Dividends!

Where Do They Come From? If a company is to pay you dividends, it must be profitably managed.

Wise investment of funds at good interest rates will yield a substantial profit.

Economical management and low expenses will save profits for policyholders.

In these two important features the Mutual Life of Canada excels.

A FOURTH HOUSE SURGEON NAMED

Dr. McGuffin Appointed by the Trust of Victoria Hospital at Regular Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Trust of Victoria Hospital was held yesterday afternoon, when a grist of routine business was disposed of.

On the subject of the hospital, the figures were not given out, it being decided that no action should be taken, an inquiry should be made as to qualities of the contractor. It was decided to advertise for supplies. As to the milk contract, this was ordered renewed with Jos. Marshall.

Mayor Beak gave notice of motion that he would move as to the amendment of the bylaws of the hospital, which proposed amendments he submitted for consideration during the month.

It was decided to spend $200 on new windows, providing a new kind of weather strip, cork matting will also be bought for the stairways.

It was decided to appoint a fourth house surgeon, and Dr. McGuffin was named to the position. The chairman was requested to authorize the granting of the certificate to the graduating house surgeons.

The superintendent reported that in June there had been 124 admissions and 222 discharges, 6 births, 7 deaths and 33 operations.

On the recommendation of the auditor, Trustees Purdon and Labatt moved the following resolution, which was carried: "That the special furnishing funds be transferred to the treasurer to be held by him for the same purpose as now held by the superintendent, subject to the order of the Hospital Trust."

An effort will be made to have South street, in front of the hospital, watered. The full board was present, Chairman Purdon presiding. After a tournament they adjourned to the room to see what might be done there to improve it, and the matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the Trust.

A LONDONER IN THE WESTERN STATES. W.M. ANDERSON.

Mr. Anderson is another London Old Boy who has gained distinction abroad. He is now in the Western States, where he is engaged in the construction of a new building.

Because of an utter disregard of the quarantine laws on the part of Mrs. Riddell, the home of Fireman James D. Riddell, 324 Broad street, is now under the constant surveillance of two special constables—one by night and the other by day.

A mother's unreasoning zeal in behalf of her child is at the bottom of the quarantined affair, which has set sanitary circles in this city agog, and is sworn in at once to very disagreeable duty for Dr. English, chairman of the board of health, and who is at present acting as medical health officer, during the absence of Dr. Hutchinson, who is on his holidays.

For the past four weeks three of the Riddell children have been patients in the scarlet fever ward of Victoria Hospital. The law states explicitly that the period of quarantine shall be 42 days, but one of the children, being cared by the mother, was fully recovered. The mother was very anxious to have the little one at home once again. She made application to Dr. Hutchinson to be allowed to take the child from the hospital, but the medical health officer had no discretion in the matter, and the request was refused, the child having been placed in the hospital on June 12, and according to the statute, could not leave the isolation ward for two weeks yet. Further, the statute provides that a patient may be isolated for as long a period as the medical health officer deems in the most desirable manner for the public interest, and a proper respect for the quarantine period of six weeks.

Mrs. Riddell was greatly dissatisfied with the refusal, but matters did not improve. As to how long the strict quarantine will be maintained, Dr. English could not say.

Mrs. Riddell, it appears, claims that Dr. Hutchinson gave her a certificate to remove the child, but no such certificate has come to light, nor could the doctor issue one without breaking the law.

Thus the unfortunate family is in for a big bill of costs.

Dr. English stated to a reporter this morning that the whole affair was most regrettable, but that the law, in the interests of the people at large, must be maintained, and that officers are sworn in at once to very disagreeable duty for Dr. English, chairman of the board of health, and who is at present acting as medical health officer, during the absence of Dr. Hutchinson, who is on his holidays.

It is not known just how long the sanitary police will be kept at the house, but the Riddell family will be compelled to pay $4 for each 24 hours the men are there—$2 per man.

British consul. He returned in the steam launch to the vessel, but she had been stepped off, and he fell between it and the stern. The general would have been swept under the transport and drowned had not Colonel Satow sprung forward and grasped his hand as he was disappearing.

