

WRECKS KILLED ANOTHER SENSATION in the Legislature CIVIC OFFICIALS Criticized After INQUIRY

LIBERAL MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE USES MOST EXPRESSIVE ADJECTIVES IN REPUDIATING LIQUOR CHARGES

Dr. James McQueen Was Accused of Prescribing More Than Amount of Whiskey Allowed by Law, and Used Plain English in Denying the Charge.

I can excuse men in the fray of battle or on the hustings attempting to throw up scandal, but it seems to me beneath the dignity of this house to throw up such contemptible, rotten stuff. If I broke the law the court was the place for me and not this legislature.

ROGERS HELD ANNUAL MEETING

in Profits Was Due to the General Depression. Financial Position is Strong Owing to Accumulation of Large Reserve.

Report of the directors of the Rogers, Limited, for the year ending December 31, 1913, was held on Tuesday. The shareholders met at the Rogers Hotel, Toronto, and the report was read by the president, Mr. W. H. Rogers, and the manager, Mr. J. H. Rogers.

The report stated that the business of the company had been generally unfavorable during the past twelve months. The net profit for the year ended December 31, 1913, was $1,236,642.62, as compared with $1,406,245.95 in 1912.

WORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS BURT COMPANY HAD GOOD YEAR

Annual Report Shows Net Profits Over Two Hundred Thousand. Highly Satisfactory New Machinery and Methods of Manufacture Are Being Perfected.

The annual report of the directors of Burt Company, Limited, was submitted to the shareholders at the fifth general meeting of the company, held on Monday. The net profits for the year ending Dec. 31, 1913, amounted to $217,802.56, being an increase of $27,872.91 over those of the previous year.

The directors considered to be highly satisfactory considering the unfavorable conditions prevailing generally during the year throughout Canada and the United States. The regular dividends of seven per cent on the preference stock and six per cent on the common stock were paid, and after the transfer of $25,000 to real estate and plant reserve, account $776,511.00, was added to the balance in profit and loss, which now stands at a successful building season for West Toronto this year.

The return of spring is apparent in the list of permits issued for buildings in Ward Seven during the past week, and in the fact that the number of permits issued during the month just elapsed 39 permits were issued for Ward Seven alone, as compared with 24 during the month of March. The total for the month, while not so great as that of February, 1913, shows an increase and points to a successful building season for West Toronto this year.

Hints on Beauty Culture

Aids for the Complexion May Be Made at Home

By MAGGIE TEYTE
Prima Donna Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company.

HOW to make complexion-questions is a question which confronts in many women who have recipes they know are good and wish to try them. It is not difficult work, but it demands care and time. There is no use in trying to hurry through the operation of making a cold cream and expect success. One must also follow the directions closely. The manner of mixing is another thing which demands close attention. One of the best authorities says all good cold creams have fat as their basis. Another says never should wax or spermaceti be used, as they simply fill the pores and make it difficult for the skin to throw off impurities. Before a woman decides on making a cold cream just because she has the rule, it is wisdom for her to find what is needed in her skin. Some skins are starved for oils. Others need something to lessen the oily secretions. There is no general rule for a cream which can be applied to all skins with the same result. Whenever cold cream is to be made it is necessary to have a double boiler, which should be of some porcelain instead of metal substance, unless it be of aluminum, a silver fork and an accurate measuring cup. It is also well to have an egg beater, for there are many times when the mass can be made creamy only by the thorough and vigorous beating which is possible with one.

Some Gold and Little Dross

By Harvey Reese
When the head of the firm employs a book-keeper is that "hire mathematics"? He thought she was pinning for him, when, in fact, she was sprucing up for the other fellow. The way to rest depends less upon the knowledge where to begin than on the proper appreciation of where to stop.

