 before purchasing a baking powder that may possibly contain injurious ingredients. Many food scientists claim that baking powder containing alum is unsafe for use in food. The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside but large quantities of it inside.

CHAPTER XXXV.
 A VILLAIN'S DOWNFALL.

"Oh, Laury, Laury!" he cried; "let us fly like the wind! I am sick and faint after this terrible night's work."
 "Poor lad!" breathed Laurence, bending a look of pitiful commiseration upon the youth's white and weary face. "These scoundrels will be on our track directly, or we would rest. Alas, I fear that the poor master has fallen a victim to their fiendish rage."
 "Poor Mr. Stewart! Oh, Laury, do you think he can have escaped?"
 "Impossible to say," replied Laurence, sadly. "We are all in higher hands, lad; and a chance may have opened for him as it has done for us. Thank Heaven the chestnut and the roan are left—if he should be able to reach them."
 Cecil hid his face in his hand and cried bitterly.
 "He was so kind to me, Laury, and—oh, I feel as if I had killed him with my own hand! What a miserable, unfortunate creature I am!"
 "Hush, lad!" said Laurence, looking round as he spoke and urging the horse on with a touch of his hand. "You did your duty, and we must all do that, come what will. There, Cecil; cry no longer. 'Tis no more use crying over spilled blood than spilled milk. Rest your head here."
 And with a gentler hand than one would have thought his strength and roughness capable of he drew the lad nearer to him, until his weary head rested upon his broad breast and the dark, luxurious hair fell upon his bride-arm.
 Thus he remained, and as the gallant horse, regardless of his double burden, sped on with swift flight and against his will, he woke Cecil by calling his name.

And the Worst is Yet to Come—

 The youth started and opened his dark eyes with a questioning gaze.
 "Laury, where are we? Ah!"—with a sigh—"I remember! Poor black; he has carried us both! I have been asleep, Laury and dreaming—dreaming so happily, too! It seems almost wicked to be happy even in sleep after such terrible things."
 Laurence helped him down with a sad smile.
 "Don't think any more of it, lad, than you can help. Thank Heaven, it is far behind now!"
 Cecil sighed.
 "What is to be done, Laury? And where are we going?"
 Laurence shook his head.
 "I don't know, lad; it is all a problem to me. For myself I care nothing. There is a home for me while the forest and plain are left. But for you, who are young and hopeful, we must find some other and better place."
 Cecil turned pale.
 "You will not leave me, Laury?" he asked, imploringly.
 "No, lad—at least, until you are safe in some place of safety. I am thinking, even now, where that place may be."
 "Why can't I stay with you, Laury?" asked the youth, his eyes filling with tears and a slight blush relieving the pallor of his face.
 "Because—for a hundred reasons, lad," said Laurence, gravely, turning as he spoke into the shelter of the trees.
 Cecil started and looked alarmed, but the next words relieved him.
 "For one, because I would not waste another's life. You are young and clever, Cecil; there should be, and are, brighter things than a cattle-runner's life awaiting you. We must go to the Bay, lad, and wait for a chance."
 Cecil turned pale, but silently helped him un saddle the black, a strange look of resolution mingled with indecision hovering over his face.
 "When shall we go, Laury?"
 "To-day, after the black is rested, lad," replied Laury. "We must get some food and drink first, and then start without loss of time."
 "Why such hurry, Laury?" asked Cecil, with averted eyes. "Are you in such haste to be rid of me?" This he said in a piqued tone and with a threatening of teeth in the dark eyes.
 A spasm of pain crossed the cattle-runner's stern face, but he replied, calmly enough:
 "No, lad. Heaven knows I'd give much to keep you with me; but duty is duty, Cecil; and as you are thrown upon my charge by fate, I'll not risk its vengeance by playing false to your welfare."
 The youth turned to him with an arch look of daring.
 "And suppose the lad, being his own master, refuses to be disposed of in this Laury-like way?"
 "Then—" retorted Laurence, but, as if unwilling to continue the discussion, broke off, and said, instead: "I am sick at heart and weary, lad. Leave it to me. What you wish is impossible. We must part at the Bay."
 Then he turned away his face as if to hide his own emotion, and, therefore, did not see the look of misery and anguish that passed over the face of Cecil.
 Some bread that happened to be in Laurence's saddle-bag and a small snipe he shot served them for dinner; which meal was eaten almost in silence, for Laurence was sad, almost to sternness, and Cecil did not trust himself to speak, because of the load of apprehension that lay upon his gentle heart.

After dinner Laurence groomed the black, and in a few words as possible intimated that they must start.

"For the Bay, Laury?" asked Cecil, with an upward glance.
 Laurence nodded, and they started—Laurence in the saddle and Cecil behind, the black taking no notice of the double burden and starting away as if the gallop of the preceding night was nothing but a shadowy dream.

In silence still they reached a wood, and here Laurence intended staying for the night.

Cecil, anxious to anticipate his every request, searched out a suitable spot and commenced building a fire, while Laurence took his revolver and lay in the bushes a few yards off, waiting for the approach of something for supper.

A small deer fell before his steady aim, and soon a couple of steaks were trying over the blaze.

And then they talked, but in a subdued tone and with a strange sort of reserve that was the result not so much of the fearful scenes they had just gone through, as of a mysterious feeling, palpable yet indescribable, that portook almost of foreboding sorrow in both hearts.

They sat watching the fire for some time after the steaks had been eaten, Laurence smoking his pipe and Cecil lying full length with his head upon his elbow and staring mournfully at the flickering flames.

Then Laurence secured the black within reach of some grass and found a secluded and sheltered little arbor for Cecil.

"Here, lad," said he, kindly; "here's almost a four-post bedstead for you. Go in and get to sleep, and I'll curl myself up before the fire."

Cecil bade him good-night and turned in as ordered, but not to sleep until the stars had lighted up the heavens and twinkled upon the still form of the man who had been a guide, monitor, and more than a friend.

On the morrow they were up early and on the road, and travelling thus, losing no time and saying but little, they had come within half a dozen miles of the Bay.

Then Cecil, able to bear no longer, burst into a quiet flood of tears and seemed heartbroken.

"Oh, Laury, don't be angry! But I am dreadful sorry that you are going to leave me! Why don't you let me stay with you? I'll try and not be a trouble."

Then, stopped by the look of suppressed emotion in the man's face, which had turned white, he hid his face in his hands and said no more.

Laurence spoke never a word, but rode on grim and stern. He could not trust himself to speak, and was ashamed of the pain that literally burned in his heart at the thought of parting with this weak, gentle-hearted boy, who had won him so mysteriously.

Pains About the Heart

ANY derangement of the heart's action is alarming. Frequently pains about the heart are caused by the formation of gas arising from indigestion.

Relief from this condition is obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chronic indigestion results from sluggish liver action, constipation of the bowels and inactive kidneys.

Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills arouse these organs to activity they thoroughly cure indigestion and overcome the many annoying symptoms.

Notes From Brigus.

The marriage of Mr. Robert Piercy to Miss Eireada Roberts, took place at the Methodist Parsonage on the 18th inst. The party motored to the Parsonage and when the ceremony was concluded, the rounds of the harbor were made, whence they proceeded to the bride's residence. We learn that the groom has purchased the house known as Critch's next to Mr. Geo. Piercy's.