The Canadian Military Gazette already has been published. While not having noted the improvement in numbers and physique, we must go a little further on the subject of personnel, and we venture the prediction that next camp will see the strongest corps, with the best physique, since the old days when the Pentonals roused so keen a spirit in the country that it became a favor to a man to take him on the marches those halcyon days for the militia so often referred to by the old-timers.

"The increase of pay is not the only cause which will bring about these much desired results. That excellent idea of General Hutton, to amuse the men when off parade, has been retained to with vim and smokers, single songs, tattoos, etc., have given general enjoyment of the best kind. The departmental services are making themselves felt. The sick, never very numerous, it is true, are being cared for by the smart A. M. C. corps in a way which might well encourage a desire to 'go sick,' were it not for the good thing the medicals have been keen to discover 'soldiering,' and to return a slinker to duty quickly and without ceremony.

"The food, too, is better than ever, and thanks to the Army Service corps, it is distributed with precision and promptness, with the result that the officers are seeing to it as never before that the contractors must make their profit legitimately and not by short weight and poor quality."

Our Toronto Letter. The third of the series of the international matches between the sergeants of the Toronto Light Horse, the result being a complete victory for the team of the Forty-eighth Highlanders. The latter piled up a score of 200 points, the Grenadiers coming next with 179, and the Q. O. R. were by no means a good third, with only 100 points. The Highlanders now have a lead of the entire series of 18 points. There are, though, two matches to be held yet, one on July 23 and the last on Aug. 13.

There is every probability, indeed, it may be taken for granted with certainty, that Lieut.-Col. G. A. Peters, commanding the Toronto Light Horse, will take the advice which has been so freely tendered to him, and every day, to weed out a large number of the members of his corps, who are either too young or in other ways are likely to prove good soldiers. There is a splendid majority of good men in the Toronto Light Horse, but there is a minority of inefficient men, whose presence was especially noticeable at the late Niagara camp.

DIED OF INJURIES IN 15 MINUTES. A Seven-Year-Old London Township Boy Meets With Fatal Accident.

An accident which resulted in the death of a seven-year-old James Shoebottom, son of Mr. James Shoebottom, of lot 7, con. 9, occurred yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Shoebottom was drawing hay into the barn, and was on top of the load. With him were two small children, and little James was riding on a board which projected from the back of the wagon. When the gangway of the barn was reached the wagon tilted to the front wheels being off the ground for a moment, and the lad was crushed between the board and the gangway. When the team was stopped in the barn the children on the load called to their father that "Jimmy" was hurt. Hastening to the boy, the father found the little fellow badly crushed, and a physician was at once summoned. An examination showed that the boy's spine was injured and he died in fifteen minutes.

MOTHER TAKES HER CHILD FROM CONTAGIOUS WARD AT HOSPITAL

Nurse Was Absent at the Time—Mrs. Riddell's Act Leads to Serious Trouble.

Because of an utter disregard of the quarantine laws on the part of Mrs. Riddell, the home of Fireman James D. Riddell, 324 Broad street, is now under the constant surveillance of two special constables—one by night and the other by day.

A mother's unreasoning zeal in behalf of her child is at the bottom of the quarantined affair, which has set sanitary circles in this city agog, and is sworn in at once to very disagreeable duty for Dr. English, chairman of the board of health, and who is at present acting as medical health officer, during the absence of Dr. Hutchinson, who is on his holidays.

For the past four weeks three of the Riddell children have been patients in the scarlet fever ward of Victoria Hospital. The law states explicitly that the period of quarantine shall be 42 days, but one of the children, being cared by the mother, was fully recovered. The mother was very anxious to have the little one at home once again. She made application to Dr. Hutchinson to be allowed to take the child from the hospital, but the medical health officer had no discretion in the matter, and the request was refused, the child having been placed in the hospital on June 12, and according to the statute, could not leave the isolation ward for two weeks yet. Further, the statute provides that a patient may be isolated for as long a period as the medical health officer deems in the most desirable manner for the public interest, and a proper respect for the quarantine period of six weeks.

Mrs. Riddell was greatly dissatisfied with the refusal, but matters did not improve. As to how long the strict quarantine will be maintained, Dr. English could not say.

Mrs. Riddell, it appears, claims that Dr. Hutchinson gave her a certificate to remove the child, but no such certificate has come to light, nor could the doctor issue one without breaking the law.

Thus the unfortunate family is in for a big bill of costs.

