MANY PERSONS WERE HURT DURING RIOTS IN PORTUGAL

Murder of King Carlos Repeatedly Enacted by Revolutionists—Military Called Out to Quell the Disorders

LISBON, Feb. 26.—Via the Frontier.—The carnival celebrations held in this week resulted in serious rioting and a number of encounters with the police during which numerous people were more or less injured and about two hundred arrests were made. The precautions taken by the authorities were successful in preventing any demonstration early in the month on the first anniversary of the assassinations of King Carlos and the Crown Prince, but the population took advantage of the carnival times to indulge in the manifestations they wanted to hold three weeks ago. The assassinations of Feb. 1, 1908, were repeatedly enacted at various points throughout Lisbon by persons made up to represent the late King Carlos and the Crown Prince, Queen Amelia, Prince Manuel and the Beatitudes, Costa and Salazar, they were attired on the day of the tragedy, while other groups carrying coffins containing skeletons to represent King Carlos and the Crown Prince gave representations of the funeral procession to an accompaniment of blasphemous songs. The police were completely taken by surprise and when they tried to stop the scandalous proceedings the lower classes sided with the masqueraders and received them with volleys of stones. Women aided the rioters by throwing missiles from windows. The police finally had to make free use of their revolvers and swords. They charged right and left and a panic followed. The situation was such that the police could not control it and troops had to be summoned. The streets finally were cleared by the military who made arrests by the wholesale.

TWO MORE MONCTONIANS TAKEN TO DORCHESTER

MONCTON, N. B., Feb. 27.—W. C. Paver, secretary of the C. R. Relief Association, has submitted his monthly report for the month ended February twenty-first. There were four deaths among members of the association in this period, with total insurance of a thousand dollars divided into amounts of $250 each. The deaths were: James Gould, Moncton; David Cook, New Brunswick; X. Marier, Lévis; and M. Morrison, St. John. The latter being a retired member. Fees and levies for the month are: Class A, $1.10; Class B, $1.00, and Class C, 60c. Daniel Madden, restaurant proprietor, and William McMillan, proprietor of Hotel Windsor, were yesterday taken to Dorchester by the police, being arrested on commitment papers in jail for Scott Act violation. Noah Higgs, an Englishman, was this morning sentenced to three months in Dorchester jail for vagrancy. Higgs has for the past month been making his home in the local jail and has on several occasions refused to go to work.

WIRELESS EXPERIMENT ON CHICAGO TRAIN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 27.—A special train of ten cars arranged for by Frederick Thompson, the theatrical manager and equipped with wireless telegraph instruments by the Marconi Company left here at 10 o'clock today for Chicago. Wireless stations have been erected at Cleveland, Toledo, Elkhart, Ind., and Chicago and efforts will be made to keep up wireless communication throughout the journey. Instead of a tower, two wires were stretched along the tops of three baggage cars at a height of 18 inches by which arrangement it is expected that a message can be sent about 30 miles.

DR. O'LEARY, OF BATHURST, WILL BE PROCURATOR

Appointment Made This Week—Will be Stationed in Rome—A Brother of Mrs. Geo. V. McInerney.

The announcement has been made that Rev. Dr. Henry O'Leary, now stationed at Bathurst, has been selected to fill the important office of procurator of the archdiocese of Halifax. The meeting of the Bishops of the Archdiocese was held at Halifax this week to make the appointment, and the honor fell to Dr. O'Leary. The office is a new one and is part of the new system recently adopted by the church. The new procurator will leave next week for Rome where he will reside in future as the representative of this archdiocese. Father O'Leary is a man of scarcely thirty, for whom a brilliant future has always been predicted. He is a brother of Mrs. George V. McInerney, of this city, and is well known in St. John.

CANADIAN ROBBED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Two men for whom the police are scouring the city beat into insensibility about one o'clock this morning, William J. Low, of Sisseton, Canada, and robbed him of $225 in cash, a gold watch and a diamond ring. They failed to find in his pockets letters of credit for $100 on the British Bank of North America.

Low was found in an unconscious condition on Delaware avenue by a policeman. He was hurried to the nearest police station. His injuries are not serious.

Yesterday afternoon Agnes Cross, a 6-year old girl was run over by James Conroy's team on Bridge street. Dr. McDonald was summoned and found that the girl was sufficiently injured to be sent to the hospital for treatment. She was conveyed there in the ambulance. She is reported improving at the hospital.

Manitoba Farmers Ask Government to Act
In Securing Control of Grain Elevators—C. N. R. Likely to Have Labor Troubles

WINNIPEG, Feb. 27.—A monster petition signed by ten thousand farmers was presented to the Lieutenant Governor today praying the government to secure control of the grain elevators in Manitoba either by purchase or otherwise. Another petition signed by an equally large number will be introduced in a few days. The farmers demand that legislation be introduced at this session which will give expression to their wishes, even if the government has to build a chain of elevators. Trouble between the Canadian North-west and its mechanical unions seems to be imminent though just what turn the negotiations will assume it is at present impossible to say. A mass meeting of the federated unions will be held tonight.

BELIEVE THAT WAR SCARE IS PRACTICALLY OVER

Serbia Will Stand Alone If She Tries to Fight Austria, Is the Verdict of the Powers.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—The situation between Austria-Hungary and Serbia is viewed much more favorably at the foreign offices this morning. Inasmuch as Russia has agreed to participate in a joint note to Belgrade it is believed that Serbia will see that she is completely isolated and without any prospect of foreign assistance should she go to war. It was said at the foreign office that the collective note to Belgrade, the wording of which is still under consideration, will be mild for the purpose of sparing Serbian sensitivities, but it will leave no doubt that Serbia must relinquish the idea of territorial expansion. It is assumed here that Serbia will accept this advice, particularly as Austria-Hungary has declared her willingness to make trade concessions to compensate for the abandonment of the claim for a portion of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

UP RIVER PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS FOR RAILWAY

Petitions Being Widely Circulated—Fredrickson and Woodstock to Discuss the Proposition.

FREDRICKSON, N. B., Feb. 27.—At a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade last night good progress was reported in the matter of getting the petitions to the local and federal governments praying for the early construction of the St. John Valley Railway. These petitions are being circulated all along the river from Centreville to St. John. It was decided to apply to the coming session of the legislature for a charter incorporating the St. John Valley Railway Company, and it is proposed the incorporators shall be fifteen men selected by the Fredrickson and Woodstock Boards of Trade. It was also decided to send John Palmer, A. L. B. Winslow and A. R. Slipp, M. P. P., to Woodstock on Monday to meet with the Woodstock Board for discussion of the project.

