Lord Cecil's Dilemma

—OR—

The Picnic

—in—

Woodall Forest

CHAPTER XI.

"I cannot ask you to report upon Lord Cecil's condition," he said. "I regret to say that we have disagreed and parted. Lord Cecil objected to my presence among his friends. I resented this, and that is why he is not here. I would have made the explanation before, Miss Craythorne, only I did not wish to damp the pleasure of the party. Lord Cecil drove home again upon finding that I had disobeyed his wishes."

"How ridiculous of him!" ejaculated Ada. "But he always was a headstrong fellow. I should not be surprised to find him at the Forest, with endless apologies! Why did he object to you, Sir Charles?"

The instant the question had passed her lips, she regretted it. Lady Gladys' telltale color was a sufficient reply, and a sharp pain pierced her heart.

Luckily, Sir Charles' attention was diverted by Mr. Gadsby shouting to him that the meadows around were flat enough for cricket fields.

"Is there a decent cricket club about the neighbourhood?" he asked.

Mr. Gadsby was a stranger. He had only just arrived at the vicarage for a little learning.

The Rev. Julius Andrews was great in classic attainments, and imparted a little of his knowledge to a select few, when a good fee was obtainable. Mr. Gadsby was the son of a merchant who had suddenly become rich by turning an insolvent business into a limited liability company. Mr. Gadsby's education required finishing, and he had come to Swinford to have the necessary polish put to it. Money was a password which the vicar believed in as he did in his immortal soul.

"There is no cricket club here, Mr. Gadsby," Ada Craythorne replied, with great presence of mind, "but everybody plays tennis."

Mr. Gadsby did not think much of tennis, but he was willing to learn, if Ada Craythorne would consent to be his mentor. He felt that his heart was lost to her forever. Had Mr. Gadsby known what Miss Craythorne thought of him, his blushes would not have sprung from flattery.

But from that moment he considered himself the most blessed of mortals, for she laughed and chatted with him with a gaiety that he thought was real, while her heart was torn with jealousy and bitterness.

Presently the carriages stopped, and for ten minutes everybody was busy, the ladies finding a suitable spot for the outdoor meal, and the gentlemen hauling about the baskets. Then the coachmen were sent home, with orders to be back at four o'clock, and business began in real earnest. A snowy cloth was laid on the grass; there was a clatter of china and glass, the merry popping of corks, and the distribution of sandwiches, chicken pie and other delicacies. There were the usual feminine screams at the sight of a spider, or some fly of strange appearance, and cheers followed Lady Craythorne's announcement that real hot tea, brewed on the spot, would be ready at three o'clock if one of the gentlemen would gather a sufficient quantity of dry sticks to boil the kettle.

Amid so much merriment who would have dreamed of deeply-laid schemes and tortured hearts?

After lunch there was no excuse for lying about the grass, except for the elder ladies and Flossie Craythorne, who complained that she preferred to sit still and read, as the heat gave her a headache.

Ada Craythorne had accepted Mr. Gadsby's offer to escort her, and they were the first to start away, the young man looking very delighted.

Sir Charles and Lady Gladys followed, and then the vicar and Mrs. Nixey paired off, but did not forget to ask Flossie to join them. This he was well pleased to hear of Flossie's headache.

Once more were Sir Charles and Lady Gladys happy, and when beyond the prying eyes of Lady Craythorne, they walked hand in hand, content to look into each other's eyes, and read the love that was theirs.

"What a beautiful world it is," sighed the girl, "under the shining blue of the summer skies. Oh, Charles, why is it not always summer?"

"If it were always summer, darling, we should not see its beauties. It is only by contrast we discover the hope of morning from the despair of night. If life were nothing but sweets, we should not enjoy them."

"Do not talk of despair!" shivered Gladys. "At such moments I fancy that you almost believe what you are saying to be your own unhappy feeling. There is nothing before us, darling, but brightness and beauty. A long, long life of love! The birds in the trees above us sing of nothing but love! The winds whisper only of love! Tell me that you have no fear; tell me that there is no dread upon your soul!"

"Gladys, my own love!" he exclaimed, a sudden dread at his heart. "Why should you talk in this way?"

"I cannot tell you, dear; I am nervous and foolish: it is not like my natural self. But I have never had anything of value to lose before, and it may be that we are too happy—too selfish in our happiness!"

"Silly little girl!" he said, lightly. "How is it possible for you to lose me? Do you think that I am a faithless knight? Do you think that I shall love and ride away? Gladys, I could no more live without you now than the trees and the flowers could live without sunshine and rain. A few short days since I had never seen you. I did not even dream of your existence. And now you are my life—my very light—my heaven!"

He pressed her tightly to his heart. "There is only one thing that I am sorry for," said Gladys, after a few moments of happy silence. "I wish that I had not treated auntie's fears—uncle's belief—in the cruel legend of the White Lady's Bower, Charles. I have had many evil forebodings since, and you know that one of my dreams, at least, has proved prophetic."

Sir Charles laughed away her fears, and after a long and happy walk, they emerged from the forest, and saw the crumbling walls of Woodall Castle looming before them.

For half-an-hour they wandered among the ruins, and once or twice the young baronet fancied that he heard footsteps following them, but quickly dismissed the thought, for the place was full of echoes. No, there was the figure of a woman, not a hundred paces away, and he caught the gleam of what appeared to be a pair of lurid eyes, as she passed under one of the gloomy archways and disappeared.

"What was that?" he exclaimed, for Gladys' eyes had followed his.

"A gypsy woman, I believe," she replied. "There are lots of gypsy caravans on the other side of the wood, and I am always interested in those queer people. What a romantic life they seem to lead!"

"Lazy vagabonds, as a rule!" Sir Charles smiled. "Numerous burglaries and poaching affrays are traced to them."

They left the ruins, and started slowly on the return journey to join their friends. They had forgotten all about Lady Craythorne's three o'clock tea; they could think of nothing but themselves.

"The thought of parting saddens me already," said Sir Charles. "I am going home to-night, Gladys. To-morrow my mother will write to Lady Marcia, and I shall want you to come and see her soon. I don't know how I shall live until then; and yet," he added, "I have much to do—much to do!"

It seemed that he was speaking to himself, and his tones were full of fierce energy.

"I shall so like to come and see your mother and your home," Gladys said, softly. "I hope that your mother will like me, Charles."

"Like you!" he echoed. "She will love you for your own sake, and for mine. Then, when my business is done, I shall see the east; it will not occupy me many days, and we can begin to dream of wedding bells! Oh, Gladys, my darling, does it not seem too good to be true! No, nothing shall come between us—nothing can come between us. I will move heaven and earth—"

He stopped suddenly, for the figure of an old woman was barring their way.

Fashion Plates.

A DAINY, SIMPLE DRESS.
Pattern 3267 was used for this design. It is cut in 4 Sizes: 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10 year size will require 3 1/2 yards of 40 inch material. Lawn, batiste, voile, dimity, dotted Swiss, crepe, wash silk, gingham and chambray could be used for this. As here shown white organdie was used, with self frills, and outline embroidery for decoration.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

A DAINY DRESS FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.
Pattern 3660 is here charmingly portrayed. It is cut in 4 Sizes: 6, 8, 10, and 12 years. Size 10 requires 3 1/2 yards of 38 inch material. Dotted Swiss, organdy, crepe, crepe de chine, nouncing, embroidered voile, poplin, silk, gingham, percale and linen are attractive for this model. The plastron may be omitted. The sleeve may be in "short" or wrist length.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

A STYLISH FROCK FOR THE GROWING GIRL.
4019. The graceful fullness of the drapery and the "tie on" effect are popular features of this model. It is nice for crepe, and also for voile. Ribbon, hemstitching or a picot edge would serve well for decoration.

A SIMPLE DRESS FOR A SMALL CHILD.
Pattern 3393 developed this attractive model. It is cut in 5 Sizes: 6 months, 1 year, 2, 3, and 4 years. Chambray, lawn, calico, challis, linen, crash, voile, silk, serge and mixture, also gingham, and poplin are nice for a dress of this kind. As illustrated, blue chambray was used, with trimming of white Indian head, finished with blanket stitching.

ASK YOUR MOTHER.
Pa, may I go to the show tonight?
Ask your mother.
If I spend a dime will it be alright?
Ask your mother.

May we go to the woods on Saturday
And take our lunches? And all I say is the phrase of most fathers on earth
to-day:
Ask your mother.

Pa, may I go to the candy store?
Ask your mother.
That pie is great. May I have some more?
Ask your mother.

Instead of a positive "yes" or "no,"
I answer him in a kindly way
With the simple phrase which all father's say:
Ask your mother.

But well I know she has said before:
Ask your father.
Playing parental battlers,
Ask your father.
So I take his hand and I hear his plea,
And then whatever the case may be,
I issue this verdict evenly:
Ask your mother.