Dr. English stated to a reporter this morning that the whole affair was most regrettable, but that the law, in the interests of the people at large, must be maintained, and that officers are sworn in at once to very disagreeable duty for Dr. English, chairman of the board of health, and who is at present acting as medical health officer, during the absence of Dr. Hutchinson, who is on his holidays.

It is not known just how long the sanitary police will be kept at the house, but the Riddell family will be compelled to pay $4 for each 24 hours the men are there—$2 per man.

THE POLITENESS OF THE JAPANESE

Good Manners One Trait of Mikado's People.

SILENCE OF NATURE ANOTHER

This Last Includes the Babies, Who Never Cry and Who Are Masters of Etiquette at an Early Age.

New York, July 16. — "It is nearly twenty years since I was in Japan," said the retired naval officer, "but I guess things haven't changed much over that way, for all their talk about western civilization.

"What struck me most in Japan? It was the politeness of the people and the silence that is characteristic of nature in Japan.

"As to the former, I traveled over a thousand miles in out of the way places and did not meet with one instance of incivility or extortion. You know the folks out on our Pacific coast are down on the Japs and say they will strain a point to do you out of a cent. They must have picked that trait up over here, for one certainly does not meet with it on their own ground.

"The commonest peasant never fails to give the stranger a graceful and gracious bow coupled with a smile, and

They are dignified burlesques on the grown-ups. The little girls of the family take care of the babies by having them strapped to their backs. Nearly every little maid of 5 or 6 has a baby tied to her, and perhaps that accounts for the bent back and tottering gait of the Japanese woman.

"As I said, I never heard a Jap baby cry, but if one begins to make any noise, the mother takes care of it by holding her body on her knees and heels as fast as she can, and placidity reigns in short order.