Novelties in Afternoon Gowns

HERE is an imported afternoon costume which shows several of the dress novelties of the season. There is the bolero with the long, close-fitting sleeve, the double tunic, the odd materials. The skirt is of brown taffeta and the bolero and tunic of silk crepe. Brown in the soft shades, which have more hint of yellow than of red, will be well liked this season. It is a color which has been reckoned as more suitable for winter wear than for summer, but this year there are so many delightful soft shades shown in linen and crepe that the effect of coolness is preserved. Jougill yellow and willow green, which had the tone of yellow predominant, rather than gray, are good in combination with brown. In almost all instances the brown gown is made more effective if the lace used for trimming and gumples has a creamy tint. Dead white is never as harmonious. There is a new fabric that has just made its appearance, which will prove a close rival to net and chiffon. It is quite as sheer as the latter and wears very much better. It has more the suggestion of linen than of silk in its weave, and is said to wash perfectly. It is being used for the ruffles that finish so many of the fashionable sleeves, as well as for gumples and separate blouses. It is wide and about the price of chiffon. Tassels of silk and beads and trivets will remain in vogue for trimming the summer gown. In fact there are dainty tassels of linen and mercerized cotton which will be used on the linen frocks. When one walks through the shops where the summer fabrics are displayed she is impressed with the brightness of the colors and the joyfulness of the designs. Yellow and orange are sure to be used by many designers for the cunning little costumes which are so charming over white gowns. There are also several new shades of red that are particularly attractive in the linen. The blue are all in fresh, clear tones and the greens are soft and cool. For those who are ever loyal to that standard fabric, foulard, the weavers have a pleasant surprise. The new foulards are in extra widths and firm weaves and are patterned in the newest designs and most brilliant colors. For example, on a dark blue background there are queer lozenges of shaded orange with a green dash in the center and a wavy line of green outlining them. And they are scattered about in such a pleasing disarray all sense of goodness is dissipated. On a dull green background funny Chinese figures appear in faded pinky and Delft blues with now and then a touch of yellow. A black and white silk patterned in wavy lines is brightened by a scattering of shaded pink wild-roses. Buttercup blossom in a golden riot on a wood brown silk. In fact the patterns are so bewilderingly lovely and the variety of fabrics so generous, the choosing of just one frock becomes a difficult task.

EACH LIFE HAS A MUSICAL KEY

Singer Explains New Theory of Success

By Cecile Manning
THERE is a distinct musical key for each and every human life. Success, happiness, health, conjugal felicity, property, all depend upon whether you are in tune with yourself and in musical harmony with your associates. This is the theory of Anna Bussett, the contralto. "Comparatively few persons know the musical key in which their life is written," she said to me. "That accounts for many discouragements in spite of earnest efforts. It also accounts for more than half the unhappy marriages. We all know how distressing it is to listen to any musical instrument which is out of tune. No matter how skillful the player, there is nothing but discord. Even wonderful technique and exquisite musical understanding have no power to overcome the lower register. There is no musical instrument made which begins to be so delicate or so sensitive as the human being. And it is a fact that the finer the instrument the more susceptible it is to the slightest discord. We cry out in pain at the sound which the out-of-tune piano or violin or cello gives out. We beg for silence. We seek expert aid in bringing the faulty instrument back to its rightful harmony. Yet lives out of tune go on in jangling discord, and no one seems to know what is the cause of the lack of harmony. Least of all does the individual himself know. "Partnerships in matrimony or business are formed without the slightest regard to harmony. Then the members of the firm struggle along unhappy, unsuccessful, inefficient. "And they are not the only sufferers. The discord reaches far and makes others miserable. And those others don't know where the fault lies. "And they are not the only sufferers. The discord reaches far and makes others miserable. And those others don't know where the fault lies. "And they are not the only sufferers. The discord reaches far and makes others miserable. And those others don't know where the fault lies.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie
Don't Think That All Who Pay You Attention Are in Love With You. Dear Annie Laurie—a young man has been paying me a good deal of attention. He takes me to picture shows and places like that, and every once in a while he comes to the house to spend the evening. He seems to think a good deal of me, but he never says a word about it. What do you think is the matter? How can I encourage him to tell his love? RESERVE. Men are no shy, timid mice; they can speak for themselves all right if you'll just give them a chance. No man ever really loved a woman in his life without being perfectly able to tell her of it in some way that she couldn't keep from understanding to save her life. When the young man who takes you to the picture show falls in love with you and wants you to know it he'll tell you of it. You don't have to consult a fortune-teller to get at the state of his feelings. Go on to the picture show with him so long as it's a perfectly good show. Make a plate of fudge for him the next time he comes up; play "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" on the piano, and show him the latest steps of the latest tango; laugh and have fun; that's what you're here for—at your age—and don't slip your shawl over your head and run down the road to meet poor, pale, sad-eyed love before you have time. That visitor will knock at the door of your heart soon enough, never fear. Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her care this office.