What should I do if I couldn't say
Ask your mother?
Sparing myself in this artful way,
Ask your mother.
Better her judgment than mine, and so Whether there's need for a "yes" or no,
This is the readiest phrase I know:
Ask your mother.

Ancient Indian Graves Paying Gold Mines.

The latest method of gold mining in grave robbing. Modern Indians of western South America have discovered that buried in the mounds that contain the skeletons of their ancient ancestors there also can be found gold trinkets. They burrow into these, claim the trinkets as an inheritance and melt these priceless relics of America's pre-Columbian civilization into gold of commerce. According to Indian standards, it is a paying business, and they make a better living at this work than by ordinary day labor. Archeologists of the Bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian Institute declare that such practices are destroying forever the early history of the South American Indians. Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, hopes that some arrangement can be made so that the golden images and trinkets brought to light by this novel mining will not be destroyed by melting. He suggests that it may be possible to save them by exchanging the handiwork of the ancient red men for more than their bullion value in modern gold.

Lawn Tennis.

THE GAME FOR YOUNG AND OLD.

LONDON, Eng., June 24. (By Canadian Press.)—Lawn Tennis, everybody's game, is played almost everywhere in the civilized world. Young and middle-aged—yes, even elderly people—play the game, and both sexes are at it in thousands of courts. Tennis has become the world's game. It will be played in every corner of the globe by people of every clime and color. It makes the same appeal to the yellow-skinned, almond-eyed man of the East as it does to the English and Americans. Its appeal, in short, is world-wide. A sporting expert of the London Daily News, in an interesting article on tennis recently, said lawn tennis knew no frontiers of age sex or race. "At 20 you may play it vehemently," according to authority, "at 40 sedately and at 60 indolently; and at all ages you may play it with the supreme enjoyment yourself." Continuing he says: "From London to Peru, from New York to Tokio, you will hear the ritual chant of '15-30-40-game.' All nations have entered the lists to play for lawn tennis supremacy. At the moment America holds the highest post, for players from the United States won the Davis Cup, and one of them, long lean, "Bill" Tilden, is champion of the world. But the other countries are hot on the trail, and America may find it hard to hold what she possesses at present." In connection with the Davis Cup competition the supremacy of the United States will be challenged this year by Japan, Australasia, Spain and Great Britain. Although there seems to be no hope of this country winning back the cup this year, no British player is so pessimistic as to say Great Britain's tennis star is set forever.

This world's game, tennis, is not merely a popular spectacle. It is more than that—it is played everywhere, as well as watched everywhere. Some piquant combinations of age may be seen at various courts in this country, proving the on-age theory in tennis, as well as the general liking for it. At the Roehampton tournament this spring, M.J.G. Richards, the veteran, and his son both appeared on the lists. A few days ago at a London bad courts club there was a doubles match in which a young athlete of 21 years was partnered by a girl some years his junior; they were opposed by two men who would certainly never see 50 again—and the old 'uns won! On the next court there were two boys of 14 or 15 years of age engaging in a well-played singles. All were apparently happy. Whether Churchill's Statement to Commons -- Jury Returns Murder Verdict Against Connolly and O'Brien -- Berlin May Have Monarchist Demonstrations -- Britton Won Championship on a Foul.

Cut Your Fuel Bills 1/3

You should know how important it is to weather strip your house and buildings. Weatherstrips keep out cold and actually save one third of your fuel expense. Fuel bills high as ever and there is very little chance that the cost will come down soon. It is too expensive to waste. Not only can you keep out cold by installing Ceco Metal Weatherstrips, but your house is kept free from dust, dirt and soot, and the disturbance of street noises.

NOT SATISFIED WITH IRISH SITUATION. LONDON, June 26. After a debate which was not so heated or acrimonious as expected, the government tonight won a virtual vote of confidence on its Irish policy when the "Die-Hard" motion for the re-jection of the Chief Secretary for Ireland's salary, as an expression of disapproval of the Government's policy and failure to afford police protection for Field Marshal Wilson, was defeated. The vote was 342 to 75.

THE MINE WAR INQUEST. HERRIN, Ill., June 26. The coroner's jury, which held inquest into the death of the victims of the mine war in Williamson County, found, as so recorded, that C.K. Doyle, Superintendent of Lester Mine, killed one Union Miner the day before the massacre, following the stopping of a letter mine by five thousand Union sympathizers. Of nineteen other dead, including two strikers, the jury found they came to death by gunshot wounds inflicted by persons unknown. Representatives of the Department of Justice are investigating but no arrests are yet made.

MONARCHIST PLOTTING. LONDON, June 26. The Berlin correspondent of the Westminster Gazette forecasts the registration of Minister of Defence Gessler, following Monarchist demonstrations of part of the Reichswehr. Only doubt of the dependability of the Reichswehr prevented a declaration of Martial Law, the correspondent adds.

FIRE AT STEVESTON. VANCOUVER, June 26. Several hundred persons, chiefly orientals, lost their homes and property, worth $150,000, by fire which swept the fishing village of Steveston on the Fraser River last night.

WILFUL MURDER VERDICT. LONDON, June 26. A verdict of wilful murder against James Connolly and James O'Brien, was returned by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the killing of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, assassin of last Thursday. Witnesses, whose names are withheld, added little to the details of the tragedy already published.

To promote interest in all matters pertaining to the city of Montreal and the Trade and Commerce of the Dominion of Canada is the admirable object of the Annual Review of Canadian Trade and Commerce issued by the Montreal Herald. A copy of this interesting publication for 1922 has just reached the Telegram. The Review is obviously the result of considerable work and time and could only have been published at a great expense, and the fact that it contains no advertising and is distributed gratis, is sufficient proof of the sincerity of its publishers in their desire to do their share in advancing the welfare of our sister Dominion and its chief business centre. The publication is profusely illustrated with photographs of Canadian factories and there are a very large number of articles, written by experts on current matters of business interest. These include the City of Montreal looked at from various aspects, the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Transportation, and the Banking System of Canada. It is indeed unfortunate that other newspapers throughout the Empire cannot follow the patriotic example of the Montreal Herald, for it is by such means that incentive is given to the furtherance of commercial enterprises.

At Pernambuco, Capt. Burke of the Cape Race and I, were advised by the authorities to leave port as speedily as possible. This was owing to the fact that an election was coming on and it was feared that the residents would be rather violent in their demonstrations which would necessitate closing the customs for a week or so. By dint of hard work, the ships got clear."

STEAMSHIP COMPANY'S REPORT.
Despite the existing world wide depression which is particularly felt in shipping circles, the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company has had a very successful year. The report of the annual meeting of its Board of Directors, gives ample evidence of that. The meeting was presided over by Sir Owen Phillips, G.C.M.G., M.P., the chairman of the Company for the past twenty years. The present sound financial condition of the company is due in great part to the good sense of the directorate, as the following extract from the Chairman's address will show:—"We have kept in view the vital importance of a sound financial state of affairs, and have always (even in boom years) refrained from paying sensational dividends." The total gross registered tonnage of the vessels directly owned by the Company is now 350,000 tons. The fleets of the R.M.S.P.C. and other shipping concerns with which it is closely allied, aggregate considerably over two million tons gross register or more than ten per cent of the total British Mercantile Marine. The reserve fund of the Company stands at £1,600,000 and the insurance fund amounts to over £1,000,000. In the course of his address, the chairman referred to the popularity of the Company's vessels and announced that a reduction in passenger fares would be made. These reductions are now in force. The Chairman said that in his opinion there would be no trade revival until coal is available for industry and commerce at considerably under £1 a ton, and the burden of taxation substantially reduced.

Belvedere Garden Party.
Belvedere Garden Party will be held on Wednesday, July 5th, in the ornamental grounds. This will be the first of what will, in future, be an annual event. It is being held under the auspices of the Belvedere Ladies Association. The need of the Institution is very pressing at the moment, and under the circumstances, it is hoped that the Garden Party will be a great success. A short sports programme will be held, including a Brigade relay race and a road race.

The Yale-Harvard Boat Race which took place on Friday last, was won this year by the former. This race has taken place annually since 1852 and is one of the most important sporting events of the season in America. Previous to this year's race, each University had won 27 races. Yale has now the lead as a result of its victory last week. The length of the course is four miles.

VETERINARIES.

Lantic Lessens Labor. Lantic Sugar Lantic Lessens Losses.

Grocers who sell Lantic Sugar in dust-proof, full-weight, 2-pound and 5-pound packages have no bags to buy, no weighing to do, therefore they know exactly the profit they make. The cost of putting sugar into bags for retailing, plus loss of weight and time, is said to be one dollar per 100 pounds.

IS THIS SO?
If it is, and grocers in Canada and America believe it to be so, then shopkeepers who do not wish to lose money should sell Lantic Sugar in full-weight packages.

