

KITCHENER'S ARMY ABOUT TO TAKE THE FIELD

Mighty Effort Soon by the Allies—Facts That Point That Way—Germans in West in Funk and Have No Hope of Reaching Calais

(Toronto Star.) Kitchener's army is about to take the field. The address by the Secretary of War leaves little doubt on that point. Lord Kitchener plainly intimated that very large numbers of men would be needed from now on to make good the casualties at the front. And in effect he stated that the millions of men already recruited are fully equipped and able to equip men as fast as they enlist. No matter how many answer the call, this is the best evidence yet available that the faulty system that has delayed the general offensive effort of the allies on the western front has been reformed and that the period of blundering so often permitted by the easy-going good nature of the British people has been brought to a close. Hitherto recruits have been forthcoming in Britain as freely as they could be absorbed by the training department.

Mighty Effort Soon to Be Made by the Allies

The general military situation is still considered serious by K. of B. and he warns us that we are in for a long war.

TODAY'S RECRUITS

Corporal Hyatt Now in Charge at Mill Street Station

While on another page of today's Times will be found a list of names given by men who called at the recruiting office in the city yesterday, volunteering for the 60th, only six were passed today by the examining medical officer. Up to noon only seven others had presented themselves for examination, and these failed to pass satisfactorily all the tests. That would leave more than fourteen others still to be accounted for, but the presumption was that they would make their appearance later in the day. The list as given in another column shows the names of twenty-seven who offered themselves as volunteers. Some new names appear in today's lists.

The roll of honor gives the names of six recruits taken by Corp. Hyatt at the offices in Mill street today—Charles Duffy, Harold Chamberlain, John Duff, Harold Wilcox, of St. John, G. Farmer, of London, Edge, and E. W. Spence, of St. George, N. B. These will go forward tonight. Some of the others who presented themselves were: Chas. Allen, Liverpool, Eng.; James W. Boyd, John Booth, of St. John; John McDonald, of Havelock, and Arthur J. Daley, of Miramichi, N. B.

Serg. F. W. London, who has been attending to the recruiting work here for some time past, was relieved today by Corp. Hyatt and returned Sussex at noon.

REFUGEE FROM TURKISH HARBOR AT TONIGHT

"The Morals of Marcus" at Imperial Theatre tonight introduces still another refugee from the picture-loving port of St. John in Miss Marie Doro, who is rated one of the leading exponents of the dramatic art on the international stage today. Miss Doro will be supported by Eugene Ormande, Ida Darling, Julian LeFrange, Russell Bassett, Phyllis Carrington and other prominent players.

"The Morals of Marcus" is a novel by William J. Locke afterwards done into a play and now to be seen in pictures. The development of the plot unfolds one of the most delightful love stories the stage has produced in years. Comedy is predominant, but there are pathetic moments which counterbalance the production most charmingly. Miss Doro assumes the role of Carolina, a refugee from Turkish Harbors and the whole plot and story is unique and fascinating.

TO BUILD SUBMARINE FOR SPANISH NAVY

Contract Entered Into by Fore River Works

Quincy, Mass., July 14—A contract for a 700-ton submarine for the Spanish navy, with all the latest equipment, has been closed by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation. Construction will start at once.

The Spanish submarine will have a speed of eighteen knots, will be equipped with twelve torpedoes and will be fitted with the M. type of submarine, now building for the United States Navy.

This is the first order in many years received by a United States shipbuilding company from the Spanish government. This action on the part of Spain is a strong indication that she intends to follow out the lines of the European powers. The new submarine is expected to cost somewhere within $1,000,000.

She is expected to have a radius of about seven hours. She is well equipped with one of the new "deck guns," which will be so mounted as to disappear quickly when the boat is diving or submerged. Her directable torpedo tubes can be placed at many angles with the center line without interfering with the course of the boat.

Young Flewelling volunteered for his home last fall, giving up his position with the St. John Railway Co., and in December he was ordered to the front. He had been corporal on Partridge Island but gave up the stripes in order to go to the front.

Von Hindenburg Counsel Peace, Was Ordered Out by Kaiser and Lost His Place

Paris, July 14—A neutral traveler, here from Germany, says the best informed persons in Germany believe that Von Hindenburg has told the Kaiser that the war has reached its climax for Germany, and as no greater advantage could be expected, it would be well to seek peace and prevent needless butchery. The Kaiser is said to have ordered Von Hindenburg to be silent and to leave the palace immediately. Afterward he issued an order giving General Mecklenburg Von Hindenburg's place. The party which prevails in the Kaiser's consideration that it has won a great victory in Von Hindenburg's disappearance.

To Lynch Frank

Atlanta, Ga., July 14—There is a rumor of a plot for the lynching of Leo W. Frank. The state troops are held in readiness for action.

TIMES MAN AT VALCARTIER

(Continued from page 1.) Of course he will not go to Berlin. Just a word about Col. Ryan, I have talked with the men of the 6th, and they describe him in six words—"He gives us a square deal." No more need be said. Where he goes, these men will follow. Col. Ryan was on the train from St. John on Saturday evening. He had been home on a sad mission, his mother's death just a few hours before he had expected to meet her at Quebec, having been so much more terrible a shock because so utterly unexpected. The rest of the family came over to St. John with Col. Ryan, and while he came to Valcartier he proceeded on the sabbath interrupted journey to California.

