MAYOR FAVORS NEW L.S.R. DEAL Little Returns To Open His Campaign For Liberalism

MAYOR HAS L.S.R. OFFER; M'KAY WANTS COMPANY TO MAKE ITS PROPOSALS

Mayor Wants New Fifteen-Year Franchise and Advocates Three-Question Ballot in December on Purchase or New Agreement.

McKAY AND DOUGLASS WANT L. S. R. TO MOVE

Other Suggested Bylaws Include New Springbank Dam, New Bridge and Grant For Home—Mayor Favors Them All.

That the city council should approach the London Street Railway company with a proposal either to purchase the railway or to grant a new 15-year franchise is the policy declared by Mayor Wenige in an interview with The Advertiser today. To pursue this course the mayor advocates sending to the people in December a three-question ballot as follows:

- (1) Are you in favor of purchasing the street railway at a price of $1,295,000?
- (2) Are you in favor of purchasing the street railway by arbitration?
- (3) Are you in favor of granting a new franchise for 15 years with the option of purchase by the city any one year during that period?

The first and third of these questions are repeated from the two-question ballot of last November which was rejected by the council with only Mayor Wenige supporting it.

Three Other Bylaws.

In addition to this bylaw, the mayor would submit three other matters to the people, namely the building of a new Ridout street bridge, a new Springbank dam, and a construction grant to the Victoria home for the aged and incurable. The mayor is an advocate for all three bylaws.

Ald. Frank McKay, chairman of No. 1 committee, and Ald. Leonard Douglass are both outspoken in their disapproval of the mayor's policy on the street railway question, and feel that they have the support of the council.

"Time enough to cross the bridge when we come to it," commented Ald. McKay when informed of the mayor's declaration to approach the street railway company and send the questions to the voters.

"I feel that the street railway have a proposition to make and they should come to the city council. They know when we meet and where we meet. Why should we go to them?" queried Ald. McKay.

Let Company Come to City.
Ald. Douglass agreed with Ald. McKay. "The street railway has four years yet to operate. Let them go ahead and operate," declared Ald. Douglass. "Leave the street railway alone and they will eventually come to us; they can do anything else."

"The only way we will ever get any satisfaction out of the street railway is to live up to their agreement. It is to curtail the powers of the Ontario railway and municipal board and give more to the council. As long as the present far-reaching legislation is in effect, the street railway has the best of it and they will continue to live up to their agreement. Cut the board's power and you will have a street railway to deal with."

The mayor takes the stand that he would like to see the new bus company that will start operation tomorrow, make good, but he doubts their ability to open to $20,000 buses on a five-cent fare. He believes the time will come when buses may be the solution, but the time is not now.

Last year the mayor and council two-question ballot advocated either purchase at the street railway's price or a new agreement. The mayor has now asked the question of arbitration, which he formerly disavowed. This will be regarded as an admission that the two-question ballot was wrong.

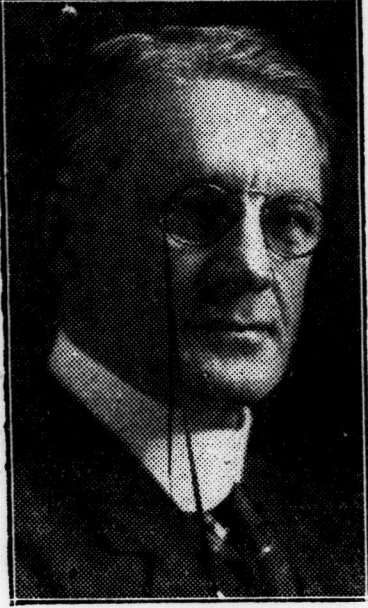

Wants Agreement For Company.
"The easiest way out for us is to make a new agreement," he declared in positive tones. "I really don't think that the city should buy the road, but it is up to the people."

"You couldn't get a big bus company to operate here under 10 cents," continued the mayor. "They have such prices in Cleveland, Port Huron, Detroit and other places. You can't stay in business and operate at a loss, so why should you expect the street railway or a bus company to do that very thing?"

"The only alternative to the questions that I have outlined is closing the street railway up altogether and then we would have a better-sketched jitney service that wouldn't be much use."

U. S. AIR MAIL PILOT
IS NOT LOCATED YET

Associated Press Despatch.
Clarion, Pa., Oct. 8.—Thousands of searchers, including Pennsylvania national guards and a dozen airmen who conducted a widespread search from dawn until dark yesterday in search of Charles Ames, missing air mail pilot, returned to Clarion last night without having found any trace of the birdman who disappeared while flying over this region six days ago.

LABOR TO INVITE BRITISH SPEAKERS

Arthur Henderson, M.P., Will Be Invited to Appear on Platform.

Arthur Henderson, M.P., secretary of the British Labor party and noted for his activities in Lloyd George's war cabinet, will be invited to speak in London on behalf of John Colbert, Labor's entry in the federal election of Oct. 29. On learning that Mr. Henderson is due to arrive in Canada over the week-end the London Labor party has made arrangements to approach the Labor leader in regard to a speaking appearance in this city.

The campaign committee is also endeavoring to have Morgan Jones and Rhys Davies, also prominent in British Labor, who are coming to Canada within the week, give addresses in London.

With the naming of Dr. H. A. Stevenson as Mr. Colbert's campaign agent, and William T. J. F. Thomson as registration chairman, the campaign of London Labor is well under way.

While the program of meetings is not completed, Mr. Colbert and other party members will deliver platform addresses every Saturday at 9:30 in the morning and at 8 o'clock at night. Among the platform speakers named to date are Dr. Hugh Stevenson, Arthur Mould, Ald. Frank McKay, John Ashton, J. F. Thomson and William Tite.

GENERAL CONDITION OF BUSINESS IS GOOD

Assistant General Manager of Bank of Montreal Is Optimistic.

General business conditions in Canada are good at present. Banking business should improve somewhat during the next few months. This is the opinion of D. R. Clarke, assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal, who left here for Windsor this morning following his annual visit to the local branches.

In an interview given an Advertiser representative this morning, Mr. Clarke said that he would not care to predict the trend of business for the next year.

"Are there any Canadian bank mergers in the offing just now?" "Neither mergers nor mirages," said the banker, adding that his visit to London did not mean anything more than his usual visit to the branches here. He left at 11:20 for Windsor, where he will meet managers of other Western Ontario branches.

CROWD JAMS FIELD

Both Teams Confident as Second Battle of Series Begins.

Associated Press Despatch.
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—The battle for the 1925 world's baseball championship entered its second phase today with the Washington Senators one up over the Pittsburg Pirates.

Weather conditions were even better than yesterday as the two teams took the field to warm up for a tussle that was expected to find another pair of rival right-handed pitcher veterans, Stanley Coveleskie and Vic Aldridge, opposed to each other.

The sun shone down warmly on the scene and there was a balmy touch to the air that made the early arrivals—mostly the occupants of the bleachers and press box, more comfortable than they were yesterday in the snappy breeze that filtered through the park.

Flag at Half-Mast.
The flag on the centerfield flagpole was at half-mast to remind the fans that baseball overnight had lost one of its greatest figures in the death of Christy Mathewson.

Appropriate resolutions in Mathewson's memory had been passed earlier in the day by the baseball writers' association of America and Commissioner Landis announced that silent tribute probably would be paid to "Big Six" before the start of today's game.

Similar tribute, with perhaps more elaborate ceremony will take place in Washington with Saturday's game at Washington.

Pittsburg's squad was the first to take the field for practice and there was no evidence in their snappy work of dejection over yesterday's opening defeat. If anything, the spirit of the National League champions seemed to have been boosted overnight in the confidence that they would turn the tables on the world's champions today.

There's only one Walter Johnson," said Manager McKeechie, in reference to the baffling work of the Washington pitcher, "We couldn't do anything with him, but this is another day and we're out to square things up."

"Kiki" Cuyler, Glenn Wright and "Pie" Traynor, the latter the only one of the Pirate sluggers to find the range yesterday, all drove the ball to the far outer reaches in practice, as the bleachers, jamming the left center field section kept up a vocal accompaniment.

