HIGHER WALLS, NEW LOCKS TO MAKE JAIL SAFE

County Councillors Decide On Stronger Bars For Middlesex Bastille.

HEAR DUNLOP'S REPORT

Expert Locksmith To Be Summoned From Belleville To Suggest New System.

New locks and other features to provide for the safe guarding of prisoners at the Middlesex County Jail are included in the report of W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons, received by Deputy-Sheriff B. F. Watterworth at the court house Friday morning.

Inspector Dunlop, Warden Alton Ryckman, of the Middlesex County Council, the jail committee and Mr. Watterworth made an inspection of the jail on December 8. Mr. Dunlop intimating that a full report would be forthcoming later.

Mr. Dunlop thanked the deputy sheriff and warden for the courtesy shown while going over the different features that require attention.

Involves Small Expense.

"I have always thought that Middlesex wanted the best and for very little expense the London Jail can be made more secure than we have always considered it," advised Mr. Dunlop.

The following changes were decided on and fully endorsed by the councillors present:

"It is recommended that a small door leading through the north wall of the west exercise yard be bricked up."

"It is recommended that the door in the west wall dividing the easterly and westerly exercise yard be bricked up, also that the window which is already bricked be smoothed off in some way to prevent the sill being used to climb up the wall."

Would Heighten Wall.

"That there be approximately four feet added to the north wall in order to make it safe and impossible for a prisoner to get over it."

"That the wooden doors in the lavatories in all corridors be removed and that special attention be given to the lavatories in the east wing, where the old iron toilets, which are at the present time most insanitary."

"That electric light be put in the storeroom."

"That an iron grill door be provided on one of the doors leading to the corridor where prisoners are brought in at night by constables or others."

"That small horizontal steel gratings be put on the peep hole of No. 1 corridor and that these gratings should also be provided with hinged iron windows with small lights of plate glass. This feature was particularly commented on by the warden, and is a very excellent suggestion, because it will make it doubly secure when there are important prisoners to guard."

Employ Lock Expert.

"It is recommended that a jail committee be appointed, with a lock expert at Belleville to have him advise the committee as to the new system of locking cells and corridors. It was, no doubt, appreciated by the committee and the councillors present that this old locks in the county jail have in many respects served their usefulness."

"It is also recommended that a small steel cabinet be purchased for the locking up of keys, but perhaps it would be better to wait until the decision of the locksmith as to what changes will be made in the locking system before purchasing this cabinet."

WILL EXCHANGE AUSTRIAN BONDS

Reparations Commission Is Ready To Redeem Pre-War Issues.

The American consulate in London has been notified, that pre-war unsecured bonds of the old Austrian government debt, which, on the date of the coming into force of the treaty of St. Germain, July 16, 1920, were held outside of the boundaries of the states to which territory of the former Austro-Hungarian monarchy is transferred, or states arising from the dismemberment of that monarchy, which assume part of the Austrian debt, by American citizens will be exchanged for those of the new issue by the reparations commission.

All American citizens holding these bonds residing in the London American consular district comprising the following counties, Elgin, Middlesex, Huron, Bruce, Perth, Oxford, except the north easterly part and Norfolk except the easterly half are urged to bring them in to the American consulate immediately, so that they may be in the hands of the reparations commission by the end of the current year.

Holders of old pre-war Hungarian bonds should do likewise. Although no arrangements have been made for their exchange to date, it is expected that some adjustment will be made at an early date, and it is desirable to have a record of those outstanding.

Former Army Surgeon
Dies In Electric Chair

Richmond, Va., Dec. 8.—Dr. Wilmer Ames Hadley, formerly army surgeon and ranchman, was put to death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary early today for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sue Tinsley Hadley, in November, 1918. Prison attendants declared Hadley went to his death calmly and stoically.

Canadian Fire Losses
Nearly Half Million

Toronto, Dec. 9.—Fire losses in Canada during the week ended December 7, are estimated by the Monetary Times, at $457,500, compared with $258,500 the previous week. Fire losses in Canada in November were $1,185,645, compared with $2,199,700 in October, and with $2,769,800 in November last year.

Royal Mother Happy at Betrothal of Princess Mary!

LONDON, England, Dec. 9.—Her Majesty Queen Mary rode along with Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles made their first public appearance here since the announcement of their betrothal. This exclusive photograph, taken in the Mall for The London Advertiser, indicates that the royal mother is well pleased with the match.

Lord Lascelles, it was announced today, will be the first governor-general of the Irish Free State.

BRAMMER-MASON CASE GOES TO JURY

Relatives Deny Absence of Defendants From City.

The case of Roy Brammer, ex-police constable of London, and Fred Mason, charged with stealing eight cases of whiskey and $150 from Hubert McCaffery, a farmer, on the evening of May 19 last, went to the jury late Friday afternoon.

The evidence of Brammer and Mason occupied much of the time at the morning session of the court being held before Judge J. C. Judd. Brammer denied ever having been at the McCaffery home, and denied being at the residence of Sam Rowed on the night in question. He declared that he did not mention whiskey to Mr. Rowed, and did not ask to borrow any truck. He could not understand why Mr. Rowed should tell the story he did.

Visited Aunt's Home.

Mason declared that he had spent the evening at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Smith, on Richmond street. He had met Brammer down town that night and had been driven about two miles past Brough's bridge. They had then returned to his aunt's house, and Brammer had driven away.

Questioned by Mr. McKillop, Mason admitted having been recently fined $200 in Ridgetown for having a bottle of liquor in a place other than a private dwelling.

Evidence for the defence was closed at 11:15 Friday morning, and Albert Judd, counsel for Mason, then addressed the jury for over half an hour.

J. M. McEvoy, K.C., started in to review the evidence on behalf of Brammer, and was going strong when Judge Judd adjourned court for lunch at 12:45.

Mr. McEvoy intimated that his case to the jury would occupy some considerable time, and resumed the case at 1:45 this afternoon, after which Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop spoke.

Case Goes to Jury.

After a few remarks by Judge Judd the jury retired to decide the fate of Brammer and Mason, who were tried on the same offence at the June sessions, the jury not being able to agree on a verdict.

Contrary to expectation the evidence of Leslie Hindmarsh did not create a sensation in the trial at the county court Thursday.

Elsie Brammer, wife of the ex-police constable, on examination by J. M. McEvoy, K.C., and Albert M. Judd, counsel for the defence, stated that her husband left his home about 7 o'clock on the evening in question and returned about 10 o'clock. He was driven home by Bruce Faulds. The latter testified that he had met Brammer.

PRASE FARMERS FOR ENTERPRISE

New York, Dec. 9.—Canadian Press.—In complimenting the western Canadian provinces on their enterprise in sending exhibits to the international livestock exposition at Chicago, the Herald today says: "Western Canada is encouraging diversified farming in a way certain to bring an increased flow of dollars into the pockets of agriculturists, who at one time devoted their energies exclusively to the raising of grain crops."

Commenting on the livestock breeding campaigns conducted by the Provincial and Dominion Governments the Herald says: "Such progressive methods cannot fail to stimulate livestock raising. More and better cattle, sheep and hogs will be produced in the Dominion because of the government's policy."

LEAVES LARGE ESTATE.

Toronto, Dec. 9.—The late Frank Rolph, Sen., honorary president of Rolph, Clark & Stone, lithographers, left an estate valued at $120,550 all to his widow and family.

NEW YORKERS SHOUT 'ROMB' WHEN WHISKEY STILL EXPLODES.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Dec. 9.—A mixture of home-made whiskey detonated in the making last night on the fifth floor of an east side tenement. Shouts of "Romb!" were heard and thirty-two families fled their supper tables.

Well smeared with ketchup and other things, woodwork plumed with copper fragments and a ceiling full of holes were found by the police. Window panes throughout the tenement were shattered but no one was hurt.

The owner of the still was not at home, but police were assigned to wait for him.

Suppose Nobody Cared!

ON CHRISTMAS MORN

ONLY SIXTEEN DAYS, and then the chance to make Christmas Day happy for everyone in London will be gone. Only sixteen days for "goodfellows" to come to the fund with an offering which will make this the happiest Christmas ever experienced in the city of London, not only for the kiddies but for the grown-ups as well.

The kiddies' letters to Santa Claus still carry a great appeal. Here is one which has just come in:

"Dear Santa Claus:

"Things are pretty bad at our house. My father is sick in Victoria Hospital. Will you send my brother and me some warm clothes and candies. Mother is afraid my sister is getting consumption. There is no money coming in at our house. Dear Santa, please don't forget us. We have no coal at our house, except something good will turn up. Please be my friend, and don't forget us. From "NANCY."

The whole heart of this little girl was put in her letter. The surest way to make that little heart glad is to send a contribution to the treasurer of the "Goodfellows' Christmas Cheer Fund," care of The Advertiser.

Toronto, Dec. 8.—Miss Nellie Brickley, a maid at the home of Dr. H. MacNeil, was found dead in the cellar of the MacNeil home today. Death was due to carbolic acid poisoning.

Recount Will Be Made In South Huron

GODERICH, Dec. 9.—It was announced here Friday that a recount will be conducted in South Huron, where William Black (Progressive), has been declared elected by a plurality over Thomas McMillan (Liberal) and J. J. Merner (Conservative).

With only a few polls to hear from on Dec. 9, McMillan had been announced winner by forty or fifty votes. His lead has now apparently been overcome and exceeded by twenty-odd votes, a recount has been granted.

France Expected To Accept Agreement

Paris, Dec. 9.—France's acceptance of the quadruple agreement for the Pacific is considered certain in official circles, although the draft received from M. Viviani of the French delegation in Washington only this forenoon is regarded as a suggested outline and not a perfect plan.

Action here upon the agreement is expected very shortly.

Board of Education Decides To Lay Matter Over Until Next Year.

There will be no additional appointments to the public school staff of dentists until next year. This decision was made after considerable discussion at Thursday's meeting of the finance committee of the board of education.

It has been claimed that with two dentists engaged at half time, only a rather small percentage of the children should be examined at least once a year. At Thursday's meeting the committee decided to leave the question of further appointments or establishment of additional dental clinics for the consideration of the new board.

His public addresses in Canada were all in the nature of appeals on behalf of blinded soldiers, appeals for help to make them self-sustaining and useful citizens in spite of their handicap. A branch of his famous London St. Dunstan's, where blind soldiers are taught a number of handicrafts and inspired to be helpful, rather than a charge on the community, was established in Toronto a few years ago, and is a very prosperous institution.

CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF OBSTRUCTING POLICE

Wilbert Moran was fined $25 and costs or one month in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of obstructing a police officer while he was making an arrest.

It is such occurrences as these that cause riots. The police are doing their duty, and it is not up to any citizen to make trouble for an officer, whether he thinks that the arrest is justified or not. That matter will be decided by the magistrate, declared the court.

Constable William Middaugh was the complainant. When he attempted to make an arrest of a man for using abusive language, it is alleged that Moran jumped on his back and started to battle with him.

NATIONS SEEK SOLUTION FOR CUT IN NAVIES

Concessions Sought by France

BRITAIN WILL ACCEPT

by "Big Three."

Washington, Dec. 9.—By Ben Deacon, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press.—With agreement on the naval ratio declared to be a certainty, an announcement of Japan's acceptance being understood to await only the settlement of minor points in regard to the two other agreements which Japan regards as contingent upon the ratio question—the entente which will replace the Anglo-Japanese alliance and the agreement on limitation of fortifications in the Pacific—conference discussion this morning turned to other phases of the naval armament proposals.

The position of France and Italy in regard to the general agreement for the reduction of naval strength has again come to the fore. These nations will naturally be included in the agreement, but upon what basis they will come in is still a matter of conjecture.

The report that France's demands will include a capital ship ratio equal to Japan's with a submarine allowance of 70,000 tons, was revived today, but no authoritative statement on the subject was obtainable.

It is known that the British are prepared to accept the ratio as outlined in the United States proposals, and it is believed that Great Britain would not have reached this decision without some definite assurance that France's demands will not be excessive.

It seems altogether likely that some understanding on the point was reached before the British experts declared the 5-5-3 plan satisfactory.

As for Italy, there appears little doubt she will demand equality with France, though the Italian delegates are very anxious to reach a compromise. It seems altogether likely that some understanding on the point was reached before the British experts declared the 5-5-3 plan satisfactory.

WILL ASK APPOINTMENT OF TWO CITY TEACHERS
It will be recommended to the board of education by No. 1 committee, that C. A. Brown be appointed as male assistant teacher at the Alexandra public school, duties to commence on January 2, and Miss Mabel Broughton to be temporarily engaged for the Knollwood Park public school.
Although the last regular session of the board was held on December 6, the secretary announced Friday that a special meeting will be necessary before Christmas week, at which all outstanding business for the year will be disposed of.

BRITISH TEXTILE TRADE BEGINNING TO REVIVE
London, England, Dec. 9.—(Canadian Press Cable).—A considerable revival of activity in the textile industry has taken place lately, and factories which were without work for many months now are quite brisk. J. R. Clynes, labor leader, supports the view that some form of international credit must be evolved if commercial activity is to be started up again strongly. He appeals to the British workers to realize the vital need of cheapening the cost of production by hard work and increased output.

COUNCIL FACES HOUSING ISSUES

1922 Aldermen Must Deal With Board's Unsolved Problems.

The council for 1922 must take in hand some solution of the present chaotic condition of the London Housing Commission. This is the general feeling around the city hall.

The commission has some 36 houses on its hands which continue to be a bill of expense to the city and continue to pile up the loss which the general taxpayers must ultimately meet.

The first action which the new council will have to take will be to name two new commissioners, as the two-year terms of Chairman Cunliffe and Commissioner Dennis expire at the end of the year. Commissioners Tallant and Hessel have yet a year to serve.

There is a strong feeling that Chairman Cunliffe should be retained. Commissioner Tallant says that he should be back to help clean up the situation. He and Mr. Dennis are two old members of the commission.

The commission has been trying hard to sell its houses. For weeks past, however, they have not put through a deal. When they saw that sales were not going through, the commission decided to cut the price in an effort to make the houses more attractive to new home seekers. They handed them to many dealers to sell.

These efforts failed. Since the cut in price there has not been a single sale. One more Garfield avenue house has been rented and it may be that the occupant will ultimately purchase the house. As he might be desirous of doing so he has made this a stipulation in his lease. That is the nearest to a sale that the commission has come. In the meantime some fourteen of the houses on Garfield avenue are standing empty.

The Pine Lawn houses are said to be in a worse plight than the Garfield avenue lot. Just before the price was cut, the 22nd house was sold. This left twenty on the commission's hands, and those twenty are standing empty. The commission has as yet taken no action in regard to the roofs of the houses which have been declared faulty. It may be that some action will be taken at the next meeting.

FRUIT-GROWERS OF MIDDLESEX MEET

Elect W. England of Byron President and A. J. Cody Secretary.

The tenth annual meeting of the London Branch of the Middlesex Fruit Growers' Association was held in the office of the department of agriculture Thursday afternoon. The officers for the ensuing year were elected. It was announced that the next meeting of the association would be held Jan. 5. It is expected that Mr. Palmer of the Vineland Experimental Farm will deliver an address on fruit growing.

A. J. Cody, secretary, was appointed as the delegate to represent the London branch at the annual meeting of the provincial association to be held in Toronto in February, 1922.

H. Shore of Byron and Roy Blinn of Westminster were appointed as representatives on the Western Fair board. William England of Byron was elected president. Roy Blinn of Westminster, first vice-president; A. K. Sadler of Lambeth, second vice-president, and A. J. Cody of London Township, secretary.

William England was elected chairman of the purchasing committee; Harry Shore, chairman of the exhibit committee; John Etherington, chairman of the program committee.

DEFINES MEANING OF WORD 'REALTOR'

President of London Real Estate Board Outlines Origin of Expression.

"The word 'Realtor' has come into general use. There seems, however, to be considerable confusion in regard to the correct meaning of the word and its origin," said Bert Weir, president of the London Real Estate Board, today.

He said, "Realtor" is defined on page 38 of the address of Webster's International Dictionary: "A real estate broker who is a member of a local board having membership in the National Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization incorporated in 1908 for the advancement of the interests of real estate brokers, and the protection of the public from unprincipled agents or brokers."

"The exclusive right of members of local boards affiliated with the National Association to use this title was confirmed by judicial decision in a case in which the National Association and the Minneapolis Real Estate Board brought joint action against the N. W. Telephone Exchange Company and thirty-six individual defendants in the district court of Hennepin County, Minn. The telephone company was enjoined from designating anyone as a realtor in its telephone book who was not a member of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board. All the defendants submitted to the decision. The word is not copyrighted."

"It was coined by Charles N. Chadbourn, former president of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board, and former vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and was adopted by the National Association in 1918."