THE MERRY WIDOW STARTS A RIOT IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Audience, Looking Upon the Farce as a National Insult, Kicked Up a Row.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 27.—The presentation last night at the local opera house of "The Merry Widow," the comic opera that has had such success here, resulted in a scene of rioting. It was being sung by an Austrian company before a large audience, including many members of the diplomatic corps. In the midst of the play a group of Montenegrins, whose national sentiments were wounded by the presentation, commenced making a disturbance. They whistled, hooted and beat on the floor with heavy blocks. The audience hurriedly left the theatre and a number of women fainted in the rush. The demonstrators were arrested.

MIX-UP OVER HOCKEY TROPHY IN P. E. ISLAND

Summerside Team Wins League Series But Victorias Refuse to Hand Over the Cup.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Feb. 27.—The deciding game for the island league hockey trophy was played last night between the Abergavenny of Charlottetown and the Victorias of Summerside. Although the former won by 4 to 3, the latter in the preceding game won by 7 to 4, and as the majority of goals was scored by the Summerside boys the trophy. As a result of a tie in the series about two weeks ago it was decided to play home and home games. The Victorias were ruled out of the league and were not allowed to compete. They hold the trophy won from last year and decline to give it up. There is quite a mix-up in the situation as the league refuses to be bound by the decision of the M. P. A. A. A. president. An effort is being made to submit the question to arbitrators.

THE CIGARETTE.

A bomb has been thrown into the ranks of the anti-cigarette agitators by Carl Werner, the editor of a prominent tobacco journal. Mr. Werner furnishes a new and startling explanation for the origin of the crusade against cigarettes. With considerable detail he tells that back in the late seventies, a group of cigar manufacturers who feared injury to their business by competition of the cigarette, decided that it was necessary to take steps to check the movement. In order to do this they employed a group of Bostonian journalists to write various articles on the fatal effects which followed the use of the apparently harmless looking cigarette. Mr. Werner says that he has been told by some of these men of the hours that they spent sitting in a cloud of cigarette smoke reading their imaginations for new and terrible accusations to hurl against their paper-wrapped foe. Horrible examples were produced by inspiration, authorities were quoted who never existed, and the pages of the day were flooded with these pseudo-scientific articles denouncing the cigarette for all the bad qualities which it is possible to imagine might be attached to it and many which were almost impossible for the most vivid imagination. The result of this campaign was soon seen in the activity of certain feminine organizations. Members alarmed by an apparent danger which threatened the youth of the country, decided to devote a considerable portion of their energy to warding off the dreadful evil, and in their campaign their chief ammunition was the articles written for, and at the expense of, the cigar manufacturers. Mr. Werner makes the claim that almost all of the charges against the cigarette are groundless, and on his side quotes certain authorities to the effect that it is the most harmless form in which tobacco can be used.

The gauge of battle has been thrown down. It now remains for some of the anti-tobacco societies to take it up and join issue with the defenders of the cigarette. Surely the ladies who have fought so long and so vigorously against this foe of humanity will not be content to remain under the accusation that they have been stampeded out of the campaign in order to gratify the cupidity of any branch of the tobacco industry. The matter is one which deserves some further consideration. If the ladies have been misled they will probably be glad to be set right. Since the matter has been raised almost to the importance of a national issue by the anti-cigarette reformers, who have year after year carried the question to the parliament, possibly governments might consent to appoint a royal commission to satisfy the popular demand for the truth or the falsity of the accusations which have been levelled at the cigarette. There has been a tendency among members of parliament to treat the cigarette with levity, notwithstanding the deadly earnestness of those opposed to it. It would, however, be a relief to many minds to have this matter settled once and for all, and to accomplish this almost any means would be acceptable as long as the decision was final. Let the subject be submitted to a commission, an independent board of arbitration, or else effect a friendly settlement under the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

STATE OWNED RAILWAYS.

Government ownership of railways in Belgium is passing through what may be termed a crisis. Operating expenses are increasing at an alarmingly rapid rate, and while through the industrial and commercial development of the country during the last few years receipts have also increased, this has not been sufficient to meet the growth in outlay. The discrepancy is more striking than usual at the present time, when because of general dullness in business, earnings have fallen off. All railways have of late been more or less affected, but the Belgian state railway is particularly hit. In 1934 its balance-sheet showed a profit of about $60,000; in the following year, notwithstanding a considerable increase in the receipts, profits fell to $50,000; and in 1936, although there was a higher rise still, profits were only $30,000. In the commencement of 1937 the receipts remained as formerly; business fell, however, during the latter part of the year. On the other hand expenditure continued to increase, and the balance-sheet shows a loss of $100,000. That for 1938 matters will be worse still, and the draught for the Budget of 1939 gives cause for much pessimism. This calculates upon a decrease in receipts of $75,000, and upon a decrease in expenditure of $25,000, equal therefore to a decrease in production of $100,000 compared with 1936. Part of the decrease in expenditure is arrived at by reckoning upon a 20 per cent cost of fuel—and there may be no such favorable occurrence from the point of view of the railways. The financial charges on the State railways are likely to become rapidly heavier; the laying of new lines, extensions in rolling stock and in the installations at the stations, all of which have become necessary, coupled with the charges on loans made for nationalizing lines owned by companies, produce an annual expenditure much higher than all possible excess in receipts. If the State, adds our contemporary, had adopted the method of account keeping followed by private companies—that is to say, if it had been compelled to provide for reserve and sinking funds—there probably would never have been any profits to show, and the financial situation of the railway would have been clearly how matters stood, would pronounce emphatically against State ownership. The Minister of the Belgian State Railways is anxious that this unfavorable situation should cease, and is looking for remedies; it is stated that his department is considering an increase in the rates for transport.

Rev. Dr. Carman has seen fit to reply to the remarks of a Toronto cleric who, in discussing the book of Genesis in a somewhat outspoken manner. Such addresses as that given by Rev. Mr. Jackson are best left severely alone. It matters little what the defenders of the faith are able to say in reply, the attention attracted by such a discussion creates a spiritual unrest which would not arise were the occasional comments of thinkers such as Mr. Jackson passed unnoticed. Dr. Carman's entrance to the controversy has given it an importance wholly undesired.

Engineer Murdoch is constructing a street scraper which is calculated to eliminate the slippery element from St. John's icy pavements. Having in mind that one-time famous flying machine which was to have dug sewer trenches at a 2 1/4¢ clip but unaccountably declined to perform its duty in this respect, Mr. Murdoch's scheme will be placed along with those of other great inventors until his scraper actually scrapes.

