FORMOSA.

Mr. John Wilhelm of Walkerton was in the village on Sunday.

Rev. P. J. Maddigan spent a few days at Dundas and Hamilton last week.

Dr. Clapp was around canvassing among the electors of Culross last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dopp and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schumacher of Preston spent Victoria Day with friends in town.

Rev. J. J. Gehl took a trip to Stratford last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kempel of Riversdale were Sunday visitors in town.

Umpire Geo. Colvin of Teeswater, awarded the Formosa-Clifford game which was played in Mildmay on Victoria Day, to Formosa by 9-0 as the Clifford team walked off the field refusing to finish the game. Teeswater team plays at Formosa to-day (Ascension day) at four o'clock sharp.

J. H. Scheffer has been appointed as D. R. O. for No. 3 Poll, Carrick and J. B. Goetz for No. 6 Culross. No. 3 Carrick poll will be held at Beingsner's vacant office and No. 6 Culross at Erwein's hall.

READ IT THROUGH.

Without reading it, a man frequently signs an ordinary document, and sometimes has cause to regret his signature. While it might be only once in a hundred times that such cause for regret will occur, it is bound to come, and for all the time that it takes to read and thoroughly understand every part of an agreement, it pays to do so always. The man you are negotiating with may give the substance of an agreement in his own way, and it may be substantially correct. But the actual document may embody some clause relating to the time or even the amount of payment which puts you at a great disadvantage, or it may contain a clause specifying an article quite different from what you bargained for. Or, with dishonest intent, he may entirely mislead you, and if he can get you to sign without reading you are at his mercy.

Even in dealing with a man you know and absolutely trust, it is no indication of lack of confidence to him for you to read carefully and understand fully every part of the agreement you are making. The one best way to maintain friendly business relations with everybody is to have everything so clear that it cannot possibly be misunderstood. Failure to do this is responsible not only for losses but for lasting enmities; it is the wise man who reads carefully and understands clearly every document before he signs his name.

Victoria Day.

Beautiful weather favored the celebration here on Victoria Day, and the Mildmay Park and Rink Company entertained the large number of visitors with an excellent program. Everything passed off without a hitch, and the day was an enjoyable one in all respects.

The opening feature was a baseball game between Clifford and Mildmay, which commenced at 10 o'clock. While the game was interesting, it was rather one-sided, the Clifford boys being too much for the locals, winning by a score of 15 to 4 runs. Hope Hillhouse of Clifford umpired satisfactorily.

At one o'clock Clifford and Formosa baseball clubs lined up, and the result of this game was in doubt up to the final innings and even then the score was not clear as to which was the winner. At the close of the game some dispute arose and umpire George Colvin of Teeswater awarded the game to Formosa. This was a well contested game, and sharp playing was done all round.

The five-mile road race was then called on. There were just two entries, David Schwark of Chesley and Clar. Freeborn of Teeswater, the latter being a member of the I. C. A. C. of Toronto. The race proved to be of little interest, however, for Schwark distanced his opponent, who couldn't stand the pace. Schwark finished in 28 1/2 minutes. He is a nice easy runner, and has speed and endurance in abundance.

The league football match was then called, an account of which will be found in another column.

The last game of the day was a baseball match between Teeswater and the Unions of Gorrie and Wroxeter. This proved a very interesting game, resulting in favor of Teeswater by a score of 11 to 4.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The best of order prevailed all day. There was scarcely a drunk to be seen in town.

The gate receipts were about the same as last year.

The Park & Rink Co. will be about $125 to the good after paying all expenses.

Gorrie and Wroxeter turned out well, as did also Teeswater, Clifford and Formosa.

Schwark, the winner of the five mile race, was delighted with the beautiful trophy given by the Co.

Mildmay Band, assisted by George Chapman of Port Elgin and Dan Connors of Eden Grove, furnished some very nice music.

BURIED THE MONEY.

Gideon Ruttle, a farmer of Huron township, near Ripley, invested in some Toronto Roller Bearing Company stock, and on November 1st, 1905, gave a note of $1,500 in payment. Before the note fell due, he regretted his investment, and refused to pay it. The Traders bank secured judgment against him for $1,500 at court held here a few weeks ago. Ruttle felt that this was unjust, and to prevent any of the money being taken from him, he sold his farm and chattels for $6,000. He gave his father $2,000, his sister $600, an uncle 200, and then started for the west with $2,500 in his pocket. He was away for six months, and got rid of $1,000. He said he might as well spend it as anyone. He came back finally with $1,500, and took up his residence at Kindardine, where he took up the trade of boiler-maker. His creditors were still after him, however, so he buried his money in a box in his backyard. When the search became too hot, he took it up hid it in the house, whereabouts he will not say. On examination he said that if he had thought it an honest debt he would have made every effort to pay it. Featherston Aylesworth at Toronto, on Friday last, moved to commit him to jail for contempt in evading the judgment against him.—Walker- ton Telescope.

A very unfortunate and painful accident befell Mrs. Donald McLeod of Culross, on Saturday last. While passing through the stable she was severely bitten about the shoulder by one of the horses and in falling to the floor she sustained other injuries which caused intense pain.

Carrick Council.

Town Hall, Mildmay, May 26, 1908.

Not a Nauseating Pill.—The excitement of a pill is the substance which enfolds the ingredients and makes up the pill mass. That of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is so compounded as to preserve their moisture, and they can be carried into any latitude without impairing their strength. Many pills, in order to keep them from adhering, are rolled in powders, which prove nauseating to use taste. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so prepared that they are agreeable to the most delicate.

BLOOD MAKING TONIC TREATMENT

A Cure for Anemia That is Showing Remarkable Proof of Cures in Stubborn Cases.

When the body becomes weak and run down, either from overwork, worry or severe illness, an examination of the blood would show it to be weak and watery. This condition is called anemia, which is the medical term for "bloodlessness." The common symptoms are paleness of the lips, gums and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, dull eyes and loss of appetite. Anemia itself is a dangerous disease and may gradually pass into consumption. It can only be cured by treating its cause—which is the poor condition of the blood. The blood must be made rich and red, thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every part of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest medicine in the world for making new, rich blood and they have been curing anemia and other blood diseases for nearly a generation, and are now recognized the world over as an invaluable household remedy.

Mrs. D. Estabrook, Brooklyn Road, N. B., says:—"My daughter Gertrude, who is now in her sixteenth year, was sickly from early childhood, we were constantly doctoring for her, but it did not seem to help her in the least. In fact as she grew older she seemed to grow weaker. She was always pale and listless, suffered from headaches, dizziness and palpitation of the heart. She did not rest at night, and would often toss and moan the whole night. Finally she had to discontinue going to school, and as she was continually taking doctors' medicine without benefit I grew discouraged, and feared we would lose her. Friends urged us to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I finally decided to do so. By the time she had taken three boxes there was an improvement, and a little later she was able to return to school. From that on she grew stronger, had an excellent appetite, slept well at night, and is now as healthy a girl as you will see. I believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved her life, and as a mother I would recommend these pills to every family in which there are young girls.
All medicine dealers sell these pills, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to the many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. A Wide Sphere of Usefulness.—The consumption of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has grown to great proportions. Notwithstanding the fact that it has now been on the market for over thirty-one years, its prosperity is as great as ever, and the demand for it in that period has very greatly increased. It is beneficial in all countries, and wherever introduced fresh supplies are constantly asked for.

THOUGHT IT FLIPPANT.
The brave ship was wallowing in the waves that threatened to engulf her at any moment. Hastily the captain ordered a box of rockets and flares to be brought to the rail, and with his own hands ignited a number of them, in the hope that they would be seen and the passengers and crew rescued.
Amid the rockets' red glare a tall, thin, austere individual found his way with difficulty to the rail and spoke to the captain.
"Captain," said he, "I protest against this dare-devilishness. We are now facing death. This is no time for a fire-work display."