"The word 'Realtor' signifies more than merely board and National Association membership. The true realtor, as defined by a former National Association president, 'is a man of high ideals. He is one who has made the code of ethics of the National Association a part of his personal code of honor, and who would rather lose a record-breaking commission than violate his own conscience. He appreciates the heavy obligations which he owes his community, his clients, his profession and himself. He realizes, as few laymen do, the intimate nature of the confidential relationship which exists between the realtor and his client, who may be obliged at times to reveal to his realtor embarrassing details of family differences and financial distresses.'"

CITY INCREASES WORKING STAFFS

Unemployment Situation Is Being Relieved by Sewer Operations.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier is increasing his gang on the Pine Lawn sewer. The original work to relieve unemployment was started with a gang on sanitary sewers. It is the intention to immediately start a second gang at work on the storm sewer part of the work, and the first part of next week will see a third gang started on sanitary work also.

It is expected that from now on the gangs will be increased from time to time, and new work undertaken, as the council has instructed the engineer to get all the sewers approved under way as soon as possible.

Of the original work, only the West London sewerage system is still going. Paving, sidewalks, curb and gutter work has all been closed down, and so this has added materially to the number of unemployed. For most of the summer, however, the 600 odd workers at these tasks had steady employment at a pretty fair wage, so that they should be in a fair shape to meet the early part of the winter.

All in all, the city has spent about $800,000 on municipal works during the past summer.

CATHOLICS COMMENCE PRAYER PERIOD IN CITY

The congregation at St. Peter's Cathedral Friday morning started the forty-hour's devotion which lasts until Sunday.

This special period of prayer is held at a different time in every church and is regulated that at all times this period is going on in some Catholic Church. At St. Peter's Cathedral it opened with a solemn high mass at 9 o'clock, and there was a large congregation on hand. Friday evening there will be benediction and a sermon by Father Tierney of St. Michael's Church. During the entire forty hours, the Blessed Sacrament is exposed on the altar, and it is arranged that at all times some members of the congregation will be present in the church.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at nights for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch all my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

advertising experts of Canada, addressed the London Advertising and Sales Club and a large number of retail merchants at a meeting Thursday night in the McClary dining-room. Mr. Brooker is one of a number of expert speakers on the problems of the retail merchant being brought to London at the instance of the Advertising Club.

Mr. Brooker, in speaking on the "Retail Merchants' Problems in 1922," dwelt on two aspects of the main problem which confronts the retailer, namely, sale making, the first being the manner in which advertising can be made to bring the best results, and second, salesmanship.

He advised merchants to introduce human interest into their advertising in the form of stories which embodied a news value, lending an atmosphere of romance to the article offered for sale, to study the source of the manufactured article, that by becoming conversant with the story of its production they might intrigue the buyer's attention and bring the human interest, unusual or surprise element into salesmanship.

Maintain Human Interest. "It is a good thing to remember that people are interested in the history of things," said Mr. Brooker in relating typical instances where human interest was a factor that could be traded upon in advertising and salesmanship.

The speaker quoted a prominent American advertising man as stating that 75 per cent of salesmanship consisted in studying one's product, 25 per cent one's customer. Continuing, he outlined twelve points in advertising which he had formulated for merchants, the observation of which would tend to efficiency in advertising and salesmanship.

A questionnaire followed the conclusion of the address, during which the meeting was thrown open for discussion. Appreciative comment on the address of the evening was made by P. Ashplant, Rowland Hill, George Yelland, G. Clark, P. Glen, H. B. Muir and others.

Cater to Local Trade. T. P. Elliott, in replying to a query of Mr. Yelland concerning advertising and salesmanship points for the suburban dealer in a small enterprise, said that he thought that the merchant whose store was removed from the center of the city should cater to trade which came to them in preference to making a trip into the main section of the city. He spoke of newspaper advertising and the best manner of its use, advising an intelligent and consistent use of it.

In further explanation of several of his points on which a number of members had expressed themselves as not clearly understanding, Mr. Brooker replied: "Salesmanship is such a big proposition that you can only touch the fringe of it." He predicted that a new cycle in business was coming in the next decade. "The selling tactics used in the past five years are not going to be the same in the future," he said.

States Club's Aims. The president, G. Clark, outlined the aims and objects of the club, stressing the fact that the club, by meetings of this nature, hoped to be of service to all merchants of the city.

"We feel that by helping you we help our own cause. I do not consider that there is a better club to which merchants should belong from an unselfish standpoint than the Advertising and Sales Club," said the president. A vote of thanks on behalf of the club was tendered to the speaker of the evening for his address.

KIWANIANS NAME CLUB CANDIDATES

Will Select Officers at Annual Meeting at Early Date.

The list of nominations for the officers for the year 1922 was read to the Kiwanis Club at its noon luncheon Friday in preparation for the elections to be held at the annual meeting.

A resolution was introduced by Rev. T. S. Roy to leave the nominations open until next Wednesday in order that if any five members wished to make alterations in the proposed list they might make application to the secretary, F. Morrow.

The secretary said that the bylaws of the local club were deficient, and that revision would be necessary in order that a working basis might be arrived at and conformity to the international constitution be attained.

A letter was delivered by District Governor Beverly Hay from the international president of the association, Harry Carr, asking that each Kiwanian in the clubs in every city undertake to supply a Christmas basket to some home in need.

President Mitchell said that, considering the fact that the local Kiwanians were undertaking a Christmas tree on the 22nd, he did not wish the members of the club obliged by the president's letter, but to act as they chose in the matter.

Arthur Ford was the speaker of the occasion, and delivered a terse talk on "The Modern Newspaper."

"The newspaper, in its present form, is a modern invention," said Mr. Ford, "although the idea goes back to the days of Julius Caesar."

The first newspaper to collect news in the modern sense of the word was the New York Sun, and its competitors in New York in the early forties.

He outlined the manner of news gathering in those days when carrier pigeons and pony relays were utilized to bring in the "copy."

He drew a comparison with the way in which a president's address at Washington was carried by pony to New York, and now when the address is on the street before the president has finished speaking.

The speaker also went into the history of the Reuter's news agency, how it was founded by a Belgian bank clerk whose enterprise and ideas had made it second only to the great Associated Press of a news agency.

He spoke of the first Canadian paper, The Montreal Gazette, founded by Benjamin Franklin, and also related the history of the Canadian Press.

The Canadian press, he said, was the associated press news, but it was edited at New York, and only of Canadian interest used, he said.

"The charge that news is colored with an American tinge will hardly stand today," he added.

BRAMMER-MASON CASE GOES TO JURY

night that the stealing was alleged to have been done. On that particular night, he testified, he had gone to the McCaffrey home and purchased a bottle of whiskey from Hubert McCaffrey. After the deal was completed, he left the farm and walked up the opposite direction to that from which he came. He had not gone far when he saw a car parked on the side of the road. The two occupants stopped the car, and after finding the bottle of whiskey, handcuffed him. He thought they were inspectors.

Asked Settlement. After he was taken back to the McCaffrey farm, he stated, the strangers expressed their willingness to let the matter drop, if they received a profitable enough settlement. At first they wanted $700, but later accepted a check for $250 from him and $150 in cash from the McCaffrey boys. In addition they took eight cases of whiskey, he said. Before they finally departed, however, they returned three bottles of liquor to Hubert McCaffrey.

During the following week, Hindmarsh declared, he had been taken by the police to see Brammer in an attempt to identify him. He could not do so.

When asked why he tendered a worthless check, he explained that he intended to cover it in the morning.

At first they wanted $700, but later accepted a check for $250 from him and $150 in cash from the McCaffrey boys. In addition they took eight cases of whiskey, he said. Before they finally departed, however, they returned three bottles of liquor to Hubert McCaffrey.

During the following week, Hindmarsh declared, he had been taken by the police to see Brammer in an attempt to identify him. He could not do so.

When asked why he tendered a worthless check, he explained that he intended to cover it in the morning.

INVITE CANADIAN WOMEN TO RALLY

Mrs. Small Brings Solicitation From U. S. League of Voters.

A dispatch from Washington states that Mrs. Sidney Small, a member of the Toronto City Council, who addressed the Kiwanis Club in London 2 weeks ago, has returned to Canada after a visit to the States, carrying an invitation to Canadian women to send delegates to the third annual meeting of the Pan-American Conference of Women in Baltimore next April.

The invitation comes from the National League of Women Voters, which is promoting the Baltimore meeting. Delegates have been invited from all South American countries.

Mrs. Small is the second woman to serve on the Toronto city council, and stated when she was in London last week that she had "enjoyed every minute of her first eleven months' experience." Prominent socially in the Queen City, she has been for years deeply interested in welfare work. Out of her social welfare activities in Toronto developed the Big Sisters' Association, through which she became widely known as president. Closely allied with this has been her distinguished service as a member of the juvenile court committee.

As a result of her knowledge gained of conditions existing in her own city, and the effect of these on the moral and social welfare of the citizenship, Mrs. Small has devoted much time and thought to the housing problem. Associated with all the leading women's movements, she has been identified with the Municipal Voters' League in its efforts to secure 100 per cent efficiency in voting.

STUDENTS STAGE FIGHT AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

Kingsford, Dec. 9.—Seven students of Queen's University are confined to the General Hospital, several of them with broken ribs, while eight or ten others were so badly injured that they needed medical attention, as the result of a clash between arts and medical students at the new arts buildings this morning, when a rallying gale way and precipitated a struggling mass of 50 or more students into the basement.

The affair was the aftermath of a rush by the students last night.

YEAST ACTS QUICKER WHEN TAKEN WITH IRON

Thousands Now Take Ironized Yeast Tablets to Build New Health, Strength, Energy and Weight.

Often Bring Results in Half the Usual Time.

Thousands of people who were formerly thin, weak, nervous, rundown or languid, have seemingly taken a new lease on life since Science discovered that the health-giving, energy-producing elements called "vitamines" were contained in great quantities in Yeast.

But to help bring more quickly and more thoroughly the added flesh, the soothed nerves, the strengthened muscles, the clear skin and the wonderful energy, the blood must be enriched also.

That is why Science has combined Yeast with organic or vegetable iron, the most easily assimilated form of iron such as is found in limited quantities in Spinach and Raisins.

The name of this effective combination of tonics is Ironized Yeast. In this form, Yeast becomes a perfect tonic and revitalizer—and often accomplishes its results in HALF THE USUAL TIME.

Ironized Yeast keeps indefinitely and costs about the same per dose as the common yeast, but is much more effective. Each package contains 10 days' treatment, and costs only a dollar, or just 10c a day. Special directions for children in each package. Sold at good druggists everywhere.

Explaining It Now.

Even in the hours of defeat and of triumph the Canadian papers viewed the result with a certain composure and sense that was quite different from its rather rabid performance in some cases during the campaign.

The following are typical phrases from Liberal papers, and to say the least, they are mild:

"There will be righting of wrongs and redress of past grievances."

"Sweet out of existence by a blast of outraged public opinion."

"He (King) will proceed to establish a stable and progressive government."

"The government had no mandate—it was autocratic—it was defeated."

"Canada cleaned house, ending an era of wasteful extravagance."

And from Conservative papers we have taken the following:

"Sir Robert Borden left an awful legacy to Hon. Arthur Meighen."

"Meighen will not long remain outside the political arena."

"We have therefore, no excuses and no explanations to offer."

"It has been a good fight on the part of the premier, but a feeble one on the part of his party."

"The government has been overwhelmingly defeated at the polls."

The Conservative press certainly blows mild and easy in defeat in comparison to the jargon of horrible caricature and black type that shouted at the people for weeks past.

Votes Disappearing.

And now comes a story from Guelph, that the majority of Hon. Hugh Guthrie is whittled down to 21.

That brings the riding more in line with general expectations.

When first returns gave the minister of militia over a thousand in a three-cornered fight, the politicians were worried.

They thought for the time that the Guelph member was a super-man.

The surprise is that he came through at all, as his former strength was in the country, which was a pretty well dried up source for favorable ballots owing to the Farmer candidate pulling largely from that source, and also to Sam Carter's popularity in the rural districts.

In a straight two-party fight in South Wellington, the head of the minister of militia would have rolled into the scrap basket alongside that of his political leader, Arthur Meighen.

Get It Straight.

London has heard plenty of rumors in regard to the letting of contracts in connection with the Board of Education.

There may be some irregularities here, and there may be none.

The trouble is that right now there is not a clear-cut, definite knowledge as to whether things are as they should be or not.

London ratepayers have shown by their money votes that they are willing to back educational institutions to the limit.

London's finances, as far as education is concerned, should be administered on such a plan of efficiency and integrity that there would never be reason for a campaign of whispering and insinuation to get a start.

That $200 Forfeit.

Arthur Mould, candidate of the Labor party in London, according to law, will lose his deposit, because he did not secure half as many votes as the winning candidate.

Mr. Mould secured 4,328 votes, while the winner of the contest, Mr. White, polled 10,020. In order to save his deposit of $200, Mr. Mould would have had to have 5,010.

This, of course, has been law for some time, and the same practice is followed in other countries. It is no doubt, necessary to provide some barrier in the form of a forfeit to provide for the bona fides of a candidate, but there is another angle to it.

Arthur Mould was nominated in a regular way by a convention of voters in this city. He represented certain principles and ideals that they held to be right. They considered that it would be well for the city to have him at Ottawa, to put forward these ideals. In all that, they were perfectly within their rights as Canadian citizens.

Mr. Mould, or his friends, failing to secure the required number of votes, must now pay over $200 for the privilege of running. It is quite possible to make out a very good case why there should be some stipulation that will prevent the ballot paper from being flooded with names, yet there is the actual fact, as worked out in London, that the Labor candidate, although he polled a good vote, must hand over $200 to the government.

Was It a Surprise?

The Chatham Planet, speaking of election results, has this to say:

"Mackenzie King, if the truth were known, is probably the most surprised man in the Dominion. Very few except those who were partisan Liberals, ever thought that there would be any possibility of him being called upon to form a government, but such will evidently be the case."

The fact is the Chatham Planet was a bit color-blind during the campaign. There were times when it could not see, and there were times when it would not see.

The Planet must ought to know that its poor policy to go groping around and squinting with only one eye.

Nobody guessed that King would have a majority?

Of course this great family paper is too modest to reach up and plant a wreath on its own slanting brow, but on December 1, in the Advertiser editorial columns the following appeared:

"Get out and vote and make it from 117 to 120 seats for King."

Minority Votes.

It is noteworthy that a large number of the seats won by Conservatives have the minority of the total vote cast. This is especially true in Ontario, which has for years been classed as the Conservative stronghold. The election just closed has turned Ontario into good fighting ground again.

A casual glance over the returns shows that a number of successful candidates running as government supporters have their seats by less than half the total votes cast. The same can probably be said of a number of Liberal winners, but the application to Conservatives alone is permissible, because this has been for some years such a Conservative stronghold.

Carleton returns Garland, a minority candidate; in Durham there is F. W. Bowen, under similar circumstances; East Elgin provides a similar case in the election of John L. Stunsell; in North Grey there is another similar case in M. R. Duncan; Halton has its R. R. Anderson, while Gen. C. S. Mewburn, in Hamilton, won, although far below the halfway mark; West Lambton has an outstanding case in R. V. Le Sueur, and Donald Sutherland in South Oxford is another; East Toronto provides E. B. Ryckman, and Hon. Hugh Guthrie is a very noticeable case in South Wellington, where he has hardly a lead over the Farmer candidate, not taking into consideration the vote of the Liberal candidate.

Looked at from almost any angle, the voting on December 6 was a poor day's business for the prestige of the Conservative party in Canada. It is extremely unlikely, too, judging by the calibre of the men elected by the Liberals, that they will have much chance to seize upon any error of judgment on the part of the now-government to recover their lost political prestige.

That Terrible Blunder.

A correspondent who is well versed on affairs in India draws attention to the regrettable blunder by which 64 Moplah prisoners were suffocated to death in a railway coach.

He points out that although the incident is referred to even officially as a "terrible blunder," that phrase hardly expresses the harm that will be done, because the incident "will be used to fan the flame of trouble that is always ready to break out in India."

The Moplah rebels had previously lost the sympathy even of the Nationalist leaders, whose teaching other when they walked. A royal proclamation was issued, that no man could wear a shoe with a toe wider than six inches. This stopped many fights.

The way fashions "catch on" shows how strong the following-the-leader instinct is in human beings. It is as natural as for a wolf pack to follow the best fighter.

Men are poking a lot of fun at women's styles. But men have the same instinct, the same desire to wear weird things. If you doubt it, watch sober-faced citizens parading in lodge uniforms.

Men's fashion instinct has become repressed, but only because of the necessity of adapting garments to peculiar working conditions of civilization. At heart, we are all dandies.

LITTLE 'TISERS

The papers are full of suggestions as to where good cabinet material can be secured for the Liberal government. In fact, enough names have been suggested to make two or three cabinets. It might be well to allow the premier-elect to have a word or two to say when he is ready to make a move.

It is to be hoped that a seat can be found for Hon. Arthur Meighen. The Conservative party has not a better man for the position of federal leader. He has an intimate knowledge of Canada's problems, and, moreover, a keen opposition is one thing that will help any government to do its best work.