"The C. P. R. will stand by St. John," says Sir Thomas. Certainly it will. The C. P. R. realizes which side of its bread bears the butter.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

HOW AN EXTRA FIFTY DOLLARS MADE HIM POOR.

There are few people (outside of a circus) who would accept the gift of an elephant with the proviso that they were to keep it. But there are few people who would not accept an increase of salary gladly. And yet I have known a number of people who could (if they would) trace their financial descent to the time when they were given something extra for extra work. Here is the story of one of them. They had just been married and his salary was a very modest one—so modest that it was always blushing—and they were saving and prudent and said they would live well within their income and save something every month for the house they were planning for. They had laid by in the savings bank about a foot of the lot they intended to buy, and seven or eight bricks and nearly a bunch of shingles for the house they were going to build; when one night he came home from his work jubilant with the news that he was to get fifty dollars a year for doing some work that he could easily do in less than an hour a week.

All the way home he had been planning what he would do with the extra fifty dollars. The first thought (and the best) was, "I will put it in the bank for the building fund." But the second thought—which is very often the worst—was, "No, we have made provision for the building fund. This is an extra and this will give us some luxury and we will be none the poorer as we will not touch the ordinary."

A dozen or more ways for spending the "extra" were planned and rejected before he got home to tell his wife the good news. "I will think of something and we will discuss it this evening," he said to himself. All that evening and into some of the night they discussed the best way to spend that fifty dollars.

"I think," said the wife, "that fifty dollars (with care) will help you in clothes, and we can put fifty more out of the salary into the building fund." "No," said the husband, "this is an extra and we must have a few luxuries."

The next night they went to the theatre, where they had not gone since their honeymoon, because they could not afford it. Moment seats at the theatre and a modest lunch at the restaurant afterward, made a three dollar hole in the extra fifty.

The next week his wife had a birthday. The first thought (the best that time) was, "I will get her a birthday present, something useful, like a dress or hat, or bit of fur." "No," he said, "she would get those anyway and she ought to have something she could not get if it were not for the extra fifty." And so he took her home a modest piece of jewelry that just took half of the fifty.

"The carpet is getting shabby," the wife said, one day. "I wish we could get another, but we cannot afford it, I suppose." "Oh yes, we can," said the husband. "There is that extra fifty. It will be like getting a carpet for nothing." The carpet was put down and its newness and brightness made the curtains look dingy and old. "Do you think we could afford new ones?" said the wife. "Of course we can," he said. "Don't forget that we are getting fifty dollars extra this year." So the new curtains were bought.

When he had his two weeks' holiday

SAYS WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC EXISTS HERE

Chicago District Attorney Says There is a Syndicate Snaring and Selling Girls

And Has Branches in Montreal and Several Other Canadian Cities.

(Montreal Witness)

The Rev. Dr. Shearer, of the Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada, writes asking for publicity to be given to a leaflet reproducing an article from "Woman's World" on "The white slave traffic," the author being the Hon. E. W. Sims, United States District Attorney for Chicago, who figured in the famous $25,000,000 Standard Oil case. Dr. Shearer hopes that by publicity being given to this matter, the conscience of Canadians will be so aroused as to imperatively call for the merciless and thorough-going enforcement of the law against those engaged in this diabolical white slave traffic, which has been discovered in Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, the West, and the Yukon, as well as in New York and Chicago.

In the pamphlet referred to the Hon. Edwin W. Sims points out the danger of city life to young girls away from home, and declares that many girls whose parents in the country think they are doing well as stenographers or in department stores, are really leading lives of shame as a result of the white slave traffic. "Keep your girls with you, and if you can't, go to the city with them. Above all, distrust the 'protection' the good-looking man who is not a family friend, known to be clean and honorable and above all suspicion." Then Mr. Sims goes on to make the following appalling indictment:

"It is only necessary to say that the legal evidence thus far collected establishes with complete moral certainty these awful facts: That the white slave traffic is a serious menace to the moral health of our nation; that it has its ramifications from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific Ocean, with 'clearing houses' distributed in nearly all of the larger cities; that in this ghastly traffic the buying price of a young girl is $15 and that the selling price is generally about $200—if the girl is especially attractive, the white slave dealer may be able to sell her for $400 or $500; that this syndicate did not make less than $200,000 last year; in this most unthinkably common; that it is a definite organization, sending its hunters regularly to scour France, Germany, Hungary, Italy and Canada for victims; that the men at the head of this unthinkably enterprise is known among his hunters as 'The Big Chief'."

Also the evidence shows that the hirings of this traffic are stationed at certain ports of entry in Canada, where large numbers of immigrants are landed to do what is known in their parlance as "cutting out work." In other words, these wretched human prey can be the immigrants as they come down the gang plank of a vessel which has arrived and "spotted" the girls who are unaccompanied by fathers, mothers, brothers or relatives to protect them. The girl who has been spotted is promptly approached by a man who speaks her language and is immediately offered employment at a good wage with all expenses to the destination to be paid by the man. Most frequently the man who "spots" the girls who are "cut out" is the man who is in charge of the immigration office, or a man who is in charge of the immigration office, or a man who is in charge of the immigration office.

REV. "BILLY" SUNDAY WAS HORSE-WHIPPED

In Presence of 8,000 Persons—Fought His Assailant Vigorously.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 26.—Rev. William A. Sunday, better known as "Billy" Sunday, a former baseball player who is now an evangelist, was horsewhipped tonight by a religious fanatic at the Sunday afternoon where, in the presence of 8,000 persons, he was conducting a revival meeting. Sunday leaped from the platform and dashed his assailant to the floor in the centre aisle. The audience was on the verge of panic, while Sherman Pettis, his assailant, and Sunday rolled about in the aisle. Several men soon seized Pettis and they with their police force took him to jail. Mr. Sunday said he suffered several painful bruises from the whip. The priest said that his home was near Lovington, Ill. He said he came to Springfield from Decatur to horsewhip Sunday in defiance of the virtues of women which he declared had been criticized by the evangelist.

Cardinal Gibbons on Religion and Loyalty

Rejoices in Separation of Church and State

—Nobody More Loyal to Their Country Than Catholics.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 26.—An article will appear in the March issue of the North American Review from the Cardinal Gibbons, in which the Cardinal refers categorically to the charges made by ministers of certain other denominations, affecting the loyalty of members of the Catholic communion. Cardinal Gibbons begins by saying that "written millions of Catholics love their country with the spontaneous and ardent love of all patriots burn together in their hearts. They love their country with the spontaneous and ardent love of all patriots burn together in their hearts. They love their country with the spontaneous and ardent love of all patriots burn together in their hearts."

