

TO BUILD MODEL ROAD FOR NATIVE VILLAGE

M. H. Rittenhouse Will Spend Small Fortune in Improvements Near Jordan.

M. H. Rittenhouse, the Chicago millionaire, who has been enriching his birthplace, Jordan, in Lincoln County, with many public improvements, having established an experimental fruit station and built a model school and library in the village, has again given evidence of his love for his native land by proposing to build a model road two miles in length from the fruit station to the lake shore.

BUYING UP PULPWOOD FOR BIG PAPER TRUST

Wisconsin Men Leave for Eastern Canada to Look Over Desirable Tracts.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 14.—The purchase of great tracts of pulpwood in Canada, in the vicinity of Quebec, will be it is now expected, part of the plan of the men who are engineering the merger of the paper mills of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan into a corporation with a capital of thirty million dollars.

The need of a reserve forest of pulpwood is one of the controlling elements in the formation of the trust, it has been learned that three expert timber estimators were here recently, and after a midnight conference with J. G. Hanrahan, who is engineering the merger, and some of the big mill owners, they left for Canada, where, it is said, they will estimate and appraise the timber owned by the different manufacturers who are to enter the combine.

Word is received here every day of additional mills on which options have been secured, and it is said there is not a print, manila, fibre, sulphite or ground wood pulp manufacturer in Wisconsin, Michigan or Minnesota but who is now willing to climb on the bandwagon.

Inspector Not Afraid to Move the Dynamite

But It's Still in the Armories—Electricity Starts a Fire

HAMILTON, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—A man brave enough to remove the dynamite found at the drill hall has been found in the person of Inspector Louis McDonald. The inspector has volunteered to take charge of the explosive. He went to No. 3 police station tonight to inspect the dynamite, but there was some misunderstanding, and the dynamite is still reposing at the drill hall.

Electric power left on the elevator at G. W. Robinson and Company's store, and started a fire in the basement tonight. The automatic alarm fire service was started, but little damage was done.

Unnecessary Alarm.

Col. Sheppard, American consul, says that the new law passed last night is causing a needless alarm to United States citizens residing in Canada. He says only those who have taken the oath of allegiance to another country have forfeited their rights as American citizens. The new act does not come in force until next March, and the time necessary for Americans in Canada to register as Americans citizens at the consular offices.

Mrs. Nicholson and her four children arrived here last night from Dunston. Mrs. Nicholson is looking for her husband, J. J. Nicholson, an engineer.

David C. Beasley, brother of Thos. Beasley, the ex-city clerk, dropped on the street at the corner of Wellington and Jackson-streets last night, and died in a few minutes. He leaves a widow and three daughters, Mrs. R. M. Young, Hamilton; Mrs. Geo. D. Hood, Toronto Junction, and Miss Margaret.

It is said that the Toronto, Niagara and Western Railway has bought the charter of the Hamilton, Guelph and Lake Shore Railway, and the necessary arrangements are being made for the transfer of the line to the new company.

William Stuart has been appointed to the position of stenographer for E. K. Kilvert, collector of customs, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of David Brown, who will act as stenographer for Tos. P. Clappison, inspector of customs.

See Billy Collins' address in reply to a resolution conveying to him the freedom of the City of Wexford, in recognition of his parliamentary work for Ireland, in the course of which he discussed freely the present conflict between the Nationalists and the members of the Sinn Fein Society.

He described the critics of the Irish party as actuated by jealousy, or similar motives, and said the members of the party were the choice of the constituencies and not his nominees. They were honest Nationalists, and far less amenable to British influences, these far more independent of the British parties than some of their critics.

Stand in No. One's Way. No invitation to William O'Brien to join the party was needed. He had been asked repeatedly, but he was unwilling to be bound by the party pledge. The position of Timothy Healy, Mr. Redmond continued, was different, but if the National directory or the convention wanted him back he, Mr. Redmond, would not stand in the way.

The policy of the Sinn Fein Society, Mr. Redmond then declared, was drawing the members from Westminster was absurd, and found support nowhere in Ireland.

The cranks and the doubters, Mr. Redmond said, in conclusion, "have had their innings for the past few weeks, but they will get their answer from every quarter of Ireland before the harvest is sown."

RUSSIA AND JAPAN REACH SOLID TERMS

Terms of New Convention Are Received With Favor in St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 15.—The Russo-Japanese convention, which was signed by M. Jawolasky, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, and Baron Motono, the Japanese minister to Russia, on July 30 last, was published to-day. The preamble recites: "The governments of the emperor of Russia and the emperor of Japan, and animated by a desire to strengthen the peaceful, friendly and neighborly relations which happily have been restored between Russia and Japan, and to remove the possibility of future misunderstandings between the empires, have entered into the following agreements: "Article I.—Each contracting party undertakes to respect the present territorial integrity of the other, as well as the principle of equalizing treaty agreements on the high seas now in force between the contracting parties and China, copies of which have been exchanged by the contracting powers, so far as these rights are not incompatible with the principle of equal opportunities enunciated in the treaty signed at Portsmouth, N.H., Sept. 5, 1905, and in the special conventions concluded between the contracting parties."

"Article II.—Both contracting parties recognize the independence and territorial integrity of the Chinese empire and pledge the two countries to the maintenance of the status quo and the respect of this principle with all the peaceable means at their disposal."

The Conservative and Liberal newspapers display remarkable unanimity in agreeing that it establishes the relations between the two powers on a sound basis, guaranteeing unbroken peace for a long period.

The Noyce Freeman expresses the opinion that the treaty is the turning point in Russia's Asiatic policy, enabling her to shift her attention hereafter to nearer Russia, after having carefully weighed the arguments in favor of waging a return war for the recovery of lost ground in Manchuria, and having finally decided to accept the situation as it is, abandoning all ideas of a war of revenge.