Great Novels in a Nutshell

"Sense and Sensibility"
Condensed from the JANE AUSTEN novel by HELEN S. GRAY.
THIS NOVEL deals with the sense of Elinor Dashwood and the sensibility of her sister Marianne. At the opening of the story Mrs. Dashwood is left a widow with three daughters, and only £10,000 to support them. Her eldest son, by a former wife, inherits the bulk of the property. He and his family take immediate possession. His wife, Fanny, is so selfish and disagreeable that Mrs. Dashwood moves to Devonshire, where a cousin of hers, Sir John Middleton, has written her he expects to have a cottage for rent. Meantime her eldest daughter, Elinor, and Edward Ferrars, who has been visiting his sister Fanny, fall in love with each other. He is a good-hearted young man with many admirable qualities, but very shy. Sir John invites the Dashwoods every day or two to his house. It is there that the Dashwoods meet Col. Brandon, Marianne's cousin. Mrs. Dashwood's second daughter, Marianne, comes up the sudden rain comes up. She runs for the house, trips and sprains her ankle. Just at that moment along comes "nice young man" Mr. Willoughby and carries her home. Thereafter he calls frequently. He takes her to look over the country house he expects to inherit. They are so obviously in love with each other her family and others take it for granted they are engaged. One day he suddenly leaves without saying anything about coming back and does not write. Marianne keeps by herself as much as possible and lies awake nights, thinking of him. The Steele girls come to visit at Sir John's. Lucy Steele is a professional flatterer. Lucy tells Elinor she had been engaged to Edward Ferrars for four years, ever since he was a pupil in her uncle's care. Elinor bears the news with forced composure. Elinor and Marianne spend the winter in London with Mrs. Jennings. Marianne writes to Mr. Willoughby that she is in town. He calls when she is out. She writes again. No answer. At a ball she meets him and he slights her. She writes the next day, demanding an explanation. His reply informs her that he is soon to be married to Miss Grey. This is a terrible blow to Marianne. Not long after Col. Brandon calls and tells Elinor that Willoughby had seduced a young girl whose guardian he, Col. Brandon, is. When the old lady whose heir he expected to be heard of the episode, she declared she would disinherit him unless he married the girl. This he refused to do. Thereupon he left sud-

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Study Your "Instincts;" Make Best Ones Habits

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins), Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirshberg.