POLICE MAGISTRATE PECK IS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

HOPEWELL HILL, N. B., Feb. 26.—The hearing in the Peck case in which the defendant police magistrate, B. E. Peck, was charged with resisting a constable, was concluded at Justice D. W. Stuart's court at Riverside, last night, the defendant being sent up for trial at the next sitting of the county court in June. Bail was fixed at eight hundred dollars, the defendant on his own recognizance being bound in the sum of four hundred dollars and W. B. Jones and J. C. Prescott in securities of two hundred dollars each. The case which was on his third day went on to the small hours of last night only reaching its conclusion at midnight.

Five witnesses were examined for the presentation, the evidence of the complainant, Constable Hyslop, being practically corroborated by the two other witnesses. The defense made no denial of resistance of arrest at the hands of the officer, only claiming justification on the grounds that the magistrate issuing the warrant on which the constable was acting had no jurisdiction.

Mr. Dixon representing the complainant contended that the matter of jurisdiction of the justice making out the warrant was non-complex, and in the meantime any warrant issued by the magistrate which was good on the merits of the case.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 26.—One of the largest churches in this city, the Universalist, is making preparations on a pretty large scale to have its own theatre, own plays and own actors. The movement was originated by the pastor, Rev. E. Dean Ellenwood. The first play to be produced is the "Servant in the House." The lower floor of the church is being rapidly converted into a stage, footlights, scenery, curtain and other properties.

Rev. Ellenwood says in regard to the project, "Contrary to the recent paid utterances, the theatre has had among all citizens a distinctly religious origin and is today capable of great moral good. In England the first plays were conducted by the churches specifically for the purpose of enforcing scriptural teaching and of quickening the popular conscience. They were called morality plays, and still survive in such impressive dramas as 'Every Man'."

"I should not for a moment deny that in some instances the present day theatrical productions have harm in them. But it is equally true that present day religious exercises have harm in them. I should not for that reason wish to abolish religion or the church, nor would I wish for that reason to wipe out the institution of the theatre."

The Doctor-Professor, do you know anything about political economy? The Professor—I know just enough about economy to keep out of politics.

MEANS THE CONSERVATION OF WORLD'S RESOURCES

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—The report of the Canadian commission to the international conference at Washington on the conservation of natural resources of North America was presented to parliament today. The report, which is signed by Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. Clifford Sifton and Dr. Beaud, M. P., embodies the unanimous findings and recommendations of representatives of Canada, United States, Mexico and Newfoundland as to the principles which should guide the policy of the government of each country in taking active measures to prevent further waste and extravagance in the disposal of the natural heritage of the people and conserve for the future the forests, waters, lands and minerals on which so largely depends the whole future welfare of any country.

Form Common Basis

The recommendations, while not in any way binding on any of the countries concerned, form a common basis for legislation on one of the most important subjects of national policy which can engage the attention of parliament. The members of the conference found that the waste of the natural resources in Canada, United States and Mexico was practically the same, and, starting from this common basis, a unanimous agreement was reached as to recommendations to be made to their respective governments. The active principle of these recommendations is that each country shall appoint a conservation commission and shall make an inventory of natural resources which remain to be conserved. This first step, it is understood, is to be undertaken in the near future by each country and the principles recommended by the conference as a guide to the future disposal of natural resources will probably be gradually embodied in the legislation.

In brief, the report recommends a world's conference on conservation; the adoption of the principle that timber, water, lands, minerals, water powers, fuel and other natural resources should be regarded as public utilities and protected from monopoly and waste; that extensive forest reservations should be created under the control of trained forestry officers; that a more adequate system of fire protection should be established under government supervision in all forest lands; that taxation on standing timber should be so regulated as to encourage re-forestation and owners of land used for agricultural purposes encouraged to re-forest; that no private monopoly of water powers should be allowed and leases should be granted only for limited periods and subject to government control of rates, and

REWARD IS OFFERED FOR GIRL'S SLAYER

HAMILTON, Feb. 26.—T. L. Kinrade, father of Miss Ethel Kinrade, who was murdered in her home yesterday afternoon by a supposed tramp, has decided to offer a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of his daughter's slayer. The father's latest theory of the tragedy is that the desperado mistook Ethel for Flossie and thought she was going outside to call for assistance. It has been discovered that there were seven shots fired into the girl, three into the ear, two in the mouth, one in the cheek, and the seventh in the temple.

The Hamilton city council has decided to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer. The Ontario government will also offer a reward.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 26.—That thirteen members of the state senate have fled the state to defeat the purpose of the recent election laws passed over Governor Patterson's veto, is asserted in well informed circles tonight.

The thirteen members were declared in contempt of the senate by that body today and the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to go in pursuit of them.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 26.—The Peace Society, of New York, brought together around the banquet table, at the Hotel Astor, tonight, a most notable gathering of men prominent in national, state and city affairs. ## REVENUE CUTTER ON THE ROCKS IN HELL GATE

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The United States revenue cutter Mohawk, bound from New London for Tompkinsville, ran on the rocks in Hell Gate, off the tip of Manhattan, today, and at a late hour tonight was still hard aground, despite the efforts of several tugs to move her.

The cutter's bow is resting on two sharp rocks and it is feared they will wear a hole in the ship's bottom. Wireless telegraph brought the news that the Mohawk is leaning badly and that there is some water in the fire-room but that the pumps are keeping ahead of the flow.

Several plates in the cutter's bow are broken and others are bent.

FIRE SALE - LADIES' FUR LINED COATS - $75 TO $130 COATS FOR $40

The object of this sale is to close out at one sale the balance of Ladies' Fur Lined Coats of which we have only one of each kind in stock. We have just nine of these coats left, and all are greatly reduced in price after the fire. The garments are odd lines—no two alike—and the prices have been cut to clear. It may seem odd to you that we should close out these splendid Dunlap-Cooke Co. made coats at such sacrifice prices. We give you our reason; we think it a good deal better business if we have to lose a few hundred dollars on the balance of our stock of this season's make, and be able to advertise next season that every fur lined coat in our stock is absolutely FRESH and NEW, than that we should hold them over for another season and make the additional money that you save in buying now. We are not going to lose on these goods—its the insurance company that pays the loss, and that's why we can cut the price of fur lined coats lower than you ever heard of buying high classed fur lined coats before.