The Russia characterizes the treaty as a link in the chain of international agreements removing the menace of war in the far east.

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—It is believed here that the Russo-Japanese treaty includes a clause, which has not been published specifically, defining the respective spheres of influence of the two countries. Under this clause it is reported that a portion of the Suihari River is placed within Japan's sphere, thereby modifying the exclusive rights of navigating that stream, which were conferred upon Russia by the treaty of Aigun.

MANSFIELD NO BETTER. LYON MOUNTAIN, N.Y., Aug. 15.—Richard Mansfield is not improving in health, and those close to him reluctantly admit their conviction that the actor will never again be seen on the stage.

Dr. Lemieux, the distinguished Canadian physician, who was summoned here to attend Mr. Mansfield when the latter's condition aroused apprehensions, declined to discuss the case.

RESERVOIR IS LOW. The heavy consumption of water during the hot spell has reduced the depth of water in the reservoir to 19 feet. Waterworks Engineer Fellows have decided to appoint Mr. Mansfield on which, only the law sprinklers east of Avenue-road may be used.

GET SOME LOCAL COLOR BY WATERFRONT VISIT Aldermen in Quest of Enlightenment on Problem of Esplanade, Cover the Ground.

The civic "Greater Toronto" committee spent a profitable afternoon yesterday in inspection of the grade railway crossings along the Esplanade, beginning with the Don street crossing and ending at Sunnyside. Engineer C. B. Smith accompanied the aldermen, and while a majority of those present were inclined to favor the viaduct, the explanation of Mr. Smith's reasons for advocating a series of bridges was listened to with closest attention.

The party proceeded first in carriages to the East Queen-street crossing, where the aldermen were informed that a bridge should be built across the Don for vehicular and street car traffic. The bridge would go up the incline on the west side, and its eastern terminus would be 425 feet from the east end of the Don. Mr. Smith thought the Grand Trunk tracks should start rising 199 feet more to the northeast, so that the level they reached what is now the time crossing, the tracks would be raised 8 or 9 feet above the crossing at the foot of Cherry-street was next viewed. At this point there are 13 lines of G.T.R. track. If a viaduct were begun there, the Grand Trunk yards would probably have to terminate just east of the present crossing, he claimed.

PAID UNDER PROTEST. Passenger Thought 2-Cent Rate Prevailed on Scarborough Line.

L. C. Connor, 481 Church-street, was under the impression that the Scarborough Suburban Railway was under the two-cent rate law until yesterday, when the rate was advanced to two cents each for two fares were demanded of him by a conductor for a ride of two miles and a half.

He purchased tickets from the Woodbine to the Half-way House and returned, wishing to stop over at the Ontario House on the way back he offered to pay his fare in cash. The distance was two miles and he was retained if the viaduct were begun immediately to the west instead of at Bathurst-street.

Small Boy Missing. Edward Shepherd, 5-year-old son of Francis Shepherd, of 84 Yonge-street, was reported yesterday to the police as missing. The lad, who speaks English and French, is well complexioned and some of his upper front teeth are missing. He left home at 10 in the morning, and at the time was wearing a blue blouse with white collar and white front; blue linen hat, navy blue trousers, and black stockings.

PARK SUPERINTENDENTS CONVEENE IN TORONTO

Suggestion That Breathing Places Be Established for Workmen Meets With Approval.

Owing to the late arrival of a number of the delegates to the Convention of the American Park Superintendents the civic reception that was to have been given in the morning did not take place, but the delegates, of whom about forty have arrived, were nevertheless enabled to attend the program arranged for the afternoon and evening.

Neighborhood Parks. A paper was read by Theodore Werth, superintendent of parks, Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Werth was decidedly in favor of the "neighborhood" parks situated in districts in which the working classes lived. One of the most useful innovations of recent years in connection with such parks was the playground, including gymnasium apparatus and swimming pools. Concerts should be given in neighborhood parks at least once a week. The expense, outside of the cost of musicians, need not be large.

Good Idea. A vigorous discussion followed, in which, among others, Superintendents Shea of Boston, Bush of Detroit, Morley of Los Angeles, Cowell of Buffalo, and Keith of Bridgeport, took part. The general view was that such parks were most desirable if the success of the program in Chicago depended on the adoption of the hoodlum element. Several of the speakers, among them Mr. Cowell of Bridgeport, and Mr. H. J. Duggan of Detroit, were in favor of the plan.

Arthur Goddard Reanimates House Fly Dead Six Hours

Immerses Insect in Water, has a Physician Pronounce it Dead, and Then Brings it Back to Life by Method of His Own.

Can a fly after it has been dead six hours? The World was asked the question by Arthur Goddard, an intelligent young man, living at 448 West King-street, and for a moment the interrogated party was stunned. Relapsing into deep thought the latter pondered the question and came back with the reply: "No, a fly can't fly after he is dead." But when a house fly Goddard had one on the interrogated party. He relates a story that may not puzzle the scientific community, but for the ordinary wayfarer man there is room for wonder and research.

OTTAWA SUBURB BURNS. Looters Follow Trail of Flames in Town.

There was a nine thousand dollar fire at Ottawa, a suburb of Ottawa, this afternoon. It started in Proulx paint shop, which was destroyed, together with the adjacent building belonging to the same man. The buildings were valued at $400 and were insured for $200. The fire spread to a house belonging to Eugene Favard and a house and stable owned by Joseph Desjardins. In the stable, which was controlled with great difficulty, at one time looked as if the fire would be extinguished. The efforts of those who were engaged in saving property were embarrassed by a gang of looters who looted the contents of the burning houses, and in the vicinity of the fire. A valuable gold watch, belonging to Mrs. Desjardins, was among the articles stolen.