HUME CRONYN.

general manager of the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation, who has been asked to act on a commission of inquiry into the coal mining industry of Nova Scotia. It is expected that Mr. Cronyn will be in the Maritimes during November and December.

N. S. PROBE WILL TAKE 2 MONTHS

Hume Cronyn Will Leave For Mine Inquiry First of Month.

Hume Cronyn will go to Halifax about the first of November to act on a commission of inquiry into the coal and steel industry in the Maritimes. The appointment of Mr. Cronyn was announced last night by the government.

Mr. Cronyn said today that he believed that the investigation would occupy at least two months. It is expected that he will give his whole time during that period to the board.

Mr. Cronyn could not speak on the exact program which would be undertaken. He had received a telegram asking if he would act and had answered in the affirmative. He believed that the problems confronting the workers and the steel companies which had resulted in troops being sent to Glace Bay would be carefully gone into.

He hoped that the investigation would not last more than two months as he had to attend the annual meetings in London which were scheduled for January.

Mr. Cronyn will likely give an address in Windsor on the subject of noxious legislation relative to taxation, such as he delivered at the recent tax conference here.

The paper delivered by Mr. Cronyn on that occasion made a decided impression on the delegates and it is understood that he has received three requests to give it again before different interested bodies.

PREMIER ANNOUNCES STUMPAGE REDUCTION

Says Action Taken To Relieve Conditions Paralyzing Lumber Industry.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 8.—Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, premier of New Brunswick, in an address before the New Brunswick Retail Merchants' Association convention last night announced a reduction in stumpage of soft wood to $2.50 per thousand feet, to operate for a year to "relieve," he said, "conditions which are paralyzing the lumber industry, particularly on the north shore." Those who will form the New Brunswick hydro-electric commission he named as follows: Hon. E. A. Reilly, K.C., of Moncton; chairman, J. D. Palmer, Fredericton; E. K. Shofield, St. John; A. D. Ganong, St. Stephen, and F. J. Robidoux, Shediac.

Premier Baxter said that the development of waterpower at Grand Falls would be carried out regardless of politics, with no direct or indirect taxation to the people, or the loss of one dollar.

EIGHT DROWNED

Cases Will Be Heard at St. Thomas Sittings of Supreme Court.

Canadian Press Despatch.
St. Thomas, Oct. 8.—Writs for damages were served today on the city of St. Thomas and William Stoner, concessionaire at Pinafore park, by R. L. Brackin, of Windsor, acting for the relatives and parents of seven children and a woman who were drowned when a "swan boat" owned by Stoner sank on Pinafore Lake last July. The total amount claimed is said to be in excess of $100,000. The cases will likely be heard at supreme court sittings here this month.

The tragedy of which the suit is the outcome occurred at 8 o'clock on the evening of July 7. The combined picnic of the Anglican Sunday schools was being held at the park. One of the attractions was the swan boat operated by William Stoner, which had carried hundreds of children safely during the day.

Twenty-three persons crowded on the boat for its last trip. After being out for a few minutes, for some reason the passengers rushed to one side and the boat capsized before the agonized gaze of hundreds of onlookers. Willing workers rushed to the rescue, but seven children and one woman were drowned.

The coroner's jury which investigated the accident attached no blame for the particular death which it investigated.

FIFTEEN NAMES PLACED ON LIST

Number of Voters Increased by Action of Court of Revision.

The procedure is simple. If citizen finds that his name has been omitted he must go to the revising officer and declare himself a British subject of the full age of 21 years.

TO SERVE LIBERALISM LITTLE OPENS BATTLE

Liberal Candidate Makes Statement of Policy and Purpose.

BELIEVES KING SOUND

Sees in Meighen the Mouthpiece of Private Privileges.

E. S. Little, federal candidate of the Liberals of London, returned home last night and plunged immediately into the campaign.

Mr. Little motored nearly 300 miles yesterday in order to attend a meeting of his campaign workers in Hyman hall last night, and was given a great reception when he appeared, weary from travel, but eager and ready to serve as the representative of the Liberal party in London.

Call of Liberalism.

Mr. Little, in an interview with The Advertiser this afternoon, outlined in forceful manner the circumstances which impelled him to accept the honor and responsibility of carrying the government banner in the forthcoming federal general election.

"The strength of the Liberal cause and the nature of its appeal to people in all walks of life, was never more strikingly emphasized in the history of the party in London than it has been on this occasion," said Mr. Little. "The names put forward by the rank and file of the party have, I believe, been a great credit, not only to the party, but to London, and an answer to any criticism of the policies which have been in the past pursued, or are now announced by Premier King. Any of these men would have done credit to London, but in each instance some insurmountable obstacle has intervened, and in the convention, which I was unfortunately unable to attend, the responsibility fell again to me."

Need is Great.
"Never in the history of Canada has there been a more urgent need for the acceptance of such responsibility as citizenship, where the obstacles to acceptance can by any means be overcome. It has been this consideration that finally influenced me to reconsider my earlier determination to stand aside."

"No doubt the fight in London will be no less strenuous than those that have marked local political history in other days."

"There can be no question that the strength of the interests behind Mr. Meighen must not be despised. Mr. Meighen is not merely the leader of a political party; he is the embodiment and reiteration of the forces fought William Lyon Mackenzie in 1837 with the same bitterness and the same weapons that are in use today."

Electors Must Think.
"I realize that many voters are born Liberals or born Conservatives, and often they automatically drift into these political channels. But there comes a time in the life of every elector when he or she probes the issues, and makes his and her own decision. Looking at the history of Canadian parties in the most dispassionate manner, I cannot understand how anyone can find anything in Toryism as represented by Mr. Meighen other than a custodianship of the claims of privilege, regardless of the highest interest of the country as a whole."

"In the days of Premier King's grandfather Mr. Meighen's forebears fought to the death to keep the ballot from the taxpayer, and to sustain an abominable system of government without representation. When representative government was won for Canadians by the Reformers under Mackenzie, Toryism had to accommodate itself to the new order, but it swayed."

Market is Needed.
"If such businesses prosper it means success for the business and work for the staff. I am no more anxious to put the razor to my own throat than any other person interested in industry in any connection. A selfish group, who have their mouthpiece in Mr. Meighen, cry out for higher tariff. Canadian industry does not stand today in need of nap feeding. Industry needs a market far more than protection, needs more people, relief from taxation, and lower transportation costs."

"Premier King alone has a solution of the tariff and railway questions in the commission to deal with the varying needs of east and west, and different industries and the proposed plan of dollar at a discount. He does quarrel with the west while in the east, and with the east while in the west. His policy is for the unity of the nation and on that basis alone can prosperity be restored."

King Achieves Results.
"Premier King assumed office four years ago, charged with the tremendous task of repairing the harm that had been done by Mr. Meighen. Reconstruction is difficult, but he has achieved results, and no one will deny that business has now turned the corner. The official records of unemployment prepared by government sources both in the days of the Meighen administration and since are the indisputable proof of this."

"So also the official records of the balance of trade. In Mr. Meighen's regime Canadians well remember their dollar at a discount, up to 18 per cent; they know today that it is Continued on Page 11, Column 1.

E. S. LITTLE, who has issued a statement of his purposes as candidate of the Liberals of London.

lowed the dose with poorest grace. Since that day, Toryism has merely accommodated itself to democratic government, and Mr. Meighen himself, in the last parliament preceding the King administration, nauseated Canada, burdened the taxpayer, destroyed all confidence and shattered business by an arrogant and defiant resort to the old discredited system of government by order-in-council.

Has Not Changed.
"As his reward for this abuse of government, and inability to rise to the heights of Canadian statesmanship, the people cast him out of office in his first year to the elections in 1921. Mr. Meighen is the same man and the same leader of the same group then cast out of office by a disgusted public, and he now returns to the electorate with an appeal for reinstatement on the same platform that Canada then rejected."

