L. J. THOMAS INSTALLED WHEN MOTOR CAR TURNS TURTLE HIS BROTHER ESCAPES UNSCATHED

Fatality Happened on Kennedy Road When Occupants of Auto Attempted to Pass Rig and Were Overturned—Victim Was Well Known Buyer for Murray-Kay Co.

When C. A. Thomas, 58 Langley avenue, attempted to pass a farmer's rig while driving his motor-car on the Kennedy road at 8 o'clock last night, his car skidded on the moist grass at the side of the roadway, and, turning turtle, buried him and his brother, L. J. Thomas, beneath it, killing the latter instantly.

C. A. Thomas was picked up from under the car stumped, but he had escaped serious injury. According to Mr. Thomas, he and his brother were returning to the city along the Kennedy road, when just north of the Canadian Northern Railway bridge a farmer's rig was seen ahead of them.

In order to avert a collision, Mr. Thomas turned the car on the grass to the side of the roadway, and in doing so caused it to skid, and then almost immediately turn turtle. Both men were found beneath the auto, L. J. Thomas having been killed instantly.

It is claimed that the car was only traveling at a moderate speed. Dr. Counts of Agincourt, who arrived on the scene soon after the fatality had occurred, emphasized a jury from the ranks of the spectators gathered round the wrecked machine, which was a four passenger roadster, and opened an inquest at the spot where the accident had occurred. In this way the jury obtained a good idea of how the two vehicles were when the accident happened.

United States Express Rates Will Be Vigorously Slashed Other Reforms in Prospect

Companies Will Have Revenue Reduced About Twenty-Six Million Dollars Annually as Result of Interstate Commerce Commission's Order—Scale of Parcel Rates is Modified.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press).—Reductions in express rates which will cost the companies fully $26,000,000 a year—approximately sixteen per cent. of their gross revenue—were ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to become effective on or before October 15, 1913.

The most important change prescribed by the order is by way of modification of the present graduated scale of parcel rates. One hundred pound rates for short distances either have been left unchanged or slightly reduced. For packages more than four pounds going more than 200 miles and less than 2,000 the new express rates are generally lower than the parcel post rates; for more than 2,000 miles the rates are practically the same.

The general impression is that the express companies will attempt by legal means to obstruct the commission's order. The express had filed statements saying that the losses of revenue under the proposed rates would be intolerable, and argued strenuously that the establishment of the parcel post had deprived them of a huge per centage of the revenue they formerly received from parcels of 11 pounds or less.

Establishes Precedent. The new system of rates is not only a simplification of existing rate structures and methods, but in the opinion of rate experts have the foundation for future practice in all rate revisions. The commission's order is for two years only. The period will give abundant opportunity for a test of these rates under varying conditions amounting to normal average. In no other way can the absolutely proper rate basis for respondents be finally determined.

AUSTRALIA WILL PARTICIPATE IN CELEBRATION

Dominion Believes That Panama Canal Will Be of Commercial Advantage and Will Widen Market for Australia's Products.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Altho the mother country has refused to participate in the Panama Canal Exhibition, considerable satisfaction will doubtless be afforded the United States by the fact that the Australian Government intends to be represented at the exhibition.

The traders here are convinced that the growing market in the United States for primary Australian products will be assisted by the opening of the canal and the reduction of the United States duties foreshadowed in the tariff bill. The Hon. W. Glynn, minister for external affairs, has sketched out an extensive scheme for advertising Australia in the United States, and for the appointment of a number of commercial agents there.

LEADER POWELL BLAMED BY DRYS

Local Option Men in Brantford Say His Intrusion into Temperance Has Caused Setback.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 4.—(Special).—It was officially denied here today by President T. L. Wood of the local option committee, that the proposed campaign had been called off in Brantford. It was admitted, however, that the local temperance forces had thus far been very apathetic. Other members of the executive openly stated, when interviewed, that the temperance cause had received a severe setback in Brantford by the intrusion of N. W. Rowell in the temperance arena.

CAT RECOVERED LOST CANARY

READING, Pa., Aug. 4.—While Mrs. Franklin Woods was cleaning her canary bird's cage, the canary flew away. The family was not alone in grieving, the family cat seeming disconsolate, for it had long considered itself the special guardian of the bird, which was never afraid of it.

JURY BLAMES TWO AUTOISTS

GODERICH, Ont., Aug. 4.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in the inquest on the death of Joseph Reinhardt, the six-year-old boy who was killed by the kick of a horse last Thursday while driving to Goderich in a buggy with his parents, was as follows: "In our judgment the horse was frightened by Mr. Geo. Heyd's auto, and we consider the chauffeur, Thomas Hutton, was negligent in passing between the rigs of Mr. Reinhardt and Mr. Barker."

SEVEN IN HOUSE BURN TO DEATH

Quebec, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press).—Seven lives were lost in a fire which early this morning destroyed the home of Joseph Paquette at St. John Parish, Isle d'Orleans, some fifteen miles east of Quebec.

The dead are Mrs. Paquette, her five children, and an unknown woman who was staying in the house. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp, the flames spreading thru the frame cottage with tremendous rapidity.

Neighbors made a gallant attempt to rescue the imprisoned family, whose frantic cries for help attracted their attention, but only Mr. Paquette, who was terribly, tho, it is thought, not fatally, burned, and one child were rescued.

Mr. Paquette is a river pilot. He resides in Quebec in the winter, whose names of the dead are: Mrs. Joseph Paquette, 48 years; Alexandre Paquette, 24; Leonidas Paquette, 24; Marie Louise Paquette, 23; Emma Paquette, 20; Blanche Paquette, 13, and a woman not identified.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE TO OPPOSE SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT

Buffalo, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press).—The organization of a Catholic Women's League that proposes to counteract the radical tendency of the woman's movement, including their demand for the use of the ballot, marked today's session of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein, which is holding its convention here.

HOLIDAY GROWS TAXED TRAINS, BOATS, CARS

Over Ninety Thousand Pleasure Seekers Passed Thru the Union Station Yesterday, While Thousands Spent the Day at Beaches, in Parks, and at the Island.

Numerous as were the attractions offered to Toronto people to spend the day within the city limits, one tenth of the citizen body passed thru the Union Station yesterday outbound. Sixty-nine trains left over the three railways and carried more than 41,000 holiday makers away from the smoke area. The lack of them was not especially noticed on the streets, and at the crowded places because the continuous stream of departing city dwellers had to struggle all day in the dark passages of the Union Station to pass an equally continuous and almost equally numerous procession of incomers.

Between 8,000 and 90,000 passed thru the gates going and coming on the holiday, and the gates were crowded long before the last of the sixty-three in-bound trains unloaded its passengers on the platform and pulled away to the round-house. "No, nothing unusual happened," said the man at the lower gate, in answer to The World's query. "No accidents, nothing but crowds, crowds, crowds."