Mr. F. J. Delaney, who had been superintending the fitting up of a house, which he has lately purchased in St. John's, returned home by Saturday night's train.

Pomeroy Bros. schooner Ellen M. Maxner, arrived from St. John's on the 19th inst., laden with salt and provisions.

Hon. S. J. Foots, Geo. Knowling, Esq., and friends visited the place by motor on Sunday last. Mr. Duff and friends were also up from Carbonear.

Mrs. Geo. Knowling and daughter arrived by motor on Sunday to take up her usual summer residence here.

While on his way over from the Iron Isle last week, with a cargo of coal, Mr. Richard Walker's motor boat broke down and he was forced to make the rest of the passage under sail. On his arrival here the engine was taken apart and he was obliged to go to St. John's to have the damaged parts repaired.

Two prominent citizens, gifted with more energy than judgment, were the participants in a fistic encounter on the 22nd inst. The bout, which was but a "one-round" affair, was happily terminated by the timely intervention of a passerby.

Mrs. Cantwell, widow of the late Daniel Cantwell, Esq., left for St. John's on Wednesday morning to spend a time with friends. From there she will proceed to Halifax for a few months, thence to Boston, where she will in future reside with her daughter.

Mr. Fred Bartlett, of the Heart's Content Cable Office, who had been spending the week-end at home, returned to work by Monday morning's train.

Miss Alice Bartlett, of the Postal Telegraph Office, went to St. John's by Monday morning's train and returned again at night.

On Monday, the 21st inst., Mr. Richard Whelan passed peacefully out of this life at the ripe old age of 88 years. Deceased had been in failing health for years past so that his end was not unexpected. Left to mourn are his widow, two sons and two daughters. The funeral took place at 9.30 a.m. yesterday to the R. C. Cemetery; the remains being followed by a large gathering of citizens.

Though the rains of the past few days have been both a benefit and a dire necessity for small seeds and plants, even with such rains the hay crop will, in numerous instances, be a complete failure. The drought of the early season has had a lifting effect on meadow ground, with the result that next fall hay will be an item of considerable value.

Messrs. Washer and Roberts, contractors and builders, have been engaged during the week painting the double residence of Capt. Harold Bartlett.

The following of the Labrador fleet have sailed during the week for their respective destinations: J. W. Hiscock's Vendetta, C. Cram, master, left on the 19th inst., via the North Shore, where she called to collect crews; the Springwood, P. Driscoll, master, another of Hiscock's which had been at Conception Harbor taking freighters, returned here on the 21st inst., and after receiving on board her Brigus crews continued her voyage. The Frank, J. Burke, master, left on the 21st inst.; the Sunshine, A. Roberts, master, Pomeroy's, Ellen M. Maxner, and "Hayes" 15-ton Soo Blossom, are ready to sail this evening. We wish them one and all Godspeed, a prosperous voyage and a safe return.

Up to the present codfish has been remarkable for its absence. A few hand-liners have been endeavouring to place some on the market, but their catches are limited both as to size and quality. Perhaps the absence of caplin, which fish have not yet appeared, would account for the scarcity of the cod.

The schooner Clarence B., arrived on Friday, the 18th inst., with a cargo of provisions for C. A. Jerrett. She sailed again on the 21st inst., for salt which could not be procured on her previous trip.

F. G. Jerrett, Esq., went to the city by yesterday's train.

Rev. Dr. Whelan, of North River, and Rev. Dr. Murphy, F.F., Brigus, went to the city by motor this morning.

Eight Hour Day For Seamen.

Ships at Sea May Have to Heave-to on Sundays -- Greeks Launch Offensive Against Turks -- Big Salaries Criticised in British Commons -- China Has Civil War Raging--Fishery Treaty Between Canada and U. S. Regarded Unfavorably.

BUT WHAT OF STORMS.

GENOA, June 24.
 The commission of the International Seamen's Conference, which has been examining into the question of the eight hour day and forty-eight hour week on shipboard, yesterday voted seventeen to thirteen in favor of the proposition. Those opposed to the measure were Government delegates from Great Britain, India, Norway and Sweden and nine delegates representing shipowners. Those in favor of the proposal were the Government delegates of France, Germany, Holland, Japan, Italy, Spain, and a French shipowners' delegate and ten Seamen's delegates.

GREEKS TAKE OFFENSIVE.

SMYRNA, June 24.
 The Greek Army has begun an offensive against the forces of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, according to an official statement issued by the Greek Headquarters to-day.

A DANGEROUS PROPHECY.

LONDON, June 24.
 A possible new policy of dealing with the Irish situation was foreshadowed to-day, when the Attorney General for Ireland told the House of Commons that the Government had received an offer of the services of three thousand officers and men from the Ulster ex-service men's association, and added that the offer was being carefully considered. English Liberal newspapers have had rumors that such a step was under consideration, and have expressed the view that it would greatly inflame Irish animosity. Soldiers employed in Ireland, thus far, have been Regiments from the British side of the Channel, and it was commented that the use of soldiers from one Irish faction might result in step towards civil war.

OIL SHARKS IN THE NET.

NEW YORK, June 24.
 Four oil companies, ten brokerage houses and about fifty individuals have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud investors of millions of dollars, it was learned to-day, when seals on the indictment were ordered broken. Federal agents in cities throughout the United States are now engaging in rounding up the men indicted. They are charged with having made gross misrepresentations regarding oil properties, and with paying out of money obtained from the sale of stocks.

EXTRAVAGANT SALARIES.

LONDON, June 24.
 Premier Lloyd George, answering questions in the House to-day, said the Government intended to undertake reform of the House of Lords during the present parliament. Germany, he announced, would be invited to join the League of Nations when she showed a desire to fulfill the Peace Treaty obligations. Several questions regarding the fate of the Kaiser were put and to one questioner the Premier replied, "Your friend is not safe yet." In a brisk debate in supply on a vote for the Transport Ministry, one of the departments was most persistently condemned for extravagance. New points of attack were developed, special criticism being levelled on the high salaried staff, but Sir Eric Geddes put up a vigorous defense. His written answer to a parliamentary question, available to-day, shows that two hundred and ten officials in Government Departments are receiving two thousand pounds a year or more.

HOLDING UP TRAIN SERVICE.

LONDON, June 24.
 Reports to the Irish Office to-day say that the Irish railway deadlock owing to the refusal of railwaymen to operate trains with munitions, troops or police aboard is spreading. No trains are leaving Limerick, according to the report.

ANTHRACITE TROUBLES.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.
 The effects of the railroad yardmen's strike have reached the anthracite coal regions and, it is said to-day, that both production and shipments of hard coal would be at a standstill unless there is a speedy improvement in the situation. Reports from Pottsville and Reading said that large numbers of the leading railway men have joined the walkout.

CHINA'S CIVIL WAR.

HONOLULU, June 24.
 A battle between South and North China troops at Koning, was reported to-day in a Tokio cable to a Japanese newspaper here.