The Philosopher—"Tell me what a person reads and I can tell you what he is." The Dyspeptic—"Not always. There's my wife, for instance, she's always reading a cookery book." The Philosopher (confidentially)—"We?" The Dyspeptic—"But she's no cook!"

HOUSES CATCH CONSUMPTION.

Become Saturated With Various Disease Germs.

The Paris municipal council has just made the alarming discovery that some hundreds of houses in the working-class districts of the city are smitten with consumption. This means that they are literally dwellings of death, since anybody inhabiting one of them for any length of time is practically certain to catch the complaint.

That buildings can become saturated with disease germs after this fashion has long been known to medical men. "Cancer houses," for instance, were discovered by Mr. Semmes Smith in the Lincolnshire Fens, England, and elsewhere, which were literally eaten up with this most terrible of maladies. Another, instanced by Mr. D'Arcy Power, claimed as victims three tenants, who inhabited it one after another. It was then set light to by the landlord, and burnt all standing together with everything that it contained.

Plague, too, has been proved to infect certain dwellings after a like fashion. In one case, mentioned in a recent report of the Indian Commissioners, a large tenement house in Bombay was so badly diseased that it meant death to anyone housed enough to enter it. It was, therefore, boarded up, and remained empty for over a year. Then two families of vagrant beggars, numbering eleven persons in all, broke in, and took up their abode there without the knowledge of the authorities. Within a week not one of them was left alive.

Perhaps, however, the most extraordinary instance in point is afforded by the case of Amber, the ancient capital of Yepore, which contracted leprosy so badly that no one would dwell within its walls who could help it, for fear of infection. So, eventually, Jay Sing, the then rajah, ordered a general exodus of all the inhabitants that were left alive.

The edict was duly carried out, and from that day to this the city has remained unpeopled, a prey to the loathsome disorder that recent experience has shown to still linger in its silent streets and deserted squares.

A GOB OF THOUGHT.
"A man feels that he is getting very classy," remarked the occasional philosopher, "when he takes a bath without waiting for Saturday night."

ABOUT PAPERHANGERS.
We don't know what it is to have a cyclone visit our home, but we don't believe it could make more muss about the place than the paperhangers do.

How to Cleanse the System.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of scientific study of the effects of extracts of certain roots and herbs upon the digestive organs. Their use has demonstrated in many instances that they regulate the action of the liver and the kidneys, purify the blood, and carry off all morbid accumulations from the system. They are easy to take, and their action is mild and beneficial.

SHE SQUINTED.
A schoolmistress asked a child what See-spell. The child hesitated. "What is it?" she asked. "What?" "I do when I look at you?" said the teacher.
"Thiquint," replied the pupil.

Pale, sickly children should use Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Worms are one of the principal causes of suffering in children and should be expelled from the system.

Few men have their faces on banknotes, but most of us are satisfied if permitted to get our hands on them.

WEAK WATERY BLOOD causes much trouble. That tired feeling and many more symptoms follow in its wake. Try "Ferro-Chin." It is the best tonic to make you strong and well. All druggists sell it.

Looking up from his magazine, an Essex farmer said vehemently to his wife one night: "Do you know what I'd have done if I had been Napoleon?" "Yes," the woman answered. "You'd have settled down in Corsica, and spent your life grumbling about bad luck and hard times."

Holloway's Corn Cure is a specific for the removal of corns and warts. We have never heard of its failing to remove even the worst kind.

Some time ago an office boy, answering the telephone for the first time in his life, and not knowing how to use it, was told that, when the bell rang, he was to answer it. When, therefore, he heard it ring, he picked up the receiver and shouted: "Hello! Who's there?" The answer came back: "I'm one hundred and five." "Go on," said the boy. "It's time you were dead."

THE GREAT WHITE PLAGUE

CAN CONSUMPTION BE STAMPTED OUT ENTIRELY?

Gratifying Decline in Deaths in Great Britain During the Past Fifty Years.

The prominence which has been given to consumption and its treatment of late years has erroneously led many people to think that the disease is spreading and accounting for an increased number of deaths every day. As a matter of fact, recent statistics show that in the last fifty years consumption has declined so considerably as to point to a possibility in the near future of its disappearance from the country altogether, just as other maladies, such as leprosy and typhus fever, have disappeared in the past. In 1838 the deaths from consumption were over 39 in every 10,000 persons. In 1906 the deaths were 11 per 10,000—figures which are distinctly encouraging to those who are engaged in fighting the great white plague, says London Tit-Bits.

At the same time consumption is still killing over 40,000 people in Great Britain alone every year, and it is with a view to further combating the disease that a Royal Commission is now sitting to report with regard to tuberculosis, and national sanatoria are being erected. There are already many sanatoria, both in Great Britain and on the Continent, but the majority of them are private institutions. There is no doubt, however, that the best means of curing a consumptive person is to send him or her, in the EARLY STAGES OF THE DISEASE, to a sanatorium, where those curative essentials—abundance of fresh air, sunshine, proper diet, and exercise—can be properly administered.

For, so far as medical knowledge extends meantime, Nature is undoubtedly the best consumption cure, although protective inoculation and internal antiseptic treatment are undergoing investigation, and, like the Koch treatment by injection of tuberculin, have cured many cases. But they have not, up to the present, proved quite so efficacious as could be desired.

It may not be uninteresting to mention here some of the remarkable consumption cures which have been advocated of late years. The latest marvel of surgery is a wonderful operation recently performed in London, by which the diseased portion of a consumptive patient's lung was successfully cut away. A special instrument has been invented for staunching the flow of blood which usually rushes out when the lung is cut, with such rapidity that the patient bleeds to death in a few minutes, and the result of the operation seems to point to the fact that the surgeon as well as the physician will be able to cure phthisis in the future.

ANOTHER RECENT CURE is the sea-water treatment, in which the Duchess of Sutherland is keenly interested. Injections of pure sea-water, it is claimed, will effectively cure the disease, and the success with this method has been such that it has been adopted by several Paris hospitals.

Several other consumption "cure" injections have been tried of late years. Five years ago Dr. W. J. Fralick, one of the most eminent physicians of New York, gave a public demonstration in the Metropolitan Hospital of a new remedy for tuberculosis with which he claims to have successfully treated many patients. Briefly, his method of treatment is as follows. Incisions are made in the veins at the bend of the elbow, and into these are introduced glass nozzles connected by rubber tubes with glass funnels, into which a liquid, having properties similar to those existing in all normal blood, is poured, and thus carried into the blood currents, every part of the system being brought into contact with the new agency within three minutes. Several infusions, Dr. Fralick says, are necessary to obliterate the bacteria. Ten would be the utmost required in any case, at the rate of

ONE OR TWO INFUSIONS A WEEK.

Four months after Dr. Fralick's demonstration Dr. Livet, the head of a hospital for consumptives founded at Roubaix, gave an account before a weekly meeting of the Academy of Medicine in Paris of a year's fight with phthisis by means of a somewhat similar method to that advocated by the New York physician. The experiment was tried of injecting a liquid composed of extracts from plants found in Chili and Columbia, which have already been employed separately with fair success in Germany, Belgium, and the United States. Of 130 patients treated with this process at the Roubaix home 84 per cent. recovered, improvement being noticeable within a few days from the beginning of the treatment.

What is known as the "light" treatment has also met with decided success. Professor Finsen has effected some remarkable cures by means of a special electric lamp, combined with concentrated rays of the sun. This was an advancement on the idea of Dr. J. Mount-Bleyer, the well-known specialist on lung and throat diseases, who eight or nine years ago asserted that by extracting the ultra-violet and other rays from the sunshine and showering them upon the human body, microbes could be destroyed and

CONSUMPTION CURED.