It was the same story everywhere. The ferry service was taxed to its utmost, for more than 50,000 persons spent a part of the day at one or other of the islands. Every boat which left for the ports carried an excursion crowd which left little room for moving about on the decks. The six radial lines from Toronto put on every car that could be used and at that were in no case able to handle comfortably the throngs that waited to climb aboard. The lake shore road line was perhaps the most heavily burdened.

It was impossible at any hour to find free-room on a car between its starting place and its destination, and for the greater part of the day, the motor-car refused to stop at intermediate points. This was the case notwithstanding the fact that so many cars were on the line that it was not uncommon sight to find three or even four of them waiting on an switch.

Dufferin Park attracted the largest of the city crowds, an honor which is usually held by the afternoon baseball game. Well over 8,000 race fans paid their way in to see the card which was run off under the most favorable of weather conditions. The Sons of Scotland games at Exhibition Park drew 7,000, and 8,500 saw theatre performers.

While the Catholic Church has made no pronouncement on the question of woman suffrage, the Catholic philosophy of life is opposed to it. However, we are not centering our activities in opposition to woman suffrage, but rather in a well-informed plan for the future. The present unrest has resulted in the enfranchisement of woman in several states. These women would exert an evil influence by means of the ballot if a conservative body of women was not in the field to counteract their influence."

At the morning session Rev. Dr. Joseph Koester, a Chinese missionary, whose life was in danger several times during the recent revolution, made an address. He predicted that with a few years the Chinese would abandon Confucius and embrace the Catholic faith.

WILSON'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED LIND IS DESPATCHED TO MEXICO TO ACT IN MEDIATOR'S CAPACITY

Bryan Issues Statement to Effect That Part Taken in Mexican Affairs by Ambassador Makes It Difficult for Him to Represent Views of New Administration.

(Special to The Toronto World). WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—There were these two important developments in the Mexican situation today: President Wilson accepted the resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, to become effective Oct. 14. In the meantime Mr. Wilson will be on leave of absence.

John Lind, former member of congress and ex-governor of Minnesota, was sent post haste to Mexico as a commissioner to try to arrange mediation of the present dispute between the Huerta regime and the revolutionists. In announcing the acceptance of the resignation of Ambassador Wilson, Secretary Bryan said: "Ambassador Wilson's resignation has been accepted, to take effect Oct. 14. The part which he felt it his duty to take in the earlier stages of the recent revolution in Mexico would make it difficult for him to represent the views of the present administration in view of the situation which now exists."

RETIRES GRACEFULLY. Ambassador Wilson, on leaving the state department after his resignation had been accepted, made the following statement: "I believe that the president and secretary of state in their consideration of the question are actuated by the highest patriotism and with the best intentions to both countries. I have no pride of opinion with reference to my own recommendations, claiming only for them that they were conscientious and represent those of 98 per cent. of the Americans and foreigners in Mexico."

SQUALL CAUSED LAKE TRAGEDY I. C. R. EMPLOYEES REJECT TERMS

Charles Kimmis, West Toronto, Fell Overboard From Swaying Launch Near Whitby and Drowned. President of Brotherhood Says F. P. Gutelius is Making a Grave Diplomatic Error.

HALIFAX, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press).—That the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees would not accept the new terms offered by F. P. Gutelius to the clerks and stenographers of the Intercolonial Railway, who are threatening to strike, is the contention of A. B. Mosher, president of the brotherhood. Mr. Gutelius offered an advance of ten per cent. in wages to date from March 31 last.

Mr. Mosher said that what was wanted was a 12 per cent. increase. The men would not be satisfied until they got it. He said Mr. Gutelius' action was mainly to conciliate a lot of men, so in case of trouble they would not go out. He was grievously in error if he thought this, said Mr. Mosher. The advance really means a reduction, as in cases where the men were offered $15 per month extra, they would have to work 12 hours instead of 10, and the changing of the schedule to monthly from hourly also meant a reduction. Three reasons were given by Mr. Mosher for refusing to entertain the offer: First, it could not settle the issue in dispute; second, it did not cover the point of clerks out of their schedule; third, it did not give the increase asked for.

BABE MURDERED SAYS CORONER

That the newly-born infant found by two boys on the Lake Shore road near Dean's boathouse on Sunday was murdered was the statement made by Coroner Pickering, who opened an inquest at the morgue yesterday. The post mortem showed the infant to have died from suffocation and neglect.

The police are now working on information which it is believed will reveal the identity of those responsible for the child's death. In order to give the police time to follow the information up an adjournment was made until Wednesday, Aug. 13, when it is expected that the names of some of those implicated in the matter will be made known.

Two Ways to Find a Room—With Your Feet or With Your Head

SOME acrobats can walk on their hands—but they can't get very far. Some men try to think with their feet—they don't get very far either. If you are looking for a room, don't walk—read.

Read the Room Ads in this paper. That's the way to use your head. Sole leather has its uses, but it's not a good substitute for brains.

All these "Rooms for Rent" Ads in this paper are put here for a definite purpose. That purpose is to tell you where there are rooms for rent. Of course, a sign in a window will tell you where there is a room for rent. But the only way you can find this sign is to use your feet.

The Rooms to Rent columns of this paper will tell you where there are dozens of rooms for rent. To find these, you use your head. The people in this city who have rooms to rent are coming more and more to depend entirely on the Want Ad to rent their rooms for them. They find it the quickest and easiest method, and they get the most desirable rooms this way.

So if you want to get your choice of the good rooms of this city just turn to the Want Ad section and look for the Room Ads. You will find more Rooms to Rent here than you could find in a year by walking. Look through these Ads for the rooms that look best to you. Then answer the Ads quickly, for these good rooms are never vacant long when they are advertised in the Want Ad Section of this paper. Finding rooms is not a matter of luck. It's knowing where to look. And the place to look is in the Room Ads. So turn to these Room ads, answer them, and mention this paper, please.

GOOPS NURSERY

Conducted by Elinor Murray Two Baby Gifts

The list of gifts available for the new baby is so limited that it is soon exhausted. And no matter how carefully you plan and prepare your gift, you are always haunted by the thought that it is sure to be duplicated.

In one sense there is a splendid thing for a baby, because he can very well stand duplication in the matter of stockings, booties and long and short kimono; but when it comes to mugs and spoons and pins, the best-natured baby may well become "peevish."

Among some old magazines the other day I found one in which two gifts were described. They sound splendid and in case you are preparing a baby gift, or better still, a baby trousseau, I am giving you the benefit of my find.

The first gift is a crib quilt made of two yards of silkette, a roll of cotton batting and some fine wool.

The silkette has a design of pink chrysanthemums and when cut in half made the centre of each side of the quilt. A 5-inch border of any pretty stuff in the same color surrounded the quilt of silkette. Lay one side of the quilt on a table and spread the cotton evenly over it, then lay on the other side. Pin them together thru the cotton. Place pins about five inches apart to mark where the tacking is to be done and tack with fine pink wool. Put the darning needle straight thru the goods, then back, and tie the wool in a knot.

Trim the edges with the two outer edges together and stitch with pink thread in a fine running stitch.