This letter is written in Lieut. Brown's tent. Lieut. Brown also came through from St. John Saturday night. Under his guidance there was no trouble in getting from Point Levis across to the Canadian Northern station and on to Valcartier. He placed his tent at my disposal, and here I slept last night, after dinner at the officers' mess—and slept as soundly as any man at Valcartier. I am not sure as to the significance of the fact that the entry passed back forth past the tent all night, and another is there now. A sergeant says it is one of their regular beats, and the sergeant would be there anyhow. He may be right. At all events, I am not going to try to run away for a day or two, for the camp grips you, and if you are old you wish you were young again and able to get the game.

A battery of artillery has just passed, the officers on spirited mounts, and all

THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE

London, July 13, 8 p. m.—The six divisions of the British army that went out at the very outset of the war have been followed by others and yet others, and unless I am mistaken, we have twenty-two or twenty-three divisions (approximately 420,000 to 440,000) at this moment in the European theatre.

Lord Lansdowne made this statement in moving the second reading of the national registration bill in the house of lords this evening. He added that all the time War Secretary Kitchener has been recruiting his armies and the stream has been growing in volume, which was a matter of surprise to most people. The stream of equipment did not flow so satisfactorily, but prodigious efforts had been made to remedy the errors, and he was glad to think that those efforts had been attended with a considerable amount of success.

The bill, said Lord Lansdowne, was not intended to introduce compulsory service, but if compulsory service ever became necessary a national registration would greatly assist in introducing it.

The Hague, via London, July 13, 10.05 p.m.—Reports received from the Belgian-Dutch frontier are to the effect that many persons are being killed by a high voltage electric wire fence which has been constructed by the Germans along the entire border. Every morning, it is asserted, there are found from half a dozen to a dozen charred bodies of Belgian peasants, including women and children, who during the night had attempted to cross the fence and were electrocuted.

COMPLETE NERVE FAILURE

A Most Remarkable Cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets, The Famous All-British Medicine

Was Utterly Helpless and Could Not Move Hand or Foot

No Treatment Tried Was Of The Slightest Avail

He Had to be Fed With a Spoon Just as he Lay

Told Recovery Was Hopeless

Made Strong and Well by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS

The following extraordinary cure of Nerve Failure that he had not moved for eighteen months, and had to be fed as he lay, assured such widespread interest last year in the Mother Country that we now publish it for the benefit of all who are afflicted with this terrible story of Mr. Thomas Sedgmore, of Lyndale Cottage, 19 Chapel street, Dudley, Salterton, Devon, England. He says—

"I was completely helpless, could not move hand or foot, and had been in this condition for eighteen months when Dr. Cassell's Tablets cured me. The trouble first showed itself in the year 1908, and I sought advice. This proved useless, and I was steadily getting worse. I was advised to go to an institution where I should have the very best skill available. I was an out-patient there for four months, but nothing they could do for me was of the slightest avail. On the contrary, the trouble got worse. When I went I was just able to hobble on sticks from the station, when I was about by herself. The cause of the trouble was her being knocked down by a bicycle when she was three years old. She was very much bruised, but seemed to get over it quite well. Some years later, however, she complained of pains all over her body and began to lose the power of her limbs, until soon she was quite helpless. We had the best advice, but the case was considered incurable. She became a helpless cripple, unable to move hand or foot, and it was thought that she could not live many months.

"However, finding that everything we tried failed, I thought I would just try what Dr. Cassell's Tablets would do. The result amazed me. The first sign of benefit was that Hilda improved in general health. She began to eat better. Then slowly, but quite surely, power returned to her limbs, and she was able to get up for a little. It is only six months since I first got the Tablets, and now she is cured and is in the best of health."

Ordinary medicines could never have brought about cures like the above. There is an irresistible healing force latent in Dr. Cassell's Tablets, which, acting on all the nerve centres and bodily functions, literally compels health and vitality for the whole system. Where Dr. Cassell's Tablets are persevered with benefit must result. Take them for Nervous Breakdown, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorders, Wasting, Paili-tude, and they are especially valuable for nursing mothers and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the world sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A Free Sample will be sent on receipt of 3 cents for mailing and packing, by the Sole Agents for Canada, H. F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 10 McCai street, Toronto, Ont.

taken out I had to be carried on a stretcher. I had not the power of a single muscle, was so utterly helpless that I had to be fed with a spoon just as I lay.

"I was told I could not possibly get better, but I kept on hoping all the same. I tried one thing and another, and disappointment followed disappointment; but in the end I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and in the afternoon of every body who knew me I recovered. Gradually power returned to my limbs, and I could be wheeled about in a bath chair. Soon I abandoned the chair for crutches. Then I dropped the crutches and used a stick. Finally I had no need even of a stick. I could go about on good, sound limbs again, cured absolutely. I have

WELL DONE, CANADIANS

Since more extended official reports of the activities of Canadian soldiers at the front have begun to come in, one can scarcely pick up a newspaper without coming across the name of some man with whom he was intimately acquainted in the casual list during the last few weeks.

It is with pride in our brave ally that St. John, as well as other cities within the bounds of the British Empire, flings the tri-color to the breeze.

The London Times quotes the German Emperor as declaring that the war will end in October. In only one way can the Kaiser determine the time at which hostilities shall cease.

