THE CHRISTIAN'S DEATH.

Come and behold the Christian die No quivering lip, nor bursting sigh. Are his: sor pangs his bosom rend—How still and peaceful is his end.

Behold him gaze with face screne Beyond this life's tempestuous scene; Its waves may roll, and billows roar, But all is calm on Cansan's shore.

What sounds scraphic fill his car,
From hovering lands of angels near;
He bids the world a long adieu,
While heaven's bright glories rise in view.

" He dies! even now his soul has fled.

And friends, bereaved, weep o'er the dead, Not hopeless: faith, triomphant, throws A halo round the saint's repose. Call not this death ;" 'tis sadyed rest.

The smile upon the still wan face. Bespeak's the spirit's dwelling place. And that cold form of hielers clay, Will rise amid the world's decay, Beholding with unrufiled eye, The hour of nature's agony.

Come and behold the Christian die, His gaze of rapture to the sky:

As if to him a glimpse were given—
A glorious glimpse of life from heaven.

IRELAND.

On the 1st November there were 759 persons in the gaols of Ireland committed s dangerous lunatics. The Limeric Examiner says, "There is a lady at present an inmate of the workhouse here whose husband was High Sheriff of this County a few years back." The Newry Telegraph has an account of the eviction of fifteen families in Milltown, in the vicinity. of Lough Neagh. Is is stated that the evicted parties were very poor, utterly unable to pay rent or till the land ; and that the estate from which they were ejected is in Chancery. ENGLAND.

HUNGARIAN EMIGRANTS TO THE UNITED STATES .- The United States Mail Steamer Hermann, Capt. G. Crabtree, Arrived at Southampton on Sunday, the 19th November, from Bremen, en route to New York .-The Hermann had about 80 passensers from Bremen to New York, among whom are some Hungarian Celebrites .- One of then is Ladislas Ujhazy, ex Cred Governor of, the Fortress of Comorn, who proceeds to the United States, intending to form a Hungarian Colony. He has letters of introduction to Gen. Taylor, President of the Republic, to Hon. Mr. Bancroft, and er men of distinction in Ar is accompanied by his two sons and two daughters; and by several Hungarian officers, who appeared on the deck of the Hermann, dressed in the picturesqe military costume of Hungary. Ladislas Ujhazy, is an aged and venerable looking man, with a flowing and grey beard and mustachies, and wearing a semiorintal dress.

board this steamer is Mademoiselle Apolonia Jaggela who bore the rank of Lientenant in a regiment of cavalry during the Hungarian war, and was subsequently Adjutant of the army in the fort of Comorn during the time that city he'd out against the Austrians. Mademoise'le Jagella is represented to have been present in several engagements during the dlungarian insurrection, and to have fought with much gellantry. She proved herself a great adept in street-fighting, and boasts of laving slain a fair number of Austrian solders .-In appearance Mademoisefle Jageila is far from repulsive, her features bearing a pleasant but determined expression. It may be satisfactory for the reader to know that this lady is now under engagement to be married to a young Hungarian officer, immediately on arrival at New York.

THE LEAGUE.

The burning of public buildings in the Metropolis, and riots, bloodshed and loss of life in the country, presented an apalling picture of the social and political condition of the country; and rendered a movement of some description actually necessary.— The British American League was thus brought into existence. Its object was to inggest remedies for the com n which existed .- to allay the well The LI. section of the Act authorizes "the Government and people. How far the Association have succeeded in carrying out of Education for their County."

The LII. section enacts, "That the said Board of Education exacts, "That the said Board of Education exacts are the Education exacts and the Education exacts are the Education exacts and the Education exacts are the Education exacts ceded that the first meeting of the Convention, which took place at Kingwton, effected some real good; and held out bright promises for the future. The second meeting, at Toronto, called together unadvisedly, at a time when no Convention was remissioned to the convention of the second meeting of the convention of the quisite, for the sole purpose of keeping to lew disappointed demagogues prominently before the country, assuredly led to no use ful result. On the contrary, the combina-tion which had been formed during the re-cess, and the republican principles contendwho said they would have withdrawn if their, scheme of an elective Legislative Council was defeated, on sober second thought de-termined to make another effort, and by their true cotors. Brockrine, which craims the credit of starting the League, has just declared for an elective Governor and Council; whils: Elizabethtown, the Township that is controlled by Mr. G.van, in addition to the Brockville "platform," supports elective Magistrates, household suffrage, and the election of all local officers; in brief, a democracy of the wildest form, compared to which the well balanced constitution of the United States is Conservative and practically practically Monarchical!