According to our homely way of thinking, Peter F. Martin, who was shoved into the Senate the day the Meighen party went to the country, is the luckiest man in the business. Peter certainly knew enough to linger under the plum tree while there was still a chance for the Meighen party to knock something his way.

The Toronto Telegram almost blew up its boiler when it announced the election results. It started like this:

"Thank God, Toronto and the Yorks, with the flusterous exception of North York, have escaped responsibility for the national humiliation of a W. L. M. King premiership."

The Montreal Gazette undertook the day before the election to tell what was going to happen. Surveying North York, where Mackenzie King was elected, the paper said:

"That he will be elected in North York is extremely doubtful, and his own appreciation of the odds against him has induced him in the final moments of the campaign to resort to somewhat desperate tactics."

Just in passing, and for the sake of historical preservation, let us recount what the Toronto Mail said in its last final screech at the electors:

"Today the voters of Canada have the nation's business, nay, its very life, in their hands. Is their decision to be for Canada or for the United States? The country has come again to the parting of the ways, and we have the faith that it will choose with the same right instinct and sound sense as it chose in 1911, when Mr. King and Mr. Crerar were both passionately laboring to force through the pact that the crafty Mr. Taft designed—as in the confidence of his then intimate friendship with Col. Roosevelt he confessed—for the purpose of making Canada an adjunct of the United States."

Too bad, wasn't it, that that fine piece of rubbish should be turned by an unappreciative electorate into a swan song.

THEN, MAYBE.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL.

Exposing Children To Contagion

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

IGNORANCE has built an almost insurmountable bulwark against the prevention of disease. Public health authorities and physicians, perhaps, alone realize the great battle they are continually fighting and must keep against ignorance and foolish, mistaken ideas about disease.

There is one unusually foolish idea that many mothers are guilty of harboring. This is that their children must have a certain number of the children's common diseases and, therefore, the sooner they have them and get over them, the better. The only answer to such a silly notion is that the mother who purposely exposes her children to disease of any sort is guilty of little short of a crime. Such a mother, through her ignorance, and perhaps this is not entirely her fault—does not know that fifty thousand children are annually sacrificed to the quiet of diseases, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough.

Here are contagious diseases (particularly dangerous during school days) with their symptoms explained so that mothers and teachers can recognize them early and take proper precautions:

Diphtheria: An acute disease of the nose and throat. Caused by germs from the children who have "sore throats." The germ enters the mouth and causes the growth of a false membrane in the air passage which strangles the victim. The symptoms are sore throat, chills, fever and general feeling of languor.

Whooping Cough: This "simple" disease kills ten thousand children annually. Starts like an ordinary cold with an ordinary cough. After a week or ten days, the "whoop" is heard. Scarlet Fever: Symptoms are a tired feeling, restlessness, chills, vomiting, high fever. Skin becomes hot and dry. Swollen tongue becomes "furred." Rash and more fever. Measles: Another "simple child's ailment" that claims thousands of victims annually. Symptoms: Cold, watery discharge from nose and eyes, hoarseness and coughing.

The best way for the mother to prevent her children from catching these diseases is to keep them in a normal state of good health all the time. Keeping the children away from others with these diseases is essential. If a mother or teacher recognizes any of the above symptoms in a child, or thinks she does, a physician should be consulted at once.

I paid the dollar for the coupon. I will present it to any one who wants a photograph of himself. I have other coupons purchased from other people who wanted a few minutes of my time and, incidentally, a dollar of my money.

READ YOUR CHARACTER
[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 56—"EXTENSION" EARS. You know what "extension" ears are, the kind that stand out from the head. It takes an extremely prejudiced mind to hold that they are beautiful. They are even referred to at times as "jackass ears."

But those who make the butt of ridicule, particularly in such terms, unconsciously betray their own lack of knowledge of the subject of character reading at least. For "extension" ears indicate anything but the characteristics of the jackass.

They indicate, first of all, strong character in a general sense. More particularly they indicate executive ability and expression of character.

The extension-eared are the people who are "Johnny on the spot" with the frank, outspoken practical suggestion. You may find them bashful during the immature years of youth and inexperience, and this is due to their recognition of their own shortcomings at this period, a recognition which is directly traceable to those well-balanced qualities of mind which produce the executive ability with which they are more than normally endowed.

Given maturity and experience the reticence automatically disappears and gives place to that happy facility of being able to take hold of a given situation and handle it to advantage without the handicap of too much self-consciousness.

SOUTHERN GAS CO.
ASKS RATE BOOST

Not Likely To Obtain Agreement At Private Conference.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 8.—With several private conferences between the counsel of the company and the representatives of the various townships and villages affected, the investigation into the application of the Southern Ontario Gas Company for an increase in the present gas rates was resumed, after a postponement of one month, before Referee G. F. Henderson, K.C., of Ottawa, in the local court house on Thursday morning.

Following a plan which had proved successful in the settlement in the gas dispute at Aylmer Wednesday, Mr. Henderson suggested the private conferences as a means of reaching an agreement. As the results had been obtained by night, an evening session was held.

It is possible that the referee may give his decision on Friday, although Thursday night little hope was held out that an amicable agreement would be reached by means of the conference. The company is asking for an advance from 15 cents to 35 cents in Dover, Tilbury East, Coatsworth, Romney and Merlin. In Raleigh the present rate is 15, 20 and 25 cents, and the company asks that a standard rate of 25 cents be charged. In Harwich, the rate asked is from 15 cents to 45 cents. Increases from 20 cents to 45 cents are asked for in Howard, Highgate and Orford. The above increases have all been granted the Union Gas Company, H. R. Davis, general manager of the Southern Ontario Gas Company, informed the Times-Journal. The rate now charged in Aldborough, Rodney and West Lorne is 25 cents. The company asks for a 60-cent rate in these districts. Dunwich and Lutton are charged a 30-cent rate at the present time, and the company asks that a 60-cent rate be levied. The rate in Southwold is 35 cents, and the company desires this increased to 60 cents. Westminster and Dorchester consume gas for 40 cents, and this rate is asked to be doubled.

HERRERA RESIGNS HIS PRESIDENCY
GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 8.—The Guatemalan Congress, which was dissolved during the revolution of September, 1920, has been called today to meet to receive the resignation of Carlos Herrera, whose presidential regime was overthrown in the revolt of last Monday night, and to elect a provisional president.

FORCED BARN DOOR TO STEAL VALUABLE FURS

WINGHAM, Dec. 8.—Fleming Carter of Belgrave died at his residence recently and was buried in Clinton Cemetery this afternoon. He was 75 years of age, and is survived by his wife and two sons, Fred and Bert, of Wingham, Ont.

The thieves had forced an entrance by breaking a lock on the barn door. The general election is over. Some valuable furs were stolen from the barns of H. Wardman, and the interest is turning to the provincial police are working on the contest, and it is expected that there will be a number of new faces on the 1922 council.

Farmers are taking advantage of the good sleighing in this district to draw their hay, grain and wood.

LATE LUMBERMAN

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—The estate of the late Senator W. C. Edwards, pioneer lumberman of Ottawa, mill owner and parliamentarian, is valued at $1,992,948.46, according to a statement issued this morning by his solicitor.

Application for probate will be made tomorrow.

The entire estate is divided among members of his family and that of his widow.

More than half the entire estate consists of Dominion of Canada Victory bonds.

It is estimated that the province of Ontario will obtain about 20 per cent of the estate, or nearly $400,000.

Perth Councillors Oppose Any Extension of Franchise.

LAMBTON PROGRESSIVE
THANKS SUPPORTERS

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BOTHWELL, Dec. 8.—B. W. Fancher, Progressive, the successful candidate in East Lambton, was given an enthusiastic ovation in the town hall, when he returns came in Tuesday night. Mr. Fancher thanked the electors for the trust they had placed in him, and assured them of his best efforts to serve them. His home is near Bothwell, where he is well known and highly respected.

The Women's Institute arranged a concert in the hall, the program being presented by local talent. The proceeds of the concert, which amounted to $120, will be used to send a little crippled girl to the Children's Hospital in Toronto.

MINORS SILENT OVER DRAFT BEGEY, BUT DESIRE TO HELP IN SOLUTION

MEET MAJORS IN NEW YORK NEXT WEEK IN CONFAB

Answer May Come Or Some Progress Be Made.

KITCHENER'S NEW PILOT

Tex Irwin, Former International League Catcher, Is Tolton's Choice.

BUFFALO, Dec. 8.—What the minors have as a measure of protection against the raids of the majors upon their players they will hold. That was the freely-expressed opinion among the delegates at the close of the 21st annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today.

No modification of the "selected player rule" was possible at the minors' convention here, because it is a part of their agreement with the majors that can be changed only at a major-minor confab, and the next one opens in New York next week.

If the matter was discussed in today's executive session the minors kept their own counsel about it.

The only reaction from the advances of the minors and the appeal of Commissioner K. M. Landis to organized baseball to find a way out of the woods on the draft question, therefore, can be found in the known attitude of the personnel of the committee of minors.

Neither President T. J. Hickey of the American Association nor President H. W. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League takes kindly to the idea of letting down the bars again to the minors.

President J. C. Toole of the International League is of the same mind, but there is said to be some differences of opinion among the members of that organization, and the question will be threshed out at the league's annual meeting, which takes place before year-end.

Neither President T. J. Hickey of the American Association nor President H. W. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League takes kindly to the idea of letting down the bars again to the minors.

The new board of arbitration of seven members was chosen as follows: Class AA, W. H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, and John O'Neil, president of the Eastern League; Class A, John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association, and Dan O'Neil, president of the Eastern League; Class B, N. B. Cornish, South Atlantic League; Class C, W. G. Bramham, Piedmont League; Class D, J. V. Jamieson, president of the Blue Ridge League.

Montreal is expected to replace Syracuse on the International League circuit. Frank Shaughnessy says that the capital is ready in Montreal, and that the inclusion of that city in the Toole circuit is certain.

Shaughnessy has purchased First baseman Wofford from the Flint club of the Michigan-Ontario League, while the same club also bought Pitcher Matt Kiley from the Kitchener team of the Michigan-Ontario circuit.

Minor League Doings. Wild Bill Donovan will likely be appointed manager of the Reading team of the Buffalo club, and sales was checked owing to the refusal of International club owners to waive claim for the men.

The Buffalo club will build a new steel and concrete stadium next year. Kitchener has signed Tex Irwin, former International League catcher, as manager.

The New York Yankees will train at New Orleans from March 1 to March 15.

Leonard Claims His Brother a Wonder.

BENNY Leonard, champion lightweight of the world, figures the title is certain to remain in the Leonard family for some time.

Don't get the impression that Benny thinks he will be able to keep on holding the title. He has a younger brother in mind.

Benny has unquestionably outgrown the lightweight class. It is a certainty that he can no longer make the weight. Probably that is the real reason for calling off his bout with Lew Tander.

Leonard's next bout will be for the welterweight title. He has designs on Jack Britton, the present holder.

Of his brother Billie, Benny says: "He is a better fighter than I ever was. He will be ready to hold the lightweight title when I am ready to graduate into the welterweight class."

Twin Bill For Charity Effort

Indoor Baseballers Play Under I. O. O. E. Auspices.

Arrangements are practically completed for two indoor baseball games to be played at the armories next Wednesday night under the auspices of the Overseas Chapter, I. O. O. E., in aid of the Santa Claus fund of the Advertiser and Free Press and the Children's Hospital.

The R. C. R.'s and Hussars will furnish one of the games and 12th Field Battery may face the crack W. O. R. Battery. These two mixes would provide some great baseball and should prove a big attraction to the fans and to those who wish to help the worthy objects for which the games are being played.

Tickets will be on sale at 15 cents, so it will take a big crowd to send the funds up to any appreciable extent.

Not Dead Set.

This does not mean that the minors will go to New York dead set against an amendment to the draft rule, which, by the way, was made for the benefit of the association. They are as anxious as anyone in the game to find what Commissioner Landis termed "a new fundamental law that would compose the differences in organized baseball."

They are not willing to go back to the conditions covering the draft prior to 1921, it was declared.

The members of the new board of arbitration were elected at the closing session.

Owner Does Everything (He Carries Bats Often) But Take In Tickets

OMAHA, Dec. 8.—"Barney" Burch is the owner of the Omaha club in the Western League. But wait a minute—you haven't heard anything yet.

Not only does Mr. Burch own the club, but he also manages it. His club finished second last year, so he must have done a pretty good job.

Aside from managing the club, Burch also plays regularly. He might be called the general utility man of the team.

Burch is a pitcher, and took his regular turn in the box. When not pitching he filled in at other positions when the occasion demanded.

When Jack Lelivelt, his star first sacker, was injured Burch played the initial sack, and did it well.

When Cy Lingle, his first string pitcher, was forced out of the game because of injuries he substituted back of the bat.

Usually when a team's regular catcher is out of the game the club slumps, but Omaha kept on winning with the manager, pitcher, first baseman back of the bat.

Several times during the season one of his outfielders was unable to play, and once again Burch was "Jerry on the Job."

He played 11 games in the outfield.

In 19 trips to the plate as a pinch-hitter he hit safely 16 times. His batting average for the season was .311. His pitching percentage .725.

Now that the season is over Burch is remodeling his ball park and taking an active part in it. Every day since the close of the season he has worked as one of the carpenters on the job.

His slogan is a pennant for Omaha in 1922 and a big league park by 1923.

Exterminator With $171,381 Won; Leads Geldings of World

Five Years of Strenuous Campaigning Puts Old Horse At Head of Thoroughbreds.

C. J. Fitzgerald writing in the New York Herald, says: Thoroughbreds come and go, but Exterminator, like Tennyson's brook, "goes on forever," winning season after season and displaying those splendid qualities which command the admiration of lovers of the thoroughbred racehorse, the world over.

The fact that he is the biggest money-winning gelding in the world, with $171,381 to his credit as the result of five years of strenuous campaigning, and that most of his victories have been gained over long distances with high weights up, makes his performances all the more remarkable in these days when the "under-the-sun" sprint racing is the order of the day.

From the time he passed into the possession of Willis K. Kilmer, he has traveled this country and Canada, engaging all corners over every kind of a track. On some of his forays, Exterminator has been beaten, but his dauntless spirit has never been dismayed.

Most horses that have taken part in campaigns much less strenuous than that of Exterminator show the scars of racing. Not so the gallant chestnut warrior by McGee, out of Fair Empress. His legs are as clean as the day he was foaled, and nobody ever saw him take a lame step. He is of the rough and ready type exemplified by such horses as Monitor, Parole, Barnum and Drake Carter, all of which were unsexed and which raced year after year a generation ago and seemed to have no end.

His memory of the present day racegoer Exterminator is of the same old-fashioned, steady-going type that accomplish some task that would make new friends for himself and the cause of racing.

While he would not be classed as a handsome horse Exterminator has distinctive qualities which are immediately apparent to all who know the fine points of a thoroughbred. His neck is long and symmetrical, and his ears are set with his great breadth between the eyes is beautifully modeled. His withers running well into the back. His hips are a trifle rough, giving him a somewhat angular appearance, which is accentuated by his height of leg. He toes out a trifle with one front foot, but in action he is a long strider and as a mud runner has few, if any, equals.

His courage is of the matchless variety, and he refused to accept defeat as was shown in the case of his battle with that other racehorse, Boniface, for the Pimlico Cup recently.

An Honest Horse.

Here is what Henry McDaniels remarked the day he covered his conquest with the "Exterminator" which

WESTERN FIVE OPEN JAN. 14

Enter in Intercollegiate With Varsity and O. A. C.

OLD TEAM INTACT

Western U. has received the schedule of the intermediate intercollegiate basketball series, and play their first game of the series on O. A. C. floor at Guelph on Jan. 14.

The western group which is composed of Varsity, O. A. C. and Western will be played off early, so that the winners may meet the winners of the McGill-Queen's-R. M. C. eastern group.

Western should have a good chance this year. With McGeech, Cline and the rest of last year's crew intact, they are in a position to start right out in form.

Coach Blake, who knows the cage game from every angle, is well satisfied with his team.

The schedule is as follows: Jan. 14—Western at O. A. C. Jan. 18—O. A. C. at Varsity. Jan. 21—Varsity at Western Gym. Jan. 28—O. A. C. at Western U. Feb. 1—Western at Varsity. Feb. 4—Varsity at O. A. C.

R. C. R.'S DEFEAT C. O. T. C. 22 TO 0

W. O. R.'s Win From 12th Battery in First Game At Armories.

C. O. T. C. indoor baseball team was defeated by the R. C. R.'s in a Garrison League game at the armories Thursday evening by the score of 22 to 0. The first game between W. O. R.'s and the 12th Battery was much better, the game ending 4 to 3 in favor of the W. O. R.'s. Uptergrove, Curry and R. Cook scored for the winners, while the winners' runs were shared between J. Murray, Wood and Kilbourne and Wood the latter scoring two.