Sir Max Aitken yesterday told of the gallant and effective work of the Canadians in the "orchard" fight. Today we have the narrative of another stirring conflict in which they played a prominent part.

THE BAPTIST MINISTERS

Rev. N. A. MacNeill of Salisbury was the preacher at the re-opening of the house of worship at Lewisville, N. B., on Sunday, July 4. Rev. E. B. McLachy took the services for the day on the Salisbury field.

RECRUITING

The promoters of the children's appeal to the manhood of St. John to rally to the flag and do their full share in the battle for the right already see results in the strengthening of the ranks of the 50th Battalion. A direct answer to the little ones and to the inspiring words of the orators at last night's meeting in King Square is the enrollment of fifteen men in the battalion.

News of the important command that has come to Captain William R. Kennedy of St. John, in the United States naval service, revives memories of a name well known in St. John's palmy days in wooden shipping.

That was a wonderful response to the British war loan call. East Kitchener, no doubt, had this in mind the other day when he said that in the matter of the great war essentials—money, munitions and men—the first was satisfactory, and the second improving.

The British government, as a late despatch to The Times yesterday announced, has applied the munitions of war act to the case of the wages dispute between coal owners and miners in South Wales.

One hundred and twenty-six years ago today fell the Battle and the day has become the national fete of France. The celebration of 1915 is in the midst of grim warfare, but it has another new feature in that the peoples of much of the civilized world today join the President of the Republic and his countrymen in the observance.

Germania, Ont.—"My eczema broke out with a rash just in patches about an inch long. It came out like little blisters with water in them and got a little larger and then they broke and the water-like mass ran out. The eczema was red and caused discomfort for the time being. The sores festered awfully and even passed down to my throat. I could hardly sleep or keep from scratching them.

RUSSIANS WILL KEEP HUNS BUSY FOR MONTHS

Petrograd, July 14.—It is believed here that the Galician adventure is only a part of a scheme extending all over the Russian front, from the Baltic to Bukovina. The next German adventures are expected in the Baltic provinces and between the Niemen and the lower Vistula, while the possibility of another overwhelming drive toward Warsaw by the direct eastward route is never forgotten.

Experts here say positively that the entire real striking forces of the German allies are definitely committed solely to the Russian front for months to come. This would give Russia's western allies ample time to prepare for a united front move from all sides simultaneously.

In the meantime Russia will continue to do her duty in this coalition war by providing plenty of occupation for the common enemy, and continuing to decimate his forces.

GERMAN AIRMAN LOST IN AEROPLANE DUEL

London, July 14.—Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd sends the following dispatch: A German aeroplane appeared over a Russian aerodrome on the Dniester and immediately was engaged by a Russian aeroplane, which used its machine guns effectively. The enemy replied and his shot pierced the Russian machine five times. The duel terminated in the killing of the German airman and the wounding of his observer by the machine-gun fire.

LEONARDO DA VINCI FORESAW MODERN WAR

Rome, June 27.—(Correspondence)—Leonardo da Vinci, of whom the world thinks chiefly as a great painter, is now set forth in the Italian papers as a great prophet of what might come to pass in warfare.
 In the latter part of the 15th Century his versatile genius included skill as a scientist, engineer, mechanician and architect, as well as a painter and musician, and his imagination led to the design of many remarkable implements of war, among which was a steam gun which was run by boiling water. In this

INVENTION INCIDENTALLY IT SAID HE ANTICIPATED THE STEAM ENGINE.

In certain of his works he told of several forms of bombarding engines, one of which threw minute particles like a storm of hail, producing quantities of dense smoke to frighten the enemy. Among his papers are found what may be called the ancestors of the terrible cannon for throwing burning liquid at a great distance which the Krupp and Essen factories are said to have turned out.
 "There will issue from the earth," he wrote, "that which, with frightful sounds, will deafen the surrounding and with its breath will kill men and ruin

CITIES AND FORTRESSES. HE SUGGESTED THE USE OF A POWDER WHICH WOULD STUN AND SUFFOCATE THE ENEMY, AND AT THE SAME TIME SUGGESTED A REMEDY.

"To send poison in powder," he said "be careful to have a wind which will not send the powder upon yourself or have the nose and mouth covered by a thin, wet cloth so that the powder cannot pass."
 He left sketches of mortars and other heavy engines of war, which suggest the modern heavy and quick-firing guns, and seemed even to have imagined a submarine and aeroplane. Of the former he wrote, according to the quotations in the Italian papers, "I do not publish or divulge my way of staying under wa-

Another Thrilling Story Of Canadian Gallantry

Heroic Exploits of 1st Ontario Battalion Related by Sir Max Aitken, Canadian Record Officer—Lieut. Kelly of St. John is Mentioned

Ottawa, July 13.—A thrilling account of the exploits of the 1st Ontario battalion of the Canadian expeditionary forces is given in the eye-witness narrative compiled by Sir Max Aitken, the Canadian record officer at the front. Individual instances of splendid heroism and gallantry are told by the observer.

The narrative, which is a continuation of the story of the orchard battle, begins with the fighting in the middle of June. The narrative follows:

On the Canadian Battlefield, July 13, via London.—About this time (the middle of June) a British division was directed to make a frontal attack on a fortified position in the enemy's trench line, known to our intelligence staff as "Stony Mountain." The 1st Canadian Ontario Regiment, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Hill, of the First Brigade, was detailed to secure the right flank of the British division, by seizing two lines of German trenches between Stony Mountain and another fortified place known as Dorchester, which was 150 yards to the south. The defensive flank to be thrown back to the right, if our men got through, would depend upon the advance made by the British division.