HOUSEKEEPERS!
If you wish to buy sugar into which no disease bearing dust can get, we advise you
Buy Lantic Sugar in dust-proof, full-weight packages.
At this season of the year the filth out of the drains is blowing into every shop in town. It will even get into your pantry, but it cannot get into a package of Lantic Sugar.

Unfair to Planters.
Last week the S.S. Ranger arrived here to take crews to Labrador says the Bay Roberts correspondent of the Hr. Grace Standard. Quite a number of planters were ready and brought their outfits and supplies of alongside the steamer. On their arrival on board the ship they found that all available capacity was already occupied and they had to come back again. These men were told by the officers, we were informed, to come along, but certain that their provisions would be spoiled, if they took the risk, they thought it wise to wait for another steamer. Another blind look out for those responsible for allowing a steamer meant to carry fishermen to Labrador to be half-loaded with other freight before taking their outfits on board.

Belvedere Garden Party.
As will be seen in the advertising columns, entries are now being taken for the Three Mile Road Race in connection with Belvedere Garden Party on July 5, and as two very valuable prizes have been donated for this event, those interested are requested to "keep the pink" for the next few days. Entries will be made to Mr. C. J. Ellis, Water Street, and it would be advisable for those who wish to compete to send in their names as soon as possible. The layout of the grounds at Belvedere is not particularly adapted to football games, but this will be more than offset by the other items which have been arranged. It will be recalled that a Ladies' Association was formed this year under whose auspices this Garden Party is being run, and no effort is being spared by those enthusiastic workers to make it a grand success.

Children's Service.

AT ANGLICAN CATHEDRAL.

The Children's Service at the Church of England Cathedral on Sunday afternoon last, will surely rank in the forefront of all those connected with the present Synodical proceedings. It was a gathering of the Sunday School children of the four City Parishes, and the spacious Cathedral was crowded to overflowing. The occasion was the fifth annual presentation of the offering from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese for "Our Own Missionary" in China, Rev. Ives Stocker.

At 3 o'clock, the children being seated, the choir and clergy entered the West door, when Canon Jeeves, Rector of the Cathedral, announced the first hymn, "Brightly Gleams the Banner." As the procession moved along the aisle the effect was most attractive and inspiring, and the heartiness with which the great congregation of children joined in singing showed their delight and enthusiasm in their missionary effort. The Bishop had given a handsome Banner, known as the "Bishop's Banner" which is held by the school contributing the largest collection for the year. The Parish of St. Mary's, Heart's Content, won it last year, and it was proudly borne by a Heart's Content boy, Ralph, son of Dr. Arthur Anderson. Well done, Heart's Content.

In the Chancel there were about forty of the clergy, and a very full choir, all of which testified to the importance of the service and the interest manifested for its success. To the organist, Mr. King, and his choir, the children are specially indebted for the splendid musical contribution.

The service throughout was conducted by Rev. Canon Smart, who besides being Rector of the Parish holding the Banner of Honor, is also Chairman of the Diocesan Board of Missions, and one of the originators of "Our Own Missionary" in China enterprise. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. C. A. Moulton.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. E. C. Earp, Rector of St. Thomas's, who succeeded in riveting the undivided attention of the vast youthful aggregation. Holding up his hand he said, "Just five words for the text—'There is a lad here.'" The keynote of this splendid address was generosity and service, and by pointed illustration and story the lessons of the parable of the Loaves and Fishes was taught with such directness, earnestness and simplicity as commanded the closest listening of every soul within the walls of the sacred edifice. To look out upon such a sea of little faces, all straining to hear the words as they fell sweetly from the preacher, must have been inspiring to him, while the listeners felt that they were drawing interesting and useful thoughts, that must be to their profit. It seemed to be one of the sermons not easily reported, but one that cannot soon be forgotten by those who heard.

Following the sermon, the hymn "All Things Bright and Beautiful" was sung, during which the collection was taken. The offering of the Diocese was presented by nine boys in C.L.B. uniform, representing the nine Denominations; that of Trinity Bay holding the place of honor as the most generous giver. The general collection was taken by Superintendents of the city Sunday Schools. The procession of collectors, at conclusion of the hymn, walked up to the Chancel and presented the offering to Canon Smart who in turn passed it to the Bishop for presentation at the Altar. Then followed prayers for our Bishop, the Board of Missions, and "Our Own Missionary" and the Benediction by the Bishop.

The Recessional hymn: "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" was then sung with wondrous effect, and this service of striking beauty and enthusiasm closed.

Viewing the entire proceedings, considering the throng of youthful servants of the Master, who by the keenness of their attention, indicated their interest and enthusiasm, and remembering that some who are older, do not always or often manifest such commendable service in the religious life, the thought forces itself into prominence here, "A Little Child Shall Lead Them."—Com.

Molasses.

There seems to be some excitement in the West Indies, but the trade in this country seems to have made up their mind not to be excited at all. There has been no change since of late issue in local prices and there is a feeling that in spite of the fact that the remainder of the crop is held in a few strong hands, the market ought not to be any higher. The quantity imported to date is said to be larger than the quantity imported to the same date last year, and owing to that imported in 1920. And it is not to be said that molasses is low in price; as a matter of fact it is lower than ever it was up to $15, before which it had never, in the experience of people now in plant, been as high as 50 cents a gallon, even when sugar sold from 8 to 10 cents, molasses never sold so high; but to-day raws are only 3 1/2 cents per pound, while molasses is 50 cents wholesale. ## No Coinage for Russia.

SILVER MONEY TO REPLACE PAPER.
 PETROGAD, (Associated Press)—New silver money which in time the Soviet Government hopes to put in circulation to replace, partly at least, the paper ruble of to-day is being coined in the Petrograd mint, the only existing plant of its kind in Russia. The mint began operating several months ago; up to the present time it has manufactured 7,000,000 rubles in silver of denominations of 10, 15, 20, 50 copecks, and 1 ruble pieces. The coins contain 90 per cent. silver and 10 per cent. copper, and in general appearance are much the same as those in use before the war. Close inspection, however, shows that the Soviet lot of arms has replaced the old imperial eagle. Another striking feature is the Bolshevik motto—"Proletariat of the world, unite!" on the reverse side. The new coins are sent to Moscow where they are held as part of the Government reserve. When a sufficient quantity has been assembled the Government contemplates using them as a form of guarantee for paper money to be issued in the future. Ultimately it is hoped to put them generally in circulation, and thus obviate the present necessity of calculating in billions and millions for the needs of every day life.

 Amongst those on the list of graduates for the degree of Bachelor of Religious Education, at the Boston University to Mr. Ronald Thomas Moore of New Bay, Newfoundland. Mr. Moore completed his three year course in theology at Toronto University, and then transferred to Boston University to specialize in Religious Education under Dean Walter Scott Athearn, who might be termed the Dean of Religious Education in America. Mr. Moore returns to Newfoundland for ordination, and takes with him one of the most popular and most coveted degrees a clergyman can possess. Religious Education whose function is to train Christian leaders for all phases of work is admitted by theologians to be the foundation of the church of the future. Boston University has an enrollment of 8,823 students, and more than 700 students in extra mural courses. This year's commencement exercises was held in Symphony Hall and 658 students were given degrees.

Wedding Bells.

MARTIN-NEWS.
 The profusion of bunting flying at Bell Island on Thursday afternoon, was evidence of something more than usual happening, and moving along Main Street, opposite the business premises of J. B. Martin, a prominent business man we learned that at the Methodist Church, three o'clock, his eldest daughter, Hazel, was being united in hymen's bonds to Mr. John L. Mews of the Surveying Staff of the British Empire Steel Corporation. The Rev. I. F. Curtis performed the ceremony, and the many friends of the contracting parties filled the church; which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of Canton crepe, with Radium lace and pearl, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern, and was attended by her cousin Miss Marjorie Butler of St. John's, and Mr. Cecil Mews, brother of the groom, was his best man. Millicent Mews, a sister of the groom and Master Roy Cramm, nephew of the bride were flower bearers. During the signing of the register Mr. Harry Courtenay sang that fine tenor solo "Because." As the bridal party left the church Gordon Christian Esq. played the Wedding March. The wedding party then proceeded to a large marquee which had been erected on the lawn near the residence, where ice cream, cake, etc. was served and the customary toasts were duly proposed by the Minister, and others, and responded to in a right royal way by the happy party, and after pleasant greetings were exchanged by the Bell Island friends, to the St. John's visitors, which were about forty, adjournment was made to the house where a further reception was tendered by the bride's mother, and a bountiful supper provided. The presents were very many, and valuable, including some cheques from her father and others. At seven p.m. the entire company which had swelled to large numbers enjoyed the fine trip on "St. Mary" to Porphyry Cove. It was just delightful on the blue waters of Conception Bay as the sun was setting, and the whistle blew farewell to Wabana. The happy couple then motored to Topsail and will spend their honeymoon at Salmonier. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Mews many happy years together.