DEMOCRATS AND PROHIBITION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.
 That the question of prohibition enforcement in the United States would be the only issue to be carried to the floor of the Democratic National Convention, opening here on Monday next, was the view expressed to-day by Homer S. Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Delegates to the Convention represent many schools of thought on the matter, from that of the State Right stand, taken by Governor Edwards of New Jersey, to proposals that Congress be urged to lift the ban on beer and light wines.

UNITED STATES-CANADIAN FISHERIES TREATY.

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 24.
 Should the proposed Fisheries Treaty between Great Britain and the United States be ratified, "It is beyond peradventure that within five years thereafter neither upon the North Atlantic nor the Pacific will there be a vessel in the fisheries under the American flag," Chairman Jones of the Senate Merchant Marine Committee declared in a letter to Secretary Colby made public to-day by the Senate. The letter was in reply to one from Colby regarding the proposed Treaty between Great Britain and the United States, which would grant Canadian fishing vessels preferential privileges in ports of United States, with freedom from port dues or charges, now the exclusive prerogatives of the U. States. "In exchange for these valuable privileges which it is proposed to secure to subjects of His Majesty for a period of at least seventeen years," said Senator Jones, "fishing vessels of the United States are to be accorded what are presumably like Canada, privileges which, in part, are now available as a right under the Treaty of 1818. In addition United States vessels are to be accorded very questionable benefit of being permitted to sell in Canadian markets free from payment duties their wares so landed. What is required for our fisheries is some truly protective legislation rather than a Treaty, and certainly a Treaty based upon so one-sided consideration of the subject as that accorded by the American-Canadian Fisheries Conference should not be further considered. If a Treaty must be considered, let it be only after full opportunity to present all the pertinent facts before an unbiased and representative tribunal of investigation."

THE CURSE OF CANCER.

TORONTO, June 24.
 Dr. Thomas Glover who, many believe, has discovered a positive cure for Cancer, conducted his second general clinic for inoperable Cancer patients at St. Michael's Hospital to-day. Evidence of nearly a score of cases who had received one, two, and in some cases, three injections of his newly discovered serum, was with one exception that they felt much improved, had better appetites and suffered less pain.

BARRICADING MAINROADS.

LONDONDERRY, June 24.
 A barber, named McLaughlin, was killed this morning by the bullet of a sniper, who was firing at long range. John McKenney, who was wounded yesterday, died to-day. Wire barricades and trees have been thrown across the main road to Londonderry by factionalists, apparently in an effort to hamper the troops. Some of the telegraph and telephone lines leading into the town have been cut.

Reid Newfoundland Company And Group Life Insurance for Employees.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—As was announced some time ago, this Company took up the question of Group Life Insurance for their employees.

We have now completed arrangements with the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada through Mr. D. Johnston, Agent for Newfoundland, and the insurance is now in force according to the terms of the enclosed letter.

Yours faithfully,

H. D. REID,

President.

June 23, 1920.

TO OUR EMPLOYEES:

Believing that the interests of the employer and employees are so closely allied and interwoven that what ever helps one helps the other, and desiring to further promote and increase the harmonious relationship between the Company and its employees, we have adopted as a reward for faithful service the Group Life Insurance System, and have to-day covered with the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada the lives of our regular staff.

Under the policy of which you will get your own individual certificate, the employees are insured on a basis of length of continuous service.

| Amount of Insurance. | Period of future continuous service. |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| $ 500—6 mths. and under | 1 year. |
| 600—1 year and under | 2 years. |
| 700—2 years and under | 3 years. |
| 800—3 years and under | 4 years. |
| 900—4 years and under | 5 years. |
| 1,000—5 years and under | 6 years. |
| 1,100—6 years and under | 7 years. |
| 1,200—7 years and under | 8 years. |
| 1,300—8 years and under | 9 years. |
| 1,400—9 years and under | 10 years. |
| 1,500—10 years and under | 11 years. |

| 1,700—12 years and under | 13 years. |
| 1,800—13 years and under | 14 years. |
| 1,900—14 years and under | 15 years. |
| 2,000—15 years and over. | |

For past services each employee will be given credit on the following basis: Twenty complete years or over of past service will count as ten years and entitles such employee to a policy commencing at $1,500; eighteen complete years will count as nine years and entitles such employee to a policy commencing at $1,400; and so on, so that an employee with two complete years of past service would get credit for one year and his commencing amount would be $800.

The employees who were in our service before enlisting in the military or naval forces will be given credit on the same basis for the time spent in military or naval service.

The limit of the amount of insurance will be $2,000 on those employees who entered the service over age 14 and under fifty. For those who entered the service over fifty and under fifty-five $1,000, and for those who entered the service over fifty-five the limit will be $500.

There is no cost to any employee and no medical examination is required. New employees hired after this date will be entitled to benefit under this insurance after six months continuous service.

The insurance becomes effective from this date and will remain in force as long as you remain in the employ of the Company. Your leaving our employ automatically cancels the insurance. The policy also includes a clause which provides for the whole payment of the policy in case of total and permanent disability from accident or disease before the age of sixty, while in the employ of the Company.

In the event of claim the money will be paid by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada to the beneficiary named by the employee.

Consumers' league

MEET FOOD CONTROL BOARD.

The meeting of the deputation of the Consumers' League, consisting of Messrs. T. Peel, M. Foley and E. J. Goodland, secretary, with the Board of Food Control, which took place at the office of the latter on Tuesday evening last at 8 o'clock, proved very interesting and successful. A great deal of information was gathered which may prove anything but beneficial to the profiteer. The question of the price of milk, which to-day is selling at various prices from 19 cents to 24 cents per quart, was discussed and it is contended that, now while the cows are in the fields and are not hand-fed nor stabled as in the winter, the price should be reduced and a flat price charged by all milk vendors. This matter will be investigated. Also a bill is being introduced which will check the adulteration of this very useful and necessary article of food by the addition of water and Klaim, a practice now being indulged in by some milk vendors, and who stand to pay a heavy fine if caught. The meeting discussed the buying in of potatoes in the fall at a fair market price, and advancing the price each time the imported potato advanced, which by the time spring arrived gave a profit of from two to three hundred per cent. Again some grocers are giving as little as 5 1/2 pounds to the gallon, whereas six pounds should be given to the gallon. Flour is also being sold at the store of G. Knowling, Ltd., at $1.10 per stone, while other stores are charging as high as $1.45 per stone another matter which will be investigated. The above stores are also selling cooked corned beef at 45c, while others are selling as high as 60c per pound. Ham again is being sold at prices ranging from 47c to 80c per pound. Consumers would do well to note the prices charged on all necessities and take good care they are not being "roasted." The price of tobacco is also said to vary a great deal; one brand, "B.C." selling at a difference of 8c. per plug, while cigarettes are selling at 21c, 22c, and 25c. per pkg. A case of profiteering was shown in dry goods, where a certain article was selling at 60c. per yard in 1918, that is to-day selling at $1.80 per yard. Many other cases were also brought forward in clothing and boots, and in a short time there will be something doing in St. John's regarding the profiteer. The price of beef was discussed, and it was shown

WHETHER ONE WANTS TO OR NOT

RUTH CAMERON

The other morning I had for a chance vis-a-vis at my restaurant breakfast, a friend who works in an office. She ordered omelet, rolls and coffee, but after a bite of a roll and a few mouthfuls of omelet, she pushed her plate distastefully away, drank the coffee and force of will, though it will not put you to sleep, will keep out of your mind the plans and swift-flying thoughts that drive sleep far away. Physical strength is the basis of all one's value to oneself and society. Did you chance to read the article on Roosevelt which tells how his father had a gymnasium fitted up for the sickly child and said to him, "Theodore, you have the brains, but brains are of comparatively little use without the body. You have got to make your body, and it lies with you to make it. It's dull, hard work, but you can do it."