Captain Phillips' pitching went a long way to help the R. C. R.'s win. There was a large crowd out, and indications point to the league being a huge success.

The teams: R. C. R.'s—Winters, 3rd; Watkins, 1st; Phillips, p.; Hyman, c.; Hanson, r.; Rudde, 1st; Richard, 2nd; Cameron, s.; Howard, 1st. C. O. T. C.—Calder, c.; Heard, p.; Coleman, 1st; Ramsay, 3rd; Selts, r.; s.; Lewis, r. f.; Freal, 1st; Johnson, 1st.

Six Teams in Bank Hockey League Formed Yesterday

L. Spry Is Elected President of New Circuit—Lots of Talent.

Six teams comprise the Bank Hockey League organized yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the Huron & Erie clubrooms. L. Spry is the president of the circuit, which should be a big addition to London hockey this season.

Bank accommodation is not settled yet, but it is thought some of the games will have to be played on open-air rinks.

The teams: The teams in the league are: Huron & Erie, London Life, Montreal, Merchants-Masons, Dominion-Royal and Northern Life-Commerce.

The officers elected were: President, L. Spry; vice-president, H. Siddall; secretary-treasurer, W. G. Chapman.

An executive will be formed by the appointment of a representative from each team.

N. Y. CANOEISTS DESIRE INTERNATIONAL RACE

New York, Dec. 8.—The New York Canoe Club, holder of the international challenge trophy for sailing canoes, is taking steps to resume international competition and is anxious for a challenge from either Canada or England.

The trophy was first offered in 1885. The last race was sailed in 1915, when Ralph B. Britter, Cananogue, Ontario, challenger, was beaten by Leo Friede, the New York club defender.

ENGLISH FOOTBALL RESULTS. LONDON, Dec. 8.—(Canadian Press cable)—Replayed games in the fifth qualifying round of the English Association Football Association cup today resulted as follows: St. Albans 2, Rushden 0. Coventry 1, Rotherham 0. Kettering 0, Grimsby 2.

BOWLING

Bowling is perhaps the most popular of all winter sports in its general appeal. In a way it is the golf of winter, to those not living in a climate where golf is possible the greater part of the year.

Bowling is a game that appeals to the young and old alike, and can be indulged in by either without any injurious effects.

Basketball, like tennis, is a great sport, but it can be indulged in only by the youth. There is too much exertion entailed, too great a strain on the heart, for the older lovers of sports.

Bowling is entirely different. It is the sport that can be indulged in without any fear of injurious effects, regardless of one's age. There is no strain on the heart, no great amount of physical effort necessary. Yet one does just enough bowling so that the stomach muscles are strengthened, while the legs and arms get enough exercise to keep them supple.

This great winter sport has only one drawback. It is being gradually remedied by those now promoting the game as a business enterprise. It is the location usually selected for bowling alleys.

For years basements of downtown office buildings, where the light was usually bad and the air worse, have always been selected. That has been no bowling enterprise. It has been the game's biggest knock, the surroundings.

In the last five years there has been a decided improvement in housing conditions. In many cities the bowling alleys have been constructed. These buildings usually have the bowling alleys on the second or third floor, where the light is excellent, and the air equally good.

Bowling is a fine sport. It is good for the old and young. What bowling needs is better light and more fresh air. Fortunately, the proprietor of a modern bowling alley is taking those two essentials into consideration.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS QUICKLY RELIEVED

It is hard for to keep the children from taking cold; they will run out of doors not properly wrapped, or have too much clothing on and get overheated and cool off too suddenly, they get their feet wet, kick off the clothes at night; the mother cannot watch them all the time, so what is she going to do?

Mother should never neglect the children's coughs or colds, but on the first sign should procure a bottle of

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

It is pleasant and nice to take, and relieves the cough or cold in a very short time and thus prevents bronchitis, pneumonia, or perhaps consumption getting a foothold on their system.

Mrs. E. Smith, 283 Victoria avenue, North Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have three children who have had very bad colds, due to change of climate. I have tried different remedies, but I seem to get the best results from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I have no difficulty in giving it to them as they like it. I always have at least one bottle in the house."

Price, 25c and 50c a bottle, at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv't.

CLAIMS CONSTABLE EXTORTED MONEY

Will Answer Charge in St. Thomas Police Court Monday.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 8.—R. D. McGowan, special agent for the G. T. R. Wabash in this city, has been summoned to appear in police court Monday on a charge of extortion. If proven guilty Mr. McGowan will be liable to a seven-year term.

The charge was laid against the constable by Clarence Moore, a former employee of the G. T. R., who alleges McGowan extorted $200 from him, $200 from a friend named Hill, and attempted to extort $100 in monthly payments from a third man, under a threat of arresting them for theft if they refused.

According to the story told to the police, McGowan obtained an admission from the three men that they had in their possession some articles which were particularly valuable which they had taken from the company some weeks ago. McGowan then threatened it is said, to arrest the trio unless money was paid him.

The three men appeared in court last week with receipts written on the company's stationery to prove their claim. They were signed by McGowan, it is alleged.

Gives Some Advice. Mrs. Margaret Baker, the Center street woman who was convicted last week of stealing a watch, a waist, gloves and other property from Mrs. Dorothy Lowe, her neighbor, was permitted to go on suspended sentence by Magistrate Maxwell on Thursday morning, on payment of the court costs, and

MRS. HARRIS OPENS LADIES' AID BAZAAR

Thursday's Bazaars Attract Throngs of Shoppers.

"Why is it that bazaars are so popular this year?" asked a visitor to the Akin Street Ladies' Aid Bazaar on Thursday afternoon, as she watched the throngs of women, who arrived for the formal opening, literally swoop down upon the various booths in regular bargain sale fashion. "When the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. O. E. had a sale the other day," she continued, "the crowds packed into the hall before the opening time, and they swooped down on the booths like clouds of locusts. I have never seen this thing elsewhere."

Whatever the reason, the bazaar—there have been flocks of them during the past few weeks—have enjoyed a popularity to delight the hearts and enrich the treasuries of the promoters.

Thursday's sales enjoyed the generous share of patronage that has been the happy lot of the bazaar. The bazaar was held at the church, society, club or other organization this season.

Red Cross President Officials.

The was positive impetus manifested by visitors to the Akin Street Ladies' Aid Bazaar for the formal opening by Mrs. Ronald Harris, president of the London branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Women had wended their way to the church hall before 3 o'clock, keeping one eye on the clock, the other on the booths. On all sides were heard statements, "I do wish they would start and sell I have to go to a meeting at my own church." In some cases, the church was away up town.

There were two reasons why she was glad to officiate. Mrs. Harris stated, "Mrs. Marlett, considered I was enough of a Methodist," she said. "The fact is that my earliest recollections were associated with Akin Street Sunday School, when, as a very little child, my father was the superintendent, and my father and mother both taught in the school. I do not know whether this is the very same place or not, in which my father used to stand on a pulpit."

And the speaker paused to glance around the school building, and to the greenery for the festive occasion.

"The other reason I am glad to be here," she continued, "is that Mrs. Marlett asked me. That was sufficient for me. I am president of the Red Cross, and the splendid support given to the Red Cross by the London branch women. I declare this bazaar opened."

As the gracious speech concluded, a faintly off, little Miss Westcott, presented Mrs. Harris with a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums.

Armies Invade Booths.

The moment the applause which greeted the address had died away, there was a raid on the booths. A regular army lined up in front of the home cookery, in charge of Mrs. E. F. Lyons and a capable committee. The big sign, "Welcome," in the background, was quite unnecessary. No one saw it for the toothsome home-made bread, buns, biscuits, cakes and other goodies.

Next came a patriotic nook, done up in flags and gay with red, white and blue, where Mrs. Thomas Way and Mrs. James Brown and assistants offered tempting home-made candy in frilly paper baskets.

Handkerchiefs to suit every taste and purpose were quickly snatched up from the yellow-adorned table. In charge of Mrs. Alfred Jackson, rubbing elbows with these were pillow covers and towels, on sale under the patronage of Mrs. A. E. Miller and Mrs. Ross Smith.

The most fascinating aprons disappeared like magic from the stall presided over by Mrs. W. Spettigue and, sharing the popularity of these, were a variety of dressing-gowns and kimono. This shirt was made for a very small man.

But you may wear it, if you can. But if too small, you might use it, I think.

To hold your soiled clothes till called for by "Chink."

was the bit of original verse pinned on a real novelty at the notion counter, a new kind of bag, fashioned exactly like a shirt, even to the fetching little red bow necktie. Mrs. G. H. Kercher and Mrs. W. Westcott had charge of this corner, which proved a popular one.

Dolls and Groceries.

Dolls, dolls, and still more dolls, baby dolls, lady dolls, all kinds of dolls, such were the wares which fascinated in the booth, gay with pennants, where the "Whatsoever Club," under the presidency of Mrs. Eva Pearson, did its bit for the bazaar. Impressive in the background was a gay orange tree. Everything imaginable in the way of groceries, from a basket of potatoes to a package of lard, of the latest breakfast food, graced the Christmas-decked grocery store run by Mrs. A. Cress.

Captivating green and white costumes were worn by the charming young matrons and girls in charge of the fish-pond and bean pies, when Mrs. O. Deacon performed the duties of general supervisor.

Yellow and mauve were featured in the decoration of the inviting tearoom, in charge of Mrs. A. A. Young, the "Society" table, centered with vase of yellow or mauve mums, and the waitresses wearing fetching mauve or yellow caps and aprons, with their white frocks. Mrs. B. Hutton and Mrs. Cosby Morrie pointed to the first hour, when Mrs. Orchard and Mrs. Geer, two of the members of longest standing of the Ladies' Aid, the second hour, Mrs. Newhouse and a bevy of assistants were kept busy in the ice cream booth. Mrs. Isaac Marlett was general con-

Aberdeen Mothers' Club Sale.

The Christmas bazaar held Thursday afternoon and evening in the Aberdeen School, under the auspices of the Mothers' Club, in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital, proved most successful, the conveners of the various booths reporting that their wares were soon "swooped" off. The booths, attractive with Christmas decorations, were in charge of the following: Fish-pond, Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Swan, grocery counter, Mrs. Rumball, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Walker, home-cooked, Mrs. Duckworth, Mrs. Thomas; aprons, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Lerner, Mrs. Hill; fancy-work, Mrs. Langford, Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. Brown; rummage table, Mrs. Blackwell and Mrs. Mote. The tea-room was very popular at the tea hour, a large number of the shoppers staying for a cup of tea. Mrs. Jacques, Mrs. H. Cook and Mrs. Desand were the hostesses.

"Builders' Class" Bazaar.

Many guests visited the bazaar held at the residence of Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Oxford street, Thursday afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Builders' Class of the Talbot Street Baptist Church. The rooms looked very pretty with their vari-colored decorations. The tables were very attractive, the fancy articles and delicious home-cooking and candy disappeared quickly. The tearoom proved a great attraction, the table centered with a handsome cluny cloth and huge basket of flowers.

Mrs. John Tanton (St. Marys), poured tea, assisted by Mrs. T. S. Roy, Mrs. L. R. Jones and Miss Griffin.

The art and fancywork table was presided over by Mrs. Creamer, Mrs. Goudy and Mrs. Tomlin, while the home-cooking and candy was under the able supervision of Miss Maud Egleton, Mrs. Reynolds and Miss Luce; dolls, Miss Nellie Chatterton and Mrs. Frank Hobbs; aprons, and toys, Miss Grace Fitzwalter, Miss Cassio Claypole and Miss May Brighton; Mrs. Hexter had charge of the children's table, where dainty little dresses, rompers and everything for children were displayed at a moderate price.

There was the country store counter, in charge of Mrs. Gunther and Mrs. Clement, containing such widely-diversified articles as pans, cereals, soap, canned goods, handkerchiefs, as well as silk stockings and even an electric iron.

Mrs. Will McFadden, who supervised the whole bazaar, and Mrs. A. T. Edwards were most kind in looking after the many guests.

What Women Are Accomplishing in London.

ST. MARY'S UNIT MEETS.

St. Mary's School Mother's Unit held the first regular meeting Wednesday evening when a large gathering heard an informing address from Dr. P. J. Sweeney on "Tonsils and Adenoids."

The music by Miss Frances Haines added interest to the program. The unit decided to hold a Christmas tree for the children of the school.

ORGANIZE ST. JOHN'S UNIT.

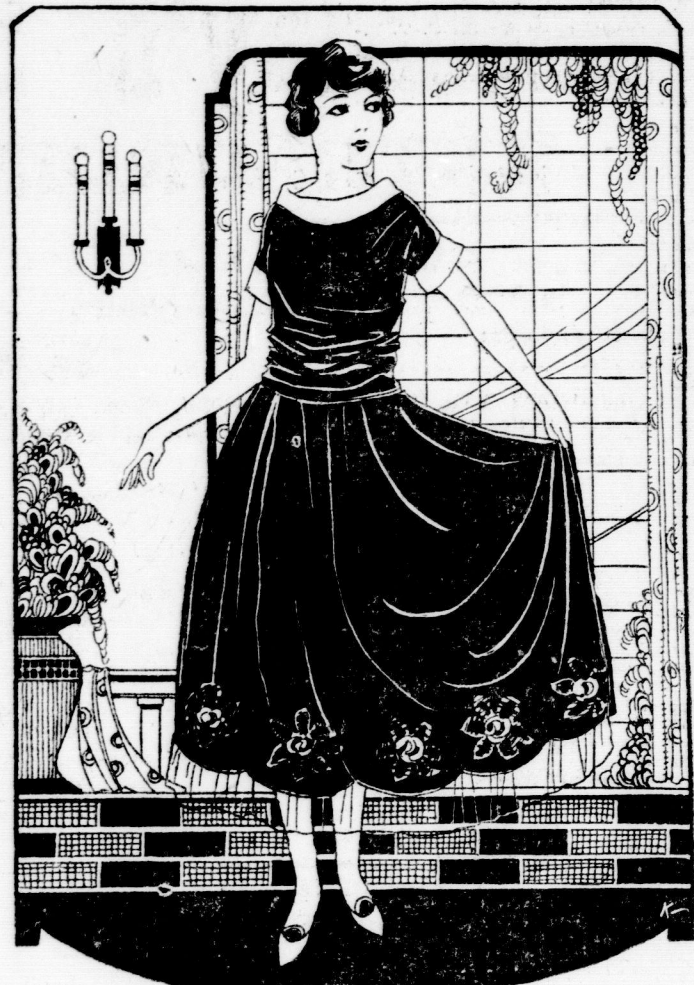

A mothers' unit in connection with St. John's separate school was organized Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. E. C. McCann, president, and Mrs. J. Leach, second vice-president of the London division, Catholic Women's League. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. J. D. Deane; first vice-president, Mrs. Geo. La France; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Kennedy; program convener, Mrs. C. Turner; refreshment convener, Mrs. A. Galbraith; press secretary, Mrs. William Durkin. A Christmas tree will be given by the unit for the children of the school.

JUST TWO MORE.

The work of organizing Mothers' Units in the separate schools has gone on apace since the plan was decided upon at the convention of the diocesan division of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, held in the city the beginning of November. Five schools have already been organized and units will be formed in the last two, St. Michael's and St. Peter's, immediately after the holiday season. Reports coming in to the diocesan secretary, Mr. Joseph Leach, tell of live interest in the

The Full Skirt For the Dance

BY MARIAN HALE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The dance frocks, invariably soft affairs with full skirts, wear at the hem-line, this winter, a border of something transparent—gauze, chiffon or tulle, through which flying, silver ankies may be envisioned.

The transparent material reaches almost to the instep, an intriguing touch for a gown of velvet or some such heavy, lustrous medium.

movement outside London. In Windsor, the separate school clubs are being organized as Home and School Clubs, fostered with the provincial organization.

Physical culture classes in the Catholic Club, under the direction of Miss Mary Manley, are events much enjoyed each week by the girls of the separate schools, from the tots of six to the members of the senior grades. Of course this disparity in years makes three classes. Owing to the rush of school closing and Christmas entertainments, it has been decided to postpone a demonstration by the classes for the public until early in the new year.

WITH THE BRIDES

ROLPH-HOGG.

A very pretty wedding took place at All Saints' Church, Rev. A. A. Rice officiating, on Wednesday, Dec. 7, when Miss Mildred Hogg, daughter of Florence and the late William Hogg, was united in marriage to Percy Rolph, both of this city. The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Harry Hogg, to the strains of Leonard Palmer's "The Wedding March."

The bride wore the recipient of many beautiful gifts, including a cabinet of silver from the office where she was formerly employed, and several substantial checks. The happy couple left on the 8:40 train for Detroit, and on their return will reside at 1102 Trafalgar street, London.

MACK-PENWARDEN.

A pretty wedding took place at the parsonage, Elmville, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Precilla Penwarden, daughter of Mr. Arthur Penwarden of Elmville, was married to Mr. Arthur Mack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mack of St. Mary's, Rev. Armistage officiating.

