following the receipt of a telegram this afternoon from August Belmont, owner of Hourless, announcing that if his horse won the purse would go without deduction to the Red Cross, Alfred Viau, the Canadian owner of Omar Khayyam, announced that if his horse won, the Red Cross would get the purse just the same. The winner of the race, therefore, will be content with the $1,500 championship gold cup offered by Mr. E. B. McLean of Washington.

H. STORIE WINS QUOITS CHAMPIONSHIP OF CITY

A good day's sport was held Thanksgiving Day at the central fire hall, when the lightweight championship of the city was decided. The following players took part:

First Draw.
H. Storie 21, Bates 13.
T. Tozer 21, C. Scott 18.
A. Kerrigan 21, B. Barnes 12.
S. Lewis 21, G. Scott 14.
J. Carroll 21, G. White 13.
C. Wray 21, S. Sweet 18.

Second Draw.
H. Storie 21, T. Tozer 5.
S. Lewis 21, A. Kerrigan 9.
C. Wray 21, J. Carroll 18.

Semi-Finals—H. Storie 21, S. Lewis 13.

Finals—H. Storie 31, C. Wray 28.

Robert Walsh presented Mr. Storie with a beautiful silver cup donated by Johnston & Murray. J. Carroll acted as referee and Geo. Bolton secretary.

MISS BERTHA DILLON IS FAVORITE TODAY

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9.—The Dinner Stake for 3-year-olds is the chief attraction on the program of the Grand Circuit meeting here today. It is for $5,000, $1,000 for each entry being put up by the Breeders' Sweepstake Club, composed of 13 wealthy men, who breed and race their own horses. Each horse was bred by the man who entered him. The eligibles in the stake are Miss Bertha Dillon, Tacita, Toddy S., Braeburn and Harvest Gale. Miss Bertha was a heavy favorite in the early betting.

Another stake race on the card is the Cumberland for pacers eligible to the 2:05 class on June 1. The entries in this event include some of the fastest pacers stabled at the track.

A 2:06 pace, 2:08 trot and a 2:15 pace, each for $1,000, made up the rest of the program.

ST. LOUIS FUR SALE.

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Funston Brothers' October auction sale opened yesterday morning with a very large attendance, including representative buyers from every state, some European, and a large number of brokers representing big buying power. Officials of the United States Government were present for the sale for Alaska sealskins and officials from Uruguay for the sale of Lobos Island sealskins, this being the first time Uruguay has sent seals to the market. The bidding was brisk throughout.

Yesterday's selling exceeded half a million dollars. The buyers present were very optimistic on the financial and fur trade outlook, and said that the fur trade was never so prosperous.

RAIN HAS MADE FLANDERS FIELD REAL QUAGMIRE

Military Operations on Either Side Rendered Extremely Difficult.

BRITISHERS "CARRY ON"

German Attack at Night East of Ypres Repulsed and Prisoners Taken.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Although stormy weather still continues in the fighting area in Flanders, the artillery continues active, says the official report from British headquarters in France and Belgium tonight. The text reads:

"Stormy weather continued throughout the day, heavy rain having fallen. Both artilleries were active during the day on the Ypres battle front. There was nothing of interest on the remainder of the British front.

"There was a short spell of fair weather on Sunday before the heavy rain which fell almost all day. While this lasted considerable work was done by our artillery machines, and our bombing machines dropped over two and a half tons of explosives on the Staden and Courtrai Railway stations, and on other targets. The enemy showed marked activity in the vicinity of our newly won territory, and attacked our bombing machines ambitiously. Two hostile machines were brought down and three were drived down out of control. One of our machines is missing."

GERMAN ATTACK BEATEN.

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Oct. 8.—By the Associated Press.—A counter-attack by the Germans in force east of Polygon Wood, in the region of Reutel, last evening, was quickly beaten off by artillery and machine gun fire. The front involved was over a width of about 500 yards. The attack was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage, which was put down not only in this section, but along the greater portion of the new battle line.

It rained hard yesterday, giving an unforgettable demonstration of the nature of the difficulties which the British troops have encountered in many of their recent operations. Within a few hours the entire country had been turned into a mass of deep, clinging mud, through which one made his way with the greatest effort.

A Veritable Morass.

A stream known as Honnebeke, which is one of the many little waterways that cover not only this section, but most of the battle zone, was surrounded by a veritable morass. It would be impossible to cross it at many places.

Shell holes had rapidly filled with water, and ponds were to be seen, in which a score of men might easily drown if they were unfortunate enough to fall down the slippery sides. Often a small pool of water covered a considerable shell hole.