ENERGETIC EDITOR IS UNDER INDICTMENT

Japanese Journalist in Hawaii Arrested for Inflammatory Articles

HONOLULU, Feb. 27.—Yasaga, editor of the Nippon Jiji, which for several weeks has waged a virulent campaign for a strike of Japanese plantation laborers, for higher wages, and went so far as to advocate that all Japanese leave the Hawaiian Islands if their demands were not granted, has been indicted by the grand jury as a dangerous and disorderly person because of the inflammatory articles appearing in his paper.

Yasaga's papers recently endorsed the sentiments of a Hilo politician that the Japanese in the islands ought to ask the Government of Japan to send warships to Hawaii to back up the demands of the plantation laborers for higher wages. Yasaga's bill was fixed at $50.

FALLING OFF IN SURPLUS

Ontario's Accounts Laid on Table

SLIGHT SURPLUS

Total Expenditure, $8,557,064.60—Total Receipts, $8,602,902.72

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 26.—The provincial public accounts which were laid on the table this afternoon show a decided falling off in surplus, which is decreased by about $200,000. The total expenditure is listed at $8,557,064.60, while receipts amount to $8,602,902.72, giving a total surplus of $45,838.12. The explanation of the decreased surplus is said to be found in the department of crown lands. Last year was a hard one and many settlers were unable to pay dues through the difficulty experienced in selling lumber. The money is expected to come in eventually, but it was desired to sell out many of the new arrivals in just opened parts of the province. The total revenue from the department was $2,430,429.28.

On the other hand the succession duties have gone very much above the expectation of the treasurer's department, showing the total receipt of $1,124,896.88.

The provincial indebtedness to the Dominion has been wiped out, while the supplementary revenue shows the figure of $256,482.81. The indirect liability of the province has been reduced by nearly three millions. Entered on receipts side of public accounts stands $1,740,841.65, brought forward from last year. Dominion subsidies (on population and others) were $2,128,772.05.

Mining licenses have netted $71,721.25. The total amount received in the shape of hunting licenses and penalties for infractions of game laws was $53,040.20.

HIRAM PERRY IS HELD FOR MURDER

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 25.—Sulicide pact is the explanation Hiram Perry, the south end coal dealer, gives for shooting and killing Catherine McDougall, of Dixey, N. S., at her lodging house last Wednesday. Perry, who afterwards swallowed carbolic acid, was pumped out and has recovered. At the hospital today he told the officers he and Miss McDougall made an agreement Tuesday night to die together. The next morning he fired two shots, killing the girl, but the remaining cartridges did not fit the revolver and he was unable to shoot himself. He attempted to keep the agreement by drinking poison. Miss McDougall had been out of work and despondent and Perry had lost all his money by robbery. Perry was formally arrested to night charged with murder.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

Anty Drudge Gives More Reasons.

Little Eunice—"Boo Hoo! I had a pretty pink frock and mama cooked it and the pink all came out."

Mother—"I didn't know the color would fade or I shouldn't have boiled it along with the other clothes."

Anty Drudge—"Anything will fade, my dear, if it's boiled long enough. Boiling weakens the fabric and throws the dye. The best way is not to boil your clothes, but to wash them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water. Fels-Naptha sets the colors in and of fading them, besides making the clothes wear longer. It also saves you time, work, bother and money."

There are cheaper laundry soaps than Fels-Naptha but no other so economical. Sounds odd, doesn't it? But it's true.

Fels-Naptha is more economical because it saves time, saves work, saves the cost of fuel and makes your clothes wear twice as long.

Fels-Naptha cleans your clothes in cool or lukewarm water in summer or winter without boiling or hot water to weaken their fabric, and without hard rubbing to wear them into holes.

It takes half as long and requires much less work than the old way.

Try it next washday. See how white, and clean, and sweet Fels-Naptha makes your clothes.

Follow carefully the directions on the red and green wrapper.

GUBA FORGING AHEAD, SAYS SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE

President Gomez and His Advisers are Following an Enlightened Policy.

(Montreal Star). "President Gomez I have known ever since I have known anything of Cuba," said Sir William Van Horne, this morning, in discussing present conditions in Cuba. "He is a cool, level-headed, capable man, the right man in the right place, and strong enough to treat any disturber of peace as he should be treated—as an enemy to society to be put out of the way."

"And yet," continued Sir William, "the Cuban Government is almost in a state of formation, and so far, since it came into power, has been occupied with the making of appointments and such like matters. But the outlook for the future is most promising, and I am sure the government will make good. Everyone understands that Cuba is again undergoing a period of trial and we are willing to do what is possible towards ultimate success. In fact, there is no opposition."

Three times after that, as Probat confessed, he went to West Philadelphia and hung around the home of William Duffy in hopes that the boy might come out unattended and be caught. BRITAIN REFUSED THE AEROPLANE

Wright Bros. Offered Machine to the War Office.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Daily News prints a story which it says is current in the Aldershot district, to the effect that the Wright Brothers offered their aeroplane to the War Office before they began their public trials. They undertook to demonstrate its fitness for military work. They were asked to try it at a specified point where there was a small detached camp, remote, and secure, and report the results. This was refused, on the ground that they lacked the necessary technical military knowledge, and the War Office lost its chance of buying the aeroplane.

Professor—Well, seeing Martha pour out that glass of wine just now reminded me of something that I had in my mind to tell you some time ago, but which unfortunately escaped my memory. It was just about 10 o'clock, I think, that I saw little Willie fall down the well—Atlanta Constitution.

BREATH ODORS REMOVED BY CHARCOAL

Onions, Tobacco, Decaying Food, Alcohol, Stomach Gases and Impurities Foul the Breath, Charcoal Purifies It.

A TRIAL PACKAGE OF STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES SENT FREE BY MAIL.

The stomach and digestive canal are filled with gases from fermenting and decaying food. Such gases impregnate the breath, filter through the lungs, and cause disease and in large quantities extend the stomach so that it shuts off heart action and death sometimes results.

Pure, simple willow charcoal absorbs gas at once and stops impure food from entering the stomach. It sweetens the stomach, kills the effect of all odors such as liquor, tobacco, onions, etc., or at least prevents them from causing impurities to arise.