Now, taking fit to consideration the objects for which the League was established—the progress made by the Republicans at the last meeting—and the wild and starting theories which they have proposed since accomplish their designs, they will with-draw and start an Association of their own. Were this democratic mischief confined to is to retire with dignity, maintain true Conservative principles even under discouraging circumstances, and permit the demagorues to pursue their course, unaided and despised. We know the men—some of them at least, well—and are fully convinced that they desire to make capital for them-selves, at the expense of their confiding and unsuspicious friends. The League at present answers their purpose, and they will remain with it. When it ceases to be useful, or becomes refractory, they will castit aside-set themselves up in tion, and whilst propounding the most visionary and levelling theories, endeavor to entrap the unwary by professions of loyalty, and point to their abandoned Conservative principles—as the devil affects vir-tue—the better to secure the objects they now have in view.

ve can see no necessity for a Convention we can see no necessity for a Convention at the present moment; unless, indeed, we are to adopt the plan of our American neighbors, and revise the Constitution itself.— This is the intention of a portion of the League; but we don't think they will meet with much assistance in the Western country. We shall return to this subject.— In the meantime, the following warning, from the Kingston News, is deserving the attention of the different Branches;

Let our contemporary of Toronto beware of this elective scheme—the first in the programme of Annexation. If he looks gramme of Annexation. If he looks around him a little, he will see the prospectus drawn out in this form:

Elective Council; Elective Governor: Elective Magistrates; Household, or Universal Suffrage;

Universal Suffrage;
Independence—for a day;
Annexation!
We fear not the open and manly attacks of the Annexationists, for these are already becoming "small by degrees, and beautifully less;" but we do fear for the peace and the prosperity of the country, if the spacious demagoguism which has lately been exhibited in quarters where its rely been exhibited in quarters where its pre-sence might have been least expect d, is nipped in the bud, and the energies of the people seriously devoted to questions bearing upon their material progress.

From the Pilot.

In our last we gave insertion to the Cir. cular Letter of dismissal to those Justices of the Peace who have identified them selves with the Annexation movement.— As a fair specimen of the kind of defence that these gentlemen set up for their misconduct, we subjoin the following detter of reply from Mr. Holmes to the Secretary of the Province. We scarcely think this morceau, which may fairly be ranked a-of the new position which the Annexationits now assume. At first they gave as an excuse that they were forced into the agitation by the "resolve of England to invest us with the attributes, and compel us to assume the burdens of Independence;"—now they take a different ground. They have ascertained that Great Britain will, according to Mr. Holmes, "affec no obstacle to forth in the Address. In conclusion, I beg to remind you that my name was inserted some nine years past in a commission for the construction and management of the Turnpike Roads leading from and into the City of Montreal. The duties of Chairman to that Trust has absorb ed no little portion of my time up to the date of the completion of the work, and ome trouble and anxiety since. that happy to announce that they have completed arrangements with Mesers. Chambers, of Edinburgh, for the re-publication, in semimonthly rumbers, of Chambers Miscellant.

The design of the Miscellant is to supply the increasing demand for useful, instructive, and entertaining reading, and to bring all the side of literature to bear on the cultivation of the feelings of the people—to impress correct views on important moral and social questions—suppress every species of strife and savagery—cheer the

The universally acknowldged merits of the Cyclopedia of English Literature. by the same author, connected with its rapid sale, and the unbounded commendation bestowed by the press, give the publishers full confidence in the real value and entire success of the present work.

real value and entire success.

The publication has already commenced, and will be continued semi-monthly. Each number will form a complete work, and every third number will be furnished with a title page and table of contents, thus forming a beautifully illustrated volume of over 500 pages of useful and entertaining reading, adapted to every class of readers. The whole to be completed in THIRTY SUBBRESS, forming Ten elegant Volumes.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.