The other gift was a creeping rug for the nursery. It was made of a piece of double-face dark red canton flannel, 51 inches wide by 1 3/4 yards long. Six ends were bound with black braid. The rug was decorated with a procession of animals to form the border.

Every person has a collection of animal pictures on cardboard or paper. Cut these out and use this pattern to cut the animals out of grey or tan paper.

Arrange the procession on the rug with pins, then baste them in place and match the edges with thread to match the felt.

THREE THOUSAND AT ST. MARY'S PICNIC

Sport, Speeches, Singing and Dancing Featured Gathering at Credit Grove.

POLITICS WERE BANNED

Hon. J. J. Foy Delivers Address on Duties of Canadian Citizens.

Fully three thousand attended St. Mary's R. C. Church's first annual picnic at Credit Grove, Port Credit, yesterday.

Sports, speeches, a night entertainment, including singing and dancing, were the chief forms of amusement provided for the crowd, and that they enjoyed themselves was evidenced in many of the happy smiling faces after the day's events were over.

The feature of the addresses was the absolute absence of political topics. No biased party principles were flung out to create argument and diversion among the happy crowd, and the gathering was much more united because of it.

Hon. J. J. Foy, the first speaker, confined himself mainly to words of congratulation to Rev. Father McCaffery for having under his wing such a number of bright, smiling faces, and for having successfully launched the first annual picnic of the church. The duty of a good Canadian citizen, he said, was primarily to build up in himself a great being; in doing that, he said, a citizen was doing one of the greatest things in his power for the welfare of the Dominion.

Canada, he said, was the melting-pot for a thousand of persons of other nationalities, and if Canadians wished them to become good law-abiding citizens, it behooved them to set a good example.

A. E. Donovan, M.L.A., got the crowd with him from the start by his many extremely witty stories and anecdotes. He was primarily to refrain from talking politics and helped much to build up a good-natured and friendly feeling amongst the gathering.

An excellent program of sports was provided; sprints, jumps and the catching of the greasy pig featured.

The following were the results of the events: 100 yards race: 1, E. G. Smith; 2, A. Hillard; 3, Gerald Kirby; 4, G. Hall. Fat men's race: 1, C. Leach; 2, A. Birrell. Men over 50 years of age: 1, E. Millard; 2, B. Ansell. Married ladies' race: 1, Mrs. Anson; 2, Mrs. Hillard. Boys under 16: 1, E. Reid; 2, W. Maddigan. Girls under 16: 1, Susan Loughran; 2, I. O'Connor. Single ladies' race: 1, Flora Miller; 2, Annie Miller. Girls under 10: 1, Gerry Maddigan; 2, L. Loughran. Boys under 10: 1, T. Ansell; 2, N. Morrison. Putting shot: 1, T. Penton; 2, J. Heary.

The catching of the greasy pig was by far the most interesting thing from the spectators' point of view on the program. His pigskin, after receiving a liberal coat of grease, for a time abhorred the idea of being caught; wouldn't stand for it at all in fact. Finally C. Palmer succeeded in nailing piggy by the front forefoot and down went the pig. In the evening the picnickers were treated to an excellent concert, supplied by local and outside talent.

SPARKLING BILL AT SHEA'S THEATRE

Bernard Granville Pleased Big Houses With Kipling Reading.

The bill at Shea's this week is of exceptional merit, and out of such a number of good turns it is hard to single one for a special mention. Bernard Granville, who describes himself as the 20th century comedian, is certainly much better than the average fun-maker. His act is clever and original.

Besides uncorking a number of new jokes, he recited Kipling's Gunga Din, and greatly pleased the house. Miss Iva Eleanor Ball's violin playing was remarkable, and of a grand deal higher order than generally heard on a vaudeville stage. She rendered classical and ragtime music, and was capable in each.

James E. Carson, with a monolog and songs, got away with a good line of jokes with a Dutch flavor. The Five Piroscollis, European jugglers, displayed marvellous skill in handling anything from a kitchen broom to a lamp. Their act was filled with thrills.

Norris' baboons, Emperor and Empress, showed almost human intelligence. The act was original and brought down the house. Quite a novelty was the last stunt on the bill, when John F. Conroy and his diving girls, two in number, put on an exhibition of fancy diving into a large tank placed on the stage. An English and Stella Johnson with their "Broncho Hop" gave the audience a line on the latest dances, the tango, turkey trot and so forth. Montambo and Wells have a clever wigen act.

"Within the Law"

THE SUNDAY WORLD has made arrangements with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate of New York, for the publication of a fascinating serial story, "Within the Law," by Marvin Dana, from the play of Bayard Veiller.

Publication will begin this week. The story deals with a clerk in a department store who was wrongfully convicted of theft, and who, on the expiration of his prison term, planned only to wreck the happiness of the heartless employer.

A great sociological problem is dealt with in a way to make the book one of the best produced in recent years.

"Within the Law" created a sensation in England and the United States recently. It will be published for the first time in Canada by The Sunday World. Get the opening chapters, and you will be interested till "Fina" is written.

THE GARDEN SERIAL STORY

YOUNGSTERS LIKE 'CORMACK CENTRE'

Wading Pool in North End Recreation Grounds Attracts Little Ones. FINE FLOWER DISPLAY Eleven Little Garden Beds Tended by Thirty-Three Young Gardeners.

Eleven little garden beds, flowers and vegetables, each one attended by three young gardeners, members of the frequenters of the McCormack Recreation Centre. This is the latest development among the Toronto playgrounds.

The beds show that a good deal of care is spent upon them. Few if any weeds are in evidence, and the canopy of verbena, geranium and lobelia are all healthy looking specimens.

Another thing upon which the McCormack Centre prides itself is its wading pool for the little ones. It is fifty feet in diameter, and when the World called yesterday it was quite evident that even Civic Holiday could suggest nothing better to a number of youngsters than just a glorious time in the pool.

"We often have eight hundred here in a day," said Mr. Barber, the caretaker, who has been here since the opening, when there was nothing but common, and sandy common at that, as a foundation. Now there are beautiful beds of geraniums, gladioli and other sturdy bloom. A few trees are coming on, and in a year or two the shrubbery will be a feature of the grounds.

Mr. Barber is quite elated over a few of his gladioli, and intends sending some to the exhibition, and if two pretty specimens, one varied pink and the other in yellow shades, do not beat all others, then there must certainly be some very beautiful samples somewhere else in Canada.

An Enthusiast. Miss Doran, the young lady in charge of the girls, is an enthusiast in her work. All kinds of ideas due to her initiative are in evidence. There is the nucleus of a library begun from her own private store added to by a kind teacher friend of the institution. In a number of courses physical drills of many kinds are in order, but then, too, there is needle work from two until four in the afternoon, raffia and reed basketry and plasticine.

Models in plasticine, though not numerous are a revelation of the imitative powers of the little ones. "This," said Miss Doran, "was done by Florence, a girl of five. The complement displayed to the credit of Florence was an elephant about three inches in length, but it was here complete, tail and all, and the baby elephant that stood behind it was even more perfect, and Florence is about seven years old.