Working parties of the 2nd and 3rd battalions of the First Brigade were told to secure the lines of trenches and to connect them with our trenches, and finally to make the defensive flank.

After a few days of preparations the 1st Canadian battalion Ontario Regiment, moved up, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the battalion reached our line of trenches, opposite the position to be attacked, under Lieutenant-Colonel Watson, which was holding the trench position, withdrew to the right to make room for them.

The trench line on the right of the attacking battalion was held by the 2nd and 4th Canadian battalions, as far as the La Bassee Canal, with the 3rd Canadian (Toronto) Regiment in support. The left was held by the East Yorks.

Ready for the Charge. From 8 o'clock on, in the evening the Ontario Regiment waited the command to charge, and sang their chosen songs, all popular but unprintable. The enemy bombarded our positions heavily, though our artillery had the better of them. Fifteen minutes before the attack was timed to take place two 12-pounder guns, which had been placed in the infantry trenches, under cover of darkness on the instruction of Brigadier-General Burdall, commander of the Canadian artillery, opened up a twisted and kee paper by the mere force of musketry fire.

Just before 6 o'clock a mine, which had been previously prepared by the sappers, was exploded. Owing to the discovery of water under the trenches, the tunnel could not be carried far enough forward, and the Canadian troops had accordingly been withdrawn from the attack in the Canadian line known as "Duck's Bill," to guard against casualties in our own trenches, when it went off.

However, to make sure that the explosion would reach the German lines, so heavy a charge had to be used that the effects upon the Canadian trench line were somewhat serious. Several of our bombers were killed and wounded, and a reserve depot of bombs was buried under the debris. Another bomb depot was blown up by an enemy shell about this time.

all further attempts to continue work while daylight lasted came to nothing. Nineteen Year Old Lad a Hero.

The efforts of the battalion were now confined to erecting barricades just south of Stony Mountain, and north of Dorchester. The supply of bombs ran short and Private Smith, of Southampton, Ontario, son of a Methodist minister, and not much more than nineteen, was almost the only source of replenishment.

He was, until a transaction, a student at the Listowel Business College. History relates he was singing the "British Grenadiers" as he went to the old folks at home, when the mine exploded and he was buried. By the time he had dug himself out he discovered that all his world, including his rifle, had disappeared. But his business training told him that there was an active demand for bombs for the German trenches a few score yards away.

Private Smith, furnished himself with bombs from the dead and wounded bomb-throwers around him, and set out, mainly on all fours, to supply that demand. He did it five times. He was not himself a bomb-thrower, but a mere messenger.

Twice he went up to the trenches and handed over his load to the men. Thrice so hot was the fire that he had to lie down and toss the bombs (they do not explode until the safety fuse is withdrawn) in the trench to the men who needed them most. His clothes were literally shot into rags, but his hair was untouched, and he explains his escape by saying: "Oh, I kept moving."

So through all these ordeals the spirit of man endured, and rejoiced indomitably. After all the supply of bombs ran out the Canadian soldiers used heavy machine gun and rifle fire from Stony Mountain considerably increased the number of men holding the line. The bombers could fight no more.

One unknown man was seen wounded standing on the parapet of the trench. He had been shot, and had thrown every bomb he carried, and weeping with rage, continued to fire until his end came. Every effort was made to clear out the wounded, and reinforcements for the 2nd battalion were sent forward, but still no work could be done, and a further supply of bombs was absolutely necessary.

At one point four volunteers who went to the trench were killed, one after the other, which Sergeant Kranz, of London, England, by way of Vermilion (Alta.), led at one time a private of the Argyl and Sutherland Regiment, went back and fortunately returned with a load. He was followed by Sergeant Newell, of the same regiment, and Major Cuddy, a druggist, from St. John's.

Gradually our men in the second German line were forced back along the trench, and the 2nd battalion was forced to retreat. The withdrawal was conducted in a most orderly manner, and all our officers handled the fight. The volunteers who were to bring forward the supply died out with them. The British division had been ordered to hold the trench, owing to the strength of the fortified position at Stony Mountain and the German line north of the fort. They were to hold it until the success of the operation was assured, and they were to be replaced on their exposed left flank.

The enemy meanwhile had been accumulating strong forces and finally at 9.30 the remnants of the 2nd battalion were forced to evacuate all the ground that had been gained. The machine gun crew, which reached the trench, was reduced to Lieut. Campbell and Private Vincent, a lumber-jack from Brucebridge (Ont.), the machine gun, and the tripod. In the hands of Lieut. Campbell set up the machine gun on the broad back of Private Vincent, and fired continuously. As the trench was retreating, German bombers entered the trench and Lieut. Campbell fell wounded. A portion of the trench cut away the cartridge belt, and, abandoning the tripod, dragged the gun away to safety because it was too hot to handle.

Lieut. Campbell crawled out of the trench, and was carried into our trench in a dying condition by Company Sgt. Major Owen, from Woodstock (Ont.). In the words of Kingslake—"no man died that night with more glory, yet many died and there was much glory."