The bride wore a smart suit of navy serge, a beaver hat to match, and the gift of her father, black fox fur. Miss Martha Penwarden, who was bridesmaid, wore navy blue silk, heavily embroidered with steel beads, and a black picture hat. Mr. Chas. Front was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the supper was served at tables attractively decorated with pink and white mums and ferns. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the best man a tie-pin, and to the bridesmaid an amethyst brooch. Mr. and Mrs. Mack left on a trip to London, Chatham and Detroit, and while in London were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Young, Beaconsfield avenue. Upon their return, they will reside in St. Marys. Many lovely presents were received, including a substantial check from the bride's father.

READY TO ACT IN THREE HOURS

"If emergency arose we could have our members started at work in three hours," said Mrs. Isaac Marlett, president of the South London Auxiliary to the London branch of the Canadian Red Cross, on Thursday afternoon, as she discussed the plans of the branch, under way at present for enrollment of volunteer workers for such emergency as an epidemic or disaster of magnitude.

"After the war work ended," continued Mrs. Marlett, "we kept samples of all the kinds of things we had made, thirty-six articles. We have these stored away, in addition to sewing and knitting machines, scissors and other equipment."

The fact that the South London Auxiliary has so much equipment should not discourage other auxiliaries," said Mrs. Ronald Harris, president of the London branch. "South London has the quarters in which to store such equipment. What we want to do is to have organization on paper ready to mobilize for emergency. We propose making lists of the women and girls who are skillful at sewing, lists of those who can cook, take charge of a diet kitchen, or are especially adapted for taking charge of children. With the lesson of the influenza epidemic which caught us unprepared, we realize the importance of being ready with workers should we ever be obliged to face such emergency again."

It is proposed to have duplicate lists of the enrollment for service, one in the hands of each auxiliary president, the other at branch headquarters.

SOCIETY and NEWS of INTEREST to WOMEN

CHRISTMAS TURKEY

When ordering your Christmas turkey, remember that an eight-pound turkey will serve six persons and that the most of this weight bird is superior to a heavier one. From eight to ten pounds means that the turkey is of last year's hatching and will be tender and juicy when roasted. If more than six or eight persons must be served, choose two eight-pound turkeys, rather than a 16-pound turkey.

To Roast a Turkey.

The butcher should dress the turkey. The giblets are usually put loosely back inside the turkey. Remove these and let stand in cold salt water to cover while washing the rest of the turkey. Rub the inside thoroughly with salt. Wash out by letting cold water run through. Scrape the outside with the dull edge of a knife, keeping the turkey under water and being careful not to break the skin. Scrub with the palm of the hand, using several waters. Rinse the giblets under running water. Stuff and truss.

To truss a turkey, draw thighs close to body and tie with a wrapping cord. Draw wings close to the body and use a large trussing needle to sew through the wing and sew back through body and tie with cord on other wing. When the turkey is ready to be served, cut the knot and pull cord out by the neck. The skin should be sewed up over the stuffing. Do not stuff the turkey too full, for the stuffing swells during baking and may burst the bird. One of the nicest ways to cook a turkey is to steam it for two hours before roasting. The steaming makes the flesh tender and prevents it from becoming too dry by long roasting. If a steamer is not available a large pail with a cover may be used. Tie the turkey to the cover of the pail, fastening it by the drumsticks. Put enough water in the pail to more than cover the turkey, but not enough to touch the turkey. Steam two hours, keeping tightly covered to prevent any steam from escaping. Use the water for basting when roasting.

Rub the turkey well with salt and cover the breast with butter and flour rubbed together. One-third cup of butter and 4 tablespoons of flour should be enough to cover the breast of a medium-sized turkey. Put the turkey on its side in the roasting pan. Put in a hot oven. When the turkey begins to brown, reduce the heat and fill the bottom of the pan with the liquor in which the turkey was steamed. It will take about two hours to roast a turkey which has been steamed.

If the turkey is not to be steamed before roasting, cover the whole surface with flour and cover the breast with thin slices of bacon. A self-basting roaster should be used. Dredge the bottom of the pan with flour. When the turkey begins to brown reduce the heat and add water. Roast about four hours.

Cook giblets in salted water till tender, about two hours. Drain and chop, reserving the water for the gravy. Make the gravy in the pan in which the turkey was roasted. If there is too much in the pan pour off some, leaving about two tablespoons. Stir in three tablespoons of flour and slowly add three cups of liquor. Boil five minutes and add giblets. Season with salt and pepper and serve in a gravy dish. When preparing the giblets, remove that part of the gizzard which is tough and gristly.

Remove the slices of bacon before sending turkey to the table. A turkey requires careful watching and frequent turning to insure an even browning all over.

"THE STRANGE ANSWER"

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"Where's Kip?" she asked suddenly.

"I'll begin on you," said Nancy, looking at the gnome squatting next to her. "You're the one who's been around here. Then she thought of something else. 'But how shall I know whether he is telling the truth or not?' she asked. 'Watch the cat's eye over the gate,' said Crookabone. 'If it turns red you'll know Tweekabone here isn't clever enough to tell the truth. If the cat's eye remains green you will know that he is telling the truth without telling anything. That's our way of trying our wits. Gnomes have to have wits as nimble as their toes.'

Nancy felt like adding "and fingers," for she had not forgotten how the little rascals had stolen the gold out of the Fairy Queen's mountain, or how they had unfetters the locks of the cages of the Circus animals and let all the creatures out into fits, but disappointing the kiddies as well. Nick

SOAP OFFER BY MANY MERCHANTS

Group Selling of Products Will Appeal To Housewives.

Procter & Gamble in this issue announce a selling event that has an appeal to every home, city or suburban. This well-known firm has grouped its products for special sale. Ivory, P. and G., Gold Soap and James Pries' Pearl-line, or some of them, may be found in the great majority of homes, but in order to place them in every home a coupon is published today in a page announcement, whereby every housewife can secure the group at half price on presentation of the coupon.

Progressive merchants are co-operating in this big selling event, and many of them announce the special value in their store windows. Procter & Gamble, distributors, have arranged to have the coupons redeemable all next week, providing the stores' supply of these products is not exhausted, and precaution has been taken to try and prevent this.

Grouping products in this way is one of the newer forms of selling that has been found successful. This particular offer gives housewives who may have used only part of the group a chance to become acquainted with the value of other products of the same firm at very low cost.

LIBERAL PARTY MAY PICK HAY AT CONVENTION

Temporary Leader Appears To Be Most Acceptable
Choice.

SPECULATION NOW RIFE

Tolmie, Pardee and Rowell
Also Being Discussed
For Honor.

The question of who will be chosen as the leader of the Liberal party in Ontario is one which is certainly being settled at a convention which is expected to be held about the middle of January.

Who may find most favor with this body is entirely a matter of conjecture at present, but the signal successes achieved by the Liberals in the province during the federal contests should amplify the task of obtaining an outstanding man.

F. Wellington Hay, who is acting at present as house leader, has categorically stated on the public platform that he would not consider shouldering the responsibilities of leadership more than temporarily. But it is certainly a considerable pressure will be brought to bear on him in the effort to make him reconsider his decision, for both the downtown workers and members are inclined to regard him as the most acceptable prospect in the present house.

He is a man of sound judgment, considerable business ability and possesses a personality which would win the respect both of his followers and of his opponents.

The name of Rev. Major J. C. Tolmie, M.P.P., Windsor, is also being widely mentioned, but it is doubted whether he would be in a position to shoulder the financial obligations of the office, which would be a considerable burden and embarrassment to the previous leader.

Pardee is mentioned.

If the party decides to go outside the present members of the house, which is by no means improbable, F. F. Pardee of West Latham will be one of the first men to be considered. His long years of service both in the Legislature and the House of Commons would be a valued asset to the provincial party.

However, Mr. Pardee is being mentioned as a possible Cabinet minister in Ottawa, despite the fact that he is present without a seat. In West Latham, where the three-cornered contest and the free importation of oil have proved his undoing.

Local Liberals do not place much credence in the possibility of Newton Wesley Rowell again assuming the leadership. Even should he be willing to neglect a distinguished career in the legal world, it is stated that he could not receive the undivided endorsement of the provincial party.

North Oxford Fight.

Wellington Hay, Liberal whip and temporary leader, when seen today, stated that he had not heard from any of the other members respecting a move to select a new leader. Nor did he think it probable that any steps would be taken until after the New Year, since the Liberals want to concentrate all their energies at present on winning the provincial by-election in North Oxford on December 19. Since the Legislature is not likely to assemble before February, there is no great urgency for a new leader.

A. J. Young, provincial organizer, stated that the federal contest had absolutely shelved the provincial problem during the past few weeks, but he presumed that the question would shortly become a live one again, since both the Dominion and provincial leaders had been chosen in convention in 1932. He also considered it probable that this would be the mode of election in the present instance.

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO AID JOBLESS

Ontario Government Evolves
New Plan To Absorb Men
Out of Work.

URGE PUBLIC TO BUILD

TORONTO, Dec. 8.—An economic campaign against hard times and unemployment will be instituted at once in the province of Ontario, where it is estimated there are 30,000 persons out of work.

This was decided upon today by the provincial government upon the recommendation of the provincial advisory committee on unemployment.

There are 10,104 men and women registered at the government's 27 offices throughout Ontario, as out of work, and it is estimated that three times this number are not employed.

The educational campaign will be waged in newspaper advertising and public addresses, and James H. Ballantyne, deputy minister of labor, will direct it. The first of nine twice-a-week advertisements in the newspapers appeared today.

They appeal, in the name of the Ontario Government, to the manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers to sell goods on hand at replacement prices; to the builders to reduce their prices; and to the general public to go ahead with building; to the banks to allow all reasonable credits, and to decrease rates; to the farmers to maintain production and make needed improvements and betterments, and to labor to accept reduction in wages commensurate with decreases in cost of living.

It is intended to launch a follow-up campaign with a view to persuading boards of trade, chambers of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lion's Clubs and the United Farmers of Ontario to join in the movement.

The advertising which opens the campaign will cost between $15,000 and $20,000, it is estimated. Among those who will give addresses will be Premier E. C. Drury and members of his cabinet.

The idea underlying the campaign is that if selling costs are reduced, and the consumers are persuaded that they are not being charged unreasonable prices, the buying strike will be broken. Increased purchases will mean increased production, which, in turn, will gradually absorb the masses of men at present out of work.

Local Liberals do not place much credence in the possibility of Newton Wesley Rowell again assuming the leadership. Even should he be willing to neglect a distinguished career in the legal world, it is stated that he could not receive the undivided endorsement of the provincial party.

Appoints Police Magistrate In Brantford For One Month

Deputy-Attorney-General Bayley Picks Colonel Massie of Dunnville To Have Exclusive Jurisdiction in Louis Stander Cases.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BRANTFORD, Dec. 8.—Louis Stander, police court interpreter, fined $1,000 and given a month in jail for selling alcohol, has appealed the case, and has been freed on $5,000 bail.
Today Magistrate Livingston received from Deputy Attorney-General E. Bayley a letter explaining why Magistrate Massie of Dunnville had been called in to try the cases in which Stander is implicated.
In part the letter received by Magistrate Livingston read: "The attorney-general does not desire to cause you the embarrassment of trying cases where a man who is practically an official of your court is said to be involved, and he has therefore requested Col. Massie of Dunnville to try them. "In order that there may be no slip to the police magistrate's act, section 25, to act as police magistrate for the city of Brantford and for the county of Brant for the period of one month so that all the cases may be disposed of."

"This, of course, does not affect your jurisdiction except in the cases which Col. Massie will try."

LOSES RUDDER CALLS FOR HELP

MONCTON, N. B., Dec. 8.—A Bathurst dispatch to a newspaper here says: The steamer Bethlehem, with a cargo of coal from Sydney, N. S., for Campbellton, N. B., lost her rudder while off Shippigan and was compelled to anchor and send for aid. She is lying some six miles off Shippigan Island.
It is expected that the government tug Stanley will be dispatched to the scene.
The weather outlook is rather threatening, and the vessel would undoubtedly be lost if a storm should arise while she is in her present helpless condition.

HOLD KINGSVILLE BOY FOR PERJURY

Walkerville Police Seek Death Car Driver As Slayer.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, Dec. 8.—Charged with perjury, Charles Malott, 19 years old, formerly of Kingsville, now rooming at a Walkerville hotel, this afternoon was arrested by Walkerville police. He was assigned before Magistrate Gundy, who allowed bail of $500. Malott is alleged to have given false testimony at the inquest into the death of Jack Chittum, the Walkerville youth killed a month ago, when an automobile turned turtle after striking a horse and buggy, driven by a Sandwich East farmer, on Walker road. Ray Battersby, also of Walkerville, driver of the car, is being sought on a charge of manslaughter.

How To Revitalize Worn-Out Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the stomach and upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, re-energize worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters "N.I." on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.

"Four Horsemen" At Grand One Of Best Pictures Yet Seen

Acting Photography and Settings Alike Merit Highest Praise in This Fascinating Pictorial Classic.

The "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," the remarkable Metro film production adapted by June Mathis from the novel of Vicente Blasco Ibanez on Thursday night completed the fourth day of its week's run at the Grand Theatre before a crowded house.

From a scenic or a production viewpoint, "The Four Horsemen" will probably stand out for a long time as one of the greatest motion pictures ever screened.

The broad sweep of the Argentine pampas, the places of revel in Buenos Aires, the artist quarter of Montmartre in Paris, the recent battlegrounds of France and Belgium, all serve as settings for this thought-provoking pictorial classic; the acting is realistic and the photography is excellent.

The story is fascinating, but the philosophy of Ibanez's great book is presented only in snatches, mere tidbits or side-dishes prepared in the dilettante kitchens of American thought.

DELIGHTS MUSIC LOVERS OF CITY

Miss Mildred Baker's Initial Recital a Great Success.

It was a large and appreciative audience that greeted Mildred Baker when she appeared on Thursday evening in St. Andrew's Hall in her initial recital.

Miss Baker's style was quite professional, her playing very brilliant. She also possesses a large, round tone, besides bringing in exquisite touches of expression.

Her triumph was in her final number, Liszt's Concerto in E Flat, with Mrs. McHardy-Smith at the second piano. Particularly in the playing of the octaves of the last movement Miss Baker displayed great brilliancy.

Her opening number was Sonata in B Minor, by Chopin, the second movement of which brought out her leggiere touch, while in the Largo she displayed a remarkable singing tone.

Following this was a modern group, the first number being "The Pines," by Matthews, the playing of which was very dainty.

"Dance Orientale," by Peterkin, was full of rhythm and breath of the Orient. This group was concluded by one of "Granado's" works, "Valse de Concert," which pleased the first time a London audience has had the pleasure of hearing this selection.

Miss Baker was assisted by Carman Leann, whose rich baritone voice has always been a treat to his audience.

Miss Baker, who looked exceptionally sweet, in a gown of orchid satin, with touches of black, and a corsage of roses and violets, responded gracefully to the applause with numerous encores.

Among those present were the patronesses, Mrs. Cameron Wilson, Mrs. H. A. Panet, Mrs. F. B. Betts, Mrs. Edw. Seaborn, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. P. E. Leonard, Mrs. Victor Blackwell, Mrs. A. D. Jordan, Mrs. D. C. Macgregor, Mrs. W. M. Gartshore, Mrs. J. B. McKillop, Mrs. W. Coles, Mrs. W. B. Richardson and Mrs. C. R. Somerville.

PLANS SERIES OF DOG EXHIBITIONS

The fourteenth annual meeting of the London Canine Association was held recently. The year 1921 has proven a very successful one, and the association will continue its efforts to put London on the map as a center of the dog world.

An effort is being made to increase the membership, and all people who are interested in dogs are invited to affiliate.

A series of shows will be held this winter, and all dog lovers are asked to patronize them. Great interest was taken in those shows held last year, and they should be, as some of the best dogs in the continent claim London as their home.

The first show will be held at the Car Owners' Garage, corner York and Talbot streets, Friday evening of this week.

Arrangements for the show are being made so that the spectators will be able to see the judging without difficulty.

Officers for the coming year elected at the annual meeting were: Honorary president, E. S. Little; honorary vice-president, Col. Robt. McEwen; president, J. E. Kears; first vice-president, W. H. Shortt; second vice-president, J. Murphy; secretary-treasurer, Eldon Wegg; executive, R. Holmes; George Bowman, Dr. E. Palmer Smith, Mr. Whitsett, A. E. Ings, Mr. Westbury, C. S. Webber, J. Simmonds, V. G. Perry, Capt. Smith, show committee for the year will be: J. C. Lunan and Mr. Craig. The show committee for the year will be: Messrs. Craig, Simmonds, Ings, Murphy and Capt. Smith.