"And I'm quite proud of this basket," was another admission as a pretty reed fibre affair, daintily enough to hold spoons on any lady's table, was held up for inspection. It was the work of Iner Clark, one of the boys of the locality, and it is no doubt but that both Florence and the boy who made the basket will do greater things in the future.

Ingenuous Designs. A tiny Esquimaux village, a Tam-o-Shanter hut in raffia and Japanese parasols made from small corals, topkicks and colored beads were also admired for their ingenuity. Just now the girls and boys are enjoying the summer baths. By the way, this is one of the few places where the girls are catered to in this obtainable every Friday. Other days at this season the shower is taken cold.

Eight hundred daily attendance was reported for the girls. There are several clubs in connection with the Centre. The Dorn Physical Club, the McCormack Physical Club, for mothers and the McCormack Physical Club, who engage in sewing, physical drill and other activities. Sixty mothers had a picnic to Lambton a few days ago through their connection with the club.

Four and a Half Acres. There are four and a half acres of ground, and the fine brick building is looking forward to many attractions in the gymnasium and other recreation rooms during the coming indoor season. A few pictures and books from friends would be acceptable. In the meantime the McCormack has the proud reputation of being the best equipped recreation centre in Toronto.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD, M.D.

More Odds and Ends

We were discussing the hollyhocks yesterday, and advising you to clip down the tall stems that have finished flowering, that is, where you were not desirous of saving the seeds.

There is no use of allowing the roots to send food to the production of seeds if these are not needed. Rather direct the strength of the plants back to the old roots. You will soon see new plants springing up from the roots, after the old stems have been clipped down; but, if this is not done, the new plants will not come up till next spring.

The advantage of forcing new plants up from the old roots this season, is that you will have many new, fresh plants to set out this fall ready in place for next spring. These you will divide off from the main plants this fall, instead of waiting until spring. Dividing hollyhock roots this spring is a risky business, and in fact, many people believe that it cannot be done. In fact, many people do not know that hollyhocks can be divided and stock increased from the root. But such can be successfully accomplished with great care.

Single hollyhocks will frequently produce double flowers the second season of flowering. In fact, this is generally the case. Everyone knows I suppose that hollyhocks will not flower the first year after coming up from seed. It requires always two years for seedlings to gain sufficient strength to produce bloom. Therefore I am sure, everyone can see the advantage of setting out fresh plants, divided off from the old roots in the fall, because the following spring is really their second year.

With perennial larkspurs there is always one immense central flower-stem, reaching often five or six feet in height. When this branch commences to show fading and withered flowers, it should be cut off. The result will throw a certain amount of growing energy into the side flower stems, besides relieving the plant of the earliest signs of raggedness. If your larkspur is managed to come this far thru the summer without contracting that lamproducible black blight so common among the larkspur of the English gardens, the possibility is that it will go thru the summer safely.

As we warned in early talks, spraying these plants with Bordeaux solution, early in the spring before any signs of trouble will usually keep it safe and healthy.

WIFE SUSPECTED OF BRUTAL MURDER

SELKIRK, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press.)—Dr. Ross and his party returned yesterday evening from Fort Alexander with details of a most brutal murder, which took place on the Indian reserve at that place some time between July 25 and 26. The victim was Edward Sinclair, a treaty Indian, who lived with his wife and three children. He was last seen alive on the afternoon of July 18, when, according to his wife, he left on a moose hunt. The next day, July 19, Mrs. Sinclair reported her husband missing, and a search was begun. On July 22 the torso and arms of the body were found on the shore of the Winnipeg River about a quarter of a mile from the Sinclair home. Dragging in the river was then started and the right leg was found tied up in a sack. The chin and back and weighed down by a large stone. Later other parts of the body were found in midstream. Also tied up in a sack and weighted down with stones. At the request the wife of the dead man showed no emotion whatever when shown the mutilated body of her husband. She was an unwilling witness, and what evidence she gave was of a contradictory nature. She was held and will appear before the police magistrate on Saturday.

AN ATTRACTIVE HOUSE GOWN.

7839 House Gown or Nurses' Costume, 34 to 46 bust.

The one-piece, or semi-princesse, house gown is the favorite one and deservedly so, for it is easy to adjust, it is always neat and it is generally becoming. The one pictured here combines a plain blouse with a four gored skirt. By making just a few unimportant changes, it can be converted into a typical nurse's costume, for it is only necessary to substitute the box collar and standing collar for the rolled-over collar and to make the sleeves long with straight cuffs. Busy women, whatever their occupation, will be glad of the model for it is especially practical and simple, easy to make and easy to launder, and it gives very attractive and smart lines. To what length, the sleeves shall be cut and how finished is a matter for each wearer to determine. On the figure, the gown is made of a simple washable fabric with the collar and cuffs in pure white.

For the medium size, the gown will require 7 1/2 yards of material, 27, 3 1/2 yards 36 or 4 yards 44 inches wide, with 3 1/2 yard 27 inches wide for collar and cuffs.

The May Manton pattern of the costume 7839 is cut in sizes from 34 to 46 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to you on receipt of the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 18 cents.

Canning Vegetables at Home

In yesterday's article on vegetable canning we learned that the success of this work depends upon destroying all yeast, mold and bacteria in the food and making it germ-proof in the jar. Also that wide-mouthed, dark-colored glass jars were the best to use. Today I give you the recipes that have been requested by readers of this column and some extra ones that are tried and found to be good.

All these directions below apply to quart jars, if you have any trouble it will be because you have left something undone. Canning Corn.—Pack jars full of fresh cut grains of sweet corn, add salt to taste and fill with fresh cold water. Put a new rubber ring on neck of jar and place cover on loosely. Set as many jars on the false bottom of the canner or boiler as will hold; do not crowd them. Pour in enough cold water to cover bottom of boiler and keep it from going dry. The steam from this water does the cooking and not a great deal of water is needed. Put cover on boiler and keep boiling for two hours. Raise the cover at end of that time and allow steam to escape. Fasten covers on jars tightly and when cool enough to handle lift out and set away. After a day or two examine and if there are signs of decomposition sterilize over again or fill up with a fresh supply. Succotash is prepared exactly as corn, but it is more difficult to keep, so use very fresh vegetables and sterilize carefully. Boil two hours and a half instead of two hours.

Asparagus.—Can as with corn, using young tips only. Allow about a teaspoonful of salt to each quart jar of tips. Beans keep over winter, but the tender young beans are delicious canned. Wash and cut off tops and boil until tender. Do not pierce or bruise the skin until ready to peel them, or they will bleed and thus lose their lovely red color.

When cooked and skinned pack into sterilized jars and cover with water unless pickled beans are wanted. In this case use a mixture of vinegar and sugar to suit taste. Be very sure you have pure cider vinegar. Dilute this if necessary with water. Sterilize in canner for one hour, as directed for corn.