Royal Yacht Squadron.

ELECT NEW MEMBERS.
 LONDON, (Associated Press)—The Royal Yacht Squadron, styled the most exclusive club in the world, has just elected eight members, a majority of whom are peers. To achieve membership in the Royal Yacht Squadron is equivalent to obtaining a certificate of social position far more widely cognized than the patent of nobility. Wealth alone, as very rich men have discovered, will not suffice to secure admission to what some detractors have termed the last stronghold of "snobocracy" in England. Tradesmen, however, philanthropic or patriotic are barred. Sir Thomas Lipton has issued several challenges for America's cup, and no man in the country has done anything like as much to encourage yacht building and designing as he has. But because he is a tradesman, it is said, he has never Outright Sales.

The principle of outright sales of cargoes of dry codfish going to the European or any other market, is to be commended, and the hope arises that exporters will unite in agreement on this all-important matter.

The consignment system meant hurrying cargoes of fish to market, without careful inspection as to quality. Many and many a cargo in the past was underbilled with good fish, but topped off with inferior cure, when a rush order was made for the ship to sail.

Diocesan Synod.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The House met at 3.30 p.m. the Lord Bishop presiding. Prayers were read and the House declared open for business.

Minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

Mr. H. S. Hayward moved the adoption of the report of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education.

On motion, duly seconded, the Synod adopted three resolutions, attached to the report of the Board of Religious Education, viz.:

1. The adoption of a new system in the Sunday Schools of the Diocese, known as the "Marden Manuals."

2. The organization of annual conferences of Sunday School teachers and workers in the various Rural Deaneries of the Diocese.

3. The appointment of organizing secretaries in the Deaneries who shall make an annual report to the Board.

Rev. Canon Bolt presented the report, which was seconded, of Queen's College Council, to which was appended a statement of the monies that have been received to the credit of the Campaign Fund from the various Parishes of the Diocese from January 1st, 1920, to date.

The total amount received is $40,036.30, which has increased the permanent income of the College by rather more than $2,200.

It was intimated that the said statement would be published and distributed later to the Diocese.

Pursuant to notice, Rev. W. R. J. Higgitt moved the Resolution of which he had given notice "that this Synod places itself on record as being in favor of all elementary education being both free and compulsory."

On being seconded, the House agreed. His Lordship the Bishop announced that Dr. Blackall had informed him that the President and Council of the City Club extended an invitation to all members of the Synod of the uses of their Club Rooms, during their stay in St. John's which invitation shall be good for the next fourteen days.

On motion, duly seconded, the House adjourned at 5.30.

NIGHT SESSION.

The House resumed at 8 o'clock. Notice of question was given by Rev. H. B. Facey, relating to the invitation from the Church of England in Canada to the Synod concerning the union of the Church of England in Newfoundland with the Canadian Church.

Rev. Canon Jarvis moved the House into Committee of the Whole to consider the amendments to Chapters I. and VII. of the Constitution relating to extending the franchise to the women of the Church.

An amendment was then proposed that it be referred to a Select Committee to report at to-morrow's session, which committee be nominated by the chairman. The House agreed to the amendment.

Mr. Brian Dunfield moved the adoption of the reports of the Directors of the Church of England College, which was duly seconded. A debate then took place until 10 o'clock, when it was adjourned until next session.

At this hour the House took up notice of motion, when the Rev. W. R. J. Higgitt moved the following Resolution, viz.:

"That this Synod, whilst not necessarily committing itself to the principles of prohibition, earnestly urges the Government to strictly enforce the Prohibition Act, so long as it remains on the Statute Book of this Colony."

At closing hour the debate on this resolution was adjourned.

At 10.30, on motion, the House adjourned, when His Lordship pronounced the Benediction.

PRESS APPROVES.

LONDON, June 27. Lloyd George and Churchill have apparently turned the edge of the Opposition's thrust against the Government's Irish Policy, Churchill's warning that unless the Provisional Government asserts its authority the Imperial Government would assume complete control has met with widespread approval from the British press.

The Westminster Gazette, however, says the warning will be seized upon by the violent element in Irish politics as a justification of their suspicion of British integrity. The right policy, it says, is to leave Ireland alone and free from threats that the new constitution may be smashed away.

The Daily News thinks Churchill's language will do harm, and takes the view that "bloody anarchy in Ulster" is the key to the situation. The Times approves Churchill's grave and solemn declaration, saying the moment has come for Collins to choose between the Treaty or Anarchy.

Our Local Peppy

HIS DIARY.

June 26th.—The weather still very warm and it impossible to work almost, and indeed, I have lost a great amount of weight in the past fortnight. Up and to the office; and Mr. Peppy comes to me on a matter of business, which we did, and then fell to other talk. He tells me how walking with Mr. Walsh, that is Sergeant-at-Arms, they did see a woman and she attired in the extreme of the fashion. Mr. Walsh did turn to him and say how he did often see a man with a cut in his finger and he did have more bandages on it than did that woman have clothes on her back. This did greatly amuse me. Sir R. Squires is now returned from Grand Falls and did there attempt to obtain more employment for the people. Much talk of outright sales for fish on the street and in the news sheets and while I think it to be the proper method to adopt, it do seem how there must be more regulations to enforce it. This evening Mr. Spong came, and sat late with me, and being in his cups did did put him from the house. I did play at tennis to-day and mighty warm I found it, but it is a good thing that aged as I am, it is not yet too strenuous a game for me.

Hand Scholarships.

PRESENTATION AT ST. PATRICK'S HALL.

The presentation of the J. P. Hand annual scholarships for Christian Brother boys took place this forenoon in the upper flat of St. Patrick's Hall. Amongst those present were Rev. Fr. Pippy, Rev. Superior Ahern, Rev. Superior J. E. Ryan, Rev. Superior Ebnals, Rev. Bro. Culhane. There was also a representative gathering of ex pupils. The programme opened with a selection "Blue Danube" by the operatic class and a solo "Kilmarney" by Master E. Hogan. Rev. Bro. Ahern, principal of St. Patrick's Hall, in a splendid address welcomed the gathering and referred to last year's presentation of the prizes when Mr. Hand was present to make the distribution. He congratulated the winners and called on Bro. Culhane to perform the pleasing duty this year.

The following is a list of the prize winners for 1922—Hand Scholarship and prize winners 1922:—

Higher Senior.—1st. A. J. Chafe, scholarship $50; 2nd. W. J. Oliver, scholarship $40.

Second Senior.—One scholarship, $30; won by Edward English.

Junior (a)—Two scholarships, $20 each; won by Jas. O'Neill and Albert Wilson.

Junior (b)—Two scholarships, $20 each; won by Richard Coady and Jas. Foran.

Fifth Grade.—Two scholarships, $25 each; won by Gus Galway and Richard Ryall.—Three scholarships $20 each; won by Craig Strang, William Sutton and Wallace Strang.

Fourth Grade.—Four scholarships of $20 each; won by Jas. Whitten, Stan. Fowler, Walter Hanniford and Francis Connolly.

Third Grade.—Three scholarships, $10 each; won by Jas. Leahy, Jas. Murphy, Fred Holland.—Two prizes $5 each; won by Tom Edstrom and Leo Ryan.

Second Grade.—Four prizes $5 each; won by Stan. White, Ger. Angel, M. Hogan and Wm. Rice.

First Grade.—Four prizes $5 each; won by Francis Cochrane, Patrick Arcoran, R. Colford, B. Connolly.

First Reader and Primer.—Six prizes $5 each; won by Thos. Warren, J.A. Volney, Ray Maher, Jas. King, Geo. Osmund and Wm. Fogarty.

Following the distribution Bro. Culhane who is now principal of St. Joseph's school, Halifax, said he was very pleased to be present on such an occasion. He always took a keen interest in boys and their examinations, and had noticed the keen competition there was for the Hand prizes, and how all ages were represented. He appreciated how hard they must have worked and how well earned were the laurels of the winners. He congratulated them and felt that the same boys if life to come will win many a prize. He congratulated those, too, who worked so well, but who were not fortunate enough to win. The speaker referred to Mr. Hand, the donor, whom he remembered was keen at energetic in the first days of the C.P.E. He felt that no investment of any $500 of his well earned money brings him so much joy as this. He has set an example for others in giving encouragement to pupils of his old school. The St. Patrick's Hall School was the result of the broad vision like to that of Mr. Hand's, and through efforts of 50 years ago the brothers are here to-day. The building, he said, stands as a monument to the self sacrifice of the Catholic people and members of the Irish Society, Rev. Fr. Pippy, himself a class mat of Mr. Hand, congratulated the prize winners. He asked the boys to emulate the spirit of loyalty to their school as was shown by the donor of the scholarships. He referred to the motto of St. Patrick's School, "Fidelity, Courage and Truth," and exhorted the boys to live up to these principles. Rev. Bro. J. E. Ryan was pleased to see so many old friends present. Wherever he would be in the future, St. Patrick's Hall would hold a warm place in his heart. He congratulated the winners on their big accomplishment, and referred to the boys who attended class with Peter Hand, amongst whom were W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A., and Fr. Pippy, brother Ryan also referred to the cheer of the donor and the honors conferred on him by Bermudians. He urged the boys to maintain the grand old standard after which he read a letter from Mr. W. J. Higgins congratulating the winners and regretting being unavoidably absent at the presentation. Messrs. J. Fitzgibbon, J. J. Royster and J. Walsh also spoke, congratulating the boys on their achievements. The proceedings closed with cheers for the donor, Mr. Hand, and an announcement by Rev. Bro. Culhane of a half holiday.