CUNARD WILL BUILD SIX NEW OIL BURNING SHIPS

London, Dec. 9.—The Cunard Company announces that it will build six new oil-burning steamships, of an aggregate tonnage of 100,000, and extend the service which lapsed during the war.

There also will be a resumption of direct service for all types of travelers between England and Canada.

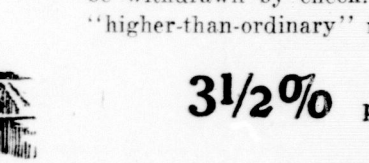

The announcement says that by spring there will be weekly services between Liverpool and New York and Southampton and New York.

AN OVERSIGHT

H—Was your wife angry when you came home last night?
W—Not on your life! She overwhelmed me with flowers.
H—How did you get that black eye, then?
W—Well, she forgot to take the flowers out of the vase before she threw them.

A Running Interview With DeMille On Making Stars

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Cecil DeMille was hurrying to catch the boat that was to take him to Europe for a two-months' vacation. I had just two minutes to interview him.

Here's the interview, grabbed on the run, as it were.

"What's the prime requisite of a movie star?" (DeMille has placed more stars in the film firmament than any other person.)

"Ability to act and personality."

"Which is the more important?"

"Personality." If one has that he or she can be taught to act. On the other hand, one may know how to act but have no personality.

"What is personality?"

"That which makes you look at a person the second time."

"What screen players of note started their careers under your guidance?"

"Hayakawa, Mae Murray, Wallace Reid, Geraldine Farrar, Jack Holt, Gloria Swanson, Wanda Hawley, Reba Daniels, Agnes Ayres, Elliott Dexter, Tom McLean, Monte Blue—and, oh, yes, Theodore Roberts. No player except Mary Pickford has done as much to advance the technique of screen acting as Theodore Roberts. Sorry, I've got to hurry or I'll miss the boat. I'll see you when I return from the other side. So long!"

"So long!"

STATUS QUO OF STROHEIM'S "FOOLISH WIVES"

Train. Rushing across continent. Special car. Six film cutters. Projection machine. Tinting outfit. 17,000 feet of film being reduced to 12,000. That's status quo of "Foolish Wives," Eric von Stroheim started to film it May, 1920. Had 365,000 feet Sept. 15, 1921. Stopped shooting and started cutting.

Central Theatre, New York, leased for special showing starting Dec. 1. By Nov. 1 Stroheim still had 32,000 feet left. What he cut out he'd want to put back. Universal took the job away from him.

New editors boiled it down to 17,000 feet in month of November. Still 5,000 feet too long. Expect to have it ready Jan. 1. Meanwhile, Central Theatre rented for other pictures.

Censors of many states passed on this film in California. And what was left out would have proved the greatest box office attraction that ever showed. But that's because it wasn't fit to be shown.

EXPECT INCREASE IN 'PHONE RATES

United and Missouri Lines May Be Affected.

W. H. Dager, telephone expert of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, was in charge of the session of that body, held in the County Buildings on Wednesday to hear applications for increased rates from the United Telephone Company and the Missouri Telephone Company.

He recommended that in the case of the latter company an increase in rates from $15 to $18 be granted on individual line service, and from $12 to $15 on rural party line service.

No action was taken on the request of the United Telephone Company for a boost in rates until an inspection of the service was made, owing to numerous complaints received by subscribers.

William Warwick and two other residents of East Middlesex made application for service from the East Middlesex Telephone Company. Mr. Dager intimated that subscribers must have their service, and if the company whose line runs past their doors won't sell the line, they must rent the East Middlesex Company's "plan" room.

ENTERTAIN DEAN OF ARTS COLLEGE

Western "U" Club Given Lecture by Dr. Sellery of Wisconsin.

The members of the History and Political Science Club of Western University were given a most interesting evening when last night they entertained as their guest Dr. George C. Sellery, dean of arts of the University of Wisconsin.

The meeting was held at the home of Dr. L. A. Wood, Princess avenue, with a large turnout of the members.

Dean Sellery took as the subject for an informal talk the career of Pierre Dubois, a reformer of the early fourteenth century in France. He referred to Dubois not as an outstanding figure of the time but as a man who summed up the fresh thought that was present in some at least of our ancestors of the period six hundred years ago. After giving a brief sketch of the life and place of Dubois he read extracts from his writings to show his views on such subjects as the church, the courts and their abuses, international peace and international trade, education and colonization.

Following the talk an informal discussion followed, and Dean Sellery answered a number of interesting questions that arose out of his talk. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker by Mr. Gilbert Tucker, Mr. W. J. Hodder presided.

William S. Hart in "Three Word Brand," a picture of the wild and woolly west, in the cowboy days is the feature at Loew's this week. It is quite a thriller, as most of Mr. Hart's offerings are. There is lots of action and a rather taking little story runs throughout.

A Torch Comedy, made up of plenty of nonsense rounds out the pictures, along with the news feature.

The three acts of vaudeville are a little above the ordinary. The first is Harry Le-Tot, a juggling act, and he got the biggest hand of the season. It may be that the fact that he asked for it, awakened a sympathetic chord among the audience. He deserved a good portion of it. A singing and talking act followed. The pair of artists talk well, but sing better. They have good voices and fair songs. The third act is a combination of many things. None of them are thrillers, but are nevertheless quite acceptable and round out a pretty good bill.

GREW'S COMPANY DRAWS BIG HOUSE

Presents Comedy "Scrambled Wives" All Week At the Majestic.

"Scrambled Wives," the comedy being put on at the Majestic Theatre this week, drew another crowded house on Thursday night.

The play teems with amusing situations brought on by the fact that John Chiverick, played by Robert Hyman, has been twice married and wife number one has been invited to the same party as he and his second wife are gracing with their presence. Mr. Chiverick gets into some dangerous and ticklish situations which require some real action to extricate him without damage. How Mr. Chiverick "gets by" is well worth seeing. The part loses nothing through the interpretation of Mr. Hyman.

Virginia Mann, as the divorced wife of Chiverick, is excellently cast. Miss Mann's work with the Grew Players has always been of the very best and this week she is even better than usual. Gertrude Gustin is also worthy of special mention, while other members of the company, whose work is excellent, are Ethel Norris, Cecile De Webster, Rose McDonald, Wallace Ray, Duncan Penwarden and Rickey Secrest.

REALTORS LAUNCH PROVINCIAL BOARD

Bert Weir and Sam D. Campbell Represent London Members.

At a convention held in Toronto on Wednesday, plans for the formation of a provincial association of real estate boards were developed. The meeting was held in the Union Trust Company's board room, with R. B. Rice, president of the Toronto board, as chairman.

The proposed body will be modeled along the lines of the various state associations in the United States, and will be composed of all the local real estate boards in the various cities of the province.

The organization committee, consisting of the immediate presidents of the respective boards, was appointed to prepare details. It is planned through the proposed body to enable all the boards of the province to speak with a united voice on such matters as legislation, and it is believed that a number of new measures and amendments to existing statutes should be urged for the benefit of the members of the different boards and the public at large, as the aim of each and every board is to see that all real estate business is conducted in accordance with the high standard of ethics set forth by the national association.

Entertained at Dinner.

The visiting delegates were the guests of the Toronto Real Estate Board at their monthly dinner, held in Bingham's cafe. The tenor of the various addresses was one of optimism in the outlook as to the real estate conditions. Alexander Simmers, past president of the national board, said: "Times of depression are stepping-stones to greater development." He said Canada was the only country where United States capital could be invested with absolute safety, as some manufacturers across the line thought Canada a more favorable location, owing to the British preference.

Urges Ethical Standard.

The object of the real estate board to represent in their membership a of Ottawa, coming as it did when real estate activity was beginning to get under way again. He mentioned the important place of realtors in the community, their identity with the growth of it, which enabled them to do a great deal in the progress of Canada.

The local delegates were Bert Weir. The formation of the provincial board president of the London board, and Sam was very opportune, said C. W. Ross D. Campbell.

SENT TO TRIAL ON CHARGE OF INTENT TO ROB

Jack Bannon, Wealthy Windsor Real Estate Man, Faces Serious Allegation.

MAGISTRATE GUNDY ACTS

WINDSOR, Dec. 8.—"Although finding little corroborative evidence," he said, Magistrate Gundy this afternoon in police court sent Basil "Jack" Bannon, wealthy real estate operator, to trial on a charge of conspiring to rob the government liquor warehouse, where more than $250,000 worth of liquor was stored.

Bannon also is charged with plotting with a gang of Detroit gunmen to raid the home of Mrs. Louisa Trumble, widow of the late Beverly Trumble, slain by Rev. Spracklin. He was released on bail of $5,000 to appear for trial in the Trumble case Saturday or early next week.

Testifying for the crown, Clay Howerey, 38 years old, of Seneca avenue, Detroit, confessed gunman, told the court that he was one of a gang of six gunmen that attempted to raid the liquor warehouse on the afternoon of Sept. 25. The robbery was frustrated, he said, by the vigilance of the watchman.

Were Well Armed.

"Bannon told me that the only job he had for the gang was to take the government warehouse," was the startling answer given by Howerey to a question of Crown Attorney Urquhart. When the attempt was made to rob the warehouse we were all armed with 45 calibre automatics. And we would have used them had the watchmen started firing.

Howerey and the other members of his gang, known to border police as "river pirates," were arrested at Riverside four weeks ago. He was arraigned on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, Magistrate Gundy suspending sentence.

Willingness to give evidence for the crown resulted in his being guaranteed protection against statements he may make while testifying against Bannon in both the warehouse and Trumble cases. R. L. Bracklin, K.C., Chatham; Barristers W. Roach and T. G. McHugh, of the estate, or nearly $400,000.

CHARGED WITH SUBORNATION OF WITNESSES

Trial of Roy Scott and Frank Proctor Opens Tuesday.

15 CRIMINAL CASES

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 8.—Fifteen cases, ten of which are criminal, are listed for trial at the general sessions of the county court which opens at the court house Tuesday next.

Three of the criminal cases are against one man, namely, Orie Hoshal of Port Stanley, who is at present serving time in the county jail on a charge of selling liquor illegally.

Hoshal is charged with burning an automobile to collect the insurance and with having perjured himself on making application for the insurance. He will be tried on charges of arson, attempted fraud and fraud.

Roy Scott and Frank Proctor, both of this city await trial on a charge of subornation of witnesses. Following a police court action last spring, at which he gave evidence, Cecil Scram of this city informed the police that Scott and Proctor had persuaded him to commit perjury in order that they might go free.

The other criminal cases are: Rex versus F. Mathews of Bayham Township, charged with assault causing bodily harm; Rex versus Grey, a serious charge; Rex versus Magorka, housebreaking; and Rex versus Joe Snovsky, robbery. Snovsky is a resident in the east end of the city, and is alleged to have robbed one of his countrymen, Magorka is a Russian, who formerly resided in East Talbot. His case has been called and adjourned four or five times during the last two non-appearance in court. Two hundred dollars cash bail is held by the crown.

Five Civil Actions.

Two of the civil cases are jury actions, while the other three are non-jury. The first case on the docket is that of William and Morley Pollock versus Cecil Marlatt, lumbermen, of Staffordville. The plaintiffs claim the sum of $707.17 which they say is due them from the defendants.

A collision of two automobiles on the night of Oct. 31 on the Talbot road is responsible for the second case, Hugh A. Brown of Aylmer is suing for $400 and costs from Burton Bears of Southwold, which he claims for damages resulting from alleged negligent driving on the part of the defendant. Bears has entered a counter-claim for damages amounting to $200.

Frances Harvey of Yarmouth, passenger in an automobile wrecked near Dutton on Aug. 21, is suing the County of Elgin and the Township of Dunwich for the sum of $1,000 for injuries received to her neck, shoulder and spine. The car in which she was riding left the roadway and tumbled over a steep embankment. She claims that the roadway was unsafe for travel.

The third non-jury case is over an ice bill for the sum of $224.50 with in place of Judge O. C. Ermatinger, who Company of Aylmer as plaintiffs, and Thomas Whilloughby as defendant.

It is likely that Judge Coughlin of Sandwich will preside over the court in place of Judge O. C. Ermatinger, who is ill in the hospital.

SCORES INJURED IN CHICAGO RIOTS

Police Battle Striking Packing Plant Employees With Rifles.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Chicago's stockyards district today was the scene of another series of outbreaks, which at times approached the riot stage, as a result of the strike of packing plant employees, which has been in effect in all of the country's chief packing centers for four days.

One man was shot, scores were injured, police engaged in pistol and rifle fights with strike sympathizers and dozens of men and women were arrested as a result of today's disorders, which occurred as the workers were leaving the local plants.

In other cities the situation was reported quiet.

The outbreaks here came within a few hours after Judge Denis Sullivan had issued a temporary injunction restraining the strikers from picketing, but despite this order several thousand men gathered around the plants just before the closing whistle.

At the Armour Glue Company about two thousand men began hurling bricks and stones at the workers as they left the plant. Almost simultaneously, disorders broke out at half a dozen other points, and within a short time the whole packing district seemed to be in disorder.

Women played an important part, forming in crowds which blocked one traffic and hindered the police. One crowd of 250, led by a grey-haired woman, was charged repeatedly by mounted police before it was disbanded.

ALL READY FOR FOCH'S RECEPTION
OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Arrangements were completed today for the public reception to Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the Allied armies in the great war, and General John Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces, both of whom will arrive in the capital Sunday morning, accompanied by their staffs.

Marshal Foch and General Pershing will be officially welcomed to Canada, Ottawa being the first point they will visit in the Dominion.

They will be met by His Excellency Lord Byng of Vimy, governor-general of Canada, and a military reception will follow.

During his Canadian tour Marshal Foch will enjoy the use of the private car of Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate.

DEFEATED TWICE DURING 40 YEARS

St. Thomas Alderman Misses But One Council Meeting.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 8.—For the first time in 40 years Ald. Patrick Meehan, the "daddy" of the city fathers, missed a meeting of the city council on Thursday night when, through illness, he was confined to his home. Mr. Meehan has been an alderman in this city almost continually during that period, having suffered defeat at the polls only twice, according to his fellow-members. None of them could recall when he was absent from his seat on any former occasion when roll was called.

During the third annual banquet and smoker of the United Veterans' organization in the Shriners' Hall, Wednesday night, ex-Mayor E. A. Horton announced that he would donate a cup for competition among city football teams next year.

A fund towards the erection of a parish hall for St. John's Church of this city was begun by the Ladies' Aid of that congregation at its regular monthly meeting held this week.

When a most successful dance was held under the auspices of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Forge Droppers and Helpers, in the G. W. V. A. Hall, Dec. 5, the sum of $140 was raised in aid of the Barnardo Home for Boys, as was announced Thursday night. The money had been forwarded to the home by the committee in charge.

THINKS CANADA WILL DEVELOP IF CHINA AIDED

International Authority Predicts Increased Trading When East Given Chance.

ADVERTISE DOMINION

Commercial Representatives in Asia Make Good Impression, States Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(By Ben Brown.)—The question relating to China which is now under consideration at the Washington conference should be of particular interest to the people of Canada for the satisfactory settlement may be of great importance in connection with the future development of the Dominion. This opinion was expressed by one of the advisers of the Chinese delegation in the course of an interview with the Canadian Press today.

"For both Canada and the United States, China offers greater trade possibilities than almost any other portion of the globe," he said. "If China is given an opportunity to develop, unhampered by the adverse conditions which have prevailed in the past, there will undoubtedly be a great new market for the goods of the two great nations of this continent. Canada is in a particularly fortunate position for taking advantage of this new field."

This spokesman, who requested that his name be withheld, is considered one of the world's greatest authorities on matters relating to China. He has lived for thirty years in that country, and is in very close touch with the members of the Chinese delegation. He is also familiar with conditions in Canada, having traveled through the Dominion in connection with his work in China. He has studied Canada's commercial possibilities in the Orient, and is convinced that, as a result, steps which will be taken by the nations represented at the conference toward the rehabilitation of China, future years will see a great flow of trade from the Dominion to the great Oriental republic.

The industries of British Columbia will benefit particularly, he believes, and the first result so far as Canada is concerned, will be an acceleration of industrial development of that province.

Favor Canadian Agents.

"Canada is becoming increasingly well and favorably known in China," he said. "Mr. J. W. Ross, your trade commissioner in Shanghai, has done remarkably good work in promoting the interests of the Dominion and in advertising the country there. A number of Canadian commercial houses also have representatives in China and they, too, have helped to spread a general knowledge of their country in Chinese business circles.

"The Chinese people have a very friendly feeling toward Canada. Their business dealings with the commercial representatives of the Dominion have been satisfactory and they have learned that Canadians are to be trusted. The way has therefore already been opened, and when the development of China comes as a result of what will be accomplished here, Canada, I am sure, will profit by it."