A wounded man was being brought back from Broodsen Ridge. It took four sturdy stretcher-bearers to carry him, and they were floundering miserably at every step. It must have taken them several hours to negotiate their journey.

Still "Carrying On."

It seemed inconceivable that men could work, much less fight, over such filthy ground. Yet the British soldiers and officers were "carrying on" steadily yesterday in their operations. And in recent days they have often fought bitterly over just such territory as this.

Yesterday's rain has turned the battle front into a quagmire, which it will take many days to dry out. This does not mean that military operations could not be undertaken on either side, but there could scarcely be more trying conditions for fighting. The soldiers encountered by the correspondent were cheerful despite the fact that they were drenched to the skin with the biting cold rain.

Sing Through It All.

At one place, a number of men were sitting in the shelter of a muddy bank for a resting spell. They were wet, and, by all rights should have been unhappy, but they were singing lustily away at some popular song.

Other bodies of men of similar disposition were seen. All seemed immensely amused at the muddy condition of the correspondent and the two officers with him. Often the soldiers looked up with cheerful grins that said plainly: "How do you like it? Now you know what we chaps have to go through out here."

One could not but be impressed by the heroism of the boys in khaki who are winning the war for the folks at home.

Definite Defeat for Huns.

The clean-cut character of the British victory of Thursday grew more impressive as each new detail is available. It was a definite defeat for the Germans, and one that undoubtedly will have a far-reaching effect in the world war.

When the British wrenched away the major portion of the enemy's vital system of defenses along the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge, the German plans for this section of the western front during the oncoming winter months were thrown into chaos. This loss had been unexpected, for, according to the statements of prisoners, it was believed that climatic conditions would come to the rescue of the hard-pressed Germans and prevent any extensive British operations along this front.

Three Divisions Wrecked.

Of great importance, also were the exceedingly heavy losses suffered by the enemy. Undoubtedly there has been deterioration in the morale of the German troops as a consequence of the punishment that they sustained. General von Arnim had arrayed some of the finest troops of the German Empire against the British east of Ypres. Many of them were between the ages of 26 and 30, and of excellent physique. At least one division was composed of the famous guardsmen who are the crack soldiers of the kaiser. It may safely be estimated that at least three divisions, including the guardsmen were so badly smashed as to be counted out.

ATTACKS ON FRENCH FAIL.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—French positions on the Aisne and Champagne fronts were attacked last night by the Germans without success, the war office announces. The artillery duel in Belgium continues. The statement follows:

"The artillery fighting was continued in a spirited manner in Belgium and on the Aisne front. The enemy made several attacks against our small posts in the region of Bovettes and Craonne, and also in Champagne, in the sectors of Main-de-Massiges and Mont Haut. All these attempts were repulsed and we took prisoners. Elsewhere the night was calm.

"Today there were artillery actions at various points along the front, particularly in Belgium, in the regions of Hurtebise and Craonne."

STEAMER REPORTED SUNK STEAMS INTO HARBOR

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 8. — The British steamer Tamaqua, which was reported to have been sunk off the Irish coast on September 29 by a submarine, arrived here today.

HORSES POISONED BY FORMALDEHYDE

WALLACEBURG, Oct. 8.—Two valuable horses belonging to Walter Scratch, who lives just north of Wallaceburg, were poisoned when they got into the granary and ate a quantity of wheat which he had treated with formaldehyde preparatory to sowing. Mr. Scratch had put the wheat in his granary, but the hogs got the door open, and then the horses went in. Two died in a few hours, but a third was saved. He had refused $200 for one of the animals.

CAPT. TUPPER, IN HIS SCHOOL GAMES, SHOWED GAMENESS

London School-Fellow of Dead Hero Tells of Career.

BELIED YELLOW CHARGES

Despite Certain Injury, Went Into Game With Rivals and Made Good.

As an illustration of the theory advanced by psychologists that fear is only a temporary state of being, a story is related in the city of the school life of Capt. Victor Tupper, youngest son of Sir Hibbert Tupper, whose letter, written on the eve of his death, is being circulated throughout the States that the lofty sentiments expressed in it may be a reminder to those backward in subscribing to the new Liberty loan.

The narrator, a young man who attended the same school with Victor Tupper for six years, recounted the school experiences of the dead hero.

"We both went to Highfield of Hamilton in the year 1910," he said. "Tupper was there before I came and was somewhat older and larger. At Highfield it was imbued into the boys that the honor of the school took precedence over all other conditions, and they were taught to play their games with true British sportsmanship, and to adhere to the traditions of the famous universities of the old country.