The willow charcoal for its curative properties and ancient history is filled with its life, by Sircharls and civilized men. As early as 500 B. C. the ancient Chaldeans were using willow charcoal and Sircharls and every monastery of the old world healed the sick and cured the drunkard with this aromatic willow charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are pure willow charcoal, compressed with honey into a delicious lozenge. They contain nothing but sweet willow charcoal and honey—nothing else. They are a sufficient guard against bad breath, and a perfect remedy for all cases of foul breath, indigestion, etc. Just before bed time will have a pure breath upon arising the next morning.

They are gentle, powerful and pure and their popularity and tremendous sale give them the stamp of public approval. Go to your druggist today and get a box, price 25 cents, or send your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free.

NOTED ANAGRAMS. Ingenious Transmutation of Names of Well Known Persons.

Anagrams that transmute the names of well known men and women are often starting appropriations. What could be better in this way than these announcements, evolved from two great statesmen's names when the reigns of power changed hands: Gladstone, "G leads not"; Disraeli, "I lead not." Quite as happy is the comment on the devoted nursing of Florence Nightingale, whose name yields "Flit on, cheering angel." Among those that are most often quoted we may mention Horatio Nelson, "Honor est a Nio"; Charles James Stuart, "Clams Arctur's seal"; Platte's question, "Quid est veritas?" ("what is truth?") answered by "Est vir qui adest" (It is the man present?); Swedish nightingale, "Sing high, sweet Linds"; David Livingstone, "D. V. go and visit Nile"; the Marquis of Ripon who resigned the grand mastership of Freemasons when he became a Romanist, "R. I. P. quoted Freemasons"; Charles Prince Wales, "All France calls Oh, help"; Sir Roger Charles Doughty (Tichborne, baronet, "You horrid butcher Orton, biggest rascal here"; and many shorter specimens, such as telegraph "great help"; astronomers, "no more stars"; and "moon stars"; one "big enough" editors, "no first-tourament"; "to run at men"; pentathlon, "may I request"; old England, "golden land"; revolution, "to love ruin"; fashionable "one-half bias" lawyers, "sly wares"; misanthropist, "mind his man"; poorhouse, "Oh, sour hope"; Presbyterian, "best in prayer"; sweetheart "thru we sat"; matrimony, "into my arm"; Chambers' Journal.

SEARCHLIGHTS.

Metallic mirrors for searchlights may supersede those made of glass. The metallic mirror has a surface composed of alternate bands of oxides of gold and white reflecting surfaces. It is claimed that this mirror gives a more penetrating beam of light both at night and in foggy weather and that the intensity of the light is so great that it is impossible to aim accurately at the projector. Another advantage claimed is that they are not fractured by concussion and that even when penetrated by bullets the area of distortion is very small.

HAD BABY IN SUIT CASE.

Barkeeper Rescues Infant Physician Was Carrying Away From Its Mother.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 26.—A baby less than a day old, carried in a suit case by Dr. William C. Van Damme, a well known physician, was rescued by a bartender in a Washington avenue saloon this afternoon.

Connected with the case is a mysterious young man who cannot be found and a woman of 25, the mother of the infant.

Dr. Van Damme entered the Blue Ribbon saloon in Washington avenue and after placing a suit case he carried on the bar took several drinks.

"Ain't cry!" From the case arose the suspicions of Carl Thorsen, the bar-keeper, who opened the case before Dr. Van Damme could get away.

A perfectly developed baby boy was found on the inside. The infant was taken to the city hospital and will live.

After a vigorous sweating, Van Damme admitted his identity and said that he had got the baby from the St. Lawrence, a second class hotel. The physician refused to offer any explanation as to what he was going to do with the infant.

At the St. Lawrence Hotel, the police learned that the child had been born to a young woman giving the name of Mrs. Charles Johnson. She is in a serious condition and cannot be questioned.

Mrs. Johnson and a young man who passed as her husband came to the hotel several days ago. After entering the room, the man disappeared. The police believe that Johnson is an assumed name and that the woman is Dr. Van Damme's wife.

They are working on the theory that plans had been made to kill the infant and secrete the body from the State prison at Stillwater, where he served four years for criminal practices.

"Its Only a Cold, A Trifling Cough."

Thousands have said this when they caught cold. Thousands have neglected the cold. Thousands have filled a Consumptive grave through neglect. Never neglect a cough or cold. It can have but one result. It leaves the throat and lungs, or both, inflamed. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the medicine you need. It strikes at the very foundation of all throat or lung complaints, relieving sore throats, colds, bronchitis, asthma, croup, sore throat, and preventing pneumonia and consumption.

It has stood the test for many years, and is now more generally used than ever. It contains all the lung healing virtues of the pine tree combined with Wild Cherry Bark and other potent remedies. It stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and soothes inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts, loosens the phlegm and mucous, and aids nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulations. Don't be humbugged into accepting an imitation of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pins trees the trade mark, and price 25 cents.

"Mrs. J. T. Brewster, Grafton, N.S., writes: 'Two winters ago I suffered severely with a very bad cold and asthma. I was so bad I could not get my breath, and very often thought I would choke. My husband became very much frightened, and got me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and it gave me almost instant relief. I can recommend it to anyone having the least kind of a cold.'

A CLASSIC

Widely in the history of mankind has the power of the great soul displayed itself as strongly as in the case of the hero of this story. Historical research has failed to find any copyist of a real Wilhelm Tell, and has practically proved that there never was such a personage. There is no record of any Austrian prefect named Gessler. The work of the artists on the Swiss is purely imaginary. Yet in the minds of the great majority of the ordinary informed people of all nations these wonderful adventures and scenes have become a part of their history and are recounted with a zest and interest that are not to be found in any other story.

The actual history of Switzerland's early battle for liberty is little known. We have more exact knowledge of the events and persons than about the Swiss in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. The intricate tangle of intrigues and war between church and state, between noble and noble, and between noble and state, is too complicated to be recounted here. It is sufficient to say that the Swiss were not only a people of great valor and courage, but also of great intelligence and political sagacity.

It is to be noted that the world of large will continue to be the same—and it is very true—one of the Swiss characters and history from Schiller's perfect character and from each history.

WILHELM TELL, the great hero of the Swiss, was born in the town of Lucerne. The mountain from the grave came the first heavy rain from the dim Western Hole among the clouds.

A Swiss father, a cowherd and a chamois hunter lay in the shelter of a falling rock and watched the mounting sea. Suddenly the branches above them parted and a man sprang down among them—a breathless, frantic man.

"A boat! A boat!" he cried. "Cast off! Cast off! Have me from death! The prefect's riders are close at my heels!"