Suppose he had said, "How can I?" Suppose he had tried to live on his nerves? He would unquestionably have been dead or an invalid before the age at which he became President.

No finer instance of the force and courage we love so in Roosevelt was ever so shown by him than in thus "making his body."

The opportunity to emulate it is daily ours.

THE ROAD HOG.

THE ROAD HOG

I wonder what the road hog thinks, as he goes on his way, detested by all mortal ginks, and cursed by night and day. He surely hates the human race, as down the road he swings, and in his heart there is no place for kindly, friendly things. We have our little pewter carts, and we would sing and smile, if road hogs didn't break our hearts each quarter of a mile. The road hog jogs along, alas, and when we honk our horn, beseeching room enough to pass, he grins with maudlin scorn. Around the risky curves he flies, and thinks he's in the swim; the rules that govern decent guys have little weight with him. Some day the fool will break his neck, but ere that day arrives, a dozen autos he may wreck, or spoil a dozen lives. And as I watch him drive his barge, and weave and spurt and turn, I wonder why he is at large, when there are jails to burn. I wonder why a man is fined ten dollars or ten days, for shooting road hogs and their kind, along the public ways.

Dear Sir.—It has for some time been strongly borne in upon me (as I hope it has been on many others), that it would abundantly, in health, prosperity and happiness, repay us Newfoundlanders to take as our motto and act up to it, without undue delay: "Free doctors, free medicine, free hospitals for every man, woman, and child in the country." The money cost would be returned a hundred fold. The day is coming, and the longer it is delayed the worse for "all hands," when no one even the poorest, will be forced (as the poor and those outside our big towns especially are), to sicken and die for lack of medical care. If we in this country are a century and a half behind the people of the continent near us in the motto of a good school for every boy and girl, how far are we behind them in preventing the well from getting sick, the ailing from serious sickness, the sick from suffering and death, the household from burdensome expenses. Doctering for Everybody.

The movement for bringing the advantages of modern medical and surgical skill to all the people is not confined to our own community, or even to the United States. A few days before Dr. Hugh Cabot outlined to the Massachusetts Medical Society his plans for the establishment of community hospitals, the British public was familiarizing itself with the details of a government scheme which, if carried into effect, will bring such hospitals into existence and practically revolutionize health service in the United Kingdom.

The system recommended for adoption is based on the principle that "any method of medical aid must be open, though not necessarily free, to all classes of the people." Its main feature will consist of primary health centres in each populous district for curative and preventive work, the patient to be provided with food, nursing, and all equipment for efficient treatment, which will be paid for either by the patient himself, through some method of insurance, or by the local health authority. The plan also contemplates secondary health centres in each town for care and consultation in special cases, under an arrangement which will furnish the services of a consultant, but leave the patient free to select and pay a specialist of his own.

For the accommodation of those needing medical assistance it is proposed either to utilize hospitals already in existence or to establish new buildings wherever investigation shows they are needed. Complete liberty of choice is preserved to the patient in all cases, but along with it will go advantages of organization not heretofore possible in the British health service. "As the complexity of treatment becomes greater," says the official report, "it grows increasingly difficult for the individual practitioner to administer the full range of treatment, requiring, as it does, access to such resources as those of bacteriology, biochemistry, radiology and electro-therapeutics, while the number of patients who can afford to pay for it diminishes."

In this sense the projected health centres will serve as "rallying points for all the medical services, curative and preventive, of the districts in which they are established—great centres of professional life and learning." This undertaking of the consultative council of medical and allied services, associated with the ministry of health, is soon to be embodied in a bill, the progress of which through Parliament will be watched with interest by medical men and health experts everywhere.

Then and Now.

Not so many years ago, certain members of the House of Assembly—at that time in Opposition—declined stridently against keeping the Legislature in session for unduly long periods, and from their places in the lower chamber and through the columns of the press hostile to the Government of the day, bitterly assailed the administration for delaying the proceedings and keeping members from the performance of their necessary work at home—referring chiefly to outport representatives. In those days the sessional pay was but three hundred dollars for members residing in outports, which figured on a basis of two months' service as legislators worked out at a rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per month: considered a fair stipend, yet complaints were made that even when the cost of living was considerably less than it is to-day, that this sum—approximately five dollars per day—was not equal to expenses, and that members from outports were not only out of pocket, but lost considerably in other directions, because of not being able to personally direct their local affairs, their whole time being taken up with matters affecting legislation for the welfare of the country. But times have changed.

No longer are heard the protests of the legislative toiler from north or west. Day after day they patiently and perfunctorily fill their seats in Parliament, and content themselves with following the lead given them by the men higher up. No longer is their voice heard in wrath because of the prolonged time and the practical loss of their summer. No longer do they claim that they are out of pocket and that their affairs at home have gone to the bow-wows. A charge has taken place. Instead of receiving an honorarium sufficient to cover their expenses during sessional periods, each member will shortly be in receipt of a salary, a princely stipend, which may be set down as five hundred dollars per month, meet sum indeed to produce silence from the former objectors. The voice of protest has been stilled by the application of the gold cure, and the financial salve thus to be rubbed in is all compelling. But one thousand dollars seems to be a big price for Newfoundland to pay for the wisdom—or lack of it—displayed by the elected law makers of the dominion. Be that as it may, there is this much to be said. Where once an agitation against long sessions was carried on, there is now no denunciation from thousand dollar representatives. Is that the reason?

The present session of the House of Assembly opened on April 21. To-day is the 25th of June, but five days to the end of the financial year, and there is considerable work to be done before the usual ceremonial of closing can take place. The estimates, which provide for an increased expenditure of nearly two million dollars are not yet passed: Supply has not been voted to His Majesty, nor has Ways and Means been introduced. No word has leaked out as to what provision is to be made to meet the proposed expenditure. That it has to be met is something for which all must be prepared, but what form the excess taxation will take is at present concealed in the mind of the Minister of Finance. But no matter how he proposes to give up the revenue to balance expenditure, everybody must bear in mind that the sum needed is two million dollars, a sum which not so many years gone was considered to be a substantial annual revenue collection for the Colony. Now we are apparently so prosperous with fish at five dollars per quintal and the cost of living "zooming," that two million dollars, spent mainly in "givins' out," are considered but a mere detail. But Liberal Reformers were ever peculiar in their ideas and their peculiarities—in Newfoundland—have taken the form of personal rewards and the reforming of their own fortunes. But what can be expected. Government members will certainly vote for their own benefit and to their own personal advantage. They line up just as they are told and vote as per instructions. A verse of the song sung by Private Willis in the opera "Iolanthe" hits Newfoundland Liberal Reform M.H.A.'s off to perfection. It might have been written expressly for them:

"When in the House M.P.'s divide,
If they've a brain and cerebellum too
They've got to leave that brain outside,
And vote just as their leaders tell 'em too."

