59TH YEAR. NO. 23418

LONDON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 18, 1922.

LONDON TROOPS RUSHED TO STRIKE AREA

Forest Fires in Minnesota Leave Death in Wake

GUARDSMEN AND SETTLERS FIGHT TO STAY BLAZE

Fall of Many Tiny Settlements Hangs on Weather

WIND IS CHIEF ENEMY

All Roads to Duluth Crowded With Women and Children.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 18.—Whipped to sudden fury by a brisk shifting wind, numerous forest fires in the wooded country north of here, wiped out two towns and several smaller settlements late yesterday, turned hundreds of persons out of their homes and took a death toll variously placed at from 6 to 12.

Fears that the death toll would go beyond the reported total of 12 when additional advices were received today from the flame-swept areas, were expressed by scores of refugees, who were arriving here hourly from all sections of the north woods.

Hundreds Abandon Homes.
While four hundred men of the National Guard continued today the work of securing the refuge areas, more than 2,000 forest rangers, settlers and others redoubled their efforts in fighting the flames, which already have destroyed the small towns of Cotton, Central Lakes and White Falls.

The fall of a score of other tiny settlements scattered over St. Louis and Lake counties hung on the weather today. Only rain or a calm could save these places. Terrific winds were the chief enemies of the fire fighters yesterday. New fires were reported early today in several sections.

Recalling of the 1913 holocaust in Northern Minnesota, when more than 400 persons lost their lives, hundreds of persons abandoned their homes, live stock, and, in fact, everything they owned. The main thought of the women and children was to reach a place of safety. The men, however, remained behind to aid fire fighters.

Last night and today all main roads leading to Duluth, Eveleth and other northern villages were crowded with fleeing women and children.

Governor Directs Work.
Duluth National Guardsmen and other citizens manned the boats and pleasure cars and went far into the country to meet the plodding villagers and aided them in reaching hastily-established relief stations, supervised by the Red Cross here.

Chief among the scores directing this work was Governor J. A. O. Prews of Minnesota, who came here yesterday to make plans for speeding up coal shipments to the northwest.

The governor, after ordering out five companies of Guardsmen and six airplanes, stayed up most of the night arranging for food, blankets, and comforts at the Duluth Armories for arrivals from the fire country.

ELECT ST. THOMAS MAN SECRETARY OF B. P. O. E.
Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—W. T. Canteion of Vancouver, chairman of the grand jury committee, was elected by acclamation grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the concluding session of the grand lodge here yesterday.

Chosen as the next convention center following a spirited tussle with Toronto. The general feeling was divided between whether the convention should be kept in the West, where the numerical strength is, or whether it should go east to give impetus to the growth in Eastern Canada.

J. Alexander Killingsworth of St. Thomas, Ont., was elected secretary.

UNUSUAL FOLK

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 17.—They were having a spelling bee at the Blessed Sacrament parochial school.

Arthur Hynds spelled everybody under the rules he might have quit then, but his blood was up. He resolved to go right on, spelling "bogus" as it were.

From 9:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. he kept it up. The teacher used up all the words in the spelling book and started in on the dictionary.

Arthur ran up the score above 7,000 words. When you consider that an uneducated man can worry along for a lifetime on less than 1,000 words, you'll agree that this was pretty good.

Finally Arthur went down on "sanctification." He has found out how that's spelled now, too, and stands ready to spell all comers for the championship of the world. Arthur's 15 years old.

BUFFALO-FALLS CARS WRECKED

Trolleys Crash Into Hole Blasted in Tracks Near Buffalo.

No One Killed and None Seriously Injured.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Three cars filled with excursionists were wrecked on the high speed trolley line to Niagara Falls just after midnight. No one was killed and no one was seriously injured, though all the cars left the rails and two were upset. Five persons were slightly injured.

The excursion had arrived in Buffalo over the Pennsylvania Railroad and learned that the journey to the Falls was to be continued on the trolley cars. There was dissatisfaction expressed, many claiming they had been told they would not be subjected to strike danger on the trip. Six of the large type high speed trolleys were loaded and dispatched to Niagara Falls, accompanied by two trouble wagons. A mile beyond the Buffalo city line the first car ran into a hole that had been blasted in the track not long before. Two cars followed in collision, and the line was blocked both ways.

Great confusion ensued, but the repair men got to work without delay. The alarm of the accident spread fast as a call for doctors and guards was broadcasted, and in a very short time the scene was crowded with fleets of automobiles. The police kept good order, and the excited and shocked passengers were sent back to Buffalo in automobiles to be housed for the night by the trolley company. As usual in the summer season all available hotel space in Buffalo had been pre-empted early in the evening, and the company officials were hard put to accommodate the involuntary guests.

The rumors of loss of life were not borne out, and while 50 or more persons at the scene were alleged to have been injured, it was soon evident that nearly all were suffering from excitement and shock. One large hospital nearest the scene of the wreck had only five patients, and the county hospital even nearer had none. The Tonawanda Hospital received one patient.

CHURCHILL AND ASQUITH LATEST TO WRITE MEMOIRS

Prime Minister Grinding Out Golden Chapters at Home in Criccieth, Wales.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of the colonies, and former Premier H. Asquith are the latest recruits to the memorial writing field. It is understood that Mr. Churchill will receive £20,000 and Mr. Asquith a lesser sum for books to be published at about the end of the present year. Prime Minister Lloyd George, who is at Criccieth, Wales, grinding out the golden chapters of his £90,000 literary effort. Mr. Churchill also is devoting the present parliamentary recess to his writing. His friends, however, say the colonial secretary is hiding difficulty in writing with the greatest freedom because of reservations necessitated by his cabinet post.

Mr. Asquith is not subject to such restrictions, but, nevertheless, it is not expected the dignified and the scholarly leader of the Opposition will write anything approaching the spiciness of the diary published by Margot Asquith, his wife.

CIRCULATE RUMORS OF DE VALERA'S DEATH

Dublin, Aug. 18.—Rumors are extensively circulated in Dublin today that Eamon De Valera, republican leader, was dead. Countess Markievicz, former member of the Dail Eireann, who has been closely associated with Mr. De Valera in championing the Republican cause, when questioned this afternoon said Mr. De Valera was suffering from a slight chill, but that his condition gave no cause for alarm.

HARDING SEEKS TO END STRIKES

Tells Congress Lines of Transportation Must Be Kept Open.

Advices Immediate Legislation to Establish National Coal Agency.

Washington, Aug. 18.—President Harding today told congress that he was resolved "to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and protect the right of men to work." The president, in an address to congress in which he recommended specific legislation designed to cure the industrial ills of the United States, declared with emphasis that the right of employers and employees alike to establishing their methods of conducting business, to choose their employment, and to determine their relations with each other must be recognized.

"Law and order must be maintained," the president said. "The president deplored what he termed 'warfare on the unions of labor.'"

The president declared a national investigation for inductive recommendations as to the conduct of the coal industry to be imperative, and recommended a government commission to advise as to fair wages and conditions. Immediate legislation to establish temporarily a national coal agency with necessary capital to purchase, sell and distribute coal also was urged by Mr. Harding.

SETTLEMENT DEFERRED.

New York, Aug. 18.—Belief that no definite agreement for settlement of the shopcrafts strike would be reached today was expressed by Warren Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, shortly before 1 o'clock, on leaving the conference between the brotherhood men and rail executives. Mr. Stone said that no definite agreement had been reached so far, and that he believed the conference would have to extend beyond today.

The labor leader, who earlier in the day asserted a settlement must be reached at these conferences, professed himself still optimistic about the outcome.

Mr. Stone explained he did not believe there could be a settlement today because whatever plan they had would have to be referred by both sides to their constituents.

The general impression prevailing around the conference chamber at the noon recess was that the conference had come down to cases, and that some definite program was under discussion.

Mr. Stone, before leaving for a conference with labor leaders up town, implied he had a definite proposition to put before them.

IRISH TAKE OVER DUBLIN CASTLE

British Military Authorities Give Possession to New Civic Guards.

Dublin, Aug. 18.—Dublin Castle yesterday passed completely into the hands of the provisional government, the last Royal Irish Constabulary sentries being withdrawn. The castle and barracks were handed over to the British military authorities, who in turn handed them over to the new civic guards. With the departure of the Royal Irish Constabulary sentries from the castle and barracks, the Royal Irish Constabulary, as a force, ceases to exist.

Although the irregulars in Dundalk had made preparations to destroy the jail, barracks and other buildings, according to latest reports, they refrained from damaging the town, with the exception of the telegraph instruments, out of deference to a request by Father McKee that there should be no destruction of public buildings. It is stated also that the irregulars took notice of leaflets dropped into the town by a Free State airplane, warning that any damage to barracks or property would be severely punished.

While the recent amendments to the city parking bylaws are to be enforced from this moment on, Police Inspector Lucas explains that it will be by easy stages.

South side of Carling street, from Talbot street to Richmond street. East side of Clarence street, from York to Dufferin avenue. East side of Wellington street, from King street to Queen's avenue. The penalty shall be a fine not exceeding $50, or a term not exceeding six months in jail.

Claims Greek Girls Mutilate Faces to Flee Turks

HERDED AT SWORD'S POINT.

LONDON, England, Aug. 17.—"A ghostly march of corpses" was the way a returned traveler Thursday described the deportation of Greek Christians from Anatolia by the Turks.

The traveler is Ethel Thompson of Boston, who has just returned from the Near East, where she was an eyewitness of the sufferings which the exiles are compelled to undergo.

"The whole thing was too ghastly for adequate description," said Miss Thompson. "The Greek men, women and children were herded together and stumbled forward at the point of Turkish swords and bayonets. Thousands perished by the wayside. I saw women who looked unhuman. I saw 300 hundred children surrounded by Turkish gendarmes, who beat them with their swords."

"There were girls in the ranks with faces disfigured and distorted out of all human shape. They had mutilated themselves to spoil their natural beauty and thus escape the slave life of a Turkish harem."

"Dead bodies lined the roads and overhead flew an army of vultures, ready to feast upon the orgy of death below."

OFFERS $10,000 FOR TRACK WRECKERS AT BUFFALO

International Railway Company Seeks Arrest and Conviction of Those Who Caused Crash.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—The International Railway Company today offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the persons who dynamited the high-speed line of the company north of the city shortly after midnight, and caused the wreck of a three-car train, resulting in the slight injury of more than a score of persons, and injuries to eleven others seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

Six of the injured passengers were brought to Buffalo hospitals, four were treated at a Tonawanda hospital, and one was taken to Niagara Falls. Most of the others returned to Buffalo after receiving attention from doctors called to the scene of the wreck. The International has a list of 45 names of people claiming to have been injured in the wreck.

ASK BOARD TO MAKE DECISION

Union Chiefs and Rail Executives Complete Pleadings.

Expect Finding Will Be Reached by Saturday Night.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—With the collapse of the conciliation board's attempt to effect a settlement of the rail shophmen's wage dispute by closing the union chiefs and the rail executives in one room, the disputants this morning completed their pleadings and asked the board to make a decision on the evidence submitted by each party. Owing to the small quantity of evidence to be considered an early finding is expected, and will probably be ready by Saturday night.

The end came with surprising suddenness this morning, when George Hodge, assistant general manager of the C. P. R. eastern lines, somewhat facetiously remarked that the parties to yesterday's futile parley had agreed upon one issue, that he should inform the board that they had disagreed.

Without further evidence, Alex. Smith, K.C., chairman of the board, announced an indefinite adjournment until he and his colleagues, James Simpson, representing the employees, and Isaac Pitblado, K.C., representing the railways, would hand down their decision. Both parties are to remain in the city to appear before the board again should the latter require further evidence of any of the points raised.