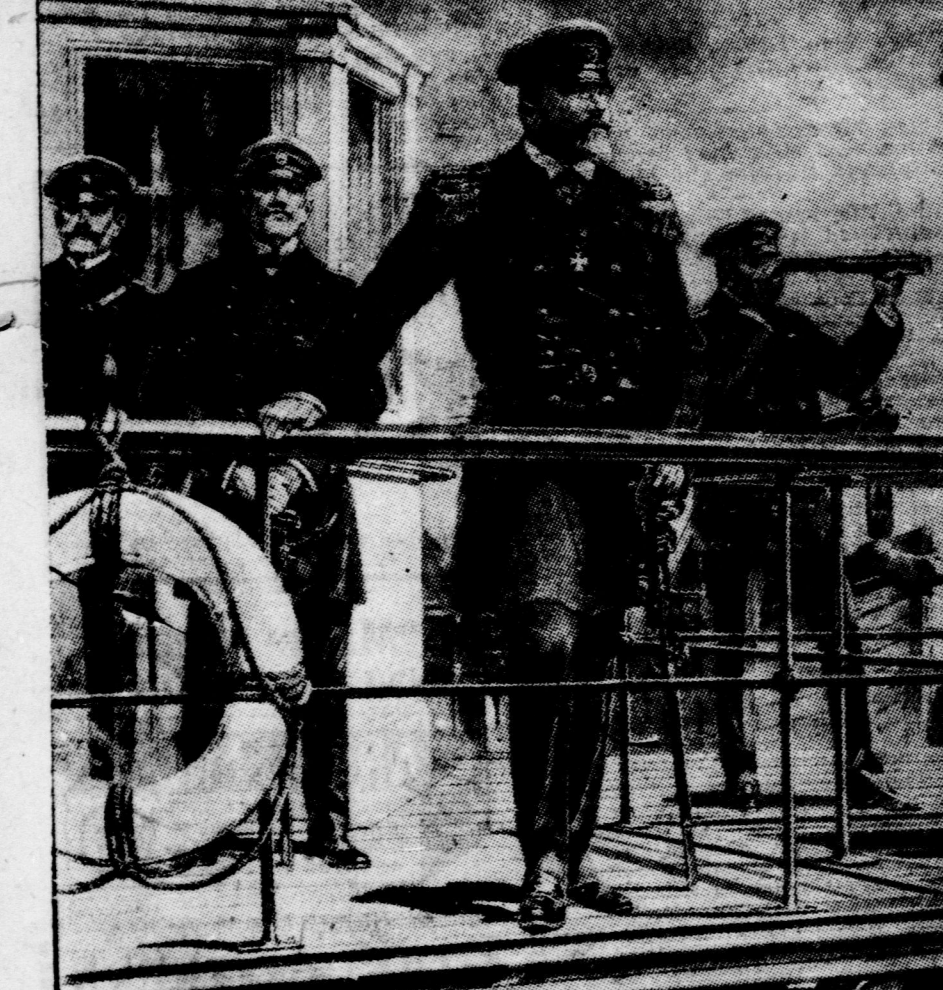

"A man would feel like a fool quoting 'Mother Goose' to a Japanese child or trying to amuse it as one does our children. As for chucking one under the chin, that's unthinkable.

"Very properly, I suppose you bachelors think, the boy is more highly prized than the girl and they celebrate an ancient custom there called 'boys day.' I happened to be in a large inland town on this day, and it proved interesting. At every house where a boy had been born during the year a tall bamboo pole was raised, from which flew a large paper or silk fish with wide open mouth. The fish became inflated and the sight is a pretty one. Parents who have reason to be particularly overjoyed fly more than one fish.

"The dignity and self-possession of Japanese children is wonderful. As soon as they can speak they are required to learn the rules of Japanese etiquette, so that by the time they are 8 or 10 years old they know exactly what to do and what not to do under every conceivable condition.

"How about those geisha girls and their wicked way?" inquired one of the old bachelors. "I didn't see any geisha girls with wicked ways," answered the retired one. "I thought I was going to have some rare sport at the dances given by the geisha girls, but bless you I've seen worse things among amateurs in the best drawing-room in this city.

"The geisha girls' dance consists of a series of posturings and gyrations with fans and garlands of flowers and paper and noisy parasols and is modest enough to suit Dr. Parkhurst."

Admiral Skrydloff, Russian Naval Chief at Vladivostok and Commander of the Vladivostok Squadron.

if he gets half a chance, a pleasant word. Even the lowest classes salute one another in passing with the profound bow, and natives never forget their manners. Though they gathered about and examined my dress and features, it was done in the most courteous way.

"You spoke of the silence characteristic of nature," reminded the young assistant paymaster. "I thought Japan was like a church. The Mikado's geisha girls dancing everywhere, birds of brilliant plumage singing night and day, gilded palaces and cottages, instead of grass and such things.

"Yes, you probably think you'd walk on pebbly streets, with curbs of pure gold when you get to heaven," retorted the retired naval officer. "Birds of gay feather and sweet voice are mourning fully rare in Japan, and not once did I hear a Japanese baby cry."

"There are no grass fields or pasture lands, but the flowers are wonderful and the special festivals of the iris, peony, cherry and plum are well worth a trip there. One naturally associates fine fruits with fine flowers, but indigenous fruits are rare, small, sour and altogether bad eating.

"Most people have a notion that the trees here are nearly all like these little dinky-dink dwarfs that the Broadway florists put in their windows. Several miles from Nikko two nations' roads meet, lined with cryptomeria trees. The splendid avenue I traveled over for 50 miles was bordered by cryptomeria over two centuries old, and some of them are more than 20 feet around. They are a species of cedar."

CALLS IT REVOLUTIONARY

London Globe's Criticism of New Canadian Militia Bill.

London, July 15. — In the Privy Council yesterday, the Montreal Street Railway was given leave to appeal its case against the city of Montreal. Messrs. Campbell and Paine appeared for the petitioners, and Hon. Edward Blake and Mr. Atwater for the respondents.

The London Globe calls the Canadian militia bill revolutionary, and says nothing further is needed to prove that only imperial federation can save imperial disintegration.

Mr. Perks, M.P., referring to the question of the union of the United Methodist and the Free Church, with the latter, now a connexion of the Bible Christians, was considered at a great free church parliament at Sheffield on Tuesday, says it will produce the larger measure of union such as prevails in Canada.