Considered Tupper Yellow.

"As was customary, the school teams were matched to play against the teams of such institutions as Ridley, St. Andrew's and Upper Canada. Although we had a much smaller number of students from which to pick our material, we invariably won our games through sheer never-say-die tenaciousness. When I first went to the school Tupper was daily practicing for the football team. Tupper was smaller than the majority of the team and seemed to be somewhat backward with his game. He rarely tackled his man with accuracy, and at times gave such exhibitions of indifferent playing that he received the denunciations of all the boys as being plain 'yellow.'

"Tupper was not a scholar, and the only sport that he excelled in was billiards. Although a good-looking, clean type of young Canadian he consistently got in to trouble with the faculty, particularly J. H. Collinson, the head master. His greatest delight was to participate in the midnight raids carried on between the dormitories. On these occasions, armed with a pitcher of water and a pillow, Tupper, Gibson, son of Sir John Gibson, and other boys who have made the supreme sacrifice in France, would invade the territory of an adjacent dormitory, and a pitched battle would take place, with the result that a caning was meted out to the culprits in the morning.

Waited For Chance.

"The football team was chosen, and Tupper was not in it. However, this slight did not worry him, and he joined the ranks of the boosters rather than the players. At one particular game between a rival football team, many of the Highfield men were injured and forced to discontinue playing. All the substitutes were laid out because of the tremendous bucking tactics of the other team's centre-half, who literally plowed his way through the scrimmage and gained more than the length of the yard sticks every time. When Tupper saw that there would soon be a dearth of substitutes he donned football clothes and waited for his chance to show the school that the 'yellow' in him was no more. One by one the boys were incapacitated, one boy breaking his leg and another wrench... his neck and suffering great pain. Despite the certainty of injury, Tupper got into the game, and was placed at centre scrimmage, a position where he could do little to deter his team from winning. The bucks of the opposing team were no longer plunging through the wings, but the two-hundred-pound centre halfback began centering his attacks through the scrimmage. Tupper saw the big buck approach him, five men deep with the large halfback leading it. The crowd saw him waver an instant, and then fall prone on the ground at the feet of buckers, who fell over his body without gaining a yard. The crowd went crazy when Tupper got up out of the muck, shaken and bleeding, and repeated his performance. This he did for the remainder of the game, and his team managed to win out by a slim margin.

Lionized at School.

"Tupper was lionized from then on, until he quit the school suddenly. None of his friends knew that he had been offered a commission in the 16th Canadian Scottish Battalion, and their surprise was great when next they heard that he was overseas. He died possessed with that same determination 'not to let the enemy go through' that was instrumental in winning the game at school, and instrumental in saving the lines of the Canadians at Vimy Ridge, although costing his life."

BIG FUNERAL FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

TILLSONBURG, Oct. 8.—The funeral of James E. Hagell, who lost his life in a burning silo at Chas. Holman's Friday, was one of the largest ever held in this section. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ottowell, of the Methodist Church at Springfield, and interment was made at Springford Cemetery. Besides his wife Mr. Hagell leaves four small children. The pallbearers were Wm. Bell, A. Fox, Martin Haley, Melvin Haley, Lewis Pearce and James Pearce.

MRS. CARROLL IS VICTIM OF TYPHOID

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 8.—Margaret Carroll, a resident of Talbot street, Southwold Township for forty years, died at the family residence on Monday following an illness with typhoid fever. She was 62 years old, and besides her husband, Thomas Carroll, is survived by three sons, J. A. Carroll, Middlemarch; W. G., and Thomas Carroll at home, and three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Alexander, St. Thomas, and Mrs. George M. Carr and Mrs. Bert Carr, North Yarmouth. Mrs. Carroll was a member of Knox Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas.

MRS. ED WYNNE DIES AT GREENOCK

PAISLEY, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Wynne, aged 81, wife of Edward Wynne, Greenock, is dead, after a long illness. The funeral will be held on Tuesday, interment being made in Purdy Cemetery.

A union Thanksgiving service, held in the town hall tonight was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilson, pastor of the Baptist Church. The offering was in aid of the Sabbath Alliance fund.

W. H. Maromion, formerly of Paisley, spent a week here, returning on Saturday accompanied by Mrs. W. W. Hogg, who will spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Maromion at Long Branch.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in the Anglican Church yesterday, Rev. Rural Dean Perdue of Walkerton, preached morning and evening to fair congregations. The church was suitably decorated with flowers, autumn leaves and flags. The choir rendered special music.