For an issue involving such a huge sum of money, more than $5,000,000 a year, the amount of evidence brought before the board was singularly scanty. It was confined virtually to the two court statements made respectively by the railways and the unions. Mr. Hodge bore the entire burden of the rail executive's case, while R. J. Tallon led the union's cause, although well reinforced by Frank McKenna and John W. Bruce of Toronto, the latter representing the Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Union.

SUGGESTS FARMERS FORM AND OPERATE WHEAT POOL

Hon. W. R. Matherwell Claims Government Has Done Everything to Create Board.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 8.—By the Canadian Press.—Within its constitutional limitation the Dominion Government has done everything that it could possibly do for the creation of a wheat board and the provincial governments of Saskatchewan and Alberta have performed their tasks, said Hon. W. R. Matherwell, addressing a public meeting here last night.

Stating he did not know what the next step would be in the matter of wheat marketing, Mr. Matherwell referred to the fact that in Australia the farmers are now operating their own pool and suggested that some modification of this system might prove to be the ultimate solution of the national wheat marketing problem in this country.

GIVES WELCOME TO POTENTATE

Mayor Wilson Grooms "Sunny Jim" McCandless on Behalf of City.

London Shriners Leave for Outing at Port Stanley

On behalf of the city of London, His Worship Mayor Cameron Wilson officials welcomed Imperial Potentate J. S. "Sunny Jim" McCandless of Honolulu, of the Temple of the Mystic Shrine, to the city at a dinner in his honor, given by the Nobles of Mocha Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., in the Tecumseh Hotel, Friday noon.

"It is largely on account of his general disposition, his sterling character, and of the wonderful reputation that has preceded him, that we welcome our distinguished visitor, Imperial Potentate J. S. McCandless, to the city today," said the mayor.

"We were delighted to see the whole-hearted interest he took in the War Memorial Children's Hospital that he visited this morning, and how deeply he seemed to feel for the crippled children."

In a few words "Sunny Jim" thanked the local nobles for the splendid entertainment provided during his stay in the city, and assured them that he would always remember with feelings of joy his sojourn in the Dominion.

Other speakers were: Potentate James S. Gault and Hierarchs Potentate Dr. Wright of Rameses Temple, Toronto. Potentate J. F. Reid, of the Divan of Mocha Temple, acted as chairman.

The party, numbering some hundreds, left for Port Stanley on a special train at 1:30 where the remainder of the day will be spent in sports, bathing and dancing.

WOMAN HAS PURSE STOLEN AT PORT

Victim of Pickpockets and Family Faced Walk to St. Thomas.

Pickpockets are blamed for the embarrassing situation of a St. Thomas woman and her four children at Port Stanley Friday evening, who were faced with the proposition of walking home, when they discovered that mother's pocketbook containing railway tickets and $8 had disappeared in the crowd lined up to catch the last London and Port Stanley Railway train.

The victims had attended the annual picnic of the Irish Benevolent Society, and up to the time of the theft had enjoyed themselves with wearers of the green.

However, their day was not spoiled by a walk to St. Thomas, as they accompanied Manager J. E. Richards, of the London and Port Stanley Railway Company, of their predicament, and he kindly arranged transportation for them. The police of Port Stanley are working on the case.

DETACHMENT OF R.C.R. ENTRAIN FOR SYDNEY, N.S.

141 Soldiers, Fully Equipped, Answer Orders From Capital.

ALL IN HIGH SPIRITS

Men Cheer Lustily as They Board Cars for East.

With steel helmets strapped on their backs, with rifles slung over their shoulders, and with full war equipment, 141 soldiers, members of the Royal Canadian Regiment, stationed in this city, left on a special G. T. R. train at 6 o'clock Friday morning for strike duty at Sydney, Nova Scotia. The party was in command of Lieut.-Col. C. H. Hill.

A little before midnight Thursday, Brig.-Gen. W. B. M. King, general officer commanding Military District No. 1, received an urgent order from the capital, stating that the R. C. R. Company stationed at Carling Heights were to be ready to entrain for Sydney, Nova Scotia, at a moment's notice.

The company was stationed at the Cove Rangers, having moved there a few days ago for a month's musketry, and company training, while the headquarters staff was at Wolsley Barracks.

Receive Second Order.

At 3 o'clock this morning preparations to move and break camp were almost completed, when another message came through from Ottawa ordering the troops to entrain at once. Within an hour and a half, headed by the band, and cheering lustily, the soldiers boarded a five-coach special at the Grand Trunk station, bound for Sydney, Nova Scotia.

It is a peculiar coincidence that when war broke out, the Royal Canadian Regiment was in camp at the Coves, the same as on Thursday night, and an order to move reached the city at almost the same hour.

Officials on Duty.

Word was received from Nova Scotia Friday morning stating that already one mine was declared lost by officials from flooding and that practically all the collieries in Southern Cape Breton area were in the gravest danger, although the coal strike is only 72 hours old.

Dominion Coal Company officials say that the flooded mine, No. 10, at Reserve, can never be operated again, and even if it were possible, it would take at least a year to remove all the water.

In regard to the other mines, the general opinion is that a great catastrophe is imminent if the pumps and safety equipment are not manned within 48 hours. The officials working at the pumps have not been able to control the intake of water, and both parties in the dispute are adamant in their stands.

SEEK SETTLEMENT.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 18.—(Canadian Press staff correspondent).—Hon. G. H. Murray, Minister of Mines, said this morning arrived and went into conference with Col. Gordon Harrington, legal adviser of the United Mine Workers, President Dan Livingstone, Secretary J. B. McLachlan and others of the United Mine Workers' executive in an effort to secure settlement of the miners' strike.

14,000 JOURNEY TO IRISH PICNIC Attendance At Annual I. B. S. Lakeside Outing Breaks All Previous Records.

R. L. Brackin, M.L.A. For West Kent, Lauds Ideals of Organization.

Ireland in all her historic glory was reflected at Port Stanley Thursday, when more than 14,000 people from Western Ontario gathered with members of the Irish Benevolent Society to make merry at their 46th annual picnic.

When the last train had departed from the lakeside and the tired kiddies had been tucked in bed, officers in charge of the outing gave themselves over to much-needed slumber. A picnic had been the most successful in the history of the society. With the weather man bribed to behave himself on this memorable occasion, there was nothing to prevent the thousands of merry-makers from enjoying themselves to the limit, and, needless to say, the hosts of Erin did themselves proud.

Heights Are Crowded. Invererie Heights resembled a mass meeting Thursday afternoon, while the methods of running off the many events on the sports program placed the picnic in the same category as a three-ringed circus. There was a baby show, dancing, and races under way all at the same time, with the result that there was not a dull moment throughout the afternoon.

The big day commenced with a parade through the streets of London Thursday morning by members of the society, and was concluded by a banquet in the cafeteria Thursday night, where guests dined in harmony with the keynote. Not satisfied with this grand finale the Irish boys gathered in two special coaches of the last train and made the run to London a short one, by providing diversion in the form of Irish music, songs and dances.

Knowing no creed or politics, the Irish Benevolent Society provided an ideal atmosphere for a good time, and a good time it was for all who joined in the outing. There were no untoward incidents to mar the day, with the exception of an accident which befell Ethel girl, who fractured her collarbone when she fell on the hillside.

Treated at Hospital. Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, who was present on the grounds, attended the injured girl, and she was placed on the train following treatment at the L. and P. S. emergency hospital, and removed to London.

Features of the Irish picnic, which perhaps stood out in contrast to the other banner events, were the baby show and costume dancing held on Invererie Heights. In the former contest the outstanding item of notice was the exceptionally fine type of infants placed in the competition.

A tug-of-war for ladies was one of the original numbers on the program which vied with the boxing in the latter event. The contest was so strenuous that the barrels were wrecked, and the winners staged an amateur boxing bout for the benefit of the crowd before obtaining their prizes.

Led by a band of Irish pipers from Toronto, George H. O'Neill, a London old boy, past president of the Irish Benevolent Society, and now manager of the United Hotels in Canada, put in an appearance at the picnic grounds, and was accorded a hearty reception by his many friends who were present.

Refreshments were served to the members of the society from a tent on the hill, while concessionaires did a land-office business disposing of ice cream cones and soft drinks to the public.

Following the parade of London streets by members of the Irish Benevolent Society, headed by the 1st Battalion, W. O. R. band, Thursday morning, the picnickers embarked at 10:20 a.m. for Port Stanley, and thereafter the London and Port Stanley trains handled record crowds. The initial contingent stopped off a few minutes at St. Thomas and paraded the downtown Refused Quarters in Jail Man Breaks Window To Gain Cell.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—Peter Walsh, 50, this afternoon walked into the police headquarters and asked to be locked up. When the desk sergeant pointed out that no charge had been laid against him and that he could not be detained, Walsh went outside the building and smashed in three windows. He was grabbed by a policeman, haled at once before the magistrate and given two months, within five minutes of his application for accommodation in the jail.

streets, their numbers being augmented by Irishmen of the Railway City.

Railway Carries 14,000. J. E. Richards, manager of the London and Port Stanley Railway Company, to whom much credit is due, along with his staff, for the excellent manner in which the picnickers were carried to and from the lakeside with maximum convenience, informed the advertiser late Thursday night that approximately 14,000 people had traveled by railway to the lakeside. He estimated several hundred more who reached Port Stanley via auto, the parking spaces available resembling a motor show.

During the banquet in the cafeteria Thursday night, the thousands of people on the beach were entertained by a motion picture show and orchestra which played Irish music, the pleasure being concluded by a grand fireworks display. Daylight fireworks were also shown by the London and Port Stanley Company Thursday afternoon.

Lauds Society's Ideals. More than 150 members of the Irish Benevolent Society attended the banquet in the cafeteria, at which the principal speaker was R. L. Brackin, M.L.A. for West Kent. In a brilliant address, with convincing words, the guest lauded the ideals of the society, and declared that if they were applied nationally in Canada, an era of perpetual prosperity would dawn on the nation.

Introduced by President E. S. Little, who stated that he voted for the London Street Railway Company Incorporated fares, because Dick Ivier told him that Brackin informed his audience that the event marked the occasion of his first opportunity of addressing the people of his own race, the Irish.

"There are only two people that understand me," began Mr. Brackin, "the Irish and the colored people. This audience is composed of Irishmen. I am a member of the Irish Benevolent Society, having joined ten minutes ago, with all arrears paid up. 'I am Irish on both sides of the fence,' continued Mr. Brackin, who immediately won the hearts of those present by his splendid address. 'My grandfather was a good Catholic, my grandmother was a good Protestant, and I am married to the only daughter of a Presbyterian minister, and defy anyone to tell me what I am.'

Commends Tolerance. Lauding the ideals of the Irish Benevolent Society the speaker urged that they be incorporated into Canadian national life. 'We should emphasize not our differences, but the things that we agree on,' he declared. 'So long as we all think nationally with the one goal in view, Canada will dominate. You don't worry about religion. A man who worries about my religion is going to keep him out of heaven. The Irish Benevolent Society is a living example of the beauties of tolerance and absolute absence of all bigotry. That's what we want in this country. You can argue politics until you are black in the face, but it does not make a particle of difference, because it's the men and women who count.'

"We ought to all strive to attain as individuals and as a society to get into the hearts and minds of the people the spirit that is going to pull us through. The only reason that I am in politics is because I like elections, and I like a fight. That's where my Irish ancestry comes in."

Referring to the Irish situation, Mr. Brackin said: "It gives us cause for grief, and it is a most lamentable thing, but Ireland will come out of it. The Irish have governed the city of New York the last 75 years, and are just as capable of governing as anyone else. Like a child they have got to learn to walk, and have never been given a chance. They said Canada could not govern at one time and the same applies to South Africa and Australia."