FLAG INSULTERS FINED

Soldiers Who Pulled Down Union Jack Disciplined by Commander. New York, July 15. — Sergt. Chas. E. Montgomery and Ptes. Clarke and Winslow, of Fort Totten, were disciplined Thursday by Capt. Bailey, in a court-martial, for having taken part in hauling down the British flag from the residence of John Armstrong at Whitehall, N. Y. Corp. Mosley and Pte. William Brown, who also took part in the affair, were not punished. Sergt. Montgomery was fined $25, a month's pay, and the other two were fined $5 each. When Capt. Bailey imposed the fines on the men, he said he was already a member of the Armstrong's property without permission of the court. Montgomery said that in pulling down the flag he meant no harm, but that he thought the British flag was out of place in the face of American soldiers on Independence Day.

A MURDER CASE AT THE CAPITAL

Alleged that an Old Man Was Killed by Ruffians in a Drunken Melee. Ottawa, July 15. — The village of Russell is in a furore over a fatality which occurred on Wednesday, which has all the appearances of foul play, and which may lead to the arrest of certain young men of the village on the charge of murder. Henry Auger, a stableman at the Russell Hotel, and his wife, were in a room in the Russell House with his face broken in and his head otherwise badly battered. It is alleged that he was killed in a drunken melee with several young men of the village, and it is alleged that during it he received the blow which resulted in his death. According to the story going, after the scrap, the unfortunate man was thrown into a room in the Russell Hotel, and a constable paid to him for over an hour, when he was found dead. The coroner was notified and decided that circumstances warranted an investigation, and a jury was impaneled, which after viewing the body adjourned until Monday. Yesterday afternoon a post-mortem examination was held. The condition of the body shows that the man received violent treatment, and it is believed that he was killed by a blow on the head. Auger was an unmarried man, about 60 years of age.

FROHMAN'S LATEST

English Theater To Be Established at the French Capital. London, July 15. — The entente cordiale grows apace. Not only are our good friends the French, but the French folk getting an understanding of the English they never had. In London, the middle-class enthusiastically to the idea of a permanent English theater in Paris. The Alhambra, the first English theater in Paris, is doing a great success, although the programme and the artists are exclusively English, and now Mr. Charles Frohman, after his happy experience with his company in Mr. Barrie's play, "The Admirable Crichton," has decided to establish an English theater in Paris, and his season begins next spring. Other English theaters and music halls are in the contemplation, and with such friendship established between the playgoers of both countries the permanence of the enterprise is assured.

THE BALTIC TOO BIG

Cannot Load to Her Full Capacity in New York Harbor. New York, July 15. — The steamship Baltic sailed on her homeward trip Wednesday. As far as freight is concerned, it is shown that the Baltic is some years in advance of the port of New York. She cannot be loaded to anything like her full capacity on account of her great draft, which reaches 36 feet 6 inches when she is loaded to full limit. At high water, the vessel's draft is 32 feet 6 inches, and enter port, but otherwise 30 feet is the port's limit. The Baltic on Wednesday drew 32 feet 6 inches, and on that draft had on board 6,000 tons weight less than her carrying capacity. She could have been laden 15 feet deeper and would have meant about 1,500 tons weight of additional cargo. This, however, would have indicated her very best employment as a freight carrier, and she would still have been 4,300 tons weight below her full capacity.

FEARS HER HUSBAND

And Will Live in Toronto if He is Not There - Asks Official Aid. Toronto, July 15. — Tanned by the hot sun of Mexico, and tired of her life in the southland, Mrs. Thomas Blackwell has written to Toronto her old home, after dwelling in New Mexico for ten years. She went there to get away from her husband, who, she alleges, abused, beat and ill-treated her. She bore this sort of thing for four or five years, and then went to the west. Yesterday morning she called at the consular office to inquire if the officers had any knowledge of her husband, or his whereabouts. If he is not in Toronto or near the city she will be able to dwell in peace here. Mrs. Blackwell is about 40 years old.

SHIPS WERE ARMED

Vessels That Passed the Dardanelles Carried Quick-Firing Guns. New York, July 15. — A dispatch from Odessa says: It is learned that the Russian volunteer fleet steamers Petersburg and Smolensk, which passed through the Dardanelles, carried guns with much ammunition, and a number of quick firing guns, but these were hidden from the Austrians. The cargo of the vessels was ostensibly coal, but the slightest examination would have revealed their war fittings.

NEITHER SIDE WILL GIVE IN

Negotiations in Big Butchers' Strike at a Standstill.

