Editorial Notes.

The new dog tax law passed at the last session of the legislature of this province does not seem to have very many friends, judging by the number of reports of petitions presented to each Municipal Council whose sessions are held in January.

Under the former law a farmer could keep one dog free of taxes but the new law taxed them all and then allowed owners of dogs in a district to be relieved of the tax. Under the old law the number of dogs in towns was kept down by the tax imposed thereon, but now it seems that by petition the people can be relieved of paying dog taxes and hence have taken advantage of the new law.

The question of paying the Councilors of the Northumberland Municipal Council has been decided by the council in the affirmative, although several members opposed the motion of voting themselves the sum of three dollars per year without submitting the question of payment to the people. We are of the opinion that no body of men should be expected to neglect their own business to serve the public in the capacity of councilors without being paid a reasonable sum for their services. The councilors have decided the question so far as they themselves are concerned, and it remains for the ratepayers to express their opinions by their votes at the municipal elections in October next, when councilors will be elected for the succeeding two years.

In the Albert County election on Saturday, to fill the vacancy in the local legislature, Mr. C. J. Osmen was elected over Mr. Peck by a majority of 344. The total votes polled were—Osmen 1313; Peck 969.

The members of the roving tariff commission arrived at St. John on Saturday from Halifax, and they are now engaged in endeavoring to find out just exactly what the people want in the shape of duties. The party consists of Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. A. G. Campbell, Mr. J. H. Howland, Messrs. John Bain, C. B. Burns, F. C. T. O'Hare, secretaries, and Mr. John McHugh, of the Montreal Star. The very varied opinions of the persons appearing before the commission seem to have more mystified tariff matters than ever before, and we venture to say that the investigation by the commission will only end in a large bill of expense without any tangible result being determined. Quite on a par with the Provisional Commission of several years ago. Such commissions only entail heavy expenses on the country for the purpose of making a pie in the sky for the benefit of friends of the existing Government, which is in perhaps difficult to otherwise provide for.

Judging by the number and variety of such commissions appointed since the Liberals came into power the new Government seem to be endeavoring to make commissions, and having no opinions of their own on important public questions seek to obtain information through such commissions. A hard task awaits them when they begin to sift out the few grains of common sense from the mass of opinionated husks given forth as facts by those extremely interested in having their ideas carried out contrary to the interest of the public at large.

Obituary.

In the death of Mr. James Fish our town loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens. About a year and a half ago a gradual decline, the result of his advanced years, and from that time until his death on Friday morning last he was confined to his room. Mr. Fish was born in West Waterville, Maine, in 1812 and came to this country when four years old, residing in Blackville, then known as the "Forks." He lived in this country during all that time. In 1842 he was married to Miss McAllister of Doaktown, who died some years ago, ten children having been born to them, seven of which are still living; they are Mrs. C. C. Hamilton, of Shediac, Mrs. Donald Morrison, of Newcastle, and James O. Williams, Hiram, Charles and Clifford.

Mr. Fish for many years carried on a large mercantile and lumbering business, besides working a fine farm just on the outskirts of the town. Quiet and solitary in his manner and conversation he was applied to by many for advice, and if assistance was needed his hand was ever open to bestow it, while his character for probity was universally acknowledged. He was 85 years of age. Many friends sympathize with the family in their bereavement.

His remains were interred in St. James' cemetery on Sunday afternoon with Masonic honors, being escorted to the grave by about forty members of Northumberland Lodge and visiting masons, and a large number of townfolk who thus testified their respect for the deceased. The following were the pall bearers—Messrs. R. E. Call, F. E. Winslow, Tobias Belshe, John Niven, George Barrell, Sr., John Buckley.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

The Council then removed a large share of business from this body, and Newcastle would soon follow suit, giving the council less and less work to do. It would be hard on the ratepayers, and he for one was not willing to go on record as a salary grabber. It would take $486 to pay the salaries proposed, besides $250 mileage. The amounts received by the Council as the ratepayers' votes were considered to be in payment of their services here. The contingent account would be increased materially by the adoption of the by-law. Councilors should first go before their constituents and find out what their feelings are in regard to this question. If the people were willing, it would be all right. It would be leaving a bad record to take the salary as proposed, and he hoped the by-law would not pass.

Council Ryan said they had offered themselves to the people for the pay that was provided and they wanted to raise it. Those who wanted payment should go back to the people and say to them "If you are not willing to give us $3 a day we will not serve you in the Council. The proposal looks selfish. He knew what the pay was when he was a candidate; and he was willing to come here for it, and it was a bad record to vote himself more pay now.

Council had no power to tax the citizens of the town for the support of the poor, and that it is in the power of the Town Council alone to do so. This Council, he said, might assess the parish, outside the town, for a smaller amount, and the Town Council supplement that by an assessment on the town for the rest. He moved that the report lie on the table till to-morrow. Council Morrison said it would make no difference. If the $450 were ordered the town people would only have to pay their share. The Sec. Treasurer said his opinion, after looking into the law, was that this Council had no power to tax the people of the town for the support of the poor—that such an assessment would be illegal.