This spokesman agrees that much which the conference will decide in regard to China will be of a provisional character. The Chinese themselves realize that this is essential, he says. They are not in a hurry. They have no expectation of completely changing the status and condition of their country overnight. They are content that they at last have an opportunity of laying their case before the world; that they apparently have won the good-will and a sincere promise of assistance from the great majority of the nations; that many of the limitations under which they have been restricted are to be carefully considered with a view to their ultimate removal; and that they have opportunity of bringing other matters which they consider an infringement of their rights before a fair and sympathetic tribunal.

Convey Wrong Impression.

As to present conditions in China, the assertion is made by this advocate of the Chinese case that the surface indications convey a wrong impression. The claims of the several "governments" and the rivalries of different leaders who have obtained temporary ascendancy in various parts of the country have served to obscure the real sentiment of the mass of the people. This, he deems, is solidly behind the representatives of China.

"The Chinese people want to work out their destiny in their own way without any interference from outside," he said. "That is their one desire, the one object upon which they are solidly united. Despite factional struggles and differences in regard to matters of purely domestic importance, the people are as one on this question. The delegates who are in Washington now, though nominally the representatives of the Peking Government, are in reality speaking for the Chinese people, the people of the south, as well as those of the north."

China's past history, this spokesman continued, has been a series of entanglements with various other nations. The Chinese people had turned first to one power and then to another in the hope of obtaining betterment of their condition. The result was that the Chinese Government soon drifted into the policy of playing one power against the other with the object of bargaining for assistance. The result was a series of agreements and treaties in which China gradually bartered away her national status and became disintegrated and politically impotent.

Today, for the first time, China finds herself in a position to deal with the Five Famous Spinsters Glad They're "Old Maids"

HERIOT, the most famous spinsters in the world.

And the five are almost as well known in Europe as they are at home. Yet they all admit they're "old maids." One is 48, one 61, two 64, and the other won't tell her exact age, but confesses she's well over the traditional 30.

Why haven't they married? Because they've been too busy doing other things.

What?

Other nations collectively, he continued. Matters which would have taken years to clear up by dealing separately with the interested nations individually can now be laid upon the international council table and can be disposed of in a spirit of open friendliness and consideration of the rightful interests of all parties. Moreover, it is apparent that China in this conference, has the good-will of the other nations, which are united in a sincere desire to help her. This is China's great opportunity. The Chinese people realize this, he added, and at heart they are a solid mass behind the delegates who are pleading their cause."

OPTOMETRISTS ELECT OFFICERS

Form Optometrical Association For Brantford and District.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, Dec. 8.—Speaking to the Rotary Club at their noon luncheon, Dr. George D. Porter, director of health service, Toronto University, today gave an impressive talk on personal health which threw light on many angles in a new way.

Optometrists of Brantford, Galt, Simcoe, Paris and Waterford have organized the Brantford and District Optometrist Association, with the following officers: President, A. P. Aviston, Brantford; vice-president, D. W. Hault, Galt; secretary-treasurer, Turnbull Collins, Brantford; directors, E. V. Kenney, Paris; B. E. G. Jordan, Simcoe.

Hensall

HENSALL, Dec. 8.—Election day was quite lively here and the town hall, where the voting was done, presented a busy appearance throughout the day, as in addition to the men voters the women turned out in strong force. Excitement ran high in the evening while the returns were coming in. It was a good-natured crowd and much fun and amusement were coupled with the waiting hours. The summing up of votes for the village gave Mr. McMillan 197, Mr. Black 40, and Mr. Merner 177, a majority of 29 in favor of Mr. McMillan, the Reform candidate.

The bazaar held in the town hall Saturday last under the auspices of St. Paul's Anglican Church, was a great success, the receipts being over $600.

Earnie Steacy, a son of John Steacy of this village, has purchased the dry-goods business of Messrs. Percy & Apollon of Orillia and has taken over the business this week.

Alvin Warren, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is making rapid recovery at St. Joseph's Hospital, London.

Rev. Canon Doherty, formerly of St. Paul's Church, Hensall, but now of London, preached in Hensall on Sunday and in Staffa in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Mrs. Doherty and daughter Eleanor.

PICK WOODSTOCK CUSTOMS OFFICER

WOODSTOCK, Dec. 8.—Announcement was made today of the appointment of Lieut.-Col. Fred Burgess to the position of collector of customs for Woodstock to succeed W. H. Vaningen superannuated.

Col. Burgess had been with the customs branch here since 1912, with the exception of two years spent overseas.

Well, Jane Addams has been trying to better the condition of the poor. She's the world's most famous settlement worker. She's been president of the National Conference of Charities and Correction, and is head of international peace organizations.

Mabel Boardman has been furthering the work of the Red Cross. She attends almost all International Red Cross conferences abroad. She's been decorated several times.

Anne Tracey Morgan has been interested in civic work. And she's first vice-president of the American Committee for Devastated France.

Ida M. Tarbell has been busy making and molding public opinion. She's edited half a dozen big publications and written several books.

Dr. M. Carey Thomas is the world's greatest woman educator. She's president of Bryn Mawr College. And she's the author of several educational works.

PRIME MINISTER OF EGYPT QUIT

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 8.—Adly Yegien Pasha, the Egyptian premier, resigned his office today.

Premier Adly Pasha headed the Egyptian delegates which recently returned from London, having refused to accept the British proposals for an agreement designed to establish Egyptian independence and to end the British protectorate.

A dispatch from Cairo on Monday of this week stated that a movement was on foot to create a national party, of which the Independent Egyptian party would probably form the nucleus.

The dispatch said Adly Pasha's resignation as premier was considered certain and added that his friends hoped he would consent to become president of the new party, which was to carry on the work for Egyptian independence, while following strictly constitutional lines.

To Sell Chatham Lands By Auction in Order To Raise Taxes.

CHATHAM, Dec. 8.—City properties on which there are taxes due of approximately $2,500 will go under the hammer in the city council chambers Friday morning for non-payment, according to a statement issued today by City Treasurer T. E. Cotter.

It is stated that some citizens have paid up their arrears in order to save their property from sale, but others, who are not so fortunate, are now faced with the loss of their property.

PLAN BIG NIGHT IN NEW QUARTERS

Chatham Rotary Club To Receive Charter On Monday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, Dec. 8.—The Chatham Rotary Club has moved its quarters and is now occupying one of the assembly rooms in the Gray-Dort Club Building at the corner of Park and Center streets, where visiting Rotarians will always receive a hearty welcome at the weekly noonday luncheons on Wednesdays.

Big preparations are now in progress for charter night, which will be held on Monday next, December 12. Secretary A. A. McLeish has announced that large delegations are expected from visiting clubs, and a large delegation is expected down from the London Rotary Club, which sponsored the local club. It is expected that District Governor George A. Barnes of Flint, Mich., will be on hand to personally present the charter to President "Bob" Stratton, who is familiarly known to all and sundry now as "Stratt."

HOLD FETE FOR EARL OF CAVAN

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—General the Earl of Cavan, military adviser to the British delegation at the Washington conference, will be the guest of honor at a special luncheon to be held by the Canadian Club here Dec. 16.

The Earl of Cavan is already known to Canadians, having served at Ottawa as aide de camp to Lord Stanley during the latter's incumbency as governor-general from 1901 to 1903.

Christmas Trees Soon To Belong To Past, College Professor Claims.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—High prices and the danger of fire may make real Christmas trees a thing of the past, according to the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University, which in a statement today urged use of artificial substitutes in the interest of conservation.

Freeing the Christmas tree from the charge of being a German innovation, the statement continued:

"The Romans celebrated the birth of Christ about the middle of the fourth century by the display of tree decorations and in some sections of Europe the festival was observed by the employment of pyramids decorated with green twigs and ornaments."

RETURNED MAN DIES.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODBURY, Dec. 8.—The death came unexpectedly at his home here last night of Charles E. Northeast, a well-known veteran of the great war, who expired almost instantly. He was born on the Island of Malta, but has been a resident of Woodstock for sixteen years. He is survived by his widow and young daughter.

GAINING EXPERIENCE.

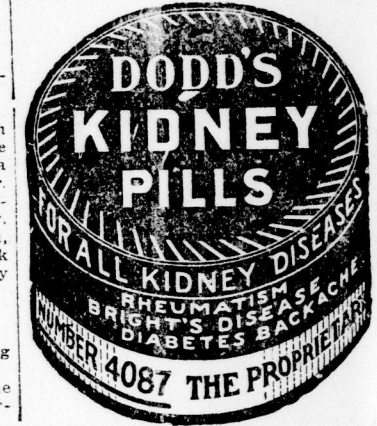

"So you went into the profit-sharing scheme. How did you come out?"

"I discovered that the purpose of the scheme was not sharing, but shearing."

U. F. O. TO BATTLE FOR OXFORD SEAT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, Dec. 8.—That the Drury government will make a big effort to capture the North Oxford seat is evident from the announcement today that every member of the Drury cabinet will speak in the riding during the next ten days. The premier himself will speak five times and the other members will run him a good second in the number of appearances here during the campaign. The Liberals will also bring in a number of prominent men to support Mr. Day's candidature, while Homer B. Neely, running as an Independent Conservative, has not as yet made an announcement of his intentions.

JOIN OUR 1921 CHRISTMAS GRAFONOLA CLUB

HAVE YOUR GRAFONOLA NOW — OR LATER IF YOU WISH

Good as has been the Club plan in former years, it has been made more attractive this time by offering Club Members choice of any style of Grafonola, and while there will be no limit set to the number of memberships, we are urging everyone to make an early selection, as no doubt any marked preference for any model of Grafonola may quickly exhaust the supply and thus limit the choice.

We're Opening the Club With a Rush To-Morrow With This SENSATIONAL OFFER

Those who have been waiting for an opportunity to easily and pleasantly own a good Phonograph will hurry in early to-morrow and take advantage of this wonderful offer:

$5.00 PUTS THIS GRAFONOLA

and 8 Selections in Your Home at Once

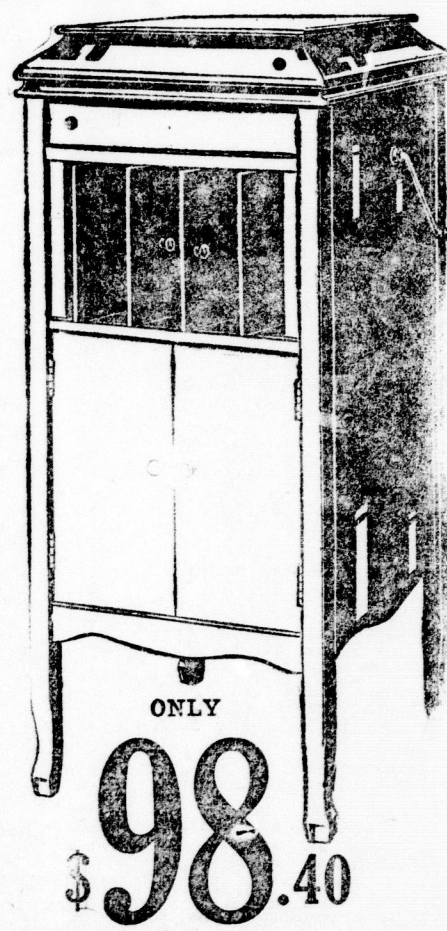

You should grasp this opportunity to-morrow if you have any desire to own a high-class Phonograph. All we ask is you pay us $5.00 to-morrow and agree to pay us balance — $93.40 — in small weekly sums after. We deliver the Grafonola and Records included at once. You pay for it while you are getting enjoyment from it.

No Waiting for Grafonola!

INCLUDING EIGHT SELECTIONS

The Nordheimer Piano and Music Co., Ltd.

225-227 DUNDAS STREET

The Grafonola which we are featuring in this special offer to-morrow is extraordinary value. Not alone do we make the price offer unusually attractive, but we make it absurdly easy to own — a mere $5.00 sends it home AT ONCE.

But this remarkable offer is made still more remarkable by the fact that we are presenting a beautiful model Grafonola that formerly sold at $135.00 (along with 8 selections), for only $98.40.

Saving You $40

You will recognize in the illustration one of the largest and finest types of Grafonolas, being a "Horn" model that is complete with compartments for 75 records.

This handsome instrument is made in both mahogany and painted oak finish and you can have your choice of either. It is over 40 inches high, 18 1/2 inches wide, 20 1/2 inches deep (front and back). All the mechanical details are of the best construction. It has three-speed drive motor, plays four records with one winding, tone control lever, graduated dial speed regulator, new bayonet-joint tone arm, Columbia reproducer, piano hinged lid with self-adjusting support. All exposed parts heavily nickel-plated. No other phonograph could give you more pleasure at any price.

DE VALERA'S STAND PERILS PEACE

Expect Nationalist Aid.
The Nationalists throughout the south and west of Ireland, who were forced to comparative obscurity with the ascendancy of the Sinn Féin, are counted upon here to use all their influence for the acceptance of the agreement. The split in the Dail cabinet will not interfere with the release of the prisoners in the Irish internment camps and other places of confinement to whom amnesty was extended by the king's proclamation, according to the Irish office. Those from the Ballykimo camp will be given their liberty today, and others of the interned men will likewise be set free.

Delegates Demand Support of People

Dublin, Dec. 7.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting this morning on the split in the Dail Eireann cabinet, says:
"The men who represented Ireland in the conference demand, and we cordially support their demand, that the Irish people who desired and trusted in the appointment of these gentlemen as the spokesmen of the nation, should now support them to the fullest extent."

The Irish Times says: "The country will read with deep dismay the statement Mr. de Valera has issued. As the situation is so delicate, and the plenipotentiaries justified the faith which Nationalist Ireland placed in them, the whole of the Nationalist press, and we believe, the vast majority of Southern Irishmen have accepted the agreement with joy."

Dail Eireann Will Hold Early Meeting

London, England, Dec. 7.—The final result of the deliberations in Dublin yesterday which developed a split in the Dail Eireann cabinet over the Irish peace treaty, has been to throw the treaty into an early meeting of the Southern Ireland parliament. In his statement last night declaring himself against the terms, Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, announced that Dail had been summoned in public session for next Wednesday morning. He also disclosed that his attitude was supported by two members of his cabinet, Austin Stack and Charles Burgess. The other cabinet members are said to have remained firm in favor of the treaty. This split, with the odds favoring ratification is pointed to as significant of the possible lineup in the Dail itself when the time for action arrives.

Statement issued late.
While Mr. de Valera's statement was issued too late last night (11:30 o'clock) for the newspaper correspondents in Dublin to gauge co-operation on it, it is likely in view of the opinions outlined in previous dispatches, to cause disappointment to a majority of the people in the south of Ireland, although naturally it will be indorsed by the

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

Many people are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is.

In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.

The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS, and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, jaundice, water brash, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath, etc.

Miss Agnes Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes: "I have had heartburn for a long time. There were gnawing and burning pains in my stomach, and then when I vomited there was a sour and bitter taste. I used two vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think there can be beaten by any other medicine."

staunch Republicans of De Valera's following.

Correspondents who had asserted that the Dail Eireann would ratify the treaty during the cabinet sessions, they declared that popular opinion in the south of Ireland had acclaimed the agreement with joy, and would insist on its ratification.
Apart from the general satisfaction in the agreement which these correspondents declare is general in the south, the release yesterday of a large number of Republicans interned for political offences produced a strong feeling of goodwill toward Britain.

Arthur Griffith's promise that the Southern Unionists should have a full share of representation in the first chamber of the all-Ireland parliament set up under the peace agreement, has also met with approval, the correspondents say.

The Daily Mirror in an editorial written before receipt of De Valera's message, refers to the rumors of his hesitancy, and expresses doubt as to whether he is able, in any event, to disturb the settlement.

"It is no secret that his influence has greatly declined," says the newspaper, "while his telegram to the pope was an almost fatal blunder which is unforgotten."
"The attitude of De Valera is awaited with interest. Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, left Belfast for London last night, and was expected to confer with Mr. Lloyd George, and to be accompanied by a large party, including the Marquis of Londonderry."

Irish Free State To Pay Republican Bonds

Washington, Dec. 7.—The new Irish free state will assume the obligation in this country of the Irish republic, amounting to about $5,000,000, Stephen M. O'Mara, mayor of Limerick, and "fiscal agent of the Irish republic," said yesterday.

Mr. O'Mara said the certificates of "repudiation" sold in this country were regarded as a moral obligation of the Irish people, and probably would be converted into bonds bearing interest at 3 per cent, to correspond to the rates on the certificates.

previous notice to the Chinese government.

"The rights of China are involved both because she must insist that all the parts of her territory shall be open on equal terms or on such terms as an honest and patient negotiator, and capitalists, merchants and residents. As soon as such treaties as the above are made without consultation with China, her territory is divided into distinct spheres for foreign enterprise. To this she can by no means be indifferent."

China Wins Sympathy.
"Mr. Balfour replied that with the broad aspirations expressed by Mr. Koo all must be in sympathy. One of the most important passages in Mr. Koo's speech had referred to spheres of influence. So far as Great Britain is concerned spheres of interest were a thing of the past."