ALLIED TRADES ARE RESTLESS

A Few Hours May Witness a Walk-out of 15,000 More at the Chicago Stockyards.

Chicago, July 15. — Negotiations for peace in the stock yards' strike are practically at a standstill tonight, and the strike will continue until one side or the other abates something of its demands. Both sides are anxious for a peaceful settlement, but the packing block is that neither side is prepared to allow the other to dictate the basis of the arbitration. This afternoon the packers received Mr. Donnelly's reply to their proposition of last night, but it proved unsatisfactory, and the union officials were notified that it would be impossible to reach an agreement along the lines suggested by Mr. Donnelly. The packers stipulated that the arbitrators should be willing to arbitrate, but stipulated that the arbitration should include the entire scope of the strike and not be subject to any limitations of any kind. This communication was identical with the one sent yesterday to Mr. Donnelly, and it was a reply. A note also was sent to Mr. Donnelly, notifying him that they would be ready to accept another conference with him. No arrangements have as yet been made for another conference, but the reply of the unions to the last offer of the packers will be sent tomorrow. Mr. Donnelly's last proposition was as follows: "All grievances to be submitted to arbitration; all strikers to be reinstated in a body, men employed by the packers since the strike may be retained if use can be found for them; the temporary wage scale to be that in effect previous to May 28. This means that unskilled labor is to be paid, pending the decision of the arbitrators, 18 1/2 cents, instead of 15 to 17 1/2 cents, the piece paid since May 28. The following is the reply of the packers to this proposition: "All grievances to be submitted to arbitration; all strikers to be reinstated in a body, men employed by the packers since the strike may be retained if use can be found for them; the temporary wage scale to be that in effect previous to May 28. FIGHTING FOR A NAME.

His heart must have assured him that his dear one would have all faith in him, for a tender smile curved his lips and a fond light gleamed in his eyes.

He crept again to the hole beneath his berth, and communicated the glad tidings to his friend, and what they ate their morning meal they arranged their plan of action, in case the slightest opportunity of escape should offer itself.

"We must make a bold move this very night," Ned observed, with a firm setting of the lines about his mouth. "It is my opinion that we should have been ordered to wait here until the owner can join it, then, in all probability, he intends to escape to another country with his booty, and live at his ease."

"I believe that you are right," said Mr. Hunting, "and it stands us in at least to act with all possible promptness—at the first opportunity we may as well make a bold stroke for freedom."

"I wish we knew how many men we shall have to contend with," thoughtfully remarked Ned; "I saw only four of them come on board, but of course, it takes more than that number to sail a vessel of this size. I believe I will try to make a round sum, been aboard her long?" Ned inquired.

"No, only about three months or a little more; Ned said, confidentially, and I took his place."

"What's the harm, since I don't know how many men we shall have to contend with?" Ned said, "I don't know how many men we shall have to contend with."

"I'm going to smoke a cigarette," said one, quite as if smoking were the usual thing among young gentlemen. "I always smoke after luncheon."

Yards Ward Cleared. Railroad officials in Washington are talking of a feat performed by George R. Lee, chief train dispatcher of the Pennsylvania Railway Company which they say has made a record. It was in relieving Washington railroad yards of a badly congested condition, such as often arises at large terminals, which brought Lee into prominence in Eastern railroad circles and caused the officials of the Southern Railway to issue a complimentary letter. During the latter part of May a blockade occurred in the Washington freight yards. Never before had there been such a congestion. Freight cars were held up by the hundred and the local and all under the supervision of experienced leaders and directed from headquarters established at central points. Thus, the Mormons are migrating in considerable numbers to the newly-opened Alberta country in Canada, and they have taken up for irrigation considerable tracts of land in Mexico—Ray Stannard Baker, in the Century.

THE FLAGGING ENERGIES REVIV-ED. Constant application to business is a tax upon the energies, and if there be no relaxation, lassitude and depression are sure to intervene. TO BE DOUBLE-TRACKED. The Pere Marquette between Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich., is to be double-tracked within two years. The work will cost about $2,000,000. All improvements made on the road during the year were made with a view of double-tracking the entire line. On the Grand Rapids-Chicago division every new bridge and every bridge that has been lately rebuilt, with but one exception, is sufficiently wide to accommodate two tracks. All grading now being done is for double track. The Pere Marquette now has a right of way averaging 100 feet wide between Grand Rapids and Chicago, the company having recently purchased land here in holding were not sufficient for double tracks.

