*A Waggish Hackman.
(From the St. Louis Republic.)*

A man stepped up to one of the hackmen at the Union depot yesterday and wanted to know where he could procure a bottle of whisky. "Jump right in, air, jump right in, and I will take you where you can get the finest kind of whisky very cheap."

The unsuspecting individual in response to the invitation jumped into the hack and was being driven down the street at lightning speed before he had time to collect his thoughts. The mercenary hackman drove out to Grand avenue and north on that thoroughfare until he reached Washington avenue, when he turned east and directed his course toward the river, finally halting in front of a saloon near Sixth street. Here he jumped from his box and opened the door of his coach, when the stranger asked him why the "mischief" he had taken him so far.

"Well," retorted the hackman, "you wanted me to take you out to get a bottle of good whisky, and you can't get that anywhere."

Seeing it was useless to parley with the hackman, the stranger then procured the whisky, and asked to be taken back to the depot as soon as possible, as he desired to take the train.

The hackman said he had other engagements and couldn't afford to do it unless he received a dollar for his trouble.

As the stranger imagined it was five or six miles to the depot he paid the dollar and said, "Well, then, go ahead. I presume I must stand it." In about four minutes, to the man's astonishment, the hack halted in front of the depot. He couldn't understand how it took him such a long time to reach the whisky shop when only a few brief moments had elapsed. But that didn't alter the case any, as the hackman had the dollar while the stranger had nothing to show for his trouble but a little experience and a bottle of whisky.

"Why, bless my stars!" said Mr. Wm. G. Denniston, 124 1/2 South Tenth street, Philadelphia, Pa., "after bathing my limbs thoroughly with Jacob's Oil, I was relieved of the pain of my rheumatic joints and was soon well. It cures every time."

GOLDWIN AND THE DRAGON

PROFESSOR SMITH AGAIN BEATEN BY ST. GEORGE SOCIETY.

A Large and Uplifting Meeting Last Night—Letters from the Candidate Begging to Have his Name Withdrawn—A Vote of 75 to 47 Against him.

The annual meeting of St. George's society last night was very largely attended, about 125 members being present. Over 25 new members were proposed and elected then and there.

The secretary read the following letter from Mr. Goldwin Smith:—

Dear Mr. Pres.—I read with the greatest pleasure your letter of the 15th, regarding the nomination of my name to the presidency of the society.

I have, however, written to Mr. Piddington begging him to please have my name withdrawn, on the ground that it might reflect discredit on the society.

Very truly yours,
GOLDWIN SMITH.

This letter was received with great grief by a portion of the audience, probably the anti-Smith wing thereof.

The secretary read the forty-seventh annual report of the society which showed that although the number of applications, 1809, had been less than last year, the much larger, $1417.49 had been supported. The treasurer had begun the year with a balance of $351.93, had received during the year $2941.06, and had wound up with a balance of $724.73.

Resolutions were made on the religious services, the annual dinner, the excursion to Lorne park and the Christmas celebration; also on the death of nine members who had been members of the society, namely: W. B. Phipps, Wm. Morley, G. Goodwin, G. Goodwin sen'r., F. W. Cumberland, W. B. Harris, T. Davidson and G. Hall. The society now consisted of 14 honorary life, 216 life and 364 annual members, and was in a highly prosperous condition.

The treasurer's report showed that the assets of the society were $724.73; receipts during the year $2922.90; balance on hand $724.73.

The adoption of these reports was moved by Mr. R. Lewis, who paid a high compliment to the president of the society, and carried unanimously.

The secretary announced that notices of motion had been given for the election of the following gentlemen as honorary life members: Goldwin Smith, Goodwin, G. Goodwin, J. J. Allworth, J. E. Bell, R. Spratt.

The president said he had been accused of attending caucuses in favor of Mr. Goldwin Smith. The charge was utterly false; he had never attended a caucus, and was perfectly independent in the matter.

Mr. Piddington explained the reasons which had induced him to bring up against the proposal for Mr. Goldwin Smith's motion. He said that he had found that those who opposed Goldwin Smith's election were those who knew the least of his writings, and merely took the spec dicitur of a newspaper in this city, and upon a mere and blind faith, took up an and cry of no, no, and question.

After the sentiments contained in these two letters he thought they should rise to one man and elect Mr. Smith an honorary life member. But the president would not consent to do this he would prefer to withhold Mr. Smith's name, considering the order, look place being a matter of honor, and Mr. Piddington withdrew the nomination, others the contrary. The result was that Mr. Piddington moved the resolution.

It was seconded by Mr. Bird, who referred to the by-law—regulating honorary memberships and said that Mr. Goldwin Smith, as one who had conferred benefits upon the society, was entitled to honorary membership.

At this juncture Mr. R. W. Elliot moved that the speakers be restricted to five minutes each. The motion was carried. Mr. Bird proceeded for a short time when the president announced that his time was up.

Mr. John Gardner here placed an amendment in the hands of the chairman. The latter, without reading it aloud, declared it out of order. Mr. Gardner then claimed the right to read his amendment. The chairman refused to do so.

Mr. Gardner then claimed the chairman put it to the meeting whether the amendment should be read. The meeting almost unanimously decided in the affirmative and the resolution was read and proved to be to the effect that Mr. Smith's name be put in nomination.

Mr. Gardner again rose to speak again, but was ruled out of order by the chairman. A scene of tremendous uproar ensued. The chairman said Mr. Gardner might speak to the resolution, but by this time the meeting had become worked up to such a pitch of excitement that it was impossible for any one to get a hearing, and Mr. Gardner retired his seat.