"I know that when I accept the responsibilities of the Liberal nomination I must freely reveal to the people all of the facts of my situation in relation to public life. If the policies of any government are harmful to Canadian industrial life I am personally hurt through my own industrial connections. The Helena Costume, the Hosiery, and Luxite Textiles."

Market is Needed.
"If such businesses prosper it means success for the business and work for the staff. I am no more anxious to put the razor to my own throat than any other person interested in industry in any connection. A selfish group, who have their mouthpiece in Mr. Meighen, cry out for higher tariff. Canadian industry does not stand today in need of nap feeding. PLAYOGRAPH GIVES
THRILL TO CROWDS

Advertiser's Service Brings World's Series Close To Londoners.

The Advertiser Playograph again thrilled Londoners yesterday by presenting with as much realism as mechanics can achieve the initial struggle between Washington and Pittsburgh for the baseball championship of the world. More than 1,500 people watched the captivating baseball machine during the course of the afternoon.

The game, which was won by the Senators, 4 to 1, was reproduced on The Advertiser machine almost simultaneously with the playing of the real classic on Forbes Field, home diamond of the Pittsburgh Pirates. This was due to the Advertiser securing direct communication with the stadium in Pittsburgh, which enabled the Playograph to present every play, every hit and every move of the baserunners a few seconds after the actual performance on the diamond.

Every day during the series The Advertiser Playograph will begin to operate as soon as the first ball is pitched on the scenes of the 1925 battles. Yesterday afternoon the crowd began to assemble as early as 1:30, and when the game started both sides of Richmond street as well as the road were lined with eager fans.

The miniature green diamond is remarkable for its detail, carrying, besides the playing field, the full batting orders and the complete box score. As soon as the first inning was well under way an interest that bespoke the realism of the Playograph gripped the crowd, and the majority stayed until the last-inning rally of the Pirates faced when Wright popped out, leaving two stranded on bases.

With runners on the bags the action of the Playograph was at its best, and when Rice slammed in two runs in the fifth inning, the interest was so tense in the play to follow that the usual cheer was forgotten.

The Playograph made its first appearance in London two years ago, when The Advertiser secured it to record the series between the Giants and the Yanks of New York. It won immediate popularity with the lovers of sport in the city, and each year it draws larger crowds.

The Advertiser's green Sporting Extra will be on the streets a few minutes after the end of each game, while Buck Harris, youthful manager of the Senators, will each night telegraph to The Advertiser his personal account of that day's game.

WINDSOR WILL BOOST OF $30,000 SURPLUS THIS YEAR

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Oct. 7.—Windsor will probably close the year with a surplus of something like $30,000, according to a financial statement prepared today by the treasurer, J. R. Thomson.

CITY COUNCIL STUDIES
STREET RAILWAY BYLAW

City Solicitor Explains Matters Pertaining To Street Railway.

BRIDGE MENTIONED

There were four absent city councillors when Teacher, T. G. Meredith, K.C., opened school in the council chambers last night on bylaw 916, which has to do with all matters pertaining to the street railway. Aldermen who were absent from the gathering, and thereby laid themselves open to the accusation that they think they know all there is to be known about that famous bylaw, were Carswell, Doig, Kilbourne and Neely.

Instead of a teacher's pointer, the city solicitor waved a copy of the bylaw, and in reply to a number of questions brought out some interesting facts regarding the bylaw.

First and foremost was the fact that the courts can only be appealed to by the city on matters of law. As far as facts are concerned, the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board is the final court on the provisions of 1916, and their decisions as to facts cannot be upset by any judge or court.

This was news to Mayor Wenige and his men, and after a session of over an hour, Ald. Cliff summed up the unspoken opinion of several conferees when he stated: "This bylaw isn't much good, it is, Mr. Meredith."

"I wouldn't say that," replied Mr. Meredith with a cautious smile. "Outlines Battle With Railway."

Mr. Meredith traced the history of council battles with the street railway, and stated that before the railway and municipal board was brought into being the city had won several fights in the court compelling the railway to live up to their agreements.

The board's status as a court of last appeal as to the facts precluded the council from any action in the law courts. In the good old days the city could apply for a mandamus and bring the street railway to time.

Closing of Ridout Street Bridge.

The city solicitor stated that he would like to see the order issued by the railway board closing the Ridout street bridge, belonging to the street railway. He didn't see why the street railway could be allowed to leave the bridge closed.

City Engineer Near declared that the vice-chairman of the railway board, had told him that the board had no power to force the expenditure of money if the street railway was out of cash.

Ald. Douglass stated that the city should have a copy of the order closing the bridge issued by the railway board, and it should be turned over to the solicitor. This will be done.

Mr. Meredith said that he couldn't see that the question of the ability of the street railway to spend money should be considered by the board. It was not a good excuse, in his opinion. There were express provisions in 916 ordering the street railway to keep their bridges up, and they should be carried out.

F. A. COCKIN, M.A., of London, Eng., an authority upon student work at the universities throughout the world, who is visiting Canada.

Repairs Needed.

Questioned by Mr. Meredith, the city engineer stated that the street railway's portion of the Ridout street bridge could not be repaired, as it was structurally weak.

In reply to a question by the mayor, Mr. Meredith declared that the carrying out of the agreement was under the exclusive jurisdiction of the railway board.

"If it is proven that the street railway hasn't the money to go on with repairs, is that a question of fact?" asked the mayor.

"Yes, it is. They would have to satisfy the board they didn't have the money or couldn't get it," replied the solicitor.

"If they don't do certain things, can the city stop them from operating?" queried the mayor.

"Of course you can eventually go to the courts, but goodness knows when you'll get through with them," replied Mr. Meredith.

"What position would we be in if they stopped operating while the case was before the courts?" continued the mayor.

"You'd have to ride on something else," returned the city solicitor.

Service Good.

The city engineer, asked as to service, stated that he took a check on the cars 18 months ago and they were operating faster than required by the bylaw.

Speed and service was a matter for the city engineer, Mr. Meredith told the council. If the city wanted a two-way service on the Ottawa line, for example, the company would have

J. C. ELLIOTT, K.C., and Senator McCoig advised a Liberal meeting at Mount Brydges. Mr. Elliott made senate reform one of the points in his address, and that he should do so with a member of that body on the platform with him is evidence that the issue is one which there is no intention of sidestepping so far as Liberal policy is concerned.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1925.

A Conflict of Ideals.

Donald Sutherland, M.P. for South Oxford, is running true to form. His avowed purpose is to discredit James W. Innes, Liberal candidate in the riding, and if he can't do it one way he will try another. Just now his attack is that Mr. Innes was formerly a prominent member of the U. F. O., and "almost secured the nomination of that party in the last provincial election."

Therefore Mr. Sutherland sees his appearance as a Liberal candidate this time as substantial evidence that Mr. Innes is trying to ride two horses.

What Mr. Sutherland cannot understand is that Liberal policy should be broad enough in its outlook on national affairs to attract men from all walks of life, even if they had lent their support previously to other movements that were at least semi-political in scope.

The history of real Liberalism in Britain, as in Canada, has been the coming together of men who were constantly reaching out for some new ideal. Liberalism was great and effective in Britain under Gladstone for the reason that men of various outlooks found in it an opportunity to give expression to their desire for better conditions for the people. The spirit of Liberalism was then a greater force than the Liberal party, and the Liberal party became great only as it was moved by that spirit.

Liberalism was a medium for good in Canada under Sir Wilfrid Laurier because to its ranks came men from all walks of life. The King government is attracting these same men, and it is that diversity of interest that has made it truly representative of Canadian thought.

There was nothing unusual in the fact that a movement such as the old Patrons of Industry should attract Liberals, nor was there anything mysterious in the fact that the U. F. O. should have had a greater appeal to Liberal farmers than any other. The motive behind these was the betterment of conditions for the people on the farms. It was evidence of that desire to go ahead and break new ground.

There is nothing peculiar in the fact that these same people should see in the Liberal party today, on the policies laid down by Mackenzie King, exactly the atmosphere of advancement of common interests that they desire, and that is probably the reason why Mr. Innes finds Liberal nomination a desirable thing to accept.

