She had carried out to the letter Peter the Great's will, which he (Dr. Wild) would give to the Yorkville News man to publish. Hamilton, Aug. 26.—At an early hour this morning some of the residents in the neighborhood of the corner of John and Main streets were awakened by the sound of a crash of earthenware and a heavy thud on the sidewalk and a policeman appearing on the seene found a man lying in an insensible state. It appears that the man, whose name is Wm. Bachring, was a boarder in the Germania hotel, and while asleep stepped out of the opened window of his sleeping room and fell a distance of over 40 feet to the street, carrying several flower pots with him. When aroused he did not seem badly injured and was able, with assistance, to walk back to his room. Dr. Stark was called to make an examination. He reports no serious injuries. Seven rounds were fought and Oram was terribly punished and Emerson was considerably used up. When Oram was whipped to a stand still and the seconds threw up the sponge, he complained of pains in the head and chest and took a glass of brandy. The lake was still heaving and tossing from the effects of the afternoon's gale, and on the from the effects of the atternoon's gate, and the surface of the disturbed waters the mornlight lay and stretched away from one's feet in a wedge-shaped band of splendor. It tipped with silver the rippling waves, and brought out into strong relief an occasional sub-boat that fifthed across the gittering track. POREST PRESERVATION.

The North American people are gradually waking up to a recognition of the im portance of carfully conserving such timber limits as have escaped destruction by lumbermen. The business of the latter in various districts has been carried on with the most reckless extravagance and with little or no regard to the preservation of the forests whence the supply comes. So long as the average lumberman is able to obtain any quantity of his staple commodity he cares little about the effects on Canadian limits have been completely thinned down. Thirty years ago the pine forests of Maine were considered inexhaust. ible and that state was by far the greatest source of supply on the continent. According to the New York Nation those forests are to-day not worth consideration as factors in the country's supply of lumber. A great deal of the pine consumed in Maine comes now from Cauada and Michigan.

With regard to Canadian limits more particularly the pineries, it cannot be said that they are inhaustible. The most extensive pine limits in Canada are evidently there lying north of Lakes Superior and Huron, extending eastward towards the Ottawa districts. The New Brunswick limits and those of the Upper Ottawa, have been pretty well decimated although they still yield a certain quantity at the present enormous rate of consumption and exportation, two or three dealers will probably find our supply of first-class timber well exhausted unless steps are taken to check mmediate waste, and preserve what forests are lelt us. The Lake Superior forests will be to a great extent required to supply the enermous demand from the treeless regions of the west; and the trade with the States and Great Britain, is also becoming a considerable drain, so that it will soon become an imperative duty to take strong measures in this direction, if we are to maintain our prestige. as one of the greatest timber producing countries in the world.

FREETHINKERS IN CONVENTION. Some six hundred freethinkers from all parts of New York state closed their con vention at Watkins Glen yesterday. A glance at the papers show that these worthy people have undertaken a big job. As a Brooklyn paper wittly remarks : "It is mistake to imagine that these freethinkers only aim at the emancipation of mankind from religious dogma and clerical profession. Their warfare is against things as they are generally, and their fundamental principle is that whatever is is wrong At the first session yesterday every speaker came forward in the role of an iconoclast or idol smasher, and seemed to be intlated with the responsibility of Hamlet: "The time is out of joint; O cursed spite! Our old friend Robert G. Ingersoll is at the head of a committee of eleven appointed

FOR SERIOUS REFLECTION. The World has no desire to be a "bear on the Northwest; we earnestly hope for the speedy development of that magnificent heritage of Canadians; but at the same time we shall never, allow ourselves to be a party to alluring people into that country under rush into the Northwest this season as was expected in some quarters—why Sir Leonard Tilley's predictions as to populaion have not been realized.

In the first place one capital drawback has been the distribution of the land. Let us see who have been provided for.

1. To head the list come the honorabl the Hudson's Bay company. They had trading posts and supply farms. Many thousands of acres are represented under this head.

company. There are thousands of acres locked up in their names and acquired in various ways. These and the first men tioned were secured before Canada came into the control of the country.