The uproar grew into a perfect babel. The speaker rose into the corner of the room Mr. J. L. Evans was shouting in stentorian tones "chair, chair," while an equally strident voice was heard from the opposite corner, calling upon Mr. Evans to sit down. Mr. Barlow Cumberland then proposed a resolution similar to Mr. Gardner's, which the chairman ruled out of order as being merely a negative of the resolution.

Matters were at length brought to a focus by the Rev. E. M. G. Batters moving the previous question, which was carried, and the scrutineers, Dr. King and Mr. Frankland proceeded to take the vote which resulted as follows:

For Mr. Goldwin Smith's election 47; against 75.

This result was received with the most delighted applause by the seventy-five.

Mr. Piddington then moved, seconded by Mr. Millichamp: "That in the opinion of this meeting the action of the committee in passing a resolution condemning two members of the society for issuing a circular relating to the election of a gentleman as an honorary member was unjustifiable, and that the said committee exceeded the function and duty of their office in passing such a resolution." After another excited discussion the resolution was put to the meeting and lost.

The election of officers was then proceeded to by the Rev. E. M. G. Wood, and W. T. Lloyd being scrutineers, and result as follows: President, George Winton; 1st vice, George Booth; 2nd vice, Barlow Cum-

LOCAL LEGISLATURE.

A Quiet Time in the House Yesterday—The Debate on the House Bill Unsettled.

The debate in the local house yesterday was quiet, after the lively time of the day before.

The only cross firing was between the government and one of its supporters, Mr. Miller, who on the merits of the rivers and streams bill, took sides against the government so far as it affected small streams. His speech was most important, as showing the value of the timber in the disputed territory. The house adjourned at 11:30.

His speech was most important, as showing the value of the timber in the disputed territory. The house adjourned at 11:30.

The information on which Mr. French was aggrieved is yesterday's court, sets forth that the complainant, at the time of publishing the libel, was and long before had been, an alderman of the city of Toronto, representing St. Patrick's ward, and one of her majesty's justices of the peace for the county of York; and was in the year 1872 a member of the court of revision, and as such member of said court had always acted in the most honorable manner in the exercise of his duties, and on the 26th day of December, 1881, was duly nominated as a candidate for re-election to the office of alderman, and that one James French, desiring to vilify the complainant, wrote and published in the form of an open letter to the editor of the Toronto Standard the following false and malicious libel:—

"When Mr. Baxter and his friend Mr. Manning in 1872 sat in the court of revision of the house the respondent had lived in on Spadina avenue was assessed for $2000, and how well he adjudicated upon his own property, as to whether or not he actually getting a bonus; and his friend Mr. Manning gave him in a lump sum a reduction of $2115, being $200 more than the money he was assessed for, and I bought it of Mr. Baxter for $4000, and he would not carry out the agreement, meaning that he would not give me the $2115, and Mr. Manning had in '72, when alderman and member of the court of revision, and Sir John Macdonald expended money to get the assessment upon the former's house to be improperly reduced, and that the complainant corruptly used his position to reduce his friend's assessment from the payment of a just and rateable share of taxation, for general and other purposes."

After the reading of the libel, Mr. French asked for an adjournment, which was granted until Monday. Mr. Macnab appeared for ex-Ald. Baxter; Mr. French was not represented by counsel. The magistrate will merely hear the case, and then render it to the assizes.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. McAnley needs no introduction to theatre-goers in Toronto—each yearly visit brings with it an increase of popularity—until now he ranks among the most successful stars that visit our city.

In his condition of Uncle Dan, in a character from Jarvis Section, he displays a feature of character-acting unexcelled. The jolly and big-hearted dumpy figure is always welcome to Toronto's audiences. His quaint speech and characteristic mannerisms, his rough but manly qualities, and his readiness to lend a hand to those in distress, have the effect of exciting emotions widely different in rapid succession. The play is replete with humorous hits and sizzling situations, and throughout its performance the audience continues spellbound—until at the close, when the curtain goes down on Uncle Dan—there is always the consciousness of an evening well spent.

Mr. McAnley opens at the Grand opera house next Thursday evening, and with the excellent surroundings of this popular theatre the engagement is sure to be one of the brightest and most successful of the present season.

Of course all the M. P. P.'s will be at the Grand opera house to see Patten Monday night, because Haverly's Co. produce it.

NOT AFFRAID TO SPEAK OUT.

(From Grip of Yesterday.)
The World's "suing somebody for libel." The damages laid at several thousands of dollars, and we hope the World may get the money, as it will strengthen the weaker sources of that journal—the only paper besides Grip that practically calls its soul its own, and isn't afraid to speak out what it conceives to be in the interests of the public.

Bunthorne, in Patten, will be raffled for at 9:20 Monday night at the Grand.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Moos (Globe) says that within the next three weeks the weather will be very variable, and several cold spells will occur. He thinks that in Toronto there will not be more than six or seven days of sleighing, and throughout the province not more than two weeks this winter. After the next three weeks he believes the weather will be exceedingly mild.

CANADIAN DISPATCHES IN BRIEF.

The governor general will receive a reception on his arrival at Quebec by the citizens.

The resignation of Mr. Robertson, the provincial treasurer, is probably Hon. Mr. Chrystie's fault; in fact Hon. Mr. Chrystie has been in the habit of making the head of a horse on Wednesday, and died the following day.