The working parties detailed for the construction of the line adjoining our trenches with the hostile line which had been captured, moved out, according to arrangement, but the heavy machine gun fire from Stony Mountain forced them back to the cover of our trench, and

LEARNING WHERE THE MONEY WENT Motor Trucks Purchased at Retail Prices—Tory Lawyer Asked to Tender on Fodder

Ottawa, July 13.—The prices paid by the militia department for motor trucks, oats and drugs were under review today by Sir Charles Davidson's law purchasing commission.

Major Thompson held the evidence spoken for itself.

As throwing some light on what prices the government should have paid for oats last fall, J. A. Riddick, Dominion dairy commissioner, who acted as counsel for the government, said that shortly after war broke out the government commandeered 500,000 bushels of oats in the Port William district and paid only 47.8 cents per bushel for them.

A fortnight or so after war the price obtained was 75 cents per bushel and 37,000 bushels were bought at that price.

The German dominion of Southwest Africa has ceased to exist," he said.

"I ask the hon. member," said the premier in his peroration, "to testify to the admiration of the whole Empire for, and its gratitude to the illustrious general who has rendered such an estimable service to the Empire which he entered by adoption and of which he has become one of the most honored and cherished sons, and to his dauntless and much-enduring troops, whether of Burgher or British birth, who fought like heroes, side by side in the cause which is equally as dear to them as to us—the broadening of the bounds of human liberty."

How Thin People Can Get Fat Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More A Physician's Advice

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a regret is impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatness of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich nourishment for the tissues and its blood effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money returned.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not be used in cases where it is not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the best and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of water, and this will immediately neutralize the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the Sargol tablets, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in their generally valuable properties.—F. J. G.

TROOPS' SPIRIT IS SUPERBLY HEROIC

Allyes Have Unshakeable Confidence in Ultimate Victory

CHIEF RABBI INTERVIEWED

ound Religious Teleration Combined With Steadfast Cling to Faith in Which Soldiers Were Bora

London, July 13.—On his return to London tonight after a fortnight's visit to the fighting line in France, Chief Rabbi Hertz, of the United Hebrew Congregations of the British Empire, said, in an interview with a correspondent, that the spirit of the British and French soldiers was superbly heroic. Among all the troops, he said, unflinching courage prevailed, inspired by the conviction that the Allies in the end would utterly crush their German, Austrian and Turkish adversaries.

The Chief Rabbi saw the soldiers in camp from Ypres in the northern battle area to Vermelles, in the south, and everywhere found the same unflinching spirit and belief that the Allies will prevail.

The Rabbi's trip, which was made in a motor car with the Rev. Michael Work, among the English Jewish soldiers in the whole field, was for the purpose of seeing how the soldiers fared. His visit convinced him, he told the correspondent, that the entire body of soldiers, English Jews and all, were amazingly adapting themselves to the terrible methods of warfare, and were buoyed up by the highest inspiration.

In the course of his journey, Rabbi Hertz met Field Marshal French and generals under him, but of what he learned from them of the intimate secrets of the war, he said, he was naturally not privileged to talk.

The Rabbi said he came away from the battlefield with all his heart-sickening slaughter, with a solemn sense of the awful consequence of the war upon the whole world.

Being asked what was the deepest impression he brought back with him he answered that the ultimate effect of the war was a thing all humanity must seriously regard, adding:

Old Legend Fulfilled.

"No war, least of all a world-war can leave the nations as it found them. There is an old Jewish legend of a second deluge—a deluge of fire that would sweep over the earth, in anticipation of it, the children of men were bidden to write the story of man on tablets of clay, as these tablets would not only escape destruction, but would be turned into hard stone. Today we are witnesses of such a deluge of fire as was dreamed of by the ancients, and far-reaching will be its spiritual effects for all mankind.

"During the last year we have seen the laws of God and man accounted as mere clay, breakable and effaceable at will. However, the triumph of Great Britain and her Allies in this world conflagration will convert the hebeshe right and humanity into regulative principles for all international dealings.

The Chief Rabbi went on to say that international agreements entered into by Germany were thrown to the winds by the German war lords as though brittle clay. After the war, he said, there would be a Judgment day for the nation, adding:

"After this a solemnly made treaty will be regarded as a treaty, and the scourge of hypocrisy among nations, as manifested in Germany's attitude, will be wiped away."

In his trip to the trenches, the Rabbi said, he found that all the soldiers were of profoundly religious sympathy and that a feeling of sincerest regard for the creed preferences of each prevailed.

"While I found men of various faiths, the Episcopal, Catholic or Jewish, indulgent for each other," said the Rabbi, "it was quite apparent that those brought up in a particular creed clung even more steadfastly than ever to their own church denomination. This, quite naturally, was to my mind an eloquent tribute to their religious bringing up.

"As to the scenes of the war, I witnessed terrible things, showing the terror of the conflict, but, standing out through it all, is the supreme heroism and sublime religious spirit of the soldiers in the trench that must take the Allied army on to triumphant victory in the end."