THERE are many much abused words in the English language. Many persons use many words with little thought of their real meaning. Indeed, it is extraordinary how seldom the thoughts which lie behind words give a true reflection of the words' meanings. Instinct and intuition are two such words. Ask yourself their real portend. You will confess that you do not know. Yet the one has to do with apprehension and the other with inheritance. There is, too, this word apprehension. It does not mean, as you suppose, to understand. It means to take in by way of your senses. Inheritance, likewise, is not thoroughly appreciated. It concerns not what happens to you only because your father or your mother did so and thus. Briefly, inheritance is that which comes to you through the remote past. From ancestors beyond the second and third generation. Shakespeare erra and Homer gods in the use of the words "instinct" and "intuition." "Instinct" opines Pala-staff, "is a great matter. I was never a coward by instinct." Coriolanus puts it thus: "I'll never be such a goilin to obey instinct, but stand, as if a man were author of himself and knew no other kin." Instincts are the heredity blends of all of the helpful, therefore, to be sure, oft-repeated, habits of the past. What Instinct is. Ants, bees, wasps, spiders and other creatures when born arrive at once at a well-nigh perfect stage of work and cooperation. This is the accumulated inheritance in each "species" of race. An unshackled chick pecks its way out of the eggshell by this instinct. A cat curls up before a fire for the same reason. Some savants maintain that instincts are inherited reasoning. The spider's touch, now explains for. Feet at each thread, and lives along the line; In the size bee what sense, so subtly true; Compulsed, self-respecting, dipsant with this; Twist that and mean what a nice barrier! Forgive me, yet forever true. Many instincts are transient. If, at the time that an instinct shows itself, things are favorable for its adaptation and growth, a habit is formed in its place. In short, an instinct useful and pleasant grows into a habit. Most instincts, however, are smothered out, changed, or switched into a new track. Even in the brute world a new environment and changing conditions are always at work to modify, annihilate, or exaggerate instincts. The natural instinct of kittens to pursue mice may be easily directed into less thimical channels. The mere association of the "happy family" of the circus is an example. Prof. Yerkes, Prof. Watson, and the other physiologists, have exhibited abundant proof that useless, even wicked, instincts, if taken in puppyhood, can be made valuable. Right Conduct Necessary. Dr. Montessori has applied this idea in a concrete way to children. She has merely adopted the discus-throwing feats of Greek children and the modern psychological discovery that mankind learns more quickly, more permanently, and more fruitfully, 99 times in the hundred, from muscular touch. The very day a child is born it, like a child, kitten, or a bee, shows some instinct. The caterpillar may nibble a leaf; the mosquito may dry its wings. But an infant will cry, suck its thumb, or avoid cold and light. The kicking, squirting, rolling, yell-

Answers to Health Questions

WM. F. Toronto, Can.—I have been deaf for five years, and am now treating my ears with almond oil. A brown discharge has begun. What causes this? Never use oil in the ears. It does serious damage; if you are deaf, buy instead phonograph and all sorts of vocal records and apply the different voices to your ears three times a day. The human voice—sonorous vibrations—stimulates what you need practice with. Use at least three different voices each time. Sprinkle your ears with borlic acid water.

Daddy's Good Night Story
By GEORGE HENRY SMITH
IT WAS Sunday afternoon and Brer Rabbit was taking a snooze when the door bell rang. Up jumped Brer Rabbit, as if some one had fired a gun. "I wonder who it is?" he said to himself, as he went to the door. There were the Squirrel children all in a row. "Please, Brer Rabbit, we came over to have you tell us a story," said Sammy Squirrel. "My! My!" exclaimed Brer Rabbit, "Where did you children hear about my stories?" "Billy told us about the Indian stories," said Sammy, as the Squirrel children came in. Billy and Jack Rabbit came from up stairs and the children all gathered around as Brer Rabbit told them this story: "Silver Star, the Indian boy, and his sister Ka-wash-a were in the cave which they used for a play house. They had a piece of venison which they were going to cook for supper, and how do you suppose they started the fire?" "The children all guessed that Silver Star started the fire with a match. My dear little folks, Indians did not have matches. Silver Star had his bow and arrow and he took a stick instead of the arrow and placed the end of the stick on some dried leaves. He placed the string of the bow in such a way as to make the stick go round and round. This made the point of the stick so warm that the leaves became hot and they soon made a merry little blaze. "Ka-wash-a put some wood on the fire and a flat rock over it and in a few minutes the venison was sizzling over the fire. But the Indian children had not thought that their home was full of dry leaves and that the fire might spread. Silver Star, brave boy that he was, did not get frightened. Rushing to the back of the cave he seized a blanket and running up smothered the fire. He then pulled Ka-wash-a to the open air. "We have lost our venison," sobbed Ka-wash-a. "Yes," said Silver Star, "but we are safe, and the next time we will have to make a stove so that our fire will not spread." "Ka-wash-a put her hand in Silver Star's and they went home together." "What a beautiful story!" said Sammy Squirrel. "Haven't we a great father!" exclaimed Billy Bunny. All the Squirrel children gave Brer Rabbit a kiss and a hug and he was very happy!