Egg plant.—Cut pared egg plant into slices and cook in boiling salted water twenty minutes. Drain and pack carefully in jars. Finish in canner as directed. The slices may be removed from jar when it is opened without breaking and breaded and fried as with the fresh vegetable. "English" peas are prepared with carrots. Cook the slices of peeled carrots about three minutes and then mix with fresh green peas in the quantity you like. Pack in jars, cover with water and sterilize about an hour and a half.

A mixture of vegetables is canned in Holland that we may well imitate. Corn, tomatoes, lima beans and cauliflower are mixed, with corn predominating. Season with onion salt and pepper. Mix this by putting thru a food chopper. Pack in jars and cook in canner for two hours and a half. This may be used in vegetable soup or heated with toasted bits of bread and butter and makes a fine winter dish. Additional recipes may be had on request.

THE TRIPLE TIE BY A. H. C. MITCHELL

"I never rode on the wings of a cyclone before," said I, "and I don't believe I ever want to try it again."

"None of the men he addressed made direct reply to this cheerful remark. They stood close to him and eyed him critically. Finally one of them, a black-bearded man, said: 'I reckon you're Gordon Kelly.'"

"As if this answer were a signal for attack, the four men closed in on him. One of them had a rope and he attempted to bind Gordon's arms. The others completely by surprise, Gordon put up a desperate struggle, but was quickly overpowered by the four men, all of whom seemed possessed of uncommon strength. He was commanded to walk forward and 'What's the meaning of this?' demanded the prisoner. 'The man with the black beard answered: 'I reckon nothin' ain't goin' to harm yer, if yer obey orders. If yer don't, well, we'll see yer. Come along.'"

"But Gordon refused to move. He said in a calm voice: 'Just tell me what this is all about, will you, please? You've made a mistake. I have done nothing to you. You've got the wrong man.'"

"You ain't done nothin' to us, but you've got the man we want. Come along now.' The black-bearded man, bearing a six-shooter in his pocket and grasping the prisoner by the collar, 'I don't want to hit yer with this yer pistol, but I reckon I'll have to unless yer do what I tell yer.'"

"Gordon saw that all four men were armed. The black-bearded man was the only one to make a display. Resistance was useless, and might bring him needless harm. He walked ahead in the direction indicated, feeling that in a short time the whole lot would be expelled and he would be allowed to go free. His captors followed the brook for nearly a mile, and then turned off toward the north-west. They crossed the path of the cyclone, which many of the men had seen in the forest, leaving destruction in its wake and continued on thru thick forests and over mountainous terrain. Gordon tried to secure some information from any of the men, but they did not reply to his questions. A Lone Walk.

Finally, after a north-westerly for about three miles, Gordon judged, from the name of the stream that he had reached the settlement bearing the same name, nearly thirteen miles to the west of the country. The prisoner knew the country, for he had been in the land bordering the creek. He knew not where his captors were taking him, but at least he was familiar with the ground. The black-bearded man, leading the way, seemed to be the leader of the four, and followed the creek for another mile until he struck the main road before the road house, however, the party stopped, and the men went ahead as if on a scout, evidently to make sure the road was clear. He waved a signal to advance, and the others followed him to a bridge where the creek met the road, and then plunging due west thru another forest. They made a sharp ascent of about 100 yards, they descended rapidly for another hundred yards, and came to a small clump of trees with a clearing growing high all around it. Walking under the brush the black-bearded man parted the underbrush and with a gun following close he passed thru it and arrived at a log cabin, evidently of recent construction.

By this time it was almost dark. One of the men stepped inside the cabin and lighted two or three tall candles, after which he set about preparing the evening meal. When the candles were glowing, the black-bearded man motioned Gordon to enter the room. He did so, the others following. Gordon glanced around. There were five rough bunk beds, with straw on them for bedding. There was no stove, but there was a fireplace in a corner, with a small chimney leading up from it, built of sticks of wood plastered with clay. The other article of furniture in the room was a rude bench. The black-bearded man then spoke the first words he had uttered since the march began. He said to Gordon: 'Yer won't be hurted none unless yer try to do nothin' that we'll be shootin' at. The rope that bound Gordon's arms, he took it off and stood by with a revolver in his hand, and added: 'May yer be yetter gitt in one of them bunk beds grub is ready.'"

"Thoughts busy. Gordon rubbed the circulation back in his arms and then he lay down. He had long since made up his mind to treat the matter as a matter of indifference, and more could be accomplished that way than by being nasty about it. He refused to try to cheerfulness and diplomacy in his intercourse with these men. He had not been able to find out what their object was in making him a captive. Perhaps they would demand a ransom for his release, or perhaps they had told him about her father's vast fortune and had decided to exact their present predicament.

While his thoughts were busy, too, under the pots and pans was busy, too, and presently supper was announced. Three of the captives sat at one table, while the fourth stood guard over Gordon with a six-shooter in his hand. Evidently they had planned the whole thing out in advance, as they had not spoken to each other since entering the cabin. After eating a hearty meal of bacon, corn cakes, stewed beans and crackers, Gordon stretched himself, smiled and announced that he felt better. He thought the other men probably felt a little better, too, so he tried to start a little conversation.

"Dinner men expect to keep me here, or will there be some more walkin'?" he asked, with a good-natured smile. The black-bearded man nodded. "Right yer, I reckon," he replied, after some deliberation.

Gordon laughed. "Well, you've picked a good place. It would be a pretty hard matter for anyone to discover it."

Allowed to Write. There was no answer to this remark. Three of the men had looked up. The fourth, who seemed to be somewhat younger than the others, had been standing guard duty and was now setting his supper. When he had finished he drew a couple of tobacco pipes and some newspaper from a pocket and rolled a cigar. There was silence for a long time and then Gordon began again.

"I don't mind spending a little time with you men as you appear to be willing to treat me fairly. I suppose you will tell me what this is all about when you get ready to do so. You won't find me troublesome. But I have a favor to ask of you. I would like to see your place at my home and the people at Deere's house below will be very much worried about me. They may think I've killed it. I've never killed it. I want you to do it to get word to them somehow that I'm safe, or, if you will, I will write a note that one of you can leave on the doorstep at night. Of course you can read it the next morning if you want. What do you say?"

PATTERN SERVICE NEWS FOR WOMEN

THIN FOR YEARS---"GAINS 22 POUNDS IN 23 DAYS"

Remarkable Experience of F. Gagnon. Builds Up Weight Wonderfully.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work. I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"Sargol has put 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. D. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."

"I weighed 152 pounds when I commenced taking Sargol. After taking 29 days I weighed 144 pounds. Sargol is the most wonderful preparation for flesh building I have ever seen," declares D. Martin, and J. Meier adds: "For the past twenty years I have taken medicine every day for indigestion and got thinner every year. I took Sargol for forty days and feel better than I have felt in twenty years. My weight has increased from 150 to 170 pounds."

When hundreds of men and women—and there are hundreds, with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of this broad land, voluntarily testify to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 35 pounds, given them by Sargol, you must admit, Mr. and Mrs. Thin Reader, that there must be something in this Sargol method of flesh building after all.