Oil Burning a Success. John T. Kelly, Southern Pacific Railway, Houston, Texas, said in Cincinnati, the other day, that the Southern Pacific has had a great success with its oil-burning locomotives. "From a point of economy, oil-burning locomotives are a great success," he said. "They are clean, easy to handle, and are generally all that can be desired. The trains on the Southern Pacific are clean and heating surface is, perhaps, more severe, owing to constant high temperature, which is offset by the economy in fuel."

Scalping the Scalpers. An important decision has been handed down by Judge Coolidge at Niles, Mich., sustaining an injunction recently obtained by the Pere Marquette Railway against fourteen ticket scalpers of St. Joseph from selling the railroad's tickets. The court held that the scalping of tickets is a violation of the law, and that the scalpers' business is illegal and fraudulent.

A GUIDE TO RIGHT OF HEELS. There are four different heights, with as many different names, of the military heel alone. As a guide to those who want to be right on the subject of heels, remember the following: Up to one and one-quarter inches a heel is a military, up to one and five-eighths it is a Cuban, above that it is a Spanish heel. When it goes above two inches it is a Cantilian. The French heels range from one and one-quarter to two inches usually—and are called Louis XV. The Du Barry heel runs from two inches—and quite a few women wear it—Shoe Retailer.

THE MASKED BALL

The swirl of the dancers occupied the main body of the hall, but the out-skirts were free, open promenades, in which the masks went to and fro with animation in every pose of their bodies.

Beauty was there, implicit in the paraphernalia, but beauty latent, un-revealed, and flaunting itself in disguise. Lord Francis' eyes passed across the shepherdesses, Marie Antonettes, vivandieres, and rested for the third time on the gray domino in the alcove.

Gray domino laughed merrily, and her eyes turned towards a thin woman in full costume of Queen Elizabeth, who was advancing so that was auntie.

"Please don't," he pleaded. "Give me another chance, I simply lose my heart talking to you."

"Here's auntie," said Carmen, evasively, as Queen Elizabeth sailed majestically up and came to a pause. Carmen rose. Lord Francis heard a whisper.

"Who's that, Gladys?" He made a profound bow. "A gentleman of the court of the Roi Soleil, your majesty," said he.

Queen Elizabeth courted and engaged her niece in a penetrating whisper. "You've been talking here about half an hour," she said. "And Gladys, I've found Mr. Prince. Gladys' pleasant laughter tinkled in his ears."

"But I will do my best to prevent the tragedy." Gladys clapped her hands; she was palpably excited. "There, auntie. You hear what this gentleman says?"

"But I thought you were Jack," burst forth Carmen, indignantly, "and you said—O, I said—"

"She withdrew her arm in a frightened way that arrested the notice of the dull cavalier. "Who is this?" he asked pointedly.

Lord Francis saw that the game was up, and he had not seen her face. He bowed. "A gentleman about the person of the 'grand monarchie, sir," said he, civilly.

"That's the worst of these charity affairs," said the cavalier, as Lord Francis form receded. "All sorts of people get in."

But Carmen was looking after the gentleman of the court of the Roi Soleil. —H. B. MARriot Watson.

Of Interest to Women

Down the Pike.

Everyone said "Don't do the Pike until night; it isn't half as fascinating in the day time," and we realized the wisdom of this advice when night came and we gaily started forth, for everything looked so much more mysterious and interesting in the twinkling glow of innumerable electric lights...

Looking up, we saw the Cascades, with their miniature Niagara, now with its golden, now ruby, now emerald, as the lights changed and the bubbling crystal fountain sending up intermittent jets of silvery spray.

Each and every building seemed like a fairy palace with its myriad electric bulbs showing forth its dazzling whiteness against the black night, and all the world seemed an enchanted fairy-land.

There was a group of Indians dancing wildly to the beating of tom-toms; over there a "spicler" loudly proclaimed the wonders of the show within. Bands seemed to be playing in every direction; the cafes were full of people and the Pike itself was thronged with men, women and children of every nationality.