The West Bruce Teachers' Institute will be held in Paisley school on Thursday and Friday. On Thursday evening Prof. Jones of Toronto University will give a lecture on "The Development of the Imperial Conference."

ORANGE MEETING TONIGHT.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—An important meeting of the local Orange Association will be held in the I. O. F. Hall on Tuesday evening. The report of the building committee respecting the procuring of new lodge rooms for the order will be received, and other important business discussed, according to prior announcements.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

POTATOES ARE DOWN TO $1.00 PER BUSH.

Decline Recorded Again Today On a Comparatively Quiet Market.

A particularly poor attendance was recorded at the local market this morning and a small variety of produce available, owing to the holiday Monday. Saturday night one of the greatest sales of peaches took place on the square, when the dealers discovered that a surplus of the fruit would occur if not disposed of before the conclusion of the night, and a big loss sustained because of the two days' holiday.

Until late Saturday night peaches were going for practically what it cost to pick them. Every fruit merchant made frantic efforts to dispose of his stock at a profit, but after a continuation of futile attempts all baskets went to the public at the lowest prices of the season. Baskets could be obtained at 25c to 40c, and all were sold out before the night.

Today the fruit registered a slight advance over the wholesale prices of Saturday, and the prevailing values were from 40c to 75c per basket. The choicest fruit could be obtained for the latter price, and a brisk demand for peaches was shown during the morning.

The sudden decline in the price of peaches is accounted for by the high wind which struck the Grimsby and Niagara districts, strewing the fruit all over the ground and thereby making a surplus throughout Western Ontario.

Plums remain at their present height and sell at $1 to $1.10 per basket. A decrease is expected in the price of plums just as a decline occurred in the price of peaches, and housewives are now waiting for the anticipated drop.

Grapes and apples were offered, the former fruit being especially plentiful. Grapes sold at 30c to 35c a basket, which is the lowest price recorded in the city for the last two years.

Vegetables were fairly plentiful, and remained stationary in price, with the exception of potatoes which declined to $1 a bushel. Fluctuations in the value of potatoes have occurred consistently of late and local growers are of the opinion that the present quotation is not permanent.

Butter continues to be relatively high. Crocks sell at 43c to 45c, and rolls bring 45c to 47c. Creamery butter retails at 47c to 48c, and is in brisk demand at all times.

Hogs remain unchanged at $17.50 a hundredweight. Despite the dearth of porkers throughout the country local hog buyers state that a reduction will be recorded shortly. This time of the year generally shows a decrease in hog prices. However, if the expected decrease does not soon occur hog men predict that a movement on their part shall lower prices.

Poultry and certain kinds of vegetables were not offered. All other produce remains unchanged.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Opening: Corn—December, $1 19⅝@1 19¼; May, $1 15@1 15¼.

Oats—December, 59¼@59⅛c; May, 61¼@61⅛c.

Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—Oats opened ⅜c to ½c higher, with October at 67⅜@67½c, December at 65c, and May at 67½c.

Flax opened ⅜c higher, with December at $2 88.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Down-turns in the price of corn resulted today from the Government crop report, which showed a yield largely in excess of what the trade had expected. Bearish gossip was also current of a likelihood of federal efforts to bring about a lower ratio in the value both of hogs and corn. Enlarged offerings of old corn from rural holders tended further to weaken the market.

Opening quotations, which ranged from ¼c to 1c off, at $1 19¼@1 19⅝ for December and $1 15@1 15¼ for May, were followed by a moderate additional decline.

WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 9—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Pressure against speculative stocks was resumed at the outset of today's trading. Tobacco issues again displayed the greatest heaviness, United Cigars yielding 3 points, though Tobacco Products steadied on recommendation of an initial dividend of $1.50. Metals and several active equipments also lost material fractions to almost 2 points. Distillers fell 2 and Industrial Alcohol 2½ United States Steel rallied promptly from its slight setback, but rails and utilities indicated renewed heaviness, Delaware and Hudson losing a point and Baltimore and Ohio 1⅛.

Noon.—Selling soon attained greater momentum, concentrating upon industrials and several standard issues, including high-grade rails. United States steel reacted a point, Crucible 2, Union Pacific 1⅜, coppers 1 to 1½. People's Gas 3 and Ohio Gas 2½. The movement bore the marks of professional origin.

1:30 p.m. — Representative stocks ended their gains in the early afternoon, and Mexicans and motors also improved, but utilities continued to sag. People's Gas recorded an extreme decline of 6½ points, and Columbia Gas fell 2⅜.

KERENSKY TRIUMPHS IN POLITICAL CLASH; PROVISIONAL CABINET WILL STAY SUPREME Preliminary Parliament Can Put Questions, But Has No Right To Demand.

Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 8.—The Provisional Government apparently has won a complete victory over the preliminary Parliament, an outgrowth of the Democratic Congress. M. Tseretelli, one of the leaders of the Parliament, today informed Premier Kerensky that the Parliament had withdrawn all its demands that the Government be responsible to it and had acceded to the Government's plan that the Parliament act merely in an advisory legislative capacity.

A Temporary Council.

The Parliament has been christened officially as the "temporary council of the Russian Republic" and will sit until the constituent assembly convenes. It has been agreed that "the council shall have a right to put questions, but not demands, to initiate legislation on state questions, and to deliberate on measures which the Government lays before it."

The Government will work out the whole program for the Parliament, at the first sitting of which Premier Kerensky probably will personally lay before it the Government's new program. At the suggestion of the Government, 120 members of the Bourgeoisie will sit in the Parliament.

Premier Kerensky today officially informed all those selected last Thursday of their appointment to the new coalition cabinet. M. Mastoff, who was offered the ministry of agriculture, declined, on the ground that the interests of the present party required his attention. M. Skobeleff, Kerensky's choice for minister of labor, has not decided whether he will accept.

HELFFERICH AROUSES ANGER OF REICHSTAG; RESIGNATION LOOMS

Govt.'s Reply To Quiz Over "Fatherland Party" Was Unsatisfactory.

Amsterdam, Oct. 9.—There is growing displeasure in German parliamentary circles against Dr. Karl Helfferich, owing to Saturday's events in the Reichstag. The General Anzeiger of Dusseldorf prints a report that Dr. Helfferich will resign the vice-chancellorship in a few weeks, if not sooner.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—The Reichstag debate on Government aid to the propaganda for the Fatherland party, which lasted from 11 o'clock in the morning until evening, had the unexpected effect of opening the eyes of many of the members and most Berlin newspapers to the fact that the parliamentarization of the German Government is not a question of altering the constitution and making new laws, but that the beginning of the process is with us even today. The conception is most clearly expressed in Vorwaerts, which concludes its leading article thus:

Reply Unsatisfactory.

"To make things still worse, the Independent Socialists, when the debate reached its climax, made a motion that the Reichstag declare that the Government's answer to the interpellation was not satisfactory to the Reichstag. Indeed, it is not satisfactory. But what are the consequences of this motion if accepted? There will be nothing left for Michaelis and his friends to do but to pack their trunks.

"Herr Michaelis, of course, had not expected a great political debate. He remained away. Meanwhile, night come on and the house adjourned.

"The Vossische Zeitung thinks that a decision can no longer be avoided, saying:

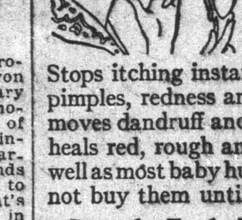

" 'It is impossible for the majority parties to pass a vote of confidence in Helfferich, because he does not possess it.' "

The National Zeitung does not believe there will be an actual vote of censure, but it, too, shares the indignation of the majority party organs over the insufficiency of the Government's reply.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—An auction sale will be conducted by the Red Cross Society of Port Huron, commencing on Wednesday, October 10. Grocery market, hardware and house furnishing departments have been arranged, and one hour of each afternoon will be given to the auctioning of articles. A carnival with numerous features and vaudeville has also been arranged, and a musicale and tea will be given each afternoon. Sarnia talent will feature the program for the opening night.

SOLDIERS' MOTHERS SEE OLD PROPHECY BEING FULFILLED

Twenty-Five Million Women Have Given Sons to War.

Preaching on the text, "Yea, a sword shall pass through thy own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed," at the union Presbyterian Thanksgiving service in St. Andrew's Church yesterday forenoon, Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell of Toronto drew attention to the manner in which history repeats itself, and these two things of the text are being fulfilled today, as in the time of the passion of Christ long ago. Lord Roberts, the far-sighted soldier and statesman, warning the people of England, had uttered this very prophecy to the mothers of England: "A sword shall pierce thy soul also." It has been fulfilled in the case of 25,000,000 of mothers who have given their sons to the great war, even as it was fulfilled in the case of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Thoughts Revealed.

Concerning the suggested purpose of the "piercing of the soul," Mr. Mitchell pointed out that in the passion of Christ the thoughts were revealed of those who crucified him, dark by contrast with the spotlessness of God. The disciples forsook their master and fled, betraying their thoughts that he had come to establish a world kingdom. In the last place, it revealed the thoughts in the heart of Jesus, predicting the end to his disciples, Jesus had shown to them that his death was to be in accordance with God's will, and that self-giving was to be the law of his kingdom.