"I have always been in favor of home rule for Ireland. Give the Irish a chance to govern and show what they can do. Give Ireland fifty years like Canada has had and no man can stand up and say the Irish are not fit to govern themselves. 'The Irish Benevolent Society buries political and religious opinions, and that is a thing we have got to do in Canada. We are all responsible for the kind of government we get in parliament and out. I do not think, as a general rule, the people who send men to parliament are quite fair to those who rule over them. There is too great a tendency to impute to these men in public life wrong motives the minute they disagree with them. 'They do not say it is a mistake, but done deliberately. Remember the man in public life cannot always be right. Give the man credit for what he does. There is darned little Canadianism preached these days in this country. It is all right to talk of the British Empire, but I would like to hear a little more of Canada. 'Some day we may be called to stand upon our own feet. I say stick to the British Empire as long as we can, but teach our own emigrants about our own country. Let us inculcate in our children what this society stands for, and make Canada what it ought to be. 'The future of the empire is not in London, England,' concluded Mr. Brackin, "but lies in the hearts and minds of the people who go to make it up." Thanking the members for their

FOR SERIOUS LIVER, KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC TROUBLES. WHY BOXERS NEVER HAVE THEM. TOLD BY Jimmy Wilde. Some training camp secrets divulged by the all-conquering little Welshman, world champion at his weight, and winner outright of the Longdale Belt.

I have often been asked to explain the training methods responsible for my maintaining a practically perfect state of physical fitness. Liverishness, languor, acidity and indigestion, and dyspepsia, catarrh, neuralgic pains, headache, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, etc., etc., arise simply from the accumulation of impurities in the system. Obviously the one and only way to get rid of these complaints quickly and permanently is to clear the impurities out. To do this, thoroughly cleanse the clogged organs of filtration, thus preventing the absorption of further poisons. The self-poisoning absorption process is the direct cause of most serious ailments and diseases. Auto-intoxication, the medical men call it, and, under all such scientific terms, toxins, bacilli, uric or stomach acids, bacteria, etc., are only fancy names for common impurities or poisons. To make and keep the whole body absolutely fit, the digestion good, the mind clear and alert, eyes bright, and a level teaspoonful, or less, of refined Alkila Saltrate. This produces a pleasant-tasting drink, and, being a standard compound, can be had at little cost from any good chemist. It exactly reproduces the curative ways of certain natural medicinal springs, and Eugene Corri, the famous referee, when speaking recently of its effects in his own case, said the saltwater treatment proved better than a visit to a spa.—Adv.

LOST FOR 6 WEEKS, HORSE COMES BACK

Animal Belonging To James Chantler Displays Homing Instinct.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 17.—That horses, like pigeons and cats, have homing instincts, is demonstrated by the return to Rodney of an animal belonging to James Chantler of Rodney, after an absence of six weeks.

About July 1 Mr. Chantler, who is an aged fish peddler, was found near Port Stanley with a nasty cut in his throat. It is believed that he was overcome by the heat and fell from his wagon. The horse and fish cart were missing and no trace of them was found by county police.

The horse returned a few days ago, and appears to have been well fed.

FINED $10 FOR SMALL LOAVES

City Baker Haled to Court for Having Under-Weight Bread.

Explains Product Had Been Steamed But Had Dried Out.

Dropping casually into a downtown store the other day, J. W. McCallum, health and food inspector, seized a dozen loaves of bread exhibited there for sale. A subsequent test of the same on the government scales revealed the fact, he states, that they were all under-weight. As a result, the manufacturer of the same appeared in police court Friday morning, was found guilty and assessed $10 and costs.

The storekeeper testified that the bread in question had been delivered to him an hour or two before the inspector appeared.

The defendant explained that the bread had been made about 36 hours previous, and had lost weight by its size. It was an unavoidable wastage, he declared, as the bread was stale, it had been steamed, he explained, for the occasion. "Made so to catch the trade," he explained.

Both the magistrate and the inspector appeared quite mystified as to this so-called "steaming process," voicing the information that they had never heard tell of the same before. "You know that you are subject to a heavy fine," said the magistrate. "Let this be a warning. I will make it $10 and costs this morning."

As he left the court the baker paused long enough to inform the magistrate and the court in general that the manufacture of bread of this particular brand was only a side line. "I specialize," he pointed out, "in a health bread that has powerful health-giving properties and contains life-sustaining elements."

BAN SPENDING CITY FUNDS ON EVELITH HOCKEY TEAM

Taxpayers Gain Injunction to Prevent Further Waste of Municipal Money.

Evelith, Minn., Aug. 18.—Officials of this village have been enjoined from making further expenditures of municipal funds in the interests of placing the Evelith hockey team on the map, according to a decision handed down by Judge Edward Freeman of the district court, made public today.

More than $20,000 of the village funds were spent for the Evelith hipodrome last winter, where Evelith made a game but losing fight in the race for the United States national hockey title.

The court held the expenditure illegal and that the rink was intended to furnish few recreational facilities to the population of the village in general. In the suit to prevent further spending of the village's cash for such enterprises was instituted by Harry L. Burns, and other taxpayers. Although the decision does not specifically provide for the return of the money, it was said, it leaves an avenue open for further litigation.

Military Officer Granted Third Adjournment of Case.

"HE seems to treat this affair quite casual like," commented Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon Friday morning, when Captain Mat Ryan failed to appear to answer a charge of driving a car with lights out. The captain has not presented himself at the Carling street hall of justice on three consecutive occasions, and when his counsel pleaded for another adjournment, the magistrate assayed the suggestion: "It's only a charge of lights out. Why doesn't he pay the fine and get it over with?" "But we plead not guilty," rejoined the attorney.

"Tuesday next, then," directed the bench, as someone pointed out that the R. C. R. had left the city, and it was possible that the defendant had departed with it.

TO DISCUSS CITY COAL PROBLEM

Mayor Requests Dealers to Hold Conference at City Hall.

Expect Decision Will Be Made to Buy Coal From Wales.

As a result of the conference, attended by representatives of Ontario municipalities in Toronto Thursday, Mayor Cameron Wilson has called a meeting of coal dealers, the coal committee appointed by the city council, and E. S. Little, representing the chamber of commerce, to be held in the city hall Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

While no definite information is available, this conference will, in all probability, decide to order 10,000 tons of anthracite coal from Wales at once, in an attempt to avert a fuel famine in London next winter. This coal, purchase of which was authorized by the city council recently, will cost in the neighborhood of twenty dollars per ton, delivered to London homes.

Although of the opinion that the coal problem should be dealt with nationally, the coal committee of the city council, composed of Alderman H. J. Childs and Mayor Wilson, are ready to take immediate steps to provide heat for those citizens who have not laid in a winter supply of coal.

REV. J. AGNEW RETURNS AFTER INTERESTING TOUR

Having completed a holiday trip through New York State, which afforded opportunity for comparing the American scenic beauty with that which exists in our own Province of Ontario, Rev. J. A. Agnew of Ridout Street Methodist Church has returned to the city and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday, when his subject will be "Making a Stepping Stone of the Devil."

By motor, and with Buffalo as a starting point, Mr. Agnew traveled to New York by the state highway, making stops at Watkins Glen and Falls, one of the most noted beauty spots of the state, as well as other points of interest.

Along the Hudson to the Ashokan dam in the Catskills, where is the source of New York's water supply, claimed to be the largest reservoir in the world, with a capacity of 132 billion gallons, the journey home was completed by the Lincoln highway.

Mrs. Jennie Stranaghan of Glasgow, Scotland, will sing at both services.

STAGES $10 DAY IN LOCAL COURT

Magistrate, However, Makes Exception to Wm. Shane, Who Pays $25

While the local merchants at regular intervals hold their special Dollar Day with added inducements, Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon staged Friday what may be termed as a Ten Dollar Day.

With one exception, all who appeared participated. William Shane was the lone exception. But his was a special case as his appearance the previous day on a drunk and disorderly charge had meant a $10 fine which had to be eclipsed the magistrate ruled.

Shane was located by the police, after a registered complaint, in a poolroom near the corner of Horton and Clarence streets. While he contended quite lustily that he was not intoxicated but was merely enjoying a quiet game of straight pool, the officers held otherwise, relating that he staggered quite noticeably. They produced a partially filled bottle of Florida water to fortify their story.

"That belonged to one of the lads," explained the prisoner, "I slipped it to me when he saw the police coming in. I was engaged in a pool contest."

"You were here only yesterday," commented Magistrate Graydon, "when I predicted that if I let you go you would be in again. You see I was right but you wouldn't take the 10 days then. I have reports that you have been acting like a maniac where you live, smashing the furniture and making life generally miserable for the others at home. $25 and costs."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And abide all this, add to your faith, virtue.—St. Peter 1:5.

CONFIDENCE in another man's virtue is no slight evidence of a man's own—Montaigne.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED at the city hall this month number 59, and the total estimated expenditure involved is $78,315.

DR. W. S. DOWNHAM, medical officer of health, is enjoying his annual vacation at his home here. During his absence from duty, Dr. D. C. MacFarlane, of this city, is acting as medical officer of health.

V. K. GREER, senior inspector of public schools, has requested that once more the announcement be made to the citizens of London that public schools of the city will re-open after summer vacation on Tuesday, September 5. This date has been decided upon, owing to the fact that September 1 falls on a Friday.

THAT THE TOURIST CAMP in operation at Wonderland is recognized as a real convenience by motorists visiting London is evidenced by the fact that fifteen autos were parked in the camp Thursday night. The fifteen parties spent the night at the camp availing themselves of free water, light, cooking and other facilities provided by the Public Utilities Commission.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT amendment to the Dominion food and drug act has just been introduced by the local representative of the federal department of health. The following articles of food are deemed to be misbranded unless they have been manufactured in the country whose name is represented: English Jam, Scotch marmalade, Swiss chocolate, French mustard, etc. To comply with the law the above and similar names should be qualified by the use of the word "style" e.g., "English Style Jam," instead of "English Jam," etc.

AS REPRESENTATIVES for the London Trades and Labor Council, William Tite, machinists' delegate, and John McGuire, president of the same body, leave this week-end for Montreal where they will attend the annual convention of the Dominion Trades Congress. As a member of the credentials committee, Delegate Tite will leave Saturday. Three important resolutions will be introduced on the floor of the convention by the local delegates—one pertaining to the adolescent school act of Ontario, a second calling for a rigid enforcement of the six-day week, and the third pertaining to the eight-hour day.

FINAL PLANS HAVE BEEN completed for the mammoth picnic in which 1,500 children of city playgrounds will participate at Port Stanley next Tuesday here and have been completed. Through the generosity of eight public spirited citizens, E. V. Buchanan has announced that the kiddies will be carried to and from the lakeside via special London and Port Stanley Railway trains for a ten-cent fare. They will carry lunches with them and will be in charge of supervisors of city playgrounds. The sports program will include races, baseball games and aquatic events.

COMMENCE WORK ON ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

KITCHENER, Aug. 17.—Work started today on the installation of semi-ornamental lighting fixtures on East King street, near the city limits. The street has been recently paved, and since it will be one of the main avenues of entrance to the city, it was decided that a proper and adequate system of lighting should be installed from the city line to Cameron street.

This system will later be carried on through the remainder of the street, but more elaborate fixtures will be used through the business section.

THIEVES PILLAGE STORE IN TOWNSHIP OF ORFORD

CHATHAM, Aug. 17.—The general store owned by Cecil Clachan in Orford Township was broken into by thieves last evening, and a large quantity of groceries and merchandise was stolen.

The proprietor is making an inventory of his loss, which he will turn over to the county police who are investigating the case. The robbery is one of the biggest that has occurred in the county for some time.

Drives Lightless Car With Arm Around Girl

THOMAS BOYLE PAYS FINE.