SAY MEN OF GENIUS SHOULD NEVER BE FAT

Commenting on the connection between feeding and literary genius in his "Modern Paris," Robert Sherard says that Zola wrote best when he was very stout and that when his bulk dwindled so did his genius. Theophile Gautier, himself of enormous size, maintained that a man of genius should be fat, and for proof pointed to Alexander Dumas and Rossini, who were both stout and to the plum and well-fed appearance of Victor Hugo and Sainte-Beuve.

For the increase of his too solid flesh was the one thing of which he was afraid, and various freak diets were adopted to keep it under. "Don Juan" was written almost entirely on gin and water, and in 1813 he lived on six biscuits a day and tea. Previously at Athens he had tried a diet of rice in small quantities washed down by vinegar and water, and later on he tried one thin slice of bread for breakfast and a vegetable dinner, keeping down hunger by chewing tobacco. And apparently such diet stimulated the brain while mortifying the flesh.

WHY THE CANADIANS EXCEL IN LACROSSE

Australian Exponent and Writes Gives Analysis of Methods.

The visit of the English lacrosse team to Canada during the coming summer will once again give followers of that sport an opportunity of comparing the game as played in the old land with which it belongs.

It is the opinion of Mr. Hutcheon that the English and Australian teams will in the future make a much better showing against the players of this country than in the past.

He does not, however, think the Canadian attack is as much to be feared as in the method of the attack.

English Game is Open. While the Australian sees the advantage in the Canadian method of defence, he suggests that the games played close on to the nets are less spectacular than the old open kind of play.

tack. They cannot play as close in as the Canadians, however, because they are not, as a whole, such adept stick-handlers. Speaking of the Australians, he says: "We work back to the goal as far as we possibly can, but until our defences attain to something like the Canadians' really wonderful powers of interception and gaining possession of the ball, we shall have to make the enemy begin to fight farther out than the Canadians do."

Comparing the Homes. The first thing that struck Mr. Hutcheon when he saw a Canadian team play was the amount of padding worn by the men. He describes them as being wrapped up in layers of cotton wool of the thickest of which he has seen.

He found the reason for the padding not only in the ruggedness of the game, but in the method of the attack.

He does not, however, think the Canadian attack is as much to be feared as in the method of the attack.

to think that the Canadian homes will not in future roll up very large scores in either English or Australia, but on the other hand, he fears that the Canadian methods of defence are so strong that they will always pull out a victory in a test match.

TIMBER LAND NOW WILL BE BOUGHT

Three Hundred Square Miles to Be Purchased by Government.

AN EXCELLENT BARGAIN

Hon. W. H. Hearst Says Land is Cheap at the Price.

Three hundred square miles of fine timber land bearing great promise of future values will be added to the large reserve now known as Algonquin Park as the latest stroke of the Ontario Government in the conservation of this branch of natural resources.

The present owners of the land in question are known as the Pembroke Lumber Company and the minister arose in the house on the solicitation of Hon. W. H. Hearst, who has been negotiating for some time with a view to swelling the timber assets of the province in the north.

The debate, which was based on the proposal of expending this sum out of the consolidated revenue, was in a strange way unequalled for the opposition speakers, one and all asked for more information than could be given in the afternoon hearing, but discovered at a late hour that the report had been prepared several days ago for their especial convenience in studying.

Carefully prepared reports were submitted by the minister showing that the purchase was a wise one, but the Liberal members were sceptical of such an excellent bargain being gained from shrewd business men.

In speaking of the proposed government purchase of the Pembroke Lumber Company's lands Hon. Mr. Hearst, minister of lands, forests and mines, presented a lengthy explanation of the government's position, emphasizing the importance of the fact that the property, which was being bought for $185,000, had a potential value which would later run well into a million.