COL. FRANKLIN LOSES POSITION.
The British Government has decided to abandon the British Trade Commission for East Africa, with headquarters at Nairobi. As a result, Lieut-Col. W. H. Franklin, D.S.O., who was appointed Trade Commissioner at Nairobi some two years ago, loses that position. This action was taken because the trade returns were not commensurate with the expenditure. It is to be regretted that Lieut-Col. Franklin will have to give up an office he was so well qualified to fill, but it is unlikely that the British Government will allow themselves to be deprived of the services of so valuable an official.

Motor Taxes.

Economic depression does not seem to be lessening the number of motor cars in use this season. Already 448 cars have been registered at the Municipal Office and 491 driving licenses have been issued. The taxes total over $12,000, and $5,500 of this amount goes to the Council. Active steps have been taken to compel all car owners to provide themselves with licenses. Taxi drivers will, in future, have to put up the "for hire" sign while their cars are stationary. This is provided for in last year's Act.

In the Realms of Sport.

LAST NIGHT'S GAME.

All roads led to St. George's Field last evening where a record crowd attended to see the clash between the Guards and Cadets. It was generally conceded 'twas going to be a fight right from the start, and the supporters of each maintain (and justly so) that both stand a good chance of championship honours. Referee Hunt got the game away on time with the Guards defending the eastern goal against a strong north-west breeze which blew across the field diagonally, making the control of the ball on the southern side very difficult. At the kick off, the blue and whites took the ball west and Coultas had a try. Immediately afterwards Clare was called upon to save one from Ches Quick. Then the Cadets brought the ball down the field in grand style, and Carl momentarily had a good opening but before he could control the ball Rose had blocked him. Then Christopher had a try but Thistle cleared it well. For a period it was a game of touches, until Meaney got loose but his shot went wide. The next few moments found the Guards with things all their own way in spite of the heavy gale. The Cadets' defence at this juncture was a bit off and inclined to be funky. Callaghan got clear with Canning's assistance, and a scrimmage in front of the Guards' goal looked very nasty until Ellis cleared. It was here that Maddigan gave one of the best exhibitions of attack and defence combined ever seen on the field. He seemed to be here, there, and everywhere, and none of the speedy Guard forwards could get by him. Suddenly the Cadet forwards opened fire but could not register a direct hit mainly owing to the excellent work of Thistle and Rose. In the middle Canning unlawfully got mixed up with some of his opponents, and the kick-off broke up the attack momentarily. On a pass from Maddigan, Callaghan sent across a hot one. After this play was brought into the Cadet territory for some seconds, when like a flash Maddigan broke away and near his opponents' full-back line he sent the pigskin over to Carl, who in turn sent it to the speedy little Flynn. Blocked by Rose, he sent it in to the centre to Carl, who scored, amidst the great jubilation of the red and blue supporters. Following up their success Meaney tried a long drive which Moore found a difficulty in stopping. Maddigan slogged another which went over the cross bar. Elated by their lead, the Cadets went right to it and the ball was continually in the mouth of the Guards' goal, but too many legs spoiled the play. The three Quicks then got away and went west just as speedily as their name implies, but Canning chased and secured the ball, eventually driving it to Meaney who had another try which was brilliantly saved by Moore. Here a foul was given against Callaghan for mixing it with the Guards' goalie. Ches had another run up in the eye of the wind but Morris was the heart-breaker. Coultas and Halyard then tried a combined attack but fell victims to Kavanagh. Flynn had a nice opening but shined it behind. Maddigan was penalized for charging Halyard off the ball. In a mixup Carl shot a wicked one which just skimmed the bar. Galgay cleared a dangerous rush by the two Quicks, and Thistle tried a run down off his own bat and got it up to the Cadet fullback line but came to grief when he attempted to evade Morris. Canning fouled Quick but the kickoff by Rose resulted in a back. Emerging from a scrim Meaney had another try which went a back just as the whistle blew.

HALF TIME.

With the wind now in their favor the Guards' supporters looked for big things from the boys. Shortly after play was resumed Dicky Quick repeated the ball fall in the face which laid him low for a few seconds. Ches had a try but couldn't get past Kavanagh. For the next five minutes play was very desultory, being confined between both the halfback lines. Then new life seemed to come into the Guards and a regular bombardment of the Cadets' defence took place but Galgay and Kavanagh had their "This is my busy day" sign hung out and were right on the job. Ellis was about to have a try when Canning laid him low and play had to be stopped for a minute. Meaney and Flynn by dint of good combination worked the ball west, and in a collision with the Guards' full-back Flynn was knocked hors de combat. Ches tried a clever hook which just skimmed the crossbar. From a corner kick Ches had another good chance but lost it. Parsons secured the kick-off but fonged it wide. After Maddigan handling the ball, the Guards had matters all their own way and rained shot after shot towards the goal but Galgay worked like a Trojan. As a matter of fact he was like a magnet for the ball and it seemed to stick to him. A corner against the Cadets was nicely placed by Coultas, which Rose headed to Ches, who in turn headed it on the goal, but it had the misfortune to again hit the crossbar. Undoubtedly the Cadets' goalposts had horseshoes hanging all over them. Maddigan's fumble let Coultas through the defence and his fast low one hit the goalpost. It was indeed a narrow squeak from equalizing matters as another few inches would have meant a goal that no goalkeeper could ever save. Shortly after Coultas got another opening but just as he attempted to shoot he was run to earth by Flynn. From now until full time the Guards tried and tried again but were unsuccessful. It was really marvellous how the ball did not get through the posts but the fickle goddess of luck was smiling on the Cadets all through, and the final whistle blew with the Cadets victorious by a score of 1 to 0.

We should like to praise the Cadets on their excellent defensive tactics even though they did take the precaution of playing four halves in the second half with the wind against them. We attribute the Guards' inability to score was caused by the fact that in the second period the halves pressed the forwards too much; in other words their forwards and halves were too intermingled in their anxiety to score that quite often one player was in the way of the other, causing fumbling near the mouth of their opponents goal and preventing accurate shooting.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

The game tonight is between the C.L.B. and B.I.S. and should furnish an interesting game though the odds are greatly in favor of last year's champions.

NEWFOUNDLAND CAPTURES CUP FOR QUITS.

(Acadian Recorder.)

The first competition of the season of the Studley Quilt Club took place, Saturday, June 10th, and was the occasion of one of the most enjoyable afternoons of this historic organization. The Noyes Cup, which has been in competition for 30 years, was contested for, and was won by A. Moulton, who repeated his success of eight years ago when he captured the trophy, and demonstrated that he could pitch even better quoits than on that occasion. The second prize, the Jay-Boss-Willum Cup, the proceeds of a poem composed by their esteemed former Secretary, John E. Albro, was won by Wm. Mounbourquette, who gained his place in the final by good pitching.

The trophy was presented to Mr. Moulton by Mayor Murphy, who congratulated him on his victory. It was the Mayor's first visit to the Club, and he was not only warmly welcomed by President Dodwell and other members, with the genial head of the Club expressing their great pleasure with his visit, but he also made a decided impression in his remarks, which were to the point, and also well spoken. He referred to the remarkable record of Studley, of the many prominent people who had visited the club, of the great fame it had achieved abroad, which made this time-honored organization a real asset to the city of Halifax. He noticed among the members the greatest good fellowship, and to look among the many older members of the club they seemed to have gained the spirit of perpetual youth.

Later on, President Dodwell proposed the health of the Mayor, who in his reply spoke of the problems confronting any person who occupied the Mayor's chair, and the necessity of the citizens aiding in settling these questions, and he proposed to consult with members of Studley—men occupying prominent positions in the community and others to ask them to give their ideas to help in settling the various problems.

Mr. Moulton returned his thanks for the congratulations extended him and in a happy speech spoke of this being one of the proudest days of his life, in having the honor of winning this cup which had been so long competed for in the club.