WITH his left hand clutching the wheel and his right arm encircling a female companion, Thomas Boyle, according to the police, tore east along King street the other evening in an automobile with no headlights afoot.

Adjudged guilty in police court Friday morning with driving at a reckless and dangerous speed, Boyle was assessed $10 and costs, with an added warning to be more careful in the future.

The defendant pleaded guilty to a second charge that his lights were out, but offered the plea that it was difficult for him to tell when they were lit while driving on city pavements. He encountered no trouble in the country. He admitted that he had forgotten them when he started out.

"You should not be driving a car, then," admonished Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, "if you can't remember to put your lights on. In any event do you think that it is sensible to drive through the streets at a high rate of speed, and would it not be advisable to drive with both hands in the downtown section at least. The officer states that you did not even slow up at the intersection."

The police are evidently determined that reckless or careless driving through the streets must cease, as it is a rare case where a police officer is not at least one alleged offender is not ushered in.

GAINS KNOWLEDGE ABOUT AUTO LAWS

R. Wilson, Ignorant of Rules, Pays $10 for Driving Minus License.

Richard Wilson, appearing in police court Friday morning, learned that it is possible to learn something new every day.

Charged with driving a car without a chauffeur's license he explained to Magistrate Graydon that he did not know that, while he held a license to drive his own runabout, he must first secure another license if he elects to drive his boss's truck, if only to deliver rush orders, as he claimed.

"You are not entitled to drive a car without another license" warned the magistrate. "The fact that you have a license for your own car makes no difference. That car is for your own amusement and entertainment. You are a clerk in a store, and the act is very explicit in this respect. If you act as chauffeur, if only temporarily, you must obtain the necessary authority."

The defendant, who pleaded ignorance of this legislation, was directed to pay $10 and costs. The charge was preferred by P. C. George Tomlin.

BURY VICTIMS OF SHAWBRIDGE FIRE

FORMER CITY MINISTER PAYS TRIBUTE TO PRESS

Sincere compliment is paid to the press of London in a letter received by a member of Egerton Street Baptist Church from Rev. A. C. Bingham, former pastor there, but who is now in Edmonton.

The letter makes reference to Rev. A. Burgess, the present pastor, saying: "I wish to compliment Mr. Burgess on coming to a city where the press makes it possible for his ministry to have the widest influence. I will venture to say there is not a city in Canada where the press is more sympathetic with pulpit or more ready to serve the interest of the church, than the press of London."

Mr. Bingham enjoyed the greatest popularity and esteem during his term in London, and it is with interest that friends here follow his successful career in the west.

FOUR BOATS STOLEN AT PORT LAMBTON

PORT LAMBTON, Aug. 17.—Fred Gallop, the wharf stevedore from its mooring place one night this week, and has not yet been able to trace it. This is the third rowboat that has been stolen from this place this season, besides a gasoline launch.

The launch was recovered a few days later, having been abandoned by the thieves when their supply of gasoline had run out.

LAUDS LONDON'S BOY TRAINING PLAN

Rev. Floyd Maine Addresses Kiwanis Club on Citizenship Development.

Kiwanians, at the noon luncheon in the Tecumseh House, Friday, were able to listen to a man who has studied boy development both in Canada and the United States, extol London as having the finest system of boy training and development on the continent.

Floyd Maine, an old Londoner, and graduate of Western University, who addressed the Kiwanians on the subject of boy development along the lines of citizenship, referred to the Canadian standard efficiency system of training as the finest in the world, and made the statement that the finest piece of boys' work on the continent was being done right here in London by the Y. M. C. A., the churches, and such institutions as the Kiwanis Club.

Some Subjects Useless. Denying at length with his subject, Mr. Maine spoke of the utility of confining the boys' education to subjects which in many cases are of no use to him in after life.

"Education," he said, "must be something broader than the confines of the schoolhouse. It must include the city's playgrounds, its parks, and its moving pictures."

"The new center of gravity for education has come to be the individual and his interests. Mind and body and soul cannot be separated. The development of one must mean the development of the other two. Our education must deal with life as a whole."

"The great problem is training the boy for citizenship. Our government system is most comprehensive, in fact, very few of us are able to understand but a little part of it. Yet at 21, every man is given the vote, regardless of whether he has a grasp of civic life and its problems, or whether he may just blunder through the procedure of voting."

ELEVATOR BURNS AT LEAMINGTON

Several Thousand Bushels of Wheat Destroyed in Blaze.

Leamington, Aug. 17.—Fire, which totally destroyed the elevator of the United Farmers' Co-operative Society here today, Alfred Sedgington, manager of the elevator, who was in the basement of the elevator when gasoline leaking from an engine exploded, was burned about the head and arms while fighting his way out of the building. Several thousand bushels of wheat and other grains were in the elevator awaiting shipment. One ton of sugar was also destroyed. The damage is estimated at $25,000.

Spilled by heat and water from six streams, the grain bulged out the concrete walls until they fell, showering sparks and flaming brands over other buildings. Damage to these was slight.

IMPROVEMENTS TO PARIS CHURCH NEARLY FINISHED

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The extensive renovation and improvements to the Church of the Sacred Heart are almost completed.

The tower, roof and all exterior has been repainted and repaired. Mr. J. Stewart has just finished his contract to decorate and repaint the interior of the edifice.

The walls and ceilings have been tinted in harmonious colors. The stately altars and decorations are in cream, white and gold. New electric fixtures have been added.

Rev. Father Holden has arranged to have an official reopening of the church in the early part of September.

PREPARE FOR OLD BOYS REUNION AT TILLSONBURG

Additional Seats and Buildings Being Erected To Accommodate Crowds.

Special to London Advertiser. TILLSONBURG, Aug. 17.—Work on the new sidewalk to connect the Agricultural Park with Broadway started today, and will be ready for the old boys' reunion, the last week of this month.

C. Hogg, agent for the Greater Empire Shows, arrived in town from Montreal today, and signed a contract to furnish the midway of fifteen cars for the big celebration.

To accommodate the crowds who wish to see the public wedding and grandstand events, bleachers to seat an extra 3,000 people are being erected immediately south of the grandstand. Work will also start early next week to erect the large dance hall which will be covered with canvas.

Secretary-Treasurer A. E. Raynes and his staff are working hard checking up the large list of entries arriving with every mail, and the poultry and cattle exhibits will surpass anything in the history of local events. Six high-class bands have been engaged for the week.

40,000 MEN WANTED TO HARVEST WESTERN CANADA'S CROPS.

Latest reports from the grain fields of the West indicate a record yield; 40,000 men are wanted from Eastern Canada to help harvest this crop. To meet this demand special harvesters' excursions will be operated by the Canadian National-Grand Trunk.

Through solid trains will be operated to Winnipeg without change, consisting of convertible (berth) colonist cars of latest design. Restaurant cars will be attached to trains, serving meals and lunches at reasonable prices. For fares, train services, etc., apply to nearest Canadian National-Grand Trunk agent.

INSTALLS PUMP TO RAISE GAS PRESSURE AT NOON

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Aug. 17.—Owing to a lack of gas pressure in certain parts of the city during the noon hour Superintendent McIntyre of the light commission has installed a special booster pump at the gas plant.

The pump was recently put into operation as a test, and complaints from the sections of the city affected have ceased. The pump will be maintained in operation.

Piper Plays While Riding On Port Stanley's Roller Coaster.

RIDING in a car on the roller coaster at Port Stanley and playing the bagpipes at the same time may seem a difficult task, but a piper from Toronto, who took in the annual picnic of the Irish Benevolent Society, Thursday, entertained the crowd in this manner while awaiting departure of their train.

He played lustily throughout several trips, and there was no interruption in the music as the car in which the piper rode dipped on its course.

Asked how he enjoyed this original venture, the piper exclaimed: "Mon, it was fine, but it was hard blown while navigating the curves."

LAHIE WIN SURE IN LABELLE ELECTION

Indications Point to Government Having Majority of 600 Votes.

Papineauville, Labelle County, Que., Aug. 16.—Election of Desire Lahie, government candidate in the provincial by-election for Labelle County, by a majority probably in the neighborhood of 600 votes is now accepted as practically certain.

The election follows a short, hard-fought campaign pressed to the limit by each side and regarded as of the first importance to both.

Expensive limousines sent into the heart of the country to bring the voters to the poll. Not one elector was overlooked by either party.

Spotters at the booths were greatly in evidence, and a mild sensation was caused at Buckingham in the afternoon when the chief of police threatened to close one poll following complaint that voting rules were being violated through a number of people being allowed to remain inside the poll without apparently having any other business than a desire to satisfy curiosity.

Income Tax Helps. ALTHOUGH MANY thousands of Londoners pay income taxes annually, few realize what motives were behind the action of the authorities in placing such a levy on citizens.

The ratepayer of the present day in Canada is burdened with income taxation by two separate powers. They are the federal income tax, and that levied by the municipality, and the motives for levying these taxes are vastly different.

Federal income tax was inaugurated as a means of reducing the Canadian debt accruing during the great war. The municipal income tax was put in force to relieve the small property holder in receipt of an income less than the statutory exemption.

Effects of the municipal income tax on the small property holder tend to relieve him of a portion of the taxes on his land and buildings, by deriving necessary revenue from a different source. Municipal taxes are made up of those derived from assessment on land, buildings, business and income.

The striking committee of the city council, in arriving at the tax rate each year, must first be provided with a report of the estimated expenditures for the year, in order to determine the funds necessary to be raised by taxes during that year. For example, if the total assessment for the city is one hundred million dollars, and the expenditure estimate at one million dollars, the tax rate would be 10 mills.

If, of that total assessment there is included twenty-five million dollars of income assessment, this relieves the tax rate on property. Excluding the income assessment in this instance would limit the total assessment to seventy-five million dollars and boost the tax rate to 13.33 mills.

Therefore, in this case, the property owner whose income does not exceed the statutory exemption, is relieved in taxes to the extent of 3.33 mills on his property value, which is made up by citizens earning larger salaries.

From this it may be seen that the small taxpayer, who contributes the backbone of any municipality, is partially protected from the burden of heavy taxes by the income tax, the amount of benefit varying directly to the amount of income assessment in the municipality.

During the past three years the Ontario Legislature has devoted a great deal of time to, and has shown considerable interest in municipal income taxation problems, this being particularly noticeable at the last session. Income tax regulations are now considered more near the acme of perfection, in point of protection of the interests of all involved, than ever in the history of the province as a result.

Very Small.

HERE is a summer editorial from the Toronto Telegram:

"Canada is foolish enough to serve as the victim of Hon. W. L. M. King's premiership. But Canada is not good enough to serve as the scene of Hon. W. L. M. King's summer outing."

"A camp in the Adirondacks is mentioned as the present postoffice address of Canada's premier."

If there is anything smaller or meaner than any paper could say of a public man we have no conception or recollection of it.

Have we not thousands of Americans coming to Canada every summer? Do we not make summer camps to attract them?

We do not know whether PARKER KING is in the Adirondacks or not, and it's none of our business. If he can find a quiet place there to his liking it's entirely his own affair.

The Telegram exists for the purpose of throwing harpoons into Canadians who do not happen to camp in the Telegram's peanut patch.

The Coal Strike.

OPINION is expressed in many quarters that the action taken at the Cleveland conference means the end of the strike of the miners of bituminous coal, and will probably hasten the termination of the strike in the anthracite field. But the settlement is properly to be regarded as a truce rather than an assurance of permanent peace in the coal mining industry. To be sure, there is welcome provision in the agreement for the creation of a committee of inquiry whose personnel shall be acceptable to the president of the United States, this committee being charged with the duty of reporting upon the state of the industry for the benefit of the public, the operators and the mine workers; and conferences within the industry are provided for with a view to facilitating the negotiation of an agreement covering wages and working conditions to become effective next April.