"Konrad Baumgartner" exclaimed the man. "Konrad! There is blood on your face! Give me first, then will I answer you," said Baumgartner. "Cast off, if you love life! The Emperor's castellan, he who sits in Rosenberg—"

"Wolfsdienst!" said the cowherd. "He is after you!"

True Swiss woman, encouraged him, saying that even if all their wealth were swept away and they should become fugitives in the mountains in the event of failure, she would rather die of hunger and want among the hills than live amid plenty and comfort in slavery.

Baumgartner's story and his deed aroused the people of the Unterwalden cantons. As if to fire all of the four cantons that were grouped around the Lake Lucerne, the Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire—the imperial prefect in Unterwalden did a deed that made men curse his name in every valley and on every mountain peak, on lake and shore.

"What can you do, poor friend!" asked the cowherd. "I will force my way through his hands," said the man. "I will force my way through his hands," said the man. "I will force my way through his hands," said the man.

"What is this?" cried the newcomer. "Who is this that implores help?"

"This is the man who has just saved my life," said the man. "This is the man who has just saved my life," said the man. "This is the man who has just saved my life," said the man.

"I have done," said Baumgartner, forgetting his extremity for the moment and looking at the red proudly and defiantly. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man.

ed apostate and traitor by the men of Uri. "Ulrich, Ulrich," said the old Prefect solemnly, "leave not the cause of the land. There hang my shield and helmet and bow with me in my grave; and must I think as I draw my last breath that you will only for my eyes to close before you to render interlopers to beg from Austria as a gift these lands of mine that I have owned as a free man?"

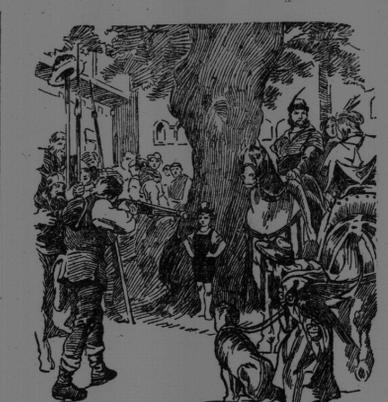

"Unhappy man," said his uncle, "I know what draws you. Concede it to me, and I will give you the land of the Lake Lucerne. You would win by deserting your country. Do not do this. Show your bow to the men of Uri; they will not be for you."

"Ulrich turned away silently and rode to Altorf to Gessler's court. The old man, looking after him, exclaimed: 'What do I hear in each? My time lies underground. Well, ah, well, for him who no longer lives with the new!'"

"That night a great darkness lay over the lake. The Ruell lay hidden in impenetrable gloom. High mountains rose in angry shadows around it, and their highest shrouded, pale and solemn against the starless sky, the stars of heaven were hidden in the clouds. Out of the vast shadows there came, moving like shadows themselves, the men whom the Emperor had sent to the Ruell. One by one they entered the open place and whispered the pass words.

"The moon was rising, and a great moonbow stood over the smooth waters. A wondrous sign!" said Klaus von der Fels. "Not many men live who have seen a sign like this!"

"What is this?" cried the newcomer. "Who is this that implores help?"

staves. Concealed under our garments we will carry spears heads which can be adjusted quickly. As soon as we are secure the gates will blow a horn and our people will be ready to follow us. We will clear the way for our own strength can hold it."

"The next feast day shall bring the ring. He it work to have every Swiss ready to appear openly with arms and banners on the hills proclaim that the two rings have fallen. That leaves only Gessler to the apple. Make ready, for every dangerous of all. Even if driven out he will remain a man. It will hardly be able to let him escape alive."

"I have done," said Baumgartner, forgetting his extremity for the moment and looking at the red proudly and defiantly. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man.

drew a second arrow from his quiver and thrust it into his belt. "Shoot, father, shoot! I am not afraid!" cried Waldner.

"I must," muttered Tell. He raised his crossbow, and with a steady hand he aimed at the target on the distant shore.

"Ulrich von Rudenz now stepped forward and said angrily: 'My Lord Prefect, you must go to your father. I will not be absent longer. To remain so would be treason to my fatherland. You must cease!'" palled and despairing, its towers surrendering themselves to terror. It was the craft of the prefect, Gessler, himself, that frightened amidships with Rudolph der Haras. Both men had abandoned hope for every moment the water that poured over the sides weighed the vessel deeper and none could keep her head to escape the breaking waves.

In that emergency one of the sailors suggested that the only man who might handle the vessel was Tell. Gessler ordered his letters taken off. Tell took the steering oar and watched his opportunity. At the eastern shore of the lake, in a dangerous place well known to him, a great flat rock jutted into the water. Despite the darkness and the gale he knew the spot when the vessel came abreast of it. Swinging his oar he drove the craft close to it, seized his cross-bow which had been left lying near him, and with such a mighty leap as few living men could have compassed, he cleared the boat and reached the rock.

As he struck the shore he gave the large a great shove and drove it into the whirling water. Then he fled into the mountains. The storm passed as quickly as it had arisen. Before Tell had made his way far from shore he was warned by the mountaineers who helped him on his road that Gessler had succeeded in landing and was continuing his journey by land, and that he had sent out men to search for Tell, fearing that he would destroy his family and him.

"I have done," said Baumgartner, forgetting his extremity for the moment and looking at the red proudly and defiantly. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man. "What every free man in my place would do," said the man.

Regarding Need of Tariff Commission—
Taft Gives His Views on the Subject.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 26.—As a result of a conference held at the Waldorf-Astoria today between James W. Van Cleave, H. D. Miles and Henry B. Owens, representatives of the committee of one hundred for a tariff commission.

Two delegates are to be appointed every state and one in every congressional district. The delegates will report to a state committee who in turn will report to a national committee.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 26.—President Taft vigorously protested tonight against what he said was an absolute misrepresentation in certain New York afternoon newspapers of what he said during the day in answering questions regarding tariff reform.

He really stated, he said, that the present business depression was undoubtedly due in a large measure to the fact that the tariff is to be revised at an extra session of congress to meet March 15, and that it was of the highest importance that this work of revision should not be delayed but executed with all possible diligence.

Mr. Taft also said he favored the idea of a permanent tariff commission, the plan for which should be worked out with deliberation. The duty of such a commission, he further said, should be a careful study of the operation of the proposed new tariff law, to the end that suggestions might be made in the future which would tend to place the whole question of the tariff on a more certain and scientific basis.

To this statement, Mr. Taft was made to say that the present tariff schedules were responsible for the present business depression and that when they were revised their own parents would not know them, all of which was amplified at length and made positive by appearing in an emphatic and substantial statement.