The rays were collected by means of glass houses, with various colored panes of glass in the roof, under which the patient sat.

To a certain extent Dr. Mount-Bleyer's idea was adopted five years ago in England at a certain hospital. The patient was placed in a glass cubicle, but, instead of relying on the ultra-violet and other rays to effect a cure, the patient was given a constant supply of rarefied air, specially treated by ozone on an extended scale.

These and many other cures have been tried with more or less success; but consumption is a disease to which the old saying, "Prevention is better than cure," applies with particular force, and simple prevention will go far towards stamping it out.

ILLS OF BABYHOOD AND OF CHILDHOOD

The ills of babyhood and childhood are many and may prove serious if not promptly cured. In homes where Baby's Own Tablets are kept there is a prompt cure at hand for such troubles as indigestion, sour stomach, colic, constipation, diarrhoea, worms, teething troubles and other minor ailments and the Tablets can be administered as safely to a new born baby as to the well grown child. Mrs. Octave Paulin, Caraque, N. B., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for both my little boy and girl for the various ailments of childhood and have found them always a splendid medicine. No mother should be without the Tablets in the home." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE WIZARD OF THE EAST

SIR ROBERT HART ABOUT TO SEE HIS FAMILY AGAIN.

Some of the Work He Has Done in China During the Last Forty-five Years.

There will shortly arrive in England, the land of his birth, a quiet, unassuming little gray-haired man, who, more than any other individual, has influenced the destiny of the Chinese Empire during the last 45 years, writes a London correspondent. Sir Robert Hart, the little white autocrat of Peking, the Wizard of the East, inspector general of the Chinese customs, holder of the ancestral rank of the first class of the first order for three generations, and junior guardian of the heir apparent, has secured two years' leave of absence from his duties in China and has just left Peking to return to England to see his wife and children from whom he has been parted for more than twenty years. Those who are in a position to know state that Sir Robert will never return to Peking, but will shortly announce his permanent retirement, as prophesied in The Express.

Although Sir Robert Hart's official authority in the Celestial Kingdom extended over the customs service only, his real powers were much greater than that would imply. For many years he has been the financial pilot of the empire, and it is due almost entirely to his wise management that China is now in a state of financial solvency. In matters of foreign policy and trade

HIS WORD WAS LAW.

Even the Dowager Empress bowed to the judgment of this little man with the obsequious manners and infinite tact. Without for a moment relaxing his watchfulness of the customs services he took over and perfected the government system of lighthouses on ocean and rivers; he organized and ruled the armed fleet that patrolled the waterways of the empire for protection against smugglers; he arranged the huge loans that linked China with the Western world; and, finally, he established the national postal system, of which he became inspector general in 1896.

At the height of his power Great Britain offered to make the man who had left her shores a simple clerk 40 years before, her envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to China, but Sir Robert declined with thanks because he preferred to remain behind his desk at Peking.

As inspector general of customs he ruled an army of more than 8,000 subordinates and a system unsurpassed by any machinery of government the world over. More than 1,000 Europeans held service under him, it being an invariable rule of the department that all positions of responsibility be held by white men. On the other hand, he handed a sop to the pride of the Chinese in the shape of a rule that natives alone should be allowed to handle the money.

THE FOREIGN DEVILS.

could not be trusted! English was the language used in official intercourse, but every document was afterward translated into Chinese, involving a stupendous amount of clerical labor.

Although very few of his thousands of subordinates ever laid eyes upon the little Englishman—simply knowing him as I. G., inspector general—Sir Robert was the hardest worker in the service. He was to be found at his desk at all hours of the day, and often far into the night. Although it is the custom of the service to allow a two-year vacation to all Europeans who complete eight years of service, Sir Robert has never availed himself heretofore of that privilege. He left Peking only four times in more than 36 years. He kept track of the smallest detail of his great organization, and insisted upon personal reports being made to him by the heads of all the departments.

To the ordinary observer, familiar with the character of the Chinese, with Oriental aloofness and antipathy to Western ideals, it is little short of marvellous that Sir Robert Hart should have been able to exert the great influence which he did. His wonderful rise is due, in a large measure, to his tact. He is a born diplomat. As an instance of this, there is a good story told by his colleagues at Peking. Of late years it has been the constant practice of the officials of the Tsung-li-Yamen (foreign office) to ask for the advice of Sir Robert on all important international questions. Almost without exception

HIS DECISIONS WERE ADOPTED.

But in spite of the fact that he was virtually a deciding factor in these conferences he always took care to pretend that he did not know it. When invited to be seated in the presence of the Chinese officials, Sir Robert invariably sat on the edge of his chair, which, in China, is a sign of humility and submission.

Lady Hart and her children returned to England 27 years ago, and Sir Robert has not seen them since. They have been expecting him home year by year during all that time. He is 73 years old, but still believes that he has a decade of work left in his little body.

The life story of this man reads like a veritable romance. He was born in 1835 in Epsom-down, a little town in the north of Ireland. He joined the merchant service in a humble capacity at the age of eighteen. Landing in China in 1854 he deserted and secured a job as a student interpreter in the Hong Kong consulate. Nine years later, when he was only 28 years of age, he became inspector general of the imperial Chinese customs at a salary of $40,000 a year, and thus began his gigantic task of creating a modern business organization amid surroundings of superstition, ignorance, prejudice and dishonesty such as existed nowhere else in the world.

Weekly Market Letter.

A. J. Pattison & Co. in their weekly news letter to clients, report as follows: "The municipal bond market has been more active during the week than for some time past. Large blocks of municipal bonds have been taken up for investment to yield from 5 to 5 1/2 per cent."

The stock market, both in Toronto and New York, has shown unusual activity and advances in prices for the higher class of dividend payers was in a number of cases substantial. Some of the changes were from 5 to 8 points. The evidence of returning confidence in general conditions and the unprecedented accumulation of money at financial centers are factors in these results. We look for temporary recessions, but feel that purchases of the better class of stocks can be profitably made. The mining stock market has experienced very marked activity in the developed properties. Trethewey, Foster, Silver Leaf and Crown Reserve advanced from 5 to 8 points on increasing shipments of ore.

Several of the most prominent mines have, for some time been making large and profitable shipments and it is expected that some of these will be placed on a dividend basis within a short time. Trethewey and Foster appear to be well managed and are making an excellent showing.

Following are the weekly shipments from Cobalt camp, and those from January 1st to date:

Week ending May 9th since January 1st.

Buffalo 46,290, 563,810, Coniagos 380,910, Cobalt Lake 180,610, Crown Reserve 40,000, Cobalt Central 107,180, City of Cobalt 338,600, Drummond 92,340, Foster 66,800, 238,400, Kerr Lake 330,710, King Edward 127,240, La Rose 40,000, 1,901,652, McKinley 60,000, 1,183,900, Nipissing 122,240, 1,230,870, Nova Scotia 120,790, Nancy Helen 140,420, O'Brien 127,500, 1,763,070, Right of Way 60,470, 120,680, Provincial 143,210, Standard 39,730, Silver Queen 524,200, Silver Cliff 52,000, Silver Leaf 132,800, Townsite 85,100, Temiskaming 237,250, Temiskaming H. & B. 529,000, Trethewey 679,916, Watts 114,420.

THE IMPORTANCE OF INTELLIGENCE

The character and the destiny which are involved are too momentous for parents to permit their children to grow up in ignorance, to leave them exposed to the corrupting influences of the street or the school, or to leave their children in the developing years without sympathy and wise counsel, or in the opening years of manhood and womanhood to leave them to learn by a series of sad blunders and terrible consequences what they should have been taught in a thoughtful and serious way.