But JOHN L. LEWIS, president of the mine workers, declares that all this does not "barter away the rights of the workers by commitment to arbitration." In other words, the new machinery for the settlement of differences, while it may diminish the likelihood of another strike in the near future, carries no assurance that there will not be one.

For all that, the miners in making the truce have abandoned some of their chief contentions. They were loudly insistent upon a national agreement. Their emissaries are now scurrying over the country making local agreements. There was the attempt to use the Central Competitive Field conference in laying down the terms of the national agreement. That attempt was abandoned at Cleveland. In the language of the president of one of the largest producing companies to sign the new agreement, "the Central Competitive Field conference to which we attribute most of our past difficulties, was definitely broken up and abandoned, and the meetings were thrown open to operators and miners from every district in the United States."

The truce is not one that will lower coal prices. Until next April the miners are to have the pay they were receiving up to the time of the strike. Other provisions of the old agreement, including the miserable "check-off" system, under which the operators collect the dues for the union, are also continued. The spectre of a coal famine recedes, but the heavy charges for this basic necessity of life will not be abated, through the winter at least.

Still there is room for hope that the truce is the forerunner of more stable conditions within the industry than have existed in the past. It is the consensus of opinion that there is need of reform. A commission of investigation, composed of men of character and ability, may point the way to remedial measures that will mean much to the country. And it may so inform public opinion that it will be a more effective force in the event of future trouble than it has been during the present strike.

By cracking the coal strike in a few days the public will hope that the Cleveland conference has heralded the early breaking up of the strike wherever it is in force.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—NAIVE.

It's pronounced—nah-eev, and in the original French, from which language it was borrowed, should be without accent, though in English the second syllable is emphasized.

It means—unaffectedly simple, unsophisticated, artless.

It comes from—French, "naive" or "naif," whence, in turn, it is from Latin, "nativus," meaning "innate, natural, native."

It's used like this—"Experienced politicians express considerable amusement at the seeming naive belief of the interests which hope to profit from a high protective tariff that their motives are wholly altruistic, while all who oppose them are selfishly actuated."

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 299—FOURTH ANALYSIS.

Here is a description of a specimen of handwriting, sufficiently complete for the purpose. Try your hand at analyzing it and telling something of the character of the person who wrote it.

The writing is not of the "artistic" sort. It is not a good-looking hand, though the letters are well formed and legible. Entire words apparently have been written without lifting the pen from the paper, and in many instances the final stroke of one word has become the initial stroke of the next. The letters are vertical and well spaced, rounded in form. The writer bears round lightly on his pen. The letters are small and the capital are plainly made. Those toward the end of a word are larger than those at the beginning.

Would you say that this was the writing of a man or a woman, and what would you make of the writer's character?

The chances are greatly in favor of a man being the writer of such a hand, though it would not be unheard of for a woman to write it.

The inartistic writing indicates a straightforward nature, and the connected letters, the quality of connected, logical thought, while the increasing size of the letters shows conscientiousness. Vertical writing indicates that in all probability the writer has good judgment, particularly in view of his habits of logical thought. The rounded hand indicates here, we should say, calmness and kindness; the fine writing, the plain capitals, modesty. A degree of intellectuality is shown by the small writing.

RELIEVED ANXIETY.

Six-year-old Dora returned unusually early from school the other day. She rang the doorbell. There was no answer. She rang again, a little longer. Still there was no response. A third time she pressed the button, long and hard. Nobody came to the door, and she pressed her nose against the window pane and in a shrill voice which caught the ears of every neighbor, called:

"It's all right, mamma. I'm not the installment man."

HOLY ORDERS FOR WOMEN PLANNED

Episcopal Church To Discuss Proposal At Convention in Portland, Ore.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(By Canadian Press.)—Holy orders for women will be put before the coming convention of the Episcopal Church in Portland, Ore., according to reports published here. It has been felt for some time that the order of deaconesses was not clearly enough defined from the sisterhoods, and a commission was named at the general convention in 1915 to present a report to the convention.

"Minor orders" only are contemplated, and the report makes this clear in the proviso that nothing in the proposed canon shall be taken "as favoring the opening of the priesthood to women, but instead, to provide an order similar to the primitive order of deaconesses as found in the Epistles of St. Paul and the Acts of the Holy Apostles."

It is expected that this report will create more furor than a similar one passed at the Pan-American conference in London in 1920. The fear is expressed that the canon will mean the opening wedge to the priesthood for women.

By the proposed canon, a woman will undergo the same examination and be subject to the same conditions set for men looking to deacons orders. She must be certified by twelve persons in good standing in the diocese before even being accepted as a postulant, and her papers must be passed upon by the standing committee of the diocese prior to her acceptance by the bishop. The canons also set the literary attainments she must have.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

Passing of the Corn

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP. ORNS are not as popular as they were, because people are learning wisdom in the selection of shoes—they have found by experience that it is better to fit the shoes to the feet than the feet to the shoes.

Still, despite waning popularity, the corn crop is larger than you would suspect. There are still people who ignore the fact that corns are warning signs that the feet are being ill-treated. Either tight shoes, which may in time deform the bones of the feet, or loose shoes that permit the feet to chafe, will result in corns.

Loose, ill-fitting shoes cause nearly as many corns as shoes that are too tight. The pressure of badly-fitting shoes or the chafing of the toes against the leather when walking, creates a hard layer of skin at the point of irritation. In time this becomes a cone-shaped mass, the apex of the cone pressing inward upon the sensitive tissue beneath. Broad-toed shoes, though not necessarily square-toed, usually will remove the pressure if the corn is on a toe.

To remove a corn, first soften it by soaking the feet in very hot water for twenty minutes, then dry and apply the simple corn cure—five grains of salicylic acid dissolved in half an ounce of flexible collodion, painted on the corn only. This softens the corn that it may be picked off. If it is necessary, the treatment should be repeated daily.

Then see that there is no pressure on the spot that will bring it back. A corn or callous should never be cut without first washing the hands thoroughly, boiling or thoroughly washing the razor with hot, soapy water and alcohol, and painting the skin over and all about the corn area with tincture of iodine.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

AUGUST 18, 1897. Mr. S. J. Radcliffe, B.A., English master in the London Collegiate Institute, and Mrs. Radcliffe returned to Stratford a few days ago from a tour of six weeks through California and Mexico.

The Seventh Fusiliers Band will play in Victoria Park, weather permitting, Thursday evening, under the direction of Mr. Roselle Pooecko.

The firemen had a run last night to Nash's carriage shops on York and Talbot streets. Smoke was seen issuing from the factory chimney, and an alarm sent in. It was nothing more serious, however, than a fire in the varnish room, where employees were working overtime.

Master E. Hyman and Miss Adie Hyman have been the guests of Mrs. George Elliot during the past week. The trouble between J. A. Robinson and the cottagers on Orchard Beach is not settled yet. There was a meeting on Saturday night at E. R. Hunt's to argue the matter. Mr. Robinson offered to accept $300 for the right of way along the beach, for all time to come. The people do not feel disposed to accept this, and so the matter stands till the courts decide it.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McArthur, the young Stratford couple who were united in the bonds of matrimony last Tuesday afternoon, returned home from their honeymoon trip on Saturday evening.

Buffalo Surgeon To Question Father in Hope of Ascribing Motive.

Special to London Advertiser.

STRATFORD, Aug. 17.—Relatives went to Buffalo shortly after noon today to claim the body of Irene Purcell, aged 18, of Stratford, which was found floating yesterday morning in Niagara River near Grand Island ferry dock.

Identification was made last night by Fred C. Du Perrnell of 79 Ross avenue, Buffalo, at whose home the girl was staying. Du Perrnell informed police the girl had been acting queerly of late, but that he did not know what caused her strange actions.

Medical Examiner Long said today that he would question the girl's father in hope that he may ascribe some motive for her actions. Dr. Long said he had not learned whether she left any notes or anything else explaining her act.

Du Perrnell said he saw the girl at 7 o'clock yesterday morning when he started for work. Her body was discovered in the river at least three miles away about an hour later.

Two men who were dynamiting for fish found the body, which had been in the water only a few minutes. The blast brought it to the surface. Dr. Long stated that he believed no autopsy necessary, as there was no indication that the girl had met with foul play.

SEND LETTERS TO SHOW SYMPATHY

Mrs. Walter A. Wilson and Daughter Receive Letters of Condolence.

LUCKNOW, Aug. 17.—The following expressions of sympathy were forwarded to Mrs. W. A. Wilson and daughter after the death of Walter A. Wilson, a highly respected resident of this community, who passed away on July 15 last:

Dungannon, Aug. 5, 1922.
Dear Mrs. W. A. Wilson and Daughter—

At the meeting of the board of directors of our company, the first meeting since the death of your dear husband and father, I was instructed by a motion by Messrs. Thompson and Girvin to try to convey to you an expression of the sincere and unanimous regret of the several members of the board at the loss sustained by you; a loss which never in this life can be recompensed, and the board in particular wished you to know that the loss to the community is an exceedingly great loss, for the late Walter A. Wilson proved himself the best of men in every respect; as a neighbor and as a public official in several capacities. The board has pleasure in assuring you that his work as auditor for the company was in every way most satisfactory, everyone recognizing his strict adherence to conscience and his ability to secure a worthy successor.

In conclusion, please accept the sympathy of the board, the dear individual, and I should like to add that personally I have lost a trusty friend, and I very much regret that we shall meet no more on earth.

On behalf of the directors and officers. Sincerely yours in sorrow,
THOMAS G. ALDRIN,
Secretary.

West Wawanosh, Auburn, July 16, 1922.
To Mrs. W. A. Wilson and daughter—

Dear Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Keely, we the members of the municipal council of the corporation of the township of West Wawanosh, have met today in session, and a deep sorrow and gloom rests upon us which words cannot express. A vacant chair is the sad reminder that one we loved and respected has passed away. Your husband and father and our friend and associate will not meet with us again.

During his long term in connection with the council, filling the positions of trust that we entrusted to him for 30 odd years with efficiency and fairness as to merit the approval of the council and the ratepayers, having filled the office of clerk for nearly ten years. As friend, as citizen and as officer he was highly esteemed and respected. The municipality has suffered a great loss.

And to you, his loved ones, these words of sympathy will come far short of what we feel. The prayer of the council is that He whom he loved and served will be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless in this sad hour of your great sorrow.

Signed on behalf of the council,
B. S. NAYLOR, Reeve.
WM. J. THOMPSON, Treasurer.

BURY KITCHENER BOYS DROWNED AT BRESLAU

Mourners of Little Playmates Follow Two Hearses in One Cortage to Cemetery.

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Aug. 17.—Solemn and impressive were the services in connection with the funeral of Franklin Bossenberry and Laverne Snider, the two boys drowned at the Breslau dam on Monday afternoon.

The services were in the nature of a double funeral. The cortege headed by two hearses proceeded from the residence to Zion Evangelical Church, where an impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. J. P. Jones. Interment was made at Mount Hope Cemetery.

MARKS ARRIVAL OF LONG SKIRTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Boys, the show's over. The curtain went down with a bang today.

Realization that the street corner burlesque show is over will dawn upon the admirers of femininity when milady steps out on parade this fall.

Suits, warm and trim, with high fur collars buttoned to the nose and skirts extending past the ankles have come back.

Buyers from all over the country were carting them away by the thousands from the Merchandise Fair here today.

Beautiful manikins came near swooning and wax models almost melted under the weight of the fall and winter styles at the fair.

However, all hope should not be abandoned by the boys. Some skirts have an inch and a half split on the side.

FARM LABORERS.

It is estimated that to harvest this year's bumper crops in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta it will require more men than in previous years.