A wheeled chair came along with a beautifully-gowned woman languidly leaning back in a posture so evocatively studied that you could hardly keep back a smile.

There are so many wonderful things on the "Pike," the "baby incubators," the "Palais du Costume," where every variety of gown is shown.

teristic of Roosevelt's policy was the fact that there were so many negroes in the audience, Roosevelt seems even more democratic than the Democrats in that respect.

Everything was life and movement, and everyone seemed intensely interested. The enthusiasm was especially noticeable when six men bearing the eagles from Alaska, the sign of the divisions, came in and as "Kit" justly remarks, "no one but Alverstone knows many of them belong to us."

The hand played joyously, and suddenly broke into the National Anthem. Everyone rose, with the rest, and our little band sang "God Save the King" with much emphasis.

After the convention we went to the social settlement at Hull House, such a quaint old place, which is doing excellent work in the Chicago slums.

After lunch, we were taken for an automobile ride through the city, and round the Lake-shore drive, where we were held up for fast driving, but the gallant captain of police, after hearing from Mrs. Springer, that we were Canadians, let us off with a warning.

In the evening we scattered to our own devices. A newspaper woman, from Toronto, and myself, visited three theaters and a musical at an Elk band concert.

We picked the ripe mulberries from their trees and found them delicious. I frivolously suggested that we form a ring and sing. "How we go round the mulberry bush, mulberry bush, mulberry bush," etc., after the fashion of our childhood, but was frowned down by the more staid members of the party.

We spent a most delightful afternoon and a charming old German lodge-keeper, who lived in a beautiful little vine-covered, stone lodge, and to whom we presented our smattering of "Deutsch," presented us with beautiful little souvenir photographic views of the gardens, and we went off charmed with our afternoon.

Chicago. We left St. Louis on Tuesday evening, and getting into Chicago on Wednesday morning, were met by a party of Chicago press-women, who took us in hand for the day and entertained us royally.

After a hurried breakfast, we went through some of the best department stores, seeing them thoroughly from roof to basement, and then we had the very rare privilege of being admitted to the Republican State Convention.

Francis made his way deliberately towards her. "Well, I've found you at last," he said, heartily.

The Spanish dancer started, and there was a momentary pause, while the music went on. "Is it—?" she began, hesitatingly, and then broke off. "Jack, how did you recognize me?" she said ecstatically.

"Do you think I couldn't tell you in a thousand—10,000 I mean?" he replied, with a wave of his hand at the throng. She laughed, the joyous laugh, "I thought I should puzzle you, you know, Jack, because I didn't give you the slightest hint what I was going to do."

Lord Francis seated himself comfortably. "And now, how have you done it?" he asked. "Well, you know, Jack—the puzzle ring. That was pretty smart of me, wasn't it?"

Francis, with a glance at his hand. "And you've been trying to disguise your hands, classed about as 'is it—?' triumphantly. "It's a good imitation, Jack, but it didn't take me in."

"I thought I'd deceive you into taking me for some one else."

"O, no." She shook her head merrily, rocking herself to and fro with her hands clasped about one knee. "And so you needn't keep up the deception."

She looked at him closely through the eyes of the mask and he smiled. "I thought I'd deceive you into taking me for some one else."

"You, my dear girl, are adorable, as always," he said, feeling that the intimacy thus discovered between them justified the remark.

"Jack, you are in an odd mood tonight. I can't make you out," she said, hesitatingly.

"It's the intoxication of the ball, and the company," he explained. "But come, am I to have no reward?"

"Reward?" she asked, with an assumption of indifference. "Yes, now that I have found you, He put out a hand tentatively, but Carmen withdrew quickly.

"Jack, I'll never forgive you," she said, hotly. "I assure you I wasn't—," he began, "only thought, perhaps, I might be rewarded—obtain a dance or—"

She looked away towards the dancers. "But I don't say you may not perhaps do what I promised," she said, hesitatingly, "only auntie—"

"O, let's get rid of auntie. Let's lose her at the doors," suggested Lord Francis quickly.

She laughed. "You are rude, I don't know what's come to you." "Only, of course, only if what I said happens, you know," she ended merrily. "I shall take good care it does happen," he said, smiling. "O, Jack, how dare you say such things?" she flushed suddenly. "O, he was sure of her beauty. But what had she done? I will go straight back to