Hadn't you better look into it, just as thousands of others have done? Many thin folks say: "I'd give most anything to get on a little extra weight, but when someone suggests it, I say they're crazy. 'Not a chance. Nothing will make me plump. I'm not to stay thin.' But when you have tried Sargol, you do not and cannot know that this is true."

Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds who doubted, and in spite of their doubts, you don't have to believe in Sargol to grow plump, you just use it. You just take it and watch weight pile up, hollows vanish and your figure round out to pleasing and normal proportions. You weigh yourself when you begin and again when you finish and you let the scales tell the story.

Sargol is absolutely harmless. It is a tiny concentrated tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of separating all of its flesh-producing ingredients. It prepares these fat-making elements in an easily assimilable form, which the blood can readily absorb and carry all over your body. Plump, well-developed persons need Sargol to produce this result. Their assimilative machinery now goes to waste through inactivity. But thin folks' assimilative organs do not. This fatty portion of their food now goes to waste through inactivity. Bodies like unburned coal through an open grate, a few days later Sargol in your case will surely prove whether or not this is true of you. Isn't it worth trying?

50c BOX FREE To enable any thin reader, ten pounds or more under weight, to easily make this test we will give a 50c box of Sargol absolutely free. Either Sargol will increase your weight or it won't, and the only way to know it is to try it. Send for this Free Test Package today, enclosing 10c in silver or stamps to help pay postage. Pack, etc., and a full-size 50c package will be sent by return mail, free of charge. Mail this coupon with your letter to the Sargol Co., 424 H. Herald Bldg., Birmingham, N.Y.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 5, 1913

SUMMON PARLIAMENT.

Parliament will in the ordinary course of events be called together in regular session toward the end of November. The naval question, redistribution and other political issues will combine to make the session a series of skirmishes between the two political parties, in anticipation of the general elections, which many believe will occur in the early summer or fall of 1914.

Amid the din and dust of party conflict, the members of parliament cannot be expected to sit down like business men, and discuss the business affairs of the country.

But the business affairs of the country urgently demand the best thought of a parliament where "all are for the state." Currency reform is imperative. From all quarters come demands for the use of the national credit, for greater volume and elasticity of currency, and for the progressive reforms long since accomplished in many countries, and now being accomplished in the United States.

No intelligent child will dispute the statement that currency legislation is needed; shall we have it now or give the people an "object lesson" such as Wall street and a president under a Wall street influence, gave the people of the United States in 1897?

The transportation problem must be dealt with. The western farmer today is getting only one-half the value of his grain; extortion and discrimination are manifest in railway, telegraph, telephone and express rates; the British preference is absorbed by the ocean combine.

And this ocean combine, it must be remembered, is linked up with the inland navigation merger, and the transcontinental railways, including that ambitious titan, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

There have been the Companies Act, which is little less than a public scandal, and should be at once re-written. And the Railway Act, which should be amended in many respects, but especially so as to place all stock and bond issues of public utility corporations under the jurisdiction of the railway commission.

In revising the Railway Act, parliament should declare for the equalization of rates, should compel the railways to quote a thru rate to British ports, subject to the approval of the commission, and should give the attorney-general of Canada the money he needs, and all the authority he may require, to proceed in the courts against transportation combines, trusts and mergers.

But one might enumerate many subjects of economic importance with which parliament should deal, but with which it never does deal because the regular session is taken up with political wrangles and the supply bill. For example, we have never yet secured a copyright law to fit in with the British Act, or a bankruptcy law, or a law to prevent the pollution of navigable streams and waters, or a law to limit the ridiculous number of appeals permitted from the supreme court of Canada to the privy council.

What we need is a short extra session of parliament, a business session, without party politics if possible, to be called for the first Thursday in September. The regular session can go over until January. If the public men of the United States can stand the July and August heat of Washington, our public men should be able to stand the September weather at Ottawa. There is no reason why the government of this country and inland navigation should not go on at the same time. For years past Ottawa has been deserted from almost the opening until the close of navigation. We hope some day to see ships coming up the St. Lawrence the year round, and we hope some day to see the machinery of government working steadily at Ottawa as it does at London and Washington.

SOOTHING SYRUP FOR THE FARMERS.

Our amiable neighbor, The Toronto Mail, puny-foots around the recent action of Secretary McAdoo in issuing $50,000,000 of national currency to the banks of the United States upon good collateral at 2 per cent. The Mail believes, or affects to believe, that it is not a loan, but merely the usual deposit by the government with reserve banks. Of course, as a matter of fact, the action of the secretary of the treasury was taken under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act, being a straight loan of the national credit to the people thru the banks.

However, The Mail tells us that the Canadian farmer will have something as good. Under the Bank Act as amended he may borrow money on his threshed grain. That is, he may borrow the money if he can find somebody to lend it to him. The banks are not lending money on that security; indeed, they have not the money to lend.

The Mail says that the English banks are going to help move the crop. This means, we take it, that they will accept bills of exchange drawn by Canadian banks with wheat in the elevators or in transit, as collateral security. This may help out some, and certainly some help is needed. As The Montreal Financial Times points out, our banks, as at present constituted, are not able to adequately deal with the financial situation.

We opine that Mr. McAdoo's action will do more for the American grain-grower than will Mr. White's amendment to the Bank Act for the Canadian grain-grower, laudable as that amendment may have been.

SUBJECT FOR A GLOBE CARTOON.

The Globe has joined the party which connects a heavy tax rate with annexation. This is one of the things that almost make it impossible to get any real reform accomplished in Toronto. It is bad enough for The Telegram, which really doesn't know any better, and is losing its influence owing to the reckless habit it has fallen into of relying on its own judgment instead of getting the facts, but when The Globe openly adopts the same course, one fears something is amiss.

The "big" tax bill this year is due to the "small" tax bills of the last three years, for which our amiable friends the Two Tommies and their one-time leader as mayor, Mr. G. R. Geary, were responsible. They cut down the rate, and refused to do that which they should have done, and, in short, there was no health in them. The Globe is very well aware of this, and in fact has stated as much. But whether to support its friend, The Telegram, now laboring under stress of weather, or for some other cause, it suggests, in a cartoon, that annexation has caused the big tax bill of 1913.

The recently proposed annexation, which have aroused opposition from The Telegram and Controller Foster and others who raise the rents of their tenants whenever any proposal for annexation is defeated, have had nothing to do with this year's tax bills. The Globe, in suggesting that these annexations have raised the tax rate this year, has distinctly fallen to the level of The Telegram.

The annexation of North Toronto last year has not raised this year's taxes. The city will obtain more money from North Toronto than is spent on it and the North Toronto people are complaining on this account. There was no opposition to previous annexations.

The World has not the slightest objection to being cartooned, and the more cartoonists the merrier. But the humor and the pungency of a cartoon consists in its truth. A cartoon that misrepresents a situation, that creates a false impression, that conveys not the truth but the reverse, is a sorry contribution to newspaper work.