Why Does She Choose Fur and Flannel To Wear Torrid Days? Says Mere Man

"How do they stand it?" exclaimed the perspiring man, who had found it necessary even to remove the coat of his Palm Beach suit on sultry Thursday afternoon. His gaze was fixed in a panicky way on the girl approaching, cool as a cucumber, apparently, in her flaming scarlet tuxedo coat of flannel, cream flannel skirt and white felt hat with vivid dash of scarlet.

Along from the station came new arrivals from a train, amongst these a young woman carrying a smart leather bag. She was smartness personified from the top of her bronze feather hat to the tip of her fashionably cut pumps. In between was a dark brown, heavy, smooth-finished cloth gown, gracefully cut, with long side panels, falling two or three inches below the hem of the skirt, which only cleared the ground by six or seven inches. The only revealing touch to the study in brown was the broad band of gray squirrel which edged the bateau neck. And she didn't look hot at all.

Two business women hurried back from lunch. One was snugly buttoned into a homespun tailored coat costume in which gray was the predominating note, with felt hat to match. Her companion had chosen, for the torrid occasion, a black and white jersey cloth and black velvet hat.

Miss "Just Nineteen," who has any number of pretty summery frocks and fetching hats, just couldn't be seen in these. The only wear for her was the vastly becoming new outfit of tweed, annexed within the past few days, in which she will still be appearing when the snow flies, and long afterwards for that matter.

"They didn't do such things when I was young," said the perspiring man. "They had a proper regard for the weather, and, if they wore winter hats in summer you pitied them for not being able to afford suitable clothes."

THINKS LONDON MUCH IMPROVED

After a visit of some weeks in London, his home city, Professor Frederick Abbott of San Antonio, Texas, will be a guest in the home of his cousin, Mr. William F. Eaton.

What have been his impressions of London after an absence of several years?

"I was struck immediately with the increased appearance of stability and evidences on all sides of progressiveness," he said to The Advertiser. "London is exceptionally well supplied with banks, and these are always a sure indication of the estimation in which a city is held by financial institutions. The business blocks have changed for the better and are modern, efficient and space with the times.

"So far as educational matters are concerned, in which I am perhaps particularly interested, the development of the Western University has been a matter of great pride to former Londoners who are living in the southwest in the States, and, in fact, all through the States. We get together occasionally in San Antonio, and talk over the old town, and exchange the latest news. By the way, one of our very successful and wealthy men in San Antonio is a London old boy, Dr. F. Thompson, who sold an oil well recently for over a million dollars."

And this brought the conversation around to the Texas oil boom and Canadians who have "struck oil." According to Professor Abbott, reports of geologists are most encouraging, and former Canadians living down there are getting their share of oil.

"Whoever I go," commented Professor Abbott, "I find ex-Londoners and former Canadians recognized as substantial citizens. I can't think of one I have run across who was 'on the rocks,' so to speak."

TELL YOUR LOVE WITH ONE ROSE

Expresses More Sentiment Than Whole Basketful

"SAY IT WITH FLOWERS" is good advice, but of still greater importance is to choose the right flowers to fit the occasion, according to Miss Irene Hayes, a charming Kansas City girl, who owns her own successful florist shop in an exclusive section of the city. In other words, the "flapper age" in the world's history is recognizing the desirability of a revival of the "sentimental" Victorian era language of flowers.

TAYLOR CLAN GATHERS AT SPRINGBANK PARK

Eighty-Five Attended First Annual Reunion, Devoted to Getting Acquainted.

Following the fashion of clan gatherings, which has become very popular this summer, a Taylor family reunion was held this week at Springbank, descendants of four brothers named Taylor, who came to Ontario from Norfolk, England, a number of years ago, gathering from far and near for the event. Eighty-five or more in all assembled shortly after 11 o'clock at the rendezvous, in a shady nook not far from the loop.

Since the reunion was the first for the family connection, many introductions were in order among the relatives, and the day was spent in getting acquainted, with picnic dinner and tea as pleasant features.

The idea of the outing originated with Mrs. Chester Gloin of Yarmouth Centre, and the large response proved a happy surprise of the day. Guests were present from Saskatchewan, Saginaw (Mich.), Sarnia, Watford, Toronto, Exeter, St. Thomas, Windsor, Appin, the majority coming by motor. Mrs. A. G. Pearson, 27 Belgrave Place, South London, a daughter of the first brother to come to Canada, the late John Taylor, Esq., who settled in Huron County, had an important part in organizing the event. With her at the picnic party were her husband, two daughters, Mrs. George Bonney and Miss Pearson, and little grand-daughter, Dorothy Bonney. In addition to descendants of Mr. John Taylor, children and grandchildren of his brothers, William, Robert and James, attended to establish relations with kith and kin.

Francis, London, at 4 o'clock Wednesday, Aug. 16, the ceremony was performed at a pretty home of the bride's parents by Rev. W. S. Galbraith of St. Andrew's Church, in the presence of about 45 near relatives. The bride looked very girlish in a dainty frock of white silk crepe. Following the ceremony and congratulations a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Francis left on a motor trip to New York City. (Continued From Our Last Issue)
"Come with us," Bill said casually, as he struck a match. He pulled vigorously at the flame as he waited for the answer, hoping to hide his anxiety, for if Cayley assented, he was done.

"I've got to go into Stanton," Bill blew out a great cloud of smoke with an expiration which covered also a heartfelt sigh of relief.
"Oh, a pity. You're driving, I suppose."
"Yes. The car will be here directly. There's a letter I must write first." He sat down at a writing table, and took out a sheet of note-paper.

He was facing the secret door; if it opened he would see it. At any moment now it might open.
Bill dropped into a chair and thought. Antony must be warned. Obviously, but how? How did one signal to anybody? By code. Morse code. Did Antony know it? Did Bill know it himself, if it came to that? He had picked up a bit in the Army—not enough to send a message, of course. But a message was impossible, anyhow; Cayley would hear him tapping it out. It wouldn't do to send more than a single letter. What letters did he know? And what letter would convey anything to Antony?

C for Cayley. Would Antony understand? Probably not, but it was just worth trying. What was C? Long, short, long short. Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy. Was that right? C—yes, that was C. He was sure of that. C. Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy. Hands in pockets, he got up and wandered across the room, humming vaguely to himself, the picture of a man waiting for another man (as it might be his friend Gillingham) to come in and take him away for a walk or something. He wandered across to the books at the back of Cayley, and began to tap absent-mindedly at the titles. Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy. Not that it was much like that at first; he couldn't get the rhythm of it. . . .
Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy. That was better. He was back at Samuel Taylor Coleridge now. Antony would begin to hear him soon. Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy; just the aimless tapping of a man who is wondering what book he will take out with him to read on the lawn. Would Antony hear? One always heard the man in the next flat knocking out his pipe. Would Antony understand? Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy. C for Cayley. Antony. Cayley's here. For God's sake, wait.

"Good Lord! Sermons!" said Bill, with a loud laugh. (Umpty-iddy-umpty-iddy) "Ever read 'em, Cayley?"
"What?" Cayley looked up suddenly. Bill's back moved slowly along, his fingers beating a tattoo on the shelves as he walked.
"Er—no," said Cayley, with a little laugh. An awkward, uncomfortable little laugh, it seemed to Bill.
"Nor do I!" He was past the sermons now—past the secret door—but still tapping in the same aimless way.

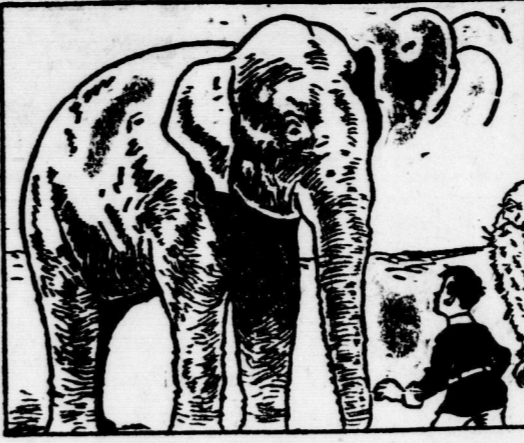

"Oh, for God's sake sit down," burst out Cayley. "Or go outside if you want to walk round."
Bill turned round in astonishment. "Hallo, what's the matter?"
Cayley was slightly ashamed of his outburst.
"Sorry, Bill," he apologized. "My nerves are on edge. Your constant tapping and fidgeting about—"
"Tapping?" said Bill with an air of complete surprise.
"Tapping on the shelves, and humming. Sorry. It got on my nerves."
"My dear old chap, I'm awfully sorry. I'll go out in the hall."
"It's all right," said Cayley, and went on with his letter.

Bill sat down in his chair again. Had Antony understood? Well, anyhow, there was nothing to do now but wait for Cayley to go. "And if you ask me," said Bill to himself, much pleased, "I ought to be on the stage. That's where I ought to be. The complete actor."
A minute, two minutes, three minutes. . . . five minutes. It was safe now. Antony had guessed.
"Is the car there?" asked Cayley, as he sealed up his letter.
Bill strolled into the hall, called back "Yes," and went out to talk to the chauffeur. Cayley joined him, and they stood there for a moment. "Hallo," said a pleasant voice behind them. They turned round and saw Antony.
"Sorry to keep you waiting, Bill."

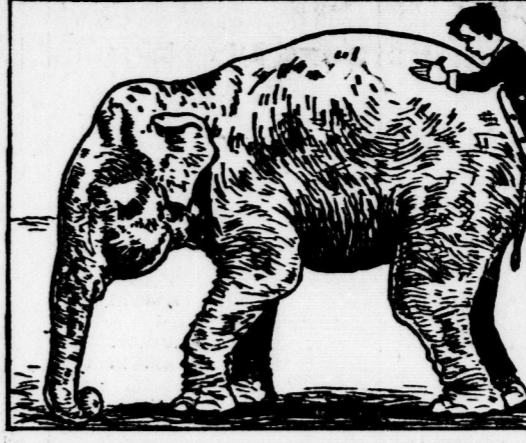

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

TRUE TO HIS WORD THE ANTIQUARY OLD MAN, ROSE EMBRY, THE NEXT MORNING AND PREPARED TO SUPPLY ONE OF THE HUGE ELEPHANTS THAT LIVED NEAR HIS CABAL. JACK WATCHED HER WITH MUCH INTEREST.

A FEW CLIPS OF THE HURRY AND JACK WAS SURPRISED TO SEE THE ELEPHANT APPROACH. "MY, BUT HE'S A BIG FELLOW," SAID JACK, "BUT HE'S VERY TAME." REPLIED THE OLD MAN.

JACK PREPARED TO LEAVE THE OLD FELLOW, AND CALLED TO FLIP WHO HAD BEEN PLAYING WITH A PET BEAR. A LADDER WAS PLACED AGAINST THE ELEPHANT. JACK AND JACK CLIMBED UP.

ALMOST IMMEDIATELY THE BIG LUMBERING ANIMAL STARTED AWAY. TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF, SHOUTED THE OLD MAN, AND ONCE MORE JACK WAS AWAY ON HIS TREASURE HUNT CONTINUED IN THE NEXT CHAPTER.