The matter came before the house in the form of notice of motion that it be considered in committee of the whole. The opposition, however, considered that they had not been served with enough material to warrant their agreement in the purchase.

Mr. Clarke in continuing demanded what urgent reasons existed for such a purchase.

CLEVER SCHEME—BECK

Minister Says Such Technicalities Would Have Stopped the Hydro.

By deciding three points in favor of the City of Peterboro yesterday, the private bills committee of the legislature handed certain power interests a set-back in their plans for further extension of hydro-electric power. The M. K. Cowan, M.P., the City of Peterboro was applying for legislation to allow them to take over immediately the plant of the Peterboro Power and Light Company by paying into trust $500,000 or the value of the plant as it stood in 1912, with additions made since.

The committee ratified this request with two additions—one that Peterboro be permitted to take over the plant without taking over as well the plant of the Auburn Power Company, which the power interests sought to include as a part of the Peterboro Power and Light Company, and that the City of Peterboro will be liable for damages caused by the severance of the distributing plant from the Auburn Company since the time of the original legislation in 1912.

The following is an extract from the address of the President, Mr. S. J. Moore: "I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the Report which has been presented. Net Profits of $27,872.01, being an increase of $27,872.01 over the preceding year's results, will, I believe, be considered as quite satisfactory for a year in which business conditions throughout the United States and Canada were very uncertain, and from the results of which most manufacturers are showing reduced earnings."

The Company's manufacturing operations are carried on in two factories in Toronto, and three in Buffalo. In addition, we have in Buffalo a storage warehouse and packing-cas's plant, and a machine shop which is principally engaged in repairing and maintaining our plants. Our factories are up to date in every respect, and well equipped. The Company's manufacturing operations are carried on in two factories in Toronto, and three in Buffalo. In addition, we have in Buffalo a storage warehouse and packing-cas's plant, and a machine shop which is principally engaged in repairing and maintaining our plants.

Patent protection is secured in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Europe on all the important improvements in machinery which we produce, and we are accumulating an increasingly valuable asset in this respect. "We are steadily widening the scope of our business without departing from the policy which has established the business in its unique position in the paper box trade."

The following Board of Directors were elected: Messrs. S. J. Moore, A. E. Ames, F. Burt, Robert Kilgour, Charles H. Duell, W. Cary Elby, James Ryrie and Alfred Jehpcott.

Messrs. Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth were appointed Auditors. At a subsequent meeting of the Board Mr. S. J. Moore was elected President, and Messrs. A. E. Ames and F. N. Burt, Vice-Presidents of the Company.

WILL TEACH BOYS TO DETECT CRIME

Novel Method to Be Adopted in Reformatory to Benefit Inmates.

In the hope of proving to the boys and young men committed to the reformatory on Hart's Island, New York, that the life of a criminal is a hard one, another reformatory will be instituted soon by the department of correction, of which Dr. Katharine Bennett Davis is the commissioner. The plan now is to teach the youthful offenders the art of taking fingerprints and Bertillon measurements, and the making of photographs for purposes of identification. They will be instructed also in the methods employed in running down criminals and will learn of the close relationship which exists between the police of this country and other nations. Every effort will be made, in other words, to show them that it is practically impossible for a criminal long to evade the arm of the law.

Bismarck—the "Greatest of the Germans"

BISMARCK, like all Germans, prized Personal Liberty as the breath of life—a NATURAL RIGHT to be guarded and defended at any cost. Among our millions of law-abiding German-American citizens there is not a man who does not consider it insolent tyranny of the most odious kind for any legislation to issue this command: "Thou shalt NOT eat this—thou shalt NOT drink that." Germans know that there is no evil in the light wines and beers of their fathers. EVIL ONLY IS IN THE MAN WHO MISUSES THEM. Fifty-seven years ago ANHEUSER-BUSCH founded their great institution upon the tenets of the Constitution of the United States. During these fifty-seven years they have honestly brewed an honest beer—the kind that has added to the temperance of nations. Their great brand—BUDWEISER—is demanded throughout the world. CROP ALARMISTS ARE AGAIN BUSY

Green Bugs and Hessian-Fly Given Usual Spring Revival. CHICAGO, April 2.—Green bugs in Oklahoma and Hessian fly elsewhere had a scarecrow effect today on short sellers of wheat. Largely in consequence the market closed firm at 1/4c to 3/4c net advance. There was a thin, too, in all other speculative articles—corn, 1/4c to 1/2c; oats, 1/4c to 1/2c; and provisions 1/2c to 1 1/2c.