3. When Canada acquired that country one of the conditions of surrender on th part of the Hudson Bay Co., was that onetwentieth of all the land should go to the ompany. As a consequence if you look at the survey maps you will see that the greater part of two out of every thirty-six sections constituting a township is marked for the Hudson Bay Co.

3. With the acquirement of the land cam esponsibilities. The Indians and halfbreeds had to be placated and great tracts of country were set apart for them. In our estimation they were the only ones entitled to such consideration.

5. Then came the officials. Surveyor who were sent up there to lay out the country, secured immense estates for themselves in one way or another. And acting in concert with those who went up there were officials at Ottawa who looked out for them-

6. After these are the school lands. Large quantities have, perhaps properly, been set apart for the promotion of education.

7. Then in all its immensity looms up the Canada Pacific railway with its twenty five million of acres of selected lauds.

8. The local and branch railways have also secured or are promised lands, squar mile after sau are mile.

9. And close at the heels of the syndicate come the land companies, alias coloniza tion companies, who have also acquired

10. The rear in this motly and noisey procession of land-grabbers is brought up by the individual speculators-mostly politicians of a questionable boquet. They have got large sections of land into their the forest. What with these and other hands by very uncertain means and for > the hardy sons of toil, the bone and sines of the land? They do not come in at all. All these other grabsters have been provided for, and the people are expected to buy from them. It is true that there is much land left in the hands of the government. But all of it has been picked over. With the exception of the Hudson Bay lands and the school lands, which are certain specified sections in every township, all these other land owners have selected their immense estates from the bes

> The Hudson Bay officials the surveyors the politician-speculators would only take choice lands—lands along the banks of streams, where wood was plenty, where coal was said to exist, where the pasturage was luxuriant, and where the soil was fer tile. They avoided bad lands. The syn dicate, it will be remembered, select their lands. So do the colonization companies So did the half-breed Indians. So did the

If the settler, the true representative o the people, goes up there and picks on a lot, ing pretty plainly that because He "made ten chances to two it is secured by some a scourge of small cords" (which there is one else. He will have to buy it from the no evidence He used even upon the animals) railway, or the Hudson Bay company, or a and drove out those who were making a half-breed, or Mr. Speculator, or the colon- gain of apparent godliness expelled their ization company.

This, then, is the first of the capital drawbacks to the Northwest. Everybody has got land but the settler. His very existence has almost been overlooked. In stead of the land for the settler it has so far been for some one else.

The second great drawback is the existence of a railway monopoly. The settlers and traders of that country are at the mercy of a single railway corporation, who can impose what rates they like, who can keep out all rival lines. Loud complaints of I have nowhere said that parents should be a said that the grinding charges on freight are heard from all quarters. Our railway history in Onta-

A fourth capital drawback is the attempt that has been made to introduce aristocratic ideas and flunkvism into the Northwest. Earl Dufferin and his less able successor are the two great sinners in this respect. Already an immense landed aristocracy has been created. English dukes and lords been created. English dukes and lords have been encouraged to come out here and acquire other and vaster domains to those held by them in Great Britain and Ireland. Vice-regal trips of very questionable character have been made, and imperial ideas started. It is a fact that emigrants from the monarchies of Europe have avoided and sought the unalloyed republican institutions of the United States. Lord

Lorne thinks of little but planting imperial ideas in Canada. His last act in this line was the christening of the new capital of the Northwest, Regina!

If then the government and true friends of the Northwest are disappointed at its progress, if they find men like Gen. Hewon taking the official figures and deducing therefrom unpalatable inferences, they nust set themselves to the task of removing three of these four capital defects. If they do not things will get worse instead of better. There must be more disposition shown to look after the interest of the settler, not the pocket of the speculator; the railway monopoly must be curtailed; and the aristocratic idea must not be allowed spread. The Northwest is a fertile land; to spread. The Northwest is a fertile land; in Moses' seat." then in so far as he teaches from the law of Moses, viz: the term governed; just now the trend is in the other direction. It may become the strong right arm of a great and independent Canadian commonwealth; the outlook to-day is in the direction of repudiation by exasper-ated settlers and secession into the United