BROTHERS MEET FOR FIRST TIME IN THIRTY THREE YEARS

CONSTIPATIENS

It must be remembered that the bowels should move freely once a day to ensure perfect health. When such is not the case the poisonous waste material is shuttled into the system, thus producing a self blood poisoning. The causes of Constipation are many and varied. Among the more common may be mentioned: poor stomach digestion, a deficiency of bile in the intestines, a lack of secretion in the bowels, and a want of the natural muscular contraction of the intestines from above downward. Abbey's Efferescent Salt, sold everywhere at 25c and 50c, stimulates and restores the stomach digestion, increases the flow of bile into the intestines, causes a flow from the intestinal glands, and restores the natural downward action of the intestines, rendering it easy to secure a free action of the bowels, which is one of the most important requisites to health. Canadian Soldier Tells of Experiences in France—Windmill That Helped Germans to Entrap Our Men

Sergt. William Turley, 18th Battalion, writing June 16 to a friend says: "Today I paid two francs for a clean army shirt. I bought it from a weather-browned washerwoman on the roadside—'thereby hangs a tale.' The peasantry and farmers of Belgium and France whose homes are in that part of the war-scarred lands where British and Canadian troops operate, have acquired more money during the ten months of the war than they did in the previous ten years.

Every roadside cottage has been converted into a cafe. Coffee and wine, eggs, bread, butter and biscuits by the ton are sold week after week in every one of them, and the frugal folk who dispose of the stomach comforts, do so at good profit to themselves and pleasure to their customers.

Money in Everything.

Every farm building provides bullet-accommodation and billeting British and Canadian troops has proved a most remunerative side line for the industrious farmer folk. They, and the peasantry, may be very glad to have the British bulwark between their homes and the 'alien' but their gratitude is not reflected in the charges made for food-stuffs and billeting accommodation. If an officer's horse gets grass in a orchard its feeding is itemised on the bill-letting bill. No possible source of income is overlooked by yeoman or cowman, nor by their wives or daughters, sisters or sons, cousins or nephews, great-aunts or grandaunts.

Souvenirs are eagerly sought by the same people. The article not yet in existence which cannot be included in the comprehensive category of that one word.

Shirt & Souvenir.

The shirt I bought today was without doubt included in the list of souvenirs collected by 'Madame' washerwoman or one of her clan. It bears the regimental number of a British Tommy, and it gives exceedingly great comfort to an Anglo-Canuck, while it has also been the means of adding two francs to the family banking account. Men, women and children work from daylight till dawn, and their reward is more than worth their labors. They allow nothing to be destroyed or thrown away if entreaty can save it. I have seen women and children beg with tears in their eyes, for dirty shirts which were being burned because they could not be cleaned.

Boots and socks are never too old or decrepit to be saved from destruction. Only the gods know where the country-folk store their booty. The transient Tommy seldom sees it after he has given it up—but it is safe to say that clothing establishments will find little sale for their goods among the male population of northern France and western Belgium for some years to come.

Tell-Tale Mill

Some of the natives were not satisfied to make money by such safe means in the earlier stages of the war. One millet-farmer not far from here (somewhere in France) decided to get rich in a hurry. Just what arrangements he made no one knows, but when British troops passed by the old windmill it slanted towards them as though bestowing a benediction on the passing troops. Thoughtless Tommies had been known to cheer as the quaint looking edifice leaned towards them. Many of them are known to have written in despatches within its shadow soon after, and one day an intelligent bombardier of the R. F. A. remarked to his captain: "Funny thing about that old windmill. Every time I lean over the Germans open fire on our fellows."

"Stand by the gun crews," the officer cried after looking at the mill-barricade—and the object of suspicion, Ten minutes passed by—and the muzzles of four guns were pointed at the mill. A company of British troops marched past to the left of "Take me Back to London Town." Inside half a minute the old mill veered towards them.

Spy No More

Two minutes later German shrapnel began to break over the marching men and five minutes passed by before the ever-esteering bombardier turned his gaze from the ruins of the signal mill and remarked to the officer: "We made a bleeding good job of that, sir."

on the same boat, but John Waage came to America to live, and from that time until his brother's ship docked in Baltimore last week he did not see Christian.

John Waage is a prominent business man of this town, and he learned by telegram that his brother's ship was to dock at Baltimore, and persuaded him to come to Arlington to visit. Captain Waage's ship is taking on a cargo of foodstuffs at Baltimore for Denmark.

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Mgt. soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mildified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), it's cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustreous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mildified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Attempts to popularize baseball in England have been equally futile. In 1874 the Boston and the Philadelphia Athletics toured England and Ireland and aroused a transient interest in American pastime, but it soon died down. Anson, Spalding, Harry, George and Sam Wright, and other famous players of the period, made the trip. Twice since then Great Britain has been visited by professional baseball clubs, but their missionary work has had little effect. Before the war some of the London papers published the interesting reports of major league games in America, which indicated a growing interest in the game.

Will Race Off Sandy Hook

New York, July 13.—The America's cup yacht Resolute and Vanitie will begin Tuesday a series of three races off Sandy Hook, which will constitute the first off shore test this season. The races will be sailed over the international cup course and under conditions like those of a race for the cup. The first of the three races will be a windward-leeward one of 80 miles and Wednesday it was planned to send the yachts over a triangular course for the same distance. Tuesday's race was the sixth of the present season. The Resolute has won four of the five matches already sailed. All the previous races have been sailed on Long Island Sound where conditions do not favor so satisfactory a test as does the ocean course off Sandy Hook.

News of the Boxers

Johnny Dundee, Italian lightweight who wants to meet Charley White and Freddie Welsh, has been matched to box Jack Britton in New York on July 29. If Dundee can defeat Britton he will stand a better chance of getting a title fight with White or Welsh.