LIVE STOCK PRICES REMAINED STEADY

Sheep, Lambs, Calves and Hogs All at Strong Prices. Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards yesterday were 22 car loads, 296 cattle, 1423 hogs, 16 sheep and 23 calves. There was a light delivery of live stock for the first of the week. There was a quiet trade and no change in prices, unless it was for hogs, which sold a little higher. Sheep, lambs and calves sold at very firm prices, as there was scarcely enough to make a market. Milk and springers were few in number and unchanged in price.

STRONG NAVY BEST PEACE GUARANTEE

British Empire Thus Secured Immunity From Attack—Millennium Far Off. Sir John Willison told the Empire Club at McConkey's yesterday that a strong navy was the best guarantee of peace for the British empire, for it secured it immunitly from attack. He remarked that all the wars of the past few years as the Franco-German, Japan-China, Japan-Russia, and Balkan, had been carefully prepared for by one side and that the victory had gone to the countries which had thus got ready. This was significant in proving that war in modern times did not come from an outburst of national passion or hysteria, as was claimed by radicals and other peace advocates. If it were possible to cut the expenditure on the British navy with safety to the empire, said Sir John, the Asquith government, which draws 40 per cent. of its support from the peace party, would have done so, for it has endeavored to carry out all its promises except one. Sir John said he did not believe that the people of the world would change their wartime nature so rapidly as it was fondly hoped, and that peace would be many years before the millennium dawned.

RAILWAY CANCELS PASSENGER TRAINS

Retrenchment by Pennsylvania Line—To Lay Off Forty Thousand Men. Canadian Press Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—In pursuance of the retrenchment plans made public last week the Pennsylvania Railway yesterday annulled 118 passenger trains on the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, and many on the western lines. The financial saving on the eastern lines, it is estimated, will run close to $2,000,000 per year. On the western lines the economies will effect a saving not greatly dissimilar. About 500 employes in this city were furloughed yesterday for various periods, and it was said the number of men already under suspension, and those to be laid off within the next month would total 25,000 on the lines east and 15,000 west of Pittsburg.

COXEY WILL LEAD ARMY OF IDLE MEN

Plans to Mobilize Half a Million Workless in New York. Canadian Press Dispatch. NEW YORK, April 2.—Jacob S. Coxey, leader of the famous army which bore his name and marched on Washington in 1894, today established headquarters here. He said he would spend several days looking after plans for the mobilization of the New York wing of an army of 500,000 men which he intends to lead into the national capital some time this month. The main division of the army, he said, will leave Massillon, Ohio, on April 18, and will be joined outside Washington by the eastern division.

Buffalo Real Estate One-Third Toronto Prices. Buffalo is larger than Toronto. Buffalo's property assessment is only $325,000,000—Toronto's is $437,000,000. Buffalo prices are at rock bottom.

In 8 Months Torontonians Have Invested $3,000,000 in Buffalo. In eight months last year $3,000,000 of Toronto capital was invested in Buffalo property. These large investments were made by some of Toronto's most influential citizens—men who understand realty values—men who have made money out of Toronto property.

YORKSHIRE MINERS QUIT. LEEDS, Eng., April 3.—All the coal miners in Yorkshire, numbering 170,000, had left the pits today when the last of the notices to quit work expired. The men demand the introduction of a minimum wage scale. The stocks of coal at the pits heads are only sufficient to last about a week. After the expiration of that period the railroads and steel and iron works depending on the Yorkshire colliers for fuel will be seriously hampered, and many of the men employed by them may also be forced into idleness.