The first room we entered was the large dining-hall. The boys had just fluished dinner, and the dishes were being replaced on the different tables ready for supper. Each table seats ten boys, and at each place we noticed a large soup plate, a bowl and a spoon. The boys themselves were replacing the dishes, having previously washed them. From this room we passed through an arched hall, and came to a dormitory containing eighty beds, which looked very inviting to eur weary party every one of them being airy, cleanly and as white as snow. Porter-house steaks, the fashionable rival of rump and "point" steaks at West thickly hung with pictures of interesting subjects) containing a large number of chairs, a platform and desk. On enquiry we found this was the theatre, the boys very often giving recitations, songs and the like, and sometimes a concert is got up for them by outsiders. Having taken a peep into the school-room, we passed on to the Catholic chapel, a very neat one. There is also a Protestant chapel, so that boys who have particular religious learnings may attend either one they choose. The Protestant boys are about twe to one Catholic. The boys take turns in attending school. Those who go in the morning work in the afternoon, and then allow those who have afternoon, and then allow those who have porter-house. Adjacent to the main building is the gymnasium, from which were issuing the metallic strains of a band. The boys were practising. If the lads have any taste for natural beauty they find it here. The view from the different windows is beautiful. The narrow land-locked bay lies at their feet surrounded by the deep green foliage which looks impenetrable. Everything about the place has an air of neatiness and cleanliness which the boys appreciate. We could not help thinking on our return home what a blessing it must prove to some of these lads to be taken away from vile companions and placed where they are well-cared for. Surely the influence brought to bear upon them here is not entirely lost as soon as they are given their liberty. The superintendent told us that he heard frequently from the boys after their leaving the place, and in many instances they were doing well for themselves."

Mr. E. M. Gifford, of the Norway Iron Works, Boston, Mass., gave the following description to a Boston Globe representative as auggesting the special propriety of the points he makes in favor of the popular article mentioned below. Mr. Gifford oberves: I am connected with the Norway fron Works, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country. There is more St. Jacobs Oil used by the men in the works than I would like to state, least you would put me down as a romancer. They use it right along for everything, and it use it right along for everything, and it does its work every time. I never thought anything advertised in the papers could take such a hold among men. You see those who work in hot iron are constantly receiving hurts in one way or another, the most common being burns. Well, there is nothing equal to St. Jacobs Oil for burns. It takes all the fire out instantly—not after continued applications—but instantly. Therefore, you will at once perceive that it is an invaluable remedy to men who are constantly having ther flesh to men who are constantly having ther flesh singed by red-hot iron. Oh, yes, many have used it in rheumatic affections, and I have I have nowhere said that parents should not train and control their offspring. I have only pointed out that no real control can ever be achieved by means of brute force control in and buy it and place it in the hands ever be achieved by means of brute force either in the family or the state. Modern civilization already tacitly admits this in the government of the state and bases its rule upon either real or simulated righteous mess which aims at preserving the individual liberty of each citizen, thus making each a free man and a guide unto himself, unless he ghastly, quivering wound exposed to the air, and a fainting, agonized wretch writhing with pain. Many a time I have seen a same protection for its immates against livered by the St. Jacob's Oil as if by magic. Only the other day a boy got frightsame protection for its immates against lieved by the St. Jacob's Oil as if by ma"assault and battery," which is accorded to the grown-up citizen. But I object as much to the interference of the civil at work. The wound was a very bad one. much to the interference of the civil rower to prevent the influences of moral sussion on the part of the parent is guiding his child or the child in directing his parent, as I would to interference with that parent's power of moral sussion and guidance of his fellow man.

law for protection where their parents too brutal and too degraded either to law for protection where talest parent too brutal and too degraded either to afford it themselves or to invoke its aid against others on their childrens' behalf. This is a much simpler and more effective method than "Parent's" suggestion of governmental supervision of factories.