THE GOVERNMENT WINS.

The count in Bay-de-Verde District bye-election finished about 9 o'clock this morning, the final figures as received at the General Post Office being 1334 for Cave, Govt., and 918 for Puddester, Opp. By this decision the electors of that district have placed the stamp of their approval on the policy of the Government, and in no uncertain manner, the vote for Mr. Cave increasing over that cast for him last fall, while Mr. Puddester's ballots fell far behind the total of those recorded for Mr. Hickman. By the substantial majority of four hundred and twenty-one, therefore, Bay-de-Verde endorses the Administration, and as Bay-de-Verde must be regarded as an index of outport sentiment politically, the evidence of the present voting must be taken as expressive of popular feeling. The fight was short, sharp and decisive, and was apparently fought without the rancour or bitterness characteristic of the general (1919) and bye-election (1920) in St. John's West. The approval of all that has been done by the Government—for weal or woe—by the voters of Bay-de-Verde, will but stimulate the Prime Minister and his followers to carry out any policy they propose.

"Iolanthe."

At the Casino Theatre last night another large audience witnessed the 4th performance of this opera. The principals and chorus were all in fine form and gave a rendition that called forth unstinted applause from their hearers. Several encores were called for and given by the players. His Excellency the Governor will be present at to-night's performance.

Successful Outing at Kilbride.

The social in aid of a laudable object, held at Kilbride on Wednesday evening, proved very enjoyable and highly successful. Mr. Reg. Dowden acted as chairman. Ver, Miss J. Barnes presided at the organ. Dancing was taken up at 11 o'clock and continued until 2 a.m. Mrs. Capt. S. Courtney, who organized the outing, was highly complimented on the splendid manner in which the affair was conducted.

Silver Jubilee Entertainment.

Pupils of St. Bride's Honor Popular Clergyman. Yesterday afternoon the pupils of St. Bride's College, Littledale, gave a very fine entertainment in honor of the "Silver Jubilee" of Right Rev. Mons. McDermott, Vicar General, which was attended by an audience of friends and admirers of this educational institution, including many clergymen of the Archdiocese. The programme was in two parts and was very creditably carried out by the young ladies, who under the training and supervision of the good Sisters, have made a name for themselves which is a guarantee of instrumental and vocal perfection, and whose performances are eagerly attended by those who are lovers of the elegant and accomplished in music. CURTIS-FOSTER.

The wedding of Miss Flora Marion Curtis, eldest daughter of Rev. Dr. Curtis, M.A., D.D., M.B.E., Superintendent of Methodist Education, to Mr. John Stuart Foster, B.Sc., graduate of Yale University, son of Mr. D. E. Foster, West Torbrook, N.S., took place at Cochrane St. Central Church at 7.30 last evening. Rev. Dr. Bond, assisted by Dr. Curtis, the bride's father, officiating. The bride was given away by her father. She was supported by Miss Catherine A. Milley, while Master Hal Taylor acted as trainbearer. Lieut. F. V. Curtis, late of the Indian Army, was best man. A feature of the ceremony was the choir's renditions of the marriage hymns. Miss Curtis was for some years a member of the choir. The church was filled by friends of the bride, who was attired in white satin with white trimming and train of baronnet satin. She wore the usual bridal veil with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. Her travelling costume was of navy blue serge, with hat, gloves, and footwear of grey. The bridesmaid wore pink georgette beaded with white, with black hat, etc. and carried pink roses and carnations. The groom's bride was wearing a diamond pendant, set in platinum, with platinum chain. To the bridesmaid a bar pin of gold and platinum set with pearls. To the groom's man, gold cuff links, etc. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Curtis, after which the party motored to Topsail, returning at two o'clock this morning. The happy couple left to-day for Holy-rood, where the honeymoon will be spent. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will later leave for New Haven, Conn., where they will in future reside. The Telegram wishes them many years of wedded bliss.

Teachers' Convention in July.

A Teachers' Convention will this year replace the "Teachers' Summer School." The Convention, which will take place in July, will last about a week. Various matters concerning teachers, such as salaries, etc., will be brought up.

With the Rod.

During last week some $9 salmon was taken from the E. River. Codroy, three being over 20 lbs. each. On Saturday last at Harry's River, Mr. J. L. Faunce, of Philadelphia, caught a 35-lb. salmon, which it took 30 minutes to bring to gaff, and was a perfect fish in every way. Four fish of from 7 to 24 lbs. each were taken on Robinson's River during the same period.

Injured by Cyclist.

Yesterday at lunch hour, while on her way home in company with some companions, Miss Jean Macintosh, a pupil of Bishop Spencer College, was knocked down by a boy on a bicycle coming rapidly over Long's Hill. The little girl was thrown to the sidewalk and received a bad shaking up and several bruises, which necessitates her staying from school for some days yet.

On Tuesday evening Miss Marguerite Ross was knocked down near her home, LeMarchant Road, by a bicyclist and severely cut and bruised. Fast and careless driving by cyclists is becoming all too prevalent lately—and should be checked.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. (Dr.) Curtis, who has been so ill during recent years, was able to be at church last evening when her daughter, Miss Flora, was married. This was the first time she had been out for several years.

Obituary.

ROBERT J. RANDELL.
Yesterday morning, the sad news was received in town of the passing away at Catalina, a few hours earlier, of Mr. R. J. Randell, a man well known by all for his honesty, uprightness and business ability. Being of an unassuming and quiet personality, he became a friend to all who had the pleasure of being acquainted with him. Although troubled with a few years past, still he kept at work up to within a week or so ago. Formerly a schoolteacher, he resigned many years ago to enter the office of Ryan Bros., at Bonaville, where for several years he held the position of bookkeeper. He later severed his connection with that firm to carry on the business at Catalina, owned by Dr. McKay. On the latter going out of business, deceased came to St. John's where he secured a position as manager of the Nall Factory, but owing to ill-health, had to sever his connection with that concern, much against his will, and returned home about a fortnight ago. On Monday, of this week, a friend of his in the city received a letter from him saying that he was out of bed and hoped to be able to come to the city within a few days on private business; but yesterday morning the sad intelligence was received as reported above. Being a constant visitor to the city, he was well known by the business community. He was also a member of the S.U.F. and Masonic fraternities. Deceased leaves a wife and six children, Miss Annie, C. E. teacher, Bell Island, and five at home; mother, sister and a large circle of relatives and friends to all of whom the Telegram extends sincere sympathy.—Com.

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS.

Harvey Thomas and young Gabriel, Exclaimed, "Gosh our fielding is swell!"

Then two shot hits popped. Which both of them dropped. And the Spectators chorused, "Oh—Shucks!"