The facts regarding the tax rate are easily obtainable. The true cause of the heavy burden of taxation on those least able to bear it under the present system, is the assessment commissioner. He has sworn an oath to assess property at its value. Mr. Forman asserts that he assesses it at from 60 to 75 per cent of its value. This is in violation of his oath and directly against the interests of the poorer citizens. If the average exemption be one-third, half-way between 25 and 40 per cent, then the rich man escapes taxation on $233,000 of his million, while the poor man escapes $20 of his $1000. It is the exemption of the $233,000 that raises the tax rate. Will The Globe make a cartoon to bring out that fact?

Immense sums escape taxation which are not assessable under the present system because they cannot be located. The wealthy man as a rule will not confess to all the wealth that is in him. He acknowledges what he has to, and a little more to indicate the survival of his virtue. But he does not plunk down his full income, as he does those of his stenographer, clerk and bookkeeper in the list prepared for the assessor.

This is what makes the demand for the land tax, or what Mr. Fels is particular to call the tax on land values. We all know what it means, and that is why so many of us are opposed to it. It means that everyone pays his fair share of taxes. Sir James Whitson says it would be unnecessary if Mr. Forman and other assessors would keep the oath they have sworn, but Mr. Forman regards the keeping of the oath as a formality which the millionaires of the city honor more in the breach than in the observance. But if Mr. Forman will not keep his oath there is nothing to relieve the pressure on the people in general but land taxation.

EFFECTS OF PUBLIC COMPETITION.

While the public realize the immediate benefits conferred by the establishment of a publicly owned and operated service or utility of common appeal, they are less prone to recognize the indirect advantages it brings. In the case of the hydro-electric undertaking with which the provincial government of Ontario and the Hon. Adam Beck are specially associated, this habit of the public mind has been very apparent. Established to supply electricity at cost, the competition of created has led to an entire revision of the rates and terms imposed when electricity was in the control of private companies that looked for the creation of a huge monopoly. But the public should never forget that but for the policy of the provincial government there would have been no revision downward of the prices charged by private companies and no concessions to municipalities that had no alternatives.

Precisely the same course of events is following the establishment of the parcel post in the United States. Until the government postal service began on Jan. 1 of this year the express companies were alone interested in bleeding the public to the utmost of their ability. Today they are seeking to make a virtue of necessity by pretending to concede as an act of grace what has been compelled by the pressure of the parcel post service.

According to The New York Times the express companies are now engaged in establishing themselves as agents between producers and consumers, on the basis of the immediate transit service which it was always in their power to provide, but which never came within their power until faced with parcel post competition. If the public are wise, as they ought by this time to be, they will continue to support the public service which has not only lowered rates, but has compelled a revision of the old rate system.

FORMER DETECTIVE DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

Patrick McGrath, Veteran of Local Department, Passes Away at His Home.

Patrick McGrath, a veteran of the Toronto police and detective forces, died at his home on Euclid avenue yesterday morning. He was over 65 years of age and had been in bed for some weeks, following an attack of pneumonia, which he sustained last winter.

Detective McGrath, as he was universally known, even after his retirement on pension in March, 1907, enlisted as a police constable about the year of the Custer massacre, and twelve years later, he was made a detective. His rank he kept until six years ago. He leaves a widow and grown-up family.

BAD OUTBREAK OF MEASLES FEARED

Epidemic among Indian Children at Belle River is Reported.

COBALT, Aug. 4.—(Special.)—An epidemic of measles has broken out among Indian children at Belle River, the little hamlet on the east of Cochrane on the Transcontinental, which was swept by a bush fire last year. Dr. Cameron, who was instrumental in saving the peak where several Indians were confined at the time, has gone to their assistance, and everything possible is being done to prevent the affliction spreading to the adults. They are very susceptible, and a few cases have been known in the past, but they have survived it. Their tendency to disregard orders and remain in quarantine on a little island resulted in the police having to threaten several adults with imprisonment if they did not keep from the town. They are also inclined to take care for themselves and this makes the outbreak a serious thing from a medical standpoint.

REACHED SUMMIT OF MOUNT ROBSON

VANCOUVER, Aug. 4.—(Can. Press.)—Word reached this city at a late hour last night to the effect that a band of mountaineers had reached their ambition by scaling Mount Robson in Tete Jaune Cache district. Among the party to scale the peak were M. W. Scott, provincial deputy minister of public works; Prof. G. B. Kinney, D. N. McTavish, Prof. Fay, Tuft's college, Boston; Prof. Freeman, New York; Miss Mary M. Faux, Philadelphia, and Dr. Walcott, secretary of Smithsonian Institute. The feat was accomplished on Thursday, a climb of 18 hours. Mount Robson is 13,070 feet high.

FARM LABORERS' EXCURSIONS TO WINNIPEG.

Via Grand Trunk Railway, plus half cent per mile from Winnipeg to destination, plus 10 cents for meals, Calgary or Edmonton. Returning, 10 cents from Winnipeg, plus half cent per mile from points east of MacLeod, Calgary or Edmonton to Winnipeg. Going dates: August 15—From all stations east of Kingston in Ontario.

August 22—From all stations Toronto to Sarnia tunnel inclusive, via Stratford, and south thereof in Ontario.

August 25—From all stations north of, but not including main line Toronto to Sarnia tunnel, via Stratford, all stations Toronto and north and east of Toronto to Kingston.

Sept. 3—From all stations Toronto and east and east of Orillia and Scotia Junction.

Sept. 6—From all stations Toronto to North Bay inclusive and west thereof in Ontario.

This is an exceptional chance to visit the west, which is truly called the land of "golden opportunities," as many prosperous farmers and business men now residing in western Canada can trace the origin of their good fortune to a "farm laborers' excursion." The route via Chicago is an attractive one, many large cities and towns being passed en route, which breaks the monotony of the journey, there being something new to see at all times. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the shortest and quickest route between Winnipeg and Saskatoon-Edmonton, with smooth roads, through the newest, most picturesque and most rapidly developing section of western Canada.

The Philosopher of Folly

TOOTHsome THINGS. I'm ill at ease in the dentist's chair; when I sit in his awful throne I feel that I'm quite at his mercy there—and alone, alone, alone! I once was led to a dentist's place in the days of my early youth, and the things he did to my baby face were a sin and a shame, forsooth! He'd no respect for my tender years—with a gleam in his steady eyes he made a mock of my infant fears and laughed at my childish cries. He pulled out all of my cute wee teeth that were hanging loose, for he told me others were underneath, and growing to beat the deuce; he lifted off my youthful gums those teeth that had never an ache, for he said, "The next will be best for plums and apples and pies and cake! I loved my innocent baby teeth that were firmly mine; if I had those dear little pearls yet cheerfully "By and by a better set will grow!" Now I fain would meet that base deuce, when the ones he raised start to throb and ache as I set myself to eat. Oh, I often long for my school days, when the ones I loved and lost—when a bomb in one of the last set bursts or its wire gets badly crossed.

Young Ferguson, without noticing the approach of the machine, jumped in front of the saw-like knives, and his right leg was almost severed at the ankle.