"This excruciating modern passion through which we are passing," said Mr. Mitchell, "is revealing the dominant thoughts that animated all the governments of Europe before the war. It is revealing the thoughts of the common people and bringing to light the fact that life comes out of death.

Ready for War.

In the first place, concerning the dominating thoughts of the governments of Europe, a friend of mine who lived for a number of years in Germany before the outbreak of war was one day taken into the confidence of officers, who told him that great buildings had been turned into arsenals in preparation for war. German and French school textbooks which have been translated and given to the world make it amazing not that Germany and France are at war, but that they were not in a perpetual state of war. The war has revealed the fact that peace cannot be built on suspicion, distrust and balance of armaments. Peace can only be built on righteousness.

Two Kinds of Wounds.

"In surgery there are two kinds of wounds, the clean wounds and the unclean, which leave pockets to harbor malignant germs. The Russo-Jap war was a clean wound, leaving no after-bitterness. The Franco-Prussian war was the unclean wound, which left festering, malignant pockets.

"The war has revealed first, that lasting peace can only be founded on righteousness, and secondly, the fallacy of preparing for war in times of peace, instead of preparing for peace.

"The war is revealing the thoughts of the common people. The heroism of our boys has given the lie to Nietzsche's declaration against democracy that people on all sides were growing smaller; that all they cared for was comfort; that no heroism was left. The war has revealed among our boys a love of country greater than the love of life."

Tribute to Mothers.

An eloquent tribute was paid by Mr. Mitchell to the mothers of soldiers, the mothers whose hearts have been pierced by the sword.

"Much as I admire the soldiers, I admire the mothers more," he said, adding: "The boys are having a new experience. The mothers are waiting and wondering at home. The marvel is at the calm of assurance of the mothers as the sword thrust is piercing through their hearts."

In conclusion, a message of optimism was left with the congregation. The preacher drew attention to the ray of light in the heavy clouds of anxiety and sorrow, the revelation that out of death comes life, the new revelation that triumph and fuller life can only come by way of the cross.

Sneer at Cross.

In this connection, reference was made to H. G. Wells' book, "The Invisible King," and regret expressed that this writer, who has written so much that is worthy, has given to the world a book so crude. "The trouble is," said Mr. Mitchell, "Wells and a number of other men think they have discovered a new religion, and in doing so, they sneer at the cross. Even the sister of Nietzsche wrote in the preface to his greatest book that he could not have done his greatest work without suffering and disappointment. Our Master was a hero from the temple to Calvary."

Concerning the sacrifice or life in the war, the statement was made, giving the main thought of a book recently read, "May it not be in the mind of the eternal, the material body does not matter so much as in the mind of man? May it not be in the mind of the eternal that the life of the soul is of greater value than the life of the body."

Matters Little.

"According to the standards of eternity, it matters little whether this body of mine disintegrates today or twenty years hence. Modern psychology is tending more and more to the idea that 'The soul doth the body make.' When I drop this material body, I have a new body awaiting me, a body I am building up by my thoughts, aspirations and conduct. There is nothing without the cross, and we need never despair about the future. The 'good old days' are not behind us, but as 'the good new days' before us."

Rev. J. G. Stuart, president of the Presbyterian Ministerial Association, conducted the service, Rev. D. C. MacGregor, minister of St. Andrew's, and Rev. Dr. McCrae assisting in the service. Suitable music was furnished by the choir under the direction of C. E. Wheeler.

A collection was taken in aid of the Armenian relief, Rev. F. A. Steven of the China inland mission explaining the crying need of such assistance.

Photoplay News

PATRICIA.

Madge Kennedy in "Baby Mine," the second Goldwyn production to be presented in the city, is showing again today and Wednesday at the Patricia Theatre. As a refined comedy picture "Baby Mine" cannot be excelled. Audiences that packed the Patricia to the doors at every performance Monday were unanimous in pronouncing this photoplay as one of the most entertaining features ever shown in this city. The photoplay is adapted for screen presentation from Margaret Mayo's screaming farce of the same name. Miss Kennedy plays the part of Zoie in the picture.

Zoie is a light-hearted bride, whose yearning for suppers and theatres leads her uncompromising young husband to abandon her. Her scheme to get him back furnishes the situations around which the comedy revolves. After he has been away for some months Zoie causes his return with an announcement that a baby boy has come to the household. There is no such thing, but Zoie proposes to get one from a children's home.