There was some confusion in baseball circles yesterday morning as to which game was to be played last night, and a hurried meeting of the executive was called. It is the rule in the baseball league that a postponed or "called" game is to be played on the first available date. Thus, all games are played in order as drawn—which is different from the football rules which provides that postponed games are deferred to the end of the season. Thus it was that last night's clash witnessed the Wanderers and C.E.L. going to it once more. A well-filled bleacher and crowded base lines saw the score tied again in the ninth, but in the last half the Smithsons pushed a run over the plate which they never deserved and which they should not have been allowed to make. However, the laws of the game like those of nature are inexorable, and the penalty must be paid for mistakes and grievous errors. 1st Innings—The beginning saw Alderice strike out. Smith caromed one off Harvey's bean which entitled him to a free pass, and he grooved one for Carter. Then he passed up Jersey Churchill. Gabriel drove out a hot grounder scoring Thomas. Britt's blunder let in Carter, and Windsor's drive permitted Jersey and Drover to reach safely home. 5 runs.

Right at the outset the game seemed to be on ice for the C.E.L. and the Club's supporters (and they are legion), were full of glee, but their "southpaw" Thistle was edgy and his error let Andy Clouston up. His legs were speedy and clever stealing brought him round to third, where a passed ball let him in. Thistle then passed Dobbin up and his miff of McCrindle's slow roller put two men on the base. Then Britt smote his offering for a double sacker and brought the two men home. A surprising and glaring error on Harvey's part was just the thing Britt needed, with Dillon and Smith on the base through Thistle's wildness. Clouston connected again as did Burton, and Gabriel's attempt to trap him let them all in. 8 runs.

2nd Innings—Oppressive gloom settled on Harvey's outfit, and Carter was the only one to get a hit. 0 runs. A pass by Thistle and two hits off him filled the sacks with blue and white warriors, but Jersey and Alderice dashed their hopes of a score to the ground. 0 runs.

3rd Innings—Drover's timely wallop brought in Gabriel. Then McCrindle pulled down a running catch away behind second and immediately afterwards pulled off a brilliant double play unassisted. 0 runs. The Wanderers found the fielding of the Institute boys too snappy for them and they retired hitless. 0 runs.

4th Innings—Nothing worth relating was done by either team, and the grandstand was beginning to show signs of ennui. 0 runs.

5th Innings—The red and white fans expected results from "the lucky fifth" but Harvey seemed subdued and was not in action on the line. Nothing doing! 0 runs. Thistle once more had no sense of direction, and a wild throw to second was responsible for Burton's coming home on Clouston's sacrifice. 1 run.

6th Innings—A little brisker work on the bases, particularly by Windsor, could have netted the C.E.L. a run in this innings, but they apparently suffered from stage fright and let the opportunity pass by. 0 runs. The same might be said of the Wanderers at this period, and they as well showing signs of resting up with their 3 run lead. 0 runs.

7th Innings—The Thomasites had a chance with Jimmy Alderice on third, but their sluggers failed to connect. 0 runs. Jersey Churchill's error with two men down let McCrindle cross the plate. 1 run.

8th Innings—The Institute rooters began to rally, but Harvey failed to produce results from the bunch, and they went back to the bench hitless. 0 runs. At this juncture, in pure desperation, Thistle showed his first bit of class of the evening when he pulled the 1-2-3 stunt on the opposing batters. 0 runs.

9th Innings—With four runs to make, things looked hopeless for the C.E.L. boys, and many of the fans left the field, but they had overlooked the fact that the one and only A. Harvey himself was slated to be the first to face the Wandegor twirler, and picking out a choice one slammed it for safety amid the thunderous applause of his rooters. Aroused from their lethargic slumber the grandstand went right to it, and nobly did the Institute players respond. Churchill's hit brought in Harvey. Carter was now doing a war dance on third and Gabriel did the necessary. Allan Churchill couldn't find Smithy but Drover did, and when Dobbin muffed it he let in Jersey and Gabriel, thus tying the score amidst great excitement. Harvey's outfit had repeated their trick of the previous afternoon by a sudden battling feat, and had evened matters up. Windsor's sharp drive brought Drover to third, but there he was left to die a lingering death when Thistle biffed the ozone and Alderice's hit failed to materialize. 4 runs.

There and then the game took on a new lease of life, and the fans were wild with enthusiasm. Harvey had done the impossible and tied up the score. Andy Clouston failed to reach the initial sack ahead of the ball. Billy McCrindle's slow roller was nimbly fielded, but Jersey dropped the throw (which he hadn't oughter). Chagrined, he threw the ball on the ground towards the pitcher's box—whereupon the wily William stole second, and Dobbin's hit found him safely camped on third. The Wanderer fans expected great things of Britt, now up in the pinch, but he was found wanting. Then Dillon popped a very gentle little infield fly about four feet in front of the batter's box. Either the catcher or the pitcher could and should have got it, but Thistle looked at Drover, and Drover looked at Thistle; both remained inactive. McCrindle crossed the line the ball fell to the ground, and the game was over. Whose individual fault it was, our scribe refuses to divulge, but as it was, the run was needed for the Wanderers to win and they took advantage of it, amid the plaudits of the blue and white supporters, who are to be congratulated on their hard fought victory.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

The gate receipts were $108.00. Umpire Ches should start the game promptly, and further, should insist on a little more speed between innings when sides are taking the field. The Wanderers' team batting average was .348 and the C.E.L. .349, but the former had a slight margin over the latter on the fielding by .818 to .809.

Britt and Dillon did the only slugging for the evening, being credited with a two base hit each. Smith passed up 8 men, had 11 strike outs, and hit one batter. 7 strikeouts were credited Thistle and he allowed 10 men to reach first on balls.

The Institute boys did not cavort sufficiently on the cushions, and let a full half dozen chances to advance, which had they been availed of would have netted at least 2 runs for them.

Great amusement and many longings were caused by a well known individual who passed down in front of the grandstand with the neck of a full bottle of "Old Mull," protruding from his hip pocket. He sure was a popular guy with the rumbounds.

Dave Duff has the fans always in doubt by his similar motions for "safe" and "out."

"Pears to us as the 10 runs were the C.E.L.'s limit.

The next game will be played on Tuesday evening when the B.I.S. will face last year's champions, the Red Lions. Both teams are in fine fettle and an exciting clash is assured.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In the columns of yesterday's News, appeared a letter signed by Robt. Munro, in which there are many errors which I feel bound to correct. Mr. Munro has done a grave injury to Mr. Murdoch in stating that he was unable to keep the M. C. Troop together. Mr. Murdoch resigned from the staff of the College and was unable to give the same attention to his troop as before, so it went to pieces because there were no proper patrol leader (with one or two exceptions). As to whether the 1st St. John's Troop (S.B.C.) did anything, I refer Mr. Munro and others to the Inspector General, Inspector Savage, or Detective Whelan. Concerning the building of the "runway" at Mt. Pearl, I wish to state that we were concerned in the building of it. Now in reference to the "Fleur-de-Lis" (spell with an 'f' please), it has been made the official organ of the Boy Scouts in Nfld., by the Secretary, Mr. Murdoch, with the approval of two District Commissioners, and it also

Gambo Mill Owner Is Now Convinced After Rigid Test

Says He Thought Merits of Tanlac Were Exaggerated Until He Tried It.

"Wrap me up four bottles of Tanlac medicine to take back with me to Gambo, for after the wonderful way it has helped me I wouldn't be without it on any account," said Allen L. Pritchett, who lives at Middle Brook, Gambo, when he called in at M. Connors' drug store in St. John's, the other day. Mr. Pritchett has been in the lumbering business for the last twenty-two years, is the owner of mills at Gambo and Dray Cove, and is very highly respected by all who know him.