Intelligence on these subjects is of utmost importance. Without intelligence, vice and eventual debilitation are most certain. The young should by all means be made intelligent, but intelligence alone will not always save them. To intelligence should be added moral instruction and religious character. When there is only moral training without intelligence, there is but little security against vicious habits; and when there is intelligence upon these subjects without moral principle or religious character, the security is not fully sufficient. But when the young have proper knowledge upon these sacred subjects and are not only intelligent, but are guided by right precepts and religious principles, they will be held to right courses of conduct and a pure life by an abiding moral character.

CANDOR AND SAFETY.

"Don't you consider it honorable to tell a man his faults to his face?" queried the youth. "Yes," replied the wise guy, "but I consider it safer to tell them to his neighbor."

Clothes may not make the man, but paying for his wife's clothes may break him.

Antwerp and Amsterdam are two of the healthiest of European cities.

FRAUDS OF FASTING MEN.

Senseless Exhibitions Which Defraud the Public.

A "fasting-man," who did not fast, has been pounced upon by the police in Vienna, and sentenced to a term of imprisonment, together with a "watcher," who was his accomplice in defrauding the public.

The plan adopted was simple, yet very ingenious. The alleged fasting-man wore many striking coats, which he changed several times daily. Before these were introduced into the "hunger house," they were regularly offered to the spectators for examination, but none ever detected anything edible in, on or about them, until a baby accidentally got hold of one, and commenced sucking at a button, with every sign of evident enjoyment.

This led to closer investigation, when it was discovered that chocolate, and not brown bone, as had been supposed, formed the material from which the buttons in question were made.

Similar frauds are not uncommon at these senseless exhibitions. One favorite device is to drink large draughts of water, in which a quantity of caster sugar has been previously dissolved. In this way a pound or more of nourishing food is taken into the system daily.

Another plan was made public owing to a county court case, which was heard some time back in East London. The "fasting-man" in this instance, it transpired, had been fed from outside the building, by means of a concealed tube, with real turtle soup, beef extract, chicken broth, custard, milk, cream, port wine jelly, and other similar liquid luxuries.

MARTYRS FOR SCIENCE'S SAKE.

Brave Men Who Sacrifice Their Lives for Humanity.

Death has been very busy lately amongst the select band of scientists whose lives have been devoted to original research on behalf of suffering humanity.

Edison has just been operated upon—for the second time—for X-ray dermatitis, the terrible and mysterious malady which killed his principal laboratory assistant, Mr. Clarence Dally, in October, 1905.

Dr. Hall-Edwards, of the Birmingham General Hospital, has lost his left arm from the same cause, and expects very shortly to lose his right. Professor Goetz was killed by the disease in 1903; Dr. Blacker, of St. Thomas's Hospital, fell a victim in the year following; and almost on the very last day of the year 1905, the distinguished Dr. M. Radiguet passed away, after enduring indescribable agony.

Only a few months prior to this latter sad occurrence, there occurred the terrible tragedy at the Government laboratory at Kronstadt, in which a professor and two of his assistants lost their lives through accidentally inoculating themselves with plague bacteria, with which they had been experimenting. After a similar fashion, too, perished in the prime of his life, at Oporto, in 1899, Professor Camara Prestana, of Lisbon, most distinguished among modern bacteriologists.

The eminent Dr. Virchow, Pasteur's friend and colleague, died of hydrophobia, contracted while preparing a "culture" from the spinal cord of a rabid rabbit. Thuillier the French bacteriologist, in order to study the precise action of the cholera germ on the human system, inoculated himself and died. And these instances are but typical of hundreds of others. Brave men! Martyrs, all.

9 YEARS BAD LEG HEALED BY ZAM-BUK.

Mr. C. Johnson, of Poplar Hill Creek, Athabasca Landing, Alta., says: "About nine years ago a running sore commenced on my right leg caused by a ruptured blood vessel. As time went on it got worse and my sufferings were intense. I had a very sore leg indeed, and had very small hopes of ever seeing it healed, in fact I was told by several who had known such sores that I would suffer with it for life. When I was almost in despair I heard of Zam-Buk and commenced using it. Other sores I had used caused me much suffering, but Zam-Buk soothed the pain, and as soon as the wound became clean it was only a matter of three or four days before it was healed." Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, pimples, ulcers, ringworm, and all skin diseases. All stores and druggists, 50¢ box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

NEW CURE FOR MENINGITIS.

The alarming epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis of 1904-1907 was prolific of one good result—it proved that the bacillus, Diplococcus intracellularis discovered by Weichselbaum in 1887, was the source of the disease. A commission was appointed by the board of health of the city of New York to study the disease with a view of discovering preventive and curative remedies. The special effort of this commission under Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, was to secure some anti-diplococcus serum for injection into human victims of the disease. Experimental infections were induced in certain animals for the purpose of preparing such a "curative" serum once it was shown it could be effective in experimental infections.

Cerebro-spinal meningitis is an inflammatory disease of the cerebral membranes and spinal cord. It occurs most generally in winter and spring. It is epidemic, but not directly contagious from man to man. It appears oftenest in subjects of low vitality and among the scantily nourished dwellers of tenements and slums. It may prove fatal in its fulminant form within a few hours and is therefore a dreaded scourge. The proportion of recoveries by the old methods of treatment was about twenty per cent. In the several cities where the cases under the new treatment were made, the results indicate that in forty-seven cases thirty-four recovered and thirteen died. Four of the latter were of the fulminant type and therefore past control. Eliminating these from the calculation, this changes the percentage of recoveries to 79.9 and of deaths to 20.1—just reversing the former figures. The successful cases reported, too, made complete and rapid recoveries.—June Technical World.

There are 28 candidates in the field in Toronto for Parliamentary honors. And when the smoke of battle clears away after 5 p. m., June 8th, it will be found that the conservatives have won every seat as usual. Toronto liberals and independents put up a lot of big newspaper talk till election day, but rarely ever succeed in electing their men.

In a despondent mood, Miss Martha McIntyre of Stratford, on Sunday last, a trained nurse, took her own life while her mother was at church. Deceased was a graduate of the Stratford General Hospital, and was considered a bright member of her profession. She was about 38 years of age.

Are You A Dyspeptic?—Nine people out of ten suffer from dyspepsia and don't know it. Half the pale cheeks, poor appetite and sleepless nights are the direct result of dyspepsia. The cause lies in failure of the stomach and kidneys are clogged, and unable to do their work. Nothing puts vigor into those organs so fast as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They tone up the whole digestive system, regulate and strengthen the stomach, absolutely cure dyspepsia. Simple to take and sure to cure—better try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Wm. Hagedorn, of Elderslie, had part of his left thumb taken off on Friday last. He was leading a cow by a small rope, and the animal jerked on the rope, cutting the thumb so badly that it had to be amputated at the first joint. The accident leaves Mr. Hagedorn in bad shape for the spring work that is so retarded by the wet weather.

The town of Goderich has made an offer of a large site with free water and light for a military camp grounds. It is probable that the militia authorities will accept and hold future camps there instead of at London. It is stated that the camp ground at London has been found inconveniently small for the growing corps which have to be accommodated there.

Are Your Joints Lame?—Haven't you a weak spot, a place where cold and inflammation always settles? Whether it is in the neck, side, joints or limbs—the cure is simple—a good rub with Nerviline and then apply Nerviline Porous Plaster. These great rubefacients invariably cure strain, swelling, weakness and muscular pain. There is no mystery about this. Nerviline is the most penetrating liniment known—consequently it gets where the trouble really is. Nerviline Porous Plasters are great healers and draw out congestion. Be sure you get the genuine, substitutes can't do the work.

Not long ago a young Irishman was seeking work in Southern Illinois, and among those to whom he applied was a farmer near Cairo. The farmer was attracted by the Celt's frank, cheery manner; and, while he was not in need of help, he asked, after a pause: "Can you cradle?" "Cradle?" repeated the Irishman. "Sure, I can. But, sir," he added, persuasively, "couldn't ye give me a job out of dures!"