Joe Jeannette and Sam McVey

Joe Jeannette and Sam McVey will probably have another chance on next Tuesday night to go through one of their merry whiffs about the ring at Brighton Beach, N. Y. Those colored boxers are so well liked by the fans that they are glad to see them get a chance to box. Joe Welling and Sam Bloom were to box at the club, but the match fell through and the promoter wants to substitute McVey and Jeannette.

Giants Purchase First Baseman

Seattle, Wash., July 12.—Dick Kinsella closed a deal today which gives the New York Giants first baseman George Kelly of the Victoria club of the Northwestern League. Kelly is a nephew of Bill Lange, the famous centerfielder. He is 6 feet 3 inches tall, weighs 190 and is only 19 years old.

Diamond Sparkles

The National League race is becoming more interesting. Only one point separates the two leading teams and the race is closely bunched. Boston is back in the cellar and six points below the corresponding date last year. Both the Braves and the Boston Red Sox are getting active in the league standing. There is a difference, however, as the teams are headed in opposite directions.

Pitchers Hitting Well

Advantages gained by the ability of pitchers to hit in runs were probably never more apparent than in the showing that is being made this season by the Red Sox squad. Foster, Ruth and Mays have time after time contributed to the winning of the games for their teams when the so-called heavy hitters have failed to come through. Three of the staff are marked up well above the 200 figure, while two others are near that mark. Last week was one of general batting profit for the Red Sox. As a team they hit for 300, while their pitchers held opponents down to a batting average of .216. The Boston team mark was consequently fattened up by six points, while opponents' teams figure dropped two points. Janvyn's phenomenal hammering of the ball placed him in the lead of the regulars with Cady and Speaker following closely. Lewis came back to the select class and Gainer stays just within the limit. Boston hitters thus occupy seven places in the upper ten on hitters.

The Braves had the most disastrous week of their career in batting. Their team average for the week was only .157, their season's mark, therefore, having been reduced ten points. Opposing batters made no gain on their pitchers. Only one regular remains in the select list—Connolly, with a mark of .301. Tyler, a pitcher, keeps up a hitting pace that gives him third rank in the league.

Baseball in England.

From London comes the news that there has been a revival of interest in baseball and lacrosse, owing to the influence of the Canadian soldiers, and that these native American games are being played with great enthusiasm by the youngsters of Great Britain. It is a pretty safe betting proposition, however, that it will be a long time before baseball or lacrosse has any real hold upon the sporting public of John Bull's island. As sports-loving people of the English lead the world, but they cling with bull dog tenacity to "made in England" pastimes, and the same misguided overseas have small attraction for them.

Many previous attempts have been made to popularize baseball and lacrosse in England. Thirty-nine years ago two lacrosse teams from Canada played before Queen Victoria at Windsor, who thus gave her approval to Canada's national game. The same clubs, with the exception of a dozen palace gentlemen players, and the other of twelve full-blooded Indian Indians, toured all leading cities of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. While they were always greeted by large crowds the interest was more due to curiosity to see "real live Indians" than to any enthusiasm about the game. A few of the collected cup trophies are as a result of the missionary trip, but the general public paid little attention to them.

The West End men lacked several of their regulars and the Carlton team did not detract from the excellent showing of the Roses who played real baseball from start to finish. If the Roses can only repeat their performance tonight and thus support the pitcher as they did they are likely to give their opponents a hard shove.

A 25 MILE CONTEST

More Fun Than Sport in an Event of 1889 in the Lansdowne Rink—The Dark Horse

Tuesday, February 26, 1889 an excellent programme of amateur races was given in the Victoria rink. A large and enthusiastic crowd were present and thoroughly enjoyed the sport. The judges were Wm. Whelphy and Dr. McVenny. D. McCormick was referee and C. M. Bell held the watch.

The boys race was won by Carson, who finished the mile in 3:57.

The two mile amateur race proved very interesting. Owing to the number of competitors two heats had to be skated. B. Duffy won the first in 14:14. H. Dingee won the second in 8:33. After a rest the two winners were called to the scratch and it was decided to skate only one mile. Duffy won the pole and at the flash of the revolver both skaters were off like a shot. Duffy kept the lead and forced the pace. Dingee, however, displayed staying qualities and on the thirteenth lap shot ahead of Duffy and finished in 3:51.

25 Mile Race

On Thursday, May 16, 1889 an unique race was held in the Lansdowne rink. It was to be twenty-five miles and gas-scoy-pleas. The report of the race published in the Daily Telegraph was as follows: The alleged twenty-five mile race in the Lansdowne rink last evening was witnessed by nearly 800 spectators. The contest was not highly satisfactory, but it was worth a quarter, and what it lacked in excitement was made up in amusement. A little after eight o'clock a barouche, in which the competitors were seated, headed by the Kingsville brass band, arrived at the rink accompanied by a large crowd of spectators. The band occupied the centre of the rink and did much to relieve the monotony by a good programme. The track was covered with saw dust and thirteen pairs were supposed to make a mile.

Soon after eight o'clock the so-called "spiritual advisors" took their stand upon the floor and called for the contestants. Seymour, Craft, Foster, Daley, Vanwart and McNeill at the scratch and as yet nothing had been heard of the unknown. A wild yell from the crowd told of something extraordinary, and this something suddenly appeared in the person of one Charles Morrison, a colored man, who entered the arena on a wild center and sprang the race. The scraps of him, and his loss of an unenviable one.