Council Morrison said if the Council did not tax the town, the town would have to make it up. He didn't see how they could get rid of it.

Council Morrison said his Chatham friends didn't seem to understand him. The assessment, if ordered, would be levied on the people of the parish outside of the town. If they as Parish Councilors were willing that that should be done, he was agreeable and would withdraw his motion. Not a cent of the $450 could be collected within the limits of the town.

Ordered that the report lie on the table till 2 p. m. Thursday.

Council Morrison said there seemed to be a difference of opinion as to the necessity of the July session, and he would move as an amendment that no mileage or per diem payment be made to members who attend such session.

Council J. Sullivan said he had just such a resolution drawn out, but he would not support that one. (Applause and laughter.) He wanted absentees fined.

The Sec. Treasurer said that was provided for by by-law.

The amendment was carried without division.

Council Morrison said he would call the attention of the Sec. Treasurer to the law respecting the payment of mileage. He was entitled, under the new Act, to claim mileage every day, but it would be probably unfair to do so. However, it would be well to straighten the matter out so that daily mileage might not be claimed.

Can't

This is the complaint of thousands at this season. "Ea" does not have an appetite; food does not relish. They need the tonic of the stomach and digestive organs, which a course of Hood's Sarsaparilla will give them. It also purifies and enriches the blood, cures that distressing and eating and internal misery only a dyspeptic can know, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling and builds up and sustains the whole physical system. It so promptly and efficiently relieves dyspeptic symptoms and cures nervous headaches, that it seems to have almost "a magic touch."

father were the only ones there; Mrs. Warren, he said, blamed him for being up at the station and asked operator Welling to put it in the freight if his father forgot it. He said he walked up as far as the tank and there met Jane Green, who told him about Phileas Melancon, Fred Gayton and a John R. Sullivan being at Mrs. Dutcher's that morning drinking. She said he ought to have been there but he replied he had not time. Jane said it cost nothing for beer and they tried to get her full but she was too old for them.

He then walked back to the station. As the express came in Phileas Melancon jumped off and after exchanging greetings he told Melancon he was going to Memramook. On arrival at Memramook, prisoner said he went into Doherty's and got another drink and he came out and sat down on the platform a few minutes and then went up the hill again. He started for McManus' Mill the same way he had gone. He then went up to McManus' Mill. There he sat down on the end of a bridge between 3 and 4 o'clock, but did not talk to anyone. He took two drinks and fell asleep.

From there he went to McManus' spring, alongside the railway, and got a drink of water. He left the bridge at McManus' mill, between 3 and 4 o'clock. He lay down on the grass at the spring and went to sleep, but did not know how long he slept. It was after six o'clock when he awoke. He started for Memramook, about two miles distant. There he got a bundle of clothes which he had left in the shanty the day before. About five minutes later the express for Moncton came along and he jumped on the blind baggage as she went out. He went into the smoker afterwards but did not see the conductor. John Coffey, he thought, was the conductor. There were three or four persons in the smoker; one was a man named Geo. Wilson of Springfield; he had been trying to find him since but had not succeeded. He thought he was in the wrong car and he went right about 8.15. He hid his bundle inside the fence in front of the general offices and went down town.

He got home about two o'clock; he went in the front door, proceeded up stairs when the mother called out, "is that you Danny?" Prisoner replied, "No, it's me," and she said, "Oh, it's you, John," and she went to get down to the pantry. She told him he wanted something to eat to go down to the pantry. His father did not speak to him then. He threw his bundle of clothes, which he got on the way up home, into a room and went back to the bedroom and asked his father for his pipe. He replied it was down on the mantel.

He went down and laid something to eat. Then he sat down, smoked and reflected. After being there about an hour and a half he got up and went down town. Prisoner left Moncton on Saturday evening's train and went to St. John's, giving the conductor one dollar for his fare. Witness was still on the stand under direct examination when the Court adjourned for dinner.

An Important Secret.
It is generally conceded that the hand-some advertising pamphlet issued by any proprietary medicine house in Canada, comes from the office of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and one which has just reached us is no exception to the rule. The cover is printed in colors, the main feature being a reproduction of painting from the brush of a famous German artist, entitled "An Important Secret." The pamphlet contains calendars for 1897 and 1898, together with a mine of information as to the curative qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This handsome pamphlet will be sent post paid to any of our readers who write their address on a post card and mail it to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Greatly Improved.
The Messenger and Visitor, the denominational organ of the Baptists, is now printed in a more compact form than formerly, and with its new fit makes a fine typographical appearance. It is well filled with instructive reading and under the able editorial management of Rev. Mr. Black should win greater favor with the people of that denomination than ever.

General Intelligence.
HARROWING TALE FROM CUBA.
AN INHUMANITY CAPTURED BY SPANISH SOLDIERS.