With a tremendous effort Bill restrained his feelings, and said casually enough that it was all right.
"Well, I must be off," said Cayley. "You're going down to the village?"
"That's the idea."
"I wonder if you'd take this letter to Jallands for me?"
"Of course."
"Thanks very much. Well, I shall see you later."
He nodded and got into the car. As soon as they were alone Bill turned eagerly to his friend.
"Well?" he said excitedly. "Come into the library."
They went in, and Tony sank down into a chair.
"You must give me a moment," he panted. "I've been running."
"Running?"
"Well, of course. How do you think I got back here?"
"You don't mean you went out at the other end?"
Antony nodded.
"I say, did you hear me tapping?"
"I did, indeed. Bill, you're a genius."
Bill blushed.
"I knew you'd understand," he said. "You guessed that I meant Cayley?"
"I did. It was the least I could do after you had been so brilliant. You must have had rather an exciting time."
"Exciting? Good lord, I should think it was."
"Tell me about it."
As modestly as possible, Mr. Beverley explained his qualifications for a life on the stage.
"Good man," said Antony at the end of it. "You are the most perfect Watson that ever lived. Bill, my lad," he went on dramatically, rising and taking Bill's hand in his, "there is nothing that you and I could not accomplish together, if we gave our minds to it."
"Silly old ass."
"That's what you always say when I'm being serious. Well, anyway, thanks awfully. You really saved us this time."
"Were you coming back?"
"Yes. At least I think I was. I was just wondering when I heard you tapping. The fact of the door being shut was rather surprising. Of course, the whole idea was to see if it could be opened easily from the other side, but I felt somehow that you wouldn't shut it until the last possible moment—until you saw me coming back. Well, then I heard the taps, and I knew it must mean something, so I sat tight. Then when C began to come along I said, 'Cayley, I love—bright, aren't I?—and I simply hared to the other end of the passage for all I was worth.' And hared back again. Because I thought you might be getting rather involved in explanations—about where I was, and so on."

"You didn't see Mark, then?"
"No. Nor his— No, I didn't see anything."
"Nor what?"
Antony was silent for a moment.
"I didn't see anything, Bill. Or rather, I did see something; I saw a door in the wall, a cupboard. And it's locked. So if there's anything we want to find, that's where it is."
"Could Mark be hiding there?"
"I called through the keyhole—in a whisper—'Mark, are you there?'—and he would have thought it was Cayley. There was no answer."
"Well, let's go down and try again. We might be able to get the door open."
Antony shook his head.
"Well, look here, as we said we were going into the village, and as we promised to leave that letter, I almost think we'd better do it."
"Oh! . . . Oh, very well."
"Hallo. What were you telling me about that? Oh, yes; the Widow Norbury."
CHAPTER XV
THEY left the road, and took the path across the fields which sloped gently downward toward Jallands. Antony was silent, and since it is difficult to keep up a conversation with a silent man for any length of time, Bill had dropped into silence too. Or rather, he hummed to himself, hit at thistles in the grass with his stick and made uncomfortable noises with his pipe.
"What about tonight?" he said finally after a lengthy blow at his pipe.
"Try a piece of grass," said Antony, offering it to him.

Radio Radiations

BY THE RADIO EDITOR.
COUNTLESS persons have talked over a "radio" telephone without knowing it. It's going on every day. As many as half a dozen may talk at the same time between two cities by "radio."
To obviate the necessity for increased wire lines as the demands on their service increased, the American Telegraph and Telephone Company has been using "radio" waves with great success for long-distance telephone connections.
The waves, generated by a miniature generating plant, are guided to their destination some hundreds of miles away by a pair of copper wires which may be carrying one, and perhaps two, conversations. As many as five "radio" messages may be thrown upon the wires without interference.
Wired Wireless.
This method was the first commercial practicable application of the "wired wireless," of which we have heard so much. Its continued use should help hold down the rapidly climbing telephone rates. In the past, when increased business had overloaded existing channels, the operating companies have had to erect new lines of poles and string upon them thousands of miles of wire.
Given "wired wireless," as applied to land line telephony, it is only necessary to provide at each end a miniature generator of radio waves and a receiver suitable for "translating" those radio waves into sound waves.
With this method in use, existing circuits will be able to take care of the growth in volume of traffic for a long time.
No Loss.
Strange as it may seem, the quality and clarity of the voice as it is carried across the continent in this way, is far superior to that one carried by the old-type system. The three-element vacuum tube that marvelous device used so much in radio work—is called in to act as the miniature generator of radio waves. It is also used as a detector of the waves coming from the distant place. At intervals of 400 to 500 miles are repeaters which utilize this same vacuum tube.
Prior to the invention of the vacuum tube, which is primarily a radio contribution, it was possible to telephone only as far as Denver from New York.
The application of the vacuum tube to telephone line work makes transcontinental telephony possible. The voice of the man on the Atlantic coast now reaches his friend in San Francisco with the same distinctiveness as though they were talking across the street.

Fur Coats Are Within Purse's Reach Now

TWO ELABORATE FUR WRAPS. THE ONE AT THE LEFT IS OF MINK AND THE OTHER IS OF BLACK PERSIAN LAMB BANNED WITH KOLINSKY.

BY MARIAN HALE.
ONE can look forward to a coal shortage with greater equanimity when one remembers that there can be no possibility of a fur shortage. Judging by the number of fur coats in the shops, flaunting their summer prices, there must be at least one for every woman and child in the country.
Prices are fixed on a more sliding scale than ever before—that is, they have slid further down into the grasp of the average wallet.
Never was there such variety as to style. Last season one had to wear a wrap, no matter what type of fur was used or what the general construction plan of the wearer happened to be.

This season there are three distinct types of coat, the snoot sports model, the regulation length coat with Nippon sleeves and a belt, and the cape and elaborate wraps.
THE flapper will fall hard for the sports model. In length it varies from 32 to 40 inches. Civet cat, natural muskrat, raccoon, caracul, Persian lamb, Hudson seal and squirrel are furs most frequently employed.
In price, these garments vary from $100 to $500, though the average price is between $100 and $200.
The sports coat has a dash and youthfulness lacking in most fur coats. It is ideal for the slim girl, but Miss Avoldupois, unless she has no feeling against the barrel silhouette, would better take unto herself one of the longer, straight models.
These are conservative in cut and may be had straight or flaring about the hem. Usually they have collars of contrasting fur and a long silk cord for a belt.
For these dealers tell us, Hudson seal is most to be recommended for its wearing qualities and for its general adaptability. It may be worn everywhere the sports model could be worn and besides is ideal for wear with afternoon and dinner frocks.
BLACK and gray caracul have stepped to the front for this type of coat, and so have the soft gray squirrel and the subtle molekin, still beloved in spite of its reputation for non-wearing qualities.
These coats usually cost a little more than the sports model. Three hundred dollars is the average price. Having thrown utility to the winds and decided to purchase an elaborate cape wrap, there is no end to the selection or the combinations of fur that may be used.
From the plainer ones of Hudson seal, squirrel or mole, one passes to the elaborately matched ones of mink, sable and ermine and the prices pass into four figures.
But one can't help wondering if there is a fur-bearing animal roaming at large that has escaped the trapper.

Loose, Flowing Sleeve Passe This Season

SLEEVES remain highly important in the architecture of a dress. Here are some of the fashionable new ones.
You'll notice that they are not so loose and flowing as they were last season. There is more and more a tendency to confine their width with a cuff. Many of the newest frocks show the long tight sleeve again. Half-and-half sleeves are very variable.

Every Home Needs A "Keepsweet" Herd

IT is hard to judge how much milk and cream you can buy from the milkman every day. Sometimes you buy too much and it spoils before you can use it up. Other days you run short of milk or cream just when you need it most. You can avoid all this costly waste of milk and cream—all the annoyance of running short—by buying your milk and cream from the grocer or fruit store in Keepsweet cans instead of from the milkman in bottles.

You can buy a whole week's or month's supply at a time. You can have a Keepsweet Herd on the pantry shelf ready at all times to supply you with rich, thick cream or pure, undiluted milk. Just open a can as you need it. Keepsweet Milk and Cream will keep sweet, fresh and pure in the unopened cans without ice or care or trouble. It's the wonderful Keepsweet process that does it. By this process Keepsweet Milk and Cream are sterilized in a way that retains their purity, freshness and quality without condensing, evaporating, powdering or medicating—without giving that strong, cooked taste. Nothing is added and nothing is taken away by the marvelous Keepsweet process. The food value of the milk and cream remains the same. Open a can of Keepsweet Cream. Notice how rich and thick it is. It's not a thin, half-cream. It's more like the famous English Devonshire Cream. Taste it. You'll find Keepsweet delicious. Just the very cream you've wanted for your coffee, puddings and desserts.

DRURY REFUSES TO ALLOW ANY INTERFERENCE

Declares Progressive Party Should Stand Separate From U. F. O.

CHEERED AT AILSA CRAIG Claims He Will Not Be Dominated in Course He Chooses.

Ailsa Craig, Aug. 17.—As leader of the political farmer movement, and premier of the Province of Ontario, the Hon. E. C. Drury, refused, pointed blank, to be dominated by those who are burdened with lesser responsibilities. In his concluding remarks of a characteristic aggressive address at the first annual North Middlesex U. F. O. picnic at Stuart's Grove this afternoon, the premier made it quite plain that he did not propose to countenance for a moment anything that would tend to hamper his so-called "broadening-out" policy. While Premier Drury did not, as at Grand Bend yesterday, once mention the name of J. J. Morrison, secretary of the provincial U. F. O., there were none among the two thousand or more gathered electors of this riding who failed to catch the true significance of his remarks, cheering him with undoubted fervor. As a matter of fact the veteran secretary's name was mentioned but once from the platform during the entire proceedings, and then briefly by J. W. Lethbridge, M. L. A. for West Middlesex, who lauded him as his efficient successor to his present post of secretary.

Accompanies Premier. Accompanying the premier, in addition to the several district members of the Ontario Legislature, all more or less well known throughout the province, and who also spoke at considerable length, was the Hon. Frank C. Biggs, minister of public works in the Drury cabinet.

Harold Currie, whose fame throughout his own and adjoining constituencies, as a U. F. O. enthusiast of several years standing, is the direct sequence of years of endeavor, presided, and contrary to the expectations as voiced in a certain quarter, no controversy was precipitated with the minister of highways.

A year ago in the town hall of Ailsa Craig a special meeting of the U. F. O. followers of this riding was staged, to which were invited among others, the Hon. Frank Biggs. It is now a matter of record that the latter did not appear and many and varied were the comments that emanated upon that memorable occasion.

Makes First Appearance. At his first appearance in this riding on a public platform this afternoon, the head of the highways department felt it incumbent upon himself to refer to the issue briefly: "I have no apology to make." He stated: "The premier will also touch upon this matter."

The premier's remarks were equally brief. There was a rumor that Mr. Biggs was afraid to come here," he asserted. "That is not true. I needed him that day for something that was far more important than his attendance in Ailsa Craig. In any

Three Kitchener Motorists Badly Cut When Car Runs Into Wire Fence

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Aug. 17.—C. F. Schmidt, Charles Knechtel and Frank Hillier, all of this city, were seriously injured in a peculiar automobile accident today near Breslau. They had gone on a fishing trip and turned into a lane leading to the river. The lane had a sharp curve in it and in making the curve they did not notice barbed wire which was stretched across the lane. The car crashed into the wire, stretching it until it snapped.

The recall caught the three men, inflicting severe lacerations. Schmidt had the side of his face torn open from his mouth to his ear. Knechtel received a serious laceration across the abdomen, and Hillier received severe cuts on the neck and face. Some of their clothing was torn to shreds by the wire. Their injuries were attended to by Dr. Hagmeier.

event, Mr. Biggs is always ready to discuss his good roads policy."

On the platform supporting the leader of the Ontario farmers and his minister of public works were such well-known legislators as J. D. Brown, M. L. A. for North Middlesex; J. W. Freeborn, M. L. A. for East Middlesex; W. J. Lethbridge, M. L. A. for West Middlesex; Peter G. Cameron, M. L. A. for West Elgin; D. Drummond, M. P. for West Middlesex; and Archie L. Hodgins, M. P. for East Middlesex. All spoke briefly, characterizing their premier as the real power in the Ontario government, and indicating in no unambiguous manner to stand squarely behind him in his "broadening out" policy so recently enunciated.