PRISONERS OF WAR

Camps and hospitals for prisoners of war are prominent features of Germany today. They number 247, some of which contain between 10,000 and 20,000 prisoners. The latest information gives the number of prisoners interned as 900,000.

The lot of the prisoner is something like that of a Mexican peon or a Virginia slave in the old slavery days. He has a sort of communal life. He is not confined to a cell, but his freedom of movement is restricted to a camp compound.

If he choose labor he is sometimes sent out to an employer for a pitance of 12 or 24c a day. He is fed and clothed and housed by people who are glad to have the scraps for him, and his lot is an unenviable one.

In a recent article on hygiene, Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, advised people "to eat only when they are hungry." Henry doesn't know the delicious bread of strawberry shortcake mother always makes.

Now that lemonade is being served in the Munich beer gardens there should soon be a call for peaches.

News note tells of a Turkish fes having been used to outfit a boat in the Dardanelles. Perhaps even a silk tie might have some real use if it were only known.

A shipment of 200,000 barrels of rum has just been made from Boston to the negroes of West Africa. Looks as though both home and foreign missions were being neglected.

ST. JOHN CAPTAIN GIVEN COMMAND OF FINE STEAMER

Wm. R. Kennedy Master of The Janawha in U. S. Naval Service—Began Sea Life as Cabin Boy Sailing From Here

Hearty congratulations will be extended by friends here to Captain William R. Kennedy, a former St. John boy, who is now in the naval service of the United States, upon his recent appointment to the command of a newly launched steamer the "Janawha" on the Pacific coast. The appointment is a tribute to his record in the service, particularly as the post was eagerly sought by officers of greater years of service. The steamer is employed in carrying fuel to American vessels, and has capacity for 1500 tons. She is also equipped with accommodation for 250 passengers. The steamer cost one and a quarter million dollars.

The "Janawha" is elaborately fitted, the quarters of the master and his officers being especially attractive, he having a private dining room, library, bath and other rooms in his suite. The honor which has just come to Captain Kennedy is in some way marked contrast to his first sailing from this port, when as a lad of fifteen years he shipped as cabin boy aboard one of the vessels owned by his father, the late James Kennedy of this city. He has followed the sea all his life, and has met with much success.

When still a young man he held the office of mate and captain aboard some good-sized ships, one of his best known commands being the "Crescentmore," a full rigger, in which he sailed for some time.

Another was the "Archibald," in which he sailed for ten years. He visited his brother, George K. Kennedy at his home, Summer street, here, about four or five years ago and old acquaintances greeted him warmly. For some time Captain Kennedy has had his home in Monsey, N. Y., going there when relief from his command allowed him a furlough ashore.

LETTERS COME FROM TWO SONS

Two Fraser Boys in the War—Like Big Thunder Storm in Co-ordination on West Front

A vivid description of battle conditions is given by Jack Fraser, with the divisional ammunition column, first contingent, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. W. A. Fraser, 404 Union street. He says: "It is like a big thunder storm out here, and all things are moving fast out here now; the French and British are doing good work and the Canadian boys are fighting like wild cats. The more fighting they get the better they like it."

Another son of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, who left with the 28th, writes telling of the trip across and saying that he is trying to get a transfer to a battalion of the first contingent.

A third son, too young to go, is anxiously asking his parents if the war will last long enough to let him have a chance to get to the front.

Misses Wounded Brother.

Mrs. Margaret Garter has received a letter from her son, Frank Garter of the 28th Battalion, telling of his arrival in England and of his meeting his brother, Bert Garter of the first contingent, who had been wounded and sent back to hospital there. Bert told him he was going to a convalescent hospital for a month or so. Frank writes that the boys of the 28th were enjoying life in camp.

HAVING A GREAT TIME ON TRIP ON RIVER

Y. M. C. A. Boys on Launch Acme Enjoying Outing to Hearts Content

Word has just been received from Captain P. J. Legge, secretary of the boys' department of the local Y. M. C. A., reporting that the boys who left the city on last Monday morning for a week's trip up the river, are all well and happy and enjoying splendid weather and the delights of the beautiful scenery of the St. John. Since the first day William Cross, the capable cook and the most popular man in the party, has conclusive evidence that every lad has hollow legs in spite of this. Mr. Howe has been able to fill all the boys to their entire satisfaction.

The first stop was made on Monday at Sand Point and on that night tents were pitched at the mouth of the Belle Isle. For nearly all the boys this was the first night they had ever slept out under canvas. At breakfast on the following morning every boy had a story about things that had been seen and heard during the night that would make the "Arabian Nights" stories seem tame.

They landed at Robertson's Point at noon on Tuesday and from there, will cruise up through Grand Lake, calling every day at some special point of interest. On going ashore they take short trips through the country during the day and in the early afternoon return for games. Every night after supper they build a camp-fire, have a programme of jokes and stories, closing the evening's activities with a brief religious service, adapted to making very real the God of the great out-of-doors. In the morning the first thing is a dip, which every lad takes, then a quiet hour followed by breakfast, which everybody takes also. After breakfast, Mr. Legge reports that everybody has a job, and that they are all doing their work with enthusiasm. The following is the plan of organization.