"Mr. Balfour thought it was the hope of all those present to place China in a position to defend her interests, to protect her neutrality, and no longer to be a prey to acquisitive powers. He did not think that this end is likely to be obtained by adopting the broad principle proposed by the Chinese delegation, but rather by dealing with the difficulties which beset China, one by one, as the committee was actually doing."

"He could not see that the position was helped by the principle proposed by the Chinese delegation, which went a good deal beyond any existing principle of international law."

"The term employed 'The Pacific and Far East' was as broad as the Pacific itself. He could not believe that the powers represented at this table would accept it, more especially as China was not in possession of material forces to enable her to carry out any policy outside her own frontier. He asked if it had occurred to Mr. Koo that his principle involved a limitation of the treaty-making rights of powers, which could hardly be accepted."

"The United States of America was not a member of the League of Nations, but its constitution necessitated wide publicity in regard to treaties. Hence all the powers to which Mr. Koo referred were bound to make their treaties public and give them the widest publicity. That was the real protection of China. He would, therefore, ask his Chinese friends not to press the committee to adopt the resolution under discussion, but to deal with particular evils, as the conference was doing."

"Mr. Balfour then quoted the first of the resolutions drafted by Mr. Root and adopted by the committee on Nov. 21, 1921:

"To respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China."

"This resolution, if sincerely carried out, would do all that the too-wide proposal made by Mr. Koo could effect, without raising the difficulties inseparable from his scheme."

Want Stable Nation.
The chairman, Charles E. Hughes, said there was general sympathy with China in her desire that there should be no engagements of any character interfering with the establishment of a sound, stable and efficient government in China, but note must be taken of actual conditions."

It had been agreed to respect the territorial integrity and sovereignty of China, and this naturally implied agreement by China to respect the integrity of other powers."

Therefore if there were embodied in the resolution relating to treaties principles underlying the Chinese proposal and an expression of the intention to do nothing in derogation of these principles and to make no treaties or engagements in derogation of the territorial integrity and administrative integrity of China, all that China desired would be attained without the committee led into a discussion of the theoretical freedom of the treaty-making powers."

The chairman, therefore, suggested that the Chinese delegation advance some qualifications of their proposal which would permit the matter to be discussed in that sense. The Japanese delegation believed that the sovereign nations had the right of concluding any treaty or agreement between themselves. At the same time, with the growing influence of public opinion and of international law, it was daily becoming that, should a treaty or agreement prove prejudicial to the peace of the world, or violative to the rights of their powers it was bound to fall by itself under strong pressure of popular condemnation."

WILL ADVISE ON SCHOOLS DOCTOR

Provincial Officials Will Confer With London Educational Authorities.

It is fully expected that Dr. John Waugh, chief inspector of public and separate schools in the province of Ontario who reached the city at noon Friday will render an opinion as to the immediate need of a regular medical officer for the London schools. Dr. Waugh is accompanied by Dr. Phair, medical officer of health for the department of education.

There has been a strong feeling among some of the members of the board of education that the local situation warranted the appointment of such an officer. Others felt, however, that any move should be only with extreme caution for various reasons. Hence, it being held that the city's finances would not permit at this time of additional expenditures.

Four School Nurses.

W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board, explains that although there was a growing feeling throughout the province that stricter attention should be paid to the health of the children, there had been certain criticism of the result in those centers where the civic board of health had assumed the responsibility.

At the present time London has four school nurses who conduct generally ear, eye, nose and throat examinations, but who, it is said, are not of course fully competent, except in minor instances, to properly diagnose a case. For this reason it is held by many that some medical authority should be placed in charge, but the proposal, however, to place the work under the direction of the city medical officer has seemingly been without unanimity among the trustees and officials.

Advices Paper Towels.

Secretary Tanner stated on Friday that he is in receipt of a communication from the Ontario board of health of the local method of safeguarding the health of public school children, and asking as to what arrangement, if any, the board of education had with the board of health.

The latter body has nothing to do at present with the actual inspection of children. Inspections of the schools are made at certain intervals by Dr. Downham, officer of health, and his report and recommendations as to the condition of the school buildings and surroundings are made to the board.

In his last recommendation, as an instance, he advised the use of paper towels in all the schools. These will be placed in use at the first of the year, the secretary advises.

EXPECTS GROH TO MAKE GIANTS GREATEST TEAM

New York, Dec. 7.—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, expressed the belief today that Heinie

Groh, his $100,000 infield acquisition, would make the team's infield the greatest he has ever managed. "I will place Groh on third, of course, for Heinie has no superior anywhere as a third baseman. Frisch will be moved to second, where he belongs, and would be a moment's notice."

KING LIKELY TO REDUCE SIZE OF NEXT CABINET

Declares Country Wants Constructive Action, Not Statements.

HOLDS MANY INTERVIEWS

Awaits Resignation of Premier Meighen and His Government.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(By Canadian Press).—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the premier-elect, is not likely to issue any formal statement as to the election result. Speaking to Canadian Press on the matter this evening, Mr. King said he had not prepared any, nor did he expect to prepare one.

What the country needed now, Mr. King said, was constructive action rather than speeches or statements. There had been an abundance of talk and statements during the election campaign, said Mr. King, and at its close the people by their votes had showed they were in favor of getting back to strong representative government without coalitions or compromise.

Mr. King held many interviews during the day with prominent men, and many more are on the tapis for the coming week. That there will be any developments within the next few days is unlikely, for until the resignation of Mr. Meighen and his government there will be no official talk as to the incoming cabinet, and that is the question in the offing at present.

In the meantime, the Liberal leader continues to be showered with congratulations from all sources, necessitating the employment of extra stenographers to acknowledge all the expressions of goodwill which are coming in.

Considerable interest attaches to the possible representation in the next cabinet of two particular classes of Canadians, viz: Returned soldiers and labor men, and also as to the likelihood of the number of cabinet portfolios.

In regard to returned soldier representation it will be remembered that in his speeches toward the close of his campaign Mackenzie King said that if he was called upon to form a cabinet it would include representation for both returned soldiers and labor men.

Several outstanding returned soldiers were included among the Liberal candidates, but most of these suffered defeat at the polls.

While the premier-elect will have a great number of cabinet possibilities to choose from, the number of returned soldiers who have been elected as Liberals is a different matter, so that the returned men throughout Canada will be watching events to see who is chosen as their spokesman in the cabinet council.

As to labor, the conditions are also perplexing. In view of the strong fight made by James M. Murdoch, defeated Liberal candidate in South Toronto, it was thought that he was likely to be the next minister of labor. In reference to this portfolio, Mr. King said it would be filled by "a real labor man," who was a member of the commons, and who could thus be questioned by the representatives of the people.

In an interview given at Toronto, however, Mr. Murdoch said that he had finished with politics, and had attained his objective. He was, therefore, now ready to return to his law-way organization work.

A reduction of cabinet portfolios is thought to be likely when the incoming government is sworn in. Just what changes will take place it is impossible to say at the present time, but it is known that among Liberals there is a strong feeling that the next cabinet should be numerically smaller than the last two or three have been.

EXPECT DRURY WILL BE GIVEN CABINET POST

Ottawa Liberal Circles Schedule Ontario Premier As Minister.

HOUSE TO REVISE RULES

Election of Miss McPhail Necessitates Change in "Hat" Injunction.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—A special dispatch to the Montreal Star from Quebec says:

In well-informed Liberal circles here Premier Drury of Ontario is scheduled as a minister in the new Mackenzie King administration, and overtures will be made to him shortly, it is said.

The effect of his acceptance would be to stabilize the Liberal section of Ontario, and would bring a very important asset to the King cabinet.

Will the advent of Miss A. C. McPhail, member-elect, into party debates necessitate a revision of the rules of debate in the House of Commons?

That is a question which has arisen in the minds of some of the parliamentarians, who are at present here, for Miss McPhail has the honor of being the first woman elected to a place in the Canadian Parliament.

The "rules of the House of Commons" make no provision for women members, as they are based on British parliamentary practice as existing in 1857 when there were no women legislators in the mother of parliaments.

It appears to be Miss McPhail's hat which raises the necessity for revising the rules.

Rule 16 of Rules of Debate, taken from Bourinot, says: "Every member desiring to speak is to rise in his place, uncovered, and address himself to Mr. Speaker."

On the other hand, it is pointed out that the scriptural injunction to women was that they must not uncover the head in public.

The general opinion is that Lady Astor, when speaking in the British House of Commons wears her hat, so presumably the necessary steps will be taken to allow Miss McPhail, M.P.-elect, to follow her example, but the rules which refer in places only to "he" or "his" will need to be revised to keep abreast of the times.

MAY QUADRUPLE ALDERMEN'S WAGE

TORONTO, Dec. 8.—One of the by-laws to be submitted to the Toronto ratepayers at the coming municipal elections will be to provide for the payment of aldermen $1,200 a year for their civic services, instead of $300, the present "indemnity."

ASKS RELIEF FOR RUSSIANS IN NEED

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 8.—The Constantinople relief fund, which has taken over a large part of the charity work hitherto done by the American Red Cross, has addressed an urgent plea to the people of Constantinople in behalf of the destitute Russian refugees.

The committee points out that there are more than 17,000 Russians within the city who are literally starving, and that to abandon them would be an act of the basest inhumanity. The committee explains that the present constitutes the final phase of Russian refugee relief. Of the enormous number of refugees—totalling in all about 200,000—who have passed through the hands of Allied authorities, there now remain some 35,000. Even these it is hoped to dispose of satisfactorily in the near future.

NO PATS OF APPROVAL.
Wife-Joe, your mother got talking this afternoon about what kind of a son you were. She said your school teacher used to pat you on the back nearly every day.
Hub—That's true, my dear, but generally the patting was too low for comfort.

Biggest Food Value for the Least Money

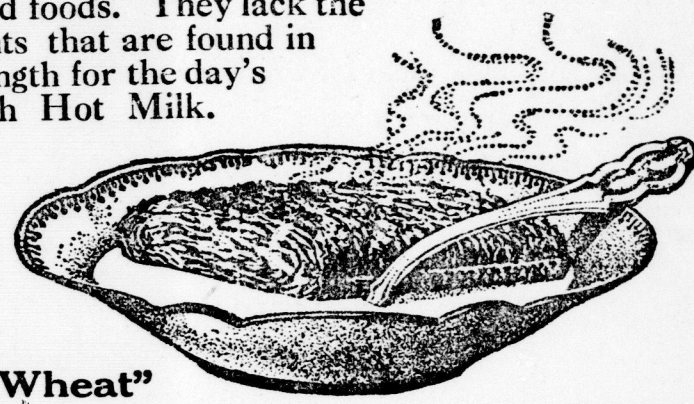

A cut of roast beef or a sirloin steak brings joy to the palate of a real man with a real appetite—but they haven't as much real food value as

Shredded Wheat with Hot Milk

Beef and eggs are incomplete, unbalanced foods. They lack the heat-making and tissue-building elements that are found in the whole wheat. Get warmth and strength for the day's work by eating Shredded Wheat with Hot Milk.

Heat the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness; pour hot milk over them, adding a little cream and salt, or sweeten to suit the taste. Shredded Wheat is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve. Contains more nutriment than meat or eggs and costs much less.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason, and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antidote than Bismarck Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food, will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble, and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without use of poison pills or artificial digestants.

A few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as liquid, milk or cream, and in the Bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advt.

WANT INDUSTRIAL SITE PURCHASED

St. Thomas Council To Place Bylaw Before the Electors.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 8.—By unanimous vote the city council decided, at its last regular meeting of the year, to place a bylaw before the ratepayers at the coming municipal elections, providing for the purchase of an industrial site consisting of 26 acres immediately east of the city.

The city possesses an option on the property, which expires Jan. 16. So that same definite action may be taken to close the deal the vote will be taken Jan. 1. Before that time a special meeting of the city council will be held to draw up the bylaw.

The matter is to be discussed by the forum of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night and if the purchase of such a site is looked upon with favor by the 400 businessmen who comprise the chamber, it is expected that little trouble will be met with in securing the passage of the bylaw.

The erection of a community hall with possibly a market-house in connection, was discussed at some length also, but a resolution providing for a referendum in January on the proposition, moved by Alderman Walker and seconded by Alderman Lemmon, came up for discussion. A solution of the vexing problem loomed up unexpectedly when Ald. Lemmon announced that a Mr. Smith had made a proposition to him, which, if successful, would save tearing up the improved section of that street, a move about which the council long hesitated. It is proposed that J. L. Thompson for whose service the sewer was to be laid by order of the health department should get connection through private property. The city was asked to bear a portion of the expense of constructing such a sewer.

A committee composed of Aldermen Dr. Curries, Lemmon and Penhale was appointed to confer with the citizens of

TRY THIS PLAN FOR KIDNEYS

Most People Need a Stimulant for Sluggish Kidneys. But Do Not Fully Realize It.

You might be on the verge of a serious breakdown and not realize it. Those rheumatic pains, sudden chills, loss of weight, headaches, anemic appearance, frequent urination, swollen ankles and a feeling of stupid drowsiness at times are indications of a need for Solvax. This is a remedy that acts directly upon your kidneys and almost immediately causes them to filter from the blood the body poisons that are responsible for auto-intoxication, extreme irritability of the nerves, disturbed sleep, backache and many other distresses.

You need no protracted treatment to determine its value. It will act quickly or not at all. For this reason you can get Solvax from first-class druggists upon the guarantee of satisfaction or money back. There is no use taking a medicine that you do not know is giving you relief. Solvax is so well known as a kidney regulator that you should try it. Indications of kidney weakness should not be neglected. Price 50 cents. PAINS SO BAD STAYED IN BED

Young Mrs. Beecroft Had Miserable Time Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do my work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the Hamilton Spectator and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular unless I overwork or stay on my feet for early morning until late at night. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble. I have recommended the Compound to several friends."—Mrs. EMILY BEECROFT, 269 Victoria Ave. N., Hamilton, Ontario.

For forty years women have been telling how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is made from native roots and herbs and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

Why Money Rates Play See-Saw

If you had $1,000 to loan and there were 100 people who wanted to borrow it, these people in their anxiety to secure the use of your money would bid against each other by offering you high rates of interest.

But if you wanted to borrow money and there were 100 people who wanted to loan it to you, you would secure it at a low rate of interest because these people would prefer to put their money to work at even a low rate of interest rather than to have it idle, earning nothing.

In each case the security behind the loan might be the same—yet the interest rate would vary greatly.

These extreme examples illustrate the ups and downs of money rates.

During the war the government had need of a great part of the wealth of the country. Individuals or corporations whose need of funds compelled

Cod Liver Oil & Tar

A hard cough that tears you every time it comes, yet persists in coming, usually disappears under the healing power of Robert's Syrup of Cod Liver Oil and Tar. The nauseous effect of the oil having been removed, the extractive principles remain to build up weakened strength. Combined with tar this makes a wonderfully powerful corrective for the throat, set up by Coughs, Colds or Bronchitis. Use—

Lloyd George and His Best "Pal"

Megan Lloyd George and Her Illustrious Father, The Prime Minister of Great Britain.

(Special to The London Advertiser.)
LONDON, Dec. 8.—Megan Lloyd George is the British premier's real confidante.
And comforter, too.
For a man who has as many bitter battles as the doctory Welshman, who is premier of Great Britain, has his setbacks, too, and even the great need of solace.
Of his two sons and two daughters, Megan is most like her father. She has his ways, his manners, and his sense of personality. Too, she is interested in his political doctrines, and supports them ardently.
Megan is in her early twenties, comely, sturdy and vivacious. She can dance and golf and ride, and during the tension and anxiety of the past weeks, prior to preparations for bringing the new Irish Free State into being, she has been constantly by her dad's side.

ARE TO EMPLOY ONLY "SAFE" MEN
TORONTO, Dec. 8.—General Elliott, provincial commissioner of police, announced today that in enforcing the Ontario temperance act he would try to make as little use as possible of "spotters," and that in cases where it was absolutely necessary to get evidence in this way, district officers are being informed that they will be held strictly responsible for the type of men employed in enforcing the act.

MEIGHEN'S FUTURE PLANS UNCERTAIN
OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 8.—(By Canadian Press.)—Premier Meighen is still silent in regard to his future plans. It is understood that the prime minister proposes to take his own time in deciding whether to accept the invitation of some of his followers and contest a seat which supported a Conservative candidate in the recent election, or to return to private life.
The demand that he continue in public life as leader of the Conservative group in the House of Commons is said to be insistent and strong and a number of seats have been offered him. The first offer came from Briz-Gen. Clark, member-elect for Burrard.

1000 Eggs In Every Hen TELLS HOW
New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollar a Dozen Eggs—Famous Poultryman
"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years. The average pullet lays 100 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly-profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.
How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle; $5 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other money-making poultry secrets are contained in making poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad. and send it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, Suite 470D, Court 1302, Binghamton, N. Y. and a free copy of The 1,000 EGG HEN will be sent by return mail.—Adv.