By entering his barn one night the fore part of last week when the whole structure was practically a mass of flames, Daniel Bailey, and implement agent, of Guelph, rescued his four horses. The rescue was only effected after a difficult struggle with the animals in the flames and smoke. Mr. Bailey then staggered out utterly exhausted. So hot had been the flames that two of the horses had their halter straps burned off. The barn was destroyed and some implements lost. Sparks from a passing train are supposed to have been the cause.

By the census of 1901 the population of Walkerton was 2971. Last week a religious census of the town was completed and the population is only 2734, a decrease of 237 in 9 years. By religious denominations the Roman Catholics and Presbyterians are considerably in the lead.

A Frightful Death—Is one from suffocation and sometimes follows a bad attack of asthma. The old fashioned remedies may relieve but never cure. Best results come from Catarrhzone, which cures asthma after hope is abandoned. Its because Catarrhzone kills the Asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and labored breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system, and even old chronic experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for Bronchitis, Throat Trouble and Catarrh. Sold by all dealers in 25c and $1.00 sizes.

There is one city in the world to-day, says Saturday Night, which bears an absolutely unique distinction, and that is Detroit—the "City of Pills." This year it is estimated that Detroit manufacturers will make three quarters of the world's supply of pills, or over six billion pellets of all sizes, shapes and colors, and intended for almost every ailment of human kind. In the city are made over two thousand different varieties of pills. America is the greatest pill-consuming nation on earth, for, while Detroit pills find their way to every conceivable corner of the globe, not more than one-third of the total product leaves this country, the average consumption being something like sixty pills per capita per year.

Nearly everybody is familiar with the Switzer case, in which Eliza Jane Switzer sued her husband, Wm. Switzer, for alimony. It was before the courts on and off for about two years, the last trial taking place at the spring assizes in Walkerton in March. In this trial there was a verdict for the plaintiff, but the amount she was to receive was left to the local judge. This would have necessitated further proceedings, and to avoid this a settlement has been arrived at by which Switzer pays his wife a lump sum of $3500, she to pay her own costs. It is estimated that her costs will amount to about $1500.

Agricultural conditions in the vicinity of Milverton are assuming a serious aspect owing to exceedingly late spring and recent wet weather, which has rendered it impossible to make any progress in seeding operations. Although there is a large acreage to be planted, so far very little has been sown. The wheat and clover wintered well and farmers have been optimistic regarding this season's crop until recent wet period set in. Grass shows slight improvement, which will be welcomed in the absence of fodder, as cattle have come out very thin, making it difficult to secure butchers' cattle.

OUR NATIONAL DANGER.

TIME TO CRY A HALT BEFORE COMPLETE WRECK RESULTS.

There are thousands, both men and women, who do not take time to eat properly. They rush through life, and as a result we have an age of indigestion, nervousness, irritability, sleepless nights and morose disposition. Our national danger is stomach weakness, due to the strenuous life.

Mi-o-na tablets strengthen the walls of the stomach and stimulate secretion of the digestive juices. They make the stomach comfortable and cure indigestion. Sick headaches, palpitation, yellow skin and coated tongue are a few of the many distressing results of indigestion that Mi-o-na never fails to cure. J. Coates sells Mi-o-na in 50c. boxes, and guarantee to refund money if it does not give complete satisfaction.

Wingham has a religious sect peculiar to itself, composed of about twenty-five people who seceded from the Methodist church there. Their meetings are held in a hall over a blacksmith shop. Here vigorous discourses are held in an unknown tongue, which the members themselves say they do not understand. They call themselves the "Holy Howlers."

A minister accepted a call to a new church in a town where many of the members bred horses, and occasionally raced them. A few weeks later he was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation for Lucy Grey. Willingly and gladly he did so for three Sundays. On the fourth, one of the deacons told the minister he need not do it any more. "Why," asked the good man, with an anxious look, "is she dead?" "Oh, no," said the deacon, "she's won the steeple-chase."

Toronto exhibition will be held this year from August 29 to September 14th. The prize lists are now being circulated and there is promise that the great fair will be well up to former standards. Fifty thousand dollars will be distributed in prizes.

Tired nerves with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter time, the circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by J. Coates.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.
TORONTO.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 61 loads, composed of 848 cattle, 995 hogs, 279 sheep and 227 calves.

The quality of fat cattle was not as good as last week's deliveries.

On account of the light delivery of cattle, prices were firm at Monday's quotations, when quality is considered.

Exporters—Few exporters were on sale, and prices ranged from $5.75 to $6.10; export bulls sold at from $4.50 to $5.25, and one or two of extra quality sold at a little more money.

Butchers—Butchers' cattle sold at about the same prices as on Monday, best loads selling up from $5.50 to $5.80; medium, $5.15 to $5.40; common, $4.75 to $5.10; cows, $3 to $5, according to quality.

Feeders and Stockers—H. & W. Murray report a few lots on sale, with prices unchanged. Good steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $4.75 to $5 per cwt; good steers, 900 to 1000 lbs each, at $4.25 to $4.75; good steers, 800 to 900 lbs each, at $3.90 to $4.25; good steers, 600 to 900 lbs. each, at $3.25 to $3.90; light stockers 400 to 600 lbs each, at $3 to $3.25.

Milkers and Springers—There was an excellent market for the best class of cows, but common, light cows were not in demand. Prices ranged at from $30 to $60 each, the bulk of the good selling at $45 to $55 each.

Veal Calves—Prices for veal calves remained about the same, at $3 to $5 per cwt. A few of the best sold as high as $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs—Sheep sold at $5 to $5.50 per cwt; rams at $4 to $4.50; yearlings, $6.50 to $7.50; spring lambs sold at $3.50 to $6 each.

Hogs—Mr. Harris reported the market unchanged at $6 for selects and $5.75 for lights.

NEW ELECTION LAWS.

The writs ordering the election of a member of the Legislature in each constituency have been sent out to the returning officers throughout the province, and cases containing ballot boxes, papers and necessary paraphernalia are now being shipped to them for use on June 8th. The writs were in force from 11 o'clock Monday. This means that all those who have been nominated by party conventions to contest ridings, or have announced their intention to seek election, become amenable to be provisions of the law governing the conduct of candidates. The law as it now stands says that any person is guilty of bribery and liable to a fine of $100, and imprisonment for six months, who gives or promises money, employment, gift or loan to any voter for voting, or refraining from voting. The same penalties attach for the offence of accepting or applying, either before or after the election, for consideration for voting or refraining from voting. Candidates may not provide refreshments at any public meeting, on pain of a fine of $100. The same applies to other persons, although refreshments may be provided by the host at a meeting held in a private house. Treating makes a candidate or his agent liable to a fine of $200. It is not a sufficient defence that a person charged with the corrupt practice has been in the habit of treating. Betting in order to influence an election, is an offence, as is also the hiring of conveyances by the candidate or his agents, and the supplying of transportation to the voters to the polls. Persons providing conveyances for consideration are also guilty of a corrupt act.

IN ANOTHER FORM.

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell tells with keen enjoyment of the experience of a medical friend of his who engaged a nurse, recently graduated, for a case of delirium tremens. The physician succeeded in quieting the patient and left some medicine, instructing the nurse to administer it to him if he "began to see snakes again." At the next call he found the patient again raving. To his puzzled inquiry the nurse replied that the man had been going on that way for several hours, and that she had not given him any medicine.

"But didn't I tell you to give it to him if he began to see snakes again?" demanded the physician.

"But he didn't see snakes this time," replied the nurse confidently. "He saw red, white and blue turkeys with straw hats on."

A young man named John Graham was so seriously injured in the Dobbinton sawmill on Saturday that he may not survive. A stick flew off a saw, striking him in the face, cutting and crushing it terribly. He is a son of Mr. John Graham, 10th Elderslie, and a very well known young man.