"I can't tell you what a relief it is to be free from all the suffering that I've had for the past eight years on account of stomach trouble. I used to have such pains in the pit of my stomach after eating that it would bring tears to my eyes and many a time I was in such misery that death would have been welcome. I tried special diets but that didn't work as I only got weaker, and my stomach finally got so bad that I had to lay off from work for weeks at a stretch. I often had the headaches that they almost drove me out of my mind and I became so dizzy at times that I simply had to stop whatever I was doing and take a rest."

"When I first read the statements in the papers about the way folks were being helped by Tanlac, I was a bit inclined to think they were a little exaggerated, but after what the medicine has done for me I can believe anything that is said about it, and I can't praise it enough. Why, I've only taken three bottles, and I've now got an appetite like a wolf and am never bothered either with indigestion or pains in the stomach. I don't know what it is to have a headache now and I am so much stronger that I can do the hardest kind of work without ever getting tired out. In my opinion there's no medicine in the world like Tanlac and anybody suffering with stomach trouble couldn't do better than try a few bottles for I'm satisfied it would do them good."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv.

has been recognized as such by the Governor. Unfortunately it has not received the hall-mark of Mr. Munro's approval, and that is evidently what has aroused his ire.

With thanks for space.
Yours sincerely,

Editor "Fleur-de-Lis."

MILLEY'S

Methodist Conference.

Thursday, June 24.

From 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. the various committees met for the discussion of the various matters before them for consideration.

At 11 a.m. the general session of Conference was opened by a hymn and prayer. The discussion on the Report of the Educational Society was resumed and a lively debate participated in by both laymen and ministers resulted. Various items were passed and at 12 o'clock Rev. Dr. Pedley was called to the rostrum. Hymn was sung and prayer offered, after which Rev. Dr. Pedley gave his address on "The Unity of the Christian Church."

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly recently spoke of the international mind. As a nation could not live of itself, but in conjunction with other nations, so came the international mind which found expression in the League of Nations Conference. There is also an inter-church mind seeking adequate expression. This inter-church mind is an expression of the Apostles' Creed. There were barriers in the way: causes of separation. These are (a) Theological, (b) Church Government. Theological differences arose in the early Christian church. Later a revolution came within the catholic church and among the revolutionists themselves theological differences prevailed. In earlier days in Canada there were different schools of theology and these differences found expression in pulpit and congregations. These theological grounds of division have passed away. The second cause of separation is church government. They are three forms: Prelacy, Presbyterianism and Congregationalism. Their coming together is not a surrender of a particular form, but it is possible to find a system comprehensive enough to embrace all that is good in three systems. Dr. Pedley presented his argument in the form of a syllogism and stated his major premise. What- ever in the way of church government in itself subject to the Kingdom of God, that should be in the ideal church. All forms of church government have their value.

His conclusion was that we must find some way of getting together. We have no right to think of the question as one we can take up or leave alone. It is an integral part of our loyalty to Christ to work for a united church. Christ came to break down the walls of partition. Loyalty to Christ demands that we lift up heart and voice and prayer for the fulfilment of the Master's words, "That they all might be one." The splendid address was followed with the closest interest by the large numbers present. A hymn and Benedicdition brought the service to a close. At 2:30 Conference resumed work. The Journal of the morning session was read and confirmed. The discussion on the Educational Committee's Report was resumed and finally with slight amendment the report was passed. The objective set for next year is $4,000.

Rev. R. S. Smith, who was recently transferred to a Canadian Conference, was introduced and bade farewell to the members of the Conference.

A delegation from the W.M.S. was next presented to the Conference. Mrs. Eugene Lindsay, the secretary, gave a splendid report of the society for the past year. She reported 50 p.c. increase in missionary givings, 15 p.c. increase in membership, 24 branches and 53 circles and bands. A total of $9,242 was raised during the past year.

Rev. Dr. Curtis, in moving a resolution of appreciation spoke highly of their splendid efforts.

Rev. Wm. Harris and Rev. Wm. Swann supported the resolution. The President paid tribute to their assistance in the M. N. campaign.

A deputation from the Bible Society in the persons of Rev. Canon Bolt and Mr. W. H. Stirling, was introduced to the Conference. Canon Bolt congratulated the President on his election and referred to their personal friendship. The Canon emphasized the need of presenting a united front if the world was to be won for Christ. The Bible is one of the greatest factors for the promotion of union among the churches. The objective for this dominion is $2,000. Dr. Curtis followed in a short address.

Rev. T. B. Darby, M.A. and H. N. Burt, Esq., moved and seconded the resolution of co-operation with the aims of the Society.

The Report of the Sunday School Committee was presented by Rev. Oliver Jackson, in which various suggestions were made for doing more effective work.

The Conference adjourned at 5:30 after various items of routine had been passed.

At the evening session after prayer by Rev. A. Robb and the reading of the Journal the Report of the Committee on Social Service and Evangelism was taken up and discussed item by item. A heated discussion took place over the abuses of the Prohibition Act, and the demand of all the speakers was for the elimination of the abuses, as far as possible, existing under the Act. The report was adopted and a further resolution was referred back to the committee for consideration.

Rev. J. D. Simpson, Secretary of the Supernumerary Fund, and Rev.

Burns of the Finance Dept., were introduced and made brief speeches. The meeting closed with Benediction.

C. L. B.

On Tuesday this week, Wabana Bell Island, Company J, was inspected by the Officer Commanding the C. L. B. in Nfld.—Lieut.-Col. R. F. Goodridge, who went over for this special purpose. Accompanying Col. Goodridge were Major Williams and Lieut. R. G. Ash. The inspection took place at 7.30 p.m. in the Armoury erected by the Rev. John Stead, Rector of Bell Island, and Major Wm. Lindsay. On arrival at the Armoury J. Co. was on duty and the usual general salute was given the inspecting officer on entering the hall. The Company was under command of Lieut. Gover, a veteran of the Great War, who drilled the lads in various movements, physical and manual. At the close the Colonel addressed the lads and congratulated them on their excellent appearance and smartness—some seventy lads being on the Roll Call. Major Williams also addressed the Company and offered a Miniature Silver Cup for competition amongst Corporals, Lance Corporals and Privates to be won by the lads having the best attendance and good conduct record for the next six months—beginning July first, which prize was gratefully accepted by Major Lindsay on behalf of the lads for competition. Quite a large number of visitors were present for the inspection, amongst whom were many members of the Masonic Fraternity, who happened to be in Bell Island attending the installation services of Clift Lodge. Amongst the visitors we noticed the Hon. J. A. Clift, K.C., Hon. Tasker Cook, W. J. Edgar, W. N. Gray, S. G. Collier, Rev. Canon Bolt, M.A., Mrs. J. J. Miller (wife of Lieut. Miller) and others. The Hon. Tasker Cook was so pleased with the excellent drill of the lads, that he in a neat speech congratulated the Officers of Bell Island on their work, and tendered them a cheque for one hundred dollars. Cheers were heartily given the Hon. Mr. Cook for his generosity. Mr. Cook stated that his ancestors had lived on Bell Island for over a hundred years, and he was interested in the young islanders for the sake of "Auld Lang Syne." The Band under Bandmaster Martin, were in good form and rendered capital music. It shows what grit and energy can accomplish, when such a magnificent Armoury can be erected and be so useful in a small community. This Armoury, erected by the Brigade, is well built, having a beautiful metal ceiling and substantial floors. It is lit by electricity. A large N.C.O.'s and Bandroom have recently been added. The officers are Chaplain, Rev. John Stead, Major W. Lindsay, Lieut. J. J. Miller, J. J. Tucker and W. Squires. They drill Mondays and Wednesdays and have a Brass Band of about twenty-five, with a Bugle Band of six—the former being instructed by Bandmaster Sgt. H. J. Martin, and the latter by Old Comrade Skeans. A signalling class has also been organized and making good progress under Mr. Chesley Greening, formerly of the Royal Nfld. Regiment. Last Sunday the Company paraded to St. Boniface Church where the Chaplain preached an appropriate sermon. The next event is the long looked for Band Concert organized by Bandmaster Martin, which we feel sure will be an unqualified success. We are glad to hear that the music loving folk of Bell Island have organized a Choral Society and use this Armoury for concert purposes, Mr. Fred J. Jardine, J.P., being Musical director, and Mr. F. Godden being Managing Director. We also note the Bell Island Choral Society will likely give a Concert in July, and we wish them a full measure of success.