New York, N. Y., Jan. 22.—A special to the Journal from Havana, says:—One of the principal hospitals of the Cuban situated in the Sigüenza mountains, near Cienfuegos, was captured last week by Spanish troops. The Cuban soldiers defending the sick and wounded inmates of the hospital, made a most heroic fight, holding the passage successfully for hours—so long, in fact, as their scant supply of ammunition lasted. They were finally compelled to give way and the majority of them were mercilessly cut down by the Spaniards. Only a few escaped. The hospital, once reached, was attacked on all sides. Dr. Soler, the patriot surgeon, came out waving a white flag and bearing the insignia of the red cross, to ask for mercy. He was met by a volley of Spanish bullets, and fell wounded. He was despatched a few minutes later by the machine. A sick American in the building, assisted by two wounded Cubans, raised the stars and stripes. This infuriated the Spanish commander and was made the signal for a general attack. The work of the Spanish bayonets and cartridges was short and bloody. Not a prisoner was taken; not even women nurses were spared.

When the dreadful work of cold-blooded assassination was over, and the pitiful wail of the sick for mercy, and the means of the wounded, and the dead, were hushed the government commander before retiring from the scene of his "victory," set fire to the hospital and surrounding buildings, burning it down over the bodies of his victims.

LAURA, Fla., Jan. 22.—C. B. Pendleton, a Journal representative, arrived last night from Key West and left for Washington in response to a subpoena from the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to testify on the investigation of the arrest of American citizens in Cuba by the Spanish authorities. Pendleton confirms the report of the sinking of the Spanish gunboat by the Cubans. Passengers from Havana say that General Weyler declared before leaving for the field that he would give the rebel lion in Havana province this time if he had to slay every man, woman and child in the province.

It is stated that the town of Guanabacoa is deserted by the Cubans on account of the creation of General Foulke. Over a hundred Pacificos have been taken in and around this town and subjected to the tortures of the most horrible character to compel their betrayal of the insurgent forces.

THE PLAQUE AT BOMBAY.
RECENT REPORTS GREATLY EXAGGERATE ITS RAVAGES.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—In the House of Commons to-day Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, stated that Lord Sandhurst, Governor-General of Bombay, had informed the India Office by telegram that alarmist telegrams greatly exaggerating the plague situation, as regards the spread of the contagion to Europe, were being sent from Bombay to Europe by press representatives and others. Thus far, Lord Sandhurst wired, only four Europeans had died from the plague including a physician and a nurse.

New York, Jan. 22.—A dispatch to the Hotel from St. Petersburg says two cases of the bubonic plague, which is raging in Bombay, are reported from Kanmarin. Kanmarin is an island off the west coast of Arabia in the Red Sea. It is a British possession and one of the landing stations near Mecca. A severe quarantine has been established by the Russian authorities. Committees in the Indian families have been instituted by the Governor of St. Petersburg, Moscow, and Odessa.

MARK TWAIN IN TROUBLE.
AMERICA'S GREATEST HUMORIST PENNILESS IN A FOREIGN LAND.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Few of Mark Twain's friends know of the plucky fight he is making with adversity or how badly he has been used by fortune. In a word Mark Twain, who a couple of years ago thought himself a rich man, is to-day worse than penniless. Since his return from Africa, a few months ago, he has been living in very modest lodgings in London, going nowhere and seeing but one or two friends, working all day and every night at a history of his trip around the world. With the proceeds of this book he hopes to be able to pay off all his creditors and to have something for his family. Mark Twain let practically everything when Webster & Co. failed, and the lecture trip around the world which he undertook with the hope of retrieving his fortunes, did not turn out a financial success for him. So, over sixty years of age, in poor health and in a strange country, America's greatest humorist is perhaps working harder than ever before.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
A Trouble that Makes the Lives of Thousands Miserable.

A Prince Edward Island Farmer tells of his Disastrous Consequences in his Cere and how He Found Relief. From the Summerside Journal.

Mr. Wm. Coughlin is the superintendent of the large farm owned by him, Peter McNutt, at Danville, P. E. I. He is regarded as a man of sterling qualities. A reporter while going over the farm learned that Mr. Coughlin was one of many thousands who owe renewed health to the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, asked if he had any objections to giving a testimonial. Mr. Coughlin answered, "on the contrary I am glad to be able to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills since they have done such incalculable good for me. It was about seven years since I was first attacked with nervous weakness, and it was not until three years ago that I was able to rest and would not continue to develop until it resulted in a complete nervous prostration. I still remember the agonizing pain in the work of the farm but lacked energy, and any work of exertion or excitement was liable to result in complete physical prostration. At night I was unable to rest and would rise so exhausted in the morning that I was unable to partake of sufficient food for my needs. I was continually doctoring but got no relief. Whilst in this debilitated condition the haying season came on and as the work was a heavy one I suppose I must have labored beyond my capacity. At all events before I was able to rest and would not continue to develop until it resulted in a complete nervous prostration.