But Alfred, the husband, played by Frank Morgan, gets home sooner than expected. There is no baby on hand, and Jimmie, Alfred's friend (John Cumberland), who is brought into the plot by Zoie, steals a baby from the foundling home.

The mother of the stolen child is soon in pursuit of her baby, so while Alfred is rejoicing over the arrival of an heir, it becomes necessary for Jimmie to get another baby. He "borrows" one of the washwoman's twins and, the first baby not having been returned, Alfred is told that he is the father of twins. The resulting complications makes all the fun.

As a stage play "Baby Mine" was funny, but on the screen it is a scream from start to finish.

Jackie Saunders in "Bab" is the matinee attraction again today and Wednesday.

A Fox comedy, "A Roman Cowboy," is good for a laugh every foot of the way.

In vaudeville, Gus Bartram, a lyric tenor direct from New York, was received with generous applause, which he well deserved.

MAJESTIC.

Fanny Ward in a Paramount production, "On the Level," was witnessed by capacity audiences at every performance yesterday at the Majestic Theatre.

This photoplay is without a doubt the best in which this popular star has appeared. She is given wide scope to display her remarkable versatility as an actress in the character of Merlin, later known as "Mexicali Mae." Briefly the story is as follows:

Merlin Warner is the only child of an old sheep ranchman, and keeps house for him in a somewhat sketchy fashion, spending most of her time on horseback, or with a book for company. The two are very happy, although poor, until Pete Schang, at that time "rustling" sheep for a living, raids the place, kills the father and carries the girl off, while his men drive the sheep in front of them.

Two or three years later we find that Pete has found it more lucrative to smuggle opium under cover of running a saloon, and that Merlin, renamed by him Mexicali Mae, is the saloon's chief asset. She has been transformed into a pitiful little dance-hall girl, in reality a captive and a slave. Pete's wife hates her and she is homesick for the range and her father.

Matters go from bad to worse until the advent of "Joe," a drug fiend and a derelict, but a thorough gentleman and a talented musician. Through her love of books and music Joe appeals to Mexicali Mae as no one else ever had and she falls desperately in love with him.

When Joe, who was told by Pete that he had killed the man, tells this fact to Mae, she says he dreamed it, that the drug has played worse tricks than this often. As they redeem the land, it gradually redeems them, although Mae has many fights with Joe against the morphine that he still craves occasionally. When his cure is complete he offers to marry her, more in a spirit of gratitude than anything else, Mae, overjoyed, consents. Joe takes Mae to his mother at the hotel and tells her Mae is to be his wife. The mother looks rather hopelessly at Joe, then tries to explain to Mae that she had done what she did out of love for Joe, adding that after all she is his mother. Mae says she understands, that she had tried to do as she wishes, but that she, too, had been a "sort of" mother to Joe. The mother, realizing Mae's great love for Joe, gathers her into her arms, and the last scene brings a promise of great happiness for all three.

Mildred Manning in "The Princess of Park Row," is the matinee attraction.

"Two Crooks," a Mack Sennett Keystone comedy, is a funny film presented in a spectacular fashion.

Roy Griffin was received with enthusiasm at every performance Monday.

The Majestic concert orchestra is rendering "Crown Diamonds," an overture by F. E. Auber, at every performance this week. This selection is one of the best that the orchestra has ever played.

At Majestic Today—Fannie Ward in "On the Level."

Lottie Pickford, "little" sister of Mary Pickford, in "On the Level," the Paramount picture starring Fannie Ward, in which she is appearing at the Majestic Theatre today, wears a motor coat and hat of unusual attraction. The coat is of heaviest velour, trimmed with bands of contrasting leather, and seems almost to envelop petite Miss Pickford, while the smart little toque of soft straw trimmed with a simple band of velvet and buttons, sets off to perfection her piquant beauty. Miss Lottie Pickford is dark haired and eyed, in contrast to Mary. She is a star in her own right, and takes an important role in support of Miss Ward in this picture.

WOMEN STEADY WORKERS

It used to be said that women could not be depended upon like men to work steadily, and, consequently, ought not to expect so much pay as men employed at similar work.

While it would be foolish for any young woman to stay at work when physically unfit, it is believed that most women now continue at their work as constantly as men. Any woman who is unable to do so, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the old, reliable medicine for women, and get the aid she needs to enable her to keep at work.

CARD OF THANKS.

The widow and brother of the late Thomas Bowles wish to express thanks to all friends for the many kindnesses and beautiful flowers, to the Rev. A. C. Bingham, and to the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen for their kind services at the house and grave.

DISTRICT SCHOOL FAIRS

DERWENT AND DORCHESTER.