CATARRH NOW CURABLE

BUT NEVER BY MEDICINE SWALLOWED,
SNUFFS, SPRAYS OR DOUCHES.

Catarrh is not a blood disease and that is why it cannot be cured by any medicine taken into the stomach. Catarrh is a germ trouble contracted from the germ-laden air you breathe inward. These germs fasten themselves in the tissues and air cells of the breathing organs, multiply by millions, causing sneezing, coughing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, difficulty in breathing, hoarseness, dryness and stoppage of the nose, tickling in the throat and other symptoms that can only be reached by the dry air principal of Hyomei.

It medicates the air you breathe with the curative properties of the Australian Eucalyptus Forests where catarrh is unknown.

The reason you get relief in a minute or two from Hyomei is because it destroys every catarrhal germ in the air you breathe, and its dry penetrating aroma will reach the innermost recesses of the air passages, killing millions of germs a minute. Their destruction means freedom for oppressed respiratory organs. J. Coates sells Hyomei under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Price $1.00.

A GOOD TIME TO STAY IN.

(Live Stock World.)

Getting out of the hog business at this juncture will prove poor policy. It is the logical time to stay in.

The average producer with a penchant for jumping out when prices are low and getting in on ever boom, invariably misses the mark at which he shoots.

"Jim" Hill, the railroad magnate, owes much of his success to reversing the methods of the average railroad developer. It took nerve to do it, but results count and Hill can show them.

Hill built across the continent during a period of financial and commercial stagnation. Wise ones predicted that he was headed towards bankruptcy, but he had peered into the future and realized that the road he was building would be taxed to its full capacity when prosperity in its turn, came along.

He built that road 40 per cent. cheaper than if construction had been delayed five years, and had it ready for operation when it was needed.

The man who sticks to the hog-breeding proposition now will have porkers to market at good prices when the fickle ones are deploring their bad luck which diverted energies in other channels. They are the will-of-the-wisp chasers.

The people of this country will consume more hog product next year than this. Some will quit breeding and an over-supply is impossible. Stick to the game, use only good breeding stock, house and treat your herd intelligently and you will not regret it.

Private Moir, the slayer of Sergt. Lloyd, was committed by police magistrate Love of London to stand his trial at the September assizes on a charge of murder.

This is the Best Time for Spring Medicine.

Taken now the blood is renewed, disease germs are destroyed, good summer health assured.

That peculiar weakness so common in the spring, is demoralizing to body and mind alike.

Stupid, absent-minded and dull, you feel the need of a stimulating tonic.

To impart quickness and great vitality to the entire system nothing acts like Ferrozone. In a short time it makes you feel fit and fine, creates a feeling of youth and strength that's surprising.

Ferrozone revives and braces the sick because it nourishes and builds up the organs that are weak. As a spring tonic, appetizer and blood strengthener it is unequalled.

A well-known resident of Utopia, Ont. Mr. H. H. Postle writes: From long experience I am convinced that everyone requires medicine in the spring. As a rule the blood is thin and impure and the whole system is congested with poisons that should be carried off. I use Ferrozone because it clears the system, gives you an appetite and makes you feel well. One winter I had a serious palpitation of the heart, nervous headaches and an extreme tired feeling. Sleep was not restful and by spring I was in bad shape. I took six boxes of Ferrozone and was made the picture of health.

Ferrozone makes permanent cures. Absolutely safe because it is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol. Concentrated cure in tablet form, — that's Ferrozone, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

June bugs are a plague this year, or the next thing to it. Farmers report that they are eating the leaves off the trees. This bug and grub question is becoming serious, and the people are beginning to realize more and more every year the value of birds. The man or boy who kills a bird or robs a birds' nest is an enemy to the whole community.

Weak Kidneys
Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.
If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

TO SAVE THE DROWNING

Surgeon Advocates Cutting Open the Chest and Working the Heart by Hand.

A despatch from Hartford, Conn., says: It is believed by Dr. D. F. Sullivan, who, while operating on Nuncio C. Chial at St. Francis' Hospital on Sunday, twice saved his patient from death by gently grasping the heart and squeezing it in time with its normal pulsations until it beat again of its own accord, that many lives might be saved by this method of artificial respiration. To all appearances the man was dead twice, and yet he lived again when the heart was squeezed, sending the blood coursing through the arteries. Dr. Sullivan thinks that if a person could be operated upon immediately after being taken from the water in many drowning cases life might be conserved. He advocates opening the body and removing the ribs until the heart is visible and is accessible, in order that the figures may be inserted to handle it. In many accidents life still lingers long after the person seems to have ceased to breathe.

TWO LADS DROWNED.

Their Canoe Caught in a Current in the Rideau River. A despatch from Ottawa says: Chas. P. Gamble, aged 18, a junior reporter of the Ottawa Citizen, and Aubrey Monk, aged 11, both residents of Ottawa, South, were drowned at Black Rapids, on the Rideau River on Sunday morning while on their way home from a fishing trip. Two other lads, Geo. Monk, aged 17, and Addis Lewis, aged 14, composed the party which started out on Saturday afternoon on an expedition after mask-nonge. They had good sport and tented for the night above the rapids. After fishing for a while on Sunday morning they packed up and started for home. Lewis, who had a presentiment that something was going to happen, would not enter the canoe, but started to walk home. The other three lads paddled down stream, intending to portage round the rapids, but their canoe was caught in the swift water and carried over the weir adjacent to the Black Rapids lock, a drop of about 13 feet. Geo. Monk swam to shore, but Gamble and the younger Monk were, it is thought, hurled against the heavy timbers and drowned. The bodies have been recovered.

OIL FUEL FOR THE NAVY.

British Experts Will Look For it in Canada. A despatch from New York says: On the steamship St. Louis, which arrived from Southampton on Sunday were Major J. D. D. Graham, formerly of the British army, and Mr. J. D. Henry, an English oil expert, who are going to Canada to ascertain their capability of furnishing fuel for the British navy. "The British Admiralty," said Major Graham, "has used a great deal of American oil from the Texas fields, transporting it in its own tank steamers, and its marine experts, believing that oil is to be the naval fuel of the future, have determined to locate every supply that can be found in the British colonies. Our idea in seeking for our own supplies under our own control is the possibility that if war were to break out we might be declared contraband of war, and Great Britain's navy, without a supply of the new fuel controlled at home, would be in a serious plight."

TORNADO DESTROYS TOWN.

Number of Persons are Reported Killed in Louisiana. A despatch from Atlanta, Georgia, says: According to information received in this city a tornado struck parts of Louisiana on Wednesday, causing loss of life in Gilliam, Oil City and Balinger. Telegraphic communication is interrupted, but reports say that the storm started north of Shreveport, swept along to Little Rock, Texas, and is central over Texas. It is reported that Gilliam, Louisiana, a town of 200 inhabitants, is wiped out and that a number of lives have been lost. Oil City is also reported destroyed with a loss of life, and a number of persons injured. Balinger, La., is reported seriously damaged, with three persons killed and ten injured.

PRISONERS SLAUGHTERED

Desperate Attempt to Break Out of a Russian Jail Frustrated.

A despatch from Yekaterinoslav, Russia, says: The attempt made on Tuesday by prisoners to break out of the Government jail here after making a breach in the wall of the guardroom with a bomb was a complete failure, but it brought about a horrible scene of slaughter in and around the jail building. Twenty-eight of the prisoners were shot to death by the guard, and another of them has since died of his wounds. Thirty others were wounded, and it is expected that several of these will succumb. As soon as the bomb was thrown one of the detachments of prisoners charged the guards in the court room and attempted to climb the wall. Twelve of these men were killed instantly, while others were wounded. At the same time a second body of prisoners rushed into the kitchen and seizing knives and other weapons attempted to cut their way to liberty. They were surrounded and killed to a man by the soldiers, who were hastily summoned by the prison authorities. The explosion threw the whole prison into a state of panic. The inmates who took no part in the plot gathered in the windows overlooking the courtyard. They were ordered to draw back, but refused, whereupon the guards fired volleys into the open windows. Two prisoners were shot down while attempting to escape over the roof of the building. So far as is known, not one succeeded in getting away. The chief warden of the prison is among the wounded.