Mr. Taft was particularly perturbed over what he called a misrepresentation, particularly in view of the weight which is now given his words because of his official position.

He declared he had changed his position in no way and held the same views he publicly announced during and since the campaign.

AS REQUESTED.

An official of the Superior Court of Cook County, Ill., which has jurisdiction in the matter of the naturalization of foreigners, tells the following:

"In October last a man named August Hulsberger took out his first papers. As he was about to leave the court room he was observed to scan very closely the official envelope which had been enclosed the document that was to assist in his naturalization.

After a few days August turned up again. Presenting himself to the clerk of the court, he bestowed upon that dignitary a broad Teutonic smile, saying:

"Well, here I am!"

"Pleased to see you. I am sure," said the clerk, with polite sarcasm. "Would you mind adding who you are and why you are here?"

"August seemed puzzled. He exhibited his official envelope. It says, 'Return in five days,'" he explained, "and here I am!"—Harpers' Weekly.

He went to Hawaii and was her physician for two months, and was willing to continue at the price agreed on, $200 a month, but the queen broke the contract and he returned to this country. FREE KINDERGARTEN
REPORT FOR FEBRUARY

The attendance at the Kindergartens during February was not so large as usual on account of some very cold days. There was, however, the prevalence of chickenpox, and the want of boots and rubbers. Some very desirable cases were brought to the attention of Brussels Street Kindergarten, and with the assistance of Mrs. Valentine, the children were cared for.

In each Kindergarten the trades were taken up the first of the month following the Woodman comes the Carpenter, the Blacksmith, and the Shoemaker.

The second week was devoted to St. Valentine. The children made valentines for their friends and, although the day is not so important as other red letter days, there is good reason for taking notice of St. Valentine's Day. Miss Poulson, the famous Kindergarten teacher, says: "We can show the children how to put a loving message into the gay mists so attractive to children's eyes, and how to have all the pleasures of the pretty old customs without the use of the coarse coarse coin."

The Miner was the next subject, and when the children begin to realize how many things the Miner brings them their interest is keen. Froebel says: "The major principles of the labor plays are the dignity of labor and work." In the Kindergarten the children are brought to know the world's greatest workmen in their different spheres.

Miss Taft gave the children of Waterloo street a Valentine party which was enjoyed by all. The lunch of bread and milk is still being supplied to the little ones in Portland St. and the children of Brussels street were given a supper by Mrs. Blenders' Bible Class of Centenary church.

Speaker at London Meeting of Association Against Premature Burial Tells Horrifying Tale.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—At the annual meeting of the National Prevention of Premature Burial, held in London today, Mr. A. P. Jenkins, of Baltimore, Md., stated that a day or two before he left America he learned of a case in which a loud shriek was heard from a coffin that had been placed in a trolley to be carried into a crematorium. Nothing could be done as the trolley had already started and its progress into the flames could not be arrested.

Another speaker declared he had come across an case of persons who, according to medical testimony, had been interred alive, and more than two hundred cases of persons saved from that fate on the very brink of the grave.

A resolution was carried urging the government to remedy the present unsatisfactory and dangerous State burial laws.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The U. S. revenue cutter Mohawk which ran aground yesterday on the rocks in Hell Gate while coming in from New London, was still fast on the reef off Ward's Island today. Immediately after the vessel went ashore wireless messages brought to her aid several times which vainly tried throughout the evening and night to float the stranded cutter. Fears that the sharp rocks on which the vessel's bow rested would surely hole in the hull have been dispelled and it was said that she would be floated at high tide this afternoon.

CIVIC DELEGATION

Back from Ottawa
Chances for Grant Better Than When They Started—Hope Commissioner Will be Sent.

The civic delegates, Mayor Bullock, A. O. Skinner and C. B. Allan returned from Ottawa this morning. The object of their trip was to secure the Dominion exhibition grant of $50,000 and while they did not bring it back with them the delegates profess themselves as very well satisfied with the result of their trip.

Mr. Skinner said that while the matter is not yet settled by any means St. John's chances are much better now than they were when the delegation reached Ottawa. He had a long conference with Hon. Mr. Fisher yesterday and he has hopes that the Minister of Agriculture will send a commissioner to St. John and Chatham to report on the claims of the two places. If it were left to an impartial judgment, Mr. Skinner said there would be no doubt of the result. Regarding the note taken by the New Brunswick members which gave a majority to Chatham, Mr. Skinner said that some of the members who had previously favored St. John went back on their word and registered in favor of Chatham. He intimated that he might have something definite to say on this line a little later.

The delegates were given a good reception and little could be said against their arguments, except that matters had already been settled in favor of Chatham before they arrived.

COMMON COUNCIL ON MONDAY

The Common Council holds its monthly session on Monday afternoon at three o'clock in the court house. The annual estimates will not be ready for this meeting and as they have to be in by April 1st, the various boards will have some extra work between now and that date getting the figures ready. No meeting of the reorganization committee has been held this week and in consequence this committee will not be in a position to report.

COLORED GIRL SAVES THREE LIVES

Children Were Asleep in the Burning House

Miss Diggs Rescued Them—Little Home on Duke St. Destroyed—Fire Sleds Upset.

The fire department was called out about 10:30 o'clock this morning by an alarm from box 42. A one story house was totally destroyed, three children narrowly escaped being burned to death, and a horse sled upset on the street, making in all considerable excitement.

The building that caught fire is situated at 226 Duke street, in the rear of Mr. George Diggs' residence. There are two rooms in the house, one used as a combination parlor-kitchen-dining-living and store room, and the adjoining smaller room as a sleeping apartment, in which was one bed. The house was occupied by a Mr. Jones, who resides in New York.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Boyd went out to work, leaving the three children in bed. There was a good fire in the kitchen stove, while the other room was heated by a tidy. Shortly after ten o'clock Miss Diggs discovered smoke issuing from the boys' house and rushing in found the house full of smoke and the room all on fire. She quickly rescued the three little ones and called a man to send in the alarm. When the department arrived the dwelling was a mass of flames and was soon totally destroyed, there being hardly anything but the frame left when the blaze was extinguished.

The courageous conduct of Miss Diggs was no doubt the saving of the three little ones, for the two rooms were all afire and the children would soon have perished.

While responding to the alarm Hose No. 2, driven by Chas. Conway, was upset on the corner of Duke and Sydney streets. The driver and a couple of others were thrown off, but with the exception of a few scratches and slight breaking of some harness, no damage was done. The upset was due to the sled runner catching in the street railway track.