The same clash of ideals comes in the interpretation of the word "protection" by the two parties. Mr. Sutherland, like Mr. Meighen and all his followers, can see only one kind of protection—a very high tariff wall. Mr. King has demonstrated, in his handling of the agricultural implement business, another idea of protection. To him it seemed best that Canadian implement makers should be placed on an equal basis with makers of similar lines in competing countries, and he did this by opening up to them the avenues through which raw materials come. His plan succeeded and it did so in a way that benefited the manufacturer and the consumer. It was a new departure in the field of protection, and because it was different to the old conservative way of doing things, the Conservatives denounce it as no protection at all.

Liberalism means more than belonging to the Liberal party. If the Liberal party ever comes to the point where it ceases to properly interpret Liberal thought and desire, then it will fall upon evil days. The old Conservative idea, as enunciated by Donald Sutherland in his attack on Mr. Innes, finds it difficult to grasp this idea. He can only interpret Mr. Innes' move through the old standard of the stand-pat, don't move Conservative idea.

Other Issues Involved.

The condition of some of the streets in London is a matter that cannot be overlooked, the more so because it becomes directly a part of the present street railway problem. The residents of London West have a right to resent the condition of Dundas street on the west side of the bridge, of Wharncliffe road, and of the section of Oxford street that leads from Wharncliffe to the Oxford street bridge.

On all these roads there are street railway tracks, and for the most part it is difficult to discern whether the track or the road is in the worse condition. Aldermen from that section of the city have repeatedly brought the matter to the attention of the council, and they cannot be charged with having failed to lodge their complaints in plain language, but they know that the matter is no nearer solution now than before they entered council.

It would not be good business to pave the sides of the street until the street railway is prepared to relay its tracks and pave its road allowance. The company's position is that it has not the money for such work, and by the action of the legislature city credit cannot be used to finance the street railway's portion, even if there were an undertaking to repay the amount as was done on the Richmond street paving.

This brings the matter into a wider field than that generally covered by the phrase, street railway service. It means that roads leading to West London from Dundas, Oxford, or from the provincial highway along Wharncliffe are left in a very bad condition because no way has been devised to bring the city and company to an agreement.

There are other sections where a similar condition prevails, but that of West London serves to illustrate the point. That is a very good reason why it is not fair to such sections to pursue a wait-and-see policy on street railway matters.

Will Work for Reform.

J. C. Elliott, K.C., and Senator McCoig addressed a Liberal meeting at Mount Brydges. Mr. Elliott made senate reform one of the points in his address, and that he should do so with a member of that body on the platform with him is evidence that the issue is one which there is no intention of sidestepping so far as Liberal policy is concerned.

Senator McCoig himself believes in senate reform. He said so at Mount Brydges and he has said so many times before. When there are enough men of this mind in the senate, ready to plan for its re-shaping so that it will take its proper place in a country that recognizes responsible government as the basis of its constitution, it will be possible to accomplish a sensible measure of reform.

Who Will Take His Place?

The Brantford Expositor, referring to the number of industrial leaders in that city who had passed away recently, pointed to the fact that from the rising generation must come the men who are to take their place. When a city is plunged in grief at the taking away of a prominent man, one who has planned well and worked courageously, and in so doing has made a notable contribution to the city's welfare, this question is quite properly left in the background. Yet it is plain and urgent, and the thought, reduced to few words, is: "Who is going to take his place?"

Some of the men who have played the major roles in building Canadian municipalities had the way fairly well prepared for them; they inherited a business, but it was their own initiative and application that carried it on. Because, lacking this, there is nothing easier than for a good business to crumble to ruin from its own weight. In many instances industrial and commercial leaders have come from circumstances which at first sight would cause one to say such a thing would be impossible. It is one of the charms of our industrial democracy that it should be so, and it is also a standing challenge to the young men of today who may harbor the idea that there are closed doors past which they cannot go.

When a leader falls that community is rich that can produce another. The place is vacant, and it will be taken by the man who has schooled himself for it.

Note and Comment.

The Brandon Sun remarks that few people fall by the wayside now. They get hit so hard they land in a field.

We notice where another chap who lives in Trinta has been giving a lecture on the proper use of the English language.

The Port Rowan News says it's hard to get boys to go to bed at night and hard to get them out of it in the morning. No doubt Mr. Meighen's idea of a higher tariff on beds would fix this.

People sometimes forget that very old truth, "The consumer pays." The U. S. Rubber Company for the first six months of 1925 shows a profit of 32 per cent greater than the same period last year, despite the horizontal increase in the price of crude rubber.

So far no one has unearthed that fine phrase kept for addressing old-time meetings of workmen: "Beneath that ragged shirt there beats an honest heart." And yet the time was when they used to tolerate it and even cheer its deliverance.

In Britain a road is being built that has a base of broken stone a foot deep. On top of that is nine inches of reinforced concrete, and the whole is surfaced with two inches of asphalt. The Romans taught road-building in Britain centuries ago, and the lesson has apparently not been forgotten.

Russia, according to reliable reports, sent to prison forty persons who met together for Bible study without having received permission from the state to do so. Russia may not think so, but she has taken the one sure method of making certain that more people in that country will study the Book. History shows that where persecution has been most severe the Christian religion has seen its most abiding development.

Some time ago William McDonald in his Chesley Enterprise told The Advertiser it was away out on a broken limb when the suggestion was made that weekly editors had rather a pleasant existence. Without seeking to disturb the "People's Willam" in the discharge of his duties as registrar and returning officer up in Bruce, we draw his attention to the following from this week's issue of the St. Marys Journal-Argus:

"The editor of the Journal-Argus is indebted to Mr. Richard Adams for a handsome bouquet of flowers picked from his well-kept garden on Queen street east."

On Thursday, October 1, the Oshawa Reformer issued its first daily paper. The publishers, in their announcement, claim they have carefully canvassed the field and are certain of enough support to make the venture a success. The volume of business carried in the first issue indicates that their opinion is well founded. On the first page they announce that Oshawa now has a population of 18,500, including several sections adjoining the city, or 17,000 in the city limits, which should provide a good field for a daily paper. The paper features the news of Oshawa and district as it should. Charles Mundy, the president of the company, and Arthur Allaway, secretary and manager, are both capable newspapermen, and there is no doubt as to their ability to make the new daily a success.

Out For Tea

It is a goodly thing to go and eat with folks you know right well, and then to sit around an hour and gossip with them for a spell.

A chap I've known for some time back sent word the other day to me, how he would like if I would come and visit at his place for tea. He keeps a house that's fair in size, and I was fearin' for a spell, perhaps the habits and the eats would be a trifle over swell.

But I put on my Sunday boots and smoothed the whiskers on my chin, arrivin' at his house about when evening fodder would begin.

I met the folks and we set down, just talkin' how good neighbors should, I answerin' back and talkin' too like they expected that I would.

You should have seen the spread they had, no little dabs of this and that, but helpins of a goodly size that lines the ribs with wholesome fat. Why they had soup and chicken too, and beans and carrots, spuds and bread, and cheese and jelly, apple pie, a goodly sort of home-made spread.

When come the time when I was through and cleaned my plate clean to the core, they kept insistin' all the time as how I pass my plate for more.

And all the time we talked as well, and spoke about the folks we knew, discussin' politics a spell and touchin' on religion too. Then after supper time was done the young folks sang and played a bit, me thinkin' that a home like this it be a goodly place to sit.

I found I was a foolish guy to dread to visit such as them, and I am waitin' for the time when they be askin' me again.—ARK. (Copyright.)

25 Years Ago Today

(From The Advertiser, Oct. 8, 1900)

At the Wallace town fair on Friday, Mr. A. Beaton, license inspector, made a seizure of a lot of liquor being sold by two men who said they lived on Hill street, London. The case will come up for hearing next week at the town hall, Dutton.