Mr. Moulton the winner of the Coveted Trophy was born at Pouch Cove and worked for some years in St. John's before taking up his residence in Halifax.

NEW BRIDGE TO BE ERECTED.

At present a large amount of employment is being given in the West End of the city, and nearly 500 men are being provided with relief work. Besides the improvement to the roads a new bridge is being placed across Waterford River, replacing the present iron structure. The new erection will be of reinforced concrete and made substantial enough to withstand the increasing traffic in this locality. It is stated that the work of building a new Long Bridge, for which money was voted a couple of years ago, will be started shortly.

Pickled Fish.

There is no definite news as yet covering the quantity of mackerel which has been put under salt along the coast of Nova Scotia this season, but it is not thought to be large. What quantity of mackerel will be taken at the Magdalen Islands, it is yet too early to estimate. As to what the price will be, the trade here predict $10.00 per barrel as compared with $14.00 last season. There are still quite a few barrels of last year's mackerel being held in this market.

One of the problems of the day in the fishing trade is to discover why the consumption of pickled fish has so markedly declined. There is very little call indeed for pickled mackerel and there is almost no call for pickled herring; the price of the latter has declined so that you can buy Nova Scotia pack of herring at $4.50 and Newfoundland at $4.00 ex-vessel. These herring were selling at $6.00 and $5.00 respectively last year. We might again repeat what we said in our last issue that owing to the very low price there will not be much interest taken in herring by the fishermen along the coast of Nova Scotia this season—Maritime Merchant.

A dance was held by the members of the Aero Tennis Club in St. Patrick's Hall on Thursday evening. The affair was in the nature of a farewell to six of its members: Messrs. Payne, T. A. Brien, L. Hurst, L. A. O'Brien, F. R. Ward, and R. B. LeDrew of the Western Union Cable Company staff, who leave here this week. Dancing started at 10 p.m., and during the evening ice cream and supper were served by the members of the Ladies Committee. Following supper, Mr. A. E. Parsons, chairman of the Committee, made a brief speech, touching on the loss to the Club of those members, and wished them success at their future stations. Mr. F. R. Ward, who by the way is President of the Club on behalf of the boys made a suitable reply. Dancing was resumed until 1 a.m., when the gathering dispersed, having spent a most enjoyable evening.

"Affair of Honor."

SLOP PAIL CAUSE OF DUEL CHALLENGE.

LONDON, Eng.—An unexpected slop-pail is rather an exceptional ground for an "affair of Honor," but Dr. Stein, lecturer on Byzantine Art at the University of Vienna, apparently thinks it is sufficient ground for a duel. The Vienna correspondent of the London Times tells the story of Dr. Stein's challenging his landlord, Dr. Werth, a bank manager in Vienna, to mortal combat as the result of a trivial grievance the university professor thought he had against Dr. Werth. Stein was a lodger in Werth's house. He complained of laziness and carelessness on the part of the housekeeper. Her services were bad, he said, and she never emptied the slops. "No gentleman can question that you are responsible for the omissions of your servant," Stein wrote to Werth. "I therefore expect you to take the necessary steps at once. If not, I shall regard it as a deliberate provocation." The landlord replied briefly to the effect that he had not time then to attend to the matter, but would do so later. Thirty hours later he was waited on by two men, who told him that were Dr. Stein's seconds, and informed him that their principal considered himself insulted and demanded satisfaction on the field of honor. As Dr. Werth refused to regard the behavior of his servant sufficient ground for a duel, the two seconds drew up a statement in which they declared that, as Dr. Werth refused satisfaction, the affair was settled on one side only. This meant, according to the duelling code in Austria, that Dr. Werth might be thrashed by his opponent, or was at least incapable of giving satisfaction. Dr. Stein gave expression to his feelings by glaring at the landlord and his wife whenever he met them in the passage. As the household was somewhat upset by the whole matter, Dr. Werth took the fairly natural course of giving his lodger "notice". In Vienna, however, the rights of the tenant are safeguarded by the law, and a landlord cannot eject his tenant without right and proper grounds. The case has been brought into court, and is being tried in proper form, to the general amusement of everybody.

G. O. M. of British Journalism.

CELEBRATED 85th BIRTHDAY.

LONDON, Eng.—Sir John Merry Le Sage, Managing Editor of the Daily Telegraph, is the "Grand Old Man" of British Journalism. He was born at Clifton on April 28, 1837, and on his 85th birthday he was fairly deluged with congratulations, not only from his numerous friends of the Press but in every walk of life. A similar flow of congratulatory messages came to him in 1918, the year he received his knighthood. Beginning his newspaper career with a short provincial experience, Sir John was engaged by the late Lord Buryham when the Daily Telegraph was but eight years old, and under his old chief, and subsequently under the present Lord Buryham, he has ever since played an important part in building up the prosperity of his paper. He was a great organizer of news, and his courage and coolness were equal to any emergency. Le Sage served as a special correspondent in France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Egypt, the United States, and in Canada. He was war correspondent with the German Army in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. He was in Paris during the whole of the Commune. He was with Lord Wolseley's force in Egypt in 1882. He was acting editor of the Daily Telegraph for many years. Many were Le Sage's journalistic exploits. These included the sending of his paper of the first news of Lord Palmerston's death, and the first news of the entry of the Germans into Paris. It was Le Sage, who, in 1878, first communicated to Lord Derby, then Foreign Secretary, the fact that Lord Beaconsfield had ordered the fleet to the Dardanelles, on which Lord Derby resigned. It was a conversation of Le Sage with the famous explorer Stanley that led to the Stanley expedition across Africa. "Very English in his reserved, rather caustic temperament, with his close-cropped, military looking head, and white moustache, Sir John Merry Le Sage seems the personification of common sense and shrewd judgement." The London Times says: "He has given his long life with unsurpassed devotion to the service of a great newspaper; the welfare of which, as his friends know, is both his dearest wish and his best reward."

FIVE AMERICANS PLAY AT WIMBLEDON.

Five Americans, two women and three men, will compete in the series of British Grass Court Championships which began at Wimbledon, England, yesterday. These do not form an official team, but are competing as individuals. This year, the United States Lawn Tennis Association is concentrating its resources upon a team to defend the Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's team championship. With the exception of Wm. T. Tilden, world's champion, the American quintet now playing at Wimbledon, is the same as last year. The players are Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, Miss Edith Sigourney and Dean Mather, C. C. Caner and H. A. Gore. It is hoped that Suzanne Lenglen, holder of the world's championship in women's singles, will meet Mrs. Mallory during the tournament. She has already beaten the American, but last year, in the States, after being beaten 6-2 in the first set, the French girl collapsed. Last year the Wimbledon championships resulted as follows:
 Men's Singles—Wm. T. Tilden, 2nd.
 Women's Singles—Mlle. Lenglen.
 Men's Doubles—R. Lycett & M. Woodman.
 Women's Doubles—Mlle. Lenglen & Miss E. Ryan.

Dried Fish.

These should be days of good cheer in Lunenburg, for no place that we know of is enjoying a greater measure of prosperity than Lunenburg at the present time. In our last issue we said that the second spring trip of the "bank" fleet would probably account for 50,000 quintals of codfish. As a matter of fact we find that it has considerably exceeded that amount, the total being 75,000. This added to the quantity secured on the early spring trip, brings the total to 120,000 qts., a new record for the industry, and equal to about twice the quantity of the average for the last ten years. The fleet are now off to the banks for the long summer trip, and should they be as fortunate as the two previous trips, Lunenburg will have still further cause for rejoicing.
 The chief interest for the moment in the dried fish trade, centres on what the price of the catch just landed is likely to be. The trade are talking $6.50 to $7.00 per quintal, but the fishermen have so far not opened their mouths, though we suspect that $8.00 more closely approximates their idea of value. The trade say that they have lost money on the early spring catch, that the price paid was too high and that they do not wish to repeat their experience. However, as there has been no definite declaration as to the price made by either of the parties interested, we suspect we can afford to let the question stand over for future consideration. The present holdings of fish at Lunenburg are quite large, but on the other hand there is no doubt that foreign markets are fairly able to assimilate them. Porto Rico at the moment is a little draggy owing to excessive receipts, and Cuba, too, is buying lightly as she always does at this season of the year. But the West India situation, speaking broadly, is good. There is no such flood of consignments from Newfoundland reaching there as was the case during the last two or three years, Newfoundland's surplus of old fish was apparently disposed of in Europe, as she is not now invading our West India markets with the violence of previous seasons.
 The news from Europe about dried fish is not bad reading to-day. Markets over there are cleaning up quite well, and it is thought they will be able to absorb such supplies as may be offered from this side of the water during the fall and winter months. The news from Southern Brazil is also good; in fact it can be said that in all dried fish markets the outlook is quite encouraging at the present time.