Supports Two Bodies. "Shall we have a pair of Siamese twins," questioned Premier Drury, referring to the relationship of the U. F. O. movement to the present political party, "or shall we have two separate, healthy, robust, and friendly organizations? I have seen the former in a side-show. They were neither healthy or normal. If one sonally I favor without hesitation the two separate units."

"Each stands upon its own record—its own foundation, each resting or falling upon its own merits. However, I have been charged with the political leadership of the farmer movement. I feel that I must take my own course. I cannot be dominated or tied by those who have less responsibility than I have. "I'll admit that this movement started as a class movement. But it has outgrown that stage. We have been striving to overcome the hindered and one inefficiencies of the old-line parties. We have achieved certain success. Appeal To All. "A year from today, however, I venture to say that the people of this province will say that my policy as outlined, that we appeal to all who think as we do, whether they live in towns or in the rural districts, irrespective of occupation or creed, to come in with us, is the correct stand. "I am interested in the ultimate success of the political movement, but I contend that we cannot carry on as a class movement alone. Powerful as the farmers are they are not sufficient in numbers to maintain a government always. Therefore on our record I have appealed to those of all classes to come in and support us. Denouncing group government as impracticable, the premier held that what was most required at this time is not class consciousness, but citizen consciousness. He stated that he did not desire that the country or the Legislature should be divided into sections, but that the house would contain those who will think and act in the terms of the great bulk of the people. Denies Break. "There is no break in the U. F. O. ranks," he declared decisively. "I feel that there is considerable misunderstanding upon this point. It is said that I have committed the heinous crime of opposing the grand old man of the party. Like the bad boy, they say that I am, taking the reins in my own hands, or as my old friend the Globe remarks 'I am dropping my pilot. "I know something myself about farming. I worked for the movement in the dark early days. I expect to share in the work of the future. The farmer movement in this country has a great future, but I do not believe that a farmers' organization can or ought to carry on a government. While treating humorously the new temperance platform of the Conservative party as credited to the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the premier declared in all seriousness: "So far as I am concerned and my government, there will be no change in the Ontario temperance act. I believe in this act with all my heart. I stand for a full and fair enforcement until such the Globe remarks 'I am dropping my pilot. "I know something myself about farming. I worked for the movement in the dark early days. I expect to share in the work of the future. The farmer movement in this country has a great future, but I do not believe that a farmers' organization can or ought to carry on a government. While treating humorously the new temperance platform of the Conservative party as credited to the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the premier declared in all seriousness: "So far as I am concerned and my government, there will be no change in the Ontario temperance act. I believe in this act with all my heart. I stand for a full and fair enforcement until such the

FEAR ATTEMPT TO FREE WILSON

Los Angeles Authorities Post Armed Guards At Former Londoner's Trial.

Claim Discovery of Plot To Rescue Prisoner From Courtroom.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—Fearing an attempt to rescue Herbert Wilson, alleged desperado and ex-panster, from Judge J. Perry Wood's courtroom, where he is now on trial for the murder of Herbert Cox, Criminal Superintendent Al C. Manning of the sheriff's office today posted in the courtroom several armed guards.

Together with the federal authorities, who first arrested Wilson on a charge of holding up and robbing a United States mail truck of $1,500, Manning today claimed to have discovered the nucleus of a plot, by means of which Wilson's alleged confederates were expected to attempt to liberate him.

Manning concedes that such is extremely probable, because two previous attempts, including an attempt to break from the county jail, already have been made. He declared that the leader of the bandit gang who intends to aid Wilson is his brother, Louis Wilson, now a fugitive from justice.

Claim Gang Has Funds. This gang, it is said, now has at its disposal everything necessary for an organized attempt to free Wilson. Manning asserts that in addition to the loot from the mail robbery there is available approximately $200,000 in additional gains from the robberies of the Hale Bros. stores in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland, and the Fifth street store here.

Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and Modie are therefore today in command of a squad of armed guards interspersed among the spectators in the courtroom. Wilson sits next to his attorney, Paul Schenck, and behind him are two guards.

Helen Gillespie, the woman who was for a short time detained as a suspect in aiding a recent attempted escape from jail, and who is Wilson's financial manager in matters concerning an apartment house which he owns here, occupies a front seat in the courtroom. There are now in the jury box nine prospective jurors who are being finally questioned by Deputy District Attorneys W. J. Clarke and Burton Fitts.

Sensations Expected. Cox was one of three men, the other being Eddie O'Brien, who were arrested by federal officers for the $1,500,000 Alameda street mail robbery. Wilson, an ex-minister, was declared to have been the leader of the gang.

While confined in the county jail the three attempted an escape which was blocked by Sheriff Traeger. Cox being shot in the attempt.

Jurymen and women are being picked by Clark and Fitts with the finite care. It is expected that the trial will be replete with sensations, including details of the attempted escape and the means by which it was thwarted.

It was believed that Cox had "tipped off" the attempt to escape. Scarcely had Wilson retreated from the menacing rifles of the officers who met him when he was taken out of the jail than a shot rang out on the Bridge of Sighs. That shot killed Cox, who previously had communicated to the postal authorities evidence by means of which they hoped to convict Wilson. The robbery charge, however, was dropped after the killing, so that Wilson can now be tried for his life, instead of merely being imprisoned.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 17.—(By Canadian Press).—That Hon. St. Thomas Man Near Death From Drinking Poison During Carousal

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 17.—After drinking an insect poison containing bichloride of mercury, while in an alleged drunken frenzy when refused more liquor, Colin Hodgins lies in Amasa Wood Hospital in grave danger of losing his life.

A midnight carousal in the home of Mrs. McDiarmid, 761 Talbot street, resulted in a raid by the police. Mrs. McDiarmid, Thomas Barr, D. H. Quinn and Hodgins were arrested. The latter was taken to the hospital when his condition was discovered.

Drinks were being served, and when Hodgins was refused a drink by Mrs. McDiarmid, he is said to have seized a bottle of insect poison and drank the contents. The quick action of the woman in giving him milk may, it is thought, save his life.

The vomiting which resulted may have cleared the poison from his system, but if any remains, physicians state that he will die within the next four or five days.

When found Hodgins was badly bruised owing to his being severely beaten by Quinn, it is alleged.

A charge of running a disorderly house has been preferred against Mrs. McDiarmid. Thomas Barr was let out Thursday morning on bail.

BRANTFORD POLICE SEIZE BEER IN RAID

BRANTFORD, Aug. 17.—The police were very active this afternoon, and succeeded in bringing in many cases of beer from two places of business.

About 2 o'clock they made a raid on the store of William Smith, Sheridan street, and seized about 20 cases of beer. Smith is to appear before Magistrate Blake in the morning.

The second raid took place about 5 o'clock tonight, when the officers made a call on the store of Stanley Snape, 3 Darling street. He is charged with having liquor for sale contrary to the O. T. A. He had in his possession over 30 cases of beer. It is alleged that he will not be allowed bail, and that he is also to be charged with having liquor in an unauthorized place, as well as offering it for sale. He will appear before Magistrate Blake.

CABINET WILL DISCUSS NOVA SCOTIA COAL STRIKE

Hon. W. S. Fielding, finance minister; Hon. George P. Graham, minister of defence; Hon. D. M. McKenzie, solicitor general; and Hon. Thomas A. Low, minister without portfolio. At least nine members of the cabinet are out of the city. The fuel situation and the Cape Breton coal strike will probably be among matters to be discussed. The request of Premier Dunning for assistance in financing the wheat crop is also likely to be dealt with.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL GRAIN SCARCE AT LONDON MARKET

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul... 3 1/2. De Beers... 10 1/2. Denver & Rio Grande... 17 1/2.

Shipment of Live Hogs Sells at $12.50 a Cwt.

Trading was extremely slow at Friday morning's market, and there was a heavy demand for the 10 loads of hay that were brought to the city.

The prices were steady at $12.50 per ton for shipment of live hogs sent at $12.50 per cwt. and the quality was good, but the demand was only fair.

No grain of any kind was offered. Tomatoes were offered in abundance, but the quality was poor, and they were hard to sell at 55c for the 15-lb. tubs.

Potatoes were rather scarce, but prices were firm at 80¢/90¢ per bushel. Grain, per bushel: Barley, per cwt., $1.40 to $1.56.

Wheat—Open, High, Low, Close. Oct. 1922... 1.03 1/2. Dec. 1922... 1.03 1/2.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Grain prices turned downward in the early dealings, the fear of damage to the corn crop having been relieved by cooler weather and by showers in Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois.

The wheat market was also bearishly influenced by the report that Liverpool quotations failed to respond to yesterday's advance in America. Estimates were current, too, that the wheat crop in the three western Canadian provinces was 27,000,000 bushels larger than was indicated by the latest official figures.

The opening, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to be lower, was followed by a material decline all around.

Breaking of the drought and of the heat wave eased the market for corn and oats. After opening 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ lower, the market continued to descend.

Wheat—Sept., 1.02 1/2; Dec., 1.04 1/2. Corn—Sept., 55 1/2; Dec., 55 1/2.

WOODSTOCK BUS OWNER APPEALS

Seeks Reversion of Judgment By Which He Was Fined For Carrying Passengers.

Special to London Advertiser. WOODSTOCK, Aug. 17.—Magistrate A. S. Ball was today served with notice of appeal by R. E. Warren, manager of the bus line which formerly operated out of Woodstock against the judgment given in police court last Thursday, on a charge that Warren had operated a public vehicle contrary to the public vehicles act of 1920.

This case was first heard in police court on July 29, and the offense with which Warren was charged was that he had failed to have the provincial license conspicuously displayed on his buses, and that he has been operating them without the license required.

Magistrate Ball reserved judgment, and last Thursday gave his decision to the effect that Warren was guilty of the offence, and imposed a fine of $10 with 10 days in jail.

In the notice of appeal served this morning Warren claims that the commission of the public vehicles act of 1920, and that he was not guilty of any offense.

Magistrate Ball said the appeal would be heard in the next division court, but he said it was not at all likely that Judge Wallace would hear the pleading, but would have some other person take the case in his stead. Judge Wallace is head of the Street Railway Company, against which the bus lines waged strong opposition.

OAT HARVESTING NEARS END IN PERTH COUNTY

Practically All of Grain Crops Now Gained and Threshing Under Way.

STRATFORD, Aug. 17.—The reaping of oats, practically all the grain crop of the county, is nearly over in Perth County. There are still isolated cases where cutting is still in progress, but the bulk of the oat crop is in stocks and that part of it that is not ready to be hauled into the barns is very small.

While the early threshing commenced last week it is in full swing in all parts this week.

Corn is looking much better than it has for some weeks. The corn is generally cool and rather damp weather which has prevailed until recently has held the corn back to a small extent, which drawback is being quickly overcome since the present heat has come into effect.

LIGHTNING STRIKES WALL AND BOY OF 12 IS INJURED

DETROIT, Aug. 17.—Jack Flyer, aged 12, was cut on the head and bruised on the back when lightning struck the wall of a house in the course of erection at 11 Caledonia road yesterday afternoon. He had a narrow escape from death as the whole upper story of the solid brick walls fell in on top of him. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flyer, 501 Mulberry avenue, Fairbank.

Bricklayers had just finished work on the walls and gables when the storm broke, and were unloading bricks when the lightning struck it about 4 o'clock. Jack was sweeping out the house inside so that partitions could be erected. Mr. Flyer and his father-in-law, John Rose, 103 E. Caledonia road, were at work in the adjoining building. They were also buried underneath the bricks and rubbish, but escaped with a few bruises, also badly shaken up.

His death is attributed to the effects of the excessive heat. Mr. Bryan, who was 51 years of age, leaves a wife and a family of one son and two daughters.