CATTLE MARKET.

Toronto, May 19.—No material change was noticeable in the live stock situation at the City Cattle Market. The trade in the commoner grades was, if anything, a trifle slower, as a large proportion of the offerings were of this class. Only a few cattle suitable for export were on sale, and these were not of any very fancy quality. The highest price paid was around $6. Export bulls brought from $4.50 to $5. Good cattle for butchering are most in demand, and bring as good prices as export cattle. Cows and bulls are steady. Very few stockers and feeders are being marketed now, as most of the farmers are able to put them on the grass. A load of short-keep feeders is going to pasture for finishing up sold as high as $5.65. There is a steady demand for good milk cows, which will fetch from $40 to $60. The heavy run of calves has caused a break of half a cent in the price, and the market for them was very slow. Sheep and lambs are firm, and the best

SEARCH FOR THE VICTIMS

Work Is Continuing on the Laporte Murder Farm.

A despatch from Laporte, Indiana, says: The Guinness death farm on Thursday gave up more corroborative evidence as to the extent of the tragedies there. Two more watches were found in the debris of the ruined house, and these, taken in connection with nine previously discovered, show that at least one more person met death on the place. The bodies of nine male victims have been unearthed, but ten men's watches have been discovered. Sheriff Smutzer announced after the finding of Thursday that he will resume digging operations with the hope of uncovering additional skeletons. A number of globules of metal found in the mining operations are being examined by experts to see whether they are bits of gold used by dentists for fillings or crowns of teeth. The discovery of the supposed missing left hand of the body of Mrs. Guinness, with two rings that make its identity clear still more conclusive, leaves little room for doubt that the proprietress of the murder farm paid for her crime in her own house of death. The initials engraved inside the rings show conclusively that they belonged to Mrs. Guinness. The attorneys for Lamphere are said to be looking for David Havens, who, it is reported, aided in uncovering the bodies of the persons whom Lamphere is accused of murdering. The attorneys claim that Havens has declared that when the bodies were found in the cellar of the Guinness home on April 28 they were lying on the floor, and that there was no debris under them. They assert that testimony to this effect at the trial will do much to clear their client of the charges against him, arguing that the circumstances show that the bodies had been placed in the cellar previous to the beginning of the fire which destroyed the farmhouse.

SERIES OF ROBBERIES.

Large Sums of Money Stolen in Winnipeg Post-Office. A despatch from Winnipeg says: A series of robberies extending over several months has been going on in the Winnipeg post-office, and the sum stolen aggregates a very large amount; it is believed not less than $12,000. Officials refuse to discuss the matter, and consequently it is impossible to ascertain the correct figures, but the sum cannot be less than stated. A number of packages, containing from $800 to $2,000 have disappeared as mysteriously within the building as though they had sunk into the ground, indicating that the thief is some person who has the handling of the money entrusted to him, and that he is clever and systematic in his operations.

BOMB IN CALCUTTA.

Exploded on One of the Main Streets of the Indian Quarter. A despatch from Calcutta says: A bomb that had been placed on the car track of one of the principal streets in the Indian quarter was exploded on Friday morning by a cart passing over it. Four persons were injured, one of them critically. The cart was blown to smithereens. The miscreants who placed the bomb evidently intended that it should blow up a car containing white people. Pamphlets were circulated last week warning Bengalis not to ride in first-class or other carriages in which Europeans were travelling.

KING EDWARD WILL ATTEND

Ward-Reid Wedding to be Held in the Chapel Royal. A despatch from London says: Miss Jean Reid, daughter of the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, Whiteley Reid, and Mr. John Hubert Ward, brother of the Earl of Dudley and quarry-in-waiting to King Edward, will be married in the Chapel Royal of St. James' Palace, June 23. King Edward will be present at the ceremony, and Queen Alexandra will also probably attend. The wedding is being held in June to allow the Earl of Dudley to be present. The Earl will leave London early in June for Australia, where he is to take up the duties of Governor-General.

MINERS MUST NOT DRINK.

New Regulation by One of Steel Trust's Subsidiary Companies. A despatch from Pittsburgh, Pa., says: The H. B. Frick Coke Company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, has ordered into effect a new code of rules governing its mines and miners, the most remarkable provision of which is the prohibiting of the company's miners from drinking, whether on duty or off.

are bringing slightly higher prices. Although not many hogs are offering, they are not wanted, and the market for them is weak at $6, fed and watered, off cars, Toronto.

FARM HANDS AND DOMESTICS.

Immigration Department Issues Notice Specifying Classes Wanted. A despatch from Ottawa says: The superintendent of immigration issued a notice on Thursday that the only classes of immigrants wanted in Canada at the present time are experienced farm laborers, farmers financially able to take homesteads or purchase lands, and female domestic servants. The demand for railway labor is filled for this season. All concerned are requested to note that the regulation now in operation in Canada requiring every immigrant 18 years of age or over, to have in his possession at least $25 cash at the time of landing, besides ticket to destination, will be enforced strictly and impartially in the case of all immigrants outside of the classes above mentioned.

PLAYED TOO NEAR BONFIRE.

Kingston Child Suffers Probable Fatal Burns. A despatch from Kingston says: A six-year-old child named Edith Millard, of Pine street, was badly burned on Saturday afternoon while playing near a bonfire. Before neighbors could put out the blaze her body from legs to her hair was scorched severely. The doctors say there is little chance for her recovery.

CAPT. KINGSMILL PROMOTED.

Commander of Canadian Protective Services Now a Rear-Admiral. A despatch from London says: Capt. Kingsmill, who commanded the Canada when she visited the Dominion, and who was recently appointed commander of the Canadian marine and fisheries protective services, has been promoted to be a rear-admiral.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH.

Mrs. Cook, Elm Creek, Manitoba, Left House for a Moment. A despatch from Elm Creek, Man., says: The infant daughter of Thomas Cook was burned to death on Wednesday evening in a fire which caught from the cook stove during the absence of its mother, who stepped outside for a minute or two.

Twenty-six hundred cotton operatives in Montreal have accepted the 10 per cent. reduction and returned to work. The barge Resolute, wrecked off the western gap, Toronto, in November, 1906, has been raised and towed into the John street slip.

TEN THOUSAND DROWNED

Were Swept to Death By a Tidal Bore at Hankow, China.

A despatch from Victoria, B. C., says: News of one of the greatest disasters that China has known, a sudden tidal bore, in the Yangtsekiang, which involves the loss of nearly 10,000 lives at Hankow, was brought by the steamer Titan, which arrived on Tuesday night. A bore twenty-six feet in height flooded without warning down the river, overwhelming thousands of junks, sampans and small boats, and wrecking some large river steamers.

great typhoon at Hong Kong of eighteen months ago, when ten thousand lives were snuffed out. It is usual, said Mr. Bell, to send a telegram down the river when such a freshet occurs. The telegram was delayed, finally arriving about the same time as the wall of water, which swept down on the sleeping river people in the early morning, overturning thousands of craft, and sweeping away thousands of Chinese in the torrent that swept seaward. The scenes for many days after the disaster were horrible, the river side being strewn with dead and debris of wrecked craft for many miles.

A Broken Vow;

—OR—

BETTER THAN REVENGE.

CHAPTER XIII.