The Wingham Times says that $5,000 has been secured in good subscriptions by Rev. Richard Hobbs for the erection of a new Methodist church in Wingham. A building costing nearly $12,000 is contemplated. The canvass is not yet completed and the pastor expects to secure the necessary amount.

Mr. T. S. Weld of the Farmer's Advocate has arrived home from a five months' sojourn in Alberta.

It is understood that the returning officer in London for the pending election for the house of commons will be Mr. R. H. Dignan, barrister. The members of the London Bowling club have an efficient and hard-working secretary in the person of Mr. James McDougall and, judging by the pleasant little affair that occurred on Friday, they appreciate his efforts on behalf of the club.

On behalf of the club, A. H. Beddome, president, presented Mr. McDougall with a handsome leather chair. Rev. Canon Dunn added further happy remarks, after which Mr. McDougall made a neat reply.

Editorial Opinion

FREEING HIS HANDS.

(From the Stratford Beacon-Herald)
VINCENT MASSEY has been the center of a good deal of talk since he began to take an active part in federal politics after having accepted a position in the King government. The mere fact of the president of a large manufacturing concern endorsing the tariff policy of the King government was sure to attract attention and to be used for political effect. On the other hand, there was a temptation to explain Mr. Massey's action by imputing motives. A Toronto man, for instance, charged that the Massey-Harris Company had received a large sum of money from the government for the loss of property in America and Germany during the war. The explanation, of course, is that the government paid out of the German funds remaining in its hands the damages awarded by an international court.

Mr. Massey has evidently been worried by the interpretations that have been given to his action in joining the government, and has announced his resignation from the presidency of the Massey-Harris Company. He says that he wants to be perfectly free to discuss all public issues without having his motives questioned. Of course, Mr. Massey had as much right to his opinions in regard to the tariff as anybody else, and there is really no reason why his motives should be questioned; but the course he has taken in resigning from the presidency and withdrawing from the boards of certain other corporations will commend itself to fair-minded people as being in accordance with good taste and the better traditions of party politics.

CANADA'S PROGRESS.

(From A. E. Ames' Financial Letter)
IN AGRICULTURE, not only is the volume of grain produced greater, but prices likewise are higher. Canadian fisheries are having a better than average year. The output of our mines, as a whole, is increasing, and in one direction, at least, the output of products derived from forests—our pulp and paper products—is increasing. The combined output of such primary products will, this year, it is estimated, run from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 over the production in 1924.

Another outstanding feature of our financial condition is the fact that savings deposits stand at an exceptionally high level, being $1,255,005,214, which is $77,000,000 over the savings deposits of September, 1924. Moreover, the current loans in Canada by our banking institutions are $375,000,000 below the level of savings deposits.

A VERY GOOD REASON.

Giles was being questioned in the court by a barrister who considered himself great guns at cross-examination.

"Do you on your oath swear that this is not your handwriting?" he asked sternly of the witness.

"I reckon not," answered Giles.

"Does it resemble your writing, then?"

"No, I don't think so."

"Well, do you swear that it does not resemble your handwriting?"

"I do, indeed."

"What," thundered the bullying counsel, "You take your oath that that writing doesn't resemble yours in a single letter?"

"Yes," persisted Giles, somewhat nervously.

"How do you know it doesn't?" asked the lawyer, with a cunning smile.

"Well," replied Giles, with a smile, "I expect it is because I can't write."

SIR HENRY DRAYTON SPEAKS AT SARNIA

Former Finance Minister Defends Higher Tariff Policy of Tories.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Sarnia, Oct. 7.—The Conservative party in West Lambton tonight fired what they termed their opening gun of the local campaign to elect R. V. Lesueur, M.P., when they brought in Sir Henry Drayton, who was Canadian minister of finance in the most expensive government the dominion ever had, to tell about the Melghen tariff and what a Utopia Canada will be when duties on the materials Canadians consume are boosted to double their present height.

Sir Henry related his story, and it was well received by the Conservatives who packed the city hall.

R. V. Lesueur, the candidate, also spoke, and Peter McRobb acted as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Lesueur's remarks were chiefly directed at a supposed helplessness efficiency on the part of Premier Mackenzie King and his government.

The chief argument propounded by Sir Henry in his tariff talk was a plan which sounded well, to protect not only the starving industries of the country, but also the Canadian people, whose fate was to pay the tariff piper. There was no doubt of that great tariff evil, the tendency of the manufacturer to profiteer under the protection afforded him. The factoring costs and other mass of detail to the government, would enable a tab to be kept on what was a fair price for the commodity he sold to the public.

Sir Henry said that it hurt border people, this "paying through the nose," as they term it, and Sarnians are likely to be more than suspicious of the effectiveness of a plan which would protect the consumer from a tariff 100 per cent higher in all like-hood than present rates, especially when all the protection afforded is based upon returns submitted by the manufacturer to a government which many years ago has the title of friend to the big interests.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT
Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas, On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due, nine times out of ten, to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous, and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and its further development. It is a healthy and safe remedy, and it is healthfully without need of opium pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or effervescent in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Use this plan and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." Adv.

Pullman and Nash Motors Are Among Those to Gain at New York.

New York, Oct. 7.—Speculative interest covered a wide range of shares during the morning, with the railroads, Pullman and Nash Motors among the leaders in the upward trend. Fleischmann moved up 1/2, Remington typewriter and Robert R. 3/4, and Pullman, Ludlum Steel and Nash Motors 3/4. National Surety advanced 1/2, while the new high price for the year. The revenue rate on call loans was reduced to 4 1/2 compared with yesterday's figure of 5 1/4.

MINISTERS PAN CABINET COUNCIL

Depletion of Alliance Executive May Bring About New System.

Rev. A. W. Burgess, Egerton street Baptist church, president of the London Ministerial alliance, intimated this morning that the alliance may resolve itself into a cabinet council comprising the executive officers of the individual denominational ministerial associations.

Discussing the future of the alliance, Mr. Burgess pointed out that the executive elected by the alliance last spring, has been sadly depleted by men removing from the city and by men taking on responsibilities in other organizations, until practically only the president remains.

Recognizing the need and sphere for a ministerial alliance in the city, Mr. Burgess is anxious to let the alliance slide entirely into the discard, even though denominational associations are well organized and function as the alliance, which will be considered by those concerned within the next few days, is for the formation of a cabinet embracing the executive officers of the several denominational associations. This cabinet, in accordance with the plan Mr. Burgess has in mind, could perform the same functions of the alliance, while the same time dispensing with regular monthly meetings, through pressure of so many meetings of other ministerial societies.

In other words, the benefit of an alliance can be secured by the ministers meeting in their denominational associations, while the same time dispensing with regular monthly meetings, through pressure of so many meetings of other ministerial societies.

At the present time the denominational associations have all been re-organized for the fall and winter months as follows: Anglican Clerical association, Very Rev. Dean N. L. Tucker, D.D., D.C.L., president, Rev. H. E. Bray, secretary; Baptist Ministerial association, Rev. H. J. Murphy, M.A., president, Rev. W. E. Smith, secretary; United Church Ministerial association, Rev. Col. Wm. Beattie, D.D., C.M.G., president, Rev. J. F. Chapman, secretary.

TO SERVE LIBERALISM LITTLE ENTERS FIGHT

at par and better in New York. Mr. Meighen's policies laid upon us the burden of an adverse balance of trade of $225,000,000 and $211,300,000 in 1922. To Mr. King's administration must be given the credit of having reduced this in the face of the blue ruin, calamity brought on the opposition to only $81,500,000 in the fiscal year 1925.

"As to London's purely local needs little need be said, other than that London has passed through a period of total eclipse in so far as local representation has been concerned, since the days of Hon. C. S. Hyman."

Start Organization.
Constructive energy and unbounded enthusiasm worked hand in hand at the organization meeting held in Hyman hall last night, where Mr. Little was given a rousing reception by the strong band of workers, which will prove the motive power of the campaign.

In addition to Dr. W. J. Stevenson, Col. C. H. Reason, Donald Graham, Mrs. Donald McLean, Andrew Robinson, John Heaman and Ray Lawson, the session was graced by the presence of several other veteran district Liberals who have distinguished themselves in victorious battles of former years.