A test of the new way to beautify teeth

This offer is now made almost the world over. It is published in many languages. Millions of people of many races have thus found a way to fight film on teeth.
 All careful people owe themselves this test—all who want teeth whiter, safer, cleaner.
That dingy film
 Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. Feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Your tooth brush used in old ways leaves much of it intact.
 Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.
 Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.
Teeth not clean
 Film-coated teeth are unclean. That is why so many teeth brushed daily discolor and decay. Tooth troubles have been constantly increasing, and film is the cause of most of them.
 Dental science, therefore, has sought ways to fight the film. Two ways have now been found.
 Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.
 The methods are embodied in a modern tooth paste—Pepsodent. And millions of people now enjoy its benefits.
Acts in 5 ways
 Pepsodent does more than combat film. It also fights starch deposits on teeth and acids.
 It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling and may otherwise form acids. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause decay.
 Each use brings five effects which modern authorities regard as essential. It is bringing a new dental era.
One week tells
 One week will show you what this new method means. It will change all your ideas on tooth cleaning.
 Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.
 Judge then what is best for you and yours by what you see and feel. Cut out the coupon now.

Fourth Session of General Conference.

OPENS AT GENEVA IN OCTOBER.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 24.—(By Canadian Press)—The Fourth Session of the General Conference of the International Labor Organization (League of Nations) of which Canada is a member, will open at Geneva, on Oct. 18, 1922. The agenda is settled by the governing body is as follows:—

1. Revision of Part XIII. of the Treaty of Versailles, and the corresponding parts of the other treaties of Peace.
  - (a) With a view to the reform of the constitution of the Governing Body of the International Labor Office.
  - (b) With a view to the modification as regards the periodicity of the Sessions of the Conference.
  2. Communication to the International Labor Office of statistical and other information regarding emigration and immigration and the repatriation and transport of emigrants.
- In communicating this agenda to the governments that are members of the International Labor Organization, Mr. Albert Thomas, the Director of the International Labor Office, explained the circumstances under which it was adopted by the governing body. It was decided to include the second item, regarding emigration, in order to give effect to a resolution adopted by the International Emigration Commission last August and laid before the Conference at its last session. It was considered inadvisable to attend to deal, without further preparation, with all the complex and delicate questions on which resolutions were adopted by that Commission, but the Governing Body was of the opinion that the question of the communication by the governments of statistical and other information relating to emigration might be usefully considered by the Conference as a preliminary to the consideration at a later date of other emigration problems.

EQUALISING DISCUSSION.

With regard to the first item, respecting the revision of Part XIII. of the Treaty of Versailles, it was recalled by the Director that paragraph (a) of this item, respecting reform of the constitution of the Governing Body was included in the agenda of the third session of the Conference, and it was re-included in the agenda of the fourth session in conformity with the desire expressed by the Conference. With regard to paragraph (b) of this item, respecting the periodicity of the sessions of this Conference, the Director suggested that, without any amendment of Part XIII. of the Treaty, it might be possible to find a solution of the difficulties which led to the suggestion that the sessions of the Conference should be held at longer intervals. The general opinion of the sessions of the Conference but that an adequate interval should be allowed to members of the International Labor Organization for dealing with previous decisions of the Conference. It was also suggested that the sessions of the Conference might be divided into two classes alternating from year to year, one in which draft conventions and recommendations might be adopted, and the other in which notes could be taken only of the results already obtained and difficulties encountered in the application of its decisions and any general questions regarding the working of the International Labor Organization would be settled. It was with this suggestion in mind this agenda contains one item only with regard to which the Conference may adopt a draft convention or recommendation. In addition to the above items, the conference will deal with the following questions affecting the general working and activity of the International Labor Organization, namely: (a) the revision of the Standing Orders; (b) the election of the Governing Body; (c) the report of the unemployment crisis, and on the distribution of raw materials which the International Labor Office has been requested to prepare; (d) a proposal to insert in the general articles of future draft conventions, provisions which would render possible their amendment as regards details of application; and (e) the General Report of the Director.

Outport Motor Licenses.

(From Hr. Grace Standard.)

A meeting of the motor car owners of this town, Bay Roberts and Carboneau was held on Saturday evening last in the Public Building, Bannerman Street. The chief business was the discussion of the motor car law as it stands concerning the annual motor taxes. According to the present law all owners of cars must pay a tax rated according to the horsepower of their cars to the Municipal Council. St. John's. Half of the revenue collected by this means is turned over to the Road Commission for the upkeep of the highways. This much of the arrangement is considered equitable by the outport car owners, but they fail to understand what claim the Municipal authorities in St. John's have to the balance. It was decided to have the matter put before the Government, and Mr. F. C. Archibald brought the matter before the House on Tuesday. The police had been ordered to stop all cars which did not have this season's number plate attached, and the owners were to be fined up. It is now expected that the law will be waived for the time being until the necessary alterations are enacted. According to the law cars had to be brought to St. John's to be licensed and drivers had to be examined there before being allowed to use their cars in the city. Outside the city limits anybody could drive without a license. This to our mind should be altered. All drivers of cars should undergo a driving test and when considered competent be given a license and nobody should be allowed to handle a car unless in possession of such a license. Some competent person in each place should be appointed to examine drivers and have the power to issue the licenses. This would be a wise addition to the law regarding motors and would be a factor to the Safety First campaign.

Crowded Houses at the Nickel.

"MADONNAS AND MEN" MAKES BIG HIT.

In presenting "Madonnas and Men" at the Nickel Theatre last evening the management offers to the amusement seeking public of this city one of the finest and most absorbing feature pictures ever filmed. Opening with scenes in Rome in the days of Nero it shows us how a Soothsayer persuaded the Emperor to give up his lust for bloody entertainment by telling him a story of the future.

It is the Soothsayer who looks into the future, sees what happens to a nation that holds no respect for womanhood and then details a tale of modern times that parallels the doings in ancient Rome. The modern story reveals the frantic search of a father for his lost daughter. The young girl has been taken from her home by a millionaire as part of his plan of revenge and is about to be forced into marriage when her father finds her. Here is enacted a scene the like of which has never before been seen on stage or screen. It is, however, only one of the many thrilling episodes in this gigantic drama.

Prominent in the cast of "Madonnas and Men" are Evan Burrows Fontaine, Edmond Lowe, Fair Binney, Anders Randolf, Raye Dean and Gustav Von Seyffritz while thousands of extras are employed in many of the massive scenes.

UNIVERSAL GRIEF.

According to dispatches, there's trouble everywhere, and anguish comes in batches, and statesmen rend their hair. In China there's been fighting, to gain the diamond belt; the Russian rule is blighting its evils now are felt. The monarchists are plotting wherever kings were crowned, palladiums are rotting in every foreign land. Grief, grief! See Ireland grab it; she now has freedom's boon, but has the scrapping habit, and cannot drop it soon. Poor France is badly busted, by Prussia armies wrecked; her statesmen are disgusted because she can't collect. And even stark Britain, that never quailed before, by grievous ills is smitten, and smiles and sings no more. Alas, the sad dispatches, from groaning nations sent! The reader sighs and scratches his head in wonderment. How can one read such tidings, such news from o'er the foam, and fill the air with chidings, and best around at home? Our tickly little troubles, o'er which the knockers bray, are evanescent bubbles a breath will blow away. Why roar of income taxes and laws we do not like, and arm ourselves with axes some men of straw to strike? Let's cease to tear our throats and rant of pipe dream ills, an dread the grim dispatches from lands where trouble kills.

Uncle Joe on the Lake.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I join with your correspondents in support of an Artificial Lake for Bannerman Park—and I also support one for Victoria Park, in the West End. Bowring Park is a credit to the city, with its lovely surroundings and beautiful swimming pool—but is rather far away for most people, especially boys and girls. From a hygienic standpoint—a pool of clean pure water in the park would be one of the greatest assets that the Municipal Council could own. As a public we take very little interest either in public questions or our public parks. Let me picture to the citizens of St. John's, a Miniature Lake in Bannerman Park—300 ft. long by 75 ft. wide and 18 inches deep, finished nicely with concrete, both sides, around the margin of the lake, Cobble stones set in concrete, white-washed. Trees planted round the lake and seats, this could be made one of the beauty spots of the park at very little cost, to be used during the hot summer weather for little boys and girls paddling and sailing boats and in the winter for open safe skating. We want public opinion to support the Mayor and Council in a work of this kind, that will be of an infinite blessing to the great masses of our juveniles.

Yours truly,
UNCLE JOE.

What Do You Think of a Fluid

That will draw roaches and ants out of every hole, crack, or crevice before killing them and not poison food?

That will kill bugs instantly and not leave an unpleasant odor?

That will knock flies off the wall and not harm paint or paper?

That will keep the bedroom, kitchen, or verandah clear of flies, mosquitoes, etc. for several hours after a few sprays?

