WHAT IS THE ALTERNATIVE?

Neither the ponderous conclusions of The London Times nor the vaporous speculations of Sir Gilbert Parker will convince Canadians that the Alaskan boundary award is above suspicion.

But it must be remembered that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not arbitrarily thrusting his proposal on the country. He does not bring forward the treaty-making scheme as a finality.

HOW ONTARIO FARMS GROW IN WEALTH AND ACREAGE

Census Bulletin Shows Material Property of the Agricultural Industry.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The bulletin of the census of 1901, giving the statistics of agriculture in Ontario, has just been issued. It gives the total area of land in the province as 141,123,330 acres, of which 10,806,281 acres were under crop in the year 1901, 4,823,070 acres in forest, and 3,250,222 acres in swamps, or waste land.

Compared with the census of 1891, there is an apparent decrease of 1,153,803 in the area under field crops, there is a decrease of 23,760 acres of orchard, an increase of 30,988 acres in small fruits and of 454 acres in vineyards.

The table of agricultural values was taken for the first time in 1901 for farms and lots of under five acres. The value of land and buildings is $74,932,568; implements and machinery, $52,067,730; live stock, $131,877,701; the value of the crops and animal products for the census year was $196,952,362.

The most notable increase in crops is in tobacco, the yield of which was 3,563,720 pounds in 1901, as compared with 248,090 in 1891.

The number of houses decreased from 71,838 to 72,138; milk cows increased from 80,467 to 1,065,755; cattle increased from 1,044,507 to 1,222,043; sheep from 1,024,300 to 1,040,457; and swine from 1,123,336 to 1,562,606.

The production of eggs enumerated for the first time in 1901 was 370,215,000, valued at $5,756,221. The value of dairy products in 1901 was $34,770,230. In this connection the census products are sold to cheese, butter and condensed milk factories, amounting to $155,070,922.

Increase in Factories. There were in operation in the province during the census year 1,159 factories, of which 172 made cheese and butter, 104 made cheese only, and 103 made butter only. The value of the products was $11,067,612 pounds, worth $13,440,967, and the value of the waste was $1,067,612 pounds, worth $1,344,097.

UNION OF STOCK MARKETS IS DEEMED POSSIBLE

Property Committee Discuss the Markets, Library Sites and Many Minor Matters.

Chairman Dunn, at the meeting of the Property Committee yesterday, brought up the letter from the solicitors for the Metallic Roofing Company, and asked Architect Siddall if it were true that the leakage in the roof of the St. Lawrence Market was due to the cheap method in which the specifications were drawn. The architect said that that portion of the letter was devoid of fact, and the fault was not in the plans. The construction was according to the latest principles, and if the roof on the north side of the building was constructed according to the same specifications there was no reason why it should not be waterproof.

Aid Sheppard was emphatic in his opinion that something was wrong and thought the inspector should have seen to the work more closely. Aid Jameson quoted Aid Curry as saying that the construction was wrong, but Mr. Siddall denied this strictly. In this connection the pavement of the market was discussed, and the Architect and the City Engineer, and Mr. Siddall were requested to report on it.

A deputation from the latter Day Salists obtained permission to use St. Andrew's Hall on Nov. 12, at the usual price, for a meeting of the Light and Heat. The Old Orphan Asylum Club was refused permission to use the old Bathurst street school, as the city had not yet obtained a title to the property, and the Architect was asked to report why there had been such delay in having the deeds rectified.

POISON FOR MEDICINE.
 Dr. Hester Watt Had a Close Call the Other Night.

David H. Watt, barrister, of 35 Jarvis street, was offering up his last evening over his narrow escape from death. It seems Mr. Watt, in taking as he thought some medicine, took in mistake a dose from a bottle containing poison, and almost immediately afterwards became unconscious, in which condition he remained for several hours. The first of the poison was secured, and now Mr. Watt is able to be around again, although in a somewhat feeble condition as the result of his trying experience.

Many Reports Deal With.
 The matter of fitting up the Assembly Room in the City Hall was held over until the City Architect assumes office. The Exhibition Association offered to store the memorial to the South African veterans "now in the City Hall" in the Women's Building for the winter. It was reported that it would cost $25 to remove it, and $150 to store it, and that the city was unable to pay anything more than was necessary on the matter of its removal at any price.

Library Site Back to Committee.
 The report from the Board of Control on the library site question was considered. Aid Sheppard thought that the committee should decide on the site of the site required and asked the Commissioner for his idea. Mr. Fleming said that he would grant a property of 200 x 300 feet, with light on three sides. It was decided that the aldermen committee should be appointed, with the addition of Aid Sheppard, should look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

The Foster Memorial.
 A sub-committee composed of Aid Ramsden, Noble, Graham and Commis. Fleming was appointed to report on a suitable location for the installation of the memorial tablet to be erected by Aid Foster.

Police Station Contracts.
 The Court-street station contractors were dealt with vigorously in a report from the Commissioner. It was found that the contracts were not properly awarded, he stated, notwithstanding efforts he had made to see that the satisfactory progress. The total amount expended to date was $11,021, and he wished the contractors' matter taken out of the contractors' list.

ARMENIAN LEADER SHOT BY A CO-REVOLUTIONIST

Tragedy Near London Reveals Sad Condition of Movement for Righting Armenia's Wrong.

London, Oct. 27.—Sergeant Sagouni, president of the Armenian Revolutionary Society in London, was murdered in the suburb of Nunhead last night. The crime has created a sensation, having been preceded by the assassinations of other officials of the same society on the continent.

Sagouni, who only returned to London yesterday, after setting up in the affairs of an associate, in Switzerland, who was recently assassinated by stabbing, was entering his residence when a man rushed across the road and fired three shots in quick succession, the last bullet entering the region of the heart.

Was Opposed to Violence.
 The murdered man, who was a mining engineer, became wealthy in the Caucasus and devoted his money to the Armenian cause. His society was entirely non-violent and opposed to violence, and it is thought this attitude may have inspired the advanced section of the Armenians, who have been violent remedies for the Armenian grievances.

Scandal Another Cause.
 It is stated that Sagouni's life had also been threatened on account of his participation in the exposure by the editor of a Boston newspaper, Young Armenia, of the misappropriation of the funds by a faction of the Armenian revolutionists, who were alleged to have collected $20,000 in America, and sent it to the East, but did not use it in their own pockets, instead of pushing the propaganda for the emancipation of the Armenians, for which the money was subscribed.

FOREIGNERS ENTERTAINMENT.