A noteworthy feature of the Wednesday night meeting was the prominence of the young men, and the eagerness to advance the sterling principles of Liberalism, evidenced by this newer generation, was happy proof of the long cherished conviction of the veteran, that with each age the tenets of the Liberal party of Canada pass into stronger belief and vigor of youth.

Youth in Battle.
To the younger members of the London Liberal party has fallen some of the most important of the campaign work, but the force which has characterized their efforts right from the start of the drive makes the general committee confident that they will acquire themselves just as nobly as their older campaigners.

For campaign purposes the city is divided into several districts, each of which is in charge of a supervisor, and at last night's meeting inspiring reports were given of the splendid organizations being effected in the sub-divisions.

Women a Factor.
The women's branch of the Liberal party here, headed by Mrs. Donald McLean, will also be a strong factor in the extensive program of addresses, meetings and rallies which will feature the next three weeks.

Speaking last night, Mrs. McLean assured the gathering of leaders, workers and supporters that the women of London, since the election announcement, have displayed a positive appreciation of the achievements of the King government, and that the fullest of co-operation may be expected from the Liberal women's organization.

DAIRES SUPPLYING LONDON ALL FOUND TO BE SANITARY

Conditions Excellent, Says Dr. Tamlin of Local Health Department.

350 HERDS

"The 350 dairies supplying milk to London consumers are in a first-class condition," Dr. Tamlin, V. S., of the health department, stated today.

"There are only one or two men with whom we have any trouble, and they realize now that they must clean up or get out of the business. One man told me last month that he was too busy to fix up his stable, but when I pointed out to him that there was nothing more important on his farm than the production of clean milk under clean surroundings, he decided to get busy, and he did. Generally speaking, things are in excellent condition," concluded Dr. Tamlin.

AGED COUPLE SHUN POORHOUSE OFFER

James Sullivan Charges Landlord, H. Cullis, With Striking Him.

James Sullivan and his wife, an aged and poverty-stricken couple, came to court this morning to protest against their landlord, Sullivan, charged that Herbert Cullis had struck him or threatened to strike him because he was behind in his rent.

In defence, Cullis declared that Sullivan had not paid rent for three months or more. Magistrate Graydon recommended that the couple be taken to the poorhouse, but Sullivan proudly objected.

So feeble that he leaned on his wife's arm for support. As he walked from the police station he volunteered to look after himself, and with wife's declaration that they would get the money together somehow, the couple left the court room.

Two Brightest Planets Will Be Described Before Astronomical Society.

Venus and Jupiter, the two brightest planets of the heavens, will be the subjects for study by members of the Astronomical society here tomorrow night, according to Dr. E. T. White, secretary.

A large telescope will be placed on the university grounds at 8:15, and the observations will last until 9:30, if the weather is fine. Each member will have a map of the heavens and a flashlight, so that they may make the most of the evening.

There are 20 members of the society. It is expected that most of them will be present. Dr. White said today that there was a possibility that some of the major star groups would come in for observation at the meeting.

If the weather is not clear, the members will meet at the university college at 8 o'clock, where Dr. H. R. Kingston will address them on the "Milky Way."

Special To The Advertiser.

Stratford, Oct. 7.—The allocation of $50,000 to the 22 churches in the United church presbytery of Perth was accepted at the first regular meeting of the presbytery at the Central United church this afternoon. This is an increase of 35 to 40 per cent for most churches, but no objection was made in any case to the sums asked.

Rev. D. N. McCamus of London stressed the attractive features of the United church movement. The Woodham church, over which there was some discussion, has been placed in the Stratford presbytery. The pastor's house is in Huron county, but all the congregation and the church buildings are in Perth. There were some changes made in supply, made necessary by the church and vote. Rev. Neil Leckie, Motherwell, will supply at Royal church until the end of the conference year; Rev. H. G. Crozier, Tavistock, will supply Harmony; Rev. W. D. Bell, St. Paul's, will supply Carthage; Rev. T. Bell, Listowel, will supply Millbank and Crosshill.

A. F. OF L. IS EXPECTED TO REJECT PROPOSAL

Chicago Banker To Introduce Resolution Favoring Soviet Relations.

Associated Press Despatch.

Atlantic City, N.J., Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor today had before it for action 84 resolutions and 15 special committees were at work granting hearings on many of them.

One resolution that attracted particular attention called upon the convention to declare itself in favor of recognition of soviet Russia and for the establishment of full diplomatic relations with the soviet government. It was introduced by J. Shaffer, of the Chicago Bank Employees' Association.

President Green yesterday turned down a proposal by Arthur A. Purcell, a British M.P., to establish close fraternal relations with the Russian workers, and in view of the attitude of the convention in endorsing the president's action, it was believed by officials that the Shaffer resolution would not be reported favorably.

Thomas Johnson of the transport workers' union of Ireland was on the program to address the convention. He was greeted by a special delegation upon his arrival last night.

WITHDRAWAL OF GOLD SUBJECT OF COMMENT

Editors Unable To Find Out Destination of Gold.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Oct. 7.—The withdrawal of £1,566,000 of bar gold yesterday from the Bank of England is the subject of comment in all the financial editorials in this morning's newspapers.

None of the writers, however, is able to penetrate the bank's secrecy with regard to the destination of the gold more definitely than that 10,000 sovereigns are bound for Java.

It is generally assumed, however, that the main portion of the gold is going to the United States, although the commentators differ as to whether the total is destined for that country. Some of the writers are of the opinion that considerable part of the gold is being held up by the seamen's strike in South Africa are now proceeding to Enkai, with large amounts of the yellow metal.

FLIGHT OF EDWARD HARLTON AIDED BY WRONG DESCRIPTION

Alleged Slayer of Officer Escapes Unhampered After Change of Clothing.

EXPECT CAPTURE

Wrong information given the provincial police soon after the escape of Edward Harlton, following the shooting of County Motor-cycle Officer Jack Waddell last month was responsible for Harlton's complete getaway, according to Provincial Police Inspector W. H. Loughheed, of the Windsor division, who was in London in connection with liquor cases today. Inspector Loughheed claims that to Harlton's quick change of clothing shortly before the shooting can be attributed his escape.

Word flashed to the provincial police only a few minutes after the murder of Waddell gave a description which later failed to tally with that sent out in circulars. At Windsor and Sarnia, border points to which it was likely Harlton headed and where provincial officers were stationed, information was received that Harlton was wearing rubber boots. It was

NEW BUS SERVICE STARTS ON FRIDAY

London South Will Be First Line Operated—Others
Later.

Two buses, each with a capacity of 21 passengers, will start operation in this city Friday morning.
C. C. Kamm, president of the Metropolitan Bus Co., Toronto, will be used on the London South run, he stated, and as business warrants, more buses will be added to the fleet. Eight will be in operation in two weeks' time.

"The buses will arrive some time during Thursday night," said Mr.
Kamm, "and will be ready for business on Friday. We will give transfers when the other buses start."
"I think there is a field here, irrespective of the street railway."
We have found that people prefer buses to street cars, especially the kind you have here."

Mr. Kamm, who was an interested spectator at last night's council meeting, at which the street railway bylaw was discussed, told Mayor Wenke after the meeting, that his buses cost $9,000, and he could make money on a 5-cent fare in London.

"You can't do it," asserted the mayor, taking out a check with it here on such an investment."
"Yes we can," confidently replied
Mr. Kamm. "We'll prove it to you in a very few days."

CHATHAM CYCLIST VICTIM OF SMASH

putated After Auto Hits Bicycle.

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Oct. 7.—Clarence Austin, aged 30, is in a critical condition in the public general hospital suffering from injuries received this morning.
While riding his bicycle Austin was struck by a motor car driven by James A. Highgate, a farmer of Dover.

The cyclist suffered two broken legs, the left being almost severed.
Amputation of the latter was performed this afternoon.