That will take fleas off a dog and not harm the dog?

That will destroy chicken lice without any injury to your stock?

That applied in small quantities to the exposed parts of the body will insure you from Mosquito bites?

That as a general disinfectant is stronger than the ordinary carbolic solution.

THAT FLUID IS SAN-O-SPRAY.

No insect can live where San-O-Spray is used. Yet San-O-Spray is non-poisonous to human beings and can be used with perfect safety in pantry, kitchen, dining room, and cellar, moreover San-O-Spray has an agreeable and delightful odor, removing all fetid or unpleasant odors. ## It's Flavor that Makes the Meal!

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce. Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?

Household Notes.

Try pouring custards into ramekins, covering with buttered paper and steaming until firm.

When nuts are used in preserves add them last and cook only long enough to heat them through.

Sour cream, seasoned with salt and paprika, is excellent poured over hot boiled cabbage or cauliflower.

Bake individual shortcakes, pull apart, spread with butter and put berries between and about the halves.

Pineapple tops planted in boxes or flower pots make attractive porch plants. Surround them with drooping vines.

To pit cherries a writing pen point first in the holder. The rounded end is easily inserted in stem end of cherry.

If using dry cocoanut for cake frosting place the cocoanut in a clean table napkin and steam it just before making frosting.

In washing cream-colored curtains use starch colored with tea or coffee or with yellow ochre if a brighter color is desired.

When canning by the water-seal method, if you have no rack with which to lift cans from the boiler, slip a button hook under the top wire.

If you have cooked your salad dressing too long place sausage immediately in cold water, and beat rapidly with egg beater until smooth.

To make damson plum jam, remove seeds from fruit and to every pound of fruit allow ¾ pound sugar. Cook mixture until thick and clear.

A delicious sauce for ice cream is made by boiling together ¾ cup of sugar, ¼ cup water and ¼ cup raisins for five minutes. Add flavoring.

Over alternate layers of chopped cooked spinach and cooked noodles, sprinkle grated cheese and seasoning. Pour over all a cupful of milk and bake.

If you haven't the regular fruit labels, paper parrot makes a good substitute. Cut it the required length, write name on it and it is ready for use.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

HOW THEY GO TO COLLEGE.

I heard a group of club women talking about colleges the other day. One of the younger members of the group started by asking another college she went to. She gave information and asked the same question in return. Presently the older ones of the group were talking about their colleges. Then an older woman said, "My daughter goes to college this year."

College at Second Hand. It is at that several older women had been left out of the talk.

children's youth and I had a momentary vision of how much a parent can share in his child's happiness and successes and privileges.

Why She Does.

I have a friend, not himself a father, who thinks parents deny themselves too much for their children. He cannot understand why a woman whom he knows who has been left a widow with a very moderate income and four children is denying herself all the luxuries that other women of her set have to send those children to college. "They don't have to go to college," he says. "I don't see why they should expect it when their father is dead. She didn't go to college. Why should she have to give her children so much more than she had?"

Why indeed, except that that is the greatest ambition of all the best mothers and fathers—to give their children the things they wanted and had to do without. To give them the best possible equipment for living. To guard them from their own disappointments and mistakes. To hand on the torch not dimmer, but brighter, if possible.

They Well Deserve It.

And as a blessed compensation they are able to enjoy the child's pleasures and successes in a way which is possible in no other human relationship.

Of course the child can heighten or lessen the enjoyment by the way he realizes or fails to realize his opportunity for sharing all the generous bounty he is receiving. I have known children whose parents were making an effort to send them to school or colleges who answered in monosyllables all the questions their pathological eager parents asked about their work and their friends, and who were ungracious hosts when the college customs forced them to entertain their parents.

One's are rise when one thinks of such a child. Had Shakespeare lived to-day it might well have been a son, who was not keen about having his father visit him at college, who caused him to say: "How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child." (Do not be too quick to refute that by saying Shakespeare's child would not have been ashamed of his father. I am not at all sure of that.)

There is but one excuse for them. They do not realize how much their lives mean to their parents. But I do wrong to call that an excuse. An explanation, if you will, but never an excuse.

An Industrial Entente.

The following letter by Lord Morris, is taken from a recent issue of the London Times; the Industrial League and Council has done valuable service to the industrial community by its re-statement "of the ultimate aim and purpose of industry in the light of the present-day conditions and facts." The entente it proposes between employers and employees is undoubtedly the vital necessity of the moment. How are we to attain it?

The Industrial League and Council suggests that a group of employees and trade unionists should meet "in more or less continuous session" to formulate a policy, to work out its application to the problems of to-day, and to consider ways and means of securing its acceptance by all concerned in industrial affairs.

The suggestion is an admirable one, providing it would not merely add to the industrial machinery at present in being. That criticism the Industrial League and Council anticipates, and I really do not think there is much weight in it. Industrial strife is now recognized on all hands as disastrous. If a real attempt were made to prevent it, I believe it would command the support of all parties in the State. Less than a month ago Mr. Frank Hodges came out with a proposal for a ten years' industrial truce, after Sir William Noble and Mr. J. R. Clynes had definitely urged the formation of an Industrial Parliament.

These various proposals show, to my mind, the sincerity of the desire for a real endeavor to rid the country of the incubus of industrial strife. Then show that the time is ripe for fresh attempts to translate our pious aspirations into practice.

Who is to take the first step? On that subject, opinion is bound to be divided, but I think most people will agree that Mr. Arthur Henderson was right in his contention in your own columns that it should not be the government, but an independent body without any official connection with the State. Rightly or wrongly, State interference in industry is suspect. The failure of the attempt to set up a National Industrial Conference in 1919 is still remembered with some bitterness. Is there anything to prevent the Industrial League and Council itself from taking a bold step and arranging the preliminaries? It has a strong executive committee of employers and employees; it is in close and confidential touch with both sides; it has taken a prominent part in bringing the urgency of the matter to the light of day; it has all the machinery to act at once.

Let the Industrial League and Council give a lead to the country, and it will at once command support. Yours very truly,

MORRIS.

Double Explosion on a Warship.

By an extraordinary fatality two gun accidents occurred within a few hours of each other on board the French armoured cruiser "Jules Michelet" on June 27, 1912, during gun practice off Toulon. At four o'clock in the afternoon, ten gunner's apprentices were working a 6.4 inch gun in the turret No. 2 on the port side under the Chief Adjutant Pol. The firing was proceeding normally and forty-eight shots had already been fired. For the forty-ninth the double process of cleaning the gun had been carried out in strict conformity with the regulations, and the projectile was already in its place when the foremost of the two cartridges exploded, igniting the second. The turret was instantly filled with sheets of flame, the ten men working the gun being terribly burned, but though the clothing of officers and men was in flames, they left the turret in good order, and after receiving first aid on board were taken ashore with great difficulty owing to the rough sea. Admiral Sourrien, commanding the squadron, came on board shortly afterwards, and ordered the practice to be resumed. The men obeyed without the least sign of emotion, but almost at once a second explosion occurred, this time in turret No. 6, adding two officers and eight men to the list of injured. One officer and three of the men died from their wounds. The accidents were at first attributed to a back fire having ignited the cartridges as they were placed in the breach, but an enquiry showed that they were due to spontaneous combustion of the notorious "B" powder which had caused the total destruction of the battleship "Liberte" in the previous Autumn. All suspected powder was then removed from the French warships, but the accident in the "Jules Michelet" seems to show that the new powder was as bad as the old.

Mrs. A. A. V. Halterman writes of Dr. F. G. Kinsman's Heart Tablets, etc.
COULD NOT GO ACROSS ROOM, BUT NOW ABLE TO WALK SIX MILES.

I cannot express to you my thanks for your Heart Tablets as I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I had heart trouble for fifteen years and would have had spells so that I would have to sit up for five or six weeks at a time, only getting two hours' rest out of forty-eight. I had smothering spells and would have to be fanned for hours at a time, and the pain at my heart was so severe that I would think that every minute would be my last. My heart would beat so fast that I could not count the beats, and would then stop altogether and my breath would become so short that I would sink away in fainting spells. Many different physicians treated me, and one specialist stated that I had the worst affected heart of any he had ever treated and that it was impossible for me to be cured. I was not able to walk across my room on account of my heart, but am now able to go six miles on one walk. I was not expected to live by any of my friends, and they now all ask me: "What did you take to cure yourself?" I am looking well, and my heart never troubles me and it has been six years since I took the Tablets. My son was taken with the grip and was not able to work for five weeks. His heart troubled him so I advised the use of your Heart Tablets, and in three days he was well and has not since lost a day's work. I shall do all I can to recommend your medicine.

Above Heart Tablets are sold at $1.00 per box at all Drug Stores, or write to P. O. Box 913, St. John's for further information. s,tu,11