Martin Blake—painter—something of a recluse—and with but few friends in the world, had had that little world upset. Every man in love must of necessity be selfish; in that he places the woman on whom his affections are set in a certain position, from which she is not to move until he calls her. In just such a fashion, with the best intentions in the world he had seen his small Princess in the little lodging-house in Greenways' Gardens—and in other places before that. He was to work, knowing fully well what was to happen in the time to come; and she was to grow up until the moment should arrive when he could tell her—(he had rehearsed it is often, and knew the exact words)—that he loved her, and wanted her to be his wife. There was this of unselfishness about it, that the man had hovered over her like a species of guardian angel ever since she had been a child, and had been a very real friend to her.

And now the castle had toppled down. He stood aside, to watch another story in which he was not to play the hero; and to watch that from the proper point of view needed some courage, much of resignation, and more of philosophy.

Quite suddenly, the man seemed to have grown old; began to wonder how, at his age, he could ever have thought that so bright a little fairy as Lucy Ewing could be brought to view him in anything but the light of a friend. He had been a young man—somewhat elderly for his years—when she had been a little child.

So he fought his battle steadily—going away for a few days into solitary places in the country, and working hard and gradually gaining something of a victory for himself. And so came back, not entirely heart-whole, but still in a mood to view the new changes with something of equanimity; indeed he came to look upon the matter as something so settled and done with, that he blamed himself a little for his desertion and determined to plunge at once into the life of the girl again, and to be simply what he had always been—her friend.

So generous, indeed, was the mind of the man, and so much did he want, now that that better mood was on him, to make her happy, that he determined he would do something to smooth away any difficulties in the path of the lovers; that, at least, should be his privilege. He had heard, of course, of the coming of Aunt Phipps, because Lucy had carried all her news first to him, as she had always done; he had heard, too, of the suggestion that the love-story might not end as it should do, by reason of this same Aunt Phipps. That was not to be thought of for a moment; the lovers must be taught their business better than that. And that was why Martin Blake determined to give a supper party.

Now, under ordinary circumstances, there should be nothing difficult about such an affair as that; you simply invite your guests, and provide what is necessary and proper for them to eat. At least, that is how all properly constituted supper parties should be arranged; but as there was nothing properly constituted about Martin Blake or his studio, difficulties arose.

In the first place, such a thing had never been done before in the place, which was the very best of reasons, according to his landlady, why it should not be done now. Difficulties were pointed out by that worthy soul, which appeared at first to be insurmountable. She was not to be expected to do more than cook the chop or steak or simple dish which satisfied Martin on ordinary occasions. Certain wild ideas in Martin's mind as to cold fowls and things of that sort were scouted as absurd; salads were out of date, and fowls not to be depended upon save in an egg-laying capacity; and even then they sometimes, to use her own expression—"ran to rusty."

Then it was that Martin Blake had a brilliant idea, for which he could never afterwards be sufficiently grateful. A subtle idea, too; one of those ideas that strike one suddenly, and cause pleasant tinglings of anticipation all over you. And the idea was so simple, that it is wonderful he had not thought of it before.

He went to Odley. Odley the wonderful, who had had experience of life from so many points of view, and must, in all probability, have been borne off forcibly to supper parties by the dozen. The very woman in a crisis—a woman with a heart. He told her, simply and truthfully, that he wished to give a little supper to three people—himself and two others—at his studio; was it such a formidable matter as it at first appeared?

"Depends on the parties, sir," said Odley, cautiously. "There's then I've met that would have sat down, sir, to a ham-bone with nothing left but the frill, and have thought it was soon; there's others might have had slaves to wait on 'em, and liver wings, and things in jelly, and the Lord knows what, and wouldn't have been satisfied."

"I see," said Martin thoughtfully. "It only shows what a lot you know, Odley. Now, I have no wish to be parsimonious—but mine are of the ham-bone and frill variety. They simply won't know what they're eating."

"Then I should off to the pou at once, sir, and ask him for a bit a bit stringy; it's be cheap, and it 'em something to toy with and get both into. Though who they that won't know what they're passes me."

"Guess, my dear Odley," he said. "They can't be young—because young are particular, in a certain about what they eat. I can't think who it can be," said Odley.

"Yet you, of all people, you know," said Martin, with a "Come, Odley; in all those amazing scales in your varied career, when and hearts were literally flung at feet—how was your appetite?"

"Pretty hearty, sir," replied Odley. "The other parties may have suffered but I never noticed it in the bills, to that, sir, they was pretty much same each week, no matter what state of the feelings. But I think gin to understand, sir; and if I make a guess—they are young—and are in love."

"Excellent Odley!—you have guessed at once," said Martin. "In a way want to have Lucy and—and some else to supper with me, so that we come to a regular understanding, know just where we are."

"And me talking about cheap stringy chickens!" exclaimed Odley in dismay. "The best you can give sir, and the finest. But why not her?" she added slyly.

"You mean—Lucy?" He looked at with a brightening face. "I thought of that, Odley. What a capital idea!"

"Appeal to her, sir; tell her that you got parties coming, just as you've me; and let her do it all. Then, at last moment, tell her who the are. See how she'll plan and and arrange it all; she's done it but plan and contrive all her life child."

"Odley—you're an angel," said quite seriously. "Not a word to this is going to be the real s my life."

Lucy Ewing entered into the with spirit. But for the fact joyful surprise was to come at Martin would have blamed her the enormous amount of work put upon her, for she understood, of course, that it must not be an matter, but that it must, above all, be something quite out of the ordinary. Although she wondered a little fortunate people were to be, she was not a matter which concerned self; she would hear all about it wards.

Martin, had, of course, sent a Mr. Christopher Dayne at as late moment as possible, asking him to round that night for a friendly chat to the girl Martin said nothing, now, at the eleventh hour, he stood in his studio, watching her as she about, putting the last touches to the table she had decorated herself, the finest thing of all was to wait as she turned away, with a little at the thought of the happy people were to sit down there presently.

"Someone who's going to buy ture, Martin?" she ventured. "Someone who is going to buy ture, little girl, when he is rich and ous," he replied. "Someone who is to work hard because he's in it. Though that's no reason—is it, Lucy?" "I think it is," she replied quietly. "won't you tell me, Martin dear, what is that's coming? I want to think it—and eat that I see them sitting and eating the good things—and he a good time. Who is it?"

She had taken hold of the lapels of coat and was looking up into his. Such a friendly face it was; it had sprung upon her through all her life. wondered, as he looked down at what she would have thought if he ever said words to her of which he had dreamed; wondered what expressions he would have called into hers. ever, that didn't matter now; with hands on her shoulders he answered calmly enough:

"My dear Lucy, there's a knock at door. Do me one last kindly office or on it, will you?"

Wondering a little, she went to door of the studio and opened it. It dark outside, and whoever had knocked was not in sight at the moment stepped out on to the landing. The delighted voice spoke her name, an arm encircled her, and she felt her drawn into the studio. It was Christopher Dayne.

"So you've got here first, have you?" he exclaimed breathlessly. "Not expected to find you, you know least, that is, not for certain. I guessed old Blake would ask you well. Where is he?"

That was another surprising thing. Martin had discretely disappeared; he was rattling on again—admiring table and talking of his day, and hand and another, when Lucy put hand on his lips to stay the flow words.

"Stop—stop!" she cried, looking at him in bewilderment. "I don't understand in the least. I am not coming here to supper; I have only been getting

Frost Fences

Are Strong All Around

The laterals of a Frost Fence are High Carbon No. 9 Hard Steel Coiled Wire, thoroughly galvanized—that can't be broken until the strain reaches from 1900 to 2200 pounds.

The stays are No. 7 or this same No. 9 wire. And the two wires are locked with the Frost Locks. That braces the fence in all directions—up, down and diagonally.

We are so sure that Frost Fences are the strongest and best that we guarantee to repair, free of charge, any fence that goes wrong. That's fair, isn't it? Frost Wire Fences are for sale!