The accident occurred on the Dover trolley line a few miles south of the city. Austin, who was cycling north, was struck head-on by the motor car as it turned to pass a sugar-beet field. In an effort to avoid the property the driver turned his machine cyclist to the ditch. Caught on the bumper, Austin was crushed against the side of the car.

Dr. Agar was summoned, and after rendering first aid rushed Austin in an ambulance to the hospital here.

When the car passed into the ditch
Mrs. Highgate, who was with her husband in the car, suffered bruises about the face.

CANADIAN FERRY SEIZED BY U. S. CUSTOMS MEN AFTER PT. STANLEY TRIP

Released On $175,000 Bond
Following Liquor Smuggling Charge.

BIGGEST CAPTURE $400,000 Vessel, Owned at Walkerville, Labeled and Held For Sale.

Special to The Advertiser.
Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Release of the Marquette and Besmer car ferry No. 2, seized at Conneaut, Ohio, Tuesday, as the largest vessel ever taken in the Great Lakes for liquor smuggling, came this afternoon when its Canadian owners put up $175,000 bond. She cleared immediately for Port Stanley, Ont., twenty-four hours behind her regular schedule.

The vessel is held under the bond, pending decision in libel proceedings brought against her here, Tuesday, by Collector of Customs Miner G. Norton. Federal officials at Conneaut charged they found 33 cases of Canadian ale in the captain's quarters when the ferry docked Tuesday morning.

Additional arrests for the alleged illegal operation of the ferry are expected, federal authorities announced. Captain J. Van Buskirk, master of the vessel, pleaded not guilty to charges of smuggling, late today, when arraigned before United States Commissioner M. J. Monahan.

He was released under $10,000 bond, pending his appearance on Nov. 3.
Refused Entrance.
The ferry was refused entrance papers, and libel proceedings were immediately started by Assistant United States District Attorney Howell Leuck, when the ale and beer was reported discovered in the captain's quarters. Federal agents at Conneaut made the raid as a final step in a campaign to stop the flow of liquor to that territory from Canada.

Seizure of the Marquette and Besmer car ferry No. 2 at Conneaut, Ohio, yesterday, marked the biggest boat capture on the Great Lakes for smuggling liquor. The boat is 338 feet long, and valued at $400,000. It is owned by the M. and
B. Navigation, of Walkerville, Ont.

The vessel was carrying a heavy patition in bending the iron bar. The bar was carefully hid behind a radiator.

The prisoner, Kurz, was questioned about the attempted break, and laid the blame on a young American lad, Kaminiski, who was convicted of a jail delivery, a search of the institution was made by Governor Lutz
and Turney McGregor on Sunday.

In the corridor occupied by Clarence Kurz, alias William Dawson, and an Indian, was found a heavy iron bar, weighing perhaps three pounds and heavy enough to inflict serious injury, and a heavy metal spoon used at the prisoner's table.

The bar was removed from a window casing and the spoon used as a screwdriver in taking down the boards. The screw holes were plugged with soap and covered with paint scraps, ruling out the possibility of a search in bending the iron bar. The Kaminiski, who was convicted of a

jail delivery, a search of the institution was made by Governor Lutz
and Turney McGregor on Sunday.

In the corridor occupied by Clarence Kurz, alias William Dawson, and
an Indian, was found a heavy
iron bar, weighing perhaps three pounds and heavy enough to inflict serious injury, and a heavy metal
spoon used at the prisoner's table.

The bar was removed from a window casing and the spoon used as a screwdriver in taking down the boards. The screw holes were plugged
with soap and covered with paint scraps, ruling out the possibility of a search in bending the iron bar. The bar was carefully hid behind a radiator.

SEEK EXTINCTION ECONOMIC WALLS

Parliamentary Union Would Wipe Out International Barriers.

Associated Press Despatch.
Washington, Oct. 7.—The inter-parliamentary union conference, in the final session here today, adopted a resolution calling for an investigation of economic barriers between union nations with a view to their ultimate extinction.

The resolution, which was adopted without objection, was introduced by H. J. Procopio of Finland, as a substitute for one presented by Adolph Braun of Germany, recommending the creation of a customs understanding between European nations.

The Procopio resolution directs a subcommittee of the conference commission on economic and financial questions to study the problem and report to the next conference.

Wants U. S. Start.
Pointed suggestions made by delegates to the interparliamentary union's conference that the Washington government again take the leadership in promoting reduction of world armaments were answered today by Representative Theodore Burton of Ohio, in an address before the closing session.

Referring to the desire often expressed by the president for a new limitation of armaments conference, Mr. Burton said: "Various propositions are being considered in various European conferences, and it would be an intrusion for our president to initiate such a conference while these efforts are being made."

He made it clear later, however, that he was speaking on his own account, and was not inspired to make the statement by the White House.

St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—An attempt

Tipped off by a released prisoner who had heard two of the inmates of the jail discuss plans for making a jail delivery, a search of the institution was made by Governor Lutz

SOLUTION OF RACE PROBLEM TO TREAT ALL COLORED MEN EQUAL

Associated Press Despatch.
Bathbourne, Sussex, England, Oct.
7.—The only practical solution of the race problem is "to treat all colored men as an equal of absolute equality," Viscount Willingdon, former governor of Bombay, declared in an address today before the Anglican church congress.

Dealing with the same problem,
J. H. Oldham, secretary of the international missionary council, said:
"A solid white front would certainly and inevitably mean solid yellow, solid brown and solid black fronts, which in the end could have only one meaning—war."

Electric Trains
For Branch Lines
Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Oct. 7.—The Canadian National Railways' new all-electric system may be based on the operation of two branch lines in this district, between the main line and Petrolia, and from Sarnia to Stratford. This was learned, following the visit of inspection today of J. C. Garden, of the C. N.
R. locomotive department at Toronto. While no definite information is yet available, it is known that the operation of a more economical service between the main line and Petrolia has been a matter of concern for the railway management for a long time.

SHOWDOWN SURE

Ald. Singer, Liberal Candidate, Welcomes Court Case To Air Truth.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 7.—Acting on the request of Russell Nesbitt, solicitor for H. C. Hocken, Conservative candidate in Toronto Centre West in the general elections for the house of commons, Police Magistrate Browne today issued summonses against Max Clayver and F. R. White, both workmen for Joseph Singer, Liberal candidate in the same riding, charging perjury.

The charge is laid under section 175 of the criminal code, and arises out of affidavits made and filed by the registrar of the riding in connection with removal of names from the voters' lists. Mr. Hocken alleges that 1,500 qualified voters were struck off the list.

Mr. Singer says he welcomes the charges brought against his workers as "an opportunity of placing before the public the condition in which the voters' lists now stand." The summonses are returnable in the police court tomorrow.

After a strenuous day of campaigning on Vancouver Island yesterday, Hon. Arthur Meighen conducted a whirlwind one-day tour of the Vancouver district today. He appeared greatly improved in health. The slight indisposition which compelled him to cancel a meeting in the Comox-Alberni riding yesterday, is passing.

Mr. Meighen addressed a gathering in a local shipyard in support of the candidate of G. H. Morden, in the new constituency of North Vancouver. He spoke briefly, outlining his policies and appealing for a change of

YOUTHFUL CRIMINAL RECEIVES SENTENCE
Clarence Erb Given Eighteen Months by Goderich
Magistrate.

Special to The Advertiser.
Goderich, Oct. 7.—Appearing before Magistrate Chas. A. Reid here, Clarence Erb, formerly of Baden, was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary for hold-up.

Some months ago, Erb entered a store in Kintail, and at the point of a revolver demanded money and food of the clerk, a young lady, who dashed for help in the rear of the store. Erb made a getaway, but later was apprehended by the police of Perth county for theft, and sentenced to one year in jail. Then he was handed over to the Huron county authorities on the hold-up charge.

Already, Erb has a jail record, having spent three years in penitentiary for theft at Port Colborne, and a period in Woodstock jail for a similar offence. As yet, the prisoner has not attained 20 years of age, which influenced the court to leniency in this serious charge.