"Parent's" suggestion also that girls of fifteen act wisely in preferring the degrading punishment of a slave to the temporary loss of employment at say three dollars a week is positively hurtful teaching. Are our girls to prefer money to decency?—bread, and a pittance at that, to self-respect? The fact is that children and minors are the only class now-a-days who are slaves, legally devoid of protection against personal abuse and deprived of all personal appeal.

"Parent's" quotation is not very apt as regards Solomon. If Solomon is implied by him to be one of those "scribes who sit in Moses' seat." then in so far as he commandments it is right to observe and do; but not to do these commandments

WHAT IS CATARRH ?

Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite anneba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favourable circumstances, and these are: morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, texcemea, from retention of the effeted matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

A great variety of symptoms are present in this affection, which are modified by the specific poison which gives rise to it, to wit:—tubercle, syphilis, mercury, suppressed function of the skin and toxcemea generally, but they consist chiefly of languor, lassitude, debility, mal-assimilation, derangement of secretions, great depression of the nervous system, with or without fever; aching; a bruised or beat feeling all over; shivering; confused feelings in the head; cerebral disturbance.

The want of proper respiratory function of the skin and the locar pressure of the parasite give rise to coryza, tonsilitis, sneezing, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swailowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest, dry or moist rales, hemorrhages.

There may be a discharg: quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation,

There may be a discharg: quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion. It may be dry if the nultiplication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pargent odor of ozena is never present until the spores or roots of the germ penetrate to the cartilages of the nose, then the parasitical formation makes rapid inroads into the healthy structure of the nose.

30 Catarrh is usually met in three stages, First—A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, with or without a discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores or sporules of the amoeba have penetrated to the bone or cartilages-ozena. Third—Where the parasite has spread and propagated by millions in the nose, posterior nares, up the custachian tubes, down the lauces, vocal cords and bronchi, causing excessive parasitical ulceration and destruction of tissue, the parasite mapping the normal structure.

The mode of propagation is by contagion, or infection, or both—hence its prevalence in families, districts, etc. The parasite develops itself rapidly, so much so that millions are elaborated in a short space of time. The effect of this formation upon the nervous system is to impair vital force, produce general nervous irritation, a depreciation of the vasomotor nerves. Cold in itself cannot produce Catarrh, it simply produces an irritation, a field for the propagation of the parasite. A large percentage of our population are affected with Catarrh, and its effects are not only ulceration and destruction of the larynx with loss of voice, a usurpation of the bronchial or pulmonary consumption and death. The vegetable parasite is the simplest living form known that lives upon one may is structureless, consisting of semi-fluid material; large or small in size, these masses can move in any direction and propagate indefinitely; these parasites may breed, feed and propagate upon the structure themselves.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease, by t proved by the success that has attended our treatment thus far.

We have certificates of cures, many of them in cases of very long standing, that had baffled all the preparations of the day, as well as the medical profession; and we have never yet failed to give every satistaction in a single case. Every attention is given to patients, and we spare no trouble in cases of very long standing.

The remedy and apparatus, which is so simple that a child can readily understand it, is furnished to the patient, and the treatment can be applied without loss of time or interference with occupation.

To those who are suffering from deafness caused by catarrh, we would say that the To those who are suffering from deafness caused by catarrh, we would say that the above treatment has been successful in restoring the hearing in a great number of cases, where the patient was almost entirely deaf.

Our experience for the past eighteen years demonstrates beyond a doubt that the greater majority of cases, no matter whether standing for one year or forty years, are permanently eured by one treatment—cures effected over a year ago being cures still. A very small percentage of cases require a second treatment, and a third is not necessary in more than two es out of a hundred.

The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eyes, etc.,

The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eyes, etc., caused by Catarrh, are removed by one treatment.

Sufferers are particularly requested not to confound our remedy with patent medicines, quack, or advertising doctors' nostrums—it is neither—but an honest cure for Catarrh, as thousands who have been cured can testify.