TORONTO C. C. HAS LONG LEAD OVER ST. ALBANS IN CUP GAME

Messrs. T. Usher and W. J. Dobson Played Splendid Cricket for the Holders—Game Resumed This Afternoon.

The preliminary game for the J. Ross Robertson Cup between the Toronto Cricket Club and St. Albans C. C., the challengers, was almost completed yesterday, the result being in favor of the holders. St. Albans batted first and were all out for 105 runs, Heath, Green and J. Colborne doing the bulk of the scoring. Toronto replied with 186, the total including splendid scores by T. Usher and W. J. Dobson. Usher's 66 contained only two fours and one five, his runs being amassed with a patient characteristic of a sterling batsman. Dobson's 44 was made without a chance. St. Albans continued their second venture with better results, a total of 139 being reached when stumps were drawn for the day. However, the challengers have only one wicket in hand and 88 runs to the good.

The game will be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon. St. Albans with the lead can hardly hope to increase it to dangerous proportions, and the Toronto will likely hit up the deficit for the loss of not more than three or four wickets. The score:

B. WELLS KNOCKS OUT CHAMPION OF IRELAND.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Bombardier Wells, the English heavyweight fighter, knocked out Pat O'Keefe, welterweight champion of Ireland in the fifteenth round of a bout held at the Blackfriars district today.

ST. ALBANS BEAT WEST TORONTO

St. Albans Cricket Club wiped out an old score when they defeated West Toronto II. at High Park on Saturday. The victory was due to errorless fielding along with the splendid bowling of "Dick" Smith at wicket guarding played his usual steady game. But for the good bowling of Allen, the score would have been much bigger. Score:

ST. ALBANS RUN UP SCORE ON RIVERDALE C.C.

At St. Albans on Saturday, the home team beat Riverdale by 164 for seven wickets to 30. The Saints batted first, and after losing one wicket early, Williams and Colborne took the score to 50, when the latter was out for 15. The former kept up his run-getting by good strokes all round the wicket, and was out at 84 for a perfect 51. Green followed with 16, and seven were out for 93. Then Hancock and Garrett got together, and proving unbreakable, took the score to 141, at which total the innings was ordered. Hancock batted for 37, and Garrett played steadily for 23. Foley was best bowler for Riverdale, with two for 22. Arnott and Pickersgill made star catches. For Riverdale, Allison and Hocking took the score from 8 to 55, the former showing some good strokes in his 41 (seven fours). Pickersgill helped with a careful 10, but no one else reached double, and the innings closed for 30. Sixteen took two wickets for 12. Garrett, 25, and Colborne three for 31.

ST. ALBANS BEAT WEST TORONTO

St. Albans beat West Toronto C. C. by 5 runs. The steady batting of W. J. Dobson, who contributed 25, brought the Saints total of 47, and the capture by him of five wickets at a cost of 18 runs practically won the game, which was played at Willowdale on Saturday on a splendid wicket. Kent also bowled well, scoring four for 12, but the fielding at Nash at top-on was the feature of the afternoon. Halfan should be near to the record for slow scoring, being the first wicket over half an hour for a single run. Of the Minto eleven Bryce led and Hynes 6 were the chief scorers, while the former obtained 6 wickets for 24, and the latter 5 for 2 runs.

ST. CYRILANS BY FIVE RUNS

St. Cyrilians beat Mimico Old Country C. C. by 5 runs. The steady batting of W. J. Dobson, who contributed 25, brought the Saints total of 47, and the capture by him of five wickets at a cost of 18 runs practically won the game, which was played at Willowdale on Saturday on a splendid wicket. Kent also bowled well, scoring four for 12, but the fielding at Nash at top-on was the feature of the afternoon. Halfan should be near to the record for slow scoring, being the first wicket over half an hour for a single run. Of the Minto eleven Bryce led and Hynes 6 were the chief scorers, while the former obtained 6 wickets for 24, and the latter 5 for 2 runs.

CHARITY CUP GAMES PROVIDE KEEN SPORT

Simpson and Sunderland Survive the Struggle—Large Crowds See Teams in Action.

The first round of the charity cup games in the T. & D. were played yesterday, and the results were more than satisfactory to the officials. The morning game between Simpson and Fraser-branch on the Eaton Athletic Field attracted a crowd of about one thousand people. Simpson won by the score of 4 to 0, but the score does not give a very good idea of the play. Undoubtedly the store boys were the best team, but they did have a four goal margin on their rivals on the play. The Fraser-branch did not get any of the breaks, trying to do himself justice against an unrelenting foe. Chief Querrie of the Tecumseh's found Robert John too much of an undertaking.

THE AUSTRALIANS SCORE AGAINST N.Y. VETERANS

Leading by Over Three Hundred Runs as a Result of First Innings.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Playing a team of thirteen New York veteran cricketers at Manor Field, Staten Island today, the Australian eleven easily finished ahead by three wickets. The score of 464 to 144 runs. The New York team completed its only innings in two hours, O. Turville and T. P. Kelly making scores of 42 and 22 respectively. The visitors did not put in their best hours in the game, but after an hour's play they were sent in and took three wickets for seven runs. Malley took two wickets for four runs, Cody 5 for 20, Arnott one for 20, and Emery one for 20. The Australians were at bat for nearly three and one-half hours, during which the local men tried eight bowlers, but the visitors batted with ease and safety almost at will. Cody made 48, W. Crawford came next with 35, and the other double figures were H. Collins, 31, E. G. Down 27, S. M. Emery 4, and G. Down 11.

NEW CANADIAN RECORD High Jump at Edmonton

EDMONTON, August 4.—One Canadian record and four Alberta records were smashed on Saturday at the police gymnasium, when R. S. McLean, M.C.A., established a new Canadian record in the standing high jump, clearing the bar at 5 feet 8 inches. The former record was 4 feet 8 inches, held by P. H. Barber.

BIG CROWD SEE SPECTACULAR
DIVING AT TOR ONTO CLUB GALA

The Toronto Swimming Club's annual summer gala was held at the clubhouse at Hurlingham Point, and was patronized by one of the largest attendances in the history of the club. The most prominent feature was the diving contest, in which A. M. Allan and F. Wood, in the first diving, the judges decided it a tie and ordered them to repeat the dive. With the result that again it resulted in a tie. In the third attempt, A. M. Allan was awarded the first prize by half a point. In the diving championship of the club later, M. Allan managed to beat F. Wood.

TORONTO'S GRABBED GAME FROM INDIANS IN OVER TIME AT BEACH

Tecumseh's Thought They Had Game on Ice, But the Blue Shirts Started on Their Own Account and Tied the Score.

Lo! the poor Indians! came out of the west looking for the scalps of their eastern rivals, and history repeated itself once more. The Red Skins, off to a seemingly good start and victory in sight, found themselves finally overpowered by the palefaces or Blue Shirts. It was a sad tale of the erstwhile savage discovery of all his war paint, trying to do himself justice against an unrelenting foe. Chief Querrie of the Tecumseh's found Robert John too much of an undertaking.