See the Historic St. Lawrence

on your voyage to Europe

To residents of North America no river in the world embraces such wealth of historic romance as the mighty St. Lawrence.

Up its great waters, the brave pioneers of New France travelled on their voyages of discovery and settlement—the renowned Jacques Cartier to found the city of Montreal, nine hundred miles from the sea; the courageous La Salle on his long journey to the Mississippi; the gallant Champlain to found Quebec; the devout Recollet Fathers on their missions to the Indians.

Travelling on the St. Lawrence Route to Europe one starts at Montreal and for two or three days the beauties and historic features of the river pass before one in entrancing panorama. To view them adds immeasurably to the pleasure of the overseas voyage.

Thousands Go To Donnybrook On Fair's Seventieth Anniversary

Prosperous Western Ontario Farmers Well Represented at Dorchester.

EXHIBITS GOOD

Million Dollars in Motor Cars Provides Modern Setting For Classic Fair.

Special To The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Dorchester, Oct. 7.—Motor cars by the hundreds were driven into the ditches at Donnybrook Fair today, providing a background for an exhibition of the cream of Western Ontario's horsemanship.

For 70 years Dorchester's Donnybrook Fair has been an undiminished attraction for city and rural folk. That the annual show has gained in favor throughout the years was proven by the throngs that passed through the gates this afternoon.

Carpeted with grass as fresh as the autumn breezes, flanked by trees decked in the golden, red and orange tints of fall, the fair grounds looked their prettiest for the carnival day. Thomas Chilton, veteran fair enthusiast, was on duty at the gate until after 4 o'clock. He reported to the secretary's office that a million dollars' worth of motor cars had been parked along the roads leading to the park, and that the attendance was greater than last year.

In the enclosure, the heavy work horses, dressed in nickel and brass-mounted trappings, pruned to the music of the Springfield band as the proud owners paced them before a crowded grandstand.

Along the race-track railings men and women, together with the usual number of small boys, cast a critical eye over a number of fast harness horses that fretted in their sulks before the heats.

Then the spans of driving horses stepped around the ring while the crowds left the automobile show to see the rubber-tired buggies.

Midway Is Popular.

Along the crowded midway the traditional brickbat throwing of the Donnybrook of old gave place to the hurling of baseballs at ferocious-looking sawdust-stuffed cats.

Games of skill and games of chance drew the visitors away from the hot-dog and synthetic lemonade stands, while the cries of the barkers clashed with the classic music that went out from the music booth.

The motor car show was well patronized. The number of exhibits was greater than last year. The products of the soil came in for considerable attention. Trucks filled with watery watermelons and those sweet concord grapes found ready buyers.

The Donnybrook Fair is the meeting ground of the old-timers. Many of them called at the office of Secretary B. R. Barr in search of old friends. Among these was William Sutton, a miller of Simcoe. Mr. Sutton learned his trade in the Parker mill at Dorchester 61 years ago. Today he met the sons of the first man he worked for. One of the first men he sought when he arrived on the grounds was William Shaw, who has lived in Dorchester many years.

Mr. Sutton said that he had noticed many of the old landmarks as he came through the town. It had grown considerably since he left, and many of the favorite haunts of his boyhood days had disappeared.

AMMUNITION AND ARMS SHIPPED CHINESE REDS

Foreign Occupation of Canton by Anti-Reds Only Alternative.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Oct. 7.—A despatch from Reuters' correspondent in Hong Kong says, "Prominent British merchants, who have returned from Canton report that further shipments of arms and ammunition to the Bolsheviks there are expected shortly."

"They predicted that the combined Russian and Red Chinese forces from Canton would crush the advancing anti-red forces and completely sovietize Canton unless prevented by speedy foreign occupation of Canton on behalf of the anti-red forces, which they termed the only alternative to complete Bolshevik domination in South China."

AMERICAN LABOR SPURNS PURCELL

British Delegate Gets Cold Reception When World Union Urged.

Associated Press Despatch.

Atlantic City, N.J., Oct. 7.—An appeal to American labor by Arthur A. Purcell, member of the British parliament, to establish close relations with the organized workers of Russia was spurned in dramatic fashion today by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, at its annual convention.

Mr. Purcell, who is president of the international federation of trades unions, and a fraternal delegate of the British Trades Union congress, had addressed the delegates, urging solidarity among the toilers of the world. After telling of his recent visit to Russia and his study of industrial conditions there, he made his appeal.

His words were greeted with silence, but he received perfunctory applause at the conclusion of his address when he complimented American labor.

When President Green arose to speak, there was curiosity as to whether he would at that time take notice of Mr. Purcell's appeal. He said: "I want to be frank and kindly in all I say, but we in America know something of the teachings of communism and the control the communist party exercises over the so-called international. We know that influence emanating from Moscow is seeking, as it has always sought, not to co-operate with us, but to capture and control us. They call the officers and representatives of the American labor movement fakers, crooks and scabs. They declare frankly that they do not believe in collective bargaining. They do not see in any strike an opportunity to increase wages, to shorten hours, to improve the condition of the employment of workers, but they see in every strike an opportunity for revolution."

Before making his appeal, Mr. Purcell said that "times we live in are too big, too fraught with fate, to permit little prejudices barring the way to human relationships. . . . I say that you, people, strong, patient, hard-working and clever. These people are building up a new economy and a new life. . . . I hope and trust that the workers of America, have much to learn from Russia. We must not be afraid of new ideas. It has often struck me that while the Americans are the most advanced—the most receptive—in ideas concerning mechanical invention and business organization, they have been slow in accepting new social and political ideas."

"Just as the British trades unions have sent delegations to Russia, so the Federation of Labor will do the same."

LUTHER DECLARES GERMANS SINCERE
Want Permanent Covenant.
Chancellor Tells French Minister.

Associated Press Despatch.
Locarno, Switzerland, Oct. 7.—Not only peace now, but peace for all time, is Germany's desire. The German chancellor, Dr. Luther, so informed M. Briand, the French foreign minister, today, in a private consultation of the two statesmen, which stands out conspicuously as the biggest single event since the opening of the security conference.

The two leaders stole quietly away from Locarno, and, meeting at a secluded spot on the shore of Lake Maggiore, had a frank talk on European problems as a whole, and especially how best to consolidate the peace of Europe.

This meeting of conciliation, marked by an expression of the determination of both statesmen to do everything humanly possible to banish the Franco-German war spectre, has injected a new ray of optimism into the political atmosphere, despite the fact that it did not result in the fashioning of a formula whereby France can guarantee, in a special way, the territorial integrity of Poland and Czechoslovakia, her allies.

That problem will require a consultation of the cabinets at Paris and Berlin, for France and Germany will find it difficult yielding from their original position without the support of their home governments and home parliaments.

The conference itself, which met for only an hour today, achieved no substantial progress. The spokesmen of the various delegations admitted this, but they qualified it with the declaration that fresh suggestions were forthcoming concerning the necessity of a clean-cut understanding that compulsory arbitration must be the guiding principle of the Rhine pact. This is what the allies have been contending for, and the jurists were asked to frame new articles dealing with this subject. Presumably these articles will be discussed at the plenary session tomorrow, which is fixed for 2:30 p.m.

Gustav Stresemann's condition improved today. The drop in his temperature and the disappearance of the swelling in his throat, aided by sunshine and balmy air, put him in such splendid humor that, talking in an animated manner, he stopped at a tea shop and consumed three fancy cakes.

EFFECTS OF STRIKE FELT IN COAL DISTRICT

Business Beginning To Feel Effect of Struggle.

Associated Press Despatch.
Scranton, Pa., Oct. 7.—Business throughout the anthracite field, where 158,000 miners have been idle since September 1, is beginning to feel the effects of the struggle between the operators and their men over the adoption of a new agreement.

Almost everywhere there is heard complaints regarding business dullness, and among merchants there is strong hope that an early settlement may be reached.

Miners are reported to be running short of ready cash, except where they have children on whom they can depend for earning enough to pay their rent and grocery bills. Banks, however, report that there has been little withdrawal of savings accounts.