We have been offered heavy inducements by numerous patent medicine dealers to allow them to sell our remedy to Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as there is an extensive enquiry for it from all parts of the country. But after giving their propositions our serious consideration we have come to the conclusion that we cannot do this, there being so many different stages of Catarrh, the remedy must be prepared expressly for the patient after receiving a description of the case in order to effect a cure. Old and young, male and female, all require different treatment, and were we to place our remedy in the hands of the druggists we would be forced to prepare it all alike, in which case it would fail continually in effecting a cure, and the consequences would be that our remedy (invaluable when properly prescribed) would soon be classed among the patent medicine humbugs now on the market.

N:B.—As we wish to avoid the very appearance of quackery, we do not publish a long list of certificates of cures, such being the system employed by quacks and dealers in all hinds of nostrums, but prefer that the remedy shall stand upon its merits. At the same time we think that the public are entitled to references as to our reliability and integrity before forwarding their money for the remedy, and we submit the following well known names of Toronto (Canada) business men:—Wm. Norris & Son, Wholesale Piano Dealers; E. H. Tallmadge & Co., Wholesale Druggists; Hunter & Co., Wholesale Picture Dealers; Taylor, & Wilson, Cigar Manufacturers; Stuart W. Johnston, Retail Druggist.

In writing to either of the above, a stamped directed envelope should be enclosed to The following letters are samples of many received by us, and which go to show that, our treatment effects a rapid and permanent cure:

ТОКОНТО, Dec. 27, 1881. Mr. A. H. Dixon, No. 307 King St., West. Mr. A. H. Dixon: DEAR SIR,—As you asked me to write and report my condition after using your remedy for catarrh, I would say that I have remedy for catarrh, I would say that I have had a very satisfactory experience with your treatment. As I informed you when I first called, mine was a very aggravated case of over ten year's duration, the discharge and odour being something frightful, so much so that I was obliged at times to isolate myself from society. I have placed myself at different times under the treatment of five different eminent English physicians and specialists in the Old Country, and after a treatment of greater or less length they pronounced me incurable. I certainly never received a particle of benefit from any quarter until I tried your treatment, three weeks after commencing which, I was entirely rid of my catarrh, and am now a entirely rid of my catarrh, and am now a wound man. Your cure is a perfect boom to sufferers from this chronic complaint, and I do not think that you will ever meet a case that you cannot cure. I shall shortly some of your remedy to a near friend in Scotland who is suffering similarly.

THOROLD, Nov. 1, 1881. A. H. Dixon, Esq., Toronto: SIR,—I have great pleasure in informing you that after one treatment of your catarrh remedy, I am entirely recovered. I suffered from the disease for over three years, and during the last few months the catarrh was most aggravated. In fact, I scarcely had my handkerchief out of use for a moment. It is now six months since I was cured, and there is no return of the complaint. I re-

TORONTO, Dec. 20, 1881. DEAR SIR, -I deem it my duty, in the interest of those who are suffering from catarrh, to state that I suffered from this catarrh, to state that I suffered from this dreadful disease in a very aggravated form for a period of fifteen years. I was under the treatment of (here comes the name of a prominent specialist and physician, which, for obvious reasons, is omitted) for a year, he having guaranteed me a cure, without deriving the slightest benefit. I have also tried other treatments with a similar result, and which had the effect of thoroughly discouraging me. Finally, hearing that you had a cure for this disease, I called my out, and was treated by your method or, the 7th of November, 1880, and in ten days thereafter I was completely cured by one treat after I was completely cured by one treat ment, and I have had no return of th disease since that time, which is now over year ago. Judging from the effects of your treatment on myself, I am satisfied that yours is the only treatment for catarrhy which will effect a permanent cure.

I remain yours truly,

A. H. Dixon, Esq., 307 King St., West.

DEAR SIR,—We take pleasure in stating that our junior partner, who had for years been troubled with catarrh, was successfully cured by three treatments of your remedy. The catarrh was much aggravated with continual dropping into the threat, accompanied by loss of voice, hawking and spitting and blocking up of the nostrils, all of which we are pleased to say disappeared almost immediately after the remedy was applied. Your remedy is certainly an invaluable one and we hope all who may be suffering from this disagreeable disease will vive it a trial as we are satisfied they will find it a complete success.