The school fair held one the Derwent, S. S. 18 and 21, Westminster and Dorchester school grounds, came off with great success. This is the second school fair to be held in this district. Last year the fair was held at Gladstone. This year, as the requirements were much better understood than in the previous fair, more interest was shown and better entries were made.

R. A. Finn, agricultural representative, classed this fair favorably with other fairs which he has attended this fall.

School Parade.

An interesting feature of the day was the school parade. The pupils of each school were dressed to represent various national ideas, and when the children were lined up on the road, made a fine procession. The prize-winning school, Gladstone (teacher, Miss Lutton), sang "O Canada," and the pupils were decorated with maple leaves. A feature was the large Union Jack hung beneath a wooden scroll showing S. S. No. 17. The pupils performed a short drill in a most creditable manner.

Derwent school (teacher Miss Dockstader), which was awarded second prize, sang "We're From Canada." The girls were dressed in white waists and blue silk crepe paper skirts, with white girdles and red shoulder straps. The boys wore bands of autumn-tinted maple leaves. They were led by "Miss Canada" suitably clad.

An entry which especially attracted vegetable growers was Derwent's 3 feet by 3 feet box of vegetables from the homes of the sections.

The prizes:

EAST WILLIAMS.

The school fair held at McEwen's School, East Williams, was a decided success and well attended in spite of the inclement weather, by a large crowd of parents, pupils and friends of the three schools. All were favorably impressed with the quality of the exhibits and the spirit with which the pupils entered into the fair. Much credit is due to the trustees of the schools and to Miss Shipley, Miss Auld and Mr. Davidson, teachers of the three schools, for their efforts in making the fair a success. The proceeds of the sale of small flags and from the booth were given to the Red Cross.

At the conclusion of the judging short addresses were given by Messrs. D. Campbell and J. M. McKay.

The judges were—Agricultural exhibits, G. Stewart, A. Stewart; art, writing, maps, manual training, etc., J. H. McKay, S. Sinker; domestic science, Mrs. D. McArthur; flowers, Mrs. D. McArthur, G. Stewart; poultry, J. Hanson.

Many of those who did not win prizes were complimented for their exhibits.

Prizes were awarded as follows:

APPIN PUPILS PARADE.

APPIN, Oct. 8.—The school fair was held here Saturday, and although the weather was not pleasant a large crowd turned out. The exhibits were splendid, but owing to the late date of the fair the flowers were not up to the mark. The exhibits were displayed in the town hall, and the speaking and singing took place in the Presbyterian Church.

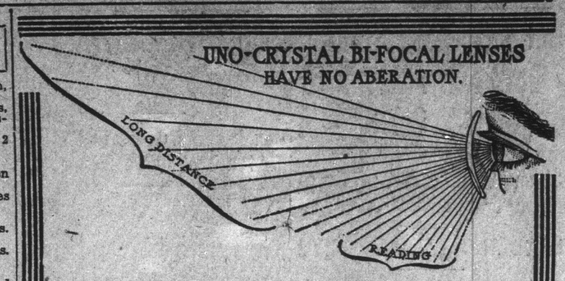

The pupils marched and sang. S. S. No. 8 was awarded first prize. The pupils were dressed as Indians and squaws and gave a war whoop every few minutes.

The second prize was awarded to S. S. No. 3, the children being dressed as sailors.

Third prize went to S. S. No. 13, dressed as farmers, boys and girls in overalls and carrying sheaves of oats, pumpkins on sticks, etc.

S. S. No. 6 looked well in overall aprons on girls and blue striped smockovers on boys. They carried necessary articles for farming. All regretted there was not a fourth prize, as this school well deserved one.

The Red Cross had a booth in the Orange Hall. The proceeds will add greatly to the Red Cross bank account.

IN LONDON 46 YEARS.

The funeral of Aaron Northcott, held from the residence of his son-in-law, C. B. Chapman, 41 Beaconsfield avenue, was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Dougall, pastor of Askin Street Methodist Church, of which deceased was a member of long standing.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Gerry, Wm. West, Wm. Copp, Thomas Copp, A. C. Johnston and J. Justin.

He was an old member of Court Byron, I.O.O.F., and of Trafalgar Lodge, Sons of England.

Mr. Northcott was born in Northlew, Devonshire, England, in August, 1847, and came to this country 46 years ago, residing in South London continuously since that time. He is survived by his wife, two sons, George H., superintendent of L. and P. S. Railway, and Sergt. Walter M. of the A.M.C. in England, and one daughter, Mrs. C. B. Chapman, with whom he had resided since his illness.