LETTER FROM MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place. My nerves were in bad shape, I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and several of my friends advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now I am quite able to do all my own work, and I would strongly advise every suffering woman to give Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."—Mrs. CHARLES WAKELIN, 272 Christie St., Toronto, Ont.

Obituary.

There passed peacefully away, this morning, at 8 o'clock, a respected citizen, in the person of Mr. James Goff, of this town, at the venerable age of eighty. The deceased had been afflicted with impairment of sight for some time, previous to his demise, but barring this, he was endeared to his family by his cheerful and joyous fair normal health. About two weeks ago, he was taken ill, an illness from which he never rallied till death, the great reaper, claimed him for its own. His was the privilege, the happiness and every one of us, of having each and every one of his family present during his last days on earth, to sympathize and encourage and console the good husband and father. A few days previous to his death, his two daughters in religion, of the Presentation Order, were privileged to attend at the bedside of their dying parent (having leave from their Superior). By their filial affection and pious and devoted ministrations the good Sisters helped to calm, soothe and assuage the fears and dread that necessarily accompany the departing spirit ere it makes its exit into that country from whose bourne no traveller returns. Two other of his absent children had also the sad privilege of seeing the parent during his last moments on earth, viz. John, now of Sydney, and James of Heart's Content. The last rites of the Church were administered by his Pastor, Rt. Rev. Mgr. McCarthy, who further rendered him all the consoling aids Holy Mother Church provides for her members at the close of their earthly sojourn. The subject of this obituary was a practical Christian gentleman. Large hearted, and kindly-natured, he had the respect of his fellowmen. His industry and devotedness to duty in his chosen sphere of life—that of tailor—raised him in course of time to such a position in his avocation as to become a merchant tailor, and when he retired some ten years ago from active duties he left to his sons a business second to none outside of the capital. None will deny that in the passing away of James Goff, another worthy and honoured landmark has departed whose life lived faithfully and well will serve as an inspiration to those who need a stimulus over life's difficult ways.

Left to mourn are the following relatives: A widow Catherine, three daughters, two of whom are Nuns, one Sister M. Alacoque, of the Presentation Order, Cathedral Square, St. John's; the other, Sister M. De Sales, Presentation Convent, Torbay; Mary Joseph, living in the parental home. The sons comprise John, Merchant-Tailor, now of Sydney; E.D., of Goff Bros., at home, the director of the firm, and James, operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Heart's Content. To each and all the sincere sympathy of the community is extended in this their sad hour of bereavement. The funeral takes place this afternoon (Wednesday), when all that is mortal of the late Mr. James Goff, will be consigned to Mother Earth, there to await in hopeful assurance the great Resurrection morn. May his soul rest in peace. —Com.

The menu was again of a high order leaving nothing to be desired, and the toast list was as follows: The King, Duke of Connaught, and D. G. Masters, followed by one to the Dedicating Officers, proposed by Bro. Dr. Carnahan, S.D., and responded to by W.

"Tim" on Troubles and Discontent

This is a queer old town for sure and plenty fun there is in store for you if only you take stock how often she stops—our old town clock. And every one a grievance hags, not only hugs but daily lugs his heavy burden to unfold on some poor mortal weal and old. No man in town is bright or gay, they all look weary for they say—"tis hard to live in 'this man's town' though Peel is peeling prices down, and some there are who ex-press a doubt that even Peel will peel 'em out. I went up to the House last week to hear a fluent member speak but even there a row held away, 'twas not in keeping with the day, for swains beams played upon the scene, and the Park outside was all serene. 'Tis hard to start a first class fight, when children shout with keen delight, and through the open windows ring the "Ring-a-Rosey" children sing, 'tis better far to have debates in winter time at earlier dates. The Custom House looked calm and fine, a place where chums of mine recline, so in I went to see the Boys and listen to their whole soiled joys, but even here where people think the trials of life are on the blink, I met the same old discontent that through my frame the shivers sent. No one seemed happy with spirits higher, except our old friend William Dryer, this man would smile if earthquakes rained, and all his togs were long since pawned. Next man I met was a cute guy, who made a fortune on the sly, for sure said I this boy is glad, for he can't say that things are bad. But turnip-greens and salt that's slack, this man had pains up in his back. Along I went my weary stunt, and every-where I heard a grunt, 'till looking up I spied a friend, and to his doff a smile did lend. He looked first-rats with wheel in hand guiding his car that looked most grand. He heuled her in, I got aboard, and soon in cushion soft was lowered. Says I, says I, unto myself, there's nothing equals plenty pelf. But even here King Discontent had taken charge of this grand get, that day he told me he he lost bad, on some old stocks which he had had, and Sunday last four punctures had, and Wednesday week knocked down a lad. I hid them all good bye that day, and after tea went my old way, to meet old chums like Dinty Moore, who told me stories by the score. We smoked our pipes and laughed and joked, while Tucker my left ribs he poked. I learned the lesson people miss, that money don't mean endless bliss, for pleasure quits when poor folks stray from out their sphere like me that day. We often size up things quite wrong to be like Him we often long, but true content is never found, as long as you are overground.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—You are aware, no doubt, that this little settlement was badly swept by fire on the 2nd of June. We do not think, however, that it is generally known how badly off some of the sufferers are. They, in many cases, have lost the savings of a lifetime, and in this time of prevailing high prices they will find it difficult to get together even the beginnings of a home. We therefore ask for the help of the people of St. John's and the outports, and we will be pleased if you will open a subscription list in your paper. All donations received by you may be sent to the Hon. W. W. Halfyard, or to Mr. John Luther, sr., Treasurer of Fire Sufferers Committee, Bay Bulls Arm.

Thanking you in anticipation.
We are, sincerely yours,
G. IVANY, Meth. Clergyman.
